

School trustees, ever since the fall term started, have shown concern at every session for the dangerous traffic situation in front of the Post schools which line West Eighth Street and US-380.

They have sought added police protection for the youngsters using the crosswalks and have even talked of setting up a program for a uniformed woman deputy sheriff to control things at school opening and closing hours with the school district picking up the cost tab.

This week the city stepped in and gave all the crosswalks a fresh coat of white paint to alert motorists.

Let's face it, readers! The danger is created not by highway motorists and truckers — but by the parents of the very youngsters we are trying to protect.

In this motorized age, a high percentage of children are driven to and from school by their parents. This means dozens of parents' cars concentrating on that three or four block school zone in the space of 10 minutes in the mornings and doing the same thing in the afternoons.

For some reason, time is of the essence for virtually every adult behind the steering wheel. That means they want quick release of youngsters in the morning and a tip loading in the afternoon. To accomplish this many parents unload their youngsters at a wide variety of spots (wrong side of street, avenues, etc.) and for the afternoon rendezvous have agreed pickup points of the same confusing variety.

This creates a highly disorderly traffic situation around the schools instead of an orderly one. Parking parents waiting for youngsters can stack stalled autos sometimes three deep along that stretch of highway.

It's hard to teach orderly arrivals and exits of youngsters when so many parents are disorderly; to teach boys and girls safety when many parents actually create the danger.

Former Police Chief Leldon Miller, who enforced safety rules around the schools better than anybody has here before or since, became intensely unpopular with both parents and driving teen-agers because of his insistence on the exact observance of traffic rules around the schools and his distribution of traffic tickets to all those who "drove out of line."

Certainly there is nothing in the present school traffic situation that a few traffic tickets wouldn't cure in a hurry.

School authorities need to pre-empt this situation. (See Postings, Page 8)

10-year sentence given for sodomy

Filemon Santiago Casarez was sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary here yesterday morning by District Judge Truett Smith after Casarez had pleaded guilty to a charge of sodomy with a minor.

Macario Romero, who pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary with intent to commit theft, was given a three-year probation prison sentence.

Andrew Rivera, 19, of Crosby County, was given a three-year probation prison sentence and ordered to make restitution for half of the $250 worth of damages he and a juvenile companion did to a tractor belonging to Clarence Gunn. The minor is to be tried in juvenile court.

FIRST WOMAN AS JURY FOREMAN

Mrs. Rosemary Chapman is the first woman to be chosen as foreman of a district court jury in Garza County, and, as far as District Judge Truett Smith knows, the "first" also applies to his entire judicial district of several counties.

Mrs. Chapman was elected foreman of the jury which heard the over $350,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Jo Ann Basinger, et al. against S. C. Storie Jr. based on a rural road collision in which Melvin Basinger was fatally injured.

District Judge Smith told The Dispatch that Mrs. Chapman was "the first lady jury foreman I have had in the district since I have been judge."

The other woman on the civil jury was Mrs. L. C. Herron Jr.

First collection season

Hospital heads into tax time 'in black'

The Garza Memorial Hospital District is heading into its first "tax collecting season" with a stack of unpaid bills but with the figures to prove it is still "well in the black" financially.

Hospital trustees, holding their October meeting at the hospital last Wednesday night with Hospital Administrator Donald Windham, found their financial situation as follows:

Enough cash on hand as of Sept. 30 to meet the $2,400 bi-monthly hospital payroll and have $373.30 left.

Total unpaid bills of $8,183.

Against the $8,183, the hospital had $7,529.60 in Medicare payments outstanding (due from the government), $6,885.17 in other hospital insurance claims outstanding (due from various insurance companies for services rendered) plus patients accounts receivable of $27,210.38 (up to two years old and possibly 50 per cent collectable) and $4,020.15 in old accounts receivable, probably none of which are collectible.

This should provide over $20,000 in collectible receivables to offset the $8,183 in bills payable.

Windham reported that the hospital's average patient load for September was 8.1 patients as compared with the hospital's 1969 patient load to date of 6.1 patients. Four babies were born at the hospital in September.

Ed Sawyers, chairman of the hospital trustees, pointed out at the trustees meeting that the hospital already has paid $818.40 back to the bank on its $1,500 temporary loan reported by The Dispatch last month to tide the hospital over until tax collection time.

Sawyers also said that the hospital district has only two payments of $7,000 each left to complete paying off the $35,000 in time warrants borrowed several years ago to make some hospital improvements and add some new hospital equipment.

He said that $5,000 of the February, 1970, payment already has been paid to reduce interest charges and that 18 per cent of all tax money collected this fall by the hospital district is being set aside in an effort to retire the time warrant debt a year ahead of time if possible to save additional interest charges.

The hospital district will receive between $40,000 and $45,000 in tax payments this year—which means considerably more tax support for the hospital than it was getting in the former county setup.

The hospital got a tax subsidy under county operations of between $17,000 and $18,000 annually after deduction of the time warrant payments and for the coming year will receive twice as much—approximately $34,850 after allocating 18 per cent of the collections for the time warrants.

Sawyers and the other two trustees, Bill Pool and Sexton Huntley, who attended the meeting agreed that with the slow summer season now behind the hospital that financial prospects are much brighter for the hospital with three doctors on the staff and added tax subsidy.

Trustees also discussed the possibility of getting hospital employees back on social security. The hospital has to pay a lump sum in advance to the Social Security Administration for the estimated amount of both the employees and hospital's contributions for a year. This amounts to about $8,000 and the hospital did not have the cash to do this when the hospital moved from county to hospital district operation in the spring.

Consequently, hospital employees are not now under social security. Trustees are hopeful that with tax collections this fall it may be possible to return to social security by Jan. 1 through use of tax funds for such an advance payment. Hospital social security quarterly payments can then be applied against the advance for the remainder of the year.

English and his wife, Beverly, have a two-year-old daughter, Leah Rae.

Hockley group wins

42 riders compete in 4-H Play Day

Despite the cold front that moved in Saturday morning, the first annual Graham 4-H Horse Club Play Day was a success, although the number of out-of-town entries was less than expected.

Forty-two boys and girls from six counties were entered in the halter and five performance classes.

The high point county trophy went to the Rawhide Riders from Hockley County who scored a total of 266 points.

High point individuals in each age group were as follows:

Peewee (8 and under): John Bill Hedrick, Graham, 50 points.
Young Juniors (9-12): Melanie King, Graham, 55 points.

Plans continuing for Homecoming

Members of the Post Ex-Students Association made their final plans for Friday's homecoming at a meeting Tuesday night, with plans for the annual event still in progress at the high school.

The first big homecoming event will be a pep rally, including a bonfire, tonight (Thursday). The bonfire will be lit immediately following the Post-Idalou "B" team football game, which should be over some time between 8:45 and 9 o'clock.

At 7 p. m. Friday, the high school football queen and pep squad beau will be crowned in a pre-game ceremony to the Post-Tahoka football game. The high school band sweetheart will be crowned at halftime.

Following the football game, the exes will hold a dance, to which the general public is invited, in the building between the bank and post office. "The Westerners" will furnish the dance music.

Light refreshments will be served at the dance, according to Tommy Young, president of the ex-students' organization.

No Garza damage from cold snap

The Monday morning cold snap, which sent the temperatures tumbling to slightly below freezing, has caused no appreciable damage to Garza County's 1969 cotton crop, according to Lewis Herron, the First National Bank's farm representative.

Post's official low Monday morning was 32 degrees, but the temperature reportedly dropped to 28 degrees up on the plains.
According to reports, the early freeze caused millions of dollars worth of crop losses in the High plains counties to the north.

$10,000 set as goal of '70 United Fund drive

Monday, Oct. 27, is kickoff date

Directors of the Garza County United Fund, meeting late Monday afternoon in the bank's community room, set a $10,000 goal for the 1970 fund drive and chose Monday, Oct. 27, as the kickoff date for the two-weeks-long money raising effort.

The $10,000 goal is the same as that of last year's when only $7,800 was raised and the 11 participating agencies took a 10 per cent cut in funds. Even then, reserve funds of the organization had to be used to bring a 90 per cent pay out.

Mrs. Helen Cornish is campaign chairman this year.

She announced that Jim Cornish will head the business division of the fund drive and Walter Didway, personnel director at the Postex Plant, will be chairman of the Postex employees division.

The business division, which replaces the "big gifts division", is expected to kick off several days. Mrs. Cornish said chairmen for all other drive divisions will be announced next week. Several already have accepted such responsibilities.

Mrs. Cornish said a new "private sector" division is being established this year to contact persons who do not fit into the many other drive divisions and thus have fund raising efforts.

Contributions of from $5 to $25 will be sought in this new division, she said.

United Fund directors at their

Monday meeting accepted the recommendations of their budget committee as to the distribution of the $10,000 among the participating agencies.

Participation in the 1970 effort by the various organizations with the 1969 participation before the 10 per cent cut was required shown in parentheses is as follows: Summer Baseball Program $1,900 ($1,950); Post Child Day Care Center $1,600 ($2,000); Boy Scouts $1,850 ($1,500); Girl Scouts $1,600 ($1,900); Red Cross $900 ($700); Salvation Army $900 ($700); Youth Center $800 ($700); USO $100 ($125); Texas United Fund $50 ($50); Texas Rehabilitation Center $25 ($25); and Garza County United Fund (for expenses of drive) $250 ($300).

Members of the budget committee which studied presentations of the various participating organizations for funds before making their recommendations included: Fred Myers, chairman, James Pollard, Kent Magness, Lonnie Gene Peel, and Bailey Mayo.

Mrs. Cornish told directors that the efforts of the 1970 fund drive will be concentrated upon reaching as many new fund contributors as possible.

In school board action

Corporal punishment policies spelled out

In a long October meeting which lasted until after midnight, Post school trustees Monday night discussed a wide range of school problems and adopted a school policy on corporal punishment (spankings) and basic principles for the selection of library materials.

In other major actions, trustees: Accepted the 1968-69 school year audit after hearing W. G. Hearn, who presented it, term it "a good report", and adopted a new monthly report procedure for the district's tax collector as recommended by Hearn.

Received an offer and made a counter offer to the Western Brick Company of Lubbock to complete the installation of new metal windows in the junior high school building by the end of the Christmas vacation. New windows were installed on the front side of the building during the summer vacation.

Heard report from Supt. Bill Shiver that Texas Educational Agency will permit the trustees to make exceptions to the rule regarding graduation requirements for specific cases providing the plan does not alter the basic graduation requirements of 16 units of required courses and that the plan established has prior approval from the state agency.

Heard a report from Supt. Shiver concerning an altercation between an 18-year-old youth not in school and a junior high student which resulted in a $25 fine on an assault charge filed against the out-of-school youth. Shiver told the trustees that he asked county authorities also to investigate the matter but that County Attorney Preston Poole had ruled the violation involved did not constitute the greater charge of "aggravated assault."

Heard a report from Shiver concerning a mother who had refused to accept the expelling of her child for three days as a disciplinary measure and had returned the child to the classroom. Supt. Shiver said he called the sheriff when the mother refused to leave when requested to do so and the sheriff arrived to serve the warrant as the family finally was leaving the building. Shiver told trustees he could have acted under Article 295 of the Texas Penal Code or the city ordinance against loitering. The city ordinance was used.

Heard a report from Shiver on the administrative procedure he has set up to help test suspected mentally retarded students enrolled here after receiving a letter from the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation on the procedure for testing

Water plan to be put across, Rotarians told

"We'll go back to the Texas Legislature and the voters in 1971 and leave no stone unturned to put across the Texas Water Plan," Tom Williams of Lubbock, associate director of Water, Inc., told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon.

Williams said that Water, Inc., hopes to organize boards at the county level to help carry on the educational process in support of the plan.

J. B. Potts, who introduced Williams, said announcement will be made in the near future to organize such a board here in Garza County.

After a short talk on the current status of the multi-billion plan to import water into Texas from the lower Mississippi River, Williams showed a film on the plan and Texas' future water needs, entitled, "Time for Action."

The 20-minute color film cost $80,000 to produce but gets graphically to the heart of Texas' water problem.

Williams reminded Rotarians that the federal government only two weeks ago authorized another $1,500,000 to finance further engineering study of the water plan.

"Actually we are ahead of schedule as far as the engineering is concerned," Williams declared.

He said the situation looks much more favorable for the water plan in East Texas where voters defeated it in the constitutional amendment.

FFA top award to Lee Norman

Lee Norman and E. A. Howard left Tuesday for the national Future Farmers of America convention in Kansas City, Mo., where Lee was to be presented the American Farmer Degree this afternoon (Thursday).

The Post youth, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Norman, is one of 30 members of the Texas delegation who will receive the degree, which is the highest honor in the FFA program.

Mr. Howard, Post High School vocational teacher, is Lee's chapter advisor.

Two break out of county jail

Two Lubbock youths, already facing an eight year penitentiary sentence for burglary, didn't take long to put their skills to use and break out of the Garza County jail here Monday night.

The two, William Cox and Gary Dale Ernest, 19 and 20, escaped about 9:45 p. m. after tearing the bars off the third floor cell block and getting out through the ceiling.

According to Sheriff L. E. (Pay) Claborn, they got out on the courthouse roof and lowered themselves to the outside stairway on the west side of the building to make good their escape.

The two are still at large. Sheriff Claborn said up the pair Saturday at a law firm where they had received eight-year prison sentences for burglary and took them to the Lubbock jail for safe keeping over the weekend. He then brought them to Post Monday morning for their scheduled criminal trials before District Judge Truett Smith.

The two were to stand trial on their alleged burglary attempt of Hundley's mom's store here when Jimmy Hundley confronted them at gun point when they dropped in to see the roof air conditioner last week.

Register early for 1970 vote

Voter registration for all the important elections to be held in Texas in 1970 opened recently and everyone eligible is urged to register sometime between now and the Jan. 31, 1970, deadline—the earlier the better, say the folks at the county tax office. They don't like those last-minute rushes—and who does?

Incidentally, more than three and one-half million Americans will reach voting age this year. They face a heavy responsibility, along with the rest of us.

The future of the nation depends on citizens who are willing to study carefully and weigh the economic, educational and social issues—and vote for candidates who stand for sound government at every level—national, state and local.

We are talking particularly to the new voters and the generations to follow—because they will have to cope with the colossal expenditures for programs implemented before they could have their say at the polls.

We are talking to the new voters also in the hope that they will believe that progress depends on individual incentive—not federal paternalism.

Where this nation will head in the '70s should be the prime concern of the young people of this generation. To a large degree, it's their responsibility and their acceptance of it could be a determining factor in the establishing of a more responsible electorate.

School lunchroom a 'big business'

A large-scale business operates five days a week in Post, going virtually unnoticed by most of the adult population, and National School Lunch Week, Oct. 12-18, is a good time to recognize that business.

The "business," of course, is the school cafeteria, serving 400 students daily with an employment of 8 persons.

Recognizing the necessity to focus attention on these people who daily feed balanced lunches to school children, the U. S. Congress and the President declared the special week for Oct. 12-18.

Mrs. Bailey Matsler, who supervises the lunchroom program in the Post schools, said that the program makes possible nutritionally adequate meals in 3,700 Texas schools and serves approximately a million lunches daily.

Texas school lunchrooms served 166,000,000 lunches in the 1968-69 school term, representing a $76,000,000 industry making its impact on the state's economy by use of many Texas agricultural products.

School lunch programs provide employment for thousands of state citizens in 1,151 Texas communities, with recognized success attributed in large measure to the faithful and effective work of these employees.

The Post lunchroom serves what is designated as a "Class A" lunch through menus prepared by Mrs. Matsler. This lunch includes a simple framework for planning menus which include milk, protein-rich foods, vegetables, fruits, enriched or whole-grain breads and butter or margarine.

National School Lunch Week will have served its purpose if it calls the attention of the public to the value to the schools, the children and the entire community of the school lunchroom.

No longer any reason to hurry

That first bale of cotton brought in by Frank Hadderton Jr. and ginned at Planters Gin Wednesday of last week sets a new "late in the season" record for a first bale in Garza County.

The lateness of this year's first bale is just another example of what the county agricultural agent has referred to as the "oddity" of the 1969 cotton crop.

The high cost of hand-pulling is resulting in more and more farmers gathering their cotton by mechanical methods, and that cannot be done as early in the season as hand-pulling. Weather conditions also have contributed to the lateness of this year's cotton.

Then, too, there is the fact that there no longer is much of a first bale incentive here since no one any longer pays a premium for it. In some instances, ginners give the first bale free, but it used to be a race every season to see who could gather the first bale of cotton and bring it in for premiums ranging anywhere from $50 to $200. Since no one any longer seems to care that much, what's the hurry?

Let's build Homecoming back up

Outside of the ex-students' dance, the Post-Tahoka football game, and the coronation of sweethearts, beaus and queens at the game, there won't be much going on here Friday at the schools' annual homecoming. All that sounds like a lot to be going on, we agree, but it's a far cry from some of the event-packed homecomings we've had in the past.

Even so, however, this year's homecoming will be bigger than last year's, which, except for the football game and the coronation ceremonies, just didn't come off. We all remember why, of course, but no use going into that again.

We overheard an officer of the Ex-Students Association say that a homecoming reminiscent of those of the past more than likely will be held next year. Well, that's something to look forward to. No community the size of Post should be without a homecoming—and a worthwhile one at that.

WELL, WE HAVE only about ten more days to enjoy—or dislike—Daylight Saving Time. We will return to Central Standard Time the last Sunday in this month, Oct. 26. That will mean setting the clock an hour ahead and sleeping an hour later . . . with bedtime coming an hour earlier.

The man up the street says he has a neighbor who has the sixth sense — but he doesn't have the other five.

LAST SUNDAY was Columbus Day, which I'd have completely forgotten if I hadn't read somewhere that the first man of Columbus' crew to step on American soil was an Irishman named Patrick McGuire.

I'd always thought that all the members of Columbus' crew were Italians, but this item I read said the roster of the ship's crew is preserved in the archives of Madrid and lists a Patrick McGuire.

THIS CAT named McGuire was in one of the boats launched to bring Columbus and members of his crew to the shore. When the water shallowed as they approached the land, McGuire jumped out to lighten the boat and then waded ashore.

All of which proves once again that the Irish are hard to outdo.

SOME WEEKS we hear of a number of interesting little items that are called to our attention a bit too late to make the paper. That was the case last week when we heard of the skunk that followed Marshall Ticer into his grocery store just before closing time.

Unable to get the intruder to leave, Marshall called the police station, with Night Patrolman Max Chaffin responding. When the skunk couldn't be enticed out of its hiding place in the store, the owner gave the policeman permission to blast it inside the store with the police department's special skunk shotgun.

THE SHOTGUN solved the problem and, luckily, nothing inside the store was tainted or otherwise damaged by the skunk's reaction to the shotgun blast.

That ended the story as far as the skunk was concerned, but there is more to tell about the shotgun. The next day the gun was stolen from the police car, and police were blaming the theft on some "two-legged skunk."

THEN THERE is the story of this calico house cat, "Patches," that returned to the Charlie Cooper home last Thursday night after having been away since Aug. 1.

Patches hadn't left home of her own accord, says Charlie's wife, Myra, but was taken to the Jimmy Byrd farm some 25 miles out on the Clairemont highway, along with a litter of six kittens. Myra said Jimmy Byrd wanted some cats around his place and that when Patches gave birth to the kittens they just took him the whole kit and caboodle.

MYRA SAYS that when Patches showed up last Thursday night she seemed as fresh as a daisy and wasn't even hungry. "Of course, we'll keep her now," Myra said.

And out at Antelope Stadium last Friday night, they allowed Antelopes, Buffaloes and officials on the football field, but no dogs. Just before game time, a frolicsome little brown dog romped around on the field until he was chased off by Larry Scrivner, one of the team managers.

THE DOG, apparently thinking Larry wanted to play, ran back onto the field, and then led his pursuer on a chase around the north end and down the east sidelines. Larry, who flirted with the "10 flat" mark all last season as the 100-yard dash specialist on the Antelope track team, didn't have a chance against the dog's speed.

The dog even got so far ahead of Larry that he'd lie down and rest while waiting for his pursuer to catch up. Then, just as Larry would start to grab the dog, he'd jump up and take off like a shot. It was almost as interesting as the football game.

Tomorrow night is Homecoming; everyone come out and boost the Antelopes to victory over the Tahoka Bulldogs. The Homecoming Queen, Band Sweetheart, and Pep Squad Sweetheart will be selected.

There will be a dance immediately following the game at Teen Town, featuring the "Evergreen Hi-Ways" from Wichita Falls. Everyone is invited, and please sign the register as you come in.

The Civics research papers were finally turned in Monday. Funny thing there were 20 Seniors absent that day. I wonder why?

"Dangerous Parallel" is Civics project

By BARBE GILMORE

The Post High School Civics classes are trying something new this year. The project, which is called "Dangerous Parallel," is a simulation of a world crisis. Each student is given a role of an important government official such as minister, who helps make decisions toward the national goals. This gives the students a first-hand view of what a government official's duties are and what must be considered when making these decisions. The situation is one in which each nation tries to achieve its national goals by negotiations with opposing countries and conferences with allies.

The fictitious countries involved are Transania, Hameel, New Zenith, Inland, Outland, and Nordo. This is an experiment in a new way of teaching and learning and the students seem to be enjoying it very much.

kids in the story are like teenagers today; they don't want to be, and yet they are, involved in adult hates and wars."

'Party' combined with TV special

By KIM McCLELLAN

Tuesday, Oct. 7, 36 Seniors met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lee, to watch a special on television, "From Here to the 70's." This gathering really turned out to be a "party," as refreshments were served and discussions were held during the commercials.

Those who attended were: Kay Altman, Ray Altman, Don Collier, Paula Cravy, Terry Cross, Alice Cruse, Dennis Dodson, Johnny Hair, Rocky Gribble, Karl Hall, David Hamilton, Patricia Harper, Nancy Hart, Kay Herron, Ken Herron, Randy Hudman, Larry Johnston, Jane Johnston, Kathy Jones;

Also Howard Keel, Sue Litton, Shirley Manuel, Kim McClellan, Martha Miller, Terry Moreau, Steve Newby, Beth Peel, Pam Petty, David Pierce, Robert Pierce, Grady Shyles, George Torres, Susan Valdez, Billy Williams, Karon Windham and Sharon Windham.

The special, which covered everything from A-Z, was enjoyed by all. For one reason the program covered the most current events: Our Civics classes are supposed to be keeping up with events taking place around the world. For another reason, the program was put together in such a manner that the viewers learned and enjoyed at the same time.

Pep Squad makes halls look great

By NANCY STRAWN

The halls of PHS have been looking great. This is proof that the Pep Squad is behind the Antelope team 100 per cent.

Pep Squad members have been putting a great deal of time and energy into decorating the halls every Friday. This is a great way to boost school spirit and it is greatly appreciated by the Antelopes and Antelope fans.

Pep Squad members have been staying after school every Tuesday to paint the signs that are seen in the halls every week. The signs and crepe paper are hung on Thursday. This is the Pep squad's way to say, "WE ARE BEHIND YOU ALL THE WAY."

Brannon taking part in SAC's bombing event

SPOKANE, Wash.—The Strategic Air Command (SAC) 1969 "World Series of Bombing" got under way last week at Fairchild AFB, Wash., featuring SAC's top bomber crews.

The bomber crews, backed by the best maintenance men in the command, are matching their flying and bombing skills—without dropping a bomb—in SAC's 16th Combat Competition.

Twenty-four SAC bomber crews, flying B-52 Stratofortresses and B-58 Hustlers, plus three British Royal Air Force crews flying Vulcans, are competing for the coveted Fairchild Trophy, individual awards and championship title.

Staff Sgt. Charles E. Brannon is a jet engine mechanic on the B-52 selected to represent the 96th Strategic Aerospace Wing at Dyess AFB, Tex. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Brannon of 709 West 15th, Post, Tex.

The honor of being chosen to support their unit's entry in the competition is awarded to maintenance men on the basis of technical skill, proficiency and consistent outstanding performance.

During the competition each crew flies two round-robin missions of 2,500 miles from Fairchild AFB, encompassing high and low simulated bombing and pinpoint navigation. Missions last about six hours.

Three mobile radar sites, each covering four targets near Harvey, N. D., Moberge, S. D., and Great Falls, Mont., will track and score the aircraft and crews on the accuracy of their "bombs."

The accuracy of the simulated bomb releases is computed electronically by the mobile sites from their record of release signal. The score is combined with navigation points earned for the total score.

Sergeant Brannon is a 1963 graduate of Post High School. His wife, Donna, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Day of Lovington, N.M.

Slides shown at school assembly

High school senior Don Collier showed slides and told of his trip to Europe last summer at the Post Junior High School assembly program Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Walker announced that something new had been added to assembly programs — "Orchids and Onions" to deserving individuals or groups. Jay Pollard, Student Council member, presented the orchids and onions.

Sylvia Smith led the singing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and the School Song, with Sue Cowdrey at the piano. Sammy Gutierrez led in the Pledge to the Flag.

Lindy Bird, Student Council president, presided over the assembly.

Teen Town Chaperone Appreciated

By BILLYE WILLIAMS

A few weeks ago, I drove up to a filling station and immediately afterwards, Mrs. Maxine Cummings stopped. I asked her when the next dance would be, and she said, "Not until Homecoming." Then she said she intended to resign at the Teen Town board meeting the next day. Well, no dance, no romance, no nothing! You know what I mean?

So I started firing questions. Why are you resigning? Do they have anybody else in mind? You don't really mean it? Well, before you can receive answers to questions, you have to stop asking the questions.

Seriously, this was really worrying me. Mrs. Cummings went into the meeting intending to resign; however, she did not. And for that we are all grateful.

Parents, may I put a question to you? "Do you like to know where your kids are when they are not home?" When they are at a dance you know where they are and what they are doing. Mrs. Cummings wants at least one couple to chaperone at every dance. This is not too much to ask if it tells you where your children are. So parents, call Mrs. Cummings and volunteer. Don't wait to be asked.

Mrs. Cummings has been chaperoning the dances alone for a long time and she will never know how much we all appreciate it. But, you are not all her kids. Once more parents, please volunteer. The parent staff at school will buy cotton for your ears. But, who knows, after a while, you may like our music!

Church of the Nazarene sets all-day meeting

By MARY LEE LAWS Looks like old man winter is just around the corner. Our official low Monday morning was 30 degrees. Brrr — sure did hate to get out early too. We may be in for a long hard winter.

The Church of the Nazarene will have an all-day meeting at the church Sunday. The program will begin with a Sunday School rally, to be followed by a special speaker for the morning worship. Dinner will be served on the grounds at noon with everyone asked to bring a picnic lunch. In the afternoon a dedication service for the new parsonage and an open house will be held. The district superintendent, Dr. Lyle E. Eckley, will be the speaker for the dedication. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Beulah Tew is a patient in West Texas Hospital in Lubbock and is in room 415. She was taken to the hospital Saturday and is undergoing tests and x-rays. We hope she is feeling much better and will be home soon.

Linda Gail Justice is wed to Leslie Gene Davis here Friday

Friday evening at 7 o'clock Miss Linda Gail Justice and Leslie Gene Davis repeated double ring wedding vows at the Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Jimmy McHenry pastor of the Arnett Benson Baptist Church of Lubbock, officiating.

The church was decorated with an archway of candles and baskets of yellow and white mums and poinsettias. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Justice and Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Davis.

Chantilly lace at the hemline. Her veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and lace leaves with the lace repeated around the edge of the veil. She carried a bouquet of carnations tied with white satin streamers.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue by wearing a penny in her shoe, her gown and veil, a handkerchief and a blue garter. Mrs. Johnson was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Lanita Jean Justice, another sister, and Miss Brenda Stelzer. Their floor-length dresses, made by

MRS. LESLIE GENE DAVIS (Linda Gail Justice)

Miss Lillie Wilke sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "One Hand, One Heart" accompanied by Miss Rita Lynn Butler.

A reception followed at Fellowship Hall with the serving table laid with white lace over yellow and centered with white and yellow mums enhanced with white love birds. Yellow satin streamers on the table were inscribed with the couple's names.

Miss Darla Carlisle of Weatherford registered the guests. Members of the house party were Mrs. Frank Bostick, Dillard Morris, John Bland, L. B. Pate and Glenn Welch of Lubbock.

For travel the bride donned a three-piece blue and white knit suit. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will live in Oklahoma at the Clinton Sherman Air Force Base. Both are graduates of Post High School; the bride graduated in 1969 and the bridegroom in 1966.

Art and music being taught children at Day Care Center

Children at the Post Day Care Center have started anticipating Thursday and Friday mornings, as last week they were introduced to art and music on these two mornings.

The Post Art and Craft Guild and the Post Music Club, National Federation of Music Clubs, are furnishing volunteers from their organizations to teach art and music to children enrolled at the day care center.

Six members of the art guild have volunteered their services. They are Glenda Morrow, Geraldine Butler, Inez Hartel, Marie Neff, Betty Boren and Lois Williams, an alternate. Last Thursday morning from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock Mrs. Neff introduced the children to scissor cutting.

Working with construction paper and wallpaper samples, the children constructed vases of flowers which they pasted on construction paper.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Do you know what time of the year it is? No, it is not wintertime, nor is it Halloween, or even Thanksgiving I'm thinking of, it's the time of the year to think about GIVING.

I sat down with the contribution cards from last year one night at home after being appointed drive chairman. Mr. C was out attending a meeting and he was greeted at the door with "My Lord, no wonder we don't meet our annual budget very often. This is a disgraceful situation."

"Do you know, Mr. C." I asked, "that we have 72 business firms making donations from $5 to $500 and we have almost an equal number who are not making any donations at all."

Here are a few more statistics: 28 farmers and ranchers donated last year; three women's clubs, about three private citizens made substantial contributions and approximately 64 downtown employees, post office employees, city, highway, county offices, school, ministers and bank employees gave donations from $1 to $25.

Appalling isn't it?

A good percentage of this money raised annually is kept right here in Post, Texas. Among other agencies a heck of a lot of it is used in local youth organizations — namely, summer baseball, Girl Scouts, Teen Town and the Day Care Center.

There isn't a parent in this town who shouldn't be willing to donate at least $5 to the United Fund. Just stop and think how many of you have boys in the summer baseball program. How many of you have scouts in your family. How many of you take Teen Town for granted?

Surely, $5 isn't too much to help keep all these fine activities going. You all ought to be standing in line to make your contribution!

You ought to be planning right now how much you can squeeze out of your budget to help pay for these programs for your children or for someone else's.

You just "ain't carrying the load" and that's bad. Give it some thought and when the drive starts plan on GIVING and if you get missed don't sit back and sigh a sigh of relief. Make out a check and take it to your drive chairman. (Me.)

Now, so I don't leave a bad taste in your mouth I will do a little lauding. Year in and year out Postex Plant does it's best to give its share. Besides Burlington, Ind., giving $500, as the biggest contributor, Postex employees gave $1,561.75 last year — which means they contributed together over 25 per cent of last year's total budget.

Let's all try just a "little bit harder" to make Post just a "little bit better." What do you say?

Lunchroom Menus

Southland woman attacked by dog

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
Hello to you out there in newspaper land. How about this weather? One man here said that it got down to 25 degrees and the weather man at Lubbock said it got down to 28 at Lubbock. It is really early for a freeze in this part of the country, but as the old saying goes, "If you don't like the kind of weather in West Texas, just wait awhile and it will probably change." Anyway it has turned out to be quite a nice day.

Mrs. Winston Lester was attacked by a big dog one day last week and received several cuts that required stitches. The dog knocked her down and had to be beat off with a hoe. My goodness, what an experience!

Jerry Winterrowd was a weekend guest of his sister, Dahlonna, in Lubbock and attended the football game between Texas Tech and A&M with Dahlonna and Billy Gunter. Some game, eh Jerry?

The Junior class held a car wash recently and they sure appreciated all the cooperation this community gave them. There are only four juniors this year, so two of the seniors, Norma Eckert and Larry Bevers, felt sorry for them and helped with the car wash.

Last Friday was Western Day at the Southland school. From what I saw, I don't think much studying went on. The Seniors set up a bar in the concession stand at the football field and the students stood around "swigging" Coke and orange pop most of the day. The Seniors also set up a jailhouse for the day and by the time school was out it was about full. If you got caught wearing anything besides western clothes you were thrown in the "hoosegow." During pep rally, the best dressed girl and boy were chosen. They were Desa Dodd, senior, and Joe Ed Eckert, freshman. All in all, it was a fun day and everyone enjoyed it—I guess!

Mrs. Jack Myers spent several days in Mercy Hospital last week with the flu. She came home Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis visited several days recently in Duncan, Okla., with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mansell and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Giles.

"Where the Action Is"

By Bernard S. Ramsey

It is so easy for us to forget, in our busy-work-a-day world, that we have a definite responsibility for the future and must act to achieve something decent, good and Christian, that has some chance of outlasting our lives.

Is this a part of the Good News of the Christian Religion?

Yes, it is, because until we accept responsibility and obligation, we shall not know peace or the joy that our faith promises us. This is a new idea of religion to a good many people, but it is right at the heart of the Christian Faith. The people who are always crying out for a "more spiritual" sermon or interpretation would do well to listen to Evelyn Underhill, who wrote to a friend:

Make up your mind from the first to ignore the ups and downs of the 'spiritual climate'. There will be for you as for everyone sunny and cloudy days, long periods of dullness and fog, and sometimes complete darkness to bear. Accept this with courage as part of the Christian life. Your conversion means giving yourself to God, not having . . . nice feelings.

For a generation crying out to be "where the action is," the Christian Faith comes to the world with the good news that we are only there when we are in the presence of God.

Tahoka Bulldogs

ANTELOPE STADIUM

FRIDAY, OCT. 17

7:30 P.M. KICKOFF

The Post Antelopes will kick off District 4AA play against the Tahoka Bulldogs in a homecoming clash which has all the grid ingredients for a humdinger as far as the fans are concerned. ¶ The Bulldogs are 3-2 for the year with two of their victories coming over the same teams the Lopes defeated, Stanton 7-6 and Hale Center 12-10. ¶ The Lopes showed greatly improved defensive play last week in whipping Stanton. ¶ With their best club since the 1966 district champs, the Lopes had better not get caught "looking past" Tahoka Friday night to the Frenship and Denver City games which follow in that order. Such a game staunch could well be disastrous. ¶ Remember, the kickoff is at 7:30 p. m. for district games instead of 8 p.m. and the Post football queen will be crowned prior to the kickoff—so come early!

scribe an orderly unloading and pickup method for parents at each school and call upon the Post police department to enforce city traffic and parking regulations. Obviously parents should wait in one line to load or unload at each school. This, of course, takes a little longer to accomplish.

Trustees wouldn't win a popularity contest by such a procedure, but they would solve the traffic situation before some youngster is run over and killed — which is what they want to do.

But while the discussion goes on, this is to appeal to parents to be more sensible and to put safety back into our school "safety zones." How about it?

School board—

The letter from Supt. John W. Gladden proposed that Shiver have the parents of children to be tested to contact the school directly. Cost of such examinations and evaluations "would be only a nominal sum" and "would be assessed according to the family's income," the letter said.

Shiver told the board he is hopeful the State Lubbock School will set up a satellite program for mentally retarded students in Post, or that a state-paid mentally retarded unit can be started here if an accredited teacher can be found.

The superintendent also reported to the board that "I have heard rumors about 'pot' in our school but that 'up to this point this has not been verified."

"If you hear of people who have information about the use of drugs, I recommend that this information be turned over to the grand jury," Shiver told trustees.

Trustees closed the meeting by discussing the dangerous traffic situation on West Eighth street in front of the schools. No conclusions were reached.

The "corporal punishment" policy was adopted by trustees after considerable discussion. Shiver brought up the matter by saying he had been unable to find the school's punishment policy set forth in writing in the school board's policies, so had conferred with the board's attorney concerning one.

The policy adopted provides that teachers in the first five grades be allowed to use corporal punishment provided they do not use it excessively or with malice, and that it be administered with an adult witness present and not in front of other children. The policy also provides that should an administrator in charge feel the teacher is too excessive with the punishment, he can refuse the teacher the right to punish corporally and assume the responsibility fully himself.

The policy makes the above also applicable to secondary physical education teachers and the coaching staff, but provides that other teachers in the junior high and high school not be extended the right to administer corporal punishment.

In the junior high and high school, the administrator in charge of the building is given authority to administer corporal punishment, but the policy states that "it should be used only with the permission of the student to be punished and should not be excessive or with malice intended."

The policy provides should a parent request that his or her child not be punished corporally, the administrator in charge is directed to send the child home, as per school board policy, for a three-day expulsion. The policy further provides that the third such suspension in a semester constitutes a matter that should be brought before school trustees for the purpose of determining permanent expulsion for the semester.

The trustees' policy on the selection of library materials provides among other considerations that "no student in the Post school system shall be required to read material that is not formally adopted by the State Education Department if the parent or guardian of the student protests to the superintendent in writing that the material is obscene or otherwise objectionable and cites the pages being criticized, and in the opinion of the superintendent, the parent has legitimate cause to protest."

Jury returns 'no damage' verdict

A Garza County district court jury here Tuesday returned a "no damage claim" verdict in the over $350,000 civil suit brought by Mrs. Jo Ann Basinger of Slaton here for four minor children, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Basinger of Southland against S. C. Storie Jr.

The suit was based on the rural road collision Sept. 5, 1968, in which Melvin Basinger was fatally injured. In the accident, a car driven by Basinger and a pickup truck driven by Storie collided at a dirt road intersection.

The jury found that Storie had exercised normal care in his driving.

Post to open 4AA play against Tahoka here Friday

'Lopes face old foes in Homecoming clash

The Post Antelopes and Tahoka Bulldogs, whose gridiron rivalry dates back to 1900, will open their Friday night's action with a homecoming game at Antelope Stadium in Stanton at 7:30 p. m. The game will mark the first 7:30 p. m. kickoff of the season here, the non-conference contests having started at 8 o'clock.

Coach Billy Hahn's Antelopes will be favored in Friday night's game, but not by much.

The teams have met two competitive opponents — Stanton and Hale Center. Tahoka beat Stanton by one point, 7 to 6, and Post took the Bulldogs by 10 points, 16 to 6. The Antelopes downed Hale Center by 14 points, 21 to 7, while Tahoka edged the Owls by two points, 13 to 11. On the basis of these scores, Post is nine points "up" in the Bulldogs in the Stanton game and 12 points "up" in the Hale Center game.

In their other three games thus far, the Bulldogs have defeated the Plains, 19 to 14, and lost to Crosbyton, 22 to 7, and Seagraves, 28 to 0. Members of the Post coaching staff who scouted the Bulldogs' game to Seagraves Friday night said the Tahoka team gave the state's No. 4 Class A team a "rough time" of it for most of the way.

The scouts report that the Tahoka eleven is not big, but that it has lots of hustle, executes its plays well and is "pretty tough."

Last year, their first in Class AA in several seasons, Tahoka beat Post by a one-sided margin. In 1966, the year Post won the District 4AA championship, their only regular season loss was to Tahoka, then a Class A power, in a 6-3 game at Tahoka.

Five seniors, four juniors and two sophomores are slated to start for the Bulldogs here Friday night. The probable offensive starters and their weights are as follows:

Ends: Johnny Martin, 155, and Gene Walker, 160; tackles: Jim McCord, 175, and Larry Reno, 170; guards: David Rogers, 170, and Robert Garza, 175; center: Billy Jolly, 160; quarterback: Martin Warren, 155; running backs: Robert Montemayor, 150, and Reggie Stark, 145, and wingback: Ladd Roberts, 150.

Coach Hahn says the Antelopes are in good physical condition for Friday night's conference opener. "And we're looking for a hard game," he added.

Antelopes grind past Stanton Buffs, 16-6

Holding their opponents to a total of 114 yards — 30 on the ground and 84 through the air — the Post Antelopes downed the Stanton Buffaloes here Friday night in their final non-district encounter of the season.

All the scoring came in the first half, with Randy Hudman's fourth field goal of the season putting Post out in front, 3-0, more than 10 minutes deep into the first quarter.

The Antelopes boosted their lead to 10-0 early in the second stanza on a one-yard line plunge by George Torres, with Hudman booting the extra point.

Three minutes later, the Buffaloes lit up the scoreboard when state mile champion Steve Stallings took Glen Ray's pass over the outstretched hands of defender Neff Walker and sailed for a TD, with the scoring play covering 73 yards. Karl Bruce Hall scored the touchdown on a 21-yard pass from quarterback Ray Altman to Walker.

Recovery of a Stanton fumble on the Post 47 led to the locals' first six-point drive, with Walker, Torres, Hall and Altman getting to the one-yard line on short ground gains that required 11 plays, with Torres finally boring through the line for the TD.

The Buffaloes' touchdown pass came on their first play from scrimmage after Altman's punt was returned seven yards to the Stanton 27, with Ray leading Stallings perfectly on the scoring heave.

The third quarter was purely defensive, but early in the fourth Stanton drove from their 25 to the Post 25, where on a second down play Dennis Dodson nailed Ray for a 12-yard loss and two incomplete passes gave Post the ball on its 37.

Neither team threatened seriously the rest of the way, although Post was stopped twice by major penalties on promising drives.

The Antelope defense played one of its better games of the season, recovering two Stanton fumbles, and with Robert Bullock and Walker each intercepting a Buffalo pass.

Halfback Larry Bilberry ripped off Post's longest ground gain of the night in the final period when he tore through the line for 24 yards from his 24 to the 48.

7th grade wins, 8th ties in O'Donnell games

The Post 7th grade football team won its first game of the season, 6-0, at O'Donnell Tuesday evening, with the Post and O'Donnell 8th grade teams battling to a 28-28 draw in the nightcap of the double bill.

The only touchdown in the 7th grade game came in the second quarter when Post's Grayling Johnson went over on a six-yard dive play.

Coach Waco Reynolds reports that the 7th grade team showed the ball well on offense and showed up better on defense than in its previous games. Randy Josey, Joe Moore, Bob Craig and Timothy Owen played especially well on defense, the coach said.

Post drew first blood in the 8th grade game on a pass from John Redman to Ricky Shepherd, with Arthur Torres running over the extra points. Torres suffered a severe shoulder injury a few plays later and was immediately brought to the Garza Memorial Hospital.

Post teams and Frenship split

Post split an exciting football doubleheader with Frenship at Antelope Stadium last Thursday night with the Antelope freshmen holding on for a 22-20 verdict in the opener and the Black and Gold "B" team dropping a 15-14 decision when its "last chance" drive ended in an injury to their running ace and a fumble with less than 100 seconds to play.

In the freshman victory, guard Martin Morales came up with the play that made the difference in the second minute of the game.

Morales broke through to block a Frenship punt on the visitors' 25-yard line then picked up the bouncing ball and raced it for the score with an escort of four 'Lope blockers. Tol Thomas swept left end for the conversion points and Post held an 8-0 lead.

THE POST freshmen made it 14-0 on the first play of the second quarter when Robert Mindieta capped a 52-yard drive by sweeping right end from the one-foot line. Thomas failed on the conversion point run.

Frenship bounced back with a 67-yard ground march to make it 14-6. Post got its final touchdown on the next possession when Mindieta broke 45 yards up the middle for his second touchdown, then ran right end for the conversion points.

That made it 22-6. But Frenship came back on a 65-yard scoring drive to close the gap to 22-14 at the intermission.

The second half was mostly a defensive struggle with Frenship gearing up for its third and final touchdown drive, but its try for the tying conversion points failed.

The Post freshmen were out-first downed, 15 to 9. They completed one of three passes for 12 yards, with Frenship hitting on six of eight for 67 yards, with one intercepted. The visitors lost one of two fumbles.

COACH BUD Davis named Junior Stelzer, Mindieta, Roger Pace, Ricky King and Abie Perez as outstanding on offense, and Morales, Stelzer, Pace, Randy Kennedy and Jerry Smith on defense.

In the "B" team game, Post scored first after Jimmy Bertram covered a Frenship fumble at the visitors' 25-yard line on the third play after the kickoff.

Scotty Hoyle zipped 12 yards on an end-around for a first down on the five, from where Ricky Hair slashed over for the touchdown. Hair swept right end for the extras to make it 8-0.

Frenship tied the score on a 65-yard drive and added the conversion points on a look-in pass to make it 8-8.

Post got fumbleitis in the second quarter and twice handed the ball to the Tigers, once on the visitors' 45 and again on their 34. Coach Kenneth Poole's club stopped Frenship both times, with the Tigers missing a field goal effort from the five after the second fumble.

HAIR BROKE away on a 55- yard run to the Frenship 21 late in the period, but the visitors held for downs.

Frenship got its second touchdown in the second period on another quick look-in pass, with the receiver going 30 yards for the score. The conversion kick, which later proved to be the winning margin, split the uprights.

The only score of the second half came when Hair raced 80 yards and the second touchdown to give him all 14 of Post's points. The locals went for the two-pointer in an effort to win and failed.

Late in the final period, Post held Frenship on the locals' 10 and with three minutes on the clock mounted a drive that carried to midfield before Hair was injured on an end sweep and had to come out. He had gained 176 of Post's 253 yards net rushing.

By MRS. BARNIE JONES

Sure enjoyed Mrs. Cornish's column last week about taxes. Don't know if the "sin" tax she speaks of bothers me but I do feel like I have committed a grave sin by the time I get through griping myself about all the taxes we pay that come due once a year. I was sponsor at a District 4-H camp in Lubbock in 1952 and Roy Bass was a speaker. He told the girls that we would be real proud to pay our taxes each year as the people in China were paying their 1962 taxes then—just 10 years in advance. One of our freedoms in America is freedom to GRIPE but may the Lord forgive us for this we are willing to do something to improve our wonderful nation. After all, where else would we want to live instead of America?

Mrs. Mary Craig has been staying this week with the children of Play and Robert Craig while they are fishing in the Gulf of Mexico with Onetta and Clarence Gunn. The Gunn children stayed with their grandparents, the Barnie Joneses.

The Rev. R. E. Bratton visited to Snyder several days last week with relatives.

Tahoka rites for Charlie A. Young

Funeral services for Charlie Andrew Young, 75, of Post, were held Friday in the First United Methodist Church, Tahoka, with the Rev. Max Browning of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Pampa, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Hugh Daniel, pastor of the Tahoka church, and the Rev. Luther Baker of Lefors.

Mr. Young died at 3:12 a. m. Wednesday, Oct. 8, in the Morton Hospital of the Wadly Research Institute in Dallas after a long illness.

He was born Jan. 13, 1894, in Quitman, Ark., and was united in marriage with Miss Lillian Richards on Dec. 22, 1915, in Denton. They moved to Lynn County in 1921, settling in the Gordon community and later moving in 1934 to the New Lynn community, where they bought farming interests. After retirement, they moved to Post in 1959.

Mr. Young was a member of the United Methodist Church.

Survivors include a son, L. E. Young of Tahoka; three daughters, Mrs. Sue Baker of Slaton, Mrs. Juanita Kindrick of Bryan and Mrs. Charlotte Stice of Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. Martin Thomas, Little Rock, Ark.; ten grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by a son, Richard Randolph.

Burial was in the Tahoka Cemetery under the direction of White Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were James Kennedy, Charlie Lee, Jess Compton, O. D. Orr, Eldon Roberts, Loy Huff,
