

Museum kitchen dedicated to pioneers

Lighting History Appreciation here, the country kitchen at Garza County Museum was dedicated Sunday afternoon to the "pioneer woman." A group of 125 persons visited the museum building for the dedication program, which began at 2 p.m.

Walter Boren, acting chairman of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, dedicated the kitchen while dozens of visitors crowded its small space and stood in the hallway and an adjoining room for the ceremony.

The dedication paid homage to "Mrs. Amanda Pioneer," a manikin dressed in pioneer garb who will remain as the central figure in the old kitchen as a symbol of all pioneer women of Garza County.

Mrs. Dulaney Davis of Ralls, who in the long ago fiddled at many dances for pioneers of Garza and surrounding counties, played the old-time tunes over again at Sunday's program, with Mrs. Winnie Tuffing at the museum's old-time organ. Lovington, N.M., and Lubbock musicians also joined in the accompaniment as the crowd sang old-time hymns and tunes.

Refreshments of lemonade made in an old crock, coffee from an enamel pot on the kitchen's old-time woodburner cookstove, and cookies were served from a table laid with a red-checked tablecloth.

The pioneer kitchen furnishings also include a two-burner boiler with a rub board holding half-used bars of lye soap, a cupboard holding period glassware and with its shelves full of old jars and vases, and worn chairs with their original cane bottoms replaced by rope.

The old kitchen was the first of a number of rooms to be dedicated at the museum, which is housed in the Mason Memorial Building, originally the old Post Sanitarium. The other rooms will be dedicated as their furnishings are collected and the decoration completed.

Garza County Museum memberships at $5 each were sold at a table in the hallway during the afternoon.

Sawyers resigns off hospital board

Ed Sawyers elected to the city council in the spring election resigned his position as a hospital trustee at a special meeting of the Garza Memorial Hospital District board last Thursday night.

Although there was no conflict of interest in holding both positions according to law, Sawyers told the board he preferred to concentrate upon his new city duties.

Sawyers has served on the hospital board for five years and was chairman of the board for two of them.

The hospital board is considering the names of four to appoint to fill the vacancy left by the resignation.

The next regular board meeting is May 6. Hospital Administrator Donald Windham told The Dispatch the vacancy would be filled at that time.

Continued for this Saturday

By popular demand of many of the volunteer workers, Post's All-Out Clean-Up Day has been continued for this coming Saturday after some 25 large pickup loads of litter were hauled from roadways last Saturday and an undetermined amount taken from Post's downtown and residential areas.

Mrs. Mary Mayo, chairman of the Woman's Culture Club Shell Oil Contest committee who organized the first effort last Saturday, told The Dispatch, "Everybody who turned out to work was so enthusiastic that a lot of them asked to be able to come out again this Saturday and try to finish the job."

Some 25 youth and adult organizations are participating in this — the biggest community clean-up effort ever made in Post's 64-year history.

Prizes were given outstanding youth workers the first Saturday, but Mrs. Mayo said the second time around the Woman's Culture Club will treat all workers to cold, soft drinks this Saturday instead of the prizes.

Mrs. Mayo thinks the clean-up response from young people and adults has been so good that Post should have a fine chance of receiving recognition in the Shell Oil Company's environmental responsibility contest, which is a Woman's Culture Club project.

She also reports strong support from the Postex Plant, the Great Plains Distributors (Coores beer wholesaling firm) and Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Lubbock.

Postex has provided many litter barrels for use in the drive. A number of them will be kept at David Nichols Park throughout the summer baseball season.

The beer firm has supplied Post volunteers for this coming Saturday with a big supply of heavy duty litter bags and promised more if needed. They also provided testers so any youngster can determine whether cans are made of aluminum or not. The firm told Mrs. Mayo that beer cans do not have (See Clean-up Day, page 8)

John Hopkins resigns theatre manager job

John N. Hopkins has resigned as manager of the Tower Theatre here after 23 years in the position, he announced this week.

Hopkins' resignation was effective Sunday, but he is staying on in the position until the new manager of the theatre arrives, he told The Dispatch yesterday.

Commonwealth - Frontier, Inc., which owns the theatre, has named a new manager and he is due to arrive "any time now," Hopkins said Wednesday.

Hopkins came to Post as a theatre manager from Spur in 1950 and was here when the present Tower Theatre was opened. He is an overseas veteran of World War II.

Hopkins has served a term as mayor of Post and has also served as city councilman and as manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

He said he will continue to live in Post, but that he is not yet ready to announce any other plans for the immediate future.

Employees of the theatre honored Hopkins with a party at the theatre Sunday morning on the occasion of his resignation as manager.

Close City is host to judges in '71 contest

Judging of Close City's entry in the Texas Community Improvement Program was held Tuesday afternoon with a program at the community center building and a tour by judges of a number of places in the community.

The judges of the contest, which Close City community is entering for the seventh consecutive year, were Mrs. Aubrey Russell, District 2 agent; Leon New, area farm specialist; and Marvin Sartain, farm and ranch specialist. All are from Lubbock.

The program was opened with an address of welcome by Mrs. R. H. Sappington, followed by the presentation of colors by the 4-H Club and the invocation by Paul Jones, Precinct 1 county commissioner.

Mrs. Sappington introduced the guests and the judges were introduced by County Agent Syd Conner.

The history of the community from 1907 to the present was portrayed by women of the community dressed in styles appropriate to two periods — 1907 to 1930 and 1930 to 1970.

In the 1907-1930 group were Mrs. Lola Peel, Mrs. Eula B. Smith and Mrs. Bernice Jones. Mrs. Mack Terry and Mrs. Clarence Gunn portrayed the 1930-1970 period.

Accomplishments of 1970 were told by Mrs. Aubrey Ritchie; home demonstration club work by Mrs. Sappington; 4-H program by the 4-H members; county livestock show by Clarence Gunn, and looking to the future by Mrs. Wade Terry.

Refreshments were served following the benediction by Cecil Owens.

On their tour of the community the judges visited the L. H. Peel and Mike Custer homes and the Jim Bob Shults home, which is under construction.

Also visited were the Bob Reiter hog pens and hog houses, the Sullivan rabbit farm, the Clarence Gunn hog pens and houses, a new hen house with automatic feeders and the hog pens and houses with automatic loading chutes at the Marshall Tipton farm.

Members of the Close City community told of 1970 plans for beautifying the grounds at the center, fixing up a room for the 4-H Club, refinishing the floors and doing more repair work on the building.

The Garza County Historical Survey Committee had approximately 100 exhibits on display as a part of the History Appreciation Week observance. Committee members present were Mrs. Walter Boren, Mrs. Winnie Tuffing, Mrs. Mattie Belle Fluitt and Dr. A. C. Surman. Mrs. Syd Conner was also a guest at the program.

The refreshments were served by the 4-H girls.

How about complete rewrite job?

One of the four proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution to be acted upon by qualified, registered voters of the state on Tuesday, May 18, has to do with "constitutional amendments" themselves.

Proposed amendment No. 2 on the ballot would amend Article XVII, Section 1, to provide that the legislature may propose amendments to the state constitution in called as well as regular sessions of the legislature.

Since no body of folks appears wise enough or farsighted enough to frame a constitution applicable to all future conditions, framers of the 1876 document provided a way to amend the state's basic legal document through combined action of the legislature and qualified voters.

Amendments may be proposed only during regular or biennial sessions. Proposals are instituted by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house, the public is notified, and a simple majority of people voting makes for ratification.

The proposition under consideration would permit proposals to be introduced during called or special sessions in addition to regular sessions. The constitution restricts special or called sessions to matters authorized by the governor. Why confuse the picture more by opening the special or called sessions to any lawmaker's proposed amendment arguments?

If the constitution is in such a state of poor repair as to require mending oftener than now provided, perhaps the legislature should settle down to plan for rewriting the whole document in one-fourth the words or less. The heavier the husk the harder it is to find the kernel.

Motor bikes causing headaches

Motor bikes, including the midget cycles, or mini-bikes, are providing headaches for law enforcement officers and parents the nation over, including Post.

The headaches are liable to continue for the parents until they face up to the fact that unless the driver is of legal licensing age (15 years old in Texas) or unless he operates the motor bike only on his parents' own private property, the vehicle is being operated outside the law.

Texas law prohibits operation of a motor vehicle by anyone under the age of 15 on any public street under the provision of this law. This covers riding on sidewalks, in parking lots, exits and access roads, as well as alleyways and highways.

Parents would be wise to consider the problems involved in allowing underage drivers to operate either the motor bikes or mini-bikes, from the standpoint of possible harm to the child driving the vehicle and also from the standpoint of possible legal liability and resultant damage suits that could arise from injury or property damage that the youngsters might cause.

If your child is operating a motor bike and is 15 years old or over, by all means see that he has a license to do so. If he is under the legal licensing age, you'd better wait about getting him a motor bike or mini-bike, or if you get him one see that he operates it only on your own private property.—CD

For girls wanting to explore

Another former all-male organization has opened its membership to the "weaker" sex.

After two years of research and field experience, the Exploring Division of the Boy Scouts of America will now admit teen-age girls to full membership in Exploring, its high school age action program.

A couple of years ago, the Future Farmers of America made news by opening its membership to girls, who were quick to respond. The Post FFA chapter was among the first to enroll girls under the new set-up.

Scout officials say the action taken to admit girls would enable Exploring to more effectively carry out its mandate to meet the needs and interests of today's youth.

The national executive board's action now makes it possible for coeds to become full-fledged members and for adult women volunteers to act in leadership capacities.

Age requirements for girls are the same as for male members. Youths may enroll upon reaching 15 years of age and may remain through their 20th year.

The executive board is quick to point out, however, that girls are NOT becoming Scouts... they will be Explorers. Members of Explorer posts are not Explorer Scouts, by the way. They are referred to as "Scouts." Exploring is a division of the Boy Scouts of America, which has two other programs—Cub Scouting and Boy Scouting.

Some days just start out bad

If you stop to think about it, every community, large or small, gains its sense of identity and purpose through the pages of its local newspaper. If you want to find out anything or let other people know about some event, service or product, it's a pretty fair bet that the pages of your local newspaper can lend a hand, even if subscribers seem to think so.

A letter published in the Hayti, Mo., Herald makes this point and illustrates, as the editor put it, "... one of the better days in the life of a weekly newspaper publisher." The letter says, "Dear Editor: Please send me a free copy of your newspaper containing the obituary of my aunt. Also publish the enclosed clipping of the marriage of my niece. And I wish you would mention in your columns, if it doesn't cost anything, that I have two calves for sale and our church is having a chili supper Friday night and the tickets are only 75 cents. As my subscription has expired, please stop the paper, as I can't waste money on newspapers.—Ex-Subscriber."

About the only comment that can be made here is that some days just start out bad, and once in awhile they don't get any better!

What our contemporaries are saying

It happened again the other day... A suspect, charged with a string of violent crimes and out on bail, is arrested on a similar charge. That makes six rapes the suspect is charged with, unless he is turned loose again to try for a seventh. There is no justice in such sloppy proceedings, not to the public, the court, the police, or even the suspect. But it happens frequently in the United States. Persons charged with serious crimes are turned loose on nominal bail, only to repeat the same crime or perhaps commit a worse one. The public don't want to hear about the rights of repeat offenders. They are too preoccupied with defending themselves.—Towanda, Pa., Review.

THEY SAY April showers bring May flowers, but what we want most around here is for the few April showers we've had to bring May rains. After that, the flowers will take care of themselves.

Saturday, the first day, will get the new month off to an eventful start. Locally, the Post Lions will be holding their annual broom and mop sale, and the cleaner-uppers will be under way with their city-wide clean-up drive for the second consecutive Saturday.

SATURDAY'S BIGGEST sporting event will be the 97th running of the Kentucky Derby. This sporting classic, probably the world's most famous, will be contested before a capacity crowd of 100,000-plus racing fans at Louisville's famed Churchill Downs. Millions will watch the race over television, radio will beam the narrative to audiences around the globe and more than 1,000 newsmen will report every detail to newspapers and magazines all over the world.

The Derby is the contest that has caught the imagination of people who know no more about horses than that they are four-legged and love hay and who, except for this one day each year, could care less about fugitives from the cavalry that work around race tracks.

THE MAN UP the street says you don't feel that you are utterly useless. You can always be used as a bad example.

Back to the subject of horses. Garza County probably could claim a record for a county of this size in the number of riding clubs operating within its borders. The Dispatch has been receiving news releases from three — the Garza County Sheriff's Posse, the Poor Boys Riding Club and the Southland Saddle Pals.

IN MAKING A checklist of Saturday's events, let's not forget the 19th annual South Plains Spelling Bee to be held on that day at Smylie Junior High School in Lubbock. Garza County's hopes will be riding on Amanda Wheeler, 14-year-old eighth grade student from Southland. After hearing Amanda spell in the county bee, I think she has the best chance of winning the championship of any Garza County contestant in a long time.

Someone has asked if this column could settle an argument which developed in a local grocery store over the difference between a rip saw and a cross-cut saw. With the help of Silas Short of Short Hardware, the argument is as good as settled. Silas, who seemed a little surprised that there was someone who didn't know the difference between the two types of saws, explained that a cross-cut saw is much the larger of the two and is used for coarser material. Most cross-cut saws are equipped with a handle on either end so that two persons can saw at the same time — back and forth. Rip saws have finer teeth than cross-cut saws and a lot less of them, some equipped with as few as four teeth.

YOUNG DANNY Guthrie and his country music band come about as near to the genuine "Nashville sound" as any band of youngsters I've heard in a long time. The band made a big hit at the Mu Alpha chapter's "Little Mr. and Miss Post" contest, and when Danny sang "Okie from Muskogee," it was all this old Okie could do to keep from letting out a whoop like the ones the audience let out when Merle Haggard cut the record in Muskogee. The other members of the band are Larry Bilberry, John Redman, Tol Thomas and Gary Workman.

I've just thought of a way to profit from this Daylight Saving Time that started Sunday. I won't go so far as to say my idea is a brilliant one, but I do believe it to have possibilities. Since DST will continue until Oct. 31, that means approximately 180 days of it. If we could take the hour we save each day and stash it away somewhere, like some folks are able to do with money, we'd have 180 hours, or seven and a half days, saved up by the time DST ends. We'd not only have time on our hands, like money in the bank, but we'd have seven and a half days to go on if we wanted to enjoy life by wasting our time.

A Message to Mothers from Uncle Sam

And for their fathers and doctors, too.

An important message. With vital information for mothers with children who simply can't learn in the ways most children learn.

You may have a child who is like seven million other American youngsters who are absolutely OK but for something which prevents their absorbing knowledge or, perhaps, simple everyday skills.

Maybe it's deafness or hearing difficulty, blindness or impaired vision, or some bodily defect. Such handicaps may not always be curable—but even so, Education methods can teach these children a great deal.

And if a child has a mental or behavioral learning handicap, Special Education can often not only teach but also help to reduce or even overcome the condition.

If your child is hard to teach, write for the name and address of the nearest school or clinic having Special Education facilities. The information is free—from U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Hospital ladies given awards at annual banquet

County Judge Giles W. Dalby spoke on "Community Service" at the tenth annual awards banquet of the women's auxiliary of Garza Memorial Hospital last Thursday night in Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church. The banquet was served by women of the church.

The tables were set for 70 members and guests with large arrangements of iris flanked by smaller arrangements of daisies with candles in the center. Mrs. Hansford Hudman, a charter member of the auxiliary, was in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Bob Collier, mistress of ceremonies, introduced guests, who included members of the hospital staff, county commissioners' court and hospital board, in addition to contributing members, husbands of members, and others.

The invocation was by the Rev. Bob Ford, pastor of the church. Special music was by Mrs. Don Pennell, the Rev. George L. Miller and Mrs. Kay Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. M. J. Malouf, president, presented awards, with caps and pins going to Mrs. J. Lee Bowen, Mrs. Bill Hughes and Mrs. Barnie Jones. A special award in behalf of the Pink Ladies was presented Mrs. J. E. Parker in the form of a life membership. Mrs. Parker was the auxiliary's first president.

Mrs. Homer L. Gordon and Mrs. Irby G. Metcalf were announced as other recipients of life memberships.

Mayor Giles C. McCrary installed the following new officers: Mrs. Barnie Jones, president; Mrs. Lee Bowen, first vice president; Mrs. M. J. Malouf, second vice president; Mrs. Bill Hughes, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Oliver McMahon, recording secretary, and Mrs. Jack Hair, volunteer service chairman.

Mrs. Jones, the new president, outlined her plans for the new year and asked that "anyone who can spare a couple of hours a week serve as a Pink Lady." She promised they will find it "most rewarding and needed."

Elimination of byssinosis risk is Burlington health program's aim

ATLANTA, GA. — Burlington Industries has undertaken a comprehensive program of medical surveillance and environmental control to eliminate the risk of byssinosis in its plants which process cotton.

The company's actions were outlined to an Industrial Medical Association annual meeting last week by Dr. Harold Imbus, medical director of Burlington, which is participating in the research project being conducted by the Duke University and the North Carolina State Board of Health.

Dr. Imbus said the Burlington program has three objectives:

1. To screen, identify, evaluate, and advise any employees found to have a respiratory disease. This would include advice to employees and management when a change in jobs is indicated.

2. To identify risk areas in various plants, and to assist in planning feasible environmental controls.

3. To establish a continuing program of medical surveillance, involving pre-employment and periodic checks of all employees in each plant.

He said that any employees who have clearly non-occupational problems will be referred to their private physician for follow-up care. Those who appear to have occupationally-related health conditions will be examined by experienced consultants to determine the degree of impairment and its possible relationship to type of work. Every effort will be made to place an affected employee in non-dusty work areas if efforts to identify and remove irritating agents from cotton dust are slow in development or unsuccessful.

New employees will be checked for any respiratory impairment or susceptibility to byssinosis prior to going to work. Tests will be repeated within the first six weeks of employment to identify any reaction to cotton dust among new employees and to make any necessary job changes.

"We plan to re-survey all employees in cotton dust areas on a yearly basis until we are certain that environmental control measures are fully effective," Dr. Imbus reported. "We will continue to work closely with Duke University and the North Carolina State Board of Health as efforts to eliminate byssinosis in the textile industry are expanded."

Burlington is primarily a user of man-made fibers, but processes raw cotton or cotton blends in 27 of its 135 plants.

On the question of workmen's compensation for employees found to have job-related byssinosis, the Burlington medical director said his company "supports legislation which clearly and adequately provides for compensation where the diagnosis and determination is based upon accepted medical criteria."

Dr. Imbus added that the Duke-North Carolina Board of Health

OK!... you want to be Cool

Get your money's worth electric air conditioning

OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY

Just like your refrigerator, electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.

LOW OPERATING COST

Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low... no extra installation costs, either!

HIGH ALTITUDE — NO PROBLEM

Despite our high altitude, electric air conditioning keeps on doing its job because the electric cooling method is completely shielded against the effects of altitude changes.

CHOICE OF BRANDS

There are 50 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all their brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.

CHOICE OF SIZES

Electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high; too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.

COMPLETE SERVICE

The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

WIGS
 What's one of the quickest ways for a woman to change her looks to suit her mood? Try switching to a wig or hairpiece.
 Many women have a wardrobe of wigs, and men, too, are beginning to be less shy about buying and wearing hairpieces. In fact, the Federal Trade Commission estimated that approximately $700 million was spent on wigs and hairpieces in 1970, and that three-fourths of all women own one.
 Because of this sizeable sum, the FTC has proposed guides and regulations to help the consumer get his money's worth.
 The FTC guides require that hairpieces should not be labeled, advertised or represented in any way which might mislead consumers. The labels must spell out exactly what the hairpiece is made of. If the hair used comes from a foreign country, the country of origin must be listed. Also, only a wig containing unbleached, undyed hair may be labeled as containing virgin hair.
 Other regulations by the FTC deal with quality, durability, construction, weight, length, size, color, fit, style, required care, service guarantee, original price and special features of the wig or hairpiece.
 Wigs and hairpieces may be made of human hair, animal hair or synthetic hair. Human hair for wigs comes from European countries or the Orient. European hair is usually softer and more natural looking; it can be styled more easily than Oriental hair.
 Synthetic wigs and hairpieces are made from Dynel, Kanekalon or Elura. Wigs of synthetic fibers are less expensive than wigs of real hair, plus the curl in the fibers is permanently baked in. But the curl can usually be modified and the style lines changed somewhat with minimal brushing and combing. A synthetic wig is ready to wear as soon as it is taken from the box.
 Synthetic wigs can be stretch or non-stretch. Stretch wigs conform to all head shapes and sizes, requiring no alteration. Non-stretch wigs, on the other hand, come in standard sizes, and should be fitted by a professional.
 Whether a wig is made of human hair or synthetic fibers, its construction is very important. A well-constructed wig will be lightweight and comfortable, yet durable enough to last countless washings without losing its elasticity, shape and strength.
 One of the major problems of owning a human hairpiece is that it requires regular maintenance. Such wigs should be cleaned and styled by professionals. Synthetic wigs, however, can be washed in a special wig shampoo or in a mild cold water wool cleaner. Simply wash the synthetic wigs in cold or tepid water, then rinse thoroughly. Apply a conditioner to keep them soft and pliable. After the wig has dried, comb and brush in the style you prefer. Use a special wig spray to help hold the set.
 To give your hair goods the best of care, follow the recommendations of the manufacturer and dealer.

Library

LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER
 The second annual Library Flower Shower, with the added attraction of a gigantic rummage sale, ended Saturday afternoon at 6:00. Actually we didn't close the doors until 6:20 because we had so many minute customers.
 The money has been counted and the bills paid, and we can proudly announce this was the most successful fund raising event in the history of the library!
 We have now increased our building fund by the remarkable figure of $633.76. We made $407 on our rummage sale, and $525 on the Flower Shower. Beautiful, beautiful. And a great big thank you to everybody!

Macy, Zoe Kirkpatrick, Nelda Dalby, Ann Mitchell, Patti Allison, Glenda Morrow, Lynette Thetti, Wanda Mitchell, Ruth Ann Newby, Betty Cook, Ruth Young and Marilyn Miller. The list may be longer still, for there were so many I may have forgotten a few.
 Rosemary's speciality was rounding up rummage and pricing it. She did a bang-up job on it, so good in fact I wonder if she's ever considered opening up a second-hand clothing store. I believe she could make a million at it.
 Oh so many people made donations to the rummage sale. I can't possibly acknowledge them all. We had so many donations that we literally had more rummage at the end of the sale than we did when we started! It kept coming in all week long. Many customers discovered this, and they kept coming in, too. A hearty thank you must go to all who donated and all who bought.
 When the sale ended we had some plants left over. Malcolm Bull bought our remaining stock, which we greatly appreciated. If any of you didn't get to the Flower Shower, you still have a chance to pick up some flowers at Malcolm's store.
 Last, but not least, we thank the Hundley's for letting us use their store for the sale, and the Jaycees for helping us clean up afterward. Also a thank you to Jackson's Cafeteria for tables we used.
 So many people helped us it makes us feel good, for it means the Post Public Library has a host of friends. With all that help and goodwill we know the library will

There are a number of people who have earned gigantic thanks, with Pee Wee Pierce and Rosemary Chapman at the top of the list. Pee Wee was in charge of the Flower Shower and Rosemary directed the rummage sale. This meant many ladies spent added hours at the library and the sale throughout the week.
 Ladies like Judy Dobson, Hettie Nichols, Jo Cash, Margie Higgins and Susie Beck doubled and tripled up on their hours for the library. Pee Wee was there almost every day of the sale. Jim Cornish took a couple of shifts, and I had a few myself.
 Other helpers were Louise McCrary, Patty Kirkpatrick, Mary Prather, Margie Wilson, Nancy

? Your Name ?
WHAT'S IN IT?
 By CHARLES DIDWAY
ROBINSON
 The hit tune of a few years ago, "Mrs. Robinson," from the movie, "The Graduate," has one of the commonest surnames in the United States in its title.
 Robinson is the 22nd commonest surname in this country, where it is the family name of an estimated 429,000 persons. It was also high on the list when the first United States census was taken in 1790, ranking 37th, with nearly 5,000 persons by the name.
 Robin was a diminutive of the popular surname Robert from the Old German Hrodobert, meaning "bright in fame." The Normans brought the name Robert to England at the time of the Conquest in 1066. In the 13th century, inspired by the ballads of that popular hero Robin Hood, Robin was more widespread than Robert as a personal name.
 The son of Robin became known as Robinson when hereditary surnames began taking shape. Rob and Robbie were also nicknames for Robert and gave rise to such family names as Robison and Robson.
 The surname Robinson is distributed all over England except in the southwest where it is either absent or extremely rare. Its great home is in the northern half of the country.
 In medieval English records, the name, usually spelled Robynson, appears frequently. In 1324, John and Richard Robynson were entered on the Court Rolls of the manor of Wakefield in County Yorkshire.
 The name is very numerous in Ireland, especially in Ulster (Northern Ireland), through the settlement there of families from England and Scotland.
 Robinsons began emigrating to America early, William Robinson being one of the first settlers of Newton, Mass., and Thomas Robinson settling at Guilford, Conn., in 1664. The Rev. John Robinson was a pastor of the Pilgrims in Leyden at the time the first group of them came to the New World in 1620.

Meat inspection program okayed

AUSTIN — The Texas meat inspection program finally has received federal approval.
 Accreditation of the Texas State Health Department-conducted program was based on a recently completed survey of the state's 800 meat processing plants and slaughterhouses and finding that they had met standards equal to those of the federal government.
 The U. S. Secretary of Agriculture last February caused concern by advising the health department that federal standards were not met. The new Texas Meat and Poultry Act went into effect Sept. 2, 1968, giving authority for an inspection program to the division of veterinary public health of the State Health Department. A new school was established to train inspectors to meet the federal guidelines.

ARE YOU AN INGRATE?

By Bernard S. Ramsey

Somewhere I came across these deathless lines:

Though silver threads among the gold
 May mean you're not so young,
 You're lucky to have anything
 To find those threads among.

Now us men folk who are growing pretty heads of skin find these lines apropos. To put it another way, we ought to be grateful for our present condition, for things could be much worse.

Gratitude . . . thankfulness . . . appreciativeness . . . this is the hallmark of the genuine Christian. Paul in all his letters always finds a place to express his gratitude, both to His Lord and his fellowman, and we are missing out on a lot of wonderful living if we are not similarly grateful.

Just to mention one thing for which everybody ought to be grateful: God gives you 168 hours every week to do with as you see fit [with the exception, of course, of the time you're trying to please your boss and mate]. What would you call a person who can't spare God even two hours out of the 168 per week worshipping in His Church on the Lord's Day? . . . a grateful person or an ingrate?

Much information is available from trust departments, accountants, insurance men, and investment counselors. The ultimate adviser, however, should usually be an attorney, since he alone is fully qualified to give the personal legal guidance a program should have.

Some people shrink from the thought of estate planning. But, like it or not, some plan is going to govern the care and distribution of your possessions. The plan could be yours, if you make one. If you don't, state and federal laws — oblivious of your wishes — will do it for you.

17 more days of school left

By ANITA LITTLE

Guess what, seniors? There are only 17 more days of school! As usual, all the seniors are going through the never-ending rush of "end of the year" work.

English and Spanish research papers must be completed. Ag speeches must be made, and Bookkeeping and Typing II Practice Sets must be completed. These are only a few of the major difficulties that are now facing the seniors.

There has been so much work to do lately (especially last week), that about 90 per cent of the whole senior class has a hard time making it to their classes. Do you suppose this could be due to the heavy load of homework being piled on us?

Juniors have a lot of work to do, too. How's that terrific Junior-Senior Banquet coming?

When those 17 days are over, many seniors will be joyously happy and will be rewarded for all of this hard work by a long-awaited graduation certificate.

COLLEGE STATION — The social security tax to be withheld from farm wages increased to 5.2 per cent on Jan. 1, 1971, according to James I. Mallett, farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The taxes withheld from wages must be matched with an equal amount by the employer and sent to the Internal Revenue Service.

When the social security tax withheld plus the employers contribution reaches $100 or more at the end of any calendar month, the total amount must be deposited by the 15th day of the following month in a Federal Reserve Bank or a commercial bank authorized by the Internal Revenue Service to accept social security tax deposits. There are statutory penalties for failure to make the required timely deposits.

Mallett explains that a farmer is required to withhold social security tax on any farm employee who works one hour or more on 20 days or more, or who earns $150 or more during the calendar year. However, the farmer is exempt from withholding social security tax for farm labor crews, self-employed individuals performing custom services, his own children under 21 years of age, or for a husband or wife working for their spouse.

The farm employer is responsible for depositing the total social security taxes due whether he withholds the tax from the employees wages or not, Mallett said. The receipt for social security tax deposits and Form 943 is filed with the Internal Revenue Service in January of each year.

Payroll records, including name, social security number, amount and time worked, the amount paid and the tax withheld, should be kept by the farm employer on each employee. It is also important to keep a copy of Form 943 which is used to report social security taxes, reminds Mallett.

Three blue ribbons won by Garza girls in 4-H Food Show

The 1971 District 2 Food Show was held in Lubbock at Texas Tech University April 17 in the University Center ballroom. The public was invited to view some 123 exhibits.

Blue ribbon winners from Garza County were Phyllis Kennedy, Sue Cowdrey and Amy Cowdrey. Red ribbons went to Kathie Morris, Nancy Maddox, Karen Williams, Jodie Tipton and Genetta Kennedy.

Some county 4-H'ers will gain more experience as they participate in the District 2 elimination contest May 1 at Texas Tech. The contest consists of a series of demonstrations or illustrated talks on various subjects that are of interest to the youth in their project work. At the present time it is expected that Garza County will have teams in livestock judging, grass judging, rifle, vegetable use and preparation, home improvement, natural resources, and horse judging.

Jai-alai is the swiftest game in the world of sports.

HEAVY TURNOUT SOUGHT

Water boosters urged to back Amendment No. 4

Members of the Garza County unit of Water, Inc., in a meeting in the bank's community room Monday night heard Tom Williams, of Lubbock, field representative of the organization, urge support of constitutional amendment No. 4 in the May 18 state-wide constitutional amendment election.

The amendment would provide $100,000,000 in Texas Water Development Bonds earmarked for state assistance to local governments in construction of waste water treatment facilities, thereby clearing the way for increased federal matching funds.

Williams pointed out that disposal of improperly treated wastes is causing a serious threat to the quality of the water supply in all parts of Texas.

He also pointed out that approval of the bonds could reduce local moneys needed to provide new and improved waste water treatment facilities from 70 per cent to 20 per cent.

Under the present local-federal matching program for construction of waste water treatment facilities the federal government supplies up to 30 per cent of the cost of the facilities with the local governments financing 70 per cent of the project costs. By bringing the state government into the financing program and with the proposed facilities complying with both federal and state standards, the local share would drop to 20 per cent of construction costs, the federal share rise to 55 per cent with the state bonds providing 25 per cent.

Williams said assuming all water development board bonds are sold and federal construction money is available at the present formula rate the state would be eligible for more than $180 million in federal funds.

Constitutional amendment No. 4 also raises the maximum interest that can be paid on all Texas Water Development bonds from the present four to six per cent.

Williams said a large turnout of eligible voters at the May 18 election is considered of paramount importance to the passage of amendment 4.

Williams explained that because of other issues appearing on the ballot, it is presumed that many voters may be going to the polls to register a protest, making it essential that those who support amendment No. 4 go to the polls and register that support.

He also emphasized that the last constitutional amendment involving water development — the amendment that would have provided financing for implementation of the Texas Water Plan — went down in narrow defeat not at the hands of those who opposed it but rather because those who supported the issue failed to go to the polls.

Clean-Up Day —

The Coke bottling firm will pay five cents per Coke bottle and will pick up the load of bottles here, officials of that firm have informed Mrs. Mayo.

All are enthusiastic about the Post clean-up effort. The high school band is collecting the Coke bottles and aluminum cans to raise funds for their upcoming Six Flags trip.

Prize winners among the youth groups for last Saturday (those judged to have worked the hardest) were William Halford of the Boy Scouts, Byron Gray, 4-H club, Scott Walker, Cub Scouts, Ronald Martin, High School Band; with the Johnny Horizon Club splitting the prize three ways among Larry Dodson, Debbie Pearson and Randy Gordon. The FHA had a drawing of its prizes with Janie Martinez the winner. The prize for each youth group consisted of dinner for two at Toby's and two tickets to tonight's Zogi Revue.

The Girl Scouts decided not to select a winner but to pool the prize and each have a Coke instead. Mrs. Mayo said a committee has been formed in the Lincoln Addition in the northeast part of the city for a Saturday clean-up of that area.

The Rotary and Chamber of Commerce, assisted by Girl Scouts and other adult clubs, made considerable progress in the downtown area, but learned as others have that this is a big job and more help will be needed to finish up Saturday.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha reported that residents need to clean their alleys because as streets were cleared, litter was blown from alleys into the cleaned areas.

The Green Thumpers did their work last Wednesday and cleaned alleys along with roadways and vacant lots.

Mrs. Mayo said areas which need attention this coming Saturday is the Lubbock Highway approach to Post, Loop 46 from 15th Street to Clairemont Highway. Gail highway approach, and vacant lots in downtown and residential areas.

More pickups will be needed Saturday to haul off the litter, she emphasized, and "wear your red, white or blue, once more." She added that "those colors made the scene last week—and deservedly so."

Bailey Mayo is recording the project in pictures and state highway maintenance workers are cooperating in the undertaking.

Members of the committee who are seeking a big turnout of volunteer workers are Mrs. Madie Johnson, Mrs. Ruby Hambrick, Mrs. Irene Burleson, Mrs. Juanita Pantoja, Joe Sanchez, and Mercy Torres.

Mrs. Mayo urges volunteers this Saturday to report to their assigned areas at 9:30 a. m. rather than meeting at the park.

She gave this report of last Saturday's results:

About 95 per cent of all clubs and groups assigned clean-up areas were represented by workers last Saturday plus a number of individuals and parents who turned out to help after reading about the project in The Dispatch.

The 4-H Clubs completed the cleaning of the Tahoka highway approach to Post. They were out in full force, including leaders.

The Girl Scouts and Brownies, who turned out some 70 strong, with leaders, completed their assignments.

The Boy Scouts under Silas Short were out in force and worked until after 5 p. m. to finish picking litter from the road to the cemetery.

The FHA girls completed the Snyder Highway approach.

The Cub Scouts had a large turnout and with den mothers completed not only their areas but helped out in other places too.

The High School Band had 12 hardworking students. They didn't finish but that dozen hauled off seven pickup loads of litter with two staying on the job until almost 5 p. m.

The Rotary and Chamber of Commerce, assisted by Girl Scouts and other adult clubs, made considerable progress in the downtown area, but learned as others have that this is a big job and more help will be needed to finish up Saturday.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha reported that residents need to clean their alleys because as streets were cleared, litter was blown from alleys into the cleaned areas.

District Boy Scouts set Spring Camporee

Boy Scout troops from Crosby, Floyd, Garza, Kent and Lubbock counties will stage their Spring Camporee this weekend on the Bridwell Ranch in White River Canyon, beginning Friday and continuing through Sunday.

The theme for this year's camporee is "Conservation" — a part of the nation-wide Scout program entitled SOAR (Save Our American Resources).

The scouts will be building check dams, filling gullies with mesquite brush to retard further water erosion and constructing wildlife shelters from native brush.

Rounding out the program will be nature hikes, plant identification and a course on how to preserve an archaeological site, such as the remains of an Indian campsite, etc.

Coordinating the conservation work will be Silas Flournoy and the men from the Crosbyton Soil and Water Conservation office.

Bill Bennett of Crosbyton, district camping chairman; Jim Word of Floydada, chairman for the Comanche Trail District, and Doug Palmer of Ralls, district scout executive, will supervise the camporee. Religious services will be conducted Sunday morning by the Rev. Ben Picazo of Crosbyton.

Letters to the Editor...

BOUQUETS AND BRICKBATS

I would like to take this opportunity to toss a few bouquets and also a few brick-bats.

The bouquets go to all the young people, youth organizations and their leaders, of our community for their enthusiastic participation in the Clean-Up Drive last Saturday.

I know that several of our youth organizations refused the "prizes or awards" offered by some local merchants. These prizes were refused because the young people and some youth leaders felt everyone involved in the Clean-Up had worked equally hard and no one person should receive a prize if all others could not share. Hooray for these young people who refuse to compromise their sense of what is just.

Brick-bats to whoever spearheaded the Clean-Up Drive and did not have the foresight to provide a central location with refreshments, or at least cool drinks, for all who worked so hard trying to clean our city. It would have been a nice way of showing their appreciation of all the work done.

Sincerely,
Mrs. O. L. Carter Jr.

Fire destroys vacant house

A vacant house at Avenue F and 11th Street was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last night and an occupied house next to it caught fire and was damaged before the flames were brought under control by firemen.

The A. D. Taylor family resides in the occupied house that caught fire. Damage there was confined to the roof.

Fire Chief Neal Clary said the vacant house was a "ball of fire" when the firemen arrived to fight the flames. The fire attracted several hundred spectators.

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS

The members of the Graham Community Center board extend thanks to all of those in the community who helped make the box supper Saturday night a success. Mrs. Syd Conner and daughter attended, with Mrs. Conner giving the program. There was plenty of food and most all enjoyed it, although there were some weight watchers present.

Mrs. Stella Booth of Paducah spent Saturday night and Sunday with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lusk.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Thuen Sr. spent Saturday night and Sunday visiting in Hereford with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thomas, and other relatives.

She was the granddaughter of Mrs. Albert Wood and the late Mr. Wood of Farmington, former residents of this community. She is a grand niece of Mrs. Charlie Rogers of this community. We extend sympathy to the relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Voss of Thousand Oaks, Calif., recently visited his brother, Glenn, and other relatives and friends.

87th birthday honoree Mrs. Mary Stolle is

By TOMMIE WILKE
Hello readers! What's the good word with you today? Found a little "gem" that I want to dedicate aspecially to you — if you are 40 years or older. "The thing to put aside for one's old age is all thought of retirement."

Happy birthday to you — Mrs. Mary Stolle, on your 87th birthday. Wow! Mrs. Stolle's birthday was on Tuesday, April 27th, but her family decided to celebrate a few days earlier with a dinner in her honor. The dinner was given on Sunday, April 25, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stolle with the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Stolle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stolle, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stolle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stolle and Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Callaway,

Mrs. Ed Stewert, Roy Stolle, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Camden, Mrs. Hilda Niesmith and sons, Gary and Dickie, Miss Pearl Stolle, Miss Ala Mae Stolle, and Mrs. Anna Bruedigam. Recent visitors in the E. L. Anderson home were Mr. Anderson's sister, Mrs. Lola Brimberry from Abilene, and his brother, Buford Anderson of Mineral Wells. We extend our deepest sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hall and family and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lancaster and family in the loss of their mother, Mrs. Ida Mae Hall, 88, who died about 10 a.m. Sunday in Methodist Hospital where she had been a patient for eight days. Her funeral was held Tuesday, April 27, in the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church with burial in the Terrace Cemetery at Post. She is survived by five sons, three daughters, 20 grandchildren, 43 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. May God comfort this family in their sorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Havis recently returned from a trip to parts of New Mexico and Arizona.

We extend our sincere sympathies to the family of Mrs. Fred Davis, who was Mary Davies before her marriage. Mrs. Davis passed away Saturday, April 24, at 9 p.m. after a lengthy illness. Her funeral was held in Perrin, Texas, Monday, at the First Baptist Church. She and her husband ran a grocery store in Perrin for a number of years. Mrs. Davis was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Davies, long time residents of Southland. She is survived by one daughter, a son, two brothers, and six sisters. May God comfort each of these in their time of sorrow. Happiness is — a son returning home after a year's tour of duty in Thailand, says Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diegel of the Lazy K Ranch. Yes, the Diegel's son arrived in Southland over the weekend and I can just imagine how thankful that mom and dad must be, to have him home safe and sound! Mr. Diegel says that the son is a bit thin, but that Mrs. Diegel is sure that she can put about 20 pounds on him during his leave, and I don't doubt it a minute.

As I promised last week, about the Junior-Senior Banquet in the Sunroom at the Villa. A Hawaiian theme was carried out in the decorations and the setting was just perfect with all the lush tropical plants that they are growing there. Those attending were: Faculty, Mr. and Mrs. Callaway, Coach and Mrs. Callaway, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Irene Kuykendall and Mrs. Betty Hall. Juniors, (See Southland news, Page 10)

Texas counties can vote May 18 liquor-by-the-drink proposal

— Texas is going to liquor-by-the-drink — and nearly anyone expected legislative action last week, spelling out a plan for legalized mixed drinks in open bars, and Gov. Preston Smith promptly signed it into law.

Smith said the measure will have "tremendous impact on the economy of our state" through increased tourism.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. has sent out instructions to local officials, noting particularly that the bill provides for mandatory local option elections on the drinks issue in 46 counties on May 18.

Counties which must schedule referendums in their "all-wet" areas in connection with the May constitutional amendments vote are those which last November approved lifting the open saloons ban and which contain cities or precincts where "package" sale of distilled spirits already is legal.

Dies cautioned judges and clerks of those counties that they must call local option elections prior to April 28 to assure 20 days' notice. Elections will be held only in areas (precincts and cities) of the 46 counties where sale of all alcoholic beverages is legal. Only in counties where sale of all alcoholic beverages is legal countywide will the May 18 vote be held throughout the county.

"It is a relief to have this issue settled in Texas once and for all," commented Smith.

Later elections can be called in other partially-wet counties by the standard petition route.

Visitors in the Southland Baptist Church Sunday were Mrs. Myrtle Lichey from Durant, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wartes and children from Post.

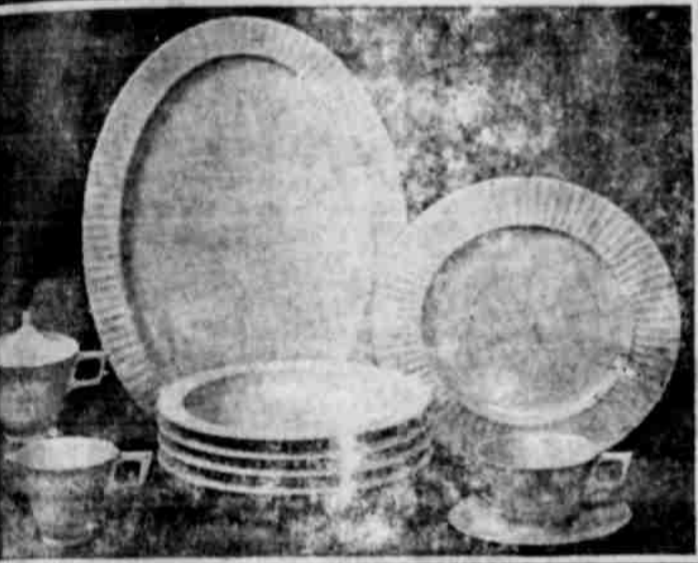

The Rev. and Mrs. C. T. Jordan are visiting for a few days with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Starkey and two children, in Pecos.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell attended the Order of Eastern Star meeting in Post Tuesday night, April 20.

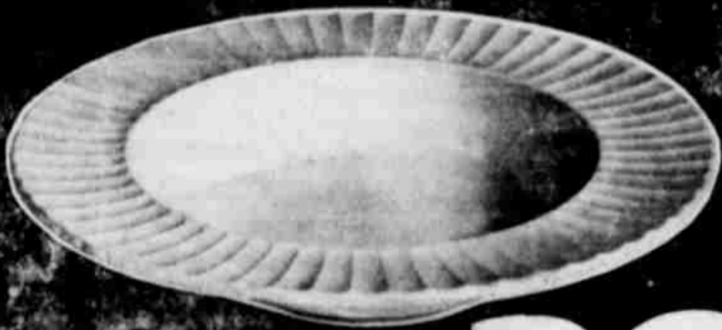

Here's a child's definition of house and home: "When you are outside, it looks like a house, but when you are inside, it feels like a home." Until next week, so long!
