Teel is sentenced to 30 years after guilty plea

In knife-slaying of his ex-wife

Ray Teel was sentenced to a penitentiary term of "not less than two years nor more than 30 years" in Tahoka Tuesday afternoon after pleading guilty to murder with malice in the knife slaying of his ex-wife, Edith Robinson, here April 10, 1967.

District Judge J. H. Starley of Pecos sentenced Teel.

Teel entered the guilty plea about 4 p. m. upon completion of testimony of the state's first witness in his trial, John Tom Brooks, father of the slain woman.

The murder trial was transferred to Tahoka by Judge Starley here May 13 after the examination of 36 prospective jurors with the seating of only four brought Starley to the conclusion that it would be impossible to secure a duly qualified jury of 12.

Efforts to obtain a jury here May 13 was before the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that a prospective juror could not be rejected for jury seating because of his or her belief against capital punishment.

District Attorney George Hansard had indicated prior to the May 13 trial here that the state would seek the death penalty for Teel.

Little difficulty was experienced in selection of a 12-member jury in Tahoka Tuesday with no questions being asked about jurors' feelings on capital punishment.

The first witness, Brooks, was called about 2:30 p. m.

Teel was represented at the trial by Pat N. Walker of Post, his court appointed defense attorney, and Harold Green and Callaway Huffaker of Tahoka.

Hansard represented the state, assisted by Garza County Attorney Preston Poole and Lynn County Attorney Cletus Pheasant.

Teel has been held in the Lynn County jail at Tahoka and Lynn County officers were ordered by Judge Starley to take him to the state penitentiary.

Farmers replant storm-lost crops

Sunday evening's storm, whipping in towering clouds of sand in up to 70 mile-an-hour winds, caused considerable "additional damage" to Garza County's beleaguered cotton crop — but farmers were back in some fields planting this week for up to the "fifth time."

Lewis Heron, farm representative of the First National Bank, said the new storm caused "a lot of damage" by "sand burning of both cotton and feed" over most of the county, and particularly on the plains.

County Agent Syd Conner was out of the city and unavailable for his comments, but had said Tuesday that it was difficult there to estimate the total amount of storm damage to the county's cotton crop.

Post officially received 48 of an inch of additional moisture in the Sunday night showers which followed the hard-fitting weather front through this community.

This brought Post's June moisture total to 2.65 inches and the 1968 moisture for the year to date to 11.68 inches.

Heron told The Dispatch that due to all the recent storms, and especially the June 8 devastating downpours, Garza County's cotton crop is "going to be a late one."

He said farmers are now planting seed for fast maturing cotton and added the crop "would be all right if we get a normal or late freeze in the fall."

There is no question about the fact that there has been more rain than enough moisture.

"We're right at the planting deadline and we need lots of sunshine and no wind," Heron declared. Even farmers in the devastated Southland and Pleasant Valley (See Farmers, Page 8)

Mosquito check due here today

A state department of health field man is due in Garza County today to check on the possibility of encephalitis - carrying mosquitoes in the "new lake country" on the plains.

County Judge J. E. Parker said the mosquitoes are "rarely eating them up" on the plains and that the county has requested a state health department check of the situation.

Judge Parker said "an emergency would be declared" and probably an expensive spraying program inaugurated if the danger of the dread "sleeping sickness" is found to exist in Garza County following the forming of the vast plains lakes by the June 8th storm.

Times changed on Santa Fe trains

The Santa Fe Railway changed the schedule of its passenger trains through Post last Sunday.

Southbound Train No. 76, which had been arriving in Post at 8:17 p. m., is now arriving at 1:31 a. m. Northbound Train No. 75, which had been arriving at 6:18 a. m., is arriving at 4:10 a. m. under the new schedule.

Station Agent George Barker said the changes were made so better connections could be made at Clovis, N. M., with the Santa Fe's San Francisco Chief, which runs from Chicago to San Francisco.

Barker said there still has been no word from officials of the railroad about suspension of passenger service through here.

The Texas Railroad Commission some three weeks ago approved Santa Fe's application to discontinue the service, following a series of hearings.

Forty-Second Year

Although their grand openings are won in the indefinite future, two new Post businesses got or will get under way in impressive new surroundings this week — Toby's Drive-In at 507 South Broadway and the World of Difference Beauty Salon at West Main and Avenue L.

Mr. and Mrs. Toby Thomas are opening their new drive-in — and it's a beauty with all new equipment, 36-seat dining room, and big all-weather parking lot — sometime this weekend. It's certainly a place the Thomases can take a lot of pride in — if, that is, they can find the time. You'll find Toby's announcement ad on page 3.

Gordon and Marge Lee are another couple whose time has been at a premium lately trying to get everything finished up to open their new World of Difference Beauty Salon. Despite the fact that the beauty salon is already in operation and it's big, cool, and comfortable with refrigerated air conditioning, Gordon is now concentrating on getting the planned athletic clubs and sauna ready to open in the near future.

Another grand opening date remains to be set for Conor Howell's big new Gulf Station and its "acre of concrete" parking at the corner of Main and Broadway. It may be some weeks yet before the pennants fly for that opening but the station has been in use for a couple of weeks already.

All of which is a good indication that the Post business community is wide awake and reaching for new opportunities.

Postings also wants to welcome a new Post independent business man to active duty. He's Kenneth Williams who is now operating Williams' Shamrock Service at 503 South Broadway. This gives Shamrock a station at each end of town on busy US-84. You'll find Williams' announcement ad on page 9 of today's Dispatch.

McPherson rites held Monday at Methodist Church

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Viola McPherson, 83, who died early Saturday afternoon at the Garza Memorial Hospital, were held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the First Methodist Church, of which she was a member.

Mrs. McPherson, who lived at 112 South Ave. R, died following a lengthy illness. She had been in the hospital for five days.

Mrs. McPherson was born Alice Viola Tucker at Chapel Hill, Tenn., Feb. 10, 1885, moving to West Tex. near Waxahatchee, where she and her husband, Mr. H. H. (Hunt) Foster, who died in 1935, was an employee of the Double U Land Company here.

Mrs. Foster says when they moved to Post from New Mexico, her husband was afraid their children would be "swept behind the dunes" here because "they didn't" (See Mrs. Foster, Page 8)

Humble files 3 mining leases

Humble Oil & Refining Co. is well interested in Garza County's uranium prospects.

The firm which drilled 38 or more test holes in 12 miles north of Post this spring, has filed mining leases in the county north-here for two more sections plus an additional 48 1/2 acres, or about 1,728.17 acres in all.

The three new leases are in the same general area which Humble already has test drilled. See county records on page 2 for lease details.

Woman pleads guilty to shoplifting here

May Villa, 28, of Post, paid a $15 fine in city court Tuesday after pleading guilty before Judge Percy Printz to a charge of shoplifting.

She was arrested Tuesday by Police Sgt. Otis G. Shepherd Jr. after a call from Drury Jrogan, Piggly Wiggly manager.

HOBBIES COME LATE IN LIFE Home Foster knits an afghan as she sits in front of a few of the more than forty afghans she has number-painted since taking up the hobby three years ago when she was 85.

Woman nearing 90 busy throughout day

85 years, Mrs. Hattie Foster of West 12th St., has more hobbies and interests than most people of her age.

Three years ago when she was 82, Foster took up numbering as a hobby and since that has painted more than forty afghans.

By the first of the year, however, she has turned her attention to knitting and says she hopes to get back to her painting soon. "As soon, perhaps, as I finish this afghan," she said, indicating a bright red afghan draped over the back of a couch.

Mrs. Foster paints the "easy way," filling in pre-numbered drawings, but her colors and compositions show her colors and artistic sense. She has painted all forms, but says she prefers to paint landscapes. Animals, especially horses, are also a favorite.

Mrs. Foster says she took up painting as a hobby because it gives her something to do when she is home by herself most of the day. She was a self-employed seamstress until stricken by arthritis several years ago.

"Arthritis—I've got it in my right side—is about all that slows me down," she said. "And the only time I've ever been really sick is one time when I became ill from some medicine I was taking for my arthritis."

Mrs. Foster reads a lot and is able to read the finest print. She has more than one hundred books, in addition to a box already packed to give to her church. She donated one box of books to the Post Public Library.

She enjoys watching television, but it took her a while to learn to like the color TV set her son bought her.

"I read the newspapers and try to keep up with everything that is going on, but I sometimes wonder what they are going to print next," Mrs. Foster says.

Along with her painting, crocheting, knitting, reading and TV viewing, Mrs. Foster has found time since the first of the year to make five dresses for herself.

She has lived in Post since 1910, and her husband moving here from New Mexico, where they had homesteaded four years. She was born and raised in Hood County, where she and H. H. (Hunt) Foster were married. Mr. Foster, who died in 1935, was an employee of the Double U Land Company here.

Mrs. Foster says when they moved to Post from New Mexico, her husband was afraid their children would be "swept behind the dunes" here because "they didn't" (See Mrs. Foster, Page 8)

CHOIR SINGS HERE AT DRUG STORE

The 46-member high school choir of the Euclid Street Baptist Church of Anaheim, Calif., presented an impromptu "concert" Wednesday afternoon at the Post Pharmacy while on a brief stop here.

Traveling by chartered bus, the choir was en route home after singing at the First Baptist churches in Dallas and Abilene.

They were to stop Wednesday night for a concert at the First Baptist Church in Hilsenfield, whose pastor, the Rev. Ed Crow, is a brother of the Rev. Bryan Crow, pastor of the Anaheim church.

The choir sang here under the direction of Mark Tullos, music director at the Anaheim church.

Water situation nearing normal

The water situation is back to normal this week with all the storage full and restrictions on water usage lifted.

The White River filtration plant is now pumping to Post 24 hours daily and has a water district employee staying here to read the tank gauges to be sure both line and elevated tanks are kept full.

Air in the water line to Post makes it difficult to be sure of the accuracy of the automatic gauge readings of the tanks.

Big rains increase lake water supply

Recent downpours at least have been beneficial as far as filling the new White River Lake is concerned.

The lake "caught" four and one-half feet of water from the big June 8 storm and after Sunday night's drencher "caught" another three and one-half feet.

This means in two weeks the lake has caught eight additional feet of water.

White River Lake workers reported yesterday that the lake is now 75 per cent full. It has 1,573 surface acres covered with 30,850 acre feet of water.

The lake will hold approximately 34,000 acre feet when full.

The lake now contains one billion and seven hundred and 17 million gallons of water.

When full, the lake will be 59 feet deep at the big earthen dam. Right now it has only 4.1 more feet to go to reach that depth.

Help plentiful in 'water squeeze'

At least half a dozen persons stopped us within a few hours last week and said they thought we ought to use The Dispatch's editorial columns to express the community's thanks to the White River Water District, City of Post officials and all others who helped Post get out of a very tight "water squeeze" following the big storm of June 8.

We'd made up our minds to do this very thing, even before the first of the appreciative citizens brought it up. Such efforts on the part of public officials in the face of an emergency is always commendable.

Especially noteworthy was the work of Al O'Brien, White River water district manager, and Eddie Warren, City of Post manager, who "put out" to the limit in doing everything within their power to overcome the emergency as quickly as possible. There were a number of others who also deserve credit for their efforts— including the mayor and city councilmen and the truck owners who made their vehicles available for the hauling in of water.

The public, too, deserves a vote of thanks for its cooperation with appeals for sparing use of water during the emergency and for its patience in waiting it out.

Less dedicated efforts on the part of water district and city officials could have made matters much worse than they actually became following the washing out of the 400 feet of the water pipeline.—CD

NRA opposes firearms control

It's beyond us why the 900,000-member National Rifle Association is so violently opposed to federal gun controls.

The NRA was founded in 1871 by a group of National Guard officers interested in not much more than improving their marksmanship. When, where and why did the NRA come up with its basic credo—"The right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

We disagree with that credo to the extent that we think the rights of members of the lunatic fringe to "keep and bear arms" definitely SHOULD be infringed, and we hope legislation is enacted in that effect.

If it takes a ban on mail order sales of rifles and requires registration of all guns to help make the streets safe to walk again, then we say let's have it—the gun-lobby minded NRA notwithstanding.—CD

Summertime is almost upon us

Very shortly that midyear period known as summer, which starts officially on June 21, will be upon us. For many, it holds a threat of the impending tragedy of riots and strife. One can only pray that these forebodings will prove baseless, that summer will once again be as it should—a time when the land is in full bloom.

We here in Post will welcome summer, hoping that it brings us a respite from the kind of weather we have been having. The winter was a severe one, although its heavy snows brought welcome moisture. Springtime, now preparing to give way to summer, hasn't seemed much like spring at all.

With a little bit of luck, though, we can look forward to a traditional summer, with long evenings to be spent in repose. Many will be fortunate enough to take vacation trips, with the incomparable scenery of America drawing thousands from the scenery with which they are familiar to places they perhaps have never before visited.

Despite a fast-changing world, summer isn't much different now than it's always been, and we should enjoy it.—CD

Dear Turnrow Junkel

O. C. McBride

Did you know that "indoor gardening" is becoming popular in this country? The Dept. of Agriculture has even published a guide on the subject.

No wonder many foreigners think Americans are nuts. How else can you explain people who build a house with a fancy kitchen and dining room on a large lot, then cook and eat their food in the back yard and plant a garden in the house.

I read that Ronald Reagan wears cowboy boots. I'll bet he doesn't even own a cow.

If everyone who wears cowboy boots owned a cow, beef wouldn't be so expensive today.

It is rumored that Ramsey Clark will soon be offered a Federal judgeship. Is this a scheme to ease him out as Attorney General because he has been lax in fighting crime?

Probably, but I don't see how it will help matters. As Attorney General, he hasn't arrested many criminals, but as a judge he'll be in a position to turn loose the ones that have already been caught.

Do you believe flying saucers really exist?

I didn't for a long time, but now I wouldn't rule out the existence of anything. The other day I met a fellow who actually won a prize at a gas station sweepstakes.

Did you know that ketchup is now available in a bottle with a neck wide enough that a spoon can be inserted?

That's the trouble with people these days—all they think about is security. Spooning ketchup on food might be safer, but we would lose the suspense and adventure connected with pounding on the bottom of the bottle.

A top Hanoi spokesman said recently that as soon as the U. S. agrees to stop all bombing in Vietnam, the talks can proceed to the next stage. Why are the talks being held in stages?

Apparently we are going to surrender the same way we tried to fight the war—gradually.

JUNE HAS "busted out all over" ever since it's been here, as far as the weather is concerned.

The rains have made the weeds grow rank on vacant lots and if it hadn't been for the "touching up" of the old Ameen Hotel and the big clean-up job in the northeast part of town, we'd be in a mess.

THE MAN UP the street says open - minded or empty - headed — it depends on whether you're defining yourself or someone else.

I've about made up my mind that if I want to find out whether HemisFair is a big success or a dismal flop I'll have to go see for myself. Of those who have been there, one will tell you one thing and the next one you talk to will tell you something else.

WITH ALL THESE June weddings, our cat Blackie has been kept busy shopping the greeting card counters.

The gas company in a small college town inserted the following ad in the local newspaper: "WANTED: Hard-boiled, beauty-proof man to read meters in sorority houses. We haven't made a dollar in two years."

FIFTY - THREE POST youngsters are making real good use of their vacation time. They are enrolled in the Summer Reading Program at the Post Public Library.

Summer homemaking students make field trip to Lubbock

Ten of the 30 students enrolled in Summer Homemaking, accompanied by their sponsors, Mrs. Willa Didway and Mrs. Marion Wheatley, spent June 11 on a field trip in Lubbock.

Mrs. Xie Collins, home economist for Southwestern Public Service Co., demonstrated cooking a complete meal on an electronic range. The girls, sponsors and bus driver, Donald Windham, were served Spanish rice, mixed vegetables, hot dogs and applesauce cake. The meal took 30 minutes to cook, after preparation was made.

Senior students majoring in homemaking at Texas Tech live in the home management house to learn all the duties of running a home. As Tech is growing, this past fall two mobile homes were moved onto the campus to help relieve the overflow of students who needed to study in the home management house, and to acquaint the students with the difference in running a large well-equipped home and a small apartment, home or mobile home.

The Post group spent the afternoon visiting these facilities on the Tech campus and were the first guests for the summer session. The hostess of the day gave the girls a guided tour through the home first. It is of Spanish architecture and elegantly furnished with bedrooms to accommodate eight girls plus their sponsor. Trailers hold four girls each.

After a tour of the home, trailers and the indoor Spanish garden, the Post group was treated to refreshments by the cook her assistant.

Those making the trip were: Beverly Allen, Barbara Moore, Pat Harper, Susan Thomas, Shirley Manuel, Rhonda Doss, Peggy Bevers, Stephanie Doss, Quay Williams and Beulah Er, the sponsors and the bus driver.

POST MAN HOSPITALIZED Hayden Rogers entered Spring Veterans Hospital June 18 where he was to undergo tests. He will be a patient for several days. The Rogers' daughter, Mrs. William Brandon, of Chandler, is here with her mother and visiting her father in the hospital.

VISIT IN WASHINGTON Wilma Johnston spent two days visiting in Pasco, Wash., with brother-in-law and sister, Mr. Mrs. Jack Harper, and family.

OUR READERS Write

EDITOR'S NOTE: The changes in Texas Interscholastic League rules for next year, allowing athletes only one award jacket in four years has drawn opposition from a number of newspaper people. Among them Bill Salter, editor of the Floyd County Newspaper at Floydada. Bill covered the subject thoroughly in his column "William Tell" in a recent issue of the newspaper. We are commending the column under the "OUR READERS WRITE" heading. We are also sending along a letter with the column reprinted, which follows.

I AM glad to see your issue of June 10, 1968. I am a little disappointed that you did not print my letter.

The article about the Interscholastic League rules is very interesting. I am glad to see that you are printing it. I am glad to see that you are printing it.

According to the information regarding next year's athletes will be allowed only one award jacket in four years. This means that a student who has won a jacket in one year will not be allowed to win another until four years have passed.

The rule on the jacket was 611 superintendents for and 396 against. I am proud to say that our own Floydada School Super, A. E. Baker, was among those against the stupid rule.

To further clarify the rule, it even goes farther than athletes, amounting to the fact that any time a student qualifies for an honor.

In fact, mad enough to let their feelings be known by letters to the editor and letters to the state Interscholastic League Director.

If you're mad enough to write him, his address is:

PAY BILLS To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's mission is to help you to credit. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly means for an amount, he may not without payment to break into pieces with the credit.

Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit bureau. Payment in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come—perhaps for the rest of your life.

Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions, particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts.

Keep your picture bright and shining and enjoy all the conveniences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.

Academy Award picture showing

Two stars, who for two consecutive years have won Hollywood's coveted "Best Actor" award, are together in the Best Picture of the year: "In the Heat of the Night," now showing in Color by DeLuxe at the Tower Theatre through Saturday.

Rod Steiger won the "Oscar" for his powerful portrayal of a red-necked southern police chief in this production — while Sidney Poitier, playing a northern detective reluctantly assigned to work in the South with Steiger, was voted "Best Actor" the year before for his sensitive role in "Lilies of the Field."

Altogether, "In the Heat of the Night" was the hottest picture of the year, winning a total of five Academy Awards.

Lockwood-Zimmers wedding takes place in Dallas Saturday

Their wedding vows were exchanged at 8 o'clock in the morning at the Episcopal Church of Good Shepherd, Dallas. The bride, Miss Sherril Dee Zimmers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scott Lockwood II, and the groom, Mr. Donald Ellis Zimmers of Dallas, were officiated by the Rev. Mortimer L. Bowman, pastor.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Childhood memories came rushing back to me last Friday morning as Mr. C and I arrived at the office and I saw the flags flying from Main Street.

"Good heavens," I said to Mr. C. "What are the flags out for?" "It's Flag Day," Mr. C said. Now, some strange reason I remember that this was the birthday of late Aunt Nell. Why I remember that I have no idea because I can't remember the day. I can't remember the date of any of my other relatives or uncles and Aunt Nell certainly wasn't one I would put up as a "favorite" aunt.

To explain Aunt Nell a bit of my history is necessary. All my father's family, save one, settled in Tulsa, Okla., after coming to that part of the country from Pennsylvania. Marrying Kansas girl my father made his home in Kansas so that's the reason (for what it's worth) why I'm a Texan instead of a Sooner.

For several years during my youth the Kansas McKeevers would join the Tulsa McKeevers in celebrating Christmas. This meant that all eight of us (my youngest brother had not been born) and this gave me the distinction of being the "baby of the family" who would join our many uncles, aunts and children at Aunt Nell and Uncle Charlie's house.

Aunt Nell and I didn't do too well together. She was rather a disciplinarian and thought "children should be seen and not heard" did not fit my personality — an or now.

The fascinating thing about my aunt Nell was that she had an artificial leg due to having diabetes which caused amputation long before I was born. An artificial leg was really something in those days but we were not allowed to mention (in her hearing) anything about this tragedy. I'll say this for the old gal I never heard her complain once in all the years I knew her or make any excuses about not getting around well — because none were necessary.

Not being particularly fond of her and being a rather curious child I had this impulse every time we were with her to kick her artificial leg to see how it would feel. I had confided this impulse to my mother and I'm sure she lived in mortal fear that I might do this some day.

If I had every carried out this threat I'm sure my Aunt Nell would have reached down, undone the contraption holding the leg, and hopped me over the head with it. She was not one to put up with any childish foolishness.

In Aunt Nell's favor was the fact that she was a marvelous cook and having all the relatives to feed over the holiday didn't faze her a bit. We sat down to a sumptuous Christmas dinner which was fine but we youngsters "had to eat everything on our plate." If not, no dessert was forthcoming! She also made the most delicious candy I have ever eaten but here again Aunt Nell had definite ideas as to when candy should be eaten. Her idea, which didn't coincide with mine, was one piece immediately following a meal.

Aunt Nell departed from this world many years ago and there is no doubt in my mind but that she went to heaven. No one would have dared turn her away.

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
As of June 14, Time Magazine lists the current best-sellers this way:

1. Couples, Updike
2. Airport, Hailey
3. Myra Breckinridge, Vidal
4. The Tower of Babel, West
5. Topaz, Uris
7. Vanished, Knobel
7. The Triumph, Galbraith
8. Testimony of Two Men, Caldwell
9. The Confessions of Nat Turner, Styron
10. Christy, Marshall

We have a copy of each of these books at the library, but if the one I've just read is representative of the lot, I don't intend to wade through many more.

It's difficult to understand why an author of Gore Vidal's stature would stoop to writing such a piece of near-pornography as "Myra Breckinridge". I suppose if a John Updike can do it, a Gore Vidal can too. That's where the money is these days.

Some of our better writers, tired of being ignored while the best-seller lists are filled with smut year after year, have apparently decided to jump on the bandwagon with a vengeance. One can almost hear them say, "If that's what people want, hell, let's sock it to 'em." And they have.

"Myra Breckinridge" is definitely not the faint-hearted. In comparison, Lady Chatterly comes on like somebody's sweet little of maiden aunt.

Customarily, pre-publication copies of an author's latest work are sent to all of the leading critics in order that the book might be reviewed before it hits the book stores. In the case of "Myra Breckinridge", such advance publicity was shunned, and even the usual summary on the book flap was excluded. The reason given for this unusual secrecy was simply that Vidal didn't want the surprise in the book divulged until the prospective book-buyer could read it for him or herself.

I can see Vidal's point. Once the reader does discover the "surprise", the entire plot can be summarized in approximately two sentences. Get this: "Myra" used to be "Myron", who got changed over because all it liked was boys. Unfortunately, one "Myron" becomes "Myra", it falls in love with a GIRL, for Pete's sake. You know how it is — the grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence.

"Myra Breckinridge" might conceivably be classified as humor if it weren't for the explicit and frankly perverted sexual adventures. As is sick about the only category I can think of for it, Shades of Christine Jorgenson, what's next?

Recent book donors are Boo Olson and Mrs. Frank Runkles.

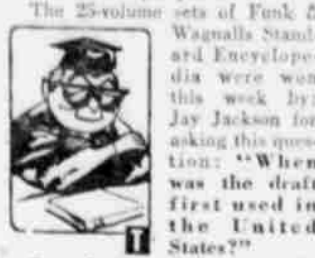

New travelers in our Summer Reading Club are: Allen Blanton, Wesley Cartwright, Russia; Cheryl Cartwright, Sandra Cartwright, Australia; Carol Davis, Norway; Christy Davis, England; Susan Gary, Japan; Cindy Kirkpatrick, Canada; Dick Kirkpatrick, China; Derek Kirkpatrick, China; Mark Kirkpatrick, Greenland; Kim Lutz, England; Nell Mitchell, Brazil; Gary Sturber and John Vancery, England.

We are most pleased with the response to our Summer Reading Program this year. Thus far, 23 youngsters have joined. Needless to say, more are always welcome!

Overseas earnings from fire and accident business of British insurance companies rose to a record $1.9 billion last year.

Ask Dr. QUIZMEE

Dr. Quizmee, our information specialist, is happy to answer his readers' questions in his weekly column. All responses are verified by Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia.

The 25-volume sets of Funk & Wagnalls Standard Encyclopedia were won this week by Jay Jackson for asking this question: "When was the draft first used in the United States?"

Compulsory conscription, or the draft, was first used in 1777 in Virginia and Massachusetts, George Washington commended the plan to the Continental Congress, which one year later urged the other colonies to use the draft.

Deo Waters, who wants to know: "What is the derivation of the word 'boss'?"

The word comes from the Dutch word baas, meaning master or head of a household. Originally, the word was used in the United States to describe a political leader or a financial magnate.

Eleanor Frazier whose question is: "I've heard that the smallest church in the world is in Iowa — could you please tell me where it is?"

Actually, the world's smallest church is the Union Church in Wiscasset, Maine. Its floor area measures 31½ square feet and its dimensions are seven feet by 4½ feet, hardly enough room for one clergyman, one worshipper and one churchmouse!

If you are the first to submit a question which appears in this column, you will receive, free, the full 25-volume set of Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia. The writer of this column is the sole judge as to who is first. Mail your question to Dr. Quizmee in care of this newspaper.

EVERY JOURNEY...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The caravan has travelled through the desert for many days... and the men are glad to see the tall date palms of the oasis in the distance. Here they will rest and refresh themselves beside the cool spring before continuing on their way.

Every journey is made easier if it is broken by intervals of restoration and renewal. Even life itself can be a weary road if it does not contain times and places where we can pause to gather new strength. Where can modern men and women regain the equilibrium and peace of mind that they need so badly?

Fortunately, we too have an oasis... the Christian Church. The teachings of Jesus offer deep wells of comfort for the spirit, and springs of joy to revitalize any life that lacks goal or purpose.

Vietnam View

as reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by GySgt. Bob Montgomery

When legend was old in our ear-liery, the name of Kit Carson, scoutman and guide, stood out among the others. Renowned for superior scouting ability, he was used for scouting by the U. S.
Army during the early Indian war.

The Marine Corps, borrowing his name, has instituted a program and upon his qualities as a scout and guide. It is called the Kit Carson Scout Program and is in use in Vietnam. In the summer of 1966 the need for local Vietnamese to accompany Marine units into the field to act as interpreters was felt. More often than the Marine wanted was a "scout," to lead the Viet Cong and distinguish his position, sort of a Marine scout.

On November 1966 the first Kit
Carson school was opened in I Chieu Hoi by the Marines. The program itself had its beginnings from the VC and North Vietnamese scouts who turn themselves in and are retrained and instructed towards their new life. Once the scout finishes Chieu Hoi school, he is given an opportunity to enter the Kit Carson Program, which is strictly voluntary.

ONCE HE volunteers, the Individual is screened and checked-out for possible subversion, which is a constant threat. Once accepted, the individual is put through two weeks of vigorous "boot camp" training.

Along with other future Kit Carson scouts, the individual is issued the equipment and gear he will use while in the service of the Marine Corps as a scout. One of the main points that is emphasized is to make him feel a part of the Marine Corps and it instills confidence in him and what he is doing.

To achieve this, a complete record book is made up with pay record, health and dental records and other information on his background. He is made to feel that he is doing an active service for his country while helping the Marines.

The school itself is organized and operated by the 1st Marine Division and is located near the 7th Marine Regiment area in Da Nang.
The school is operated by Staff Sergeant John P. Johnson, Clearwater Beach, Fla., chief instructor and Sergeant Steven Allbee, Marble Lake, Minn., assistant instructor, plus a Vietnamese interpreter.

WHILE GOING to school, the future scouts are taught demolitions, mines, booby-traps, small arms fire, Marine tactics and hand-to-hand combat. One of the most important courses offered is English.
He is taught some basic English so he can communicate while in the field with Marine units.

As in boot camp, the scouts have regular rifle inspections, drills and conditioning exercises. Once the scouts finish the two - week course, they are ready for graduation. Finally, when they are full - fledged Kit Carson scouts, they are sent to Marine units in teams of two.

Usually, they work on the battalion level with the S-2 intelligence scout section. Some scouts who show the ability are sent to sniper teams.

Their object always remains to seek out and disclose the VC or NVA, to search for possible ambush sites and booby - traps and to act as interpreters when the need arises.

Unlike the Marine, the scout has

An anonymous finger recently reached out from a crowd as a gesture of approval to assist a medical officer performing minor surgery on a small Vietnamese boy.

The act took place during a medical civic action program (Medcap) visit to a small resettlement island in the Qua Viet river in eastern Quang Tri province.

Navy Lt. Paul Grotenhuis, Sheboygan Falls, Wis., medical officer with the 1st Amphibian Tractor Battalion, tells about the helpful finger.

"The Medcap had concluded, and most of the men were back aboard ship, when a small child was brought to me with a gash on his foot," recalls Dr. Grotenhuis.
"The youngster had cut his foot on a tin can while Marines were visiting during the Medcap."

Examining the boy's foot, D. T.
Grotenhuis saw it would require minor surgery and began to work treating the laceration.

"I had just made the last suture when one of the villagers stuck his hand out towards the boy's foot.
I looked up and realized that he wanted to offer the use of his finger for me to fix the surgical knot," Dr. Grotenhuis said.

Seeing the doctor thanked the man with the helpful finger and all of the villagers smiled with him.

Members of the 1st Amphibian Tractor Battalion's weekly Medcap in the island which serves as home for some 2,000 refugees.

The village's name is related with the sign from the same village by Mr. Lee, the North Vietnamese, and has been named in the Kit Carson program.

Mrs. Foster—

"So Mr. Foster looked up the principal," she recalled, "and explained to him why our children more than likely would be behind the others of their age in their school work."

"Well, about two weeks later, that principal stopped Mr. Foster one day and told him he just wished all his students were as far along in their studies as ours were."

"Our children had learned a lot from a teacher we boarded in New Mexico, and Mr. Foster had also taught them at home."

Mrs. Foster has two living children—Jay D., who makes his home with her, and Mrs. Raymond Redman of Petersburg. Two daughters are deceased.

Jay, proudly displaying a painting on which his mother won a ribbon at a local art show, explained that he makes the frames for the pictures she paints.

SPEAKER

The Rev. W. Robert (Bob) Harris, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Kilgore, will be the inspirational speaker for the Baptist Men's Annual Rally of the Lubbock Baptist area and the Cozack Plains Baptist area Monday, June 24, at Plains Baptist Assembly, near Floydada. The theme of the program will be "Baptist Men and the Word."

Farmers—

Herron said there have been a lot of cases in which farmers have planted three times this year and the most, as far as he has heard, had been five.

The bank official confirmed that thousands of dollars of soil damage had been caused by "washing" from the June 8 "cloudburst" across the northern part of Garza County measuring six to 12 inches of moisture.

Herron termed it "the worst washing damage" in the county's history — heavier even than that caused by the downpours of May, 1941, on the plains.

The bank official said some of the early feed in the county is "looking pretty good despite the rough treatment from hail", but that the smaller feed was badly burned by the sand Sunday.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

MODERN FARMING WITH BIG EQUIPMENT

A laborer, 40 acres, and a mule composed a farming unit a half-century ago. A generation ago the farmer got a small tractor and farmed two or three times as much land. Now he has a mammoth tractor, precision equipment, and can till hundreds of acres.

That is, if he can run the large farming equipment on large fields that are relatively free of obstructions.

A farmer can't make a living today with 40 acres and a mule. He has been forced to mechanize because of labor shortages, high wages, and the narrowing gap between the cost of production and the price he gets for his product.

AND THEREBY hangs a tale about the revolution in conservation farming in America. Practices installed through local soil and water conservation districts have revolutionized farming but now the requirements for large scale farming with big machinery are revolutionizing conservation planning and farm layout.

"Terraces snaking across the hillside could be farmed well enough with small equipment," H. N. Smith, State Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service points out. The crooked, irregular rows were worrisome but posed no serious problem. But times have changed.

"TODAY THE farmer still wants to farm in a conservation pattern, but he wants that pattern to be as modern as his equipment. This calls for a high degree of perception and skill on the part of conservationists and other technicians who help the farmer," he added.

"The conservationist must be able to see — with the help of soil and engineering surveys — an entirely new layout for plains, cotton-land, or sloping plains farms," Smith explained. He must visualize the land with the old ditches filled, old farm roads gone, and even some buildings removed. In its place he must plan fields of even width, as long as they can possibly be made.

"In Texas, parallel terraces are replacing old terraces. In the interval between the ridges, in most cases, there is a pre-determined number of rows with no land left over for point rows. The irregular areas that formerly existed between every pair of terraces are now found in just a few terrace intervals. There they may be farmed in point rows or planted to a sown crop. This innovation has reduced the temptation to plant or plow over the terraces, and destroy them," Smith said.

THE DESIGN for other farms is undergoing a transition, too. Open irrigation ditches may give way to underground pipelines to save space and remove obstructions. Even the surface of the land may be given a major treatment of leveling.

"Field arrangement is just as important to the modern farmer on sloping uplands as it is to flatland farmers," Smith added. "Good, deep soil is just as important, too. All of this adds up to a better conservation program. The farmer plants thin soil and odd areas to grass or trees, benefiting wildlife. And the beauty of the countryside is enhanced by this new aspect of conservation farming — brought on largely by big machinery."

Mark Twain's Story OF THE READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

Yankees stretch lead near end of Little League play

Getting only one hit off Wildcat pitcher John Redman, the Post Junior Chamber Cardinals capitulated on heads-up base running and Kevin Duren and Mark Terry and Kevin Duren speared out a 3-2 win Monday night and virtually ruin the Wildcat's chances of overtaking the Yankees in the Little League race.

CA bull riding

Freckles Brown, 47, is climbing in standings

Denver, Colo. — Forty-seven-year-old Freckles Brown has won the national bull riding event at the Elks Rodeo, which ended recently at Las Vegas.

Mr. Brown, from the unshakable Mr. Brown, from Okla., won $835 and moved into sixth place nationally in bull riding, the Rodeo Cowboy Association said today.

There were 375 professional cowboys entered at Las Vegas, competing for stakes of $23,735 in prize money. The big winners were Larry Mahan, 24, Brooks, Ore., the 1967 and '68 All Around Cowboy, and the most in two or more years who won $899 in bareback riding and bull riding, and Barry H. Duncan, Okla., who garnered $1,000 in calf and team roping.

Mr. Brown, often called the Grand Man of Rodeo, is one of the most likable men in the sport and a dedicated sportsman once called a "muffin faced shred and humor."

At the age of 42, Brown is the national bull riding title holder and suffered a broken neck on his way to the championship. Duren, the rodeo career, which began in 1950 at Wilcox, Ariz., he has a broken leg at least four times.

Injuries haven't slowed his desire in an event he is supposedly reserved for veterans. Oklahoma's great Jim Dillards, who has a record 16 national titles, once watched as he rode a bareback bronc at Rock Springs, Colo.

Look at that crazy old man as his legs around up there in the air. "Shoulders said, 'Doesn't know that's dangerous.'"

As a youngster, the cowboy once rode horses for a living. At the start of World War II he enlisted in the cavalry, then transferred to the rough-and-ready Strategic Services (OSS) as a paratrooper.

While stationed at Kunming, China, Brown won what he laughs at as his first rodeo.

Prather of Post won third place Sunday in the 15th annual Johnson Memorial Steer Roping at Pawhuska, Okla.

The name of the roping was the All-American Steer Roping, with the Oklahoma riper, second and Terry Furr of Lovington, Okla., fourth.

Prather of Post and Walter H. Prather of Post were the winners of the 15th annual Johnson Memorial Steer Roping at Pawhuska, Okla.

Monday and Monday nights to stretch their lead over the Wildcats, with the regular season scheduled to end Monday, June 24.

Terry's lead-off single was the only hit the Cards got off Redman Monday night, but Terry stole second and third while Redman was issuing a base on balls to Duren. The latter stole second, third and home behind Terry to give the Wildcats two first-inning runs. THEY ADDED another in the top of the third when Terry walked, stole second and third and came home on a passed ball.

The Wildcats tallied in the bottom of the fourth when Redman singled and later scored on a steal of home. They picked up their second run in the fifth when Rodney Barney doubled, then stole third and home.

They Conner was the winning pitcher, giving up four hits, striking out eight and walking four. Redman chalked up 15 strikeouts and issued six bases on balls.

In Monday night's first game, the Yankees slammed the Tigers, 21 to 4, with Rinnie Ammons going three innings for the win before being relieved by Ray Martin. Steve Hays was the starter and later left for the Tigers, with Grayling Johnson coming on in relief.

First baseman Richard Studley bled a three-run homer for the Yankees in the third inning and singled in the sixth. Shortstop Jackie Blacklock got three of the winners' nine hits and catcher J. A. Pollard, two.

ORLAN CRISWELL, Tiger centerfielder, ripped four singles in four times at bat for four of the seven hits off the Yankee hurler. Donnie Hale hit two singles in three trips, and Ricky McDougall got the other Tiger safety.

Saturday night, the Wildcats came from behind with three runs in the fourth inning to edge the Red Sox, 7 to 6.

The Wildcats scored one run in the seventh and five in the third to take a 6-3 edge over the Sox, who had scored three in the second. The winners pulled up to 6-4 in the bottom of the third, then won the game in the fourth on John Redman's three-run circuit smash.

Rodney Basser, who relieved starter Andy Williams, pitched one inning to receive credit for the victory, with Redman finishing up on the mound. Rodney King, who went the distance for the Sox, was the loser.

THE RED SOX ouit the Wildcats, 8 to 7, with King getting three singles in four at-bats. First baseman Bob Craig rapped two one-baggers in three trips to the plate. Barner, with three singles in three at-bats, led the Wildcat hitters. Redman's homer came in his only official time at the plate. He was intentionally walked in the first, second and sixth innings.

Third baseman Kevin Adkinson got two of the winners' hits. The Yankees blanked the Dodgers, 18 to 0, Saturday night behind the two-hit pitching of Steve Sawyers. Jackie Jennings, the Dodger starter, was the losing pitcher, with Mackey Sappington and David Comely also taking turns on the mound.

The Yankee Jay Pollard got four hits in five times at bat, including a home run. He drove in five of his team's 18 runs. THE TIGERS outlasted the Red Sox, 14 to 9, last Thursday night, with Donnie Hale the winning pitcher and Demassey Zerkow, 1-0-0-1. The Tigers outlasted 10th-year Hays and Grayling Johnson, who went the distance for the Sox, 11 to 0, Saturday night.

Manager Amosmough led the Yankees to a 5-4 win over the Cardinals in their last game, 1-1-1-1. The Cardinals won 4 to 2 over the Wildcats in the finale.

Jackie Hays' walk and three of the six runs in his game, 1-0-0-1, Saturday and Sunday night, were the Yankees' only runs against the Cardinals. Hays' walk and three of the six runs in his game, 1-0-0-1, Saturday and Sunday night, were the Yankees' only runs against the Cardinals.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCones were overnight guests last Thursday of his brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Conroy, on their way home from HemiFair in Wichita, Kans.

Brown appears to have found a Fountain of Youth in bull riding. He placed fifth nationally last year in what is perhaps the most dangerous of all rodeo events, and he proved his ability at the 1967 National Finals Rodeo by becoming the first man to ride the monster, Tornado, in some 250 attempts.

Being able to keep a clear mind during a churning eight-second bull ride comes only from experience, the RCA said. When the chute opens, most cowboys have to fight a blur, for not only is the excitement and pressure confusing, but the pounding interferes with blood circulation to the brain.

Only experience overcomes this, and Brown, with more than 30 years in the arena, is today professional rodeo's oldest riding contestant — and is pushing hard for another world's championship.

TEXAS INDEPENDENCE TRAIL

Independence Trail is 585 miles long

AUSTIN — A 585-mile Travel Trail, tracing Texas' fight for independence from the first battle at Gonzales to the final victory at San Jacinto, has been mapped as part of the Texas Travel Trails system.

The Independence Trail route was announced here by Gov. John Connally Jan. 17 at the third annual Governor's Tourist Development Conference.

With the exception of the Alamo and Refugio (Battle of Refugio) all other historic sites and battle grounds that played roles in Texas' march for independence are on the trail. Eighteen counties are covered including Austin, Bastrop, Brazoria, Caldwell, Calhoun, Fayette, Fort Bend, Galveston, Goliad, Gonzales, Guadalupe, Harris, Jackson, Karnes, Matagorda, Washington, Wilson and Victoria.

At Gonzales the first shot was fired. And only Gonzales answered the call from the besieged Alamo, sending 22 men to die within its walls. Historical markers and monuments are numerous throughout the town. The revolution began here when a Mexican force attempted to seize a cannon from Texas forces. Flying a flag that boasted, "Come And Take It," the Texans repelled the effort.

FROM GONZALES, the trail winds through Luling, Fentress and into Bastrop, first settled by Stephen F. Austin's colonists. Bastrop State Park is situated among tall pines, often referred to as "Lost Pines" because of their distance from the East Texas Forest Country.

State Highway 71 through Smithville and La Grange brings the trail rider to another hallowed state park — Monument Hill. High on a bluff overlooking the Colorado River Valley is the final resting place of the men who drew the ill-fated black beans after the Mier Expedition against Mexico. Also buried there are 41 of Captain Nicholas Dawson's troops who were killed in the battle of Salado Creek in 1842. From La Grange the trail travels northward again through Round Top, past restored Winedale Inn and onward to Navasota and Washington-on-the-Brazos State Park. This 71-acre park contains a replica of the building where the Texas Declaration of Independence was signed in 1836. The first capital of the Republic of Texas was located here.

Angling southward the trail follows State Highway 36 through Bellville and Sealy, then turns on Farm Road 1093 into Houston. No attempt will be made to list all attractions in the South's largest city, as all Travel Trails, the Independence Trail guides the traveler to the outskirts of major cities but does not attempt to designate routes within the city limits. Visitors should contact local chambers of commerce for city information.

The trail emerges on the eastern edge of Houston and leads 22 miles to the San Jacinto Battleground on State Highway 134. It was here on that April day in 1836 that Sam Houston's army needed only 18 minutes to defeat Santa Anna and win independence for Texas. Take State Highway 146 from the battleground to Galveston, once pirate's cove but now a sunny vacationland featuring modern hotels and 22 miles of beaches.

THE TRAIL moves down the coastline by causeway to Freeport and north again on State Highway 36 to West Columbia and site of the spacious Varner-Hogg Plantation. It is now a state park where colonial life is preserved in an 1836 landmark. From West Columbia the trail hugs the coastline moving through Bay City, Wadsworth, Palacios, Port Lavaca and Victoria, another of Texas' earliest settlements. Victoria was one of the first three towns incorporated by the Republic of Texas and remains today a leading center of surrounding cattle ranches and modern industrial plants.

Next stop is Goliad and restored Presidio La Bahia where Col. James Fannin and his men were massacred by Santa Anna on Palm Sunday in March of 1836. The graves of Fannin and his men are marked by a monument two miles south of Goliad off State Highway 183. Goliad State Park, the birthplace site of Mexican military hero General Ignacio Zaragoza and the Mission Espiritu Santo are three additional attractions.

Moving northward again, the Independence Trail visits Panna Maria. Thought to be the oldest Polish settlement in America, Panna Maria (meaning Virgin Mary) is located on State Highway 123 north of Karnes City. It is also said to have been site of the first Polish school in America. Continuing north, the trail leads to Floresville, passing Gov. John Connally's ranch, and into Seguin, home of Texas Lutheran College. Lake MeQueney, four miles northwest of Seguin, has become a popular boating, swimming and lakeside resort.

Returning to Gonzales via Farm Road 486 completes a hurried trip through Texas history along the Independence Trail.

Dancing Waters booked for Fair

FORT WORTH — Dancing Waters, the world's most famous fountain display, has been booked for Texas Western Fair, Sept. 20-29, and will be one of the free attractions planned for the 10-day Fair.

The water display, which combines the beauty of gracefully falling waters with colorful lights, playing in rhythm and timed to music, will serve as a backdrop in the huge Will Rogers Coliseum, which will also house various commercial exhibits.

Dancing Waters is just one of the many special attractions arranged for the first annual fair. The show will also include a 14-performance country and western music spectacular featuring such artists as Loretta Lynn, Kitty Wells, Porter Wagoner, Bill Anderson and 12 other headliners; a multi-million dollar midway; free entertainment on the grounds and hundreds of exhibits.

Karen's Korner

By Karen Hundley

School has been out for almost a month, the water crisis has been solved, and things are beginning to become boring. Of course, I enjoy being able to sleep late every morning and to go swimming. However, I didn't appreciate the lack of water last week. I envied the people who had colds during those pungent, waterless days.

Wearing out the water at the public swimming pool has become a popular pastime for teenagers this summer. Among the biggest splashers are Duke Altman, Jackie Huff, Joe Hudman, Donnie Windham, and Jimmy Bartlett.

A dance was held at Teen Town last Saturday night with "The Shyles" playing. Couples attending the dance were Debbie Tucker and Duke Altman, Donna Stewart and Dennis Altman, Linda Altman and Billy Max Gordon, Jan Adams and Danny Cooper, Debbie Young and Homer Stillwell, Kippy Payne and Jay Bird, Karen Hundley and Jimmie Johnston, Barbe Gilmore and Bill Bevers, Beverly Allen and Curtis Abshire, Sue Eubank and Ray Altman, Joanne Yandell and Ronnie Petty, Kathy Jones and Joey Lee, Kay Altman and Jerry Crenshaw and Ruth Ann Byrd and Bobo McWhirt.

I gratefully thank Mrs. Maxine Cummings for arranging and sponsoring the dance, and this Saturday night "The Spectrums" are playing from 9 to 12. And I want to see everybody there because if more people don't start coming, there may not be any dances in the not too distant future!

Out-of-town visitors to Post include Joanne Yandell from Odessa, who is Mrs. Fleming's granddaughter; Debbie Young from Del Rio, and Carol and Karen Wilson.

There isn't much more exciting news to relate except that I watched Debbie Tucker's miniature poodle consume a big black bug the other day. Since the thought of it makes my stomach contort, I will leave. But, I'm not a tree!

It's the Law...

IMPRACTICAL JOKES
Good-natured John, proprietor of a grocery store, kept a can of free tobacco on the counter. One day, just for kicks, he sprinkled a little gunpowder into the tobacco.

Sure enough, the first customer to use the mixture set off an explosion in his pipe. Result: injury to the customer's eyes, and a successful damage suit against John.

It is well worth remembering, when you feel playful, that "I was only joking" is seldom a good defense in a court of law.

"One who plays dangerous practical jokes on others," observed one court, "takes the risk that his victims may not appreciate the humor."

Of course, if there is no reason to foresee harm, you are on safer grounds. Thus, a prankster who wore an outlandish costume was held not responsible for the fright which his appearance caused in the woman next door.

But add enough cruelty or recklessness to your sense of humor and you may have to pay for costly consequences. For example, courts have imposed liability on:

- 1) a joker who gave a hot foot to a man too drunk to realize that he was suffering a third degree burn.
- 2) a grocer who packed a dead rat into a bundle of groceries.
- 3) a wag who informed a woman, falsely but convincingly, that her husband had had both legs broken in a smashup.
- 4) a card player who, while bending down for some money, tipped a fellow player backwards out of his chair.

In fact, in addition to liability for damages, you might even face criminal charges.

A man had an old revolver containing a jammed cartridge. Confident that the gun wouldn't shoot, he playfully brandished it at a visitor and pulled the trigger. To his horror, the gun fired a shot that killed the visitor.

Booked on a manslaughter charge, he pleaded that it was a pure accident — "all in fun." But the court found him guilty.

"Human life," said the court grimly, "is not to be sported with."

Southland news

Eagle cheerleaders busy with workouts

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Greetings from a hailed out, sand blown, rained out, weather-weary Southland. We have had about every kind of weather in the books and looks like there is no end to it! No matter how bad something is, it could be worse. But some of our farmers are beginning to put a question mark after that statement!

J. H. Poindexter, father of Mrs. Robert Long, is recuperating from a heart attack after being a patient at Mercy Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlex Wilke and daughter of Lubbock visited the Delmar Wilkes recently.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Sales who have been blessed with a baby girl. They have two boys also. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Sales and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McGhee.

Mrs. Barbara Mock Townsend was honored with a layette shower recently in the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church Fellowship Hall.

Louise Stabeno underwent eye surgery again at Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas June 7. He is doing real well and came home Sunday night. His mother was with him in Dallas, and his sister, Lynn, stayed with us for two weeks and attended Bible School in Slaton.

Edmund and Yours Truly visited Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang recently and helped them celebrate their 22nd wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell are home following a week's trip to North Carolina where they attended a family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ellis of Amarillo visited recently with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Callaway attended a wedding and a family reunion in Walnut Springs recently.

Mrs. Ruby Pritchard has been visiting friends in Southland and Slaton this past week. The late Mr. Pritchard was the gin manager at Hackberry for several years before they moved from the area. It sure was good to see Ruby.

Bilane and Monica Dyess are taking swimming lessons in Lubbock. I think all children, if at all possible, should take swimming lessons because it is very necessary today to know how to swim.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Haire who are the proud parents of a baby daughter, Kristy Ann, who was born June 8 and weighed 6 lbs., 9 1/2 ozs. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Haire and Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Bevers.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Callaway and Church and Mrs. Bob Dyess and children spent several days at Oak Creek Lake last week.

MRS. ALICE MARTIN has returned from a trip to California where she visited friends and relatives in Richmond, Oakley, Pittsburg and Pleasant Hill. She flew out with Mrs. Swer Moore and her grandson, Capt. Travis Dabbs. This was her first plane trip and she enjoyed it very much. Mrs. Moore is still visiting relatives in California and Capt. Dabbs has left for Thailand. Mrs. Martin said she felt like a "celebrity" when she walked off the plane after arriving back in Lubbock because the following members of her family were there to welcome her: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dabbs and David, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Martin and children, Mrs. Travis Dabbs and children. To top that off they were carrying a big banner that read, "Welcome Home, Mother!"

How nice! Mrs. Martin says that she had a nice time but it sure is good to be home.

B. N. Billingsly, brother-in-law of Mrs. Martin, is very sick at Methodist Hospital.

Mrs. Aubrey McNeely, Mrs. Alpha Taylor and Mrs. Clara Eubanks visited Mrs. Alice Martin on Saturday.

The Herman Dabbs family were Father's Day dinner guests of Mrs. Travis Dabbs.

Chris Gindorf was a patient at Mercy Hospital for several days. Wallace Saage of Slaton visited in our home Saturday night.

Sherri and Yours Truly both drive tractors Saturday trying to stop that awful sand but I don't think we accomplished much. It was quite an experience for both of us but don't think Edmund will hire us permanently! Ha! I didn't hold the tractor on the row very well.

Mrs. Nellie Mathis and Mr. and Mrs. Des Hodge left Sunday on a trip to Missouri where Mrs. Hodge won a trip to a resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kellus of Slaton visited Mrs. Nellie Mathis one day last week.

WE ARE SO glad to hear that Troy Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis, is home on leave after spending over a year in Vietnam. He still has several months in the service before his discharge. Welcome home, Troy.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang of Slaton and their niece, Sandra Marburger of Houston, visited us one night last week.

Sherri, Edmund and Yours Truly visited Grandma Wilke a week ago Wednesday and helped her celebrate her 84th birthday. Other presents were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gindorf, Mr. and Mrs. James Maunche and children, r. and Mrs. Delmar Wilke and children, Mrs. Selma Kiesel, Mrs. Marie Kiesel, Joan and Patsy Gindorf, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voight, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kahlich, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meisen and Mrs. Jerry Harlan and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Mueller of Artesia, N. M., visited Mrs. Wilke Sunday.

Dayneen Dunn and Laura and Joe Bevers are attending 4-H camp at Levelland several days this week. Good luck on all your projects!

The Southland cheerleaders are busy working out several days a week, getting ready to go to Texas Tech the first part of July. Dayneen Dunn is head cheerleader; Sherri is second year, and Laura Bevers is first year.

Mrs. Herbert Dunn's mother, Mrs. J. E. Day of Muleshoe, arrived in Lubbock by plane Sunday from Boston, Mass., where she had been visiting her son and family. She also visited E. L. Dunn in Blytheville, Ark., while she was gone. She left on Mother's Day and returned on Father's Day.

Darrell Wilke returned home on Saturday night from the American Legion Boy's State Convention in Austin last week. He says that it was all a wonderful experience.

Larry and Martha spent Father's Day with us and Martha also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Blodgett.

My and Mrs. Willie Becker attended the Beebe reunion recently in Brownwood.

See you next week! Hope you had a good one!
