Post Motorcycle Rodeo to be held here on Nov. 11

Cecil Foster Jr. heads cycle club

The Post Cycle Club was formally organized in the district courtroom here Tuesday night when some 40 local riders turned out to vote to sponsor the first annual Post Motorcycle Rodeo in the Post Stampede arena Saturday night, Nov. 11.

Cecil Foster Jr. was elected president of the new organization. Other officers named were Stanley Butler, vice president; A. J. McAlister, treasurer; Earl Chapman, secretary; Mrs. Geraldine Butler, recorder; Bobby Dean and Tim Pettijohn, sergeants-at-arms. Club directors selected are Joan Piercey, Paul Butler, Bobby Terry, Shirley Storie, and Ron Thompson.

The members voted not to set a membership limit and to accept riders of any age.

Details of the first Motorcycle Rodeo were worked out at this session so that advance publicity and entry blanks for the event can be gotten out in the same mailing this weekend with that of the Post Caprock Enduro, a rough country 100-mile racing event which is scheduled for the U. Lazy S Ranch south of Post Sunday, Nov. 12.

The Motorcycle Rodeo program will include five classes for six different events.

The events include a boot race, barrel race, flag race, key-hole race, hill jump and straight line. Classes will include 0-70 cc for 14-year-olds and under, 0-100 cc open, 101-200 cc open, 201-250 cc open, and 251-up cc open.

The numbers refer to the cubic centimeters on the engines of the cycles. Open means it is open to all comers, including women.

A powder puff barrel race — for women only, of course — also is planned.

In the boot race, each rider takes off one of his boots and all the boots are put in a pile. Each rider then rides from the starting line to the boot pile, dismounts, finds his own boot, hops back on his machine and then drives back across the starting line. The one with the fastest time is the winner.

The barrel and flag races are similar to regular horse rodeo events.

The key hole race course is laid out to resemble a key hole. Each rider is timed with his turn having to be made inside the small key circle.

The hill jump involves riders jumping their machines off of a dirt mound with the machine leaping the farthest being declared the winner.

First and second place trophies will be awarded in each event. There must be six entries in the class for a trophy to be given. Each event will close after 25 entries.

Entry fees are $2 if made in advance by Nov. 7 and $3 for later entries.

Gate admission for spectators will be $1 for adults with children admitted free. The rodeo is scheduled for a 6:30 start because it will be a long and exciting night.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be used by the club to obtain a handy club driving area for use by the members.

IN MUDDY ROAD EMERGENCY

Extra school bus put on; state help asked

A 15-mile stretch of dirt road, made impassable by August downpours, has created a bus route emergency northeast of Post which Tuesday brought fast action from Post Independent School trustees.

Trustees voted to add a second bus to the route the Texas Education Agency ordered combined this fall and to urgently request the county board of education to request the TEA either authorize division of the combined route or a duplicate route.

In former years, the school district sent one bus up the Ralls road and a second up the Crosbyton road. But last June a state school agency representative came in and "ran the two routes" and determined that by traversing a 15-mile stretch of dirt road at the northern limits of the route, the two bus routes could be combined into one.

The state agency then ordered the two routes combined in a letter later in the summer to School Supt. Bill Shiver.

Since the state pays the cost of school bus transportation the Post school district has no jurisdiction in the matter whatsoever.

The state agency's contention was that the two routes were not long enough, nor contained enough students to exist as two separate routes.

That was the way matters stood when the fall term opened here last week.

But due to the heavy rains, the 15-mile stretch of dirt road was impassable for a school bus, and that necessitated the school sending the bus up and back on each of the Ralls and Crosbyton roads — a real time-waster.

That immediately brought in a petition from irate parents to the school district.

Checking the state law, Shiver found that the Garza County Board of Education has the only local jurisdiction in the matter and must take the action necessary to bring further consideration of the problem by the state educational agency.

At the Tuesday meeting, trustees surveyed the bus route problem, found that new students moving onto the combined route since last June added five students and five to eight miles to the route distance.

They are hopeful that this information, passed along by the county school board to the TEA, will bring reconsideration of the combined route.

There also is a clause in the state school bus law which provides for duplicate bus routes only on authorization of the state commissioner of education. This leaves two corrective avenues open — but only at the state level.

Post school trustees voted: (1) to ask the county school board to seek reconsideration by the state either to divide the route again or authorize duplicate services, and (2) to place two buses on the route beginning yesterday morning until final determination is made by the state.

'SUNSHINE ADS' URGED

Weekend rains push total moisture over 25 inches

Two heavy weekend showers have gotten September off to a damp start and upped Post's official moisture total for 1972 to 25.40 inches.

Post received 1.65 inches of unwanted moisture in the Friday and Monday morning showers.

Some places in the county, generally in the western half, got even more moisture in already muddy fields, Robert Mock reported four inches total for the weekend at his place.

County Agent Syd Conner said the weekend fall "didn't help us." He added, "What we need in sunshine and lots of it." He suggested the bank should advertise again for the mainline.

The main trouble with all the wet weather, said Conner, is that it is slowing down the maturing of the cotton.

But he didn't see it as critical — yet.

Funeral services for B. J. Boren, 42, who died last Saturday in the Medical Arts Hospital in Lamesa following a lengthy illness, were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the First Presbyterian Church in Lamesa with the Rev. Walter Horn, pastor, officiating.

His wife, Mildred, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boren of Post.

Boren was born in Amarillo on April 21, 1930, and grew up in Scurry County. After graduating from Snyder High School and Texas Tech in 1952, he and Mildred Boren were married March 7, 1953. He served two years in the Army, during which time he was stationed in Korea.

Survivors other than his wife are three children, Mary, David and Jane, all of the home; his mother, Mrs. Eddythe Boren of Snyder; his father, Billy Boren of Clovis, N. M., and a sister, Mrs. Sue Green of Arlington, Tex.

Boren and his family had been residents of Lamesa for 14 years. Burial was in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Brunson Funeral Home.

Oregon resident's funeral held here

Funeral services for Mrs. Rachel Edna Nugent, 70, of Pendleton, Ore., who died Wednesday night of last week in West Texas Hospital, Lubbock, were held at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Hudman Funeral Chapel.

Mrs. Nugent had been in the hospital since days, being taken there after suddenly becoming ill the day she arrived in Post with her husband, C. L. Nugent, for a visit with their daughter, Phyllis McWhorter of 415 North Ave. O.

Besides the daughter of Post, Mrs. Nugent is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Norma Fern Gayette of Ottumwa, Ia.; four sisters, five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Robert Ford, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of the Hudman Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were George Childers, Lamar Jones, Royce Jolley, R. M. Dodson, G. H. Clanton and Jimmy Applewhite.

FOR BENEFITS, SEPT. 30

Signup begins to host ranch boys

Who wants to keep one or more boys from the West Texas Boys Ranch here Saturday night, Sept. 30, during the O. S. Ranch Benefit Steer Roping and Art Exhibit?

Present plans call for 24 boys to come in Saturday morning for the two-day event.

At last year's steer roping more families asked for boys than there were boys to go around.

Those who would like to keep boys in their homes are asked to call the Post Chamber of Commerce office, 3461, during regular office hours.

If you miss Mrs. Wyanne Kennedy, Chamber secretary, you can call Mrs. Betty Posey, 2951, to get your name on the host list.

Be sure to tell the number of boys you want.

Mrs. Kennedy reports she already has "four reservations."

Film on highways shown historians

Ten members of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee were guests of the Post Rotary Club at Tuesday's luncheon to see the film, "Beautiful Texas" shown by Julian F. Smith, resident engineer in Post for the Texas Highway Department.

Seven other members of the GCHSC who are also Rotarians attended the luncheon.

The film showed the growth of the Texas highway system from its earliest days and many of the highway beautification highlights of recent years.

In the absence of Gwen Boren, GCHSC chairman, Mrs. Winnie Tuffing thanked the Rotarians for their invitation to attend the lunch and the opportunity to see the new color film.

Committee members attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker, Frank A. Runkles, Mattie Belle Fluitt, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Nita Burress, Preston Poole, Maxine Marks, Yada McCampbell and Winnie Tuffing. Rotarians present who also are members of the historical survey committee were J. B. Potts, Harold Lucas, Julian F. Smith, Giles C. McCrary, Jim Cornish, Dean Robinson and Vic Slater.

The Rev. Robert Griffin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason funeral Home. Pallbearers were James Layland and J. R. Burns, both of Lubbock; L. P. "Sleepy" Brown, Jr. of Jayton and Bryan J. Williams, Giles W. Dalby and Everette Windham, all of Post.

Funeral services for Mrs. Velma May "Sis" Wall, 54, of Lubbock, who died at 2:20 p. m. last Friday in St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock, were held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Mason Funeral Chapel here.

Mrs. Wall, who lived in Post for 12 years before moving to Lubbock 25 years ago, died after an extended illness. She had been a patient in the hospital for 18 days.

Born Oct. 4, 1917, at Emory, Tex., she was married to L. D. Wall on Jan. 10, 1937, at Rockwell. She had been a member of the Baptist church for 35 years.

Survivors include her husband of the home; one son, Jackie Leon Wall, also of Lubbock; one brother, V. M. Rylant of Dallas; one sister, Mrs. Lorene Foster, also of Dallas; and a step-brother, J. D. Windham of Post.

The club is seeking a handy close-in "driving area" and funds raised from the rodeo probably will go for that.

AND GORGE ON ICE CREAM

'Meet the Antelopes' tonight at stadium

Ronald Simpson, president of the Antelope Booster Club, said today the club is hoping for a record turnout of Post football fans at the "Meet the Antelopes" night at 6:30 this evening in Antelope Stadium.

"Combined with the big pep rally planned for the same time, we believe a good turnout of fans tonight will do as much as anything else toward getting the 'Lopes off to a winning start at Lockney Friday night," the booster club president said.

Football players from the 7th grade through the varsity will be introduced to the fans by their respective coaches.

As an added attraction, "all the homemade ice cream you can eat" is being offered for 50 cents. "Everyone is invited out for the 'Meet the Antelopes' night, especially the parents of the football players," Simpson said.

Planning begun for fund drive

A start was made Tuesday afternoon on the reorganization of the Garza County United Fund organization for the upcoming 1973 campaign.

At a preliminary meeting of the directors in the community room nominations were made for four new directors to be elected to the board for three-year terms.

The Rev. Bob Ford, vice president of the fund, was given the go-ahead to form his budget committee and conduct the budget meeting with representatives of participating fund agencies.

Lou Marks, fund treasurer, reported that the United Fund has completed $9,200 in 100 per cent payments to all participating agencies for 1972, spent $236.69 on last fall's campaign and has a $205.20 bank balance.

A total of $9,641.89 was collected from the 1972 drive, he reported, slightly over the $9,500 goal with $207 remaining in pledges still outstanding.

Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick, fund president, said directors will meet again to elect the four new directors and to hear the report of the budget committee within the next two or three weeks.

The 1973 drive plans will be made at that meeting and a drive chairman named. The campaign is slated for late October and November.

Funeral held for former resident

Funeral services for Mrs. Velma May "Sis" Wall, 54, of Lubbock, who died at 2:20 p. m. last Friday in St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock, were held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Mason Funeral Chapel here.

Mrs. Wall, who lived in Post for 12 years before moving to Lubbock 25 years ago, died after an extended illness. She had been a patient in the hospital for 18 days.

Born Oct. 4, 1917, at Emory, Tex., she was married to L. D. Wall on Jan. 10, 1937, at Rockwell. She had been a member of the Baptist church for 35 years.

Survivors include her husband of the home; one son, Jackie Leon Wall, also of Lubbock; one brother, V. M. Rylant of Dallas; one sister, Mrs. Lorene Foster, also of Dallas; and a step-brother, J. D. Windham of Post.

The Rev. Robert Griffin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason funeral Home. Pallbearers were James Layland and J. R. Burns, both of Lubbock; L. P. "Sleepy" Brown, Jr. of Jayton and Bryan J. Williams, Giles W. Dalby and Everette Windham, all of Post.

The club is seeking a handy close-in "driving area" and funds raised from the rodeo probably will go for that.

Something new has been added to the weekly offerings of The Post Dispatch—and we might add, a very readable addition too.

It's a new women's column over on The Dispatch's society page.

The writer is Rosemary Chapman, a pert redhead who usually has a headful of unusual ideas about almost everything.

Right now she's submerged in a search for a suitable game for her column. After reading her initial offering today, call your "inspiration" directly to her.

We like to keep The Dispatch as bright and readable as possible and we think Rosemary will contribute materially to that on both counts.

It's a brand new football season the Post Antelopes will be opening tomorrow night at Lockney. We hope everybody from our town will be there but "Mr. Rainmaker" whoever that sonofagun is!

Post's first annual Motorcycle Rodeo now is on tap for Saturday night, Nov. 11. So you see a lot can happen in a week around here when the wheels start turning. It will be held at the Post Stampede rodeo arena and they have a bunch of unusual events you'll want to see, including the "straightline race."

This one you non-wheel spinners won't believe (how's that for a double negative?) The straightline race is run between two chalked lines 18 inches apart. The winner is the one who crosses the finish line in the slowest time without putting a foot to the ground or hitting either white line with his machine. Buy a motorcycle and try that one yourself sometime.

The breakdown included 654 adult books and 387 juvenile books as the summer reading program was completed.

A total of 83 new books were added to library shelves during the month, bringing acquisitions for the year to 752 and shooting the library over its initial goal of 10,000 books in its collection.

A total of $44.55 in miscellaneous income was received during the month, most of it being $32.50 in donations, bringing miscellaneous income for 1972 to $203.78.

The club is seeking a handy close-in "driving area" and funds raised from the rodeo probably will go for that.

SOME ART ON THE ART EXHIBIT

School enrollment is still 4 short of 1,200

Enrollment in the Post Public School had increased this week to 1,196, but was still short of the 1,200 enrollment which had been predicted.

Today's enrollment count was 1,175 as compared with 1,179 the second day of school last week.

Two grades showed a decrease this week. The two leading students were the ones which dropped from 107 to 105 the fifth, which fell from 107 to 105.

Up the most students over the week's count were the two leading students, each of which increased five students.

Enrollment by grade as compared with last week is as follows, with last week's enrollment in parentheses:

Kindergarten, 27 (24); first grade, 73 (72); second grade, 94 (93); third grade, 104 (107); fourth grade, 105 (100); fifth grade, 93 (95); sixth grade, 120 (115); seventh grade, 112 (111); eighth, 104 (102); ninth, 114 (112); tenth, 107 (103); eleventh, 82 (81); twelfth, 61 (60).

August was another month in which over a thousand books were checked out of the Post Public Library. Pee Wee Pierce, librarian, reports in her monthly library report.

A total of 1,041 books were checked out bringing the total for the first eight months of 1972 to 7,233 — well on the way to a new annual record.

The breakdown included 654 adult books and 387 juvenile books as the summer reading program was completed.

Women's 'equal rights' a hoax

As far as this newspaper has been able to learn, there has as yet been no campaigning here for the misnamed Equal Rights Amendment, which some have gone so far as to refer to as "one of the greatest frauds in American history—perhaps the greatest hoax ever perpetrated upon our people."

We've been reading and hearing about Women's Liberation for two or three years now, and it's what spawned the Equal Rights Amendment.

This proposed constitutional amendment would take away a great number of women's most cherished rights under the guise of prohibiting sex discrimination. It reads simply: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex." Sounds all right, doesn't it? That is, at first glance.

But here are a few of the results that would come from adoption of the amendment:

Women would become equally subject to military draft with men.

Laws protecting women against sex crimes would be wiped out.

The father would no longer be obliged to support his wife and children. All states make husbands primarily responsible for such support. Under the proposed ERA this would be discriminatory against males, hence wives would be equally obliged to support their husbands as well as the children.

Under the ERA women would be subject to military conscription and even to combat duty. Since the military would be prohibited from discriminating because of sex, one can readily imagine female soldiers not only having to share barracks with male troops, completely stripped of privacy, but also being compelled to share the same foxhole with men.

Building site big library step

Generally speaking, things have "looked up" for the Post Public Library ever since its establishment some six years ago. That can be chalked up, of course, to the dedicated efforts of those who were most instrumental in its establishment and to those (most of them the same persons) who have worked so hard to keep it going and make it one of the best small town libraries in Texas.

Things really "looked up" for the library last week, however, when the four children of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. (Mitchell) Malouf gave the business lot between City Hall and the Tower Theatre to the City of Post for the expansion of the library.

The 20-foot front lot, valued at $2,500, has been hailed as "a major contribution to the library's memorial building fund."

According to the library board, the library's final expansion will be made by

Does this sound too fantastic to be true? Think it over. According to the Yale Law Journal, these are precisely some of the conditions women could expect to endure if their "equal rights" were guaranteed under the proposed constitutional amendment.

We will mention one more point out of the many that could be cited to illustrate the evil effects of this amendment. The following is from testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee:

"Senator Ervin: The law . . . which requires separate restrooms in public schools would be nullified, would it not?"

"Professor Kurland (editor of the Supreme Court Review): That is right, unless the separate but equal doctrine is revised."

One wonders what kind of women some of the leaders of "Women's Liberation" are that they would attempt such a fraud on their sisters under the guise of giving them "equal rights." One wonders also what forces are behind Women's Lib.

But one does not have to wonder whether women as a whole favor the amendment. Months before Congress inexplicably submitted it to the states, the only poll taken on the subject showed that 77 per cent of women disagreed that "women should have equal treatment regarding the draft" and that 83 per cent disagree that "a wife should be the bread-winner if a better wage earner than the husband."

Still, Congress submitted this monstrosity to the states for their ratification or rejection and a few state ratified it within 24 hours. At latest count we have seen 13 states have ratified this fraud and four have rejected it.

There is hope that the required three-fourths of the states will not ratify before Americans become fully acquainted with the dangerous hoax.

building on the lot to double the size of the library and provide a balancing east wing to the City Hall building.

The final expansion will enable the library to eventually expand to a 20,000-book collection as compared with its present 10,000 volumes.

The Malouf family merits the gratitude of the entire community and county for their gift of the building site. It will enable trustees to build the entire addition to the library without the expenditure of a single tax dollar—which has been their intention from the start.

The library board reports that $8,000 has been accumulated in the last two years in the library's memorial building fund. It is hoped the addition can be constructed for $12,500 to $15,000, and that its construction can be started sometime during the last half of 1973.

What our contemporaries are saying

If these escalating attacks against American business continue to succeed, the attackers will succeed in putting America out of business. Is that what they want? Is that what we want?—Altoona, Pa., Mirror.

One-way tickets home are being given to willing welfare recipients from out of state by Connecticut. Although costly, state authorities report it's cheaper than paying out welfare. For example, in three months last year 572 individuals were sent home at a cost of $28,000. If these same people had stayed in Connecticut it would have cost the state $532,000 a year to support them. — Birmingham, Ala., Action in Alabama.

One thing we do advocate heartily is that every adult citizen of the United States become informed of the issues at stake in the forthcoming election before voting. Never before have Americans faced so many clouded issues which will affect our lives the next four years and, perhaps, the next century. It's your future . . . and mine. Let's not blow it!—Benson, Ariz., News-Sun.

NO. 2 CHRISTIANITY AND POLITICS

Was Jesus a revolutionary or not? Will the real Jesus please stand up?

Jesus did not expect too much in the way of institutional reform. He offered no blueprint for a perfect society but a perfect man. Rather than attack society He turned to individuals demanding radical change. He wanted not a power structure. The message He preached upset politicians. The gospel is not politics but politics is in the gospel. Christianity strikes a hard bargain with the world. Jesus and Christianity will always be a threat to any establishment. Jesus not only died religiously but politically.

Jesus had a great chance to turn political—the Devil asked it—the people demanded it. But Jesus kept politics at arm's length—it was too superficial. Political revolution is only surface revolution. It does not reach down into the depths of human instincts and experiences. Political revolutions usually just exchange one gang of criminals for another. When the "blind lead the blind" they both fail.

Why be political? In the Old Testament the Northern Kingdom never had one good king! Judah to the South 2-3! Christian politicians may do some temporary good but they are not the answer.

Jesus demands radical change—conversion—death to sin. He demands unconditional surrender to love. He changes the hearts, lives, and destinies of men.

AS HARD AS it is to believe, it's reached the point where rain isn't news anymore. Like when a dog bites a man, that isn't news, but when a man bites a dog, it is. It has reached the point here where the only time rain is going to make news is when it stops.

Even so, with all this underground moisture we're getting now, we'll more than likely be wishing next Spring that we had some of this August and September rain. The rain just doesn't spread out right in this country.

THE MAN UP THE street says now and then one picks up a magazine on the stands that makes one curious to see the stuff the editor rejected.

During last Friday night's scrimmage with Spur, the traditional dog put in his appearance on the field. This one, however, a big brown one, was walking leisurely down the field just inside the west sideline, instead of ripping and romping all over the gridiron as most dogs do when they come to football games. When someone in the press box commented that the dog wasn't showing much interest in what was going on, the fellow sitting next to him said, "Maybe he knows it's only a scrimmage."

AND, ALONG late in the scrimmage, a 10-year old girl (I'd have to leave town if I told you her name) came up to the press box and asked, rather wearily, "Is this the fourth half?"

Someone says they saw a bumper sticker at the baseball park in Arlington the other night that read, "Vote for Nixon—He Kept Us Out of Northern Ireland."

AN AREA PUBLISHER says he was crossing the street recently when he was nearly run down by a lady who ran a red light.

She was driving a station wagon which was loaded down with nine kids. She stopped at the last possible second.

He shouted, "Lady, don't you know when to stop?" She yelled right back at him, "They're not all mine!"

Well, in a way, I'm glad the world's chess championship between Fischer and Spassky is over. I got tired of looking at the diagram they ran in the daily newspapers every day while the match was under way, and I got tired of reading about Fischer's temper tantrums. I'm glad he won, of course, because he was representing this country, but at times he acted more like a spoiled brat than a world champion chess player.

I LEARNED the game of chess several years ago, but I never learned to play it well enough to have much fun at it. I was always getting beat. I was by chess like I was by snooker and golf. I learned to play those games, too, but I never made any effort to improve on either. Of the three — chess, snooker and golf—I was just a little bit better at snooker than I was at the other two, and I always figure it was because I played snooker more than I did chess or golf.

I don't play many games of any sort, table or otherwise. Actually, though, my favorite game is battle—played with two decks of cards.

SPRAY WITH CARE

In fact, I had two or three quite interesting games of battle with three of my grandchildren over the weekend.

THE MAIN REASON I like battle is that it doesn't require much thinking. If you know how the cards rank—you know, from ace on down to deuce—that's really all you need to know. Of course, you're supposed to know when it's your turn to play, but that isn't too hard to remember, if you pay attention.

In battle, each player lays down a card and the one laying down the highest card wins, and gets to rake the cards over to his side of the table. If two or more players each lay down a card of the same rank, that's a draw, and they "battle" it out by laying down another card. That's the simple way and the way I always played it, but this time my grandchildren said a new and better way is for the two or more who tied to lay down three cards, face down, then one face up, and the highest face up card wins it all.

WELL, THAT made it a little more complicated than I wanted it, so I stopped playing battle and went back to watching the Olympic Games and the TV commer-icals.

It's also getting to a point where you don't know what some fresh kid is going to pull on you in the way of a new toy. Not long ago, one showed me a new gadget called "clackers." The clacker consists of two one-inch round plastic balls suspended on 12-inch cords.

THE KIDS HAVE found that the two balls can be set to bouncing against one another in everwidening arcs, until each has swung 180 degrees to come into contact again. At the time of each contact, there is a loud "clack," hence the name, clackers.

The kids told me if you don't know how to manipulate your clackers, you're just not with it, today.

Lockney's Longhorns

AT LOCKNEY

Friday Night, Sept. 8

It's a brand new season Coach Bobby Davis and his Antelopes will open on the road at Lockney Friday night with hopes for a much improved season over the rebuilding year of 1971. The 'Lopes have looked much sharper in their two scrimmages and with more experience at almost every position figure to give anybody and everybody a good ball game this fall.

That includes Lockney's Longhorns tomorrow night. The Horns have both speed and experience and figure to be a District 4AA contender this year although nobody figures they can dislodge the Floydada Whirlwinds for the title. It shapes up as a slambang opener.

TOOTH OR CONSEQUENCES. IS THERE ANY DANGER TO YOUR TEETH FROM CLEANERS THAT MIGHT BE TOO AGGRESSIVE? A NEW SURFACE-FINISH MICROSCOPE GETS TO THE ROOT OF THIS PROBLEM BY COMPARING THE SURFACES OF TEETH BEFORE AND AFTER TOOTH PASTE HAS BEEN APPLIED. THE NEW TECHNIQUE ALSO PROVIDES A MEANS OF ACTUALLY MEASURING THE SURFACE OF MATERIAL RANGING FROM METALS TO TEXTILES.

VELOCITY AND ENVIRONMENT. THE SAME PORTABLE MICROSCOPE WHICH CAN HELP VETERINARIANS MAKE ON THE SPOT DETERMINATIONS OF THE VIRILITY OF THE SPERM OF A PRIZE BULL CAN ALSO BE USED ON THE SPOT TO ANALYZE THE PURITY OF OUR WATER SUPPLY. IT'S A MINATURIZED PROFESSIONAL MICROSCOPE NO BIGGER THAN A 35 MM CAMERA THAT WEIGHS LESS THAN TWO POUNDS. IT PROVIDES SCIENTISTS WITH ALL THE BENEFITS OF GENERAL MICROSCOPY AWAY FROM THE LABORATORY.

SNAP JUDGEMENTS. TAKING PHOTOMICROSCOPIC SPECIMENS HAS BEEN SIMPLIFIED WITH A NEW COMPUTERIZED PHOTOMICROGRAPH SYSTEM. LABORATORY PERSONNEL WITH NO SPECIAL PHOTOGRAPHIC TRAINING CAN NOW PRODUCE PERFECT PHOTOMICROGRAPHS. LIFE INSURANCE IS A PEOPLE BUSINESS. IT TOUCHES AND HELPS MORE LIVES THAN PERHAPS ANY OTHER PRODUCT KNOWN TO MAN. IT (A) PAYS UP BILLS; (B) PROVIDES REGULAR INCOME TO FAMILIES THAT WOULD BE HELPLESS WITHOUT IT; (C) GIVES FAMILIES A HOME FREE AND CLEAR IF THE PERSON PAYING THE MORTGAGE IS TAKEN OUT OF THE PICTURE; (D) EDUCATES PATRIOTIC CHILDREN;

(E) PROVIDES YOUNG PEOPLE WITH A SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY AND OLD PEOPLE WITH A SENSE OF SECURITY AND PEACE OF MIND; AND (F) THROUGH ITS POLICY RESERVES, CREATES A STEADY FLOW OF INVESTMENT CAPITAL WHICH MAKES INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION POSSIBLE.

FOR THESE REASONS, MOST AMERICAN FAMILIES CAREY LIFE INSURANCE. RECENT STUDIES SHOW THAT SEVEN OUT OF TEN FAMILIES OWN IT. BUT, FEW FAMILIES CAN AFFORD TO BUY ALL THE PROTECTION THEY NEED. IMMEDIATELY, IT'S NECESSARY TO ESTABLISH FIRST, WHAT THE FAMILY'S MOST PRESSING NEEDS ARE, AND SECOND, THE KINDS OF LIFE INSURANCE THAT WILL MEET THOSE NEEDS WITHIN THE FAMILY BUDGET.

METROPOLITAN LIFE OFFERS, THROUGH ITS LOCAL SALES REPRESENTATIVES, A FREE SERVICE, WITHOUT OBLIGATION, THAT PROVIDES AN EVALUATION OF YOUR FAMILY'S NEEDS AND ASSETS TO HELP YOU PLAN FOR FUTURE GOALS AND RESPONSIBILITIES.

THE SERVICE IS CALLED "YOU AND YOUR FAMILY" AND YOU CAN ARRANGE FOR IT BY CONTACTING YOUR LOCAL METROPOLITAN OFFICE.

DEBT POOLING
Assume that you are a debtor who owes money on delinquent accounts to several different creditors who have been pressing you for prompt payment.

There are a number of possible solutions to clearing your credit record and seeing that your creditors are satisfied as they should be. However, the legal arrangement known as debt pooling or debt consolidation, about which my office gets frequent inquiries, should be used only under limited circumstances.

Debt pooling is defined by law as a contract between a debtor and any other person whereby the debtor deposits a specific sum of money with that person for distribution among the debtor's creditors.

Of course, the agreement usually includes the payment of a fee to the person doing the paying for his services rendered.

As a general rule, debt pooling is prohibited by Texas law. Those who unlawfully engage in this practice are guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500 for each violation.

But the law provides for numerous instances where debt consolidation is allowed.

For example, banks, savings and loan associations, trust companies, and credit unions doing business under federal and state law are allowed to contract with a debtor for debt pooling where it occurs in the normal course of business activity.

Also exempted from the prohibitions against debt pooling are retail merchants associations and non-profit trade associations created for the purpose of collecting debts and credit data, any attorney at law, any government agency or subdivision, any judicial officer acting under court order, and non-profit debt counseling agencies.

In essence, almost any organization except small loan companies and private individuals may engage in the practice of rendering debt pooling services.

Before entering into any contract or agreement to consolidate your debts or turn them over to another for payment, it is recommended that you consult your family attorney for advice as to whether the party contracted with may legally engage in such practice.

First Christian Church CWF holds first meeting of year

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church held the first meeting of the new club year Monday at 7 p.m. with a salad supper in the home of Mrs. Hub Haire, with Mrs. Nita Burress and Winnie Tuffing as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Bill Crain, president, conducted a brief business meeting, with Mrs. Sandra Alexander, study chairman, presenting the year's books.

Mrs. Nita Burress led the worship, using scriptures from John 1:1-5. An open Bible with lighted candles centered the worship table, symbol of Jesus, the light of the world.

Mrs. Edith Ramsay read the words of "Lord speak to me that I may speak."

The study course selected for the year is Inter-dependence, an Un-easy Alliance. Mrs. Lee Davis Sr., as program leader, gave the first chapter, "The Visible Community", that shows how the symbol of salt and light may guide us to a proper view of the role of the church in today's world.

Library LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER

Talk about milestones! In one issue of The Post Dispatch we not only learn that the library has acquired the 10,000 volumes needed to really be a library, we also discover that the Malouf family has donated the lot next door to the library in memory of Tommy Malouf to make library expansion possible. It was a double milestone last week.

You know what this means, of course. It means that by Christmas of 1973 we'll be looking at a complete library facility. Oh, it may be bare around the edges, needing some more shelves perhaps, or some equipment in the workroom. (Yes, there's got to be a workroom, with table space and cupboard space and shelf space and space space!) There may be lots of things we'll still need, but we'll have the room.

Some of you folks might not believe we are crowded. Well, I'll just invite you to come shelve books for us. Come down and squeeze and push and shove books along shelves to make room for one more. Take a peek behind the desk and see the scads of material stored there, or look in our one little closet that rivals Fibber McGee's famous catch-all.

When we say we're crowded, we are well this side of the line of exaggeration! We hope we'll last until the expansion is finished. We will do our best. But the reading public should be prepared for some minor inconveniences — like books shelved on top of book shelves at a height most people can't reach very comfortably. Or collections of books shelved in unfamiliar places because there's no room for them where they belong.

I, for one, was a happy reader when I saw the news about the library expansion. It's like sighting the goal post when up to now all we knew was that the race was there to be run. We're not at the end yet, and won't be for quite a while, but we can see it now and it makes the effort so much easier and rewarding.

What a "Thank You" I'd like to send to the Malouf family!

Edwards family hosted at party and shower first day of the New Year most popular time to make resolutions, but I find it easier to make mine on the first day of the year. This being the case, when I was walking out the door Aug. 31, I started making my list.

comes items such as "Ex-30 minutes every day", "at least once a week", "the library book list off on my first day of each month", "nice to people," etc. They are resolutions, and I usually keep for two or three days before.

fortunately, one of the items on my list says, "Write first column Post Dispatch Thursday, Sept. 7, and now here it is Thursday, Sept. 7, and I can't write a word because I haven't thought of one yet."

problem is I'm strongly oriented toward titles such as "The Knows," "Mark of Zorro," "The Phantom Strikes". Some of these just don't fit a column in Dispatch society page.

think of "For Whom the Bell Tolls". It has a nice ring to it. Mr. Hemingway has a name to it. Same with "War and Peace". Tolstoy got it. All the names are taken.

ought of translating Charlie's column title, "Thursday Today", into Spanish and that, but I figured that, sooner or later, he'd catch me. I'm in "Postings" I didn't even know to translate.

and my family for ideas. Kurt said "Yamaha News", a n d typical MCP (Male Chauvinist) that he is, came up "Earl's Wife, Rosemary".

ly suggested "The Chapman". I liked that until I realized that it was also the title of a smutty book of a few years back, and I spent the rest of the afternoon wondering where he'd picked it up.

my sister, Vicki Anderson of Carmel, Calif., heard that in trouble, she sent me a list of suggestions. I was thrilled to read them. A few samples: "Let Me Say This About and "Blabbermouth". I'll be the first person who says he's the first one.

Old Abilene Town is a tourist attraction

If you're planning on zinging east to west, or west to east, across Texas on Interstate 20, or if you're just milling around smartly between Fort Worth and Big Spring, or Wichita Falls and San Angelo, — and you don't stop by Old Abilene Town, you're missing a bet.

The town, on the Texas Forts Trail, is owned by one man — his gaze down main street, you can stop in Old Abilene Town, as you name's "Casey". And, when you almost hear the jingle of spurs and the hollow thud of boots on the old wheels and other sounds of yesterday. Somethin' about it will get you. It might be the good food at the Golden Stagecoach Restaurant, the reasonable prices, the antique cars, the silent movies, a shoot out or the prairie dogs.

The prairie dogs are a good example of what happens in Old Abilene Town. Casey thought it would be good to have prairie dogs for visitors to view, so he got some of the critters. They soon dug out of their compound, but they discovered they liked the place — so they stayed. Now, prairie dogs are seen scampering about, going from burrow to burrow, on Old Abilene's Main Street.

Like the prairie dogs, many a traveler has stopped by Old Abilene

Town for a quick stretch and ended up wanting to stay longer. The town, open 8 a.m. - 9 p.m., is located just off Interstate 20 on the east side of Abilene. To accommodate visitors who yearn to return for a longer stay, Casey's tickets, $1.25 for adults and 75 for children, are good for a whole year.

There's no admission for the Golden Stagecoach Restaurant, Coffee Shop or Last Chance Saloon. These places are, in a way, previews of Old Abilene Town.

In the Golden Stagecoach as you dine you can view silent movies, featuring such favorites as the Little Rascals, and listen to piano music or guitar pickin' and singing. In the Last Chance Saloon you can "belly up" to a beautiful old bar (that in its younger days in Gonzales, Texas stopped a bullet or two. The ohles are still there. Let our imagination wander on the subject of how they came to be.

The Old Abilene menu is hardy, not fancy, and prices are amazingly reasonable. A coffee shop breakfast of two eggs, a large piece of ham (none of the paper thin stuff either), with hash browns and toast for $1.10 or hotcakes and meat (ham, bacon or sausage) for 95c is in the "best buy" category.

The Coffee Shop opens at 7 a.m. The dining room hours are 11 a.m. 2 p.m. and 5-11 p.m. with an extra hour added on Friday and Saturday night.

Inside the gate at Old Abilene Town, visitors find a long main street with buildings on each side to explore. Among them are the general store, the bank, saloon, mystery house, antique car exhibit, Heritage Museum, and school house.

In the museum one can wander for hours. It houses an unclassified variety of memorabilia — antiques a batch, a crank organ (without the monkey), an old electric cigar lighter that still works, a huge French provincial piano that is said to have belonged to the mother of Billy the Kid, a vintage hide-away bathtub and other things that many have "never seen before".

Yes, if Abilene is along your route, a stop at Casey's town ought to be on the schedule, and, as the Texas Tourist Development Agency notes, Old Abilene Town is just one of the many interesting adventures awaiting travelers along the Texas Forts Trail.

PLAY IT AGAIN, FELLAS. When raccoon-hatted Henry gives the orders, nineteen bears jump. He's the emcee of the "Country Bear Jamboree" in Grizzly Hall, sponsored by Pepsi-Cola/Frito-Lay. Henry's troupe sings so many bluegrass favorites, some people jokingly call Grizzly Hall an annex of Nashville's famed Grand Ole Opry.

NEW YORK (ED) Whatever happened to the wild frontier? It's been tamed, alas — but as the West has grown up, its legends have grown larger. Every child (and civilization-bored adult) wishes he could talk with Davy Crockett, see an old saloon, cross the Rockies in a covered wagon.

Though we can't go back in time, we can do the next best thing — visit Walt Disney World in central Florida. One of the six theme "lands" in the Magic Kingdom is Frontierland — a recreation of the Old West as it was 100 years ago. Visitors can cross the Rivers of America aboard a steam-powered stern-wheeler, keel boat or log raft. For entertainment, there's down-home music in an old-style saloon. Grizzly Hall's "Country Bear Jamboree," sponsored by Pepsi-Cola/Frito-Lay, features 20 bluegrass singing bears. The guitar playing grizzlies are brought to life by a Disney technique combining sounds and movements in three-dimensional animated figures.

What else is happening at Walt Disney World? Everything — go see!

TUITION FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL

Squeezed for funds, a board of education decided to impose a tuition fee on all high school students. In short order, indignant parents went to court to complain. They pointed out that the state constitution called for a system of "free" public education.

In reply, the board argued that it was simply using its discretion to ease a tight financial situation. But the court decided that tuition was indeed unconstitutional.

"The right of children to attend public school," said the court, "is not dependent on the discretion of anyone."

With education costs climbing, there has been renewed interest in the idea of charging fees of one kind or another to public school students. But tuition, at least, has usually been ruled out because of the requirement that education should be free.

Lesser fees, too, have been rejected by the courts more often than not. In another case, a school board tried to charge pupils for their textbooks. The board's theory was that "free" education referred merely to the school building and the teachers — not to "extras."

However, the court held this fee unconstitutional also, saying that books are an integral part of the educational process. The judge commented:

"No education of any value is possible without school books." Nevertheless, another school board did succeed in collecting a textbook deposit from its students. This time, the plan had two features that made it more palatable:

- 1) the deposit was waived for any student who could not pay it; and
- 2) the deposit was refunded at the end of the semester, if the books were returned in reasonably good condition.

A court decided that this kind of a fee was too minor a burden on the educational process to be objectionable. All it amounted to, said the court, was a practical method of encouraging students to take good care of their books.

Pioneer Natural Gas Company's earnings up over previous year

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Pioneer Natural Gas Company's earnings for 1972 are estimated between $1.25 and $1.30 per share, according to a prediction made today by Burton P. Smith, company president, speaking before a group of New Security analysts. Smith reviewed the earnings of the company for this year, which have increased 11.4 per cent over 1971 and outlined plans for new and increased sales which will amount to $17 million on an annual basis. Four executives of Pioneer appeared before the New York analysts. In addition to Smith, the company was represented by K. B. Watson, executive vice president and director, A. F. Cox, executive vice president and director, and president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company's subsidiary, Pioneer Nuclear, Inc., and E. S. Morris, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company's producing subsidiary, Amarillo Oil Company.

Watson explained that Pioneer's gas reserves are excellent with the company's reserve life index exceeding 15 years at this time. He stated that the company continues to aggressively seek new gas supplies in the area of, and adjacent to, Pioneer's service area and reviewed new purchases made this year.

Watson discussed gas rates in effect for the company and pointed out that in 1970 Pioneer began expanding the inclusion of a "cost of gas adjustment" in its rates. Watson continued, "These 100 per cent cost of gas adjustment provisions are extremely important in this period of rapidly increasing field prices for gas."

As It Looks From Here

By CONG. OMAR BURLESON
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Some-thing called "social services," administered by the various states and subsidized by $3 to $1 in federal funds, is another program out of control, proving "wasteful and ineffective," according to reports.

The provision allowing wasteful and in most instances unproductive expenditures is a part of the Health Education and Welfare Appropriation bill of 1967. This section of a 237-page bill provides that the federal government will match 3 to 1 money spent by the states for such things as helping people adjust when they go off welfare and on instruction as to how to stay off welfare. In fact, funds can be used to inform people how to get on welfare.

The entire section is vague and subject to many interpretations, depending on state employes to make decisions. The federal money is "open-ended" which means the federal government must pay $3 for every $1 spent by the states virtually without limit.

Between 1967 and 1969 the cost in federal funds amounted to $354 million. It is estimated that this year's cost will run to a total of $4.5 billion. This increase, according to officials administering the federal end of the program, comes about by the states having learned how to get more of these funds.

California is receiving about 40 per cent of the total. Massachusetts comes along with huge hand-outs which support a goodly part of their entire budget.

Mississippi, which drew less than $2 million last year, is asking for $463 million, about two-thirds of its entire state budget. Alaska, with a population of 300,000, less than 1/4th that of our 17th Congressional District, has $20 million. The state of Maryland, here near the federal trough, has management consultants to justify an increase of 1,825 per cent to the sum of $418 million. By contrast, Minnesota, with a population approximately that of Maryland, is requesting $96.5 million. Our own state of Texas had originally asked for $42.3 million for 1973. That figure has now been upped to $178,621,000, an increase of 3,210 per cent.

Worst of all about this program, or better to say, this direct hand-out, is that no real audit as to how and for what the money is spent is required. Reimbursement is claimed for spending, not only by state and local governments, but by private agencies. In other words, the money is handed over and no questions are asked. And we wonder how spending has gotten out of control.

There is growing indication that federal funds are being used to replace existing state expenditures, rather than augment the supply of social service to needy people as the legislation intended. The chairman of the Joint Economic Committee of the Congress has said that some of the service included in the program may be badly needed by the poor but the uncontrolled subsidy is not the best way to insure they are provided.

The committee has scheduled hearings to inquire into these operations. State officials will be asked to explain how increases in requested federal funds benefit former, current or "potential" welfare recipients. Federal officials will be called on to explain how federal funds are disbursed so freely without more accounting.

One of the first questions some of us want to ask is about a case reported from Boston. How does the ole boy who is working to afford a much needed new refrigerator feel when he sees the person next door get one for nothing? From reports it came from "social services."

Lopes to open grid season at Lockney Friday night

Post's opponents highly rated in District 4AA

Post Antelopes of District 4AA will help several other Texas school boys teams kick off the 1972 season Friday night on the gridiron.

Post beat Lockney, 27-7, in its only victory of the season. Lockney got sweet revenge by whipping the 'Lopes, one of the nine district favorites by the locals against only Bobby Davis, although with the improvement they showed in their scrimmage week over that of the previous week against Petersburg. We're still going to have to expect some mistakes if we expect to win.

Lockney has a fast, experienced back for the new grid campaign, sparked by Larry Cuyus, back and defensive halfback starting his third year as a member of the Longhorn varsity. The speed merchant, however, has been clocked in the 100. Other backfield players are expected to be Dart, 160-pound junior halfback, Robert Delgado, 165-pound senior fullback.

'LOPES SCORE THREE TIMES

Post blanks Spur in scrimmage held here

The scoreboard read 18 to 0 in favor of the Post Antelopes at the end of Friday night's game-condition scrimmage here with Spur, but the final score was no reflection on the Post team's inability to kick extra points.

There was no kicking at all in the scrimmage — no kickoffs, no punts, no extra point kicks.

Otherwise, the scrimmage resulted in a decisive victory for Coach Bobby Davis' Antelopes, who scored three times and stymied everything the Bulldogs had to offer in the way of offense, with the exception of a couple of completed passes.

The game opened with Spur being given the ball on its 30-yard line and when the Bulldogs failed to move in three downs, the ball was moved 30 yards upfield and given to the 'Lopes. Neither could Post move on its first series, in fact the 'Lopes lost yardage when Jerry Tyler was trapped trying to find an open pass receiver, and the ball went back to Spur.

Late in the first period, the 'Lopes got on the scoreboard on a 25-yard end sweep by tailback Kenneth Price after he, David Conolly and Robert Mindieta had carried the ball to that point from far downfield.

Post scored again just before the first quarter ended after recovering a fumble on the Spur 30. Conolly gained 12 yards to the 18 and Mindieta ripped the line for 11 more to the seven before Tyler found end Randy Kennedy in the end zone for a TD pass.

Post's final touchdown also came after a recovered fumble, this time on the Spur 25. Three plays later, Mindieta plowed over from the five.

GUESSING TIME AGAIN

'Lopes to beat 'Horns, confides Pigskin Pete

The Dispatch's football forecastor, Pigskin Pete, opens the 1972 season with a prediction that the Post Antelopes will get off on the right foot by beating the Lockney Longhorns Friday night.

Here are Pete's predictions, including Districts 3, 4, 5 and 6AA, since this year the winner in District 5AA, which includes Post, meets District 6AA champion for the bi-district title.

Pigskin Pete asks his readers not to expect too much this first week — or next week, either.

Freshman, Jr. varsity scheduled Tuesday

The Post freshman and junior varsity teams are scheduled to play Ralls here Tuesday night, Sept. 12, but it was not known here at The Dispatch sports page press time Wednesday whether or not Ralls would have enough players to field a team for the junior varsity game.

Twenty-nine members of the varsity and junior varsity squads at Ralls quit football one day last week, and coaches here said they had not learned if enough of the boys had returned for Ralls to field a junior varsity team for the game here next Tuesday.

If both games are played, the freshman game will start at 5:30 and the junior varsity game at 7 o'clock.

Freshman Coach Lane Tannehill said his team is eagerly looking forward to its game with Ralls after the fine showing it made here last Friday night in a scrimmage with the Spur freshman.

The Post and Spur freshman teams scrimmaged between halves of the varsity scrimmage, and the affair was nip-and-tuck until late in the scrimmage when Post quarterback Bryan Davis, passing from behind his own goal line, dropped the ball into the arms of end Mike Hair, who ran almost the length of the field to score.

On at least three occasions, it appeared that the pack of Spur pursuers would overtake Hair, but each time he found a fresh burst of speed to stay just ahead of the pack until he had scored.

Tannehill said he thought all the freshmen did a good job, especially on defense. Some of the boys had been out for practice only since the previous Monday.

"We had about 33 boys suited out and every one of them got in for at least a couple of plays," the freshman coach said.

Garza bond sales amount to $5,038

J. B. Potts, chairman of the Garza County Savings Bonds Committee, reported today that sales of Series E and H U.S. Savings Bonds in Garza County totaled $5,038 in July. Sales for the first seven months were $56,442 for 43 per cent of the 1972 goal of $130,000.

July sales in Texas were $16,989,269 compared to $16,810,210 during the same period last year. The year-to-date sales amounted to $125,013,794, while 1971 sales totaled $118,726,731.

Nationwide sales during July totaled $493 million. For the January-July period sales were $3.7 billion — 15 per cent above sales last year. Exchanges of Series E for Series H Bonds amounting to $27 million were reported for July, 13 per cent above the $24 million exchanged last year.

First meeting of year held by FHA

By DEBBIE HOOD
The first meeting of the Future Homemakers of America was held last Friday in the City-County Park at 5 p.m. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the new members with the meaning, members and excitement of the FHA.

For the remainder of the year there will be one fun activity and one business meeting each month. These programs have been carefully planned by the officers, who are looking forward to a rewarding year.

Senior officers are Janet Childs, president, Consuelo Flores, vice president; Nancy Maddox, third vice president; Maude Cade, fifth vice president; Pam Feagin, secretary-treasurer; Carmen Villa, historian; Debbie Ledbetter, sergeant at arms; and Judy Heintz, hostess.

To be in FHA you must be taking homemaking or must have taken it previously.

The dues for the year will be $2.

New additions to school library

By MARK LEMON
During the summer, work was under way on many new additions to our library.

Mrs. Walker, the high school librarian, attended the University of Texas where she was enrolled in the School of Library Science.

The library has received over 300 new books. A new book rack, displaying pocket-size, hard-back books, was a nice addition to our library, also. This display helps the students to find popular novels quickly and has created much enthusiasm because of their small size.

The library will begin opening on Monday nights Sept. 11.

Plans under way to organize Spanish Club

By ANN ATEN
Mrs. Brown, the Spanish teacher, is planning to sponsor a Spanish Club this year. A definite time has not been set for the organization of the club, but it should be sometime very soon.

There will be no qualifications for prospective members to meet in order to join, other than being a student of our school. You need not be taking Spanish and do not have to be able to speak it in order to obtain membership.

Finance is big issue with yearbook staff

By RAFAEL RIOS
Although our yearbook staff has not yet gained the remainder of its members, which are those from the junior class who have applied for assistants' positions, the senior officers have been looking ahead in many areas.

The major and most pressing issue the staff has been considering is that of finance. Robert Mindieta and Dan Hodges will be leading in the photography and advertising sales areas. Phyllis Eckols, editor, and Debbie Hood, co-editor, will be helping in those areas too, although they will focus their attention mainly on the overall layout of the yearbook.

Last Monday, Mr. Roger Pamparin, the publisher's representative for Josten's American Yearbook Company, came to the school and had an advisory meeting with the editor, discussing the financial areas of a yearbook.

The staff is very happy to have Mrs. Fleming back as their sponsor and hopes to have the new assistants' positions clarified very soon.

Lunchroom Menus

Post schools lunchroom menus for the coming week are as follows:
Monday: Pizza, buttered corn, green peas, applesauce, half pint of milk.

Tuesday: Meat loaf, brown gravy, green beans, buttered squash, jello with fruit, cornbread, half pint of milk.

Wednesday: Hamburger, home made buns, glazed carrots, sliced tomato, onion, pickles, lettuce, special K cookies, half pint of milk.

Thursday: Chili con carne, mixed greens, fried potatoes, strawberry shortcake, cornbread, half pint of milk.

Friday: Salmon, apple salad on lettuce, blackeye peas, cream potatoes, sugar cookies, hot rolls, half pint of milk.

We're glad to have Mrs. Fleming back

By JERRY SMITH
We are very proud to welcome Mrs. Fleming, a teacher of Post, back to our school. Mrs. Fleming retired last spring, a decision that disappointed many of the hundreds of students she had taught recently and many years ago.

Mrs. Fleming seems to have swung right back into the same busy routine she was in, however, with the sponsoring of the annual and paper staffs, and teaching bookkeeping and typing.

Plans being made to organize Drama Club

By PHYLIS ECKOLS
Mr. Hodges, a speech teacher in our school, has made plans for the organization of a Drama Club. Hoping to gain much enthusiasm, Mr. Hodges will help club members in the presentation of several one-act plays.

Those interested in joining the Drama Club should go to Mr. Hodges' classroom and sign up.

Post choir off to good start

By DONNA McBRIDE
The choir started off the year very well. We have many new members and many new projects planned.

The officers for this year include: Dan Hodges, president; Jo Beth Gandy, vice president; Ann Aten, secretary-treasurer; and Donna McBride, reporter.

The Top Twenty also started practice and elected officers. Crystal Nichols was elected president and Donna McBride, secretary. Committees were appointed for different functions. The Top 20 will practice every Tuesday at 8.

School's first day 'smooth' affair

By RICKY BUSH
First day of school is always an exciting sight for innocent bystanders or humored seniors, as they watch Fish going to wrong classes and taking wrong books to class.

It also seems to be quite an event for faculty members as many schedules are changed, students still suffer from summer restlessness, and of course the excitement of football season gains momentum. But, even with the usual first day of school confusion, Post High School has settled once again into the back-to-school routine.

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. Mattie Hays were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hays of Austin.

Pep squad names year's officers

By ANITA CRIADO
The pep squad organization had its first meeting Aug. 30 to elect new officers for this school year. The following were elected as officers: Debbie Hood, president; Sue Crowdy, vice president; Jennifer Miller, secretary, and Nancy Reno, treasurer.

On Thursday, Aug. 31, the pep squad met again to decide on a uniform. The uniform was selected by a committee composed of officers and volunteers. The uniform is a black pants suit and white blouse. The pep squad will have a new addition to their usual attire — this year they will have pom-poms.

The pep squad members will stay after school each Tuesday and Thursday for decorating purposes.

The pep squad's sponsors this year are Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Thompson.

Santa Fe Railway ordering 1,000 new hopper cars

AMARILLO — Santa Fe Railway is ordering 1,000 hundred-ton covered hopper cars and 100 open-top cross hopper cars at a cost of about $19 million, John S. Reed, president, announced today.

Pullman Standard Mfg. Co. will build the covered hoppers and the Greenville Steel Car Co. will provide the cross hoppers. This order is supplementary to the railroad's previously announced capital expenditure program of $100 million for 1972. Delivery of the cars is expected to begin in November.

The orders were prompted by increased business activity and by the rise in export grain traffic anticipated from the plans recently announced by the administration for shipment of grain to overseas destinations.

"In the transportation of grain Santa Fe has been a pioneer in encouraging the gradual shift away from the old box car to use of the newer covered hopper car which presents a more attractive vehicle for most shippers," Reed noted. "As a result of this policy, the Santa Fe today owns the largest number of covered hopper cars in the country. Of its fleet of more than 14,200 covered hoppers, nearly 10,000 are of the 100-ton capacity 'jumbo' type involved in the current equipment order," he said.

State Bar history is being written

AUSTIN — Dozens of lawyers and judges are at work on the History and Traditions of the Texas Bar.

The historical project, conceived by State Bar president Jim D. Bower of Temple, is headed by former State Sen. Carlos C. Ashley Sr. of Llano. Co-chairman is District Judge Jim K. Evetts of Belton.

"Many distinguished men have practiced law and presided over our courts during the past century in Texas," said Ashley, "and each one deserves a special place in the History of the Texas Bar."

The Bar was organized in Galveston July 14, 1882.

Ashley said his committee is soliciting help from all the state's 21,000 lawyers and judges, including writings, recollections, photographs, old news items and anecdotes. "Perhaps the families of deceased lawyers and judges will be glad to contribute rare collections to the State Bar in order that they may be properly preserved as a part of our heritage."

BOLL WEEVIL PROGRAM

Planes took to the air Aug. 30 to initiate the ninth year of insecticide applications in the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program.

Field surveys, underway for the past seven weeks, indicate that over 31,000 acres in 519 fields will require treatment in the first of this season's containment efforts.

According to Ed Dean, field service director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization responsible to cotton producers for the program, cotton fields below the Caprock are being sprayed this year when punctured square counts reach the 10 per cent level. Counts above the Caprock, the protection of which is the program's primary goal, will be sprayed when weevil damage approaches five per cent, he said.

In previous years all cotton in a prescribed control zone was treated with insecticide on a set schedule. But it has been found more economical and just as effective to survey all fields weekly and spray only those which meet the 10 per cent and five per cent criteria.

"Our objective is to prevent weevils in infested fields below the Caprock and along its edge from migrating westward onto the High Plains," Dean said, "and seven years of experience in this program has convinced us that the job can be done with this spray-as-needed approach."

Aggregate acreage that will require insecticide this year cannot yet be determined. Last year the largest acreage sprayed in a single application was 130,250 and aggregate acres covered in 1971 totaled about 400,000. The original control zone in 1964 covered 300,000 acres of cotton and total acreage sprayed piled up to over one million.

Contractor for the entire 1972 spraying program is Esslinger Spraying Service of Marion, Kans. The contract was awarded on a low bid of $1.24 per gallon of insecticide, which according to Dean is well below an average low contract awarded to three contractors last year of about $2 per gallon.

Cotton producers on the Plains support the program and insure themselves against a weevil invasion by per-bale contributions. Their part of the cost is paid as a part of compress receiving charges, amounting to 50 cents per bale in 1964, 40 cents for the next three years, 25 cents in 1968, 30 cents in 1969, 50 cents in 1970, 40 cents last year and back to 30 cents this year.

These funds, plus varying amounts each year from the Texas Department of Agriculture, are matched dollar for dollar by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Star Spangled Banner was designated by Congress as the national anthem March 3, 1931.

The word "geometry" is derived from the Greek GE (earth) and METREIN (to measure).
