

POST'S BIG JULY DOLLAR DAYS

PLUS ALL KINDS OF SALES, SALES, SALES!

Many sales add to Post $ Day draw

Post merchants have formed "bargain row" this weekend to entice a real surge of area shoppers for Post's big July Dollar Days. Martin's Department store this morning opened its big July Clearance with a full page ad on page 3 offering up to 75 per cent reductions.

Hundley's also launches a 10-day clearance of men's wear today with its sale ad on page 9.

Wacker's uncorks two unusual sale events this weekend — a burglary sale in which its customers are invited to "share the loot as it's a steal at these prices" following a couple of recent roof burglaries, and a Water Damage Sale for Saturday only.

The Water Damage Sale is the result of a leaky store roof during the recent rains which dampened down some items.

Store Manager John Brockman advertises on page 8 that prices in the water damaged items start at half price or less and will be cut hourly if necessary to be sure that every item is out of the store by Saturday's closing time.

Maxine's comes up with a "Christmas in July" gift sale with sets for men, women and children of all ages selling at half price. Maxine's ad is on page 5.

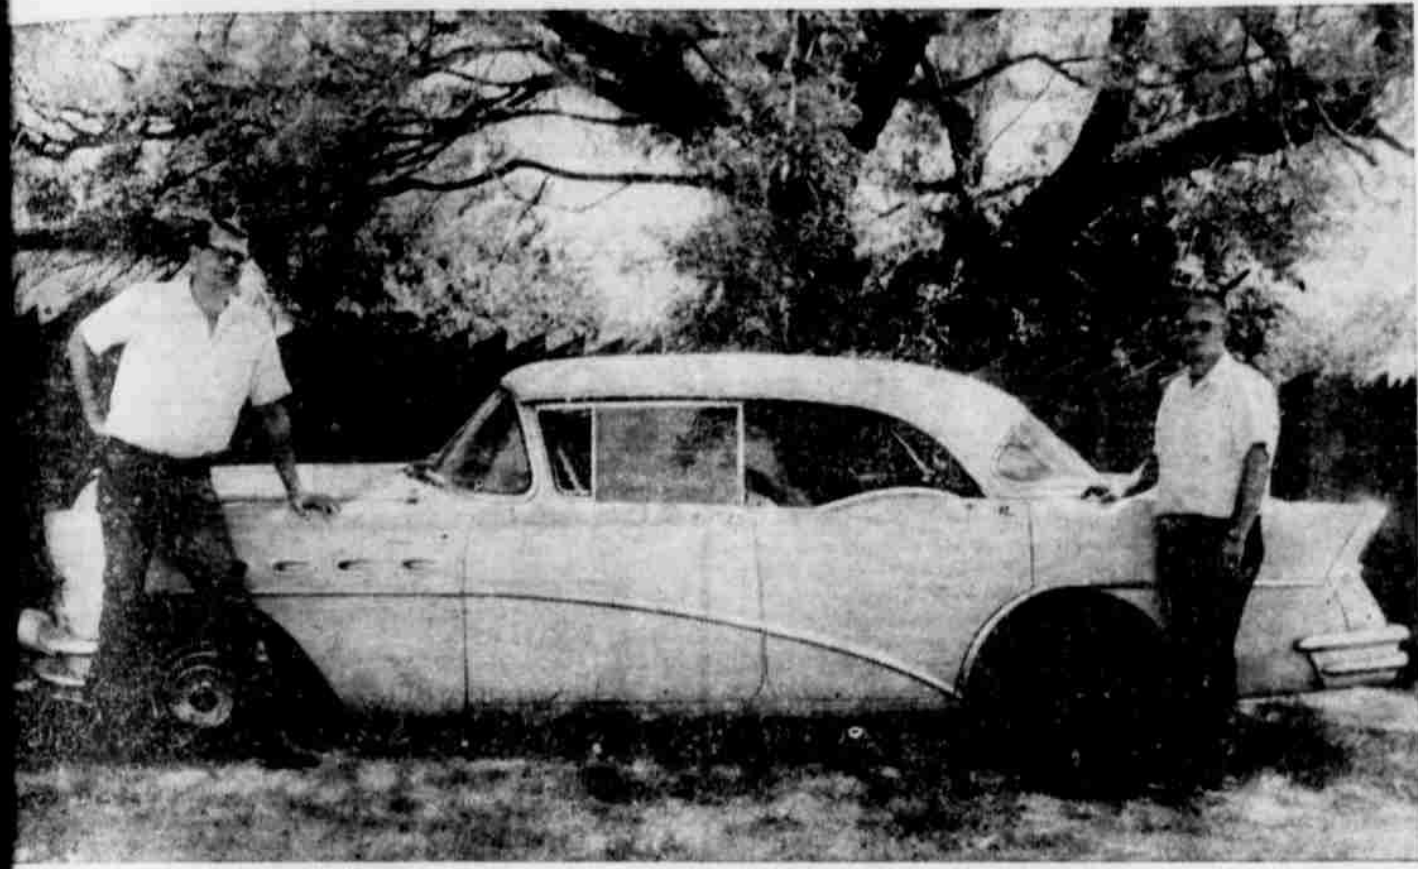

Bob Collier, Druggist, and Scott-Pool, Inc., add many other Dollar Day "buys" in their ads on pages 3 and 4, respectively.

Piggly Wiggly joins in the "shopping fun" with five cent hot dogs all day Saturday, free Cokes Friday and Saturday to all customers, and five cent ice cream cones both days as well, besides an ad full of food specials you'll find on page 12.

Corner Grocery & Market and Parrish's Grocery & Market offer many other special food values for the weekend in ads on pages 5 and 4, respectively.

If you're looking for bargains on four-piece sectional living room suites, Hudman Furniture Co. offers those too on page 11.

It totals up to a gala bargain occasion.

UNDER A BEAUTIFUL TREE—A JUNK CAR "EYESORE"

Some of Post's most unsightly problems are these "junk cars" cluttered in yards all over town. Post Jaycees like Joe Bailey, left, and Ken Callaway, right, are willing to haul them off to the city dump free to make Post a bit neater looking again. It's as yet—no takers. The Jaycees also are cooperating with the city—providing a day of free muscle power—for the annual city clean-up Saturday, July 22. They are hoping to have "more takers" in their clean-up campaign than, disappointedly, they have had to date in ridding the city of junk cars.—(Staff Photo)

Highway warehousing will be doubled here in 1968

Plans are now under way to more than double warehousing space under roof for the state highway department's warehouses here in Post.

Construction is expected to begin early next year.

Sam Etter, warehouse superintendent of the facility which carries more than $1,000,000 worth of stock for highway department needs for 25 West Texas highway districts including 110 counties, said plans call for an additional 25,000 square feet of storage on the two present warehouses.

The warehouses now include approximately 21,000 square feet of storage.

Etter told The Dispatch this week that the $1,000,000 stock turns approximately twice annually and that many items are purchased in carload lots from various suppliers.

An architect is due here soon for the state to begin planning the additions.

Etter said the warehousing facility is expected to add an additional man around Sept. 1. The present force is five, including Etter. He said possibly two more persons may be employed when the warehouse expansion is completed.

"We have lots of items stored in the yard which ought to be under cover," Etter said in explaining the need for the additional storage.

The state highway department has two other such supply warehouses. They are located at Athens and Seguin.

Besides the $1,000,000 worth of stock, the warehouse feeds some 600 various state highway department forms into the various districts served.

Rites today for Mrs. Eva Bailey, pioneer publisher

Funeral services for Mrs. Eva Bailey, 92, pioneer Post newspaper woman and a first cousin of President Abraham Lincoln, will be conducted at 3 p. m. today in the First Christian Church. Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the church, will officiate.

Mrs. Bailey, who with her son, E. A. Warren, established The Post Dispatch here in 1926 and before that operated The Post City Post, beginning in 1918, died in Garza Memorial Hospital after a lengthy illness at 9:30 p. m. yesterday.

Survivors include the son, City Manager Warren; a sister, Mrs. Ella West of St. Louis, Mo., who lived here with Mrs. Bailey for several years before going to St. Louis to make her home with her son, Dr. L. E. Sanders; two half sisters of Louisville, Ky., two nieces of Louisville, and two nephews of St. Louis.

Mrs. Bailey was born Eva Lincoln Sept. 27, 1874, in Milltown, Ind.

She came to Texas in 1910 and was wed in Roscoe on the day after her arrival to E. A. Warren, who died in 1926. The whole town attended her wedding. The next day they moved to Snyder where they ran a job printing shop for eight years and Mrs. Bailey began to learn the printing business helping her husband.

They moved to Post in 1918 to take over operation of The Post City Post. She has been a resident of this community for the last 49 years.

Mrs. Bailey remained active on the newspaper until her son's return from World War II service with the U. S. Navy in the Southwest Pacific in 1945, after which she retired.

In the meantime she had married F. I. Bailey, who died in 1950. She was a member of the First Christian Church.

Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery. Hudman Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

JAYCEES TO PLAINVIEW

A delegation of Post area Jaycees will go to Plainview this weekend for the summer area meeting.

COUNCIL OKAYS PATROLMAN

The city council, at a special meeting Monday, approved the employment of Richard A. Brush, as a police patrolman here.

123 members already signed up

The White River Lake Country Club membership drive was reported "over the hump" last Thursday night with representatives of the four member cities reporting 123 members signed up on their way to a 160 member goal.

Those with summer homes already built at the lake were still to be canvassed and each town figured to round up enough more members to put the drive over the top.

The architect for the course and clubhouse attended the meeting and went over the clubhouse floor plan with representatives.

J. B. Potts reported 15 Post members to date with several other prospects.

Recent approved state pay hikes for employes is going to pour thousands of additional dollars into Post next year.

The local teachers will get some $50,000 in increased salary boosts, most of it from the state increase voted by the legislature.

But there's another sizable payroll here which a lot of local folks overlook — the highway department's. All told they employ some 30 persons in the resident engineer's office, the warehouse, and the maintenance facility.

Highway employes will get a pay boost, beginning Sept. 1, which averages out at about 14 per cent.

This is a sizable little industry in itself and with the expansion of the warehouses early in 1968 some additional employment is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Floyd have sold their Mae's Drive-In business to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harmon and are busy cleaning and repainting Judy's Cafe prior to opening it sometime early next week as Floyd's Steak House.

You'll find their announcement ads on the "new businesses" on pages 9 and 11, respectively.

The Harmon's, who have been Post residents for 14 years, have closed Tom's Fix-it Shop for their latest venture in food, but it isn't their first. Tom also is bowing out as a local bread dealer. The Harmon's operated a grocery and drive-in on East Main street for several years as one of their earlier business ventures here so their new business isn't entirely new to them.

The Floyd aren't sure of their opening date, but will unlock the front door just as soon as possible, probably next Monday or Tuesday.

A real shoppers' paradise is in store for Dispatch readers this weekend here with several merchants combining a wide variety of sales with the Post July Dollar Days. So shop ads in today's Dispatch — and "get with it" for plenty of savings!

Prather first in Laramie Rodeo

Reception here Saturday to honor new physician

A reception and open house to welcome Cecil E. Oakes, M. D. to the local medical and pharmaceutical community will be held between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m., Saturday, July 15, at The Medical Center, 111 North Avenue 1. Garza Memorial Hospital trustees, Bob Collier, R. Ph., Frank Blanton, R. Ph., and the professional staff of The Medical Center are sponsors.

Dr. Harry A. Tubbs and Mrs. Joan E. Tubbs, M. T. (ASCP) are celebrating the completion of 15 years in practice in Post at the same occasion.

Dr. Oakes and Dr. Tubbs were introduced by mutual friends at a Texas Medical Association meeting in Dallas this spring. This meeting led to a visit to Post in May, when Dr. Oakes visited the hospital and met many of the prominent local citizens at their own establishments.

He is unmarried, age 31, took his premedical education at the University of Oklahoma. He is a graduate of the University of Tennessee Medical School in December, 1964, served an internship at the Methodist Hospital of Dallas and his first year of surgical residency at the same institution.

The general public is invited to meet Dr. Oakes and to assist in welcoming him to West Texas.

An awards program will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday in the Close City Community Center at which the $100 first place check will be presented by Curly Hays of the sponsoring West Texas Utilities Company of Abilene.

Close City has won the last two years in division II and winning three years ago in division I.

Fluvanna was the district's division I winner this year.

The award is based on all-around community improvement efforts. District II includes 20 counties. Although each county can have as many community entries as desired, Close City was the only Garza county this year.

Eddie Warren is doing 'real job'

The value of City Manager Eddie Warren to his city council employers and local taxpayers as a whole shouldn't be overlooked, just because many of the changes he has helped initiate come slowly and quietly.

For instance, the city council took a look at its fund balances of July 1 and found $64,000 in the city water fund. We can't remember when the city was so financially healthy in the water department.

This has come about since the conversion to White River water, but actually at much lower city water rates than the city originally agreed to charge in its contract with the White River Municipal Water District.

Before the city put those contracted rates into effect, Warren initiated a careful study of what-sized users produced the city's water revenue. Armed with this information, the council then established much lower rates than originally proposed.

That they were solidly founded can be attested to by the balance in the city's water fund.

Warren also is the prime mover of "planning ahead" in budgeting. He has devoted considerable time in the last couple of years to getting the annual city budget "nailed down" in advance so that finding money for council actions isn't a hit or miss affair.

When we bought The Dispatch from him 10 years ago, we knew first-hand Warren would make a good city manager because he had good equipment planning and tight fiscal control of his newspaper enterprise. He was a stickler for detail and he loved his home town.

Eddie is going to move a fishing cabin out onto his lot on the White River lake front this fall and he is talking about retiring next spring. We hope this doesn't happen—for the city's sake—but even if it does, he will have left city business in much more business-like shape than the way he found it when he took over the job.

Eddie has tied up most of the loose ends and now has the city administration "looking ahead" instead of "looking back."—JC

Do your 'tidy town' part next week

The Post Jaycees and the City of Post are going to pool their efforts again this year in a one-day community clean-up drive Saturday, July 22.

The community-spirited Jaycees are to be congratulated for their efforts to spark Post back along the path of tidiness.

Two points must be emphasized if the town-folks are to join in the clean-up campaign.

The first, of course, is that you can't wait until Saturday morning, July 22, to start piling up disposable junk in your alley. You need to get busy on your clean-up efforts earlier next week, for the litter will be available early Saturday morning.

Make your plans now to straighten up your premises, even if they are tolerably so right now. Get all the stuff to the alley. The Jaycees won't have time Saturday to wait for you.

Second, if the community cooperates to the extent that it could and should, the Jaycees' ranks will be far too thin to handle the outflow of litter to the city dump.

Take a look around town with a critical eye. It won't take you five minutes to see all your neighborhood ought to be doing to tidy up its share of our town.

Then, if you happen to be a self-starter, volunteer to get the ball rolling. Talk up clean-up. Set a good example by starting early yourself. Cleaning is contagious.

One thing certain about a clean-up campaign. Talk comes easy, but the required effort isn't. You're going to have to have some desire to see a clean city if you get your share of it done.

There's no reason for the Jaycees to strain their strong young backs in real civic energy if they are not going to receive enough citizen cooperation to make that rugged day worthwhile.—JC

Let's welcome our new doctor

An open house will be held at The Medical Center Saturday afternoon to help welcome Post's new physician, Dr. Cecil Oakes, to this community.

Certainly, all of us who can should turn out to get acquainted with him and make him feel at home.

Dr. Oakes has completed a year's residency in surgery and will come with real qualifications.

He will find that Post is a nice and friendly community which is dreadfully short of physicians. He will find a town and area which through thick and thin—and there's been a lot of thinness these past few years—is determined somehow to keep its 26-bed county hospital operating.

To us, Post is an ideal place for a young doctor to start—and stay with.

We hope Dr. Oakes sees it our way.—JC

Library Listening Post

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
Of the many distinguished first lines in literature, top honors are generally conceded to Herman Melville's "Moby Dick" for "Call me Ishmael". As a matter of fact, I once had a creative writing professor at TCU who went into a state of hysteria at the mere mention of the line. "Oh, the beauty of it!" she used to rave. "The mystery! THE PROFOUND SYMBOLISM!"

Personally, I always agreed. It was a mystery to me too. However, "Call me Ishmael" is about to be surpassed. Pre-publication reports reveal that Peter De Vries new novel, "The Vale of Laughter", begins "Call me, Ishmael. Feel absolutely free to. Call me any hour of the day or night..."

Being a firm believer in ESP, handwriting analysis, and flying saucers with little green men bulging through the portholes, I began to wonder about astrology the other day. Naturally, I rushed right down to the library and checked out "Your Horoscope and Your Dreams," by Ned Ballantyne and Stella Coeli.

Chapter 15 was entitled "When Your Birthday Comes in Capricorn — Dec. 22 to Jan. 19." Trembling with anticipation, I turned to page 91...

"The sign of Capricorn has no graces. This native is rather like one of those royal babies of old who were neglected in the cradle by all 12 of the fairy godmothers." Oh, dear.

"In appearance the Capricorn type is unprepossessing — they are bony and angular. The physique has an ill-assorted look, as if some clumsy hand had fitted the limbs together." Oh, DEAR.

"The expression is dour, Saturnine, and seldom relieved by spontaneous laughter. The whole personality is pervaded by a shade of melancholy. These people do not realize the depressing effect that they have upon others." Oh DEAR, DEAR, DEAR.

I did not think that I LIKED Astrology very well. In fact, I simply could not face the next chapter, "Advice to the Capricorn Native". What could it possibly recommend other than "drop dead"? I did look up a dream that I'd had the previous night. It predicted "danger from an unknown source."

Well, back to palmistry, and a curse on you, fairy godmothers! May you have nightmares and January the 9th birthdays throughout eternity.

The story above illustrates the liberty that writers sometimes take with the truth. It was all lies. Here's what really happened.

One day, Helen Cornish and I were at Pix Bookstore buying books for the library. "Gosh," I said to Helen (or else she said to me. I forget which). "Gosh, Helen, (or "Rosemary, as the case may be) Astrology seems to be the going thing these days — we had better pick up a book on the subject for our good readers at good old P. P. L."

"Right," the other (whichever it was) said. After lengthy deliberation, we settled upon the aforementioned "Your Horoscope and Your Dreams". After all, you can't beat two for the price of one.

Driving home, we decided that it might be fun to read our own horoscopes. "Here's what it says about me," Helen crowed (that's the ONLY word for it). "When Your Birthday Comes in Sagittarius — Nov. 23-Dec. 21... Sagittarians have a tremendous enthusiasm for life, and are not at all self-centered. They are very broadminded, tolerant, humorous and truthful. In disposition they are jovial, in manner cordial. Their passions are healthy, spontaneous and without inhibitions."

"Hey, that sounds just like you," I exclaimed. "Maybe there's something in this Astrology bit at that! Read mine."

"Alright, here we are. When Your Birthday Comes in Capricorn — Dec. 22 to Jan. 19... The sign of Capricorn has no graces. This native is rather like one of those royal babies of old who were neglected in the cradle by all 12 of the fairy godmothers."

"You FINK", I screamed.

Post girl studies in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY — Miss Carol Camp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Camp of Post, Tex., is enrolled this summer at the University of the Americas located in Mexico City, the fifth largest city in the world.

Because the over 2,000 students at UA are not only from the United States, but from more than 40 other countries, the school plays a distinctive role in intercultural and international education. Accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the University has a larger enrollment of American students than any other school abroad.

Classes are taught in English by an internationally trained faculty, but practically all students learn Spanish, not only in the classroom, but through their association with the people of Mexico. Most of them live in college-approved private Mexican homes and as a result become familiar with the customs and daily lives of their hosts.

Miss Camp is a graduate of Post High School. She has attended the University of Texas, where she is majoring in English.

Martin-Vardiman vows read at ceremony in bride's home

The home of the bride's parents was the setting of the wedding of Cheryl Martin and Richard Vardiman Jr., July 6 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Joe Vernon, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the first ring vows before the fire which was enhanced with white daisies and baskets of white daisies and yellow mums. Mr. Eugene Martin and Mr. Mrs. Richard Vardiman, who were in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white lace featuring a white lace skirt front, short and rounded neckline with white and white pillbox. She carried two white orchids. The bride wore a white strand of pearls, a gift for her birthday which fell on her wedding day. The tradition of the blue and a penny in her shoe. Blue garter was made by the groom's mother with two of the bride's baby rings attached. The groom of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Williams, and maid of honor Miss Vicki Martin, sisters of the bride. They wore identical dresses of yellow dotted swiss in the empire style, and carried single white carnations. Kenneth McFadin served his best man, Kenneth Williams, brother-in-law of the bride, groomsmen. Readings of traditional wedding music were played.

MRS. RICHARD VARDIMAN JR. (Cheryl Martin)

NEW YORK CITY GUESTS

Dr. and Mrs. Sam Britton and four children of New York City, N. Y., visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Britton, last week.

WEEK AT RUIDOSO

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Richardson spent last week in Ruidoso, N. M., visiting his grandmother, Mrs. H. M. Crisp.

As I sit here at my desk late Tuesday afternoon I can think of a lot of other places I'd rather be.

I've found myself doing a lot of day dreaming lately about where I'd go if the C's could really go some place. One minute I think "beach" and the next moment I think "mountains complete with a rushing, gurgling stream."

Most of this day dreaming takes place late in the evening after the sun has finally dropped low enough to consider it evening and I'm out on the patio lying in Mr. C's hammock. It's probably good the flies are so bad before dark or I'd never get anything done but my day dreaming. As it is I can only last so long before becoming so exasperated that I give up and flee from the pesky things.

In my day dreaming of far away places there are no flies. I usually start out thinking of a nice cool mountain top (after a hot day at the office, this is only natural. I suppose) complete with rustic cabin with all modern conveniences, lovely trees under which I can sit, reclining in a comfortable chair with cold drinks, books and cigarettes within reach. If I just want to sit there and do nothing I can conjure up a few chipmunks which I can watch frolic. In my wildest dreaming I can even imagine Mr. C calling from the cabin door that the rainbow trout are ready to eat.

If in mentioning modern conveniences above made anyone think I was including a telephone, radio or TV you're wrong. I seem to hanker after peace and quiet in my day dreams. In fact, I want to be far enough away from civilization that we can't even have a newspaper delivered to our door. My reading about the mess the world is in doesn't seem to improve it at all.

I then switch from these cool mountains to a beach in sunny California and see myself lying on the beach tanned to a beautiful olive brown while watching the surf come and go and the seals and porpoises playing in the water. Here again everything I desire is within reach and Mr. C calls from the door of our beach shanty to tell me that the lobster is ready.

Then I talked to a friend over the weekend and she was telling me about her sister's trip to Hawaii via boat and how luxurious that all sounded. And I thought it might be nice if Mr. C didn't have to do all that cooking of trout and lobsters and we could just go to the ship's dining room (you can tell I've never traveled aboard a ship because I don't even know the name of the ship's dining room) and eat all that luscious food they seem to serve.

However, to go to a ship's dining room one must surely have to wear such things as a girdle, hose and shoes with heels and that isn't my idea of a vacation.

Here it is almost five o'clock and I must get my mind on such mundane things as "What are we going to eat tonight" and "how much yard work is there to do?"

However, by 8:30 I ought to be able to slip away again into the hammock and leave this dull old world to those of you who are not escape artists.

Mrs. Vardiman honored with lingerie shower

Mrs. Richard Vardiman Jr., was honored with a lingerie shower before her marriage when Mrs. Vickie Hart entertained at the Community Room.

The recent bride's chosen of yellow and white were carried out in the decorations. Cream puffs and cold drinks were served.

Guests called between 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening.

Concession plans made for rodeo

The Garza County Home Demonstration Council met July 5 in the Reddy Room and made plans to manage the concession stand during the Post Stampede Rodeo in August.

Club presidents drew for working nights with the following results: 1st night, 55 and Barnum Springs clubs; 2nd and 3rd night, Graham club; 4th night, Pleasant Valley and Close City clubs.

Prices were set for food to be sold. One member from each club is to meet Aug. 9 at the rodeo grounds at 8 a. m. to help clean up the concession stand.

Those attending were: Shirley Bland, Mollie Kolb, Faye Payton, Barbara Sims, Hootie Terry, Della Davis, Oreta Bevers, Helen Ruth Thomas, Viva Davis, Inez Ritchie and HD agent, Juanita...

West Texas Museum seeks 'period clothing,' other items for exhibits

LUBBOCK—West Texas Museum on the Texas Tech campus is building its costume collection, through the aid of the Historical Costumes and Collections Committee of the Museum Women's Council.

Mrs. H. Earl Archer, chairman of the committee, is making an appeal for items which may be used in the museum.

Children's clothing of the 19th century and first half of the 20th century, of any size, including teen-age, can be preserved for museum displays. Some everyday or school-type clothes would be very useful, Mrs. Archer indicated.

Shoes for children, and men's work clothes of the late 1800's and early 1900's, along with men's shoes of all periods, are needed.

In preparation for a forthcoming exhibit at the Panhandle - South Plains Fair this fall, the committee is planning to tie in with the theme of the fair's fiftieth anniversary.

Anyone having items from the World War I era who would like to give them a permanent "home" at the Museum may call PO 2-8811, ext. 3201.

On the list of "wanted" items are also a Red Cross uniform of World War I and World War II, a nurse's uniform of World War I and World War II, and any uniform of the women's branches of the service during World War II.

Fashion magazines and home magazines of the 19th and early 20th centuries are invaluable resource materials for the Museum, for costume reference and home settings, according to Mrs. C. Paul Mills, assistant curator of collections on the Museum staff.

China, glassware, tableware, vases and housekeeping items of the early 20th century can be used. Sewing tools, lamps of various periods and recreational items (games such as Parcheesi and Mah Jong) are welcomed.

Stitchery items of all kinds can be utilized, such as knitted or crocheted articles of wearing apparel.

Queen contest is announced here

The Lynn County Farm Bureau will sponsor a queen contest, discussion meet and talent find again this year, with the event scheduled for July 29 in the Wilson High School auditorium.

The queen contest is open to any single girl who reaches the age of 16 before Sept. 1, 1967, and has not reached the age of 23 before Sept. 1, 1967. Daughters of farm bureau families or sisters of farm bureau members are eligible to enter.

The discussion meet consists of a panel discussion of current farm bureau policies and agricultural problems, which should better acquaint the young men and women in the farming community with problems and solutions of the present and future in agriculture.

The talent find is open to any type of talent, groups or individuals.

Both the above contests are open to participants between the ages of 17 and 30, whose families are farm bureau members.

Winners in the county contests will have the opportunity of competing in the district and state contests to be held later in the year.

Anyone interested in further information on these contests should contact the Garza County Farm Bureau office, 119 North Broadway in Post, phone 495-4123, or the Lynn County Farm Bureau office in Tahoka, phone 998-4320 or 998-4591.

TREASURE HUNT

It was in a green valley, along a river's edge in California that we saw an old gentleman panning for gold last summer. Our boys were ecstatic and insisted that we take his picture. We watched him for sometime, but he seemed not to see us, so intent was he upon the dredgings of his pan.

Immediately the boys started a lively debate, speculating on how it would feel to be in the old man's shoes; still searching for a bonanza, still believing that happiness is found in vein or lode. As I listened to the enthusiastic conversation and watched the animated faces of our sons, I felt sad for the old man who looked for treasure in the sand.

Our boys are already affluent in the joy that comes from loving God and serving His Church. This precious wealth can never be lost nor stolen from them, and may be any man's for the asking.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Who says all milk is the same?

Not The Borden Company!

We know that some brands of milk just barely come up to government standards for quality.

At Borden's these standards are only a starting place.

The milk we pick up cold, fresh and pure at the dairy farm reaches your family, cold, fresh, pure and better than it has to be.

First, we take the finest raw milk available, then put it through the most modern processing techniques known to dairy science. Then we make sure that every half-gallon contains almost two full cups of cream for extra food value and nourishment children need so much.

It takes 23 separate quality tests to make sure we've bottled the purest, freshest, best-tasting milk you can buy. But over 100 years in the business have taught us it's worth the extra trouble.

After all, it's mostly children who drink Borden's Milk. And we want them to have the best. Don't you?

Water, Inc., opens permanent office

LUBBOCK — John J. Kendrick, president of Water, Inc., announced today that the association has opened its permanent office at 1015 Ave. Q in Lubbock. Water, Inc., was formed by interested individuals to inform the public of the need for, and assist in the planning for, the acquisition, operation, distribution and storage of water that is so vital to the continued growth and prosperity of this area. W. Buchanan of Dumas, is the manager of the association, and is distributing membership applications for membership in the association. The board of directors of Water, Inc., urges everyone to join in this important and challenging project. Office hours for the association are 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Weevil hunters checking fields for fall spraying

LUBBOCK — Field activity in the fourth year of the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program was sharply boosted July 5 when 30 trained weevil hunters took to cotton fields along the eastern edge of the Plains.

These men, working in two-man teams, will keep a thorough check of weevil infestations this summer to delimit and map the control zone for this fall's spray operations. They will inspect fields throughout the original 300,000 acre control zone.

But Ed Dean, Field Service director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says it is hoped the base acreage to be sprayed this year will be 125,000 acres or less. However, he went on to say that every field where a weevil is found this summer will have to be sprayed, so no definite prediction of acreage can be made. Last year's program covered 185,000 base acres.

The search for weevils will continue right up to Sept. 5 when the first application of ultra low volume malathion is expected to start.

Like last year, the first three applications will be applied in rapid-fire sequence at intervals of only 5 days. These will be followed by applications at 10 to 14 day intervals until frost or chemical desiccation does away with the weevil's food supply.

The first three chemical applications, dropping 12 ounces of the deadly material per acre, are designed to break the weevil's reproductive cycle. The following doses, because of cooler weather and wider time spacing, will be at 16 ounces per acre. Their purpose is to kill remaining weevils before they attain the diapause stage and leave fields for hibernation sites.

This same two-phase system has been used in the program for the past two years and has achieved from a 97 to 99 per cent reduction in the number of hibernating weevils.

The 15 mapping teams are working under the direction of USDA's Plant Pest Control Division, which is charged with the general operation of the spray program.

Two other teams from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be inspecting weevils at the same time for additional information on dates of emergence, time required to reach diapause and other data pertaining to population dynamics.

Ultra low volume malathion has been used exclusively in the program for the past three years and will be used this year on all but about 6,500 acres.

That acreage, located along and on either side of Duck and Dockum Creeks in Dickens County (near Farm Road 836 northwest of Spur) is tentatively set aside for a test run on guthion, only recently approved by USDA for use in low volume form.

Dean said guthion is also an exceptionally safe insecticide and tests on small acreage have indicated it has a longer residual effect, kills weevils quicker and retains more potency when subjected to rain or other adverse weather after application.

"If guthion should prove itself in this year's test, it offers good possibilities for reducing the cost of next year's program," Dean said. He pointed out that it is a little cheaper chemical and that its other characteristics might permit fewer applications without reducing the effectiveness of the program.

Dean also noted that plans are going ahead toward initiating methods development work in which some of the new eradication techniques now in the laboratory can be field tested in connection with the High Plains program.

"The sooner we get this eradication work underway the sooner we can look for an end to the weevil problem on the Plains," Dean said, and added that "entomologists are now giving us hope that the means to this end may not be too far away."

Front runner among eradication techniques is now the sterile-male approach, similar to that which has been so successful in eliminating the screwworm fly.

Texas A&M University has already allocated funds for construction of a laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, according to Dean, "and the prime need now is for funds to build a mass rearing facility."

He pointed out that this phase of weevil research is outside the realm of the High Plains program which was designed and operates solely as a protective barrier to prevent westward weevil migration into the whole High Plains area.

"Financing for this eradication research must come from other

Bond sale now at all-time high

Sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds are at an all-time high, according to J. B. Potts, chairman of the Garza County Savings Bonds Committee. Savings Bond sales during the month of May in Garza County totaled $5,100. For the first five months of 1967 sales in this county amounted to $21,781.25, which is 16 per cent of the yearly goal of $160,000. Total purchase of Series E and H Bonds in Texas for the month of May totaled $14,036,665—9.7 per cent increase over May of 1966.

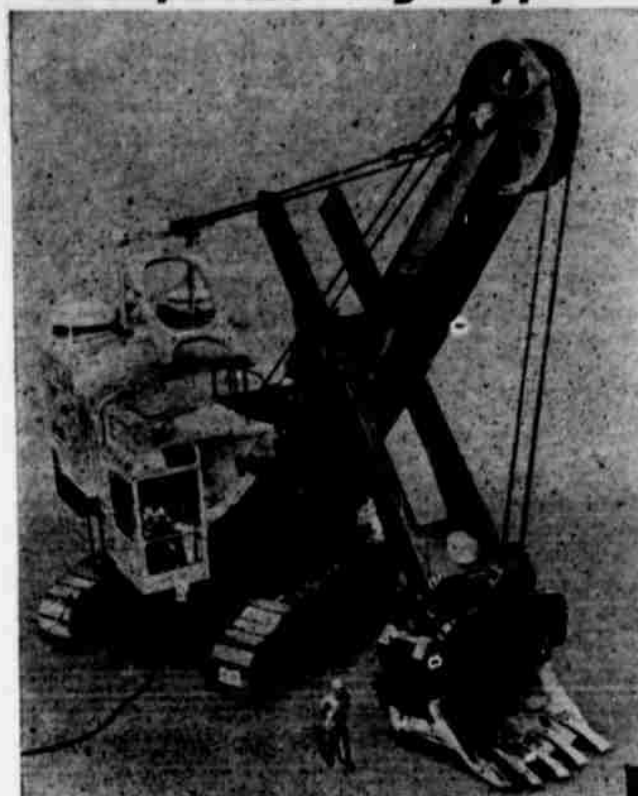

Nationally, during May new purchases of E and H Savings Bonds amounted to $438 million—a 22-year peak—and an increase over May 1966 of 6 per cent.

sources," Dean stated, "because the entire cotton belt not just the High Plains, stands to benefit from it."

Discussing the value of weevil control to High Plains producers, Dean called attention to the pink bollworm situation in Arizona. In 1962 an intensive control program in which all Arizona producers took part had reduced infestations of the "pinky" to almost nothing.

"Intensive control efforts were stopped," Dean says, "and this year virtually every cotton field in Arizona has pink bollworms, costing farmers an average of $30 an acre to control. And the boll weevil would soon have Plains cotton producers in the same squeeze without our diapause control program."

Top rodeoer out with broken foot

DENVER — Pro rodeo's top money grabber, Larry Mahan of Brooks, Ore., and a half dozen other cowboys, were on the sidelines this week from injury following a jolting series of rodeos over the long July 4th holiday.

Mahan, 23, suffered a broken foot after being stepped on during bull riding action at St. Paul, Ore. Doctors said he might be able to compete, wearing a cast, at Cheyenne Frontier Days, July 25-30.

Some 452 other contestants are entered in six arena events for the Wyoming highlight which closed its entry lists June 24 this year, a month before opening date.

Mahan, who won the national all-around cowboy diadem in 1966, after earning $40,358 in riding events, is leading for the coveted title again this season. His current winnings, $28,582, is a record for this time of year, and almost twice as much as his nearest rival has collected.

$50 million in construction is now under way for the 1968 HemisFair

SAN ANTONIO — Spearheading one of the most massive building booms in Southwestern history is the incredibly complex construction now under way on some $50 million worth of massive pavilions and exotic lagoons on the 92-acre site of HemisFair 1968.

Much of the work is in progress on the $10.5 million City of San Antonio Civic Center, the $10 million Institute of Texan Cultures, and the $8.75 million United States Exhibit.

Construction starts are scheduled for this summer on many of the major industrial pavilions, such as General Motors, Ford Motor Co., IBM, General Electric and others.

Pavilions for the 30 foreign governments expected at the Texas World's Fair are either completed or nearing completion.

Plans for the exhibit and the entertainment that will occupy these structures are keeping pace.

Visitors to HemisFair between April 6 and Oct. 6, 1968 will find 92 acres of enchantment and excitement, exhibits and food from many foreign lands, new entertainment from throughout the world and the many constant wonders of modern exhibitry will greet the expected 7.2 million visitors.

Soaring above it all will be the 622-foot Tower of the Americas, the tallest observation tower in the Western Hemisphere, with its revolving restaurant giving diners a panoramic view of the international exposition and the South Texas countryside. Construction on the concrete spire has reached the 450-foot mark and is creeping up at a rate of 10 feet per day.

Latest foreign government to announce participation plans is Venezuela, which joins previously announced Mexico, Spain, Switzerland, Republic of China, France, Tunisia, Italy, Nicaragua, Germany and Korea. A total of 30 nations is expected.

OUTDOORS in TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

There is a food problem for wildlife just as there is for humans. Perhaps the most serious right now is providing food for deer. Their population is increasing.

Despite very liberal laws, hunters haven't been able to do much about reducing the herd.

Large areas of Texas which normally support both livestock and wildlife have had but little rain. Drought has affected them. In agricultural areas, there has been heavy spring depredation and it is likely to get worse as the hot, dry weather continues. This fall it may be serious.

Texas' Parks and Wildlife Department now is looking for some practical plant that can be used to increase or supplement deer food supplies.

DAN LAY, ONE OF THE top biologists operating in East Texas, has been on the search for such a plant for several years. Deer population has increased materially in the piney woods country, but at the same time, considerable land has been utilized for other purposes. For instance, two major lakes already there and another one under construction have wiped out something like a quarter of a million acres of deer range.

Right now, Lay is experimenting with yaupon, dwarf liveoak and Japanese honeysuckle. In the last four years he has researched more than 20 species of browse plants. He has found that a yaupon orchard, properly managed, will yield a ton of excellent browse per acre. Production of Japanese honeysuckle can exceed that figure.

YAUPON IS AN evergreen of the holly family. It is a branched shrub, with white-cluster blossoms that produce small berries, also good as bird food. Its growth, however, is slow.

Japanese honeysuckle has a vigorous, twining, woody vine, spreading 20 feet or more, with long metal flowers. Deer are particularly fond of this plant as a food.

Both plants are fine for East Texas, where there is abundant rainfall. But in the Edwards Plateau and the Trans-Pecos areas, deer browse is another problem. Fortunately, many of the landowners, particularly those who lease shooting privileges, are willing to feed their deer as they do livestock. Some even go so far as to plant winter oats and turnip patches.

Since more and more landowners are recognizing that wildlife can be a crop, they are taking steps to insure that wildlife gets enough food.

QUITE A BIT OF experimental work already has been done on the Kerr management areas, northwest of Kerrville. Here, there are pens with high fences, where deer, cattle and goats share a common area.

From these experiments, information is passed on to landowners who can use similar practices and propagation of necessary foods.

Thus while we do have more wildlife, preserving it is getting to be more complicated, like everything else. This means landowners must get a fee for hunting privileges. Otherwise they can hardly afford to feed and care for the wildlife as it should be.

Wildlife comeback has been starting in some areas.

FOR INSTANCE, WILD turkey are said to be practically taking over southern Coleman County. A dozen years ago it was impossible to find a turkey in the area. Some were transplanted there. They have good timber for nesting along the Colorado river bank and in other smaller stream beds. And there is room for them to range with a lot of native food.

Other food testing experiments also are being carried out in other ecological areas of the state. Clubs and landowners can cooperate with the game department in this planning.

No doubt about it — increasing wildlife population can mean a money crop to farmers and ranchers.

GI bill checks to come earlier now

WACO — Checks for more than 200,000 veterans who will attend college next fall under the new GI Bill for Vietnam veterans will arrive about ten days earlier next month because of an improved system adopted by the Veterans Administration.

Future checks will normally arrive about the 10th of the month, according to Jack Coker, manager of the VA Regional office.

The 10-day speed-up results from dropping the requirements for monthly certification, Coker said. Now a veteran who is attending a regular course at an approved college or university certifies his attendance at the beginning of the school year.

Checks continue as long as a veteran continues in regular attendance until his eligibility expires, the manager said. The additional certifications required are handled independently of the checks.

Jaycee tourney set for week of July 24

Teen-Age club to Shallowater

Plenty of teen-age baseball fans will be driving toward the district town and the Post Jaycees' annual second annual teen-age invitational baseball tournament here for the week of July 24. Frank Blanton, tournament manager for the Jaycees, said four teams already have been secured for the planned six-team field in a double elimination tournament. Teams from Slaton and Lubbock still to be contacted.

Already entered besides Post are Shallowater, Tahoka and O'Donnell.

Manager Walker of the Teen-Age club has been giving his club a few days rest from non-league games in an effort to get the club out of its mid-season slump which has left the players too tired either to play or work to be as sharp as usual.

This was evident last Saturday night when the club took its first loss of 1967 in a 10-6 loss here to the Lubbock Texans, a team which had beaten earlier by a 2-1 score.

The local club will return to action Saturday night at Shallowater against the current second place team in the district. The locals are nine straight district winners and are leading district play by one game.

Monday night, Post will travel to Abilene for another district encounter.

Next home game will be here Friday night against Floydada, a district winner, in a non-league game.

Post defeated Floydada 9-0 at Floydada last Friday night and a return game scheduled here Friday night, but this was postponed a week at Floydada's request.

Manager Walker also announced the next district game here with Roosevelt next Thursday night to give the club two home games next week.

Walker said the regional teen-age tourney will be at Lockney for the week of July 31. It will be a double elimination affair between Floydada and Haskell the two teams besides the local district representative which shows up as Post unless the locals have a disastrous slump and drop three out of their final district games.

Ranking with their first defeat Friday night as their major disappointment of last week was the failure of two Lubbock teams to show up here last Thursday night.

A good crowd of Post fans were on hand for the event and over $100 in gate admissions had to be returned after an hour's wait.

Manager Walker said he still has not received any explanation for the failure of the Lubbock teams "to show" from the man with whom he arranged the games.

Clyde Cash pitched Post to its 9-0 first win over Floydada at Floydada last Friday night as he effectively scattered three hits and struck out 12 in the seven-inning game.

Rightfielder Joe Hudman won the ball game in the first inning with a home run smash with two mates aboard for three runs, following a one-out walk to Jimmy Bartlett and a two-out single by leftfielder Donny Windham.

A walk to Cash and a single by Ronnie Pierce brought in the fourth run of the inning.

The locals wrapped it up with four more in the third when Hudman doubled home Roy Sappington who had gotten a life on an error. Pierce got his second single to bring Hudman home with two away and then Norman Tanner slammed a two-run homer.

The ninth Post run came in the top of the seventh on an error. Windham's theft of second, and a two-out single by Pierce, his third hit in four plate appearances.

The locals totaled eight hits for the night.

Post Babe Ruth team loses opener, 15 to 6

It wasn't the Post Babe Ruth All-Stars' night Monday as they could do little right in dropping their first round district tournament game at Lamesa to Leveland, 15-6.

The loss sent them against Denver City, 10-3 loser to Brownfield in its first rounder, last night at Lamesa with the loser eliminated from the tournament.

Leveland jumped into a 6-0 lead, but the locals fought back to tally five times and close the gap to 6-5. After that it was all Leveland.

The winners rang up 10 hits and nine errors by Post on the virtually skimmed infield of the big park hurt the Post cause about as much.

Manager Jimmy Bird started Ray Altman, who hurled three innings, and followed him with Terry Moreau for the next two. He sent Jerry Bratcher to the mound to finish up.

Leveland also put five runners aboard via the walk route.

Post picked up five hits in the game—one each by Larry Johnson, Terry Cross, Dennis Dodson, Neff Walker and Ray Altman—and had nine strikeouts recorded against them. Leveland made but two errors.

Hundley wins Reese consolation

Only two Post golfers participated in the fourth annual Reese Air-base Invitational Golf Tournament last weekend—and they wound up playing each other Sunday in the consolation finals of the championship bracket.

Jimmy Hundley defeated Oscar Garner, 3 and 2, to grab consolation honors.

Each was eliminated in Friday's first round in the championship bracket.

Garner defeated Texas Tech's Jim Canine 1-up to win his way into the final round and Hundley advanced into the final by default.

Except for 'Big Play' players

King tells Rotarians Tech gridders best yet

Texas Tech's head football coach, J. T. King, told Post Rotarians Tuesday that his 1967 grid squad will have "more people capable of playing winning football than any squad I've ever had at Lubbock."

He added, however, that "I don't know if we have the 'big players' who can make us a real winner."

By "big play players" he meant the likes of All-America Donny Anderson and quarterback Tom Wilson.

"I'll level with you," King told local Rotarians. "We feel good about this cub but there are many intangibles which can't be controlled, call it luck, breaks or what you will."

He cited the East-West All-America football game Saturday night in Atlanta to illustrate his point. "The West outplayed the East all night but one pass play clicked for the East and they won the game."

King pointed out the Red Raiders will return 10 of its 11 offensive starters from the club which wound up whipping Arkansas for the first time since Tech joined the Southwest Conference.

"Last year we thought we had a much better team than our record indicated," King explained. "We lost three games we should have won and Arkansas won three games they should have lost. We figured before the game we had an even chance."

"Defensively we have more experience and more depth than we've had in a long, long time," King added. "It should be an interesting season."

That was King's five-minute capsule analysis of the fall campaign coming up to give West Texas fans an idea of what they can expect.

The Rotarians entertained the Texas Tech athletic staff and some Red Raider club officials for the luncheon—and then let the Tech coaches talk.

Tech Basketball Coach Gene Gibson told the crowd "if we don't win it's your fault, not mine. You let him get away," pointing to Post's Antelope cage ace, Ronnie Pierce, who signed to play his college basketball for TCU.

Gibson said Tech had a good spring recruiting campaign and got lots of good boys who can pass and shoot. "We're back on the way up," he declared, "starting with next season. The Raiders will have back most of the players who brought Tech along with a winning rush at last season's close."

Athletic Director Polk Robison said with Tech entered in South-west Conference baseball for the first time next spring, Tech will be competing in the league in seven sports and "we want a sound, upper bracket program" in all seven of them.

Berl Huffman, Raider freshman coach who had an undefeated season last year, didn't mention the fact in closing the program but had the crowd laughing with his jokes.

Leete Jackson, executive director of the Red Raider Club, introduced the Lubbock contingent which also included Ralph Carpenter, sports information director; Cal Segrist, baseball coach; Allen Benton, vice president of the Red Raider Club, and Buddy Forbess, director of the Red Raider Club.

Bryan J. Williams arranged for the Tech group's appearance at the luncheon.

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK

Mrs. Wade Ray, former resident of the Barnum Springs community now living in Los Lunas, N. M., suffered a mild heart attack last week. Mrs. Ray, a sister-in-law of Johnny Ray, is reported to be doing fine but must remain in bed for two weeks.

Third sacker Curtis McBride then singled to drive in two and leftfielder Jimmy Jerrell socked one out of the park to score

MINNESOTA GUESTS

Mrs. Darwin Sanders and two daughters of New Brighton, Minn. are spending most of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bartlett, and her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sanders. Mrs. Sander's husband is working in New Mexico this summer so the family is taking advantage of a long summer visit.

Second sacker Duke Altman led the swat parade for Post with three singles and a double in five official trips.

Donny Windham, playing shortstop for a change, and first baseman Nick Pantoja socked the only home runs.

Every one of the ten Post players who got into the game got at least one hit.

Post scored in every inning, getting two in the first, six in the second, two in the third, seven in the fourth, two in the fifth, and three in the sixth.

Post unbeaten string snapped

All winning streaks come to an end sometime and for Manager Pat Walker's Post Teen-Age club, which took the field unbeaten for 1967, it happened before the home fans here Saturday night.

The Lubbock Texans, first place club in Lubbock's Connie Mack League, scored the first six men who went to bat and went on to a 10-6 victory.

The Texans, managed by Lefty Mayberry, former Post athlete and Post High grad, had bowed to Post 2-1 in the first meeting between the two clubs earlier in the summer.

Busty Underwood, Lubbock's prep All-American griddler who is going to TCU this fall on a football scholarship, scattered eight Post hits and struck out 11 as he went the route for the winners.

Post was trailing, 10-2, when the locals put together three hits for four runs in the bottom of the seventh to make the final score respectable.

Ronnie Pierce went the distance for the locals and also gave up eight hits.

It was virtually all over before it got started as leadoff hitter, Mark Stephens of Lubbock, got a life on an infield error, shortstop Ron Chaney was hit by a Pierce pitch, as was Don DeShelia, who followed him to load the bases.

Third sacker Curtis McBride then singled to drive in two and leftfielder Jimmy Jerrell socked one out of the park to score three more. Randy Zelner then singled for the third hit.

At this point the club settled down, but an error with one away on a bouncer to shortstop let in Zelner with the sixth run of the inning.

Lubbock got a run without a hit in the second when Pierce walked the leadoff hitter and he moved on around the bases on outs. They added a pair in the fourth on three hits and catcher Bryant got the 10th run with a homer in the fifth.

Duke Altman singled to open Post's half of the first, was forced at second by Jimmy Bartlett who scored on catcher Donny Windham's single for the first Post run.

Pierce hit a homerun with one out in the second for Post's second run.

Singles by Nick Pantoja, third baseman Roy Sappington, and shortstop Davis Heaton in the seventh, coupled with a hit batsman and an error by the Lubbock pitcher brought in the four runs in the seventh.

Pierce struck out seven.

Need cited for tougher standards

Supt. of Schools Bill Shiver said this week that 81 per cent of Post High's 1968 graduating class can qualify for their diplomas during the next school year by passing courses for only four credits in their senior year.

Seniors are eligible to complete work for six credits in their final year.

Shiver pointed this out to illustrate the need for tougher graduation requirements to keep seniors "bearing down" their final year in preparation for entrance into tougher college work.

School trustees at their next meeting will consider boosting the graduation requirements.

Southland visited by peace corps trainee

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Remember last year when two girls came and visited Southland as part of their training in the Peace Corps? Well, on Saturday, another young lady, Miss Lee Kallen, a Peace Corps volunteer from Memphis, Tenn., came and interviewed different people and looked over several farms. Her father is a Naval officer and lives in St. Paul, Minn. Miss Kallen paid our community a very high compliment when she said: "I can tell by talking to the people in this community that you all live for your children, and place them very high in your lives." I guess we all do get carried away at times when we talk about our children! I know I do! Miss Kallen spent the night in the Herbert Dunn home. When she finishes her training at Texas Tech, she will go to Puerto Rico.

Hello there. How was your Fourth of July? We had a picnic in the afternoon with friends and had a grand time. Hope you enjoyed yours equally well. Southland had a nice refreshing rain that morning — fell just right too, no wind and no hail. Sorry we weren't in the paper last week, but when there is no news, there is no column.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Michaelis of Long Beach, Calif., were guests of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klaus, last week. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Werner Klaus, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Klaus and children and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Klaus.

SUNDAY GUESTS in the G. D.

Ellis home were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Karnes and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vernon of Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs.

Henry Bollinger of Slaton visited a short time in the afternoon.

We were so sorry to hear that Mrs. G. D. Ellis's sister, Mrs. Minnie Harp of Norman, Okla., is very ill and not expected to live. May God be with this family in their hours of concern and sadness.

I talked to Mrs. Alpha Taylor today and she was very happy because she has heard from Clarence and he is doing so much better since his recent surgery. We certainly hope he continues to do so.

Recent guests of Mrs. Alice Martin were Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Billingsly of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Martin from the Hart Camp community.

Mrs. Alice Martin's grandchildren, Paul Ray and Candice Martin, recently spent a day and night with her. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Martin.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Denton has been the gathering place for relatives and friends recently. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lichey, Durant, Okla.; Roy Denton, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carson and Linda, Anchorage, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Adams, Roswell; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Harrigan and five children, Portales, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shelton and baby, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis and Linn, Lockney; Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Alpha Taylor, Rev. and Mrs. W. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Dub Pierce and Mrs. Haywood Basinger. The Carsons are in the process of moving from Alaska to Bangor, Maine. They have another daughter, Louise, who is an airline hostess for Easter Air Line and lives in Chicago.

MRS. ED Denton received a "get well" card recently from the Rev. and Mrs. Reed who live in Louisiana. Rev. Reed organized the first Baptist church in Hackberry community many years ago. This church was later moved to Southland. He had read of Mrs. Denton's illness in the "Southland News". So from that you can see how far our news goes, so let's try to put more news in this column.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wartes struck it rich recently. They have three new grandbabies — all born within a few days of each other. Con-

It was a beautiful day so everyone enjoyed themselves, either skiing, swimming or eating.

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS

from the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Within the next few months, residents of several cities in Texas may vote local sales taxes on themselves.

Some of the larger cities are considering elections under the new law which permits a community to levy a one per cent sales tax, if its citizens approve.

This is in addition to the state's two per cent sales tax.

In Austin, a group of businessmen and civic leaders are urging the city council to call a sales tax election.

A statewide survey indicates that Houstonians — where the proposal could bring in as much as $14,000,000 a year — will be among the first to vote. Mayor Louie Welch said the city council will be asked to call an election on the issue this fall.

San Antonio Mayor W. W. McAllister expressed support for the local sales levy and said a vote could be scheduled after Sept. 28. Without the additional revenue, he said, San Antonio would have to reduce municipal services or in-crease more service charges.

City officials in many smaller towns, on the other hand, indicate they have no intention of rushing into sales tax controversies. One, who probably represented views of many, said city governing bodies ought to wait on a call by citizens, through petitions or other formal requests, before setting any elections to impose new forms of taxation.

AUTO INSURANCE Going Down — Starting Aug. 1, Texans will be paying slightly less for their auto insurance on a statewide average.

Some will pay considerably less, some more. But overall, the State Board of Insurance maintains that motorists will pay $4,200,000 less in premiums. Average statewide savings will be about one per cent for all classes of coverage combined.

Board adopted, with minor changes, the recommendations of its staff as submitted at a public hearing on June 20. Changes related to commercial and miscellaneous classes for bodily injury, property damage liability and physical damage coverages.

At the same time, the Board authorized a study of so-called "good student" credit. Latter would make some reduction in stepped-up rates charged young males under 25, provided they are students in the upper scholastic achievement bracket. Board said it is strongly inclined toward allowing such a discount.

Another study will explore the possibility of creating additional statistical territories.

HUNTING SEASONS SET — Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission decided deer hunters can shoot on New Year's Day next year.

But the Commission trimmed two days off the white-winged dove season.

Deer hunting for most areas will be Nov. 11 through Jan. 1 — two days longer than last year. A special experimental season of Nov. 18 through Jan. 7 was set for deer and turkey in Frio County. A short, Nov. 25 through Dec. 10, season was retained for Trans-Pecos, but the district bag limit was increased to four deer, including an additional white-tailed buck.

Commission decided the white-winged season should be held to the weekends of Sept. 2-3 and 9-10 this year. Reason is the 17 per cent decline in bird population, a big kill in Mexico and experimental permission for shooting in the old white-wing sanctuary along the border in Starr, Cameron and Hidalgo counties.

GRANTS CLEARED — Anti-poverty grants totalling more than $9,000,000 to fund jobs for 100,000 hard-core Texas unemployed have been cleared by governor.

Connally waived power of veto over the "concentrated employment programs" which will operate in Houston and San Antonio.

Houston project will receive more than $4,900,000. San Antonio, $4,100,000. Local contributions also will go into programs concentrated in cities' worst slum areas and providing counseling, training and job placement services.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY UP — Texas business activity reached another record high in May — five per cent over previous month and 10 per cent over May, 1966.

Average annual growth rate of Texas business activity during first five months of 1967 was nine per cent, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Industrial production index maintained a fairly steady rise throughout 1966 and jumped again in May after levelling off early this year. Bureau also reports a 20 per cent construction gain during May and predicts continued growth.

STUDENT AID PLANNED — Some 1,350 "high potential" June graduates of Texas high schools who planned no college careers will be offered financial aid and encouragement to pursue higher education after all.

Members of selected group are being contacted by the Coordinating Board for Higher Education, interviewed on their college and course preferences and need for assistance. They will then be placed in contact with college authorities who will attempt to work out satisfactory arrangements. The Governor's Committee on Public School Education arranged the project with the Coordinating Board and administered tests to 67,000 seniors.

Ring doubleheader set for Astrodome

HOUSTON — Ticket prices for the World's Heavyweight Boxing Championship tournament on Aug. 5 in the Astrodome have been set at $5, $10, and $25, it was announced today by Fred Hofheinz, president of Astrodome Championship Enterprises, the promoters of the fight.

All permanent cushioned upholstered seats at the Astrodome will be just $5 while the temporary ringside seats will be $10 and the golden circle ringside (the first few rows) will be priced at $25. There will also be a special children's price of just $2.50 for the $5 seat. Children's tickets are for kids 12 years of age or younger. "We feel the house is scaled to permit boxing fans of all income levels to enjoy the first doubleheader of its kind in boxing history," Hofheinz said.

The elimination tourney at the Astrodome will pit Ernie Terrell against Thad Spencer and Jimmy Ellis against Leotis Martin in two 12-round bouts beginning at approximately 4 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 5. The winners of each bout will continue in the World Boxing Association tournament to compete in the semi-finals with the winners of the Floyd Patterson-Jerry Quarry fight and the Karl Mildenberger-Oscar Bonavena fight.
