

Postings tips it columnar hat to a new retail business coming to Post Monday — The Weather Doctors.

Owners of this new Post business are Bill Fellers, who will move into his family to Post, and David Peterson, who will continue to operate their Weather Doctors business at Wilson, where David has been in business for 12 years.

No these two young men aren't slammers, or anything like that, they only "doctor" the weather into dwellings and business buildings, not outside.

They will specialize in heating, air conditioning, plumbing and appliances.

Both have impressive credentials in their business field.

Fellers, who comes to Post from Abilene, is a native of the Abilene area. His training includes three years with American Refrigeration Engineers Society at Abilene, and area factory - supervised schools. He holds certificates of proficiency in refrigeration and electrical application and engineering, installation and service.

Before joining Peterson in the Weather Doctor business in Lynn County last year, Fellers was employed by Morrison Supply in Lubbock doing designing, sales and layouts of heating and cooling systems. He has seven years experience in the trade as a technician.

He and his wife, Sherry, have one son, 19-month-old Billy Jr.

Peterson, a resident of Wilson, formerly operated the Peterson Plumbing and Appliance business in that city for 11 years and has been a resident of Lynn County for over 25 years. He has held a master plumber license for 17 years and has attended service and installation schools on refrigeration and heating.

The Weather Doctors have leased the remodeled, former American Cafe building at 126 East 4th.

You'll find their announcement on page 8 of today's Dispatch. They think expanding into Post is a real opportunity for them and they think local residents will like their hustle and know-how in their field.

Paul H. Jones today authorized the Dispatch to announce his candidacy for re-election to a second four-year term as Precinct 1 County Commissioner, subject to the Democratic primary elections. His statement to the voters follows:

"In announcing for re-election as Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, I would like to say I have enjoyed serving the people of Precinct No. 1 and Garza County the last three years.

"I believe I have the precinct in good shape now. The 30-cent road tax you have been paying on the bonds for U. S. Highway 84 right-of-way has enough money in the fund to pay off now. This is two years ahead of time, which will save taxpayers of Precinct No. 1 approximately $25,347.72 a year."

"I would like to serve you another four years and will try to see each voter before May 4. I would appreciate your vote and influence."

Batchelor rites conducted here

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle B. Batchelor, 80, who died at 5 p. m. Saturday at Lavoy Rest Home in Tahoka, were held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Mason Funeral Home chapel.

Mrs. Batchelor, who had been a resident of Post since 1917, had been in the rest home at Tahoka for 18 months. She was a native of Tennessee.

Her only survivors are cousins Mrs. Jeannie Hord of Temple, Mrs. Grace Hoch of San Marcos, Dolly Pruitt of Fort Worth, Laura Boothe of Dallas, and Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, Irene Wheeler and Howard Freeman, all of Post.

Don Davenport, minister of the Post Church of Christ, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Bearers were George Sneed, Tony Ray, Paul Jones, Travis Thomas, Bill McBride and Charley Murray.

Rites today for Post man's father murdered by bandits

Funeral services are set for this afternoon (Thursday) for Bob Macy's father, Ike Macy, 65-year-old nationally known tennis player and Miami, Fla., socialite who was slain Monday night in a gunbattle with bandits who broke into his fashionable home in Miami.

Bob's mother, Mrs. Mary Belle Macy, 52, who was wounded in the chest and arm by the bandits, was reported yesterday to be improving and out of the intensive care unit at the Miami hospital to which she was taken.

Bob Macy and John Lott of Lubbock, brother of the wounded woman, flew to Miami Tuesday after being notified of the shooting about 9 p. m. Monday.

Bob, local rancher, had talked to his father by phone Monday night just two hours before a physician in the hospital where his wounded mother was taken called to tell him of the tragedy.

The funeral rites were set for

2 p. m. today in the Filbrick Funeral Home in Coral Gables, Fla. Burial will also be in Coral Gables.

Bob's brother, Dick Macy, flew to Miami from Paris after being notified of his father's slaying. Dick is associated with the Curtis Publishing Co.

According to wire service reports, Macy, a retired professional tennis player, and his wife were watching television when the gunmen entered the house and grabbed the attractive, dark-haired Mrs. Macy.

"You're hurting my wife," police said Macy shouted. He ran to his bedroom for a pistol.

After a barrage of gunfire, the bandits fled, leaving Macy sprawled in a pool of blood on the blue carpet of their French provincial bedroom.

Dashing out the door the gunmen almost ran headon into Clarence A. Vicklund, a neighbor, who came running when he heard the shots, police said.

Vicklund told police he was ordered back to his house, but he heard one of the bandits say something like "I've been shot" or "Oh, my God, we shot them." Vicklund said one of the men went back into the Macy home briefly.

Mrs. Macy was found lying in the entrance foyer of the ranch style home.

Det. Sgt. James Coon said three men were believed involved, the two who entered the Macy home and a third who drove the late-model getaway car.

Coon said it didn't appear the bandits got any money from the Macy home.

Mr. and Mrs. Macy enjoyed going to the court almost daily at the Royal Pal Tennis Club where they were members. Among Macy's associates, police said, were author James Michener, actor Kirk Douglas and singer Dinah Shore.

Macy last year won the singles championship of the national clay court tournament for men over 60.

The Macy home had been burglarized several times in past years.

About $1,000 a year

Fuel bids will result in savings to county

The Garza County Commissioner's Court said Monday it will begin saving approximately a thousand dollars a year as the result of submitting the county's and precinct's gasoline and diesel needs to bidders.

Gulf Oil Corporation was the low bidder for 1968 on gasoline at 18.75 cents per gallon on regular and 21.5 cents per gallon on ethyl. These bids include state but not federal taxes.

Texaco won the diesel bid for the year at 19.1 cents per gallon.

This is the first time the county has ever taken fuel bids.

As customary at their January meeting, the court set salaries for all county and precinct officials and employees for the year 1968. The court voted no changes in the 1967 salary schedule.

The court accepted $1,150 in contributions from 18 donors, via the recent campaign of the art development committee, for the preservation of the old sanatorium building owned by the county.

The court made its third transfer from the general fund into the hospital operating fund, this time for $6,000. This leaves from $8,000 of the $17,000 budgeted for hospital operation in the general fund.

In other actions, the court set the terms for county court for 1968, voted no changes in time for poll openings and closings during 1968 for special elections and the general election. The polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

The court also approved for another year the present pay scale for election judges and officials.

This is $1 per hour for a maximum of $12.50 with the election judge receiving an additional $5 for bringing his election box in on the same day of the election.

Tipton candidate for re-election

T. H. Tipton this week authorizes The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of Tax Assessor - Collector for Garza County, subject to the Democratic primaries. Mr. Tipton's statement follows:

"I would like to express to you my sincere appreciation for your support and cooperation during my tenure of office as Tax Assessor-Collector.

"The records of this office since I have been your Tax Assessor-Collector have met with the approval of both state and county auditors at all times, with their compliments, and I have kept the expense of the office to a minimum.

"I am a candidate for re-election to this office and, if re-elected, I will continue to discharge my duties to the best of my ability."

T. H. Tipton

Sanchez in race for re-election

Ben Sanchez today authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of Precinct 3 County Commissioner of Garza County, subject to the Democratic primary elections. His statement follows:

"In asking you, the voters of Commissioner Precinct 3, to honor me with a second term as your County Commissioner, I wish to state that I have attended to the duties of the office to the best of my ability and will continue to do so if re-elected.

"Precinct 3 is in good financial condition — completely out of debt under my administration — and with an adequate reserve.

"I earnestly solicit your support and influence in asking for re-election to this office."

TV cable franchise assigned new owners by city council

The Post city council voted Monday night to transfer the assignment of a 25-year TV cable franchise from the former holders, Dave Sanford and Leo Holmes, to Clearview of Post.

The action came after Bill Searle, manager of radio station KPOS, and Joe Shields, both of whom have an interest in the TV cable company, appeared before the council with the information that the franchise was included in the sale of the radio station to the present owners last September by Sanford and Holmes.

The council was told by Shields that installation of the TV cable is scheduled to begin around Feb. 1 with the northwest part of town being the first section of the city to get the cable service.

IN OTHER action at their regular January session, the city council:

—Appointed Harold Lucas to succeed Dr. A. C. Surman on the board of directors of the White River Municipal Water District.

—Adopted an ordinance to issue $13,000 in time warrants for purchase of the city auditorium building.

—Reappointed Dr. Harry A. Tubbs to a two-year term as city health officer.

—Appointed a temporary committee to be in charge of the new city auditorium.

—Heard insurance man V. F. "Bing" Bingham outline a firemen's retirement plan.

—Named six men from among whom a board of tax equalization will be appointed and set the equalization board hearing dates.

—Approved renewal of a one-year contract with Pritchard & Abbott for tax evaluation service.

—Reset the salaries of offices to be filled in the April city election.

—Set Jan. 12 as the hearing date on an oil well drilling permit filed by George R. Brown.

—Heard the police department report for the month of December.

Lucas, a former mayor and councilman, was appointed by the council to a two-year term on the White River board after Mayor John Hopkins read a letter from Dr. Surman requesting that he not be considered for reappointment. Dr. Surman had served as a member of the board since its organization.

NAMED BY the council to the temporary committee for administration of the city auditorium until a permanent committee is appointed were Vernon Scott, S. E. Camp, Mrs. R. L. Marks and Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick.

Bingham brought the firemen's retirement plan before the council at its request, which the council had made after a delegation of firemen met with them at their

December meeting to request a $1 raise in fire call play plus waiving of the $3.50 minimum charge on the firemen's water bills.

The council did not take action on the firemen's retirement plan presented by Bingham, but asked him to also draw up a city - fireman participating insurance plan for their consideration.

THE SIX men named by the council for selection as a tax equalization board were Marvin Hudman, Bobby Pierce, V. L. "Punk" Peel, Ed Sawyers, A. C. Cash and T. B. Odam. Three will be selected as members of the tax board and three as alternate members.

The council set May 21 and June 11 as dates of the tax equalization board's hearings.

The police department report by Police Chief Bill Gordon showed a total of $701 in fines collected in December for one of the "lightest" months of the year.

Tahoka rites held for W. J. Benson

Funeral services for William J. Benson, 95, longtime Lynn County resident, who died Friday morning at Mercy Hospital in Slaton, were conducted at 3 p. m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Tahoka.

Mr. Benson, who was the father of Charles P. Benson of Post, had been in the hospital at Lubbock for seven weeks. For three years prior to that, he was a resident of the Golden Years Nursing Home in Post.

He was married to Jennie Pierce on Oct. 11, 1896, at Burleson. They moved to Lynn County in 1915, where Mr. Benson farmed until his retirement several years ago.

Besides the son of Post, he is survived by another son, Jesse Benson of Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. A. W. Arnold of Slaton and Mrs. E. L. Johnson of Lubbock; one sister, Mrs. Mollie Fisk of Beaumont; eight grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Jim Turner, pastor, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery under the direction of White's Funeral Home. Grandsons were pallbearers.

Those from Post who attended the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Benson, Carleton P. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Duckworth, Pauline Coleman, Mrs. Walter Boren, Mrs. Lewis Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bouchier.

Schools hard hit

Absenteeism high in flu outbreak

Supt. Bill Shiver reported 262 students absent from school yesterday, mostly attributed to influenza, and expressed the hope that "we may have reached our peak in influenza absenteeism."

Shiver said 123 were absent from the first five grades Wednesday morning, 84 from junior high and 55 from high school.

The peak to date was reached Monday when 267 were absent or 22 per cent of the school enrollment. Absenteeism fell to 237 students Tuesday, or 20 per cent of the total enrollment.

The superintendent said he has checked with the Texas Educational Agency at Austin on their guidelines to closing the schools because of the flu bug and was told school officials would best follow the recommendations of the city health officer.

Shiver said Dr. Harry Tubbs, Post health officer, is being advised daily of absentee figures here.

Shiver said the TEA frowns on school closings unless the flu reaches real epidemic proportions.

What compounds the problem here this week is that semester tests are being given in both the junior high and high school.

Shiver said the flu hasn't hit the faculty to any extent so lack of teachers has not been a problem as yet.

Banquet ticket goal set at 300

A goal of 300 attendance at the annual Post Chamber of Commerce banquet Feb. 1 has been set by A. C. Cash and Vernon Scott, co-chairmen of the club's banquet ticket sale committee.

Tickets are going on sale this week at $3.50 each.

The banquet will be the first public event held in the new Post municipal auditorium.

Dr. Charles W. Jarvis, the flying dentist of San Marcos, Tex., ranked in the top 10 after dinner speakers in the nation, will bring the banquet address.

Shiver's contract is extended year

Post Independent School District trustees at their January meeting Monday night extended the contract of Supt. of Schools Bill Shiver for an additional year at his present salary.

Shiver's contract now runs through 1971. He will receive increment increases each year as do local teachers.

Trustees also employed Miss Ann Davenport to replace Mrs. Lea Mock for a five-week maternity leave.

The board agreed to ask for bids for painting the exterior trims of all school buildings in the system this summer, providing the 10-w bid indicates the school district can afford it.

Trustees spent 35 to 40 minutes discussing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's request on the board's attitude toward new taxes. Trustees unanimously agreed that they favored a state sales tax increase earmarked for education as a new source of school revenue.

Wilks enters race for Pct. 3 Commissioner

The Dispatch today was authorized by Russell Wilks Jr. to announce his candidacy for the office of Garza County Commissioner, Precinct 3, subject to the Democratic primary elections.

Wilks said he will make a formal statement of his candidacy later.

Batchelor rites conducted here

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle B. Batchelor, 80, who died at 5 p. m. Saturday at Lavoy Rest Home in Tahoka, were held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Mason Funeral Home chapel.

Mrs. Batchelor, who had been a resident of Post since 1917, had been in the rest home at Tahoka for 18 months. She was a native of Tennessee.

Her only survivors are cousins Mrs. Jeannie Hord of Temple, Mrs. Grace Hoch of San Marcos, Dolly Pruitt of Fort Worth, Laura Boothe of Dallas, and Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, Irene Wheeler and Howard Freeman, all of Post.

Don Davenport, minister of the Post Church of Christ, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Bearers were George Sneed, Tony Ray, Paul Jones, Travis Thomas, Bill McBride and Charley Murray.

Dispatch joins 1968 voter sign-up drive

This week The Dispatch joins in a statewide newspaper campaign organized by Secretary of State John L. Hill to promote free voter registration in Texas.

One feature of the registration drive is the publication of an application form which voters may cut out and mail to the county tax assessor-collector, who acts as the registrar of voters. One of the forms appears on page 1 of today's Dispatch and another on page 7.

The deadline for registration is Jan. 31.

One of the new laws enacted in 1967 makes registration necessary, for the first time in Texas history, for persons over 60 years of age who live in rural communities and towns under 10,000 population. Heretofore, persons over 60 were required to register only if they lived in a city having more than 10,000 inhabitants.

Any person eligible to register may apply for registration by mailing an application form to the county tax assessor-collector of the county of his residence. Registration certificates will be mailed before the beginning of the voting year on March 1 to persons who apply by mail.

Voters may also register by applying in person at the county tax assessor-collector's office.

The husband, wife, father, mother, son, or daughter of a voter may act as the voter's agent in applying for registration if the relative is a qualified voter in the same county. Except for these listed relatives, which do not include those related by marriage, no one may act as agent for another in applying for registration.

Voters who have not already applied for registration are urged to cut out one of the application forms in today's paper, fill in all the blanks, and mail it to the county tax assessor-collector without delay.

Pertinent points on the sales tax

As 1968 gets under way, the 7,000 or so inhabitants of Garza County can be thankful that they are not among the nearly one million Texans who had to start paying an additional penny per dollar in sales taxes with the new year.

The nearly one million Texans who are saddled with the sales tax live in 14 cities where sales tax elections were held—and the tax approved—prior to Sept. 1.

The other cities that approved the tax in 1967—and there are some 125 of them—must wait until April to start imposing the tax.

Garza countians will have to pay the tax, of course, when they make purchases in cities where the sales tax has been approved, and these include Lubbock, where many a Garza County dollar is spent.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert will collect the tax for the cities along with the 2 per cent state sales tax. With a very few exceptions, the local taxes will be on the same items covered by the state tax.

The comptroller will skim off 2 per cent of each city's total local sales tax revenue to cover collection costs.

The comptroller has also sent out word that merchants in the sales tax cities will receive no official reminders to start collecting the local tax, but they will have separate reporting forms from those used for the state tax.

Of the 11 rules Calvert has issued for collecting the tax, the most important from the consumer's standpoint is the one that sets out the "breaking points" or brackets for collecting various amounts of combined state and local sales taxes.

No taxes will be levied on sales of up to 16 cents; a penny tax will be imposed on sales of 17-49 cents; two cents on sales of 50-83 cents; three cents on 84 cents—$1.16; four cents on $1.17-$1.49 and a nickel on sales of $1.50-$1.83. On larger purchases the tax will be computed by multiplying 3 per cent times the amount of sale.

In cities without a local sales tax, the state tax is not collected on purchases of under 25 cents.

If a retailer in a city with the local sales tax sells an article to a buyer in Post, or any other city without the tax, he must include transportation charges in computing the state sales tax but not the city tax.

Sales of natural gas and electricity are completed at the point of delivery to the consumer.

This means that a utility company must collect the tax for gas or electricity delivered to customers in a sales tax city.

After all, these might be good things for Post taxpayers to know, because the way the trend is going, we might someday also be a local sales tax city. In the meantime, we will have to pay the local sales tax when we spend our money in Lubbock or in any other city that has the tax.

Lots of vinegar—trickle of syrup

Leave it up to the Post Office Department to sock you hard where it hurts the most and then try to assuage your feelings by patting you gently on the shoulder.

As an example, since Sunday, we've been paying increased postage rates, among which the hardest to take are the new six-cent rate for first class mail, the new five-cent rate for what used to be penny post cards, and the new 10-cent rate for air mail.

But the good old Post Office Department decided to add some sweet along with the bitter, so it also started a new service Sunday—for a 15-cent fee. The Department probably figured the 15-cent fee is not too high, since the new service is something that has never been offered before.

Whether you ever need to use this new service or not, it's right there waiting for you. What it amounts to is this: If you lost your favorite uncle's, or aunt's, new address when you threw out the Christmas card envelopes, you will be able to get it from the Post Office Department for 15 cents.

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, in announcing the new service, said it would permit customers to obtain the address of anyone who has moved and left a forwarding address at the post office. All the sender has to do is write "address correction requested" below his return address and send a first-class letter to the addressee's old residence. After the letter is forwarded, the postman will deliver a form to the sender showing the new address and collect the 15-cent fee.

Of course, if your uncle or aunt or whatever left no forwarding address, you get nothing, but then neither do you have to pay the 15-cent fee—we don't think.

Another trickle of syrup added by the Post Office Department is the vinegar of increased postage rates come several weeks ago when it was announced that for a $1 fee a post office would furnish you the address of somebody you were trying to locate, in case that somebody happened to be one of the post office's patrons.

While these two new services like a whole lot of taking all the sting out of the postage rate increases, they do help—they do help.—CD

New industry could be uranium

New uranium contracts for peaceful uses of the yellow precipitate will be the behind whatever measure of prosperity might develop from Garza County's "uranium future."

Nuclear-powered generating stations are producing power or are under construction or are being planned in about 20 countries.

Peaceful uses of uranium will, indeed, create a big market for the product.

Garza County's "uranium past" didn't amount to much, but it occurred at a time when the only market was the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Even commercially productive localities that started from the uranium boom in the '50's, faded in the early '60's when the Atomic Energy Commission began dropping its option on uranium production.

Actually, the surface was "barely scratched" here in the late '60's on Garza County's uranium mining possibilities. Given a new chance in the late '60's or early '70's, with an expanded market, uranium mining might well prove to be that new industry we are so eager for.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

There was a time when wall-to-wall carpeting on the pate was one of the first requirements of male movie celebrities. Now several of the idols of the screen and television are reported to have artificial head adornments. Science has made this an age in which youthful experience may be extended to the very brink of senility—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

TODAY, JAN. 8, is the first Monday in three weeks that hasn't been a holiday. Just to make sure that it wasn't some sort of a holiday that I didn't know about, I looked it up, and found that about the only thing of importance that ever happened on Jan. 8 was in 1861 when Mississippi seceded from the Union.

Thought for Today: In two more days tomorrow will be yesterday.

THE ENTRANCE of Gordon McLendon, Dallas radio-television executive, in the governor's race livens it up and keeps Preston Smith from feeling so much alone in seeking election to the state's top office. McLendon built a broadcasting reputation as "the old Scotchman," and I remember him best from the days just after World War II when he broadcast recreated accounts of major league baseball games. That was back in the days when it was next to impossible to get a live broadcast of a baseball game, at least in this neck of the woods, and I've spent many an hour listening to McLendon's broadcasts. I never got to liking him well enough to want to vote for him for governor, however.

Speaking of radio broadcasts, barber Bill McBride is doing a good job in airing the Post Antelope basketball games over radio station KPOS, and has become the new "Voice of the Antelopes." Bill is one of the most ardent supporters of the Post Antelopes, a blessed with, whether it's basketball or football, or some other sport, they're playing. He has quite a collection of pictures of junior and high school athletic teams displayed at his barber shop, and also last summer's baseball teams.

THE MAN UP the street says good resolutions are things that go in one year and out the other.

We've learned here at The Dispatch that not too many people are concerned about mistakes that get into the paper, or how they happen, unless the mistake concerns them, but all readers may be interested in the seven major reasons for error.

In the course of printing enough reading matter each issue to fill a book, here's how mistakes are made:

1. Person giving the information suffers a slip of the tongue.
2. Reporter taking the information has his (or her) mind on love, the weather or last night's party.
3. Copy editor needs new glasses.
4. Compositor can't find the right keys on the linotype.
5. Proofreader overlooks the error.
6. Compositor setting corrections makes another mistake.
7. Printer replacing incorrect line pulls the wrong slug.

This still may sound like Greek to the average newspaper reader, but the next time his name is misspelled perhaps he will remember all the operations required to get his name in print in the first place and be lenient about cussing out the staff.

ALONG THE SAME lines, an editor received a story from one of his reporters about the theft of 2,025 pigs from one farmer. Curious about the large number, he phoned the farmer.

"Are you the one who had 2,025 pigs stolen?"

"Yeth, I thure am," replied the farmer.

"Thanks," said the editor as he turned and rewrote the story about the theft of 2 cows and 25 pigs.

The boss received a letter from one of his employes which read something like this:

Five company officers given promotions by Pioneer Natural Gas

AMARILLO — The board of directors of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, at a special meeting held in Amarillo, announced the creation of two new positions and the advancement of five of the company's officers.

C. L. "Stoney" Wall, who has been president of Pioneer since 1955, was elevated to the newly created position of chairman of the board. He will also continue to serve as president.

Wall is a veteran of more than 40 years of service with Pioneer. He joined the company shortly after his graduation from Kansas University in 1927. In 1946, Wall was named vice president of West Texas Gas Company and in 1952 was named president of predecessor companies. Wall served as vice president of Pioneer prior to being named president.

Another newly created position, executive vice president, was filled by B. P. Smith, formerly a senior vice president in charge of the company's financial affairs.

In addition to staffing these new executive classifications, advancements were given to A. F. Cox, K. B. Watson and W. N. Lampe.

Sites and buildings vital for prospects

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of five articles on the five major points deemed necessary to a community getting new industry.)

By JAMES J. KELLY
Assistant Executive Director
Texas Industrial Commission

As a fourth "point" in starting industrial development program, the Industrial Development Committee should assign a group responsible for evaluating existing potential industrial sites and buildings and working with the Industrial Foundation which was discussed in Point III. Probably the individual or group assigned to this task will be well versed in real estate. Your committee's allies, the public utilities companies and railroads, should be of assistance here, too.

It is essential to have a complete inventory of the sites and buildings in your community. This inventory can be greatly assisted by the use of the "Site Data" form and the "Existing Building Data" forms available upon request from the Texas Industrial Commission.

WHENEVER possible, a map should be made showing the location of available sites and photographs should be made of existing buildings. Every piece of property should be clearly marked as "industrial property" by a sign.

In evaluating industrial sites, there are at least ten important factors to consider:

1. Availability, 2. Suitability, 3. Price, 4. Utilities, 5. Water, 6. City services, 7. Zoning, 8. Transportation, 9. Soil conditions and drainage, and 10. Development cost.

Once it is established that a site is available, then dig back into the research analysis discussed as Point II of this series, and check the suitability of the site or building against the requirements of one of your "candidate" industries.

A more difficult task for the site and building experts of your I. D. Committee and Industrial Foundation will be securing certain sites. It may be necessary for a site or building to be secured by the committee so that it can be turned over to the locating or expanding industry on terms favorable to them, or it may be necessary for the committee to control such property so that it can be offered to the right industrial prospects when the right time comes. Methods of financing such purchases were outlined as Point III.

THE FIRST order of business in securing a potential industrial site or building is to obtain a firm price from the owner. This may take some persuasion by the committee, but it is a step which costs them nothing and yet affords an essential piece of intelligence. Naturally, the committee must be very careful not to cause rumors leading to speculation that might raise the price of the land right out of the market.

Once a firm price has been obtained, it may be necessary to take an option on the property. Probably this would be taken by the Industrial Foundation. In this way, the property can be held by the foundation and used as a lure for the prospective new or expanding industry for the duration of the option. If the deal falls through completely, the loss to the foundation has been minimal.

Another possibility is for the committee to locate a local investor-builder who finds the deal promising, and work with him in landing the industrial tenant.

Somewhat risky, but often necessary if the right sites and buildings are to be obtained for I. D. purposes, is for the Industrial Foundation to buy the property outright. Then it can do as it pleases about offering the property to the industrial prospect.

DIVERSE DIVERS

Deepsea divers, operating hundreds of miles from the nearest sea, were important to the success of a mining operation in Northern Manitoba. The divers plunged into 60 feet of swampy water to help sink a mine shaft being developed for International Nickel.

FANCY THAT!..... by THOMPSON

Trail yarns and roundup recipes are old cowboy's stock-in-trade

SAN ANGELO—"C. L. 'Humpy' Briggs has been whipping up cowboy grub for 55 years now and his head is as full of trail yarns as it is of roundup recipes.

He first unfolded his chuck-wagon menu in 1903, the tail-end of the wrangler and drover era, for a living and 50 cents a day.

Now he rattles the pots and pans for his friends and relatives, and cooks for a big outdoor get-together about every four years in San Angelo.

Humpy's latest cowboy feed this fall on the shores of Lake Nasworthy featured mounds of sourdough biscuits, 144 pounds of chicken and gallons of cowboy strawberries (red beans).

Those who partook of the trail vittles said he hasn't lost his touch. Now 79, he began work on a West Texas ranch just as the exciting period of the Old West was drawing to a close.

"Oh, we still carried guns," Humpy said. "But most of the ranches were fenced, except when you got on the Caprock. And we did have some devil of trouble once in a while over water rights."

Almost apologetically, he said about the only time he used his six-gun was to shoot his horse after it stepped into a prairie dog hole and broke a leg.

All his ranching life was spent working for someone else, mainly on some of the biggest ranches in West Texas and New Mexico—ranches such as the SMS, the 6666 and the Matador.

He spent more nights outside than in and he still won't sleep in the house in the wintertime.

"That gas will kill you," he maintains.

When he visits relatives, he brings his old "bear nest" bedroll and sleeps in the garage or on the back porch. He says he's too old to change now.

Humpy quit ranch work nine years ago when an accident bumped up one leg, making it impossible for him to ride a horse.

He likes to tell of the days when he spent nine months out of the year shoveling hot grub to hardened cowpokes and the other three riding alone to water bogs, rescuing stray and weakened cattle from the mire.

Humpy is especially fond of spinning yarns for his 20 grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

And the youngsters never complain when he pours lard into his cast-iron pots and starts slapping sourdough in the skillet.

It's the Law...

"I SAW DADDY HIT MOMMY"

Repugnant, to be sure, is the idea of putting a child on the witness stand and asking him for unsavory details of his life at home. Besides the embarrassment, he suffers the anguish of having to side with one parent against the other.

Yet, what if Daddy really did hit Mommy—and the child is the only one who saw it? Obviously, here is eyewitness evidence that the court won't get except from the mouth of the child.

Should such testimony be allowed? May the child of a divorcing couple be asked to tell what he knows?

To start with, the child, to testify at all, must be old enough and intelligent enough to qualify as a witness under local law. Assuming that he does qualify, then the court still must weigh the particular circumstances of the case.

Consider a recent divorce action. The key issue was whether or not the husband had gotten drunk at a certain party. His wife and his mother-in-law both swore that he had. Could he summon his nine-year-old son to swear that he had not?

The court ruled that he could indeed call the boy to the witness stand, because otherwise he would be deprived of vital corroboration, obtainable in no other way.

But in another case, the court decided not to allow testimony by a 13-year-old girl, already extremely nervous from the family feuding. The court noted that the information she could give was available from other witnesses.

The nature of the testimony, too, may have a bearing on its admissibility. Thus, courts generally frown on subjecting children to questions about adultery.

"It is a great wrong to them," explained one judge, "not only as it touches them in their natural affections, but also as it tends to destroy their purity of mind."

Even if this kind of testimony is allowed, it may be received with skepticism by the court. For example, an eight-year-old boy's account of his mother's association with another man was held insufficient, by itself, to establish her infidelity.

The court said it could not put that much reliance on the boy's observation as such a relationship, at an age when he would "scarcely be able to understand the significance."

Free Prescription Record

Is offered to all our customers who ask for it. It comes in mighty handy this time of year for income tax purposes.

A year ago we installed a modern Taxco Record System to make available to you at any time a complete record of your original prescriptions and prescription refills for each year or for any given period.

Under this system your individual record of your Prescriptions will be so maintained as to qualify for income Tax deduction, Insurance Requirements or for any other purpose under which you may need or desire such a record.

For instance, if you were to lose or misplace your Prescription and had no record of its original Prescription number with which to obtain a refill—it would be instantly available to you under your individual record.

Or, your Doctor may wish to review the medication you have had over a previous period of time; this, too, will be instantly available to him from your personal file.

A copy of our complete record will be available to you at any time or at the end of each year and your record for each succeeding year will become a permanent part of your personal file.

THERE IS NO CHARGE FOR THIS SERVICE—just a request from you and your file will be set up immediately.

Nazarene church to hold revival

The Rev. Morris Chalfant, a 20th century evangelist who seeks to maintain the spirit of the great revivalists of the past, will preach at a revival beginning Sunday, Jan. 14, at the Church of the Nazarene here and continuing through Sunday, Jan. 21.

Services will be held at 7 o'clock nightly during the revival, and 10:45 a. m. Sunday, according to the Rev. Charles E. Peters, pastor of the church. There will be special music at each service.

The Rev. Mr. Chalfant, of Danville, Ill., is a son of the late Dr. E. O. Chalfant, one of the outstanding district superintendents of the Church of the Nazarene.

Everyone is invited to attend the revival, the Rev. Mr. Peters said. There will be a supervised nursery at each service.

Get acquainted tea Sunday for those who will sing Messiah

The Post Music Club, a member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Bo Jackson with Mrs. Jim Poer and Mrs. Ray Aubrey as co-hostesses.

The meeting was opened with the reading of the club collect and the singing of the hymn of the month, "God of Grace" by Harry Emerson Fosdick. It was directed by club chorus director, Mrs. Jim Poer, and accompanied by Mrs. L. J. Dietrich. The minutes were read and approved.

Mrs. W. G. Pool Jr., club president, discussed the purchase of music for "The Messiah" to be given in April. Several copies of the music have been purchased and were shown to the group.

A motion was passed that the club hold an introductory tea in the home of Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick Sunday, Jan. 14, at 3 p. m. Or the club members and those who will be singing in "The Messiah" from outside the club. Club members, who won't be hostesses this year and club officers, will assist with the tea.

A nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. Ed Sawyers, chairman, Mrs. Garland Huddleston and Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick, was named by Mrs. Pool to nominate officers for the 1968-69 club year. The election will be held at the February meeting.

The club voted to present the course of study book for the year, "Enjoyment of Music," to the Post Public Library in memory of I. H. Macy, father-in-law of club member, Mrs. Bob Macy.

Mrs. Jim Poer and Mrs. Don Pennell sang as a duet, "Come Unto Me," from Handel's Messiah, accompanied by Mrs. K. E. Kirkpatrick. Mrs. Huddleston then sang another of Handel's works, "Garden at Dawn."

The program study was given by Mrs. Harley Turbyfill on "The Works and Life of Handel."

Refreshments were served to: Mmes. Pool, Dietrich, Moxley, Huddleston, K. W. Kirkpatrick, W. M. Kirkpatrick, George Miller, Sawyers, Glenn Norman, Turbyfill, Jackson, Dan Lamb and Pennell.

Christian women studying Japan

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick Monday at 2:30 p. m. to begin their new study on Japan, entitled "Shoes at the Threshold."

Customs of the country were used throughout the meeting. Shoes were left at the front door; tea, tangerines and butter were served, and the ladies dressed in kimonos.

Mrs. Hub Haire presented a verbal tour of Japan. Mrs. Jack Burrell led the worship, entitled, "Hurried People." Mrs. Mason Justice portrayed a Japanese woman and Mrs. Jim Poer an American as part of the worship.

Those present were Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick, president, Mrs. F. C. Barker, Mrs. Max Mitchell, Mrs. Will Wright, Mrs. Lee Davis Jr., Burrell, Poer, Haire and Justice.

12 members at club meeting

Mrs. Viva Davis, new president, presided over the business session when the Graham Home Demonstration Club met at 2 p. m. last Friday at the Graham community center.

Roll call was answered with "How I Plan to Be a Better Club Member."

Refreshments of fried pies, spiced tea and coffee were served by hostesses Orabeth White and Bernita Maxey to the following members:

Iris McMahon, Sue Maxey, Viva Davis, Dorothy Cowdrey, Mae Gossett, Diane Graves, Inis Thuett, Jewel Parrish, Nita McClellan and Maurice Bush.

Lois Kennedy presents chapter meet program

Lois Kennedy presented a program on "Queen Elizabeth" when Xi Delta Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its first meeting of 1968, Monday, at the Reddy Room, with Sherry Josey as hostess.

Others attending were: Johnnie Francis, Willie Cross, Lorrye McAllister, Joyce Teaff, Ginger Carhale, Frankie Robbins, Sue Dorner, Ruby Jones, Allane Ammons, Lora Blanton and Bernice Eubank.

The next meet will be Jan. 22 in the Reddy Room.

HOME FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Gordon and three children have returned home from two weeks in California where they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Askins, and other relatives.

VISIT IN DALLAS

L. B. Pate spent the weekend at Dallas in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Skipper McWhirt. Mrs. Pate, who had spent the week there, returned home with her husband Sunday.

Engagement of Jaynie Josey to Robert Dickson is told

Mrs. Bobby Josey is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Jaynie Lea, to Robert Truman Dickson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Truman Dickson Sr.

No wedding date has been set.

Miss Josey, a 1967 graduate of Post High School, is a freshman at South Plains College, Levelland. Mr. Dickson graduated from Monahans High School and attended McMurry College at Abilene. He is associated with his father in the P&W Acid Co.

'The Poet's Living Words' course of study at meeting

"The Poet's Living Words" was the title of the course of study of the Woman's Culture Club at its Jan. 3 meeting.

Mrs. Ralph Welch started the program by discussing "The Iliad" by Homer back in the Greece and Rome era; Mrs. Mason Justice "The Divine Comedy" by Dante to include the Middle Ages; Mrs. C. D. Morrel, "The Faery Queen" by Spenser during the Renaissance period and Mrs. Ira Lee Duckworth concluded with "Love's Progress" by Donne of the 17th Century.

The musical portion of the program was a recording of Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake."

During the business meeting the resignation of Mrs. Virgil Bilbo was accepted with regret. Mrs. Lee Davis, Mrs. Duckworth and Mrs. C. R. Thaxton were elected to serve as the nominating committee.

Members were asked to turn in trading stamp books by Feb. 1 to support the International Friendship Gardens, a project of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. The trading stamp books will be redeemed for $2 each to help meet a goal of $125,000 secured from the State Legislature. The project cannot be started until the goal is met.

Invitation Extended

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Bland extend a cordial invitation to friends to attend the wedding of their daughter, Alice Elaine, to Gary Don Donelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton E. Donelson of Snyder, at 6 o'clock in the evening, Saturday, January 27.

The wedding will take place in the First Christian Church of Post. A reception will follow.

Girl Scouts plan father-daughter banquet Feb. 12

The Post Neighborhood of Girl Scouts met for the monthly meeting last Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lee Davis Jr., neighborhood chairman. Mrs. James Russell, district advisor of Lubbock, was present.

It was reported that during 1967, 22 girls attended supervised troop camping at Rio Blanco. Mrs. Carl Aycock and Troop 377 spent two nights and Mrs. Davis and Troop 331 spent one night.

Three girls from Troop 331 spent a week at Camp Rio Blanco near Crosbyton last June. They were Sherry Compton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Compton; Cindy Cates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cates, and Carol Davis, daughter of the Lee Davises.

Sixty-four girls and 14 adults are registered Girl Scouts in Garza County.

The Caprock Girl Scout Council composed of 11 counties, including Garza, has a total of 2,668 girls, ages 7 through 21, enrolled.

A fair is being planned for the Caprock Council which will be held March 23 at the Fair Park Coliseum in Lubbock.

Plans were made to hold a Father-Daughter Banquet Feb. 12.

Opal Williams is elected by club

Opal Williams was elected president of the Mystic Sewing Club at last Friday's meeting, held in the home of Estlea Nichols.

Other officers are: Winnie Henderson, vice president; Lillie D. Short, secretary-treasurer; and Henrietta Nichols, reporter.

The hostess served open-faced pimiento and chicken salad sandwiches, pickles, cheese crackers, cookies, hot Dr. Pepper and coffee to the following:

Opal Williams, Pearl Polk, Edna McLendon, Catherine Kennedy, Nell Windham, Ruby Butler, Winnie Henderson, Jimmie Huddman, Lillie D. Short, and Henrietta Nichols.

Ruby Sheed will be hostess of the Jan. 19 meeting.

Mu Alphas plan progressive dinner

Meeting Monday night in the Community Room, Mu Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi made plans for a progressive dinner to be held here Jan. 19.

In response to a need at Girlstown for hose and hair spray, two items which cannot be furnished by the home, the chapter decided to donate as many of these items as they could accumulate between now and later in the spring when they will be delivered to the girls.

Hostesses Margaret Barley and Maritta Reed served refreshments to Lois Fluit, Karen Callaway, Becky Brown, Janet Peel, Janie Middleton, Billie Newman, Judy Roper, Barbara Ethridge and Flute King.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Contrary to what you read in The Dispatch last week, Post's New Year baby, Tina Ann Ayala, was not 968 years old at birth. When Mr. C brought the paper home to me at noon Thursday, (my day off) the number 1068 leaped out at me from the story about Tina Ann's birth.

What a goof, I thought. The bad thing about the goof is that I had no one but myself to blame. I wrote the story, I "punched" the story and I proofread the story.

Well, that's a pretty understandable goof, I thought, and at least that was the only one I made during a rather hectic week.

Then I went to work Friday morning and found a note from Orabeth White, who takes my place on Thursdays. The note pointed out another glaring mistake I had made concerning not one but two write-ups. A Mrs. Hugh Martin had called to inform us that Cheryl Vardiman, Carolyn Williams, and Sammie Martin are the daughters and sons of the Eugene Martins, not the Hugh Martins.

After much wailing and moaning, I was glad that I had been consistent. While writing about Cheryl leaving to join her husband in Hawaii on his R&R from Vietnam and while writing about Carolyn's surgery in another story I had at least kept them in the same family.

Other than hating to make errors, I wasn't too upset about the Martin mixup I've been confused about them ever since I started working. As I understand it, three sisters married the three Martin brothers — Barney, Eugene and Hugh. This is all fine except to me the three sisters all look alike and it's only in the last year or so that I've finally figured out who is who and that's only part of the time.

To my knowledge I have never met Barney, Eugene or Hugh. I have met the three Martin wives, though, and I can always safely say: "Hello, Mrs. Martin." The only male Martins I know are Pat and Bryce, who are no relation.

I do know that the Barney Martins' children are Ruthell and Connie. Up until last week I thought I knew that Sammie, Cheryl and

Mrs. Irons heads Post Art Guild

Mrs. Bertha Irons was elected president of the Post Art and Craft Guild for 1968 at the guild's annual election Monday night during a meeting in the Blue Flame Room, with Mrs. Boo Olson as hostess.

Other officers named were Mrs. Barbara McKeown, program chairman; Mrs. Mary Cross, secretary; Mrs. Allie Martin, treasurer; and Mrs. Evelyn Neff, reporter.

Refreshments were served. Members present were Mmes. Glenda Morrow, Marie Neff, Irons, Martin, Neff, McKeown, Cross and Olson.

Mrs. Irons will be hostess at the guild's next meeting, the time of which is to be announced.

VISIT IN ODESSA

Mrs. Jim Gordon and Nova visited in Odessa in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Burdon over the weekend.

Carolyn were the Hugh Martin children. Now I know better.

Now, I have no idea if the Hugh Martins even have children and I almost hope I don't find out. I have the feeling that would only confuse me more.

Are my apologies accepted? That's what I've been doing in the last several paragraphs, in case you didn't know.

As I said in my column last week: "What a way to start the New Year!" Obviously I should have stood in bed, which is partly what I'm doing this week. The "flu" bug hit me Monday afternoon so I'm spending Tuesday at home getting my R&R.

I always know The Dispatch staff is praying for a rapid recovery on my part so "they" don't have to answer the phone, wait on customers, write society and personals, take classified ads and "set" all the copy.

I hate having the flu—it's so common these days. To borrow a phrase from our country correspondents, I wish you all, including myself, a speedy recovery.

Engagement of Libby Sales to Weldon McGehee is announced

Mr. and Mrs. Murrel Sales of the Gordon community are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Libby, to Dennis McGehee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McGehee, also of Gordon.

The wedding is planned for Jan. 19 in the Morningside Baptist Church with the Rev. Troy Cartmill officiating.

Girl Scout troop plans 'overnight'

Girl Scout Troop 331 is making plans to go on an overnight camping to Camp Rio Blanco near Crosbyton in the near future.

During 1967, the troop earned two proficiency badges in cooking and health aid.

At Christmas time, the girls went Christmas caroling and prepared Christmas treat boxes for their families.

Troop members include Sherry Compton, Carol Davis, Lee Ann Gandy, Gayle Guthrie, Kim Hester, Judi Huffman, Jana McKamie and Renee Thomas.

Invitation Extended

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Childs cordially invite their relatives and friends to attend the wedding of their daughter, Julia, to Rex Prather, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prather of Vinita, Okla., at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, Saturday, Jan. 13 at the Trinity Baptist Church.

A reception will follow at the Community Room.

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
Many local citizens have donated books to the Post library but Carolyn Sawyers has just gone one up on everybody. She has given us a book written by her father — O. C. (Colin) Henderson.

Carolyn's dad began a life-long hobby of writing verses as a young man almost a half century ago. After attending the University of Tennessee, he moved to Texas for his health and he and his wife have made their home in Uvalde for the past 20 years. His recently published book, "Poems Through the Years" reflects the inspiration he has found in the beautiful Texas hill country.

Mr. Henderson says of his work, "Perhaps it violates the modern concept of good poetry, with so much attention to rhyme, meter and many 'corny' expressions, for I am old-fashioned enough to love rhyming verses and rhythmic accents. And as for the 'corniness,' corn is a good product and it does grow out of the good earth." The poetry in "Poems Through the Years" ranges from the light-hearted and frivolous to the serious and religious. It's arranged into the five major categories of nature, life and people, humor, love, and religion. The following selection is taken from the nature section.

NUCES

Sing to me, old Nucleus:
Murmur your sweetest tune
As you gently flow o'er your rocks below
In the light of the dancing moon.

Song of the rippling river
Spirit my cares away
As I sit and dream by your musical stream
Where the shimmering moonbeams play.

Sing to me, old Nucleus:
Whisper a soothing song,
For my days are dreary, and
I grow weary,
And my nights are lonely and long.

Ever your waves keep purring
Soft in your sandy bed.
Let your song repeat with its echoes sweet
Till my loneliness all has fled.

Tell of a bright tomorrow,
Beautiful golden morn,
When the night has flown and my sorrow gone,
And my courage new is born.

For the hope of the world's tomorrow
After the night is done,
And a bright new day drives the mists away

In the light of the morning sun,
Everyone who reads Mr. Henderson's poetry will undoubtedly find a favorite. The author's exuberant humor, love of nature, and abiding faith shine from every page.

I would certainly hate to steal any thunder from Carolyn's dad but it just so happens that I've written a little poem of my own.
It goes like this:

Please do not tarry
To the library
With all those overdue books,
You rats.

Hmm. On second thought, perhaps Mr. Henderson should be persuaded to do us a library poem, too.

The fan mail really poured in Recovery from drop in baptism reports foreseen by Baptists

DALLAS — A recovery from declining baptism reports has been predicted for Texas Baptists for the new year.

Gordon Clarnard, pastor of First Church, San Angelo, and president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, said in a special New Year's news briefing: "I predict that in the area of evangelism in 1968 we shall recover from our decline in baptism reports to some degree at least. I believe this will be accomplished by a greater program in depth in evangelism in our churches."

In 1966, Texas Baptist churches reported a 12 per cent decrease in baptisms over the previous year.

Clarnard's optimistic note was one of several voiced by convention leaders as they looked to the new year and predicted renewed emphasis in several areas of Baptist life.

substantial gain is thought to be the result of accomplishing George Miller's smashing version of Zor-

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Now here's a clock that beats them all . . . Big Ben, himself, watching the passing parade. Somehow, old Ben still manages to keep an eye on things while he's telling the time, and the stories he could tell might fill a book.

With today's atomic clocks, which mark the passage of time by atom vibrations, time now can be measured more accurately than ever before. Yes, we've come a long way since the first clock, which was simply the alternating periods of darkness and daylight.

Just as man has always relied on some satisfactory method of telling the time, so has he always been aware of a hunger within his heart for peace and meaning in life.

Discover this timeless source of unfailing strength . . . worship in church this Sunday.

Often taken for granted

Area cotton industry big boon to economy

By HOWARD ALFORD
 Vice Chairman, Cotton Producers Institute Trustees

If we suddenly had a multi-million-dollar industry established in our community, it would certainly be big news. The economy of the Plains area has long been benefited, however, by an industry that is so much a part of it we are prone to take it for granted. This is the cotton industry. It not only generates new wealth each year for those who grow, process, handle, and market cotton, but provides a source of income for lending institutions, machinery dealers, oil distributors and many other enterprises serving and supplying the cotton grower.

It's no secret that cotton for a number of years has been losing markets to man-made fibers who are out-researching and out-promoting it with expenditures of millions of dollars.

THIS HAS COST the cotton grower markets, acreage, and profits, and has been felt keenly also by those who share in the farmer's prosperity or in his loss of income.

Central Baptist pastor moves to Lubbock post

The Rev. Joe Serratt, who for the last year has been pastor of the Central Baptist Church, near Post, became pastor last week of the Emmanuel Baptist Church at Lubbock.

In recent years he has been supply pastor and has done evangelistic work. He also was formerly pastor of the Lockett Baptist Church, near Vernon, Mayfield Baptist Church in Hale Center, Valleyview Baptist Church in Olton and Avenue D Baptist Church in Brownwood.

The Rev. Mr. Serratt, who was ordained Nov. 10, 1947, is a former resident of Sudan.

STAINLESS NAILS

Special nickel stainless steel nails have been developed for attaching redwood and cedar siding. Available in colors to match the siding, the nails will not corrode and stain.

The first adding machine was built by Blaise Pascal in 1642.

Cotton has been fighting back the best it could in research and promotion, and it has been making its dollars count mightily well. In 1968, however, it's mounting the biggest campaign in its history.

This national effort is being backed by a coordinated program across the Cotton Belt to move more cotton products across retail counters in local stores. This makes good sense and we hope it will receive the strongest kind of backing from everybody in the South Plains area.

AFTER ALL if those of us who "know cotton best" are not convinced of its superiority and don't back it with demand at the local level, we can't expect to be very effective salesmen for it in New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, or Toronto.

The big push for cotton is being spearheaded by the $8 million allocated by the Cotton Producers Institute for research and promotion, virtually doubling the industry's direct investment. This is being made possible through uniform participation by growers under the Cotton Research and Promotion Order.

Approximately $2.7 million of the total is budgeted for research, including $850,000 for improving the quality of cotton products; particularly their easy-care characteristics. Another $400,000 is budgeted for developing new products and $725,000 is allocated for work aimed at reducing costs of controlling insects, diseases, and weeds.

MORE THAN $2.5 million of the $5.3 million for promotion will be spent for advertising in national magazines. Another $1,261,000 provides for cost sharing of newspaper ads with local stores, and $414,000 for joint projects with major retail chains.

The National Cotton Council, which has made its staff and facilities available to CPI since 1961, will continue to service the program, thereby avoiding unnecessary overhead expenses and also making it possible for other cotton industry groups, through the Council, to share in support of the program.

Fully as significant as the $8-million CPI program is the fact that this grower outlay should attract proportionately larger mat-our purchases and influence our friends and neighbors to do likewise, we are part of a national and international campaign to build greater markets.

This comes at an especially good time for cotton. The textile market in this country is expanding at the rate of a million bales a year. Overseas, it is growing at an even faster pace. If cotton can compete in price, in quality, and in sales effort, there is no reason why it can't share substantially in this growth.

Cotton is now enjoying a competitive price. It has a big expansion in research and promotion. Add to this the support which I'm sure will be forthcoming from those of us here in the Plains area and from all across the Cotton Belt and you have a combination that is hard to beat.

IN RESEARCH, the total program for cotton already amounts to more than $26 million a year and includes the U. S. Department of Agriculture, land grant colleges and experiment stations, allied industries and foundations, as well as Cotton Producers Institute and the National Cotton Council.

Pioneered by the Council, the domestic sales promotion program was greatly stepped up with the organization of CPI in 1961. Matching funds from others interested in selling cotton products now bring the total promotion effort to an estimated $12 to $15 million. This pattern indicates that the overall program for promotion in 1968 could be as high as $28 million. And this does not include promotions in 13 foreign countries, patterned after those of the National Cotton Council, which amount to an estimated $7 million.

WE SEE, therefore, that when we encourage our local merchants to stock all-cotton products and when we back this advice with

Jaycees set plans for Young Farmer Award

The appointment of Joe Bailey as chairman of the organization's Outstanding Young Farmer committee was announced today by the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Bailey will coordinate the Jaycee program to recognize the importance of agriculture to the local economy and to honor the individual named as Post's Outstanding Young Farmer of 1967-68.

This is the 12th year the U. S.

Scarcity of long staple cotton is cited by Burkes

Louie Burkes, general manager of the Postex Cotton Mills, said Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon that High Plains cotton farmers in this area are "going in the right direction" in growing 1-1/8 inch cotton because such cotton has practically "disappeared from the cotton market."

Burkes quoted from the New York textile paper, The Daily News Record, that 1-1/8 inch cotton has "practically disappeared." The story said there was doubt if the Memphis market has 100 bales of such cotton.

Burkes said the market low at Montgomery, Ala., for 1-1/8 inch cotton was 33.75 cents per pound and the high at Memphis for the same cotton was 36.75 cents per pound.

Speaking of Burlington Industries Burkes said this firm in spite of its size and progressiveness is still very small as far as the textile industry as a whole is concerned.

He cited some of the "exciting new things" Burlington is doing by citing the new "come clean" finish on some types of goods in which grease can be easily wiped off or washed out, a variety of permanent press fabrics, "never never iron sheets" of synthetic blends, which incidentally are not made in Post, and some of their space suit fabrics for U. S. space-men.

Burkes said a brochure will be mailed here next week to all Postex employees telling the story of Burlington's 1967 operations.

He told Rotarians that Postex management is pleased to give due employee recognition for their community efforts and cited the employees Garza United Fund contribution this year which Burkes said was "the greatest ever."

Jaycees have sponsored a national Outstanding Young Farmer program. Co-sponsor is the National L.P.-Gas Association.

The Jaycees point out that agriculture in Garza County and in the surrounding counties is the number one industry. The community directly feels the success or failure of the agricultural phase of the county.

The Jaycees, under Bailey's direction, will interview farmers between the ages of 21 and 35. From their reports, a panel of judges will select the winner, with his identity, being announced Jan. 30 during a special farmer recognition program. The local winner will compete in the state finals at Snyder on Feb. 16-17.

Assisting Bailey on the Outstanding Young Farmer Committee are Tommy Young and Wayne Richardson.

Sheriff's Posse elects officers

Woodrow "Shorty" Bland was elected president of the Garza County Sheriff's Posse, to succeed Oscar Gray, at the annual election of officers last Thursday night.

Other officers elected were Otzell Williams, vice president; Mrs. Otzell Williams, secretary-treasurer; Pete Maidox, parade manager; and Floy Richardson, assistant parade manager.

The sheriff's posse, which is beginning its second year, welcomes new members.

Seminole youth is Viet Cong victim

Deil Ross Claiborne of Route 1, Seminole, a nephew of Mrs. Henry Key of Justiceburg, has died of wounds received last Thursday when the river patrol of which he was a member, was ambushed by the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.

Claiborne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hancock of Seminole, were informed of their son's death Wednesday morning by the commanding officer of Reese Air Force Base.

Claiborne, who was in the Navy, died in a Saigon hospital.

17.78 inches of moisture for '67

Post received an official 17.78 inches of moisture during 1967, the most since 1963 when 25.40 inches was recorded.

County Agent Syd Conner released the moisture figures this week. The 17.78 inches was still below the yearly average here from 1909 to 1963, which was 19.32 inches.

1966 moisture here totaled only 13.74, in 1965 only 13.83 inches, and in 1964 but 10.44 inches.

New historical marker is approved for city

An Official Texas Historical Marker honoring Mrs. Marjorie Merriwether Post, daughter of C. W. Post, the town's founder, has been approved by the state marker committee, George "Scotty" Samson announced at Tuesday morning's regular monthly meeting of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

The newly approved marker is co-sponsored by the Woman's Culture Club and the Amity Study Club. Samson said the committee that the marker will be a companion maker to the one honoring C.

W. Post and will be erected near the planter box on the courthouse lawn.

Samson also announced that the historical marker commemorating the founding of Post has arrived and is being installed at the entrance to the City-County Park.

At the request of the Texas State Historical Committee, the Garza County committee is emphasizing restorations this year, one of which is restoration of the old Ponton Sanitarium building through the efforts of the Fine Arts Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Donations have been received from local citizens to help finance this restoration project.

Mrs. A. C. Surman, committee chairman, announced that Mrs. C. H. Hartel, county office manager for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, had informed her that the county ASCS committee has adopted as its project, under a new state improvement program, the landscaping of the old sanitarium grounds. A technical action panel of Mrs. Hartel, Syd Conner, Bailey Mayo and Billy Stewart will work on the project. The committee will be assisted by George Samson, who along with Jimmy Napier, did the rock construction on the old sanitarium building.

Eleven committee members attended Tuesday morning's meeting which was held in County Supt. Dean Robinson's office.

Four incumbents file candidacy

Four incumbent Garza County office holders filed for re-election this week with county Democratic Chairman N. C. Outlaw as the only new developments on the political front.

Those filing with the county chairman as candidates to succeed themselves were T. H. Tipton, tax assessor-collector; Preston Poole, county attorney; Paul H. Jones, Precinct 1 commissioner, and Ben Sanchez, Precinct 3 commissioner. The only contested race thus far is for Precinct 3 commissioner, where Russell Wilks Jr. filed his candidacy last week.

Also filing last week was L. E. (Fay) Claiborn Jr., seeking re-election as sheriff.

Cagers to play district games at Frenship Friday

Stanton boys and girls come to Post Tuesday

The Post Antelopes and Does will go to Wolfarth Friday for District 4AA games against the Frenship High School teams, then return home for engagements here Tuesday night against the high-flying Stanton cage crews.

Friday night's game against Frenship will be the first conference contest of the season for Coach Jiggs King's Does and will also be the team's first action since before the Christmas and New Year holidays. The Frenship Kittens are the defending champions in the girls' division of District 4AA.

The Frenship boys' team is 0-2 in district play, having lost to Stanton and Midland Carver. The Stanton Buffaloes, who come in for next Tuesday night's game, are 1-0 in district play, having defeated Frenship. The Buffaloes are favorites, along with the Midland Carver Hornets, to win the district championship.

In the Stanton tournament just before the holidays, the Buffaloes defeated the Antelopes by five points, 66-61, in a second round game, having to come from behind to do it. The Stanton cagers were the champions in their division of the Caprock Holiday Tournament at Lubbock, defeating Falls in the championship game.

The Stanton girls' team, which already owns a conference victory over the defending champion Frenship Kittens, are favored to win the district championship over Frenship, Slaton and Post.

In non-conference games Tuesday night, both Stanton teams easily downed Coahoma.

'Lopes take measure of Mustangs, 58-54

The Post Antelopes evened their District 4AA record at 1-1 here Tuesday night by outlasting the Denver City Mustangs, 58 to 54, in a closely contested game.

Leading by seven points, 40-33, going into the fourth quarter, the 'Lopes had to come through with some clutch shooting to fight off the challenge of the Mustangs, who on three occasions in the final period pulled to within two points of tying the score.

Four field goals by Norman Tanner and a field goal and eight-for-eight at the free throw line by Charles Harper preserved the Antelopes' margin against the Mustangs' fourth quarter surge.

The teams matched buckets with four fielders apiece to stay all even at 8-8 in the first quarter, but Post had pulled into a two-point 24-22 lead at the halftime intermission, and outscored the Mustangs 16-11 in the third period.

Harper led the Post scoring with 24 points, with Tanner hitting 21. Dwayne Young paced the Mustangs with 15.

Denver City won the "B" team game, 52-26, after leading 17-8 at the end of the first quarter, 32-9 at the half and 37-12 going into the fourth period.

David Pierce's 11 points was a tops for Post, with Steve Newby hitting six; Karl Hall, Boyd Noble, George Torres and Jim Hutchins, two apiece, and Dennis Dodson, one. Also seeing action for the Post "B" team were Jerry Crenshaw, Silas Ussery, Jay Bird and Larry Johnson.

The scoring summary of the varsity game:

DENVER CITY — Cox 5 0 10; Garrett 4 1 9; McKinney 1 0 2; Hubbard 2 2 6; McKee 3 3 9; Young 6 3 15; Russell 0 0 0; Emmer 1 1 3. Totals 22 10 54.

POST — Tanner 10 1 21; D. Altman 0 0 0; Pantoja 2 0 4; R. Altman 3 2 8; Harper 8 8 24; Walker 0 1 1. Totals 23 12 58.

Freshman cagers lose to Snyder, 66 to 18

Lamar of Snyder sunk the Post freshman basketball team, 66 to 18, here last Thursday night.

Eleven players scored for the visiting Snyder team, with B. Almon leading the way with 11 points.

Long was Post's high scorer with eight points. Pace scored six and Ayala and Bullock, two each.

The freshmen team's next game will be here Monday, Jan. 15, against Travis of Snyder.

7th, 8th grade boys divide in Slaton contests

Post's 7th grade boys brought their district record to 3-2 by downing Slaton, 23-20, here last Thursday night. The Post 8th grade boys lost to Slaton, 24-15, and are now 1-4 in district play.

Individual scoring was fairly evenly divided in the 7th grade game with Robert Mindieta getting six points; Danny Lee, five; Robert Torres and Jerry Saldivar, four each, and Ricky King and Roger Pace, two each.

Other Post 7th graders seeing action were Lanny Blacklock, Mike Huff, Arthur Ayala, Tol Thomas, John Johnson, Ernie Saldivar, Reginald Moore, Randy Kennedy and Freddy Huff.

Post led by scores of 10-1, 16-6 and 19-13 at the first, second and third quarter intermissions.

Randy Hays scored six points for Post in the 8th grade team's loss, with Danny Vargas getting four, David Woods three and Larry Hair two. Others playing were Kim Owen, Jerry Hall, Kyle Josey, Ricky Hair, Danny Rose, Jimmy Smith, Kelly Duren, Tony Rosas, Scott Lee, Gary Shepherd and David Hart.

Post loses league opener to Carver

A towering Midland Carver team raced away from the Post Antelopes in the final quarter at Midland last Friday night to score a 50-39 victory in the District 4AA opener for both teams.

The Antelopes, who "slowed down" their game against the run-and-shoot Hornets, outscored their opponents, 12-9, in the third period and trailed by only five points, 34-29, going into the final quarter.

Deadly outside shooting by Earl Carter and Jimmy Dixon and superior work on the boards stretched the Hornets' lead in the fourth period to their 11-point margin of victory.

The first quarter ended with Midland ahead 6-3, with Post's only points having come on two free throws by Norman Tanner and one by Charles Harper. The Hornets held a 19-14 halftime lead.

Post made only nine field goals, but hit 21 of 27 from the charity line for their 39-point total. Midland, on the other hand, hit only four free throws, but connected on 23 field goals.

Midland won the preliminary "B" team game by a runaway score of 105 to 35. Dennis Dodson was Post's top scorer with 10 points. David Pierce hit eight; Steve Newby and Boyd Noble, seven each, and Larry Don Johnson, three.

The scoring summary of the varsity game:

POST—Tanner 4 6 14; D. Altman 0 4 4; Pantoja 3 0 6; R. Altman 0 5 5; Harper 2 6 10; Walker 0 0 0. Totals 9 21 39.

CARVER—Alexander 0 0 0; Carter 11 3 25; Clay 3 0 6; Chriesman 1 0 2; Dixon 8 1 17; Robertson 0 0 0; Rutherford 0 0 0. Totals 23 4 50.

Lunchroom Menus

Menus for the Post School lunchroom for next week, Jan. 15-19, are as follows:

Minister goes to TCU event

The Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey, pastor of the First Christian Church, left Post Monday to attend the annual Ministers' Week at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

Ministers' Week consists of a series of lectureships by internationally known theologians: Dr. Waldo Beach, Duke University Divinity School, Durham, N. C.; Dr. Dwight E. Stevenson, Lexington Theological Seminary in Lexington, Ky.; Dr. Browne Barr, of the First Congregational Church of Berkeley, Calif., and faculty member of Yale Divinity School, and Dr. George C. Beasley Jr., president of the Council on Christian Unity from Indianapolis, Ind., as the colloquium leader.

Mr. Ramsey will return to Post Friday and will be in the pulpit Sunday.

Graham writer wants to see more sunshine

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
 Wasn't it nice to see the sun come out last Monday after the sleet shower? I thought sure we were in for another icy spell as it seems one doesn't get over until another one is here, or almost here. It could be much worse so I am trying not to complain too much.

Saturday overnight guests of the Quannah Maxeys and Mrs. Green were the Louis Sinclair family. Other Sunday guests were Mrs. Gladys Floyd and the Noel White family. Mrs. Green went home with the Sinclairs for a visit.

The Elviva Davis family visited Saturday and Sunday in Levelland with the Jerry Ligon, Elviva and Carol Davis families.

Miss Karen Hawley spent Christmas in Yorba Linda, Calif. Her parents from Oregon met her there and they visited relatives.

Mrs. Johnnie Rogers spent the Christmas holidays with her daughter and family, the Cletus Pollards, near Idabel, Okla.

Mrs. Viva Davis visited in Levelland early last week.

Sales tax applies to mixed drinks

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert stirred the ire of some 1,250 private club operators by ruling that as of Jan. 1 their sales of mixed drinks and related services would be subject to state and local sales taxes.

A delegation led by the Texas Restaurant Association called on Calvert urging him to change his mind.

The new ruling applies to private social clubs and veteran and fraternal organizations dispensing mixed alcoholic beverages. It covers set-ups, mixes, ice, service charges for mixing and serving, and even the 13 per cent tip most clubs add to the check.

"The entire charges for mixed

Drivers licenses require eye tests and photographs

AUSTIN — Vision tests and color photographs are a required part of all drivers' licenses being issued this year.

New regulations make it necessary for all drivers to renew licenses in person at a Department of Public Safety office.

Each applicant will be photographed and given a standard vision test.

DPS Director Homer Garrison Jr. says that all licenses will be renewed to expire on the birthdate of the holder. Drivers holding licenses ending in an even number will get new licenses good for four years. If the license ends in an odd number, it will be renewed initially for two years, and thereafter for four years.

New licenses will be about the size of a standard credit card. About 250 full-time license offices will operate over the state to service renewals.

There are some 5,800,000 licensed drivers in Texas and the new requirements will affect some 2,500,000 this year, Colonel Garrison says.

Outlook brightens in state's suit against pharmaceutical firms

AUSTIN — Possibility that the State Treasury will be enriched by several million dollars through an anti-trust suit charging price-fixing by five major pharmaceutical companies looked better this week.

This after a Federal court jury in New York returned a guilty verdict against American Cyanamid, Bristol-Myers and Charles Pfizer and Company.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin filed charges of price conspiracy in Austin against these three firms and Olin Mathieson Chemical and the Upjohn Company. The suit alleged that State schools, hospitals and prisons paid too much for certain drugs because of a conspiracy and asked triple damages.

A Dallas Federal court has ruled that the Texas case can be processed 60 days after the New York decision.

Gordon B. McClendon candidate for governor

AUSTIN — Gordon B. McClendon, Dallas radio-television executive, true to predictions, jumped into the governor's race by paying his $1,000 filing fee.

In 1965 he ran unsuccessfully for the U. S. Senate. But he received more than 672,500 votes in his close race with Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

In 1970, there were more than 4,000 weekly newspapers in the United States with a total circulation of about 10.5 million.

Five outstanding young men named by Texas Jaycees

GRAND PRAIRIE — Five young men under the age of 36 who have made unique contributions to their professions and communities have been named by the Texas Jaycees as the five outstanding young Texans of 1967.

State Jaycee President Art Hoefer of Fort Worth today announced the selections. They are:

Gus Mutscher, 35, of Brenham, state representative from District 29 and heir-apparent to Ben Barnes as Speaker of the Texas House.

Lloyd L. Hayes, 32, Port Arthur businessman, who is serving his third term as mayor of Port Arthur.

R. Gordon Gooch, 33, Houston attorney, who initiated a far-ranging indigent defender program.

Dr. Charles G. Lewis, 33, Muleshoe dentist and civic leader.

Salvador Ramirez, 34, executive director of the 3,500-member El Paso Boys Club and a leader in programs to eliminate poverty, delinquency and slums.

These outstanding young men were selected from nominees submitted from across the state. The judging panel included Midland attorney, Tom Sealy; Austin insurance executive, Lewis Timberlake; Snyder rancher-businessman C. T. McLaughlin, and Southern Methodist University's director of Annual Giving, Jack Friedrich.

The five outstanding young men will be honored at a banquet Jan. 27 in Midland. More than 700 persons from around the state are expected for the event, which will feature an address by Gov. John Connally.

Texans last month drank more but smoked less

AUSTIN — State Treasurer Jesse James reports that Texans smoked less but drank more in December.

Cigarette tax stamp sales were down from the previous month $282,607 to $10,100,000.

Liquor and wine stamp sales were up $263,635 to $1,400,000 total.

Droughts, lack of railroad, spelled doom for Belle Plaine in the 1880's

BAIRD, Tex. — Belle Plaine, Tex., once supported three saloons and a growing college.

Today, the streets are only dim outlines in the Rolling Plains of West Central Texas. Crumbling stone walls are all that's left of the college.

Man and the elements did the town in. The Texas & Pacific Railway bypassed Belle Plaine in 1880. Three successive winter droughts permanently crippled the economy.

"At one time, they had the largest music conservatory in the Southwest — 15 grand pianos," said Van Rutherford, working on a graduate history course at Abilene Christian College.

Rutherford, 38, also is superintendent of the Noodle - Horn Common School District.

The site of Belle Plaine is six miles southeast of Baird, or about 30 miles east of Abilene. A person who knows where to look can see the ruins from U. S. 283.

Belle Plaine College opened for classes in 1881, thrived for a few years, then collapsed in 1892. Peak enrollment was 122 students. Faculty members were paid an average of $35 a month.

The village Belle Plaine was established in 1874 and named for Katie Belle McGhee, the first child born at the site, Rutherford said.

By 1877, Belle Plaine was named the county seat of Callahan County. But the county seat moved to Baird in 1883.

In its heyday, though, the town and the college had what looked like a bright future.

Irish stone setters were hired to build the school's three - story Main Building. It had 15 classrooms and an auditorium and stage.

"Members of the Methodist Church and citizens of the town and from all over the county contributed to the establishment and success of the college," Rutherford said.

The military branch of the co-educational school was named "The Texas Military Institute." Military students wore uniforms.

"The college band played as the

New regulations go into effect on air pollution

AUSTIN — Cities of less than 5,000 population face new regulations relative to the burning of garbage and rubbish. New regulations were adopted by the Texas Control Board and became effective Jan. 4.

Municipalities are regulated by the new rules, as well as industries, businesses and individuals.

Rules permit burning wastes outdoors, as long as the burning is outside a defined Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area.

—Outside a municipality:
 —Between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Regulations cover emissions of smoke and particulate matter, soot burning, sulphur compounds and air pollution from motor vehicles.

Board Chairman Herbert McKee of Houston pointed out that the new rules are not regulated by rules—odor and effects of emission on visibility. City and county health officials will have to enforce the State's General Nuisance Law to control air pollution.

Nothing can be done about visibility regulations until a Federal study is complete, says McKee.

However, cities and counties will be able to use the board's regulations to enforce pollution control other wastes emitted into the air.

13 rural families in Garza County receive home loan assistance

Thirteen rural families in Garza County are receiving assistance in purchasing rural homes, according to Billy H. Stewart, Farmers Home Administration supervisor for Lynn and Garza counties.

During 1967, Stewart said, eight loans were made in the amount of $75,690 for the construction or purchase of homes. These loans are assisting rural families to provide decent, safe and sanitary housing for their families.

Stewart stated that these loans are available to rural families who are unable to obtain adequate credit from private sources and who meet all other eligibility requirements. The repayment period depends upon the financial situation of the applicant.

The first grade teacher is sick and Mrs. Vailton Wheeler is substituting for her. Mrs. F. M. Callaway is sick and Mrs. Elmer Belk worked in the lunchroom in her place today (Monday).

Mrs. Nellie Mathis has been sick with the flu for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Delroy Odom and both children were sick for several days with the flu. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hodge from Levelland spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Mathis.

Mrs. Robert Mason, mother of Mrs. Billy Lester, was recently confined in Mercy Hospital with pneumonia, but she is at home now and doing very well.

Many cases of flu are reported at Southland

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Greetings from the "Deep Freeze!" Sure has been cold here, hasn't it? The glass in the Post office door got broken out on Saturday night or early Sunday morning and it hasn't been replaced yet (Monday), so things are pretty cold around here this morning!

Sherry Smith of Tulsa spent a week with Beverly Rackler recently. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rackler and Beverly took her home to Tulsa and spent the night in the Smith home.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Crawford went to Muleshoe on Sunday to attend the funeral of an uncle of Mrs. Crawford's, H. L. McDaniel. It was snowing up there all day on Sunday.

Mrs. Leota Martin, mother of Mrs. Pat Gilliland, passed away at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock late Thursday night after a lengthy illness. She was buried at Littlefield on Sunday, Jan. 7. Our sympathies go out to Mr. and Mrs. Duane Gilliland and girls. May God comfort them in their sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wartes have moved to Fort Worth where he will be working for Shop-Rite Wholesale.

MRS. CECIL CUMMINGS and Sheila and Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wartes visited with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wartes during the weekend.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Hill and Darrell have moved out to the home vacated by C. D. Hargrove.

The Southland A&B boys basketball teams played the A&B Crosbyton boys' teams on Friday night here at Southland and we lost both games. Southland boys and girls will be playing in a tournament at Smyer this weekend. Friday night, they will play Cooper here at Southland for their first district game.

The Junior High teams will be traveling to Wilson tonight (Monday) to play basketball. Good luck!

Mrs. Ed Denton, Mrs. Mrytle Lichey and Mrs. Cleo Johnston went to Wolforth on Sunday to visit Mrs. Mary Herd and John. On their way home, they stopped at Union where they visited with Gene and Grace Evans.

REV. AND MRS. H. W. Hill and Darrell spent Saturday and Sunday in Kellon, Wheeler County, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Killingsworth. Mrs. Killingsworth and Rev. Hill are sister and brother. They ran into bad weather in several places while they were gone.

Edmund and Yours Truly were supper guests on Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Becker.

Mrs. Ned Myers is at home now after spending five days in the hospital with the flu.

There are a lot of cases of the flu around Southland. Mrs. Hulse,

Justiceburg writer is home from vacation

By FRANK McWHIRT

Happy New Year to all our readers and I sincerely hope the best for each and every one of you. We went to Arlington Christmas and stayed until 1. We didn't get home until it was too late to get any news in the week. So some of this news has a wee bit late.

I had a very enjoyable vacation visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fluit and Bobo, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McFee and son, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Garren and family and Mr. and Mrs. Skipper Whirt of Hurst.

Our visitors in the Fluit home were my sister, Mrs. Troy Frazier family of Madisonville, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breiden of Albany and Dan McWhirt.

I guess you can say the best of our vacation was New Year's Eve when we were present with our first grandchild, Mark. So just call me Grandma.

Holiday visitors in the Elton home were their son and daughter, the Sonny Nances of Hatcher, their son-in-law and daughter, Monty Stantiforths of Plainville, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Moore Snyder, Mrs. Evelyn Neff and son, Charles Neff, of Post and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Elkins of Okaville, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Miller and my attended the rodeo at Odessa Tuesday night where they saw Fustus and Doc of TV's Gunks and George McLaurin.

C. Pettigrew has been a patient in the hospital last week. We mainly hope him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Braddock family were dinner guests in Fernie Reed home last Sunday.

Wayne Blacklock of Dallas visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Blacklock, and Donnie during the holidays.

Visiting with Mrs. Lee Reed the before Christmas were Mrs. Le Cantrell, Gene Caffey and Eugenia Odom of Lubbock, and Mrs. James Brooks of Slaton and Mrs. Iva Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cash and children of Eldorado visited in the Cash home during the holidays.

Id Cross, Lea Merri, and Mrs. I McLaurin were in Odessa Saturday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Jerrv Crader and son and the Mrs. McLaurins. They also attended the rodeo.

Mrs. Dan Stribling of Lubbock and her mother, Mrs. Hardie Ainsworth, to Dallas over the New Year's weekend to visit a sister in family.

Saturday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Lee Reed and Luther were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cleuber of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Edon Reed and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fernie Reed and sons, Mr.

Performance seen as basis of more efficient schools

AUSTIN — Performance, rather than spending or teacher pay, should be the basis of a more efficient school system. So says Glenn H. Ivy, director of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. His views were expressed to public school administrators at their mid-winter conference here.

Among highlights of Ivy's preview of the most far-reaching inquiry into Texas' education needs ever undertaken were:

—To achieve national leadership in education, the state must seek excellence in performance and super-efficiency.

—Favored tax status for rural and suburban districts is a "luxury" the state cannot afford.

—"Unequal education"—like preschool training for the non-English speaking and special programs for migrants—is necessary to offset disadvantages faced by many children.

—Education must be made "more relevant" to potential dropouts. In particular, those with Spanish-language backgrounds. Obstacles to school attendance must be overcome.

Word was received here Friday night that Mary Elisabeth Smith, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith of Trinchera, Colo., was badly burned by overturning a vaporizer on herself. She was taken to the Miners Hospital in Raton, N. M., where she was treated for burns on 50 per cent of her body. She is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Miller and they report she is a little better now.

Mrs. Lee Reed went with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks of Slaton to a family reunion New Year's Day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lynch of Gainesville. They returned by the way of Iowa Park where they visited in the home of another brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brooks.

Lois Nance of Denver flew home for a four day holiday visit with her mother, Pearl Nance, and other relatives and friends.

Some visitors during the holidays of the E. C. Pettigrews were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pettigrew of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pettigrew of Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Hern Pettigrew of Slaton and Mrs. Bessie Hale of Commerce.

Mrs. Pearl Nance and Mrs. Winnie Tuffing drove to Snyder New Year's Day for lunch and then visited in Fluvanna Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Key visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Nance Sunday.

Those on the sick list Monday were E. C. Pettigrew, Mrs. Sam Bevers, Jr., Jenny Miller, Mrs. Rafael Rios and Eddie, and James Morgan. I sure hope we don't get the flu bug here.

Douglas McWhirt left last Thursday to go bird hunting at Albany where he visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breiden. On Friday they decided to go to Arlington to see the new grandchild and the Breiden's first great-grandchild, Mark Scott McWhirt. They were overnight guests of the Jackey Fluitts, Bobo McWhirt and Dan McWhirt. The baby didn't get to come home from the hospital till Saturday morning. Doug returned home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Miller took his mother, Mrs. Clyde Miller of Fluvanna to Plainville Friday and Saturday for medical treatments.

Post office announces new low rates on all air transportation overseas

Packages up to 30 pounds for American military personnel served by Army and Fleet Post Offices overseas now can be sent by air transportation at special low rates, Postmaster A. J. McAlister pointed out today.

"Area residents using this new air lift service will get much faster delivery on parcels to military personnel overseas," Postmaster McAlister said. He said the air lift is available on a space-available basis upon payment of the domestic parcel post surface rate plus a flat $1 fee.

Packages weighing up to 30 lbs and not more than 60 inches in combined length and girth qualify for the new special air lift rate, the postmaster said.

Postal patrons can get the air lift service on packages mailed to all military personnel at APO and FPO addresses overseas, and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The Postmaster noted that the new air lift also applies to parcels mailed back to the States by servicemen from these military post offices.

Parcels on which the $1 fee is paid get air transportation all the way—from here to the port of embarkation, and from there to the overseas base. Postal patrons formerly had to pay air parcel post rates to get similar service, Postmaster McAlister said.

He said that in many instances the new air lift rates are considerably below comparable air parcel post charges.

The postmaster pointed out, however, that it is not always to the mailer's advantage to use the air lift service. On some light packages air parcel post rates may be lower than the air lift charges.

"Postal patrons should check with the Post Office for information on the best way to mail parcels to servicemen overseas," Postmaster McAlister emphasized.

The new air lift service went into effect Jan. 7. It was authorized under the postal rate bill signed into law Dec. 16 by President Johnson.

The postmaster explained that the regular postage on parcels mailed to servicemen overseas is based on the distance the package is handled within the United States. No charge is made for carrying the package between the U. S. post and the overseas base.

Until Jan. 7 air lift for parcels to servicemen overseas was restricted to packages weighing up to five pounds. Upon payment of the regular parcel post rates, these packages get surface transportation to the port of embarkation and are airlifted from there to the overseas posts on a space available basis.

There is no charge for this partial airlift and overseas parcels weighing up to five pounds will continue to receive this service, Postmaster McAlister said.

Jehovah's Witnesses of Post planning special week of activity, Jan. 16-21

Jehovah's Witnesses of Post are planning a special week of activity, Jan. 16-21, when the circuit supervisor, Robert N. White, visits the local congregation.

Mr. White accompanied by his wife Ruth, travels a circuit of 15 congregations in northwestern Texas.

According to Leonard M. Robertson, presiding minister in Post, the purpose of the week-long visit is to give practical assistance to each individual Witness in his personal ministry. "It is part of our religion," Robertson said, "for each member to share in house-to-house witnessing. Therefore, we look forward to the three visits a year from our circuit supervisor."

Tuesday evening at 7:30 a Ministry School, which provides training in public speaking, and a Service Meeting, which gives counsel in Bible teaching, will be held. Following this, Mr. White is scheduled to address the congregation in a 30-minute discourse.

Wednesday through Sunday witnessing activities will be conducted from house to house in Post, in which local members will be aided by Mr. White in their teaching technique.

The audience will share in the Saturday evening program at 8 p. m., when "New Things Learned" are discussed. Scriptural admonition will then be offered by White in a 30-minute talk on improving personal ministry.

The climax of the week's activities will be a public address Sunday at 3 p. m., when White discusses, "Science, the Bible and Your

SERMON TOPICS

Sermon topics at the First Christian Church Sunday will be "People-picking People", at the 11 a. m. morning worship and "Dearest Daddy: I Love You" at the 7 p. m. evening worship. The Lord's Supper also will be observed at the morning service with a supervised nursery for this service.

Faith." Final remarks to the congregation will bring the program to a conclusion.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meetings, which will be held at the Kingdom Hall, 105 East 13th. No collections are ever taken.

Big crowd hears speech by Mahon

"The most dramatic event in the 20th Century has been the marvelous development of American agriculture," Rep. George Mahon told more than 1,000 persons last Friday at a dinner meeting in Lubbock sponsored by the Farmers Home Administration.

"The American people have made unbelievable progress and this progress could not have been made without credit," Mahon said.

Howard Bertsch, FHA administrator, Washington, D. C., and I. J. Cappelman, FHA state director of Temple, also addressed the group.

Five borrowers commented on the various facets of the loan program of the Farmers Home Administration.

Billy H. Stewart, county supervisor of Lynn and Garza counties, said 51 persons attended the dinner from the Lynn County unit.
