

Year's hottest bargains set for Sidewalk Sale

ON SCHOOL DEDICATION PROGRAM

Mrs. Marie Belle Fluit (third from left) dedicated the historical marker at the old Close City school building at a ceremony Saturday evening. Also shown are officers of the Close City Community Center: Mrs. Thelma Thomas, V. D. White, president, Mrs. Cleo Sappington and Mrs. Lola Peel.

Dedication held for Close City school marker

One hundred and thirteen persons, including eight former teachers and 24 former students, attended the dedication of the Texas Historical Marker and Medallion at the old Close City school building Saturday evening.

Guests attended from Lubbock, Wilson, Justinburg, Post, Abilene, Brownfield, Tahoka and Dallas. The former teachers and students of the school attended as honor guests.

The marker was dedicated by Mrs. Marie Belle Fluit of Post, a former resident of the community. She explained the RAMPS program of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee and said the Garza County Historical Survey Committee has up to now placed 26 historical markers in the county "as a full and active partner in this work."

Mrs. Fluit, who is the GCHS committee preservation chairman, commended the Close City Community Center for the addition of "this marker to those over Texas that are preserving and recording our priceless heritage."

The marker dedication followed the invocation by the Rev. A. T. Nixon, a former teacher at the school.

County Judge J. E. Parker, speaking as a representative of the county commissioners' court and as a member of the historical survey committee, congratulated the community on its program and progress in the preservation of the school building and on having won first prize in the district four consecutive years in the Texas Community Improvement Program.

Judge Parker presented the community center president with a framed historical marker certificate.

3 GENERATIONS FORMER STUDENTS

Three generations of the Tipton family were represented Saturday night among the former Close City school students attending the historical marker dedication at the school building.

T. H. Tipton, who is Garza County tax assessor-collector, attended the Close City school in 1915-16 and his wife, Letta, was a student there in 1916-17.

Their son, Marshall Tipton, was a student at the school from 1929 through 1938, and his daughter, Marsha, attended 1937-43. Marsha is now a senior in Post High School.

Mrs. Putman is also survived by two daughters, a sister, four other brothers and three grandchildren.

Annual event is to be Saturday

The hottest bargains of the year will be out on the sidewalks in downtown Post Saturday as merchants move their merchandise out to meet their customers for the sixth annual Sidewalk Sale.

Participating merchants are advertising their Sidewalk Sale bargains in this issue of The Dispatch and readers are urged to shop them carefully.

A half block of South Avenue I, just south of Main street, will be roped off from traffic for sale day to give local organizations a chance to set up their own carnival style booths for the occasion.

Post Jaycees also are planning to have their "dunking machine" back in business to lend some fun to the festivities.

Main street itself will remain open to traffic for the event this year.

Most unusual feature of Sidewalk Sale day will be the 6 p. m. drawing for a 1958 four-door Chevrolet with its back seat loaded with groceries.

Those interested in winning the car and the food can sign up any time from now until drawing time at Parrish Grocery & Market. There is no obligation and you do not have to be present to win. The drawing will be held in the roped off area on South Avenue I.

Harold Lucas of the Harold Lucas Chevrolet - Olds firm has given the car for the drawing and Arnold Parrish is providing all the groceries.

Lucas says the car is worth at least $100 and is in operating condition and good for a "second car" or "fishing car" from some area family.

The Sidewalk Sale is jointly sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce and participating merchants. The Chamber in a page ad on page 3 invites everyone in the area to attend the Sidewalk Sale.

Another feature Saturday will be the Sidewalk Sale movie at the Tower Theatre.

The Saturday movie feature will be "The Devil's Brigade."

Adults and students can obtain Sidewalk Sale tickets at any local store participating in the big Saturday event which with 25 cents will admit student or adult to the Tower either Saturday afternoon or night.

The movie will operate continuously, beginning at 1 p. m.

Stores who already have announced participation in this week's Sidewalk Sale include Martin's, Maxine's, Post Pharmacy, Parrish Grocery & Market, Harold Lucas Chevrolet - Olds, Hundley's, Bob Collier, Druggist, Piggly Wiggly, Wacker's, Western Auto, Jackson Brothers, The Weather Doctors, and Hudman Furniture Co.

Play Day events are scheduled for Sunday

A Post Junior Rodeo - sponsored play day will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday, July 28, at the rodeo arena, Howard Hopkins has announced.

This will be the group's regular fourth Sunday play day, Hopkins said. There will be roping, riding and racing events for the youngsters in the various age divisions.

Invitations go out for rodeo parade

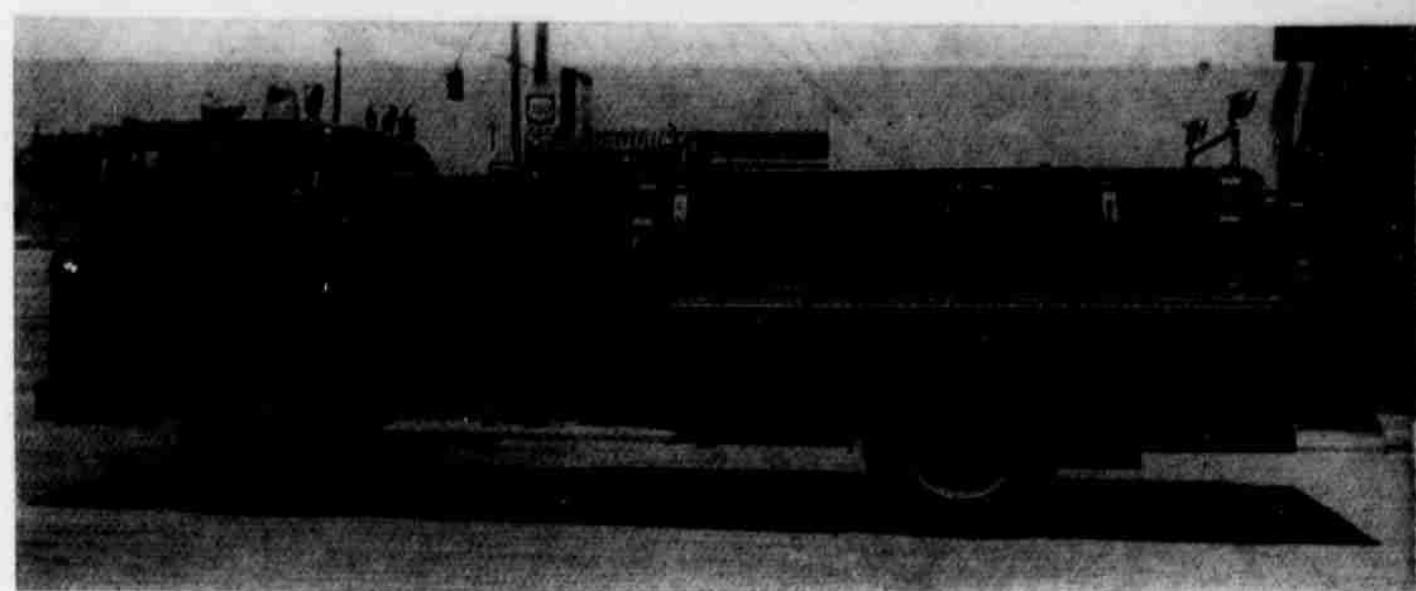

Invitations to ride in the Post Stampede Rodeo parade here at 5 p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 7, have been mailed a large number of area sheriff's posses and other riding groups, according to parade chairman Floy Richardson.

Efforts also are being made to bring a display of antique automobiles here for the parade, as well as the Khiva Temple motorcade from Lubbock.

The rodeo association's goal of a "bigger and better" parade this year is in keeping with its objective of making this year's four-night rodeo "what it used to be," officers said.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded the parade's top three riding groups, and cash prizes will go to winners in the float division.

Among the added attractions during this year's rodeo will be a West

Forty-Second Year

Post, Garza County, Texas

Number 8

Things are going to be far from dull around here for the next three weeks — thanks to a trio of special events, which opens here Saturday with the 6th annual Post Sidewalk Sale.

The sidewalk sale always draws a good crowd for virtually the entire day to the business district. It's fun to do things different once in a while and sidewalk shopping is different.

Organizations are planning special booths, including one to sell memberships to the Friends of a Public Library, and the Jaycees will be offering some choice targets on their dunking machine.

Then the following Saturday, Aug. 3, it will be White River Lake Day at our beautifully blue White River Lake — and a real opportunity for everybody to enjoy an old-fashioned outing with a lot of interesting things to watch. This is a big free show staged by the four Chambers of Commerce of the member towns. It is shaping up as something well worth attending (See Postings, page 8)

Check presented at Close City

The $100 first prize check won by the Close City community in the 1967-68 Texas Community Improvement Program was presented Saturday night at the community center following dedication of the historical marker at the school building.

The check was presented by County Agent Syd Conner and accepted on behalf of the community by W. D. White, president of the Close City Community Center.

This was the fourth year for the Close City community to win first place in the contest. The first year, they were first in District I and during the last three years have won first place in District II.

White River Day Saturday, Aug. 3

9-hour program set for big day at lake

A free 9 1/2 hour program for White River Lake Day on Saturday, Aug. 3, was announced this week by the sponsoring Chambers of Commerce of Post, Spur, Ralls and Crosbyton.

The "fun - filled day" will open at 10 a. m. by a sky diving exhibition and close with sky divers jumping into the White River Lake itself at 7:30 p. m.

In between, just about every event imaginable — including a beauty contest, scuba diving, jet flyovers, canoe, sailboat and speedboat races, a slalom ski contest, a skiing exhibition and a contest for radio controlled model airplanes — are planned.

The beauty contest to crown Miss White River Lake will get under way at 10:30 a. m. with two representatives from each of the four member cities of the district participating.

The winner will be crowned at 11:29 a. m. and a minute later jets from Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock will swoop low over the lake in a salute to her.

There also will be another jet flyover at 3:30 p. m.

A full schedule for the day, listing 19 separate events, is published in a quarter page Chamber ad on page 18 of today's Dispatch and also will appear in next week's issue.

There will be free boat rides all day, planners report, by boat firms demonstrating their boats.

Jackson's Cafeteria & Cafe of Post will cater a luncheon Saturday noon. Post Jaycees also will Still working on pipeline repair

The water district now has a smaller six-inch pipe across the riverbed where the pipeline was washed out by a June flood causing a water crisis here.

Work originally got under way last Thursday, but rains kept workmen from getting much accomplished until Monday, O'Brien said.

The water district now has a smaller six-inch pipe across the riverbed where the pipeline was washed out by a June flood causing a water crisis here.

Lake level is only 3 1/2 feet from full

A four - inch downpour last Friday and Friday night in the White River Lake area brought a foot and one-half rise in the lake level.

At O'Brien, water district manager, told The Dispatch yesterday the level of the lake is only three and one-half feet below the lake's planned normal level.

When the lake rises the final three and one-half feet water will begin to pour through the concrete spillway opening in the dam. The spillway opening is the "morning glory" concrete opening in front of the dam.

have their refreshment trailer on hand.

Ralls radio station KCLR will broadcast the entire day's events and those attending White River Lake Day are advised to bring radios so they will know what is coming up next, where, and by whom.

Of course there will be a fishing contest with a prize going to the fisherman catching the largest bass on a hand line during the day.

This is the first such "lake day" jointly sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce of the four member towns. Crosbyton sponsored the first on its own last year.

The 1968 promotion is expected to attract thousands to the beautiful White River Lake on Aug. 3 and firmly establish the event as an annual undertaking.

No gate admission will be charged.

County Judge J. E. Parker, who also serves as juvenile court judge for the county, called today for everyone's cooperation to establish "a more law - abiding community."

"The citizens of Post are becoming alarmed over the recent juvenile outbreaks of lawlessness," Judge Parker told The Dispatch in a statement yesterday.

"Besides the burglaries committed we have had many acts of vandalism. Also we have had open disregard for the speed and muffler laws.

"The taxpayers of Post and Garza County are out more than $60,000 annually for the enforcement of these laws. By enforcing these laws it may mean the saving of lives not to mention what it would mean to those youngsters to be taught to obey them.

"It could mean a great influence on their future. Parents should be aware of what is happening by checking on their children, especially after 10 o'clock at night.

Post Rotarians were shown a 25-minute color film of the highlights of Texas Tech's 1967 football season at their Tuesday luncheon by a group of Tech coaches and Red Raider Club officials.

Leete Jackson, executive vice president of the Red Raider club, told the group before the film that the "Tech football teams from the 1963 through 1967 seasons moved the football more than any team over a five year period in Southwest Conference history."

Jackson also pointed out that Tech's victories over Texas and Arkansas in 1967 marked the first time in 34 years any conference member has beaten Texas at Austin and Arkansas in Arkansas in the same season.

The Tech party, all of whom were introduced by Bryan J. Williams included Athletic Director Polk Robison, Football Coach John Conley, Cage Coach Charley Lynch, Ralph W. Carpenter, Tech's sports information director, and Jackson, Pat McHalla, and Buddy Forbes of the Red Raider Club.

Rites conducted here Monday for Mrs. Dickinson

Funeral services for Mrs. C. I. Dickinson, Garza County pioneer who died Saturday at Garza Memorial Hospital, were conducted by the Rev. George L. Miller Monday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church.

Death, coming on the 118th birthday of her father, the late John H. Babbs, followed a year and a half of illness and closed an eventful lifetime for a distinctive citizen in the history of Post.

Born in the Old Emma community, near Ralls, in 1866, she moved to Garza County with her parents about 1901, before Post was founded. She attended Post's first school, in a tent. From girlhood, she was always active in the beginning and continuation of Post's earliest institutions, having been a charter member of the Woman's Culture Club in 1913, of the Order of Eastern Star, the Presbyterian church and other civic and cultural enterprises. She was a past worthy matron of the OES.

Dezzie, as she was called by all friends, relatives and acquaintances, was married in 1912 to Jim Power, member of another pioneer family. A Post merchant and former Garza County sheriff, Jim passed away in 1942.

Later, Dezzie became the wife of still another pioneer, C. I. Dickinson, who came here on the staff of C. W. Post when the town was colonized. The Dickinsons lived in New York City for ten years, then moved to Levelland to reside until his death in 1962. Later that year, Dezzie moved back to her home here.

Post beauty contest is set for Friday night

Two winners to represent Post in the White River Lake Day beauty contest will be selected from among at least 12 contestants at 8 p. m. Friday, July 26, in the primary school auditorium.

Donna Young, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the contest, said Wednesday that 12 women had entered up to now.

The contestants and sponsors are as follows: Betty Hart, Ge'nez Steak House; Glensire, Gale's Beauty Shop; Lubbock, Jelo Services; Cooper, Post Pharmacy; Liz Maxine's Flowers; Janice Miller, World of Difference; Marjorie Cash, Cash Implement Co.; Donna Case, Corner Barber Shop; Waco, Maxine's Shop; Donna Case, Construction Co.; Janice Miller, Toby's Drive-In.

The contest will be held at 8 o'clock tonight

(Thursday) in the primary school auditorium, Young said.

The two winners here will be in competition with two winners from each of the towns of Spur, Ralls and Crosbyton for the title of "Miss White River Lake" on Saturday, Aug. 3.

Don't try to buy the sidewalks

There won't be any attempt made to sell the sidewalks in Saturday's Sidewalk Sale, but Post merchants are hopeful of selling all the merchandise they move out of their front doors and onto the sidewalks.

The Sidewalk Sale is an annual summer affair in Post and the Retail Promotions Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors it, is hopeful of the 1968 sale being the most successful in the history of the promotion.

Readers of the Post Dispatch are invited to look through today's paper for descriptions and prices of hundreds of bargains to be offered by the merchants in Saturday's Sidewalk Sale. Space does not, of course, permit the listing of all the bargains, so many, many more will be found at the place the merchant sets up shop—in front of his store.

Don't try to buy the sidewalks when you go downtown for Saturday's Sidewalk Sale, but you'll be able to buy just about anything else you see on display—and at unheard of bargains, too.—CD

Farm Safety Week, July 21-27

This week, July 21-27, Garza County joins with the state and nation in observing Farm Safety Week, which has been proclaimed in Texas by Gov. John Connally and in the nation by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Each year, federal, state and local officials, farm association groups, safety organizations, insurance groups and many others go to great lengths to impress upon the minds of our citizens the necessity of practicing this year's Farm Safety Week slogan: "Keep Your Guard Up. Stop Accidents!"

Accident prevention and success go hand in hand. If for no other reason than it is difficult to succeed at anything when your physical, emotional and financial resources have been sapped as the consequences of an accident. Each year nearly 8,000 farm residents are killed and another 700,000 suffer disabling injuries.

Injuries to Texas residents are estimated at 24,000 for 1966 and 31,400 for 1967. Motor vehicle accidents in non-farm work is not included in this injury or fatality report.

Texas lost 280 rural citizens to farm accidents in 1967. Here is how they died: tractor, 29; other machinery, 22; falls, 33; animals, 13; firearms, 48; drownings, 41; poisonings, 12; fires, 12; and other causes, 36.

Gov. Connally said in issuing the state proclamation: "Farm and ranch accidents reap a grim harvest of lives each year in Texas. Thousands more suffer painful and disabling injuries, and property damage adds great loss to the agricultural economy of our state."

Traditionally, farmers have been independent and self-reliant, and it's in keeping with this proud heritage that farmers must look to themselves to reduce farm accidents. Accident prevention, like any other activity in successful farming, is a full-time, 52-week activity.—CD

Dear Turnrow Junkel

O. C. McBRIDE

Did you know that tennis is one of America's fastest growing sports?

I've never played tennis, and from what I've seen of the game I don't think I'll take it up, at least until they figure out a way for players to use electric carts.

According to a political expert, a big factor in President Johnson's decline in popularity is the opposition of "Eastern intellectuals."

I wouldn't know about Eastern intellectuals, but some of Lyndon's Great Society programs didn't go over too well with a lot of us Western ignoramuses.

What did you think of Earl Warren's statement that he will remain as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court unless the Senate approves Abe Fortas as his successor?

When he puts it that way, the Senate doesn't have much choice. It's a matter of the known against the unknown, and in this case the unknown is the issue of the two milk.

Did you know that a New York travel agency is offering a Las Vegas divorce package for $1,000? The price includes a lawyer and sight-seeing trips.

Sounds like a bargain. A lot of people spend that much in Las Vegas and come home with nothing to show for it—not even a divorce.

I read where a safety expert said speeding ambulances kill more people than they save.

The same thing happens in Congress. Some of that fast legislation passed to help certain groups hurts many an innocent bystander.

I understand that Dupont has developed a synthetic fabric with the qualities of silk. It will sell for about $5 a pound.

I like the idea of selling it by the pound. The way women dress these days, a fellow could hand his wife a 110 bill to buy a couple of dresses, and tell her to bring back the change.

THOSE WHO RODE the "Last Train to Clarksville," made famous by The Monkees and other nondescript singing groups, now have nothing on the wife and I, who last Friday morning rode the "last train to Clovis" from Fort Worth to Post.

The announcement that the Santa Fe was discontinuing its passenger train service almost caught us with our cattle guard down while we were in Dallas visiting our daughter and family. Our "vacation week" schedule called for us to leave Dallas Thursday night, catch the train in Fort Worth and arrive in Post at 4:10 a. m. Friday. So, purely by accident, we had it timed just right.

WHILE WAITING for the crowded train to pull out of the Fort Worth station, I got to thinking about all I'd heard and read about the first passenger train into Post nearly sixty years ago and observed to the wife, "Here we are making history in reverse."

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram sent a reporter and a photographer onto the train just before it pulled out, but they were hurried off by the conductor before they got through with their picture-taking and interviewing. I don't know whether the conductor figured the railroad didn't need that kind of publicity or whether they just didn't want to carry the photographer and reporter down the line without tickets.

NOTHING EVENTFUL happened on that last train ride, unless one would count the air-conditioner going on the blink as eventful. They fixed it during a one-hour stop at Brownwood, in which I lost count of the number of times the conductors and the air-conditioner repairmen tramped up and down the aisle looking for the trouble.

There was an air of finality about all the depots in the towns through which old Number 73 passed on that last run from Houston to Clovis. Some of the stations at which the train stopped either weren't even lit up or had only a dim light burning. At Comanche, the station master stood in front of the depot as the train pulled out, a Mona Lisa smile on his face as he swung his arms to and fro, clapping them behind his back and then in front. "What does he have to be so happy about?" I asked my wife. "How do you know he's happy?" she came back.

WE WERE THE only ones who got off the train when it pulled into Post, but two other Postites, Mrs. Lee W. Davis Sr. and Mrs. Nita Burress, got on for a trip to somewhere on up the line. The train was gone before we had time to ask them where they were going.

While we were still in Dallas, our No. 2 son called from Pampa and when his mother told him we were going to ride the last train home, he asked her why we didn't buy a bottle of champagne and spice up the ride with a celebration. She didn't tell me about it until we were already on the train and it was too late to buy the champagne. She may have forgotten to tell me ahead of time, but I rather suspect it was because she didn't want to put any ideas into my head.

SOME OF OUR friends and a number of our relatives wanted to know why we rode the train on our vacation in the first place. We have a number of answers, including these:

First, the way we drive—a start here and a stop there—riding a train is more relaxing than driving an automobile.

Second, considering the condition of our automobile, riding a train is no more expensive, perhaps less so, than driving an automobile.

Third, and perhaps most important, how we choose to travel is our own business.

Well, as the man up the street says, if you look back too much, you will soon be heading that way.

SUCCESS IN life depends to a large degree on personality. William Barrett Millard, late clergyman and writer, at one time wrote some terse rules for young ministers, from which are deduced the following points, pertinent to young men in particular:

Pray every night and shave every morning.

Keep your conscience clean; also linen.

Let your light shine, and shine your shoes.

Press your advantages, your opportunities, and your trousers.

Brush the cobwebs from your brain and the dandruff from your collar.

Conceal a golden tongue more than a greenback.

Don't mix your metaphors, but at the same time be a good mixer. You can't put fire in your work unless there is fire in your heart. Two things cannot be imitated: God's sunset and man's insincerity.

Cotton research goals expanded

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Cotton Producers Institute is expanding a mechanization research study in cotton planting at North Carolina State University, Raleigh, as part of CPI's 1968 cotton research program.

This has been announced by Russell Giffen, Fresno, Calif., CPI president.

The increased grant, from $40,000 to $62,750, will permit more intensive work in several promising areas seeking improved planting methods and equipment to reduce the risks for cotton growers in getting a stand of cotton.

Improvements in cotton growth patterns plus savings, in fuel, labor, and seed costs in planting, replanting and thinning are the goals of the research.

The board of directors and members of the Close City Community Center wish to take this means of expressing their appreciation to all those who helped in any way to make the Close City School Marker dedication such a success.

HISTORICAL APPRECIATION and THANKS

The Garza County Historical Survey Committee extends appreciation to the Close City Community Club for their restoration and preservation of the old Close City school building for the sponsoring of the medallion building marker and for the collecting and furnishing history of the building.

To Mr. Darian White and Mr. Lonnie Peel for installing the marker; to the speakers on the dedication program: Mr. A. T. Nixon, Mrs. Mattie Belle Fluit, Judge J. E. Parker, Syd Conner, Dean Robinson for presenting the former teachers and students of the school, and to all who gave of their time from their busy lives to attend the dedication of the marker.

To the group of musicians furnishing music for the occasion, to the ladies of the community and others who furnished refreshments, provided all the floral arrangements, and to the community club for inviting the group to attend the dedication in their building.

The preservation, restoration and marking this old building is a big step in furthering the aim and purpose of this historical committee, and for this our committee thanks you.

We extend congratulations to your entire community for success in your community improvement program, and for the honors you have received for your accomplishments.

We feel that all this is of importance to our entire county, as well as to the historical committee. May your tribe increase.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

BOARD MEETING HELD

The Garza Soil and Water Conservation District board met July 15 for their regular meeting. The board meets the third Monday of each month at 2 p. m. in the work unit office of the Soil Conservation Service.

During the business session the board reviewed and set priority on two proposed Great Plains Conservation program contracts, cancelled three basic farm plans, discussed the recreation appraisal being made for Garza County, and discussed sponsoring a vocational agriculture contest to be held in Post.

Wayne Williams, chairman, also discussed a proposal for matching fund legislation to help support soil and water conservation district activities.

Current supervisors are Wayne Williams, chairman; Sam Ellis, vice chairman; Ralph Welch, secretary; Jimmy Bird and Bill McMahon, members.

DISTRICT IS LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Your soil and water conservation district is the only local unit of government charged with the responsibility of conserving our natural resources. Soil and water conservation districts are independent sub-divisions of state government, just as are the counties and school districts.

A soil conservation district represents all the people in the district and is the farmers' and ranchers' personal conservation agency. In Texas, districts are authorized under state law (House Bill 444-47th Legislature). All the United States and territories, too, have soil conservation district laws.

Each soil conservation district is administered by a governing body of five local landowners. District supervisors are elected in Texas by their friends and neighbors who are also landowners in the district.

These supervisors serve without pay. Yet it is their responsibility to administer their district; plan and carry out their district program; spend whatever funds they have for the benefit of that program; take care of district owned property; hire district employees; ask for the help of local, state and federal agencies that can provide that help; see to it that all the technical information and assistance they need to do the conservation job on the land, and to help all the people in the district understand about the conservation program and progress made by its solution.

In addition to assistance the Soil Conservation Service districts can get help through number of other programs people.

Help goes to districts from Agricultural Conservation, G. F. M., the Farmers Home Administration, the U. S. Forest Service, the Texas Forest Service, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Texas Game and Fish Commission, the federal and Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Experiment Station, state Department of Agriculture, the Texas Education Agency, colleges and universities and others.

Soil conservation districts get help from county and city agencies, such as county commissioners, highway boards and councils.

Private groups and individuals stand high in their help to the districts. Newspapers, radio and vision stations have contributed greatly in telling of the importance and need for soil and water conservation.

Many civic groups, hardware equipment and seed dealers, other businessmen have donated time and money in the interest of their soil conservation districts.

All these people realize that soil and water conservation is one's business.

Donna Maddox and Patti Parrish win top honors in dress revue

Donna Maddox and Patti Parrish were named as winners in the senior and junior divisions, respectively, of the Garza County 4-H Dress Revue held Tuesday evening in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

First alternate winners were Dayneen Dunn in the senior division and Sue Cowdrey in the junior division.

As county winners, Donna and Patti will represent Garza County in the District 2 dress revue to be held Tuesday, July 30, in Lubbock.

Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Maddox and Patti's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Parrish.

Twenty-two 4-H members showed off garments each had made to the music of the "Tijuana Brass" and a theme of "Texas, My Texas."

More than 60 parents, other relatives and friends of the girls attended the dress revue.

Dayneen Dunn served as mistress of ceremonies, with Laura Bevers narrating the junior division and Phyllis Kennedy the senior division.

Following the 4-H Pledge and Motto, led by Bobby Norman, Donna Maddox presided over the special feature, which was a "Little Miss Texas" pageant. Susan Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jackson, was named as winner of the pageant. Other contestants were Pam Scott, Becky Scott, Luan Kennedy, Monica Dyess and Kerri Pool.

County Judge J. E. Parker awarded blue dress revue ribbons to 4-Hers Donna Maddox, Dayneen Dunn, Patti Parrish, Sue Cowdrey, Nancy Maddox, Glenna Bevers, Mary Ann Norman, Jodine Tipton, Tina McAlister, Karen Williams, Sandra Bostick and Phyllis Kennedy.

Red ribbons were awarded to Elizabeth Young, Nancy Reno, Susan Hopkins, Genetta Kennedy, Amy Cowdrey, Vickie Gannon, Lillie Rosas, Kelly Chaffin, Darlene Gunn and Pat Nelson.

Mrs. Pearl Poik was hostess at last Friday afternoon's meeting of the Mystic Sewing Club and served tuna salad, party crackers, coffee and punch to the following:

Mrs. Jimmie Hudman, Mrs. Winnie Henderson, Mrs. Estlea Nichols and Miss Henrietta Nichols.

Mrs. Aylene Runkles will be hostess at the Aug. 2 meeting.

Mary Elizabeth Clark to wed Scottie Joe Pierce, Aug. 31

Mr. and Mrs. Ed R. Clark of Bartlesville, Okla., have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Scottie Joe Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Pierce of Post.

They are both employed by [unclear] in Denver, Colo., where they will make their home.

The wedding will take place Saturday, Aug. 31, at 10 a. m. at the First Methodist Church, Bartlesville.

Miss Clark is a graduate of College High School in Bartlesville and the University of Oklahoma, where she was a member of Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Pierce was graduated from Post High School in 1960 and received his degree from West Texas State University, where he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

MAP AUTHENTICATION

Yale University spent eight years authenticating a pre-Columbian world map, drawn in brownish ink on parchment. The existing map was copied by a Swiss monk in 1440, but probably was based on much earlier documents.

It's My Turn

By MRS. C.

I refuse to believe that age has anything to do with this strange malady that has struck me. All of a sudden I am having trouble looking up a phone number (I have to use my finger to slide across from the name to the number). I notice that I occasionally have to tilt a book or a newspaper to a certain angle, and it is almost impossible to thread a needle.

After much consideration I have reached the obvious conclusion that I need reading glasses. I certainly don't need them for seeing in the distance because I can still see farther than I sometimes feel is necessary. Sometimes I think Mr. C wishes I couldn't see so far down the road because my eagle eyes spot cars approaching from side roads long before we are close enough to be concerned about them and I always announce to him: "Mr. C, there's a car approaching the highway and it might not stop when it should." By the time I get this said Mr. C has seen the car and all I get is a "look."

I found out the other night when preparing to thread a needle that Mr. C is no help there. He kept missing the eye so far that I collapsed in complete merriment. With much trying and straining I finally succeeded. It took 15 minutes to thread the needle and 10

Grandson of Post woman marries at Tacoma, Wash.

Mrs. Winnie Tuffing's grandson, Carl John Kline, was married to Miss Cynthia Lynn Becker recently in Tacoma, Wash., at the Little Church on the Prairie, United Presbyterian Church, with Dr. Theodore Koopman officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Jack K. Becker of Edwards, Wash., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kline of Lancaster, Calif.

They were joined in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional long gown of white lace with a matinee veil of illusion attached to a Juliet cap of seeded pearls. She carried white and yellow daisies.

Serving as best man was Patrick Sullivan of San Fernando, Calif.

A reception followed at the church, where the color theme of yellow and white, was used.

Mrs. Kline will be a senior at Whittier College this fall. Mr. Kline, until recently recalled to active duty with the California National Guard, was a member of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department.

Following a wedding trip to Vancouver, B. C., the couple is at home in Tacoma.

minutes to put the hem in.

I don't mind tilting books while reading but I notice that people look at one rather peculiarly when one cocks one's head to do this. What they are thinking is "Aha, she needs glasses and probably won't admit it."

I've always thought it would be fun to wear glasses if only for the reason that one can take them off with a flourish and chew on the ear pieces when they are not needed. I visualize sitting at my desk looking quite wordily as I wait on customers while twirling my glasses around and chewing on them.

This might open up a whole new facet of my personality. Probably I'll need a whole new wardrobe to go with the glasses. I'm thinking of purchasing some dark, bold-looking frames that will really make people sit up and notice.

As long as I've reached the age when I'm starting to deteriorate I might as well do it with a flair.

It will probably be a while before I take the big step but thought I'd better start preparing myself and you for the change that it is bound to make.

Mr. C and I will be in Houston while you're reading this visiting our Miss C, who is taking a week-end away from HemisFair week to take in the sights in Houston with her fond parents. Luckily I won't need glasses to see the baseball game at the Astrodome or the sights at the new Astroworld.

I'll let you know if the Astroworld is worth "seeing" next week. I know that you can hardly wait on the travelogue. Just be glad the C's don't travel more than they do so you don't learn more than you really want to.

CONFESSION IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL - NOT TO MENTION THE HEELS.

AT TEXAS TECH'S MUSIC CAMP

Support to the clarinet section at Texas Tech's Youth Music Camp are, from left, the Cooper of Post, playing the contrabass, Melinda Miller of Dalhart, bass, and Nancy Smith of Post, also clarinet. They are among 480 pre-college students enrolled in the two-week workshop in band orchestra and choir which continues through July 26. Debbie, a Post School sophomore, is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Charles C. Cooper, and Nancy, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Norman.—(Texas Tech Photo)

Smith vows July 12 in church

Goldie Long, daughter of the late Goldie Long of Lueders, was married to Everett D. Smith, son of Mrs. Bill Henry Smith of Lueders, July 12 at 8 o'clock evening at the Lueders of Christ.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Eleanore Cooke of Post. The wedding was officiated by the Rev. D. W. Yarbrough, church minister.

The bride wore a white, long-sleeved, shoulder-length dress with three-quarter sleeves. Her shoulder-length hair was styled in a white bow with seed pearls and white roses. She carried a white Bible. The ceremony was officiated by her sister, Goldie Long, and Mrs. Frank Long of Lueders. They wore pink suits and carried white bouquets. Their headpieces were pink and white.

The wedding was officiated by the Rev. D. W. Yarbrough, church minister.

The bride's chosen colors were pink and white, and the wedding cake and refreshments were served.

The wedding guests were from the Lueders family and the families of the bride and groom.

The wedding was held at the Lueders church.

Hospital open house is held Tuesday by auxiliary group

The Women's Auxiliary of Garza Memorial Hospital held an open house at the hospital Tuesday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock for the purpose of acquainting the public with the work of the auxiliary and enlarging its membership.

Approximately 100 guests registered in the club scrapbook from Tahoka, Lubbock, Caprock, Gail and Post.

Four new members were signed up and 14 contributing members paid their annual dues.

Mrs. Harry A. Tubbs and Mrs. Gerald A. Lively, wives of the hospital staff doctors, helped receive guests as did hospital administrator Kenneth Sledge, Mrs. V. L. Peel, bookkeeper, and Lee Miles, hospital technician.

The 26 members of the auxiliary present alternated with taking the guests on tours of the facilities and other duties.

Mrs. D. C. Williams, Mrs. J. E. Tanner and Mrs. Walter Boren served pink lemonade and homemade cookies from a table laid with white lace over pink. An arrangement of pink sweetpeas and daisies enhanced the serving table.

Mrs. Lois Greathouse of Lyntegar Electric Co-op of Tahoka, gave a program on "Decoupage." She brought several pictures and other articles she had made.

Mrs. Nona Lusk and Mrs. Reecie Bush were hostesses and served refreshments to four guests and 12 members.

Final concerts Friday

Post well represented at college band camp

Post senior and junior high schools are represented by more students than any other school at the Texas Tech Band Camp, which closes Friday. Band Director Herb Gormer was told by Joel Leech, camp director.

The final concert for this year's band camp will be presented Friday in the Texas Tech Student Union. The camp has four bands, with positions in each band determined by tryouts.

Post is represented in the Honors Band by David Hamilton. This band, composed of the most advanced musicians, will be under the direction of band director and composer Francis McBeth.

The Symphonic Band, made up of students advanced on their instruments, will be under the direction of James Sudduth, band director at Coronado High School in Lubbock. Post is represented in this band by Sherell Guichard, Nancy Norman, Debbie Cooper and Mary Ann Wright.

The Concert Band, composed of younger students who show great promise as fine bandmen, will be directed by Doyle Gammill, band director at Lubbock's Monterey High School. Representing Post in the Concert Band are Sally Dorland, Ritaynn Butler, Jan Bilbo, Rusty Conner, Ricky Thomas, Sue Parrish, Scott Lee and Johnny Hodges.

The Varsity Band, composed of students whose abilities are just now developing, will be under the direction of Bill Bradley, Big Spring High School director, assisted by Gormer. Representing Post in this band are Bobby Norman, John Gist, David Woods, Jay Polard, Randy Peel, Carol Davies, Hil Cash, Becky Brewer, Steve Hays, Steve Sawyers, Larry Barton, Patti Nelson, Jodi Norman, Randy Mason, Dempsey Zachary, Ronald Martin, Richard Dudley, Roomie Ammons and Mary Heaton.

In addition, the following Post bandmen also qualified for membership in the Stage Band: Steve Sawyers, Jodi Norman, Dempsey Zachary, Jan Bilbo, Ronald Martin, Nancy Norman, Mary Ann Wright, David Woods and Rusty Conner.

The bandmen have been commuting to Lubbock daily for the band camp sessions.

Quarter Horse Show is scheduled for final day of Lubbock fair

LUBBOCK — More than 200 entries are expected for the second annual quarter horse show being staged in conjunction with the Panhandle South Plains Fair here this fall.

The show, scheduled Sept. 28, last day of the weeklong fair run, will be offering premiums totaling $2,150, including added money.

Cecil A. Hurley of Yantis, owner of the Bar L Stables there and widely known quarter horse breeder, will judge the one-day event.

Other show officials include Clyde Fort of Lubbock, superintendent; Bill Phinizy of Guthrie and Ken Cook of Silverton, assistant superintendents; Bob Middleton of Friona, ring steward, and Tommy Buckner of Levelland, secretary.

Premiums totaling $1,550 will be offered in halter classes and $600 in added money has been tabbed for performance classes of competition.

Your Sorrow Will Turn Into Joy

By the Rev. George L. Miller

So Jesus told his disciples when he foretold his crucifixion and resurrection. And so it came to be. The world still has a lingering taste of it today. But isn't it curious how few take advantage of it?

Did you ever watch peoples' faces as they pass by? How blank they look? There's seldom any emotion there, no light in their eyes, no liveliness in their faces, no spring to their step. They look frozen, empty.

After you think about that a moment ask yourself "What shows in my face?" How very strange to find so little there. Are you still waiting for your sorrow to turn into joy?

The fact is, far too many of us prefer it that way. Call it dignity or being proper, whatever its name we all do it. It's like an unwritten law. Besides it's safer. Joy is a heady business that can lead to excess. One might get too enthusiastic, dream impossible dreams, reach for unreachable goals. And what would our friends think if we acted as if we enjoyed being alive?

All things considered you'd better avoid joy and stay grim. It will prove how realistic you are. Everyone knows life is just a series of compromises and defeats. Arm yourself with misery, you'll have lots of company.

On the other hand, with a little courage joy might have its good points too. Why not drop into church next Sunday and check it out?

Library LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
 I and I are taking the Big Dipper to Phoenix this morning. (Saturday, July 20) to meet our good friend, Earl and The Little Ladies. Earl's mother calls him Earl Boy, as if he's a boy. I'm usually hope the boys get rich in Arizona. That's what I do best.

Miller.
 I went back to my dictionary after reading Herbert Tarr's book "Heaven Help Us!". Several words might describe this entertaining novel. The trouble was I couldn't decide between "satire" and "caricature". (A picture or description of a person or thing, in which the defects or peculiarities are exaggerated so as to produce a laughable effect) was the right word.

Rosemary:
 This is my unsolicited, uncalled for, and maybe unwanted opinion. "Testimony of Two Men". I read it.

Take one rabbi, young, idealistic and being interviewed for his first congregation; describe one year in the life of a suburban Jewish Temple whose congregation's chief concern is raising money for a new, modern kitchen while the rabbi's chief gratification is the fact that his temple does not have an oversized kitchen (and says so in a newspaper interview) and the situation is set for glorious caricature.

Estelle
 "Testimony of Two Men" by George Caldwell, 1968. Reviewed by Estelle.

There's the problem of the interfering mother-in-law, solved when the rabbi hires her as his secretary to get her out of her son's house. It was such a successful solution the rabbi almost didn't survive. He finally plays cupid to get her out of the temple.

Or take the problem of integration. The rabbi discovers a Jewish Negro family that has to travel some distance to their temple. After much pressure and discomfort felt by all, the way is cleared to accept the Negroes, only to discover they weren't Jewish after all.

Or how about the temple's big fund raising musical "My Fair Sade" with its show-stopping song "I could have had a million". This is exaggeration that produces a very definitely laughable effect.

On the other hand "satire" (any type of literature directed toward the correction, by means of ridicule, of vice, abuses, in consistency, or absurdities in politics, law, religion, education, etc.) may be the better word.

Take one rabbi more interested in social concerns than he is in improving the temple "image", put him in a congregation more worried about how to let their children enjoy Christmas like all their neighbors do than it is in learning what it means to be a good Jew and absurdity is inevitable.

There's a Bar Mitzvah boy whose greatest joy are the gifts he receives in honor of the occasion, and the further blessing that now he won't have to attend religious instruction classes anymore.

And there's the rabbi's parents who still think medicine or the ladies undergarment business are more suitable professions for a Jewish boy.

The rabbi's story is an exercise in frustrations climaxed by a brutal congregational meeting where his assets and liabilities are heatedly debated in order to decide whether to renew his contract or not. After considering what he's gone through, one might well wonder why he'd want to renew his contract in the first place.

But there were some satisfactions too. A grateful daughter-in-law whose marriage was saved, a stuttering boy who made his Bar Mitzvah, a husband and wife who appreciated the rabbi's understanding in a delicate situation.

Caricature and satire are here, but neither word tells the story. Rather, truth is exposed in all its stupidity and glory. This is modern America funnily as it comes to grips with its religious faith. Our successes are outnumbered by our failures, but "Heaven Help Us!" tells us all. The miracle is, for some, that help has come.

Karen's Korner

By Karen Hundley

Have you ever sat up late at night or gotten up early in the morning in order to write a newspaper column? It's almost as bad as having to compose an overnight English theme. Although it isn't graded by a teacher, it is scanned by my small crop of readers who either smile with delight or shiver with distaste. The $64 dollar question is which group has the most people and the least cavities!

Last Friday night a birthday party for Deborah Hundley, who recently became 13, was held at the old mill office. People attending were Gaynell King, Becky Dalby, Jan Hall, Cindy and Lindy Bird, Jodi Norman, Deborah Hundley, Lanny Blacklock, Johnny Minor, Randy Kennedy, Tol Thomas, Rickey King, Danny Lee, Karen Hundley and Jimmie Johnston, Bobo McWhirt and Kay Hundley, Kim Hundley, and Mrs. Shirley Hundley.

Those of you missed the Henry Mancini and Sergio Mendes concert Sunday night in Lubbock can cry yourself to sleep. The show was absolutely GREAT! Of course, when you are sitting in front of the speakers, you don't miss anything. However, sitting right in front of one of those beautiful girls with the Sergio Mendes band was slightly disconcerting, even somewhat disturbing when you discover that HER name is Karen!

Teen-agers from Post who attended the concert were Sherry Bird and Steve Newby, Kathy Jones and Joey Lee, Judy Hitt and Mike Petty, Kay Hundley and Bobo McWhirt, Karen Hundley and Jimmie Johnston, Weldon Swanger and Don Collier.

Rejoice, for there is once again a dance in Post this Saturday night. "The Links" from Lubbock will play from 9 to 12. And even if you go to a baseball game, come on by the dance after the game. I wouldn't want you to miss anything!

Incidentally, what happened to Jimmie Bartlett's car last Monday night? It and Jimmie, David Sinclair, Paul Walker, Dennis Altman and Mike Robinson appeared to have been covered with ice! Don't you boys know easier ways to cool off during the summer, such as an air-conditioner?

In 1919 the city of Denver opened a 160-acre auto camping site with running water and plumbing.

WORKIN' IS WHAT BUYS THE GROCERIES BUT PLAYIN' IS WHAT PROVIDES THE SPICE.

Film to be shown at youth retreat

The film, "Through Gates of Splendor," which depicts the story of five young missionaries who died at the hands of the savage Auca Indians in Ecuador, will be shown at the Youth Retreat at the Staked Plains Baptist Association at Floydada, Saturday, July 27 by the First Baptist Church of Post. All Post young people are invited to attend.

This is the authentic filmed story which stirred millions as it appeared in Life, Reader's Digest, and the six books on the subject, and as it was reported over radio and television networks.

Much of the picture was photographed by the men themselves shortly before they were killed. Seen in the film, in addition to the five men and their wives, are Aucas — "George," "Dilliah," Dayuma — and Rachel Saint, Betty Elliot and her daughter, Valerie, now living with the Aucas killers.

There are scenes of Nate Saint's little airplane executing the amazing bucket drop, landing on the incredibly short sandbar which the men called "Palm Beach," the tree house, the ingenuity, the careful and dedicated preparation, the failure and subsequent victory as the two women were permitted to

Claims validated by uranium prospectors

Three Post men returned home this week after three weeks of hot, hard work drilling and sampling over 51 100-foot test holes to validate some 510 uranium mining claims in Arizona's Tonto Basin.

Earl Chapman and Jack Lott, who have formed Post Exploration Co., to do uranium test drilling, arrived Tuesday night. They left their drilling rig in Arizona and plan to return there in September to begin a uranium search.

Elwood Wright was scheduled to return last night. He "caught" the samples in all the test drilling and handled all the geological work.

According to Chapman it was a hot, hard three weeks with the temperatures averaging around 103 all day every day and the trio cutting in on 15 and 18 hours a day to get the work done.

The validation work was done on some 15,750 acres of public domain land which had been staked in June by a group which included Giles McCrary, John Lott of Lubbock, Chapman, Jack Lott, and Wright, as well as Phoenix interests.

Both McCrary and John Lott visited the uranium claims area during the three-week testing period. D. L. Mason of the Rocker A Well Service also was out with the testing group for a portion of the three weeks drill period.

Chapman said they saw evidence of uranium, but concentrated on validating the claims as required by federal law and did not drill deep enough to see if there were any commercially sized uranium deposits.

That search, he said, will come in the fall.

Chapman said they "drilled through lots of gypsum" but he didn't know if it were of commercial size or not.

Dedication—

Dean Robinson introduced former teachers Gladys Maxey Floyd, Pearl Lohm Storie, Alice Riley Bowen, Elsie Josey Wright, A. T. Nixon, Lucille Nixon and Pearl Davidson.

Former students introduced were: Darian White, Mike Custer, Mrs. Mike Custer, R. V. Thomas, Thelma Thomas, Dessie Duren, Aubrey Ritchie, Earl Ritchie, Henry Wheatley, Elsie Josey Wright, T. J. Tipton, Leta Tipton, Marshall Tipton, Martha Tipton, Faye Richardson Mathis.

Also Lorrye Livingston McAllister, Linda Livingston Runkles, Ethel Floyd Redman, Bernard Roberts, Hooter Juanita Terry, Marvel Kenley Lee, Ann Davidson, Doris Ritchie Gossett and Norma Ritchie.

The medallion commemorating the school building reads as follows:

"Old Close City School (originally located two miles east). Built in 1908 as a commissary school in colony of C. W. Post, cereal magnate. Named for his son-in-law, E. B. Close. In 1910 moved to this site. Became a common school district 1916, independent district 1918. First story was built 1919, second story 1921."

After the Close City school consolidated with Post in 1965, the school building was restored and made into a community center.

Saturday night's meeting was climaxed by musical entertainment furnished by residents and former residents of the community. They included the following:

Aubrey Ritchie, violin; V. A. Hartman, accordion; Mrs. Virgil Stone, accordion; Emmett Shedd, harmonica; Junior Smith, banjo; Gus and Bill Saunders, guitars.

A special number featured Junior Smith and his two young daughters singing "Grandfather's Clock."

Judge calls—

(Continued From Front Page) tion must be had from parents and youth or the court's only prerogative is confinement in a penal institution," Judge Parker warned.

"Laws are made for society's protection. As a juvenile judge it is my duty to protect society while trying to help the youth of our community."

"Lack of cooperation can cause a juvenile judge to become hard and severe as is happening in some of our neighboring counties," Judge Parker pointed out. "Many of our boys and girls are being sent to state schools of correction because they have failed to heed the warning sign."

SWEETHEART RECEPTION

Janice Lynn Gordon (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gordon of Post, smiles happily at reception honoring her and the other nine state FFA Sweetheart contestants in Lubbock last week. Hostess for the event as the annual convention of Texas FFA opened on the campus of Texas Tech was Peggy Nester of Honda (center). Miss Texas Rural Electrification. 182 Scouts and leaders in first week of camp

One hundred and eighty-two Boy Scouts and leaders from 22 different Scout troops in the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, are in summer camp this week at Camp Post, according to Camp Director Warren Green. This is the first week of the summer camping season at Camp Post.

Upon their arrival Sunday, the Scouts were given a medical check and a classification swim test. They set up their troop camps and prepared for a week of tent-living.

During the week they will engage in swimming, rowing, canoeing, life-saving instruction, cooking, hiking, pioneering, conservation, rifle marksmanship, skeet shooting, archery, bait casting, fishing and the outdoor skills required for a Scout to achieve his second class and first class ranks. The troops' scoutmasters are supported by a 24-man central camp staff, Green said.

Evening activities include several different kinds of campfire programs with an Order of the Arrow tap-out of new candidates scheduled for Thursday night.

On Friday, parents are invited to eat supper at Camp Post with their sons at 7 p. m. They can do so by making paid reservations by noon on Thursday either at the camp or at the Boy Scout Service Center, 30 Briercroft Office Park in Lubbock.

Following supper the closing campfire will be conducted, at which time a court of honor will be held to recognize the awards and achievements earned by the Scouts during their week in camp.

The Scouts and leaders will return to their homes on Saturday.

The troops in Camp Post this week are: Troop 563, Ropesville; Troops 401, 505, 157, 150, 555 and 139, all of Lubbock; Troop 481, Abernathy; Troop 393, Spur; Troop 265, Nazareth; Troop 230, Plainview, and Troop 777, Denver City.

Garza designated for flood relief

Garza is one of three Texas counties designated Tuesday as eligible for emergency assistance by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as a result of farm damages from May and July floods. The Dispatch has been informed by telephone from U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough's office in Austin.

A total of $85,000 is available to farmers in Garza, Frio and Collingsworth counties for those who suffered damages in the floods.

The funds are for cost share and restoration of conservation practices. They will be administered by local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

Mrs. Emmarhe I. Hartel, manager of the Garza County ASCS office, said Tuesday her office had not yet received word on how much of the $85,000 will be allocated to this county.

The funds allocated here will be used to repair damages caused to farms by sheet erosion, broken terraces and broken dams.

Rites held—

(Continued From Front Page) N. Power of Lubbock and Tom Power of Casper, Wyo.; six grandchildren; a brother, Jersell Babb of Glendale, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Sherrill Boyd of Clouderoft, N. M. The grandchildren are Nancy, Jim and Jill Power of Lubbock and Terri, Patti and Roxi Power of Casper.

Organ music for the funeral service was played by Mrs. Boo Olson. Interment was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Bryan J. Williams, J. E. Birdwell of Lubbock, Walter Boren, Powell Shytles, James Minor and Shelley Camp.

Hostesses in Dezie's home Monday were women of the Presbyterian church and neighbors with Mrs. Giles McCrary, Mrs. Mike Mitchell and Mrs. Louise Valdez in charge of the luncheon.

Postings—

The next week after White River Lake Day the Post Stampede Rodeo is back for four nights of riding, bucking, roping, etc. Stampede Rodeos are always well planned, fast-paced shows and this one should be a crowd pleaser.

So take these three events in and summer won't be so hot and dull. By the time this is over, school time will be just around the corner — with a brand new football season.

Tahoka, Post teams advance in Jaycee tournament

Connie Mack club wins on Abernathy's forfeit

Tahoka nipped the Post Hornets, 10 to 1, and the Post Connie Mack club won by forfeit from Abernathy Tuesday night in first-round games of the third annual Post Jaycee Teen-age Tournament at Wild Nichols Park.

Tournament play was to be resumed Wednesday evening with the Snyder Clippings at 6:30, and the Connie Mack team taking on the Snyder Jets at 8:00. Both Snyder teams drew first-round byes.

The tournament will continue through Saturday night's championship game, after which trophies will be awarded by the tournament's sponsoring organization, Bob Carpenter is the Jaycee tournament chairman.

Tuesday night's opening round was cut to one tournament game when the Abernathy entry failed to show. Fans got their money's worth, however, by staying to see practice game between the Hornets and the Connie Mack club, which the latter 8 to 1.

The Hornet - Tahoka game was a pitching duel between Post's Jimmy Pointer and Tahoka's Alex Lora, but bases on balls and errors proved costly to the Post.

Tahoka scored two runs in the first inning on walks to the first two batters to face Pointer and infield error. They came back in the second on a home run by John Tyler, doubled and scored on a throwing error after Kyle Schneider had walked.

Post's only run came in the third on Duke Altman, who had reached base on an error and stole second, scored on Joe Hudman's single.

The locals threatened in the final inning when Neff Walker led off with a single and took second on a wild ball, but Olivia fanned Paul Baker and Mokey McCarty and Red Pointer to pop out to the center baseman to end the game. Pointer allowed Tahoka only two runs but issued six walks, with errors also contributing to the Post loss. He fanned 10 batters. Olivia gave up three hits and walked none. He hit two batsmen and struck out six.

Ray Altman was the winning pitcher and Norman Tanner the loser in the Connie Mack team's 8-1 win over the Hornets. The Connie Mack club got off to a fast start with six runs in the first inning and added single runs in the third and sixth. First baseman Nick Pantoja had a perfect night at bat for the winners with three singles in three trips to the plate.

Compton, Martin take tournament

Bob Compton and Hugh Martin, with a score of 55, won the partnership low - ball tournament at the Caprock Golf Course here Sunday afternoon.

Jimmy Hundley, with a 71 (two-stroke handicap), was the tournament medalist. Bob Compton, a member of the winning team, had the low net with a 60, which came from a 76-stroke performance and 16-stroke handicap.

Scores of other teams in the tournament were as follows: 62 - Wiley Hill and Arthur Kelly. 62 - Jim Hundley Sr. and Doris Lucas. 62 - Jimmy Hundley and Harold Lucas. 63 - Monroe Lane and Earl Percer. 67 - Gene Martin and Gerald Clayton. 71 - Ed Blanton and Don Ammons.

John Blocker, who coached here during the 1959-60 school year, is new head coach and athletic director at Frenship High School, Wolf-Blocker resigned as assistant grid coach at Vernon to accept the Frenship position.

Serving under the new head coach and athletic director will be J. W. Witt, former assistant at El Paso; Dave Olsen of Texas Tech, basketball coach; Jerry King, former West Texas State griddier; Tommy Frazier of Sul Ross and Texas Tech, and Carolyn James, who will be the girls' basketball coach.

Post coaches all set for Fort Worth meet

Annual school may draw 5,000

At least three members of the Post High School coaching staff will leave Sunday for Fort Worth to attend the 36th Texas High School Coaches Association Coaching School.

Head Coach and Athletic Director Gynn Gregg said Tuesday that he and his first assistant, Billy Hahn, and basketball coach Kenny Pooler will attend the school, and that freshman coach Bill Smith is expected back from summer school in time to attend.

Gregg said Coach Waco Reynolds might not be able to attend on account of his duties at the City-County swimming pool, where he is manager.

The school gets under way with a directors meeting Saturday and will be climaxed by the All-Star basketball game at Daniel-Meyer Coliseum Wednesday, July 31, and the All-Star football game at TCU-Amon Carter Stadium on Thursday.

A record enrollment of close to 5,000 is expected. An all-time mark was set at San Antonio last year when 4,814 registered.

Lectures will be conducted throughout the week by such football authorities as Gene Stallings of Texas A&M, Vince Dooley of Georgia and Bill Yoeman of Houston. Guy Lewis, Houston basketball coach, will also be among the speakers.

Longhorn Cavern has interesting history

BURNET — It is right there, in the limestone, chert and dolomite comprising Backbone Ridge, in which the cavern is located.

It is not known when man first came to the cave. It is known that the Comanches used the largest chamber of the cavern, the Indian Council room, for ceremonies and for making weighty decisions.

Bones of animals, cracked open for the marrow, have been found throughout the cave and indicate an early, at least temporary, occupancy by primitive humans.

Before humans, beasts of prey, large enough to drag elephant and camel bones into the cave, used it as their den.

Much of the history surrounding the cavern is a mixture of fact, fantasy and legend.

IT HAS been pretty well established that the notorious outlaw, Sam Bass, used the cavern as a hideout, and legend has it that he left $2,000,000 buried there.

During the Civil War, Confederate soldiers set up a gunpowder factory in the Indian Council Room using the abundant guano, or bat droppings, in the process.

Adjoining the Council Room is the Lunch Room, at one time one of the most unusual nightclubs anywhere. A wooden floor was installed in the 1920's and flappers came from miles around to dance and listen to the music.

Over the years the passageways of the cave have become heavily silted due to flooding. In some spots the cave was only a few inches from the floor. Restoration and cleaning of the cave was carried out by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930's when 2 1/2 million cubic yards of dirt were removed from the passageways.

TOURS ARE conducted through the caverns every hour daily from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. visitors enter through the San Bass entrance under a natural bridge, formed when part of the roof of the cavern collapsed.

When the visitor steps through the heavy iron gate which bars the entrance, he slips into another world and another age. Except for the removal of silt and the installation of lights, the cave is as it has been for millions of years.

Along the winding passageways lie the heavy iron gate which bars the entrance, a sparkling wonderland of calcite crystals, and natural formations such as the Queen's

Didway to coach at McLean High

Curtis Didway of Pampa has accepted a position as assistant high school coach at McLean, a Class A school in Gray County, near Shamrock.

Didway has coached in Pampa junior high and high school the past three years and taught history in junior high.

Didway and other members of the McLean coaching staff will attend the state coaching school in Fort Worth next week.

A JOB WELL DONE

I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks and appreciation to all the people being connected with our Little League and Minor League teams this year.

It has been one of our main purposes during the season to instill in these boys knowledge of baseball and also to impress upon them the extreme importance of good sportsmanship and conduct as young men. It was extremely pleasing to me to see that we had accomplished this by being able to observe our Little League All Star Team in tournament play at Tahoka last week against Lamesa. The Post team and fans conducted themselves in such a way that we can all be very proud even though there was extreme harassment and abuse from Lamesa fans and ball club members as well. We may have lost the game in score but I feel that we have won something much more important—the respect and admiration of everyone present.

To the managers and coaches of both leagues and to the officers I would like to say—A job well done.

G. H. CONOLY, Pres. Little League

Levelland beats Slaton to take Babe Ruth event

Levelland's Babe Ruth League team is representing West Texas in the state Babe Ruth League tournament at San Antonio this week after beating Slaton here Saturday night to win the district tournament.

Slaton's only losses were to Levelland in the double - elimination tournament. They went into Saturday night's game against the Hockley County team after eliminating Lamesa earlier in the day.

The Levelland club, which is given a good chance to win the state title, was undefeated in tournament play here.

Post's Babe Ruth League All-Stars were eliminated from the tournament when they lost to Trinity City, Thursday night. The locals, managed by Paul Quinones, had dropped their opener to Brownfield, 6-2, but came back Wednesday night with an 8-0 win over Frontier behind the two-hit pitching of Jerry Saldivar.

The tournament was considered an outstanding success, due in large measure to the work of tournament director Jim Kennedy and his corps of helpers.

Morton Indians get new coach

Morton, one of Post's District 44A football opponents, has a new head coach.

Lane Tannehill, a graduate of Abernathy High School and West Texas State University, has been promoted to head coach to succeed Fred Weaver, coach for the past two years, who resigned to become a counselor in the Morton school system.

Tannehill had been first assistant under Weaver for two years. He formerly coached at Rails and taught in Petersburg.

Tannehill will be assisted by Doug Reed, line coach and first assistant; Robert Taylor and one coach yet to be named.

Little Leaguers win third place

Post's Little League All-Stars drubbed Tahoka, 10 to 4, last Friday night to win third place in the Area II Little League Tournament at Tahoka.

The previous night, Post had lost a "heartbreaker" to Lamesa, 2 to 1, to bow out of the single-elimination tournament.

Tony Conner went all the way in pitching the locals to their third-place win over Tahoka, with Jay Pollard blasting a home run for the Post team.

Lamesa scored two runs in the bottom of the sixth and final inning to edge Post Thursday night after John Redman had held them scoreless through five innings and blasted a home run for his team's only tally.

With Post leading 1-0 going into the bottom of the sixth, Redman retired Ronnie Meadows on a grounder, but walked three batters, with one scoring on a fielder's choice. Redman then walked Jim Roberts to force in the winning run.

G. H. "Jerry" Conoly, president of the Post Little League, said the Lamesa fans showed "poor sportsmanship" in the final inning with their all-out efforts to "rattle" the Post pitcher.

Conoly said Redman's protest to the umpire had resulted in the umpire quieting down the Lamesa bench, but that after that happened the Lamesa fans "broke loose" every time Redman started to deliver a pitch.

The fans' outbursts obviously rattled the youngster, whose control is usually good. "You can expect such demonstrations in professional baseball, but they have no place in Little League ball," Conoly said.

The Post team's only hits off Kyle White, the Lamesa pitcher, were Redman's home run and singles by Sappington and Jackie Blacklock. White didn't walk a batter and fanned 13. Redman struck out seven and walked six, four of them in the disastrous sixth inning. He gave up only two hits.

Donald Pennells attend national Pennell reunion

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Howdy News "day" again. As I have asked so many times before, where does the time go? It just takes my breath away. Makes me realize that I must get busy with so many things because time is running out. Know what I mean?

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pennell and grandchildren, Jay and Stacy Callaway, attended the National Pennell and Royal reunion at Lake Cisco from Friday through Sunday. Mrs. Pennell brought home two blue ribbons, five red ribbons and one white ribbon. She won these ribbons on exhibits of vanilla wafer cake, cream peas, blackeye peas, cherry and peach jelly, beet pickles and decorative molded plastic grapes. Jerry Pennell of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Ards Long of Post also attended. States represented were North Carolina, Florida, California, Illinois, Louisiana, Arizona, New Mexico, Washington and Texas. Excitement during the reunion was the killing of two copperhead snakes, one broken arm received by a boy who fell from a tree and an injury to a lady who fell on the rocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Austin and family of Orange visited Mr. and Mrs. James Mason last week. They visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Austin, in Slaton. The Austins are annual visitors of the Masons.

E. L. Anderson suffered a heart attack last week and is a patient at Mercy Hospital. Mrs. Anderson had been on the sick list for several days before Mr. Anderson's attack, and then they received word that their son in Lubbock received several broken ribs and other injuries in a car wreck. As the old saying goes: "When it rains, it pours." May God be with this family in their troubles.

There was a great deal of excitement at the Edmund Wilke's last Friday evening when a fire broke out in a stack of cedar posts that were stacked next to some buildings. After Edmund and Darrell worked for awhile trying to put it out, the Slaton Fire Department was called. We would like to commend the department on their prompt action because without their quick arrival, the fire could really have gotten out of hand—possibly burning several buildings and farming equipment. I like excitement, not not this kind!

Mrs. Nellie Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hodges and two children of the DeJoy Odems attended the Mathis reunion at Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock Sunday.

Mrs. Elsie Pierson and children of Amarillo are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Allbright. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stolle and Beck visited in Sweetwater during the weekend. Little Beth was on the sick list last week running fever several days before breaking out with the three-day measles. She is doing just fine now.

WE WOULD like to extend our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Townsend (Barbara Mock) on the birth of a son who arrived

July 14 weighing 6 lbs., 2 ozs. The proud grandfather is Robert Mock and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ward are the proud great-grandparents.

Alm want to extend our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wartes of Fort Worth on the birth of a daughter, Wendi Michelle, born July 17, at 12:23 a. m., weighing 5 1/2 lbs., and measuring 17 inches.

Our deepest sympathy goes to Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor whose father, Basil Nelson Billingsley, 95, passed away a week ago Tuesday at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. His funeral was held in Sanders Funeral Home Memorial Chapel on Wednesday with Blanton Martin and the Rev. R. W. Harris officiating. Graveside services were also conducted in Englewood Cemetery in Slaton. Mr. Billingsley was also the brother-in-law of Mrs. Alice Martin. May God comfort this family in their loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker are home after a trip to Center, Colo., where they visited their daughter and family, the Floyd Forresters. Also visiting the Forresters were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blithe of Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker and family of Brownfield. Everyone enjoyed the camp-out in the mountains and visiting places of interest at Pagosa Springs and Wolf Creek Pass and many other places.

Kenneth Callaway injured his back while at work last week and was in Garza Memorial Hospital until Monday. We hope all goes well and that you will be up and around before too much longer, Kenneth.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wayne Perry who were united in marriage July 20 at the First Baptist Church in Plainview. Mrs. Perry is the former Margaret Suzanne Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Martin of Littlefield, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Alice Martin Suzanne and her family used to live in this community. May God bless this young couple.

MR. AND MRS. R. M. McMinn visited Edmund and Yours Truly Sunday night.

Darrell and Sherri Wilke, Gayle Neugebauer, Larry Becker, Gary Dillard and Kathy Walter attended a Luther League meeting and party in Lamesa Sunday. Other towns represented were Wilson, Lubbock, Odessa, Mildand and Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. George Long and two grandchildren of Snyder, Okla., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long last week. Included in their activities was a visit to Mackenzie State Park and White River Lake. The two Mr. Longs are brothers.

The Bob Drees family visited several days last week in Lovington, N. M. with the V. O. Bowdens.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cisneros' daughter, Mary, is staying with them while recuperating from serious injuries which necessitated surgery twice. She was in very serious condition but is doing nicely now. Mary has four children.

MR. AND MRS. Ben Cardenas and children have moved to the Grady Haliburton farm near Slaton. Ben and his son were involved last week in a bad incident when they were forced to drive a convict and deputy sheriff to Snyder. Mr. Cardenas' car quit running before they got to Snyder and the deputy sheriff escaped after being seriously injured by the convict. Later the convict left, leaving Ben and his son unharmed in the car. This is one experience that they won't forget for a long time to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wilke and Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson of Lubbock spent Friday night and Saturday at White River Lake fishing and skiing.

Karen Melcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Melcher, is enrolled in the second semester at Texas Tech. Mrs. James Mason and Mickey are also attending the summer session.

Mrs. Eva Trimble, mother of Mrs. Tuna Basinger, has returned to her home after spending quite some time at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Marilyn Basinger has returned to her home in Mercedes after spending two weeks with her

RECEIVES PROMOTION

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Warren of West, Tex., have received word that their son, C. L. Warren Jr., has been promoted to the rank of Marine Lance Corporal at Camp Henderson on Okinawa where he has been stationed for the past six weeks, serving with the 9th Amphibious Brigade. The promotion was based on time in service, military appearance and knowledge of selected military subjects. The Marine is married to the former Miss Janice Swint of Lubbock.

ON DEAN'S LIST
LEVELLAND — Jimmie Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bartlett of Post, has been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester at South Plains College. Academic Dean Nathan Tubb said Jimmie had a 3.13 grade average and was attending the college on a part-time golf scholarship.

OUR YOUNG PEOPLE
Dear Editor:
With all the things being said about our youth of today and what our young people are coming to, I thought the people of Post would like to know some things I found about a few of our young people.

I have just returned from a two weeks' stay in John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, and my most faithful visitor was Elisabeth Tubbs. Everyone that knew or had heard of her, had nothing but the highest praise for her. I didn't get to see her brother, Spike, or to meet his new wife, but it was the same way with them. These three are well known and liked there at the hospital.

And there was Butch Wilson, who graduated in June and has gone on to another place.
The field of medicine is not the only place these young people are working. There are the teachers, as the Misses C's; the servicemen, as a lot of our boys are, or just oil field work, as mine does.
I'm sure that everyone can name two or three to the list. If we stand behind them and give them the praise they have earned, we can hold our heads up and say "This is the youth of Post we have raised and in whom we are proud."
