'Campaign of Protest' nears end

This has been the "campaign of protest" from start to finish—and not even the experienced pollsters are quite sure how it will all turn out next Tuesday.

What are the protests all about? Generally speaking, the voters are sick of the country's complex, expensive and unsolved problems. For examples—the Vietnam War, riots and looting in the streets, and the stepped-up struggle of the American black man for equality everywhere and in everything.

First, the protests were concentrated against President Johnson, the man who has been facing these problems for the last two or three years. His popularity skidded to such low levels he withdrew from the race for a second four-year term.

A militant protestor assassinated Robert Kennedy, himself one of the leading protestors.

The Republican and Democratic conventions respectively encountered a deadly street riot in Miami and a confrontation between students and hippies with Mayor Daley's police in Chicago.

Into the race as a third party candidate came Alabama's former governor, George Wallace, a protestor from the South whose basic promise is to reestablish "law and order." He has rallied such support from voters sick of both parties and their candidates that he is on the ballot in all 50 states and appears certain to capture a remarkable number of millions of votes next Tuesday.

Despite a month-long debate in Washington and across the nation on how best to deal with Vietnam—win or withdraw—there is no recognized answer which offers a reasonable solution.

The most confusing issue of all has been the one of "law and order."

Two summers ago, many of our major cities erupted into riots, snipings, burnings and looting in the black ghettos. This shocked the conscience of the country and stirred angry emotions on all sides.

Apparently "law and order" to the people means ending riots. But the candidates in their oratory have confused the issue with promising to take crime from the streets of our cities and make them safe again. Since crime is as old as the world itself, this is a pretty hollow promise for any candidate to make. But not one, but all three, have made it just the same.

This strange "protest campaign" heads for its day of decision next Tuesday. From it may come the first "minority president" of this century. The voters by dividing their votes may turn the decision over to the House of Representatives if no candidate succeeds in getting a majority of the electoral vote.

That appears sure to hand the office to Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic liberal, because the Democrats now control the house by a wide margin and only a sweep by the Republicans could swing it the other way.

Here in Texas—if the "bumper sticker poll" means anything—Wallace has won the "pickup truck vote." Eight years ago, Nixon carried Post over Kennedy.

Texas is a pivotal state. The polls say Nixon has a slight edge. Wallace is strong, and Humphrey still hopeful.

In such a campaign of protest, it is highly probable that many voters have not as yet made up their minds where they are going to mark their "x" on that presidential ballot.

It is to these that The Dispatch recommends that you want a change within the organized framework of government. If you choose Wallace as your man to represent that change, you may well get Humphrey next January instead.

And, if you like things the way they are, and like the liberal viewpoint of the U. S. Treasury providing the wherewithal to solve almost everything, then by all means vote for Humphrey.—JC

WELL, THIS time next week it'll be all over except the shouting, and it's the Election, not Halloween, that I'm talking about.

After the votes are all counted, political daggers can be sheathed and we can all hope that we march along together instead of in three different directions. After all, we're all going to wind up in the same condition eventually — if not in the same place.

WILL GARZA County's 1964 record presidential vote of 2,007 he broken in next Tuesday's election? It appears doubtful, since there are indications that a larger number of voters than usual will stay home because they're not satisfied with any of this year's presidential candidates.

It'll also be interesting to see whether or not Garza County goes Republican for the first time, as some predict it will. I don't think so. I don't think it will even be as close as it has in two or three other presidential elections in which the county tottered on the brink of going Republican.

THE NEAREST the county ever came to going Republican was in 1952 when Adlai Stevenson polled only 34 more votes than Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican candidate. The final tally was 800 for Stevenson and 766 for Eisenhower.

In 1960, John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, polled 829 votes in Garza County to Richard Nixon's 737 — a margin of 92 votes. In the 1956 election, Stevenson beat Eisenhower, 786 to 828 — a margin of 42 votes.

THERE WERE whopping Democratic victories in Garza County in the 1948 and 1964 election years. In 1948, Harry S. Truman received 862 votes to Tom Dewey's 176. And, four years ago in 1964, Lyndon B. Johnson polled 1,254 votes in Garza County to 347 for Barry Goldwater. That was the year the record number of 2,007 Garza countians went to the polls.

There was also a Wallace (Henry) in that 1948 presidential race in which Truman beat Dewey so handily. The Wallace that year was the former Secretary of Agriculture. He got two votes in Garza County.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON'S football game between Texas Tech and SMU turned out to be quite a treat for the editor and his wife. Upon calling for the tickets we had put back at the Tech ticket office, we learned that they suddenly had been picked up by our name by somebody else — which the lady at the ticket office explained sometimes happens. We settled for two general admission tickets, which got us in the stands just north of the north end zone. That wouldn't have been so bad, except for the fact that the ticket office sold more tickets than they had seats up there; and the people who arrived late stood at the fence, which completely shut off the view of those sitting in the stands. We left before the first quarter was over, and I'll be forever grateful to the man at the gate who asked us why we were leaving. . . he gave me an opportunity to "unload," and I took advantage of it. I only hope that whoever picked up the tickets we'd had put back was someone who wanted Texas Tech to win.

THE MAN UP the street says his finances are getting in such a mess, that would think he was getting advice from the government. Going out on a limb again, I'm predicting that Coach Jiggs King will have a high school girls' basketball team this season that will make us forget football, elections and a lot of other things. The Doc squad didn't lose anyone by graduation last spring, after having had a good 1967-68 season. Jiggs told us in the press box Friday night that he is trying to come up with some tall guards for this season's starting six, and that if he does, he thinks he'll have it made.

Hartwell M. Ramsey of Fort Worth, brother of Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church in Post, died suddenly last Thursday morning at Kerrville.

Mr. Ramsey was an ordained minister and at the time of his death he was editor of The Christian Courier, monthly periodical of the Christian Churches of Texas. He was also director of public relations for the Texas Association of Christian Churches. What would you think, or what would you say, if someone stepped on your toes and, when you uncovered their knee, told you you must not be sure to keep your toes in the American Way? Or told you to keep your toes in the American Way?

You might think it was a bit ridiculous. You might say to go the other way, but you might not. The fact that you are going to knock on your door and tell you to keep your toes in the American Way is a good thing. It is a good thing that more people are taking notice of the American Way.

We should be sure to keep it. We should be sure to keep it. We should be sure to keep it. We should be sure to keep it. We should be sure to keep it.

Minimum dress length decided on by girls

By Kay Lofton
The girls of Post High School met in the primary school cafeteria for a special meeting to decide on the maximum dress length for the girls of PHS.

The girls were not chaperoned by any teacher, but it was led in an orderly manner by Martha Jo Walls and Thresa Sims. This meeting was held to decide on a reasonable dress length for the girls of PHS. All girls were given a chance to voice their opinions, ask questions, and to vote accordingly. A special panel consisting of two girls from each class helped carry the discussion along. Those girls were Glen Ann Barley, Karen Hundley, Beth Peel, Patricia Harper, Linda Sanchez, Peggy Bevers, Elizabeth Torres and Donna Kolb.

The leaders and panel members were careful to explain in any times the reason the dress lengths were brought up. They pointed out that no particular person was to blame for the meeting, but that some dress lengths in PHS were too short.

Following this explanation, a lengthy discussion was held and pros and cons were presented for deciding on a reasonable dress length. One opinion on the topic was that this is a free country and we should be allowed to wear our dresses as short as we want, but it was also pointed out that this is a society of conformity and that everyone has to follow certain rules whether she likes it or not. Another opinion expressed was that everyone should have a little personal pride and good judgment about the way they dress and what they look good in. In conclusion the girls decided on three inches above the knee as the maximum dress length.

Films seen at club meeting

Glen Ann Barley was shown, one on the other on "Four Days at the year's first of the Science and Math recently.

Meeting was called to order by Hamilton, president. Those attending were: Brenda Lee, John Ken Herron, Eddie Johnny Hodges, Karen Sharon Winham, Tom Bob Wilkins, Mike Young, Don Collier, Charlene Nelson, Jac-Glen Ann Barley, Den-James Pollard, Steve Timmons Bull, and Mr. the sponsor.

Karen's Korner

By Karen Hundley

Well, I made it through last week. This week there are nine weeks' tests and the Halloween Carnival. However, last Friday contained enough activity and commotion to satisfy me for a long time. First, there was the distribution of mums for Homecoming. Believe me, that was chaos, but the Seniors managed. The Senior Class would like to thank all those people who bought mums. And then there was the discussion on the hemlines at school. To top it all off, I wore a mid-skirt to school. By the way, I like to be different.

Misery Continued

By Martha Jo Walls
Misery is . . .

- Cleaning egg off your mother's car.
- Being sick on a holiday from school.
- Having too many debts and not enough money.
- Falling in a manhole and finding women (if you're a girl).
- Wearing a new pair of shoes.
- Going with a boy for a whole year with an OLD car and as soon as you break up he gets a NEW one.
- Having an ingrown toenail.
- Having a headache in civics class.
- Having so many stuffed toys on the bed that you can't lie down.
- Getting eyeliner in your eye.
- Wearing glasses on a rainy day.
- Having a peek-a-boo blouse and getting more boos than peeks.
- Discovering your deodorant is giving you bad breath.
- Going to a costume party as a bubble dancer and finding out your date is going as a porcupine.
- Eating spaghetti with a spoon.
- Telling a joke and no one laughing.
- Eating peanuts on a desert island.
- Losing your contact lens down the drain.
- Trying to think of miseries.

The choir will also sponsor all food booths with the exception of drinks and pastries.

Please come and help support these organizations for they represent the school and the community.

Belinda and Lannie Blacklock visited in Post last weekend. Debbie Tucker and her family moved to Wichita Falls. Tommy Duncan visited in Coleman last weekend. Congrats to Donna Stewart for becoming Homecoming Queen. Benita Noble for Band Sweetheart, and Jerry Crenshaw for Pep Squad Beau. Now, I would proudly like to announce the addition of Glen Ann Barley to the paper staff. I know she will do a fine job.

Last Saturday night was all wet —with water balloons. Everybody went downtown late to see the Halloween show. There was what you could call a "traffic and people jam" down there that night!

For now, we must buckle down and study for tests this week. But don't forget the football game against Denver City there this Friday night, and the Halloween Carnival Thursday night. Boo!

Fellowship held after ball game

By Kay Lofton
Following the football game Friday night, a fellowship was held in the City Hall for all students. The room was decorated Halloween style, with kabobs, lemonade and cookies being served.

Following the refreshments, a singing group from Texas Tech was heard.

Those sponsoring the fellowship were Mr. and Mrs. Bo Jackson, Mrs. Joe Duren, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Josey and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vernon.

Homecoming is pep rally theme

The Homecoming pep rally Friday was filled with lots of spirit. Some of the exes attending were Patsy Pierce, Kay Litton and Lee Norman.

The yells included "Fight," "The Class Battle Cries" and "The Antelope Battle Cry."

Karen Lee was asked to speak and gave a talk on spirit, ending with, "Let's hear it for the 'Lopes'" which was followed by a loud response.

Dennis Dodson also spoke and Coach Gregg introduced the players as offensive and defensive. Then the cheerleaders presented the 'Lopes with a horseshoe, which represented good luck.

Other Homecoming activities last week included painted cars done by the Senior class to help promote spirit in the school. Also, the students of Post High School wish to thank the Pep Squad for the great effort they put out in making the signs and decorating the halls and gym.

EDITOR'S WIFE WRITES

Dear Editor:
Since I have never written a "Thursday to Thursday", "It's My Turn" or a "Postings" column, and being the wife of the editor, I'll call this "The Editor's Wife Speaks Out."

I have been told, "Stop fussing, and write the editor" (by you know who), so here I make my complaint.

Have you ever driven through a town on a weekend trip and made the remark, "Isn't this a clean little town?" Well, I have . . . but can people say that about Post? No, I wouldn't think so. Why? Weeds and more weeds; trash in the alleys.

If the City has some extra cash, we would like for them to spend it getting those vacant lots cleaned, or for them to enforce any ordinance they have to that effect. There are skunks, stray dogs, stray cats and even snakes habitating under some of the empty houses and in the tall weeds. When the wind starts blowing we will have all the rubbish in our yards, to say nothing of the fire hazard caused by the tumbleweeds after the first freeze.

With the wish that we may get these vacant lots cleaned off, I'll get my rake and hoe and take to my own yard, so they won't have to start there.

Mrs. Charles Didway

UNITED FUND DRIVE

Dear Editor:
Fall is the "gimme" season. All kinds of solicitation campaigns are mounted in an effort to underwrite a new year's programs. Churches canvass their members for next year's budget. Alumni are out seeking contributions. Requests come through the mail for many worthy causes, often attempting to reap a little of the good will that is generated by the approaching Christmas Season.

Fall is also the time for the United Fund drive. And for many good citizens, people of generous impulse and sensitive conscience, it still represents just one more charity and provokes the anguished thought "Where will it stop?"

I can understand that question. I appreciate the number of demands that are made on us all. There is a limit to what we can afford to do. But there is also a limit to what we can afford NOT to do.

Word has it that our United Fund is in trouble this year. We have a sizable goal to reach, one that will take more effort and commitment than we may be used to giving. When the goal was set, we knew it was a challenge to us all, but we also knew it was a challenge we could meet. We weren't asking the impossible.

Most important of all, it was a goal we had to meet. The agencies supported by our United Fund have all proved their worth. Our community has benefited from their work. $8,356 of the proposed goal is budgeted for youth in our county. That means 80 per cent of our goal stays here in Post, enriching the life of our youth.

Some may argue we can do without these agencies. Services like the Day Care Center and the Summer Baseball Program may not be necessary. Tell that to the young people in these programs and see what their reaction is. A town that takes no interest in its youth until they are called before the Juvenile Board or go off to college never to return, is neglecting its most important resource. The tragedy of such a waste is that it can never be reclaimed. There's no second chance to set this right.

The United Fund is admittedly a selfish thing. It is on our own self-interest to support it and see that it makes its goal. We can't afford not to. Support the United Fund and guarantee for yourself and your children a better community in which to live.

Also rumor has it that some people have decided not to support United Fund this year in order to express their discontent with our community. They are angry because the city lost its auditorium through the negligence of our city council.

There has been discontent before. It is part of what makes up the democratic way of life. Unfortunately, not enough of us know how to make our protest effective.

Refusing to support the United Fund is not the way.

If our community has one diagnosable problem, it is the inability to unite on community efforts. Seldom is any community project ever proposed that does not meet with objections and protests. And when these objections are heard, the project wavers in uncertainty.

Objecting to the City Council's actions is one thing. Impeding the progress of our community is another. We lost the auditorium because we didn't work together. Will we compound the problem by refusing to work together to support the agencies that help our community?

We need unity, and the United Fund is one way we have of expressing our unity. Let's forget our griping and gossiping, and show we can unite our efforts for the sake of our community. A gift to the United Fund is a vote for unity.

"The Church Is Full of Hypocrites!"

Fourth of a Series

By Bernard S. Ramsey

"THERE ARE TOO MANY HYPOCRITES IN THE CHURCH" . . . that's Jack Smith's fourth excuse for his being AWOL from Church, Sunday after Sunday.

And I wish he hadn't mentioned that one—it's so stale, so trite and threadbare—it's been worked to death.

And I suppose there are dozens of ways I could have answered this excuse—but I just look very surprised and said to him: "Mr. Smith, this is a distinct surprise to me. I have been affiliated with our church for a long time and I don't know of any. I am sure, as I have already said that there are many imperfect people in the church, in fact, perfect people have no need whatever of the church. Confidentially, Mr. Smith, could you give the names of these hypocrites you have in mind, so our Elders can counsel with them? I'll give you my word it will not be revealed to them from whom this information came."

But now I have upset Mr. Smith; confused he sputters something about not wanting to mention any names. "If you don't want to give the names, I'll not insist," I continue. "But how others live is no criterion of how you and I ought to live . . . BESIDES I KNOW YOU DON'T WANT TO HIDE BEHIND THE HYPOCRITES, FOR IN SO DOING ONE HAS TO BE SMALLER THAN THE HYPOCRITE" . . .

. . . I'm beginning to think I've about got Mr. Smith convinced he ought to get started back to church—but that is just wishful thinking on my part . . . Mr. Jack Smith has his fifth excuse ready.

Presbyterians to buy new organ

Members of the First Presbyterian Church at their annual congregational meeting Sunday after morning worship service voted to purchase a new Allen organ for the church.

This will replace the church's present Hammond spinet organ. Memorial gifts to the church will pay over half the cost of the new organ.

The congregation Sunday elected Burney Francis, Bob Macy and Bill Shiver to three-year terms as elders, L. C. McMinn and Elwood Wright to three-year terms as deacons, and Gordon Lee, Mrs. Maury Shiver and Bryan J. Williams as the board of trustees for 1969.

The Hague has been the seat of government in Holland since 1247.

Southland High School favorites are selected

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
Hello everybody. As I sit here at my typewriter trying to think of a good way to begin the "Southland News", my mind is a BLANK! Things are a little slow around the community—about the only thing that is happening is "work" and that really isn't very newsy!

The following "favorites" were chosen at Southland High School last Friday: Mr. and Miss SHS, Mike Mason and Hortensia Cardenas; best personality, Darrell Wilke and Lucy Cardenas; most athletic, Joe E. Basinger and Dayneen Dunn, and pep squad beau, Larry Bevers. Congratulations to all of you.

Congratulations to Raol Salinas who has just completed his basic training at Lackland AFB in San Antonio. He will remain at the Air Force Technical Training center for specialized schooling as a security policeman. Raol graduated from Southland High School last spring. While in school he was active in sports. Good luck in your training, Raol. His parents are now living in Post.

Recent overnight guests of Coach and Mrs. Bob Dyess were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Bowden.

Coach and Mrs. Bob Dyess and children and Edmund, Sherri, Darrell and Yours Truly attended the Texas Tech - SMU football game Saturday afternoon and were as disappointed as the rest of the Red Raider fans when things didn't go very well for the Raiders! Wow, nothing went right. There are days like that, you know.

Southland sailed to a great finish in the game with Loop Friday with a score of 22-8 in favor of the Southland Eagles. Larry Bevers and Stanley Abshire each scored a TD in the first half of the game; Bevers scored in the third quarter, and Darrell Wilke and Stanley Abshire each scored in the fourth quarter with Ray Valdez adding the extra points. The Eagles will play the Dawson squad here this Friday night. Good luck, Eagles.

Edmund, Sherri, Darrell and Yours Truly were Tuesday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang of Slaton. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Hagens and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. August Patsche and children of the Roosevelt community.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stolle and Roy Stolle of Shallowater were here Friday night attending the football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lewis of Temple were here over the weekend visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis and other relatives and friends.

CURTIS Abshire, a student at West Texas State University, was here over the weekend visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Abshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Kiser of Slaton were guests in our home on Friday after the football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stolle and Beth and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stolle went to Amarillo Sunday to visit Carol Stolle. They attended Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church and in the afternoon they went to Palo Duro Canyon and toured the city of Amarillo.

Mrs. Beatrice McInturff from Lexington, Ky., is here visiting her mother, Mrs. Selma Kiesel, and other relatives and friends.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Selma Kiesel were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stolle, Mrs. Pauline Siewert, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kiesel and daughter, Judy Kiesel and Beatrice McInturff.

Mrs. Emma Becker of Santa Ana, Calif., arrived last Thursday to visit relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Basinger of San Antonio were here from Monday until Friday of last week visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Basinger. They also visited Mrs. Jo Ann Basinger and family in Slaton.

Donald Pennell and sons, Don H. and Jerry, returned from an elk hunt above Creed, Colo., last week. They brought home three elk with Don H. getting a 12-point bull elk. Congratulations, Don.

Sunday guests in the Donald Pennell home were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pennell and Heath of Plain-

LOOK AT THE RECORD!

And VOTE for A Man of Character and Integrity!

FOR FARM PROSPERITY

Remember Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson? The man who refused to see the cattlemen's representatives? The man whose farm policy brought unprecedented disaster? Nixon promised in 1956 that Benson's policy would give the farmer "unparalleled prosperity." Nixon consistently opposed the farmer. He voted to lower price supports, to slash soil conservation funds, to gut the FHA, to restrict rural credit, and to cut back rural electrification. He voted AGAINST REA on 16 of 19 votes including voting against every increase in REA loans.

BUT LOOK AT HUMPHREY'S RECORD:

AS A SENATOR AND VICE-PRESIDENT HE ALWAYS SUPPORTED

- strengthening the REA
- high price and commodity supports
- improving conservation programs
- expanding the FHA
- increasing exports of farm products
- 100% of parity prices
- rural revitalization

THAT'S WHY THE NATIONAL FARMERS UNION GAVE HUMPHREY ITS APPRECIATION AWARD IN 1967.

FOR STRONG SOCIAL SECURITY PROGRAM

On September 24, 1968, Humphrey pledged that he would raise Social Security benefits by 50% over the next four years.

He understands the problems of people living on pensions. Hubert Humphrey believes that after a lifetime of hard work, our senior citizens DESERVE good pensions, DESERVE to live in dignity. Humphrey thinks it is their RIGHT.

And so does the Democratic Party.

- Roosevelt passed the Social Security Act in 1935 although 99% of the Republicans voted against it.
- Johnson and Humphrey passed Medicare in 1965 although 93% of the Republicans voted against it.

Just like all the other Republicans Richard Nixon voted AGAINST strengthening Social Security, AGAINST increasing coverage and benefits when he was in Congress.

NOW LOOK AT HUMPHREY'S RECORD:

- HUMPHREY HAS
- Always supported a strong Social Security system
- Consistently voted to raise benefits
- Co-sponsored Medicare and was responsible for final passage

FOR RESPECT FOR LAW

Empty campaign promises cannot maintain order. Only experience can. Look at the record.

- While Governor of Alabama, George Wallace could not even make the streets of Birmingham safe. The murder rate there is more than DOUBLE the national average.
- Mr. Nixon has NEVER had any experience in combating crime. But Humphrey fought it on a day to day level.

NOW LOOK AT HUMPHREY'S RECORD:

- As Mayor of Minneapolis Humphrey
  - cleaned up vice and corruption and strengthened the police.
  - was given the FBI award for EFFECTIVE municipal law enforcement.
- As Senator he supported pioneering federal efforts to fight crime, including the first protection against habit forming drugs.
- As Vice-President he was instrumental in the passage of the Law Enforcement Assistance Act and the Safe Streets and Crime Act of 1968 which are NOW helping cities and states strengthening their police.

HERE'S WHAT HUMPHREY SAYS:

"I put it very bluntly—rioting, burning, sniping, mugging, traffic in narcotics, and disregard for law are the advance guard of anarchy, and they must and will be stopped."

- He calls for
- tougher anti-riot laws
  - beefing up police
  - a massive federal-state-local campaign against drugs

"There is no choice today but to be tough-minded about stopping crime and violence."

ELECTING NIXON AND THE REPUBLICAN PARTY WOULD MEAN TURNING AROUND AND MARCHING BACKWARD INTO RURAL AMERICA'S PAST. THOSE WHO RECALL THE PAST WITH ITS BACK-BREAKING LABOR, ITS INCONVENIENCE AND ITS INSECURITY DO NOT WANT THIS

2 state GOP candidates seek votes in Post

Republican candidates for office — Millard Neptune, land commissioner's office, and E. G. Schuhart II, agriculture commissioner's office — campaigned through Friday afternoon.

Schuhart of Dalhart, seeking to become commissioner of agriculture, is campaigning on the agricultural platform drawn up by the Texas Republican Task Force which promptly received the editorial endorsement of the Dallas News.

Schuhart and Republicans propose reorganization of the Texas Department of Agriculture with the governor appointing a seven-member board with six-year overlapping terms with the board hiring a professional administrator with the elective office Schuhart seeks abolished.

This idea should appeal to Texas farmers, ranchers and agribusiness leaders regardless of their party affiliations. Reform has long been needed in this state department, which has become more a "political hideaway" than a service agency.

Only two men have held this office during the past 38 years because it is a department which now does little and attracts little voter attention, Schuhart points out.

He also calls attention to the fact that Texas agricultural income, once ranked first in the country, has now fallen behind that of California, Iowa, Illinois and Florida.

He says a reorganized state department of agriculture with the farm industry working with it could start to do something about this obvious lag.

Frenship bowls over Antelopes, 46 to 13

The Frenship Tigers, living up to everything that has been said about them this football season, spoiled Post High School's homecoming Friday night by trouncing Coach Glenn Gregg's Antelopes, 46 to 13, in a penalty-ridden game.

The Antelopes were in the thick of things for a brief spell in the first quarter after Jerry Crenshaw and Ray Altman collaborated on a 57-yard pass play to pull Post up even at 7-7, but after that it was all Frenship.

With the Tigers ahead, 40-7, the 'Lopes got another touchdown in the third period when wingback Neff Walker made a one-handed catch of Altman's 13-yard pass. That and Crenshaw's first quarter touchdown were the only things the hometown fans found to cheer about.

Frenship scored on its first series of downs, with only little over a minute gone, when speedster Wadell Smith broke through the middle and went 50 yards for a touchdown. Quarterback James Madison booted the extra point.

POST'S FIRST touchdown came eight and a half minutes deep in the first period after an Antelope covered a Frenship fumble on the Post 10.

A 15-yard penalty against the Tigers moved the ball to the 25, from where Altman hit Walker with a seven-yard pass. Another 15-yard penalty against the Tigers, this one of the personal foul variety for grabbing a face guard, took the Antelopes to their 47. Altman lost four yards trying to pass, but on the next try found Crenshaw open on the Tiger 25 and laid the ball in his arms, with Crenshaw barely making it into the end zone before being overtaken. Randy Hudman kicked the extra point to make it 7-7.

The Tigers went back into the field during the past 38 years because it is a department which now does little and attracts little voter attention, Schuhart points out.

He also calls attention to the fact that Texas agricultural income, once ranked first in the country, has now fallen behind that of California, Iowa, Illinois and Florida.

He says a reorganized state department of agriculture with the farm industry working with it could start to do something about this obvious lag.

lead with 55 seconds of the first quarter remaining on a double reverse with Johnny Carrizales carrying 21 yards for the touchdown. Madison's extra point kick made it 14-7.

FRENSHIP built its lead up to 33-7 in the second quarter, with Madison passing to Clyde Strong and Tommy Durham for two of the touchdowns and Carrizales getting one on a dazzling 65-yard broken field run.

Smith kept the scoreboard flickering for the Tigers with an 18-yard touchdown run early in the third quarter and Madison kicking.

Coach Bill Smith's team scored first in the Slaton game when Kim Owen broke through on a dive play and went 30 yards. A running play failed to add the extra points.

Slaton returned the ensuing kickoff 60 yards for a touchdown and added the extra points to take an 8-6 lead.

The visitors set up a second quarter touchdown with a long pass completion and led 14-6 at the end of the first half.

David Hart scored for Post in the fourth quarter, running 30 yards for the touchdown with a 20-yard pass thrown by Kyle Josey. The locals lost an opportunity to tie the score when a running play failed to click for the extra points.

Coach Smith said the Post defense did a good job, but that the offense was not as sharp as it should have been, with frequent fumbles messing up the works.

Freshmen to play Roosevelt today

Post's freshman football team, which lost to Slaton by two points, 14-12, here last Thursday, plays the Roosevelt freshman team here today (Thursday) at 6 p. m.

Coach Bill Smith's team scored first in the Slaton game when Kim Owen broke through on a dive play and went 30 yards. A running play failed to add the extra points.

Slaton returned the ensuing kickoff 60 yards for a touchdown and added the extra points to take an 8-6 lead.

The visitors set up a second quarter touchdown with a long pass completion and led 14-6 at the end of the first half.

David Hart scored for Post in the fourth quarter, running 30 yards for the touchdown with a 20-yard pass thrown by Kyle Josey. The locals lost an opportunity to tie the score when a running play failed to click for the extra points.

Coach Smith said the Post defense did a good job, but that the offense was not as sharp as it should have been, with frequent fumbles messing up the works.

the extra point to widen the gap to 40-7.

The Antelopes scored their second touchdown on a 69-yard drive, which featured the running of George Torres and James Pollard and a 14-yard pass from Altman to Walker before Walker made his one-handed grab of the TD pass. Hudman's kick for the extra points failed to make it.

Frenship got its final touchdown with only 33 seconds left on a 13-yard pass from Madison to Mike Snowden.

Altman completed 12 of 29 passes for 169 yards, but had four of his passes intercepted.

Redman's long gallop wins 7th grade game

In hard-fought games at Tahoka Tuesday evening, Coach Waco Reynolds' 7th grade team won, 12 to 8, and Coach Bud Davis' 8th grade team battled to a scoreless deadlock.

An 80-yard run by John Redman as time ran out gave the 7th grade team its victory.

Trailing 8-6 with only 14 seconds to play, Post gained possession of the ball deep in its own territory, from where a 15-yard personal foul penalty against Tahoka moved it out to the 20. With only 10 seconds remaining, Post lined up in a spread formation with the ball going to Redman in the tail-back position. He broke between guard and tackle to go all the way, with no time showing on the clock as he crossed the goal line.

TAHOKA scored in the first quarter after recovering a Post fumble on the latter's 30-yard line and added the extra points for an 8-0 lead, which they held until the third quarter when Post pulled up to 8-6.

The locals' third quarter touchdown came on a 29-yard run by Redman, but Post failed to tie the score when a fumble foiled the extra point attempt.

Six fumbles halted a number of Post scoring drives besides setting up Tahoka's only touchdown.

Sharing offensive honors with Redman were David Conely and Randy Peel, with Charles Ball and Ronnie Ammons showing up well on defense.

The scoreless 8th grade game was a defensive battle, with the Post team making two superb goal line stands. In one, they pushed Tahoka back to the six-yard line after the Tahokans started with a first and goal on the six-inch line.

ONE OF the better defensive plays of the game came when Johnny Minor hauled down a Tahoka ball carrier on the Post 11 after he had reeled off a 75-yard run to that spot. Four plays later, Post took the ball on downs on the three-yard line.

Tahoka dominated play in the fourth quarter, which was the period which Post held on its six-inch line. A fourth down field goal try by Tahoka was blocked by the entire center section of the Post line.

Intercepted passes halted two Post scoring threats, one coming after Coach Davis' boys had racked up six first downs to drive deep into Tahoka territory.

Tahoka made 14 first downs to Post's 12 and also held an edge in yards rushing, 262 to 252. Post averaged 27.5 yards on four punts and Tahoka 26.2 yards on six.

Coach Davis mentioned Robert Torres, Minor, Robert Mindiem and Mike Hughes as outstanding on defense, and Roger Pace, Danny Lee and Torres on offense.

Nixon Voices Doubts of People's Judgment

Nixon's refusal to speak out on the issues is apparently founded in a belief that the people are incapable of judging candidates positions, Senator Edmund S. Muskie charges.

Nixon said: 'Let's suppose Nixon, Humphrey, and Wallace each said what he would do to end the war (in Vietnam). I doubt if the American people would have the ability to make a judgment.'

Muskie commented that: "A man who believes that is unqualified to be President of the United States."
