City asked for $17,000 for auditorium operation

The board of directors of the Post Community Auditorium asked the City of Post for $17,000, to be budgeted over a five-year period, at Monday night's city council meeting.

The board also recommended that the city pay 30 per cent of the salary of the park custodian, who would have the additional duties of community auditorium custodian, with the City-County Park board paying the other 70 per cent of the salary.

Three of the four councilmen present — Bob Collier, Frank Blanton and Donald Windham — voted in favor of the board's request being considered when the new city budget is prepared. Councilman D. C. (Billy) Hill did not vote.

Hill told the board members present that his reason for not voting to consider the request was that it was his understanding when the city voted warrants which to purchase the auditorium property that it would not be called upon to help finance the maintenance and operation of the auditorium.

"If memory serves me right," Hill said, "that is what the council told the taxpayers before the referendum was held on the issuance of the warrant. It was my understanding that if the city bought the property its upkeep would come from the different clubs and organizations that used it."

The board's request — two typewritten pages read by board member S. E. Camp — brought out that "after the issue was voted and passed upon by the people, it seemed that these organizations, with the exception of two or three of them, lost interest in the project, leaving the appointed board without necessary means to complete their work."

"We cannot provide you with the type of auditorium you will be proud of without your help," Camp told the council.

Other board members present were Ruby S. Kirkpatrick, chairman, and Maxine Marks, secretary.

The board's request, a copy of which was also furnished each member of the council, is as follows:

"Realizing that the City of Post will be making its budget for the coming fiscal year we would like to be considered in this budget.

"As you know, the total cost to the City of Post for the auditorium was $13,000. Because of good thinking and strong action, one of the board members was able to save the City $3,500 on the purchase price of the building and lots. At this time, this same member was Change is the nature of things—and change we have this week in The Dispatch's church ad. We think our readers are going to "perk up their eyes" at our new church ad. It will be written by local ministers who have something to say to the entire community about Christianity here in Post.

The first of the series you'll find today on page 6. It's entitled, "A New Church for a New World", which currently is the slogan of the local First Methodist Church. The message is written by the Rev. George L. Miller.

What does the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church have to say about this Methodist slogan? Read for yourself on page 6.

For almost all the 11 years the Cs have published The Dispatch we have recognized as the best "church ad" service in the country. It had beautiful art and wonderful messages of a general religious nature.

But despite its long list of prize awards, we always had the suspicion that the religious messages weren't being read by Dispatch readers like they should be.

Wehn we reached into the "ad drawer" of our desk last Friday to get out the first "church ad" for July, we made the surprising discovery that there were no church ads there. For some reason in the last two weeks of June, the July ads hadn't been shipped to us as they had been over the years from Strasburg, Va.

Instead of dismay, we registered (See Postings, Page 8)

At Church of Christ

Homecoming day is July 14

Climaxing a week's gospel meeting where Ronnie Parker, former Post minister, has been speaking, the Post Church of Christ will observe Sunday, July 14, as "Homecoming Day" with former members and friends of the congregation invited to participate in various activities.

Activities begin with a breakfast for all elders, deacons, and ministers, both past and present, who have served the local church. The 9:30 a. m. Bible School hour will feature special classes including an auditorium class taught by Kenneth Greene, former Post minister, now of Fort Worth; a special adult class taught by Ronnie Parker of Dimmitt, and a special youth class taught by Larry West, youth director of the Post church.

Following the morning worship hour at which time Parker will deliver the sermon, the congregation will host a luncheon for all present.

AT 2:30 p. m., an area-wide singing will be held in the auditorium of the church, which will also feature short speeches and talks by former members and preachers. All area congregations of the Churches of Christ have been invited to be present for this service.

Due largely to the efforts of Liff Sanders, pioneer Lubbock preacher, the Church of Christ was organized in Post in June, 1910. Sanders went about on the Texas Plains speaking on ranches, under arbors, and in school houses preaching and helping establish congregations of the Church of Christ. In addition to his efforts at establishing the church at Post, he also was instrumental in establishing churches at Tahoka, Littlefield, Lamesa, Slaton and Brownfield.

When the church began at Post, it invited J. T. Strickland to become its first minister. Charter members of the church were Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stevens, Ernest Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davies, Annie White, Mr. and Mrs. Jim White, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Maxey, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stovall, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith, Veda Smith, Lloyd Smith, J. I. Withborn, Mrs. A. L. Wallace, Mrs. Bob Rogers, Mrs. Tul Ivy, Eldredge White, N. J. Lanotte, Nancy Ratham and (See Homecoming, Page 8)

Keivin Thomas 2nd in cotton contest

Keivin Thomas, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Thomas of the Pleasant Valley community, won a $100 cash prize last week as runner-up in the dry land division of the 20-county South Plains district 4-H cotton production contest.

The contest is sponsored by the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill of Lubbock and winners were announced at the firm's board meeting last week.

Billy Jack Wood of Lynn County won the dry land division just ahead of Thomas.

In placing second, Thomas averaged 223 pounds of lint per acre on his five contest acres of cotton in 1967.

3 more teachers coming to Post

Supt. Bill Shiver said today he is recommending three more new teachers to school trustees for approval at their July meeting Monday night.

The three are Miss Sandra Richardson, 1968 Texas Tech graduate, high school mathematics; Stephen Hess, 1968 Texas Tech graduate, high school science, and Mrs. Dorothy Meador of Wilson, third grade teacher.

The superintendent said this will leave only two vacancies on the 1968-69 faculty — one high school Spanish teacher and one fifth grade teacher.

He termed chances "slim" of finding a qualified Spanish teacher, but said he will make a trip to Austin and into the Rio Grande valley area in the immediate future in efforts to find a Spanish teacher.

Over half-inch of moisture falls

Post received an additional .58 of an inch of moisture Monday night to get July off to a wet start here.

Reports received here yesterday indicated the showers were general over most of the county. The wind which "blew in" in advance of the thunderstorm was not severe enough to do any real damage to the cotton, it was believed.

The first July moisture brought Post's official moisture total for 1968 to 12.44 inches with the year only half gone.

FIRST RATTLESNAKE STORY OF 'SEASON'

How about finding a 43-inch rattlesnake coiled in your backyard scaring heck out of you r dogs at 11:30 p. m.?

Well, that's what Chester Keeton did last Thursday night at 111 West 12th, which means the snake did quite a bit of "crawling" through Post residential areas to get there.

Keeton was awakened by the constant hissing of his small dog kept in a pen at the rear of his backyard.

Upon investigation, he found the frightened dog up on top of their dog house trying to stay clear of the rattlesnake.

Now, who's for going out to turn off the water on the lawn at night without a flashlight?

Funeral held for L. Cooper, 68

Funeral services for Calvin Lee Cooper, 68, who died at his home at West 12th St. about 10 p. m. Monday, were conducted at 3 p. m. Monday at the First Baptist Church.

Cooper, a retired farmer, a native of Arkansas and had lived in Garza County since 1915. He was a member of the Church of Prophecy here.

Surviving are his wife, Nannie; Mrs. C. L. Cooper Jr. of Sladon; Mrs. Billy Wayne Cooper of Sladon; Mrs. Flora Mae Page of Fort Worth; Mrs. Evelyn Enloe of Sladon; Mrs. Betty Waggoner of Charleston, Ark.; and Mrs. June Rinkler. Surviving also are Mrs. Louise Johnston, Mrs. Bessie and Mrs. Patsy Baker of Carlisle.

Four brothers, Ned of Electra, L. and O. D., both of Canyon, and J. F. Cooper of Morton; sisters Mrs. Vera Smelser of Fort Hight, Ariz.; Mrs. Lettie Cooper Rites, (Page 8)

Burglars hit two service stations

Burglars broke into Peel's Concessions and Long's Enco Service Stations Monday night and stole from both firms.

Chief Bill Gordon said evidence was gained at each station making out a glass panel in the big service department.

Long reported four fires, same size, but not a set. They were valued at $95. The Post told police that both money was missing from the station but he would have to try his fire to determine the size of the loss.

City hears four on condemnation

Four persons appeared before the city council at its meeting Monday night for hearings on the condemnation of 27 houses and other structures in the northeast part of town.

One of those appearing, Antonio Pedroza, said he is an occupant of one of the structures, which had been listed as "unoccupied," by Community Action Committee members who made the survey.

Pedroza told the council, however, that he will fix up and clean up his place.

The other three asked for and were granted periods of time ranging from two weeks to a month and a half to fix up their property or the property of owners they represented.

Condemnation of the 27 structures as fire hazards was recommended by the city fire marshal. The council voted to continue action on the condemnation proceedings and also to make a survey of the structures themselves.

During this summer's camping period at Camp Post, parents and friends of Scouts are invited to participate each Friday night in a fried chicken dinner and campfire court of honor at the camp.

The chicken dinner will be served at 7 p. m., with the campfire court of honor beginning at about (See Camp Season, Page 8)

Rites conducted for Ben B. Ault

Funeral services for Ben B. Ault, 60, who was found dead in bed at his home at 301 West 6th St. early Sunday morning, were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Calvary Baptist Church.

Mr. Ault, who had lived in Post for 14 years, had been ill for some time and had been in an invalid for the last two years. He and his wife were proprietors of an automatic laundry here.

Mr. Ault was born in Oklahoma on Dec. 1, 1907.

Surviving are his wife, Mary Ault; two sons, Jack G. Ault of Post and John E. Ault of Eules; a daughter, Mary Ruth Ault of Post; four brothers, John T. of Duncan, Okla.; Albert of Addington, Okla.; I. L. of Patterson, La.; and W. M. Ault of Maryville, La.; three sisters, Mrs. Geneva Frenschley and Mrs. Abbie J. Dare, both of Duncan, and Mrs. James L. McKinnon of Talladega Springs, Ala.; and seven grandchildren.

July Fourth . . . Freedom isn't free

In the midst of turmoil throughout the world this Independence Day, we here in this nation should reflect on the fact that that which had its beginning 182 years ago, still endures, making the United States one of the oldest continuing forms of government on the face of the earth.

The Declaration of Independence statement that "a decent respect to the opinions of mankind" has been and is uniquely suited to the needs of all.

That freedom which had its start at Independence Hall in Philadelphia continues to be our responsibility as heirs to the principles of this Declaration.

We must continue to support honest law enforcement without any personal privileges or exceptions. If we demand free speech we must not suppress it in others. If we wish our savings and property to be free from seizure, destruction or theft, we must zealously protect and secure these rights for every citizen.

As Herbert V. Prochow, former resident, First National Bank of Chicago, said: "If you demand that the government of the people, by the people and for the people, you must exercise your right of franchise at the ballot box. If you demand that the government give you complete economic security, you must not forget that a nation's greatest strength comes when each person to the best of his ability stands on his own feet and courageously seeks to discharge his responsibilities."

Freedom is everyone's responsibility. And it isn't free.

Regulation of guns is needed

The proposed national gun control law, which President Johnson is asking congress to enact following the murder of Sen. Robert Kennedy, really has folks choosing up sides.

People who like guns contend the whole thing should be postponed until the wave of hysteria over Kennedy's death has passed. Everybody else is pretty strong for some action.

What we can't figure out is why gun owners object so strenuously to national gun registration. A gun registration law doesn't take the weapon away. Nor will it in itself prevent crime and murder.

California, where Kennedy was slain by a young Arab nationalist, has a strict gun registration law. It didn't take police but minutes to trace that weapon once it had been wrestled away from Kennedy's assailant. Nor did the California gun registration law prevent Kennedy's death.

The fact remains, however, that this country of ours is one of few civilized nations that exercises as little control over the manufacture, sale, and possession of all kinds of deadly weapons.

In America, the right of the people to bear arms remains a constitutional prerogative.

But with any right must come responsibility in equal dosage so that the exercise of this right is not an infringement upon others.

It's high time that the responsibility is applied to guns—and the best way to do it is by law.

We are a violent nation in part because the tools of violence are so readily at hand.

The American heritage of guns comes from the historical fact that pioneers, beginning with the pilgrims, advanced westward across a great continent too fast for law and order to keep up. A weapon in a man's hand was his only protection as the frontiers rolled westward.

But just because guns are historically rooted in America is no reason why they should remain virtually beyond the law today when to a large extent we have become a vastly more complicated society with millions "cooped up" together in vast city complexes which generate all sorts of frustrations and complexes which breed violence.

It is quite obvious that today's America has no need for guns unlimited. But changing things won't be easy. Whoever saw—on TV, of course—a gunman give up his six-shooter without a fight. —JC

Dear Turnrow Junkel

Many labor unions are demanding longer vacations for workers. Do you approve?

No, I think two weeks is long enough. This allows a week of travel, which is about all anyone can afford, and a week of hanging around the house listening to the vacuum cleaner, which is as much as any man can stand.

Did you know that according to safety experts, women are more careful drivers than men?

If that's true, newspapers are probably responsible for women driving so carefully. They usually publish the ages of drivers involved in accidents.

I read where an insurance executive said smokers are considered more dangerous risks than non-smokers. Don't you think all smokers will eventually have to pay higher premiums?

I'm afraid so. It might help a little if those Tarzoin smokers would keep up of fights, and Marlboro smokers would stay off horses.

I understand that due to the fear of rats and crime, fewer vacationers will visit large cities this summer.

You can't blame them. New York, for instance, is a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't want to die there.

When the atomic bomb was perfected, many experts thought it would end all wars, since no nation would want to risk starting a nuclear conflict. What happened?

The A-bomb didn't stop wars, but it stopped the U. S. from winning them. We settled for a draw in Korea, Cuba and now apparently Vietnam, because we were afraid if we tried for a knockout or even a decision we would have to take on the manager, Russia.

Did you know that when Columbus discovered the New World, the entire cost of his expedition was $14,000?

Yes, but the round trip took 8 months. Chris was probably like a farmer—he didn't figure anything for his time.

Buy Bonds where you work.

He does.

This man has been working in front of audiences of servicemen around the world for more than 26 years. He could take it easy now (he's certainly entitled to), but he doesn't. He's still hard at it, encouraging the brave Americans who fight in the cause of freedom. Another thing that makes him love his job is the fact that he can help pay the price that freedom costs—by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds.

He really does. Would you like to show you care? You can. It's easy. Invest in freedom and your future by buying Bonds where you work, or joining the Periodic Savings Plan where you work. You'll walk a bit taller.

New Freedom Shares
Now, when you join the Periodic Savings Plan on the Bonus-Minor Plan, you are eligible to purchase the new U.S. Savings Notes—Freedom Shares—that pay 4.74% when held to maturity of just 4½ years, and are redeemable after one year. Freedom Shares are available on a low-five-cent basis with Series B Bonds. Get all the facts where you work or bank.

Join up. America needs your help.

Ten years ago . . .

ALONG WITH THE high winds of the last few days, vacation time has rolled around again at The Dispatch office. That means that each employee who takes a vacation will well have earned it, if for nothing more than for "doubling up" on the work when one of the other workers is gone.

Because I'll be spending much of my time next week in the back shop to help out while Danny Richardson, our newest employee is taking his vacation, I'm writing this week's "Thursday to Thursday" a few days early — almost before the ink is dry on the last one. Come to think of it though, that isn't the only reason I'm writing the column early . . . we're coming out a day, maybe a day and a half, early this week because of the Fourth of July holiday.

THE MAN UP the street defines an old-timer as a fellow who can remember when he had to listen to know if a girl was knock-kneed.

Elsewhere in today's Dispatch is a story on the retirement of a Santa Fe Railway "bull" — more respectfully, special agent — and I can't help but wonder if Zeke Bates (that's his name) might be one of the railroad bulls I "ran into" when I was hobnobbing around the country right after I finished high school.

HOBNOBING WAS mighty popular with many high school graduates back in those days, which was right in the middle of the greatest depression this country has ever "soup-lined" its way through. There weren't enough jobs at home for the men with families to feed, so a great many youngsters look advantage of the opportunity to see some of the country via the Litch-hike and freight train routes.

I traveled both ways, thumbing rides and hopping freights, and if I wanted to get from one place to another in a hurry, I'd hitch-hike in the daytime and ride a freight train at night. I learned early, along with the other amateur hobnobbers, to keep a sharp lookout for railroad bulls, who didn't look to see if you were wearing a class ring when they felt it necessary to rough you up a bit to get you off railroad property — which, after all, was the only place you could hop a freight train or get off one.

THE ZEKE BATES in this week's Dispatch story was at Amarillo, but I know I never ran into him there. The only railroad bull I ever had any dealings with in Amarillo was one on the Fort Worth & Denver they called "Denver Bob," and one run-in with him convinced me that the best way to travel through Amarillo in the future would be to hitch-hike or to pay my way on a passenger train.

THE SANTA FE had the reputation in those days of being the hardest railroad on which to ride freights, and even the brakemen on that line seemed dedicated to the proposition that "no one rides this freight train who doesn't belong on it." A Santa Fe brakeman once put me off a freight in a howling sandstorm and it took me two days to hitch-hike 30 miles.

Some of the railroads were easy to ride, however. One of them was the Rock Island, which on occasion even accommodated its "freight-levy" about 15 of us had to pile off the Rock Island at an out-of-the-way place one cold day when orders came through for the trainmen to bring only the engine and caboose into the next town, which was some 28 miles away. The engineer and conductor took one look at the shivering bunch standing beside the track, then promptly hooked a gondola (coal car) on between the engine and caboose for us to ride into the next town.

AGAINST MY better judgment, I once got up nerve enough to "blind" a passenger train. That's what they call riding in the recessed doorway of the first car behind the locomotive. I boarded the passenger just as it pulled out of Dallas — on the Texas Pacific — and when I stepped off in front of the station at Fort Worth, there I stood the biggest railroad bull I'd ever seen. His first question was, "What's the matter, son, don't the freight trains run fast enough to suit you?" He let me go after threatening to "farm" me out to

Card of Thanks

The kindness and sympathy of neighbors and friends in our recent sorrow will always remain with us as a precious memory. Our sincere thanks and gratitude for all those comforting acts. A special thanks to Dr. Lively, the nurses at Garza Memorial Hospital, the honorary pallbearers and all who brought food and served. Opal and Earle Thaxton

I take this means of expressing my humble thanks for all the flowers, gifts, cards and telephone calls which I received during my stay in the hospital. A very special thanks goes to those who took time out from their busy day to be at the hospital for my surgery. We also feel grateful to the neighbors who mowed the lawn and took care of the yard. May God bless each of you for your kind thoughts and deeds.

Vada McCampbell

We express our sincere thanks to Bro. Joe Vernon, Mrs. Vernon and our many friends for their prayers, expression of sympathy and cards at the death of our brother, Carlos S. Robinson. May God bless each of you.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Robinson

Jehovah's Witnesses district assembly is set for San Angelo

As the "Good News for All Nations" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, to be held in the San Angelo Coliseum, draws nearer, the local presiding minister, Leonard Robertson, announced today some of the features and highlights of the program.

"The four-day meeting will convene Thursday afternoon, July 11, with an address of welcome by the assembly chairman and Watchtower representative, Donald Boyd," according to Robertson.

"From the first day of the San Angelo assembly to the last," Robertson said, "the program will focus attention on the Bible as God's Word of Truth as 'Good News for All Nations.'" Fundamental Bible truths will be thoroughly discussed, and practical counsel given from God's Word on the problems of everyday life will be considered by dramatization, discussion and discourse. Those attending will grow in appreciation of how much the Bible can add to the happiness of their home.

Friday's program will be highlighted by an ordination service conducted for new ministers.

Some 5,000 delegates are expected by Sunday when the convention will reach a grand climax with the public talk "Man's Rule About to Give Way to God's Rule," by L. M. Dusan, district supervisor, Brooklyn, N. Y.

In English history, the "Glorious Revolution" was the coming of William and Mary to the throne in 1689.

AMARILLO - While the drivers of Texas are making plans for 4th of July trips and outings, the Texas Department of Public Safety is getting ready for "Operation Motorcade," a five - day vigil of tabulating and reporting traffic deaths in Texas, stated Capt. J. W. Blackwell, in charge of the Highway Patrol for this district.

Capt. Blackwell said that "Operation Motorcade" will be placed in effect from 6 p. m. Wednesday, July 3, through 11:59 p. m. Sunday, July 7. It is estimated that 38 lives will be lost during this five-day period.

In order to increase surveillance over the heavy holiday traffic, additional Department of Public Safety personnel are being assigned to augment the Highway Patrol. These patrolmen have been instructed to be alert for and direct their enforcement efforts toward those violators that most often cause an accident. Every effort will be made to remove drinking drivers from the highways.

"Since police traffic surveillance cannot cover the entire street and highway system in Texas every minute of the day, the big hope for safe driving rests with the individual motorists," Blackwell concluded.

FAMILY VISITORS
 Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Sharp were his father, Homer Sharp of Richmond, Calif.; his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Yarbrough and daughter, Alisha, of Midland, and his aunt, Mrs. W. A. Sharp of Olton.

MRS. DICKINSON HOME
 Mrs. Dezzie Dickinson, who has been in a rest home in Lubbock, returned home to Post Tuesday.

Post student begins job following Mexican tour

Elisabeth Tubbs began her summer job in the experimental program of the research department of the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston on June 24 after a tour of Mexico with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Tubbs of Post.

The Tubbs' motoring vacation began with HemisFair in San Antonio. They then drove down the east coast of Mexico via Tampico, Vera Cruz, Campeche and Merida, Yucatan, to a stay at Progreso Beach, then to Puerto Juarez in Quintana Roo, and a stay at the resort at Ilas Mujeres in the Caribbean Sea.

At Islas Mujeres, they saw giant sea turtles captured, fish and lobsters speared, and went skin-diving themselves among the coral reefs near the island. They saw tropical fish and underwater sea plants of spectacular colors and number. The waters of the sea are startlingly clear in that area and skin-diving is a popular sport. The Maya ruins in this general area were impressive.

The Tubbs' trip then extended to the Pacific coast through Taxco, famous silver-smithing city, to Acapulco and the beach and pools at Pierre Marques, for another stay.

They spent a few days exploring the markets, Cathedral, Government Palace, and Monte de Piedad in Mexico City before Elisabeth's flight home to go to work at Galveston.

Dr. and Mrs. Tubbs then drove homeward, spending a few days in Torreon, where they visited the Mario Castaneda family before returning to Post. They report that Mario Castaneda Jr. is fine, healthy baby boy, and that Mario is now doing electrical engineering work in Torreon. The Castanedas send greetings to all their Post and Postex friends. They expect to be moving into their new home in Torreon in the next few days.

'The Carpetbaggers' is coming to Tower on Sunday, July 7

Hollywood has never been depicted in so big, so colorful and so glamorous a fashion on the screen as it is in Joseph E. Levine's "The Carpetbaggers," opening in Technicolor and Panavision Sunday at the Tower Theatre and showing through Wednesday.

Millions of dollars worth of costumes, sets and special props back up the all star cast, headed by George Peppard, Alan Ladd, Bob Cummings, Martha Hyer, Elizabeth Ashley, Martin Balsam, Lew Ayres, Ralph Taeger and Carroll Baker as Rina.

A drama of modern society, "The Carpetbaggers" recreates the unforgettable characters of Harold Robbins' powerful novel. The story ranges from the roaring twenties through the turbulent thirties and depicts the characters of the explosive novel with rare and uncompromising frankness.

A New Church For A New World

By the Rev. George L. Miller

¶ Have you noticed these words on the bulletin board in front of the First Methodist Church here in Post? That's quite a slogan to live up to. We all admire new things: a new car, a new dress, a new hair-do. But how popular will this "New World" be? ¶ Too many of us are still mourning the old world. "They just don't make cars the way they used to." "These new dress styles will never be as attractive as they were when..." "Do you remember how much fun it was to..." And "Oh, for the good old days!" ¶ But it is a new world just the same. It's a new world of fantastic medical advance where the question is no longer how to keep people alive, but how to decide when to let them die. It's a new world where machines are supposed to do the work while men think. Will the machines be doing the thinking tomorrow? It's a new world that has shrunk so small that a bomb blast in Saigon can shake the foundation of a house in Chicago, and a shot fired in Los Angeles can plunge the whole earth in grief. ¶ Such a new world needs a new church. It needs new hymns that can be heard above the noise of the freeway. It needs new words of hope that can be heard in spite of the moans of despair. It needs new life - life that can face the turmoil of social change that is all around us. ¶ This new world needs a new church. How about you?

Veteran railroad 'bull' retires after 42 years

AMARILLO—A veteran railroad "bull" turned in his badge June 28, after a 42-year career as a policeman for the Santa Fe Railway and in retirement that day.

Bates, 63, a widely-known enforcement officer, was honored by friends and associates at a reception from 3:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. June 28, in the auditorium of the general office building at Amarillo.

A native of Reliance, Tenn., Bates started as a patrolman in 1921, a beat in the railroad's yard at Berger, Tex., in 1927. He served as special agent at Belton, N. M., and at Slaton and San Angelo, Tex., prior to being transferred to Amarillo, June, 1940.

Bates was appointed superintendent of special service for the Western division in 1947, and was named assistant superintendent of better handling and special service in 1956.

MOST OF A railroad detective's work involves hard, old-fashioned work, Bates says. However, the day of the railroad "bull" who picked hobs' skulls with a billy are gone forever. According to Bates, the old-fashioned railroad "bull" has been replaced by a new breed of men, skilled in many techniques. The modern railroad policeman also knows railroad business inside out and has a general knowledge of a lot of other businesses work.

He knows, for example, how a commodity is bought and sold and who "fences" are; how stolen food and clothing are disposed of, and how commodities are packaged.

He also knows the law, how to distinguish various classifications of evidence and how to present his case in court.

In his long years of law enforcement along the right-of-way, Bates has sluthed his way through an infinite variety of difficult cases. Notable among them were food and clothing thefts at San Angelo during the Depression Thirties, in which three men were eventually convicted and sentenced to prison the theft of more than $10,000 worth of cigarettes at Belton, in 1956, resulting in the imprisonment of four men in a federal penitentiary, and the theft of large quantities of liquor from box cars over a period of several months at Slaton. Bates and his men spent an entire year investigating the case before they brought the culprits to justice.

Federal laws are violated in nearly all cases in which railroad investigators work, Bates said, which accounts for the railroad detectives' close work with the FBI, state and local law enforcement agencies.

BATES SAID today's recruits to railroad detective work are scheduled at the National Railroad Police Academy at Chicago which is staffed by key law enforcement officers as instructors. Bates, who was president of his class, was graduated from the third class in 1953.

As a railroad special agent Bates is armed and carries a deputy sheriff's commission, and as a supervisory officer he is also commissioned in the Texas Rangers.

COTTON INSECTS TO BE REPORTED ON AREA BASIS

Cotton insect reporting areas for Texas have been announced for 1968, and cooperators in each of the cotton growing counties are being asked to observe all field conditions relating to insects.

Cooperators in each county will be supplied self addressed cards with blanks for reporting their observations in the fields. Insects such as thrips, cotton aphids, spider mites, cotton fleahoppers, cotton leafworms, pink bollworms, bollworms, boll weevils, lygus or plant bugs, grasshoppers, and beneficial predators are to be counted and their populations noted on the cards.

The rate of infestations in the field are to be rated from "no economic value" to "heavy."

INSTRUCTIONS FOR methods of counting the insects to gain the best representative results are to be given to the county agents who will pass the information on to their reporters in the county.

Of special importance this year will be the counts made by cooperators in the Blacklands area where the intensified cotton insect control program has recently been initiated. Their reports should reflect the best cross section available in each county in order that

Family from Norway is visiting relatives here

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Stelzer and children, Walter Matt, 8, and Maurica, 7, are here from Stavanger, Norway, spending the summer.

They have lived in Norway for the past year where Mr. Stelzer is an engineer for Baroid, an oil mud firm. He is a graduate of Post High School and Sul Ross State College.

Mr. Stelzer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Stelzer. His wife, the former Ann Pierce, is the daughter of Mrs. Edna Pierce.

The family will return to Norway about Sept. 1.

Hereford youth is WTPA winner of scholarship

ABILENE — Tyler Vance of Hereford, who already has three years experience in high school and professional journalism, is the 1968 West Texas Press Association scholarship winner.

The first and second alternates, Benny Turner and Linda Kinsey, respectively, are both from Sweetwater.

The selections were made by the Scholarship Committee of the WTPA of which Ed Wishcamper, editor of The Abilene Reporter-News, is chairman.

The scholarship won by Vance is for $800, to be applied $200 per year over the four years of college. Vance said he plans to study journalism at West Texas State University, Canyon.

James M. Gillentine, publisher of The Hereford Brand for which Vance does part time work, described the 18-year-old youth as "a near genius" in photography. He also does news writing.

Gillentine told the selection committee he felt "there is not a youngster in the United States who can outdistance Tyler" in photography, "and in 30 years of newspaper experience I have only had one or two professionals who come up to his quality."

Vance began journalism work during his sophomore year in Hereford High School as a writer-photographer on the school paper, The Whiteface.

Later he went to work part time for the Hereford Brand and still continues on its staff while also working two days a week for the neighboring Friona Star.

The British aerospace industry earned more than $480 million in export markets last year.

Homecoming—

 Mrs. S. M. Charlee.
FROM THESE original members in 1910, the church grew to 52 members by 1921, and today's membership numbers 175.
 Contributions have increased from $10 per Sunday in 1921 to the present level of giving of well over $500 per Sunday.

In checking back through the church records, it is interesting to note that the preacher in 1921 was not paid a stipulated amount, but rather a varying amount depending (usually $5-$7 per week) upon the contribution that week while the janitor was paid a stipulated amount of 50 cents each week regardless of the total contribution.

Auditorium—

 led to believe by members of different local organizations that these organizations would furnish labor, material and money to refurbish the old building if the City would purchase the property. After the issue was voted and passed upon by the people, it seemed that these organizations, with the exception of two or three of them, lost interest in the project, leaving the appointed board without necessary means to complete their work. Please know we are working for the City of Post to the best of our ability, and hope to have an auditorium that you and the community will be proud of within five years. We do not now envision its successful completion without budgeted help from you. We feel that the City - County Park has proven the fact that budgeted money can see a job done in an orderly manner. Therefore, we are asking your consideration as follows:
 1968-69, $5,000; 1969-70, $3,000; 1970-71, $3,000; 1971-72, $3,000; 1972-73, $3,000; $17,000 over five years.
 "The board would like to divide the work plan over a five year period. We feel it will take more money the first year to get the program under way, considering architect fees who can give us plans and specifications to follow throughout the five years. A lot of necessary repairs to heating and air conditioning and the building itself must be undertaken the first year to keep the building in sound condition. Remember we want to represent you in a most respectable manner, and at the end of the five-year program, have a community auditorium that the community can take pride in using."
 "Again we would like to call attention to the necessity of keeping the community auditorium under the constant supervision of a custodian. We have visited with you in the past about using the park custodian as the community auditorium custodian too. We recommend the City - County Park pay 70 per cent of the custodian's salary, and the city of Post pay 30 per cent of it, above the requested $17,000 during the five-year period, with the City to review the percentage of the custodian's salary annually."
 "Please study our recommendations as outlined above. We feel you will agree that this is the most systematic manner to proceed in developing our community auditorium for the future."

Some of the early officers of the church included: Elders N. J. Lanotte, J. C. Benton, A. Clark, and H. F. Stevens; and Deacons T. W. Childress, R. D. Travis and D. Perkins.
 Early preachers for the congregation included John M. Rice, E. A. Bedlicheck, A. B. Barrett, A. R. Lawrence, Roy Lanier and Joe Wartick.
 Preachers serving since the 30's in the order of service have been Guy Woods, R. L. Roberts, Joe Harper, Fred Curtis, Ford Shropshire, Doyle Keley, Cline Paden, Paul Miers, Forrest Moyer, Quinton Fanning, J. C. Eubank, Oti Proffitt, Ronnie Parker, Kenneth Greene, Herb Smith, Ernest McCoy, Kelly Newman, and the present minister Don Davenport, who moved to Post from Lordsburg, N. M., in September, 1967. The church employed its first youth director, Larry West, this summer who is conducting a challenging program for the youth of the church.

THE CHURCH has always been mission-minded, having supported missionaries in such far away places as Denmark and Italy. Presently the church is giving to a special mission fund with plans to sponsor its own missionary by 1969.

From its beginning, the church has had a spirit of benevolence, having contributed to Orphans Homes and Homes for Elderly operated by Churches of Christ.
 The church conducts an annual Vacation Bible School each summer. Attendance at the 1968 Vacation Bible School topped all previous records with an average daily attendance of 240, with a daily high of 270.
 In addition to Don Davenport, minister, the church is currently served by the following elders: Garland Davies, D. C. Hill and J. B. Potts. Present deacons are Don Clary, R. A. Duncan, Ray Hall, Paul Jones, Lester Rosey, Arnold Sanderson and Travis Thomas.
 The congregation is justly proud of its past history of accomplishments, but looks to the future with a new dedication of service and work.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services on "Homecoming Day".

City accepts bids on truck and unit

The City of Post accepted bids for purchase of a truck chassis and collection unit for the sanitation department at Monday night's city council meeting.
 The bid of Scott - Pool, Inc., the only one submitted, was accepted on the purchase of the truck chassis. The bid was $3,996.75 for a two-ton heavy duty truck, with delivery promised by Aug. 15.
 The bid of the Pak - Mor Manufacturing Co. of San Antonio, one of three submitted, was accepted for the purchase of the collection unit to go on the new truck chassis. Pak - Mor's bid, the lowest submitted, was $3,325. The other two bids were for $3,995 and $4,495. Delivery was promised within 60 days.

Band Boosters in member drive

The Antelope Band Booster Club is launching a membership campaign with annual memberships of $1 per person for parents and friends of the band, and with annual business memberships priced at a $10 minimum.
 The Rev. O. Curtis Lee, president of the booster club, in a letter to band parents this week asked them to mail their membership checks promptly to Mrs. Mattie Collier, club treasurer.
 The campaign for business memberships will get under way next week, club officers said.

Lee wrote club members that officers and directors also recommend sponsoring of at least one barbecue supper before a major football game this fall. Some other smaller fund raising projects also are being investigated.
 Lee listed the club's main objective this year is "to help raise the necessary money to send the Post High School band to Enid, Okla., for the Tri-State Music Festival again next spring. The band and its members won three superior ratings and one excellent rating at its first visit to the big band festival this spring.

Boll weevil test is being set up

A "curtain" of boll weevil traps three counties wide is being set up this week in a scientific survey to determine migration patterns of the weevils, County Agent Syd Conner announced today.
 He said a trap will be placed "one to a mile" from the Caprock east to the Kent County line through Garza County ranch country.
 The traps will be checked twice weekly by a two-man Lubbock team composed of Charles Fisher Jr. and Owen Clark.

 Reservations for the chicken dinner must be made and paid for by Thursday noon of each week. Reservations may be made at Camp Post or at the Scout Service Center, 30 Briercroft Office Park, Lubbock. Cost of the supper will be $1.25 per person.
 Also during this summer's camping season, July 21 - Aug. 17, Cub Scouts will have the opportunity of picnicking there and seeing the camp in action.
 Cub Scout dens will be welcomed Monday through Friday during the regular summer camp season. A swim for visiting Cubs can be arranged during the noon hour. Pop or milk can be purchased at the camp to go with the Cubs' picnic lunch.

Patrolman resigns after busy weekend
 Police Chief Bill Gordon told The Dispatch yesterday he "is taking applications" again for a patrolman following the resignation of Billy Bland Monday.
 Bland, whose hiring was approved by the city council at a special meeting last Wednesday on a "temporary basis", told Gordon after a busy weekend that "officer work was not what he wanted."

ARIZONA VISITORS
 Mr. and Mrs. William Brandon, Mrs. Alma Mechem, accompanied by Mrs. Johnnie Rogers, have returned to their homes in Chandler, Ariz., following a visit in Post with their mother, Mrs. Hayden Rogers, and their father, who was a patient in the Veteran's Hospital in Big Spring for two weeks. Mr. Rogers is reported to be getting along fine.

COLORADO VACATION
 Mr. and Mrs. Walter Didway and daughter, Cristal Dawn, left Saturday on a week's vacation trip to Colorado. En route, they stopped at Pampa to visit his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Didway.

International concern is aim

Past Rotarians were told by their new president, the Rev. Curtis Lee, at their Tuesday luncheon in city hall that the club's "point of view" for the new 1968-69 club year will be "to think international."

The Methodist pastor reviewed the state of the world as he saw it and emphasized "the absolute necessity of being concerned at the international level."

He told Rotarians that club members must make a vital expression of this concern in Post, Texas in the months ahead.
 "Let's go," Lee concluded, "through personal involvement and participation."

Change in dog law proposed

A motion that the City of Post's dog ordinance be amended was made and seconded at Monday night's city council meeting, but was tabled until the next meeting because of the late hour.

Councilman Donald Windham moved that the dog ordinance be amended to cut out the requirement that dogs be kept on a leash or within an enclosure. The motion was seconded by Councilman Frank Blanton.

Windham said he believed more people would abide by the part of the ordinance requiring that dogs be vaccinated and licensed if the provisions that they be kept closely confined were eliminated.

 a feeling of elation. No breaking off with a good friend is necessary. Let's try something different. Let's put the religious appeal right at the Post level — and maybe even look at some of Post's problems.

Since our church pastor is a regular morning visitor at The Dispatch for a cup of coffee and a couple of cups of conversation with Mrs. C, who other than the Rev. Miller was present when our "ad drawer" last Friday morning.

That's why we've invited George to fill the breach, so to speak, and see if he could help turn our weekly "church ad" into the kind of advertising that will get the same kind of results for religion as sale ads do for our merchants.

I took George only an hour or two to come up with three weekly selections (the other two are ready for future use). One approaches the question of whether God is dead or alive with the suggestion that God is "in a convalescent home."

Turning our preachers lose on an avid readership such as The Dispatch has should in a few short weeks really "perk thing up" in Post.

Scouters' course to start July 12

The marins at White River Lake will be the scene of a Boy Scout leaders training course for all Scouters in the Comanche Trail District, starting at 3 p. m. Friday, July 12, and continuing until 4 p. m. Sunday, July 14.

Training sessions to be included are: Program, patrol method, outdoor program, boy leaders, program planning, advancement, and boy behavior.

Each person attending the training course is asked to furnish his own camping equipment, including cooking gear. Meals will be planned by each patrol, food purchased and costs shared.
 Church services will be conducted Sunday morning.

Cable TV tower going up here

Post's new cable TV service will be in operation in the near future, Joe Shields of the Clearview Co., of Post told The Dispatch yesterday. Completion of the tower for the cable service is scheduled for today. The tower is located on the edge of town just off the end of West 10th Street.

Shields said most of the cable firm's equipment has arrived but the final shipment is still awaited. He predicted the firm would be checking signals or be in operation within the next week.

Those wanting further information on the firm's service are asked to call 2379 and speak to either Mr. or Mrs. Tuck Monk.

Post man's brother dies at Sylvester

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Robinson and D. C. Roberts attended funeral services for Mr. Robinson's brother, Carlos S. Robinson, 77, who died last Friday morning at his home at Sylvester.

Services were held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Sylvester Baptist Church.

Mr. Robinson is survived by two daughters, Mrs. O. B. Peddy of Houston, Mrs. Sam Coker of Fort Worth; one son, Jack Robinson of Sweetwater; two sisters, Mrs. Bryon Brown of Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Troy Eiland of Monahans, besides the brother at Post.

JUSTICEBURG GUESTS

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Key of Justiceburg over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Page and sons of Spearman, Mr. and Mrs. Hern Pettigrew and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norris of Station, and Mrs. Horace Hancock and daughters of Seminole.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Vada McCampbell was dismissed from West Texas Hospital in Lubbock last Friday where she had been a patient for a week after undergoing surgery. She is reported to be getting along fine.

Seven teams to compete for trip to San Antonio state tournament

Seven teams, including the Post All-Stars, will compete here July 15-20, in the West Texas Babe Ruth League Tournament at David Nichols Park.

The tournament will be a double elimination affair, according to James Kennedy, who as president of the host league is tournament director.

The first day's action will pit Lamesa against Slaton, Levelland against Frontier and Post against Brownfield. The Tri-Cities team drew a first-round bye.

Play will continue Tuesday with the Lamesa-Slaton winner playing the Levelland-Frontier winner, and the winner of the Brownfield-Post game going up against Tri-Cities. There will also be a loser's bracket game that day between the Lamesa-Slaton and Brownfield-Post losers.

Two games are scheduled for Wednesday and two for Thursday, with the consolation championship to be decided in a loser's bracket game Friday. The tournament championship will be decided in games Saturday.

The winner of the district tournament here will go to the state tournament at San Antonio, July 21-27.

A district business meeting will be held here Monday, July 15, between the first and second game on that night. The meeting will be conducted by Dr. Wilburn S. Deel of Levelland, district director.

Braves nip Indians, 14-13 in extra innings Thursday

Buddy Blacklock scored on an outfield error in the eighth inning last Thursday night to give the Braves a 14-13 win over the Indians in the final game of the regular Babe Ruth League season.

Earlier, the White Sox had forfeited to the Braves to give the latter the league championship. The Braves were to have played two games Thursday night, but had to play only one after the White Sox forfeited because of not having enough players present to field a team.

The Braves and Indians were deadlocked 13-13 at the end of seven innings, with the Indians failing to score in the top of the eighth after getting two men on the bases.

Blacklock walked to open the Braves' half of the eighth and scored on a miscue of Jim Poir's fly ball to left field.

The Indians took an early lead with five runs in the top of the first, with the Braves coming back with three tallies in their half of the frame.

The Indians stretched their lead with two runs in the second and three in the third, but the Braves exploded with eight runs in the third to go out in front, 11-10.

The Braves scored one in the fifth to make it 12-10, but the Indians recaptured the lead with three runs in the top of the seventh. The Indians scored one in the bottom of the seventh to send the game into extra innings.

Ricky King was the winning pitcher after coming in relief of starter John Bustos. Jerry Saldivar, who finished up on the mound for the Indians, was charged with the loss.

The Indians outhit the Braves, 7 to 6. A total of 28 bases on balls were issued, 17 by the Brave pitchers and 11 by the Indian hurlers.

INDIANS SECOND IN BABE RUTH LEAGUE
 The Indians, sponsored by Wilson Bros., made a race of it right down to the wire in this season's Babe Ruth League race before finishing in second place behind the Braves. ## Delay of UIL rule won for Post nine

BULLETIN
 The University Interscholastic League said Monday it has postponed until Sept. 1 its rule prohibiting schoolboys from playing baseball with players who have signed college letters of intent. The rule has not been effective Monday.

Enforcement of the University Interscholastic League's rule making ineligible for one year a high school athlete who participates on a team with collegians or those who have signed letters of intent for athletic scholarships has been temporarily suspended for Post's Connie Mack League team, Manager Pat N. Walker said today.

The notice of the temporary suspension came from the executive committee of UIL District 4AA, to whom Walker had appealed after a telephone conversation with Dr. Rhea Williams, UIL director.

Dr. Williams told Walker that it would be up to the district executive committee to enforce or suspend enforcement of the rule against the Post team, which has one collegian and four boys who have signed letters of intent for athletic scholarships on its roster.

The authorization from the District 4AA executive committee for the Post team to proceed with its schedule is only a "temporary thing," Walker explained, but efforts are under way to get the suspension further extended.

Walker said he has contacted sponsors of American Legion baseball teams in this area asking that they also make efforts for an enforcement delay of the rule, since their teams are among those most seriously affected by the rule.

Local members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce also are protesting enforcement of the rule, since it affects their summer youth athletic programs.

The UIL rule has been in effect since 1948, but this is the first year that it has been invoked to the extent that it threatens to wreck most youth athletic programs in operation during the summer.

Collegians or boys who have signed letters of intent who are members of the Post Connie Mack League team are Clyde Cash, Norman Tanner, Nick Pantolo, Roy Sappington and Pete Morales.

Post athletes win places at Abilene

Norman Tanner placed fourth in the shot put, Karon Windham sixth in the broad jump and the girls' 440-yard relay team sixth at the state Jaycee Track and Field Meet held last weekend at Abilene.

Members of the girls' relay team were Sherry Bird, Stephanie Davis, Sharon Windham and Karon Windham.

Larry Scrivner competed for Post in the 100-yard dash.

The athletes, who were winners in the Post Jaycee Track and Field Meet, were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rankin.

GOLF TOURNAMENT
 A partnership handicap tournament will be held Sunday afternoon, July 7, at the Caprock Golf Course, according to D. H. Bartlett, manager. Merchandise prizes will be awarded winners, Bartlett said.

Games postponed by heavy winds

The Connie Mack League's scheduled doubleheader between Post and Tahoka here Monday night was "called" in the first inning because of high winds. The games will be played at a later date.

Friday night, the Post team will play a doubleheader here against the Colt League All-Stars of Lubbock, with the first game scheduled for 7 o'clock. There will be an admission charge of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

The undefeated Post team is first half champions of the Connie Mack League, which started out with four teams, but has dwindled to three with Wilson's failure to field a team. The other two clubs are Tahoka and New Home.

Grassland family has visitors from Houston

By MARY LEE LAWS
We won't have very much news this week as we have to have it in a day early due to the 4th of July being on Thursday.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thomas during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Baker and Jennifer of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hanes of Sherman. Other area relatives also visited in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bullard and Stanley of Lamesa spent Friday night with the Dean Laws. They all attended the Tahoka Braves-Wilson Red Sox game that night, which Tahoka won 11-6. The Braves are still tied for first place with the O'Donnell team. John and Jim Thomas, Phil McClendon and Clifford Laws play on the Tahoka team.

Bored! That's what I am! I'm tired of just eating and sleeping! And I can't lie under the hot sun all day because I burn too easily, especially when the temperature soars past the 100-degree mark. Furthermore, I have a small desire that school should be in progress after a month's vacation. However, since it is a VERY small desire, don't worry!

Some people are enjoying short vacations. David Pierce went to Denver, while Bobo McWhirt temporarily took David's place as a lifeguard at the swimming pool. Jimmie Johnston and Ricky Hines left last weekend to spend a few days in East Texas. Karen and Sharon Windham and several others went to Abilene last weekend to attend a truck meet.

Some of the people who have been spashing at the swimming pool lately are: Lis Dalby, Susan Thomas, Diane Electra, Belinda Blacklock, Doney Windham, Debbie Tucker, Duke Altman, Micki Sterling, Sherze Bird, Kay Herren, Homer Stilwell, Darrell Wilko, Curtis Lancaster, Raybe Gilmore, Debbie Hays, Darrell Odum, Herbert Mitchell, Debra Odum and Cindy and Lindy Bird.

There is not a dance this weekend in Post, but there was supposed to have been one Wednesday night in Tahoka.

Out-of-town visitors to Post include Margie Julian of Carlsbad, N. M., and Mark Wagly and Randy Dunn from California.

Have you seen "The Estate" yet? One room is being painted orange, while another will be wallpapered with newspapers. How much wilder can you get? Of course, in order to make the place noticeable, the whole front of the house could be smeared with luminous paint?

a Wednesday overnight guests of the Jurd Youngs.

The Rev. and Mrs. Duane Morrison and sons of Wilson were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. S. A. Bengt.

Arch and Cordie Aten spent Saturday night with the Dean Laws.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Allen and Mrs. J. W. Warrich of Lubbock, the Carlos McCleskeys, the W. L. Gribbles, the W. G. McCleskeys and the Ted McDonalds were Tuesday luncheon guests of Hoolie and Laverne McCleskey.

Several people were at the W. G. McCleskeys Tuesday night when Steve McDonald called from Fort Sill, Okla., to talk to his parents, the Ted McDonalds. He also said a few words to all the others present.

The Moore reunion was held at Cone Saturday. Attending from here were the Kelly Laws, James Murrays, Tom Crutchfields of Lubbock and the Fenoy Moores and Odie and Opal Bosworth of Arkansas.

Mother Gribble is staying with the J. M. Pattersons. She is doing fair.

Mrs. Huffaker has gone to Roswell to be with her mother who suffered a stroke. We hope she will be up and around real soon.

We wish to extend our sincere sympathy to the family of Calvin Cooper. He passed away Saturday night in Post. Services were held Monday at 3 p. m. and burial was in the Grassland Cemetery.

I saw Mrs. O. H. Hoover Saturday with Mrs. Gus Porterfield. She looked real good and said she was enjoying her new home. We all miss her.

Mr. and Mrs. Jurd Young visited in Slaton Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Duncan.

THE TED McDONALDS left for their home in Yakima, Wash., last Wednesday after a 10-day visit.

Saturday night Lucy Cunningham and the W. G. McCleskeys attended a singing in Slaton at a Methodist Church and returned on Sunday by the evening train.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Thompson's daughter, Bonnie, and her daughter and a pal friend from San Antonio visited in their home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bush visited friends at Methodist Hospital on Sunday afternoon.

Wanda Berry and children of Fort Smith, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Regan Reed and family of Brownfield, Wade Gerner of Lubbock visited the B. A. Normans Sunday.

Jurd and Artie Young attended the Youngs reunion in Lubbock Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Thorne. Alpha West of Roby came home with the Youngs and was a supper guest.

FORMER RESIDENTS VISIT
Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Morris and children of Farmington, N. M., arrived in Post Saturday for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morris and Mrs. Vera Gosssett. Mr. Morris will spend three weeks in Plainview as an insurance adjuster following their recent hail damage. His family will remain in Post during that time.

COMING TO TOWER

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO 339 INDIVIDUALS

The Garza Soil & Water Conservation District provided technical assistance to 339 individuals during the period from July 1, 1967 through June 30, 1968, on soil and water conservation problems. The district provided consultative assistance to groups, clubs, oil companies, city and county governments and others on 41 occasions. Thirteen new cooperators signed agreements with the district to begin a program of applying soil and water conservation measures on their land. Sixty-seven farms and ranches on 144,836 acres revised and updated their conservation plans to expand their conservation activities.

GREAT PLAINS Program funds, which have been in short supply may become available to Garza County farmers and ranchers. It was learned this past week. The funds were exhausted last September and only the contracts which were written early were accepted and certified. It was learned this week that the local Soil Conservation Service office will take applications for the program and new contracts will be written at such time as funds become available. The applications will be given a number and will be processed on a first come first serve basis as long as funds are available. Those interested in the program may make application and have the program explained without obligation by contacting the local Soil Conservation Service office.

Both technical and financial assistance is available and you the land owner and operator may carry out this program at the rate you feel that your budget permits. Most contracts are completed in three years but you may have up to ten years to complete a contract. Just as a carpenter uses a blue print to build a sturdy home or building, we want to help you to develop a plan for your farm or ranch which will meet the needs of the land and provide you with a more stable income.

Want to take advantage of this opportunity to list five things which we want to accomplish with our Great Plains Program in Garza County SWCD.

1. Provide assistance to small, low income farmers to make the maximum use of their resources which will improve and stabilize their income.

2. Accelerate land treatment critically needed.
3. Reduce maintenance cost of public utilities, business and reduce pollution of water and air.
4. Stimulate local economy, local pride, and confidence in conservation program objectives.
5. Make rural areas more attractive places in which to live and encourage people to stay in the country, or move back to the country.

Conservation as a direct result of the GPCP Program and federal cost share earned on carrying out conservation permanent type practices put almost one-fourth million dollars into the economy of Garza County in 1967. Since the program was initiated here in the Garza SWCD, 87 farmers and ranchers have placed 340,829 acres into the program for cost-share assistance this represents 58 per cent of the total land area of Garza County. No one program fits the needs of every farm or ranch. Guidelines must be set which will benefit the majority and specifications which were developed through talking with farmers and ranchers over the years must be adhered to on construction projects. It may or may not fit your individual needs and other programs are available to you. If you are interested in a step by step long range conservation plan, and are interested in the cost-share aspect in helping you to establish a more stable income for you and your family, let one of the SCS staff members discuss the program with you and help you to develop a basic conservation plan. There is no charge for this service and you are not obligated in any way, to become a participant in the Great Plains Program.

Bailey Mayo and Imon Newman of the local SCS office were recent guests of the Post Neighborhood Girl Scout Day Camp and presented a program on Plant Identification, Soil and Water Conservation and Pollution to the girls and their leaders. We enjoyed the fine noon meal, and appreciated the interest that the girls took in the problems involved in Soil and Water Conservation.

General Telephone grants workers big wage boost

SAN ANGELO — Settlement between General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Communications Workers of America, representing an 18.3 per cent increase in wages and benefits, was reached June 28, according to Owen N. Rabourn, director of personnel and chairman of the company negotiations committee.

The settlement will cost the company $3,670,000 over a three-year period and contained no significant changes from the company's final proposal of last Monday; however, wages will be retroactive to June 9, according to Rabourn.

The contract will expire June 27, 1971, except for pension plan benefits to be discussed in 1970.

"We feel that it is a very fine settlement considering the company's responsibilities to customers, employees and shareowners," Rabourn said.

L. Gray Beck, who will become president of General Telephone Company on July 1, issued this statement immediately following the settlement:

"We are extremely pleased that we were able to reach an agreement without inconveniencing our customers.

"More money is involved in this settlement than in any previous one in the company's history. The new contract together with the new 10 per cent surtax will increase the company's operating expenses substantially.

"As in the past the management of General of the Southwest will do their utmost to absorb or minimize the effect of these increased costs by improving operating efficiencies and providing better tools and training programs which will improve employee production. However, it appears to us that re-pricing of telephone service will be a necessity in light of these developments."

Rabourn said the contract includes wage increases up to 71 cents per hour, full basic medical coverage for employees only, for weeks vacation after 20 years, and double time and one-half for overtime worked on holidays.

Final bale count given on Plains' 1967 cotton crop

The 23-county South Plains area produced 1,203,520 bales of cotton in 1967, with Garza County production totaling 18,400 bales.

The tabulation was made by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., from county-by-county 500-pound-bale figures recently released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The South Plains crop amounted to 43.5 per cent of the Texas output of 2,767,000 bales.

The figures show that 24,800 acres were planted to cotton in Garza County in 1967, with 22,700 acres harvested, representing an 8.5 per cent of acreage lost. The yield per harvested acre was 3.88 pounds.

Over all, the Plains crop was down from a production of 1,293,700 bales in 1966 and was the smallest area output since the severe drought of 1950 when only around 800,000 bales were ginned.

Cotton farmers seek new markets

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — "Cotton farmers obviously are determined to fight for a greater share of the expanding market for fibers," George C. Cortright Jr., chairman of the Cotton Board, said today.

As evidence, the Rolling Fork, Miss., cotton producer cited the collection to date of almost 17 million for research and promotion from the small 1967-68 cotton crop.

Mr. Cortright said funds now in transit to the Cotton Board will push the collections to well above the $7-million mark. A total of $6,972,000 had been received as of June 27.

"The extremely low level of refunds — only three per cent of collections — strongly emphasizes the great value which cotton farmers place on research and promotion and certainly shows they are determined to compete with other fibers for markets," Mr. Cortright said.

Established under the Cotton Research and Promotion act, the collections are on cotton sold prior to June 1, 1968.

The total represents about 95 per cent of the 7,366,000 bales of upland cotton ginned during the 1967-68 season as reported by the Department of Commerce, Mr. Cortright explained.

Smith reveals new cattle export plan

AUSTIN — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith announced recently a new state cattle export program for Latin America which "will greatly aid and encourage Latin Americans to buy Texas cattle."

Speaking to the National Convention of the Red Angus Association of America in Austin this week, Lt. Gov. Smith said the program "could produce a chain-reaction in gaining additional world markets for our products" and "open some golden gates of trade" for many other Texas goods.

Excerpts from the speech, given during a break in senate debate on the tax bill, included:

"In addition to welcoming you for the State of Texas, especially those of you from out of state, I would like to announce to you the development of our most recent program in the livestock field.

"Our state has developed a cattle export program for Latin America which will greatly aid and encourage Latin Americans to buy Texas cattle. It may have a highly significant effect in the field of exports for our state.

"Next week, the first directory of the cattle export program will be published to list all Texas ranchers and breeders participating in the program."
