

Hospital solution search continues

Operation direct liability of county, official says

Garza Memorial Hospital is a direct liability of the county, just like its courthouse operations, and must be operated out of the general fund.

That's what the state attorney-general's office told the Garza County Commissioners Court and other members of a local delegation on a fact-finding expedition in Austin Tuesday afternoon.

The delegation included County Judge J. E. Parker, the four county commissioners, County Attorney Preston Peole, Arnold Sanderson and Harold Lucas, members of the citizens' fact-finding committee, A.

C. Cash, a member of the hospital trustees, and J. B. Potts, president of the First National Bank.

The judge, commissioners and county attorney made the trip to the state capital by car Tuesday morning and returned Wednesday to Post. Other members flew down and back to Austin in a chartered plane off the new city-county airport here to attend the meeting in the attorney-general's office.

Members of the delegation reported to The Dispatch that the group also was told that:

Under state law, the county has no authority to close Garza Memorial Hospital.

The hospital can't be cut off from the general fund monies.

There is no state law on the books which would permit the court to issue emergency time warrants to pay off the county's general fund deficit of $85,000 as Post school trustees did almost three years ago to secure funds for school operation when an unexpected fund shortage developed. (School trustees got a special legislative enactment enabling them to handle their financing in such a manner.)

Improvements on the hospital, of which some $20,000 are now outstanding, should be paid for from the county's permanent improvement fund, just like a courthouse improvement.

Your hospital financing one is "minor" compared to those in some counties in Texas which have county hospitals, the delegation also was told.

Every county in the state which has a county hospital has a financial problem, the group was told. A lot of them are a whole lot worse off than you are in Garza County.

"Go home and work it out" was the advice from the attorney-general's staff member who met with

Citizens' group study on hospital and county set

The citizens committee's study of county and hospital operations will get under way shortly.

The five-man committee is expected to schedule an immediate meeting to study what recommendations it can make to cut expenditures.

The committee has asked the commissioners' court for the 1967 and 1968 county budgets and an inventory of the county's precinct road equipment.

There has been some talk of engaging the committee to draw more money to make a more thorough study of the county's entire operations. No decision has been made on this.

The committee now consists of Arnold Sanderson, Harold Lucas, Carl Chapman, Bob Collier, and County Commissioner Ted Aten.

The committee would have met earlier, but one member was not available until today for such a meeting, Lucas told The Dispatch.

One-car accident

Andrew Sanchez dies in auto wreck near Post

Andrew Sanchez, 22, of Lubbock came the second 1967 Garza County highway fatality about 6:30 p. m. Tuesday when his car overturned in a one-vehicle wreck, 7.9 miles northwest of Post on US-84. Sanchez was en route here for his shift job at the Postex Mills.

A former resident of Post, Sanchez also had been employed part-time at The Dairy Hart and had worked at the local drive-in the previous night before returning to his home in Lubbock.

State Highway Patrolmen Henry Harden and Jon Robbins, who investigated the accident, said Sanchez apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

They told The Dispatch the car swerved off the highway and then returned to the pavement in a skid and overturned twice. Sanchez was thrown from his 1966 Ford Falcon Futura and apparently was instantly killed with a broken neck.

Sanchez has lived in Lubbock for the last 18 months. His home was at 1808 Avenue U.

Survivors include his wife, Jo Ann, of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. Adela Martinez of Post; six sisters, Mrs. Lucy Krebs of Wolfforth, and Misses Jane Sanchez, Mary Alice Sanchez, Carmen Brando, Eva Carranza and Cindy Carranza, all of Post.

Funeral arrangements are pending. The Henderson Funeral Home of Lubbock is in charge.

Dr. S. M. Kennedy tech official in challenging talk

Dr. S. M. Kennedy, vice president for academic affairs at Texas Tech, gave a challenging address titled "What is Education?" at Rotary Club's annual Teachers' Convention dinner in City Hall Tuesday night.

Speaking before an estimated 100 teachers, their wives or husbands, school administrators, Rotarians and their wives, Dr. Kennedy defined education as "the re-education of the past and the hope of the future."

"I expect the teacher to be a teacher. Teachers stay current and be relevant to the students they teach from things in the 21st century."

He said, "have the expectation that the teacher will be a teacher. Teachers stay current and be relevant to the students they teach from things in the 21st century."

Dr. Kennedy said that in the future, teachers must stay current. (See Postex, page 8)

Post Green Beret goes to Okinawa

SFC Sammy Martin, Post's only member of the Green Berets, left for a tour of duty on Okinawa Monday after a 45-day leave in Post with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Martin, after serving in Vietnam for a year.

Sgt. Martin is in radio and communications with the special forces and has been in the Army for eight years. He expects to be in Okinawa from a year and a half to two years.

Saturday night Close City marker to be dedicated

The program was being completed this week for the dedication Saturday night, Sept. 16, of the Texas Historical Marker at Close City commemorating "C. W. Post Dry Land Farming."

Speakers will include Frank "Chief" Runkles, camp ranger at the Boy Scout camp, and Syd Conner, county agricultural agent. Runkles' talk will describe the

The Post Dispatch

Forty-First Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, September 14, 1967 Number 16

The "hospital situation" still rates a "confusing" label today—but shouldn't for long.

The hospital is open and trustees are determined to try to keep it that way.

The commissioners' court has received clarification from the attorney-general's office on all legal aspects of the case.

In another week or two, we should be able to know more about where we go from here.

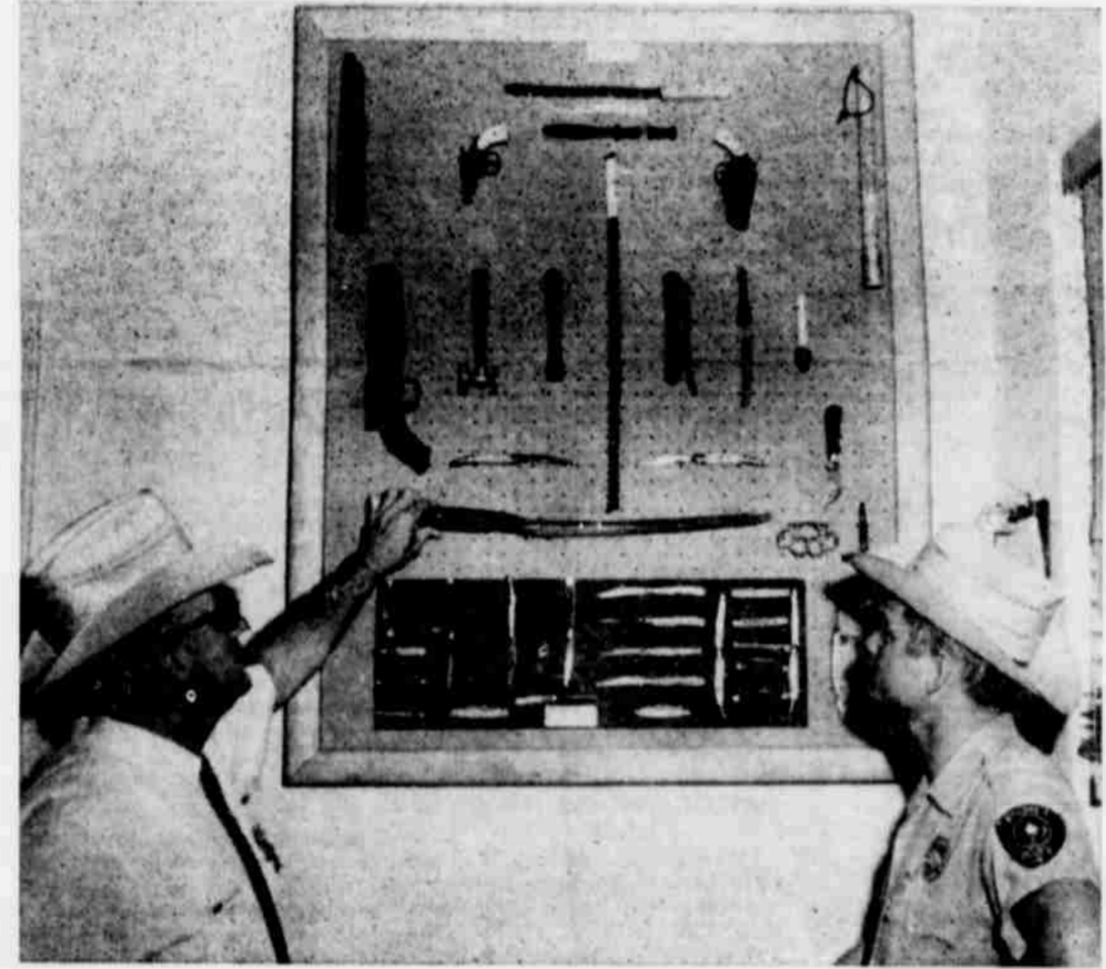

If it is any consolation, we have been here before, and still kept going. And there is the "encouragement" from Austin too that our problem is "minor" compared to the financial woes of many county hospitals over the state. For instance, the city-county hospital in Austin is about to "break" the capital city right now.

The first need here appears to be for everybody to get together on the problem. The "getting-together" will come next because under present state law, the hospital is the general fund's obligation just as much as the courthouse. It's time to close the door on our past squabbling over what to do and how to do it, and get on with it.

After all, the county is out of debt from a bond standpoint and our problem is only "minor" compared to a lot of other county hospital situations.

We got the football "chills" for a minute Saturday morning, during our trip to Houston and San Antonio, when we picked up the morning sport pages and carefully went down the state's high school football scores. The line score for the Denver City-Brownfield game read: Denver City 113, Brownfield 6.

Then we stopped and thought a moment. The Mustangs are supposed to be on the way back with the "biggest team" in the school's history, but they are not that all. (See Postings, Page 8)

FOUR-HOUR RAIN HELPS FEED CROP

A four-hour thunderstorm, complete with plenty of lightning and constant thunder, deposited an official 1.32 inches of moisture on Post this morning gave Garza County's big feed crop a welcome boost.

At presstime this morning, it was too early for moisture reports from the country, but the rainfall appeared to be general, moving into this area from Tahoka, which got over an inch by 1:30 a. m.

Rain gauges over town measured from the 1.32 official—the low-up to 2 full inches in some backyards, with others registering at 1.60, and 1.80 at the First National Bank.

The storm began at 2:30 and lasted until 6:30. It was the rain the feed crop had been badly needing for the last three weeks.

Lions Club hears talk by Jaycees' president

Ronnie Morris, president of the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the Jaycee organization at Tuesday night's Lions Club meeting.

Morris briefly traced the history of the international organization, telling of its objectives and also of the local club and its community projects.

The Lions also discussed the club's annual pancake supper to be held in October.

Deadly weapons on display here

Enough illegal weapons to outfit a fair-sized band of rioters are on display at the city police station here as testimony to the death-dealing devices city policemen have to face in enforcing law and order.

The weapons, all taken from prisoners here in recent weeks, are displayed on a big peg-board at the police station.

The display includes bicycle chains equipped with handles, pistols, a sawed-off 22 caliber rifle, brass knuckles, clubs, and all kinds of knives, many of them switch-blades.

Most of the weapons have been taken from prisoners after having been used in fights. A punch-type can opener fitted to a wooden handle was used by one woman to inflict a gash over another woman's eye that required eight stitches to close.

One of the knives on the peg-board inflicted a gash on a victim that took 27 stitches.

A commando-type knife displayed on the board was taken from an Abilene youth who several weeks ago smashed up a number of cars on Main Street here as he recklessly drove through town.

The sawed-off .22 rifle was taken from a man who used it to "shoot up" two automobiles here.

Sanderson named stock show head

Arnold Sanderson was elected president of the Garza County Junior Livestock Association to succeed H. J. Irons at a meeting last Thursday night.

Also elected were other new officers and directors, as follows: Jerry Thuet, first vice president; Irons, second vice president; Mack Terry, secretary; Fred Myers, treasurer, and Malcolm Bull,

Administrator resigns at meeting of board

Garza Memorial Hospital remained open this week despite its financial difficulties as the Garza County Commissioners Court and others conferred in Austin Tuesday afternoon with a member of the attorney-general's staff involved with its financial operations.

In other developments: Hospital Administrator W. C. Stivers submitted his resignation effective Oct. 1.

Hospital trustees named Mrs. Marilyn Miller, supervisor of nurses, to succeed Stivers as acting administrator until the first of the year. She accepted the assignment.

The county commissioners court issued a lengthy statement in which it said the present $85,000 indebtedness can be retired in four years without a tax increase, providing tax evaluations of the county do not decrease.

The statement also said that "with the doctor situation as it is and has been for several years it is our opinion it would be senseless to undertake full operation of the hospital."

The statement added that "if the hospital can be kept open within our means — and that seems to be the opinion of most of our people — we can endeavor to operate it."

Hospital trustees issued a brief statement too at the conclusion of their September meeting last Thursday night at the hospital, saying:

"With the majority support of the voting public, the hospital will stay open. The entire hospital staff, doctors on medical staff and hospital board believe this hospital is an integral part of the county and merits the support it will take to continue its operations."

Hospital trustees will meet tonight at 7:30 p. m. to make plans for holding down expenses in an effort to continue operations.

The court voted two weeks ago that no more money is available in the general fund for the hospital's tax subsidization.

At their meeting last Thursday night, trustees assured Mrs. Miller that the nurses will be paid their salaries, after being told by Mrs. Miller that the nurses were "at loose ends about their salaries and about reports that there would be a reduction in the number of nurses and nurses' aides."

Stivers told the board that Monday. (See Administrator, page 8)

Commissioners issue statement on situation

The statement issued by the Garza County Commissioners Court to The Dispatch Monday afternoon and signed by County Judge J. E. Parker is as follows:

"1951: No hospital operating fund. There was a hospital sinking fund with a supporting tax of 12 cents out of the constitutional 80 cents.

"1952: The hospital opened in August. There were no funds for the operation. No hospital operating fund was established. There was $20,050 used from the general fund for this purpose. An additional $7,255.12 was used out of the permanent improvement fund.

"1953: There was an election held for the purpose of re-allocating funds. A 15 cent special road and bridge tax was asked to supplement a 15 cent road and bridge tax that was to be used for retiring the hospital bonded indebtedness. (See Commissioners, page 8)

For fourth time

Council again puts off gas rate hike action

For the fourth time Tuesday, the Post city council failed to take action on Pioneer Natural Gas Co.'s request for an 11 1/2 per cent gas rate hike.

The council voted at a special meeting to again table the request to await further developments after being told by C. E. "Stoney" Wall, president of the company, that 37 of the 55 cities and towns in the system have approved the request and five have turned it down.

The vote here went into the minutes as three for tabling the rate hike application and two against tabling, although there was no "against" vote called for. Councilmen Bob Collier, Lewis C. Heron and Robert Cox raised their hands when Mayor John Hopkins called the request be tabled.

There was the same voting procedure on an earlier motion by Councilman D. C. "Billy" Hill that the request be turned down. When the mayor called for a vote, Hill and Councilman Arnold Parrish, who had seconded the motion, voted in favor of rejecting the request, but a show of hands on those against rejecting it was not called for. This vote went into the minutes as two for and three against.

Wall told the council that appeal of the disputed gas rate increase is being prepared for filing with the Texas Railroad Commission next week.

Wall said, however, that he doubted if it would "come to an appeal."

If the appeal is filed, it will name the cities which have denied the increase proposal and also those cities which have not taken any action, which is the case with Post.

All the cities named in the appeal would be required to share whatever costs are incurred in depreciation surveys and other costs accruing from appealing the case, Wall told the council.

"If we table it, we won't have as far to back up as if we reject it," Councilman Collier said in making his motion that the proposal be tabled.

Councilman Hill and Parrish in arguing that the request should either be granted or rejected said they thought the council had put off action on it long enough.

Aerial spraying into fourth year

Aerial spraying in the fourth year of the boll weevil control program got underway just below the Caprock last week in Garza County.

Spray planes in this area are operating off the new Post - Garza County Municipal Airport.

Spraying began in the Kalgary area last Wednesday, according to County Agent Syd Conner, with the spray planes working their way south.

The first two sprayings are scheduled to be five days apart followed by sprayings with 10 to 14 day intervals until frost.

$90,000 damage suit filed here

A $90,000 damage suit was filed in Garza County district court here last Thursday by Joyce Briggs of Lubbock against Bill Pool and Scott - Pool, Inc., as a result of an auto accident March 24, 1967, on US-84 northwest of Post in Garza County.

She alleges that Pool was driving a Scott - Pool car when it collided with her automobile.

The plaintiff further alleges that she was so injured in the accident as to cause loss of earnings, past and future, as well as physical pain, suffering, past and future medical bills to the amount of $90,000.

Six years enough for any governor

Gov. John Connally, home from his African big game hunting trip for TV, is reported planning to check over the state to see if folks want him to run for a fourth term as governor.

The Dispatch doesn't. For the simple reason that it is not in the best interests of the state to have a man get a stranglehold on the governor's office.

This newspaper has supported Governor Connally for his first three terms. We have liked his gumption in running on a platform to improve the higher education system of Texas, although the increased tax angle of such a program can never be very popular. In our opinion, he has been a good governor.

But we have the feeling that if John can't do his best for Texas in six years—and still needs more time to accomplish his program—then he is not the man for the job.

It is no political secret anywhere that the longer a man serves in office, the harder he is to dislodge.

We think six years is enough for anybody to run the show in Austin.

We think Texas will be better served by cutting the Connally tow lines from the Longhorn ship of state and letting it sail free again. There is something mighty dangerous to the people when it's time to go and a leader can't turn loose.

When it is hard to walk from the seat of power, then somebody must give a shove. Governor John must be encouraged to step aside and make a graceful exit.

This is not saying that The Dispatch already has its 1968 gubernatorial candidate in mind. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith longs for the assignment and has served in the lesser seats of power for a long apprenticeship.

But we will wait to see what constructive program he proposes for Texas and what other candidates may step forward with programs before making up our minds.

We do not subscribe, however, to the proposition that Texas should keep Governor Connally until a proven better man comes along. John has had six years as governor.

And that is enough.—JC

'Computer age' comes to politics

Politics is entering the "computer age." Its debut is being made this year in South Carolina where voter registration, long subject to human frailties such as multiple registration of the same voter, has been removed from the hands of corruptible men and placed within the memory core of one centralized and highly impersonal computer.

South Carolina voters began the process of re-registering last week. This time, however, because of a law passed by the 1967 General Assembly, voter registration cards are not being entered in the huge precinct poll books in the state's 46 counties. Instead they are being sent where the information will be stored in the computer.

Whenever an election is held, the computer will furnish an accurate polling list for each precinct in the state, according to that state's newly appointed deputy secretary of state for elections, who will administer the new system.

In addition the South Carolina Bureau of Vital Statistics will furnish daily the names of persons who have died and these will be purged from the voting rolls.

Even the key-punch operations in this new system are unusual. Convicts from the state department of corrections who are scheduled for release soon have been trained as key-punch technicians. They will get experience and at the same time save South Carolina between $150,000 and $200,000 in initial salaries.

In addition to the use of vital statistics data, information will be solicited from private utilities in an effort to purge names of individuals who have moved out of the precinct or out of the state.

Although the system has just gone into operation—the first of its kind in the United States—other states already are taking interest and are looking over the South Carolina program.

The practical results should be very interesting to all of us.

How to prevent "somebody" from controlling that all-important computer is the No. 1 political question.

We can hear those South Carolina politicians now in full cry in that state's next election. They will thirst for control of that computer and raise all kinds of political stink about those who are now "in" and the "advantage" they may be taking of it.

We can hardly wait for the first political "computer scandal" of this nation's history to break forth in imagination, at least, if not in reality.—JC

There's still time to be a winner

The young and inexperienced Post Antelopes didn't get off to much of a start in their season opener at Hale Center, but there are eight more games to go.

We want never one for giving up on a high school football team, and certainly not after only one game of a nine-game schedule has been played.

We share with dozens of other fans the belief that we are two seasons away from another winning football team, since the backbone of this year's squad is mainly made up of sophomores.

There's time yet, however, for a winning season even this year, and we're not going to give up on the chances of one until the Antelopes have lost five of their nine games.

In the meantime, we believe in giving the Antelope team our support, for they're going to be the times representing Post again next year and the year after that.

The fans' support will help the coaches and the players make of this season a more successful one than it would be without that support.

Let's all turn out for Friday night's home opener against Lockney and for all the rest of the Antelopes' games this season.—CD

WHAT HAS happened to our Indian Summer? Someone said this cool weather portends an early and severe winter, and several weeks ago a number of people who stay awake all hours of the night reported to The Dispatch that they had heard flocks of geese flying over eaded south. Every time I think of geese flying south, however, I think of that old expression, over headed south. Every time I if you can put much store in them as weather prophets.

Our cat Blackie doesn't report having seen or heard any south-bound geese, but he furnishes us the above picture as proof that he has seen an unidentified flying object. Personally, I think Blackie has watched too many episodes of "The Invaders" on TV.

THE FELLOW up the street says by the time a man is old enough to watch his step, he is too old to go anywhere.

I am disappointed that no one entered my desk in the Publishers' Auxiliary's "Cluttered Desk" contest. After seeing a picture of the desk that won first prize, I don't think I could have topped it, but I do believe I could have won one of the consolation prizes.

THE DESK OF Kermit Salver, editor and publisher of twin weekly newspapers in Rocky Mount, Va., was first place winner in the Cluttered Desk contest. His desk was topped with two baskets of strawberries and a roll of toilet tissue.

The first runner-up in the contest was Larry Stone, editor of the Times-Argus at Central City, Ky. He says it's a lie about him losing his typewriter on his desk, but he admits that he did lose the telephone. His desk has been condemned by the fire department as a fire hazard and by the health department as a health menace. The Business and Professional Woman's Club wants to start every clean-up drive with his desk.

THE SECOND runner-up in the contest was the "catch-all" roll-top desk of Wayne Winters, editor of the Tombstone (Ariz.) Epitaph, which contains such items as a dictionary, telephone, mailing labels, blasting caps, and mague of mug shots of politicians.

There was a time, not long ago, when my desk would have been a shoe-in for first prize in the Cluttered Desk contest, but that was before someone hit upon the happy idea of building a 10-foot long table to catch some of the things that slide off the desk. If everything on that table was back on top of my desk, I'd have a prize winner.

THERE'S ALSO been a time when there have been people on top of my desk. Before anyone gets the wrong idea, I'll explain that has been when one of the trays on the corner of my desk has given way under the weight of someone leaning on it. That has happened a number of times, and sometimes it helps me get my desk cleaned off in a hurry—with everything falling off on the floor and then winding up on the auxiliary table, so I can start piling new things on my desk.

But I'm thankful someone finally is giving recognition to us poor souls who suffer from chronic clutteritis. Incidentally, I'm going to save the picture of the desk that won first prize in the contest and show it to everyone who asks me. "How do you ever find anything on that desk?" The picture is still somewhere on my desk. I think.

After 100 years, price paid by U. S. for Alaska seems bargain

When the United States bought Alaska from Russia 100 years ago, some people thought the price of $7.2 million was too high.

The original purchase was almost matched in the summer of 1966, when oilmen paid more than $7 million for leases on 134,000 acres of Alaskan land. Meanwhile, companies report that it costs from $10 to $15 million to install some of the permanent offshore drilling and production platforms in Alaska's Cook Inlet.

In 1867 the U. S. paid the Russians a little less than two cents an acre. The 1966 oil lease sales brought in an average of $52.54 an acre. This was the state's 16th lease sale, and far from the largest.

Alaska's first commercial oil field was discovered in 1957. The total investment in searching for and developing oil and gas in that state is estimated by the Western Oil and Gas Association at $40 million, and the gross value of oil and gas sold thus far at only $10 million.

During 1966, oil companies spent more than $229 million in Alaska. If the present rate continues, total investment soon will exceed $1 billion.

Alaska's state government has received more than $140 million in direct income from oil and gas operations, including $18 million in 1966.

Of special importance to the state's economy is a substantial increase in year-round employment.

Although Alaska is believed to have large undiscovered petroleum reserves, oilmen predict it will be years before income catches up with the heavy expenses involved

RECORDS of NOTE

Gray to exhibit horse at Fair

OKLAHOMA CITY—Oscar Gray of Post, Tex., has entered a paint horse in the horse show of the 1967 State Fair of Oklahoma.

The annual state exposition in Oklahoma City is expected to attract a record number of exhibits and visitors during its nine-day run, Sept. 23 through Oct. 1.

Expanding again, the State Fair will open a giant new exhibit building at the 1967 exposition. Returning this year will be a colorful new Ice Capades show, and the Fair's championship RCA Rodeo. A new grandstand program includes national motorcycle races, two Grand Ole Opry shows with Ernest Tubb, and the return of IMCA racing for the first time in four years.

Parachuting is sport to 250,000 Americans

NEW YORK — There are at least 25,000 sport parachutists in the United States. Each makes about 10 jumps a year.

Most fatalities in skydiving and chuting occur during the participant's first 10 jumps, while he is still inexperienced in following safety rules. In the past five years 15 persons have been killed on their first jump.

1968 CHEVROLET TRUCKS ON DISPLAY

A wider selection of V8 power, more colorful and comfortable interiors, and additional safety items as standard equipment are offered in the new 1968 Chevrolet truck line now on display at Hickman Chevrolet-Olds.

Marine finishes mechanic course

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (FHTNC) — Marine Pfc. Johnny M. McKinzie, son of Mrs. Daisie L. McKinzie of 415 South Ave. M., Post, Tex has completed the Automotive Mechanic Course at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Through lectures, demonstrations, and practical application, he learned about combustion, lubrication and the electrical, power and power transmission systems, as well as the chassis and body.

He also learned the operation, maintenance and repair of both light and heavy duty vehicles.

New 1968 Chevrolet pickups are featuring more powerful engines

Inside New 1968 Chevys 2-24 — Designed to meet current trends, the 1968 Chevrolet truck line features continued functional styling, more powerful V8 engines, more attractive cab interiors, a redesigned city delivery series, a wider variety of optional equipment, and a long list of other improvements.

The new 1968 pickups now are on display at Hickman Chevrolet-Olds.

The clean angular styling is continued on light-duty conventional cab models, with new paint treatment to give a more massive effect to the front end. Rear visibility is improved with a standard rear window nearly twice as large as in previous models and one of the largest in the industry. The forward line-of-sight visibility to the road directly ahead of the front wheels also is among the best in the field.

New standard equipment features of the 1968 truck line include extension of backup lights to all light- and medium-duty cab models, nylon cord tires on all but 1/2-ton models and Chevy-Vans and Sport-Vans; side marker lamps or reflectors, clearance and identification lights on all conventional models over 80 inches wide, and exhaust emission control systems on gasoline engines used in 1/2-ton and dual-purpose models.

Included among interesting new options are a dual-master cylinder self-adjusting brake system for the medium-duty line; a full line of wide-base nylon cord tires for light-duty models; rear leaf springs for 1/2- and 3/4-ton light-duty conventional models, and a wider choice of engines, transmissions, and axles.

Conventional cab models feature many significant improvements for 1968. They include as standard equipment such items as rounded edge window cranks, dual padded sunshades, yielding shank window control handles, deflecting door lock remote handles, pushbutton seat belt buckles, larger low profile control knobs, and recessed ignition switch and cigar lighter. Anti-skid strips are used on door sill plates of panels and Carryalls.

Interiors are brighter and more attractive, with high gloss paint, satin finished chrome horn button, two-tone paint treatment, new seat trims with welded seams, and many other improvements. Seating comfort and leg room both are improved through modifications to the seat.

Couple leaves for home after visit

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Lee Crider of Washington, D. C., and Alexandria, Va., this week are concluding a two weeks' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crider, and his sisters and families, Mrs. James Doggett, Mrs. Opal Condron of Irving and Mrs. Hugh Blevins of Lubbock, and his grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Crider of Post.

The visitors were to leave today (Thursday) on the return flight to Washington.

They have been guests at a number of barbecues and cookouts while visiting here.

Mrs. Crider was formerly a merchandise manager for Best & Co., an exclusive apparel shop of New York City and Washington.

Crider was market manager for Piggly Wiggly before entering the Marine Corps in 1945. As a lieutenant and an 18-year member of the 1,400-member fire department in Washington, D. C., Crider is following in the footsteps of his father, Walter Crider, who served as a volunteer fireman here for 32 years.

The Washington, D. C., Crider says he reads every word in each issue of The Post Dispatch and enjoys keeping up with the home town news.

Program scheduled on 'Home Furnishings'

Mrs. Juanette Gentry, county home demonstration agent, has announced that a county-wide program on "Home Furnishings" will be presented at the 4-H building at 2 o'clock in the afternoon

Thursday, Sept. 28. The home economists committee is sponsoring the coming event.

Mrs. Ann Parsons of Lubbock, an interior decorator, will present the program.

All the women of the county are cordially invited to attend.

Art Guild hears Festival report

Mrs. Glenda Morrow was hostess to the Post Art Guild Monday night at the Reddy Room at 8 o'clock.

Five members gave reports during the business session on the annual fall art festival at the Municipal Garden and Arts Center in Lubbock last Saturday. The club again has arranged for one of two winners in circuit shows to display paintings again in Post in 1968. The club sponsored the recent display at the First National Bank.

Mrs. Barbara McKeown was welcomed as a new club member. An interesting program on "Printing Techniques in Blocking and Silk Screening" was presented by Mrs. Pauline Warren. Mrs. Warren traced the skill from B. C. until the present time.

Each member displayed a sketch or painting of Planter's Gin, which was a summer project. The hostess served coffee, nuts and cake to the following: Mmes. Gerald Butler, Eleanor Cooke, Mary Cross, Allie Martin, Evelyn Neff, Marie Neff, Boo Olson, Bertha Irons, McKeown and Warren.

The Texas Highway Department will celebrate 50 years of public service during National Highway Week, Sept. 24-30.

The home economists committee is sponsoring the coming event.

Mrs. Ann Parsons of Lubbock, an interior decorator, will present the program.

All the women of the county are cordially invited to attend.

Social Security program given at council meeting

Gerald Shantz, who is with the Social Security office in Lubbock, presented a program on Social Security benefits at the Home Demonstration Council meeting Sept. 6 in the Reddy Room at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Faye Payton announced that the Texas Home Demonstration association convention will be held in Fort Worth, Sept. 18-20. Council delegates are Mrs. J. o. h. Bland, Mrs. Noel White and Mrs. Lonnie Peel. Mrs. Mollie K. o. l. b. District 2 director, also plans to attend the THDA convention and the board meeting prior to the convention.

Mrs. Payton also reported that two $500 and one $125 4-H scholarships had been awarded to three students who will attend Texas Tech.

A special county-wide HD meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 26, at the Community Room at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Lois Great-house of Lynteger Electric presenting a program on "Refreshments."

The next regular council meeting will be held Oct. 4 with all members urged to attend to elect council officers for 1968. Attending the meeting were council chairman, Shirley Bland, Mollie Kolb, Oreta Bevers, Della Davis, Viva Davis, Jewel Long and Juanette Gentry.

The Texas Highway Department will celebrate 50 years of public service during National Highway Week, Sept. 24-30.

The home economists committee is sponsoring the coming event.

Mrs. Ann Parsons of Lubbock, an interior decorator, will present the program.

All the women of the county are cordially invited to attend.

Stewart-Cross double ring vows exchanged here Saturday night

First Christian Church was the scene of the double ring wedding of Miss Pamela Kay Stewart and Mr. Edsel Ray Cross Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Rev. Evans, minister of the church, read the vows before a background of candelabras and white mums, and baskets of white gladiolus and white mums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Melvin Stewart, Route 3, Lubbock. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Edsel Ray Cross and the late Edsel Cross.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of tulle with a high neckline and a full skirt. The gown was accented with a row of pearls and a row of white mums. The bride carried a bouquet of white mums and gladiolus.

The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. He carried a boutonniere of white mums and gladiolus.

The wedding was officiated by Rev. Evans. The ceremony was held in the sanctuary of the First Christian Church. The church was decorated with white mums and candelabras.

The bride's father, Mr. Melvin Stewart, officiated at the wedding. He read the vows and pronounced the couple man and wife.

The bride and groom were joined in marriage by Rev. Evans. The ceremony was held in the sanctuary of the First Christian Church.

The bride and groom were joined in marriage by Rev. Evans. The ceremony was held in the sanctuary of the First Christian Church.

semble with pink accessories. The bride wore an orange silk shantung jacket dress with sand lizard accessories and a white rose corsage for the wedding trip to San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross are at home at the Horn Apts. in San Angelo where he has re-enrolled in Angelo State College. Both graduated in 1965 from Post High School. The bride attended Lubbock Christian College for two years where she was a member of Theta Rho social club and a cheerleader for two years. She was employed at Postex Mills during the summer and Mr. Cross worked for George R. Brown.

Out-of-town wedding guests attended from Fort Worth, Brownfield, Lubbock, Snyder, Denver City, Tahoka, Plains, Sundown and San Angelo.

Duncan-Simpson wedding vows will be exchanged Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Duncan are announcing that their daughter, Beverly, will be married Saturday night to Ronald Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Simpson, former Post resident now living in Denton.

A garden wedding is planned and will take place at the Robert Cox residence, 111 North Ave. R, at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Duncan graduated from Post High School in 1966 and was a freshman at Texas Tech last year. Mr. Simpson, a 1965 PHS graduate, is a student at Tarleton State College at Stephenville. Miss Duncan plans to continue her education at mid-term at Tarleton.

Bride's father officiates at wedding here Thursday night

Byrd, minister of the 14th Church of Christ, officiated at the wedding of his daughter, Bill Lowe last Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the church.

Double ring vows were read at the altar, which was flanked with baskets of white gladiolus and candelabras featuring pink and burgundy bows. Gladiolus, fern and white wedding bells enhanced the rostrum.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Byrd are parents of the bride and Mrs. Jerome Lowe of Roberta, Ga., is mother of the bridegroom.

Presented in marriage by her brother, Delbert, the bride wore a street-length white strapless satin dress under a long-sleeved Chantilly lace jacket that buttoned in the front. The elbow-length veil of net was trimmed with matching lace and fell from a satin halo accented with a satin bow and a cascade arrangement of white feathered carnations.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

As the bride came down the aisle she presented her mother with a pink carnation and as she left the altar presented her mother-in-law with one.

Mrs. Estelle Boling of Lubbock, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her A-line dress was burgundy color and she carried a white gladiola crowned with pink feathered carnations.

Wayne Boling of Lubbock served his nephew as best man. George and Melvin Byrd, brothers of the bride, seated the guests. Misses Zelma Freeman and Helyn Cheshire were chaperones.

Miss Sue Harrison sang "Twelfth of Never" and "One Hand, One Heart."

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was laid in white lace over burgundy and centered with a pink candle arrangement. The three-tiered wedding cake featured a miniature bride and groom under an archway.

The couple left for Georgia with the bride wearing an olive green suit and black accessories. They will live in Americus where Mr. Lowe will be a sophomore at college. Mrs. Lowe plans to continue her studies there after attending Post High School.

Out-of-town guests attended from Midland, Lubbock, Snyder and Roberts, Ga.

MRS. BILL LOWE (Ann Byrd)

It there is anything I don't want to be it's a traveling saleswoman!

This decision was reached after a long, lonely trip by myself due to circumstances beyond the C's control.

Looking back I believe the last long drive I took by myself was long ago when Mr. C left from Camp Howse at Gainesville, Tex., to go overseas during World War II and I drove home to my native state of Kansas. I had to drive across the entire state of Oklahoma but I didn't drive as many miles as I did Monday in this big state of Texas.

I do believe truck drivers are more considerate of lone women drivers. Even a couple of Greyhound bus drivers pulled over for me while driving through some pretty hilly country on a narrow road. I was so amazed I almost forgot to pass in a hurry.

I noticed that people look at a woman rather peculiarly when she is traveling alone. Service station operators are rather quizzical and waitresses keep eyeing one at a coffee stop. They seem to be wondering if you are a widow, an old maid or just a strange woman who likes to take trips by herself.

Eventually one stops for the night at a motel and the clerk acts rather startled when you ask for a "single." Going into a motel by oneself is something else again—especially if a man is checking into the room next door at the same time and keeps looking at you. Now, I'm not exactly a scaredy cat, but I hated being in that room by myself. After turning on "all" the lights and pulling the drapes I turned on the TV as loud as I could just for the company of sound.

I took the fastest shower of my life, all the time thinking about the scene from "Psycho." You remember the scene where the girl was killed behind the shower curtain in the motel. Well, I was remembering it entirely too vividly.

I normally don't go around moving furniture in a motel but after realizing that there was a connecting door to the next room and I had the door that didn't lock I barricaded it with a chair and a bedside table. I've never paid particular attention to how dark a motel room gets before, but this one was what one could call pitch black. I solved this problem by leaving the bathroom light on, cracking the door a bit.

I was most happy to spring out of bed in the early morning hours and continue the last lap to Post.

I'm sure I heard the "Ode to Billy Joe" at least 15 times on the car radio but I still don't know all the words nor do I know what happened up on Choctaw Ridge.

I also heard a strange interview by a man and a doctor who had been the physician at San Quentin Prison in California. The physician was against capital punishment and wanted to give his reasons why. The interviewer was so bad that the doctor didn't have much of a chance. The interview ended up sounding as if it could have run on a society page when the interviewer got all wound up about the color motif of the prison due to the doctor calling the execution room the "Green Room."

Travel is wonderful — but only if it's not alone.

Recent bride is shower honoree

Mrs. Freddie Cockrell, the former Miss Linda Davis, was recently honored with a bridal shower at the Community Room between 5 and 7 o'clock.

Punch, nuts, mints and cookies were served from a table laid with white lace over pink. A pink and white rose centerpiece and pink satin streamers encribed with the couples' names completed the decor.

Hostesses, who alternated with hospitalities, were: Mmes. Ruth Pate, Ola Keeton, Joyce McGuire, Jewel Long, Lucille Nixon, Gracie Hodges, Ruth Hill, Ruby Nell Davis, Lola Knowles, Eva Britton, Betty Spinks, Louise Gordon, Velma Long, Juanita Henderson, Ila Mae Hodges, Zelma Moore and June Kiker.

First Christian Church scene of Landreth-McCowan wedding

Miss Patricia Ann Landreth and Donald Lynn McCowan were united in marriage Friday night at 8 o'clock at the First Christian Church with the pastor, the Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey, officiating at the reading of the double ring vows. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Nuel R. Landreth of Post and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McCowan of Route 2, Snyder.

MRS. DONALD LYNN MCCOWEN (Patricia Ann Landreth)

Double ring ceremony unites Marla Carpenter, Mr. McAfee

Miss Marla Carpenter and J. D. (Joe) McAfee of Alpine were married in a double ring ceremony in the home of the bride's mother at 4 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 7.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. N. D. Browning of Post and Ralph Carpenter of Odessa. Parents of the bridegroom are Jesse B. McAfee of Alpine and Mrs. Doris Jackson of Andrews.

The vows were read by the Rev. Jimmy McGuire, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church.

Miss Connie McWhorter of Post attended the bride as maid of honor. N. D. Browning, the bride's stepfather, was best man.

The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were used in decorations throughout the home.

Her street-length sleeveless dress was of white eyelet embroidery, featuring a low ruffle entwined with pink velvet ribbon and a scalloped neckline. A pink velvet ribbon with a drop tiara was the bride's headpiece. She carried out the traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue."

A reception followed the wedding, with Mrs. Bob Carpenter, sister-in-law of the bride, serving pink punch and wedding cookies.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Alpine High School and is attending Sul Ross College working toward his doctor's degree. He and his father are in business at Alpine. The bride attended the Post schools.

Following a wedding trip to Davis Mountain State Park, the couple will reside on Santa Fe Lane in Alpine.

AT SCHOOL IN DENVER

Paul Harmon, Steve Stone, Dennis Bush and Michael Horton are attending the National Electronics Institute at Denver, Colo. The four boys, who graduated from high school in the spring, were taken to Denver by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harmon.

Invitation Extended

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Duncan extend a cordial invitation to friends and relatives to attend the wedding of their daughter, Beverly, to Ronald Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Simpson of Denton, at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, Saturday, Sept. 16.

The wedding will take place in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, 111 North Avenue R.

Post Music Club opens new year at brunch event

The Post Music Club, a member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, opened its new club year with an annual brunch last Saturday at Floyd's Steak House.

Hymn-of-the-month, "Holy, Holy, Holy," was sung by club members, followed by the club collect, which was sung by the club trio composed of Mmes. Leo Stiewert, Ed Saunders and Bo Jackson.

Club president, Mrs. Bill Pool, welcomed a guest, Mrs. Don Lamb; the guest speaker, the Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey, and two new members, Miss Melvita Floyd and Mr. George Miller.

A committee was appointed to work on the Community Center project and a cake sale was planned for this coming Saturday morning at Bob Collier Drug.

Rev. Mr. Ramsey gave a talk on "Esprit de Corps."

Miss Boo Olson closed the meeting with a preview of programs to be presented during the year. Course of study will be "The Joy of Music" and the theme "Music for Everyone."

Other members present were: Mmes. Willard Kirkpatrick, John Bonn, H. J. Dietrich, Tillman Jones, K. W. Kirkpatrick, R. L. Moore, Glenn Norman, Don Pennington, Jim Poer, Bill Shiver, Ray N. Smith, Jerry Thuett and Harley Turbyfill.

Calvary Baptist WMU rallies with Mrs. Teaff

The Women's Missionary Union of the Calvary Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Will Teaff recently.

A social hour was enjoyed following a brief business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Pearl Polk.

Homemade ice cream and cake were served to the following: Mmes. Lola Knowles, Eunice Porter, Mattie Hays, Marvel Pearson, Lorene Gordon, Geraldine Feagin, Jane Redman, June Dozier, Dortha Jackson, Modean Pettit, Opal Rudd, Pearl Polk, and Christine Smith, Inez Smith, Donna Rudd and Debra Redman.

The newlyweds are at home at 300 West 27th, Odessa, where Mrs. McCowan plans to attend Columbia Business College. Mr. McCowan is employed by Vinson Supply Co. Both attended Texas State University for one year.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

A JET ENGINE

IN 1942, AMERICA'S FIRST JET, THE P-59, FLEW 450 MPH. TODAY, JET AIRCRAFT CAN FLY AT 2000 MPH...THREE TIMES THE SPEED OF SOUND

A JET ENGINE WORKS ON THE SAME PRINCIPLE AS AIR ESCAPING FROM A TOY BALLOON. THE ESCAPING AIR CAUSES AN EQUAL REACTION IN THE OPPOSITE DIRECTION. THIS IS THE "PUSH" THAT THRUSTS THE AIRCRAFT FORWARD.

AIR TAKEN INTO THE ENGINE IS COMPRESSED TO MANY TIMES ITS NORMAL DENSITY. IN THE COMBUSTION CHAMBER FUEL IS SPRAYED INTO THE COMPRESSED AIR AND IGNITED. THE BURNING GASES BLAST PAST A TURBINE WHEEL AND OUT THE EXHAUST AT MORE THAN 1500 MPH. THE TURBINE WHEEL TURNS A SHAFT OPERATING THE COMPRESSOR WHICH SUCKS IN MORE FRESH AIR TO CONTINUE THE PROCESS.

THERE ARE SEVERAL TYPES OF JET ENGINES: TURBOJET, TURBOFAN, TURBOPROP AND TURBO-SHAFT. ALL WORK ON THE SAME BASIC PRINCIPLE.

AUSTIN — Texans will face a $192,000,000 new tax bill before the 60th Legislature gets through with its work next year. Legislative Budget Board staff predicts.

Gov. John Connally and Speaker Ben Barnes contend the Board's figure is far too high. Barnes says the estimate is "wrong by $90,000,000."

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, on the other hand, feels the staff not only is within the ball park but is actually conservative.

"I would not be surprised to see the new revenue need soar to over $200,000,000 by the middle of next year," says Smith.

Connally made clear he will not call lawmakers into special session to appropriate funds for the second half of the biennium and pass a tax bill until next year. He refused to state what date he has in mind, although speculation persists that there will be no tax session until after June primary elections.

At the first budget board meeting since the Legislature adjourned last spring, staff members predicted the present general fund spending level will jump from $452,500,000 to $470,300,000 next fiscal year.

Staff projections see need for a $6,000,000 increase in funds for health, hospitals, special schools and youth council facilities; a $3,600,000 cut in executive and administrative agency spending; $15,800,000 for education; and $1,000,000 more for the legislature.

OIL OUTPUT CUT — Railroad Commission ordered a big which in the Texas oil production allowable for September.

Slacking off of Mid-East tensions will mean more oil than Texas can use, Commission found. Its order reduced the 84 per cent of potential allowable factor to 46.7 per cent. Net effect is that production was at old high figure for first week of the month and will be some 44.5 per cent for the remaining 23 days.

Cut is about 180,500 barrels a day or 5,415,000 barrels for September. Scaled-down allowable will amount to 3,133,500 barrels a day.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT — Texas draft boards are being called on to provide 977 men for induction in October. This compares with quotas of 1,180 for September and 1,421 for August. Quotas for July and June were 974 and 975.

The 155 boards are scheduled to send 4,000 for pre-induction mental and physical examinations during October, according to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director. The same number was forwarded for the pre-induction exams in September.

Quota is the state's share of a national call of 17,000 men for the Army in October.

STATE JOBS INCREASING — Texas industrial employment growth has been ahead of the nation-wide figure for the last five years, U. S. Department of Labor reports.

Non-farm employment increased 21.7 per cent in Texas while the national increase was 18.2 per cent.

Only Texas and California among the six biggest industrial states remain above the national average. New York, Illinois, Ohio and Pennsylvania have fallen below.

COOPER CONTRACT APPROVED — Water Development Board has approved Cooper Dam and Reservoir contract on Sulphur River after charging federal government attitudes threatened the state's $3,300,000,000 water plan.

Contract as approved does not abide by U. S. Army of Engineers demand for allocation of 63,000-acre feet of water a year from Lake Texarkana for Red River pollution control.

Board voted to notify President Johnson and other appropriate officials that Texas "faces potential permanent loss of 192,000-acre feet" of water from the lower Red River below Lake Texoma. Members said the state also may suffer "potential ultimate loss of from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000-acre feet" from all Texas water to federal jurisdiction if a Corps of Engineers interpretation of U. S. statutes is not changed.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER SET — Texas Highway Department's golden anniversary dinner will be held here Sept. 25.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers heads a committee of prominent Texans who are arranging a program marking the department's 50 years of service. Governor Connally will be principal speaker.

'El Dorado' is Tower feature

"El Dorado," a Paramount picture showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Tower Theatre, is a big, colorful film of action, sex, humor and all the other ingredients one always hopes to find in a rousing outdoor adventure yarn.

Starring John Wayne and Robert Mitchum, "El Dorado" is set in Texas in the perfect era for tumultuous western adventure, the period following the Civil War when the cattle market was beginning to emerge and when empire-builders and gunfighters were governed by greed and the desire for power.

John Wayne is the four-time gunslinger, with Robert Mitchum playing his one-time companion, now a law officer involved with a girl. There is the typical Howard Hawks scene of the two friends, temporarily estranged, almost beating each other insensible before they discover they are really on the same side and closer than ever. The film is also sprinkled with two-fisted humor.

tion of an endowment fund in the name of retiring State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer to provide engineering scholarships at Texas A&M University. Greer's alma mater. Money was raised by private subscription over the state.

VOTING MACHINES STUDIED — A panel of experts conducted a day long hearing on new tabletop electronic, punch card voting devices.

Attorney's Dean Turner of Henderson and Jack W. Hayden of Houston and computer expert J. B. Williams of the University of Texas at Austin will advise Secretary of State John Hill, chief Texas election officer.

Legislature authorized use of the new small machines, which cost $150 apiece compared to conventional lever-type vote machines which sell for $1900 each, subject to Hill's selection of brands which counties should invest in. Three firms have asked approval.

TEXAS ECONOMY FALTERS — Texas' fast-growing economy faltered slightly in July, when the Index of Texas Activity dipped 2 per cent, according to UT's Bureau of Business Research.

This second consecutive monthly decline left the index at a level of 191.1, only marginally below the all-time peak registered in May and still 12 per cent higher than in July of 1966.

Little arms reach up. I stoop and lift the precious weight of baby son into my arms and smell his sweetness. Prayers of praise and thanks fill my heart.

Cuddling him close, I remember the night of his birth when Mary and I were told that our baby could not live until daybreak. How we prayed in those early morning hours, holding hands and clinging fast to our belief that God in His goodness would spare our son. How grateful we were for the courage and strength God's love and nearness supplied. How glad we were for the Church where we had learned to love and worship the God who gives us all life.

Do you wonder that Sunday morning finds us both in church joyfully worshipping and giving thanks to God?

Attend the church of your choice. Whatever your need, it stands ready to help.

Post Antelopes vs Lockney Longhorns Friday Night — September 15 8:00 Kickoff in Antelope Stadium

Coach Glynn Gregg's Post High Antelopes, who absorbed a football defeat from the Hale Center Owls, 40-6, in their 1967 grid opener last week, will make their home debut Friday night in Antelope Stadium against the Lockney Longhorns.

The Longhorns also tasted defeat in their opener, bowing to the Crosbyton Chiefs, 14-12.

The young and inexperienced Antelopes made too many mistakes last week and long gainers went for too many Owl touchdowns, but this Friday night is a new game and brings a fresh outlook. The Antelopes will be improved with that first game under their belts.

Commissioners—

(Continued From Front Page) tedness. Re-allocation and special tax carried and 15 cents out of the constitutional funds was allocated for six years to supplement the operational expenses of the hospital.

"1958: In this year, in August, the commissioners' court dropped the 15 cents after six years and put 10 cents of the 15 cents in their road and bridge funds. Five cents was put in the general fund. Nothing was put in the minutes about allocating any money for hospital operational purposes. Hence for six years the burden was on the general fund. More than the five cents was used for this purpose.

"After the bonded indebtedness was retired in December, 1964, the commissioners court in 1965 felt that this was needed for supplementing the operational expenses of the hospital and designated it for that purpose as the minutes show. The 15 cents was put in the general fund but earmarked for that purpose. Only $42,500 was collected in 1965 and 1966 for that purpose but in 1964, 1965, and 1966 and 1967, the general fund has supplemented the hospital operation $137,050. This is in excess of the tax $87,080.

"We are now without funds for the balance of this year for operating the hospital.

"With the doctor situation as it is and has been for several years it is our opinion it would be senseless to undertake full operation of the hospital. If it can be kept open within our means — and that seems to be the opinion of most of our people — we can endeavor to operate it.

"The general fund has obligations other than the hospital. Inflationary prices in the past several years have increased our expenses. We were awakened to realization that we were in trouble four years too late. We had accumulated an indebtedness of $35,000. We were forced to have revaluation. The outcome of this shows we received ten per cent less than was needed.

"If our valuations do not decrease and we can have cooperation from all county official areas we can retire this indebtedness in four years. No tax increase is anticipated of this can be done.

"It will mean sacrifice on the part of all.

"We will have to use our present machinery in the precincts. We will have to confine as nearly as possible our law enforcement cars and county agent pickup to Garza County travel.

"The demands of our people will only be met in cases of emergency.

"Submitted this 11th day of September, 1967, by the Commissioners Court of Garza County, Texas.

Signed, J. E. Parker, county judge."

Officers elected by Graham 4-H

New officers were elected by the Graham 4-H Club at a meeting Monday in the Graham community center.

Johnny Johnson was re-elected president, and new officers chosen were: Dickey Wallace, vice president; Quay Williams, secretary; David Rogers Jr., reporter, and Sue Cowdrey and Jerry Johnson, council delegates.

Members voted to give a prize to the one bringing the most new members to the next meeting.

Those attending were adult leaders Mr. and Mrs. Wagner Johnson, members Johnny and Jerry Johnson, Sue and Amy Cowdrey, Gary Bilbo, Dickey Wallace, David and Ronnie Rogers, and visitors Mrs. David Rogers and Mrs. Virgil Bilbo.

Honor Roll Award is to be made Masonic Lodge at Southland

Southland Lodge 1196 will be honored during a workshop to be held Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 7:45 p. m. in the Masonic Lodge in Southland.

Southland Lodge will receive an Honor Roll Award, which is given by the Grand Lodge of Texas in recognition of outstanding attendance during the Spring series of Masonic Workshop programs. Tahoka, Post, O'Donnell and Slaton lodges are also invited to attend.

Tullus V. Walker of Lubbock, chairman of the eight-county Masonic Workshop Area E-4, will present the awards and conduct the meeting.

He said the workshop is part of a semi-annual program held for the quarter - million members of nearly 1,000 Texas Masonic lodges. The Masonic fraternity is noted for its activities in the field of charity and in the self-improvement of its members.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Syd Conner, county agricultural agent, and Mrs. Juanette Gentry, home demonstration agent, attended a tri-district conference of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock Wednesday and Thursday. The conference got under way with a banquet at the KoKo Palace at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, with John E. Hutchison, Extension director, as the keynote speaker. Thursday's program was presented by the State Extension staff.

New year begins for Junior High Student Council

The Student Council of Post Junior High School held its first meeting of the new school year at noon Tuesday, eating lunch together and then going into a business meeting.

The council voted to continue the school beautification program started last year as its main project.

Student Council officers and class representatives were introduced, and the constitution was read by the secretary and discussed by the members.

The officers are: Kyle Josey, president; Lannie Blacklock, vice president; Joan Minor, secretary-treasurer; and Nancy Cook, reporter.

Mrs. Pat Walker is sponsor of the Student Council and class representatives are:

Eighth Grade: Sally Dorland, Nancy Cook, Kelly Duren, D. O. Eilenberger.

Seventh Grade: Bill Hudman, Pat Johnson, Jo Beth Gandy, Janice Bruckman.

Sixth Grade: Sherry White, Cindy Bird, Bryan Poer, Jan Hall, Kathy Southard.

"The teachers have the right to expect from parents that parents will be a positive force in encouraging the students to be students and not merely think up excuses for them," Dr. Kennedy emphasized.

He added if parents don't like something about their school system they should work in the public good to improve it and not just be critical of it to students.

"Parents can make the teachers' lot a miserable and unsuccessful one," Dr. Kennedy pointed out.

"Students quickly catch on to their parents attitudes about school."

The Rev. Curtis Lee introduced the speaker, Ansil O'Neal, Rotary president.

Supt. Bill Shiver introduced the new teachers on the school faculty this year.

The program opened with a song and dance skit, "School Days" with Barbara Lucas, Becky Brewer and Ryan Thomas, high school students, participating.

Last rites held for Rodney Key

Funeral services for Rodney E. Key, 71, a native of the Justiceburg area, who died at Fort Worth on Aug. 30, were held Sept. 1, at Carrollton, with burial in the cemetery at Farmers Branch.

Mr. Key is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Marie Hucklebee of Fort Worth, Mrs. Jeff Jones of Lancaster and Mrs. Charlie Bardsley of Coppell, and three brothers, Raymon and Henry Key of Justiceburg and Ariel Key of Bowling Green, Ky.

Those attending the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Key and Henry Key and the Raymon Keys' son, Jerry, and wife of Abilene.

Shooting death ruled accident

Ricky Duane Gilliland, 15-year-old Southland High School student, who was found shot at his home near Southland Aug. 28, died of an accidental gunshot wound, according to the death certificate signed by the attending physician and funeral director and filed at the courthouse in Slaton.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane B. Gilliland, died about three hours after being taken to a hospital suffering from a single gunshot wound in the head.

Administrator —

(Continued From Front Page) ey to meet the payroll on the Sept. 15 pay day would be available from approximately $3,000 due from Medicare and from other accounts receivable, including patients' insurance payments of about $5,000.

Six thousand dollars will cover the hospital's monthly payroll, the administrator told the board.

"Then all we need to do to keep the hospital open the rest of the year is raise $24,000," one board member said.

Following Stivers' resignation, offered in writing without a reason given, the board offered Mrs. Miller the position of administrator in conjunction with her duties as supervisor of nurses for the rest of the year. Mrs. Miller did not immediately accept the offer, but told the board she would let them know her decision within a few days.

The hospital trustees voted to invite Drs. Harry A. Tubbs and Cecil Oakes to membership on the hospital board as consulting members without voting privileges.

The board's meeting came after the two physicians on the staff consulted with hospital trustees behind closed doors for 90 minutes.

A Dispatch reporter covered the remainder of the meeting in which the above actions were taken.

Dr. Tubbs Tuesday was asked by The Dispatch: Do you intend to put patients in the hospital here as long as it is in the best interests of the patients?

"Yes, of course," he replied.

Only two patients had been admitted to the hospital from Sept. 1 through Tuesday.

Stivers, who has been the hospital administrator here since July 5, 1966, said he had no future plans. He said he had no comments to make on his resignation.

Patricia Usery was admitted to the hospital Tuesday morning for minor surgery and dismissed following the surgery.

The commissioners court in releasing its statement on the hospital situation Monday afternoon also told The Dispatch that the county salary increase, reported in last week's Dispatch, was in the amount of 15 per cent, not 13 per cent, and was made in January, 1965, and not in 1966 as The Dispatch reported in carrying a story on the "report session" of the citizens' committee.

The court also said that the 10 cent equipment fund, which went into effect in 1958, had raised only $128,050.21. They said if more road equipment was purchased during the years, 1958 through 1966, it came from other county funds.

The court also wanted the record to show that the hospital bonds were retired only three years ahead of schedule, not seven.

The court also released an inventory of its precinct road equipment and said in trying to cut county expenses the road crews of the four precincts had been reduced from 10 men several years ago to only five at the present time.

Road machinery listed in the inventory included:

Precinct 1: Interest in bulldozer D-6, old model; two maintainers, one 1959 model and one 1964 model; one 1962 model loader; two trucks, one 1964 Ford and one 1966 GMC; one Ford tractor, 1959 model; one 1957 model pickup.

Precinct 2: Interest in bulldozer D-6 model; two maintainers, one 1959 model and one 1962 model; one 1960 model loader; one 1957 model pickup; two trucks, one 1964 model Ford and one 1960 Ford tractor.

Precinct 3: Two maintainers, one 1958 model and one 1964 model; two trucks, one 1962 Ford and one 1967 Ford; one 1962 model loader; one 1953 model Ford tractor; one 1962 Ford pickup.

Precinct 4: Interest in bulldozer D-6, old model; one 1963 model maintainer; two trucks, one 1957 Ford and one 1962 GMC; one 1965 model loader; one 1964 model pickup.

The four precincts also together own a 1957 model nail picker.

It is reported that the new Medicaid program, which went into effect Sept. 1, will give a boost to the hospital's income, since it covers certain groups not eligible under Medicare.

A program of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Medicaid will be administered by the State Welfare Department to the extent that the welfare department will determine who is qualified to receive it.

Garza County residents eligible for Medicaid, as determined by the county office of the welfare department, can receive hospital and professional services under the program. The program does not include eyeglasses, immunization, routine physical checkups and certain other services.

Basically, those who qualify as "needy" under the welfare department's requirements will be eligible to receive Medicaid benefits. Those would include the needy aged, blind, dependent children, etc.

Deadly weapons—

(Continued From Front Page) that some of the pocket knives on the display board are not illegal as far as length is concerned, but that they all had been used in cutting scrapes.

He said some of the owners had made switch-blades out of ordinary pocket knives by inserting a match stem under the blade so the blade could be opened as the knife was pulled from the pocket.

The police chief says they haven't yet come across a Molotov cocktail to display on the board, but that they might come up with one any time.

Area center for SCS dedicated

Five persons represented the Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District and the SCS at the dedication of the SCS Plant Materials Center at Knox City last Thursday.

The job of the new plant materials center is to find, evaluate and put into use better plants to solve varied soil and water conservation problems.

Plant materials being used include seed, springs and rootstock, with some 850 varieties of plants being evaluated.

Those attending from Post were Sam Ellis and Jimmy Bird, representing the Soil and Water Conservation District, and SCS agency representatives Bailey Mayo, work unit conservationist, Imon Newman, range conservationist, and Wayne Richardson, soil scientist.

Donald A. Williamson of Washington, D. C., administrator of the SCS, was the dedication speaker.

A single fact will often spoil an interesting argument.

Postings—

(Continued From Front Page) fired good. We decided right away that a sloppy big city printer had boosted that score 100 points — something like 12 touchdowns plus a few extra points—by incorrectly setting the line score.

When we got to San Angelo six hours later and bought the San Angelo paper our theory was confirmed. It was only 13-6—and second half at that.

Sanderson—

After assuming his new duties as president, Sanderson proposed that all directors review the junior livestock rules so that any necessary changes can be made at the next meeting.

The new president also pointed out that there is a lot to be done next year, and asked for the support of all directors and interested persons in making the junior livestock show a big success.

Sgt. Kuykendoll is Army recruiter

Staff Sgt. Jerry Kuykendoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Kuykendoll of Route 1, Post, has recently been assigned to the U. S. Army recruiting station in Lubbock, where he will be the recruiter for the Crosby, Garza, Lynn and Hale counties area.

Sgt. Kuykendoll enlisted in the Army in September 1962 through the Army recruiting station at Lubbock, has been stationed in Germany and France and recently returned from Vietnam. He attended Post High School prior to enlisting in the Army.

Sgt. Kuykendoll will reside in Lubbock.

PASTOR APPOINTED

SLATON—The Rev. Bruce Parks has been appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church here, replacing Dr. C. A. Holcomb, who has taken a leave of absence due to illness. Rev. Parks was pastor of the First Methodist Church at Lorenzo for four years before coming to Salton.

Close City—

(Continued From Front Page) The dedication program in conjunction with the monthly Close City meeting at the community center. Following the meeting, there will be invited to the community center for refreshments and visiting. Everyone, especially pioneer residents of the area, is invited to attend the program, a member of the Close City community committee said.

Lopes to play Lockney in home game opener Friday

Both teams looking for first '67 win

The Post Antelopes and Lockney back Tommy Ball nudging over from three yards out.

CROSBYTON went ahead on a 21-yard pass play and the extra point conversion, then scored again on the last play of the first half for a 14-6 lead. The Longhorns made it close when they scored on a 92-yard drive, with Ball again carrying the mail, but a running attempt for the extra points failed.

Pierce and Altman win tournament

W. H. Childs and Teddy Jimmy Hundley and Harold Lucas; Jim Hundley and Doris Felton Gatlin and Wiley Jimmie Bartlett and Royce Gene Martin and Gerald

Team game here tonight

The Post Antelope "B" team opened its season against the Eagle "B" team at 7 o'clock tonight (Thursday) at Anderson Stadium.

The Post roster for the game is composed of freshmen and ten sophomores, with W. Reynolds and Bill Smith as starters.

The junior high football teams opened against O'Donnell on the gridiron Tuesday, Sept. 12, with the 7th grade game scheduled to start at 5:30 p. m., with the 8th grade game following. The coaches are Bud Davis, 8th grade, and Waco Reynolds, 7th grade.

The homecoming at Polar reported big success.

The Polar community homecoming Sunday, Aug. 27, at the new pavilion, was a great success with a Saturday night sing-along attended by about 70 persons, and approximately 300 persons had returned for the homecoming by Sunday.

It was decided to change the date of the 1968 homecoming from Saturday to Sunday in August to the first Sunday.

The wish to thank everyone who made our homecoming possible and such a success, said Randolph, secretary-treasurer of the homecoming group.

the stroke behind at 58 and tied second were the teams of Sex-Huntley and Paul Jones and Lane and Kent Genry.

The six other partnership teams the tournament finished as follows:

W. H. Childs and Teddy Jimmy Hundley and Harold Lucas; Jim Hundley and Doris Felton Gatlin and Wiley Jimmie Bartlett and Royce Gene Martin and Gerald

Post loses opener to Hale Center, 40 to 6

Owls win on long runs, passes

The Post Antelope defense fell apart at the seams at Hale Center last Friday night, and before it had stopped leaking the Owls had scored six touchdowns—three on long runs and three on passes—to score a 40-6 victory in the season opener for both teams.

The explosive Owls scored a touchdown in the first quarter, three in the second quarter and one in each of the last two periods in rolling to their convincing win over Coach Glenn Gregg's inexperienced Antelopes.

Sophomore George Torres and junior James Pollard carried for a first down on the Owl 49, from where Torres ripped off a 20-yard gain for another first down on the 29. Tries by Torres, Pollard and Ray Altman gained only seven yards and the Owls took over on their 22.

THEY HELD the ball for only one play, however, with senior tackle Norman Tanner pouncing on Keith Jones' fumble on the Hale Center 20.

Following an incomplete pass, Pollard ratted for six yards through the line, but Torres was trapped on an end sweep and lost eight yards to the 22. Pollard gained five of it back, but the Owls took over on downs on their 17.

With 2:32 left in the first half, McKay punted out of bounds on the Hale Center 42, from where the Antelopes stormed back to the 27 on a one-yard chop by Ray Altman and a 14-yard gain by Torres. Melvin Roberts intercepted Altman's pass on the five and raced it back to the Post 42 to throttle the threat.

Davis, finding himself all alone on the Antelope 20, took Ferguson's pass and breezed across for the Owls' fourth touchdown, with 52 seconds of the first half left on the clock. Ferguson scored the extra points on a keeper, and Hale Center led 28-6.

Fullback Charles Harper brought the Owls' short kickoff back nine yards to the Post 37, and after Altman hit halfback Pete Morales with a nine-yard pass, Roberts intercepted the next bomb on his 36 and carried it back 42 yards to the Post 28 as time ran out.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE Hamitt, just to prove that his other scoring runs hadn't been flukes, raced 51 yards for the Owls' fifth touchdown on the first scrimmage play of the second half. The extra point try failed and the score went up to 34-6 while many of the fans were still on the way back to their seats from the concession stands.

Regaining possession after the Antelopes failed to pick up the necessary yardage for a first down, the Owls drove to the Post four-yard line, where the Antelopes made their only goal-line stand of the night, hurling back three licks at the line and then taking over the ball after Pollard broke up a fourth down pass.

Senior guard Ronnie Petty covered a Hale Center fumble on the second play of the final period to give Post good field position on the Owl 47. Torres carried twice for short gains and Dennis Altman snagged an eight-yard pass for a first down on the 35, but three passes failed and a fourth down run by Pollard lost four yards to give the ball back to Hale Center on their 39.

THE OWLS didn't keep it long. After fullback Marvin Wilson banged the line for one, senior tackle Wiley Miller recovered a fumble on the Hale Center 37 to once more perk up 'Lope hopes.

Sophomore halfback Manuel Sanchez hit the line twice for a total of seven yards and Torres ratted center for four and a first down on the 25. After an incomplete pass and a two-yard gain by Torres, Dennis Altman took brother Ray's pass on the Hale Center three-yard line.

'Lope hopes went glimmering again on a miscued handoff with Ray Altman winding up with the ball and an 11-yard loss. Two passes failed to click and an eight-yard gain by the Post quarterback carried only to the six, where the Owls took over.

McKay quick-kicked Hale Center out of trouble. Post getting the ball on their 47, but being set back five yards by an illegal procedure penalty. Ferguson then put the Owls back in business by intercepting Altman's pass on the 50 and taking it down to the 36.

HAMITT GAINED eight yards in two stabs and Ferguson heaved a touchdown pass to McKay with 1:03 left in the game. Jones failed in a dive-try for the extra points, and it was 40-6.

With time fast running out, the Antelopes took the ball on the 20 after the Owl kickoff boomed over the goal line, with Jerry Crenshaw coming in at quarterback for Altman. Crenshaw missed Gary Young with a pass, and two mis-cues in the Antelope backfield had pushed the 'Lopes back five yards when the game ended.

Torres gained 34 yards on 18 tries to garner ground-gaining honors for Post. Dennis Altman netted 40 in nine tries; Ray Altman, 14 in five; Pollard 10 in nine, and Sanchez, seven in two.

Elwood Wright named president of Booster Club

Elwood Wright was elected president of the Antelope Booster Club Monday night at the first meeting of the club for the school year, which was held in the fieldhouse.

He succeeds Dave Sanford in the office.

Other officers elected were Jim Hundley Sr., vice president; Lonnie Duke, secretary-treasurer, and Pat Walker and Toby Thomas, directors-at-large.

A financial report given on the club year just completed showed approximately $3,800 to $3,900 raised by the boosters through various club projects and turned into the school's athletic program.

The club treasury now has a deficit of $7.48.

Officers and directors will meet before next Monday night's meeting to draw up recommendations for club action as to the membership drive and other activities.

Pictures of the Hale Center game and a training film on quarterbacks were shown.

All persons interested in joining the booster club this year were invited to attend next Monday night's session at 8 o'clock in the fieldhouse.

Coaches will report on the Lockney game and the Lockney game film will be shown.

A business session will follow.

Southland Eagles drub Bula, 46-0

The Southland Eagles, who swamped the visiting Bula Bulldogs, 46-6, in a non-conference eight-man football game last Friday night, play the Smyer team at Southland this Friday night.

The first Eagle touchdown in their season opener against Bula came in the first quarter when junior quarterback Darrell Wilke passed 20 yards to junior end Joe Basinger. Bill Bevers, a senior back, added the extra points. Later, in the same quarter, Wilke and Basinger clicked on a 15-yard pass play for a touchdown, with Bevers again adding the extra points.

In the second, Wilke passed to Larry Lockridge, a sophomore end, for 50 yards and a touchdown, with Bevers tacking on two more extra points. Also in the second period, Bevers scored a touchdown from 15 yards out, then carried across for the extra points.

The Eagles kept up the scoring barrage in the third quarter, with Wilke scoring, but the try for extra points failed. The final Southland six-pointer came in the fourth period when Bevers threw a 15-yard strike to Basinger, then ran over the extra points.

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

For the past three months, our volunteer librarians have been spending the majority of their time — time which could be put to much better use — calling and writing to people about their overdue library books. This has become a serious problem.

A volunteer waits five days before calling a patron to remind him of an overdue library book. After the first call, information such as telephone number, date called, and response of patron is noted on a slip of paper and clipped to the book card. The card is then placed behind "notified once" in the card file. Patrons without telephones are notified by mail. In about two weeks, all cards still behind "notified once" are taken through the same process of calling or writing and then placed behind "notified twice" in the file. This procedure can go on and on, and on, of course, and that is exactly what is happening to us now.

At the present time, we have 51 books long overdue — 11 from 1966, seven from January-April 1967, 12 from May 1967, 11 from June 1967, six from July 1967, and three from early August 1967. Unfortunately, more than half of these books are new ones purchased last spring with limited tax dollars. Several have long waiting lists at the library.

The people who have these books checked out have all been notified, some four and five times apiece. They owe so much money on them in fines or now that our chances of getting them back seem slimmer than ever.

Please bear in mind that the library is not interested in fine money. We are interested in books. Fines are imposed for the simple purpose of getting those books back on time. We do not even keep the money — it goes directly into the city general fund.

Library Aides Chairman Mary Prather and I have been considering a more lenient fine method for overdue books, as the present system does not seem to be doing the job of getting them in. However, this plan cannot be put into effect without a change in policy and that will take even more time.

I'll tell you what we'll do. For one month—Sept. 15 through Oct. 15 — no library fines will be charged for overdue books. Patrons who have such books are asked to return them during this period. You're in free, no questions asked. Just bring them in and lay them on the desk. In return, our volunteers will appreciate the opportunity to set themselves to more important tasks. Perhaps by the end of a "month of grace" we can all begin again with a clean slate and a clearer definition of "responsibility".

Revival is under way at Grassland church

The Rev. Roy Davis is the evangelist at a revival meeting that started Wednesday at the Grassland Church of the Nazarene and is to continue through Sept. 24. Services are being held at 8 o'clock each evening.

The Rev. Mr. Davis, an elder in the Church of the Nazarene, is now devoting full time to the work of itinerant evangelism after many successful years as pastor.

The church and its pastor, the Rev. E. A. Rawlings, extend an invitation to everyone to attend the series of meetings.

Two servicemen will be coming home soon

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Manuel Cardenas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cardenas, is due home any day now and Webster Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Payton Crawford, will be receiving a discharge from the service soon. We are so happy for these families.

Received a very nice letter from Mrs. O. J. Huff all the way from Amarillo giving me the following news: The children of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Huff, formerly of Southland and the Hackberry community, held a reunion Sept. 3 in Fort Worth. Ten of their 12 children attended. There was a lot of good food and good fellowship throughout the day. Present were: Mabel Hubbard, passed away last week. She lived in Grandfield, Okla., and was also the sister of the late Wes Donahoo. May God comfort this family in their hours of sorrow.

Mrs. Dollie Dohanoo spent several days last week visiting her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Donahoo in Lubbock.

Miss Norma Hatcher of Logan, Ia., is a house guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Becker and sons have been in Monte Vista, Colo., visited the Floyd Forsters.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Belk and children went to Carlsbad, N. M., after the football game Friday to day. Others at LCC are Larry Long, and Dennis McGehee. Students returning to Texas Tech will be Rodney Callaway, Patsy Dunn, Judy Kiesel, Larry Wilke and David Dabbs. Libby Sales is going to Wayland; Jackie Dunn to Texas University and Jackie Abshire to West Texas State University. Elmer Belk will attend classes at Tech three nights a week and Mrs. Pauline Mason will also be attending Tech. If YOU are planning on attending a college, give me a ring so I can put it in the paper.

We would like to extend our deepest sympathies to Mrs. G. W. Basinger whose sister, Mrs. Mabel Hubbard, passed away last week. She lived in Grandfield, Okla., and was also the sister of the late Wes Donahoo. May God comfort this family in their hours of sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Evans, who were in the process of moving to Stephenville from Laramie, Wyo., spent one night last week with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klaus visited Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Krause in Wilson Sunday and helped Mr. Krause celebrate his birthday.

Edmund and I visited a short while Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Voight at their home near Crosbyton.

HAVE YOU HEARD? Southland beat Bula 46-6 at our first football game of the year last Friday. Our boys sure looked good and we hope they continue to do so all through the season. They will play Smyer here this Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ellis of Amarillo spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mason and Mickey and Patsy Dunn took a little trip last week. They went to Brownfield and were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Rowden. They spent the night in Hobbs, N. M., with Mr. Mason's niece and family, the Ronnie Blacks. From there they went to Ruidoso and spent several days. Mr. and Mrs. Mason rode the skilift and said they enjoyed it very much even though it was a bit scary. They returned Saturday.

Mickey Mason will register at Lubbock Christian College Mon-visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Belk, and her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cooper. Sunday, they visited the E. L. Belks in Levelland.

The Rev. Charles Hastings of Lubbock preached at the Southland Methodist Church Sunday. As yet, they haven't gotten a pastor of their own. We certainly hope that they get one before too much longer.

Miss Beverly Stolle is going to a commercial college in Lubbock.

We would like to extend our deepest sympathies to the family of Riley Woods. He passed away Sept. 4 and was buried on Sept. 6. May God comfort this family in their sorrow.

I have been working at the post office since Sept. 5 so if you didn't reach me at home with your news I am very sorry. Please call again.

Easter Seals help 16,031 in Texas

A total of 16,031 disabled Texans were helped by Easter Seals during 1966, according to Robert N. Eastus Jr., Easter Seal field representative for West Texas. The people were given treatment in the treatment and service centers that are operated by the Easter Seal Society throughout Texas.

Mrs. Martha Compton of the First National Bank in Post is the Easter Seal representative for Garza, Kent, and Borden counties.

Anyone in need of service or help should contact Mrs. Compton. She will assist with the application to the State Treatment and Service Center where arrangements will be made for treatment at the appropriate center.

Conditions treated in 1966 included: Arthritis, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, stroke, muscular dystrophy, other neuromuscular conditions, poliomyelitis, orthopedic, brain damage, speech disorders, hearing conditions, and others.

Senior English groups begin their study of the Phonemic Alphabet

By Emily Potts
 The Senior English classes under the instruction of Mrs. Jack Alexander began the year with a study of the Phonemic Alphabet.

This alphabet is set up on the basis of sound. Each symbol stands for a single sound and is invariable. There are approximately 33 phonemes and phonemic symbols: 24 consonant phonemes and nine vowel phonemes. Examples of these phonemic symbols are: ey the sound of "a" in cake; iv the sound of "e" in he, and ay the sound of "i" in mile.

The main objective of teaching the strange alphabet is because of its importance to the study of the structure and spelling of English words. It is through these phonemes that we relate spoken English to written English. In relation to the sounds of words, the use of phonemes will help in spelling.

Some linguists have predicted that someday in the future the Phonemic Alphabet will be used as a written communication between nations of the world. Perhaps the seniors of PHS are just getting a head start on all other people and will be able to communicate by sounds.

Some 10,000 species of butterflies flutter throughout the United States.

Post High School Happenings

By Natha Jo Mears
 With the summer vacation over, everyone is trying to get back into the swing of things. It still seems hard to believe that the summer flew by and everyone is back to the old grindstone.

Clubs and classes have already begun to elect officers. Officers have been elected in the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes, FTA, Choir, Band, FHA, and Pep Squad.

The editor of the annual this year will be Micki Sterling, with Marsha Tipton assistant editor; Donnie Blacklock, business manager, and Larry Rosas, art editor.

Thursday night, Nancy Hart was honored with a birthday supper by her parents. Those who attended were Jimmy Bartlett and Jan Wilks, Davis Heaton and Natha Jo Mears, and Clyde Cash.

Couples seen around PHS this year are: Micki Sterling and Norman Tanner, Donna Stewart and Dennis Altman, Karen Lee and Wiley Miller, Vicki Martin and Joe Bilbo, Glen Ann Barley and James McBride, Connie McWhorter and Jimmy Jones, Jane Hutchins and Curly Odom, Sue Eubank and Ray Altman; Jan Wilks and Jimmy Bartlett, Adrienne Cook and Gary Hays, Liz Dolby and Mike Robinson, Voda Beth Voss and Charlie Brown, Mara Jones and Terry Cross, Jan Adams and Danny Cooner, Jane Strofer and J. BEAT LOCKNEY!

It's changing world at Post High School, too

By Zelika Freeman
 The new changes in PHS policy may not have affected old friendships, but it has caused a considerable amount of variation in schedules and testing times. Last year's floating periods, with students attending five classes per day and having fourth period at a different time each successive day, have been dismissed from the book of rules. Classes have been shortened from 75 to 60 minutes so that six periods might be squeezed in to each day. In place of Friday's typical sixth period homeroom, there will be class and club meetings and time for pep rallies.

Mother's Library Club organized for school

A Mother's Library Club has been formed here to help organize and maintain the library in the elementary school, with each member to work two hours a day a week with Mrs. Bettye Scott and the teachers.

The library club workers to date have included Mmes. Clarence Gunn, Robert Craig, Wayne Carpenter, Don Rose and Bill Birkes.

All arguments have two sides, but some have no ends.

It's a changing world, even at school!

It's the Law ...

WATCH YOUR COAT
Ducking out of the rain, George entered a luncheonette, hung his raincoat on a hook, and ordered a cup of coffee. But by the time the coffee was gone, so was the raincoat. Could George make the management pay for his loss?

A court said no, on the ground that he could not prove any "bailment" of the coat. That is, he had not entrusted possession of the coat to the management.

Questions of this kind may arise any time a customer deposits his personal belongings — temporarily — in a place of business. In case of loss, the customer is ordinarily entitled to compensation only if there was a bailment relationship with the management.

The law's logic is that if there is no transfer of possession, then in all fairness that should be no transfer of responsibility either. Coat-watching was more reasonably a job for George, who had hung the coat up, than for the management, which had not touched it.

On the other hand, if the customer delivers his garment to a checkroom and it gets lost there, he is usually in a position to demand payment.

Unfortunately, it is not always easy to tell whether possession has really been transferred.

Consider the case of a woman whose fur coat was stolen from her dentist's waiting room while he was working on her teeth. Had the dentist accepted possession of the coat?

A court said yes, he had — by implication, and held him liable for the loss. The court pointed out that the dentist knew the woman had brought a coat, that there was no other place for her to put it, and that she obviously could not wear it during treatment.

What about the contents of a garment? They may or may not be included in the bailment, depending mainly on whether they are items "normally to be expected" in such a location. Thus:

A customer in a clothing store, trying on a new suit, left his old one in a poorly protected dressing room. During his absence at the mirror, his pockets were rifled of not only $41 in cash but also a valuable diamond ring.

When he sued the store, the court observed that cash was normally to be expected in a suit pocket — but not a valuable ring. So the store was ordered to pay for the stolen money, because it was part of the bailment, but not for the stolen ring, because it was not.

Vet's Forum

Q. I presently have a loan on my 30 - Pay Life National Service Life Insurance policy. Is it possible to make an additional loan on this policy?

A. The amount you may borrow is limited to 94 per cent of the present cash value of your policy. If your present loan is in an amount less than 94 per cent of the cash value, you may make an additional loan up to that limit.

Q. I was in service from October 1953 to September 1957. I plan to purchase a home with a GI loan. I have heard something about a funding fee. What is this?
A. This applies only to veterans who have eligibility for GI loans arising out of military service performed since Jan. 31, 1955. These veterans must pay a fee of one-half of one per cent of the amount of the loan to the lender. The lender then submits it to the VA. Since you had service during the Korean Conflict period, you will not be required to pay this fee.
Q. My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently. I applied for the proceeds of his National Service Life Insurance, only to be informed by the Veterans Administration that I was not the beneficiary. I need this money badly as I have three children to support and educate. Is this money lost to me?

A. It may be. The VA must pay the proceeds of NSLI policies to the insured, even when this results in an obvious inequity. It is sad but true that many veterans neglect to keep this beneficiary designation up to date. In your case the situation can be resolved in your favor only if the named beneficiary recognizes the unfairness and can be persuaded to allow all or part of the proceeds to you.

Q. I attend a business school under the provisions of the New GI Bill. Is it necessary that I continue to report my classroom attendance to the VA each month?
A. Yes, your certificate and that of an official of the business school is necessary each month to insure prompt delivery of your checks. Use the pre-punched IBM card mailed to you by the VA for this purpose.
ROSCOE GUESTS
Sunday visitors in the home of the Chester Keetons were their daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Dickerson and children of Roscoe.

Ice cream soda origin claimed by Texas town
DENISON — This city claims to be the birthplace of the ice cream soda.
How? In 1873, they say, J. A. Euper was experimenting with his $800 Italian marble soda fountain and accidentally squirted carbonated water over a dish of ice cream and tried to salvage the loss by adding chocolate syrup.

Jehovah's Witnesses of Altus, Okla., will host 14 other congregations

Jehovah's Witnesses of Altus, Okla., are preparing to be host to 14 other congregations in circuit assembly, Sept. 29 to Oct. 1.

Buster Templeton, overseer of the Altus congregation, said they were preparing to accommodate about 500 delegates from Texas in a circuit bounded by Wichita Falls, Haskell and Muleshoe.

Carl Silva, visiting supervisor of the 15 congregations, has been preparing some of the associated ministers for talks, demonstrations and discussions to highlight the theme from Apostle Paul's words, "Walking Orderly By Spirit."

Silva is being transferred from the Texas Circuit 9 to another circuit farther south in Texas. Robert N. White will take Silva's place in preparing semi-annual assemblies and visiting the congregations three times a year.

A. A. Catanzaro, Watchtower Society representative over 10 circuits in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, will supervise the three-day assembly program and analyze the circuit's ministerial activity offering suggested remedies to bring existing weaknesses up to district and national levels.
