Program on paper sculpture given at Art Guild meeting

Polly Cravy presented a program on paper sculpture at the regular meeting of the Art Guild Monday night. Mrs. Cravy showed how to do the finished paper mache Christmas angels. She also demonstrated making with the use of paper mache and other materials. Another interesting program was a paper mache show when finished, applied to be bronzed. The business session, the meeting art exhibits at Abilene were announced and a desire to send entries to receive complete details from Mrs. Cravy.

Post girls attend FHA workshop

"Communication in Leadership" was the topic of the workshop held at Texas Tech University June 16-18 for officers in Future Homemakers of America, with Dr. Hardy Clemons, pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Lubbock, as guest speaker. FHA officers attending from Post High School were Wanda Heintz, Lanita Justice, Judy Heintz, Janet Childs, Carol Compton, Wynette Byrd, Crystal Nichols and Donna McBride. Other speakers for the workshop were Bill Scott, president of the state vice-president of FHA and a Texas Tech University Students' Association, and Vickie Davis, past sophomore at Tech.

New Arrivals

Dr. and Mrs. James M. Minor of Dallas announce the birth of a daughter, Leslie Dawn, weighing 7 lbs., 9 ozs., on June 27. The new arrival's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James L. Minor of Post and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hattox of Bellaire.

SOUTHLAND NEWS
Crops look good, but more rain is needed

By TOMMIE WILKE
Hello, dear readers. Well, another week has gone by, and wasn't it a beauty? Crops are still looking good and most of the farmers are wanting a little more rain now.

We extend our deepest sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell and family on the loss of Mrs. Pennell's uncle, Jerry Willis Goolsby, who passed away at Highland Hospital Tuesday of last week. His funeral was Thursday in the Sanders Memorial Chapel in Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Pennell attended the funeral. Mr. Goolsby was 78 years old at the time of his death. May God's comfort be with this family in their time of sorrow.

E. L. Dunn from Dallas spent this past weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunn. Mrs. J. E. Day of Slaton Rest Home also was here during the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Boatman from Toyah spent several days here.

Saturday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vernon from Lubbock. Sunday guests were Mrs. Margaret Fox from Idalou, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Fox and son and Mrs. Tince Barron from Lubbock. Several other Fox relatives also visited with the Ellises.

Here is a great big belated happy birthday to Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis, who both celebrated their birthdays last week. Mr. Ellis is 90 years young. I went over and ate birthday cake with them and enjoyed my visit very much. They are both such warm, friendly people and Mrs. Ellis is always doing something nice for her neighbors. She always has a garden in the summer and she shares it with all of us.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gindorf II on birth of twins on June 24. A boy and a girl! I know they must be way up on top of cloud nine! The Gindorfs have three girls and Chris has always wanted a boy, so now they have a boy and another girl. May God continue to be with this great little family in their joy.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell attended the Goolsby Annual Reunion which was held this past Sunday in Wichita Falls. Approximately 40 attended. Kendon, Amanda and Jenny Wheeler are attending the Methodist Church Camp, Camp Butman, this week. They left Monday and will be home Friday. Happy birthday to you happy

HOSPITAL NEWS

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cederholm, Mr. and Mrs. Arville Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pennell of Southland, and Albert Howard attended the funeral of their uncle, Jerry W. Goolsby, in Lubbock last Thursday. Goolsby was a retired carpenter and contractor, and had been a Lubbock resident for 37 years.

Received a note from Mrs. Mary McKee last week and she said to tell everyone hello and that she will be coming home soon. She is visiting with her daughter in Roundup, Montana.
"A smile is a curve that can set a lot of things straight." So long until next week.

VISIT IN EULESS
Mrs. Ben Ault, Beth and Amy, visited last week in Eules, Tex., in the home of her son, John Ault and family. The group went sailing, visited the Fort Worth Zoo, and Six Flags Over Texas. They returned home last Thursday.

MONDAY GUESTS
Visiting Monday in the home of Mrs. Vera Gossett and Sonny were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Berkley, Daphne Berkley, and Rhonda and Tyra Biggs, all of Slaton.

OUT-OF-TOWN VISITORS
Visiting over the weekend with Mrs. Ethel Redman, the Bobby Cowdreys, and Jimmie Redman were Mrs. Dan Berry, Mrs. Philip Berry, both of Eunice, N.M., and Mrs. Hubert Cook of Levelland.

Library LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER
Wednesday, June 23rd, the Public Library celebrated its birthday. As luck would have it, we closed for the day! We were being closed, the celebration getting fresh paint—symbol, reminding us we had five years of hard use and painting necessary and we seem like a promising new years to come.

Rosemary Chapman deserves a paragraph all her own for she dedicated time and effort far beyond the call of duty. Since I stepped into her shoes I have come to appreciate more and more the incredible work she did. Processing books is, in itself, a staggering job. Add on to that the cataloging and the shelving, the statistics and general oversight of the volunteers, the her accomplishments become staggering.

One group of volunteers that don't get enough mention are the faithful members of the library board. Jim Cornish, as chairman, has put heart into this project. He's given us news coverage such as a few public libraries ever enjoy. His fellow board members, Ruth Young, Pee Wee Pierce, Patty Kirkpatrick and Rosemary Chapman (to name the present incumbents) show zeal, foresight and common sense in giving direction and vision to the library.

As for the regular staff, it would take two columns to name them all. Right now we have a list of more than 35 people who help us, and if we added those who have helped in the past, the number would be closer to 50. Numbers alone don't make success. We've had quality and dedication in our staff, and that adds up to make a library that is the marvel of West Texas.

That's quite a boast, but it doesn't — and mustn't — stop there, it also is a promise. It's a promise that what began so well is going to continue. The Board must soon decide about the future. In two years we want to complete the library. By that time, with our building program finished, we will have grown to 10,000 volumes — that magic number that identifies us as a real public library (at least in the minds of the professionals!).

And by then, I hope I'll be able to retire and make way for a real librarian. It took God seven days to create the world and take a rest. Seven years creating a public library sounds about right, by comparison.

Visitors honored at family get-together

A family get-together at the City-County Park Sunday honored the oldest son in the Hays family, James Hays. Mrs. Hays and their daughter, Marilyn of Anaheim, Calif.

About 40 relatives and guests attended. Of the 12 Hays children, nine were present with their families. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Anthony and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hays and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hays and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hays and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hays and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Hays of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shields of Lubbock, Clyde Cash, and Mrs. Jim Hays and Don.

Post family attends reunion in Idaho

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard L. Smith and JoDell recently attended a family reunion at which all five of their children and six grandchildren were present. Those attending were CPO and Mrs. Howard L. Smith Jr. and family of Fallon, Nev., Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sagvold and children of West Fargo, N.D., Rev. and Mrs. Allard Smith and Holly of Mountain Home, Ida., and Mr. and Mrs. Gaylynn Smith and Jason of Pierre, S.D.

ALBUQUERQUE VISITORS

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rains over the weekend were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lueder, Jan and Kim of Albuquerque, N.M. Mrs. Lueder is better remembered here as Jimmie Ruth Rains. She is now principal of Armijo Elementary School in Albuquerque, and is working this summer with the Southwestern Cooperative Educational Laboratory writing an education administrator's manual for the initiation of innovative programs. Mr. Lueder is in real estate and motion picture production.

VISIT AUNT HERE

The Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Stephens of Amarillo recently visited with their aunt, Mrs. Jim Hays, on their way to the West Coast. Rev. Stephens is formerly the pastor of the First Methodist Church.

SUNDAY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Stevens, Stephanie and Gregory, of Fort Worth, visited Sunday in the home of their aunt, Mrs. Tillman Jones. He is an engineer at General Dynamics.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning in Los Angeles, Calif., for Gary Nichols, nephew of Lester Nichols, who died in the recent water line explosion in Los Angeles.

In the meantime, there are two years to go. We've a lot to boast about at our fifth birthday, but let's not forget there's still plenty of work to be done!

Shower is held for bride-elect

Miss Betty Kuwaski, bride-elect of Ricky Little, was honored with a bridal shower Thursday, June 24, at the bank Community Room.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and white were used in decorations of daisies. The hostess gift was a steam iron.

Approximately 60 guests were registered by Mrs. Tim Mitchell between 3:30 and 5 p.m.

Hostesses were Mrs. Giles Dalby, Liz Dalby, Mrs. Johnnie Pennell and Mrs. Charles Williams Jr.

Club members sew, visit at meeting

Mrs. Edna McLendon was hostess to the Mystic Sewing Club last Friday at 3 p.m. in her home. Following a business meeting, the afternoon was spent sewing and visiting.

Refreshments were served to Mae Shipley, Nell Windham, Jimmie Hudman, Winnie Henderson, Alylene Runkles, Katherine Rankin and Maudie Hankins.

Bride-elect is honored at luncheon Saturday

The Lubbock Country Club was the scene of a bridal luncheon Saturday honoring Miss Liz Dalby, the bride-elect of Dwayne Gannon, with Mrs. Bryan Williams and Mrs. Shelley Camp as hostesses.

Blue and white daisies were used in decorations. The hostess gift was a silver pitcher. About 18 guests registered.

LITTLEFIELD VISITORS

Mrs. Janie Stanaford and son of Littlefield spent last weekend with her mother, Mrs. Vera Gossett and Sonny.

THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1971

Three big cheers for the Fourth!

As Independence Day 1971 approaches, it is well to recall that the Fourth of July means more than shooting off a few fireworks. It marks the point nearly two centuries ago when the United States began to shape its destiny as an independent nation.

This year, as we commemorate independence, many are asking whether we are worthy of the freedom we have enjoyed all these years, thanks to the fortitude and purposefulness of our forefathers. To them, independence meant building a strong nation where individual freedom under law, the right of property and other basic liberties could thrive and grow. They applied their independence to these purposes with fruitful results.

If the nation is now drifting and divided, there can be but one reason. The premises upon which independence was won have been weakened. Some are ashamed of the strength of our nation. Others question its laws, its economic system and the institution under which it has become strong. They use the independence granted to them nearly 200 years ago to turn the nation away from the principles on which it was founded and upon which it depends for its continued existence.

Those who are grateful for the opportunities and freedom this country has given them should stand up and be counted on Independence Day this year.

Nation's consumers endangered

It is impossible to accurately assess the damage that will be done to agriculture and to agricultural economies if the House-passed $20,000 limitation on cotton, wheat and feed grain payments under the 1972 farm program carries through the Senate and becomes law. But it is safe to say that the effects will be many times more severe than have been the effects under the $55,000 limitation that was applicable to 1971 program payments.

It is to be hoped that wisdom will prevail later and reverse these decisions, which represent a vote-catching action on the part of members of Congress from urban districts. It's a popular thing to be against "subsidies" for farmers and to favor labor in many congressional districts.

In fact, though, those who would suffer most from action which reduced farm incomes and production would be consumers. This is because about three fourths of our food and fiber comes from a handful of farmers — 600,000 who each sells more than $20,000 worth of products yearly. These are the same producers who would be hit by the proposed ceiling on federal payments to control production.

Farmers suffered some adverse effects this year under the $55,000 limit. But by means of

It is also well, as we give three cheers for the Fourth, to remember that our freedom did not come easy. Thousands of our founding fathers fought and died for it. People who sit back smugly and say nothing was accomplished by the wars in which this nation has been engaged, or that we could have had freedom without fighting for it, are out of touch with reality and are bereft of a sense of history.

We must preserve our patriotism and our independence in a hostile world, if the free world itself is to keep its freedom. If we do keep our freedom, it will gradually spread behind the Iron Curtains of the non-free world.

The revival of interest in Fourth of July celebrations such as the one to be held here Saturday is an indication that we, as a nation, are re-awakening to the spirit that fired our forefathers to gain their independence and struggle to maintain it.

For many years, it appeared that we had forgotten the meaning of Independence Day . . . that we looked on it as just another holiday without any cause for special celebration. That indifference is dying out, however, in the face of internal threats to our nation's independence, and the glorious Fourth of July has made a comeback here and in hundreds of other communities throughout the land.—CD forming partnerships and corporations and by allotment leasing most large farmers were able to adjust their operations to fit the new limitations without too great a financial loss and with no great effect on volume of production.

The situation will be different if the limit is dropped to $20,000. Nationwide the limitation this year, at $55,000, affected 93 feed grain farmers, 50 wheat farmers and 1,200 cotton farmers, based on 1970 payments under the three programs. Still using 1970 payments as the basis, dropping the limit to $20,000 per crop in 1972 would disrupt the operations of 570 feed grain farmers, 196 wheat farmers, and 7,753 cotton farmers.

So in the case of cotton it can be seen that a 63.6 per cent drop in the level of the payment limitation, from $55,000 to $20,000, will result in an increase of over 500 per cent in the number of farmers affected. And while 1,200 cotton farmers across the cotton belt in 1971 may have found it reasonably easy, though painful, to re-structure their operations or lease out a part of their cotton allotments, the adjustment will not be so simple for 7,753 cotton farmers.

More than 200 million Americans who are dependent on those farmers for food and clothing would do well to think this over. So would those who represent them in Congress.—CD

TODAY IS THURSDAY, July 1, which means we have finished the first half of 1971 and are heading into the second half.

Fiscally speaking, July 1 is the first day of a new year for some branches of government and for many business firms.

I HAVE OFTEN wondered if July 1 wouldn't be a better time to celebrate New Year's Day than Jan. 1, but am beginning to have my doubts. In fact, after thinking it over, I am of the opinion that New Year's Day should be left where it is — on Jan. 1.

Just suppose July 1 were New Year's Day and many of us here in Texas were to wake up not only with a "big head" after a night of celebration, but also with a number of tax increases staring us in the face. It isn't a cheerful thought, is it?

TODAY, JULY 1, is "go up day" for the general sales tax, motor vehicle sales tax, cigarette tax, beer tax, liquor tax, and no telling what other taxes. We have the State Legislature to thank for all these tax raises, and I suppose we also should be grateful that they DIDN'T change New Year's Day to July 1.

The man up the street says one reason computers can do more work than humans is that they never have to stop to answer the phone.

THE SOIL Conservation Service has an ad on TV Channel 2 which shows the Leaning Tower of Pisa and carries the advice, "Know Your Soil Before You Build." That set me to wondering if the soil actually was responsible for the leaning of the tower, so I looked it up.

Yep, the Soil Conservation Service is as right as rain. The Leaning Tower of Pisa leans because it was built on soft, moist earth without an adequate base or foundation for its weight. Construction of the tower was started in 1174 and completed in 1350.

THE GROUND beneath the tower started to sink after the first three stories were built. The tower began to lean and kept on leaning until it was 16½ feet out of line. It has tipped one foot during the last 100 years. In 1928, the Italian government gave the tower a firmer foundation by forcing cement into the soil under and around it.

I hope Bailey Mayo and the other fellows at the SCS office forgive me for questioning the credibility of the TV commercial, but you see so many things misrepresented on the boob tube that you don't know what to and what not to believe.

WHILE THE WIFE and I were on our vacation last week, I saw a fellow at an airport carrying a long pole with him. By asking a question or two, I found out the pole he was carrying was a vaulting pole and that he was on his way to a summer track meet.

I also learned that traveling with a pole is about as tough on the pole vaulter as getting over the bar. The vaulter carries the pole across his shoulders, and the other travelers in the airport give him a wide berth. The pole actually terrifies some travelers, who apparently think the fellow carrying it is hunting for something.

OUTSIDE THE airport, it's impossible to stop a taxi driver if he sees the pole, and since they can't be handled in a hotel very well, the vaulter always goes to a motel with his pole.

So, you see, everybody has problems.

IT GOT HERE a little late for the rash of June weddings, but Guidepost magazine has furnished us with an appropriate prayer for the bride and groom:

"May God send you enough joy to keep your hearts singing, enough sorrow to make you understanding, enough trials to keep you strong, enough leisure to refresh your spirits, enough love to make the world seem beautiful."

Post office here sets open house

The inauguration of the new United States Postal Service today (Thursday) will be celebrated in Post as well as in Washington, D. C., and every post office across the country.

Postmaster A. J. McAlister has announced that the post office here is holding an open house today and is inviting all of the local postal patrons to visit the local post office and meet the men who comprise the new U. S. Postal Service.

Visitors to the post office will be given a souvenir envelope imprinted with the old and new insignia of the Postal Service. The envelope will also be made available in limited numbers as a first day cancellation — for just the cost of an eight cent stamp.

This will be the first time First Day Covers have been available in all U. S. Post offices simultaneously. The brand new stamp bears the new U. S. Postal service emblem, and will be given out as long as they last.

A booklet describing the new service and how it works will be available on request, and big, bright, colorful posters made up of blowups of famous stamps will be available to the public on order.

The underlying theme of all this is, "Come in and get to know the people of the new United States Postal Service. Help us to do a better job for you," to reaffirm the traditional relationship between the post office and the community.

PERKINS

The suffix "kin" in such surnames as Perkins, Hankins, Hawkins, etc., has nothing to do with kinship. Flemish in origin, it was a suffix used to form diminutives of the more common personal names.

Pier was a pet form of the popular personal name Peter and with the addition of the suffix "kin" it became Pierkin and later Perkin, with the genitive "s" being added to denote "son of Perkin."

In the United Kingdom, the name is confined mostly to the southern half of England and South Wales and is, in fact, considered a Welsh surname.

The suffix "kin" used to form Perkins was also spelled "kyn", and the first of the name on record was a Walter Perkyns, whose name was listed on the Subsidy Rolls for Worcestershire County, England, in 1327.

The first of the name in America is believed to have been a John Perkins who emigrated to Boston, Mass., in 1631, and later settled at Ipswich.

Today, Perkins is the 184th commonest surname in the United States, according to Social Security figures, with an estimated 120,000 persons by the name.

Jacob Perkins, born in Massachusetts in 1766, made himself known by a variety of useful inventions, including a plan for engraving bank notes that made counterfeiting difficult. His son, Angier March Perkins, was also an inventor, and devised a system of warming buildings by means of high-pressure steam. His "Perkins oven," a system in which the

July Fourth

- "And the Star Spangled Banner, oh, long may it wave." On the Fourth of July, it's heartening to see our flag flying proudly before home after home. Show your colors . . . on Independence Day, display the Red, White and Blue symbol of our nation's heritage.
- Most of all, that heritage is freedom. Through the days and the years since July 4, 1776, there have been times of struggle and sorrow, of danger and difficulty, but through even the darkest hours the bright light of freedom . . . symbolized by our flag . . . has sustained us and led us onward to rich and abundant blessings.
- This Fourth of July, say a prayer of thanks for priceless freedom . . . honor the flag and all it stands for . . . show your colors.

Community couple host neighbors at barbecue

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
 Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stone and family of San Antonio are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stone and other relatives.
 Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Maxey and family of El Paso have spent part of their vacation here with his parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox, and brothers, Bill and Don Cox and their families. Her parents came home with them for a visit.
 Mr. and Mrs. Eivus Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Mason McClellan were among those attending the football game in Lubbock Saturday night.
 Beth Brown, Michele Mason, Janet, Jimmy and Jayta Ticer visited Thursday morning with Roxanne and Patti McClellan.
 Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones, Dorinda and friend were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cowdrey and Brenda King.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams and daughters visited last Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie G. Peel and family.
 Mrs. Jean Green and three children of Stratford recently visited with Mrs. Lonnie G. Peel and children. Mrs. Green was in high school with Mrs. Peel.
 Saturday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gregg were Mr. and Mrs. Goldsmith Davis, Mrs. Glenn Davis, and granddaughter, Patricia Davis.
 Roxanne McClellan celebrated her fourth birthday last Tuesday afternoon with a party. Sixteen attended.
 Mrs. Ada Oden visited in Lubbock Friday afternoon with Mrs. Hershel Oden.
 Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gossett visited Sunday afternoon and night in Matador with their son, Douglas Gossett and family. He is Methodist minister there after having been minister in Amherst. They returned home Monday by Peters-about four miles north of Post. During their relaxed leisure after lunch they failed to heed the warning signs of a cloud in the west until too late. When the first sprinkles fell they snatched up their children and picnic paraphernalia and made a dash for their horse-drawn vehicles of various types.

 As they all got strung out on the two-rut "highway," the horses night guests. They returned home Sunday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Gus Clark of Littlefield spent Saturday with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Cowdrey.
 Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ray and Spade visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Ada Oden.
 Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gossett have been Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Ritchie and Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMahon and Beth.
 We extend sympathy to the A. L. Norman family of Grassland. Their son-in-law, who was accidentally killed in Dallas, was brought to Grassland Monday for burial. We are sorry we haven't learned his name.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mason were host for a barbecue last Thursday evening. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Alton James, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Dean James and daughter, Mrs. Beulah James, all of Lubbock, Mrs. L. E. McDonald and children of Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Dabbs of Post, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluit and grandchildren, Belinda and Russell.

caught the spirit of the excitement and it was difficult to distinguish between the runaways and the others. Free fireworks were provided by the elements in a spectacular display as lightning flashed and thunder roared, adding to the panic.
 As George (Scotty) Samson tells it, the swift high water came down so suddenly that some picnickers were caught on the wrong side of the river and had to stay through the night until the water receded enough the next morning for crossing. Scotty said that they all eventually got home safely, but they were thoroughly drenched. It was a regular cloudburst, but a good time was had by all.
 One of the features that made Post famous was the beautiful Two Draw Lake that was developed later. It had been improved for an ideal recreational spot, and it was here that county picnics and July 4th celebrations were held until recent years.
 Those who attended the July 4th picnic in 1924 at Two Draw have good reason to remember it. A norther had hit the night before with some snow in the Panhandle and the day was frigid. It was real overcoat weather one pioneer said when talking about it recently. The tradition was carried on in spite of the weather.
 There have been many changes over the years and the picture is different in many aspects, but the basic elements of festivity and patriotism are as alive today as in 1907 when Post's first July 4th was celebrated.

 Co., and in 1924 began contracting plumbing and windmill jobs for himself.
 He helped lay the pipe when gas was piped here in 1928 by the West Texas Gas Co., and went to work for the company as local manager in 1945.
 He helped organize the Post Volunteer Fire Department and was a member for 37 years. He was active in civic affairs having been a member of both the Lions and Rotary clubs. He was a member of the Post Masonic Lodge, and had been a Baptist since boyhood.
 Survivors include his wife, Gladys; four sons, W. L. Wood Jr., of Satellite Beach, Fla., Charles W. Wood and Harry E. Wood, both of Odessa, and Bobby Dean Wood of Lubbock; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Frances Justice of Lubbock; one brother, E. J. Wood of Fort Worth; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.
 The Rev. Robert Griffin, First Baptist pastor, officiated at the funeral services.
 Burial, under the direction of Mason Funeral Home, was in Terrace Cemetery where Masonic graveside rites were held.

VISITOR FROM JAYTON
 Jane Harrison of Jayton spent last week here visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Edna Teaff, and son, Harold.

Postings —

 with three new businesses in one week — but it has this week — plus a new young doctor. Postings doffs its columnar hat to all three firms with the hope that you prosper and that you remember: "Dispatch advertising doesn't cost — it pays."
 First of the three is the new Prescription Shop, which will be operated by Jim Wells in the Wilson Medical and Surgical clinic at 318 West 8th. He and Bob Collier, as owners, are opening the pharmacy today and invite you to stop in and see the new facilities. You will find their announcement ad on page 2.
 The other two new businesses are drive-in restaurants.
 On page 7 you'll find the announcement of Lewis and Mary Nell Holly that they have purchased the Shedd Drive-in business, renamed it Holly's Drive In, and are reopening it today at 615 S. Broadway. The Hollys recently moved back to Post from California and with their new enterprise to manage are sure to be more than busy from now on.
 On page 9 you'll find the third announcement ad — that the Dairy Hart at 412 North Broadway is being reopened under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sanchez with their menu to include home-made Mexican food.

 We also want to welcome home and into medical practice here Dr. Charles Tubbs, who effective today is associated with his father, Dr. Harry Tubbs, at the Medical Center in general practice.
 We raise our own. Welcome but two Post young men, who grew up here, to return to their hometown to practice medicine.
 Most smaller towns face a bleak future in obtaining doctors, but not Post.
 They raise their own. Welcome home, Spike!

Keep It Clean!
 By Bernard S. Ramsey

A couple of Christmases ago my wife gave me one of those fancy pole fixtures with all sorts of additional shelves and cabinets for my bathroom. On the outside of the package, she wrote three words, which have stuck in my mind and could be applicable to a lot of things. She wrote: "KEEP IT CLEAN!" You can be sure I got the subtle hint.

I think that it is a very appropriate word for our community—"KEEP IT CLEAN." It is quite apparent that many of our civic-minded citizens have been very diligent in promoting, supervising, as well as working, toward making our community a cleaner, neater, more attractive place to live. They deserve a lot of credit for what has been accomplished.

To be sure there are still a few unclean pockets, yards, lots, here and there which still need the attention of their owners, but most of the yards, lots and lawns are more attractive than they've been in quite a few years. So now, the word is: "KEEP IT CLEAN!"

However, there are other areas of our community and our lives which could use a good cleaning. It doesn't really amount to much if the "outside" of our city is clean, if the "inside" is neglected. Physical cleanliness is good... important, but moral and spiritual cleansing is more important.

King David stricken in conscience because of a great prayer any person can—and should—pray every day. The laity of our community (both men and women) have been working diligently for some months now to provide every citizen of Post and Garza County a very special opportunity to do some cleaning up of their moral and spiritual lives... to get "a clean heart... a new right spirit." This is a lay project, but we want the people to know that we ministers wholeheartedly endorse and support the Garza County Crusade for Christ, to be held the week of July 19th-25th. To this end, we urge every person in Garza County to join our prayers for an extraordinary spiritual experience during this week and to make plans to be there: to clean "it" up... and then... keep it clean!
