Gunman gets $200 in holdup of 7-11 store here Tuesday night

Victims fail to identify suspect

An unidentified gunman held up two women employees in Paul's 7 to 11 Grocery at 515 North Broadway about 10:30 p. m. Tuesday and escaped with $200 cash in a paper sack.

The real confusion though came about 4 1/2 hours later after a large assemblage of law officers picked up a suspect, who at least four witnesses reportedly identified by name as fleeing across the highway and east up 12th Street on foot with a paper sack in his hand.

The two women employees of the store told officers that the suspect wasn't the man who had pulled a revolver out of his pocket and told them "to put all the money from the cash register but the pennies in a paper sack."

Mrs. Willie Scarborough and Mrs. Pat Mahon, the two store employees, said the gunman was a short stocky Negro with a mustache, wearing work clothes including a light shirt. They estimated his age at about 35.

The suspect arrested about 2:45 a. m. was a local Negro, somewhat taller, wearing a dark shirt, clean shaven, between 20 and 30 years of age.

Two employees of the Dairy Mart across the street from Paul's Grocery and a family of Negroes who drove up to the grocery store a moment after the robbery all identified by name the Negro man they said they saw flee across the highway and east up 12th Street.

The suspect denied ever being in the store.

He was released after 15 minutes or more of questioning early Wednesday morning.

The suspect voluntarily consented to be viewed by Mrs. Scarborough for purposes of identification after the county attorney advised officers that he could not be viewed by the woman employee against his will unless in a police lineup.

Mrs. Scarborough immediately said the suspect wasn't the hold-up man who had stepped up to the counter to buy two packages of Winston cigarettes and a box of cereal and came out of his pocket with a revolver instead of a billfold.

Mrs. Scarborough told officers that the gunman told the two women employees that he had a car parked outside and he would "blow their heads off" if they moved from the counter and looked out of the door for five minutes.

They followed instructions. Mrs. Scarborough said they did not hear any car drive away, however.

The Negro group which later identified the suspect as running across the highway from the store came into the grocery a moment later.

Paul Cartwright, owner of the store, theorized that it is possible two men could have been involved in the holdup, — the gunman who got the money and left the store, and an accomplice who other witnesses said fled east from the store with a paper sack in his hand.

Oh, yes, when arrested by officers at 2:45 a. m. after a virtual house-to-house search by officers, including police, from Post and nearby towns with sheriffs and deputies including some from adjacent counties, and by state highway patrolmen, the suspect had 75 cents worth of nickels in his pocket — and a partial pack of Winston cigarettes.

It sure is hot — hotter than it's ever been over so long a stretch since we came to Texas over 12 years ago from Western Kansas which is usually hotter.

But it is hard to imagine all that would have happened if Post had had to "endure" the current heat wave without an undiminishing supply of White River water.

It's easy to grouse about White River taxes in December with the paying deadline near, but it's quite a different story to be without that White River water come June or July and spelled with a s-i-z-z-l-e.

With our Apollo 11 astronauts off on their rocket journey to the moon, it's going to be quite a space weekend for all America. But despite the greatest news coverage of any news event in world history, if you want to see the first man to walk on the moon via "live telecast", you'll have to stay up to 1:12 a. m. Monday to catch that action. Wonder why they didn't pick better "prime time" on the tube than that.

It's going to be a real "space Sunday" for TV viewers. NBC, starting about 10 a. m. Sunday is going to be on the air 31 consecutive hours covering the moon landing. How about that!

This is a "welcome neighbor" salute to Mrs. Harvella Mason who this week opened her new City Floral Shop right across the street from The Dispatch. You'll find Harvella's announcement ad on page 5. Her grand opening will be (See Postings, Page 8)

Teacher hurt in trolley accident

Mrs. Bob Lusk of the Graham community was seriously injured in a sightseeing trolley car accident last Friday in San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Lusk's husband was thrown out of the trolley, but escaped injury. The accident occurred when the sightseeing car came uncontrolled.

Mrs. Lusk, who is a teacher in the lower grades of the P. O. S. I. schools, received a fractured leg, two broken ribs and a concussion. She was placed in the intensive care unit at St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco, and at last reports was somewhat improved.

Date definite for lake celebration

The second annual White River Lake Day has been definitely set for Saturday, Sept. 6, it was announced yesterday by Fred Myers, Post's representative on the lake day committee.

The Sept. 6 date was tentatively set at a meeting of the committee last week and was made definite this week after members of the committee "checked" their hometowns for conflicting events.

Day-long activities similar to those held last year, but with new additions, are planned at the lake by committee representatives of the member cities of Post, Spur, Ralls and Crosbyton.

No council meeting called, so—

City's paving hearing fails to materialize

Approximately 50 property owners, but no mayor and city councilmen showed up at 6 p. m. Tuesday for a public hearing on the city's proposed paving project, with the result that no hearing was held and the whole thing will have to be played over.

"A lack of communications," Mayor Giles C. McCrary called it Wednesday morning when asked about the called-off hearing by The Dispatch.

Ronnie Purteel of Lubbock who represents the paving contractors, Pioneer Pavers, Inc., of Lubbock, also attributed it to a lack of communications, but added, "and understanding."

Purteel, who was at the City Hall on the dot for the scheduled hearing, told The Dispatch that he was completely "caught by surprise" when the mayor and city council failed to show for the hearing. "I should have briefed them on the fact that to be legal the hearing had to be conducted before a called special meeting of the city council," he said.

The date, time and place of the hearing had been set by the council at a meeting on June 12.

City Manager Bobby Pierce, who tried to contact the councilmen by telephone when it appeared that none of them might show up for the hearing, said it evidently was just a case of the council not knowing that a called special meeting was necessary for the hearing.

The representative of the paving contractor apologized to the property owners present upon calling off the hearing some 45 minutes after it was supposed to have started. Purteel told them that it will be necessary to hold another hearing, which means that letters will go out to property owners again and the hearing will be re-advertised three weeks in The Dispatch.

Purteel said Wednesday that engineer Ralph Douglas of Muleshoe, who was also present for the scheduled hearing, has two blocks to add to the original number that appeared in the first hearing notice in The Dispatch. He said as soon as he gets the description of these two blocks from the engineer, they will meet with the council to set a new hearing date.

Purteel emphasized that it is not (See City Paving, page 8)

Moves into 30th day

Area record heat wave burning on

What is believed to be the longest heat wave in the history of Post and this West Texas area moved into its 30th day today without much loss of "sizzle."

The thermometer hit 100 degrees again yesterday—the seventh consecutive day the "high" has hit the century mark.

A Wednesday evening shower which officially left 40 of an inch of moisture here isn't expected to "cool" the heat wave appreciably today.

The daily temperature high has never been under 95 for this month-long stretch and on 14 of the 30 days the thermometer has hit the century mark or better.

Already there have been more 100 degree days in this single 30-day period than there were officially recorded here for all of the three previous summers.

Only two 100 degree days were reported in 1968, three in 1967, and five in 1966.

Official temperature records have been recorded at the county agent's office here only since 1961.

It isn't just the "daily high" which has given so much distress during the current heat wave but the lack of any "overnight lows."

In the 30 nights of the heat wave, the low temperatures have been under 75 only three times (down to 72 twice and 74 once) and have soared as high as 81 degrees, the overnight low for both Saturday and Sunday, July 12 and 13.

Although the humidity isn't officially recorded here, County Agent Syd Conner points out it has been unusually high which means that evaporative coolers simply haven't been getting the cooling job done very satisfactorily.

Glen Barley, Southwestern Public Service Co., manager here, estimates electric consumption here will hit a new all-time high here this month.

It already has set all kinds of (See Heat Wave, page 8)

City is laying new water pipe

The laying of a two-inch water line by the city from the White River main to the north city limits is scheduled to be completed by the end of the week, according to City Manager Bobby Pierce.

The new water line will be for the benefit of families living just north of the city limits, who will extend the line on out to their homes.

The city is laying a total of 3,300 feet of the two-inch plastic pipe at a depth of 36 inches. From the city limits on out to the water users will require an additional 1,500 feet.

The city contracted for the ditching, but is using its own labor on other phases of the pipe-laying job. The homeowners will use the same contractor for their part of the ditching.

The homeowners in the area to be served now have city water, but it comes from a 30-year-old line that is inadequate for their needs.

At rodeo arena

Paint Horse Show set for Saturday

Horses from New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and possibly Louisiana will be exhibited in the annual Post Paint Horse Show on Saturday, July 19, at the rodeo arena.

Judging of the horses by Rowland Moore of Tulsa will begin at 10 a. m. Kenneth Williams of Big Spring will be the announcer.

The public is invited to attend the event, which is expected to be the biggest paint horse show ever held in Post. The show is approved by both the American Paint Horse Association and the Texas Paint Horse Association.

The Graham Home Demonstration Club women will operate a food concession stand at the show. Fred Myers is president of the Post show and Oscar Gray is secretary.

Mrs. Mangum, who had been a resident of Garza County since 1914, died early Wednesday morning in Garza Memorial Hospital. She had been in failing health for some time.

Born Dec. 21, 1891, in Montgomery County, Ark., she was married to C. J. Mangum in Eastland County. They moved to Garza County in 1914 and farmed in the Close City community until Mr. Mangum's retirement. He died in 1967.

Mrs. Mangum's survivors include a brother, B. M. Vaught of Redondo Beach, Calif.; four sisters, Mrs. Ada Pritchard of Phoenix, Ariz., Miss Mattie Vaught and Mrs. Rosa Boucher, both of Post, and Mrs. Katie Cosburn of Duran.—(See Mangum Rites, page 8)

'Hot' Sidewalk Sale to be held Saturday

Post's seventh annual Sidewalk Sale — with bargains reportedly just as hot as the current heat wave — is coming up Saturday.

It will feature, besides the merchandise brought right out on the sidewalk, a 6 p. m. drawing for a 1969 Ford in which the front seat will be loaded with new sheets and pillow cases and the back seat with groceries.

The Lucas Chevrolet - Olds Company is donating the car. Postex Plant is contributing two dozen sheets and four dozen pillow cases to be Sidewalk Sale prizes and Parrish Grocery & Market will fill the back seat with groceries.

The Sidewalk Sale is jointly sponsored by the Retail Promotions Committee of the Post Chamber of Commerce and participating merchants.

Merchants advertising Sidewalk Sale specials in today's Dispatch include Martin's, Bob Collier, Drug-gist, Wacker's, Hudman Furniture Co., Maxine's, Western Auto, Jackson Brothers Food Locker, Lucas Chevrolet - Olds, Post Pharmacy World of Difference and Hundley's.

Radio Station KPOS again is planning a Sidewalk Hootenanny featuring "live Hootenanny performers from all over the West Texas area."

Plans are under way for a Jaycee-sponsored softball league, to be started as soon as possible. Anyone interested in playing is asked to contact Tommy Young or Johnny Kemp, co-chairmen, or any Jaycee within the next few days.

Rotary speaker says

'Cotton's future is tied to Orient'

Wilmer Smith, High Plains farm leader who lives in New Home, told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall that "I'm convinced the future of our West Texas cotton is tied to the Orient."

Smith, who is president of the Plains Co-op Oil Mill and a director of Plains Cotton Growers, was telling local civic clubbers about his recent trip to India as a member of a U. S. team to study results of U. S. aid to India and to make recommendations concerning continuation of such aid.

"Everywhere I went in India the textile people asked me if we were going to quit growing medium staple cotton in West Texas," Smith declared. "They also said they preferred our West Texas cotton above any other."

Smith told Rotarians that West Texas farmers can sell more of their cotton to the Orient if they would only build warehouses in the Orient and ship cotton across the Pacific by the boatload at a greatly reduced transportation cost.

"Shipping that way would make (See Cotton Future, page 8)

Lake parking area may be 'rocked'

White River water district directors at their July meeting last Thursday night authorized Al O'Brien to get the big new parking area by the boat ramp on the lake's west side covered with crushed rock if he could contract the job for not over $1,500.

The state highway department built the parking area and gave it one oiling but ran out of funds for the project before they could rock it.

In other actions, directors voted to give White River Marina, Inc., 60 day notice for performance to get the lake restaurant back into operation, and voted to allow Arnold Sanderson 5 per cent discount on the sale of recreational permits he handles for the lake from his store just off lake property.

Directors agreed they were not interested in the development of any part of the lake area as a state park. The state is now looking for recreational area park sites.

O'Brien reported the new recreational permit setup with manned gates into shore line areas has generally been working well.

Cemetery roads being improved

A joint city - county project of improving the roads inside Terrace Cemetery got under way this week, according to City Manager Bobby Pierce.

Gravel is being put on the cemetery roads to improve their surface, the city manager said. The county is furnishing its dump truck and loader for the work, while the city is using its blader and dozer.

Also, as a "side project," the city and county will put gravel on the parking lot at Post High School, Pierce said.

Sheriff's Posse is O'Donnell winner

The Garza County Sheriff's Posse won the first place trophy in the O'Donnell Rodeo parade last weekend. Thirteen members, including Miss Joan Minor, the sheriff's posse queen, rode at O'Donnell.

PROCLAIMS 'WESTERN WEEK'

Mayor Giles C. McCrary has proclaimed the week of Aug. 4 to 10 "Western Week in Post" to help the Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees promote the annual Post Stampede Rodeo, Aug. 7-9.

The rodeo and to fine or jail anyone not wearing western duds on that day.

The Jaycees will set up a jail on Main Street for the incarceration of anyone caught not wearing western garb or refusing to pay a nominal fine for not wearing it.

The Jaycees also voted at their regular meeting last Thursday night to sponsor a beard-growing contest for the rodeo. While no penalties are proposed for men not

Post child bitten in eye by dog

Steve Blanton, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blanton, underwent surgery and is taking anti-rabies shots after being bitten by a dog last Thursday in Elk City, Okla., while there on a visit with his mother.

The child was bitten in the right eye, with most of the damage to the eyelid. He underwent surgery at an Elk City hospital, returning to Post Sunday.

The dog that bit the child is being kept under observation, Steve's father said.

We approve of welfare amendment

Money-wise, just what would voter approval of the proposed constitutional amendment to raise the state welfare ceiling Aug. 5 amount to?

Well, in the first place, it would apparently gain Texas $56 million in new federal money annually.

In the second place, passage would cost the state's taxpayers an additional $15 million a year initially, resulting in a net gain to the Texas economy of $41 million.

The proposition, which is No. 5 on the Aug. 5 ballot, would raise the constitutional ceiling on the amount of money the state can spend for public welfare from $60 million to $80 million a year.

The upper limit on expenditures would automatically go up to $75 million, and the Legislature would be empowered to raise it another $5 million within two years, we are told by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Federal-state matching fund formulas indicate that the $15 million injection of state funds into welfare coffers would bring about new federal outlays for Texas welfare of $55.8 million.

Thus, the total spent per year on public welfare in the state would zoom upward by $79.8 million, from the current $213.8 million to $293.6 million.

In other words, passage of Proposition 5 would see total welfare payments in Texas go up by 33 per cent. The state's outlay would rise by 25 per cent and the federal government's by 36 per cent.

Texas consistently has been among the lowest of the states in terms of average monthly assistance payments per recipient and in terms of per capita cost to taxpayers.

The state ranks almost at the bottom in Aid to Families with Dependent Children, with its average payment per recipient of Aid to Families with Dependent Children now less than $19 per month.

The failure of the proposed constitutional amendment in 1968 resulted in drastic reductions in public assistance to needy children. The State Department of Public Welfare now is able to pay only 50 per cent of what it says should be provided for needy children, and it is powerless to restore benefit payments to the levels it recognizes as minimal unless the proposed Amendment No. 5 is adopted.

If the proposed amendment is defeated, it will cause another immediate reduction in assistance to needy children, and the Department predicts that it ultimately would have to reduce levels of assistance to the needy and the needy aged.

We realize that the state is already hard pressed to meet existing financial obligations without taking on the large overall expenditure of state funds which this proposed amendment authorizes. But since Texas has been so far down the list of states in aid to its needy for so long, we think it should climb a few notches instead of sinking even lower, which is what defeat of the proposed amendment on Aug. 5 would mean.

Let's find other areas in which to cut back and not deprive our needy children, needy disabled and needy aged of the minimal standards of assistance.—CD

Sizzling sidewalk bargains Saturday

There are a lot of things going on this weekend, including the "moon shot," but few, if any, of them will equal Post's annual Sidewalk Sale when it comes to bargains.

Saturday's Sidewalk Sale bids fair to be the crowning bargain event of a long, hot summer, with some of the specials being offered by Post's participating merchants guaranteed to "cool off" the shopper.

Turn through today's Dispatch and read about many of these bargains, then go see for yourself bright and early Saturday morning.

The Chamber of Commerce's retail promotions committee and the town's participating merchants can't guarantee a sudden cool spell for Saturday, but they can do the next best thing—coolly offer unheard-of bargains on a sizzling sidewalk.—CD

Greatest drama in history unfolds

If everything went off as scheduled Wednesday (we say "if" because this editorial is being written ahead of that date), we are now witnessing one of the greatest, if not the greatest, dramas in mankind's history—the launching of a crew of astronauts to place a man on the surface of the moon.

None of us is alone in watching this drama—the world watches with us.

The people of Post, along with those in every other hamlet, town, city and metropolitan center throughout the world, have a "front row" seat at a space adventure that puts all those of the past in the shade. It's like watching a World's Series baseball game after sitting through a season of Little League baseball.

The last few hundred feet of man's initial descent to the moon will be the most dangerous step he has ever taken in space. As Christopher C. Kraft, chief of the flight control teams said: "This is going to be, I'm sure, one of the most traumatic and exciting events of at least American space history—if not American history, period."—CD

THIS IS THE "long, hot summer" William Faulkner (or was it Tennessee Williams?) wrote about a few years ago. I remember that when the movie version of "Long, Hot Summer" came to Post, I took a picture of a couple of Tower Theatre employees putting the "Long, Hot Summer" letters up on the movie marquee. One's memory often fails him when it comes to recalling the severity of the weather, even from one season to the next, but I can't recall THAT summer, or any other summer, being as hot as this one.

The man up the street says he can remember when a data processing center was known simply as a woman's afternoon bridge club.

IF EVERYTHING went well Wednesday, our team of astronauts is streaking for the moon and man's first landing on that heavenly body. I wonder if it was coincidence that the men selected for the first moon landing have names beginning with the first letter of the alphabet—Armstrong and Aldrin.

In the "Jim Sez" column in "The Ozarks Mountaineer," Jim sez he knows one hillbilly who will never take a trip to the moon. He's so cheap he won't go anywhere out of town unless he can stay with relatives.

IN THE SAME issue of "The Ozarks Mountaineer," Jim tells about a hillbilly out west of his town being thrown from a horse, which resulted in a trip to the hospital. A few days later, Jim saw his neighbor in town and asked, "Did ole Bill finally get all right?" "No," replied the neighbor, "he ain't all right, but he's back like he used to be."

A number of exchanges reaching my desk have carried the following item on editors, so I see no reason for me not picking it up, too.

"If the editor makes a mistake, folks say he ought to be hung; if a lawyer makes a mistake, he appeals the case; when a doctor makes a mistake, they say nothing because they don't know Latin and they couldn't read his writing if they did.

"A doctor can use a word a mile long and it won't make any difference whether he knows what it means or not, for folks will think he is educated, while an editor has to be able to spell any word he uses.

"If the doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges for the visit, while if the editor goes he gets shot. People that call the doctor and get well think he's a great man. If they don't get well, they're dead and can't say anything.

"Two-thirds of the folks in town are sore at the editor, either because the newspaper said something about them they didn't like, or something nice about somebody else they didn't like either."

SINCE I'M ON the subject of editors and newspapers, I heard of a man in a nearby county who, on returning from a hunting trip, found his neighbor just leaving his house and, being of a jealous nature, drew his gun and filled the man's legs with fine shot. A lawsuit followed, and it was learned that the man was there to borrow the local paper.

The lawsuit cost $150; the doctor bill, $50. Moral: The price of the local paper for a whole year would have saved the trouble and expense.

Every newspaper wants more subscribers, of course, and the more perfect the subscribers are the better. Here's a description of a "Perfect Subscriber" as seen from the circulation end of the newspaper business:

He has a very simple name and address that are practically impossible to misspell.

He always sends a check in answer to your first renewal notice to cover the longest subscription you sell.

He has always lived in the same house and intends to stay there.

He discusses articles from your publication with his friends and associates.

He never writes you a letter which requires a personal answer.

He uses your newspaper as a gift to take care of a lot of Christmas shopping.

He writes to at least six of your advertisers each year and always tells them where he saw their ad.

• Card of Thanks

Words cannot express our heart-felt thanks and calls we have received since my accident. A special thanks to the many people who stopped to assist while I was down in the front yard. I do not know the names of some of you, but many thanks. Our thanks too to Dr. Lively for his prompt attention, to Garland Huddleston and Darrell Eckols of Hudman's for their kindness and tenderness, to our lovely neighbors who have furnished our meals, to our many customers who have been so patient with my dear husband who has had to neglect some of his care of me. Our many thanks to Glenda Stevens for her great help and kindness. I will always feel grateful for the wonderful care I received at St. Mary's of the Plains in Lubbock. I pray maybe some day in some way I can repay some of this wonderful attention. My heart is full but my words are few. May God bless all of you I love. Lucky me, I live in Post. Mrs. Jim (Honey) Sexton

Permian antelope census is taken

SAN ANGELO — Aerial census of pronghorn antelope in 10 counties of the Permian Basin area has been completed and reveals a decrease of approximately seven percent from last year in adult animals on 31 ranches, says Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor for Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The total count for 1969 was 2,085 animals, according to George Litton, project leader. The 1968 count is yet to be made.

Permian hunters last year harvested a total of 74 animals. Hunters took 69 for a success rate of 73 per cent, while doe hunters ran 100 per cent success with their five antelope. The biologists anticipate an equally good hunt for the season ahead.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

In the seven or eight years that we have been actively engaged in Vietnam, I have been as confused as most of John Q. Public has been, about what we are doing there and why.

In spite of all the news we receive about the fighting and about soldiers being wounded and killed, it is still hard to realize we are involved in this far-off war.

Naturally, those families who have sons, fathers and husbands over there fighting are well aware of it and must at times feel a bit bitter that the rest of us are not more concerned with that fact.

Certainly, this Vietnam conflict is not a "popular" war such as World War II when almost EVERYBODY was involved in it and we all knew what the fighting was all about.

Even when these soldiers return home most of us are not aware that they have been off fighting and getting ready to "ship out" as it is not mandatory for them to wear uniforms. This is a mistake. One is so much more conscious of "what is going on" if one sees many uniforms mixed in with those in civilian garb.

Part of the point I am trying to make here is that it's hard to be properly thankful to these young men if we don't know who they are. Not that one can "thank" any one adequately for fighting in a war for them. One would feel like a complete idiot running up to our servicemen when they return and saying "Thank you." The servicemen would probably wish "they were back in Vietnam" if so approached.

Post has sent more than its share of boys to Vietnam and they have been most lucky in escaping serious wounds.

That is, all but Freddy Simmons.

Freddy was seriously wounded in Vietnam and has a long siege of him in William Beaumont Hospital in El Paso. He is having and will have many fine things done for him physically by doctors, such as more brain surgery and therapy.

More important than all the care in the world by capable doctors though is the fact that his life can be with him. Susan went to El Paso the same day Freddy arrived and will stay with him for the six months period that the doctors feel will be necessary before sending Freddy out into the world again.

Susan was there to share Freddy's first laugh Sunday — the first sound of any kind to pass his lips since he was struck down in Vietnam May 29. She was also there to share a "pain" in his right leg — a leg which has had no feeling up to now.

Most families would be hard pressed to meet this extra expense. This was the reasoning of some Post businessmen when they came up with the idea of a fund for this young couple.

As of Monday the fund stood at $413 and this is a fine start — but only a start.

Contributing to this fund is one way of saying "thank you" to all our young men who have served or are serving in Vietnam.

Let's make them proud of their hometown by giving generously to this fund and let them know we "care." Let them be safe in the knowledge that we will take care of them and their families if the need arises.

Let's keep Susan at Freddy's side. Let's keep her there with a happy face without having to worry about finances. Let's give them both a future to look forward to.

The fund has been set up at the First National Bank. All contributions are accepted regardless of amount. If you have only a small amount to give, give it. The amount isn't that important — it's knowing that the whole town is backing you.

Let's think in terms of $1,000 or $1,500. Let's start trying to pay Freddy and Susan back. Let's make all of our servicemen proud of their country and Post by saying "thanks" this way.

LEAVES FOR CALIFORNIA

Miss Stella Hall, a 1969 graduate of Post High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hall, left last Friday for California with relatives who had been visiting here.

providing a good source of workers, find it more difficult to perform repair on today's machinery. The limited source of mechanics has caused businesses to pirate employees from their competitors and the automobile industry to entice mechanics from farm machinery repair.

Wages for machinery mechanics average about $2.50 per hour statewide, below that of most skilled laborers, Webb pointed out. An average work week is 48 hours, ranging from 44 to 54 hours, and unskilled machinery mechanics usually begin at about $1.50 an hour. Thus, wages have also had an effect on the shortage, Webb said.

PESTICIDE LABEL HAS PURPOSE

"Read the label before using a pesticide!"

How often have you heard that statement? Probably many times, but have you paid any heed when using pesticides around your home and garden or in your greenhouse or field?

"The information on the label of a pesticide is put there for a specific purpose," emphasizes Dr. Bill Clymer, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "It tells you how to use a particular pesticide safely to avoid injury to yourself or your fellow man."

Reading the label is the most important step toward eliminating hazards from agricultural chemical usage, points out the entomologist. Information on the label includes the name and address of manufacturer, distributor or person for whom manufactured, statement of net content, statement of active and inactive ingredients present, complete directions for use, registration number, antidote statement when applicable and precautionary information for safe use.

"This information represents some of the most expensive words in literature," says Clymer. "Research and registration of a pesticide takes three to five years and costs millions of dollars."

Each individual is responsible for learning the safety precautions when using a particular pesticide. He is responsible for selecting the right chemical, using safety equipment, cleaning equipment and disposing unused material or empty containers. When the job is completed, a bath and a change of clothes should follow. A knowledge of first-aid treatment is also essential.

Keep the telephone number of your physician or Poison Control

Center handy cautions Clymer. There are 22 Poison Control Centers located throughout the state in the major cities. West Texas cities include Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, San Angelo, Abilene, El Paso and Odessa.

"Safety first" has been a long-time watchword and it can't be emphasized enough when using pesticides," says the entomologist. "And the best way to be safe is to read the label and follow directions."

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES IN FARM MECHANICS

Help wanted: 2,000 qualified farm machinery mechanics to begin work immediately.

That's the call from repair shops throughout Texas, a plea that will get louder because of an expected need for more than 7,000 farm machinery mechanics within the next five years, according to Dr. Earl S. Webb, professor of agricultural education at Texas A&M University.

"Unless steps are taken to meet this need, unrepaid farm machinery could cause a creeping paralysis of agricultural operations," Webb says.

A survey of farm machinery service department managers, just completed by Webb, verifies this shortage and outlines what is desired of individuals for employment as machinery mechanics. Webb made the study to determine what should be taught to high school students as preparation for this career.

Two of the reasons Webb cites as causes for the current shortage of machinery mechanics have been the lack of a training program for the job and the increasing complexity of the equipment to be repaired.

Many farmers who previously doubled as machinery mechanics,

Good Enough Is Not Enough Today

By Charles Peters

I recently came across the above statement as the heading for an employee-employer relationship pamphlet. Its theme was the need for the employee to improve his "quality" of workmanship to attain "success" in his respective vocation.

The thought came to mind, what would happen if every Christian would come to realize that "GOOD ENOUGH" is NOT enough. Certainly there would be a drastic change in the quality of commitment of many Christians.

Such a change would eliminate such attitudes as, "What difference does it make?" "I guess that's good enough", "So what?", "What's it to me?", in relationship to the Christians' involvement in spiritual responsibilities. As a young man, Abraham Lincoln said, "Everyday I will just do the best I can and someday my chance will come."

Fellow Christian, let's not be satisfied with poor quality of service for our Christ. GOOD ENOUGH is NOT enough! God gave His best. Can we do less?

"As the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart; With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men: knowing that whatever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord."

Trips to moon were told of by ancients

Garza countians, along with everyone else throughout the world, are eagerly awaiting the Apollo 11 launch later this month which has as its goal landing the first men on the moon.

Yet, we are told, the Apollo 11 astronauts will not be the first to land on the moon. Imaginative men have been getting up there for ages.

They have made the 238,856-mile voyage by flapping wings, sailing ships and riding birds. They have been guided by helpful angels and demons and propelled aloft by springs, volcanoes, cannons and gunpowder skyrockets.

Usually their writings aimed for satire. But some of their theories and techniques about the moon and how to get there have proved closer to scientific fact than starchy-eyed fiction, the National Geographic Society says.

THE ORIGINAL astronaut may have been Menippus, whose adventures in outer space were chronicled by a second-century Greek writer, Lucian of Samos. Menippus used wings, one borrowed from a vulture, the other from an eagle. For him the moon was merely a stopover en route to Mount Olympus and a visit with Zeus.

On the moon he met Empedocles, who claimed he was blasted into space when he fell into the volcanic crater of Mt. Etna.

A whirlwind lifted a sailing ship to launch another group of space-men off the Mediterranean. In Lucian's account it took them eight days to reach a "great country in the air, like a shining island."

Lucian neglected to tell how they got back to earth.

In the 17th century, the astronomer Johannes Kepler, whose laws on the movement of the planets govern today's astronauts, showed awareness of the emptiness of space. But he believed travelers could make up for the lack of oxygen by "sponges moistened and applied to the nostrils."

The Bishop of Chester, John Wilkins, worried in 1638 that space-men might starve to death on the long flight to the moon, which he believed might take half a year. "No inns to entertain passengers, nor any castles in the air to receive poor pilgrims," he lamented.

ANOTHER bishop, Francis Godwin, wrote learnedly of two travelers who reached the moon by mistake when 25 swans that had been hauling them around the sky decided to undertake a lunar migration.

Daniel Defoe told how he went to an old Chinese library to find details of a space ship used by a moonmen who traveled to earth.

To some, Defoe, the creator of Robinson Crusoe, seemed to have an idea of today's internal combustion engines when he wrote of "ambient flame" fed by fluid. His space motor was "so ordered as to move about such springs and wheels as kept the wings in most exact and regular motion, always ascendant."

The French swashbuckler and writer, Cyrano de Bergerac, described his first trip to the moon "dressed in small bottles." The sun "drew dew collected in the bottles," pulling him heavenward. His liftoff was helped by a powerful spring catapult and banks of gunpowder skyrockets.

Cyrano ended his trip in the branches of a lunar apple tree. Later he theorized that a man in a big metal box would be propelled aloft as the sun heated the air inside, forcing it out to the bottom. To today's engineers, this hints at a modern ramjet engine.

It was 104 years ago that Jules Verne, the French science fiction writer, described a journey to the moon with eerie reality. Three spacemen riding in a nine-foot artillery shell were shot from a giant cannon anchored in Florida—not far from the launch site of the three Apollo II astronauts.

Revenue figures show lake recreation 'pull'

June revenue figures for the White River Municipal Water District prove just how popular the White River Lake has become as a recreational area.

For the first big summer month, water revenue for the district totaled $17,809.99 with the lake's recreational and lot lease revenue for the month coming to $13,280.

One is even more impressed when one considers the comparison is $14,183.13 water income sold to the four member cities as against the $13,280 in recreational revenue.

Percentage-wise, water brought in 57 per cent of the month's income to the district and recreation 43 per cent.

A breakdown of the recreational income shows $7,800 in daily recreational permits sold at $1 each, $1,700 in daily boat permits sold at $1 each, $669 in daily camping permits, sold at $1 each and $100 in daily game fishing permits, sold at 50 cents each, and $1,500 in annual permit sales.

Another $1,520 was taken in for lot leasing around the lake for cabin sites.

June revenue figures show that 36,073 barrels of water were sold Sun Oil Co. here for waterflooding purposes for $721.46, and 120,714 barrels of water was sold George R. Brown here for waterflooding for $2,414.28.

Farmers who have meters on the water lines to the four member cities paid $124.54 for water during the month and cabin owners around the lake $395.68.

Six voting boxes are 'telescoped'

The Garza County Commissioners Court has consolidated the county's six election precincts within the city into one for the special election Aug. 5 on the nine proposed amendments to the Texas constitution.

All voters in the six precincts will vote that day at the Post High School Library. Mrs. Loucille Morris will be the presiding judge and Modena Farmer the assistant judge.

The consolidation of the six voting places will save the county several hundred dollars in election expenses, according to County Judge J. E. Parker.

The consolidation is permitted under the state election code. Action to consolidate the six voting precincts into one for the special election came on a unanimous vote by the county commissioners court Monday at its July meeting.

Voting precincts consolidated will be numbers 1, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Heavy damage in truck wreck

An estimated $7,000 in damages was done to a large, loaded semi-trailer food truck owned by Affiliated Food Stores when its air brakes went out and it overturned partway up the caprock northwest of Post shortly after noon Wednesday.

Highway patrolmen said the driver, Jackie Gene Lovelady of Amarillo, who was not injured, had pulled the big semi-trailer off onto the shoulder when he started losing pressure on his air brakes en route up the steep incline.

The brakes went out while he was parked on the shoulder. The semi-trailer rolled backward into the ditch and overturned. Lovelady stepped out of the cab and was unhurt.

There was no estimate on the amount of damage to the big load of canned goods in the wrecked vehicle.

Absentee voting opens on nine amendments in Aug. 5 election

County Clerk Carl Cederholm announces the absentee voting period for the Aug. 5 election on nine proposed constitutional amendments started in his office Wednesday and will continue through Aug. 1.

Those persons who expect to be out of the county on election day (Aug. 5) will be permitted to vote in the clerk's office by personal appearance.

Those who are already absent from the county temporarily, or who are hospitalized or confined to their home will be permitted to vote absentee by mail.

A ballot to vote by mail may be obtained by mailing a written request to the county clerk, giving name, address, voting registration number and voting precinct.

Also, those who are ill and vote by mail will be required to have their physician sign an affidavit attesting to the fact that the applicant is unable to come to the clerk's office and vote in person.

Cotton future—

As for building warehouses in the Orient, Smith said interest rates are so high over there (18 to 20 per cent) that textile manufacturers can't afford over a 30-day inventory at best.

When we had our dock strike on the West Coast, they simply ran out of cotton because it isn't stockpiled over there.

"So if we built our warehouses over there we could ship it more cheaply in greater bulk and we could have a supply on hand for textile manufacturers who can't afford to stockpile it themselves," Smith said.

"We can build warehouses in the Orient and store cotton as cheaply there certainly as we can at our Texas ports of Houston and Galveston," Smith emphasized.

City paving—

(Continued From Front Page) necessary for property owners who have already written the city, after receiving the first letters on the proposed paving, to write again after receiving the second letter.

He also emphasized that the purpose of the paving hearing is to make it possible for property owners to let the city know their feelings — for or against — the proposed paving. "It is the only way the city has of finding out the property owners' feelings about the paving project," he said.

Purtell said those who receive letters concerning the paving of property of which they are no longer the owners should just ignore the letter. Where so many paving units are involved, there are bound to be some mistakes — particularly in the case of former property owners, he explained.

1968 winners repeat in Garza dress revue

Twenty-six 4-H Club members of Garza County have discovered this summer that it's smarter, better, cheaper and more fun to make and model your own clothes.

These 26 girls showed off their creations last Friday night at the annual Garza County 4-H Dress Revue at 8 o'clock in the Community Room.

Donna Maddox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Maddox, was selected by the judges as top-scoring individual in the senior division, with aPtti Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Parrish, the winner in the junior division.

These two girls will represent Garza County at the District Two 4-H Dress Revue at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday, July 22, at the Municipal Garden and Arts Center in Lubbock.

Quay Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams, was named alternate winner in the senior division. Tying for alternate in the junior division were Sue Cowdrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey, and Sarah Vernon, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Vernon.

The judges were Mrs. Linda Huffaker and Mrs. Sharla Wells. Blue ribbon winners were: Donna Maddox, Quay Williams, Karla Kennedy, Donna Shelton, Phyllis Cisneros, Sarah Vernon, Amy Cowdrey, Patti Parrish, Nancy Reno, Tina McAlister, Genetta Kennedy, Phyllis Kennedy, Sue Cowdrey, Sue Bevers, Nancy Maddox and Mary Ann Norman.

Winners of red ribbons were: Laura Bevers, Joy Jean Basinger, Soyla Reyna, Pam Britton, Brenda Weaver, Cindy Conoly, Carolyn Strawn, Isela Rosas, Lillie Rosas and Patricia Nelson.

Donna Maddox was mistress of ceremonies for the dress revue program, with Quay Williams introducing the guests. Karen Parrish, county home demonstration agent, gave information about the dress revue. Jan Bilbo was revue commentator, with Mrs. Loucille Morris, vice chairman of the county home demonstration council presenting the ribbons, and Mrs. Parra Bevers closed the program with an announcement of the winners, Lauda 4-H Pledge and Motto.

Mrs. Huffaker, one of the judges, is county home demonstration agent in Lynn County, and Mrs. Wells, the other judge, is a clothing and textiles major at Texas Tech.

White River Municipal Water District records show that the water district has pumped over a million gallons of water into Post on 25 out of the 30 days of the heat wave.

The other five were on Saturdays and Sundays when the Post Plant cuts back its water usage but on four of those five days the consumption was over the 950,000 gallon mark.

Even though George R. Brown and the Sun Oil Co. are using over 200,000 gallons daily for their Garza water flooding operations from the Post total, the gallons pumped by White River into Post still give the city itself 16 "over one million gallon days" in the last 30 days.

Post's record water consumption was set here Tuesday when the White River district pumped 1,584,000 gallons into Post. With slightly over 200,000 gallons used for water flooding that day, some 1,374,000 gallons were used within the city.

Last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday over 1,575,000 gallons were pumped into Post each day and on four other days of the heat wave the consumption topped the 1,400,000 gallon mark.

Water consumption last weekend didn't dip below the million gallon mark with 1,301,000 gallons pumped into Post Saturday and 1,115,000 on Sunday.

Mangum rites—

Mrs. Mangum's survivors also include a niece, Mrs. Bill Fields of Fayetteville, Ark., whom she and her husband reared. Other nieces of Mrs. Mangum include Mrs. Winnie Tuffing of Justiceburg and Mrs. Doll Haire and Mrs. Nita Burress, both of Post.

Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Heat wave—

Barley told The Dispatch yesterday that electric utility crews are now busy changing out many transformers which are shorting out due to the heavy load from coolers running night and day for larger ones.

The current heat wave all began on June 30 when the thermometer blew right up to 101 for only the second 100 degree day of the summer.

On the 21st it hit the high for 1969 with a sizzling 106 and there followed two 104 degree days before the temperature dipped to 99.

There were three more days above 100 in June — 101 on June 25 and 27 and 102 on June 28.

Starting July 1 "cooled" a few degrees with the daily high hitting only 100 on July 5 for an 11-day period from July 1-10.

But starting last Thursday, Post officially had seven consecutive 100 degree days.

County Agent Conner said the heat wave apparently has been just great for the cotton which isn't suffering, but the feed "is hurting." This has brought early hay cuttings by many farmers in the last two weeks.

Nobody likes to think what the current heat wave would have been like without a big supply of White River water for lawns and air-conditioners.

White River Municipal Water District records show that the water district has pumped over a million gallons of water into Post on 25 out of the 30 days of the heat wave.

The other five were on Saturdays and Sundays when the Post Plant cuts back its water usage but on four of those five days the consumption was over the 950,000 gallon mark.

Even though George R. Brown and the Sun Oil Co. are using over 200,000 gallons daily for their Garza water flooding operations from the Post total, the gallons pumped by White River into Post still give the city itself 16 "over one million gallon days" in the last 30 days.

Water consumption last weekend didn't dip below the million gallon mark with 1,301,000 gallons pumped into Post Saturday and 1,115,000 on Sunday.

The BankAmericards are here at last. They arrived in the mail to many Post folks last Thursday after almost two months of delay caused by the misplacing of the credit card customer list by the firm which makes up and mails out the cards. The First National Bank on page 7 today points to the many advantages of this "instant credit" both here at home in Post and on the road.

County tax rate cut to 80 cents

The Garza County Commissioners Court at its July meeting Monday reduced its 1969 county-wide tax rate from 95 cents to 80 cents as it had promised to do if the hospital district was created.

The breakdown of the tax rate is 10 cents for road and bridge equipment, 15 cents for road and bridge special, 45 cents for general fund, two cents for jury, and 8 cents for permanent improvements.

The court also increased the 1969 tax rate for the Justiceburg Common School District to $1. It was 85 cents last year.

'Anatomy of Accident' film shown Lions Club

The club announced that it has sent Nancy Branson, 13-year-old Post girl, to the Texas Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville as their guest. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Branson.

The Lions also discussed putting up their rodeo flags, which will be done within the next few days, to help advertise the annual Post Stampede Rodeo.

Close City club sets meeting for Saturday night

By MRS. BARNIE JONES
Guess everyone is busy watering gardens, picking peas or hoeing weeds in our community or maybe they are on vacation. I had a little time to telephone to get news and no one was home — or just too comfortable under the air-conditioner to answer the telephone.

The Close City Community Club will meet Saturday night at the community center. We are to bring cake, ice cream and sandwiches.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig and Mrs. Eula B. Smith and Sylvia attended the ordination services for the Rev. Wayne Sistrunk at the First Baptist Church at Halfway Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Smith and Sylvia spent the night in Plainview with Miss Ruby Mason.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the family and to Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hedrick, whose daughter, passed away in Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Glenn Shelton attended funeral services for her sister, Mrs. Geneva Dice on Thursday.

Miss Dianna Barron and Miss Frances Vonzell spent the weekend with Dianna's father, Jim Barron.

Recent visitors in the R. H. Sappington home were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kingman, Frankie Joe and Patti of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maas of Harlingen have been visiting relatives and friends in our community and Post. Mrs. Maas is the former Sadie Huntley and was reared on our community.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Williams Thursday evening were Mrs. Barrie Jones and Mrs. Juanita Hyles of Tulare, Calif.

Special session is slated for budget and tax bill

AUSTIN — Now it's official: The special 30 - day legislative session to draft a biennial budget and a $300 million tax bill will start July 28.

Gov. Preston Smith has issued the call and put lawmakers on notice to report back to work on the final Monday in this month.

As expected, Smith worded his session summoning proclamation so as to try to prevent the legislators from giving him another one-year appropriations bill like he vetoed on June 21.

However, the Governor told newsmen that if Texans approve a constitutional amendment on Aug. 5 calling for annual legislative sessions he might relax his directive to permit a single - year spending pattern. Actually, Smith sees no chance of the amendment being approved. What he expects is for voters to strengthen his demand for biennial budgeting by firmly rejecting annual sessions — as they have done before.

Governor Smith will permit lawmakers to consider other subjects in the 30 - day session only after they have completed their mandatory duties of financing the government for a two - year fiscal period extending until Aug. 31, 1971.

Apparently Smith will hold no pre-session conferences on taxation with House Speaker Gus Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

However, Mutscher plans to hold a series of appropriations committee meetings on the budget before July 28 and also endeavor to arrive at a negotiated understanding with the Senate on the perimeters of spending.

"The real key to the success of the session," commented Mutscher, "is how much work we put in before it actually opens." He has already conferred with his tax and appropriations chairman and most of the individual House members.

The speaker wants the House Committee to complete both appropriations and tax bill hearings during the first week of the session and send the measures to the Senate by the end of the second week.

Smith indicates that he will spell out his tax program on the opening day of the session. He has been swapping revenue ideas with staff members but still isn't offering any tips as to his final decision on the type of tax or taxes he will propose.

First Baptist's youth choir is on Dallas tour

A First Baptist Church youth choir with the group name "Us and Him" left Post this morning (Thursday) on a tour to the Dallas area, where they will present the musical, "A New Kind of Dream," in a number of churches in that area.

Dick Helms, summer youth director at the church, is in charge of the choir, which will return to Post late Sunday evening.

The musical, "A New Kind of Dream," is a Christian folk musical designed to reach young people for Christ through their kind of music.

The director said the choir has been working very hard for the last three months on the musical and now has the entire musical down by memory.

While the choir is in the Dallas area it will sing in several churches and visit Six Flags.

During the last few weeks, the choir has presented the musical in several local churches.

After returning to Post, the choir will go to Gall and present the musical in the Baptist church there.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter.

But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts. This is our land. Let's treat it right.

Garza farmer and son participate in Farmers Union Fly-in Program

Garza County farmer - rancher Arnold Sanderson and his son, Bruce, were in Washington, D. C., from Sunday through Tuesday participating in a National Farmers Union Fly-in Program.

Sanderson and his son made the trip with a number of other Texas farmers representing various commodities and growing areas.

They were in Washington when Cong. W. R. Poage of Waco, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, opened hearings on his farm bill, which will make the present farm legislation permanent.

The Farmers Union supports the extension and permanency of the authority provided under present farm legislation. Those participating in the fly-in program presented economic data to members of Congress to support the Farmers Union position that the present farm legislation, including price supports and direct payments on cotton, feed grains and wheat, are essential to the welfare of farmers and the rural communities.

Texas Farmers Union president, Jay Naman of Waco, led the Texas delegation to Washington.

The group met with key officials in the Department of Agriculture and participated in special breakfast meetings with members of the House and Senate.

Twenty-five residents are taking to the nation's highways this week as delegations of Jehovah's Witnesses head for Kansas City, Mo., to attend one of several 1969 "Peace on Earth" International Assemblies in the United States sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York during July.

Their weekly Bible study programs will be temporarily suspended as entire congregations have been invited to attend the assembly with over 40,000 other delegates at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium.

As local Witnesses proceed to the "Heart of America" through rich plains of Kansas and Missouri, they will meet thousands of cars with fluorescent bumper stickers advertising the convention. They will be coming from all 50 states and 18 foreign lands to attend the eight-day sessions.

"There will be Bible talks, personal field experiences, dramas enacted in Biblical dress, and practical counsel for all the family," said Leonard M. Robertson, presiding minister of the Post congregation.

This is the first group to approach the Commissioner under the new "commodity check-off program" authorized by the legislature this year, White noted.

GALLUP POLL ON CONSERVATION

Approximately three out of four Americans would be willing to pay more taxes if the money were used for programs to improve the natural environment, according to results of a recent Gallup Poll. The survey, commissioned by the National Wildlife Federation, also shows that the same ratio favor setting aside additional public lands for national parks, bird sanctuaries, and wildlife refuges.

The effects of air and water pollution, soil erosion, and destruction of wildlife were of "deep concern" to half of those interviewed, while one-third were "somewhat concerned", and 12 per cent were "not very concerned." Thirty-six per cent rated air pollution as the most pressing problem, and 32 per cent named water pollution. When asked how they would correct the problem of air pollution, the most frequent answers given were the control of auto exhaust and of chemical and industrial wastes. The prevention of industrial pollution, enforcing present laws and passing new ones, rated highest for the correction of water pollution.

The results of the poll also indicated that out of every 100 persons now living in the nation's largest cities, only 13 would remain if they had a choice. Of the total number interviewed, 6 per cent chose to live in a large city, 30 per cent in a rural area, 25 per cent in a small city, and 18 per cent in the suburbs.

OUR DYING LAKES

Many lakes, streams, and estuaries are threatened with destruction because of excessive nutrient enrichment. This process, known as cultural eutrophication, is the result of a variety of human activities which deposit nutrient waste into the water resulting in an excess of algae and aquatic plants. The resulting organic matter consumes the oxygen essential to the aquatic life of the water body. Eventually it is literally choked to death.

The results of man-induced eutrophication are "catastrophic" says Arthur D. Hasler writing in the current issue of "BioScience" and it is proceeding at such a "galloping pace that there is insufficient time to raise an enlightened younger generation which would cope with the causes of eutrophication."

Dr. Hasler, a zoologist at the University of Wisconsin, believes that the present rate of deterioration can be reversed if we have the will and determination to come to grips with the task. "Our knowledge of what causes eutrophication is sufficiently good," he says, "that firm and effective precautions can be recommended. They may be expensive to achieve, but the predicted facts are at hand." Decisions makers at all levels must become more enlightened about the implications of disturbing the environment, and he suggests that colleges, service clubs, press, radio, and television all become better informed in order to help disseminate factual information. Even churches and synagogues can play their part, he says, "provided they are given the facts,

It doesn't complicate your life.

Maverick is the simple machine—simple to own, simple to repair, simple to service, simple to drive.

It doesn't cost a lot.

With prices everywhere going sky-high, Maverick comes along with a down-to-earth price—$1995.*

It doesn't have a tiny trunk.

Maverick gives you 10.4 cu. ft. of trunk space—nearly twice as much as the leading import. Now the whole family's luggage can go along for the ride.

It doesn't squeeze you in.

Some big people live in this country. That's why we made Maverick bigger than the imports. Lots of legroom and shoulder room.

It doesn't squeeze you out.

It's great for parking, great for handling, great for zipping through traffic.

It doesn't cost a lot for maintenance.

You can do most maintenance jobs yourself, if you want. If your mechanic does it, he can do it in a lot less time. Great when time is money and the money is yours.

It doesn't need a lot of service.

Maverick oil changes and chassis lubrication come less often than in the leading import. (Isn't it time you started seeing less of your mechanic and more of your car?)

Cheaper by the doesn'ts.

It doesn't skimp on essentials.

Maverick gives you tough brakes, unitized body construction, rustproofing, and four coats of paint. Its 3-speed transmission is able to handle twice as much horsepower as the engine turns out.

It doesn't burn a lot of gas.

Maverick gives you the kind of mileage you'd expect from a little import—even with a powerful six-cylinder engine.

It doesn't hold back on power.

Turn on the engine and turn loose 105 horses—nearly twice as much as the leading import. This means highway power, passing power. The kind of power you need.

It doesn't handle like a kite.

The road might be wet and the wind strong but Maverick's tread is wider than the car is high—great for stability. (Most economy imports are higher than their tread is wide.)

It doesn't follow the herd.

Maverick's new, different. A bright idea with bold, new colors. See your Ford Dealer for the rest of the story. Find out why Maverick is the hottest selling new car to come along since Mustang.

The season will open on the morning of Nov. 8 and continue until sunset on Jan. 1, 1970.

Safety Week set for farm, ranch

AUSTIN — Gov. Preston Smith has proclaimed July 20 - 26 Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week and called on rural residents to make use of the new SMV emblem on slow moving agricultural vehicles as added protection when traveling on highways.

He also urged rural residents to take advantage of modern technology designed to remove many of the hazards in agricultural enterprises and cited that in spite of a declining rural population and advances in agricultural technology, farm and ranch accidents in Texas continue to steadily increase.

Last year 297 persons in Texas died as the result of farm accidents, an increase of 6 per cent in a year.

Renewal of anti-litter efforts asked by SCS

Litter is almost as bitter an enemy of conservation farmers and ranchmen as erosion, a local conservation leader said this week.

Bailey Mayo, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, said that was why his office and the Garza County Soil & Water Conservation District are glad to join with the Beautify Texas Council in helping focus public attention on the statewide litter problem. The Council recently asked all Texans to renew anti-litter efforts this summer.

"Too many people still litter our countryside with bottles, cans, and other trash," Mayo stressed. "This not only mars the beauty of our rural lands, but when it collects on farm or grassland, it can also become a conservation problem."

Mayo listed several ways litter is a conservation menace. First, it is a fire hazard. He pointed out that under certain conditions, bottles had been blamed with magnifying the sun's rays enough to start costly grass and forest fires. Every year, countless wildlife and livestock are poisoned by litter thrown in pastures and fields. Others are starved or injured when they get their heads or feet caught in bottles, cans, and other trash.

The conservationist also said litter hinders farming and ranching operations; it can pollute ponds and streams, killing fish; some trash catches water, increasing mosquitoes, thus becoming a health problem; it can be a safety hazard; and it costs millions just to pick up every year. Besides that, he said, it's ugly.

"Conservation farmers and ranchmen do as much to help beautify Texas as anyone," Mayo added. "Neatly contoured fields, well-managed grasslands and woodlands, sediment-free ponds, lakes and streams, sloped and seeded gullied areas: all this and other work done by conservation farmers adds to the beauty of the landscape. The least the rest of us can do is put our litter in a trash can instead of throwing it on the land to mar this beauty," he said.

Property ownership is no longer requirement in revenue bond vote

AUSTIN — Texas Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr., said today that the United States Supreme Court's decision in a Louisiana case last week has invalidated a Texas law which restricts voting in revenue bond elections to property owners.

By statute the Secretary of State is the chief election officer of Texas and is responsible for obtaining and maintaining uniformity in the application, operation and interpretation of the state's election laws.

On Monday of last week the United States Supreme Court struck down a Louisiana law which gave only property taxpayers the right to vote in elections called to approve the issuance of revenue bonds by a municipal utility, on the ground that it violated the equal protection clause of the Federal Constitution because it excluded otherwise qualified voters who were as substantially affected and directly interested in the matter voted upon as those who were permitted to vote.

The Texas Constitution contains a provision that only qualified electors who own property which has been duly rendered for taxation are eligible to vote in an election for the purpose of issuing bonds. The Supreme Court of Texas has interpreted this provision as applying to elections for issuing public utility bonds which are to be retired from revenues produced by the utility, as well as to elections for issuing bonds to be retired by levy of a property tax.

Secretary Dies said that the property ownership requirement could no longer be imposed in future elections for issuance of revenue bonds. He pointed out that the United States Supreme Court's decision applies only to revenue bond elections and that the court has not ruled on the validity of a property ownership requirement in a tax bond election.

Giovanni da Verrazano was the first man to make written record of his discovery of Maine, which occurred in 1524.

It's the Law ...

"GAME OF CHANCE"

"Fifty cents per shot," said the sign at a certain golf course. "If you score a hole-in-one, you win $5,000."

Sure enough, a golfer eventually did come through with a hole-in-one. But the proprietor refused to pay the prize money. Haled into court, he argued that the contest was a "game of chance" — hence, not enforceable by law.

However, the judge disagreed. Ordering the money paid, the judge said there was simply too much skill involved in a golf shot to classify this as a game of chance.

In varying degree, gambling is regulated in every state. Often under these regulations, it becomes necessary for a court to decide what is meant by the phrase "game of chance."

Sometimes the answer is relatively easy. Thus, the throwing of dice has consistently been held a game of chance. So has roulette. So has matching pennies.

On the other hand, chess and checkers and spelling bees have all been held not games of chance but games of skill.

What about bridge? Most courts have classified bridge, too, as a game of skill.

"Although there is of course an element of chance resulting from the deal of the cards," explained one judge, "there is a continually recurring necessity in the bidding and play to make decisions which will ordinarily be determinative of the outcome."

Does it "take the curse off" a forbidden game of chance if the stakes are very small? As a matter of principle, no. Consider this case:

A restaurant owner was arrested on a charge of operating an illegal gambling device on his premises. Although he protested that the prizes were worth only a nickel, the court found him guilty anyhow.

What the law is concerned about, said the court, is any device "designed to intrigue the unwary and arouse the latentupidity of human nature into the notion that it could get something for nothing."

Traffic toll in Texas may rise for second half

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Garza County during the month of June, according to Sgt. Hal Pirtle, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These accidents resulted in one person injured and an estimated property damage of $2,600.

The rural traffic accident summary for Garza County during the first six months of 1969 shows a total of 29 accidents, resulting in one killed, 19 injured and an estimated property damage of $18,140. During the first six months of 1969 in Texas there were 1,470 traffic deaths, or two less than the 1,472 traffic deaths for the same period of 1968. However, if past trends continue, the last six months will probably far exceed the first six months; as a matter of fact, the last six months of 1968 there were 2,069 traffic deaths.

Sgt. Pirtle states: "With an all-time record of 49 traffic deaths over the Fourth of July weekend, we are not only well ahead in comparison to the beginning of the second six months in 1968, but well on our way to establishing a record year in 1969."

Take stock in America Buy U.S. Savings Bonds & Freedom Shares

After that, just sit back and be lazy. Each payday part of your pay will be automatically set aside for U.S. Savings Bonds.

And that can mean big money for you in the years to come. For a new home, for education, or for retirement.

It means big money for your country, too. The kind it takes to put men on the moon, build highways, and keep the nation strong.

And the government believes in safeguarding your investment in it. Bonds are guaranteed. And the U.S.

Treasury will replace them — free — if they are lost, stolen, or destroyed.

There's a bonus, too. Each Bond you buy entitles you to buy a Freedom Share of the same denomination. Freedom Shares pay a higher rate of interest than Bonds, and mature in just four and one-half years.

Now doesn't that sound like easy handi-work?

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

Father Erickson retires Sunday

SLATON — The Rev. James Erickson, pastor of Our Lady of Guadalupe Church here, retired from active ministry Sunday after 22 of them spent in the diocese of Amarillo.

He came to the Diocese of Amarillo in 1947, serving at Amarillo, Slaton and Stanton before being assigned to Slaton in 1953 as associate pastor of St. Joseph's parish in full charge of the mission of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

Vietnam View

as reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by
GySgt. Bob Montgomery

The "Gunny" slid down into the huge hole, a 500 - pound crater. Several Marines followed him, forming a chain to the top. Slowly they passed the high explosives down.

Fifty - three B-40 rockets; 63 mortar rounds; 120 pounds of C-4 explosive; 50 Chinese - communist grenades; 61 anti - tank rockets; one anti - tank mine and one anti-personnel mine; 84 assorted blasting caps were passed to Gunnery Sergeant Charles Rush, Madison, Wisc., who wiped the sweat from his brown and continued stacking enemy ammo on the crater floor.

The Gunny topped it off with plastic explosives, blasting caps, fuses and detonation cord. The Marines evacuated the area.

"Fire in the hole!" Someone let the fuse, shouted the warning and was now running for all he was worth. It was Gunny Rush, a platoon commander with "C" Co., 1st Bn., First Marine Regiment.

His company had found tons of rice and enemy ammunition a few hours earlier, and now it was up to the Gunny to dispose of it.

Muscles tensed. They clinched their teeth waiting for the shock wave.

Suddenly dirt and shrapnel shot high into the air! There was a deafening explosion and the shock wave hit like a ton of bricks.

The Gunny smiled, waiting for the last debris to fall to earth. With the "all-clear," the Gunny and his men ran to the crater which was now larger and deeper.

"Hey, Gunny!" Everyone looked into the monstrous opening with amazement. "Is it water?" Some one grabbed a shovel and jumped into the hole.

Scooping up a handful of damp soil, the young marine took a long sniff, stood up and flashed a broad grin to Gunny Rush.

"You'll be rich Gunny," he yelled. "You've struck oil!"

"If I've struck oil," the gunny remarked, "I wonder where I can file my claim?"

DUE HOME SUNDAY
Cpl. Roy Britton, son of Mrs. Roella Britton, who has been serving with the Marines in Vietnam, is due home Sunday.
