Billy Hahn takes Lopes' grid reins from Gregg

Gregg resigns to take Missouri sales position

Billy Hahn, a veteran of 21 years of coaching in West Texas, was promoted to Post High School's athletic director and head football coach by Post school trustees at a special meeting Monday afternoon after the board had accepted the resignation of Glynn Gregg, who plans to enter private business.

Gregg has served as athletic director and head of the Antelope grid fortunes for the last four years and has coached in the Post school system for the last 10 years.

He plans to move to Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 1 to accept a position as a book salesman with the Economy Company. The state of Missouri will be his sales territory.

HAHN MOVES up to the top post from first grid assistant, a position he has held for three years. He will receive an annual salary of $10,608 in the new job, the same amount paid to Gregg. This will amount to an $877 salary boost for the Antelopes' new grid boss.

Hahn has coached 12 years in the Post school system. He started his coaching career as a grid assistant at Spur for nine years, during which period the Bulldogs won four district grid titles, and then served as head coach at Spring Lake, a Class A school for two years, before coming to Post.

Billy has coached junior high girls' basketball here for all but one of the 12 seasons in the system. He moved into the Post football picture when he took over the high school B team reins in 1965 before becoming first assistant to Gregg.

Hahn is enthusiastic about Post's 1969 grid chances.

"NO COACH ever won a football game," Hahn told The Dispatch Monday afternoon. "The boys win the games and I think we've got the boys that can win. We're not extremely fast but we've got some size and a whole lot of determination." (See Billy Hahn, page 5)

Iowa Park man top show winner

Kenneth Williams of Iowa Park showed both the grand champion stallion and grand champion mare in the annual Post Paint Horse Show held Saturday at the rodeo arena.

Williams' Yellow Mount won the trophy as the grand champion stallion, with the grand champion mare trophy going to his Faded Love.

A Post horse, Tijuana Man, owned by Shorty Bland, was the grand champion in the cutting horse class.

Another Post horse, Fred Myers' Easter Ed, was the high point horse of the show.

Softball play planned if interest shown

Anyone interested in playing in a men's softball league is asked to contact Tommy Young or Johnny Kemp of the Post Jaycees by Monday.

If not enough sign up to play, softball plans will be abandoned. Young said if enough players sign up teams will be organized for play by next Thursday.

'SIMMONS FUND' STANDS AT $577

The "Freddy and Susan Simmons fund" stood at $577 at the First National Bank here yesterday with donations continuing to come in to help finance Mrs. Simmons long stay at the hospital bedside of the wounded Vietnam veteran in El Paso.

Others wishing to contribute to the fund are asked to leave their checks at the bank. Sponsors of the fund are seeking to raise between $1,000 and $1,500.

Susan has written her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Bernard S. Ramsey, that Freddy is very alert and that his speech therapist reports that his progress has been "remarkable."

His first two spoken words to Susan, clear enough to be understood, were "Happy Birthday".

Today's edition is The Dispatch's first "mini edition." It's only eight pages, but for some good reasons.

July is vacation period at The Dispatch and this week Don (Corky) Ammons, our shop foreman, is off camping and fishing in the New Mexico mountains. Our editor, Charlie Didway, broken foot and all, is back operating the linotype machine instead of Corky. That of course leaves all the usual front office chores to Mrs. C and yours truly.

That's one good reason right there.

Another one is that it is so blameworthy that people aren't even stirring around enough to make much news.

And third, and most important, the size of a newspaper is determined by the support of its advertisers. This week our advertising support is really down. Since there aren't many ads, the paper isn't so very big. This situation is not alarming though. It was expected that the merchants wouldn't be stirring around "advertising wise" in the heat right after the Sidewalk Sale which rings down the clearance season.

It's the first time on our over 12 years ownership of The Dispatch we've put out a "mini edition." The Dispatch hasn't been eight pages before since we've been here.

Maybe, just maybe, a "mini edition" also will make our many readers realize what a good paper you've been getting all these years.

But then you might not because this is a pretty good "mini edition" and in this heat, and all, eight pages may be all you want to read.

Sheriff seeks trusty who walked off job

The Garza County sheriff's department has a warrant out for the arrest of Jack Talbot, 45, who walked off his courthouse job as a "trusty" last week and disappeared.

Talbot, who was being held on a check charge, is now being sought for escaping.

WINS CALF ROPING

Rex Prather of Post was the Friday night winner in the calf roping division of the Scurry County Rodeo at Snyder. His time was 13.2 seconds.

ANTELOPE COACHES PROMOTED

Billy Hahn (right) moved up this week to Post athletic director and head football coach, and Waco Reynolds (left) became his first grid assistant, with the resignation of Glynn Gregg to enter private business in Missouri.

Man charged in armed holdup

Charles Tillis is in the county jail charged with armed robbery in connection with the $200 holdup of Paul's 7 to 11 Grocery at 515 North Broadway on the night of July 15.

Police Sgt. Otis G. Shepherd arrested Tillis here Friday after the 33-year-old local Negro failed to show up Thursday to take a lie detector test in Lubock which Shepherd had arranged.

Tillis was originally questioned about the holdup early last Wednesday morning after several witnesses had identified him by name to Shepherd as the man they saw running across North Broadway east from the grocery store with a paper sack in his hand.

The holdup man had two women employees of the store empty the cash from the cash register into a paper sack and fled out the front door with it after warning the two "not to move for five minutes or I'll blow your heads off."

Tillis volunteered to appear before the two women employees that had been held up but they told officers he wasn't the man that had held the gun on them and taken the money.

Sergeant Shepherd said Tillis told him that the reason he hadn't shown up last Thursday for the lie detector test was that he understood it was to be made Friday.

The police investigator said a new lie detector test has now been arranged for Tillis in Lubock Aug. 5.

Shepherd said he is continuing his investigation and has taken sworn statements "from other witnesses."

BEARD WINNER GETS $15, PARADE ROLE

Those growing beards to help promote interest in the Post Stampede Rodeo are asked to show up for the beard judging at 5 p. m., Thursday, Aug. 7, Jaycee Joe Bailey announced.

Contestants are asked to stop by both downtown barber shops for the judging.

The beard contest winner will receive a $15 cash prize and the runner-up will receive $10. Both will ride in the rodeo parade.

Bailey also announced that the Jaycees will set up a "jail" at the corner of Main and Avenue I for opening rodeo day and those caught not in western clothes (to advertise the rodeo) have the choice of going to "jail" or paying a 10 cent fine.

S. D. Lofton is 'car winner' here at Sidewalk Sale

Post's seventh annual Sidewalk Sale was another promotional success Saturday with large crowds of shoppers attracted to the all-day affair.

S. D. Lofton, retired minister, won the drawing for the 1959 Ford car with its front seat loaded with Postex sheets, courtesy of Postex Plant, and its back seat filled with groceries from Parrish Grocery & Market. Harold Lucas, local Chevrolet dealer, gave away the Ford.

Besides the sidewalk bargains and the big drawing, shoppers enjoyed the Post Jaycees' dunking booth.

Among local notables given dunkings by accurate throws were Mayor Giles C. McCrary, City Manager Bobby Pierce, several city councilmen, Chamber President Jim Jackson and Bill McBride.

Bill Alexander was the Jaycee in charge of the dunking booth project. Service Welding Construction Co. helped Jaycees build the dunking machine. Proceeds will be used by the Jaycees to purchase Christmas trees and decorations for local nursing homes come the yuletide season.

Sales booths set up by several local organizations in the roped off block of South Avenue I also attracted shopping interest.

Rites today for Mrs. Williamson

Funeral services for Mrs. Marie M. Williamson of 203 South Broadway, a resident of Post for 20 years, were to be held at 10 a. m. this morning (Thursday) in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Williamson, who was born May 23, 1898, at Lipan, Tex., died Aug. 19 a. m. Tuesday in Lubock Methodist Hospital, where she had been a patient for seven days. Mrs. Williams on was a member of the Baptist church.

Surviving are a son, D. L. Williamson of Slaton; two daughters, Mrs. Billie Marie Long of Post and Mrs. Grace Evelyn Neilson of Post; a brother, W. R. Perry of Post; and five sisters, Mrs. Billie Mae, Mrs. Ada Queen and Mrs. Mary Lee Bostick, all of Post. Mrs. Rosie Ranspot of Weatherford and Mrs. Della Thomas of Slaton.

The Rev. Clint Eastman of the First Baptist Church of Slaton and the Rev. Joe Vernon will officiate at the funeral services. Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudson Funeral Home.

Flower bearers were Charlie Brown, E. Russell, Buster Shumard, Harold Parrish, Joe Williams and Jim Harmon.

34-day heat wave broken by shower

A shower early Tuesday morning, which brought a badly needed half inch of moisture here, "broke" the Post area's record 34-day long heat wave during which 16 days had highs of 100 degrees or above and none of the days had a high of less than 95.

Tuesday after the shower the thermometer climbed to only 92 degrees with a low of 72 degrees Tuesday night.

During the past seven days, the temperature has hit the century mark only once — that on Monday prior to the shower. Saturday night was the worst for sleeping with a "low" of 80 degrees.

Highs and lows for the week were: Thursday, 97 and 74; Friday, 95 and 78; Saturday, 97 and 80; Sunday, 98 and 73; Monday, 100 and 70; and Tuesday, 92 and 72.

County Agent Syd Conner told The Dispatch yesterday that moisture is now badly needed and "even the cotton is beginning to show stress."

Junk car 'hauling' set for Aug. 2

Another "junk car" haul away is scheduled for Post Saturday, Aug. 2, Mrs. Helen Cornish, Post's Operation Clean Sweep chairman, announced today.

Post Jaycees, under Joe Bailey, will haul off the old car bodies without charge to the owners as a community service.

Those wanting to have junk cars hauled off their properties are asked to call Mrs. Cornish at The Post Dispatch, 2818, and give her the necessary information on the location of the cars.

Mrs. Cornish said she already has "four to go" and is hopeful that another 15 or 20 can be disposed of Aug. 2.

Coach's decision is understandable

The exit of Glynn Gregg from high school coaching ranks to accept a sales position in Missouri will be received with both regret and understanding by Antelope fans.

Glynn felt that the time had come to make that all-important career decision, whether to go all the way in coaching or venture into the business world seeking a better opportunity to provide for his wife and four youngsters.

It's a decision all coaches must eventually make. It's never an easy one, either.

Glynn felt he had been offered the opportunity he wanted, so he took it. He knew he wasn't leaving Post High School in trouble because Billy Hahn, his successor, was waiting to move up to the No. 1 assignment.

After a decade of Post coaching, including four years as the Antelope grid boss, Gregg has one bi-district crown to his coaching credit and a distinction no other coach in this district can claim. He has one Denver City grid scalp neatly hanging from his belt.

Both fans and his players will long remember Glynn as one of the finest men they ever knew. We know they join The Dispatch in wishing Glynn Gregg the very best as he makes a turn and heads off on another road.—JC

It's best that city takes another look

This newspaper understands that the city must now virtually "start over" legally with its proposed paving project after the city council missed the July 15 paving hearing.

If this is so, maybe the failure of the council to appear at the hearing wasn't as unfortunate as it first appeared.

With paving costs being what they are today, The Dispatch is convinced few property owners involved were prepared to sign up for new paving on the basis of only a three-year payout period, as offered.

Many who want the paving simply can't afford it on these terms.

In the starting-over process, we would suggest to the new administration that they go back over the whole proposition carefully with an eye to getting the annual payments down within the range that more property owners can afford.

This would mean, of course, a longer payout—but a whole lot more paving.

Like everyone else who drives, we would like to see most of our duty Post avenues paved. But unless a more favorable proposition can be offered, we have serious doubts as to the success of such a paving project.—JC

It has to be man's greatest achievement

Man left his footprints on the moon Sunday in a historic event witnessed by the largest audience in the history of mankind.

Truly, it was man's greatest epic.

Today, America's three new moon heroes will splash down in the Pacific with President Nixon waiting on the carrier to greet them, and a whole world ready to honor them and enshrine them in history.

Probably it was the fact that millions of Americans and millions more throughout the world through their television sets could "identify" themselves with the two moon walkers that made such a scientific achievement so dramatic.

And, of course, this made Monday more humdrum than usual when our moon pictures were over and it was time to return to reality.

When one stops to think that within a single lifetime—in the short span of 80 years—man has soared from a bit of sandy beach at Kittyhawk to the lifeless surface of the moon, we can only wonder how far and how fast we can go from here.

Leaving all the moralizing to others, we ourselves can only wonder what the price of that new tourist memento—moon rock—will be a few years from now.—JC

Farm Safety Week—use SMV emblem

One of the most effective ways for rural residents to observe Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, July 20-26, is to follow Gov. Preston Smith's advice to make use of the new SMV emblem on slow-moving agricultural vehicles as added protection when traveling on highways.

Use of the emblem on all motor vehicles designed to operate at a maximum speed of 25 miles per hour or less will be required beginning next Jan. 1 under a new Texas law.

The triangular-shaped SMV emblem features a red and orange reflective surface that is visible day or night for a distance of at least 500 feet.

Operators of slow-moving vehicles are especially vulnerable to high-speed traffic. In an emergency, their vehicles do not have maneuverability that high-powered vehicles have and operators are often dangerously, physically exposed in case of an accident because of no cab on the vehicle.

What our contemporaries are saying

Part of the problems with the world could be solved if we were willing to be satisfied with less conveniences and luxuries than our parents. The situation continued to increase with more new things which we cannot do without. — Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

Read anything of interest lately? What, you just don't have time to read anymore? This is a good time to say people who can read but don't are not much better off than people who can't read.—Lexington (Miss.) Outlook.

Library Listening Post

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
Bargains, bargains, bargains! Post Library is selling brand-new, long-playing high fidelity and stereo records for the low, low price of $1. Country and Western, classic, mod, religious — name your music, we've got it!

RCA Victor sent us 75 phonograph albums and, not having a record player of our own, we've decided to pass them on to you. Proceeds will be used to buy new library books, naturally.

There's some good selections to choose from. As a matter of fact, Larry Barton, David Driskell, Preston Poole and I opened the records up at the library last Tuesday night and fought over them. I won "A Taste of Honey" by the Living Brass, (kind of a poor man's Tijuana Brass) "Let the Good Times In" by the Ragtime, (featuring fun oldies like "Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey" and "The Horn Meets the Hornet"). Crazy, There's of (The Horn) Hirt talking it over with the Green Hornet, and smashing out these songs from popular TV intrigue shows—"Get Smart", "T. H. E. Cat", etc.) All three records made for good listening and there's lots more where they came from, so come one, come all!

The big news at Post Library this week is new books — $38.29 worth in fact, which just about takes care of the proceeds from our book fair. The large order enabled us to take advantage of Campbell and Hall's 37 per cent discount, so we were pretty pleased about that too.

The new books, which include easy, junior, young adult, and adult selections, should be processed and ready to check out by next Tuesday. We'd love to have you come down and look them over.

So saying, best I get to work. R. Chapman has certainly taken it easy this month — no columns, no book processing, and very few weekly shifts at dear old PPL on Tuesday nights. I've been enjoying jaunts to Taos, Midland and Dulles instead.

The only really bad part about being gone so much is getting mixed up on our book donors. This doesn't do at all because we have such good books given to us, we want you to know how much we appreciate them.

The following names have been found on little bits and scraps of paper tucked around in strange corners of the house: the Shelley Camps, the Fred Myers, Mrs. G. Presson, Vicki Anderson Jones, Maxine Marks, and Mrs. F. A. Runkles.

If you've given books and your name doesn't appear on that list, call me. We certainly want to give credit where credit is due.

Sanderson to report on Washington event

Arnold Sanderson, Garza rancher, will report on his recent trip to Washington, D. C., at a meeting of the Garza Farmers Union organization in the bank's Community Room at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Sanderson and his son, Bruce, participated in the National Farmers Union Fly-in Program in the nation's capitol Sunday through Tuesday of last week.

Farmers Union members and all other interested persons are invited to attend.

To the businessmen of Post: We take this means to express unto you our gratitude and thanksgiving, especially because we were lucky and fortunate in that our name was drawn in the public give away program, consisting of the Ford car by Harold Lucas Chevrolet - Olds; loaded by Postex Plant with beautiful snow white bed sheets and pillow cases and by groceries by Parrish Grocery and other individual gifts. We are all obvious of the fact "that in knowledge there is power and in unity there is strength." And that in cooperation all the people can do anything. It behooves all of us to regard life as a privilege; and never disdain it as a problem and we earnestly endeavor that our ideology may become the way of life for all the world. And that as individuals we put all the good into this life, that we possibly can "and be the light of the world"; that the world may be a better place to live. For 50 years I have lived near Post and I submit that this area is what it is by what we are. I shall stay on through years. Your happy contemporary,

A reception will follow at Fellowship Hall.

Dear Mrs. K and Miss C:

The big news in the universe is man walking on the moon and the big news from Post, Tex., is that your mother finally conceded and is wearing glasses to read by.

Your father and I finally made the trip to the eye doctor last week. Upon our arrival for the appointment the doctor asked why I was there.

"Because I've reached the age where I can't see to read, and I have a callous on my index finger from tracing from the name to the number in the phone book." I said.

After a thorough examination and $15 later, the doctor said: "It is just as you said, you have reached the age where you need reading glasses."

I could hardly wait for the glasses to arrive in the mail. Naturally coming from such a far-off place as Lubbock it took them two days to arrive instead of one.

The minute they arrived, though, I put them on. I found, to my amazement, that everything in the distance looks fuzzy and everything close up looks wonderful. I really thought they were making type smaller these days and wasn't a bit sure glasses would correct all these defects!

I hastily put on my glasses when my first friend entered the office and sat there waiting for comment. The friend looked and said: "You got your glasses." The friend said: "Why did you get frames that make you look owl-ish?"

I took my glasses off and have not mentioned them to a single person since. Strangely enough, no one has mentioned my wearing them. So, I deduct from friend's observation that friend was wrong in his observation or that I have always looked "owl-ish."

Wearing glasses seems rather like the time I stopped smoking for a year. If you'll both recall, neither of you or your father noticed that I had stopped smoking, and after suffering for a week in silence, I finally blew my stack. I still haven't forgiven any of you for THAT.

If I can get my arms back to their proper length all will be well. I had stretched them by holding my reading materials out far enough for me to be able to read.

I have not gotten completely in the habit of removing them when I don't need them so consequently lots of people and objects are still fuzzy to me. I have found that I don't particularly like fuzzy people.

Your father and I watched the Miss Universe Pageant on TV Saturday night. In between watching (during commercials and entertainment) he played solitaire and I worked on a difficult jigsaw puzzle. I noticed that we were in complete synchronization as we jumped up to return to the set. He put his glasses on as he got up and I took mine off.

I have never known why some women wore those chains around their necks to hold their glasses. Until now, I just supposed they liked to wear chains around their necks. Now I know that they wear them because they need their glasses for reading only. Not being the chain - around - the - neck - type, I doubt if this for me.

I have also found out that my nose having this nasty heat wave but maybe I have a permanent sweaty nose? Who knows?

Along with the rest of the world we didn't get far away from TV on Sunday. We did catch the blast-off at noon on Monday but for us it was just another working day.

We also heard about the Luna

Billy Hahn—

Only two regulars were graduated from the Antelope team last spring to give the Antelopes a strong nucleus.

Supt. Bill Shiver has had "an understanding" with Hahn trustees for two years that Hahn would "move up" to athletic director and head football coach should Gregg depart.

Shiver told trustees that Gregg never signed his 1969-70 school contract and has been wrestling with what Gregg told Shiver was a "tough decision" for a number of weeks.

GREGG, whose Antelopes won the district grid crown in 1966 by defeating Denver City 14-0 in Post's "football game of the decade", left Post over the weekend with his wife to "house hunt" in Kansas City so was unavailable to give The Dispatch a statement on his new move.

At the board's special meeting Monday, trustees also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Linda Linn, who taught senior English in Post High School, because she is expecting a child; voted to employ two new teachers, one of whom will have coaching duties, and approved coaching salary boosts for Waco Reynolds and Lee (Bud) Davis, who have been promoted in the reshuffle of the Post athletic staff.

Shiver told trustees that Mrs. Sandra Alexander will replace Mrs. Linn as the senior English teacher.

NEW TEACHERS employed by the board on Shiver's recommendation are Mrs. Lee Cheryl Hammit Collins and Bert Leaverton.

Mrs. Collins, a 1969 graduate of Texas Tech, will be a new elementary teacher at a salary of $5,737. Leaverton, who is 27 and just completed a tour of U. S. Army service in West Germany will assist in freshman football, coach high school B team basketball, and assist Jiggs King in high school tennis.

A graduate of North Texas State University, Leaverton has had no collegiate football experience but was a high school quarterback at Benjamin.

Reynolds moves up from second grid assistant to first football assistant and Davis jumps from eighth grade football coach to freshman coach.

Shiver told the board that he still has five vacancies to fill on the faculty before next month and is awaiting a report from Mrs. Bob Lusk, who was injured in a San Francisco trolley car accident recently.

as to whether or not she will be able to resume her teaching duties at the opening of the fall term.

The superintendent said he still has three junior high positions to fill but that the high school mathematics vacancy which was opened by the departure of Bill Smith, will be the "most difficult to fill."

In other actions, trustees:

Voted to allow the transfer of six students from the Justiceburg school district into the Post schools for the 1969 - 70 year on payment by the Justiceburg board of $318.50 per student. The six are Rafael Rios Jr., Dee Cecil Justice, Sonny Bevers, Liddle Bell Mizc, James Morgan and Judith Rich.

Accepted the bid of $265 of Cockburn Printing Co. to print 1,500 high school football programs.

Lubbock woman injured in crash

Mrs. James Scoggins of Lubbock suffered a broken back and other injuries, including severe facial lacerations, about 6 p. m. Tuesday when the Scoggins 1967 Ford, containing all six members of the family, overturned in a one - car accident six miles northwest of Post on US-84.

Mrs. Scoggins was taken by ambulance to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock after receiving emergency treatment at Garza Memorial Hospital here as well as having x-rays made to determine the extent of her back injury.

None of the other five members of the family were injured except for cuts and bruises.

Deputy Sheriff Reed Parker said that Mr. Scoggins was driving toward Post when he apparently lost control of the car and it turned over. Parker said the car was "totaled."

SMALL STEPS

By Rev. George L. Miller

There was intense speculation concerning what astronaut Neil Armstrong would say when he first stepped on the moon. Great events call for great words. An event as astounding as his demanded a quote to end all quotes. Whether history will judge his statement kindly or not remains to be seen. I, for one, was satisfied.

"That's one small step for man, a giant leap for mankind."

Surrounded, as he was, by the attention of the whole world, wearing for a single moment the mantle of supreme importance, entitled to justifiable boasting, a human being second to none—he could have claimed his success as his own and few would dare to have criticized him. He could have forgotten the rest of us and thought only of himself. Yet he did not. He saw his mission as deeply rooted in the destiny of the whole world. He felt he was a representative of us all.

We ought to take a lesson from him. We all are brothers to mankind. Our thoughts, our words, our acts all mirror the society in which we live and subtly alter our society. We do not act in a vacuum nor do we live as independent beings totally free of others.

Even our relationship to God, the most personal and meaningful relationship of all, is established by our relationship to our neighbor and binds us to our neighbor by the commandment to love as we have been loved.

Thus each step we take, whether large or small, moves all mankind. A smile, a word of encouragement, a look of sympathy, a sign of understanding are giant leaps toward a better life for every man. At the same time, the clenched fist, the harsh word, the look of hatred, the deaf ear are more than signs of personal irritation. They are poisons that paralyze and destroy humanity.

It's easy for us to understand how Neil Armstrong's small step could mean a giant leap for mankind. What we have yet to learn is the potential importance of all our small steps each day of our lives.

Home runs power locals to first round win, 9-8

Post's Little League All-Stars were beaten Friday night in the finals of the area Little League tournament at Lamesa by the host Lamesa team, 7-2.

The local club advanced into the finals of the four - team tourney Thursday night with a 9-8 decision over O'Donnell highlighted by a grand slam home run by rightfielder Grayling Johnson and a game-winning two - run shot by Randy Josey.

LAMESA nearly didn't make it into the final as they had to come up with a big five - run rally in the bottom of the fifth Thursday night to come from behind and grab a 6-4 first round decision over Tahoka.

In the third place playoff game Friday night which preceded the championship game, Tahoka rang up a 4-2 victory over O'Donnell.

Tony Conner went the route for the Post All-Stars in the loss to Lamesa, giving up eight hits, striking out five and walking two.

Allen Robnett went all the way for the winners as he permitted six hits, striking out 12 and walking only one. He struck out the side in the first, third, and fifth innings, opening the game with four straight strikeouts.

CENTERFIELDER Jim Caszankas, first man up for Lamesa in the bottom of the first, socked a homerun to put the host club ahead to stay. Robnett followed with a single, but Conner settled down to retire the side.

Lamesa made it 2-0 in the second on a double by Joe Dimas, a fielder's choice, two walks and a single by Vaszankas.

Post, which didn't get a man aboard until Tim Owen singled with two out in the third, got a run back in the fourth to cut the margin to 2-1.

Conner got a life on an error and scored when Randy Josey and Ray Martinez followed with singles.

LAMESA stuffed the victory into their bag in the bottom of the fourth when they came up with three more runs to pull away to a 5-2 advantage. Three errors and two hits accounted for the damage.

Lamesa added their final pair of runs in the bottom of the fifth when Heru Martinez hit a home run with Eddie Spencer who got a life on another Post error on first and two gone.

Rodney King scored in the final Post run in the top of the sixth when he singled and scored on a hit by Johnson.

Owen was the only Post player to get more than one safety. He singled twice in three trips.

IN THE Thursday night first rounder, King started and pitched the first two innings and then Garland Dudley came in to hurl the last four and get credit for the victory.

O'Donnell outbit the locals 10 to 9 but couldn't offset the six - run punch of Post's two homeruns.

It started out looking like O'Donnell was going to win easily as the Lynn County club shoved over six runs in the first two innings against King on but three hits. That gave O'Donnell a 6-0 lead.

Post started to get some back in the bottom of the second when Ray Martinez, who got life on an error, and Johnson, who singled scored in a rally which included another error and a single by Owen.

JOHNSON highlighted Post's five - run outburst in the bottom of the third to push Post ahead, 7-6, when he powered one over the fence with the bases full for four runs. Conner had scored the first run of the inning after opening the rally with a double. A walk, single by Martinez, and a fielder's choice loaded up the sacks for Johnson. Joe Clary followed the big blast with a single for the fourth hit of the inning.

O'Donnell surged back with two runs in the top of the fourth to take a 8-7 lead when they tallied twice on two hits, a walk, and an error.

But Josey settled the whole thing in the bottom half of the same inning when he got his all-important two - run homer with Conner, who had singled aboard. Dudley allowed but a harmless single in the final two frames against O'Donnell to preserve the victory.
