Mayor race only contest in Saturday, Tuesday voting

Lucas challenged for third time by John Hopkins

With Saturday's school trustee election strictly a "no contest" affair, and the mayor's race the only one in which there is a contest in next Tuesday's city election, comparatively light voting is expected in both elections.

Some believe, however, that the mayor's race between the incumbent, Harold Lucas, and his third-time challenger, John Hopkins might pull a respectable sized vote in the city election.

Lucas, seeking a third two-year term, was opposed by Hopkins in both the 1963 and 1965 elections, with Lucas winning both times.

Three of the present city councilmen have filed for new two-year terms. They are Bob Collier, seeking a third term; Lewis C. Herron, candidate for a second term, and D. C. (Billy) Hill, seeking his first elective term. Hill was appointed to the council last November to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Leo M. Acker.

Three candidates, including one new one, have filed for the three places to be filled on the Post school board.

The new candidate is Giles Dalby, who has filed for Place 2, now held by Ted Aten, who is not seeking re-election. Aten was sworn in Jan. 1 as Precinct 2 county commissioner.

The other school trustee candidates are Russell Wilks Jr., board president, who filed for re-election to Place 3, and Earl Chapman, board secretary, who is a candidate for re-election to Place 1.

Voting in the school election Saturday will be in the high school library, with the polls opening at 8 a.m. and closing at 7 p.m. Mrs. Louille Morris will be the election judge.

The city election will be held Tuesday at the City Hall, with Sexton Huntley as election judge. Voting will be from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Adding some interest to this year's Spring elections is the fact that they will be the first ever held here in which a poll tax receipt or exemption is not necessary to vote. The new voter registration receipts will be required, however.

Two absentee votes have been cast in the city election, according to Wanda Wilkerson, city secretary.

Vietnam fighter is honored by Jaycees

Sp4 Elvin Allen, who is home on furlough from Vietnam, was presented an honorary membership in the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce and an appreciation plaque at a Jaycee meeting last Thursday night at Judy's Cafe.

The soldier's honorary membership pin was presented by Jaycee president-elect Ronnie Morris, with president Wayne Richardson presenting the plaque.

Allen, who "rides shotgun" on a helicopter gunship, received the Bronze Star medal while serving in Vietnam and also has an Air Medal with 17 clusters. When his furlough is over, he will return to Vietnam for another six months of duty.

Tommy Young was named at the meeting as Jaycee of the Month for March. Nominations were made for Jaycee of the Year, with a plaque to be presented at the annual installation banquet April 8.

Reports were made at the meeting on the upcoming banquet and dance, and Frank Blanton presented a slide program on leadership training.

Two new members, Robert Mayfield and Russell Orr, were signed up. Royce Anthony was present as a guest.

Hootenanny set for Saturday

It'll be hootenanny time again Saturday night, April 1, with a number of good bands already lined up for the monthly Post Jaycee-sponsored event.

The hootenanny will start at 8 o'clock in the old post office building on North Avenue I.

Jaycees will sell candy, soft drinks and other concessions. There is no admission charge.

TOMMY YOUNG

Tommy Young is Jaycee of Month

Tommy Young, who has been a member of the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce for eight months, was named as Jaycee of the Month for March at last Thursday night's meeting at Judy's Restaurant.

Young was selected for the honor for his enthusiasm on club projects and for the job he did as chairman of the City Basketball League, which the Jaycees sponsored.

The 27-year-old Jaycee is a native of Post and a 1958 graduate of Post High School. He attended West Texas State University for three semesters.

He and his wife, the former Ruth Ann Long, live nine miles north of Post. They have two sons, Jay, 5, and Ken, 2.

Young was recently elected secretary of the Jaycees.

POST HIGH SCHOLARS RECEIVE SWEATERS

Twenty-five of the 26 Post High School students who earned academic award sweaters received their sweaters last Thursday afternoon at an assembly in the gymnasium. The other academic letter winner, Emily Potts, had received her sweater earlier and was not in the picture. Front row, left to right, are: David Dodson, Jim Hutchins, Danny Windham, Joe

Park board to assist on campsites project

The city-county park board proposed its full cooperation in a special meeting with the city council Monday afternoon for the development of a tourist campsite area on the south side of the lake in county park.

Mayor Harold Lucas told the board yesterday that the council expects to take action Monday night to proceed with the planning for such a facility so it can be constructed and ready for tourists by early summer.

He said the city will finance the project, which is not expected to be very expensive.

The council members and the park board inspected the area in the city-county park where it is proposed that six trailer spaces be made available for families traveling in vacation trailers or pickup campers.

Mayor Lucas said each of the six campsites would be approximately 40 feet in width and about 30 feet deep. They would have asphalt or concrete surfaces surrounded by posts for protection of campsite occupants.

He said water and electrical utilities as well as sanitation facilities could be provided.

No exact estimate of total cost has yet been made. Lucas said an engineer may be employed to draw up plans for the campsites which he said would fit well between trees already planted.

Lucas pointed out in future years, the trees could provide shade for campers.

Still to be worked out is a system of road signs to advertise the tourist campsite here to all travelers passing through the region.

One major point in favor of the tourist campsite is the ideal location, both on US-84 and on a lakefront site.

George (Scotty) Samson, Post's "flower box man," has added another pair of eye-appealing flower boxes to the local scene in recent weeks.

The first he had erected in front of the courthouse to balance out across the walk from the one he built there a year ago. The second is on South Ave. F Street at the turn east to the Post Mill office to help call attention to a directional marker pointing the way to the state historical marker at the Postex offices.

George is not only an expert stone mason, thus enabling him to build fine flower boxes, but he is an expert on flowers too. Which means he knows how to fill them with beautiful flowers.

In recent years, George has built several of his flower boxes at the Postex Mills to give folks who work there a touch of real beauty going and coming from work.

If anyone has any doubts but that the Antelope Booster Club has been one of the busiest organizations in

Purchase of books authorized

Trustees of the Post Public Library Tuesday night authorized the purchase of an additional $343.27 worth of new library books from city funds before June 30.

This gives the acquisition committee of the Friends of a Public Library organization 90 days in which to make selections, send off the orders, and receive the books.

The board, which two months ago had authorized $1,000 for the purchase of new library books, heard a report that the acquisitions committee has purchased $650.48 worth of new books from this authorization.

The separate account will enable the trustees to better handle county funds also provided for library use and public donations made from time to time.

Trustees authorized Mrs. Rosa Gambin, the board's secretary-treasurer, to pay bills from the fund.

Mrs. Rosemary Chapman, librarian for the Friends organization, was designated as purchasing agent for the library board with the authority to make necessary purchases of up to $50 without prior board approval.

Two bills for new book purchases were approved for payment. Heard a report from Mayor Har-

A dozen Post merchants will launch a new series of Post Dollar Days here Friday and Saturday, which promise a wide range of bargains for budget-minded shoppers.

The monthly Dollar Day events are planned regularly for the next months to see if such a bargain price promotion is of interest to local and area shoppers.

All 12 of the participating merchants have advertised their Dollar Day specials in individual ads today's Dispatch on pages 3, 4, and 9.

Participating in the first of the series of Post Dollar Days are: Bob Collier, Druggist; Lavelle's, Wacker's, Western Auto, Hundt's, Post Pharmacy, Gulf Wholesale, Scott-Pool, Inc., and Parrish & Market.

The range of bargains, which are scheduled in the two-day April Dollar Day event opening tomorrow, include:

For the car owner such items as $4.95 seat cushions for only $2.99, regular $15.95 shock absorbers for just $6.50; $1.55 auto extension for $1; $1.40 tires rods which fit any car for $1.10; spark plugs for 65 cents; oil filters for only $1.75; regular $4 30,000 mile grease jobs for $3.10, and many more.

THURSDAY DEADLINE FOR TAG PURCHASES

The "last minute rush" for car owners to purchase new 1967 license plates was awaited today at the county tax-assessor-collector's office.

H. Tipton points out that as yesterday noon only 1,323 sets of car tags had been purchased for nearly 2,000 automobiles.

Deadline for the purchase of car tags here before the April 1 deadline is 5 p.m. Friday.

Car owners must have their tags on by Saturday, April 1, or be subject to a fine for operating an unregistered vehicle. A 20 per cent penalty on registration.

Publishing era ends at Tahoka

The sale of the Lynn County News at Tahoka marks the end of a publishing era in the Lynn County seat town.

Effective Saturday, the new owners will assume charge of the paper, which they purchased from Frank P. Hill, editor and publisher.

The Lynn County News is changing hands after 43 years and five months under the present ownership. But the newspaper has been on the scene much longer than that. Established in 1903, it claims the distinction of being the oldest business institution on the South Plains south of Lubbock.

During the more than forty years the Lynn County News was in the Hill family, it and the Post Dispatch were "good neighbors." The two weekly newspapers have helped each other out in a number of ways when one or the other was confronted with such common newspaper problems as mechanical breakdowns, lost stereotype mats, etc.

We have known Frank Hill ever since we came to West Texas and also knew his father, E. I. Hill, upon whose death several years ago

Frank became editor and publisher of the Lynn County News.

In addition to our association with Frank Hill through our newspaper work, we also came to know him as one of Tahoka's top sports fans and can't recall ever having attended an athletic contest in which Tahoka High School was involved that Frank wasn't there. He was the sort of a newspaper man who would insist that you take his chair in a press box if came in late and couldn't find a chair of your own.

Frank Hill and his wife, Mae, who refers to herself as the "old advertising gal," sang their "swan song" in Frank's "Printer's Ink-ings" column in last Thursday's News. As to their plans for the future, Frank closed his column with "We may loaf a bit, but we don't intend just to sit on the front porch and swat flies."

The Dispatch welcomes the new publishers of its neighboring newspaper to the west and trusts that its association with them will be as long and as friendly as it has with its former owners.—CD

Will marbles make a comeback?

Marbles are making a comeback and Spring is the best time of the year to tell about it.

The Wall Street Journal says the marble makers look for this Spring to set a sales record for their product. The Journal says that the Vitro Agate Company of Parkersburg, W. Va. has had its seven automatic marble making machines working 24 hours a day since Fall, turning out three million marbles a day in anticipation of the big Spring business boom.

This company, which has given away six million booklets on how to be a marble champion, says the number of marble players is growing by leaps and bounds.

That is good. Along with kite-flying and top-spinning, marble-shooting used to be one of the greatest pastimes among the nation's youngsters, and you rarely heard of a marble player getting into trouble—unless it was with his parents for playing "keeps."

We can remember when the playgrounds at school were full of marble rings and recess during the noon hour, and most vacant lots were crowded with marble players after school.

Back in those days, of course, a youngster had time to shoot marbles and fly kites and spin tops. Nowadays, however, he is rushed from one activity to another until he doesn't have time for such playground sports.

You still see bags of marbles on the store counters, but youngsters nowadays acquire them more to look at than play with. Most of them wouldn't know an agate from a crockie, and if you asked him which of his marbles was his "law," he'd probably just stare at you with his mouth open.

Perhaps the big marble company's campaign to bring back marble-shooting as a playground pastime will bear fruit, and when we see a gang of youngsters with their heads together, maybe they'll be promoting a marble game instead of plotting something to get into.—CD

Four generations of Legionnaires

March, the month just closing, marks the 48th birthday of The American Legion, which was organized just after the end of World War I.

Locally, James C. Cole Post No. 279 of The American Legion was organized not long after the Legion itself was established, the post having as its first members young men of Post and Garza County who had just returned from a war that was supposed to have made the world safe for democracy.

Again this year, however, as in so many of the recent years, the Legion's big birthday party took on a serious note as the organization saluted the men and women who today serve in the nation's armed forces.

This year's observance is the Legion's first as an organization of four generations of war veterans. The organization now consists of veterans of World War I, World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War.

The Dispatch salutes Legionnaires in Post, Garza County and elsewhere on their organization's 48th birthday.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

One thing can be said for the television moguls, they are not afraid of change, even at the expense of sponsors. They are perfectly willing to toss old shows on the scrap heap and accept a few millions to see if they have come up with any improvement. There is always a possibility that the public may build up an immunity to both commercials and whatever entertainment may be inserted between them.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

SATURDAY, THE first day of April, is April Fool's Day and also the first day of National Laugh Week. So, no matter what sort of April Fool's prank is pulled on you, just laugh about it the rest of the week.

April is Cancer Crusade Month and National Hobby Month, and Sunday, April 2, is Daughter's Day — which is a new one on me.

THERE ISN'T much going on for the remainder of the first week of April, but if you're still laughing over those April Fool's pranks, you won't notice. Then, when April 9 gets here, you can begin observing Pan American Week, and it is also Sir Winston Churchill Day, commemorating the date on which he became an honorary citizen of the U. S.

The baseball season opens April 10 with a single game in Washington, D. C., and if you've stopped laughing by now, you can start again on April 11 when you see the pictures of LBJ throwing out the first ball.

NATIONAL ARTICHOKE Week gets under way April 12, and as if that weren't enough, April 17 is the federal income tax deadline, which is a good time to stop laughing if your income tax isn't in under the wire.

Sunday, April 16, marks the beginning of Discover America Planning Week, National Garden Week, Bike Safety Week, National Library Week (which will be observed locally), National YWC Week (which won't) and Consumer Credit Week. Free-World Friendship Week starts April 17.

APRIL 19 IS Patriots Day and Paul Revere Day and National Coin Week starts April 22. Sunday, April 23, marks the beginning of Secretaries Week, Canada - U. S. Goodwill Week and Youth Temperance Education Week. Chemical Progress Week starts April 24 and the 25th is American National Conservation Day.

Sunday, April 30, the last day of the month, sees the beginning of Daylight Saving Time, with no one knowing yet whether Texans will set their clocks up an hour or leave them where they are. April 30 is also Rural Life Sunday and the first day of Baby Week and National Invest-in-America Week.

LOCALLY, THE school election is on April Fool's Day and the city election is Tuesday, April 4. If you're looking for some place to go on those two days, go vote.

The advertising department just reminded me that Friday and Saturday are also Dollar Days here in Post.

THE MAN UP the street describes a ravine beauty as the girl who finished second in a beauty contest.

This April Fool's column wouldn't be complete without a puzzle or a tongue-twister, so here is one of the latter. It doesn't seem to make sense only because it isn't punctuated. (That being one of the reasons.)

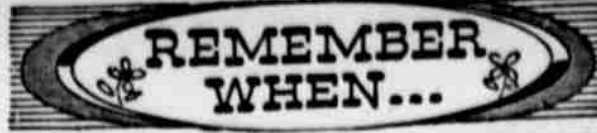

Mr. Go and Mrs. Went had a date to see a ball game so . . . Go knew Went wanted to go but it depended upon when Went went so Go went to Went to get Went to go but Went told Go to go so Go went After Go went Went went after Go to tell Go to go not knowing Go went to phone Went not to go When Went went to tell Go to go and when Go went to let Went know Go wanted Went not to go is not known and that's why Go went without Went and Went went without Go.

Laboratory here given approval for Medicare

The Medical Center Laboratory, 111 North Ave. 1, has been notified by the Bureau of Health Insurance, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, that it meets the requirements for coverage of services under the Health Insurance for the Aged Program. This laboratory is directed by Dr. Harry A. Tubbs and is approved for tests and procedures in microbiology, clinical chemistry, hematology, exfoliative cytology and immunohematology. The effect of these approvals is that the clinical laboratory and x-ray department of the Medical Center may function as an independent laboratory under the direction of Dr. Tubbs. Medicare patients may be referred for diagnostic studies by other practicing physicians. The results of the various tests are reported to the referring physician and the patient is returned to the care of the referring physician.

Service Pipe Line Co. to expand system in area producing areas

TULSA, Okla. — Service Pipe Line Company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company (Indiana), has announced plans to provide additional crude oil transportation to mid-west refineries by expanding its pipeline system serving West Texas and New Mexico producing areas.

T. R. Aude, vice-president operations, said the expansion will make it possible to move an additional 30,000 barrels daily from West Texas and New Mexico. The current capacity of the company's system between the area and Drumright, Okla., is about 163,000 barrels daily.

The project calls for installation of about 14,000 additional horsepower at pump stations in Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri. About 75 miles of 16-inch pipeline will be built to tie together loops which now parallel a 16-inch pipeline between Monroe, Texas, and Drumright. The result will be two parallel, 16-inch pipelines between the two points.

Construction of the pipeline portion of the project is expected to be completed this summer. Machinery installations will be completed by late this fall.

NEW AGRONOMIST SERVES PLAINS AREA

Officials of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have announced the appointment of a new area agronomist to serve the High and Rolling Plains.

The new agronomist, Dr. Robert B. Metzger, assumed duties in the position March 16 at the Extension Service District Office in Lubbock, according to Extension Director John E. Hutchison.

Metzger will be working closely with county agricultural agents of the area on educational programs dealing with the important agronomic crops and will be responsible for providing needed training on subject matter. He will also assist agents with their result demonstration program and will work with other area specialists on short courses and other teaching and training aids, the director said.

Hutchison further stated that the agronomist will work closely with research personnel at the South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock and other research stations in the area. He will also give assistance to the South Plains Development (SPD) program which was launched last week.

Metzger holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Texas A&M University in agronomy and recently received a Ph.D. from Iowa State University in seed technology with a minor in crop production.

About the same increase resulted from the cotton-grain sorghum rotation.

Not only did this system of rotation reduce the wilt infestation, said Minton, but it also delayed any infestation that did take place. Wilt that developed later in the season did not have such a drastic effect on the yield and fiber and seed quality.

Other measures which can be taken to reduce losses from Verticillium wilt, as outlined by Minton, include the following:

1. Skip-row planting
2. Bed planting
3. Alternate-row irrigating

These three practices will increase soil temperature, an important factor in warding off Verticillium wilt.

4. Planting tolerant varieties
5. Balancing fertility and irrigation practices. Avoid a high moisture-high nitrogen combination.
6. Maintaining a high population, or four to six plants per row foot.
7. Avoiding root pruning, or deep cultivation.

By following the above practices, infestation by Verticillium wilt will be delayed and plant susceptibility to the disease will be reduced.

'White Paper' on small towns due release by WTCC

ABILENE — One of the highlights of the 49th Annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Del Rio April 23-25 will be the release of the "white paper" on small town problems, according to John Ben Shepperd, Odessa, president of the WTCC.

The announcement was made Sunday when officers of the organization completed plans for the annual convention in a session at the WTCC offices in Abilene.

R. W. Hardy, Abilene and Dr. Joe Nelson, Weatherford, both vice presidents of the organization, met with the executive vice president Jack G. Springer, Shepperd and staff members to complete the details for the meeting.

The "white paper" which is being prepared at this time will be distributed at the convention. It is a resume of the six hearings held recently by the Small Town Task Force, as well as conclusions and recommendations for solution of small town problems.

"It was originally intended that the report would be released sooner, but the depth and scope of the study was so great that it could not be completed prior to the convention," according to Springer.

Other features of the convention program will include panel discussions on agri-ranch business, money, business-government and other subjects of vital interest to the people of West Texas, according to the preliminary program plans.

Q. My husband recently passed away. He served in the Armed Forces during World War II. Is he eligible for a headstone?

A. Any deceased veteran of wartime or peacetime service whose last period of service was terminated honorably is eligible for a headstone.

Q. I had named my first wife, mother of my two children, as beneficiary of my G. I. insurance. She is now deceased and I have remarried. Is it necessary that I now name my present wife as beneficiary, or wouldn't the insurance be paid to my present wife for these minor children anyway?

A. The VA is required by law to pay the insurance proceeds to the designated beneficiary. If you want the proceeds to go to your present wife, write VA that you want her designated as beneficiary.

Q. My son is now serving with the Armed Forces in Vietnam. He entered military service June 15, 1965. Is he covered by government insurance?

A. All members of the Armed Forces have been provided with Servicemen's Group Life Insurance since midnight, Dec. 28, 1965, unless they submitted a refusal in writing. These policies are issued and administered by private commercial companies, not the Veterans Administration. Upon leaving service the serviceman has 120 days in which to convert to a permanent form of insurance.

Social Security is a good buy

Many Americans covered under Social Security today are asking, "wouldn't it be cheaper to take out a private insurance policy? Others are asking—whether it wouldn't be cheaper to save the money, put it in savings, and draw it out upon reaching retirement age?"

The answer to both of these questions is: No. Well-informed insurance officials agree that, even if Social Security taxes are increased, the answer would still be: No.

One of the chief reasons, say responsible actuaries, is that Social Security doesn't require the reserves that private insurance does.

Another important reason is that Social Security consists of more than retirement benefits; it also includes survivors and disability benefits. Many young widows with two or three minor children can vouch for Social Security's survivors insurance program. Many an able-bodied man has been struck down by a permanent disability in the prime of life and had to rely solely on Social Security for support.

In short—a part of the social security tax is designed to afford survivors and disability protection during working years, and this protection is a very valuable asset.

The legislation shall also provide that such District shall not be created unless or until an election is held at which such election there be submitted to the qualified property taxpaying electors the proposition of whether or not Garza Hospital District shall be created with the authority to levy annual taxes at a rate not to exceed 25c on a $100.00 valuation of all taxable property within such district, and providing for the assumption by said District of all obligations heretofore issued by Garza County for Hospital purposes and a majority of the qualified property taxpaying electors vote in said election in favor of the proposition.

National FHA Week to be observed here

Post Future Homemakers of America members will observe National FHA Week, April 2-9, beginning the observance Sunday with all members attending the church of their choice.

Monday, the FHA girls' collection of eyeglasses will get under way. Anyone having discarded eyeglasses or gold or silver jewelry which they would like to contribute is asked to take it to the Homemaking lab or call FHA member Marsha Tipton, telephone 495-2529. Collecting eyeglasses for the needy is a national FHA project. The metal of the frames and old jewelry will be melted and remolded. The lens will be renovated for eyeglasses for the needy.

All FHA members will wear the organization's colors of red and white on Tuesday.

Sheriff's Posse in Lubbock parade

The Garza County Sheriff's Posse rode in the ABC Rodeo parade at Lubbock last Thursday afternoon, with 16 members participating.

Two more posse members showed up to ride in the grand entry preceding Thursday night's opening performance, Deputy Sheriff Bill Quattlebaum said.

The posse, which holds practice rides every Sunday afternoon at the rodeo arena, has no other parade performances scheduled until June, Quattlebaum said.

CAMPING TRIP PLANNED
 Plans for a camping trip Saturday and Sunday, April 15-16, were made by members of Boy Scout Troop 316 at their meeting Monday night. The troop members also worked on their scout requirements at the meeting.

One of the "fun events" to be held during the FHA Week observance is the "Mr. Irresistible" program, in which the FHA girls high school boys participate. Each girl is given ribbons at the start of the day, but each time she speaks to a boy she must give him one ribbon. At the end of the day, the boy with the most ribbons is "Mr. Irresistible."

On Thursday, breakfast furnished by the FHA will be served to the faculty members in appreciation of their efforts.

To help beautify the school, the FHA girls will plant a rose in the flower garden next to the Homemaking lab.

Texas tops nation in entries in GFWC-Shells Education Program

The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, including the Woman's Club of Post, submitted more than 107 entries in the 1967 GFWC-Shells Education Program. This is also the largest number of entries ever submitted by the Texas group, according to Mrs. Howard Weant of Falfurrias, state chairman of the TFW Education Department.

Now in its fifth year, the GFWC Shell program rewards local clubs for outstanding work in assisting young people from their community in furthering their education.

Medical group gives program at Culture Club meeting here

Doctors, a registered nurse and a laboratory technologist presented an informative program to members of the Woman's Culture Club and special guests at the March 22 meeting which was held at the Community Room.

Mrs. C. H. Bausman was program leader and introduced Mrs. Harry A. Tubbs, laboratory technologist, who spoke on the detection of cancer and showed colored slides. Dr. J. Polivka, Post's new physician, told about hospitals and medicine in his native Czechoslovakia and answered questions from the members.

Three state awards totalling $1,000 will be given to the Texas winners. The first - place prize is $500, second, $300, and third, $200. In addition to the state awards, three national awards will be given this year: $2,500, $1,500 and $1,000.

Judging the Texas entries were Morris S. Strong of Falfurrias, Superintendent of Schools, Brooks County; Col. (Ret.) Gaillard Peck, USAF, now vice president of the Laredo Chamber of Commerce, and Donald E. Hood of Austin, southwestern regional representative for the Educational Testing Service.

In evaluating the entries, the judges must consider such things as the need for the educational assistance; a well organized, effective and imaginative program; community reaction and involvement in the club program; participation by club members, and the effect of the club's assistance on young people.

Top winners in Texas in 1966 competition was the History Club of Fairfield. Second - place went to the Junior Woman's Club of El Paso, while the Moran Amity Club of Moran was judged third place.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

It suddenly dawned on me the other night that I've been ironing on the same ironing board for over 25 years. I've replaced several irons, refrigerators, ranges, electrical household appliances and about everything else in our house during those years but my ironing board apparently is going to last forever.

I'm probably the only person I know who has a sentimental attachment to an ironing board. Other than the sentiment I feel for it I hate ironing boards, as do most women.

This sentimental feeling I have for my ironing board is because it was a gift from Mr. C before Mr. C was my husband. Please let me explain. Shortly before we were married, Mr. C arrived to pick me up for a date one evening and under one arm was a prettily wrapped package. This didn't surprise me as Mr. C often arrived with unexpected little gifts. However, I could tell by the expression on his face that this gift was a bit unusual and I could hardly wait to open it.

Much to my surprise upon opening the box I found a brand new iron. Mr. C's face was a bit red as he explained that while out on his "news beat" he had dropped into a hardware store to visit with a good friend and noticed he was standing in front of a display of irons which were on sale. His

Dallas Rodeo books trick, fancy roper

DALLAS — The world's champion trick and fancy roper, Jim Eskew Jr. of Ardmore, Okla., will be one of the top entertainment acts featured in the 1967 Dallas All-Star Rodeo April 8 through 15 in the livestock Coliseum at State Fair Park.

Eskew recently put the official brand on his title at Oklahoma City's National Cowboy Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center, sponsor of the first World's Championship Trick and Fancy Roping Contest to be held in 30 years.

Another outstanding crowd-pleaser, according to Rodeo Director Ray W. Wilson, will be "Wetback," the cowboy monkey who displays his excellent riding ability on a Border Collie, "Pat" and "Tina" are the two highly trained dogs who will demonstrate sheep work in the arena. This act belongs to Earl Wharton of San Saba, Texas.

Elaine Kramer, an internationally known equestrienne, will present her famous Roman Riding act with six beautiful horses. After taking the six horses over a single jump, she will climax the act by taking all six over two jumps at one time. Her Roman Riding act is popular in rodeos throughout the United States and Canada, Mr. Wilson said.

These acts will be presented at each of the eight performances of the Dallas All-Star Rodeo, which will include bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, bull riding, and girls' barrel racing.

Beutler Bros. and Harry Knight and Company are stock contractors for the annual rodeo, which is sponsored by the State Fair of Texas and approved by the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Ticket prices are $3 and $2 for reserved seats and $5 and $4 for box seats for each performance. Checks and money orders should be made payable to the State Fair of Texas and mailed to Dallas All-Star Rodeo, P. O. Box 26010, Dallas 75226.

During the ten years she resided in Post, Mrs. Peterson at one time worked at the American Cafe and at Levi's Restaurant, and was manager of the Colonial Apartments here at the time she moved away from Post.

Besides Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Peterson is survived by three other daughters, Mrs. Georgia Woods of Killeen, formerly of Post, Claudia Cook of San Antonio and Cathryn Rendon of San Jose, Calif.; three brothers, 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'The Liquidator' coming to Tower

"The Liquidator," MGM's screen version of John Gardner's best-selling spy thriller, opens Sunday at the Tower Theatre and continues through Tuesday.

Involving an ex-army sergeant who, mistakenly believed to be a cold-blooded murderer, is hired to become an assassin for British Intelligence, "The Liquidator" not only offers movie audiences laughs and thrills. The picture also gives its viewers a fascinating look at a tour of some of the most beautiful and exclusive locales in the south of France.

The cast includes Rod Taylor, Trevor Howard and Jill St. John.

Burlington estimates capital spending to decline during 1967

WILMINGTON, Del. — Burlington Industries, Inc., major textile producer, expects its 1967 capital expenditure program to be at least one-third below its record outlay of $159 million last year for plant and equipment.

Charles F. Myers Jr., president, told the annual meeting of shareholders here today that capital investment this year will be directed toward modernization projects to increase production efficiency, rather than expansion.

The company completed six new plants last year. A seventh is now beginning operations, and a new shortly near Greensboro, N. C.

A decline in sales and earnings which began in Burlington's fourth quarter last year continued through the first quarter of fiscal 1967, Mr. Myers noted.

"The short-term business outlook is extremely difficult to forecast," he said. "Most economists expect consumer spending for non-durables, including apparel, to increase in 1967, but the rate of increase is expected to be more moderate than in 1966."

Presbyterian pastor sets sermon series

The Rev. George L. Miller, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, announced yesterday that he will begin a series of sermons on "The Apostles' Creed."

The first of a series of nine sermons will begin Sunday at 11 a. m. and will be entitled "I Believe In."

He stands alone, looking almost too small for the burden of those books. You watch him, and you wonder what he is thinking. But you know that if you were to ask him, he'd only look up with a little shrug and say — "Oh, nothing."

"Nothing" is so often a child's answer to the deeper questions. Perhaps a child knows instinctively that he can't hope to put into clear words all the puzzle, the confusion, the joy, sorrow, and wonder that comes with growing up. And "nothing" can become — to you — the most frustrating word in the world.

What can you do about it? You can love him, and you can help him in every way you know. You can be sure that he is given a chance to go to church with you, and to Church School. Here he will find some of the best answers of all to that long list of questions that will become longer, still, as time goes by.

Children's lives can be enriched by grandparents

COLLEGE STATION — Children's lives can be greatly enriched by their association with grandparents, says Leota C. Lane, Extension specialist in family life education at Texas A&M University.

The most loved grandparents are those who "spoil" children, but those who love them and respond to them can learn a great deal about the meaning of love through their association with grandparents.

Another important contribution grandparents make to their grandchildren is as a link to the past. Young children understand things only on the basis of their own experience—the present. Through grandparents, the younger generation can learn to appreciate their family heritage. They enjoy hearing about when Mom and Dad were our parents. In these days of emphasis on youth, grandparents can also impart a wholesome attitude toward adulthood. When children have the opportunity to love an older person who is vital, interested, and well-adjusted, they learn to appreciate older people and to look forward to the time when they will be grandparents.

Grandparents can support parents, subtly or openly, in their relationships with grandchildren, reinforcing the teaching done by parents at every opportunity. And, best of all, grandparents can have fun with the young people in "the new generation."

LISTENING POST

One of my favorite people, Earl Chapman Sr. of Midland, has sent a lovely check with which to buy magazine subscriptions. Those selected were: "The New Yorker," "Sports Illustrated," "Harpers," "Saturday Review," "Saturday Evening Post" and "Seventeen."

We are now lacking only "Newsweek," "Good Housekeeping," "Popular Mechanics," "Science Digest," "American Girl," "The Progressive Farmer," and "Atlantic Monthly."

Any takers? For four centuries men have searched for the fabulous lost mines and buried treasures of the Southwest. Coronado was the first, and his tale and that of the gold-hungry horde which followed, are chronicled with vigor and authenticity in "Coronado's Children" by J. Frank Dobie.

Many of the more notorious fortunes have never been found, although their history and general locations are well-known. Quite a few are in Texas. Quisen Sabe? Perhaps they are waiting for you. The Lost San Saba Mine! The Lost Padre! Los muertos no hablan. Forward, mad adventurers!

In the event that you have a more practical nature, here are several useful books which may include just what you've been looking for: "The Complete Secretary's Handbook" by Lillian Doris, "The 1967 Auto-Repair Manual" by Harold T. Glenn, "Complete Manual of Home Repair" by Bernard Gladstone, "The World Almanac and Book of Facts" by Luman H. Lomb, "The Family Game Book" by Robert V. Masters, "New Math for Adults Only" by Lola May and Ruth Moss, "The Complete Guide to Family Camping" by Bill Rivers, and "The New Complete Book of Etiquette" by Amy Vanderbilt. You can find out how to do all SORTS of things at the Post Public Library!

Other new non-fiction books include: "The Land They Fought For" (the story of the South as the Confederacy, 1832-1865) by Clifford Dowdley, "The Varieties of Religious Experience" by William James, "Mere Christianity" by C. S. Lewis, "Waiting for Winter" (a collection of 21 short stories) by John O'Hara, "The World of Insects" by Paul Person, and "The Official Warren Commission Report on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy."

"Castle Ugly", a love story by Mary Ellen Barrett, has left me with mixed emotions. I said to myself at every other sentence, "Boy, was THAT ever corny," but then I staved up all night reading the silly thing. What do you say about a book like that? "A pleasant evening's entertainment"? Why not.

I have not read "Smiling the Boy Fell Dead" by Michael Delving vet, but I certainly do like the title—it has that "certain something"; don't you think? The fly leaf promises a suspenseful mystery which concerns an American art dealer who travels to a remote English village just in time for mayhem.

"The Ninth Directive" by Adam Hall is the successor to "The Quiller Memorandum," winner of the 1965 Mystery Writer's Award. We have both books and they make James Bond look like kid's stuff. Obviously, a new super-spy is on the rise—Quiller—"cynical, a loner, a man whose file bears the 9 suffix. Reliable Under Torture."

Allstair MacLean, the popular author of "The Guns of Navarone," has written his first novel in three years, and a good one it is. "When Eight Bells Toll" introduces a new British Secret Service team who are called upon to stalk a gang of hijackers operating in the Irish Sea, and excitement is high from beginning to end.

Other recent adult fiction purchases are: "The Comedians" by Graham Greene, "Sons and Lovers" by D. H. Lawrence, "Look Homeward Angel" by Thomas Wolfe, and "Surgeon, U. S. A." by Frank G. Slaughter.

A few new "youth" books have also arrived. Non-fiction selections are (1) "To Sir With Love", a biography by E. R. Braithwaite which is currently being made into a movie, (2) "Sometimes Magic," an outstanding collection of stories for the teenage girl introduced by Hallie Burnett, (3) "What's New in Magic" by Walter B. Gibson, (4) "The Seventeen Book of Etiquette and Entertaining" by Enid A. Haupt, (5) "Seven Came Through" by Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, and (6) "700 Science Experiments for Everyone" by UNESCO.

Fiction includes "A Lantern in Her Hand" by Bess Streeter Aldrich, "Fancy Free" and "A Breath of Fresh Air" by Betty Cavanna, "A Woman of the People" by Benjamin Capps, "Johnny Tremain" by Esther Forbes, "A Certain Island" and "The Golden Eagle" by Robert Murphy, "Victory on Janus" (good science-fiction) by Andre Norton, "Island of the Blue Dolphins" by Scott O'Ell, and "The Witch of Blackbird Pond" and "The Bronze Bow" by Elizabeth George Speare.

The preceding books have been brought to you through the courtesy of The Friend's Acquisition

Exhibition still life paintings on view at Museum

LUBBOCK—"Contemporary American Still Life," an exhibition of 38 works by 27 artists organized for circulation by The Museum of Modern Art, New York, is on view at West Texas Museum on the Texas Tech campus, sponsored by the Texas Tech Artists Course through April 16.

William H. Gerdtz, acting gallery director of the Department of Art of the University of Maryland at College Park, selected the exhibition, which shows how recent artists have reinterpreted a traditional theme.

Still life, today as in the past, presents a starting point in reality for the artist's imagination. Recently in America, it has again come into prominence, serving a wide range of styles and objectives, and its relatively new use as a subject in sculpture has been greatly expanded.

The exhibition reflects the variety of current still life painting and sculpture in works by artists such as Nell Blaine, Jim Dine, Jane Freilicher, Michael Goldberg, Jasper Johns, Roy Lichtenstein, Claes Oldenburg, Fairfield Porter, Larry Rivers, James Rosenquist, Andy Warhol, Wayne Thiebaud, and Tom Wesselman.

Farwell, Tex., established in 1905, is located on the Texas-New Mexico state line.

Committee and the City Library Board, and there are many more to come.

This week's book donors are H. A. Caywood, Ginny Edwards, and Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Rashbury.

John Barth's "Giles Goatby" has been given to the library anonymously. Must be pretty hot stuff.

What goes down does not always come up at Monahans State Park

MONAHANS — They're still proving the unexpected out here where long ago it was definitely established that what goes down doesn't always come up.

Take Monahans Sand Hills State Park, as bleak as any desert range this side of the Sahara, but still a famous "watering place" dating back to the old wagon train days. Jay Jaynes, park manager at this favorite stopover for East-West tourists on Interstate 10, was excited over the 3,000 visitors who graced West Texas' largest "sand pile" the other Sunday.

But he has the answer. Hundreds were youngsters. And mothers come from far and wide to let their kiddies roam in "all that clean sand" without fear of mesquite thorns, cactus stickers, and, yes, rattlesnakes.

About that perennial proof about "what goes down," Jaynes displays a 74 foot root from his "miniature oak forest." The largest trees are scarcely more than knee high. The principal growth is underground in search of water.

So there's a spring dry spell, too. There usually is at the 4,000 acre sand pile. In fact, it hasn't rained since October of last year. But Jaynes has a Texas-size windmill and a good well. And here in the wide open spaces there's always a wind to spin that windmill.

Naturally, wind shuffles the 60 foot high dunes around but only the contours of the massive sand pile, and the base remains stable. And as the intrepid wild creatures well know, moist sand is within easy hand digging reach on the highest, driest peaks.

Travelers coast-to-coast, more than 100,000, stop over every year to see for themselves and some to ponder overnight in a primitive campground about their sturdy forebears who first sought to interpret the plaintive howl of a lone-some coyote.

MRS BAIRD'S

Stays Fresh Longer

AN OPEN LETTER To Mr. and Mrs. Voter!

DEAR FRIENDS:

On next Tuesday, April 4, we urge you to go to the polls and vote. Three aldermen seek re-election unopposed. You also will elect a mayor.

We think that an informed public is the key to good government. No public policy, even well conceived, can succeed without broad citizen support and understanding. A review of the record of this administration will show that on every occasion, we supported the issues involving the entire community and voiced our objections to those issues of special interest.

Please permit us to enumerate some of the improvements of the past three years:

1. Construction of the outfall sewer and lateral lines, and extension of water mains to serve residents of the northeast section of the city, the public housing project and Postex Cotton Mills. Total cost $71,000.
2. Seal coating and repair of every paved street in the city. Total cost $34,900.
3. Purchase of the following new equipment: Back hoe $8,950; street sweeper $8,500; sanitation truck $8,350; 1966 police car $2,150; 1967 flat bed truck $3,800; and 1964 pickup truck $1,800.
4. Remodeling of city's administrative offices, paneling, etc. Total cost $1,950.
5. Remodeling the large room in city hall to house Post Public Library. Cost $1,150.
6. Purchase of new city office equipment, including accounting machine, IBM typewriter, calculator, and copying machine. Total cost $6,300.
7. Larger water mains and extension of lateral lines have helped to ease the so-called "low water pressure" in some residential areas.

The above improvements as listed, represent a city expenditure of over $149,750.

Sound financial management by previous administrations and this administration have made it possible to hold the tax rate the same for the past decade. In 1964 it was necessary to issue warrants in the amount of $30,000 to complete payment of the outfall sewer line. Those warrants have now been retired. All the new equipment purchased was paid for with cash. Seal coating also was paid for upon completion of work. The only outstanding warrants at this time are for construction of the city-county airport in the amount of $16,100. These warrants will be retired in five years, without a tax increase.

On March 1, the city had the following cash balances in its various funds: Water and Sewer, operating account $66,638.13; General Fund $66,850.50; Reserve Oil Fund $8,230.22; Interest and Sinking Fund $5,085.47; plus $26,861.56 in the Sinking Fund in the Mercantile National Bank of Dallas invested at 4% interest.

The citizens of Post are fortunate that men of integrity are willing to serve on the City Council. It has been our privilege to serve with some of the leading business men of this community on the council. The council is composed of five aldermen—and it is this body that makes the decisions at City Hall in open meetings. The mayor is privileged to vote only in event of a tie. However, in four years we have not had the opportunity to vote on any issue.

We are proud of the accomplishments of this administration and ask your support for another two-year term as your mayor.

Don't forget to vote for the candidates of your choice in the municipal election next Tuesday, April 4.

Sincerely yours,

Rotary speaker 'goes to bat' for Job Corps

Noel E. (Bud) Thompson from the Lubbock office of the Texas Employment Commission, stoutly defended the Job Corps program from recent newspaper criticism in a talk before Post Rotarians Tuesday noon.

He declared the federal government's vocational training program for young unemployables is now doing "an exceptional job."

Seated at the speaker's table, besides Thompson, were 17-year-old Sammy Fields of Post, who is scheduled to leave today for the San Marcos Job Corps Training Center, and Sammy's mother, Mrs. Frieda Fields.

Thompson, former Lubbock TV personality, opened his talk by citing a recent nationally syndicated newspaper column which said that one of the weaknesses of the program is that nobody knows what actually happens to job corps graduates.

"I know for a fact," Thompson said, "that job corps graduates are followed specifically."

Later in his talk, Thompson said the average job corps graduate is working at a job which pays him $1.71 per hour.

Thompson said interviewing and testing young applicants for the job corps is but a part of his job at the state unemployment office in Lubbock.

He named several Post youths now taking job corps training — and spoke highly of them.

He explained that job corps trainees receive basic educational training for half the school day and vocational training the other half.

He said the program is rescuing school dropouts, young unemployables who are getting into trouble with law enforcement agencies, and replacing hope for the future with the defeatism of many 16 to 19 year olds who are not prepared to take their working place in American society.

"The public schools," he said, "are not equipped to cope with such youngsters, but the job corps is."

Thompson said some such training centers are located in national parks for conservation training and others in urban centers for specific industrial training. He pointed out that some of the nation's top industrial leaders and their companies are looking after many of the training programs.

He said some 3,000 boys are now taking job training here in Texas at San Marcos.

Library board—

(Continued From Front Page) old Lucas that the city council hopes to accept a bid at its April meeting next week for the remodeling of half of the storage room opening east out of the library for use as a library reading room.

Plans call for a partition across the center of the room, Lucas said, with a new drupper ceiling, new lighting fixtures, new floor, and painting of the walls. Public toilet facilities will be provided for the library of the reading room, the mayor said.

Another important feature of the library plans is to duct the city building air-conditioning directly into the library. Only cooling provided for the library last summer was via the door into the city council chamber which had ducted refrigerated air.

This improvement will make the library very comfortable throughout the hot summer months, Lucas pointed out.

Trustees inspected the reading room and expressed their appreciation to the council for the planned improvements.

A drawing was held by trustees as to which members of the board would serve one-year terms and two-year terms. The council at their March meeting had requested the trustees to determine who would serve one and two-year terms.

Drawn for two-year terms were Mrs. Kay Kirkpatrick, David Newby and Jim Cornish; with one year terms going to Mrs. Gambelin and Mrs. Ruth Young.

Mrs. Chapman, librarian, and Mayor Lucas met with the trustees.

HAILSTONES

These large hailstones being poured from a bucket by Barrie Jones are no April Fool's joke—they're real. Jones gathered the hailstones a few miles northeast of town one day last week. No rain accompanied this particular hail, the farmer said.—(Staff Photo)

Post resident is charged in fight

Aggravated assault charges were filed in Lubbock Tuesday against Mary Baldaso, 35, of 163 West 14th St., Post, accused of shooting a bouncer at the El Reno Club during a Saturday night melee at the Lubbock County night spot.

The woman pleaded innocent to the charge in county court-at-law and was placed under $500 bond.

The victim, Jimmy McNulty, was shot in the lower leg with a .25 caliber bullet during the fight that also resulted in the death of Thomas Jaure Jr., 20, of Lubbock.

Jaure died of a wound officers said was made by a .45 caliber bullet, fired from a gun dropped by another club employe during the fight. Witnesses said an unidentified man picked up the gun during the fight and fired once before fleeing the club.

Child's leg bruised in accident Monday

Garla Huddleston, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Huddleston, suffered a badly bruised right leg about noon Monday in an accident at her home.

The child was riding in the back of a pickup to which a boat trailer was hitched and when her father backed the pickup, the trailer's hitch arm struck her leg.

Garla was still in the hospital yesterday, but "getting along fine," her father said.

Another triple producer here

Kirby Petroleum Company has completed its Montgomery-Davies G-1G test, a half mile west of the old city limits and 467 feet south of 10th street, as a triple producer from the B, C and D zones of the San Andres.

Potential tests have not as yet been taken, however.

E. R. (Buster) Moreland said that the George B. Brown interests here now are waiting for a location to be cleared before resuming drilling within the city.

He said plans call for a new test on Stephens property west of Brown's J. E. Lynn unit on the west edge of the city and then two more city units within the old townsite.

Moreland said when these three tests are finished, the Brown interests will make a new assessment to determine their future drilling plans.

One Garza "duster" was reported this week. It was Warren American Oil Company's No. 2 Justice, an offset, four miles south of Justiceburg, which was drilled to a depth of 8,097 feet without oil shows.

Postings—

(Continued From Front Page) the area during the last seven months, he or she has only to look over the club's financial statement published on The Dispatch's sports page today.

It shows they have raised some $2,823.94 during that seven month period through a variety of projects and expended some $3,187.15 for athletic department improvements for the local schools. The improvements included $2,470 for the new running track, $609.15 for mats, and $18 for harness repairs.

Collectively, these sports boosters have contributed hundreds of hours of work to make all of these projects possible.

Last, but certainly not least, Postings wants to call attention to the cooperative efforts of a dozen local merchants in sponsoring a new series of Post Dollar Days.

The April Dollar Days are scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday and you'll find all 12 merchants have taken Dollar Day ads in this edition of The Dispatch to advise our readers of all the bargains which await them in downtown Post this weekend.

Don't miss the fun! Become a Dollar Day bargain hunter tomorrow and Saturday—and save!

Belatedly, comes a report that the wind was out of the southwest at sunrise here on the first day of Spring, indicating a poor crop year. Noah Stone, who makes the wind test every year, said that a few minutes after sunrise, however, the wind shifted to the south and southeast, which led some to believe it came from that direction at sunrise. At Lubbock, where a half dozen or so fellows also tested the old Indian legend, the wind showed the same it did here—out of the southwest.

This is just a reminder to area farmers of the big information meeting on cotton varieties the First National Bank is sponsoring in the district courtroom here at 7:30 p. m. next Thursday, April 6. There is an impressive list of speakers and certain to be discussed is the possibility of considering longer staple cotton for 1967 planting.

Disrupts programs

TV, radio strike effects felt here

Is the television and radio workers' strike affecting Post? Well, yes.

Dozens of Post housewives — and some husbands — were "put out" at noon yesterday when the soap opera, "As the World Turns," was not telecast because of the strike.

Other shows expected to be affected by the strike were "General Hospital" and some music variety shows done before live audiences such as Dean Martin, Danny Kaye, Red Skelton and the Smothers Brothers.

The dispute centers around 100 newsmen at network-owned stations in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago who are seeking a higher base salary and a larger return of commercial fees on sponsored programs on which they appear.

The strike is halting production of commercials for broadcasting and blacking out daytime panel shows and live prime time shows.

While the strike primarily centers around newsmen, actors, singers, dancers and announcers are also involved.

Completion near on road project

Surfacing of the new divided stretch of U. S. Hwy. 84 from three miles northwest of Post through Southland is about 60 percent complete, Julian F. Smith, resident highway engineer, said today.

"We're shooting for completion by about the middle of May," said Smith.

About two miles at this end of the new construction and the same distance at the other end are already open to traffic.

The number of cross-overs on the route, which necessitated short detours, have been reduced from six to two, Smith said.

Border Roads Construction Co. of Monahans is the general contractor on the widening job, which is costing approximately $800,000.

Pfc. Thomas Hall, who is on furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hall, will leave next month for duty in Vietnam.

Kress meet Saturday next on Antelopes' track slate

The Post Antelope track and field team, idle since the Hale Center Relays on March 18, will compete Saturday in the annual Kress Invitational Track and Field Meet. The Kress meet will be the last for Coach Reynolds' Athletics until the District 4AA meet at Denver City on April 7.

Coach Reynolds said today that he will have a "full crew" on hand for the Kress meet Saturday after having gone to Hale Center with only five athletes because of the junior stock show here and other conflicting events. Coach Reynolds also said that most of the boys are "coming along fast" and improving on their early - season performances. Pete Morales, who has been an easy winner in the mile in every meet the Antelopes have entered this Spring, is expected to win another first place medal at Kress, where he is the record holder in the mile run.

Morales' best time this season has been a 4:41, but he is capable of knocking several seconds off that mark, according to Coach Reynolds. None of the track meets thus far have been run under ideal weather conditions.

Competing for the first time this season will be seniors Paul Walker and Roy Sappington. Walker will run the 100 and 220-yard dashes and a leg on the sprint relay team, and Sappington is entered in the high jump and pole vault.

Coach Reynolds said today that he is undecided only on his 440-yard relay team for the Kress meet. Other entrants will be as follows:

100 - yard dash: Nathaniel Manuel, Jerry Crenshaw, Paul Walker.

220 - yard dash: Dick Kennedy, Manuel, Walker.

440 - yard dash: Ronnie Petty, Crenshaw.

880 - yard run: Steve Collazo, Clyde Cash, James Pollard.

1 mile run: Pete Morales.

1 mile relay: Dennis Altman, Petty, Crenshaw, Kennedy.

120 - yard high hurdles: Dennis Altman, Duke Altman, Donny Windham.

330-yard intermediate hurdles: Dennis Altman, Windham, Norman Tanner.

Broad jump: Petty, Kennedy, Windham.

High jump: Davis Heaton, Kennedy, Roy Sappington.

Pole vault: Duke Altman, Sappington.

Shot putt: Tanner, Charles Harper.

Discus throw: Tanner, Jackie Huff, Joe Hudman.

No changes in draft law yet, board says

Local boards of the Selective Service System will continue to operate under the present law enacted in 1948 and revisions thereafter, according to a statement by L. Jones, Garza County member of Local Board No. 88, said here Tuesday following a board meeting at Lubbock.

"The members of the local board are aware of the public's concern that could result from the recent news releases on possible changes in draft laws," Jones said.

He said operation under the present law will continue, subject to other revisions until June 30, 1967, at which time Congress must vote to renew the law, revised or subject to revisions.

The board member also explained that there is a solution for men who grow tired waiting for their induction orders. He said men expecting calls may sign an application for voluntary induction and settle the date or call.

"This may be done by visiting the local board office or by writing in requesting the form, and is not to be confused with enlistments. Under the present law, induction involves only a two-year tour of duty, while enlistments are for three or four years."

The local board office at Lubbock, which serves Lubbock, Garza, Lynn and Crosby counties, always welcomes personal visits or telephone inquiries, Jones said. Any available information will be furnished gladly. However, neither the office nor the individual board members can advise about the coming changes in the draft law, as they know only what is furnished the public by news releases.

Crime rate hits new Texas high

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reports that major crime in Texas reached an all-time high in 1966.

The total number of major crimes was 297,810, compared with 244,249 the year before. Murder and homicide went up 15 per cent, robbery 10.4 per cent, burglary 9.2 per cent, theft 12 per cent and auto theft 11.2 per cent.

Local, state and national efforts to curb crime, said Garrison, "will be meaningless until each person determines to make crime prevention a personal issue and lend his support to law enforcement" activities.

It's the Law...

IN THE NAME OF CHARITY To help a worthy cause, you buy a $5 ticket to a theater party. You may deduct the $5 on your next income tax return as a charitable contribution?

No. Because your payment was not all charity. You received something of value in return: the show itself. If the regular price of tickets is $3, you may deduct only the other $2—the part that was truly a gift.

This rule has wide application, not only in such frivolous areas as theater parties, charity balls, lotteries, and athletic events but also in such basic areas as health and education.

For example: A man claimed a deduction for money paid to a non-profit retirement home—in return for lifetime care.

A woman claimed a deduction for money paid to a religious society—in return for perpetual upkeep for her burial plot.

A family claimed a deduction for money paid to a church—in return for their son's education.

But in each case, the deduction was not allowed. For in each case, the payment was held not true charity but simply a purchase of services—like any other family expense.

The mere fact that your payment is in the form of a check made out to a charitable organization does not change it into charity if it really isn't.

Tahoka football coach resigns

TAHOKA — Tahoka High School was without a head football coach this week following the resignation of Jim Littlefield, who resigned to accept a position as a junior high school coach at Corpus Christi.

Littlefield, assistant here for the past year, was moved up to the head football post last month when Don Smith resigned to go to Perryton.

Several already have applied for the coaching job open here, according to Supt. Harold Reynolds.

Thanks goes out to Booster Club

Administrators and coaches of Post High School and junior high have expressed their appreciation to the Antelope Booster Club for the support it has given the schools' athletic program.

The appreciation was expressed in a letter to Dave Sanford, Antelope Booster Club president, in regard to this year's all - sports banquet.

The letter reads as follows: "We have just been informed that the Booster Club will be unable to sponsor the All - Sports banquet this year. We will proceed with our original plans to provide all of the athletes with a school-prepared barbecue at the park. Although the banquet did not materialize, we want to thank you for the thought."

Driver education courses pick up speed in nation's public schools

EDUCATION NEWS SERVICE AUSTIN — A part of today's school program early Texas educators may have never dreamed about is on the upswing.

This is the schools' participation in teaching youngsters good driving habits. Two years ago there were 61,495 students receiving classroom instructions in driver education courses.

Last year this figure jumped to 86,835 and this year the total is probably even higher although exact figures are not available at this time.

The number of students who also receive behind-the-wheel instruction, actually getting out into traffic and maneuvering a car around under supervised instruction, stood at 33,887 in the 1964-65 school year and last year had risen to 49,707.

And the figure for in-car instruction is held to be still higher this year.

Many state officials and agencies have gone on record asking for acceleration of the driver education program in Texas schools.

Last year only 145 full-time driver education teachers were employed in Texas public schools. However, teachers who have major assignments in other areas also instruct in driver education or teach in summertime driver courses.

New correspondent asks readers' help

By MRS. D. F. McWHIRT

We are so sorry to have the Bud Schiehuber family move out of the community to Snyder. We wish them much happiness in their new home. Since we lose our correspondent with Mrs. Schiehuber moving I will try to write the news for awhile. I will need all your help as we do not have a phone. If anyone has news, please leave it at the post office. Thanks.

We are all so grateful for the wonderful rains we have had. Mrs. Bud Schiehuber and Denise left last Thursday for Wichita, Kans., to spend the holiday with Benny and Barbara Schiehuber. John Boren, Doug McWhirt and Clay Vaughn helped Bud Schiehuber move to Snyder. Mrs. Schiehuber and Denise returned to Snyder Monday.

Thursday of last week Mrs. Riley Miller and Mrs. Douglas McWhirt visited in Snyder with Mrs. Dezzie Bevers, who is convalescing in the home of her daughter, Evelyn Dorman. They also visited Mrs. J. E. Miller and Margaret while there.

The Easter Egg hunt was held a week ago Wednesday at the school. Becky Miller and Tommy Mize won the prizes for the preschoolers. Of course, the school children hunted for eggs with money in them. Everyone enjoyed the program presented by the school children. We wish to thank everyone for helping with the occasion. Cakes were served.

Holiday visitors in the Doug McWhirt home were Skip and Robo McWhirt and Mr. and Mrs. Jackey Fluitt of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breeden and James and Jack of Albany and the Carl Goads of Levelland.

Mrs. Tommy Forrest, Nona and Sandra went to Rotan Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Cox and other relatives who were visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cornett and Mrs. Fernie Reed and son visited Mrs. Dezzie Bevers Thursday.

Mrs. Sam Bevers received word last Thursday that her mother, Mrs. Gladys Morgan, had apparently suffered a stroke and is in a hospital in Odessa. Mrs. Bevers and children and Mrs. Sam Heintz and daughters left that afternoon with all the party but Mrs. Bevers stopping in Midland for a visit. Mrs. Bevers is staying with her sister, Mrs. Red Dewense, to be with her mother.

Mrs. Winnie Tuffing attended the 50th wedding anniversary reception of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Evans Sunday afternoon.

Friday, Mrs. Fernie Reed and

Courts begin to apply pressure to wayward hunters

AUSTIN — Texas courts are beginning to apply a dash of pressure on the thoughtless hunter amid the inexorable pressure on wildlife, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department records.

Six persons listed in the monthly law enforcement report served time in jail for infractions of the hunting and fishing code.

The cataboose hitches usually amounted to a matter of hours. But one Dallas man got two days in the brig plus a $40 fine in a particularly glaring case for permitting another person to use his hunting license.

The courts reflected their displeasure by levying fines ranging up to $200 plus costs, for a combined total of $13,912.84.

Twenty three persons had their hunting licenses forfeited, mostly for hunting deer at night. Thirteen of these disenfranchised sports were from one county — Marion in East Texas.

The Marion County cases involved people from Marshall, Simms, DeKalb, Dallas, Pittsburg, Wynnboro, Leesburg, Marshall and Oklahoma City.

Three Kaufman residents lost their hunting privileges and also paid fines for hunting ducks in closed season.

Sixty cases were filed for night hunting.

The report covering 451 violations, included cases for failure to have a life jacket for each person in a boat.

The Department has instructed wardens, now beginning to patrol lakes and streams under the state water safety law, to be strict this year in an effort to avoid casualties.

The fishermen beegan crowding into the unselect circle. Ninety three anglers were charged with fishing without a license.

Sales tax bill ready for Governor to sign

AUSTIN — Texas cities now have won at least half of their battle for authority to levy a one percent sales tax.

Both houses of the Legislature passed the bill. It's now ready for the Governor's signature. Final step is approval by local voters. Failure of the bill to obtain a two-thirds majority vote of the Legislature means that the law cannot go into effect until 90 days after adjournment. This means that it probably will be September before any city can hold an election on the subject.

Approval over heavy opposition was a major victory for Gov. John Connally and officials of the Texas Municipal League. Legislative presiding officers Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes also strongly backed the controversial measure.

These are important features of the bill:

—Tax can be levied only on those items covered by the present two per cent state sales tax. (It will not fall on auto purchases.)

—City governing bodies can submit the issue to election on their own motion or by petition of voters.

—Voters also can petition to get rid of the levy after two years.

—The state comptroller will supervise collection (along with state sales tax) and refund one per cent, less administration costs, to the cities.

Passage of this bill, sponsored by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin and Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, is viewed as having one effect not intended by some of the strongest backers: it likely will make any increase in the state sales tax this year more difficult if alternate revenue programs fail.

Feed lot bill is ripped, passed

AUSTIN — A "version" of the bill by Rep. Tom Holmes of Garburg to license cattle feed-lot operations cleared the House. But it was hardly recognizable.

Led by Reps. Bill Finck of San Antonio, Felix McDonald of Edinburg and Jim Nugent of Kerrville, opponents tacked on amendments which would make licensing strictly voluntary and would remove the protection against nuisance suits on findings of inspectors.

Provisions in Holmes' original bill would make the law mandatory for feed lots having capacities of 1,000 head or more, but smaller feed lots would be covered only if they asked to be, individually.

Holmes moved the bill to final passage, even though it had been rendered virtually meaningless. Apparently he is hoping for a better fate in the Senate, that being up by a conference committee.

COLLEGE STATION — Three hundred and eight communities have signed up in the Texas Community Improvement Program this year, setting a new enrollment record compared to last year's 183. The program is sponsored by electric utility companies in the state and conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This year, $6,800 will be available to awards to top communities, Brown said. About 90 award winners will be selected by county, district and state judging teams. ## Latin 'dead' in more ways than one; students swing to Spanish

EDUCATION NEWS SERVICE
 AUSTIN — Latin, a school subject once studied by virtually every school pupil, is today a "dead" language in more ways than one. The language of the Caesars is currently studied by only a tiny fraction of the total enrollment of Texas public schools. Nowhere in the public schools of the state is Latin a required course. The favorite foreign language course of most Texas students is Spanish. Diehard Latinists have at least one consolation in this, however, Spanish is an offshoot of Latin.

After Spanish in popularity comes French. But "la belle Francais" comes in a poor second. Last year slightly more than 29,000 secondary school students were tackling French while 1,368 elementary school pupils chose that language. German is the fourth in popularity. Secondary school students taking German last year numbered 9,577 while there were 1,497 elementary pupils taking the language. Russian, which enjoyed a temporary boom following the flight of the Soviet space satellite Sputnik I, last year was the language choice of only 269 students. Czechoslovakian was studied by 27 high school students last year. English, however, is a "foreign language" for many Texas pupils. Students who grow up in homes where Spanish is spoken exclusively take English—from the very beginning of school although English may be nearly as strange to them as French is to an English speaking child.

A task such as that faced by students of Mexican heritage in conquering the complexities of English may be even more difficult than conquering Latin grammar. Records of the Texas Education Agency show that last year about one sixth of the entire school enrollment, or 455,233 out of 2.5 million students, studied foreign languages. Spanish accounted for 391,428 of the total while Latin claimed only 21,971.

The "revolution in education" is reflected in a breakdown of the total enrollment in foreign languages. More elementary students study a foreign language than secondary students in the junior and senior high schools. Not many years ago the situation was reversed because it was generally believed that learning a foreign language was too difficult for elementary-age students.

Language teachers today hold that the early years are perhaps the ideal time to tackle a foreign tongue. After Spanish in popularity comes French. But "la belle Francais" comes in a poor second. Last year slightly more than 29,000 secondary school students were tackling French while 1,368 elementary school pupils chose that language. German is the fourth in popularity. Secondary school students taking German last year numbered 9,577 while there were 1,497 elementary pupils taking the language. ## House passes control bill on wiretapping

AUSTIN — Telephone wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping were frowned upon by the House which passed a control bill recommended by the Governor.

Wiretapping could be authorized on court order if evidence expected to be gained might save human life, or prevent extortion, kidnapping, armed robbery, rape or arson. Evidence thus obtained would be admissible in court.

Bugging by law enforcement officers would be permissible without court order for a one-day period where the procedure might conceivably save a life.

The bill now goes to the Senate.
