Council sets hearings on paving and jail warrants

City leadership sought in spring clean-up drive

The Post city council voted Monday night to issue warrants to pay for approximately 90 blocks of new street paving and to pay for construction of a city jail building.

The council also set Friday, Feb. 21, at 1:30 p. m. as the date and time of a public hearing on the proposed issuance of the paving and jail warrants.

Also at their regular February session Monday night, the council: —Heard Mrs. Helen Cornish present plans for month-long, city-wide clean-up campaign.

—Accepted the bid of Harold Lucas Chevrolet-Olds Co. on the purchase of a new pickup truck.

—Heard a six-month summary of the city budget by City Mgr. Eddie Warren.

—Appointed a board of tax equalization.

—Agreed to let the Cub Scouts use the City Hall for their meetings every third Thursday.

Covered in separate stories in today's Dispatch are the council's actions in repealing the city's beer tavern closing ordinance, calling the annual city election, and re-setting the salaries of elective city officials.

The council's decision on the street paving warrants and also a decision to advertise for paving bids came after a brief discussion by Ralph Douglas, city engineer, on the paving plans.

Douglas said 100 blocks of streets between Avenue S and the railroad tracks had been surveyed for paving, but told the council, "Of course, the city won't pave that many blocks in the program planned for this summer."

THE HEARING on the proposed issuance of warrants for the paving will be held at the same time of the contractor bid openings on the paving project.

The city proposes to issue warrants in the amount of $8,000 for the city jail, which the city manager estimated will cost "somewhere between $7,500 and $8,000."

Two used cell blocks, purchased at Tahoka, have already been moved here for the jail, and two other cell blocks will be built in the 25 by 30-foot building, which will be an annex of the present police station.

Three of the five councilmen voted in favor of issuing the jail warrants, with the other two, Donald Windham and Frank Blanton, not voting.

The council took no action on Mrs. Cornish's proposal for an extensive clean-up campaign.

Mrs. Cornish, prefacing her remarks with the statement that she was "interested in how the town looks," told the council that the city "could do a lot" toward making the clean-up drive a success in both the residential and business districts.

She said she believed that the city could, by providing the leadership in such a campaign, help get the general public to the point where they "would want to clean up their town."

"So, I say let's give it a try," Mrs. Cornish said.

SHE SUGGESTED that all organizations be called upon to help in the clean-up drive in all areas of the city, but that each property owner be personally responsible for cleaning up about his own premises.

The removal of junk automobiles, clean-up of highway approaches, and letters to absentee property owners asking that they pay to have their premises cleaned up, were among the suggestions offered by Mrs. Cornish.

Pointing out that a week-long clean-up campaign wouldn't make a dent in the situation, she suggested that a month-long drive be held, with a special name for each week, such as "Clean Up (See City Council, page 8)

Six more pets die

Dog-poisoner busy one

Post's dog poisoner has struck again, and again, and again . . .

Seven cases of dogs having been poisoned during the last few days had been reported to The Dispatch up to Wednesday afternoon. Six of the poisoned pets have died.

Meanwhile, the reward money offered for the arrest and conviction of the pet poisoner has grown from $50 to $65.

Police Chief Bill Gordon, when asked by a city councilman at Monday night's council meeting about the outbreak of dog poisoning, said chunks of meat believed to be poisoned had been turned over to the police department.

"I'll have to have an analysis made before I can say whether the meat is poisoned," the police chief told the council. He said some of the chunks had been found near his home on North Avenue O.

The police chief said the chunks of meat had pieces of string tied around them.

Two boys whose dog had been poisoned and a companion were among those finding chunks of the meat and turning it over to the police.

Among the dogs poisoned in the last few days was another city mail carrier's dog, Bozo, which daily accompanied mail carrier Jimmie Redman on his rounds. Three weeks ago, mail carrier

Wayne Thomas' dog, Old Yaller, fell victim to a poisoner.

The only dog reported to have survived the poisoning is one owned by the Glenn Gregg family of 711 West 15th St.

Other dogs which have died from the poison belonged to the A. J. Howells, Don Ammons, Melvin Jennings, Vernon Paynes, Dale Hairs and Bobby James.

The Texas Penal Code provides for a fine of up to $200 for anyone "willfully killing, maiming, wounding, poisoning or disfiguring a n y dog."

The poison being used by the dog poisoner here is said to be strychnine.

Business leaders push for interstate highway project

Business leaders of Post, Slaton, Snyder and Colorado City were scheduled to meet in Colorado City at noon today to organize a drive aimed at getting Interstate Highway 27 routed from Lubbock into Colorado City.

The group will be competing against Tahoka, Lamesa and Big Spring which are seeking the designation for the still-in-the-future interstate highway.

Federal agencies already have announced plans for Interstate 277 from Amarillo to Lubbock.

Lubbock up to this time is reported to be one of the largest cities in the nation not linked into the interstate highway network.

The Post Industrial Foundation is spearheading the local effort to obtain the interstate highway, which although it would bypass Post would be expected to bring numerous economic benefits to this city.

J. B. Potts, president of the industrial foundation, said he had received a "favorable reply" from Cong. George Mahon to a telegram request for the Lubbock congressman's help and cooperation in the campaign for the interstate highway route.

Potts said that the fact that highway US-84 has a higher traffic count than US-87 through Tahoka has given federal authorities "second thoughts" about the US-87 route.

Potts said that Sweetwater's business community has derived many benefits from its interstate highway and so have other cities.

The interstate highway probably will require several years for planning alone, local backers say, and several more to build.

The interstate 27 route is expected to link Amarillo, Lubbock and San Angelo.

Rotarians see film on Texas highways

Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall saw an interesting color film on Texas highways, entitled "Texas Builds the Highways."

Highway Engineer Julian Smith arranged for the film made available by the Texas Highway Department.

Post man charged in shooting case

Alvin "Bobo" Watson, 23-year-old Negro, has been released from jail under $1,500 bond on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the shotgun wounding of Paul Soto here early Saturday morning.

Soto, who was struck in the buttocks by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun, was reported Wednesday to be recuperating satisfactorily in a Lubbock hospital, where he was taken after emergency treatment at Garza Memorial Hospital.

Watson was arrested in the front yard of his home a short time after the shooting by Police Sgt. Otis G. Shepherd Jr., City Patrolman Max Chaffin and the Kent County sheriff from Jayton.

The officers said the charge against Watson was filed after he made a statement to County Atty. Preston Poole.

Patrolman Chaffin said he was notified of the shooting by Soto's brother, Gregorio Soto, and that he found Soto lying on the ground at the corner of Oak and May streets.

The officers said they were told that the shooting followed an argument between Watson and Soto, who is an employe of the Postex plant.

Mr. Carlton, a retired Postex plant employe, had been a resident of Post for 54 years. He was born Aug. 23, 1911, at Irene, near Hillsboro, Tex., and was married here July 17, 1936, to Miss Pauline Seaton. Mr. Carlton was a member of the Baptist church.

He is survived by his wife, Pauline; three sons, Robert Gene Carlton of Odessa and William H. and Tony Ross Carlton, both of Post; a brother, Glen Carlton of San Antonio; a sister, Lorene Clayton of Denver, Colo.; and six grandchildren.

PASTURE FIRE PUT OUT

Post firemen extinguished a pasture fire on the Don Robison place northeast of Justiceburg early Saturday afternoon, but not before some 40 acres of sorghum alum and grass had been burned. Two trucks were taken to the fire from here.

Council votes out closing ordinance

The Post city council voted Monday night to repeal the city ordinance that sets the closing hours for beer taverns inside the city limits.

Repeal of the city ordinance means that the taverns may now open and close under the state law, which allows them to remain open until 1 a. m. Sundays and to open at 1 p. m. Sundays.

Under the city ordinance, which was passed when Precinct 3 voted wet in 1960, the taverns inside the city limits were required to close at midnight Saturday and to remain closed on Sunday.

The council's action in repealing the ordinance was taken at the request of Don Noel, operator of the Western Lounge.

Four of the five city councilmen voted for repeal of the ordinance, with Councilman D. C. "Billy" Hill not voting either way.

City election set for mayor, 3 councilmen

A mayor and three councilmen will be elected at the city election set for Saturday, April 5, by the city council at its regular February meeting Monday night.

Terms expiring are those of Mayor John N. Hopkins, who is completing his first two-year term in the office, and City Councilmen Lewis C. Herron, Bob Collier and D. C. "Billy" Hill.

Herron and Collier are completing their second two-year terms as councilmen, and Hill is completing his first elective term.

The filing deadline for candidates for the offices of mayor and councilmen is March 6. Candidates may file with the city secretary at the City Hall.

The council also appointed Sexton Huntley as election judge.

The salaries of the elective city officials were re-set at the same level by the council. The mayor's salary is $50 a month and each councilman is paid $35 a month.

Nursing home here to close

The Golden Years Nursing Home, 615 West 6th St., will close its operations here Friday, Feb. 14, Mrs. Alene Noble, nursing home manager, announced this week.

"Due to many problems beyond our control, it will be impossible to continue operation of the home in the manner that good conscience and business demand," Mrs. Noble told The Dispatch.

She said she wanted to help in any way possible to secure a smooth transition of those now at the home to another facility.

White River Lake is due new boat ramp

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the construction of a boat ramp on White River Lake.

The boat ramp, parking facility and access road will be built adjacent to FM-Road 2794. The estimated cost is $30,500.

Over on page 3 you'll note that the bank is back in The Dispatch's advertising columns again advertising for moisture. The bank didn't have to run any moisture ads during 1968 which turned out to be a rather plentiful year for moisture until the final three months.

This West Texas area is now undergoing a dryer than usual winter season and although the experts don't report it as serious as yet, they admit that some moisture is now needed.

Dispatch moisture ads usually produce good results for the bank and according to Mrs. Gertrude Hodges, who has been predicting the weather around Post for many, many years a half inch or more should be coming up tomorrow.

Anytime you stop and chat with George he has a question or a suggestion about a community project. ## Highway project okayed in Garza

U. S. Hwy. 84 from Post south-east to the Scurry County line will be improved as one of the projects in the Texas Highway Commission's $214 million supplement to the 1969-70 Consolidated Highway Program for Texas, District Engineer Oscar L. Crain of Lubbock has announced.

The four-lane divided highway between here and the Scurry County line is scheduled for reconstruction, base and surfacing over the 23.6-mile stretch at an estimated cost of $1,884,000.

The work will be under the supervision of Julian F. Smith, resident highway engineer of Post.

The program supplements the two-year 1969-70 program adopted by the highway commission in December, 1967. That program totaled $389 million for work on 1,667.6 miles of U. S. and state-numbered highways, and purchase of right-of-way along 557 miles of the highway system.

Suffers head cut in car accident

I. S. "Pete" Pennell received a gash on the head late Saturday night when his automobile struck a parked car on East Main Street, hopped the curb and came to rest on the sidewalk at the southeast corner of Main and Avenue H.

Police Sgt. Otis G. Shepherd Jr. and City Patrolman Max Chaffin, who investigated the accident, reported Pennell was driving west on Main when his car struck Lulu Ayala's automobile, which was parked in the center of the street.

Pennell was taken to Mercy Hospital in Slaton for treatment of the injury and was dismissed from the hospital Sunday.

Smith proposes teen-age voting

Up until last week, most of the "pro" and "con" discussion on lowering the voting age to 18 in Texas had been carried on in the high schools. Early in the school year, The Dispatch school page ran a couple of articles on how some of the Post High School students felt about giving the vote to the 18-year-olds, with the dozen or so students contacted in the survey being about evenly divided on the question.

Last Thursday, however, Gov. Preston Smith surprised, surely, much of the Legislature and many of the people of Texas with his suggestion of lowering the voting age to 18.

Smith has been typed as a conservative and a conservative is generally thought to be one wed to the status quo. But his suggestion of reducing the minimum voting age from 21 to 18 doesn't fit that mold. It is, rather, an innovation proposal.

Smith made his suggestion with some persuasive force. He declared it is time to think about giving young persons a greater say in the state's political life.

"The developing desire and determination of young people to have a stronger voice in public affairs is a sign of our times," he said. He notes that the Texas constitution lumps persons under 21 with "idiots, lunatics, paupers, felons" as disqualified to vote.

"In these tenuous circumstances, and in the certain knowledge that there are more builders than wreckers in the Texas youth community, I would like to see these young people removed from that category," the governor said.

All but four of the 50 states requires a 21-year minimum age for voting. Georgia and Kentucky bestow the vote at 18, Alaska at 19 and Hawaii at 20.

To lower the voting age to 18, the legislature would have to submit to the people a constitutional amendment, and pass enabling legislation.

The proposal is now in the hands of the legislature. Hearings will be held in both the House and Senate, by the appropriate committees—to develop viewpoints and facts bearing upon the question.

The legislature is likely to give interested and sympathetic consideration to this proposal. It would not be surprising if the lawmakers authorize a constitutional amendment election which will allow the voters themselves to make the verdict—CD

Should help raise health standard

The City of Post's sanitary land fill, which used to be the city dump grounds, not only will cut down on air pollution, as pointed out in a front page story in last Thursday's Dispatch, but will also help raise the health standard we've had to live with for so long.

Now, 1969, the city has decided instead of burning the garbage, it should be buried. Burning didn't do it. The burning places as effective as burying it. The trash will

One thing that made the dump grounds a perfect breeding place for flies was the dumping out of dead hogs, horses and other animals. Now that the dead animals left there will be buried, along with all other trash, the health hazard to the community won't be near as bad.

Such improvements are what the State Health Department had in mind when it informed the city that it would have to start burying its accumulated trash instead of burning it.

Kite-flying can be dangerous

It's a pretty sight to see kites flying high in the air, and we saw three or four lofted high over west Post the other day. But kite-flying can be dangerous unless precautions are taken.

The Southwestern Public Service Company annually appeals to parents to warn their children not to fly kites near electric wires.

"The windy season brings kite-flying time and this traditional pastime is one that is lots of fun for children if it is done safely," the company points out.

Many youngsters, the company explains, don't realize the dangers if safety rules are not observed.

Other dangerous practices in connection with kite-flying include using metallic cord or wire for the kite string, making the kite frame of metal, flying kites in the rain when even a cotton kite string can become a dangerous conductor of electricity, and trying to retrieve a kite in case it does get caught in electric wires.

Safety, the electric company says, is all-important in kite-flying.

Proof that advertising pays

Name the bargain of the times, the product that hasn't gone up in the price since it was introduced in the 1890's, and you have to agree that chewing gum takes the title.

Chewing gum is still a nickel a package, and you have a choice of flavors, packages and brands.

But chances are that you will pick up a package of Wrigley's gum because the three standbys, Spearmint, Doublemint and Juicy Fruit, still account for about 85 per cent of the chewing gum market.

The story of Wrigley gum is a fascinating one and a tribute to American advertising and merchandising. The late William Wrigley Jr., who was 29 when he founded the company in 1891, lived in both.

The company continued to advertise even when it reached the point where Wrigley and chewing gum were synonymous. At one time there was a product called Pears soap which dominated the soap industry just as thoroughly. The owners of the company decided there was no use in wasting money on advertising since everybody used Pears soap anyway, so they quit. They went broke in less than a decade.

The Wrigley company didn't make that mistake. One time the president of it was asked why he kept advertising when he was selling most of the chewing gum. He replied that an airplane once aloft, couldn't depend upon the momentum to keep it aloft. It had to keep pushing.

Today, the Wrigley company spends about $21 million, about one-seventh of its volume, on advertising. And does it pay? Well, sales last year were $149,439,483 and earnings were a record $14,671,278 with a dividend of $7.45 per share of stock recorded, making this one of the top earnings recorded in American industry.—Ochiltree County Herald.

THE GROUNDHOG saw his shadow Sunday, so he scurried back to his pad to sleep it off during another six weeks of wintry weather.

Personally, I've about given up on the groundhog legend after having seen it fail so many times. I've heard of a new one though, and I'm going to see if it works. The new one says that the weather on St. Valentine's Day will influence that of the next 50 days.

THE MAN UP the street a y a s hard-headed people are often taken for granite.

The English language seems to be undergoing what might be called a "language explosion," and I don't think it should be blamed on Spiro T. Agnew.

Dictionary editors are hard-pressed to keep up with this language explosion.

But where do the new words come from? How could editors find 14,000 new entries? Do that many new words develop in such a short time?

It seems as though forming new words is everybody's business—the politician, the scientist, the economist, the fashion designer, man on the street, and, of course, the teen-ager.

What new words or expressions have the politicians given us recently? Well, there's conspiracy of silence, which means "a conspiring to keep something wrong, damaging, etc., from being divulged."

And then there's goposis, meaning "any conspicuous or abnormal gap, deficiency, etc." Now when you read about the credibility gap, you'll understand goposis.

The scientist gave us endoradinsone, the economist came up with macroeconomics and microeconomics; and the fashion designers, bless them, came up with minddress and miniskirt.

Here is a handful of the new words and phrases added to the World Book Dictionary for 1969. How many can you identify?

Aerial jeep, balhawk, beat man, beefcake, body check, brain-picking, British English, campy, c a r jockey, center-left, chicken colonel, cliffhang, Colonel Hopey, cutesy, Dawn patrol, daymare, deep six, defang, didact, diploma mill, dysphemism, earthshaker, easy money, end-run, Escoffier, eye-popper, familygram, fifth estate, file 13, f i a b, flappable, freedom walk, funk, ghost surgery, glass cloth, goodie, gramphile, groupthink, gucky.

Head Start, hobbit, in - joke, inner space, instant replay, Jane Q. Public, jet bus, knuckleballer, lachrymist, lotus - land, make-do, meshuga, Mitty, nebbish, NFL, nudnik, off - hour, old - shoe, ordered pair, plain-Jane.

R and R, read - in, rice Christian, roadeer, schloop, schlock sheila, shoop-up, ski bum, slangage, space gun, squaw winter, suitcase farmer, swingback, synanon, telephonitis, ten-percenter, tin god, tin pants, underground film, video recorder, Vietnik, walling wall, yoo-hoo.

Some of these words and phrases have been around for a long time, of course, as slang or argot. But now that they're in the dictionary they're official.

No fair asking anybody. Look them up!

The above list does not contain the phrases "Tiny Timism" and "the blabs," but perhaps they'll be included in the next new dictionary edition.

THIS SCRAP, which I found while cleaning out a desk drawer, appeared in an exchange 46 years ago. It doesn't entirely hold water today, but some of it is still true.

"The Texas farmer rises in the morning by the alarm of a Connecticut clock; buttons his Chicago suspenders to Detroit overall; washes his face in a Pennsylvania pan, using Cincinnati soap and dries his face on a Massachusetts towel; sits down to a Grand Rapids Mich. table to eat Kansas City bacon and Indiana hominy; tried in Chicago land on a St. Louis steaks; puts on his Kansasella boots; reaches a Missouri mile to an Illinois plow, or seeds his grain with a Wisconsin drill. When bedtime comes, he reads a Bible printed in Boston, says a prayer that was written in Jerusalem, then crawls under a blanket made in New Jersey and is kept awake by a barking dog—the only Texas product on the whole darn farm."

SUDDEN OBSERVATION: If it wears stretch pants and has long hair, it's a cinch to be either a boy or a girl.

CONVENTION SITE LAMESA — Lamesa has been selected as the site of the 1969 Area II convention of Young Farmers and Young Homeowners. The convention will be held at the Lamesa High School with the O'Donnell chapters serving as hosts. Approximately 300 persons are expected to attend the annual meeting.

CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE WILL REQUIRE GOOD RECORDS
Farm and ranch operators will need good records for the 1969 census of agriculture, according to James Mallett, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University.

The farm census will be taken by questionnaires mailed out in January of 1970 to be completed and returned by mail. Response is required by law and information for each farm will be entirely confidential.

The census will ask for amounts spent for feed, fertilizer, pesticides, lime, gasoline, livestock, livestock and poultry. Other information will include size of the farm, age of the operator, value of farm produce sold, off farm employment, income from recreational use of the farm and numerous other items.

Mallett emphasized that good records are also essential to today's commercial farmer. Top management required for success with narrow profit margins in agriculture must rely on complete and accurate information about the farm or ranch business.

There are two kinds of farm records, according to Mallett — financial records and production records. Financial records are used to make tax reports, analyze the performance of the farm, and establish a basis for credit and other services.

Production records, along with financial records, can be used to determine the profitability of each practice or enterprise. Production records include yields per acre, weaning weights of calves or pigs, milk production per cow, per cent calf crop, the cost of producing a unit of output and other measures of production efficiency.

Good farm records alone will not insure success. Even the best farm records are of little value if they are not used, said Mallett.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY INCOME TAX FACTOR

Community property can affect taxpayers in a community property state such as Texas, according to James Mallett, Extension community property specialist at Texas A&M University. Texas taxpayers may find it advantageous to file separate returns.

In Texas, all income received by married taxpayers is considered to be community income and each taxpayer is responsible for one-half of the total. Taxpayers who are divorced during the tax year must report one-half of the community property income acquired prior to the divorce and all the separate income received after the divorce. Taxpayers who married during the tax year may elect to file joint or separate returns, as can those married in a prior year.

Capital loss deductions are limited to the smaller of $1,000 or the combined taxable income on joint returns in a community property state. However, a husband and wife living in a community property state may file separate returns and both claim a capital loss deduction up to $1,000 or their taxable income, whichever is smaller, Mallett noted.

Income in a community property state may work against the taxpayer in some cases such as retirement income credit. If one spouse is over 65, he is eligible for retirement income credit. If the other spouse is still earning income, half the earned income is taxable to each taxpayer and thus the earned income may cancel any

New domestics division formed by Burlington

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Formation of Burlington Domestics division for merchandising and manufacturing sheets, pillowcases and related domestics products, was announced today by Ely R. Callaway Jr., president of Burlington Industries, Inc.

At the same time, Mr. Callaway announced that Harvey A. Robbins, formerly president of the Wamsutta-Pacific division of M. Lowenstein & Sons, Inc., has joined Burlington and will become president of Burlington Domestics effective immediately.

The new division will manufacture and merchandise domestic lines previously handled through the Erwin Mills sheeting division of Burlington. Sales for Burlington Domestics will be directed by G. Wesley La Cour, vice president, and manufacturing will continue to be directed by Walter Hildebrandt, executive vice president. Plants in the division are located in Durham, N. C., Calhoun Falls, S. C., and in Post, Sherman and Memphis, Texas.

New York offices for the new division will be at 111 West 40th St. until Burlington's divisional merchandising offices move to the new Burlington House at 1345 Avenue of the Americas within a few months.

Mr. Robbins was with North Advertising 11 years and was a vice president of that firm at the time he left to join M. Lowenstein.

He resides with his wife, Carolyn, and two children in Valley Stream, N. Y.

40 pct. of Texas school children attend class in but four counties

AUSTIN — Texas, increasingly an urban state, is now sending 40 per cent of its school children to class in just four counties: Dallas, Harris, Tarrant and Bexar.

At the same time, 65 other counties each have fewer than 1,500 pupils attending public school in the farm and ranch areas of the state.

These two extremes, and the changes they are generating throughout the public school system, keynote the 1966-68 Biennial Report released Jan. 23 by the Texas Education Agency. Copies were sent to Gov. Preston Smith, former Gov. John Connally, Lieutenant Gov. Ben Barnes, members of the Legislature, school superintendents, college and university libraries, and organizations throughout the state interested in education.

The 110-page document details progress made by the public schools from Sept. 1, 1966 through Aug. 31, 1968.

School enrollment rose five per cent, from 2,493,390 pupils in 1965-66 to 2,615,623 in 1967-68. However, the rate of growth was below the six per cent recorded during the 1964-65 period.

The report, illustrated with photographs of class activities and charts pinpointing progress, places its major focus on planning. This recap of the last two years is divided into six major sections, including curriculum and instruction, resources, administration, vocational rehabilitation, and a look into the future. The first and most general section includes both state administration of the public schools and international education.

While this report is concerned primarily with the last two years,

TAHOKA — The senior class of Tahoka High School is sponsoring a talent show Feb. 21. Persons or groups wishing to enter the show, which is open to all types of talent, can obtain information about entries by telephoning 998-4145, Tahoka.

its emphasis on planning already outlines the pattern of the future.

"One of the major thrusts of the next biennium," according to Texas Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar, "will be to develop a central leadership network for educational planning which utilizes resources available throughout the state."

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

POT-POURRI

I'm so excited because Mr. C and I are going to a West Texas Press meeting this weekend! We've attended such functions in such exciting places as Abilene, Vernon, Big Spring, Pecos, Hereford, Levelland and now, lo and behold, we get to go to LUBBOCK!

When the Joe Baileys and Don Ammons left to attend the recent Jaycee meeting in Dumas they had a sign on the bumper of their car reading "Post Jaycees — Dumas Bound". A car followed them rather closely through Amarillo and zoomed past them as soon as they got out on the highway. As they zoomed by the two men in the other car honked and held up a bumper sticker which read: "Wear More Cotton, Ride Quarterhorses, Eat Piggly Wiggly Beef and Grow More Wheat."

Can anyone enlighten me as to the fly situation? It's only been in recent years that they seem to not only spring, summer and fall with us but also winter with us! They used to disappear when winter arrived, but no more. They are with us the year around. Does all that spray we supply them with in the summer make them hardy enough to survive the cold weather?

Dr. B. E. Young has come up with a cutie. To ease his patients' mental pain he now has ear phones which they can wear while sitting in the dental chair. Through the ear phones comes music. Like most people I put off going to the dentist as long as possible and I'm not sure this will change my mind about rushing in earlier than necessary. Umm, think I'll go by and check out his musical selections before making an appointment.

Speaking of Dr. Young — in a round about way I have him to thank for a geranium plant that is blooming at our house right this minute. Dr. Young subscribes to the paper for his mother who lives in Lubbock. His mother took pity on me when one of my potted geraniums was stolen from our house last fall and sent me, via her daughter-in-law, another pot of geraniums. I gave them the choice spot in the house, a window on the south, and they have done beautifully as far as putting on new foliage is concerned. Imagine my surprise to find that one is sporting a huge blossom right here in February.

C. M. Woodard of Justiceburg is quite a camera buff. Several months ago he whistled me down on the street as I was leaving the office. At my age I was so excited at being whistled at I stopped promptly and turned around to see who I was exciting. I wasn't even disappointed when Mr. Woodard explained why he had stopped me. It seems as though he had one shot left on the film in his camera which he wanted to get developed, and not wishing to waste the film entirely, he asked me to pose.

Even though I'm not what one can call photogenic I obliged him. Tuesday morning he brought in a print for me and I'm thinking of sending it off to a bread or milk company to be used in advertising purposes. There I am standing in front of a milk truck with five cases of milk stacked up behind me and holding a loaf of bread.

The big push in advertising now is to use people that look like people instead of glamor types. This picture should be just what they are looking for!

Take Your Own Peace

You can say anything you want about the world. You can say it's beyond help. That man is more evil than good. That you never asked for the world you got. And you could be right. You can say anything you want about the Peace Corps. That it's just do-gooders. That it doesn't help peace. That it hasn't made any difference. The Peace Corps isn't disagreeing. That's not what it's about. The Peace Corps doesn't shout, "Come make peace." Peace doesn't come that easily. It's more of a separate peace. Maybe yours. No banners. No bands. No medals. The Peace Corps might be for you if you could enjoy feeding children. Or repairing a tractor. Or teaching birth control. Or building a schoolhouse. Even if no one ends up using it. (Don't think it hasn't happened.) The Peace Corps has no delusions of grandeur. Ask anyone who's been in it. But there are enough people who come out of the Peace Corps with things they've learned they can't forget. Good things. There are more ways than you can find to help the world. The Peace Corps is just one way. It's for someone who would rather do something. Anything. Instead of nothing. It could be your way. Write The Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

Library Listening Post

By GEORGE L. MILLER

While our regular correspondent had her back turned, I slipped in this column on my own. My reason for this is because something startling happened to me the other day, and I just couldn't keep it to myself.

I just realized that Post has quite a success story hidden on Main Street, and we can use all the success stories we can get.

It all came to me when I was shifting books into a new section of shelving we added in the adult collection room. Book shifting is not one of my favorite pastimes, but in this case, I made an exception. For we have accumulated so many books in our library, we are actually running out of shelf space.

Don't get too alarmed, there still is shelf space left. And there's even floor space for adding more shelves. But we can't deny the obvious — we are growing by multiplying Dewey Decimal Points!

Our cramped quarters have inspired us to cast longing eyes on still another room which — God willing and the funds hold out — can be transformed into a reference room. This will ease things considerably and be a most welcome addition for students.

In order to help speed up that hoped-for day, I've spent some extra time in the library classifying stacks of gift books that have accumulated here over the past months. What once looked like hopeless chaos has now been neatly boxed and labeled and with the help of my cataloguers Mary Prather and Rosemary Chapman, all these books will soon find their place on our shelves.

As much as I gloat over that thought, I also tremble, for that will mean just about the end of the present available shelf space!

Just like any librarian, I have been carried away at the thought of how big our library is getting and was in danger of forgetting to ask if anyone was using this marvel of ours. A long look at our circulation records showed satisfying evidence that it is being used. A total of 6,295 books were checked out in 1968 — that averages out to around 123 a week or 533 a month. A check of the registration file shows we have now issued 1,434 library cards.

To what do we owe this success story? To a group of people who spared no effort to make this the finest library in our area. We have a wonderful group of volunteers who have been very loyal. We have a board that is always seeking to improve and expand our library services. We have the Friends of the Library who gave us a tremendous boost with the Book Fair last year. And countless more friends who have donated books and money to the library.

Special thanks ought to go to the City of Post for the generous help it has given the library. Here's

Current railroad taxes in county total $16,559

AUSTIN — Current annual taxes paid to the various government agencies by Texas railroads in Garza County totaled $16,559, it is announced by the Texas Railroad Association.

That amount was the county's share of the more than $10,000,000 the railroads paid in Texas on their own right of way and other property.

The biggest railroad contribution was to the school systems throughout the state. Large sums were also distributed to city, village and county governments and for road and bridge funds.

In addition, of course, was the same success story the City Council can rightfully claim.

So if you're hungry for a sign of life and health in our town, stop in at the library. It's well beyond its diaper days and on its way to wearing long pants. With good news like that, do you blame me for wanting to tell you about it?

Recent book donors: Bettye Scott and the Jack Lotts.

large total in taxes the railroads' 30,840 Texas employees contributed on their own property. The vast majority of rail workers, many of whom live in Garza County, own their own homes.

"I am delighted that nearly half of the taxes paid by the railroads in Texas go to support the schools," said Walter Caven, general counsel of the Texas Railroad Association. "The future of our country depends to a great extent upon the education of our youth," he said.

"Recognizing this need for education, many of the railroads operating in Texas also make scholarships available to a large number of students every year."

Are You Going To Church Next Sunday

By George L. Miller

Perhaps it's a bit early to start planning your weekend, most anything could happen between now and then, but for a lot of people going to church will be taken for granted. And that can be such a pity.

For anything that is taken for granted—especially going to church—can so easily lose its meaning. The sermon you hear will be good or bad depending on how much of it you agree with. The hymns may be enjoyable, if they are familiar. The prayers will be tolerable if they are short enough. And going to church will have started the day off right if you get home in time for the Sunday afternoon ball game on TV.

When worship is taken for granted, there is no surprise, nothing new to think about, nothing startling to jolt your life and open up new possibilities for the week. It is an exercise in monotony, a repetition of worn out words and phrases we've heard so often we could repeat them in our sleep.

Of course, this disease is not peculiar to the church. When you stop and think about it, much of life is equally monotonous. And for the same reason. We take too much for granted. Our daily round of chores can get boring. Friends taken for granted become faces and nothing more. The headlines in the newspaper inspire no sense of shock or amazement. We hardly care enough to grunt.

Our whole lives are a striking contrast to the Christian message of Good News. God constantly amazed people—if what we read in the Bible is true. He always did the unexpected. He completely dumbfounded us by coming to the world in His son. The disciples didn't know what to think of Jesus. Living with the master was an endless adventure. Anything could happen, and usually did.

Christians have always had this unsettling experience when they felt God touch their lives. Comfortable men, well satisfied with themselves and the world, have found themselves jolted out of their complacency and forced to come to grips with problems they had never been aware of before. Questions of ethics, race relations, social justice and injustice, national honor and responsibility—stopped being mere words and became living, urgent concerns.

If you are going to church next Sunday, don't take it for granted. Go prepared for a surprise. Give God a chance to shock the monotony out of your life.

Class projects are profitable
By Nancy Norman
The Junior class of Post High School had a prosperous weekend to begin the new month in a good way.

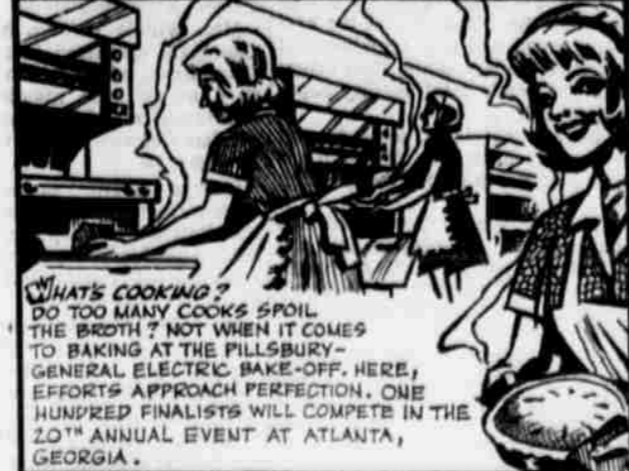

The bake sales held at Collier's, United, World of Difference and Piggly Wiggly provided the class with approximately $75 to add to their funds.

The car wash held at Peel's Conoco brought a profit of approximately $60.

The funds earned Saturday will be used for the Junior - Senior banquet in April.

The Juniors are very appreciative to the establishments who were so cooperative and helpful in making their fund-raising projects possible.

At Stamford Monument to memory oldtime cowboy planned

STAMFORD — The Oldtimers' of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association who meet annually in Stamford are preparing to erect a monument to the memory of the old-time cowboy.

The president of the association, Sam Crawford, has written a letter to all members and to many friends, telling of the plans. He pointed out that the Oldtimers' buildings at Stamford are now some 40 years old and that many of the original members of the organization have gone on.

"We would like to erect one of the larger Texas Historical Association monuments in memory of these men who are gone and who are left, telling some of the history of this association," Mr. Crawford wrote.

"The only way we can pay for this marker is by contributions from those of us who feel able to pay. Send any amount you choose — $1 would be fine, but in no instance more than $25 — and it will be applied toward erecting this permanent monument in memory of the oldtime cowmen," he said.

The monument would be placed in front of the Oldtimers' Bunkhouse alongside U. S. Hwy. 277 where it could be seen by the thousands of motorists who pass that way.

Contributions are to be sent to Box 445, Stamford.

Cotton research results will be told at meeting

LUBBOCK — Last year the cotton industry mounted the most intensive cotton research program ever, and some of the results will be presented at the annual Western Cotton Production Conference here March 4-5 at the KoKo Palace.

Twenty-five cotton production specialists will report on the latest research and methods for profitable cotton growing in the West. Roy B. Davis, National Cotton Council board chairman, will present the keynote address at the opening session, speaking on the "Technological Requirements for an Expanding Cotton Industry."

Other topics at the opening session will be: fiber instrumentation, irrigation, fertilization, and Verticillium wilt.

Afternoon of the first day will include a panel discussion on planting patterns for the future, followed by papers on brush harvesting Acala 1517 and field extraction of burs.

A planting discussion on new planting methods and equipment, and reports on the necessity for quality seed, the use of 12-row equipment, and equipment management is scheduled for the second day's opening session.

The conference will conclude with a report on herbicidal residues, a panel discussion on the latest developments in weed control, and a wrap-up report pointing out the need for space-age technology in cotton production.

The conference is sponsored by the National Cotton Council and Southwest Five-State Growers Association. Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will be local host.

The meeting is open to all interested in cotton production.

'Lady in Cement' coming to Tower

The scene is Miami, teeming with killers, blackmailers, topless bikinis, girls, cops, cement blocks. And Frank Sinatra is right there in the middle of the action, heading the cast of "Lady in Cement," the 20th Century-Fox presentation on Panavision and Color by De Luxe showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Tower Theatre.

Sinatra plays a private eye who becomes involved with a curvaceous heiress in the shape of Raquel Welch and an ex-convict played by Dan Blocker, who is making his motion picture debut.

"Lady in Cement" has now been classified as an "R" picture, which means "Restricted—Persons Under 16 Not Admitted Unless Accompanied by Parent or Adult Guardian."

December sales totaled $13,070,587 compared to $12,353,888 during 1967.

Nationally, the sale of E and H Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares during 1968 amounted to $4,972 million, which was 99 per cent of the national goal of $5,500 million.

Ideas for using grapefruit given by county home demonstration agent

Citrus fruits, laden with Vitamin C, are in great abundance in local markets during these winter months. Oranges and grapefruits both can add color and versatility to February breakfasts as well as lunches and dinners, and the Vitamin C which they contain is needed by our bodies every day.

Grapefruit and oranges are displayed in bags, by weight or by unit. Bags are more convenient to the consumer, however. Fresh citrus fruits keep well in the refrigerator.

Here are two unusual ideas for using grapefruit:

Frozen Grapefruit Pie
1 1/2 cups crushed plain chocolate cookies
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup whipping cream or two-thirds cup chilled evaporated milk
2 eggs
two-thirds cup sugar
1/4 cup grapefruit juice
1 tablespoon grated grapefruit rind

Mix 1 cup of cookie crumbs with fat. Spread in an 8-ounce pie pan or a refrigerator tray. Chill. Chill whipping cream (or put evaporated milk in bowl in freezer until ice crystals form around edges). Beat eggs; add sugar and grapefruit juice.

Cook over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Add grated rind. Whip cream or evaporated milk and fold into cooled egg mixture. Pour into crumb crust and freeze. Serve topped with remaining crumbs. Makes six servings.

Frozen Grapefruit Salad
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 cup sour cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 grapefruit, sectioned
1 avocado, diced

Cook over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Add grated rind. Whip cream or evaporated milk and fold into cooled egg mixture. Pour into crumb crust and freeze. Serve topped with remaining crumbs. Makes six servings.

Your Own Property Week," "Clean Up an Eyesore in Your Neighborhood or Someone Else's," "Clean Up Highways and Approaches," etc.

Other suggestions included area and block workers and leaders; cash prizes to block showing the most improvement, or a party or picnic honoring those whose efforts showed the most results in the clean-up campaign.

Mrs. Cornish suggested also that after the clean-up of the business area an effort be made to have adequate trash containers in alleys.

She told the council that it was going to take such a clean-up campaign to "help get back Post's reputation of being the cleanest and prettiest city just off the caprock."

THE LOW BID of Harold Lucas Chevrolet - Olds on the pickup purchase was $2,460.25, with the dealer allowing the city $800.25 trade-in on its old pickup. The successful bid was one of two submitted.

In his city budget summation report, the city manager said 91.9 per cent of this year's taxes has been collected, and that the city budget "is running real fine."

"We are not over - spending and if we keep going along as we are now, we'll be in good shape at the end of the budget year," the manager said.

Those appointed to the tax equalization board were Bobby Pierce, Elwood Wright, and C. H. Hartel, with T. B. Odum and Charles Didway named as alternates.

Don Noel and J. D. Windham, who were present at the council meeting, agreed to pay the $5-a-month fee the city will charge the Cub Scouts for their use of the City Hall.

New dining room being rushed for Sunday opening

Ben Owen, local contractor, is rushing finishing work on the new 30 by 30 foot second dining room for Jackson's Cafeteria and Cafe in order to have the new dining area ready for the "after church dinner rush" Sunday.

L. D. Jackson, cafeteria operator, told The Dispatch that the new dining room will seat an additional 64 patrons comfortably, thus bringing the cafe's total seating capacity to 113.

The new cafeteria entrance will be on the north side of the new dining room, just off the parking lot.

The new dining room will be available for reservation for private dinner parties in the evenings, Jackson said several bookings already have been made for next week.

An additional unit will be added to the cafeteria serving line and the new entrance will permit ample space for patrons to wait in line without crowding during peak dining hours.

The present entrance will be used for an exit only when the second dining room is opened.

An additional central heating and refrigerated air conditioning unit has been added for the year-round comfort of patrons using the new dining room.

The expansion of the facilities is being done by Mrs. Helen Westler of Tahoka, who owns the cafe property and leases it to the Jacksons, L. D. and Elsie Mae.

C. B. Bilberry installed the new heating and air-conditioning and Jack Bishop was the electrical sub-contractor.

You'll note over on page 8 that Jackson's Cafeteria & Cafe is going to open its new dining room this weekend. One thing in particular we really liked about that announcement was the fact that L. D. and Elsie Mae Jackson proudly called attention to the fact that the entire project was handled by "skilled local labor." Ben Owen was the general contractor and the local men proved to one and all that construction work doesn't have to drag along. This project took only about three weeks.

History Appreciation Week to be observed

The Garza County Historical Survey Committee voted at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday morning to observe History Appreciation Week beginning March 4.

Mrs. Winnie Tuffing, history chairman, discussed plans for the observance, which will begin March 4 at an open meeting of the committee at which time pioneer residents of the county will be recognized.

George "Scotty" Samson, marker chairman, told of plans for the installation of a historical marker on the old high school grounds, and reported on recent Postex plant tours for out-of-county residents.

Upon Mr. Samson's recommendation, the committee voted to apply for two additional historical markers to be placed at locations to be announced later.

Tuesday's meeting, held at 10 a. m. in the Community Room, was the committee's annual appreciation committee, and the following expressions of appreciation were made:

To the Post Jaycees for including news of historical markers and dedications in brochures they are compiling on Jaycee activities.

To Syd Conner for contributing news of Garza County historical markers to be published in the Texas Almanac.

To Bill Searle of Radio station KPOS and Jim Jackson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, for a radio interview in which they praised the civic and cultural contributions made by the GCHSC, and also for the gift of the taped interview to the committee.

To Mrs. Helen Livingston, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, for making available to tourists booklets published by the Humble Oil Co. and distributed by the Texas Highway Department listing all historical markers in the state.

Tax refunds can be taken in form of U. S. Savings Bonds

J. B. Potts, U. S. Savings chairman for Garza County, reminded taxpayers that the department of the Treasury again offer them the opportunity of taking income tax refunds in the form of U. S. Savings Bonds.

"When a taxpayer elects his refund in Series E U. S. Savings Bonds, his money begins to build his financial future. At the same time, it contributes to our country's strength. This way you can millions of Americans who are investing in the country's future."

"When you check the Bond line on your 1968 tax return, you can immediately assure yourself of two things: You provide yourself an easy method of holding your tax refund dollars and way of making it grow larger at maturity. When mark is made, the rest is automatic. For example, if you are entitled to a refund of $45, you can buy a $50 face-value Series E (cost $37.50), plus a $4.50."

Antelopes go down, 55 to 40

Idalou girls squeeze past Does, 48 to 46

The Idalou girls' basketball team evened the score with the Post Does here Tuesday night by coming from behind in the second half to win by two points, 48-46, and pull up into a first place district tie with the Post team. Each team has now won three and lost one in District 4AA action.

The cliff-hanger girls' game preceded a boys' contest in which the Idalou Wildcats trounced the Post Antelopes, 55 to 40, to hand Coach Kenny Poole's team its sixth district setback in as many starts.

The Does led Idalou 11-9 at the end of the first quarter and were out in front 24-21 at halftime, but the visitors cashed in on 13 free throws, along with six points from the field, for 19 points in the third quarter and a 40-32 lead at the end of that period.

The Does came back to outscore Idalou, 14-8, in the fourth quarter, but the damage had been done, and the home team wound up two points short.

Idalou's Jeanice Foreman sizzled the nets for 33 points on six field goals and 21 free throws, to take scoring honors. Karen Lee's 18 points was the best Post scoring effort. Karon Windham scored 16; Sharon Windham, six; Benita Noble, four, and Sherry Bird, two. The Post guards were Kay Altman, Glen Ann Barley, Thresa Sims, Kay Herron and Nancy Hart.

The Does outshot Idalou from the field, hitting 16 buckets to the 11 opponents' nine, but the visitors won the game at the free throw line, where they cashed in on 30 of 40 charity tosses to 14 of 19 for Post. The Does committed 24 fouls to Idalou's 11.

Cold shooting again hurt the Antelopes in the boys' game, with the locals scoring only 14 points in the second half. They trailed Idalou 21-10 at the end of the first quarter, 31-26 at the half, and 41-32 at the end of the third quarter.

Larry Don Johnson, with 11 points, was the only Antelope to score in double figures. Ricky Williams was Idalou's top scorer with 16.

It's the Law...

PROTECTING FISH AND GAME

Lawmakers in a coastal state, worried about overfishing in tidal waters, passed a law forbidding the use of large nets. Fishermen duly challenged the law on the ground that there were "still plenty of fish in the sea."

But the court held the law valid. "No resource is inexhaustible," said the court. "We think the protective hand of the state may be extended before the danger is imminent. The state is interested not merely in the preservation of specimens for museums but in perpetuating a constant supply."

Fish and game on public property belong to the public as a whole. To prevent a disorderly free-for-all, the state — as trustee for the public — has broad powers of regulation.

For example, the state has wide discretion in imposing penalties. In one case a man arrested for illegal possession of 2,000 ducks drew a fine of $20,000 — $10 per duck.

"That big fine is unconstitutional," he protested in appealing to a higher court. "It amounts to 'cruel and unusual' punishment."

But the court held that the state was merely making the punishment fit the crime. The judge said the severity of the sentence was "the fault not of the law but of the infractor."

Furthermore, in proving its case, the state does not necessarily have to catch a violator red-handed. Thus, it may make the mere possession of certain types of fishing and hunting equipment "prima facie" evidence of illegal fishing or hunting, shifting onto the defendant the burden of proving his innocence.

Nevertheless, if the evidence is too flimsy, the court will dismiss the case. Take this situation: Game wardens, halting a car near a lake, found four men with fishing licenses and a fifth man without. The four said they had indeed been fishing, but they all insisted the fifth man had not.

Was his mere presence in the car enough to convict him of fishing without a license? The court said no, because that would be punishing him on the basis of highly circumstantial evidence.

In other words, the fisherman and the hunter must accept the law's restraints in the spirit of public interest; but the law, in turn, must apply those restraints in the spirit of good sportsmanship.

The mammoths, prehistoric animals, died out about 10,000 years ago.

'B' team and freshmen lose Lorenzo games

The Post Antelope "B" and freshman teams lost to Lorenzo last Thursday night on the latter's court, the "B" team by a score of 64 to 54 and the freshman team, 73-51.

Butch Heaton scored 28 points in a losing cause in the "B" team game. The teams were all even, 12-12, at the end of the first quarter, but Lorenzo enjoyed a 22-point second quarter to go into a 34-23 halftime lead. Coach Waco Reynolds' team came back strong in the third period and were behind by only one point, 43-42, going into the final quarter.

Others scoring for Post besides Heaton were: Terry Moreau, 10; S. Hoyle, eight; Curtis, four, and Robert Bullock and Torres, two each.

In the freshman game, Coach Bill Smith's cagers were behind 21-7 at the end of the first quarter, 45-24 at halftime, and 61-30 at the end of the third quarter.

Vargas, with 12 points, was Post's high scorer, with Kim Owen and Danny Rose scoring 11 each. Hair scored 10, with Rosas getting five and Hays and Lee, one apiece.

FATHER, DAUGHTER REUNITED HERE AFTER 26 YEARS

It was a joyful reunion the other day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Redman when Mrs. Redman saw her father for the first time — that she could remember.

Judy (Mrs. Redman) was a year old when her father, Larry Howell, and her mother were divorced. The father and daughter had not seen each other for some 26 years until Mr. Howell and his second wife drove here from their home in Salem, Ill., to visit his daughter.

Mrs. Redman had gone to the school to pick up her 7½-year-old son, Dale, and when she returned home her father and his wife were in the driveway. Mrs. Redman said she recognized her father almost immediately from pictures she had seen of him.

The Howells, who are proprietors of a home for the aged in Salem, spent a few days here with the Redmans. Thursday, Jimmie's mother, Mrs. Ethel Redman, visited in her son's home and they all had dinner together.

Judy lived in Clovis, N. M., when she and Jimmie were married. Besides the son, Dale, they have a 3½-year-old daughter, Dee Dee.

I didn't join the Peace Corps for the greatest reasons. Not what you'd call altruism.

If you want to know, I joined because I had this idea of doing something I wasn't supposed to do. I mean, go far away. See things. Expand my mind. That stuff.

What I was supposed to do was marry a split-level house. I never exactly intended to teach.

Maybe what I really am is, different. And maybe I wouldn't ever have married a split-level house. Maybe.

But I couldn't give up after college. I wasn't ready, if you could say that. I joined the Peace Corps and I went to Simoe, Liberia.

It was so wild and new and, you know, definitely scary. A small plane with no landing field. People packing my gear on their heads, like a safari.

But then the Hollywood part of it comes to an end. It ends, I think, when you can't wash your hands when you want to. Or go to a nice john.

Or you feel tired when you go to bed. A nice tired. I never worked before. Really worked.

And then something different starts. I taught kids. I taught teachers. Me. I went home with them.

I'd sit and we'd all worry about something. A pickup truck with a busted fuel pump. Could I get some American lipstick. Maybe mention that a woman wouldn't have to have a million kids if she didn't want to. Malawi.

Then the next day I'd think I was just a teacher. Except there'd be fried plantain for breakfast.

And you get a magazine. And you think about America. Martin Luther King. And you don't know. I never seriously thought I would change the world. Does anyone believe it any more?

A message to those Americans who don't happen to think the land of milk and honey is going all sour.

Our country is in a strange mood these days. Uncertainty surrounds us. So what can you do about it? Well, first of all, maybe you should take a long, hard look at this country of ours. Maybe we should look at our healthy side as well as our ills. And maybe, just maybe, you'll find we're not all that bad. Sure we have our problems. And they're not going to go away if you just stand along the sidelines as a spectator. But they might start to go away if you seriously want to do something for your country.

U.S. Savings Bonds is one way. Let's say you fork over $18.75 of your hard-earned cash. Through a Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or at your bank. That will give you a bond that's worth $25.00 in just 7 years. If you did that every month you'd stash away quite a nest egg for yourself. And so would your country. Your country would be economically stronger to find remedies for some of the headaches we have. While it's preserving something called freedom. Something that's hard to appreciate. Until you lose it. Savings bonds now have a new high interest rate of 4½%. And buying them gives you the privilege of also buying the even higher interest 5% Freedom Shares in combination. However you look at it, it simply makes a lot of sense to invest in your country. After all, it's the only country you've got.

Advances in electric appliances, equipment and electric service — all to make living and working better for all of us — are acknowledged during National Electrical Week.

But other services for the betterment of our city which Reddy happily performs may not come to mind.

For example, Reddy has co-workers trained in helping you to attract new business and industry, to aid you with ideas in ways to keep your city looking smart as well as beautiful, to help you with printed materials necessary to tell new industrial prospects why your city is a good one.

And, right now, Reddy has a new film ready for showing to your clubs and organizations. It's called "Money Grows Here" and shows in beautiful color the advantages that new industry can have by locating in our area.

THE BUSIEST MUSCLE IN YOUR BODY -- YOUR HEART -- BEATS ABOUT 40,000,000 TIMES A YEAR. TO DO THE SAME AMOUNT OF WORK, YOU WOULD HAVE TO LIFT A 10-POUND WEIGHT THREE FEET OFF THE GROUND TWICE EVERY MINUTE OF YOUR ENTIRE LIFE!

THE HUMAN MUSCLE CAN LIFT 1,000 TIMES ITS OWN WEIGHT. IF ALL THE SKELETAL MUSCLES WORKED AT ONCE A 180-POUND MAN WOULD BE ABLE TO LIFT -- UNAIDED -- 36 TONS!

GOOD WAY TO MUSCLE IN ON SPRAINS AND STRAINS WHEN HOISTING A HEAVY OBJECT IS TO PREVENT THEM BY WRAPPING EACH WRIST WITH AN ACE ELASTIC BANDAGE, MADE BY BECTON, DICKINSON AND COMPANY BEFORE YOU BEGIN TO LIFT.

Southland still on map correspondent writes

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Greetings from Southland! Yes, we are still on the map! I was gone weekend before last and didn't get home until late Monday, so didn't have time to write a column. We went to Plano and had a very nice visit with friends and attended the wedding of their daughter.

Once again I haven't collected very much news. I know that there are things happening in our community that would be interesting to others, but I don't hear about them and therefore, I can't put them in the paper. I don't have a telephone at the post office but you can call my home any day of the week after 4:30 p. m. and catch me or some member of my family. I am going to continue to try and secure the local news for a few more weeks, and then if I don't do any better than I have for the past couple of months, I guess I will quit entirely. I have really enjoyed being your reporter but maybe someone else would do a better job.

Congratulations to Jose Herrera of Lubbock and Miss Juanita Cordona of Southland who were united in marriage Jan. 29. May God bless this young couple.

A belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dunn on the birth of their son. It is really official this time, too! If you will remember, about two years ago I put it in this very column that they had a little girl -- and guess what? They didn't! We are very happy for the Ronnie Duns, for they now have two fine sons!

Joe E. Basinger, Mike Mason and Darrell Wilke took their tests at Texas Tech Monday of last week.

Visitors in our home during the past two weeks were Wallace Sage, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang, Gus Meiller, Mr. and Mrs. James Riney and Cathy and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McMinn.

Patsy Dunn and her roommate, Linda Flowers, of Waco, were Sunday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Dunn.

Edmund Stulle and some other men went fishing at LBJ Lake last week. Edmund fished some with Marcus Wilke, who recently moved to the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wartes and daughter of Fort Worth are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wartes, and with her parents in Post.

Carl Wartes entered West Texas Hospital in Lubbock Monday with surgery planned for Wednesday. May God grant him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vernon were Sunday dinner guests of the G. D. Ellises.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker attended a birthday celebration last Sunday for his 94-year-old aunt, Luella Mertz, in Stamford. She is still active -- isn't that just wonderful!

Received a letter from Mrs. Z. K. McKee last week and she said to tell her neighbors hello and that she will come back to Southland just as soon as it gets warm.

Love Hagens and some other men went to Falcon Lake recently and from all reports, they really caught a lot of fish. Congratulations, fellows!

FISHING! Just hearing that word makes me want to go to the basement, get my fishing rod and tackle box and head for the nearest lake! Every pretty and warm day that we have had lately, I just sit here and wish that I was sitting on a bank or in a boat trying to outsmart those fish!

Mrs. Stonewall Jefferson recently returned from a trip to Corpus Christi.

The house that did belong to the school, which was sold recently, sure does look nice now. It has been painted and everything has been cleared out and cleaned up around in the yard. The Garzas who bought it are to be commended for taking pride in their property. Wish everyone would take more interest in how their property looks! Things sure do get looking bad here in Southland, especially in the summer when the weeds grow so tall.

PAY BILLS

To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly -- never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor.

Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collection and has changed your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed or altered unless subsequent dealings with the same firm results in a better record.

Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit bureau. Payment in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come -- perhaps for the rest of your life.

Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts.

Keep your picture bright and shining and enjoy all the conveniences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.
