Filings develop contests in two April elections

Candidates for school, council

Contests in both the city and school trustee elections April 3 were assured with late candidate filings this week, prior to the Wednesday night deadline.

E. R? (Buster) Moreland and J. D. Windham filed Monday and Ed Sawyers and Ed Blanton Wednesday, as candidates for the city council. Filing earlier for re-election were Councilmen Mike Mitchell, Donald Windham and Lester Nichols.

For the first time in at least 15 years, there is no contest in the race for city mayor. Giles C. McCrary, who filed last week for re-election to a second two-year term, is running unopposed.

Jimmy Moore, who lives north of town, filed Wednesday as a candidate for Place 6 on the board of trustees for the Post Independent School District. Filing earlier were incumbents A. C. Cash for Place 4, K. W. Kirkpatrick for Place 5, and Silas Short for Place 6.

Also scheduled for April 3 is the election of two board members to the Garza County Hospital District, for which the filing deadline does not close until March 9, according to Hospital Administrator Donald Winham.

Hospital board members whose terms are expiring are Sexton Huntley and Charlie Brown.

The hospital board election was held for the first time in April of 1970, at which time Sexton and Brown, the two board members receiving the least number of votes, were designated for one-year terms and the other three for two-year terms.

Candidates for the hospital board are required to file with the board secretary George Pierce, Windham said.

Moreland, one of the new candidates for the city council, is managed of the George R. Brown oil operations here. J. D. Windham is owner of the Texas Cafe. Sawyers is owner of the TV-Appliance Center, and Blanton owns the Corner Barber Shop.

The only contest in the school trustees election pits Jimmy Moore a rancher, against Silas Short, owner of Short Hardware Co. Short was recently appointed to Place 6 on the board to succeed Don Tatum.

Rafael Rios has filed unopposed for re-election to the Justiceburg school board, but no candidates have filed for the other position on the board now held by Don Robinson.

27 blocks now included in project

Monday, March 22, was set by the city council Monday night as the date for opening bids on approximately 27 blocks of street paving to be done this summer.

The city will pay all the paving costs on the 27 blocks with the property owner paying only for curb and gutters on blocks where curb and gutters are included.

The council voted to advertise for bids and set the bid opening date after City Engineer Ralph Douglas told them at their regular March meeting Monday night that the plans and specifications on the paving project "are all prepared."

The 27-block paving project is the one the city council promised the citizens of Post in return for approval of the city sales tax.

The paving will include blocks on Avenue S, West Third Street, East Fifth Street, Oak Street and Pine Street and at Terrace Cemetery.

The paving on Avenue S will be strip paving (no curb and gutters) from U. S. Hwy. 84 to 15th Street, and paving with curb and gutters from 14th Street to near 11th Street.

The West Third Street paving will be strip paving for two blocks, from Avenue M to Avenue K and curb-to-gutter paving from Avenue K to Broadway.

The East Fifth Street job will be two and a half blocks of strip paving from North Avenue H to Avenue F.

Four blocks on the Oak Street loop, from Avenue F to Pine Street, will be strip paving, as will the approximately four blocks on Fox Street from the Postex Plant parking lot to U. S. Hwy. 380. The work at the cemetery will include approximately 2,640 feet of strip paving.

If other blocks are "worked up" to be included in the paving project, they will be paved at a cost of 40 per cent to the city and 60 per cent to the property owner, with the property owner also paying the curb and gutter costs.

The council voted to offer fire-fighting assistance to Borden County at a charge of $50 a fire plus the cost of firemen at $2.50 per hour, and not to send more than one truck to a fire. Borden County which does not have a fire department within its boundaries, had requested information on fire-fighting assistance and rates.

After learning that the city had lost more than a year's rent on its old water department rent house at Close City, the council voted to change the rental charge on the house to a flat $30 per month.

The previous agreement was to rent the house at $30 a month with the city also furnishing the water well on the property and maintaining the well. After "sinking" $410 into a water well breakdown on the

All adults and youth in the county are invited to attend. (See County Fair, page 8)

Snowfall leaves little moisture

With only .03 of an inch of moisture measured from Tuesday's snowfall, the Garza County area was much less fortunate in that respect than areas far to the north on the South Plains and in the Panhandle.

A warming trend began Wednesday afternoon after frigid temperatures had held the Post area in an icy grip Tuesday and until late Wednesday morning.

Roads and streets were iced over here much of Tuesday, but no serious accidents were reported besides

VFW MEMBERS DISPLAY HOSPITAL GIFTS

Members of VFW Post 6797 and its Auxiliary display a variety of the many gifts taken to the "hospital party" last Thursday night at the VA Hospital in Big Spring, where the local post was "party host." Standing in front of a table

VFW post hosts 'hospital party'

Members of Post 6797 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars were hosts last Thursday from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. to 80 patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring. The local VFW and Auxiliary members were accompanied by the District 7 chairman and his wife from Slaton and by two other guests.

Assorted gifts valued at over $100, a cash gift of $22, books valued at $208, and approximately $20 worth of refreshments helped make the party for the veterans an "overwhelming success," members of the local post said.

The gifts, many of them handmade, had been collected over a period of several weeks by VFW and Auxiliary members. The gifts included flower arrangements, stuffed pillows, lap sheets, scuffs, jigsaw puzzles, playing cards, toothpaste, lotion, colognes, stationery, pencils, books, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cheshire, VA hospital party chairmen for the local post, said the veterans "really enjoyed" the party given in their honor.

Those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Cheshire, District

Shooting results in leg wound

The sheriff's office is continuing an investigation this week into a shooting here late last Thursday night that left Floyd Moreau, about 21, with a bullet wound in his left leg.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Pippin took Moreau to Garza Memorial Hospital, where he was dismissed after receiving treatment. The bullet penetrated Moreau's leg, but did not strike a bone, the officer said.

Pippin said Barbara Fay Slay made a statement following the shooting and that she took a .25 caliber automatic pistol from her. No charges have been filed, Pippin said Wednesday.

The shooting occurred at a house in the 800 block of Pine Street.

Garza total told Rotarians

County farmers will receive an estimated $1,734,143 in payments from the county office here during 1971, Mrs. Hartel, off ice manager, told Rotarians in a luncheon Tuesday on the 1971 farm day.

Despite reduced payments on parts of the new program, Hartel said farmers are expected to receive $1,636,140 for feed grain, $3,000 for seed, and $38,000 for the new program, Rural Environmental Assistance Program, which replaces the ACP program, according to the Rural Environmental Assistance program, Mrs. Hartel said many of the same practices remain in the new program but that payments on some practices have been reduced from 50 to 30 per cent of the cost of carrying out the practices.

"The farmer is caught in a cost price squeeze that has decreased his margin of profit to an all-time low," Mrs. Hartel said.

She said the decrease in cash payments and loan price will mean that the farmer receives 16.75 per cent less for his cotton in 1971. Also the farmer's feed grain payments have been reduced 50 per cent.

Murder sentence probated Monday in District Court

A woman pleaded guilty to murder in the Garza County District Court here Monday and was given a probated prison sentence by District Judge George Hansard.

Rosie Jean McCullough, charged with murder with malice in the pistol slaying of Henry Price here April 25, 1970, pleaded guilty to murder without malice after the state agreed to reduce the charge from murder with malice to murder without malice.

Judge Hansard sentenced her to five years in the penitentiary and then probated her sentence.

Judge Hansard also handed out probated prison terms on two other pleas of guilty.

Jess William Dixon pleaded guilty to indecent exposure to a child and was given a three-year probated prison term. The second charge of sodomy against Dixon was dismissed upon notice by the state.

Olegario (Rooster) Romero pleaded guilty to theft and was given a two-year probated sentence.

Six members of band winners

Two flute soloists and the four members of the flute quartet of the Post High School Band were awarded first place medals Saturday at the Region 16 University Interscholastic League instrumental competition at Monterey High School in Lubbock.

Sherrell Guichard received a first place medal for her flute solo and also as a member of the flute quartet. A first place medal also went to Joni Huffman for flute solo, with Jill Cash, Cara East, and Crystal Nichols being awarded first place medals as members of the flute quartet.

Cy Willson placed first in junior high competition in piano.

Herb Germer, Post band director, said, "We are all proud of these bandmen. They have worked hard to represent the Post schools in a fine manner."

McBride again Chamber veep

The new board of directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce held their first organizational meeting Tuesday night at the Chamber office and reelected Bill McBride vice president, designated Chamber holidays for 1971, appointed some committee chairmen, and discussed formation of new committees and undertaking new projects.

Committee chairmen named at this session were Bryce Martin, retail promotion; Jim Cornish, publicity and membership; James Mitchell and Giles Dalby, city and county; Vic Slater and McBride, July Fourth celebration; Mrs. Maxine Marks, beautification and parks; Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick, tourism; and James Mitchell, housing.

ARTIFACT HUNTER DIGS UP OLD GUN

Bill Ferrell of Lubbock, who found the old strong box in a creek bed near here two weeks ago, made another "find" Monday.

This time, Ferrell found an old revolver, which he believes to be an 1874 Navy Colt, in the river bed about five miles "up river" from Justiceburg.

The Lubbock artifact-hunter dug the old gun out from under several inches of sand after his metal detector indicated its location.

Fun to pass on compliments

Fun to pass on compliments to local business firms and townsmen. Here's one worth remembering.

Giles McCrary heard from health department officials week while on a visit to Sen. Tower's Dallas office that

Bro. Food Locker plant is one of the two in the state being used by the health department as examples of plants meeting the stiff new sanitary meat inspection law requirements.

Mayor said the people in the state's food and health were very complimentary and Jim Jackson's work in getting their meat processing up to the required standard.

One health department official on a recent visit here to the local plant is "one of the best in Texas."

Know Post area folks, especially the Jackson brothers' managers, will be glad to hear this.

Not our second card this week the Newby girls, Meredith Garcia, who jetted off to Europe a few weeks ago. The card is postmarked from Portugal.

The girls are in London. The message to the readers "how come" is that the British have postal strikes going ever since

Post schools to hold open house

Post Public Schools will hold an open house at each of the four schools here Thursday.

Bill Shiver said patrons are invited to visit the schools between the hours of 7 and 8:30 p.m. with the teachers and make of the buildings. Refreshments will be served.

Gov't programs to pay farmers $1.7 million

THERE'S SEEMINGLY NO LAW FOR THIS DOGGONE PROBLEM

This is hard to believe, but apparently there is no law or ordinance in Post making it a "criminal offense" for a neighbor to throw shovels full of dog excrement across his or her fence into a neighbor's yard.

Mayor Giles C. McCrary said such a "situation apparently exists in Post" and he has "visited with the city attorney" about the matter, but could offer the irate householder no solution other than to seek a civil injunction, which would of course involve lawyer fees.

Mayor McCrary said he recently was invited to the home of the angry householder and was given a personal tour of the yard, which he described as "really awful."

"The neighbor's dogs apparently are kept up, tagged and vaccinated as required by city ordinance. As far as the dogs themselves go, McCrary said, "the city's hands are tied."

What really provoked the householder to calling the mayor was that she was out in her yard one recent Sunday afternoon when a shovel full of you-know-what came sailing over the fence and almost hit her on the shoulder.

Roads and streets were iced over here much of Tuesday, but no serious accidents were reported besides

Defusing the population bomb

Here in Texas, where in the last three censuses between 143 and 145 counties have lost population each time, it is hard to get stirred up over predictions of population growth that have people standing on each other's toes in a few more decades.

Happily these predictions may prove wrong. The director of the U. S. Census has released data indicating that the estimates of U. S. population of 20 million persons in the year 2000 could well be in error. He thinks tomorrow's population problems might well arise more from the changed composition of the American people than from explosive numerical growth.

Figures show that the baby boom in this country reached a peak nearly ten years ago. Last year, there were roughly 700,000 fewer births than in 1961.

Although demographers are like weather forecasters—often wrong—there are undeniably forces at work that could lead to a downward curve in population growth. The great imponderable is the mortality side of the equation. As the New York Times asks editorially, "How extensively will narcotics addiction—and its numerous contributions to deaths in the 15-30 age bracket—develop? Will medical science find simple and generally available cures for cancer and heart disease in the near future?"

But no matter what the trend of population in the U. S., the population problem on a global scale remains dark. At least, however, if the census figures reflect a trend, a step has been taken toward defusing the population bomb.

Federal grants worth investigating

Residents of the city of Post and other Garza counties stand to benefit from the new spirit of cooperation between the city and the county in "going after" government grants for various projects.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby and Mayor Giles C. McCrary have taken the lead for their respective branches of government in recent weeks in seeing to it that the county and city benefit from such projects as are feasible.

The efforts of these two public officials have resulted in a civil defense program and a Green Thumb program, with other benefits in the making—among them being improvements in law enforcement through an area-wide police teletype system, police training, etc. These particular programs are being made available through the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG), to which both the city and the county belong.

In seeking these federal and state-sponsored projects, the county judge and mayor have received the backing of the county commissioners' court and the city council, without which, of course, they would not be possible.

There are ever so many worthwhile federal programs available to towns, cities, counties and other branches of local government. All of them are worth looking into. Since the government funds have been appropriated for these projects, any county or city that flat ignores them may be "missing the boat."—CD

Are filing fees on way out?

Next year may be an especially interesting political year if the Supreme Court forces the political parties in Texas to stop charging a candidate filing fee.

The U. S. Supreme Court is to decide whether party filing fees are unconstitutional, following a lower court ruling that Texas political parties cannot require candidates to pay high filing fees to get their names on primary ballots. Political parties use the fees to pay expenses of its primary elections.

The Texas Legislature had not passed standby measures which would provide for alternate methods of financing if the Supreme Court agrees with the lower court's ruling.

Since the Supreme Court is expected to rule against the filing fees, the lack of legislation could result in Texas choosing party nominees in conventions instead of primaries next year.

This might please some high-ranking political leaders who believe they could manipulate conventions, but it would likely lead to numerous "rump" conventions.

The filing fees charged candidates are used to pay for primary elections, whereas the taxpayer in each county pays for the general election. And it is also the taxpayer who pays for the city and school elections.

THE MONTH OF March, which came in like a lamb Monday, doesn't offer much in the way of holidays, with St. Patrick's Day on the 17th being the only cause for celebration. But even without holidays, March will be an eventful month on the local scene.

The sixth annual Garza County Junior Livestock Show will take up three days of the month—the 11th, 12th and 13th, and even closer is the World Day of Prayer which is on March 5.

THE ENTIRE month is Red Cross Month, and Girl Scout Week starts Sunday, March 7 and continues through the 13th. So, you can see that even without holidays March holds promise of being an eventful month.

The man up the street says some fellows get credit for being conservative when they are only stupid.

I'M NOT complaining, but had you noticed that even with the United Fund and its collective agencies, we still have a number of fund campaigns for this and that and the other. A few weeks ago, there was the March of Dimes, on which the county's 4-H youngsters did an excellent job.

Also, it hasn't been long since one of the sorority chapters conducted a fund drive for Muscular Dystrophy, and there is a similar campaign under way now by the Future Homemakers of America. And the Girl Scouts are holding their annual cookie sale.

SINCE THE FUNDS raised in these campaigns go for good causes all the drives are worthwhile. The general public thinks so, too, for its response has been generous.

So, as I said, I'm not complaining; I'm just leading up to what some fellow told me recently of a household incident to which he had been an innocent but perplexed spectator, and it left me with the uneasy feeling that our responses to these fund drives are becoming little more than reflexes.

WHAT HAPPENED was that this fellow had called a Venetian blind repair man to come pick up a faulty blind, and the next morning while the family was seated at the breakfast table, the doorbell rang. My friend's wife went to the door and the man outside said, "I'm here for the Venetian blind." Excusing herself in a preoccupied way, the wife went to the kitchen, fished a dollar from the food money pressed it into the repair man's hand, then gently closed the door and returned to the table.

Chinese Proverb: Do not use a hatchet to remove a fly from your friend's forehead.

THE HIGH SCHOOL track and field season is off to its usual cold and windy start in West Texas. If, like me, you've been following track for the last several years, you've noticed the changes in some of the events. What used to be the broad jump is now the long jump. And instead of being the 880-yard run, it's the 880-yard dash, but if you've ever seen anyone dash the 880 instead of run it, you've seen a faster runner than I have.

This is the story of a citizen of a Texas town who committed suicide years ago. His reasons for doing so were found written on a scrap of paper in his left boot leg: "I married a widow with a grown-up daughter. My father visited us frequently, fell in love with my step-daughter and married her. And so my father became my son-in-law and my step-daughter became my mother."

"Some time later, a son was born to me, who thus became my father's brother-in-law and my own uncle on account of being a brother to my step-daughter."

"My step-daughter also gave birth to a son, who was certainly my brother and at the same time my grandson. Through all this my own wife was my grandmother. I was at the same time my wife's husband and grandchild."

"In consequence, the husband of anyone's grandmother must be his grandfather. Thus I was my own grandfather, which was more than I could stand."

Timely and explosive film set for showing

"The Cross and the Switchblade" will show at the Fox Theatre in Lubbock March 24 through April 6 under the sponsorship of the West Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. The film is a true story of Rev. David Wilkerson, who dedicated his work to the ghetto in New York. Pat Boone turns in an incredible performance in the David Wilkerson role. "The Cross and the Switchblade" bares the raw needs at the core of drug addiction, racial hatred and violence.

Number of farmers fertilizing improved pastures increasing

COLLEGE STATION — The number of farmers fertilizing improved pastures continues to increase, says Neal Pratt, extension economist, Texas A&M University.

livestock producers are realizing the importance of using good-quality forage for increasing profits from pasture acreage and producing more meat and products.

fertilizer offers several advantages for the livestock producer. First, it improves the quality of forage animals can graze. Second, it increases the yield or forage production from the same acreage.

one of the most obvious benefits is the effect of the fertilizer on fall utilization. One acre can produce three to five times more forage with adequate fertilization when needed plant foods are supplied. Fertilized pastures preferred by livestock over unfertilized pastures. In recognizing increased interest among farm and ranchers in pasture fertilization, Pratt predicts considerably more acreage will be fertilized this year than last year provided the moisture situation improves.

physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, and special equipment loans to enable disabled persons to make the best use of their abilities to overcome handicaps. These services are financed by the annual Easter Seal Appeal.

The society also provides for research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions, finances public education programs, and provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers.

During 1970, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services for over 21,000 children and adults who were in need of rehabilitation. These services are available to any disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society, Mrs. Compton said.

The Easter Seal campaign will run through Easter Sunday, April 11.

Discovering a Black Past

During the Revolutionary War, James Derham learned much about the art of healing from his master. After the war he eventually earned enough money to buy his freedom. And within several years he had a thriving medical practice in New Orleans.

On March 5th, 1770, an escaped slave and leader of the Boston Patriots encouraged his companions to strike the British Redcoats. Crispus Attucks became the first to lose his life in the cause of freedom. A monument in Boston pays tribute to this Afro-American.

Phyllis Wheatley was brought to this country as a young slave and was taught to read and write by the family of her master. She grew up to become one of the foremost poets on the American literary scene.

Featuring a world renowned cast, "The Adventurers," the film version of Harold Robbins' best-selling novel, is to show Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Tower Theatre. ## INGRAM

The surname Ingram is a telescoped form of the less common family name Inghram. The telescoping, or shortening, of surnames was a common occurrence in the late Middle Ages when individuals began acquiring last names to go with their first names. A classic example of this shortening of names is Chumley, a telescoped form of Cholmondeley.

Ingram is one of those family names derived from a given name, with two possible sources of origin. It could be from the Old English personal name Ingegram, later Ingeram, or from the Old French personal name Enguerand, which was introduced into England by the Normans.

In some instances, Ingram may be a variation of the surname Ingham, which denoted "one who lived at or near a grassland enclosure."

In the year 1158, a Radulphus filius Engelram was listed on the Pipe Rolls in Yorkshire, England. This early form of the name was Latin for Radulphus son of Engelram. Some 100 years later, we find record of a Richard Ingram, also in Yorkshire.

The name appeared in Scotland as early as 1330 when a John Ingeram held land in Arbroath. The Inghrams in Scotland were a sept of the Colquhoun (pronounced Coloon) Clan. The first Inghrams in Ireland are said to have settled in County Limerick in the 17th century. The name is now mainly located in Northern Ireland.

John Kells Ingram, who died in 1907, was an Irish scholar and economist. Herbert Ingram, born in 1811, founded the Illustrated London News, a paper entirely devoted to illustration of the news.

Inghrams have been in America since the early colonial period and many of the name were soldiers in the Revolutionary War. Today the name ranks 422nd among surnames in the United States, where an estimated 60,000 persons answer to the name of Ingram.

Sheltons' neighbors in Comanche County receive FHA awards

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Shelton were at Lake Proctor, near Brownwood, Feb. 19, to attend an honor dinner where their friends and neighbors, the Euell Gene Gilbreath family, was honored as the Texas FHA Farm Family of the Year.

The Sheltons' home place is in the Edna Hill community of Comanche County and the Gilbreaths are their neighbors, taking care of the Sheltons' livestock when they are not there.

The family was presented a number of plaques for the honor, with the plaques being received at the dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbreath and their son, David.

In addition to being awarded the first Texas Farmers Home Administration Farm Family of the Year Award, the Gilbreaths are in the running for the national award to be made this month.

The Gilbreaths operate a combination dairy-beef cattle farm of 632 acres. Their dairy herd is made up of 80 holstein cows.

Senior citizens advised to marry after retirement

COLLEGE STATION — Wonder what to do after retirement — get married!

Senior citizens across the nation seem to agree with this philosophy, as the number of persons 65 and over who marry is increasing. Reports Minnie Bell extension specialist in family life education at Texas A&M University.

A survey to discover how successful these retirement marriages are has been reported by Dr. Walter C. McKain, professor of rural sociology at the University of Connecticut. Dr. McKain reported six major factors listed in the study.

The personality structure of the bride and groom is a crucial factor. Both should be well adjusted persons to expect success in marriage.

Being acquainted is also important. Brides and grooms, then, ought to know each other well.

If the marriage is approved by children and friends, the chances of success are increased.

Older persons who easily have adjusted to the various disengagements occurring in life usually experience success in marriage. It doesn't matter whether the disengagements are personal choices or are forced by society.

Home ownership is a fifth factor. If both partners had homes before they married, adjustment was the norm.

Income is the sixth factor. The couple should marry as financial equals.

I Am A Sick American . . .

There are those that claim ours is a "sick" society; that our country is sick; our government is sick; that we are sick. Well, maybe they're right, I submit that I'm sick . . . and maybe you are, too. I am sick of having policemen ridiculed and called "pigs" while cop killers are hailed as some kind of folk hero.

I am sick of being told that religion is the opiate of the people . . . but marijuana should be legalized.

I am sick of being told that pornography is the right of a free press, but freedom of the press does not include being able to read the Bible on school grounds.

I am sick of commentators and columnists canonizing anarchists, revolutionaries and criminal rapists, but condemning law enforcement when such criminals are brought to justice.

I am sick of paying more and more taxes to build schools while I see some faculty members encouraging students either to tear them down or burn them.

I am sick of Supreme Court decisions which turn criminals loose on society—while other decisions try to take away my means of protecting my home and family.

I am sick of being told that policemen are mad dogs who should not have guns—but that criminals who use guns to rob, maim and murder should be understood and helped back to society.

I am sick of being told it is wrong to use napalm to end a war overseas—but if it's a molotov cocktail or a bomb at home, I must understand the provocations.

I am sick of not being able to take my family to a movie unless I want to have them exposed to nudity, homosexuality and the glorification of narcotics.

I am sick of pot-smoking entertainers deluging me with their condemnation of my moral standards on late-night television.

I am sick of riots, marches, protests, demonstrations, confrontations, and the other mob temper tantrums of people intellectually incapable of working within the system.

I am sick of hearing the same phrases, the same sick slogans, the cries of my forefathers—when I have looked down both ends of a gun barrel to defend their rights, their liberties and their families.

I am sick of cynical attitudes toward patriotism. I am sick of politicians with no backbone.

I am sick of permissiveness.

I am sick of the dirty, the foul-minded, the unwashed.

I am sick of the decline of personal honesty, personal integrity and human sincerity.

Most of all, though, I am sick of being told I'm sick, I'm sick of being told my country is sick—when we have the greatest nation that man has ever brought forth on the face of the earth. Fully fifty per cent of the people on earth would willingly trade places with the most deprived, the most underprivileged among us.

Yes, I may be sick, but if I am sick, I can get well. I can also help my society get well—and help my country get well.

Take note, all of you . . . you will not find me throwing a rock or a bomb; you will not find me under a placard; you will not see me take to the streets; you will not find me ranting to wild-eyed mobs.

But you will find me at work, paying taxes, serving in the community where I live. You will also find me expressing my anger and indignation to elected officials.

You will find me speaking out in support of those officials, institutions and personalities who contribute to the elevation of society and not its destruction. You will find me contributing my time, money and personal influence to helping churches, hospitals, charities and other establishments which have shown the true spirit of this Country's determination to ease pain, suffering, eliminate hunger and generate brotherhood.

But, most of all, you'll find me at the polling place. There—if you listen—you can hear the thunder of the common man. There, all of us can cast our vote . . . for an America where people can walk the streets without fear.

February brings in 122 voters

A late flurry of voter registrations brought the February extension total here up to 122, County Tax Assessor-Collector T. H. Tipton said today.

Up to 3 p. m. Wednesday of last week, only 45 had registered during the extension period which began Feb. 1, but 77 more were registered from Wednesday until the 5 p. m. Friday deadline to account for the 122 total.

The 122 registered in February brings the total number of registered voters in the county to 2,156, Tipton said. Some of these, he said, are in the 18-to-21 age category who will be eligible to vote only in federal elections.

Library LISTENING POST

by GEORGE L. MILLER

Writing memoirs is a tricky business. It presupposes that a man can step outside his skin and look objectively at his life. That is, if it is going to be the real truth.

Albert Speer, whose memoirs "Inside the Third Reich" is now in our library, knows this problem and confesses from the start that what he is going to write is only his best efforts at finding the truth. After finishing the book, I think he did remarkably well.

The book can't help but be interesting simply because Speer lived so close to one of the most interesting men in all history—Adolf Hitler. He met Hitler in 1930 when the Fuhrer was the rising star of hope for the German people. Hitler was an amateur architect and dreamed of building lasting monuments of the Third Reich. Speer was a rising young architect and soon became Hitler's close confidant and friend.

This friendship was to last until the closing years of the II World War.

Speer's memoirs are fascinating because they reveal the inner workings of the Third Reich. It was not a smoothly running machine of competent and dedicated men. Far from it, it was a group of grasping demagogues constantly jockeying for more and more power. There were countless intrigues, plots and counterplots. Today's friend could be tomorrow's traitor.

Hitler ruled in isolation from the reality of the war he had created. He made his decisions in a vacuum, seldom having the remotest idea of what the real situation of his armies was. His advisors knew better than to give him discouraging facts. And when the facts had to be revealed, there was always a scapegoat provided to take the blame. One wonders how the Germans kept the war going as long as they did with such ineptitude and inner struggles for power going on.

Speer paints himself in a good light, a man who saw the reality of the war, and tried to get the job done properly. Early in the war he was made Minister of Armaments and War Production. He accomplished miracles at his job, and for a time was considered the second most powerful man in Germany.

He got little satisfaction from his power, however. Being that high in the regime made him a prime target for intrigues and ceaseless attacks on his position. He even suggests that there was a time in 1944 when there were plots to assassinate him. They didn't succeed.

One of the riddles of this book is how a man could be so highly placed in the Third Reich, so close to Hitler throughout the whole war, and not have pangs of guilt about the war crimes—more specifically the extermination of the Jews. Yet the fact emerges that in an atmosphere as fractured and chaotic as Hitler's government, one man simply did not know what another man was doing. Speer claims it wasn't until two weeks after Hitler's suicide that he learned of the deaths in the concentration camps.

We might want to argue with him, say that he is making excuses. But throughout the book he tries very hard not to make excuses. In fact, he was one of the few defendants at the Nuremberg trials that insisted on taking personal responsibility for the war crimes of the Third Reich—because he ordered them, but because he had not tried to find out the truth. Guilt is as real from inaction as from act.

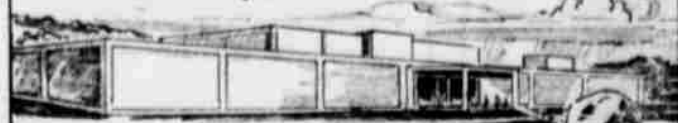

In his summing up he suggests there is a lesson to be learned from the Third Reich. The real villain is not man, but machines—technology. He feels that technology put power in the hands of the Third Reich, power it would not otherwise have had. It was the misuse of power that worked tragedy on the world. It is clear, from the way he describes men like Himmler, Goebbels and Goering, that such power is disastrous in the hands of warped men.

Technology did not stop with Nazi Germany. Far from it, it has increased at a dizzying rate. If Speer is right, the dangers have multiplied tenfold and more. Seen in that light, Speer's book is frightening.

In the end, "Inside the Third Reich" is not so much Speer's memoirs as it is a description of a world gone mad. It is a fascinating and frightening picture. It also leaves a haunting question—as long as men still thirst for power in a world that continues to work greater and greater miracles in technology, how sure can we be this won't happen again?

HOW TO BUY MEAT FOR YOUR FREEZER

Basically the consumer has three alternatives in buying meat for the freezer: buying by carcass, buying wholesale cuts or buying retail cuts. Each has advantages and disadvantages. You will have to consider whether you actually save money when selecting one alternative over another. Factors that play an important role are (1) amount of meat you can store, (2) amount you use in a reasonable time and (3) kind and quality of cuts you prefer.

When buying whole carcass or side (fore and hind quarters) you will get the whole range of cuts. Will you use these cuts—brisket, shank, etc? If not, you lose the price advantage.

You should be aware that the amount of usable meat from a carcass or side can vary from 20 to 30 per cent less than the gross amount you pay for. The USDA suggests as a rule of thumb: 25 per cent steak, 25 per cent roast, 25 per cent ground beef and stew meat and 25 per cent waste on a carcass.

The same will hold true on a quarter, except you should note the difference in cuts you will get. For example, a hindquarter will yield more steaks and roasts and generally cost more per pound than a forequarter. The forequarter contains more of the less tender cuts although there is more usable meat than in the hindquarter.

For those who wish to avoid getting all the cuts of a side or quarter, or those who have limited space, consider buying wholesale cuts. These include beef short loin, whole sale rib, whole work loin or leg of lamb. Carcass charts will show what retail cuts are derived from each of these.

To be assured of wholesomeness, check for the round purple stamp which assures you that the meat has been federally inspected. This does not assure high quality. The grade will appear with the USDA stamp.

In the end, "Inside the Third Reich" is not so much Speer's memoirs as it is a description of a world gone mad. It is a fascinating and frightening picture. It also leaves a haunting question—as long as men still thirst for power in a world that continues to work greater and greater miracles in technology, how sure can we be this won't happen again?

The consumer must also take into account the costs of cutting, wrapping and quick-freezing. Usually the charge is 8 to 10 cents per pound, whether or not it is included in the price of the meat. In addition, the cost of operating the home freezer should be considered. With proper, regular use the home freezer is a beneficial servant. Otherwise the operating costs will quickly reduce any "savings" you might have made on the meat purchased.

The USDA has provided a pamphlet discussing cost comparison among different cuts of meat and hints for selecting all types of meats. This is available in the extension office.

Artificial respiration program presented at Close City 4-H meet

Members present were: Karen Williams, Darlene Gunn, Johnny Owen, Cindy Terry, Nita Jo Gunn, Danny Gunn, Jodine Tipton, Johnny McCowen, Nancy McCowen, Linda Gonzales, Mary Lou Owen, Roxie Owen, Jeff Williams and Leslie Sistrunk.

Peter is a Greek name which means "rock."

PAY BILLS To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly—never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor.

Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collecting and has charged your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed or altered unless subsequent dealings with the same firm—results in a better record.

Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit bureau. Payment in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come—perhaps for the rest of your life.

Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions, particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts.

Keep your picture bright and shining and only all the consequences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.

'Trash Round-up Week in Texas' set for April 26 through May 1

AUSTIN — Enthusiastic support for the Texas Highway Department was pledged today for "Trash Round-Up Week in Texas" set for April 26 through May 1 by the Texas Legislature.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall said, "The week will further call to the attention of all Texans the mammoth litter problem confronting the Texas Highway Department the year 'round.' Trash Round-Up Week was designated by a House Concurrent Resolution introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It was approved by both houses and Gov. Preston Smith signed it Feb. 9.

"It costs the people of Texas $2 million annually to pick up litter along 70 thousand miles of state highway facilities," Dingwall noted. "The irony of the situation is that this massive effort by the highway department maintenance forces could be eliminated if every driver simply would carry a litter bag in his car — and use it," he said.

The state highway engineer also noted that the highway department has provided litter containers at hundreds of locations along state-maintained highways for the convenience of motorists.

More and more people are becoming aware of the problem and are using these litter barrels at turnouts, safety rest areas and roadside parks," Dingwall said. "But there still are many who dispose of their litter thoughtlessly and carelessly."

He said special events such as Trash Round-Up Week in Texas, with the support of the people and their elected representatives, will go a long way toward achieving what he termed "total awareness" of the problem.

The resolution reads in part: "Resolved by the House of Representatives of the 62nd Legislature, the Senate concurring, that the Texas Legislature hereby sets aside the week of April 26 to May 1, 1971, as Trash Round-Up Week in Texas, and urges all citizens of this state to join in an all-out effort to clean up our roadsides, our parks, our streams and lakes, and our own individual property, so that the entire state of Texas will sparkle from north to south, from east to west."

Dingwall pledged "whole-hearted and unqualified support of this effort by the men and women of the Texas Highway Department."

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Post: QUIT KICKING GOD'S CHURCH AROUND!

By Bernard S. Ramsey

Any preacher understands what Jeremiah meant when he said: "... there is in my heart, as it were, a burning fire—shut up in my bones, and I am weary with holding it in, and I cannot" (Jer. 20:9). That, precisely, describes my mood as I write this message. I apologize for its length, but not its contents—I must say it, and doubtless, will do so over and over again from the pulpit.

It goes back several years ago when I began to become aware of a very distressing thing happening to our community—to Post, Texas. It seemed that everywhere one went one could hear people, citizens of our city, and in every walk of life, who were running our town down. It appeared that no one had a good, constructive, positive word to say about Post. I was oftentimes surprised to hear people I never would have dreamed would do it, lashing out at our town; running our city down; finding all manner of fault with it, complaining, grumbling, and sometimes about the most trivial and silly things. Worse, most of the carping and criticism was uncalled for and in most instances, indefensible.

Well, I'm sort of funny about the image and morale of the community where I live—I take pride in my home town—no matter what. The issue reached boiling point with me one Saturday afternoon when one of the Elders of our Church came by for a brief visit. I was happy he made it brief... for he did nothing but drag Post through the mud. He no longer lives in Post and maybe that says something... BUT HIS VISIT DID IT! After he left, I snatched up my sermon manuscript I was going to preach next day and tore it to shreds. I was highly irritated; I was mad. I sat down in anger and burned midnight oil and applied myself to the theme: "QUIT KICKING MY TOWN AROUND!", and I hope the Good Lord has forgiven me for writing that sermon in such a mood. I labored under no delusion that my message would suddenly bring about a radical change even though the Post Dispatch was kind enough to consider it newsworthy and printed the major portion of the sermon in its next issue. The sermon did have one effect: it made people quit kicking my town around in my presence.

But thank God, the radical change did come. The people of our town have really made a turn-about-face during the last three or four years. You can feel it all over town; an altogether new and different attitude manifested by the majority of our citizens—a more positive attitude. Many people and factors wrought the change, but it would be remiss if I didn't single out one person, who in my opinion, was so much of the inspiration and guiding spirit for so much of the good and constructive things that have and are being done. Without hesitation, I would name Helen Cornish as that person. That dear Lady could also "plain talk" when the occasion called for it—and she practiced what she preached. A wonderful friend and always positive, optimistic and cheerful. Many people have belatedly begun to realize how much she meant and did for Post—for its spirit, its morale; it's pride; it's constructive projects, and I wanted to remind you of these things in this message.

AND... I have said all that, in order to do a little of Helen's "plain talk" about something else in our city which is—right now—being subjected to some unnecessary, careless, flippant and hurtful "kicking around", and I am convinced that the present kind of "kicking", and which seems to be the current fad of too many of our citizens is even worse than "kicking our town around." What I'm talking about is the Church of our Lord Jesus Christ! In all decency, it doesn't deserve the treatment it's getting.

You tell me you haven't heard any of that kind of talk lately? Maybe that's because most of the "kicking"; the criticisms; complaints; grumbings and condemnations; most of the "kicking God's Church around" isn't vocal. There are a thousand ways in which people do this sort of thing, but I want to mention just one, which will just about cover the whole issue. Subtly, deviously, pathetically, prevalently, the kicks being administered to God's Churches in Post, are to be found in the habitual practices of the majority of the residents of our community, who have adopted a rigid "LEAVE IT ALONE" attitude toward the church. Our people just "let God's Church alone"—and that's the best way I know to wreck a farm; ranch; business; home; marriage or a child—just let it alone!

You see it's easy to "kick God's Church around;" and never lift a hand or speak a word against it. My youngest daughter gave me a rather provocative wooden placard for Christmas, with a message printed thereon—"loud and clear"... In beautiful script it says: "YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO THE THEOLOGICAL PLACE OF ETERNAL PUNISHMENT!"—she sure fooled me—thought she loved me more than that.

THE BIG QUESTION: is that what the people of Post want for their churches? I can't believe it... but I do recall that our Lord issued some such invitation to one or two of the Churches in Revelation if they did not mend their ways.

Maybe you feel that some church, somewhere "kicked you out" once upon a time—so to speak, and you've been angry with God's Church ever since. Has it ever occurred to you that you really didn't deserve (as no one does) to be kicked out. Why don't you stand up for your rights? Why don't you get in there and start helping correct all those things you think are wrong with it. This business of "kicking God's Church around" isn't unique and endemic with Post alone—it's the trend across our Nation—BUT DOES POST HAVE TO BE LIKE THE REST OF OUR COUNTRY?

GIRL SCOUT Week

Salute To Scout Leaders, Too!

Those who make any beneficial youth program, such as the Girl Scouts "go" are the volunteer women leaders, who direct Girl Scout and Brownie units, and who serve on essential committees. You're doing a good job in helping the girls of our community.

Facts About the Girl Scouts . . .

1. Girl Scouts of the United States of America is the largest voluntary organization of girls in the world. Current membership is approximately four million.
2. Girl Scout Councils country wide are reaching out to the disadvantaged youngsters in their areas, with programs under the aegis of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and many other federal agencies.
3. "Action 70" is a new nationwide Girl Scout effort to help overcome prejudice and cement understanding among people.
4. Since the first troop of 18 girls took the Girl Scout promise in 1912 more than 23,000,000 members have made that promise to do their duty to God and Country, to help other people at all times, and to obey the Girl Scout laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, cheerfulness, kindness and thrift.

THE ANNUAL GIRL SCOUT

Cookie Sale

Is Now In Progress and Will End March 11

Each troop keeps 5 cents for every box of cookies the troop members sell. The remainder of the profit—27½ cents per box—will go for the improvement and upkeep of Camp Rio Blanco near Crosbyton.

Park plans told historical group

A progress report on the new roadside park being constructed northwest of town, just south of the Lubbock highway and near the rim of the caprock, was made by Julian F. Smith, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, at the Garza County Historical Survey Committee's March meeting Tuesday morning.

The highway department is building the park on land donated for the purpose by N. C. Outlaw, and the park will be dedicated to the memory of the late Mrs. Outlaw, Smith said.

A feature of the park will be the view it affords of Post and vicinity from the edge of the caprock.

Mrs. Maxine Marks, a member of the committee, suggested the possibility of a turnpike road and of an amphitheater near the caprock edge.

Texas Independence Day, which was Tuesday, was discussed at the meeting, and plans announced for the observance of History Appreciation Week the last week in April.

A letter expressing the committee's appreciation of Mrs. Helen Livingston's support was read. Mrs. Livingston recently resigned a secretary of the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Also read was a letter of appreciation to J. B. Potts for the committee's selection as the "Organization of the Year." Potts presented the award plaque to the committee at the Chamber of Commerce banquet.

A letter from Bailey Mayo was read expressing the Rotary Club's appreciation for the committee's help in entertaining the seven children who visited here recently.

Letters of congratulations on the committee receiving the "outstanding award" were read from Mrs. Marks and from Jerry Rogers, director and executive secretary of Ranch Headquarters.

On behalf of the Graham historical group, Mrs. Loucille Morris presented the committee with a check for $130 to be used in the Headquarters of the historical survey committee.

The committee accepted with re-

City issues reminder of air gun ordinance

A City of Post official requested this week that The Dispatch remind youngsters owning air rifles or pellet guns and their parents of the city ordinance regulating the possession and use of such guns.

It is a violation of the ordinance for anyone to have one of the guns in an operable condition in his possession on a public street or highway or in a public place.

Two Post business men are retiring

Two long-time Post businessmen, both named Baker but not related, sold their businesses and stepped into retirement here this week.

Lew Baker, who has operated Baker Electric for 22 years, has sold his machine shop to Marshall Ticer.

Charlie Baker Sr. has sold the Post Wrecking Co. to his son, Charlie Lon Baker. He has been in the auto junk business here for some 33 years.

Their retirement announcements appear on pages 9 and 8 respectively.

School choirs to present concert

The two Post High School choirs and the junior high school choir will present a concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 9, in the primary school auditorium.

This year's choir queen will be introduced at the concert.

The admission charges will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Proceeds will be used to help pay the choir's way to Amarillo. The "Top Twenty" will also sing.

And speaking of ads and "kicking" things around, readers also are invited to read Bryan J. Williams' ad on page 3, as recommended reading. It's entitled "I Am a Sick American."

Livestock Show—

(Continued From Front Page) last year, and the 4-H building are both being put in shape this week for next week's stock show and fair.

Parking will be controlled at the buildings this year to keep exits open for vehicles, show officials said.

"We hope everyone will try to attend this event and support our local stock show, fair and sale," Thomas said. "All events will be interesting and entertaining."

No barbecue is being held this year, but refreshments will be sold in the fair building during the hours of the fair. A bake sale is also scheduled for all day Saturday.

Sherry Bird makes all-district team

Sherry Bird, Post Doe forward, was named to the All-District 4AA girls' basketball team at a meeting of district coaches Wednesday night at Freshman High School in Wolforth.

Judy Norman received honorable mention at a guard position on the all-district girls' team.

Three Post Antelops, Robert Bullock, Steve Hays and Randall Hays, received honorable mention on the all-district boys' team.

Postings—

(Continued From Front Page) the girls landed in London. The only way to get mail home is to give it to Americans leaving Great Britain to be mailed at their first stop elsewhere. Of course they have had no mail from here since they arrived.

The girls are chambermaids at a London hotel and are having a lot of fun enjoying British life after the five-days-a-week chore of cleaning a dozen rooms apiece. They report the British people are so nice and helpful that "getting set for a stay" in London wasn't half as difficult as they had imagined.

Over on page 6 in what we call "the church ad," you will find an "open letter to the citizens of Post" from Bernard Ramsey entitled, "Quit Kicking God's Church Around!" It wasn't many years ago that the Christian church pastor preached a sermon entitled, "Quit Kicking My Town Around" which we think had very interesting and beneficial repercussions. We had a front page story at the time on that sermon. But we've a "church ad" now and we can print every word of messages like this. So don't miss it.

And speaking of ads and "kicking" things around, readers also are invited to read Bryan J. Williams' ad on page 3, as recommended reading. It's entitled "I Am a Sick American."

We're facing a "correspondence shortage" here at The Dispatch with our latest loss being Mrs. E. A. Rawlings of Grassland, who dropped us a note this week that she is giving up the grind of reporting the Grassland news. We've been without correspondents in Justiceburg, Close City and Barnum Springs for some time now. In fact all we have left is Grahm (Mrs. Glenn Davis) and Southland (Mrs. Edmund Wilke). Anyone who would like to report the news weekly from any of these communities is asked to get in touch with us for details. The pay isn't enough to "make one rich" but that's just like all the rest of the newspaper business where the satisfaction of "doing the job" and being "in on the action" are the basic rewards.

Don't have much to report on the proposed cactus garden except that Will Parker at the bank came up with "The Book of Cacti and Other Succulents." Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby has written for another book and the "research" into cacti has begun. We hear E. A. Howard, the vocational ag teacher, is an expert and Pee-wee Pierce, the project's chairman, has lined up an excursion into the country around Post to have E. A. point out the different kind of cacti available here for just "the digging up."

It looks like this is going to be one of those "people projects". If we have some response we'll build that garden, and if all you readers just "sit on your cacti" we won't. Don't miss the organization meeting coming up soon.

Readers will find a story in today's Dispatch that freshman footballer Randy Hudman of Post is scheduled to sing at a style show in the University of Wyoming campus. We might also add that Randy has been asked to sing the national anthem at one of Wyoming's basketball games, which speaks well for the recognition of his fine voice. We might also add that he is being assigned a personal "kicking coach" for spring football practice, which is some degree of recognition for his stout foot. Randy is reported to be getting up to 50 yards distance on his placekicks and last fall began to learn the art of punting. His "kicking coach" is a star Wyoming kicker who has been signed to play pro ball.

When the first few flakes began to fall here Tuesday morning (remember) we were talking to A.C. Cash and he told us of being caught in Amarillo in the big blizzard two weekends before. The reason we didn't have it in last week's

School lunch prices boosted

Post school trustees at a special meeting last Friday afternoon voted to discontinue the lunchroom breakfast program and to increase the price of school lunches a dime in an effort to prevent a growing loss in the school lunch program here.

Supt. Bill Shiver told trustees that the state has been unable to come up with the additional funds for the program it promised back in early February because of uncertainties of federal aid the state is receiving.

Thirty-three underprivileged children were receiving free breakfasts daily for which the schools were being reimbursed for only half present costs.

Lunch prices went up from 40 to 50 cents for students and from 50 to 60 cents for high school students and teachers.

The trustees already have had to substantially subsidize the lunchroom program with tax money this year. It has been a problem from the start of the fall term, costwise.

Sue Shytles new center director

Mrs. Sue Shytles was elected director of the Lorenzo Alexander Neighborhood Center Tuesday night at a special meeting of the Garza County Community Action board.

She assumed her new duties effective March 1. The board also employed Jean Pantoja as a bi-lingual outreach worker for up to 20 hours weekly; and Mrs. Annie Tutt, as Post Day Care Center assistant on a 20-hour week basis.

The three were recommended to the board by the executive committee who interviewed six applicants for the neighborhood center directorship last Thursday night. All three will be paid from federal funds.

Farm program—

(Continued From Front Page) cent for this year. Entitling her talk, "The Changing Times," Mrs. Hartel said that in 1956 Congress passed a farm bill providing for incentive cash payments to farmers for diverting a part of the wheat, cotton and feed grain acreage to soil building uses.

"This program was designed to reduce the national farm surpluses. Our warehouses were filled with grain," Mrs. Hartel said. "We had a surplus of 17 million bales of cotton."

"It was at the beginning of this program that we attended a meeting in which the forecast was made by a representative of the Washington office predicting:

"A shortage in beef cattle by 1980, beef operations turning from large ranches to more feed lots and that the price of beef would skyrocket. He also suggested a synthetic beef steak would be made from soy beans and synthetic milk and cream would be used. Other shortages by 1980 were foreseen for lumber, crude oil, cotton and grain. Also that due to the shortage in other foods, grain sorghums would be improved and used for human consumption rather than cattle feed, and that there would be larger farms and less farm contracts and less cropland."

Mrs. Hartel commented that now in 1971, we see the beef price increase and the stronger demand for beef. She said the soy bean steak has been perfected but has not been widely accepted, and soy bean bacon is now on the grocery shelves. She added, "We use cream in our coffee and cook with powdered milk."

"Due to increased cattle production to take care of the increase in population, we have no excess feed grains," Mrs. Hartel said. "The Department of Agriculture has requested a 15 per cent increase in feed grain acreage in 1971."

She added that the Secretary of Agriculture has declared that cotton acreage allotments are not needed now and that we could have sold more cotton in 1970 had it been available.

Turning to the new 1971 farm program, Mrs. Hartel said it is designed to give the farmers a greater choice regarding what he will plant during the next three years.

She said the farm domestic or payment allotment has been increased two per cent from 65 acres per hundred to 67 acres per hundred.

The farm cotton payment is based on the number of acres of payment allotted for the farm (27 per cent of the cropland) times the farm yield times 15 cents per pound, she said. The farm yield is based on the farm's average production per

587 library books read in February

Post library patrons spent more time reading in February than January, according to the February Post Public Library report issued by Volunteer Librarian George L. Miller this week.

A total of 587 books were checked out during the month to bring the reading for the year to 1,173 books.

Included were 447 adult books and 140 juvenile books checked out. Thirteen dollars in overdue book fines were collected during the month.

Thirty more new books were placed on library shelves in February to bring total acquisitions for 1971 to date to 207 volumes.

CofC directors—

Six Chamber holidays were set for 1971 — New Year's, Memorial Day, July 4th, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Discussed at the meeting were a membership drive to be conducted this spring, the proposed cactus garden project, new signs to mark directions to the sextuple oil well, and organization of a new woman's division for the Chamber.

Directors voted to pay dues to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Tourist Council.

The directors will meet again Monday night, March 15. Monthly board meetings have been set for the third Monday nights.

Attending were Slater, who presided, directors Marks, Kirkpatrick, Mitchell, Grant Lott, McBride, Martin and Cornish; and new Chamber secretary, Mrs. Wynne Kennedy.

acre for the three prior years. The farmer, she explained, must set aside an acreage equal to 20 per cent of the cotton payment allotment, which is equivalent to five per cent of the total cropland.

The number of acres that may be planted to cotton is limited only by the acres available after the set aside and conserving acres have been taken care of, she said.

Mrs. Hartel pointed out whereas in 1950 a family farm was considered 160 acres, today a family farm is 640 acres.

On 640 acres of land, a farmer must divert approximately 72 acres which leaves 568 acres that may be planted to cotton or a combination of cotton, feed grain and wheat, she said.

City Council—

(Continued From Front Page) property last month, the council decided to charge a $30 a month rental fee for the house with a water well included.

The council approved the city manager's request that approximately 700 feet of new water line be laid across Fifth and Sixth streets and up the alley between Seventh and Eighth streets.

The new line will replace a one-inch line, which does not furnish enough water to users in the area, who include the schools and the football stadium. The estimated cost of laying the new line is $3,453.

The council postponed the removal of two junk cars that have been declared health hazards from a place on North Avenue H until the councilmen can "go by and take a look" at the cars. The owner, Cecil Foster Sr., met with the council and told them he uses one of the vehicles for a dog house, and keeps the other one in his yard because its motor and transmission are still good.

Foster told the council both vehicles are "off the ground" and do not have any cotton or other materials in them that could harbor rats, mosquitoes, etc.

The council voted condemnation of five more structures, all in the northeast part of town, as fire hazards, on recommendation of the city fire marshal. They postponed action, at the owners' request, on two other condemned structures.

At the request of Ken Gilbreath, new president of the Little League, the council reduced the speed limit inside David Nichols Park from 15 miles an hour to five miles an hour.

Post trackmen to compete in Idalou meet Saturday

Post Antelope track and field team competes in Idalou meet Saturday

Post Antelope track and field team competes in the Idalou meet Saturday, entering all events except the pole vault, which is won by Bobby Davis and Joe Giddens today.

The first track competition of the season was held at Brownfield Saturday. Members of the Post Antelope track and field team, including 33 places — one a record performance.

Scrivner set a new meet record of 21 feet, 5 inches in wide jump. The old record was 21 feet, 3 inches, set in 1968 by Bobby Davis and Joe Giddens.

Post Antelope track and field team came on Johnny Hodges' victory in the 330-yard hurdles. His time was 41.9 seconds, nearly a full second better than the 42.8 turned in by second place winner Harold Gentry of Lubbock Dunbar.

Arthur Torres placed second in the mile run, finishing behind Mike Parsons of Olton, who won second place last year in the mile run at the state meet in Austin. Parsons' time Saturday was 4:36.0, with Torres turning in a 4:45.0. Two other Post milers, Tony Rosas and Arthur Ayala, finished seventh and ninth, respectively.

While winning the broad jump, Scrivner was off form in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, placing sixth in each event. His times of 10.5 in the 100 and 23.7 in the 220 were slower than his usual performances in the two sprint events.

Pat Ayala placed sixth in the 880-yard run with a time of 2:10.4, and Scotty Hoyle finished fifth in the 220-yard dash, turning in a 23.6.

The Post coaches said they were well pleased with their charges' performance at Brownfield, considering the stiff competition, which included several class AAA teams. Floydada won the meet with a total of 132 points. Other team totals were: Brownfield, 96; Dunbar, 83; Estacado, 42; Post, 33; Canyon, 22; Lamesa, 19; Olton, 19; Leveland, 18; Stamford, 17; Cooper, 12; Spearman, 10; Littlefield, 8; Sudan, 8; Phillips, 5.

Coach Davis was not definite Monday about who would compete in what in all the events at Idalou Saturday, but said the Antelope will be trying for the team championship, with entries in all events except the pole vault.

"We just don't have a pole vaulter on the squad," the coach said, adding that a training program in this event will be inaugurated at the junior high level.

The 440-yard relay team at Idalou will be selected from among Hoyle, Scrivner, Hodges, Lanny Blacklock, Kyle Joyce and David Woods, the coach said.

"It's hard to say at this time about the mile relay team, since our final selections Saturday will be from among about ten boys," Coach Davis said.

Other tentative entries at Idalou are as follows:

880-yard run: Ayala, Lee Long and Robert Pace.

High hurdles: Hodges, Woods and Randall Hays.

Intermediate hurdles: Hodges and two others.

Broad jump: Scrivner and Hoyle.

Shot put: David Stelzer, Robert Pace and Roger Pace.

440-yard dash: Indefinite.

100-yard dash: Scrivner and Blacklock.

220-yard dash: Hoyle, Scrivner and Blacklock.

Mile run: Torres, Ayala and Rosas.

Discus throw: Stelzer, Mike Huff and Gary Shepherd.

2 station wagons damaged by fire

Firemen were called out to two automobile fires Monday — both station wagons.

The first fire was about 9 a.m. on the Piggly Wiggly parking lot where a station wagon owned by a Lubbock man caught fire. Fire damage was confined to the front seat and dashboard, but the vehicle was badly "smoked."

At 1 p.m. Monday, a station wagon owned by a Post man named Rosas, caught fire on the First National Bank parking lot. The only damage was to the wiring and carburetor, firemen reported.

James Williams gets Ballinger head coach job

James Williams, a 1957 graduate of Post High School, this week was promoted to head football coach at Ballinger High School to replace Perry Flippin, who resigned.

Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams of Post, has been on the coaching staff at Ballinger for five years and was first assistant football coach at the time of his promotion to the head coaching job.

Ballinger, a class AA school, had a 6-4 record this past season, but faces the 1971 season with only four returning lettermen.

Williams played quarterback for the Post Antelopes and made the all-district team his senior year. He quarterbacked the San Angelo Junior College Rams for two years, then went to East Texas State University, where he graduated and was selected Little All-American quarterback as a member of the ETSU eleven.

Williams is married to the former Barbara Shytles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Powell Shytles of Post.

Little League meeting scheduled for March 9

Ken Gilbreath, newly elected president of Post's Little League, said today that a league meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 9, in the district courtroom, instead of March 11, as originally scheduled.

Gilbreath said the meeting date had been moved up to the 9th because of the Garza County Junior Livestock Show starting on the 11th.

The new president said all Little League managers, Minor League managers and others interested in Little League baseball are urged to attend the meeting.

Gilbreath and other new Little League officers were elected at a meeting last Thursday night. A president, Gilbreath succeeds Markey Rasbury, who served a year as the league's first woman president.

Others elected last Thursday night were: Jack Windlow, vice president; Markey Rasbury, secretary-treasurer; Archie Gill, player agent; Bob Carpenter, safety agent, and Linda Waldrip, official scorekeeper.

The Little League team managers for the 1971 season will be: Billy Greene, Red Sox; James Dye, Dodgers; Ray Nobles, Wildcat; Mickey Haas, Yankees; Wayne Hill, Tigers; and Larry Waldrip, Cardinals.

Boyd Noble helps Tech frosh win

Boyd Noble scored eight points for the Texas Tech Picadors in their 104-88 triumph over Clarendon College Saturday night in the Tech freshman team's final game of the season.

In addition to scoring eight points the 6-11 former Post Antelope cager pulled down nine rebounds. His scoring total came on one of six field goal attempts and six for six from the free throw line.

The victory gave the Picadors an 11-4 record for the season.

Spotlight on Science

NEW DEVELOPMENT IN FUNGAL DISEASE CONTROL

A team of researchers at New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University has made important discoveries on how certain destructive fungi attack plants, and how the plants, in turn, protect themselves.

Professor D. F. Bateman, who heads the team, told the American Institute of Biological Sciences in a telephone interview, that the work may eventually lead to better control of certain fungal diseases which now damage a variety of economically important agricultural crops.

The researchers used two types of disease-causing fungi and the common red kidney bean as experimental tools in the study, now in its eighth year.

Based on their findings the scientists can now tell, step by step, what chemical changes take place in the cell wall of a plant attacked by fungus. They have also discovered a group of enzymes which they believe play a major role in damaging the plant as the fungus spreads through its tissues.

In addition to discovering a series of other intricate chemical changes that take place in plants after infection, the Bateman team uncovered a new antibiotic substance produced by the infected plant after it comes under attack. In cooperation with researchers at the University of California, work is now underway to find the chemical structure of this antibiotic substance.

The next step towards a practical application of this breakthrough, Professor Bateman says, is to develop methods of altering the plant cell wall so that it becomes resistant to fungal attack, or to use chemicals similar in structure and function to those produced by infected plants.
