

Two Post area men lose lives in fiery crash near Aspermont

Pickup burns in bridge accident

Two area oil company workers, Douglas F. McWhirt, 48, of Justiceburg, and Tommy Forrest, 48, of Pular Route, Dermott, were burned to death early Monday night when their pickup truck went out of control on U. S. Hwy. 380 near Aspermont, struck a bridge abutment and burst into flames.

Both men were burned beyond recognition and were not identified until nearly midnight when their identity was established through the charred remains of McWhirt's billfold.

They were returning home from Albany, Tex., where they had gone after a mower. The accident occurred about 7:30 p. m.

Highway patrolmen who investigated the accident said it was difficult to tell just how it happened. The pickup truck, which used butane as fuel, was owned by Forrest, but the officers were unable to determine who was driving the truck at the time of the accident.

Both men were employees of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., McWhirt in the production department and Forrest as a pumper. The McWhirts live at the Humble camp near Justiceburg, and friends here said that Mrs. McWhirt with Mrs. Forrest at the latter's home in the Pular community, where they were awaiting their husbands' return from Albany.

The accident occurred at the Swenson community, which is about 11 miles west of Aspermont. The bodies were taken to the Littlepage Funeral Home at Aspermont, where identity was established. McWhirt's body was brought to the Hudman Funeral home here, and Forrest's was taken to the Bell-Seale Funeral Home at Snyder.

Funeral services for Forrest were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Colonial Hills Baptist Church in Snyder, and will be held at the Justiceburg Baptist Church at 2 p. m. today (Thursday) for McWhirt.

The McWhirts have been residents of the Justiceburg community for 18 years. He was born July 27, 1919, at Pawhuska, Okla., and was a veteran of World War II and a member of the Justiceburg Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Frances; four sons, Douglas Jr. of Dallas, Dewayne of Arlington and Robert and Danny McWhirt, both of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Jackey Fluitt of Arlington; his father, C. Butts, Miss Mary Alice McWhirt and Mrs. Johnny Horine, all of Hominy, Okla.; Mrs. Tom Stand-

It won't be long now before Mrs. Marjorie Merryweather Post will be coming back to town for that June marker dedication.

For the folks who are wondering about all the construction going on down on South Broadway, this is to report that Toby Thomas is building a new drive-in restaurant. The steel-framed, metal building drive-in will have booths seating 36 inside. Toby was out of reach yesterday when we were looking for him for details, but we figure at his rate of progress if we pass another week or two Toby might have it open before we get a construction notice in the paper. According to his present plans, Thomas will continue to operate the Dairy Mart on North Broadway as well.

Toby is hoping to get a good part of his construction loan paid off from business brought by folks pouring down US-84 to San Antonio and HemisFair this summer.

And speaking of summer tourist traffic this is to report the third annual Tourist Edition of The Dispatch will be going to press shortly to be given away to tourists at local service stations, stores, restaurants and motels. If you have any new tourist - angle stories for the edition let us know this week-end.

City Councilman Lewis Herron, who is spearheading plans for a trailer park grounds for overnight tourists, told us this week the city hopes to have five trailer spaces ready for free use within a few weeks. They will be located on the south side of the lake in City-County Park. Restroom facilities though may have to wait until next year. The city hopes to "top" the trailer spaces when the summer paving project gets under way in June.

Library set on summer program

A summer reading program at the Post Public Library for boys and girls in the first six grades was announced today by the Rev. George L. Miller, librarian.

Theme of the program is "Vacation Readers Go Everywhere". Mrs. Barbara McKeown is preparing a large world map for the library bulletin board and each participating youngster will choose a destination on the map to "read his or her way to" during the summer.

Reading of 12 books of his own choice will take him to his goal. Certificates will be issued to participating readers who read 12 books or more during the vacation period.

Mr. Miller, who has spent the last two days visiting grade school classrooms to explain the program to youngsters, hopes to enroll 100 or more in the program, and urges parents to encourage their sons and daughters to participate, as good reading habits are one of the basic fundamentals to classroom achievement.

Old Ameen Hotel

All 'soreness' taken out of Main Street 'eyesore'

All the "soreness" has been taken out of Post's principal downtown "eyesore" — the Ameen hotel — thanks to David Newby, the man with the idea, the Post Jaycees led by Bob Carpenter, the paint-brush-wielding Jayceettes, and Andy and Julius Stelzer's sand-blasting firm, the Caprock Service Co.

The city provided $130 for paint and boards and private donors pitched in nearly $100 more when that ran out to pay the remainder of the supply bill.

All windows and doors on the north and east sides of the building have been boarded over and painted an antique gold to blend them in with the color of the stone building as much as possible.

Newby, who proposed the project to the city council early this month and secured his initial finances, and the Jaycees led by project chairman Carpenter worked all day Saturday and throughout Sunday.

The Jayceettes helped out with the painting both days. Jaycee volunteers and Newby worked two nights last week cutting the boards window lengths and giving them two coats of paint.

The Stelzer brothers moved in Tuesday evening and donated the sand-blasting job to the front of the original Algeria hotel structure. Carpenter helped out here too skipping up the tall ladder to handle much of the high altitude work.

Donated funds were raised to provide the sand for the gratis blasting.

A little work still remains to the "beautification project." The hotel sign will be taken down. Windows and doors on the rear west side of the building are to be boarded up but not painted.

Band Boosters organize here

Post's first Band Boosters organization in several years was organized at a meeting of some 20 parents following Monday night band concert.

Elected as officers of the organization were: The Rev. Curtis Lee, president; Bill McBride, vice president; Mrs. Maxine Cummings, secretary; Mrs. Bob Collier, treasurer; and Mrs. V. L. Peel, publicity chairman.

One of the new organization's principal projects will be helping the band finance another trip next year to the Tri-State Music Festival at Enid, Okla., which it attended for the first time this year.

Plans are to raise about $3,000 for the band trip in order to charter a bus or buses. This year, the band members made the journey in school buses, after raising nearly all the money themselves to finance the trip. Next year, the Band Boosters plan to help the students by raising half the money needed for the trip.

JUNK CAR BEING "STACKED"

Another junk automobile is eased down as the clean-up drive got under a full head of steam in the northeast part of town Saturday morning. Approximately 100 junk cars were moved from private premises in the Community Action campaign. (Staff Photo)

Clean-up drive gets off to active start

Coordinating Committee for Community Action is asking the city to condemn a number of emp-down houses and shacks in eastern part of town as fire hazards so they can be torn down as part of the city's clean-up campaign in area.

The clean-up got underway Saturday when residents of the area of their premises of up to 100 cars and removed several of other debris.

Old cars were "stacked" in lots in the area from where they will be removed from city next week.

On the clean-up debris piled under vacant lot was set afire today it the fire got out of control and burned down two nearby shacks and the fire department was called.

Truck from Rocker "A" Service was used to drag junk cars to the vacant lot assembly area. Two shredders, one from the city and the other from Jim Prather, were used throughout the day clean-up of lots.

Appliances, lumber, and a load of trash were removed from living areas by residents. Estimated 30 to 40 volunteer besides those living in area participated in the clean-up.

Chapman, secretary of the coordinating committee, said he had this week with Fire

Lubbock firm is given contract on seal-coating

The contract for seal-coating some 50 blocks of city streets was awarded W. D. Turner of Lubbock by the Post city council at a special meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Turner's successful bid was 12 cents a square yard, which will amount to approximately $10,500 on the 50 block project. City Manager Eddie Warren said.

Turner and C. W. Zahn, also of Lubbock, submitted the same bid, but the contract was awarded Turner because he has been the contractor on previous pavement improving projects here, the city manager said. The other bidder was High Plains Pavers, Inc., of Plainview.

The seal-coating will start the first week in June and is expected to be completed within a week.

Warren said all the city's paved streets are in fairly good shape, but that the ones most in need of seal-coating at this time will be selected for inclusion in the upcoming project.

This year's seal-coating will take in about one-third of the paved streets here in a three-year street improvement project set up by the city. Another third will be improved next year and the remaining third the following year.

Ralph Douglas of Muleshoe, the city's engineer on the project, attended the meeting at which the bids were opened.

ahead to remove such buildings because they are fire hazards.

The coordinating committee, which already is considering a number of other projects such as night classes in adult education, a day nursery to aid working mothers, and streets, sewer connections, and a new drainage plan for the area, will meet again at 5 p. m. Thursday, June 8, in the First Methodist Church.

At a second meeting of the coordinating committee in the First Methodist Church last Thursday night, plans for the clean-up were discussed and committee groups began work on other proposed projects.

Bailey Mayo, work unit supervisor for this soil conservation district, told the committee that the "technical action panel" composed of USDA agency representatives and representatives of other federal, state and local agencies, would work with the committee in "putting the committee in touch" with appropriate governmental agencies for help in their projects.

Mrs. Karen Parnell, Garza HD agent, also met with the committee.

Approximately 35 or 40 persons attended the session.

Absentee voting gets under way

Qualified voters who will be out of the county on election day or who cannot go to the regular polls for reasons of health are eligible to vote by absentee ballot.

WAYWARD BALLOON FOUND IN PASTURE

A balloon sent aloft by Cub Scouts in Sandy, Utah, has Den 2 of Cub Pack 314 here excited about sending up some "communications" balloons of their own.

An employe on the Kirkpatrick ranch found a disintegrated small balloon in a ranch pasture 10 miles southeast of Post. In a bag attached to the remains of the balloon was a note from Mark Fenton and Mark Ziegler of Sandy, Utah, saying their Cub Scout den was studying communications.

"If anyone finds this send us a postcard," the boys wrote. "Please tell us where you found this note."

The ranch employe gave the note to Kay Kirkpatrick, who passed it on to his wife, Patricia, who is den mother of Den 2. Her Cub Scouts have written a reply to the youngsters in Utah.

How long the balloon laid in the pasture no one knows, but the local den studied communications in March. The local scouts are expecting to hear soon as to when the Utah balloon and note went aloft.

Others on the program included Kenneth Sledge (left), hospital administrator, Mrs. J. E. Parker, outgoing auxiliary president, and Earl Chapman, master of ceremonies. Graduation and the challenge of today

The 1967-68 school year comes to a close here this week, and Friday night the 1968 Post High School graduates will cross the stage to receive their high school diplomas. For these young men and young women, a major crossroad in their lives is open to them.

The graduates will decide within the next few months concerning their future. Many avenues are open to them. They can further their education by attending a trade school, college or university. Or they can enter the labor market or join the military force of this nation, taking into these pursuits the skills they have acquired while attending public schools.

Our graduates have attended approximately 2,088 days of school and spent 14,816 hours to meet the requirements of graduation, from the time they first started to school. They have learned many skills since their first day of school as six or seven-year-olds. Some of those who entered school in the first grade will not be graduating. They have felt the diploma was not worth the effort, and have dropped out of school. The reasons for their dropping out of school may be valid ones, but the effect of this action is most unfortunate viewed from the standpoint of future job opportunities.

The five major employment fields open to young men and women today are agriculture, industry, business, military, and government. In almost all of these, education plays a vital role, especially in industry, business and government. To get to the top in agriculture and military, superior skills and education are vital.

Modern technology is developing new jobs daily, in fields not even dreamed of 10 years ago. It is an ever increasing task for employes in these fields to keep up with the advancement. This requires additional schooling on the part of many, each and every year.

Our 1968 graduates have a bright future ahead

Memorial Day--a time to remember

Thursday, May 30, is Memorial Day 1968—a day when we pause to pay tribute to those who have died for their country.

We honor the men at Concord bridge and Lexington green, where freedom's blood was shed by the Minutemen, the veterans of all wars who rest in the hallowed ground of Arlington. For all those who fought and died for the Stars and Stripes—this is the day of remembrance.

With the war in Vietnam still raging, new names are being added daily to the already long list of this nation's war dead. As we pause to pay tribute to the brave men who have given their lives in their country's service, let us not for a moment forget the young men who are facing ly in our Vietnam involvement.

Memorial Day is a symbol to remind us that serving the nation is a privilege and a responsibility of its citizens each day of the year.

What our contemporaries are saying

A successful man is one who can earn more than his wife can spend. A successful woman is one who finds such a man.—Northwestern Miller.

Education is not complete if all that the student gets is a trained mind.—Van Horn Advocate.

By observing animals you can better understand human relations. Some morning at breakfast look out your window and you'll see the bird after the worm, the cat after the bird, and the dog after the cat.—James H. Russell in The Belton Journal.

ONE THING ABOUT this unseasonably cool weather . . . you don't hear any more inquiries as to when the swimming pool will open.

We're living in an era of incredible change. No question about that, and one of the more obvious changes is in the field of advertising. Years ago, the average advertiser was a bit stuffy about his campaigns, purchasing space in his home - town newspaper with grave caution. Ads for pills talked about the medicinal benefits, and nothing else. Automobiles were sold on power and price, not on dual carburetors and sports car styling.

TODAY, HOWEVER, advertisers from virtually all fields treat their campaigns more lightly. Indeed, in the past generation the trend has been toward the happy direction of having fun with the product, often creating symbols to more lightly treat the serious business of selling the goods.

Catch - phrases in advertising have become the rule, rather than the exception. "Ask the Man Who Owns One" was one of the earlier, more successful examples. So were "Quick, Henry . . . the Filt" and "Lucky Strike Green Has Gone to War."

ALL OF WHICH leads up to a little game I am going to spring on my readers, which might be called a "Riz Quiz." You are invited to fill in the blanks with brand names, all of which were used during the '50s, '40s and some of them much further back than that. Check your answers at the bottom of the column and you may conclude that many things in the world of advertising are not soon forgotten.

AFTER WATCHING the "cat show" — you remember, "Big cats, little cats" — on television Tuesday evening of last week, I suddenly realized that we were out of cats at our house, and remembered that Mrs. Gladys Presson, Hys and Jan had promised us two from a new litter at their house so, the next day, we went by and picked up the two they'd saved for us, and I want to assure Jan, who wasn't quite sure the kittens were old enough to leave their mother, that they're doing nicely, have the run of the place and made friends with Snoopy, the pun. Both the kittens resemble Blackie, whose "picture" appears in this column from time to time, so we'll be able to continue chronicling the adventures of Blackie.

 Helen: No. Since that figure was published, Mr. Announcer, Joy Parker has given us a check for $5, the Justiceburg Women's Club has given us a check for $10, and the Christian Women's Fellowship has turned in an extra $1.10. That makes a grand total of $592.45, give or take nothing.

Things were really popping in this last weekend.

A crew, headed by Earl Chapman, was busy, busy, busy out in the east part of town towing old cars to a vacant lot where they will be picked up later.

David Newby and those "going" people and Jaycee-ettes really got to work to improve the appearance of Post's oldest eyesore and health hazard — the Ameen street building.

So, when is the rest of the town going to start cleaning up? Two cars ago Mrs. C and a cohort have a list of junk cars and old cars which need to be condemned to the city council. With the noble exception of a few of the cars which have been replaced by the situation remains the same.

Well I owe an apology to the citizens of Post. Before I gave the go to our city fathers Post used to sponsor an annual clean-up. In the spring of 1967 Post staged a clean-up spring clean-up which was really better than this year when they forgot the whole thing.

That with Snyder being a "space" city and Slaton on the move become the pansy capital of anything. Post is going to look like the only depressed area town. I need to get busy!

was commenting to a couple of neighbors the other day that the grass was even growing through cracks in the sidewalk in front of a few downtown business places. One companion remarked that had nothing against grass but did think it could be mowed occasionally.

Most of our neglected houses in seem to be the property of absentee owners. Well, something has to be done about this. We have a ordinance (besides the dog ordinance) that permits the city to condemn these houses and take care to have them torn down. At the city fathers! The ordinance is 25% and a copy can be obtained at your headquarters.

It is supposed to be the biggest tourist year that Texas has ever seen and what have we done ready for it? Nothing, other than what went on last weekend at the corner of Main Street and 1st and 1st and a start in the east part of town, which is on the South Trail Drive.

Thank heavens the trail drive didn't take in the north part of town on which two houses set on a 100 block which should have been condemned and torn down a year ago. Also the little red car in that block (the one set amid the forest of trees, and weeds' needs something done to it.

There are only a few examples of decay which are setting in our city. I still have the list and I would be glad to send it to our mayor and city councilmen in case they have missed their.

What I want and the city needs is ACTION! People are wondering what happened to the little city in West Texas.

Really up to the citizens of Post to take some leadership in

Newly-elected NHA president is hospital auxiliary speaker

Stressing the theme of National Hospital Week, "People Caring for People," W. B. "Dub" Harris Jr., director of development and public relations at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, was the principal speaker at the annual awards banquet of the Woman's Auxiliary of Garza Memorial Hospital, held last Thursday night at the City Hall.

"You are people caring for people," Harris told the auxiliary members, then asked, "But are you doing enough?" He said each auxiliary member should first educate herself as to the hospital and its operations. "This," he said "will enable you to tell others about it and also to work more efficiently."

Harris, who had just returned from Chicago, where he was elected president of the National Association of Hospitals, told of the size and scope of the "health industry" in the United States. "One out of every 44 Americans is employed in the health industry," he stated.

New officers were installed by Kenneth Sledge, hospital administrator. They are: Mrs. Eleanor Cooke, president; Mrs. W. A. Long, first vice president; Mrs. W. E. Smith, secretary; Mrs. David Rogers, treasurer, and Mrs. J. E. Parker, second vice president.

Mrs. Parker said that auxiliary members worked a total of 1,160 hours during the year, despite the fact that the hospital was not open the full year.

Among the auxiliary members recognized for the number of hours they have worked were: Mrs. D. C. Williams, 300; Mrs. C. R. Wilson, 700; Mrs. Nedie Rogers, 700; Mrs. Walter Boren, 500; Mrs. M. J. Malouf, 500; Mrs. David Newby, 300; and Mrs. Jack Lott, 300.

A volunteer service pin award was presented Mrs. John Dennis of Gail for her work with the auxiliary.

Others recognized included Mrs. Doug Morrel and Mrs. Frances Matthews.

Mrs. Cooke, who was presented the president's pin, predicted a bright future for the hospital and its women's auxiliary in her acceptance speech.

Earl Chapman, a member of the hospital board, served as master of ceremonies. The invocation was by the Rev. Curtis Lee. Musical entertainment was provided by the Holy Roman Empire, a combo of Timmons Bull, Giles McCrary Jr. and Joey Lee.

A layette shower was held in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Hall honoring Mrs. Bill Olive last Friday afternoon between 1 and 3 o'clock.

Hostesses were Mmes. Hall, Bill Gandy, Tim Carter and Joyce Hart.

Yellow and white colors were carried out at the serving table which was laid with a white cloth and a flower arrangement. Punch and cake were served.

The guests, who enjoyed games, were: Mmes. Bill Williams, John Shedd, Emmet Shedd, W. O. Greer, Tim Pettyjohn, Alice Byrd, Wes Bulard, Vernon Nesmith, and V. B. Partlow and James Powell and Randy of Lovington, N. M., and Miss Katy Gandy.

Old John Santa Fe hits 100-year mark

Old John Santa Fe is 100 years old this year, but you'd truly have to say he neither looks nor acts his age.

The transcontinental railroad that pioneered the West zooms past Milepost 100 toward a second century of service and progress in October. And for those of you who won't railroad for a living, a milepost is a sign placed at each one-mile increment throughout a railroad system. It provides instant location of any particular point on that railroad.

The centennial observance will be marked by a series of civic luncheons and dinners throughout the nation, which started with the road's annual stockholders' meeting at Topeka, Kan., April 25.

This is as it should be for that is where it all began — at Topeka, capitol of the Kansas Territory — as a dream in the heart and mind of a man named Cyrus K. Holliday.

Cyrus K. who? ACTUALLY, THE dream of empire first stirred within Holliday's breast while he still lived in Pennsylvania. Born at Carlisle, Pa., April 3, 1826, he earned a law degree from Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., in 1852. In the fall of 1854, the newly-married Holliday set out for Kansas with two avowed ambitions, to found a town and a railroad. He was 28 years old.

Somehow, even before he was born, Holliday seems to have been destined to move in transportation circles. In 1821, a scant five years before his birth, Capt. William Bicknell made the first recorded freighting trip over the route that would one day become the main line of the Santa Fe Railway. During the year of Holliday's birth, 1826, the first private railroad company in the United States was formed in Massachusetts. And also in that same year, Theodore D. Judah, who founded the Southern Pacific railroad, was born in Connecticut. Both young men went west in 1854, one to Kansas, and other to California. So much for the coincidental events of the years 1826 and 1854.

Shortly after his arrival in Kansas, Holliday met Dr. Charles Robinson, a leader in the New England anti-slavery movement. They formed a partnership and on Dec. 5, 1854, Holliday formally embarked upon the pursuit of his first ambition, to found a town. He carefully selected the site and even chose a name — Webster, reflecting his respect and admiration of the great statesman. Others in his company, however, preferred the Indian name Topeka ("a good place to dig potatoes") and Topeka it became. In the succeeding years Holliday thrice became mayor of the city and was chiefly instrumental in its becoming capitol of the territory and later, when Kansas was admitted to statehood in 1861, the capitol of the state. In these formative years, Holliday felt the real power lay in politics, consequently he was politically active at local and state levels. He served in the Territorial legislature and it was he alone who drew up the charter for the Atchison and Topeka Railroad in 1859. He personally introduced his bill in the legislature and through his efforts the territorial governor signed it 10 days later, Feb. 11, 1859.

THE ACTION up to this point proved to be the easiest. Nine years were to follow in which Holliday literally wore out his shoes trudging from office to office of eastern financiers in quest of funds. He encountered rebuff and ridicule but he kept on, doggedly refusing to admit defeat.

The advent of the War Between the States also cramped his ef-orts. Holliday served his state as adjutant general and his service entitled him to be called "general." However, he much preferred to be addressed as "colonel" and frequently was throughout the remainder of his life.

Persistence like virtue has its own reward and Col. Holliday and his friends were not to be denied. Sufficient money, land grants, machinery and manpower finally were amassed to begin construction of the first 25 miles of railroad, from Topeka to Burlingame.

A raw, chill wind whipped the coattails of a tiny throng of Topekans who, on Oct. 30, 1868, watched the dynamic Holliday turn the first spadeful of dirt. U. S. Sen. Edmund G. Ross, the sole one whose vote saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment and an early backer of Holliday's railroad, served as chief orator at the groundbreaking ceremonies. Col. Holliday followed him on the flatbed of a wagon that served as a speakers' platform. He predicted those present would live to see the road completed to Santa Fe, N. M. His audience smiled tolerantly and it would not be the last time Holliday's ambitions were ridiculed.

CONSTRUCTION work progressed well and in April, 1869, Holliday and a party of distinguished citizens, railroad officials and other guests filled two passenger coaches and headed toward a picnic celebration at Wakarusa. They proudly steamed over the seven miles of railroad at 15 miles per hour, according to an enthusiastic journalist of the day, the last five miles to the picnic ground being made by horse and buggy. The picnic featured barrels of beer, soda crackers and much old-fashioned oratory. Col. Holliday, flushed with success after years of struggle and frustration, spoke of the great things yet to come. The longer he talked the more fervid his inspiration became, ending with the prediction the railroad would one day extend from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.

His flight of oratory and wild optimism were too much even for a frontier celebration and while many stared in open-mouthed amazement others laughed scornfully. One young buck, unable to restrain his mirth threw himself to the ground and creamed. "Oh, the damned old fool!"

But the railroad was launched and the guiding genius of Cyrus K. Holliday began to blend into the corporate structure he had formed. He served two terms as its president and remained an active director for more than 30 years until his death, at 75, on Mar. 29, 1900.

God was good to Cyrus Kurtz Holliday. From time immemorial the world has known men of vision of great dreams, many of whom have never lived to see the fulfillment of those dreams. Holliday lived to see the fruition of both of the dreams that took him to Kansas in 1854, the growth of a great city on the Kansas plain and the development of a railroad which, at the time of his death, operated 11,000 miles of track from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean and Gulf of Mexico.

AUSTIN — Some 3,866 Texas anglers were cited last year for failure to have a $2.15 fishing license, reports the Parks & Wildlife Department and were subject to fines ranging from $10 to $100.

NEW TOMORROW

If I had time tonight, I might be a bit frightened. But just now, there's time to feel only excited and happy. It's funny . . . when you're a little kid, it seems as if you go to school forever. Then all of a sudden, it's graduation night, and you know that this is an end and a beginning all at once.

Mom and Dad will be out in the audience, and so will Dan. He sent me these roses. Our minister will be out there too, and I hope he'll notice that the smile I send in his direction will be a particularly grateful one. How often I've gone to him with my childish troubles, only to have him treat them as seriously as if they were of world-shaking consequence. It was he who really taught me how to pray.

He taught me so many of God's lessons. And I am sure that throughout my lifetime I'll be learning them anew and repeating them over and over again. How wonderful to realize that this commencement, this end of an era, is really the beginning of a new tomorrow.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

School events of year highlighted

For a few moments, I would like to reminisce some of the exciting events of the 1967-68 school year with you. There were so many activities that we have only enough space to mention a few.

After a long summer, Aug. 30, the first day of school, was longed for by some and dreaded by others. Nevertheless, school started on that day. Throughout the year there were wandering students trying to find their classrooms. However, everyone did it through that day and returned to school with dreaded homework assignments.

During the first ten weeks of school, everyone enjoyed the pep assemblies and the football games. The boys worked out through the week, other students enjoyed meetings for many clubs. There was the FHA picnic, the ice cream supper, and the FTA meeting that set forth the objectives of the club for the year.

While the football boys worked each day, the band was also striving to make that half-time show one that would be appreciated by the community.

In October, we had a Karate assembly. This excited so many students that Delbert and Elbert Rudd, Mike Scott, Ben Miller, Lee Norman, Joe Bilbo and Danny Bostick enrolled for the course.

Almost every weekend in December basketball tournaments were held. The fever was in the air and everyone was excited about the coming season.

Seniors, do you remember Dec. 17? Of course, that was the day those dreaded research papers were due. Everyone did make it even if some had to stay up all night to do so.

The Christmas holidays were almost upon us after the choir cantata on Dec. 20. This was the first time of the year that the Choir had sung in public.

After those short holidays, everyone returned to the halls of PHS anticipating the end of school. For now the year was half over with only 18 more weeks left.

Basketball games took up most of the time after the New Year began. Freshmen played on Monday nights, B-teams on Tuesday and Thursday, and varsity on Tuesday and Friday.

After the basketball season was over, the Juniors started rehearsal for their class play, "Red-headed Royalty From Arkansas". After many long hours of practice, the play was presented to the public in late March.

Also in March, Janice Gordon was FFA Princess for the South Plains Junior Livestock Show.

The FTA Banquet was held in March with Mr. Bud Davis as featured speaker. Mr. and Miss FTA, Danny Cooper and Emily Potts, and FTA President, Jane Hutchins, were awarded FTA pins during the program.

The band went to Lamesa for a band festival before they went to UIL Contest. While preparing their numbers for the contest, Dean Killion from Texas Tech came down to clinic the band.

The Choir went to contest in April and returned with four superior ratings.

Also around this time, there were styrofoam balls hanging from the ceiling, laying on the desks, hanging on the walls, and on the chalk board of Mr. Hamilton's room. Do the freshmen remember those formulas?

Many of the high-point FHA girls went to the area meeting in Midland. They became a little quieter

Senior Day Friday is great one for class

By Jane Hutchins

The Senior class left last Friday for their Senior Day in Lubbock. They departed from the school at 8:30 for a day of excitement.

The day started with a wild time at Mackenzie Park. Even though the weather was freezing, Voda Beth Voss took a little swim in the creek, while attempting to cross. She was well taken care of though after a change of clothes, which consisted of Jane Strofer's sweatshirt, James McKinzie's shorts, and James McGuire's tennis shoes. While at Mackenzie Park everyone enjoyed riding all the rides, especially Chris Stelzer, after a few moments of sickness.

Everyone was loaded into the bus and taken to Underwood's for a delicious dinner, where no one was able to eat much after Mackenzie Park except Larry Rosas, and he ate enough for everyone, believe it or not.

Next the miniature golf course was invaded by 35 eager golfers. Even though Adrienne Cook and Nedra Childs could not keep their balls out of the rose bushes, they had lots of fun.

Around 3 o'clock we were taken to Clapp Park to swim where Mickey Taylor and Mr. Lee really got kick out of the 35-foot slide. The boys also played statuettes in the water. There was almost a fight in the dressing room when Natha Jo Mears pulled the top off of Jane Strofer's spray perfume.

After an enjoyable dinner at your choice of place at Koko Corner we went ice skating. Crack-the-whip was a very popular game after the police went around telling everyone in the motel to be quiet.

The UIL literary events were held in April. Jimmie Johnston, Karen Hundley, Barbara Lucas and David Hamilton all came back with first places. And the one-act play went to Midland Carver and placed second in the district.

The choir banquet was also held in April carrying out the theme of Easter. Bernard S. Ramsey was a featured speaker at this banquet and Natha Jo Mears was presented as Choir Sweetheart.

The Senior play, "They Gave Him a Co-ed" was held April 26, after many long hours of practice.

The Junior-Senior banquet was held on April 27, with the Junior class hosting the banquet. "Three Coins in a Fountain" was the theme that was carried out by the Juniors.

The band went to Enid, Okla., the first weekend in May and returned to Post lacking a sweepstakes trophy by only 4.99 points.

The Science and Math Club went to Big Bend the second weekend in May and camped out down there.

Cheerleader tryouts and Senior Day were held last Friday, May 17. And now as the last week of school is almost gone and Commencement is nearing closer, we look back over those activities with many wonderful memories. These are only a few of the many events that we enjoyed and we will cherish the memories for a long time.— Emily Potts, Editor

Post High HAPPENINGS

The seniors returned Friday night from their trip to Lubbock rather tired, but they had a day of fun and memories. While at Mackenzie Park, Voda Beth Voss tried to swim the English Channel or was it just a small stream?

Also on Friday the cheerleader's tryouts were held. The seniors are Delbert Rudd and Donna Stewart; Junior, Don Collier; Sophomore, run-off between Sue Eubank and Sherry Bird; Freshman, Nancy Cook.

Monday afternoon an assembly was held so that the academic awards could be presented.

The Seniors got out of school Wednesday and the rest of school will be dismissed Friday. Everything is nearly over for Seniors, since they will be graduating Friday night at 8 o'clock in Antelope Stadium. The Seniors are a little sad knowing that they can't ever come back, but as for the Juniors they are pretty happy, for they will receive their Senior rings Saturday morning.

Cheerleaders at Post High named

The list of Post High School cheerleaders for 1968-69 was completed Monday when Sue Eubank won over Sherry Bird in a runoff for sophomore cheerleader. The two girls had tied when other cheerleaders were elected Friday.

The cheerleaders were elected at tryouts in the high school gym before the student body, with only one chosen from each class, except the senior class, which selected two.

Delbert Rudd, senior, was elected head cheerleader, with Donna Stewart the other senior class representative. The junior class elected Don Collier and the freshman class, Nancy Cook.

The jury panel had originally been called for Monday afternoon.

Tests continue on city well

George R. Brown's interests here are continuing to try to test its City of Post Unit No. 40, Well No. 1 this week in the S2-1 zone of the Giorietta but are getting only water.

E. R. (Buster) Moreland said the well probably will be completed as a dual producer from two zones of the San Andres. He said Brown will wait to see if the new well is a good one before deciding about future drilling.

Any new location probably would be south of the current one, located on a vacant lot in the 500 block on West Eleventh street.

Post student is to get degree

ABILENE — Rubilee S. Noble of Post is one of approximately 100 students who will receive degrees from Hardin-Simmons University during the spring commencement programs Sunday and Monday, May 26-27.

A covered dish luncheon was served and the group enjoyed a lot of visiting.

Three guests were present. They were Mrs. Arthur Morris of Halfway, Mrs. I. M. Steen and Mrs. Hoover's daughter, Mrs. Nina Bell Chapman.

Members attending were: Mrs. Minnie Wright, Lelia Gilley, Iris McMahon, Ada Oden, Sue Maxey and Viva Davis.

The next meeting will be June 6 with Mrs. Maxey as hostess.

Library trustees look to future

Trustees of the Post Public Library at their May meeting Tuesday night in the city council room discussed expansion needs for a new library year and voted to request an unchanged $1,500 from the city for their budget needs in the city's new fiscal year beginning July 1.

The addition of new cataloging files and the possible expansion of the library into its present small work room, which would require extensive remodeling, were discussed.

Librarian George L. Miller was asked to thoroughly investigate the advisability of paying 50 cents a book purchased for the library for its processing and cataloging. It is estimated having the work done by volunteers costs 38 cents per book here.

Trustees voted as board policy considering a library book as "lost if not returned in three months." Attending the session were Mrs. Ruth Young, Mrs. Rosa Gamblin, David Newby and Jim Cornish, and Mr. Miller.

Buddy poppies to be sold Saturday

The annual Buddy Poppy sale, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held in Post on Saturday, May 25, with members of the VFW Auxiliary in charge.

The purpose of the sale is to raise money for needy and disabled veterans — the VFW's way of "honoring the dead by helping the living."

Citizens of Post are urged to do their part by buying a Buddy Poppy when they go on sale here Saturday and wearing it proudly.

A covered dish luncheon was served and the group enjoyed a lot of visiting.

The First Methodist Church will dedicate its new outdoor church bulletin board in the memory of Jim Rogers in a special outdoor service at 11:45 a. m. Sunday in front of the church.

examinations, but will be resumed Saturday night with games between the Yankees and Wildcats and Tigers and Cardinals.

Pollard's round-tripper was one of 12 hits the Yanks collected off Dempsey Zachary, Red Sox starter, and Rodney King, who relieved him. Ronnie Ammons went the route for the winners, giving up six hits. Richard Dudley also homered for the Yankees in the first inning, scoring Ray Basinger ahead of him. Zachary and Augustine Cerda, each with two hits in three trips, led the Red Sox batters.

With Macky Sappington on the mound, the Dodgers beat the Cardinals, 10 to 3, in Saturday night's first game, with Tony Conner going the route for the losers. Sappington gave up five hits and Conner eight.

Sappington and catcher Bill Dixon got two hits apiece for the Dodgers, while shortstop Mark Terry and third baseman Jerry Johnson got two each for the Cards.

The Dodgers and Red Sox battled to a 7-7 tie through five innings last Thursday night in a game that will be completed later. Billy Greene, Red Sox manager, protested the game because of a difference in officials' timepieces, which he charged affected the 9:45 p. m. cutoff time. He later dropped the protest, however, because it was made 15 minutes after the infraction occurred, and the game will go as a tie until it is completed.

In Thursday night's first game, the Wildcats outscored the Tigers, 20 to 12, with Robert Slatter the winning pitcher and Donnie Hair the loser.

The Wildcats collected 16 hits, with John Redman and Slatter getting four apiece. The Tigers finished with 12 hits, which included three each for Ricky McDougle, Steve Hays and Grayling Johnston.

Slatter pitched a complete game, while Hair pitched six innings. Slatter's record is now 1-0, while Hair's is 0-1.

Athlete awards rule stiffened

From now on—or until the rule is changed again—high school athletes will receive only one letter sweater or jacket while they are in high school.

Bill Shiver, superintendent of the Post schools, said today that the University Interscholastic League has adopted a new rule placing a $20 limit on the value of any award made to an athlete while he is in high school. The value of any supplemental awards is not to exceed $3.

Heretofore, the rule has been a $15 limit each year and a $2 limit on supplemental awards.

The record indicates, according to Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies, that most home burglaries are performed by amateurs—and usually in daytime when no one is at home.

Family moves to Post from Graham recently

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS

Here it is time to write the news again and there doesn't seem to be much because the farmers are all busy planting cotton.

We have lost the second family by moving to Post. Mr. and Mrs. Thebert McBride and David moved over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chandler moved a few months ago. We don't feel that we have entirely lost these families as we can see them often. We wish for them the best of everything.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Doggett visited Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wheatley and Sunday evening with the D. B. Littons.

Mrs. Rene Fluitt visited Friday evening with Mrs. Cordie Stewart.

Mrs. Viva Davis visited Mrs. Maud Thomas Friday evening.

Several from this community attended the band concert Monday in Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Evans and family were Sunday luncheon visitors of the Lewis Masons.

Kim McClellan spent the weekend with her aunt, Mrs. Willie Mason. Mrs. J. M. Bush was a Monday afternoon visitor.

Mrs. Bill Lusk fell Saturday on her porch. We hope she soon feels much better. Mrs. Delmer Cowdrey visited her Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Drake returned home to Dallas last Thursday night after visiting a few days here. Mrs. Pearl Wallace, who had gone to Dallas to be with Tom during surgery, returned home with them. They also visited Mrs. Drake's mother, Mrs. Ada Mae Tucker, and family.

Miss Bonnie McMahon is visiting a few days with the Fred Gossetts. MR. AND MRS. Ray McClellan drove to their cabin on LBJ Lake last Friday. The Bill McMahaons

MARKER DEDICATED FRIDAY

and Quana Maxeys joined them Saturday and they all returned on Monday afternoon.

We extend sympathy to the relatives of the men who were killed from Justiceburg Monday.

Mrs. R. L. Gilstrap and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Askins of Long Beach, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Homer McCrary were Sunday visitors of the W. D. Williams.

Mrs. Carl Fluitt and her mother visited one afternoon last week with Mrs. Sue Maxey, Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ethridge and Mrs. Morris McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambers Parrish attended their oldest grandson's 8th grade graduation program at Cotton Center May 17.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Peel visited in Post Sunday afternoon with the Roy Youngs and they drove out to the White River Lake.

The Graham HD Club met last Friday at the Community Center. Roll call was answered with "How I Take Time Out For Myself". After the business meeting the agent Mrs. Karen Parnell gave a program on "Line and Color in Dress". Six members and the hostesses, Mrs. Rene Fluitt and Mrs. Mae Gossett, were present. The club will meet again on June 7.

New marker dedicated at historic building

"The significance of this building lies first in the past, but it has significance also for the present and the future," said the Rev. Marshall Mason Jr. of Beaumont at last Friday afternoon's Texas Historical Marker dedication at the old Post Sanatorium building.

The Rev. Mr. Mason is the son of the late Marshall and Gladys Mason, whose estate recently deeded the building to Garza County for eventual use as a county museum.

"Through the efforts of early pioneers, we stand where we stand today," said the Rev. Mr. Mason who is rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Beaumont.

The old colonial-type building formerly housed the Post Sanatorium, which for a number of years was the most modern hospital in this area and drew patients from throughout West Texas and some from New Mexico.

Preceding the Rev. Mr. Mason's dedicatory address, a recording was played of Dr. A. C. Surman, pioneer Post physician, giving many facts of the sanatorium's early days. Also on the program was Mrs. D. C. Williams, whose husband, the late Dr. Williams, also practiced at the sanatorium.

Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, presented the marker certificate to Mrs. James L. Minor, daughter of the building's donors, and introduced Mrs. Minor's husband, Mrs. Minor and her husband made formal presentation of the building to County Judge J. E. Parker.

The working on the new marker was read by Walter Duckworth, a member of the GCHSC.

Sousa award to Mickie Taylor

The John Phillip Sousa award, for which senior band members only are eligible, was presented Mickie Taylor at Monday night's all-band concert in the high school gymnasium. It was the first time in several years that the Sousa award had been made here.

Band Director Herb Germer also presented outstanding bandman awards to Joe Moore, 8th grade band; Sherell Guichard, 6th grade band; Rusty Comer, junior high band, and David Hamilton, high school band.

Garza's oil production helps prevent scarcity

Oil and gas wells provide approximately $15.4 million a year of Garza County's economic output, according to statistics released this week by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Based on most recent U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, the Association compilation showed that Garza County produced crude oil valued at $15.3 million in 1966 and natural gas worth $96,000.

Texas oil production in 1967, responding to demands for most domestic crude as a result of the Israeli-Arab conflict, totaled 1,350,000,000 barrels, a statewide increase over 1966 of about 5 per cent. Production last year varied widely among state Railroad Commission districts, however, ranging from 3.5 per cent below 1966 to 15 per cent above.

"Production from Garza County last summer helped prevent any oil scarcity for U. S. consumers at a time when one-third of the world's supply was cut off," said Corbin J. Robertson, Houston, association president. "We must keep in mind, however, that it may be difficult for Texas fields to sustain production in future emergencies if the discovery of new reserves continues to lag, due to lack of exploratory drilling."

The annual study showed that Garza County ranked 74th among Texas counties in total value of its production of some 5.2 million barrels of oil and 734 million cubic feet of natural gas.

Texas oil men, according to Rinehart's yearbook, drilled 43 wells in the county risking some $3.2 million. Thirty per cent of them were dry holes, costing about $946,000.

County landowners and others with mineral interests cashed royalty checks totaling about $1.9 million during the year. Likewise, the county's flow of oil and gas generates $710,000 a year in production taxes paid by producers and royalty owners to the state treasury.

Reports from the Texas Employment Commission show some 192 persons directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county, with an annual payroll of $462,000.

Some people plant flowers in the spring

But then what does a flower have that a gas light doesn't? Flowers brighten up your yard. So does a gas light. After you install a gas light, it might be the first time you've seen your flowers at night.

Flowers come in different sizes and shapes. So do gas lights designed to lend distinction to any landscape. Take your pick. If they're taken care of just right, flowers will bloom the whole season. A gas light blooms year 'round, and requires absolutely no care.

Flowers have a wonderful fragrance. You've got us there. A gas light doesn't have an odor at all. But we know you'll overlook that, since a gas light has so many other nice features.

New lower prices on the '68 models are in effect through July 31st. Prices start at $32.70 cash (includes installation and tax) or only $2.00 per month.

Pretty inexpensive when you consider how many springs it will last.

Plant a gas light this spring. Buy a PATIO PAIR (One gas light and one gas barbecue grill) and save $26.00. Prices start at $103.70 (includes installation and tax) or $4.00 per month.

Mrs. R. L. Craig is having an old time homecoming at her house Sunday, May 26. Everyone is invited to come and bring a picnic lunch and visit all day long with old friends. It will begin at the people gather and last until all get a chance to catch up on all the news. There will be several musicians on hand to furnish entertainment. So everyone is bound to have a good time. So, come one, come all.

Gribbles, Carlos McCleskeys, W. G. McCleskeys, Lucy Cunningham, James Murray, the Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Rawlings, T. J. Murrava, Gus Porterfields, and of course, the Bert McDonalds.

Former Postite and wife hit fabulous 'jackpot' on television program

Howard Jones and his wife, Becky, of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., won the limit in prizes — $3,900 worth — on television's "Treasure Isles" program, which is seen on Channel 34 in this area.

Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Jones of Post, went to Lubbock last Thursday to see the show on which their son and daughter-in-law hauled down the fabulous prizes.

Howard and his wife won over another couple in a puzzle-type contest to get the try at the prizes. They were taken by boat from the studio at Palm Beach Shores, Fla., to Treasure Isle, where they put another puzzle together, in the required time, to get the clues as to where the prizes were located.

As the clues were given Howard by his wife, he hunted out each prize, finding some in the sand and others in the water, until he had found all eight. The prizes included scuba diving gear, set of luggage, tape player and tapes, cook range, washer and dryer, $200 merchandise, color TV set, boat, trailer and motor.

It was the first time that any couple had found all the prizes on the program.

Howard, who is a mechanical engineer, gave Post nationwide publicity when asked his hometown, and he also told who founded the town. His wife is from Newfoundland, in Canada.

Third of Garza's cotton crop is already planted

Approximately a third of Garza County's 1968 cotton had been planted and little if any replanting appeared necessary because of recent rains, County Agent Syd Conner said Thursday.

With long staple cotton seed in short supply, the county agent said most farmers will try to "scratch up" their planted cotton instead of replanting.

Conner termed 1968 an unpredictable cotton year for the county because so many new things are being tried for the first time.

This includes the planting of 3,800 acres all to one variety of cotton which will be "black ginned" by the Pleasant Valley gin. While this cotton is located primarily in the Pleasant Valley community, some of it is scattered over most parts of the county.

Conner said some farmers are vowing to go 100 per cent to long staple cotton this year. The county agent said his office recommends a balance between long and short staple cotton because good fall weather is essential to make a crop with the long staple varieties.

He also said economists are predicting less of a spread this market season between short and long staple cotton as for the first time in years short staple cotton surpluses are virtually exhausted.

Youth from Southland to attend Boys State

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
 Hi there. Here it is Monday again and I know it couldn't have been over three or four days since last Monday. School will be dismissed here this week for the summer and I know it couldn't possibly have been nine months since it started! Where does the time go?

Something wonderful has happened in our family. Our No. 2 son, Darrell Wayne, has been selected as a citizen of The American Legion Boys State, which is a mythical state within the State of Texas and the United States. This is the first year that Southland has had a boy participating in Boys State because it takes a sponsor from the community along with the American Legion of Slaton. Up until this year we have never been fortunate enough to have a sponsor. This year, the Hackberry Co-op Gin whose manager, Dan Siewert, wanted to do something special for the community and they chose this way to do it. I, for one, think they are to be commended, and I want to say thank you for giving one of our young men a chance to participate in Boys State. I sincerely hope that this will be an annual thing from this year forward. Boys State will be held at the University of Texas in Austin from June 8-15. Congratulations Darrell Wayne! Joey Basinger was chosen as alternate. Congratulations, to you, Joey.

The teachers of the elementary school wish to thank all the parents and anyone else who had a part in making their play, "American Heritage" a success last Tuesday night. One group "The Holy Roman Empire" of Post loaned their public address equipment and that helped a great deal. The children did their parts so well and their costumes were so pretty and authentic that I think it was one of the best plays that has ever been put on here by the elementary
