1972 United Fund drive nears the halfway mark

Many still to be heard from

Garza County's 1972 United Fund drive neared the halfway mark today toward its $9500 goal with a total of $4,687.77 in cash and pledges reported in by 10 of the 19 drive divisions.

"It's too early to call" was the way Jim Cornish, drive chairman, summed up the drive at this stage as to whether or not it will reach or top its goal.

"We're losing some this year from regular contributors gaining in a few instances from others, and still have about half or more to hear from," he explained.

The big Postex Employees division which last year added a very significant $1,615.30 in the successful 1971 drive is still to report. Walter Didway, Postex personnel manager who also is chairman of the division, says he hopes to wind up the fund effort at the plant Friday.

"So far," he reported, I think we're staying pretty close to last year, although we have a few less employees and some of them are working 40-hour weeks now when it was 48 hours a year ago."

Cornish reported his division a breakdown to date includes $3,407.50 from the big business division, $116.50 from downtown employees, $400 from Post teachers, $50 from Post ministers, $253.50 from county employees, $226.50 from bank employees, $75 from the farm and ranch division, $10 from oil employees, $90 from private citizens, $25 from the Woman's Culture Club, and $34.27 from Radio Station KPOS listeners.

The big business division which usually produces over 60 per cent of the total contributions is only about half completed, Cornish, who heads the division reports.

Still to be heard from are postal employees, city employees, highway department employees, hospital employees, oil employees, ASC and SCS employees, Southland, Lincoln Addition business, Justiceburg, and the farmers and ranchers.

"We're a little behind so far on last year's results and we still have plenty of smiley buttons left," Cornish said.

Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick, United Fund president who also heads the private citizens division this year, came up with a group of smiley drive posters as a gift from Lubbock which is using the same theme. She reported Lubbock fund officers were very interested in where Post got those large smiley buttons with the "I gave" printed on them. The buttons here are so much bigger than the ones Lubbock used.

Radio Station KPOS has been talking up a benefit basketball game between business men and women as a United Fund benefit and getting considerable response.

The present plan is to wind up the drive first and see how it comes out. If it ends below the goal, the game will be planned and staged sometime after Thanksgiving.

Cornish urged all drive division chairmen to wind up their efforts and get reports in Friday or Saturday.

Among local business establishments, the First National Bank, Piggly Wiggly, and The Post Dispatch all are 100 per cent in employees' contributions to the United Fund.

"We want to be all finished by Thanksgiving and have something else to be thankful for," Cornish said.

BY UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR

Schools' curriculum is undergoing study

School trustees were told at their November meeting Monday night that Dr. Ben M. Harris, a professor at the University of Texas in curriculum instruction, would fly in Wednesday morning for two days of class visits in the Post schools to study the local instructional situation and advise the trustees on establishing instructional auditing techniques.

Supt. Bill Shiver told the board he will meet with Dr. Harris, one of the recognized curriculum authorities in the nation, in Austin late this month to receive his recommendations.

Trustees decided to send the transfer deed on the Justiceburg building to the Texas Educational Agency's legal counsel in Austin for approval and then turn the property over to the newly formed Justiceburg non-profit community center corporation.

When this transfer is made, the trustees then hope to work out the future of the 206-acre Justiceburg Lake.

Legal questions have arisen as to whether or not the school district can give the lake to the Justiceburg corporation which was the original intent of the board.

In one teacher shift, Larry Seales, freshman science teacher and qualified vocational agriculture instructor, has been transferred to the vocational ag department to replace Tom Horton, who recently resigned here to accept a similar position in an Oklahoma town near his father's ranch.

Miss Patricia Barker, a West Texas State University graduate, was employed by the board Monday night to take over Seales' freshman classes.

Coaching assistant for girls basketball hired

The board of trustees of the Post Independent School District has approved the addition of Miss Sherry Woods, junior high teacher, to the basketball coaching staff as an assistant to N. R. "Jiggs" King, high school girls' basketball coach.

As an assistant coach, Miss Woods will be paid an additional $200 to her salary, the board decided. In her first year of teaching here, Miss Woods is a graduate of Post High School and Texas Tech University. She was a member of the Does, girls' basketball team, while attending Post High School.

Other coaching assignments for the basketball season coming up here are: John Alexander, high school boys and junior varsity, assisted by Joe Giddens; Lane Tannehill, freshman boys; Giddens, 8th grade boys; Don Black, 7th grade boys; Billy Hahn, 7th and 8th grade girls.

King and Miss Woods will be in charge of the varsity, junior varsity and freshman girls' team.

The basketball season opens for the high school boys' and girls' teams at home Friday night, Nov. 19, against Crosbyton. The girls have a practice game scheduled with Spur on the home court Monday night, Nov. 15.

Wacker's will re-open Friday

Ten Wacker store managers have been busy in Post all week stocking Wacker's temporary store at 115 East Main St. for its opening at 8:30 a. m. Friday.

John Brockman, Post store manager, said more goods will be arriving daily.

Wacker's announcement ad on the reopening following the disastrous fire of Sept. 27 appears on page 8.

Bids are being prepared for the construction of a new Wacker's store on the original site. The new building will be much bigger, including the site of the former Custom Upholstery building next door to the east, which was virtually destroyed in the fire.

MISS JACKIE MOORE

FFA sweetheart set for contest

Jackie Moore, the Post Future Farmers of America chapter sweetheart, will compete for district honors in the sweetheart contest at the Mesa District banquet in Lamesa later this month.

Miss Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moore, will be escorted by Kyle Josey at the district banquet.

Others representing the Post chapter at the Mesa District banquet will include Eddie Harper, Jerry Tyler and Ricky Bush.

Post's team placed fourth among eight teams in the district junior chapter conducting contest held re-

Homecoming at First Christian

The First Christian Church's tenth anniversary in its present building will be celebrated with a homecoming event Sunday, according to Bernard S. Ramsey, minister.

All former members, as well as present members, former ministers and their families have been invited. The homecoming observance will begin at the 10 a. m. church school hour.

A former minister of the church, the Rev. Harrell A. Rea, will deliver the morning service, which will be followed by a covered dish dinner in the fellowship hall.

There will be no evening service Sunday, the minister said.

SOIL, WATER MEN AT FIELD DAY

Some of the officials attending the Texas Tech field day on brush control on the Post-Montgomery Ranch near here last Thursday pose with a spray chart during a lull in the tour. From left to right are: Anson Bertrand, dean of the School of Agricultural Services at Texas Tech; Sam Ellis, member of the Garza County SWCD board; Dr. Joe Schuster, department chairman of range and wildlife at Texas Tech; Monta Moore, manager of the Post-Montgomery Estate; Joe McIntire, area conservationist, Big Spring SCS, and Arneal Scott, area conservationist, Lubbock SCS.

DISCUSSION ON BRUSH CONTROL

Approximately 150 attended the Texas Tech field day on brush control and a large number of them are shown here listening to a talk by Dr. Henry Wright, associate professor of range and wildlife at Texas Tech. Other sponsors of the daylong research tour were the Garza and Lynn County SWCD districts and the Brush Control and Range Improvement Association.—(SCS Photos)

BENEFIT EVENT SET FOR NOV. 20

Post, Slaton exes to meet in 'bowl game'

The football bowl games will start at an early date this year—and Post will be the first to come up with one of the gridiron classics.

A Booster Bowl game between Post and Slaton football players who are out of high school will be played Saturday, Nov. 20, at Antelope Stadium here with a 7:30 p.m. kickoff time.

And then, providing all the players have recovered by that time, a return game will be played Saturday, Nov. 27, in Tiger Stadium at Slaton.

The game here will be for the benefit of the Antelope Booster Club's athletic fund to support the high schools athletic program, said Ronald Simpson, president of the local booster organization.

Members of the Post High School coaching staff have agreed to help get the Post team "in shape" for the games, Simpson said.

Watch next Thursday's Dispatch for team roster and other pre-game information.

HAS ORAL SURGERY

Toby Thomas, proprietor of Toby's Restaurant and Drive-in, underwent oral surgery Wednesday that is expected to keep him away from his place of business for several days. The restaurant and drive-in is being managed by Erwin Young during Toby's absence.

SPAG running into 'financial troubles'

Mayor Giles C. McCrary of Post has been appointed to a six-man committee which will determine what needs to be done to convince more area governments that they need to be members of the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG).

The committee was appointed by Morris Turner of Lubbock, SPAG president, at a directors' meeting Tuesday at which a call was issued for dues amid serious questions about the future of the regional planning council.

H. Alden Deyo, executive director, told the board, "We may be in real financial trouble."

Deyo said he was told Monday by officials in Austin that the state may tighten enforcement of a provision which says that a city can't be a member of SPAG unless the county in which it is located is contiguous with other members of SPAG. This could apply to as many as 16 South Plains cities which are in counties not contiguous to other member counties.

Strict enforcement of another provision of the law—that counties must be current with their dues to be considered members—

MRS. DANA FEASTER

Garza hires new Home dem agent

Mrs. Dana Feaster, formerly of Colorado City who has been living in Lubbock, will be Garza County's new home demonstration agent, succeeding Mrs. Janis Choate who has resigned effective this weekend.

The Garza County Commissioners' Court at its November meeting voted to employ Mrs. Feaster as the new HD agent after receiving Mrs. Choate's resignation and discussing a successor with Mrs. Crawford, district home demonstration head.

In other actions Monday, the court:

Reviewed law enforcement annex building plans with no action taken.

Appointed Lewis Herron Jr. as commissioner to the South Plains Regional Housing Authority from Garza County for a two-year term.

Discussed a salary hike request of $155 monthly with Justice of the Peace Racy Robinson.

Approved the district judge's original authorization of $293.75 and $150 as attorney fees for Joe E. Taylor in two court-appointed attorney cases handled in district court here by Taylor.

Decided offices in the Garza County Annex would have to handle their own janitorial service in that building.

Wagon Wheels' book committee holds meeting

Plans for the publication of "Wagon Wheels: A History of Garza County" were discussed Saturday afternoon at a meeting of history book committee members with Paul VanZant, representative of the Pioneer Publishing Co., which is to publish the book.

Winnie Tuffing, committee chairman, said members of pioneer families who wish their family's history included in the book are urged to turn in their manuscripts to the committee as soon as possible. Histories of churches, lodges, clubs and business firms also will be included if written and submitted to the committee.

Manuscripts submitted for use in the book will be copied by Ed Neff, which assures that the original pictures will not be lost.

Manuscripts submitted for publication in the book should be typed and double spaced.

Committee members meeting with the publisher's representative Mrs. Tuffing, Veda McCampbell, Gwen Boren, Ruth Young, Baby Kirkpatrick, Evelyn Neff, Ed Neff and Charles Didway. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Surman.

Editor of the history's publication is the Garza County Historical Society Committee.

Joe McCowen expands to two stations now

Joe McCowen has gone into the service station business in a big way.

In late October he bought out Edward Wright's Texaco Service Station and named it McCowen's Texaco.

This week he bought out Albert Stone's Texaco Service Station and named it McCowen's Texaco No. 2.

POSTINGS

Have you started thinking about Christmas plans?

The reason we ask is because the Post Chamber of Commerce's retail promotions committee had a luncheon at the Drover House yesterday to start mapping their Christmas plans.

Actually, there isn't much time left.

But the committee is open to suggestions. What kind of entertainment would you like? How about decorations? Do you have any Christmas "tree" ideas?

The way matters stand now, Post's pre-Christmas holiday activities will be very similar to those in the past several years with empty building windows decorated by contesting students, entertainment on the three Saturday afternoon before Christmas, and a cash drawing each of the three Saturdays.

The committee got "burned" on its downtown "tree" last year because it didn't get delivery on the size tree it ordered and paid for. So the committee has gotten on a tree and is toying with building a "Santa Workshop" somewhere downtown—maybe even right out on the pavement.

But the way the wind blows in December here that might not be a good idea unless there were a couple of sea anchors handy to hold the workshop down on the pavement.

Of course Santa will be invited to "helicopter in" and bring a big sack of candy and have some "confidential talks" with all the kids.

But the committee is open for all worthy suggestions that don't have too big a price tag.

If you have some ideas give them (See Postings, page 8)

Where position makes a difference

Along about this time every autumn—sometimes earlier, sometimes later—sports-writers begin getting the word that they are giving some of the home team's football players too much mention, and others not enough.

The Dispatch's sportswriter has been covering high school football games here since 1953 and not a year of that time has the escaped criticism for his individual mention of the players in reporting a game.

Like other sportswriters, The Dispatch's reporter tries to keep up with the ball in covering a game, and in doing so he is more likely to write about the player who is carrying the ball, the player who is passing or kicking the ball, or the player who is trying to catch the ball than he is about the players back upfield in the big pile-up who have made the whole thing possible.

In other words, the man in the trenches doesn't get mentioned as much as the man he helps over the top, simply because the play the linemen makes is not of the same sensational nature as the play being made by the man who has the ball in his possession and is trying to reach that most important area on any football field—the end zone.

Pick up your Sunday sports page and read the stories of the "big" games—the college games. You'll find the same thing. The only time you will see a linemen mentioned is when he has intercepted a pass, recovered a fumble or broken a leg to make it possible for one of his backfield men to hog the headlines.

Every boy on the Post Antelope squad means as much to The Dispatch's sportswriter as the next one. He would like to be able to mention every man on the field every time a play is executed, because nine times out of ten every man out there had a hand in it. But accounts of football games just aren't written that way.

The Dispatch's sportswriter would like to have a spotter on each side of him in the press box, as the TV and radio announcers have, but the average high school press box is so small that the sportswriter can't find a seat for himself unless he gets there early.

With a spotter, the sportswriter could tell who made the tackle or who sprang the ball carrier with a key block. Without a spotter, he can't do it, because he doesn't have enough eyes. He knows when people read the story they want to know who made the run, who threw the pass, or who caught it. Naturally, the reader would also like to know the name of the linemen, or linemen, who made it possible. But he can't have everything in the confining space of a single football game write-up.

The problem is one that has "bugged" The Dispatch's sportswriter for years, and sportswriters on other papers, large and small, have told him they run into the same thing season after season.

The Dispatch sportswriter hopes this sounds more like an explanation than an apology. He feels he has nothing to apologize for, as long as he knows in his own mind that he is playing no "favorites" in his mention of individual players in his write-ups of the Post Antelope football games. What if all boils down to is that your son or grandson just isn't going to get mentioned as much if he plays in the line as if he plays in the backfield, regardless of how good a job he does.—CD

Going after the welfare mess

"The welfare mess—what's it all about, what needs to be done?" asks the League of Women Voters of the United States, as Congress considers changing the welfare system.

Right or wrong, the League of Women Voters has come up with some answers and some opinions of its own on the welfare system, and that is more than can be said for most other groups concerning themselves with the problem.

The League of Women Voters says welfare is a mess because it delivers too little for what it costs, it has widespread inequities in payments and standards, people are really not encouraged to work, and benefits generally are too low to provide basic necessities. All that makes sense.

The League believes a new welfare system should provide nationwide uniform benefits; should include the working poor; should train people for jobs that exist, and should provide incentives for working, instead penalties.

That makes sense, too. Now if the League of Women Voters can just get Congress to listen.

That they would like to do, and they say you can help.

The League asks that you call or write your senators and representatives in Washington, D. C., and tell them you support the League of Women Voters' stand on welfare.

Why not? Their ideas sound good and might work. Nothing else has to any degree of satisfaction.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

In a representative form of government, law-making demands more than legislator participation. It is essential to have citizen involvement. If every citizen in America would take the time to learn the legislative process and then to become actively involved in it, the often uncalculated criticism leveled against our lawmakers would be far less. We'd venture to guess that the criticism would be mostly constructive. Also, responsible involvement by the citizens would bring about better laws and certainly a more representative and responsive government.—Ashley, N. D., Tribune.

The Abundant Life...

ARE YOU A BUILDER?

I watched them tearing a building down. A gang of men in a busy town With a Ho-heave-ho and a lusty yell; They swung a beam and the side wall fell. I asked the foreman: "Are these men skilled; And the men you'd hire if you had to build?" And he gave me a laugh and said, "No, indeed. Just common labor is all I need. I can easily wreck in a day or two. What builders have taken a year to do." And I thought to myself, as I went away, Which of these roles have I tried to play? Am I a builder who works with care? Measuring life by rule and square? Am I shaping my deeds to a well made plan, Patiently doing the best I can? Or am I a wrecker who walks the town, Content with the labor of tearing down.

The easiest way to tear down others is to simply talk about them in an unkind way. More homes, lives and churches have been wrecked by loose tongues than any other living thing. James says the tongue is full of deadly poison. James 3:8. It is said Alexander the Great had one of his soldiers killed for complaining and tearing down his armies morale.

On the other hand words can be used to build and boost a person's life. Paul tells us to bear one another's burdens. Gal. 6:2. You cannot bear other's burdens by tearing them down. It is done by using the tongue in a positive way and by stretching forth a helping hand.

"A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in network of silver." Proverbs 25:11

IT HAS REACHED the point where if someone brings up the word "freeze" you are not sure whether he is trying to start a conversation on the weather or on the wages and price controls.

From Burl Pettit's sports column in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal: "Ol' Norm Cash, the pride of all Justiceburg, won't make Fort Worth his winter home this year. He's leaving leaving Cowtown to play all the Detroit night spots with a Country and Western Band he just formed. Move over, Johnny. There's another Cash in your field."

WE HAVE RECEIVED a letter to the editor from "A Concerned Teen-ager" which we would like to publish, but won't since no name was signed, and it is against The Dispatch's policy to publish unsigned letters.

The gist of the teen-ager's letter is that "a lot of kids and parents" feel terrible about the Halloween arson and vandalism, and asks, "Why do all of the kids in Post have to pay for what one or two kids have done?"

WE ASSURE THIS teen-ager that we, as well as most other adults, know for a fact that not near all the kids in Post were involved in the Halloween vandalism. Thank goodness the good kids far outnumber the bad ones. If they didn't, the town might not have been here the morning after Halloween.

The man up the street says that with today's pollution problem, all bridges are over troubled waters.

SINCE GENE DOW, editor of the Van Horn Advocate, and I "help each other out" when one of us is short on column material, I am "lifting" the following from Gene's "Van Horn Vagabond" column in the Oct. 28 issue of his newspaper: SERVICE STATION MAN

Since there are so many service station men here in Van Horn who have much the same problems, we would also like to pass along to our readers a recent article by Paul Harvey:

"The Service Station Man is in business for himself. That means he is allowed to work for you for less than the legal minimum wage—and no tips. Why does he?"

"The Service Station Man sweats year 'round; in winter shoveling, starting, towing; in summer pumping gas for pennies.

"He delivers and installs air, water and a wiped-off windshield for free.

"He crosses his fingers while a careless motorist flicks ashes by the gas pump.

"He crosses his heart when the next carload looks like hopheads who'll rob for a fix, and kill if they have to.

"The Service Station Man."

"On prices he's trapped between the company and the pirates. The majority overpopulate the intersection in anticipation of a brighter tomorrow, gets their 2 cents no matter what, while the guy on the pump handle gets squeezed.

"And reamed by part-time grease monkeys who goof off and lose customers one at a time forever.

"Or mis-stamp a credit card with an old roller nobody can read, and guess who will pay.

"The Service Station Man gets rained on, shouted at, maybe shot at;

"May work 20 hours on crackers and pop.

"And there are four in the driveway when number five can't wait for the restroom key.

"The Service Station Man."

"With busted knuckles from a hundred sprung tire irons, he turns the key in the door and he's through for the day—except for that desk drawer full of paper.

"Somewhere in that pile is the answer to how much leaked and how much evaporated, and of how much sold and make sure out of every 40 cents, 12 cents is tax, or else.

"And where'll he borrow for the new tank for the low-leak gas that nobody's sure of, but he's got to bet on?

"And in Phoenix there's an old-nozzle-squeezed named Verne Forward who has all those raindrops fallin' on him, plus the kids from MHT (Most Holy Trinity School).

"Their bikes on the driveway bell jerk a man from the pit at a nickel a minute for nothing.

"Those kids take more time and spend less money because, 'Dad says be sure to let you put air in my tires because I always blow them up too much'.

"And this always happens when there are two on the rack and four on the drive.

"And Verne's gone home lots of nights wondering why he can never say no. But he can't, and he won't.

"He found a note on his desk the day after school reconvened.

"Dear Mr. Service Station Man, we have enjoyed drinking from your fountain on hot days. We want you to know we appreciate it. Thank you very much. Sincerely, Students of Most Holy Trinity."

"P. S. Can you put up with us for another?"

"Verne says 'yes'."

Lubbock may vote on mixed drinks

LUBBOCK—The Lubbock Restaurant Association, hoping for a mid-April election, has agreed to help support and sponsor a petition for legalized sale of mixed beverages for on-premises consumption throughout the city. To secure a local option election for sale of mixed drinks, the petition would, under law, need to contain a number of qualified voters of the City of Lubbock equal to 25 per cent of the people who voted in the governor's race in 1968. Based on figures in a precinct analysis for 1968, the petition would have to have more than 9,758 signatures.

5,300 telephone workers to get wage increases

SAN ANGELO—The Office of Emergency Preparedness has notified General Telephone Company of the Southwest that portions of the new labor contract between the company and Communications Workers of America can be put into effect.

Some 5,300 employees in the five state area served by the company will receive wage increases Nov. 12 for the pay period from Oct. 24 to Nov. 6. Retroactive wage increases to June 20 are being computed and will appear on checks as soon as computations are completed.

The effective date on the contract was delayed because of the Presidential wage-price freeze imposed Aug. 15.

OEP ruled that since temporary agreement on the new contract was reached prior to Aug. 15, those portions of the contract which were to have become effective prior to Aug. 15 can become effective. Wage and benefit provisions of the agreement effective after Aug. 15 cannot become effective until after guidelines are issued by the Wage-Price board following the freeze period.

The company and union announced agreement on the three-year contract Aug. 6, retroactive to June 20. Ratification by the union membership was completed Aug. 26 and the contract signed Sept. 22.

It's Healthy to Owe a Little!

A wise man once said that it's actually "healthy" to owe a little—so long as it's only for a little while.

Yes, it is smart to buy on credit, but it's even smarter to pay your bills promptly.

Most people prefer to buy on credit. It's convenient and lets you take advantage of low sale prices "on the spot."

So keep your credit record spotless—by paying your bills promptly.

TEXAS HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS

... from the State Capitol

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

— The Texas Highway Commission remain headquarters its $50 million state headquarters building should be located near the Capitol and the governor's mansion. A re-evaluation study of the controversial site, ordered by the Legislature, was delivered last week to Preston Smith.

Legislators suggested the site southwest of the Capitol and across from the governor's mansion should be developed as a park, parking lot and tourist information center. They recommended moving the new highway building far from downtown Austin area.

The commission, on review of it, concluded the massive building rising to 10 stories at its tallest, would "enhance the beauty and interest of the Capitol complex."

At least, observed the new report, the structure will be the most attractive thing ever located on the barren block, now given over largely to a parking lot and the remains of old buildings.

The historic Lundberg Bakery still on the site will be preserved, incorporated into the new building and used as a tourist center and Texana museum for artifacts uncovered in excavation. The temporary state Capitol once stood on the block.

North and east portions of the highway building are planned at a two-story level to maintain scale with the governor's mansion and preserve the view of the Capitol from there. Maximum height of 10 stories will be reached at the south edge of the block.

Architects plan a public plaza with pools, greenery and shaded walkways along 11th St. nearest the Capitol. Landscaping will comprise about 50 per cent of the block if plans are finally approved. The building will be by far the largest of many new state structures in the Capitol area.

Business Gears for Political Year —Organized labor announced its political priorities three weeks ago, and last week in Houston business leaders in Texas looked at their "public affairs" programs for 1972.

At the 49th annual Conference of Texas Industry by the Texas Manufacturers Association, representatives of the business community heard:

Sen. John Tower ask for labor law reform.

Richard Armstrong, Washington D. C. challenge businesses to develop public affairs departments.

Irving Shapiro, vice president, E. L. duPont de Nemours & Co., ask business to work with labor to develop new national objectives — with everybody sharing the gains.

TMA also passed resolutions asking state legislators to require 10-year budget projections for all new state programs approved by the next legislature.

Senator Tower laid the blame on the nation's existing economic ills on "existing labor laws that are in dire need of reform."

Both Tower and TMA leaders spoke out in opposition of laws which permit strikers to receive food stamps and other state and federal aid programs while on a strike.

"Labor unions should be placed under existing anti-trust laws," Tower added, and pointed out that he had sponsored legislation to establish a Commission of Labor Law Reform.

PIGGLY WIGGLY CUSTOMER EARNS CAR
Dewey Davis, district manager for the Piggly Wiggly stores in this area, congratulates Mrs. Bill Mullinax of Idalou for the enthusiastic determination which earned her this new 1972 Four-door Custom Ford. The car was delivered to Mrs. Mullinax some 20 years after she began saving S&H Green Stamps for "something big." Mrs. Mullinax is a saleswoman for Watkins Products and in recent years was among the top 10 saleswomen in the United States.

Is a problem for a farmer or rancher to keep up on fire, wind, hail insurance, machinery, livestock coverage, stored grain, theft and liability insurance. Is it correct that POST INSURANCE AGENCY now offers a FARM AND RANCH OWNER POLICY that combines these coverages in one package for much less price?

Snyder may get clothing plant

SNYDER — Snyder is being considered as the location of a plant to employ more than 100 workers for a nationally known manufacturer of women's and children's wear, according to Chamber of Commerce officials.

To remain in contention of the plant, Scurry County must prove that enough labor to staff the plant will be available here. The Chamber is planning an in-depth labor survey to determine the potential labor available for that type of industry.

The company indicated that some 100 or more workers would be needed at the outset with the possibility of the labor force increasing to around 500 in three years.

FINE PRINT

"The large print giveth, and the small print taketh away."

That old joke about insurance policies has often had a good deal of truth in it. Many a crucial clause has been tucked away in typographical obscurity.

But in recent years, the size (sometimes even the color) of the print in insurance policies has been widely regulated by statute.

For example, a common requirement in the field of health insurance is that the exceptions must be printed at least as plainly as the benefits. Take this case:

A man disabled by rheumatism tried to collect on an insurance policy that promised, in large lettering, to pay benefits for six months. But down in the fine print, the policy cut the payments to only one month for certain diseases — including rheumatism.

Was the man bound by the one month limitation? A court decided he was not. Because of the substandard size of the print, said the court, that part of the policy simply had no legal effect.

Even if the print is large enough, it will ordinarily not carry as much weight as language that is typewritten or handwritten into the policy.

Another case involved a life insurance policy in which the words "Double Indemnity For Fatal Accidents" had been inserted by typewriter.

Later, double indemnity was held to be payable, even though there was conflicting language in the printed portion of the policy. The court said that words specially inserted were more likely to be correct than words buried in a standard form.

Of course, anything that clarifies an insurance policy also puts a greater responsibility upon you as the policyholder. The clearer the policy, the less grounds you have for arguing that you did not understand what kind of protection you were getting.

Accordingly, it makes good sense to examine a policy at the time you buy it, rather than waiting until you have suffered a loss. Not even large print, not even a special notation can tell you anything unless you read it.

Cowboys paid more than $55,000 in final rodeo of 1971 season

DENVER, Colo. — The last regular rodeo of the 1971 season was held in San Francisco, Calif., and cowboys were awarded more than $55,000, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

The biggest winner at the famed Grand National Rodeo in San Francisco's Cow Palace was Fred Larsen, Sheridan, Wyo., who collected $2,620 for taking the average in steer wrestling. Larsen's time on three steers was 15.9 seconds.

Another big winner was Olin Young, Peratta, N. Mex., who won first place in calf roping for $2,088. His total time on three calves was 37.4 seconds.

Mike Marvel, Battle Mountain, Nev., finished first in saddle bronc riding after four go-rounds of competition in the event. He won $2,005.

From Fort Collins, Colo., Gene Behtol emerged the top bull rider 757, after three go-rounds, winning $1,000 for finishing first in bareback riding.

To wrap-up the year, the top-15 cowboys in each event will compete for nearly $100,000 in the National Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 4-12. World titles, based on winnings, will be awarded at the conclusion of the finals.

LET'S NUTRITIOUS!
NO STORAGE PROBLEM! SOLDIERS OF THE CONQUEROR ATILLA THE HUN EARNED THEIR FOOD WITH THEM. THEY USED SLABS OF RAW MEAT AS A SADDLE WHEN THEY WENT OUT ON RAIDS. THERE WAS NO STORAGE PROBLEM, AND THE WEIGHT OF THEIR BODIES TENDERIZED THEIR MEAT PINNERS!

RARE OR WELL DONE?

FOUR KINDS OF FOOD!
WHETHER YOU EAT AT HOME OR ON THE RUN, PROPER NUTRITION IS A MUST. ALWAYS TRY TO INCLUDE FOODS FROM THE "BASIC FOUR" EVERYDAY: (1) MEAT, FISH, OR POULTRY (2) FRUITS AND VEGETABLES (3) GRAINS AND CEREALS (4) EGGS, FATS, AND DAIRY FOODS.

ENERGETIC IDEA!
STORED AWAY IN SCHOOL LUNCH BOXES, PURSE OR POCKET, AN ENVELOPE OF KNOX GELATINE DRINK CAN PROVIDE A DELIGHTFUL QUICK ENERGY PICK-UP THAT SUPPLIES SUPPLEMENTARY GELATINE PROTEIN AS WELL AS YOUR MINIMUM DAILY REQUIREMENT OF VITAMIN C. INSTEAD OF A COFFEE BREAK OR WHENEVER ENERGY LAGS, JUST STIR THE CONTENTS OF AN ENVELOPE INTO FOUR OR FIVE OUNCES OF COLD WATER, AND ENJOY A DELICIOUS ORANGE, CRANBERRY-ORANGE OR GRAPE GELATINE DRINK. IT'S A GREAT APPETITE APPEALER, TOO.

SPOTTING DECEPTIVE GUARANTEES

Do you know how to spot a deceptive guarantee? The Federal Trade Commission has set up guidelines to help consumers know what to look for in a guarantee and how to know if it is deceptive.

According to the guidelines, advertising is deceptive if it fails to state:

What product or part is guaranteed.

What characteristics of the product are covered.

What the buyer must do before the guarantee will be honored, such as returning the product to a certain location or paying labor costs.

How long the guarantee is effective.

How the guarantee will be carried out — if it promises repair, replacement or a choice.

The company or person responsible for the guarantee.

Good advertising will tell you what you need to know about products and services. Remember to buy from retailers you can trust — those who have an established reputation of standing behind their products. Also remember it pays to have guarantees in writing.

If you are faced with deceptive advertising or a firm that refuses to perform warranty service, report the details to the nearest FTC office or the Consumer Protection Division of the Texas Attorney General's Office.

Some Thanksgiving Thoughts — About Your Festive Table!

May we suggest—if the "folks" all gather at your home for Thanksgiving yams-yams, and possibly for Christmas too—that in planning your holiday dinners, you start with the thought of each year adding something new to the beauty and useful elegance of your table.

And, if you are one of those who each Thanksgiving journeys somewhere else for the yum-yums, think how thoughtful it would be to send your hostess a festive table gift ahead of time just to let her know how much you appreciate those tasty gatherings of family and friends.

Here at MAXINE'S, you will find dozens and dozens of useful "holiday dinner starters."

Perhaps a set of Corning Ware, both useful and pretty enough to move from stove onto table, complete with three-year guarantee. These range in price from $19.95 a set all the way up to $95.

In stainless steel, we offer not only beautiful and practical tableware, but serving pieces, bowls and platters, salad serving sets, bread trays, condiment sets, and relish trays.

Also we have gold electro-plate, the new gold tableware that doesn't tarnish and requires no polishing.

Our table cloths for your holiday table include linen-like vinyls that require little upkeep and damask cloths with matching napkins for the more family Thanksgiving meal.

We have all kinds of beautiful crystal, costing from only $1 a stem up.

Just received are new scented candles with flower candle rings to make your centerpiece fashion right. A shipment of dried flowers is just in to help you fashion your own festive centerpiece.

Perhaps a new coffee pot will add zest to your holiday dinner planning. We have four to ten cup pots in both Corning Ware and stainless steel.

For between meal enjoyment on the holiday we suggest electric corn poppers for the youngsters' munching and a set of new mugs with a mug tree for family coffee in the afternoon.

For those who are "too far away" to come Thanksgiving, we have Thanksgiving cards to remind them of your love. Also for hostesses we offer a whole new line of department full of hostess attire from the very short to the very long—hot pants to new long dresses.

May your Thanksgiving be happy and bright—and your turkey delicious.

Friday Night, Nov. 12

at WOLFFORTH

— 7:30 P. M. KICKOFF —

The football season—as far as the Post Antelopes are concerned—will come to an end at Wolfforth Friday night when Coach Bobby Davis' battered but unbowed 'Lopes wind up the campaign against the Frenship Tigers.

Both teams of course are not in contention for anything with Frenship having a 3-3 district record with wins over Ralls, Tahoka, and Slaton—two more wins than Post has on its record.

But the Antelopes despite a losing season have played hard and held opponents well within the respectable score range.

They merit Post fans support right down to the final gun Friday night.

Attitude seen as winning factor

By TOMMY SHUMARD
Though the football team is not having a good season the team feels there is something being gained by it. Most everyone agrees that attitude has improved and will stay with the team next year along with more experience and confidence. The support the team has received this year will contribute to a winning team next year and in the years to come.

I feel that if a winning tradition is to start at Post it will have to come from within the student body. The support is greatly needed by the athletic teams. The coaches are doing their jobs but it will take the student body to do theirs, if there is going to be winning teams. There is still time to show the team you are behind them. It will be a better school if there is something to be proud of.

New duds for cagers

Members Drama Club to attend play in Lubbock

The Post High School Drama Club met Thursday night and confirmed plans to travel to Lubbock to see "The Death of a Salesman" at the Texas Tech University Theater on Nov. 20.

The deadline to sign up for reservations was Nov. 9. The price of student reservation tickets are $1, the regular admission is $1.50 per student. Members are welcome to invite guests. We would like to remind the members and their parents, however, this is not a school sponsored trip; various club members will be taking their own cars and will be traveling as individuals, rather than a group. A letter to the parents is available in the Speech Room. We would like to remind all members to be sure to come by Miss Davis' room and get one of these letters for their parents.

Also, deadline dues were collected at the meeting and no late dues will be accepted.

Donna McBride, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Carol Compton. Other members present were: Phil Mathews, Judy Heintz, Lanita Justice, DeJuanne Hays, Wanda Heintz, Jan Bilbo, Steve Mason, Rodney Compton, Donnie Hair, Jo Beth Gandy, and Jill Cash.

The sponsors, Miss Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Seales, were also present.

Again, don't forget to sign up for reservations to see the play. It should be quite an experience!

The pep squad is on the move again!

They finally collected enough funds to do a good job on the halls. At the Slave Day Saturday we collected $24 from doing odd jobs about town. Every one of the pep squad would like to thank the people that hired us.

The pep squad traveled on a hard bus trip Friday night to support our 'Lopes.

I have some bad news. We may not have a freshman English teacher any longer. Since the "Snow White" play, all the Hollywood talent scouts are after her. Beware!

I would like to say that the people associated with the "Snow White" play are the most wonderful people in the world. I enjoyed working with them immensely. I really mean it.

Well, believe it or not, the Top Twenty uniforms have finally arrived. They received them Nov. 1. If you would like for the Top Twenty sing for an engagement, contact Mr. Georgie Willson.

Tuesday, Nov. 2, the Seniors took an Armed Forces test. Don't get me wrong, this was not a recruiting test! Don't everybody panic!

Student Council sponsoring dance

By KIM OWEN

The Student Council met Nov. 1. Plans were discussed to help form a committee to start a youth center. David Woods told the council about the plans for the youth center, and Mary Ann Wright made the motion to help. The committee is to be formed from each class.

The gold and white "tee" shirts were discussed, and the council was informed that it was impossible to get the shirts in the desired colors.

A "sock hop" was brought up next. It was suggested by Mary Ann to have a dance for high school and junior high students. The dance will be Nov. 13, and admission will be 50 cents a person. The chaperones will be Coach Black, Coach Alexander and wife, Flute King and John Taylor. Time will be from 7:30 to 11.

Seniors take tests

Four recruiting officers from the Army, Navy and Air Force came to administer tests to the Post High School Seniors Nov. 2. These tests were given to see what the students were best suited for. The tests were given to both the boys and girls.

Costumes arrive for 'Top Twenty'; choir stays busy

The choir has taken a large leap forward this week. So many things are happening that Mr. Willson is keeping busy from morning till night.

The Top Twenty costumes finally came in, and at rehearsal Wednesday night, were given to their owners—and modeled! They really look great! Now that they have arrived, a concert will be scheduled shortly.

The long awaited musical "Lil Abner" finally showed itself in choir last Wednesday and plans are to get "Lil Abner" under way as soon as possible. We are sorry to announce that it will not be presented on the previous dates set, but will be presented sometime in late January or early February.

The Plainview High School choir will be presenting "Hello Dolly" on Nov. 15. A bus will be taken for those students who are interested in seeing the production.

We're sure that after watching "Hello Dolly" and "Snow White," the choir will be ready to start rehearsals on "Lil Abner" with full confidence and enthusiasm.

Annual staff meets

The annual staff held a meeting Monday, with the publisher of Taylor Co. in Lubbock conducting the meeting. The staff discussed the makings of a new and better annual. The annual staff would like to remind everyone that the annuals are still on sale and will be until Nov. 23. Be sure and get your order to any one of the annual staff.

Welcome back, Melba Mathis. Melba had a very serious kidney infection and was absent from school for four days. We're glad to have you back, Melba.

Last Saturday the pep squad had a Slave Day to raise money for decorating the halls. They really worked hard.

The Senior pictures came in Friday. I hope everyone is pleased with them.

The Juniors are giving a play, "Come Out of the Closet." They will present this play sometime in January.

The Drama Club had a meeting Thursday. It was decided that they would attend a play, "Death of a Salesman," at Texas Tech University, Nov. 20.

The FTA had a meeting Nov. 1. The report has not been turned into us yet. But be sure to read it when it does come out.

Mystery character for this week is "BoDiddle." That's a good one. I'll bet you a quarter no one can find who this one is!

The whole school would like to extend a "Get Well" to Tol Thomas who is in the hospital with a leg injury. Hurry up and get back, Tol.

Thought for today: When one door closes another one opens.

There's new teacher in Ag department

Mr. Seales, a new teacher in the Ag Department, comes to us from his home town Muleshoe, Tex. He taught math until Mr. Horton moved to Oklahoma, then he took over the first year Ag boys.

He is a graduate of Texas Tech and this is his first year to teach. He is married and his wife's name is Ellen Seales. We are very proud to have Mr. Seales and his wife in Post.

Stationery sale by Spanish Club well under way

By MARK HAYS

Can we keep enough stationery to last two weeks? This seems to be the main problem already since the Spanish Club started selling stationery Wednesday, Nov. 2. Already more than half gone, from approximately 85 boxes of the finest printed stationery. Perhaps more will be ordered soon.

A Spanish Club meeting was held in Room 8 at the high school building. Stationery was handed out by each of the members to sell. Afterward the officers stayed to do a little work on the 1971-72 Spanish Club Handbook.

Those selling stationery are: Lucy Valdez, Mark Hays, Eva Martinez, Liz Torres, Betty Abraham, Kay Guajardo, Agnes Lappen, Fran Lappen, Johnny Perez, Alice Martinez, Susan Solis, Anita Criado, Phyllis Eckols, Colien Gilmore, and Gail Browning.

There are many types, shapes and colors of stationery. Ask any member for yours today.

Wednesday ceremony signals issuance of Christmas stamps

WASHINGTON — A ceremony was held Wednesday at the National Gallery of Art marking the initial issue of two 1971 Christmas postage stamps.

The ceremony signaled the sale of two billion of the stamps in post offices across the country on Nov. 11.

One of the stamps features "A Partridge in a Pear Tree," painted by Jamie Wyeth and is based on the old English Christmas ballad, "The Twelve Days of Christmas."

The other stamp depicts a nativity scene by the Italian painter Giorgione. The scene is a reproduction of the artist's "Adoration of the Shepherds," which is in the Samuel H. Kress collection at the National Gallery.

We went out and had lunch with the "brush control tourists" last Friday at the Graham Community Center. We enjoyed a plate of L. D. Jackson's catered barbecued beef and a good chat with State Representative Bill Healy.

We sort of think we jolted Bill a bit when J. B. Poits introduced us when we told him we were glad to meet him because we wanted to see what a "controversial politician" looked like.

Well to us, he looked like a man who really knew his way around Austin and was used to a real fistful of political power. Then we

Library Listening Post

By GEORGE L. MILLER
This coming week is Children's Book Week, and in recognition of that event we have a special display in the children's room of the library. We have a collection of 30 books for children.

The collection ranges from picture books for the small fry to full-sized novels for the junior reader. The selection includes both fiction and non-fiction. There are many brand new titles, just published, as well as some old titles that are classic for children.

This collection is on loan to us from the Texas State Library, and will be on display throughout the month of November. We're sorry we can't let you check the books out — they are borrowed and must be returned and we don't want to risk a loss. But you can come into the library and browse to your heart's content. And if you see a title that you think is really excellent, mention it to the volunteer, and we'll see what we can do about purchasing a copy for our library.

We have another interesting display scheduled for this coming week — this display will be mounted in our display case in the main room.

Faust's coin and stamp shop of Lubbock will be bringing down a display of foreign stamps for our patrons to look at and enjoy. This promises to be most unusual — a treat you won't want to miss. Be sure to drop in and take a look.

The Post Art Guild continues to supply the library with a painting for display. This month we have a beautiful painting done by Mrs. Helen Welch. These paintings, done by local artists, certainly dress up the appearance of our library. We're proud to have the loan of them.

And don't forget, along with art and displays, we still have books too!

Paving projects not completed

Post's 1971 paving program is not finished — and probably will be completed sometime next spring — according to Public Works Superintendent Pete Maddox.

The city administrator said three more courses of rock and asphalt are scheduled to be applied to all new blocks of paving before the program is concluded.

The delay is due to cool temperatures at this time of year, Maddox said.

listened to all the speeches — in which Bill always came in for lots of praise for getting these researchers the funds to really go after the mesquite. Brush control, we learned, was a subject dear to the heart of this chairman of the house appropriations committee.

Bill told us he wasn't promising, but he would look into the possibility when he got back to Austin of getting a mental health outpatient clinic for Post to serve the mentally ill in this area. He explained that this enables the older folks to live at home where they are happier and have their medications and conditions checked regularly.

Bill Healy, we hear, is "running scared" next year in the biggest representative district in the whole state, and a lot of it new territory for him.

Healy is "guessing" that Ralph Yarborough will wind up making the race for governor. He also thinks Preston Smith is oiling up his campaign machine to have another go at it. (We disagree with him there.)

Anyway you look at it though, 1972 promises to be a mighty interesting political year.

As far as the brush control tour luncheon program went, Dr. Donald W. Thayer, a Tech professor of biology, told the big group — most of them scientists interested in brush — that Tech was working on a plan to convert mesquite into a protein supplement for livestock to eat.

Believe it or not, Dr. Thayer told us, they are mixing it with feed lot "droppings" (my term not his) and coming up with a tasteless protein supplement that rats — who he says are more finicky eaters than humans — fill their little tummies on.

Healy commented afterwards if Thayer could mix those two and come up with a livestock feed he was worth his research funds — and then some.

The Tech speaker also went on to say that it would be just as easy to make a protein supplement out of waste paper and waste cardboard which now are almost burying our cities, as mesquite. But first, he said, let's eat up the mesquite.

Let me tell you when we went to the grocery store for our weekly shopping next morning we paid a whole lot more attention to all the ingredient contents printed on the labels than we ever had before.

We decided quite early in our newspaper career to give hometown productions big build-ups but NEVER to "review them" after we saw them.

That has been a good rule and we've followed it generally for a lot of years.

But we can't let "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" slip into our memory without commenting upon how wonderful it was.

Everybody was delightful — the singing, the dances, and the orchestra. Mrs. Bettye Scott in a letter to the editor in this Dispatch expressed as pure English how she loved her sentiments.

But we want to add one individual mention (thus breaking our long held rule.) Zoe Kirkpatrick's ballet form and ballet dancing were simply fantastic for a mother of five.

VFW groups hold dinner and dance

John Miller Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6797 was host for a VFW and Auxiliary membership dinner and dance Saturday with many members and Vietnam veterans attending.

Special guests for the evening were Ylavia Williams, department president, Fred Williams, District 7 commander, and Allie Mae Crowder, District 7 president.

Many speeches were made with the membership being praised for a job well done.

Amity Jr. Study Club thanked for its help

The Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce expresses its appreciation to the Amity Junior Study Club and its projects chairman, Mrs. Will Parker, for their help with the Well Baby Clinic, which is sponsored by the Women's Division.

The Well Baby Clinic has had 14 sessions, with 34 children completing the inoculation series.

The Amity Junior Study Club sponsored a number of sidewalk sales and contributed the proceeds to the clinic for the purchase of syringes.

Women's division discusses projects

Flea markets and "beauty" pageants were on the discussion agenda at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce in the Reddy Room.

Mrs. Marie Neff gave a report on the flea market held in October and stated that the flea market scheduled for last Saturday was postponed due to bad weather. The flea market has been re-scheduled for this Saturday in the old Garza Auto building.

The "Miss-less Post" beauty pageant was reported on by Ramona Brockman. The pageant, which will be co-sponsored by the Antelope Booster Club, has been tentatively set for January and will feature male contestants dressed as women. All businesses, clubs, organizations and civic groups will be invited to sponsor a candidate.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Neff, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Brockman, Lorree Thaton, Willa Didway, Wyvonne Kennedy, Maxine Marks, Nancy Jolly, Betty Posey, Edith Ramsey, and Mrs. Morris Neff.

He said the state is apparently moving toward not giving COGs (councils of governments) funding credit for counties which are behind on their dues.

SPAG and 23 other regional councils in the state receive financial support from per capita dues collected from member governments, from state appropriations and from federal grants.

OUTSTANDING CONTRIBUTION

Dear Editor:

May I state an observation and raise a point for ponderance? I wonder if the citizens in our community realize the number of talented people we have right here in Post. This seems true in several areas; however, I am now citing the Post Music Club and the numerous productions that they have presented to our community throughout the years.

I have just had the privilege of working with this group in the delightful production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Someone labeled my task that of "director," but really, with a group of professionals such as these my role was a minor one. It was a most

Jones selected for 'Who's Who'

Post High School graduate Howard E. Jones, who is working toward his doctor's degree in aerospace engineering at Georgia Tech, has been selected for inclusion in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Jones of Post.

Jones is scheduled to receive his degree from Georgia Tech in December. He is a registered professional engineer in the state of Florida. At Georgia Tech he is a member of the Student Center Governing Board, and has served in a number of offices in the Graduate Student Senate.

Qualifications for nomination for selection to the "Who's Who" include: Scholarship (2.3 or better overall); demonstrated leadership; participation in campus activities; general service to the campus community and potential usefulness to business and society.

rewarding experience; the cast was superb; and working with the many members of the production staff caused me to forget or even doubt that we live in what some people have labeled a "disadvantaged area" or "hick town."

The most exciting experience of both evenings was to watch the twinkles in the eyes, hear the laughter and shouts of the children as the story of Snow White and the delightful seven dwarfs unfolded. I wish every parent and grandparent could have been watching the children as the animas danced and clowned together. As the plot developed and the sequences of events gathered momentum, we all were on the edges of our seats with the tempting red apple to the princess, the deafening storm and the crash that killed the evil being, we were once again children — knowing that somehow, some way, our princess would rise again. You should have heard the shouts of the children as the prince awakened our lovely princess with the first kiss of love. Truly, everyone there from age 1 to 90 was a child again.

My only regret — that every child in every community does not have such a rich and rewarding experience.

Thanks Post Music Club for another contribution to the enrichment of the culture of our community.

Sincerely,
BETTYE SCOTT

'Lope gridders to finish season Friday at Frenship

Last high school game for 11 squad members

Coach Bobby Davis' Post Antelopes will journey to Wolfarth Friday for a District 4AA game with the Frenship High School Tigers, the final contest of the season for both clubs.

It will be the Antelopes' final chance to improve on a 1-8 record through their first nine games, and will be the last appearance in a Post High School football uniform for 11 members of the Antelope squad, 10 of whom are scheduled to graduate next spring and one of whom is playing out his high school eligibility.

Freshmen losers to Cooper, 25-6

Joe Moore returned the opening kickoff 95 yards for the Post freshman team's only touchdown in a 25-6 loss to the Cooper freshmen here last Thursday.

The heavier Cooper eleven built up a 19-6 halftime lead and added a touchdown in the second half. A pass from quarterback Tony Comer to Kevin Kenny failed to connect in Post's attempt to add the extra points following Moore's touchdown run.

"It was a bruising game, one in which our boys played well and I learned a lot," said Coach Lane Tannehill.

Four of seven squad members who missed the Denver City game last Friday will be back in harness for action against Frenship, but the other three will not be able to play. They are fullback Robert Mindieta, out with a broken hand; Larry Hair, who has missed the last two games because of an injury, and sophomore lineman Richard Dudley, who is recovering from a siege of the mumps.

Back in action will be senior guard Ronald Tyler, who missed the Denver City game because of a strep throat; halfback Johnny Minor, who was out with a knee injury, and center Tol Thomas, who missed the game because of a blood clot in the lower part of his leg.

Still out of action from injuries received early in the campaign are sophomore halfback David Conoly; senior guard Kelly Duren and junior guard Junior Stelzer. The Frenship team has won from Slaton, Ralls and Tahoka in district play and lost to Roosevelt, Denver City and Idalou. The Tigers' loss to Roosevelt was by one touchdown and to Denver City and Idalou by one point each — 7-6 to Denver City and 28-27 to Idalou.

In non-district play, Coach Jack Taylor's Tigers have won from Class AAA Iowa Park and won from Morton and Stanton.

Slated to start on offense for the Tigers are the following:

Arthur Garcia, 160-pound junior, left end; Clifton Davis, 175-pound sophomore, left tackle; Terry Mangum, 185-pound junior, left guard; Dusty Dowgar, 209-pound senior, center; Ronald Gaston, 180-pound senior, right guard; Ray Martin, 175-pound junior, right tackle; Frank Perez, 175-lb. senior, right end; Doug Moerbe, 155-pound senior, quarterback; Mike Wright, 165-pound junior, left halfback; Johnny Silvas, 150-pound junior, right halfback; Joe Rogans, 185-pound senior, fullback.

The Tigers' leading all-district candidates are Rogans, the 185-pound fullback, and Dowgar, the 208-pound tackle.

Senior class members who will be suited out in football togs for the last time for Post Friday night are: Tony Rosas, Kyle Josey, Kim Owen, Ronald Tyler, Tommy Shumard, Kenny McKamie and Don Ellenberger. Senior squad members who will not be in uniform because of injuries are Larry Hair and Kelly Duren.

Post loses hardfought game to Denver City

Exploding for 14 points in the first quarter, the Denver City Mustangs were held to a 7-7 stand-off the rest of the way in defeating the Post Antelopes, 21 to 7, last Friday night at Denver City.

The game was marked by spectacular and unusual plays, the spectacular ones including back-to-back kickoff returns for touchdowns to open the second half. Frequent penalties marred the hard-fought contest, however.

The game, the next to the last of the season for both teams, could appropriately have been dubbed the "Crutch Bowl" game, since each eleven was minus the services of five starters because of injuries or illness.

Denver City had scored all 21 of their points before Post got on the scoreboard with halfback Kenneth Price's spine-tingling 80-yard kickoff return on the second play of the second half. On the first play of the half, Denver City halfback Mitchell Hunnicutt had returned Jay Pollard's kickoff 80 yards for a Mustang touchdown.

That was all the scoring for the night, but the Antelopes missed a golden opportunity to make the game much closer a few minutes later after Jimmy Bertran recovered er a Mustang fumble on the six-yard line. The Big Red defense arose to the occasion, however, trapping quarterback Jerry Tyler for a five-yard loss, holding Price to a yard at the line, and then taking over on a pass interception.

Denver City's first touchdown came in the opening minutes after the Mustangs recovered Tyler's fumble on the Post 24. On the first play, Hunnicutt took a pitchout around right end for the score, and Robert Qualls kicked the extra point.

Tony Rosas brought the Denver City kickoff back 25 yards to the Post 48 for good field position, but two plays lost nine yards before a 15-yard penalty for roughing the passer took the ball to the Denver City 46. It was still short of a first down, however, and after Kyle Josey gained only a yard, Danny Lee punted to the Denver City 13.

From there, the Mustangs went 87 yards in five plays to score, with the big gainer Hunnicutt's 46-yard run to the Post 43, where he was stopped by safety Danny Lee. The tackle brought a 15-yard personal foul penalty that gave Denver City 15 more yards, and two more plays took the ball to the eight-yard line from where Randy Brian carried over for the TD, with Qualls kicking the extra point.

The only serious scoring threat in the second quarter came after the 'Lopes recovered a Mustang fumble at the Denver City 24. Fullback Robert Torres gained four yards, but two more tries resulted in recovered Post's fourth down fumble on their 19.

On Post's second half kickoff, Hunnicutt bobbled the ball before picking it up for his 80-yard touchdown run, which brought the score to a tie.

Price's 80-yard kickoff return, coming on the heels of Hunnicutt's, made the long trip to Denver City worthwhile for the Post fans. The speedy junior halfback broke through a cluster of would-be tacklers after fielding the ball on his 20, took advantage of a couple of clearing blocks, and outran the last Mustang defender from the mid-field stripe for the six points.

Rodney Compton came off the bench to make good on his first varsity extra point kick and turn Post's six points into seven.

Bertran's recovery of the Denver City fumble came on the second play from scrimmage after Hunnicutt let Pollard's kickoff get away to the Mustang five-yard line.

Tyler went back to pass on the first play, but his protection broke down and he was smeared for a five-yard loss. Price got a yard of it back, but another passing attempt by Tyler was intercepted on the Denver City 8, with the Mustangs punting out of danger to the 50.

Two carries by Price and a five-yard penalty against the Mustangs intercepted a pass to halt the 'Lopes a first down on the Denver City 35, but once again the drive.

Midway of the final quarter, the Mustangs worked the ball down to the Post 25, but Lee's interception of a pass on the Post 19 stopped them.

Josey gained two yards, then caught Tyler's pass for a 26-yard gain to the Post 47. Tyler was injured when tackled on another passing attempt, with John Johnson coming in to replace him.

Johnson passed five yards to Lee to the 50-yard line, then 10 to Reggie Kennedy to the Mustang 40. A five-yard penalty set the 'Lopes back, and Reggie Clifton intercepted Johnson's pass on the 4, with 1:40 remaining. The Post defense held, and the Mustangs punted to the Post 12, from where a fumble lost five yards as the game ended.

The injury-riddled Mustangs were dealt an additional blow early in the game when their standout center, Lyndal Trout, suffered a broken leg.

Fearless Fosdick sees Antelopes as weekend winners

Eight right and five wrong last week gave The Dispatch's football crystal gazer a .616 percentage — slightly above his none-too-good average for the season.

The fearless forecaster missed on Post-Denver City; Morton-Friena, SMU-Texas A&M and the Floyd-Littlefield and Arkansas-Rice tie games.

Here are his selections for this weekend with his pick in each game in capital letters:

POST at FRENSHIP. There's always something about that final game.

Denver City at IDALOU. Too far from home for this season's Mustangs.

Slaton at ROOSEVELT. Eagles say, "Why quit while you're winning?"

Ralls at TAHOKA. Jackrabbits go winless.

LITTLEFIELD at Morton. Wildcats wrap it up in District 3AA.

Abernathy at FLOYDADA. Mean Green meaner than ever after losing to Littlefield on first downs.

Dimmitt at OLTON. Mustangs sign off with victory.

Friena at LOCKNEY. Ditto for Longhorns.

Baylor at TEXAS TECH. He's going with Tech because he's just heard that Coach Carlen is adding a fourth play to Raider repertoire.

TEXAS vs TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY. Horns headed back to the Cotton Bowl.

Post's junior high football teams ended their seasons on a winning note at Frenship Tuesday. Coach Joe Giddens' 8th grade team winning by a score of 42 to 0, and Coach Don Black's 7th graders by a score of 28 to 7.

The 7th grade team finished its season with a 6-2 record and was third in junior high conference standings behind Roosevelt and Slaton. The 8th grade team's season record was 3-1-2 and it also finished in third place in the conference standings behind the same two schools — Roosevelt and Slaton.

Edward Price went 40 yards on a reverse and quarterback Bryan Davis ran the extra points to open the scoring in the 8th grade game, and another first period touchdown came on a 40-yard pass play from Davis to Mike Hays to give Post a 14-0 lead at the end of the opening quarter.

Davis and Mike Hair collaborated on a pass play to boost the score to 20-0 early in the second quarter, and later in the same period, Garland Dudley broke through on an option and went 30 yards to paydirt. Duke Bell ran over the extras, and Coach Giddens' team was out in front 28-0 at the halftime intermission.

The third quarter was scoreless, but a pass from Davis to Hair added another touchdown in the final period, and Rodney King threw a touchdown pass to Mike Hays for the final six-pointer.

Two pass interceptions by Mike Shepherd highlighted an outstanding defensive effort by the Post team.

In the 7th grade game, Post opened the fireworks in the first quarter with quarterback Dan Sawyers and Jimmy Dorland getting together on a touchdown pass covering 72 yards. Sawyers passed to Matt Allison for the extra point.

Bryon Gray went 38 yards on reverse, and Kyle Duren broke through tackle for 35 yards to give Coach Black's gridders two touchdowns in the second quarter. Sawyers passed to Mike Waldrip for the extra point following Duren's touchdown.

Post's final touchdown came on a 65-yard run by Dorland.

Following Dorland's touchdown, Frenship ran the kickoff back to the Post nine-yard line. The Antelopes held, but fumbled after taking over on downs, with Frenship recovering and going in for their only touchdown. Something unusual in a 7th grade game was seen when a Frenship youngster place-kicked the extra point to turn his team's six into a seven.

Coach Black said the entire team played well on defense, with Kyle Duren and Florence Gonzales doing exceptionally good jobs.

Larry Carpenter plays fullback on Azle '11'

Larry Carpenter, son of Don Carpenter and grandson of Mrs. Esther Carpenter of Post, plays fullback on the Azle High School team which is leading the pack in District 3A-6.

Azle beat Everman, 38 to 6, Friday to strengthen its hold on the lead.

A week ago last Friday, the Azle team upended Boswell, 28 to 7, with Larry Carpenter scoring two touchdowns.

Hudman kicks 3 FG's in Wyoming victory

Post's Randy Hudman kicked three field goals in the second quarter for the University of Wyoming Saturday in the Cowboys' 31-29 upset of Utah State at Logan, Utah.

The three field goals by the ex-Post Antelope set a single game record in the Utah State stadium.

Hudman's field goals were from distances of 37, 30 and 41 yards. He also kicked two extra points for a total of 11 of the Cowboys' 31 points.

In a way, it was a repeat performance for Hudman, who once kicked three field goals for the Post Antelopes in a win over Lockney. Hudman's three second quarter field goals in the Wyoming-Utah State game gave the Cowboys a 16-14 halftime lead.

This Saturday, Wyoming plays Arizona State at Tempe, Ariz., in a Western Athletic Conference tilt, in which the nationally ranked Arizona State eleven is heavily favored.

Wyoming's final game will be Nov. 20 when they engage New Mexico University at Albuquerque.

Randy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hudman, and a number of other Post fans plan to attend the game.

County agent gives hunting safety tips

Before hunting this fall, review safety rules and help prevent accidents. Hunting is one of the safest sports when the large number of hunters is compared with the small number of accidents. But even one accident is a tragedy for some family.

If taking youngsters to the field for the first time, impress on them that accidents are caused by careless shooters, suggests County Agricultural Agent Syd Conner.

Practice safe gun handling at all times and encourage young hunting friends to do the same. Treat every gun as if it were loaded.

Never point a gun at anything you don't expect to shoot. And be sure of your target before pulling the trigger.

Be sure the barrel and actions are clean and clear of obstructions. Keep the chamber and magazine open at all times when the gun is not in use. And never store or leave a loaded gun unattended, cautions Conner.

Carry the gun so you can control the direction of the muzzle — even though you stumble. And unload your gun before climbing trees or fences or jumping ditches.

Don't drink alcoholic liquids before or during hunting or shooting. Never shoot at a flat hard surface or the surface of water.

Practice safe gun handling rules until they become second nature. By remembering to treat every gun with respect and pointing only at things you want to shoot, you won't have to say "I didn't know the gun was loaded."

Also, consider wearing a shirt or jacket of daylight fluorescent blaze orange, adds Conner. It's the most visible color for hunters to wear in the field as it can be seen better under more varying light conditions than any other color.

What Does Your Credit Bureau Do?

The credit bureau provides necessary information to credit granters to show how well a person has earned the privilege of credit.

Most people pay their bills as agreed and the credit bureau helps to speed the granting of credit for them. Some consumers are saved from over-obligating themselves and their families because the credit bureau maintains records that show a prospective credit grantor that the person has a recurring record of financial instability. Most credit granters will draw the conclusion that such a record would indicate further indebtedness to be unwise.

Thus the credit bureau can furnish the information that may keep a person from compounding his financial problems.

Through all these services the credit bureau serves the community and makes it possible for consumers and credit granters to deal with one another in an atmosphere of mutual trust and goodwill.

GREAT MOMENTS IN MEDICINE

IN 1946, MEDICAL SCIENCE SCORED A MAJOR ADVANCE WITH THE INTRODUCTION OF A NEW "WOMPEY" DRUG CALLED AUREOMYCIN—WHICH PROVED EFFECTIVE AGAINST A BROAD RANGE OF DISEASE-CAUSING ORGANISMS THAN ANY OTHER ANTIBIOTIC.

DEVELOPED BY AMERICAN CYANAMID COMPANY'S LEIDEL LABORATORIES, AUREOMYCIN PROVIDED THE SCIENTIFIC "KEY" TO THE DISCOVERY OF ACHROMYCIN (1953), DEFLONICIN (1959)—NEW AND ADVANCED DRUGS IN THE FIGHT AGAINST INFECTIOUS DISEASES—AND NOW (IN 1971) MINOCIN MINOCYCLINE, THE LATEST AND MOST ADVANCED IN THIS SERIES OF MEDICAL DEVELOPMENTS.

ALREADY USED BY MORE THAN 25 CLINICAL INVESTIGATORS TO TREAT OVER 17,000 PEOPLE, MINOCIN HAS PROVED TO BE EFFECTIVE AGAINST A MOST OF INFECTIOUS DISEASES, MAKING THE DEVELOPMENT OF THIS ANTIBIOTIC THE LATEST OF THE GREAT MOMENTS IN MEDICAL RESEARCH.

Ralls man, kidney ailment victim, managing own self-care at home

RALLS—An estimated 350 Texans die of kidney failure each year but one Ralls farmer is treating himself to be sure he won't be one of them.

Jim Robertson had been suffering from an inherited kidney ailment in the John Sealy Hospital at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston while he and his wife waited through the lengthy evaluation for selection to the Chronic Home Dialysis training program.

Now the waiting is over and Robertson has been certified by the Dialysis Center to operate the artificial kidney machine at home by himself. He is one of 53 patients in Texas managing their own self-care at home.

The center, opened in 1968, is designed to enable the average layman to learn all the medical and technical aspects of operating the artificial kidney machine and managing his own life-saving treatment.

Post men shoot deer near Redvale, Colo.

E. R. (Buster) Moreland, Andy Stelzer and J. C. Hodgkiss each brought down a deer on a four-day hunt in Colorado, from which they returned Wednesday of last week.

Hodgkiss got the biggest trophy, a mule deer that weighed about 300 pounds on foot. The other two hunters' kills also were mule deer.

They hunted south of Redvale, Colo., in temperatures a few degrees above freezing. Moreland said.

Nov. 23 meeting set on tax management

It's not too early for farmers and ranchers to take a look at their tax situation and make certain management decisions before the end of the year, says County Agent Syd Conner.

Those with questions they would like to have answered are invited to attend a tax management meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 23 in the district courtroom.

Marvin Sartin, area economist-management specialist with the Extension Service, will conduct the meeting. The public is invited and those attending are asked to bring a neighbor or friend, Conner said.

PRUSSIC ACID THREAT

Hybrid sorghum-sudan pastures, fast growing and excellent forage for livestock, can also be deadly during the fall grazing season.

The plant's own enzymes break down plant material and this results in prussic acid poisoning for animals which eat the forage, says Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The actual agent, causing death is hydrogen cyanide.

"Prussic acid poisoning generally occurs at two times," explains Dr. Armstrong. "It is especially prevalent after a frost that has damaged plants. Also, poisoning occurs when plants perk up and begin fast growth after a very droughty period."

Hydrogen cyanide is very volatile and therefore stays in the plants for only a short time. But while it is present, animals must be kept off the pasture for a few days, cautions the veterinarian.

"In severe cases, cows exhibiting symptoms when the veterinarian is called may be dead before he can arrive," points out Armstrong. "He will probably be able to save only those which are still breathing."

The veterinarian also urges farmers and ranchers to be on the lookout for nitrate poisoning that may occur during the late fall or winter pastures when there is a lot of cloudy weather.

"Under these conditions, the plants, instead of growing and changing nitrates into protein, just accumulate the nitrates," explains Armstrong. "Animals must also be taken off these pastures until the plants have had a chance to grow and convert the nitrates to protein."

Armstrong noted that the blood of animals that have died from nitrate poisoning will be chocolate brown while those dying from prussic acid poisoning will be cherry red.

Crop, livestock survey to be made in Texas

Some 65,000 exas farmers and ranchers, including a representative number from Swisher County will be involved in the 1971 state crop and livestock survey.

Questionnaires for the annual survey will be mailed to selected producers by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service during the last half of November and December. These should be completed and returned as soon as possible in the enclosed envelope.

ALL CHIHUAHUA DESERT PLANTS TO BE CLASSIFIED

AUSTIN — A scientific project aimed at classifying all the plants of the Chihuahuan Desert of Mexico will soon be undertaken by the University of Texas botanist Dr. Marshall C. Johnston.

He plans to assemble and name more than 4,000 of the desert flora within the next few months. Among the data obtained from the plant studies will be information of potential value to farming and ranching industries.

No one has ever before attempted such a comprehensive project of the Chihuahuan Desert.

Waking the Echoes

By BOB FORD

The New English Bible has a way of translating the Bible that makes passages come alive for me. One of the most beautiful lines I have ever read is found in Psalm 63:5. "I am satisfied as with a rich and sumptuous feast and wake the echoes with thy praise." I had read the same psalm and the same line, many times without really thinking about it. The R.S.V. reads: "My soul is feasted as with marrow and fat, and my mouth, praises thee with joyful lips."

I prefer the N.E.B. translation. To me it gives more of what the psalmist meant it to have. As children we all loved to hear echoes. Any place we could find that made echoes we would stay there a long time yelling and listening to our voices echo.

What we need today is to learn to wake the echoes with praise to God. To me, one of the ways of waking the echoes is to be a minister of Jesus Christ. Jesus was able to wake the echoes of praise to God as he ministered to people and gave them new life and hope. The resurrection was a time when God began to really cause the new creatures in Christ to praise him.

Jesus said in Matthew 5:14-16: "You are the light for all the world. A town that stands on a hill cannot be hidden. When a lamp is lit, it is not put under a tub, but on the lamp-stand, where it gives light to everyone in the house. And you, like the lamp, must shed light among your fellows. So that, when they see the good you do, they may give praise to your Father in heaven." Is this not the same meaning of the psalm? We have feasted at the Lord's table and we are full. Now we can go to wake the echoes that they might also sing their praises to God. AMEN!
