

Committee report due Thursday on hospital, finances

A four-man fact-finding committee looking into the Garza Hospital and county financial problems will report with recommendations next Thursday.

A public meeting is scheduled for the commissioners' court at 8 p. m. Thursday night, Aug. 24, in the district courtroom.

The committee appointed by Judge J. E. Parker two weeks ago, is composed of Harold Sanderson, Bob Colwell and Earl Chapman.

The committee has already audited the county books and is studying the figures, but August vacations and the need of other out-of-town trips has prevented the committee from getting together to compare notes and agree upon recommendations.

That session is now scheduled for Monday night.

Judge Parker also has been studying the problem, as have members of the court.

Parker told The Dispatch yesterday he will have an analysis of the financial problem — and its cause — to present at next Thursday night's session, along with a solution.

Public opinion in the last two weeks appears to have jelled pretty strongly behind the course of action of holding the tax line, trimming county expenses so the county can work its way out of its current $85,000 general fund deficit in a few years, and by earmarking 15 cents from the county's current levy to underwrite hospital deficits and pay off the remainder of time warrants issued two years ago to make some hospital improvements.

There appears to be almost no public support for voting a hospital district with its own taxing power or of boosting county taxes 10 more cents as a means of getting rid of the present deficits.

Public sentiment appears strong for keeping the hospital operating, and there is strong organizational support — Post Chamber of Commerce and the Post Industrial Foundation to name two — for continuing hospital operations as a "must" for any industrial growth.

The fact-finding committee says the "report meeting" to the court is open to all interested county citizens.

It would encourage all our citizens who are sincerely interested in the hospital and county financial problems to attend the public meeting next Thursday at which the four-man fact-finding committee will make its report to the commissioners' court.

It is our opinion that this meeting will result in a workable solution which will please a majority of the community. But we are also convinced that if the general public takes enough interest to attend, and consider the reports and recommendations which are being made, the solution can be more readily arrived at. The weight of public opinion is always a major factor in finding answers to public problems.

Mr. Charlie asks me to ask parents of district school children to read the "school opening" on today's front page in its entirety as there are so many announcements which the parents need to understand that they can't be put in the story "lead" or "fill-in".

It is easy to be envious today of A. C. Cash and Pete Hays.

It will be in Dallas the first week for a regional meeting of the Green Bay area. One of the highlights of the session, along with the new implement line, will be attending the Green Bay-Cowboy football game Monday night in the Cotton Bowl. All dealers and their salesmen attending the John Deere meeting will be loaded into buses and taken to the Cotton Bowl for the game with John buying the tickets. (See Postings, page 8)

Toward getting started

Uranium promoter reports progress

A. C. Bruton of Van Horn, the uranium promoter, was back in town yesterday and told The Dispatch he was "making progress" in his plans to mine uranium from 4,400 acres, located nine miles north of Post, which he leased in June.

Bruton said he would employ local persons when he began operations here, but didn't get specific on the size of the planned operation.

Nor did he disclose any details as to how or where the ore would be processed or to whom it would be sold. All of which of course is quite understandable at this stage.

Bruton promised to give The Dispatch the complete story when he begins operations.

There have been a number of street reports in recent weeks of uranium inquiries being made around the area.

The federal government's uranium buying program will remain in effect for the next three years under current contracts, according to The Dispatch's understanding of the market situation.

Any new uranium mined now appears to be headed for private markets. That demand is just beginning. If it swells, the going per pound price may go up and more lesser grade uranium deposits will be opened.

With Labor Day only ten days away now, a return of the lease scout for a major firm trying to put a lease block together in northeastern Lynn County, starting west of Southland, is awaited. He left in late June on another assignment.

Local folks knowing most about uranium are predicting that while (See Uranium, page 8)

Post Public Schools to open new term next Wednesday

The Post Public Schools will open Wednesday, Aug. 30, for the 1967-68 term, with Supt. William F. Shiver expecting little, if any, increase over last year's opening week enrollment of approximately 1,250 students.

"If anything, we'll probably be down a little this year in our opening enrollment figure," the superintendent said.

The opening of school next Wednesday will follow the annual teachers' workshop, which is to be held Monday and Tuesday.

Principals in the city's three schools have issued registration information for students in their respective buildings.

High School Principal Charles R. Hutchins said students who will be attending high school here for the first time can register at his office through Friday, Aug. 25. This does not include, of course, those who have already registered.

Junior High School Principal James E. Pollard asks that new students who will be attending junior high here for the first time register before school opens. All others, including those coming up from the fifth grade to the sixth grade, will register on opening day.

Vernon Payne, new principal at the Post Elementary School, said elementary pupils who have moved to Post this summer will be enrolled at the elementary schools from 8 a. m. until 12 a. m. this Friday. Pupils in grades one, two and three will register in the primary building. Those in grades four and five will register in the elementary building.

Pupils in grades two, three, four and five should bring their report cards and book cards with them when they come to enroll, the principal said.

Payne said the school day will begin for all elementary pupils at 8:35 a. m. next Wednesday. Pupils will get their room and teacher assignments as they enter the buildings. First grade pupils will enter the east door, the second grade will enter the middle door and third grade pupils will enter the west door of the primary building. Fourth grade pupils will enter the west door and fifth grade pupils will enter the east door of the elementary building.

First grade pupils should bring completed medical records and their birth certificates.

First grade pupils will be dismissed at 1 p. m., second and third grade at 3 p. m. and fourth and fifth grade at 3:50 p. m.

The superintendent and principals repeat that any pupils who leave the school grounds to eat will need written permission from their parents.

"This applies to all students, regardless of grade level," Supt. Shiver said. "No student will be permitted to leave the campus to eat unless he has first brought written permission from his parents."

Supt. Shiver said approximately 100 pupils are expected to enroll in the first grade, basing his estimate on then number of preschool children attending the round-up day held last spring for children who will be attending school for the first time this year.

Normal schedules will be followed throughout the first day of school, with all buses making their regular runs, the superintendent said.

Texas marker is to be put up at park entrance

Post will soon have an official Texas Historical Marker at the entrance to the City-County Park stating the historical, economic and tourist-related facts about the city.

Designated as the "Gov. John Connally marker" by the Texas State Historical Society Committee in appreciation of the Governor's support of the RAMPs program, the aluminum marker with Swedish steel effects will bear the following inscription:

"Post, Founded 1907 by industrialist C. W. Post. Early abundant water supply by windmills above caprock. Later from White River Lake. Extensive ranching and farming. Postex Cotton Mills, making sheets and pillowcases, furnish year-round employment. Service center for over 1,750 oil wells in county."

The announcement that Post is to receive the marker was made by Charles R. Woodburn of Amarillo, president of the TSHSC.

Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, stated the marker was sponsored by the GCHSC. She said a date for its erection and installation will be set soon.

All official Texas Historical Markers will appear in the official guide to Texas Historical Markers, in tourist guides and on maps to help stimulate interest in the area, provide highpoints on historical tours and acquaint the people of the area of their own unique and rich historical heritage, Mrs. Surman said.

Lucas is named to draft board

Harold W. Lucas of Post has accepted appointment as a member of Local Draft Board No. 88 to represent Garza County.

Lucas will succeed T. L. Jones on Sept. 1 as the Garza County member on the draft board. Jones has served on the board for the last five years.

Lucas was appointed by President Johnson and was advised of his appointment by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state director of Selective Service.

"I am sure your membership on this board will reflect great credit to yourself and the Selective Service System of Texas," Col. Schwartz wrote Lucas.

Local Board No. 88 has jurisdiction over Crosby, Garza, Lubbock and Lynn counties.

Post roper is winner in event at Perryton

Jim Prather of Post won top money of $900 and a saddle in the matched steer roping contest held as a feature of the Perryton Celebration this week.

Prather roped four steers in an average time of 20.1 seconds, winning over the top steer ropers of the nation, including four national champions who were in the contest.

The Post roper's first go-round win in the matched steer roping won him $225. The saddle he won was worth $425.

Prather's brother, Tim Prather, is in fifth place in the national championship steer roping standings, the professional Rodeo Cowboys Association reports. He has won a total of $1,635 so far this year.

In first place in the steer roping standings is Jim Bob Altier of Del Rio, with Sonny Davis of Kenna, N. M., second; Bill Teague of Crane, third, and Troy Fort of Lovington, N. M., fourth.

Rites for mother of Post resident

Mrs. Maude Byrd, 77, of Dublin, Tex., mother of Mrs. Frank Runkles of Post, died early Monday in a Dublin hospital.

Runkles is camp ranger at the Boy Scout camp here.

Funeral services for Mrs. Byrd were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Dublin.

In addition to Mrs. Runkles, survivors include another daughter, Mrs. J. C. Guest of Dublin; nine grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

School trustees to adopt budget

Post Independent School District trustees are scheduled to meet at 1 p. m. today to adopt the school district's 1967-68 budget and to amend the 1966-67 district budget.

The public hearing on the new school budget was held last Thursday. The only two persons who dropped in during the public hearing were Supt. Bill Shiver's two small daughters, Tiana and Larisa.

Hutchins noted that his study covered a broad subject with the flora—so different in the four distinct regions of the county, so he confined his slide presentation and comments to the desert plants to be found in only one area of the county.

It may surprise some readers for example, to know that Garza has a wild orchid which can be found in Cooper's Canyon.

Bobwhite quail on upswing now

SAN ANGELO — Bobwhite quail counts throughout the Texas Panhandle and the Lower Plains are higher than last year except in the vicinity of Childress where rainfall has not occurred regularly, according to District Chief Weldon Fromm of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Fromm reported exceptionally good hunting in the Panhandle during 1966 and said "... the 1967 quail crop will be even better."

High quail numbers are attributed to timely rainfall throughout the summer nesting season which kept vegetation lush and food abundant for nesting bobwhites.

happiness is a high hill

It had been a long climb. For various reasons, we were all glad to get to the top of the hill. Jackie rolled down, over and over, to the inviting creek at the bottom. Sally bolted off to climb the neighbor's fence and croon to the colts pastured there. Baby saw the buttercups and struggled to get down. Jack dreamed over the rich soil of the south forty, while I was drawn by the tall-spired church in the valley.

We're happy in the home we've built on that hill. We've a dog and a cat and swings for the children. Summers, we race down the hill to cool off in the creek. Winters, we get the sled out and take it singing down the slope.

The kitchen windows frame a lovely view of the valley and our church. On Sunday mornings, when its deep-throated bells call us clearly to worship, we go down the hill together to its doors. We enter reverently and joyfully, knowing that much of our happiness and security stems from God's love.

Wherever your church may be; in valley, on hill, or city street, you will find the same glorious opportunity to sustain and strengthen your faith.

Deadline is near for restricted licensed drivers

The Texas Department of Public Safety today urged young licensed drivers, 14 and 15 years of age, with restricted licenses and who have completed both phases of a driver education course to get the restrictions removed before Monday, Aug. 28.

New Texas drivers license laws go into effect on that date. "If a young driver whose license is restricted to having a licensed adult driver in the front seat of the vehicle fails to beat the Aug. 28 deadline, he will have to wait until his 16th birthday," said DPS spokesman.

Young restricted drivers may have the restrictions removed, if they have passed the driving courses, by taking a driving test under the supervision of a drivers license examiner.

It will be necessary for Post's young drivers wishing to have the restrictions removed to go to Lubbock or some other area town to take the driving test, since a driving license examiner is here only every other week.

Antelopes will scrimmage Petersburg here tonight

Buffalo squad reported big, speedy and tough

Post Antelopes, nearing the end of their second week of practice, will scrimmage the Buffalo squad from Petersburg (Thursday) at Antelope Stadium.

The time The Dispatch sports went to press Wednesday night, a definite time for the day scrimmage had not been set. Coach Glynn Gregg said the scrimmage would start any time from 6 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.

The scrimmage was originally scheduled for the Petersburg grid but the Buffalo coach asked that it be switched to Post because of the condition of the Petersburg field, which was recently dug up and just now has young grass coming up.

The Antelopes will scrimmage at Spur Thursday evening, Aug. 31.

PETERSBURG, one of the favorites in District 4A, will provide a stiff test for the Antelopes in today's scrimmage. The Buffaloes are reported to have 53 boys out for football, including freshmen, and have 15 lettermen back from last season's team. "They are big, fast and tough," Coach Gregg said.

The Antelope squad, with the emphasis on defense this week, worked out under the lights Tuesday night for the first time since practice began Aug. 14. As a result of the night session, they reported at 9 a. m. Wednesday, an hour later than usual, for their Wednesday morning workout.

The squad went through a brief workout Wednesday evening and were to take Thursday morning off in preparation for the scrimmage with Petersburg. They are scheduled to report for loosening-up drills at 9 a. m. Friday, and that evening will work to correct the mistakes made in Thursday's scrimmage.

This week's emphasis is on defense, Coach Gregg said, because the squad worked mainly on offense during the first week of practice in efforts to sharpen its execution of offensive plays.

"WE'RE WORKING hard, probably harder than any other team in the area," Coach Gregg said Tuesday. "We have the feeling after every workout that we're just not quite there yet, and we're trying hard to get there before the season opens Sept. 8."

The coaching staff put the "Gold Jersey" plan into effect last week, awarding a gold jersey to the player it feels is putting out 100 per cent effort in the practice sessions. The first gold jersey was awarded last week to letterman halfback Dennis Altman. Monday, letterman guard Ronnie Petty received one of the gold jerseys, and two were handed out Tuesday, one to end D'Wayne Gannon and the other to tackle Nick Pantaja.

"THE AWARDS do not mean that some of the other boys are not putting out 100 per cent, but we are also handing out the gold jerseys on the basis of correction of mistakes," the Antelope coach said.

The squad was increased by two this week when sophomores Larry Don Johnson and Butch Heaton came out. Johnson is a 150-pound guard and Heaton a 130-pound halfback. Both boys were starters on last season's freshman eleven.

A few of the squadmen were out with viruses last week, with all except one back in harness for the start of this week's drills. Sophomore end Steve Newby was sent to the doctor with a sprained ankle Monday. Coach Gregg said Newby probably will be on crutches through Friday, but is expected to be back out again Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ross of Stephenville and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Travis and Pamela of Houston spent the weekend visiting their sister and aunt, Mrs. Theibert McBride, Mr. McBride and David.

"DUMMY" TAKES BEATING

A big Antelope lineman hits the "dummy" on the practice field under the watchful eyes of Coaches Billy Hahn (left) and Waco Reynolds. The dummy, blocking sleds and other equipment have been taking long hours of "punishment" from the Antelope grid candidates.

BIG FULLBACK HITS LINE

Norman Tanner, converted from a tackle into a fullback, heads toward the middle of the line during an inter-squad scrimmage, as the football candidates head into their second week of practice.

Scrimmages set Slaton team

ATON — Abernathy and Seaton are on the Slaton Tigers' season scrimmage schedule, according to Coach Ernie Davis. The Tigers will rely heavily on 13 returning lettermen this season, most of them regulars. The start-up line — up will average about 170 pounds in the line and 160 in the backfield. The team will again use a wing-T formation as well as the split-T and will throw the ball this year, according to Coach Davis.

The Tigers open against Petersburg on Sept. 8.

Lucky to be around

Longhorns few and far between today

AUSTIN — The famed Texas Longhorns — once king of the range and always ready to prove it — are now cheered at football games, gawked at by tourists and used in celebrations.

But, with the advent of the jet age and mass production of fat slaughter cattle, the Longhorn is lucky just to be around.

The days have long passed when 10 million of the lanky cattle roamed Texas in the late 1800s. There are only 3,200 left, and they too would probably be gone if man had not stepped in and preserved them.

A typical example of the surviving Longhorns — a cross between Spanish fighting bulls and domesticated cattle of the cowboy days — is the 78 in the herd kept by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

It began in 1941 after the late Sid Richardson, a wealthy Fort Worth oilman, decided something had better be done to protect the survivors of the once proud breed.

The state accepted 11 cows and one steer and placed them on Lake Corpus Christi. They were moved around a bit in following years and now are mainly kept at Fort Griffin State Park in West Texas.

The Fort Griffin herd now numbers 72, thanks to the donations from such spreads as the Y. O. Ranch at Kerrville and the strength of the surviving cattle. J. G. Phillips Jr. and Son Ranch at West Columbia recently reported a 28-year-old Longhorn cow just weaned her 24th calf. Numerous other ranches have herds that would leave the state crop in the shade.

But, the old range riders who marveled at the Longhorns' stamina and ornery spirit would turn over in their graves if they could see the Texas herd of today.

In the late 1800s, the Longhorn was wild and vicious. It survived Mexican meat-hunters, Indians and predators. They were described as wild as deer, fleet as the prairie antelope and ferocious as mountain bears.

15 lettermen in drills at Morton

MORTON—Thirty-six candidates for this season's Morton Indian football squad reported to Coach Fred Weaver Aug. 14 and this week are in their second week of two-a-day drills.

Fifteen lettermen, including six defensive and six offensive regulars, make the squad stronger in depth than in the last two years.

Another letterman, senior guard Karl Griffith, received a back injury this summer and won't be able to play. Also missing is sophomore fullback George Washington, who moved away from Morton.

995 high school football teams are working out

The Texas schoolboy football leagues swung into the 48th interscholastic League season this week.

From Panhandle to gulf, from piney woods to El Paso some 50,000 gridirers are hitting the practice grind, getting ready for Sept. 8—the day the regular campaign opens for all classes.

Classes AAA, AA and A got going last week; Classes B, Six Man and Eight Man started fall practice Monday.

Class AAAA opened conditioning drills Monday and will begin real practice Friday.

A mighty 995 teams will make the largest football campaign in Texas history.

As the teams go to the post, San Antonio MacArthur and Garland look like the big ones of Class Dumas, Brownwood and Bay City in Class AAA; Iowa Park, Granbury and Bellville loom mightily in Class AA, and defending champion Sonora and George West seem to be the top two of Class A.

Scottie Pierce visits in Post

Scottie Pierce of Cheyenne, Wyo., spent the weekend here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Pierce. Scottie is with the Phillips 66 sales service at Cheyenne.

He reports that his younger brother, Danny, is at the University of Wyoming in Laramie, where he will begin football workouts soon. Danny, a graduate of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, will attend the University of Wyoming on a football scholarship.

Since Laramie is only about 50 miles from Cheyenne, Scottie says he expects to see some of the Wyoming football games.

Cowboy preacher in revival here

E. R. Winter, cowboy prophetic preacher, is conducting a revival at the First Assembly of God Church, which began Monday.

Winter served as a peace officer in Texas when he was 21 and spent ten years as a cowboy in West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. In 44 years of preaching the gospel, he has conducted over 500 revivals, and is author of "35 Years on the Range for Jesus."

Pastor Charles Plunkett of the First Assembly of God Church invites everyone to hear Winter. The revival service begins nightly at 7:30 o'clock.

Help crippled children

Cattle brands show that ranchers care

ABILENE — The famous "LBJ" cattle brand is among scores engraved on the wall of a modernistic therapeutic pool building in Abilene.

Cattlemen put their brands on the wall simply by donating at least one head to the annual Round-up for Crippled Children. The cattle are then auctioned off, and all proceeds to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

C. A. Morris, general chairman of this year's round-up, said the 1966 auction generated about $85,000 for the charity institution.

"We're looking for at least that much, maybe more, this year," he said. "At least 500 people will be on hand for the auction in late September."

HE SAID every penny of the money goes to the center, providing about a third of its annual income.

Although the center treats adults as well as children, the emphasis is on youngsters suffering from polio, speech defects, learning difficulties such as dyslexia and other neurological problems.

All treatment is free, a spokesman said.

Aside from the cattlemen's efforts, money comes to the center through donations, memorials, the United Fund and Easter Seal sales. No tax money is involved.

Raleigh Brown, president of the board of directors of the center, said the institution was brought into being by the Junior League of Abilene in 1953.

"Those ladies somehow got $5,000 together and opened the center in two rooms of a school," Brown said. "Their original idea was to have some place to help children who have mental or physical deficiencies."

A $500,000 building to house the center was built in 1958 and it already has seen additions, such as the pool building with the cattle brands.

THE AUCTION was started in 1961 when Coke County rancher

Conda Wylie donated 20 calves to the center. It has grown more successful each year since.

Cattlemen from all over the Southwest donate to the sale. Morris said some donors buy their own cattle at the auction, then give the livestock right back to the center for re-sale.

Most patients are from West Texas. But some have been from New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

A spokesman for the center said all personnel working with the handicapped are registered therapists.

Morris, owner of the Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Commission Co., has been auction chairman since 1962. The sale of the expected 500-600 animals this fall will again be at his firm's facilities on the east edge of Abilene.

Cattlemen who want to donate but can't get the livestock to Abilene have only to telephone Morris and his men will go out and pick them up. They are kept in special pens until the sale.

"We're ready to begin picking up cattle anywhere and at any time," Morris said.

Two scrimmages for Denver City

DENVER CITY — The Denver City Mustangs, preparing for the 1967 football season, have scheduled two pre-season scrimmages, according to Coach Don Orr.

The first scrimmage will be with Andrews at 5 p. m. today (Thursday) at Denver City. The second scrimmage will be with Abernathy, tentatively set for Aug. 31.

Coach Orr is carrying 28 men on his preliminary roster. They include 16 seniors, nine juniors and three sophomores.

Library Listening Post

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

During a visit to Santa Fe this past week, I happened to round the east corner of the Palace of the Governors, and there, in adobe and long expanses of glass, stands the Santa Fe Public Library. I couldn't resist going in.

The lobby of the library is extremely inviting and, although one doesn't usually think of lobbies as "cozy", somehow this one manages to be just that. To the left as one enters, three 4 by 4 display windows are recessed into the wall. These windows are under the auspices of the Friends of a Public Library of Santa Fe and judging from the current display—a number of colorful, intricately-fashioned paper cuts from Poland—much thought and effort is put into the work.

Paper cuts are one of the many forms of Polish folk art distinguished by a peculiar originality. They first appeared around the end of the first half of the 19th century when peasants began to cut decorative designs from paper at Easter and, less frequently, Christmas. Now paper cuts are produced mostly by talented specialists for interiors of residential and institutional buildings. The results, as demonstrated by the Santa Fe Friends, can be spectacular.

Directly ahead, and one step down, the lobby faces a small open-sided patio where low plantings surround two plump charming stone children reading books. To the right, wrought iron steps go up to the adult's department or down to the children's.

The children's room is large and airy with another view of those dear stone children. Like our library, the furnishings are bright—orange, yellows, greens. The reading table is an unusual one—long, with seats connected to it at the bottom, and a slanted top for propping up the young reader's book. This department features a story half-hour every Wednesday for 4, 5 and 6 years olds, circulating and reference books for ages up to 14, picture books for pre-schoolers, a young teens collection, and a parent's shelf of books about children's books.

Upstairs, in the adult's department, there is a separate room for the vast Southwest collection, magazines, newspapers, pamphlet files, picture files, maps, atlases, reader's advisory and reference services, investment manuals, college catalogues, business reference books, a foreign book collection, a rental collection, a young adult room with a special librarian, a service for the home-bound, book lists of good reading, and a coin-operated Xerox machine.

I would have thrown myself upon the floor in a wild fit of jealousy except for two things. One, their library hours are even more confusing than our own, and two, their librarians are the biggest surprises that I have ever seen. Hello all you nice Post volunteers—I'm glad to be home!

Polar reunion is to be Saturday

Many ex-residents are expected to attend the fourth annual Polar community reunion Sunday, Aug. 27.

Everyone attending is asked to bring a basket lunch.

Those attending the reunion are expected to start gathering on Saturday, on which day a community singing is scheduled. Lodging will be furnished Saturday night to visitors desiring it.

The Sportsman's Corner

by Ted McCowley, Remington Wild Life Expert

During the winter months, woodchucks spend their time hibernating—except for their legendary annual February ritual of forecasting the duration of winter. By late spring and early summer, however, they are up and around, busily digging up farmers' fields and eating tender grass shoots. In fact, they are real pests to most tillers of the soil—hence their classification as varmints.

Today's farmer is getting a hand from a growing number of shooters who find varmints sporting targets without peer. Equipped with rifles specifically designed for the job, such as Remington's Model 700 "Varmint Special," they're helping to control these pesky and prolific creatures.
