Top ropers may battle for $18,000

CHAMPION STEER ROPERS

Shoot Webster (left) of Lenapah, Okla., and Sonny Davis of Kenna, N. M., are two of the ropers that will compete in the benefit steer roping Sunday at the OS Ranch. Webster has held the world steer roping championship four years, while Davis has held the title three years.

MOST OF LOOT RECOVERED

Two youths charged in $1,200 burglary

Two youths who were being held on a charge of stealing hogs have also been charged with the burglary of Ticer's Grocery here Tuesday night of last week, Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman said today. The burglary charges were filed against Terry Moreau, 19, and David Benham, 18, who were being held in the county jail Tuesday in lieu of $2,000 bond each on the burglary charges. At the time the burglary charges were filed, Moreau and Benham were being held under bond of $1,000 each on the hog theft charges. A third youth, Clifford Redman, was charged with concealing stolen property in connection with the grocery store burglary and is free under $750 bond, the sheriff said. Billy Snow, 17, was charged along with Moreau and Benham on the hog theft charges and is free under $1,000 bond. Of the approximately $900 worth of cigarettes taken in the burglary at the grocery store, 179 cartons and two packages have been recovered, Sheriff Holleman said. Also recovered were some of the rifle and shotgun shells, lunch meats and cheese stolen in the burglary. The sheriff said the cigarettes were brought to him by Redman after he had questioned the latter in connection with the case. The lunch meats and cheese were recovered at the home of a rural family near Afton in Dickens County, where they had been taken by the burglars, the sheriff reported. The hog theft charges against Moreau, Denham and Snow, accuse them of stealing six hogs owned by Thomas Ammons and kept in pens at the city dump grounds. The sheriff said the carcasses of four of the stolen hogs were found in one end of a culvert on FM Road 211 north of Post and that the other two hogs had been turned loose. Sheriff Holleman said questioning of one of the boys charged with stealing the hogs eventually led to a solution of the grocery store burglary. Working on the case along with the sheriff's department were highway patrolmen and the city police department. Marshall Ticer, owner of the grocery store, who had estimated his loss in the burglary at approximately $1,200, told The Dispatch (See Two Charged, page 8)

With fingers crossed on the weather, Jim Prather and the Garza County Benefit Association are hoping for a crowd of well over 3,000 at the O. S. Ranch, 14 miles southeast of Post, Sunday afternoon to see 32 of the world's top steer ropers battle for a possible $18,000 to $18,000 in prize money. Given good weather and a big crowd turnout, Prather and his newly organized association hope to raise between $6,000 and $10,000 for West Texas Boys Ranch near San Angelo. Actually, the first annual O. S. Ranch Steer Roping is a two-day event with lots of barbecued beef besides. Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. calf roping and team roping are expected to draw big entry lists of area cowboys into the fenced 300-yard long arena on the historic ranch. But the top event comes Sunday, starting at 1:30 p. m., when the steer roping gets under way. Former world champion steer or calf ropers who will compete include Olin Young of Peralta, N. M.; Toots Mansfield of Big Spring, Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio, Walter Arnold of Silverton, Shoot Webster of Lenapah, Okla., Clark McCowen of Kiowa, Okla.; Troy Fort of Lovington, N. M., and Sonny Davis of Kenna, N. M. Post will have two hometown favorites in Jim and Tim Prather. All told the field has been gathered from six states — and by invitation only. Each roper puts in $350 in the big jackpot. Half of each $3 spectator ticket sold to the roping also goes into the pot with the other half going to the West Texas Boys Ranch. Thus the ropers will put in $11,200 in entry fees with possibly another $6,000 or more added from the gate. With $1,000 split between the top four in each go-around, the balance of the prize money will go to the top four in the average. The winner of the average could earn $5,000 or more. Anyway you look at it, there will be a lot of money on the line when split-second really count. The barbecue will be served both days at $2 a plate with all these funds going to the Boys Ranch. Attractive souvenir programs also will be sold with proceeds going to the ranch. In the Sunday steer roping, each roper will get three steers with the top 12 ropers to rope a fourth steer. The association has abandoned efforts to move any baseball park bleachers to the site, because of their permanent type construction, and plan to ring the roping arena with cotton trailers with bales of hay on them for spectator seating. Wright's Texaco sold to McCowens

Elwood Wright, who has operated Wright's Texaco Service station here since November of 1963, has sold the business to Joe and Pat McCowen effective Friday, Oct. 1. McCowen has worked for Wright in the station part-time and then full-time for the last eight years. He and his wife, Pat, plan to continue to operate the station on a 24-hour basis under the name of McCowen Texaco Service. Mrs. McCowen will be the book-keeper. Wright told The Dispatch that his future plans are indefinite. He is going to Las Vegas soon to attend a mining convention as he has been interested in various types of mineral explorations for many years. "I'm going to miss all the fine folks of Post," Wright told The Dispatch.

SUNNY WEATHER BACK

September rains total 6.19 inches

And the rains came down... September 1971 is bowing out today as one of the rainiest Septembers in Garza County history, with 6.19 inches of rain recorded for the month through Sept. 25. This week dawned clear and bright, giving farmers a chance to get back into fields that were dry enough to get back into—and many were not. More than one-half of the total rainfall for September fell last week, with the rain gauge at the Southwestern Public Service Co. showing a total of 3.73 inches from

The worst fire in Post's 64-year history here Monday night caused an estimated $200,000 damage as it completely destroyed Wacker's store and its Christmas-sweated stock of merchandise in the heart of the town's business district and badly damaged an empty business building next door east of the variety store. Hundreds watched as the Post Volunteer Fire Department aided by firemen from eight other neighboring towns poured over 450,000 gallons of water into the raging fire before bringing it under control about 9 p. m.—three hours after it broke out in the rear of Wacker's store. Despite the intensity of the heat, the fire wall on the west side of Wacker's store, believed built when C. W. Post had the buildings and the others to the east end of the block originally erected as his Double U Store, held and Lavelle's, next door west of Wacker's, suffered only minor smoke damage. Volunteers helped remove the stock of the White Auto Store two doors east of Wacker's and the furniture from Hudman's furniture warehouse one door east of White's while the fire was still out of control and threatened to spread to all the business left in the block to the east. The White store merchandise was packed into trucks and taken to a variety of storage locations. Marshall-Brown's next to Lavelle's on the west of Wacker's store had all its merchandise carried by volunteers across the street to Dodson's to prevent smoke damage. Phillip B. Ewert, vice president of G. F. Wacker Stores, from Pauls Valley, Okla., who arrived with two other Wacker's officials Tuesday morning, immediately announced to The Dispatch: "We definitely will be back in Post with a store, somehow, someday—and just as soon as possible." He estimated a $150,000 loss in merchandise, explaining that much of the store's Christmas merchandise had just been received. The building occupied by Wacker's is owned by L. B. (Bill) Edwards of Big Spring, a former Wacker's vice president. Edwards, now on a business trip to Jackson, Miss., is expected here over the weekend to inspect the damage and make arrangements to clean up the premises. The Wacker's merchandise and building losses were believed mostly, if not completely, covered by insurance. He has a Saturday night speaking engagement in Lubbock. The Republican senator will be McCrary's guest while in Post and at the calf roping.

Name for Garza history chosen

"Wagon Wheels: The Story of Garza County" has been selected as the name for the Garza County history now being compiled, and a $5 prize goes to Mrs. Sid Cross of Justiceburg for submitting the title in a contest sponsored by the history book committee of the county historical survey committee. The winning title was one of more than 60 submitted in the contest, according to Winnie Tuffing, chairman of the history book committee. There were several out-of-town entries. "All the suggested titles were splendid and the committee had a difficult time selecting the winner", Mrs. Tuffing said. Some of the other suggested titles may be used as chapter or division headings in the history, the chairman said.

It's a big week for the 4-H'er

The Post Dispatch this week joins other Post business and professional firms (see full-page advertisement on page 11) in saluting the more than 150 Garza County 4-H Club members and their adult leaders. The occasion is National 4-H Week, Oct. 3-9.

The purpose of the special week is, "To expand 4-H, gain greater public support, get more volunteer 4-H leaders, and express appreciation to 4-H friends, locally and nationally."

The emblem of the 4-H speaks for itself: My Head to clearer thinking, my Heart to greater loyalty, my Hands to larger service, my Health to better living, for my club, my community and my country.

More than two million youthful members of 4-H clubs stand behind the high goals and principles of the organization. 4-H Week is the one time of the year when parents and the nation can respond to the young who must carry our civilization and our country forward to a brighter future.

As for the youngsters who are not members of 4-H, but who would like to be, our message to them follows:

"So you want to be a 4-H'er?
"At least you are wanting to know more about what this Head, Heart, Hands, and Health' program offers for a gal or guy like yourself.

"Perhaps you have read in the papers or heard on radio and TV about exciting trips and events, how 9-to-19 year-olds learn by doing such skills as horsemanship, photography, sewing and food preparation, gardening, and operation and care of a bicycle or auto.

"If you know some 4-H'ers, visit them. Ask them to tell you about their projects, the meetings they attend, and highlights of camps and fairs. Maybe your parents know some 4-H leaders.

"Visit your county Extension office and meet your Extension agents. They can tell you about the community 4-H clubs and special interest groups in the county. They'll give you booklets explaining projects and the overall 4-H program.

"As you become interested and learn more about 4-H, share this enthusiasm with your friends. Maybe you can all join a 4-H club or form the nucleus of a new club or special interest group.

"Parents are important in the success of any 4-H'er, so share your interest with them. Keep them in the know on what you would like to do."—CD

Something worth bringing back

An old timer of our acquaintance remarked the other day that what he misses most about the "good old days" is "service with a smile."

He said it used to be that you could always count on a friendly greeting and courteous and smiling service when you went into a place of business, but not anymore. "And it's not only in places like Lubbock, Dallas and Fort Worth, but it's also happening in the smaller towns and cities," he said.

That's bad, too, when you stop to consider that two-thirds of American workers are employed in performing services for others.

Instead of "service with a smile," many of us are becoming accustomed to expecting "service with a sneer" when dealing with the "service professions."

A subtle new pattern is becoming obvious in hotels, restaurants, cleaning establishments, cabs, custodial services, bus lines, grocery stores, drug stores, etc. Surly, disgruntled waiters, irritated, short-tempered clerks; careless, impersonal people struggle with jobs that have become totally boring and monotonous. It is symptomatic of what's happening to all of us: we are learning not to care.

Services represent the major job market for the future. Although our educational system has trained people for specialization, it has ignored the training of human relations, or how to serve. The very term "service class" rankles those who serve, because service connotes for them low prestige.

The "new and shining" cities envisioned for the future are not going to happen without new and shining people in some as yet not entirely clear reciprocal relationship.

The American ideal of service with a smile is worth bringing back.—CD

Sports banging into each other

We are right at that time of the year when the great American sports of baseball and football bang into each other head-on.

During the next few days, the playoffs will be under way in the divisions of the major baseball leagues to determine the two teams that will clash in the World Series.

And while all that is going on, collegiate and professional football will continue as if nothing else were happening.

Of course, the American sports fan would not notice the conflict between the two sports if it weren't for the fact that he can enjoy it all in front of his television set—he can, that is, if he can get it separated enough to be able to tell what is going on.—CD

The Abundant Life...

WHY HUMAN SUFFERING

One of the most difficult problems facing Christians today is that of human suffering. The Bible tells us "God is love." Yet how can a loving God allow so much suffering among his people. Suffering is not limited to bereavements, physical injury, or disease, but also includes mental disappointments and frustrations.

Being a Christian does not make the problem easier to explain. If there were no God then we could chalk it up to bad luck.

Sin is part of the answer. "For the wages of sin is death." Romans 6:23. Over an old prison in New York were written the words, "But the way of the transgressor is hard." When man breaks the laws of God and man he suffers. An extreme example of this principle is promiscuous sexual acts that result in venereal disease. This disease can lead to blindness, heart trouble, and eventually death. Sin does bring about much physical suffering as well as mental.

But sin does not explain all human suffering. How about the young boy struck down by lightning while at play, or the many innocents who perish in war. There must be another answer.

The Bible tells us God is all powerful and can do anything. When he established the laws that govern our universe and created man a free moral agent. He opened the way for man to make mistakes and do wrong. While true this system has produced its Hitlers and Stalins, it has also produced its Martin Luthers, Billy Gramams and many other great men. We cannot expect God to step in and change his laws everytime man abuses them.

Life must be played according to the rules. God does not promise immunity to Christians from cancer, accidents on highways and other calamities. "God is no respecter of persons." the Bible tells us. If he were to step in every time an accident was about to happen or one of His laws about to be misused we would have complete chaos in the world.

We must also remember suffering can be beneficial. Many people turn to God during sorrow. Suffering produces character. The best poets, preachers, doctors, lawyers, etc. are those that have suffered the most. They have a special feeling for people and their needs. The christian has the privilege for prayer. God does answer prayer, however not always in the way we chose. When suffering is not removed through prayer.

WITH APOLOGIES to the Digel commercial, will somebody please turn off the rain-making machine?

By the time this appears in print the rain-making machine might be off, but at the time it was being written (Friday morning) it's still going full splash.

THE WIFE JUST asked me if this isn't the most rain we've been through together. I reminded her that when we moved to Muleshoe in May of 1941 it was raining about like it has been here for the last several days and that the year 1941 wound up with a record-breaking reading of 41 inches plus.

But that was so long ago that it just doesn't seem now as if it rained as much then as it has lately. Besides, there have been a lot of dry years in between. (My wife says, "You can say that again, Buster.")

SOMEONE HAS just suggested that all this rain would have been fine if the calendar had been reversed — the wet month of September back there where the dry month of April was.

The man up the street says the only safe thing to do if you're a non-tipper is to carry your lunch.

NOWADAYS with one and sometimes two coffee breaks a day, sick leave pay, vacation pay, a five-day work week, etc., office workers never had it so good. Even so, those who feel overworked, underleisured and underbenefitted should feel better after reading this office staff notice, dated 1852 and found recently in the ruins of a London office building.

OFFICE STAFF PRACTICE

1. Godliness, cleanliness, and punctuality are the necessities of a good business.

2. This firm has reduced the hours of work, and the clerical staff will now only have to be present between the hours of 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. weekdays.

3. Daily prayers will be held each morning in the main office. The clerical staff will be present.

4. Clothing must be of a sober nature. The clerical staff will not disport themselves in raiment of bright colors, nor will they wear hose unless in good repair.

5. Overshoes and topcoats may not be worn in the office, but neck scarves and headwear may be worn in inclement weather.

6. A stove is provided for the benefit of the clerical staff. Coal and wood must be kept in the locker. It is recommended that each member of the clerical staff bring four pounds of coal each day during the cold weather.

7. No member of the clerical staff may leave the room without permission from the supervisor.

8. No talking is allowed during business hours.

9. The craving for tobacco, wine, or spirits is a human weakness, and as such is forbidden to all members of the clerical staff.

10. Now that the hours of business have been drastically reduced the partaking of food is allowed between 11:30 and noon, but work will not on any account cease.

11. Members of the clerical staff will provide their own pens. A new sharpener is available on application to the supervisor.

12. The supervisor will nominate a senior clerk to be responsible for the cleanliness of the main office and the private office. All boys and juniors will report to him 40 minutes before prayers and will remain after closing hours for similar work. Brushes, brooms, scrubbers, and soap are provided by the owners.

13. The owners recognize the generosity of the new labor laws, but will expect a great rise in output of work to compensate for these near-Utopian conditions.

Although written much too early for consideration as a Book-of-the-Month Club selection, the Bible continues to be the best seller in the world. Following are some interesting facts about it I've had called to my attention.

About 40 men were engaged in writing of the Bible during a period of about 1,600 years — that is, from 1500 B.C. to 100 A.D.

The Bible contains 3,566,480 letters, 773,746 words, 31,102 verses, 1,189 chapters and 66 books. The Old Testament contains 39 books; the New Testament, 27 books. In point of length, the average word of the Bible contains fewer than five letters.

The word "Lord" occurs 1,853 times.

The word "and" occurs 46,277 times.

The book of Esther contains ten chapters, but neither the word "Lord" nor "God" is to be found in it.

The middle chapter and shortest is Psalm 117. The longest is Psalm 119.

The shortest verse in the New Testament, in English, is John 11:35; in Greek, 1 Thessalonians 5:16.

The longest verse in the Bible is Esther 8:9; it contains 90 words.

The longest word in the Bible is

AMERICA'S LEADERS

The story of James G. Thompson, now president of the National Consumer Finance Association, is that of a man who made a career change from metal to money. Born in "iron furnace" country, he is grandson of one of Pennsylvania's iron pioneers, and a college graduate in the field of metallurgy.

Soon after his graduation from Penn State in 1932, he went to Huntingdon to work in an insurance agency. He quickly recognized the importance of expanding their services to meet the needs of the community. The firm made the sum of $10,000 available to him to start a finance company. In 1935, he formed the General Finance Service Corporation with an authorized capital of $250,000.

After his discharge from the Navy in 1946, Mr. Thompson negotiated the purchase of several companies and became their president. He has actively promoted the development and growth of these companies and has been their chief administrative guiding force.

Also a leader in community, church and club affairs, Mr. Thompson is currently serving as president of the Board of Directors of the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital and is a member of the Rotary Club, and the BPO Elks of Huntingdon as well as being listed in the Fifth Edition of Community Leaders in America and the World Who's Who in Commerce and Industry.

"In our credit-oriented society," remarks Mr. Thompson, "family financial management has become much more complex than it was yesterday. Old guidelines are simply no longer adequate. The consumer installment credit industry is dedicated to providing the new guidelines needed to help the American family develop the most productive use of its personal income."

Hall announces for state office

AUSTIN — "At stake today is a return to responsible government as it should be practiced in these chambers," said State Sen. Ralph M. Hall of Rockwall as he announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor at a Capitol press conference last Thursday.

Senator for eight years, Hall, 48, stressed a "return to confidence in state government" and "leadership for the people" in his morning address.

Drawing on his long years of experience since he first became a county judge of Rockwall County in 1951, Hall said, "I want to get government working again not just for politicians, but people it was intended to serve."

During the last legislative session, Hall led the fight for a bill and saw passage of a House compromise version of the final hours of the session.

Grain sorghum research report rolls off press at Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION — "Grain Sorghum Research in Texas—1970" a progress report which describes an entirely new industry in the state, has just come off the press at Texas A&M University.

The 120-page publication was compiled by researchers and specialists in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of the A&M College of Agriculture and acting director of the Experiment Station, said the grain sorghum story, as outlined in the publication, is a good example of what a land-grant university can do for an agricultural commodity.

He said the report is especially significant in view of the more than $300 million in cash receipts which Texas-grown grain sorghum has provided for the past four years. Receipts totaled more than $350 million in 1970.

About one in every $8 in cash receipts from all commodities marketed by Texas farmers has been from grain sorghum.

In 1970, 5.9 million acres of the crop were grown in the state with a yield of more than 330 million bushels, exceeding 40 per cent of the entire U. S. crop.

Kunkel said a marked effect of the grain supply has been the growth of the livestock feeding industry. There were 3.138 million cattle finished and marketed from Texas feedlots last year. The state is now third in the nation in numbers of cattle on feed.

"Texas A&M University, through its research and extension work with grain sorghum for more than 50 years, helped lay the foundation for this success," the dean said.

The publication's contents cover cultural practices, diseases and insects, chemical treatment residues, breeding, seed production, handling, various uses of the grain, economics, and extension education in grain sorghum.

"Grain Sorghum Research in Texas — 1970" is available from the Department of Agricultural Communications, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas.

CANNING CANDIDS!
CANS OF ROAST MEAT AND CARROTS LEFT IN THE REFRIG. IN 1824 BY THE ENGLISH EXPLORER WILLIAM PARRY WERE EATEN WHEN OPENED OVER A HUNDRED YEARS LATER!

SINCE 1810, WHEN NICOLAS APPERT WAS AWARDED 12,000 FRANCS BY NAPOLEON FOR DISCOVERING THAT HEATING FOOD IN AN AIRTIGHT CONTAINER PRESERVES IT FOR LONG PERIODS OF TIME, FOODS ONCE AVAILABLE ONLY AT HARVEST TIME HAVE BECOME AVAILABLE ALL YEAR LONG IN WHOLESOME, TASTY AND NUTRITIOUS FORM!

MORE THAN HALF THE U.S. VEGETABLE AND FRUIT CROP IS CANNED AND ABOUT 75% OF THE PEELINGS, STEAMS AND OTHER SOLID WASTE PARTS ARE ALREADY BEING RECLAIMED TO SERVE USEFUL PURPOSES. THE NATIONAL CANNERS ASSOCIATION BELIEVES THAT GOVERNMENT SHOULD HELP TO SUPPORT COOPERATIVE RESEARCH ON HOW TO MAKE MAXIMUM USE OF WASTE AND TO HELP INDIVIDUAL CANNERS DEVELOP POLLUTION AND WASTE SYSTEMS BY GRANTING TAX CREDITS AND BY OTHER RECOGNIZED METHODS OF FINANCIAL INCENTIVES TO INDUSTRY!

Organic matter big contributor to productive potential of soil

COLLEGE STATION — Because organic matter makes so many contributions to the productive potential of soil, practices to maintain its level should be included in a balanced soil management and soil conservation program. Now is a good time for producers to think about such practices since they'll be faced with crop residues following the harvest season.

"Organic matter plays an important role in the physical make-up of a soil," says Dr. Charles Welch, soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Although the actual organic matter content of most mineral soils is less than five per cent, it has a great influence on soil properties and plant growth."

Welch points out that the loose, friable condition associated with highly productive soils generally is the result of a relatively high organic matter content. Through its beneficial effects on soil structure, organic matter increases the rate at which water enters the soil as well as the amount of water the soil can hold.

"As the rate at which water can enter the soil increases, the rate of water run-off decreases," he explains. "Therefore, the erosion potential of the water is decreased."

When a soil takes in and stores more water, it can supply more moisture for plant growth. Welch adds. Where enough water is available in the soil, plants grow better and produce larger amounts of organic matter that can be returned to the soil. Thus, the organic matter cycle is started again.

Welch concludes by saying that practices designed to keep a relatively high organic matter level in the soil have proven to be excellent soil and water conservation measures.

Divorce granted Dr. Tubbs, Beth Hamilton

A divorce was granted in Garza County district court here Monday to Dr. Harry A. Tubbs and Beth Hamilton Tubbs. A prohibition against marriage for the next six months was waived in the decree for both parties by District Judge George Hansard.

Burleson's proposal to remove excise tax on pickup trucks okayed

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In a closed meeting of the Ways and Means Committee, currently deliberating the President's economic tax package, Cong. Omar Burleson has been successful in gaining approval of his proposal to remove the 10 per cent excise tax on pickup trucks of 7,500 pounds gross weight or less. The committee vote was 20 to 4 in favor of Burleson's proposal, with one member not voting.

Burleson commented that the President's proposal recommended removal of the excise tax on automobiles only. Because of the wide use of pickup trucks for personal transportation, and particularly in areas such as the 17th Congressional District of Texas which he represents in the Congress, Burleson had indicated to the committee that it would be discriminatory not to include pickup trucks along with automobiles in the tax removal.

Letters to the Editor...

PUBLICITY APPRECIATED

Dear Editor:
The 27th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo was one of the most successful of all the boys have been putting on through the years, and in behalf of all of them, thank you for the fine help you gave them with the advance publicity.

About 9,000 people drove to the ranch over the Labor Day weekend and considering all of the other attractions going on at that time, this was a good turnout. More boys than ever before participated and Charles McDaniel, who has lived at the ranch for about ten years, was the Senior All-Around Cowboy.

So many different jobs had to be done to make the rodeo the success it was and we consider the advance announcements among the Post important. Thank you again for helping this year and I do hope you will come to the ranch whenever you can.

Sincerely yours,
CAL FARLEY'S BOYS RANCH

Oil flows are gauged at well

Oil flows have been gauged from the Strawn and Ellenburger by the Oil Co. at their No. 2 S. M. Swenson & Sons, prospective Strawn opener and Ellenburger completion well in the Swenson-Garza pool, 19 miles northeast of Post. Perforations from 7,354-7,366 feet in the Strawn flowed 144 barrels of new oil plus 60 barrels of water through chokes ranging from 64 inch to 8-64 inch, in 16 hours. An Ellenburger open hole section from 7,844-7,854 feet flowed 100 barrels of new oil, with no water through a 7-64-inch choke in 16 hours. The exploration is located 100 feet from south and east lines of Section 10, Block 2, H&G N. It is a southwest offset to an Ellenburger discovery completed earlier this year.

Bertran-McSpadden wedding is performed here Saturday night

Kay Bertran became the bride of Donald Earl McSpadden in a double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. Saturday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Post. The Rev. J. W. Post, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white cotton lace fashioned over taffeta. The gown was highlighted by a sweetheart neckline and long bell sleeves.

For something old, the bride wore a diamond chip pendant belonging to her mother.

Miss Sherri Ann Bertran, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of lilac dotted swiss, with a round neckline and white lace and dark lilac velvet ribbon trim.

Library LISTENING POST

George L. Miller, director of the library, said some new sights at the library were acquired a few weeks ago which we can show you just about anything. At the moment it houses a collection of coins on loan to us by the Wells and Sexton Hunt-Handsome display, well worth a stop in and see.

There are also displaying paintings. The Art Guild has agreed to painting in the library for the pleasure of our patrons. This month a painting by Geraldine Butler is featured. It is beautiful.

Miss Nell's art class will show us pictures from time to time. We have one now, painted by Kirkpatrick, that is outstanding. It was a prize winner in the show in Snyder. Don't miss the beautiful pictures, and that are to come.

Due to Mrs. Pee Wee's these latest improvements, she has arranged the library and will be doing many things.

State library people have been particularly impressed with our non-fiction collection. It is one of our most outstanding features.

Because we have tried to build quality in our library we have appealed to a larger group of readers. In the five years we have been open, we have issued over 2,200 library cards. This means we have served at the very least 2,200 of the 5,800 people in our county. If you add to that the number of preschool children who are not issued library cards, the number rises past counting.

There's little doubt that fully half our population has been served by our library. That's a remarkable figure. Place it alongside libraries in big cities, where 10 to 20 percent of the population being served is a respectable record and our accomplishments even more impressive.

We're pleased with our "quantity" but it's "quality" that really makes our library such a valuable asset to our community!

THE FRESHMAN CLASS, WHAT HAPPENED TO IT?
AUSTIN — What happened to the University of Texas freshman class of 1967?

A survey of 3,088 students admitted to UT Austin from high schools in September 1966 shows that by the close of the 1971 summer session approximately 55 per cent of the class will have received degrees from UT Austin.

Dr. Margaret Berry, director of the Office of Research and Developmental Programs in the Division of Student Affairs, estimates that the total number would even be higher if statistics were available on transfer students' progress at other colleges.

HOME MANAGEMENT BRIEFS
Cleaning Shower Curtains — Wash shower curtains and rubber bath mats in your automatic washing machine along with a couple of bath towels. The roughness of towels helps clean the shower curtain.

Desk Cleaning — Making a habit of cleaning out desk drawers and closets at regular intervals helps keep out excess and lessen the chore.

Cleaning Shortcut — For a house-cleaning shortcut — wax window sills, door handles, refrigerators, washing machines and porcelain finishes. The reason? Waxed surfaces are easier to clean.

Step Saver — To save steps while housecleaning, wear an apron or smock with large pockets. You can carry needed cleaning items as well as have pockets for items you pick up as you clean.

CHANGING FOOD WORLD
Something totally new and different in foods is expected for the future. In fact, food industries estimate that in only 10 years nearly half of the foods we'll be eating haven't been invented yet.

Most of tomorrow's foods, however, will be modifications and improvements on today's staples. Natural farm products, for example, will be used as building blocks for these foods.

One innovation planned for the future is production of airtight packaged meals. Each course is sealed in disposable dishes, lithographed to look like fine china.

Foods for special age groups are particularly being studied. Orange juice without acid and cholesterol-free eggs, for example, are two food items being developed for the elderly. Other food projects underway include potato chips with crunchiness but with less fats and carbohydrates, chewing gum with nutritional and dental value.

Increasing attention is also being paid to food packaging. Boil-in-the-bag vegetables of the 1960's are just beginning.

ANNIVERSARY LUNCHEON
Mr. and Mrs. George Bayer of Georgetown, who are visiting Mrs. W. R. Graeber, were honored on their 53rd wedding anniversary Sunday with a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Graeber. Attending were Virginia Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Rachell, all of Midland, Mrs. Marvin Neely of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker.

Mrs. Julius Stelzer Mystic Club hostess
Mrs. Julius Stelzer was hostess to members of the Mystic Sewing Club last Friday in her home. The afternoon was spent sewing and visiting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Katherine Rankin, Mae Shipley, Nell Windham, Jimmie Huddman, and Opal Williams.

The next meeting will be Oct. 5 with Mrs. Williams as hostess.

SUNDAY VISITORS
Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Ramage visited her mother, Mrs. Vera Gossett, and Sonny Sunday. Also visiting was Mrs. Daphne Berkley of Slaton.

THANK YOU, SO MUCH!

Our thanks to the Post Volunteer Firemen for their long and hard battle to control the flames Monday night and prevent them from spreading all along the block.

Our thanks, too, to Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dodson for opening their store to us as storage for our stock of wearing apparel to prevent it from suffering smoke damage.

Also, our thanks to those who voluntarily helped us carry our merchandise across Main Street to safety.

We have scrubbed down our store, moved the stock back, and are open for business as usual with real understanding and appreciation of all the fine folks of Post.

MR. AND MRS. JOE MARSHALL
MARSHALL-BROWN

Our heartfelt thanks to our Post Volunteer Firemen and to the firemen who came in from other towns to help, for containing the big downtown fire Monday night and preventing it from becoming a conflagration.

Our thanks too to the leadership of our city and county for pitching in and getting the important and essential things done to help our firefighters.

Also we wish to thank the many citizen volunteers who pitched in to help in every way they could, including helping threatened merchants to move out their goods to prevent fire, water and smoke damage.

Our true community spirit was shown Monday night when so many were threatened by the flames. The cooperation and friendly assistance was indeed inspiring.

Thankfully our store and merchandise were not damaged.

This is a great experience to the ones who go to Western Texas and we hope to see some of the seniors of 1972 go there next year.

Health course added at PHS

By PATTI ALLISON
A health course has been added to the subjects offered in high school this year. The course is now being offered because many students have not had health while in high school due to band, working in other school buildings as teacher's aids, or not having P.E. for some reason (which is where the subject is taught). All students must have credit in health to graduate.

Mrs. N. R. King teaches the subject, which some students take as a class while others do work outside class for credit. The students who need to take this course are being notified by Mr. Pollard.

Name being sought for Spanish Club

By MARK HAYS
The Spanish Club did not meet last week because of difficulties made by the sponsor, Right Mrs. Brown?

The Spanish Club is still pondering on the title to the club. All of those suggestions made during the past week were given to Lucy Valdez, Kay Guajardo, and Mark Hays. We hope to come up with a dandy.

There was a meeting of the Spanish Club last Tuesday, Sept. 28. Details of the meeting will be in next week's Antelope Tracks. Be watching, won't you?

Also Mrs. G. E. Fleming is a sponsor. Our goal this year is to bring student and the parents as well as other people the latest news in an article about one of the things there will also be lots of news about the juniors, freshmen, and also the sophomores.

The paper staff does many things besides just writing news. We do work for teachers and the main office. We fix the tin board, in the typing and keeping rooms. Occasionally we fix the trophy case in the wing of Post High. Most of all, we want everyone to help in news penings and events.

We hope to publish something that will do harm to anyone or be looking for our exciting next week. See you then.

World Communion Day

By George L. Miller

This coming Sunday, churches around the world will celebrate World Communion Day. Christians of every color and tongue will come to the Table of the Lord's Supper and show their oneness in Christ's church.

It's a joyful celebration—for though much divides mankind our lives are linked by this unbreakable bond.

Men have tried to find other links. Governments have been designed to bring people together—only to be frustrated by differing opinions and ideologies.

Philosophers have labored for 2,500 years to knit men together through understanding, yet the more they understood the further off their goal would be.

The church itself has tried to build a world-wide family for all men, only to suffer countless divisions as it tried to understand its mission and be faithful to it.

At last there remains only this one place where men come as equals and brothers—the Lord's Table. There we find the body and blood of Christ, the real food of life.

We may use different words when we celebrate the Supper. We have different ideas about the significance of what we are doing. But we are one in this—here our Lord is offered to us, and we are all alike in our need of him.

Though the moment of Communion is brief, though we soon leave the Lord's Table and return to our divided way, for a time we have all been one.

Surely a celebration as joyous as this is one you can't afford to miss!

Patty Kirkpatrick to head UF organization

The Garza County United Fund organization was reorganized last Thursday afternoon at a meeting in the Community Room with Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick being elected president for the new year and Jim Cornish accepting the chairmanship again for the 1972 fund drive.

Elected to the board of directors for three year terms were Walter Didway, Dr. Charles Tubbs, Dr. W. C. Wilson and Mrs. Allane Ammons.

They replace on the board Charles Adams, retiring president, Fred Myers, who has headed the budget committee for the last two years, Lonnie Gene Peel and Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby, secretary.

Holdover directors are S. E. Camp, A. C. Cash, Mrs. Ella Mae Hudman and Cornish, one more year; and Gene Moore, the Rev. Bob Ford, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and Lorry Lou McAlister, two more years.

Lou Marks was re-elected as treasurer of the drive.

Bob Ford, who was elected vice president of the organization, was named chairman of the budget committee.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick was to complete appointment of the budget committee after first contacting her choices for acceptance.

The United Fund board hopes to meet within about two weeks to receive the proposed 1972 budget of the participating agencies. The agencies will present their requests for funds to the budget committee who will make their recommendations to the board for action.

(Continued from Page 1) the former Custom Upholstery building east of Wacker's with the intent to remodel and move his store into larger quarters, had partial insurance coverage on a loss estimated in the $10,000 or more range.

Loit told The Dispatch he will reopen in his present location as soon as all the stock can be brought back and arranged.

His future plans on the damaged building he has purchased at the present are undetermined.

Fire Chief Neal Clary said Wednesday cause of the bad fire, which was both dangerous and hard to fight, has not yet been determined because the store ruins were still smoldering yesterday and a close inspection of the rear of the store could not be made.

The fire chief said that fire equipment and men came from Tahoka, Slaton, Lubbock and Jayton to help with the big blaze and that fire personnel from Snyder, Spur, Crosbyton and Floydada drove in to help.

"We called for some and others just came on their own," Clary explained.

The Tahoka and Slaton units arrived in time to help bring the fire under control.

The fire department had hoses on the fire all Monday night and most of Tuesday and set up shifts with two firemen on guard at the smoldering ruins on two-hour shifts Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

John Brockman, Wacker's store manager, told The Dispatch, "We had locked the front door at 6 p. m."

Ten minutes later smoke and flames were spouting from the air-conditioners on the roof at the rear of the store and the siren was sounding as the smoke began to billow across Main Street aided by a south wind and rise in the sky.

Brockman stood and watched as a fireman with a fire axe hammered on the tough, steel-barred rear door to Wacker's for 28 minutes before breaking down the door so a stream of water could be gotten inside.

Firemen tried entering from the front of the store when it became apparent getting in the rear wouldn't be easy or come quickly.

They were driven back by intense heat and smoke not 10 feet

October, will be decided upon at that meeting.

Marks reported he has paid out $10,359.28 to complete 1971 payments to participating agencies. He said only $242.50 remains unpaid from last fall's drive.

With the Post Day Care Center not participating in the drive for 1972, United Fund directors expressed the hope that the total budget could be held under $10,000 for the first time in many years.

from the store entrance, so they retreated outside and closed the door to prevent a fire aiding draft.

Fire Chief Clary said water pressure was not strong so the White River office was called and pressure on the pipeline increased. At the same time — around 7 p. m. — the George R. Brown oil interests ordered all 49 intake water wells in their waterflooded units here shut down to give firemen increased pressure.

After that, water pressure remained good, Clary said.

Clary termed it a "tough and dangerous fire to fight."

He said the Post department laid seven lines to the fire, the Tahoka unit one line and the Slaton unit two lines with all the lines hooked up within a block radius of the fire scene.

"We thought we had it under control several times, but then it would flare high again," Clary told The Dispatch.

Mayor Giles C. McCrary was at the scene minutes after the fire started and stayed to help until 3 o'clock next morning. County Judge Giles W. Dalby brought in a water truck from his ranch. The Southwestern Public Service truck volunteered its high ladder repair truck to give firemen another vantage point in front of the building.

Firemen were on buildings on both sides of the Wacker's building and shot streams of water down through the fallen roof of the Wacker's building from both sides.

Clary pointed out the lack of entrance at the back of the building and the metal ceiling in Wacker's store made the fire very difficult to reach.

"We couldn't get the water onto the flames," Clary said.

Accompanying the Wacker's vice president here Tuesday were Earl Foster of Pauls Valley, supervisor and personnel director of the company, and Homer Gouch of Altus, Okla., supervisor of the Post store.

Brockman and company officials announce plans in today's Dispatch to open a temporary office across the street from their burned out store in the former theatre building.

Beginning next Tuesday and for 10 days, Wacker's will issue refunds on layaway payments made by customers of the store. (See ad announcement on page 8). Customers were asked to bring their layaway receipts with them.

The store safe was recovered from the Wacker's office in the rear of the store Tuesday afternoon and many of the store records were believed intact, including the layaway records.

Chief Clary expressed the thanks of the fire department for all the assistance and cooperation given them in fighting the fire by local citizens and for the help from the fire departments of surrounding towns.

Ewert, Wacker vice president, told The Dispatch the last time his company had suffered a total store loss by fire was when the Big Spring store burned in 1951.

No one was injured in fighting the blaze here, although Randy Mason, a high school student who was helping remove merchandise from one of the stores was overcome by smoke. He was revived by City Patrolman Jerry Jolly.

Store ruins continued to smoke until 3 p. m. Wednesday. Chief Clary reported not much water in the store basement after firemen finally got a look Wednesday afternoon while working to extinguish some floor joists.

Each volunteer fireman pulled one two-hour guard shift either Tuesday or Wednesday night. Clary told The Dispatch early today the fire watch would end at 8 a. m. today and the fire truck returned to the fire station. One hose will be left connected, however, just in case.

Clary named—

(Continued from Front Page) government Safety and Health Act of 1970, which will affect both the production and refining phases of the oil and gas industry.

Clary will continue to live in Post and serve in his present capacity as chief well statistician for George R. Brown.

His new duties will require him to make monthly safety inspection tours of all Highland Resources, Inc., and George R. Brown Oil and Gas operations. Also, to conduct safety meetings and set up safety programs on the application and use of safety wear and equipment, which varies according to the type of operation at each location.

Beef consumption continues its upward spiral across the nation

COLLEGE STATION — People in the cattle business can look to the future with optimism as beef consumption continues its upward spiral across the country, according to Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The specialist refers to a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture research publication which states that beef now accounts for about two-thirds of all red meat consumed in the United States.

Says Uvacek, "Continuation of the present per capita trends is expected and this coupled with an increasing population will call for a third more beef by 1980. The average American today consumes about 114 pounds of beef annually."

The expansion of beef cow numbers may hold the real key to meeting this increased demand for beef, explains the specialist. Today practically all available calves are being used for feeders, and calf numbers will have to be increased to maintain the growth of the beef industry.

"Cattle feedlots over the U. S. handle more beef today than the entire cattle industry produced a scant 20 years ago," notes Uvacek. "Yet the industry still needs to increase its output by a third to keep pace with trends in population and per capita consumption over the next 10 years."

The specialist suggests that cattle feeders take a look at the live futures market as a means of reducing some of the risk in the cattle feeding business that results from price changes. Contract arrangements also help the producer lessen risk, he points out.

Library to seek federal aid

Post Library trustees at their September meeting Monday night, delayed until the downtown fire was under control, decided to get federal library aid under a new "priority projects" program.

Jim Cornish, board chairman who attended a Texas State Library workshop in Lubbock all day Friday on the subject, explained that the local library first must be brought up to qualifying for a Class III library status to be eligible and then write an acceptable project for trial extension of library service into a new community area for which there is a local need.

Trustees voted to spend an additional $500 for books up until Jan. 1 and approved bills, mostly for book orders.

Inquiries will be made in an effort to bring the traveling art collection of South Plains artists to the Post Public Library for exhibit.

Attending the session were Mrs. Ruth Young, Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick, Mrs. C. K. Pierce, Mrs. Earl Chapman, and Cornish, trustees, and the Rev. George Miller, volunteer librarian.

Postings—

It was virtually an all-night performance for most of Post's firemen who were aided by coffee from Jackson's Cafeteria, and lots of sandwiches and coffee from the VFW Post, besides what the Salvation Army provided.

Know-how and ability of its fire department paid off for Post Monday night. As you can see by the "thank you ads" from local merchants in today's Dispatch, the firemen's efforts were greatly appreciated.

It was great news to hear that Wacker's will reopen a Post store just as soon as it can work out a temporary or permanent location which meets their requirements.

And that leaves the big steer roping weekend coming up which will be a different sort of spectacular, and for a very worthy cause. Drive on out to the O. S. Ranch and have a fun-filled, western weekend.

Announcement will be made as soon as possible on our plans to re-open our Post store so we can continue to serve the Post trade area.

We also wish to take this opportunity to thank the Post Fire Department and the fire departments of surrounding towns that assisted them in fighting the fire which destroyed our store Monday night. They did a fine job in a very tough situation.

Our thanks too to everyone in Post and area who assisted in so many ways with their help and cooperation.

We will issue cash refunds on layaway payments at the office from next Tuesday, Oct. 5, through Oct. 15. We are asking our customers who have layaways to bring their receipts to the office during this period so we can make your refunds. Office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. THAT MAKE UP 4-H ...

There's a lot of "scare" talk about America's youth these days. Every paper you read. Every time you twist a dial. You worry. Then, you start thinking about a great bunch of kids who make up 4-H. The kids who make up America. They've dedicated their grow-up years to learning and helping. Developed skills and put them to work—at home, in their communities. They're "hip" on strong bodies and strong character. They care about the world. Suddenly, the "scare" talk turns into "care" talk. And you relax. It's bright and hopeful again. Thanks, all you 4-H'ers. America's future belongs to you. You are America's future!

New minister is Air Force veteran

The Rev. George Ascher, who recently assumed his new duties as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wilson, and Faith Lutheran Church, Post, served 20 years in the U. S. Air Force before retiring to enter the ministry.
 Rev. Ascher told The Dispatch Monday that the St. Paul's assignment was his first after graduating from the seminary in May, and the Faith Lutheran assignment his second.
 Faith Lutheran Church here, Rev. Ascher said, is in the process of being restored to its original design. It was the First Presbyterian Church before being purchased for use as a Lutheran church, and has an official Texas historical marker as one of Post's earliest church buildings.
 While the church here is being remodeled, services are held at 8:15 a.m. each Sunday in the parish hall at the rear of the church, Rev. Ascher said.

SKIDDING ACCIDENTS
 Skidding accidents cause 10,000 deaths yearly. Knowing how to control a skid can be a life saver. Never jam on the brakes or step down on the accelerator. The most effective ways of regaining control are steering in the direction of the skid and stabbing the brakes.

Reporter and husband home from trip west

By TOMMIE WILKE
 Greetings from Southland. Bet you thought we had completely washed away since you haven't heard from us in three weeks? Well, no such luck, because here we are — web feet and all!
 We have certainly lost several good friends and neighbors these last few weeks: Mrs. Dollie Donahoo, August Becker and Hub Taylor. They were all longtime residents of this community and they will be missed greatly. May God continue to comfort their families.
 Mrs. James Crawford underwent gall bladder surgery this past week and is getting along just fine at this time.

Joe Neil Hargrove was in Southland this past weekend visiting old friends. Joe and his family used to live here but he has been living near Los Angeles for several years now.
 Here's a belated Happy Birthday to Mrs. J. E. Day who celebrated her birthday last Saturday. Mrs. Day is the mother of Mrs. H. C. Dunn.
 Recent house guests in our home were Harold Wayne Donahoo and daughter, Amber Renee, from Ramona, Calif., and Mrs. Jerry Donahoo from Killen. They were here to attend the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Dollie Donahoo.
 Misses Selma and Anna Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voigt, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kiesel, Rhea and Penny were guests in the home of Mrs. Selma Kiesel on Monday of last week. They helped her celebrate her birthday. Belated Happy Birthday wishes to you, Selma.
 Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Dunn and Mrs. Mary Lois McNeely spent this past weekend in Wheeler visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Ross Dunn and children.
 Edmund and I returned last week from a two weeks' trip to Arizona and California. Some of the most interesting places we went were Mr. Whitney, Death Valley, Yosemite National Park, the Redwood Forests in northern California, San Francisco with Chinatown and Fishermen's Wharf, the San Frannando Valley, Los Angeles and Gila Bend, Ariz. You ask "What is there to see in Gila Bend?" Our children, of course, Larry, Martha and Lea Ann, Martha and Lea Ann came back to Texas with us for a two weeks' visit.

 Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kettler of Needville, Tex., were overnight guests in our home last Saturday night.
 Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wilke of Kingsland were recent visitors in this community.
 Mrs. Emma Becker of Santa Ana, Calif., is here visiting with relatives and friends. She left on Monday morning to go to Austin and Bartlett, Tex., but will be back soon.
 Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Wilke and Sheryl attended the Mueller reunion at LeJ Lake this past weekend. Their other daughter, Angie, stayed with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Arrants, in Slaton while they were gone.
 Southland's six-man football team played its first game last Friday night against Flower Grove and even though they came out on the short end of the score, Coach Callaway was mighty proud of them.
 Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brosch went to Dallas last Friday to visit with Mr. Brosch's mother and also with their daughter and son-in-law.
 Here's another belated Happy Birthday for Mrs. Patsy Lyles who celebrated her birthday Wednesday of last week.
 Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gindoff and children who have been living in Red Hook, N.Y., for the past several years have moved back to Texas and will be living in Corpus Christi. If you will remember, they had twins in June, a boy and a girl, and we saw them on Sunday and they are certainly two little cuties.
 Larry Lockridge was here recently on a two weeks' leave from the army, visiting with his family.
 Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Hall and children were here recently visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hall.
 Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Stolle have recently returned from a fishing trip to Possum Kingdom Lake.
 Until next week, remember, "Learn from the mistakes of others — you can't live long enough to make them all yourself."

Students invited to participate in VFW Voice of Democracy event

"Students win more than awards and scholarships when they participate in the VFW Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program," Commander E. D. Donelson of Post 6797 said in discussing the script-writing program conducted annually by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.
 Some of the fringe benefits, according to Donelson, are increased self-confidence, greater poise, the ability to communicate, and valuable practice in expressing ideas clearly. For the state winners, there is also the broadening experience of a five-day tour of Washington, D. C., and the opportunity to make lasting friendships with other state winners.
 In the ten years that the VFW has been sole sponsor of the Voice of Democracy Program, more than 4,000,000 high school students have participated.
 Entrants are required to write, then tape-record a three to five-minute script expressing their personal views on their responsibility to freedom. From the state winners, five national winners are chosen to receive a total of $22,500 in scholarships.
 "One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the program, is that by thinking, writing, and speaking on freedom's responsibility, they gain a better appreciation of democracy in action," the post commander said.
 High school students interested in entering the contest are asked to contact Donelson or any other member of the VFW post or its ladies auxiliary.
