Call To Prayer In Post Churches On Invasion Day

At any moment now, word will be flashed throughout the world that the Allied Forces have entered the European Fortress. The youth blood that is America's will need the guidance of God and the prayers of all of us.

When that moment comes, the church bells, the mill whistle and the fire siren of Post will sound. Go immediately, as you are, to the church of your choice and pray for the boys and girls who are fighting and dying for the things for which we pray. A prayer service has been planned for that time, at your church.

Roping Contest Won by Troy Fort Last Sunday

Troy Fort won by 15 2/10 seconds in the matched roping contest between him and Sonny Edwards which was held here last Sunday afternoon. These two top-ranking ropers using their skill in a contest was an event worthy of any show in the nation.

Troy Fort's home is Lovington, New Mexico and Sonny Edwards lives in Big Spring, Texas. Best time on the matched roping was made by Fort at 13 8/10 seconds. Both contestants asked for a return match to be held in Post this summer.

The jack-pot winners were: 1st, Dan Taylor, Big Spring, 15 9/10 seconds; 2nd, Clarence Scarborough, Midland, 16 2/10 sec; 3rd, Toots Mansfield, Big Spring, 16 6/10 sec. Twenty-seven contestants participated in the jack-pot roping.

One of the special attractions of the show was the six-year old Brahma steer owned by Al Bird. This steer has never been ridden, though two riders attempted to ride him Sunday.

The Post Stampede, Inc. sold 1,500 tickets. Men and women in uniform were admitted free.

"This was one of the best shows of its kind ever seen," asserted those who make a following of rodeos.

The workmanship of the management was smooth and the contests were clipped off in fast order. The management won the appreciation and good opinion of everybody.

Plans are being made by the Post Stampede, Inc. to erect a roof over the grandstand at an early date.

The probable date of the next contest will be Sunday, June 25. The selection of the next matched roping contestants will be made by the directors of the Post Stampede, Inc. in a meeting to be held Monday night, May 29.

Garza Bond Quota For 5th War Loan Set At $295,000

Garza county's quota for the Fifth War Loan, which gets underway in the county June 12 will be $295,000.00, according to John Herd, County chairman of the War Finance Committee. Mr. Herd received this news Friday of last week.

A state quota of $464 million dollars for the Fifth War Loan, June 12-July 8, has been announced by State Chairman Nathan Adams of the War Finance Committee of Texas. This is the largest sum yet and the drive will be "a big and vital effort, Adams said.

Of the total, $236 million has been set for individual Texans alone. $125 million of this to be in Series E Bonds.

"It is going to be big and tough—the biggest and the toughest drive," Adams said in warning that all of the nearly seven million people of Texas must face the facts.

But "it can be done," Adams insisted. "It has been proved."

He pointed out that during the Fourth War Loan more was raised than the total quota for the Fifth. The over-all goal for the Fourth was $395 million and Texans subscribed $480 million.

"No one is exempt," Adams said. "Our boys are dying for you and for me. Think of the invasion and you cannot think of not buying war bonds."

"Our victory volunteers must, of course, do a large part in cutting out the great Texas market," he said in praising the past efforts of the victory volunteers.

"It will be a severe home-front test for every person in the state," he said.

President Clifford B. Jones of Texas Technological College has agreed to remain at his post until his successor has been named, according to announcement from the board of directors of the college. Jones had previously been set as the time when President Jones would retire.

Mark McGee of Fort Worth, member of the board, in making this announcement paid glowing tribute to the services of Dr. Jones as head of the school. He said, "The institution has lost a great leader; the educational world has lost a great leader. Dr. Jones has been an inspiration to us all. He has been a part of this institution and will continue to be a part of this institution."

A portrait of the president, gift of the 1944 senior class, was presented at commencement.

Army Air Field To Entertain Garza 4-H Club Boys

South Plains Army Air Field, Tex., May 25—More than 300 4-H club boys, including 30 boys from Garza county, who have made outstanding records in 20 counties of this area will be the guests of South Plains Army Air Field Thursday and Friday, June 8 and 9. It has been announced by officials at the field.

SPAAF is paying tribute to the young men of the area for their outstanding performances in producing enough food to feed at least one soldier each throughout the entire year. For this achievement, the young men will be given a day's visit at the nation's largest advanced glider pilot training center and will have an opportunity to see how the food they produce is helping the war effort by keeping the men in shape to keep 'em flying.

In 1943, SPAAF played host to approximately 80 of the 4-H club boys. The Extensioner, agriculture magazine published at College Station, praised the visit at the field as one of the most impressive of any made by 4-H club boys in the entire state.

This year, the boys again will be shown the men in field work, the routine training tasks and the flight line where the Winged Commandos are training in the big cargo and troop carrying gliders.

The counties from which the boys have been chosen include Bailey, Burden, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Games, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Lamb, Palmer, Scurry, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

One-half of the group will visit the field on Thursday, June 8, and the other half Friday, June 9.

MARKETING ORGANIZATIONS IMPORTANT NOW

Current events indicate that the farmers, as never before, will have to use exceptional judgement to operate successfully. For example, there is now a record-breaking number of animals on the farm—cattle, hogs, chickens and turkeys.

The business organizations of the farmers, such as marketing co-ops, which follow production and consumer trends, can render the individual farmer service as never before in aiding him with production and marketing information which it would be impossible for him to provide for himself. Particularly in the dairy and cattle industry will intelligent group action be essential to stabilization of output and income.

NATIONAL COTTON WEEK MAY 22 - 27

Why celebrate National Cotton Week this year? With retailers unable to meet the demands of their customers for cotton goods why special sales efforts, publicity and other means of calling attention to cotton? The answer to this question is not hard to find.

While cotton is still the leading product of Texas farms, it faces serious difficulties both now and after the war. The war has abundantly demonstrated cotton's ability to serve under the most trying conditions and its adaptability to a greater variety of uses than ever before thought possible. At the same time cotton's competitors also have been making breath-taking advances. So while cotton has been developed to the point that it can now serve consumers in a vastly increased number of ways, some of its old uses are now threatened by an army of synthetics.

During National Cotton Week this year, therefore, it is the purpose not only to publicize the immeasurable service that cotton has rendered in the war in providing food, feed, clothing, ammunition and equipment too numerous to mention, but to especially call attention to the new forms in which cotton will appear in the post-war period. It needs to be emphasized that while cotton has been serving in this the greatest war of all time its functions and uses have been multiplying at a dizzying rate. Under the magic touch of scientists cotton is being cast in forms of durability and serviceability never before dreamed.

It is in this romance of change under the magic touch of science that Cotton Week for 1944 is to be observed. Cooperating in this effort to keep cotton in its honored and rightful place in Texas and the nation is a wide and powerful association of interested growers, processors, wholesalers, and retailers. And on the national level are the two great organizations: The Cotton Textile Institute and The National Cotton Council.

Views of Neighboring Editors:

The Scurry County Time— Graduates of high schools in the area, faced with a turbulent world in which the tentacles of war spread to almost every home in the land, will find plenty to do this summer and throughout the long, history-making months ahead.

No more will graduates of high schools be faced with the problem of finding jobs; they will now have to decide which job will not only help most in winning the war but offer the type of life-time vocation they will be happiest in pursuing.

High school graduates will not only be needed in store and office, but urgently on the farm and ranch—if though graduates plan to enter college in the fall.

Those graduating from high schools this year have been capably trained to fit in with other civilians on the home front and can well fill the gaps in the work-a-day world no other group can. We believe high school graduates will help save the day with hundreds of firms and individuals that must have help from some source.

Lynn County News— Some newspaper correspondents insist that German morale is yet far from broken. The air raids over Germany, they claim, instead of breaking down the morale of the people has actually strengthened their fighting spirit. They suggest also that while the damage to property has been terrific, the industrial power of Germany has not been crippled as badly as has been supposed. In other words, they would have us not to be over-confident but to realize that we have a mighty big job on our hands to break through to Berlin or to conquer Germany. And so we have.

Lubbock Avalanche— We read and hear so much about labor troubles these days. There are arbitrators and boards and commissions. There is everybody sitting around the conference table except the Jim and the John and the Ike and the Mary who are all human beings together and who could get things ironed out so easily if they'd just forget rank and title and class and talk over their trouble in a back-fence sort of a way.

I know business has gotten pretty big and when there are five, or 10 or 20 thousand employees, you can't meet them all and be nice to them.

But each business is made up of groups and departments. Let each group and each department function humanely, kindly, neighborly and you'll have very little trouble in the business as a whole.

Let your workers be happy, and they'll be efficient.

Slaton Slatonite— Whether most of the young men who have gone into the services will have a desire to make their homes in some other place or come back remains to be seen but the future of the old home town depends a great deal more upon the boys returning home.

Most young men have a desire to move on to some other field beside their home town as soon as they get out of High School and most young women seek some Prince Charming in foreign fields and take the home town boy as a husband as a last resort, but the war has changed things to a great extent. A boy dumped into some distant land among strangers thinks a lot about the comforts that he left and the young women who have gone to war centers to get industrial positions, joined the Wac or entered some kind of employment will find that steady work is not as much fun as they thought it would be and perhaps our Slaton boys and girls will be

OLD JOE SAID TO YOUNG JOE . . .

" . . . when you get over there in the thick of it, son, you won't have time to think about the fancy ideals you're supposed to be fighting for. You'll be interested mostly in shooting straight, and shooting first.

"But some night when you're lying out under the stars, you'll probably figure the whole thing out—and it will be very simple.

"You'll realize that you're fighting to protect the kind of decency and freedom you were raised in—and will want to raise your kids in, too.

"You'll be fighting to protect the opportunity that all Americans have of starting at the bottom and getting to the top—and that's typically American.

"You're fighting to protect your right to live your own life in your own way without being pushed around by some bright young bureaucrat who wants to do all your planning for you.

"That's about all there is to it son. But it's mighty worth while—this business of keeping our freedom—of sticking to the things that have made America great."

BEFORE THIS WAR IS OVER, there may be only two kinds of people in America . . .

1. those who ride to work.
2. those who walk to work.

If you want to be in the fortunate group who will still be riding to work in automobiles, join Gulf's "Anti-Breakdown" Club today. How do you do it? Just come in for Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan!

This plan was conceived by experts in car care. Gulf developed it because car maintenance is a most important civilian job. (8 out of 10 war workers use automobiles to go to work.)

Here's Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan...

- 1 Protects your car at 39 danger points...
GULF's Protective Maintenance Plan includes Gulf's Registered Lubrication for 39 engine, chassis, body points. Six Gulf's Lubricants reduce wear.
- 2 Saves those bearings and piston rings...
THE AMERICAN Petroleum Institute recommends changing oil regularly. It's equally important to use a good motor oil like Gulf's "The World's Finest Motor Oil," or Gulf's, an extra-quality oil that costs a few cents less.
- 3 Stretches your gas coupons...
AIR-FILTER and spark-plug cleaning, radiator flushing help give better mileage. A clean filter makes gas burn more economically; clean plugs add power; a clean radiator prevents over-heating.

Judge Chapman issued the following formal statement:

"If elected senator, I shall represent the best interests of the people as a whole, without obligation to any corporation or special interests, of any individual or group. I have no fight whatever with corporations. They serve useful purposes, we need them and they have their rights. But I promise, if elected that I shall not during the time I am your senator, accept retainer fees from any corporation. I do not believe a man can serve two masters.

The most important question before the people today is the war effort. Any power this office may have that can be directed toward winning the war will be used by me to the end that your fighting men may return to their loved ones and to the institutions for which they are fighting. In this connection, I shall support any legislation the laws of the land will permit that will insure a White Primary for Texas.

"I shall support a program of social security for the aged, blind and the dependent children, and give my best efforts to the welfare of all state eleemosynary institutions. I am a strong believer in schools and will do my best for all schools and the teachers who are giving so unselfishly that the state educational system may go on through the war.

"West Texas has always had to fight for her rights in the legislature. I feel that my experience qualifies me to ably represent this area of Texas in her fight for her part of the rural aid money, fair share of oil production, more uniform freight rates, more equal apportionment of paved highway funds, legislators in proportion to the population and for her other rights as part of Texas.

"I believe we should clear our state of debt and build a surplus for the reconstruction period, which is sound business for the state as well as the individual. I know of many leaks that can be plugged to help in this situation. I believe in remedying the prob-

Texas Lags In Fat Salvaging Drive By 34 Per Cent

Texas has failed by 34 percent of attaining its quota of salvaging household fats. Governor Coke Stevenson was advised today by the War Production Board. "A greater effort in this direction must be made," the communication stated.

"A large source of our supply of fats was cut off with the Japanese occupation of the Philippines and Dutch East Indies which stopped imports from the Far East. This has presented a crucial problem in the manufacturing of explosives, for the Allied Nations, and the public will have to salvage almost two billion pounds of grease annually to make up for the deficit in that amount caused by the Japanese conquests," the WPB statement continued.

"In behalf of this vital problem I urge every Texas housewife to save at least one tablespoon of fat daily. I urge every butcher to reach the nearest renderer." Go to salvage chairman to answer any questions regarding this collection. In the event there is none, your county judge or mayor can give you the necessary information," he continued.

More Telephones Coming

Resumption of manufacture of civilian-type telephones to the extent of 200,000 sets per quarter has been authorized by the War Production Board. First deliveries are expected by fall. Approximately 100,000 new orders for telephones that cannot be filled because of lack of equipment are accumulating each month.

S/Sgt. John M. Graham Writes From England

S/Sgt. John M. Graham, in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Nellie Rodgers, wrote from England, "I visited Auntie last week. I never saw two people more alike than you and she are. I felt at home right away." Graham is seeing lots of England while on business trips for the army. He went to the village where his mother first attended school. It is a pretty country and he wonders how they keep it so nice under war conditions.

"All you read in the papers is true," he continues in his letter. "They are beating the Germans from the air day and night. Everyone is longing for the day when they can throw everything at them."

A Switch in Time saved Mine...

I was some pest.

I bothered the life out of auto service men after the curtain went down on new cars. I knew I'd be in some pickle if this car wouldn't last, so I kept quizzing the fellows. Every man-jack of them had a good motor oil or some other EE-saver, if I could judge. By good luck I paid real attention to one chap who had his reasons why to OIL-PLATE this engine with Conoco Nth oil. He said every explosion in your engine makes acids, which corrode bare metal. Sounds straight, eh? But with something synthetic in Conoco Nth oil keeping the metal OIL-PLATED, you'd say the fine finish receives special protection to fight the acids off. When you see you're not needing a trade-in nearly as soon as usual, you can give real credit to OIL-PLATING. New cars will be going some if they're half as far ahead as you can be right now by switching to Conoco Nth oil.

Army Asks For More Funds To Defeat Germany

According to Representative George Mahon in Washington, hearings will be completed this week on the annual War Department Appropriation Bill, a bill to supply the Army with funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The bill now in the subcommittee involves the largest appropriation to be considered by Congress this year, the Army requesting the total sum of forty-nine billion dollars, including reappropriations.

Mahon is a member of a seven-man subcommittee of four Democrats and three Republicans, which conducts hearings and hands in the House the appropriations to the Army.

On the current bill, General George Marshall, Chief of Staff, General Arnold, and many other officers of the Army have appeared before the Committee to discuss and explain the war situation and the need for the funds requested. However, because of the nature of much of the testimony, the hearings on the bill are not open to the public. The bill covers appropriations for all items of expense of every nature for the carrying on of the war by the War Department. Included are pay, food, clothing, guns, ammunition, airplanes, fuel, and innumerable other requirements for an army of 7,700,000 men. One of the unusual requests of the Medical Corps is for one hundred million dollars for the new wonder drug Penicillin designed to save the lives of thousands of our fighting men.

Mahon states that the belief is that no funds other than those now being requested will be required by the Army for the defeat of Germany—that while the fighting has not reached its peak, war spending has reached its peak and will taper off very sharply within a few months.

Shown here is the boundary referred to as Hitler's "Inner Fortress," which soon may be cracking in several places. The Allies must break the heavily fortified coast line and through many divisions of Germany's outstanding troops. Meanwhile pre-invasion bombings from the air continue to knock out Nazi air strength, cripple rail lines and arms factories to make ready for the invasion.

PAUL ENCOURAGES THE CORINTHIANS

LESSON TEXT—II Corinthians 4:5, 16-18; 5:1, 4-8, 14-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for our sakes he became poor, that he through his poverty might become rich.—II Corinthians 8:9.

"Nothing is certain but uncertainty," so says the modern philosopher. But man cannot be satisfied with constant change and confusion. That is why, in our day of unheard-of disruption of ordinary life patterns, men and women especially need the message of the gospel, for in Christ we find the answer to our quest for certainty and stability.

Paul writing to encourage the church at Corinth assured them that life may be steady, useful and true because they are Christians. He presents:

The Christian—a Servant of Men for Christ's Sake (II Cor. 4:5), Having—

I. A Vision Which Lightens Affliction (II Cor. 4:16-18).

Any honest person knows that in the temporal world round about him everything speaks of death. All things tend to run down, to wear out, to decay, including the body of man. He sees his mental as well as his physical powers coming to a certain maturity only to go into decline.

At the same time he is conscious of the deep burden of affliction and sorrow which seems to press down on all the world like an almost unbearable and crushing weight. What can he do about it? Shall he try to dissipate the clouds by artificial cheerfulness? It will not work.

Our text gives us the answer. "For this cause we faint not," says Paul. The things which press us down are only temporal—they are of this world. God's world is eternal. The weakness of the physical body only makes the strength of the spiritual life more evident. The affliction which seems so heavy is only a "light affliction" when one remembers the "eternal weight of glory."

Is this just a bit of "escapism"? Is it only some wishful thinking? No, indeed. Have not men learned anew in the war that the only possessions you can keep are those which cannot be bombed to pieces or stolen?

Obviously, that is true in the highest degree of the one who knows Christ, and whose riches are those of eternity. How triumphantly he can meet decay and sorrow! He is of the other world, and nothing here can be more than a light affliction, which seems negligible in the light of the glory of eternal things. Ah, but it's great to be a Christian in such days as these!

II. An Assurance Which Removes Fear (II Cor. 5:1, 5-8).

Of all the fears which afflict mortal man the greatest and the ultimate one is the fear of death. He knows that it is so absolute and final that it terminates everything and separates him from all that he has known and held dear in this world.

That is just the point, death does end everything (except the awful fear of judgment for a wicked life!) for those who live only for this world. Man, however, was never intended for just this present life. He is a being who has eternity written in his very personality.

What if this "earthly tabernacle"—my body—does give up, says Paul. I have a "building of God," something which man did not make with his hands, an eternal home in glory.

That gives a man confidence. While he is here in the body, he lives and walks by faith, but when absent from this body, he is "present with the Lord." How altogether delightful and marvelous is the future, even beyond the grave, for the believer. Hence, we "sorrow not as others which have no hope" (read I Thess. 4:13-18).

III. A Hope Which Makes Him a Living Testimony (II Cor. 5:14-15).

Worldly people sometimes wonder what tremendous and tireless motive power keeps Christians working for the Lord in the face of impossible difficulties. We have that motive named in verse 14—"the love of Christ constraineth us."

There is no compulsion about real Christian testimony and service. There is no feeling that one must do this or that in order to please God. No, the compelling force here is the love of a dying Saviour. It is the supremely powerful and all-persuasive influence of love.

Christ died for all, and those who realize that, know that they cannot "henceforth live unto themselves" (v. 15). The social standing, or family connections of our fellow men, no longer control. Christ died for them and we must bring them the word of life.

Notice in verse 17 that it is the born-again-one who has this hope. Many church members whose lives are powerless and sinful are so because they have never been born again. "Except a man be born again" (John 3:3) he is not a Christian. That is the place to begin. Take Christ by faith.

Mrs. D. C. Williams Is Culture Club Luncheon Hostess

The covered dish luncheon held recently in the home of Mrs. D. C. Williams was the enjoyable climax of a year of beneficial study for the Woman's Culture Club. Special guests and club officers were seated at the dining table which was beautifully decorated with a centerpiece of pansies and crystal birds on a reflector. Members were seated at foursome tables which were centered with bowls of pansies.

Mrs. Durrett, vice-president of the club was toastmistress for this meeting. The program was opened by singing 'America the Beautiful.' Mrs. Manly pronounced the benediction. After the delicious meal, Mrs. Durrett gave a resume of the year, introduced the new members, and paid a tribute to the club mother, Mrs. J. B. Slaughter, Sr. Mrs. Slaughter then spoke about Mother's Day and its significance to her and how she had watched the club through the years. We were most happy to have Mrs. Slaughter with us for this occasion.

A musical treat was the rendition of "Would God I Were a Tender Apple Blossom" by Mrs. L. A. Presson, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Davis, violinist, with Mrs. Tillman Jones at the piano.

Mrs. Durrett then introduced our special guest, Mrs. J. G. Merritt of Colorado City, who had just returned from the national convention of Federated Women's Clubs held in St. Louis. Mrs. Merritt, a very entertaining speaker, brought many interesting thoughts about the convention. She told us of speeches made by international political figures and refugees from invaded countries with many clever remarks concerning her impressions of these people.

Mrs. Merritt's visit was thoroughly enjoyed and she is assured a welcome any time she cares to return.

Mrs. Jones thanked Mrs. Merritt on behalf of the club and with a few well chosen words concluded the business for the year. The program was concluded with the singing of "God Bless America." —Reporter

Proper Methods For Home Canning

The "open kettle" method and "oven" method of home canning cannot be depended on to kill harmful bacteria in food, say specialists in the Department of Agriculture, and in addition, oven canning has caused accidents when jars exploded. The specialists recommend that fruits, tomatoes, and pickled vegetables be precooked and packed in boiling hot in hot jars, with lids adjusted correctly, then processed in a boiling water bath canner with sufficient water to cover jars. Peas, beans and other non-acid vegetables should be packed in the same way, but processed in a steam pressure canner. Some of the 40,000 new steam pressure canners authorized by WPB for the canning season are now available in certain areas in the South and others should be available throughout the country before long. Many community food preservation centers provide local home canners with equipment and supervised instructions on proper canning.

100 Percent American

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sound photo — This official U. S. Signal Corps Radiophoto shows a 100 percent American winning his nation's highest award. Lt. Ernest Childers, an American Indian from Tulsa, Oklahoma, is shown here being decorated with the Congressional Medal of Honor by Lt. General Jacob L. Devers, Commander of American Forces in Mediterranean Theatre. Lt. Childers, single-handedly wiped out two machine gun nests, killed five Nazis and captured one.

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Stephens of Cooper, near Lubbock, transacted business here Monday. They were accompanied by their granddaughters, Mary Eula and Lucy Ann Trammell of Portales, N. M., who spent the day with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Callis.

Wartime Shopping in Naples

By Doris Fleenor

As a woman here in Naples and just back from the fighting front, I'm often reminded of the wisecrack that Americans are fighting the war for souvenirs. Certainly the No. 1 occupation of the Fifth army men when off duty is shopping for gifts for their women back home.

The rush to buy is tremendous, despite rising prices and the fact that goods are getting scarcer. The early birds, for instance, got silk stockings. Remember? Italy was a partner of Japan. Now the popular light shades are exhausted and the few stockings left come in dark, dimly unflattering shades.

Besides silk stockings, a run has been made on gloves and on coral, tortoiseshell and cameo jewelry. Back home now it ought to be easy to spot a girl with a Fifth army beau.

It often seems to me that my most important job here is to be shopping consultant for about a hundred thousand men, all of whom need help. I am the girl who knows what's what—or that's what they tell me. My entrance into a shop, or my passing a street peddler, is the signal for all the soldiers present to rush me for advice: "Will my girl like this? Do you think this will fit my mother?"

Stockings were easy because I know they are welcome anywhere, and a quiz session with the soldier gave me a reasonable chance to guess the correct size. But I am forced to admit that the last woman I saw wearing a cameo was my grandmother, and I perspired trying to think up just what to say when a soldier held one of these ornate brooches in his hand and said hopefully: "Don't you think my girl would like this?"

If the cameo was for his mother I didn't worry so much. I figured the mother would never admit that anything her son sent her was other than just what her heart desired. But I did want to guard against having the gentleman disappointed by his girl friend's response. So I preached a strong anti-junk campaign.

Lots of Gaudy Junk.
But mountains of parcels poured out of Italy, and lots of junk must have been included. The boys tried hard. I can testify that they searched, bargained and debated for hours before they made up their "Bundles for America." Their self-consciously pleased expressions as they sent the packages off were deeply touching. Mail means the world to them, and they were replying in kind.

Mail — any mail — is the great event. Not so much what's in a letter or a package—although that is important too, and any commander can tell which boys have winners at home—just the getting of it is what counts. Home town newspapers are prized—the smaller the town the better. News that has a personal touch is what's wanted, and characters in small town newspapers have become real, even to boys who never heard of the place in America.

Besides being an inveterate shopper, the Fifth army lad off duty is an inveterate sightseer. The ruins of Pompeii, the environs of Vesuvius and the famous Isle of Capri are overrun. Pompeii's shattered marbles have no impact for the boys who have seen endless numbers of bombed towns, but stories about the antiquities still fascinate them.

Another popular sight is the huge Caserta, the palace which Ferdinand IV built for his consort in the 18th century. Its magnificent staircase, throne room and opera house have survived both our bombs and the Germans', and therein the army Joes and the nurses happily burlesque royalty.

Speaking of royal palaces reminds me of my Naples apartment, which I share with Red Cross girls and whatever visiting firewoman comes along—one night a dignified hospital inspector, the next night two sleepy Italian dancers giggling happily over their soldier audiences' enthusiasm. I'm reminded because, as the old vaudeville joke has it, my apartment and the royal palace are so different—though compared with the front it is a palace indeed.

Filled With Equipment.
The rooms are piled high with bedrolls, helmets and canteens, but the beds are soft and sheeted and there is a place to hang clothes. The main room is regally spacious, marble-floored and well ventilated—the ventilation, to be sure, owing to repeated bombings.

A brisk walk from the main room brings one to a bathroom where, at the price of smoky rooms and a lungful of carbon dioxide, it is possible to build a fire in a small stove and wring out of it three inches of rusty hot water.

COMPARISON OF COMBINE MILO, PLAINSMAN MILO, HEGARI AND WHEAT FEED FOR FATTENING HOGS

By Wallace Kimbrough
County Agent Of Texas A.&M. Extension Service

The following is taken from Progress Report from Texas Agricultural Experiment Station on an experiment run by Fred Hale, Chief of the Division of Swine Husbandry:

The production of combine milo is rapidly increasing in Texas, and producers and feeders need information concerning the feeding values of some of these varieties as compared to hegari, and other grains. The Texas Station conducted an 85-day feeding test, in which Martin milo, Plainsman milo, hegari and wheat were compared as fattening grains for hogs. Forty-eight feeder pigs averaging from 63 to 70 pounds were fed in individual feeding pens so that an accurate record of grain protein supplement, and mineral consumption per pound of gain could be obtained. Each pig was fed grain, protein supplement, and mineral in separate compartments of a self-feeder, free choice. Eight pigs were used on each test. Martin milo was fed unground and ground. Plainsman milo was fed unground. Hegari was fed unground and wheat was fed both ground and unground.

There was no significant difference in the average daily gains of pigs fed Martin milo, Plainsman milo, hegari or wheat. Grinding Martin milo and wheat made little or no difference in the daily gains of pigs, but did cause a saving of feed required to produce 100 pounds of gain. By figuring grain at $2.60 per 100 pounds, Protein supplement at $4.00 per 100 pounds, and mineral at $1.00

Soil Conservation District News

Applications for soil and water conservation plans and assistance from the Franklin ranch on the Ralls road and the Welch brothers ranch on the Grassbury road were received and approved by the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors at a meeting in Spur held last Thursday, May 18.

It is very important that new terraces be planted in some kind of feed crop. This will serve two purposes: First, the fibrous roots of the feed crops will help hold the terraces until they have a chance to settle and if a break does occur the damage will be lessened; second, the feed stalks and crop residue left on the terraces after the grain has been harvested will be a big help in holding down wind erosion.

No sacrifice is more pitiful and costly than needless sacrifice of productive land, man's most essential resource, along with water. Intelligent, efficient use of land rather than wanton exploitation is the growing trend of the times.

per 100 pounds, ground Martin milo was worth $2.064 per 100 pounds in this test or 3.2 per cent more than was whole Martin milo. In other words when Martin milo is worth $2.00 per 100 pounds one can afford to grind it for fattening hogs if the cost of handling and grinding amounts to less than 64 cents per 100 pounds, and if pigs are fed grain, protein supplement and mineral free choice in a self-feeder.

To Our Friends and Customers

In the series of advertisements published in recent weeks, we have acquainted you with the service record and public policy of the Southwestern Public Service Company. We have stated that the Company was originally organized in New Mexico in 1925 and, until acquiring the facilities in Post, it served principally the Pecos Valley area of New Mexico and the Central Panhandle area of Texas. We have stated that, through the long period of years following the founding of the Company, our policy has been to furnish the best possible service to the public at rates which were voluntarily and repeatedly reduced.

Our efforts have merited the approval of those we serve. The public response has been generous, as evidence of which, during the past twelve months every incorporated city and town in the Pecos Valley of New Mexico, six in all, granted the Company new long term franchises under which it can continue to plan on a long term basis and preserve its service policies. In the Central Panhandle area also, franchise renewals have been granted in each city where expiration dates were near. In not a single case, has a renewal ever been refused.

The extension of our permits to serve all of these cities and towns was based upon the public acceptance of the Company and its policy of operation. We now bring this policy to the people of Post, and we are confident that you will find it genuinely in the public interest in the years to come.

Former Texan Develops New Technique With Penicillin

Austin—A former University of Texas staff member now associated with an Eastern pharmaceutical firm has devised a new method of testing penicillin, miracle drug that is proving one of the great contributions of medicine to winning the war.

J. Raymond McMahan of Austin, until last fall a graduate student in chemistry and assistant in the Biochemical Institute at the University here, has developed the new technique, which is rapid, accurate and comparatively inexpensive.

Mrs. Andy King returned home May 16 from Roscoe where she visited two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Harvey Tollison.

TRUCK OPERATORS GET SPEED WARNING

Warning to truck operators to curtail speeds and loads during the approaching hot weather was given by speakers at the recent Fort Worth meeting of Texas Motor Transportation Association. The reason for caution is that synthetic tires do not stand up under overheating conditions as well as natural rubber tires used to.

Slowing down of traffic would curtail deliveries less than the serious effects of blow-outs and other tire trouble, it was pointed out.

The necessity of strict conservation of tires is being stressed at every opportunity by the Office of Defense Transportation.

Tire Inspection Records Must Be Kept By Motorist

Removal of periodic tire inspections has led many to believe that tire inspection records may be done away with. This idea is causing the Local Boards to have to handle many applications for new inspection records, according to the Office of Price Administration. Tire inspection records must be kept, for a motorist making application for a tire replacement or for gasoline rations must present the record.
