AT GRAHAM HOMECOMING

Graham homecoming attracts big crowds

Over 100 fans attending the homecoming will get all the ice cream they can eat, according to Ronald Weaver, chairman of the homecoming committee. The school's coaching staff will introduce the football team to the fans. We urge all football fans to attend and help make "Meet the Antelope" one of the biggest events of the year. —(Simpson)

McKinney of Lampasas and Oliver McMahon of Post, were honored with special recognition at the Sunday afternoon program at 2 o'clock. Serving as master of ceremonies, Quanah Maxey, a former pupil, introduced O. G. Lewis of Rule, who taught at Graham from 1938 through 1941. He led the invocation. Mrs. James Stone, chairman of the homecoming, gave the welcome. Alvin G. Davis of Levelland, an outstanding former pupil, was the guest speaker. He spoke of the changing times, comparing the school when it was organized through the present day school systems and events of today. Mrs. Noel White acknowledged other special recognitions and each was asked to stand. The earliest day teacher present was Mrs. Gladys Maxey Floyd, who taught in 1916-17 and 1920-22. Other former teachers present other than Mrs. Floyd and Lewis were Mrs. Mildred Crowley Collins of Big Spring, who taught in 1923-25, Mrs. Berta Reed Brown of Beeville, who

$210 in billfold taken by prowler

Henry M. Tucker, a resident of Post since 1929, moved to Odessa Monday without seeing "hide or hair" of $210 in cash that was stolen from his billfold Saturday night at his home at 112 North Ave. H. Tucker, who is 79, reported to Police Chief Otis G. Shepherd Jr. that the money was stolen by somebody who entered his house via an unlocked front door while he slept. All the other doors of the house were locked. After calling the police to report the robbery, Tucker found his billfold and a tobacco pouch, also taken from his pockets, in a trash can at the rear of his house. He said personal papers were still in the billfold, but that the money it had contained was gone.

Council to interview 11 manager applicants

Applicants for the position of city manager will be interviewed by the city council at a meeting starting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 14, in the city council room at City Hall. There are 11 applicants for the position, which was made vacant by the death of City Manager Bobby Pierce in July. Three of the applicants for the position live out of town.

COTTON FORECAST FOR GARZA COUNTY NOT AS REPORTED

Don't you believe the 30,000 bale forecast for the 1971 Garza County cotton crop, as released Monday in Lubbock by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers. County Agent Syd Conner said yesterday, "That isn't the forecast we sent them." Conner said the figure sent in from Garza County was "between 20,000 and 24,000." The county agent got his head together with some others to make the estimate, including Lewis Herron at the bank and the SCS office people. Conner told The Dispatch yesterday that Garza County has a lot of good cotton, but a lot of cotton that is not so good, too. He said some of the cotton plants, now as "high as my arm-pits" just aren't fruiting like they should. Conner recalled that old cotton axiom that "a white bloom by Sept. 10 makes a boll of cotton." "Tomorrow will be Sept. 10," the county agent pointed out and a lot of this cotton doesn't have many blooms.

Phone company's request for rate boost granted

Rural service is to be upgraded

Post's city council Monday night granted General Telephone Company's request for an increase in city phone rates in return for improvements to rural lines in the area, but not before negotiating a 25 per cent reduction in the company's proposed rate increases for one and two-party residential phones. Instead of the 40-cent raise the company had asked on one-party phones, from $5.60 to $6 a month, and on two-party phones, from $4.60 to $5 a month, they settled for a 30-cent raise, which will hike the cost from $5.60 to $5.90 on one-party phones and from $4.60 to $4.90 on two-party. The council granted the company what it had asked on increases for business phones and business and residential phone extensions. This will increase the monthly rate on a business phone from $11.10 to $12, on a business extension from $1.50 to $1.75 and on a residential phone extension from $1 to $1.25. In return for the rate increases, which will cost the more than 1,200 city telephone users approximately $10,000 a year, the company will spend some $66,000 in upgrading the rural phone system, including a change from eight-party to four-party phones. The present rural rates on the eight-party lines are $8.60 for business phones (of which there are only about four), and $5.10 for residence phones. These rates would be increased to $12 and $6.60 for the four-party phones in Zone 1, to $13 and $7.50 in Zone 2, and to $14 and $8.50 in Zone 3. The zone rate depends on the phone's distance from the base station. The improvements in the rural areas will also include the removal of 452 telephone poles and 97,000 feet of overhead wire, all of which will be replaced by some 105,000 feet of buried cable, according to G. T. Hamilton, division manager for the telephone company. The new rates will go into effect upon the completion of the improvement program, which is scheduled for sometime next year, Hamilton told the council Monday night. Attending the council meeting along with Hamilton was John Allen of the company's rate department. The council's vote to grant the rate increase request was four to one. The motion which led to the successful negotiation of the 25 per cent decrease in the rate hike for residential phones was made by Councilman Donald Windham.

30 top ropers enter ranch benefit event

Thirty of the nation's top steer ropers, including several former world champions, will compete in the first annual OS Ranch Steer Roping to be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 2-3, at the OS Ranch headquarters, seven miles south of Post on U.S. Hwy. 84. The entry list, furnished The Dispatch this week by Jim Prather, chairman of the Garza County Benefit Association, reads like a "Who's Who in Steer and Calf Roping." The two-day roping event, expected to attract 2,000 or more spectators, is to be staged for the benefit of the West Texas Boys Ranch near San Angelo. Prather said temporary bleachers will be set up at the ranch headquarters to accommodate the crowd. The calf roping will be held Saturday, Oct. 2, starting at 10 a.m. The steer roping is scheduled for Sunday, with a 1:30 p.m. start. Saturday's roping will include jackpot calf roping and team steer roping. There will be three go-rounds in Sunday's steer roping, with the top 12 ropers to rope a fourth steer. The tops four steer ropers will share a pot of approximately $12,500. Barbecue, cooked by Virgil Rodgers, will be served at the grounds both days. A dance is scheduled for 9 p.m. Saturday in Post, with music by Johnny Bush and his Bandaleros. Special guests and dignitaries are being invited to attend the roping. (See Top Ropers, page 8)

Local families are to host ranch youngsters

A delegation of boys from West Texas Boys Ranch are going to be guests of Post families for the big benefit O. S. Ranch Steer Roping Oct. 2-3 here. The Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce has accepted the project of placing the youngsters in local homes for Saturday night, Oct. 2. Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick, president of the Women's Division, told The Dispatch that Jim Prather, who heads the Garza County Benefit Association which is sponsoring the steer roping, will meet with the Chamber women next Tuesday to discuss details of the project. In the meantime, Mrs. Kirkpatrick asked that local families who want to entertain one or more boys in their homes to call the Post Chamber of Commerce office. Prather, who originated the steer roping as a means of raising money for West Texas Boys Ranch, reports the ranch now has 73 boys ranging in age from 7 all the way up to high school seniors. He told The Dispatch that the ranch wants to send up "as big a group of boys as local folks can take care of." Chamber women will decide at next Tuesday's meeting whether or not to plan some Saturday night function for the young guests — like a picnic at the park — or whether to let the host families do the entertaining. The boys would come to Post Saturday morning, Oct. 2, and return to San Angelo after the steer roping Sunday afternoon. They would be guests in local homes only for Saturday night.

Jim Peather's idea to bring a group of boys from West Texas Boys Ranch here for the benefit steer roping Oct. 2-3 as guests of the City of Post sounds great to us. Certainly, the boys will have a lot of fun watching the best steer ropers in the world. Thus, bringing the boys here for the roping and sending all the profits of the event to the ranch to help keep it operating gives the big weekend show a double purpose. The Chamber women are going to work up a project to place the youngsters in local homes (see separate front page story). If you want to get a piece of the action in this great benefit project, here is your chance. Call the Chamber office and invite two or more of the boys to stay in your home. You can ask for boys the same ages as your own, if you have sons, and everybody should have a great time. Here is the opportunity for Post to show its "heart" for these boys. We can't help but think how really great it would be if Post could invite every single one of the 73 boys now at Boys Ranch here for the roping and put every (See Postings, page 8)

Budget reflects lower tax rate

The Post city council adopted its new 1971-72 budget Monday night after closing a public budget hearing at which no one appeared. The general fund budget adopted by the council anticipates revenue of $211,050 and expenditures of $222,488, the unbalanced budget being due to anticipated purchase of new equipment if additional revenue is available. The total anticipated general fund expenditures of $222,488 compares with actual total expenditures of $201,981.74 in the 1970-71 year, with the increase being accounted for in the budgeting of funds for new equipment in the street department. Total expenditures and balance in the water and sewer department is anticipated at $246,509.60 as compared to the actual figure of $245,883.48 in 1970-71. The new budget is based on an ad valorem tax rate of $1.25, which is 10 cents less than the $1.35 rate on which last year's budget was (See City Budget, page 8)

Larry Haynes suffered a broken arm when the pickup he was driving went out of control and overturned about noon Sunday near the Ince Fina service station on North Broadway. Dale Walls, who was riding with Haynes, escaped injury in the accident, which was investigated by City Patrolman Jerry Jolly. The injury to Haynes' arm was treated at the Garza Memorial Hospital.

TELETYPE TO AID PEACE OFFICERS

Improved communications was added to High Plains and Post law enforcement Tuesday afternoon when the High Plains loop of the Texas Law Enforcement System went into operation. The machine also has a keyboard so the radio dispatcher can quickly communicate with all other points on the law enforcement network, both across the High Plains or anywhere else in Texas.

Jaycee rest stop sets new record

Two thousand and twelve motorists pulled up to the Post Jaycees' Labor Day rest stop from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Labor Day to set a new record for the local traffic safety project, according to chairman Tommy Young. Coffee, cold drinks and cookies were served tourists at the rest stop, which was located at Green Tank, 13 miles southeast of Post on U. S. Hwy. 84. The chairman said nearly every state was represented by the motorists who pulled up to the rest stop, with the farthest away coming from Maine and Canada. He said the Jaycees wish to thank all merchants who donated coffee, Cokes, cookies, etc., and especially wish to thank Pearl Nance of Justiceburg, who for the fourth consecutive year gathered and delivered firewood to the rest stop. "The Jaycee-ettes also gave us a big hand in operating the rest stop," Young said. In addition to serving the hundreds of tourists who stopped, the Jaycees also carried coffee to bus passengers about three miles down the road who were stranded until another bus came from Lubbock after the bus they were riding struck and killed a horse on the highway.

Come home, Junior, to the 'good life'

A very likable young fellow stopped in at The Dispatch last Thursday morning to see us. He wanted to talk about a survey he was conducting.

The survey was to find out what people in our new congressional district think about things because he is thinking about making the race next year and wants to build himself an acceptable platform.

It was obvious the basis of his campaign is going to be helping the small towns and the farmers survive. After all, Abilene is the biggest city in the district and it couldn't be termed very "citified."

He stood in the back shop for 30 minutes while we stuffed the two sections of last week's Dispatch together and counted them out for the stores.

We agreed on his No. 1 plank all right. We've been thinking about the small town problem for a long time and have come to one rather surprising conclusion.

The only problem the small town has these days is keeping people. The cities have all the rest of the problems. And that's a peck of them.

Just look at the comparison. The streets of the small town are quite safe. None are today in virtually any city in America.

The cities are choking on the economics of public school education. For example, Philadelphia this year has cut out all athletics and all extra-curricular activities in its entire school system in an effort to balance the budget—and still is short $30 million. We here in the small towns are gagging a little, but not choking.

Housing and the cost of living in cities today are almost unbelievably bad. Some folks here may think the housing situation isn't good, but you ought to see it in the cities.

Welfare, neighborhood blight, pollution—all bad problems in the cities where taxes already have simply gone out of sight.

The government reports six million unemployed last week—and most of them live in cities. Getting any kind of a job in a city these days isn't easy—and that includes thousands and thousands of college graduates.

The small town, especially one close enough to a city for the "advantages of a city" whatever you term that to be, comes out all to the good in virtually every comparison test.

The new generation is concerned about the quality of life and deserted the small towns in search of it. Well, they just left it. Back home in the small town—that's where the quality of life is today.

What we told the young fellow who came calling the other day is Uncle Sam shouldn't pour untold billions of our tax dollars into trying to save the cities. The solution is to expand the small towns.

Tax incentives should attract industry out of the cities where everything costs them too much. If the government wants to help still further, it could use its system of employment offices to channel the excess work force out of the cities and back to the small towns from which they probably originally came.

It doesn't take much to perk up a small town really. You would be surprised at how much money and energy would come right out of the bushes here if the opportunity for growth presented itself.

The cities are choking. Bring them back to the small towns where there is a much better quality of life and a much better chance to enjoy it.

The only trouble with convincing the nation's political leaders of the soundness of this philosophy is the fact that the votes are still in the cities. But it is going to take more than just "good politicking" or a lot of tax money to solve the cities' multitude of problems.

They said back in the early 1960s that the trend of population from the farms and small towns into the cities looking for opportunity would reverse itself by 1980.

That's still nine years away, but it is obvious right now where the best opportunities are.—JC

Hanging together over long pull

According to a news wire service story in the Sunday papers, Gov. Preston Smith really got a heavy and angry "mail" on his proposal to pay Texas teachers and state employees wage increases despite the national wage-price freeze.

Come to think about it, nobody has tested the staying qualities of the American people to work together in emergencies for just about 20 years.

It is of course impossible to treat all equally in such a situation, but it is obvious that almost everybody is alarmed with the state of our economy and wants to let the chips fall where they may on the wage-price freeze.

Leaders of organized labor who oppose the "freeze" and threaten to order strikes against it are looking more than ridiculous in the public's eyes.

It was labor's demand for 30 per cent wage boosts in some of the major industries at new contract time when our economy already was in trouble which brought about the current situation. That was bound to touch off a new inflationary spiral because those labor costs were most certainly going to be passed along to the buying public in the way of higher prices. So the president reluctantly had to apply controls.

Let's face it, America's industrial problem today is one of productivity. If we are to have a "better life" productivity on all kinds of jobs must be increased. Instead, it has been going steadily downward for years as labor costs rise.

Of course, everything isn't going to be "hunky-dory" again at the end of the 90-day freeze period. You won't see controls end there.

In fact, it may be quite a while before the government pulls back. It's mighty hard to see from here and now what is going to happen.

But we rather suspect the American people are going to be called upon to hang together over a rather long pull to get the U. S. economy righted and back on the track.—JC

This makes economic sense

The expansion of vocational education in Post High School via busing students to the new Western Texas College in Snyder with the state picking up the tuition bill merits a loud "well done" from every local parent who is interested in improving the local educational offering.

It has been obvious for years that not every young person is "suited" for a general college education and a white collar job with a big corporation in some faraway city.

But the cost of a real vocational educational program in a small high school has been simply "too high to buy."

Teaching any kind of a course in mechanics requires lots of space and equipment. A fistful of Post High schools are learning various types of mechanics today just for the cost of the bus ride to the school district.

We don't know what the future of this new relationship will be. We hope that it will become permanent where youngsters from farms and small towns can learn a trade.

The country has been getting very short of technicians who earn a living with their hands. Post, as a small town, has too.

Maybe this is the opportunity to keep our kids at home, train them on our tax dollar and offer them jobs. It makes a lot of economic sense.—JC

IF EVERYTHING else out at Post High School is off to as good a start as the high school paper staff, then this is going to be a big school year.

In all the years I've edited copy for the school page in The Dispatch I've never seen as much school news turned in at one time as was delivered to The Dispatch office on last Friday.

IN FACT, THIS year's paper staff turned in more "Antelope Tracks" copy for one issue of The Dispatch than most of their predecessors have turned in for four issues.

On top of that, the paper staff delivered their news on Friday instead of Monday, as in the past. I realize, of course, that the youngsters might not be able to get all their news to The Dispatch office every Friday, but the earlier they do get it in, the better job we can do with it.

THE DISPATCH wishes to congratulate the paper staff's sponsor, Mrs. Cora Fleming; the editor, Randall Hays, and all the other staff members for their good start, and we hope they keep it up.

We here at The Dispatch are also hoping that the Post Antelope football team and its new coaching staff get off to a good start when they open their season Friday night at Hale Center.

ONE SURE THING about the opening of any football season... all the teams are starting out even—no wins, no losses.

The man up the street says the best way to inspire courteous treatment by other motorists is to drive a police car.

J. H. SCOTT, who distributes Borden's Milk in this area, recently found a Nov. 13, 1924, issue of The Slaton Times and brought it by The Dispatch office. The 47-year-old newspaper has 12 pages—full of news and ads.

The "big story" on the front page of the Slaton Times of that date was about an upcoming football game between Pampa, champions of District 1, and Slaton, champions of District 2. There are also front page stories telling of the cotton harvest progressing nicely, the coming of the G. Bert Davis tent show, fire destroying the Alpine Hotel, and Tom Mix showing at the Custer Theatre in "Soft Boiled."

I'D LIKE TO be able to tell you who the editor and publisher of the Slaton paper at that time were, but the paper did not carry the customary editorial flag in which the editor and publisher are identified. The only mention of Post I found in hurriedly scanning the paper was that our football team had been one of the victims of Slaton's championship eleven—along with Brownfield, Lubbock, Plainview, Tulia, Lamesa, Littlefield and Floydada.

As representative of the National Advertising Specialty Co. of Arlington, Tex., The Dispatch's shop foreman, Don "Corkey" Ammons, keeps me well supplied with samples of novelties sent him by the company. The latest novelty Corkey has passed on to me is a nifty horseshoe key ring—after asking me under which sign I was born.

IN EXCHANGE for these samples, which have included windshield ice scrapers, daybooks, pencils, pens, etc., I've often thought of giving Corkey's sales products a "plug," but just hadn't gotten around to doing it—until now. Anyone in need of clever advertising gimmicks can order them through Corkey and get a lot better deal than by ordering them through some out-of-town salesman.

And, by the way, you should see some of the calendars Corkey can order for you!

HERE IS A good pre-season football story:

It was homecoming at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, where the Razorbacks were to host the Bears from Baylor University—a Baptist institution. There were the usual floats and signs in front of fraternity and sorority houses, and business establishments put up posters of their beloved Hogs. The pastor of the First Baptist Church, torn between loyalty to his Plucking some Owl tail feathers won't be the easiest grid assignment for Coach Bobby Davis' Post Antelopes in their autumn debut at Hale Center Friday night. The Owls, who stood off with the 'Lopes in the opener here last year, are a Class A club strong enough to be rated as a challenger of Petersburg for the district 4A crown. Coach Davis and his new coaching staff will be making their debut before Post fans too. There will be new uniforms too, as well as a whole new player attitude. Early injuries already are hurting the Antelopes. It ought to be well worth watching and the trip to Hale Center.

Unit of Choice Enlistment Option offered young men by U. S. Army

A change has been made for young men enlisting under the Army's Unit of Choice Enlistment Option, according to Sgt. Charlie Cockrell, U. S. Army recruiter.

The change is a guaranteed 16-month assignment to the unit of their choice instead of the previous six months. This change will be effective only until Sept. 30.

Under the Unit of Choice Option, applicants may select one of seven units in the United States and be guaranteed assignment to that unit for a minimum of 16 months following completion of initial training. These units are as follows:

- 1st Infantry Division, Fort Riley, Kan.; 4th Infantry Division, Fort Carson, Colo.; 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N.C.; 197th Infantry Brigade, Fort Benning, Ga.; 1st Cavalry Division and the 2nd Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex., and the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, Fort Lewis, Wash. The enlistees will take basic training at the Army Training Center of his choice. Following advanced training in his specialty, the enlistee will be assigned to his unit of choice for a minimum of 16 months. After this period he will be subject to a short overseas tour, according to the needs of the Army. Upon his return from overseas assignment, he will rejoin his unit of choice.

Young men interested in enlisting under the Unit of Choice Option should act immediately to take advantage of the 16-month guaranteed assignment. Further details may be obtained from Sgt. Cockrell at the Federal Building in Lubbock, or call collect 747-3711.

When a star precedes the number on some U. S. currency, it indicates that the bill is a substitute issued to replace one that was worn or defective.

Hundley-Gallegos vows exchanged

Miss Kay Hundley, daughter of James R. Hundley of Post, became the bride of Thomas Gallegos at 6 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 14, in a ceremony at St. John's United Methodist Church in Santa Fe, N.M.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Kim Hundley, the bride's twin sister, was maid of honor, and Walter Gallegos Jr. served as his brother's best man.

A reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gallegos Sr., followed the wedding ceremony.

Following a honeymoon in Mexico, the couple will live at 1330 Louisiana Blvd. N. E., Apt. 405, Albuquerque, N. M., where Gallegos is in the insurance business.

Church is to resume its evening services

Evening services, which have been suspended during the summer, will be resumed at the First Christian Church this Sunday, according to Bernard S. Ramsey, the minister.

At the Sunday morning service, the minister will continue his series on "The Church in an 'L' of a Condition," with a sermon entitled "The Church at Laodicea—Luke-warmness." The Lords Supper will also be observed.

At the 7 o'clock evening service, the minister's sermon title will be "Our Forgetful God."

The church maintains a supervised nursery at the morning service.

The circumference of the globe is 25,200 miles.

WEIGHING ATTRACTIONS

Summer left you looking a little bit on the plump side. You may find some delectable ideas awaiting you at the Reddy Room on Sept. 12.

As a home economist with the Western Public Service, I can show you how to give a touch to those "fat fighters."

are faded, patched, cut off or fringed, the more important their place in the wardrobe.

But what about the little people — the sliders, fallers, runners, brawlers and instant energizers who run jeans ragged on the playground?

I have several suggestions for mothers who are buying and caring for jeans of these active youngsters.

The most important feature to check when buying is durability. Even though most youngsters outgrow clothing before it is worn out, they usually go through jeans before their size changes.

Check for these features when shopping: double-stitched flat felled seams, double knees, a strong zipper and shrinkage control. Labels supply much of the information.

In addition, some jeans may have a guarantee, an insurance of wear. For example, the manufacturer may insure that the knees of the jeans will outwear the rest of the garment.

Remember, if looking for ease in care, check to see that the jeans have a permanent press finish.

Who is this guy?

- When you see him, coupled with our corporate emblem, on a lineman's hardhat, on the door of a line truck or service truck, on our offices or signing our newspaper and TV messages, you know that here's a hard-working little fellow who gets around — 24 hours a day.
- His name is Reddy Kilowatt.
- He's a versatile little fellow who is capable of doing all kinds of good things for you. He can cook your meals, dry your clothes, wash your dishes, heat your place in winter, cool it in summer, light it up year 'round — and a hundred other chores around the home. He's a businessman, too. He helps to run retail stores, offices, commercial buildings, big and small industries and farms and ranches — efficiently, economically and dependably.
- He, together with his 1,800 co-workers... they are The ELECTRIC Company... the one you can rely on. And this year marks our 50th Anniversary... that's over 438,000 hours of working for you dependably, efficiently and at the lowest possible wages. Hour by hour, we pledge to continue working hard for you for the next 50... that's the kind of guy Reddy Kilowatt is.

85 members enrolled in high school band

By DEBORAH YORK
The Post Antelope Band got off to a fine start this year. When regular rehearsals began, 85 members were enrolled. The band is made up of mostly freshmen and sophomores, with only six seniors included. All of the bandmen have had very good training and are looking forward to a very interesting and rewarding year.

The officers for the 1971-72 school year were elected last spring. They are: President, Bobby Norman; vice president, Darla Baker; secretary, Crystal Nichols; treasurer, Donna McBride; and reporter, Brad Lott.

The twirlers and drum majors for the band were also chosen last spring. The twirlers are DeJuan Hays (head), Jan Bilbo, Jan Hall, and Jodi Norman. Drum majors for this year are Wilma Bullard and Kent Kirkpatrick.

For halftime entertainment for each football game this year, the director, Mr. Herb Germer, has prepared a special marching show for your enjoyment. Be sure to attend all of the games this season to give your support to the Antelopes and to the band.

Sam Buchanan is new teacher

By WANDA HEINTZ
Sam Buchanan is a graduate of the University of Texas. He majored in secondary education and did his graduate work at Texas Tech. He has taught in several places.

When Mr. Buchanan moved here he did not know anyone. He and his wife, Tonya, and their two children Paul and Kristine have lived in Post about a month. Mr. Buchanan is beginning to become acquainted with the people in this community. He teaches Algebra I, Related Math 1 and 11.

Mr. Buchanan resides at 1010 W. 11th St. His home town is Florence, where he was born and raised. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Buchanan of Florence.

All of the students of Post High School welcome Mr. Buchanan and his family.

80 students make up 1971-72 junior class

By MELBA MATHIS
This year the junior class consists of 80 students. The officers are: President Jo Beth Gandy, vice president Johnny Minor, Secretary Pat Johnson, and treasurer John Johnson.

Some of the junior activities this school year will be: Junior-Senior banquet, and operating one of the concession stands during home football games. Juniors will also present the junior class play.

Sophomore class has several new students

By LANITA JUSTICE
The sophomore class this year consists of 97 students.

The officers for this class are: President Ricky Shepherd; vice president, Albert Varles; secretary, Jill Cash; reporter, Jodi Norman. Class representatives are Freddi Williams, Becki Dalby, Sylvia Smith and Ricky Shepherd.

The sophomore class has started out its second year in Post High School with six new students. They are: Evelyne Eustaco, David Conrad, Alice Martinez, Cathy Daniels, Leslie Bilberry and Junior Collazo. We are proud to have these students in our school and we hope they will enjoy it as much as we have.

Library LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER

People have been dropping into the library to ask if we have Arthur Hailey's new novel "Wheels". The answer is no, and I'm sorry about that, but I don't believe it has been published yet. I noticed one of the women's magazines was carrying an excerpt from it in its latest issue. I'm guessing the book won't be available until the end of the year, perhaps just before Christmas, in time to be included on gift lists.

Daphne du Maurier has a new book appearing in a ladies magazine also. With a little bit of luck, our library should be able to offer both these books to you by the first of the year.

Mr. Hailey is enjoying wide popularity these days. His best seller "Airport" seems to have been the stepping stone to success for him. How much is due to his writing skill, and how much to the movie, I can't say, since I've never read the book. I did read his earlier novel "Hotel", and from it I judge he knows how to spin a good yarn. Beyond that I don't see much in his book to qualify him for the Nobel Prize!

Which reminds me of an interview I saw the other day on the TV program "Comment." The American playwright Edward Albee discussed the popularity of "entertainment" plays as compared to "serious" plays. Since he writes "serious" plays, he couldn't help but feel he was a bit put out with the American people for their lack of taste.

He may have a point. A quick look at the best seller lists and you seldom find titles that will be lasting and worthy to stand alongside the classics of history. However, serious writers should be careful with their criticisms.

At the present time, writers are indulging in their own private little game that makes masterpiece out of the subjective. No matter if it is so symbolic that only the author understands the meaning, no matter if it deliberately sets out to confuse and offend as long as it is personal it's serious and we should bow down in awe before it.

I've done a lot of reading and have some familiarity with writings from most every age of mankind. It's been my observation that good writing has some familiar earmarks. A book that is good is one that is true, it paints life with faithful colors. A good book gives us a glimpse at deeper truths about life than we knew before, it's education. But perhaps most important of all, a good book is an affirmative statement that equips us for coping better with life.

Even sad books, ones which tell a tragic story, have a way of painting human nature with grandeur. Alan Paton's "Cry, the Beloved Country" was a tragic story, yet was written with the beauty of song and it resounds with hope to the human spirit.

Unfortunately, this affirmation has tapered off in our day. Perhaps the last noble figure of literature was Willy Loman in "Death of a Salesman." And as a tragic hero his nobility came more from his nobility than from his nobility. Since then serious writing seemed to have suffered a crisis of nerves. Life seems too much for them. They either tell us "Life is awful" or "Since life is awful, see how much of a good time can have in spite of it."

Perhaps we don't appreciate serious writers enough, but on the other hand we may simply be ignoring them until they get the pity out of their system. Of course it's just possible they are actually reflecting our society, and that's the case mankind is at a low.

With summer over, we keep the library open Saturdays, from 9 to 12, as our regular hours during the Drop in and pay us a visit.

The High Cost of Hoping

By George Miller

How many times do you catch yourself saying "I hope so"? When you've done all you can do and the outcome is still in doubt, hope is the last refuge. It is a wistful wish that all may yet be well, even though you can't see how.

It's comforting to think that we can go on hoping when all else fails. Yet many of us give up hope far too easily, finding no comfort in it at all. For if you really hope you can never rest. It spurs you on to still more effort, it makes you try again and again.

Hope is not our last resort when everything else has failed. Hope is the obstinate refusal to be defeated. It is the unshakable faith that the answer is just around the corner waiting to be found. It is the confidence that life is worth living and effort worth spending. It is the guarantee that, though I can't find the solution to my problem, I can cope with it.

In other words, hope is the eternal challenge to keep on trying.

Bernard Shaw pointed out that most people would rather not be challenged. He says of Hell, that the worst "Leave all hope behind, ye who enter here" are engraved above its entrance. That is the secret of its popularity, hope is only a form of moral responsibility. Once abandoned hope and you can abandon effort, give up praying—do what you please.

He has a point. What a relief it can be to convince ourselves there is no hope. We can stop struggling, stop trying, give up. It's hopeless, we say, and then we can back and rest. It's out of our hands now, it's no longer our affair.

If you think about it, hope is expensive, it makes you keep on struggling when it would be far easier to give up. But hopelessness means death while hope means life. At that price hope is a bargain!

Comfort is...

Fresh, warm air gently circulating from floor to ceiling... down-to-earth dependability... easy-on-the-budget operating costs. Comfort is gas heating. There's no heat more comfortable.

And there's no heat cleaner than gas. Gas burns clean. It's one energy source that doesn't dirty the air.

Air-circulating gas heating systems also give you the first-half of a built-in gas air conditioning system. Adequate heat ducts can carry cool air to your whole house too — so you can add-on gas cooling right away or later if you prefer. Together, gas heating and gas cooling are an unbeatable combination for year-round total comfort.

If you're building a home or planning to replace an out-dated heating system, choose thrifty gas heat. Check with your heating contractor.

Choir said to be best since 1957

By MARK HAYS
It has been said that the choir of the 1971-72 school year is to be the best since 1957, when the director, George M. Willson, became the first choir director of Post High School.

There are 73 members enrolled and also two new pianists. The pianists are Phyllis Echols and Janet, who with Ann Aten as alternate, of whom are doing a fine job. The choir officers who were elected last spring to serve for this year are: President, Randell Hays; Vice President, Jerry (Scotty) Hoyle; Secretary, Lanita Justice; and Treasurer, Mark Hays.

The choir plans to present a musical in December as entertainment for the citizens of Post and surrounding areas. The musical will be "Lil' Abner," a hillbilly comedy, and will be presented Dec. 16-18 in the school auditorium.

The Top Twenty is a group of students that was designed in 1969 by Mr. Willson, to be enjoyed by people in neighboring towns as well as in Post. The Top Twenty members were chosen last spring by Mr. Willson, and had their first rehearsal Aug. 31. The costumes selected for this year are very attractive. The girls will be dressed in white skirts, red blouses, with blue belotes and an apache scarf to match. The boys will have white pants with a red shirt and red, white and blue matching tie.

We would like to thank the committee of mothers, Mrs. Hans Hudman, Mrs. Bobby Cowdry, and Mrs. Bill Pool for making this possible.

The members of the Top Twenty for this year are as follows: LeeAnn Williams, Sue Cowdrey, Sylvia Smith, Pam Gray, Jo Beth Gandy, Karen Pruitt, Debra York, Patti Nelson, Crystal Nichols, Nancy Reno, Nan Bilberry, Dana Pool, Wynette Byrd, Mark Hays, Randell Hays, Steve Hays, Bill Hudman, Rodney Compton, Jerry (Scotty) Hoyle, Kim Owen, Dan Hodges, Dewayne Morris, John Norman, Larry Hair, and Roger Pace.

The instrumentalists for this year are Zack Short on drums, Danny Guthrie on lead guitar, and Bobby Norman on bass guitar.

Cindy Davis is speech teacher

By CAROL COMPTON
Cindy Davis is a 1971 graduate of Texas Tech, majoring in economics education. She did her postgraduate work in speech at the University of Oklahoma in Norman.

Cindy Davis has already become acquainted with our school system and our students, as she did her first teaching in home economics at Post High School.

Her duties include one junior high class, all speech classes, and all UIL speaking events.

Cindy Davis' home town is San Antonio, where she was born and raised. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Davis of San Antonio. Cindy Davis said she could not be happier than she is in Post. She is very active in the community and you may already be familiar with her. She is very pleased with the attitude of the students, of the school system, the faculty, and extra-curricular activities.

All the students of Post High School welcome Miss Davis and all her teachers in Post High. We think this is going to be an excellent year for everyone and we hope all the students to strive for the highest goals that Post High School can offer.

Inside story of PHS 'love life'
By WYNETTE BYRD
Welcome back to good old PHS! Hope you had a nice summer. How does it feel to move up one opportunity to welcome all "Fish" and all newcomers to PHS.

For an inside story of Post High School's love life, keep reading. The couples seen around the halls, (after a lonesome summer) are: Kim Owen and Wynette Byrd (of course!), Kyle Josey and Becky Dalby, David Hart and Karla Josey (any relation to Kyle?), Kenny McKamie and Sue Parrish, Dan Hodges and Lee Ann Williams.

Also Gary Shepherd and Sylvia Smith, Freddy Huff and Sally Dornland, Dusty Norman and Dana Pruitt, Bobby Norman and Dana Pool, Larry Hair and Nan Bilberry, Randy Kennedy and Tom Norman. (we've got a lot of Norman haven't we), Don Eilenberger and Darla Baker, Ronnie Ammons and Mary Cheshire.

For those of you that I did not put down and should have, and those that I put in that I should not have, please forgive me. I will do better next time. Promise!

Paper staff puts out school year welcome

By RANDELL HAYS
We, the paper staff of Post High for the 71-72 school year, welcome all the students back to PHS. There are approximately 350 students enrolled in Post High this year.

New students, by classes, include the following:
Senior: Patsy Armstrong.
Freshman: Yolanda Garza, Cris Wyatt, Rhonda Cole, Bennis Olive, and Jay Rogers.

There are several new teachers that we certainly want to thank for choosing Post High. They are: John Alexander, government; Don Black, world history; Kathleen Brown, Spanish; Sam Buchanan, agriculture I and II; Cindy Davis, English and speech; Joe Giddens, American history; Dwaine Harris, Ag II, plane geometry and advanced math; Sherron Rushing, biology; American history; Larry Don Seales, physical science; Lane Tannehill, world history; Beth Walker, librarian.

During the summer months, Post High has changed a bit. There are now two new Coke machines — in the dressing rooms of the gymnasium. The gym has been repainted and cleaned up for our home basketball games and other activities.

Parking spaces will be assigned to students who hold valid drivers licenses sometime during the school year these first nine weeks. This will surely help solve our rush in determining where to park.

A lot of "thank you's" go to the new coaching staff of Post High. We hope everyone gets a chance to see the new weight machine and will see all of the football games this year. Let's really get up the spirit this year and generate victory all year round.

The paper staff of PHS wants to make everyone happy, and we hope to serve you every week with ALL the Post High School news.

Paper staff is headed by Hays

By WYNETTE BYRD
Busy, busy, busy! That is the motto of the Paper Staff. The first day they elected officers and gave duties to reporters.

Mrs. Fleming is the sponsor. In the past she has done a fantastic job and this year it will be even better because of all the wonderful stories the students will supply us with this year. Right, students?

The editor is Randell Hays, a very competent editor. Wanda Heintz is his co-editor.

Other staff members are: Jackie Moore, Debra York, Wynette Byrd, Lanita Justice, Melba Mathis, Carol Compton, Allen Woods, Tommy Shumard, Patti Allison, Eva Martinez, Mark Clayton, Mike Hays and Glen Branson. All of these students will be contacting each organization.

If you have any information for your particular organization, contact one of these students or Mrs. Fleming.

Work under way by annual staff
By JACKIE MOORE
The Post High School annual staff of 1971-72 was selected by questionnaire last year, with the following selections made:
Randell Hays, editor; Patti Nelson and Jackie Moore, co-editors; Phyllis Eckols, assistant editor; Wilma Bullard, David Hart and Debbie Hood, business managers; Johnny Wallace, Billy Criswell and Robert Mindieta, photographers.

The annual staff went to a yearbook meeting at Odessa Saturday to get new and better ideas for this year's yearbook.

The staff already is under way with early work on the 1971-72 yearbook. The seniors have had their pictures made for it, and should be getting them soon. The seniors who did not get their pictures made can get them made at the same time as juniors, sophomores and freshmen the second week in October.

Better attitude is helping along this year's Post Antelope team
By TOMMY SHUMARD
This year's football team is being helped along by a big factor — a better attitude. This year's attitude is something that was lacking among grid teams in the last several years. When football workouts began this year the team had approximately 40 boys trying to make the team, but this has dwindled to about 30, but the attitude hasn't dropped a bit. All of the coaches are doing a real fine job with everybody.

There are 10 seniors on this year's squad and they are Kim Owen, center; running backs Kyle Josey, Tony Rosas; end Larry Hair, tackles Kenny McKamie, Tommy Sumard, Don Eilenberger and Jimmy Bertran; guards Ronald Tyler and Kelly Duren.

The juniors are Johnny Minor, Robert Mindieta, Robert Torres, Kenneth Price, John Johnson, Rusty Conner, Randy Kennedy, Rodney Compton, Danny Lee and Roger Pace.

The sophomores are David Conolly, Albert Torres, Jerry Tyler, Ricky Shepherd, Mark Pevers, Jay Pollard, Dennis Conrad and Richard Dudley.

This is going to be a very good year in Post athletics.

First assembly is held by PHS student body
By CAROL COMPTON
The student body had their first assembly Friday, Sept. 3.

The assembly was held so that the student body could meet the new teachers and coaches. Mr. Pollard introduced the new teachers.

David Woods, president of student council, took the floor next to bring up the vacancy of the vice president. If any junior would like to run for office, and has a 75 grade average, please check by the office.

Coach Davis took over next to introduce the five new coaches.

FRESHMEN TO ELECT
The freshman class of 1971-72 has not fully organized as of yet. They have not elected class officers nor had any class meetings yet. When the freshman class does elect officers and begin organizing, more information will be available.

Pep squad elects at first meeting

By WYNETTE BYRD
Officers were elected Wednesday, Sept. 1, at the pep squad's first meeting.

Those elected were: Wynette Byrd, president; Anita Criado, vice president, and Susan Solis, secretary-treasurer.

The requirements of officership were, the president had to be a senior and the vice president a junior. The secretary-treasurer could be of any high school class.

The nominees were: President, Jackie Moore, Wanda Heintz, and Wynette Byrd; vice president, Jo Beth Gandy, Debbie Hood, Patti Gray and Anita Criado; secretary-treasurer: Susan Solis, Phyllis Eckols, Jackie Moore and Debbie Hood.

The president appointed a uniform committee of Mary Joyce Heaton, Jackie Moore, Angeliene Byrd, Patricia Gannon, Sherry Brockman, Kathy Daniels, Nancy Reno and Janie Martinez. The committee's duty will be to select different patterns of uniforms to submit to the organization.

The pep squad expects to have a very successful year and also a lot of fun. If you would like to join, get in touch with Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Brown, Wynette Byrd, Anita Criado or Susan Solis.

Postings —

one of them right into a Post home.

We're sure Post would gain wide recognition from such an undertaking — but recognition of course is not the purpose. The purpose is to help these boys not only with our dollars but by extending to them our friendship and love.

The kids probably will feel more "comfortable" if there are two of them together in your home instead of just one boy alone. Try to make room for a couple and call the Chamber and let them know that you want to help Jim Prather make the roping a "double barreled" success.

Jim, by the way, went down to San Angelo and looked over West Texas Boys Ranch not so long ago. He wanted to find out for himself what the ranch was like. He told us it is all laid out on 960 acres and has adequate facilities, support and ONLY by donations from the West Texas area.

It costs $140 each and every month "to keep a boy," Jim told us. And with 73 boys that adds up into quite a monthly budget. But $140 is not high really, but it does require lots — and lots of donations.

Jim got interested in West Texas Boys Ranch because he is the Garza County fund-raiser for the ranch. He decided to go all-out and try to establish a major fund-raising project here.

The steer roping, attracting just about the best field of ropers obtainable, promises to give Post an unusual fall ranch-oriented event which should attract wide publicity for the community, and at the same time serve a very worthy cause.

If this first one is successful — and we mean really successful in a very big way — the project can grow into something of more benefit to Post than our Chamber of Commerce could ever dream up "publicity wise."

Back on Aug. 6, 1964, The Dispatch had quite a feature about Ronnie Joe Jackson under the headline, "Hard Luck" youngster makes good at Ranch." Ronnie Joe was a Post boy who went to live on the ranch and made such an outstanding success of his new way of life that eventually he was elected by the other boys to the top elective position in the ranch government. Today, Ronnie Joe is happily married and works for an electrical company in San Angelo. Bernard Ramsey wrote that article for us. And Bernard probably will be glad to know that Jim is inviting Ronnie Joe and family back to Post to be special guests at the steer roping.

This is one of hundreds of examples of the worth, measured in the lives of boys, of West Texas Boys Ranch.

The Garza County Benefit Association had a "press party" in Lubbock at 5 p.m. yesterday at the Villa Inn for Lubbock's press, radio and TV folks to acquaint them with the benefit steer roping project. Assisting Prather with the "press party" from Post were County Judge Giles W. Dalby, Mayor Giles C. McCrary, Jack Kirkpatrick, Mike Mitchell, among others.

Coming up from the ranch for the affair were Harvey Hargroves, of Odessa, president of West Texas Boys Ranch; Dave Gottshall, the ranch's public relations man; Kenneth Howell, superintendent of the ranch, Otis Whittenberg, the Round-Up chairman, and several of the ranch directors.

So Post ought to "harvest" a lot of good publicity out of the steer roping.

Call Wyvonne Kennedy, Chamber secretary, and sign up to host two or more of those eager, bright-eyed boys from West Texas Boys Ranch — and get in on the action. You'll always be glad you did.

ROTARIANS SEE SLIDES

Lubbock resident killed in crash

Helping add to the Labor Day weekend toll, Garza County's third traffic fatality of the year occurred about 5:30 p. m. Saturday when Alphonso Chapa Jr., 34, of Lubbock, was killed in the head-on crash of a car and truck about 10 miles northwest of Post on U. S. Hwy. 84.

A passenger in Chapa's car, Roy Torres, 21, of Trinidad, Colo., suffered multiple head injuries in the crash. His condition was reported "critical" this week in a Lubbock hospital.

The driver of the truck, Earl L. Cox of Lubbock, was not hurt.

Investigating officers, who included a highway patrolman of Post, said Chapa was headed south-east, in the wrong lane of the divided highway, and Cox was traveling northwest when the crash occurred.

Chapa was dead at the scene. Torres was taken to Mercy Hospital in Slaton before being transferred to the Lubbock hospital.

Funeral services for Chapa were held Tuesday in Austin.

KEITH CORNWELL

New mortician at Hudman's

Keith Cornwell, an August graduate of Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science, is now associated with the Hudman Funeral Home as a mortician.

A 1968 graduate of Ralls High School, Cornwell attended Lubbock Christian College for two years before enrolling in the Dallas Institute.

His wife, Jan, who is a piano teacher, also attended Lubbock Christian College. She is from Hale Center.

Cornwell, who also has completed first aid training, replaces Darrell Eckols who with his wife, Mary, has enrolled in the Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science. The fall term for the two of them will begin Monday.

Rites conducted for Mrs. Donahoo

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Southland Baptist Church for Mrs. J. W. Donahoo, 79, a former Southland resident who died Wednesday last week in a San Diego, Calif., hospital after a short illness.

The Rev. C. T. Jordan, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Southland Cemetery.

Mrs. Donahoo had resided in the Southland area 35 years before moving to Poway, Calif., two years ago.

She is survived by five sons, C. W. of Poway, Louis of San Diego, Odell of Lincoln, Neb., Marcell of Detroit, Mich., and Leroy Donahoo of Houston; two brothers, Oscar Thornhill of Modesto, Calif., and Jesse Thornhill of Sacramento, Calif.; 21 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Teachers' unit holds luncheon

Supt. Bill Shiver and Bobby Davis, athletic director, were special speakers at a luncheon meeting of the Garza County unit of the Texas State Teachers Association held recently in the school cafeteria.

The invocation, by Jack Alexander, was followed by a business meeting.

Officers of the local unit for 1971-72 are Jean Gandy, president; Beth Walker, vice president; Sandra Alexander, second vice president; Sharlot Rose, secretary; and Herb Germer, treasurer.

FIELD DAY TUESDAY

County Agent Syd Conner calls attention to the 62nd annual field day and open house scheduled for Texas A&M University's Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock next Tuesday, Sept. 14, from 1 to 5 p.m. The Center is located 7½ miles north of Lubbock.

Enrollment gains over first week

School enrollment continued to gain here this week with the opening of the second week of the 1971-72 term.

Enrollment Tuesday, the first day of school this week following the Labor Day holiday, totaled 1,209, which is a gain of 52 students over the first day enrollment of 1,157, and a gain of 21 over the enrollment total of 1,188 reported on Wednesday of last week.

Total high school enrollment on Tuesday was 358, an increase of 11 over the figure for the first day of the school term. Enrollment in the junior high Tuesday was 317, an increase of 15, and the elementary school figure was 534, an increase of 28.

Enrollment by grades Tuesday was as follows:

Kindergarten, 13; first grade, 96; second, 105; third, 104; fourth, 104; fifth, 112; sixth, 112; seventh, 101; eighth, 104; ninth, 116; tenth, 99; eleventh, 81; twelfth, 62.

Kelly Duren has double trouble

Everything bad seems to be happening to Kelly Duren right now.

The high school footballer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duren, underwent knee surgery last week after a practice injury and is out for the season.

Monday night somebody stole his Honda motorcycle.

Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman told The Dispatch that the theft has been reported on the new High Plains loop of the Texas Law Enforcement Teletype System.

The cycle was taken Monday from in front of the Duren home at 118 Avenue K.

A second motorcycle, belonging to Kelly's younger brother, Kevin, also was taken but was found abandoned near the Fred Long Enco Service Station.

Rotary governor coming Tuesday

Rotarians will welcome Dr. T. Paige Carruth of Canyon, district Rotary governor, to Post at their weekly luncheon next Tuesday.

Carruth will address the Post club, one of the 47 in his district, and will confer with Silas Short, Post Rotary president, and with other club officials concerning the club's plans for service activities and offer suggestions on administrative matters.

A member and past president of the Canyon Rotary Club, Dr. Carruth is vice president for student affairs at West Texas State University.

Dr. Carruth is one of 321 Rotary governors throughout the world who are serving as representatives of Rotary International in districts composed of member clubs.

Rotary, an international men's service organization, has more than 701,000 members in some 24,821 clubs in 149 countries.

Well Baby Clinic sees 37 children

Thirty-seven children were taken to the Well Baby Clinic Wednesday night of last week, with 32 of them being immunized.

Dr. William C. Wilson and Dr. Charles G. Tubbs were at the clinic, along with registered nurses Ann Tubbs, Betty Strawn and Margaret Price.

Members of the Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce assisting at the clinic were Inez Hartel, Ramona Brockman, Edith Ramsey and Maxine Marks.

City budget—

Current ad valorem taxes are anticipated at $92,600 in the new budget as compared with a $101,455.70 figure for last year. Sales tax collections of $34,000 are anticipated in the new budget, whereas sales tax collections in the old budget were for only one quarter, amounting to $8,126.34.

Also at Monday night's meeting, the council approved the bid of the First National Bank as a depository for city funds for the next two years.

The council voted to erect "Stop for Pedestrian" crosswalk signs on both sides of the high school building instead of putting back up the four-way "stop" signs that were taken down at the end of the 1970-71 school term.

The former pupil coming the longest distance to attend the reunion was J. T. Ferguson and his wife of Long Beach, Calif. Mrs. O. A. Berdine and five of her children, Mrs. Starlon Yearry, E. H. Berdine, Mrs. Dick Pickett, B. O. Berdine and Miss Valdine Berdine, all of Weatherford, received the honor as the family with the most former pupils present.

The school year of 1916 was represented with the most pupils present with 19 attending.

To conclude the program, a "remember when" discussion was held with different ones present telling of some funny incident that happened at Graham.

Cookies and punch were served Sunday afternoon following the program.

Saturday night activities included an ice cream supper with approximately 20 freezers of homemade ice cream followed by a musical. Bo Creighton of Gail and H. C. Gribble and Talana presented several country-western musical numbers.

One hundred and fifty persons registered Saturday and 100 Sunday.

Dual producer is seen for Garza

Sun Oil Company will attempt to complete its S. M. Swenson & Sons No. 2 well next week as a dual producer from both the Ellenberger and Strawn formations, Bob Stricklin, drilling engineer for Sun told The Dispatch yesterday.

The well, an offset to the Ellenberger producer, S. M. Swenson & Sons No. 1, in the new Swenson-Garza Field, is located about 16 miles northeast of Post.

Six thousand feet of 37-gravity oil was recovered on a drillstem test of the Strawn from 7,340-7,350.

The first offset try was a dry hole, but Sun is moving ahead with plans to drill out the field and will spud in another test next week, Stricklin indicated.

Justice of peace is going back to school

Justice of the Peace Racy Robinson is "going back to school." He will get the first 20 hours of classroom work in Lubbock Sept. 27, 28, and 29, and will be scheduled for 20 more hours in February.

A law passed by the last legislature gives all justices of the peace one year to obtain 40 hours of instruction in their various legal duties.

Over 200 JPs are expected to attend the Lubbock session later this month. Schools also are being organized in other parts of the state. The justices get a mileage allowance for travel required.

George Washington laid the cornerstone of the national capitol.

City is dusted for mosquitoes

Because the dust is often in many people are unaware that Tuesday night of last week, Mayor Giles C. McCrary told the council at its regular September meeting Monday night.

Pete Maddox, superintendent of works for the city, supervised dusting, which "covered the streets" according to the mayor.

The mayor said the maintenance of the dust being used by city recommends spraying at intervals of three weeks, except in extreme cases.

The recent heavy rains have resulted in numerous complaints of mosquitoes.

Post Antelopes to open Friday night at Hale Center

Black and Gold's first tilt under new coaches

The Post Antelopes, their ranks depleted by injuries, will go to Hale Center Friday for an 8 p.m. game with the Class A Owls that will inaugurate another Texas cowboy football season.

The game will be the first for Antelopes under their new head coach, Bobby Davis, and his assistants, who are Joe Giddens, John Tannehill, Lane Tannehill and Don Stelzer.

The injury jinx continues to plague the Antelope squad, with former guard Kelly Duren the latest victim. Coach Davis said Duren underwent surgery over the knee injury suffered during practice and will be in a cast six weeks.

Early in the season, line man Stan Stelzer was lost to the team, also because of a knee injury that required surgery, and before last, Don Eilenberger, former tackle, was lost for three

Quarterback undergoes surgery on knee

Quarterback Johnson, halfback on the Antelope football team, underwent surgery at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock yesterday morning for a knee injury received in the game at Spur last Friday.

Johnson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, also suffered a knee injury in the leg.

After being injured, Johnson is carrying the brunt of the Post Antelope's running attack against the Spur junior varsity in the controlled scrimmage.

It was the third serious knee injury of the season suffered by the football players. Varsity line-backer Stan Stelzer and Kelly Duren have both undergone knee surgery after being injured in practice.

Booster Club is to meet Monday

The Antelope Booster Club will hold its first regular meeting of the football season at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 13, in the junior high school auditorium.

The program will include the playing of a film of Friday night's opening football game between Post and Petersburg.

All booster club members and other football fans are urged to attend the meeting, Ronald Simpson, club president, said.

weeks because of injuries received in a motorcycle accident.

The Hale Center Owls, who battled Post to a 12-12 tie in the 1970 season opener, are reported stronger this season and are counted on to give defending champion Petersburg a battle for the District 4A championship.

Coach Davis, who has scouted Hale Center in its two pre-season scrimmages, said the Owls have a good ball club with good size.

Hale Center returns eight offensive and six defensive starters among eight returning lettermen from last year's 2-7-1 squad. The Owls' long suits are said to be quickness and an improved attitude, although, like Post, they have a serious depth problem, both offensively and defensively.

Hale Center is pinning its hopes this year on Tom Palacios, a junior passing whiz who weighs 145 pounds. His coach, Marvin McSpadden, says Palacios "could be the best passer on the South Plains."

He has a good crop of receivers to throw to in ends Tim Massey, Gary Miller and Tom Morrison, all better than average pass snappers. "We will also throw with the backs out," Coach McSpadden said.

The Owls also have a respectable backs Randy Johnson, 155, a running game, powered by tailback Clifford Thompson, 185, and fullback Danny Nixon, a sophomore letterman who weighs 165.

The giant of the Hale Center squad is junior letterman Curtis Smith, a guard. Smith is listed at 215 pounds on the Hale Center roster, but the Post coach says he'll come nearer weighing 230 pounds.

Coach Davis predicts that the Post offense will click better in Friday night's game than it has in the pre-season scrimmages with Petersburg and Spur. He said the offense showed improvement in the Spur scrimmage over the previous week against Petersburg.

"Our passing has been on the mark most of the time, but our receivers have been dropping a lot of them," the coach said. He predicted that both the passing and improvement against the Owls is on Friday night.

On offense, Coach Davis said he will start either David Woods or John Johnson at quarterback. Woods has been slowed by a back injury since the start of practice, but is almost back at full speed now.

Johnny Minor is slated to start at left halfback, where sophomore David Conoly is also tabbed to see action. Kyle Josey will get the call at right halfback, and Robert Mindieta at fullback.

Randy Kennedy or Ricky Shepherd will start at left end and Roger Pace at right end. Kenny McKamie and Tommy Shumard will man the tackle posts, with Kim Owen at center. Either Jay Pollard or Jimmy Bertran will start at left guard, and Ronald Tyler at right guard.

Defensively, Mindieta will start at nose guard, with Shumard or Bertran and Tyler at the tackle positions. Minor will hold down one of the defensive end positions, with either Robert Torres or Rodney Compton at the other. Linebackers will be McKamie and Owen, with Tol Thomas also slated to see action. Shepherd and Kennedy will get the call at the defensive halfback positions, with Pace, Woods and Tony Rosas in the running for the starting safety posts.

The coaching staff won't be the only thing new for the opening game. The 'Lopes will also take the field in brand-new uniforms.

BARTON

The earliest record of the surname Barton in its present form dates back to the year 1281 when a Thomas de Barton was listed in the Yorkshire, England, tax rolls. Some 20 years earlier, a Richard de Barton (an earlier spelling of the name) was included in a list of London jurymen.

The name Barton evolved from the Anglo-Saxon "beretun," which meant "a barley field" or "a barley farm." The term "barton" is still used in the west of England for a barley farm.

Barton is the name of various places in England and was first acquired as a surname by one who lived at such a place or who came from there. The place a person lived or from where he came was the source of many of today's surnames.

Immigration records show that many Bartons came from the British Isles to America soon after settlement of this country began. One of these immigrants was Marmaduke Barton who came from Lancashire, England, in 1632 and settled in Essex County, Massachusetts. One of his descendants was Clara Barton, first president of the American Red Cross.

Elizabeth Barton was the name of a domestic servant at Aldington, Kent, England, who about the year 1525 became known as the 'Holy Maid of Kent.' The stories of her trances, and the marvels she had seen in them, made her famous, and several of the greatest men in the land visited her. But her prediction, when the great divorce case came on, that Henry VIII would die within a month if he married Anne Boleyn, brought her under the notice of Cranmer, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and she was executed at Tyburn for alleged treason.

Barton is the 378th commonest surname in the United States, with an estimated 64,500 persons by the name.

He has a good crop of receivers to throw to in ends Tim Massey, Gary Miller and Tom Morrison, all better than average pass snappers. "We will also throw with the backs out," Coach McSpadden said.

Farm electrification short course slated

A farm electrification short course for adult farmers will be held Sept. 20-23 under the sponsorship of the Post High School vocational agriculture department, according to Supt. Bill Shiver and E. A. Howard Jr., teacher of vocational agriculture.

The short course is being sponsored by the vocational agriculture department of the high school.

Cleve Walkup, farm electrification specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Agricultural Engineering at Texas A&M University, will do the instructing in the course. He holds a B. S. degree in industrial education and a M.Ed. degree in agricultural education.

The short course is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 20 in the vocational ag building. Other meetings in the series of four will be held Sept. 21-23. During the dates the short course is in progress, Walkup will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Howard.

Farmers interested in attending

The short course should write or call Supt. Shiver or Mr. Howard. An entry fee of $3 will be charged. Farm electrification short course certificates are to be presented to each farmer who attends all the training sessions.

Starting with a clean slate, The Dispatch's pigskin prognosticator helps usher in the 1971 football season with his predictions on the outcome of 14 high school games and one college game.

Each week, the forecaster (who didn't do so hot last season) will try to pick the winners of games involving high school districts 3AA and 4AA and the Texas Tech game. So, hold on to your seats.

POST at Hale Center. Just has to start off right.

BROWNFIELD at Slaton. This might well be the year of the Cubs.

New Deal at ROOSEVELT. Eagles are loaded.

KRESS at Idalou Kangaroos will hop past Wildcats.

Stanton at TAHOKA. Bulldogs likely to bite as well as bark this season.

FLOYDADA at Ralls. Whirlwind blows early.

Friendship at IOWA PARK. Who scheduled this one?

DENVER CITY at Seminole. Mustangs rarely get off on wrong foot.

Dimmitt at MULESHOE. Using heart instead of head.

Tulla at OLTON. Mustangs will brush off Hornets.

LITTLEFIELD at Crosbyton. Wildcats stronger this year.

Plains at MORTON. Indians will outduel Cowboys.

LEVELLAND at Lockney. Class AAA Lobos too much for Longhorns.

PETERSBURG at Abertathy. Shaky about this one.

FRIONA at Farwell. Even shaker about this one.

TEXAS TECH at Tulane. Not as close as last year. (Capital letters indicate winners.)

It's the Law...

BARBS FROM THE BENCH

On trial for burglary, the defendant was trying to explain why he had been observed near the scene of the crime at three o'clock in the morning. But the judge was skeptical.

"Honest people," he said caustically, "are in bed at three o'clock in the morning."

Was the judge's remark prejudicial? Indeed it was, ruled an appellate court, granting the defendant a new trial. The court said the judge had no right, even by wisecrack, to blacken the defendant's reputation.

The appellate court was concerned not about the feelings of the defendant but about the minds of the jurors.

"The jury," said one expert, "can be easily influenced by the slightest suggestion from the (trial judge), whether it be a nod of the head, a smile, a frown, or a spoken word. It is imperative that (he) conduct himself with utmost caution in order that the unusual power he possesses shall not be abused."

Unfortunately, a new trial is costly in both time and money. Accordingly, even if a judge has said something to disparage the defendant, the appellate court will usually overlook it if there seems to be no great harm done. Often a judge who realizes his mistake can "take the sting out" of what he said by instructing the jury to ignore it.

Nor is a judge expected to be superhuman. In the heat of a trial, he may understandably show flashes of nonjudicial emotion.

In one case, while the judge was talking with a lawyer, the defendant kept interrupting. Finally the judge burst out:

"Please keep quiet. I don't like it. You are here to answer questions. If there is any more of that kind of talk, you will be in jail for contempt of court."

But this time, an appellate court found no grounds for a new trial. The court said that, even though the judge should not have lost his temper, he could be excused for a natural reaction to a stressful situation.

The United States Supreme Court once summarized the matter as follows:

"A defendant is entitled to a fair trial but not a perfect one."

Magazine salutes champion cowboy

NEW YORK — Who is the "Best Cowboy in the World?" According to an article in the September Reader's Digest he is the 37-year-old Larry Mahan, who in eight years as a professional rodeo cowboy has won the "All-Around" championship an unprecedented seven times in a row, won the world's title in bull-riding twice, been runner-up in saddle bronc riding, ranked fourth nationally three times in bareback bronc riding.

Mahan's bone-busting achievements have helped him earn more than $300,000 since he first qualified as a professional in 1963. This, says author James Stewart-Gordon, "represents more money, more quickly, than any other contestant in the 124-year history of cowboy rodeoing."

Larry's riding career began just the family farm near Salem, Ore. "He climbed from a kitchen stool three years after he was born, on to the back of a cow, went sailing off the other side, remounted, and was rescued just in time by his father," according to the article.

His official rodeo debut wasn't much more distinguished. In 1961 at the age of 17 he entered a bull-riding event at the Stockton, Calif., rodeo. "His debut was brief and vicious. A buck, a twist, a bounce — and as Larry lay in the dust, the 1500-pound bull planted a hoof on his jaw, shattering it in four places."

But he recovered, and has gone on to unparalleled success in the ring. In the process, says the article, he's also helped bring new popularity to "the rootin' tootin' world of rodeo." Once confined to the cattle-raising regions of the country, rodeo has spread throughout North America. Today it plays to 12 million spectators during its 11½-month season. Last year, in the United States and Canada, 3,400 licensed rodeo cowboys competed for $4.1 million in prize money in more than 500 rodeos approved by the Rodeo Cowboy Association.

This rodeo has come from cowboy country competition to be recognized as a true athletic contest. In 1970 Larry Mahan was cited by the Oregon Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association as the Professional Athlete of the Year — "A first for a rodeo cowboy."

In his acceptance speech he told the sportswriters, "You gentlemen have recognized rodeo as a sport."

Today Larry Mahan, his wife Darlene and their two children live in Frisco, Tex. Asked what he thought was his biggest break in life, the champion cowboy said:
