The 'good life' of the small town

Each year, The Dispatch publishes in its "graduation edition" an editorial aimed at you seniors who soon will step forward in caps and gowns for your diplomas from Post High School.

Each year, The Dispatch has varied its "free advice." But each year its primary motive has been to urge these young men and women, the product of Post's most important industry—our schools—to aim high and keep climbing.

Our theme this year is quite different from most of our editorial persuasion.

We want to extoll for you seniors the "good life" of the "small town" and encourage as many of you as possible to return to Post once your college education has been completed.

Life in Post is as "great" as you will find anywhere.

To encourage you to do this, we must admit our shortcomings. We cannot offer all of you the opportunities you may find elsewhere in our growing, complex world. But we can say rather firmly that we oldsters here in Post are "working on it."

During your senior year, Post has made more strides in getting up on its toes and "progressing" than it has in any year since you have been in school. Sure, it's only a start. But it is a start. And it has generated some momentum.

We've had some Post High grads who have gone off to college and returned to Post.

Credit where credit is due

The Dispatch certainly would be amiss if it did not extend its enthusiastic editorial congratulations to Mary Mayo and the Woman's Culture Club for their two first place awards in Texas-wide competition last week in the Shell Oil Company's Environmental Responsibility Program.

Mary, with Bailey proudly watching, picked up two beautiful plaques and checks for $400 and $300 at Dallas last Tuesday night at the annual banquet during the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs annual state convention.

Mrs. Mayo, who happens to be a charming neighbor of ours, will tell you that it was the kids and the folks of Post who won the

Shows faith in Post's future

Dr. Charles G. Tubbs has twice proven his faith in the future of our community at Post.

The first time was when he returned to his hometown not too long ago to begin his medical practice with his father, Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, after he had completed medical school and his internship.

The second came after the Medical Center and Laboratory was "burned out" by a disastrous fire several months ago. This young physician again faced some choices.

As a result he found himself a building contractor who specializes in rebuilding fire damaged buildings and rebuilt the Medical Center and Laboratory into a larger and more beautiful building with the most appealing front of any business or professional building in Post.

What our contemporaries are saying

Some people say "politics is" and others say "politics are" nobody seems sure whether the noun is singular or plural. To settle the argument, let's say that plural is correct. Anyway... this year, politics are about as plural as you can get.—Belton, Tex., Journal.

contest with the massive 1971 community clean-up. True, perhaps, in a way. But the generator of that community project quite obviously was Mary herself. It was her tremendous energy which "put it all together." Few projects of such scope ever pass from the "planning" to the "doing" stages without a Mary Mayo who gets the job done and then hands off all the credit to somebody else.

The purpose of this editorial, principally, is to point out to you Mary that you don't fool any of us one whit, and you simply can't duck the credit which rightfully belongs to you and to the Woman's Culture Club.—JC

It's all here for you. We need more young people to come back to us and to go to work building an even better community.

We'll promise you this. By the time you've finished college we'll see to it that there are even more opportunities here in Post for you. We're working on it. We're "moving again," as the politicians would say.

Post in the years ahead is going to be a great community in which to settle down and raise your family. Think about us when you plan your future. We're thinking about you.—JC

Since the Amity Junior Study Club's story had a Mother's Day theme, we were especially reluctant to leave it out — because Mother's Day would be over before our next chance to run the story.

At the time, however, there was nothing else we could do, but we didn't throw the story away. And, just to make sure it gets in this week's Dispatch, I'm running it here in my column.

THE NEWS THE study club members brought in told of Alfonso Reyna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Reyna of 408 North Ave. I, winning the contest with this letter: "My mom works at the nursing home. I love my mom. I love her very much, so I will give the prize I win to my mom. She is very nice to me. She helps me work. She comes home at night and sometimes she comes home in the morning." (For his letter, Alfonso won a corsage for his mother.) The club received nearly 30 letters in the contest.

The man up the street says he plans to write Ralph Nader and ask: "Do you have any examples of anyone who's doing anything

Ten years ago

THE NEW president of Burlington Industries, Charles F. Myers Jr., of Greensboro, N.C., and his party fly to Lubbock via Burlington jet for his first tour of the Posttex Plant here; for the second time within three weeks, the City of Post asked residents to turn off their

In a way, it's good to have to leave out local news because that shows that not only our news contributors, but also our news staff is on the ball — else there wouldn't be so much local news that some of it has to be left out.

THE FIRST JOB I ever took as a news editor, the owner of the paper warned me he would not be completely satisfied with my work until we had to leave local news out of every week's issue. Since we published a 16-page paper every week, that turned out to be quite a job and if it hadn't been a live-wire town and I hadn't had two eager-beaver reporters in the news department, I might have been looking for another job in a hurry.

No one is happier to get news than we here at The Dispatch office, since collecting and disseminating news is what we're here for. So, keep the news coming, folks, and as soon as we get past these few "tight" issues that have hit one week after another, we'll see that nothing is left out.

AS AN EXAMPLE of what I'm trying to get across about leaving out news, the Amity Junior Study Club last week sent in news of a Mother's Day letter-writing contest it conducted among primary school students. Well, to make a long story short, this particular story was one of those that didn't get in the paper. At the same time we got the story, there were only four pages of The Dispatch left to be rolled off the press, and we had enough news and pictures on the type dump for at least five pages. Then, Thursday morning a front page story we hadn't anticipated "broke", and we were in even worse shape as far as space was concerned.

THE NEWS THE study club members brought in told of Alfonso Reyna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Reyna of 408 North Ave. I, winning the contest with this letter: "My mom works at the nursing home. I love my mom. I love her very much, so I will give the prize I win to my mom. She is very nice to me. She helps me work. She comes home at night and sometimes she comes home in the morning." (For his letter, Alfonso won a corsage for his mother.) The club received nearly 30 letters in the contest.

lawn sprinklers and help conserve water; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Boucher entertained with buffet supper in honor of their nephew, Tommy Boucher, and Roger Camp, members of this year's graduating class; Culture Club presents 1962 student award to Miss Danella Bateman; Chris Cornish elected president of 1962-63 pep squad; Marcia Newby named junior high editor, and Sherry Woods assistant editor.

PERHAPS YOU didn't know it, but this is Rural Mailbox Improvement Week, May 15-20, and Nursing Home Week, May 14-21.

Since there are, or have been, similar situations here, there is interesting news in some of our exchanges this week. Up at Floydada, the Caprock Hospital has "imported" two registered nurses from Ireland, which is almost across the world from where Garza Memorial Hospital brought two RN's — the Philippines.

THE SEAGRAVES paper reports that vandals struck at the Babe Ruth League ball park there and did more than $500 worth of damage, most of it coming from shooting out 77 of the 88 park lights with either a pellet gun or a BB gun. The Seagraves Lions, who built the park and dedicated it to the boys of Seagraves and Loop, offer a $50 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the felons.

This is about the first year that the Babe Ruth League ball park in Post has had any kind of "luck" in escaping vandalism, although there has been a minor incident or two. Let's hope the "good luck" continues.

IN VIEW OF the city council's decision to crack down on unlicensed motor-bike and motorcycle operators here, it is interesting to read in the Slaton newspaper that the city commission's biggest vehicle problem there is not with motor-bikes, etc., but with bicycles. At their last meeting the Slaton "city dads" discussed numerous complaints of youngsters riding and parking bicycles on the city sidewalks. We're not bothered so much with that here, although there has been a time or two I've stepped out the front door of The Dispatch office without looking and almost been knocked for a loop by a bicycle.

Martha Couch named asst. Gaines agent
SEMINOLE — Miss Martha Couch, a spring graduate of Texas Tech University, has been named the assistant county home demonstration agent at Seminole, effective, May 21.

Miss Couch is a native Luther community in Garza County and is the daughter of Mrs. John Couch, Sr. and Mrs. John Couch, Jr. She graduated from Borden County School at Gail and attended Garza County Junior College. Experience is the only cure for inexperience.

Thank You, Citizens of Garza County

Your hard work and pride in our community made it possible for the Woman's Culture Club to be awarded first place youth involvement awards in the SHELL OIL ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSIBILITY CONTEST at the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs awards banquet in Dallas May 9.

The report which was entered in this contest was made from the press clippings from The Post Dispatch and the primary photos made by the Soil Conservation Service.

Thanks to the local merchants who purchased space in The Post Dispatch to advertise the county-wide clean-up.

We would like to take this opportunity to say THANK YOU for a job well done.

Among those who helped with the various phases of the county-wide clean-up and are working with us on the Algeria Park site are:

Youth Groups: Boy Scouts, Cubs and Leaders; Girl Scouts and Leaders; 4-H Clubs, Leaders and Co. Leaders; Conner; FFA, FHA, teachers and sponsors; high school students and officers; and Johnny Horizon and leaders.

Adult Civic Clubs and Organizations: Lions, Rotary, Commerce, Women's Division of Chamber, Jaycees, Amity Junior, Beta Sigma Phi's, Gamma Mu-ESA, Myrtle, Priscilla, Needlecraft, Merry-makers, Historical Society, Broadway Bunch, Music Club.

Individuals and others: Post Dispatch and Jim Cornish, department and Neal Clary, SCS and staff, City, Pete McConner and employees, Mayor Giles McCrary, County Judge Giles and county commissioners, Green Thumb crew, Pester and Vic Slater and employees, First National Bank and J. B. Lou Marks and youth group, Toby Thomas, Bill Slone school system, Texas Highway Dept., Joe Williams and DPS Patrolman Ken Gilbreath, Mr. and Mrs. George Platteau, Great Plains Distributors, Lubbock, Coca Cola Bottling, Lubbock, and Bell Dairy Products of Lubbock.

The monetary awards from Shell Oil will be used at the Algeria Park site and for other planned beauty projects which can be used and enjoyed by all of the citizens of Garza County.

Senior class will bequeaths juniors variety of 'benefits'

Senior prophecy takes look at future

On this, the 6th day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1972, we, the senior class, being of sound mind and memory, and having reached the point where we know our remaining days are numbered, do make known our last will and testament, hereby revoking any former agreements.

Johnny Wallace passes down the heirloom which he obtained from Dee Justice, who received it from David Pierce. This precious article, his sideburns and ability to love, plus a Piggy Wiggle apron thrown in as a bonus goes to Ricky King.

To Rodney Compton goes Bobby Norman's little black book, with hopes he will try again someday.

Liz Torres wills Anita Criado the ability to go to Snyder, including the enjoyable bus trips. Anita is also to receive Ruthie Harper Sloan's beautiful voice. Ruthie will be dancing talent and intelligence to Gilbert Harper.

Kenny McKamie leaves to Johnny Minor his ability to stay away from cookie machines.

Dewayne Morris wills his beautiful head of hair to Noel Saldivar, so that he will now stand out in a crowd.

Pam Gray receives a dress, compliments of the senior girls, and a along with JoBeth Gandy, a one-way ticket to Phil Mathews' hippie haven. JoBeth is to also receive David Woods' cowboy boots and a hat in hopes that someday she will see the real way.

Karen Pruitt wills her ability to stay awake in English to Jim my Bertran.

Kelly Duren leaves his name of Mickey Mouse to Danny Lee and hopes he gets a lot of cheese.

Gloria DeLeon wills her singing ability to Carmen Villa even though she did flunk in her music class.

Patti Allison wills her ability to get out of school to Ann Aten.

Melvina Stewart wills her love for horses and desire to ride to Gaynell King.

Glen Branson leaves Jerry Smith his ability to settle down during his senior year.

Carol Compton leaves all her hiphuggers to Colleen Gilmore and hopes she wears them often. Colleen is also to receive Debbie Cross' beautifully shaped legs.

Sue Britton is to receive Wanda Heintz's straight hair, silent giggle and freckless face.

Vivian Vasquez has been willed Ronald Tyler's slide rule.

Wayland Hood leaves his wild and wicked driving to Dennis Higgins.

Jackie Moore and Mary Joyce Heaton realized how fortunate they were to have been willed the ability to date and now wish to pass it on to Maude Cade and Jodie Gandy. Maude is also to receive Lucy Valdez's FHA diary so she won't be left out as an officer next year.

Meilba Mathis feels she must rid herself of a burden before she heads for college, so she returns Mike Feagin to his sister Pam.

John McVay wills his drag racing ability to David Rogers.

Eva Martinez wills Diane Woods her ability to respect teachers and not lose her temper.

Randell Hays leaves his brilliant intelligence in completing the annual to Phillis Eckolsa and Debbie Hood, also his spot on the bench to Danny Lee.

Debra Oden wills Phillis her short legs, so now she can look up to things in this world.

Dan Hodges is to receive Gary Shepherd's fabulous English capabilities.

Debra York wills Donnie Hair and Steve Mason one key each to the Hole in The Wall, so they will never get locked out again. She also leaves her Raquel Welch image to Connie Flores.

Wynette Byrd leaves her ability to do bookkeeping without bothering everybody in class to Gail Browning and her costumes from the various plays to Crystal Nicholas. Paula Criswell wills Mary Cheshire her almost perfect attendance record.

Vickie Kruger leaves her ability to be high pointer in FHA to Donna McBride.

Allen Woods wills his skinny physique to Howard Halford.

Scotty Hoyle leaves his Playboy collection to T. C. Curtis, also his soul image in hopes he will put it to good use. Scotty leaves his lightning fast speed to Kenneth Price, so that maybe someday he can break his speed records.

The senior football boys will their ability to resist the vices of life to the junior football boys and remind them that a cotton field is a poor place to hide after games.

Marchelle Hoyle and Linda Manuel will their hair color to Chris Reiter in hopes it changes his image.

David Hart wills his thief ability, nice manners, and all his memories of mean teachers to Tol Thomas and Junior Steeler.

Jan Bilbo is to receive Dejuana Hays' old twirling uniforms and her ability to keep from falling while doing hitch kicks during football games.

Sonny Bevers wills Ricky Thomas his ability to get along with Ag teachers and also his book on the proper way to turn over a pickup.

Vince Gribble is to be the proud new owner of the hair off Kim Owen's chest. Kim also gives Robert Varela all his Brownie points from the coaches.

The senior choir members will their ability to truly enjoy choir trips without facing the consequences to the junior choir members.

Mark Hays wills his flamboyant nature, big mouth, and somewhat large feet (all in a perfectly matched set) to Mike Smith; also his well used bottle of Hi Karate without the instructions for self defense, because it's more fun that way. Mike is also to receive Tommy Shumard's masculinity.

Larry Hair wills Roger Pace the ability to drive without running over telephone poles.

Sally Dorland leaves Trena Jackson the ability to get "most popular" her senior year, and also wills her legs to Freddy Huff, since he loves, admires and compliments them so much.

Fran Lappen wills nothing but good luck to the entire junior class, because she feels they will need it to live up to the standards we have set.

Don Eilenberger wills his driving record to Ricky Bush.

Lanita Justice leaves Randy Kennedy all those lonely corners in the hall with a warning that they had better remain lonely.

Wilma Bullard leaves her ability to jump hurdles to Robert Reiter's car, and her initials to Willie Joe Bell.

The senior band members leave two cases of white shoe polish to next year's seniors with hopes for better luck next time.

Sandra Olive leaves the request that Terry Shedd someday learn how to fill a cup and she also leaves her height to Rodney Ray.

I leave my volume to Rafael Rios and a half used Curl Free kit to Billy Criswell.

Kyle Josey has nothing to give to anyone, he needs everything that he's got.

Tony Rosas wills his well used track shoes and sweaty warmups to Arthur Ayala.

To Mario Vasquez we leave all our left over tempera paints for use in his future works of art.

G. B. Wilke leaves his reputation of being vivacious to John Johnson.

Nancy Cook leaves her Duck title to Janyce Brockman since she is tired of being known as a quack. Nancy also leaves all her cheerleading talent and coordination to Pat Johnson.

Janyce is also to take possession of all Sue Parrish's single days in

WILL AND PROPHECY READ AT BANQUET

Among the many highlights of the annual Junior-Senior banquet the night of May 8 was the reading of the class will and class prophecy of this year's Post High School graduating class. Both the will and prophecy appear on this page of The Dispatch's Graduation Edition.

The class will was read by Patti Nelson and the prophecy by Mike Hays.

hopes she enjoys the few she has left.

Dusty Norman wills anything he had to anybody who wants it, if he has anything that anybody wants.

Mike Hays wills all his typing ability to Steve Cooper.

Mary Ann Wright wills her ability to win district in tennis to Bill Hudman.

We leave nothing to Robert Mindieta because he seems to have everything he needs.

We leave to all juniors our unused senior textbooks, privileges, our great quality of leadership, our dirty lockers, and last, but by all means not least, our title of the "sour grapes."

To Mrs. Alexander we leave all her essentials for class and a full confession by the thieves who stole her books.

To all our teachers we leave our signatures written and sometimes carved on the desks, our gratitude, and most probably quite a few gray hairs.

For Mr. Pollard and Mr. Shiver, we simply leave.

The fortunate beneficiaries may take possession of the new found treasures upon the date we cease to exist, which we feel is drawing near. We appoint the principal as executor of this our will and testament.

We the class of '72 do set our 61 names and our seal to this document witnessed by our sponsors Coach King, Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Fleming.

I would like to tell you about a strange experience I had just the other night. I was in an old antique shop and I discovered an old crystal ball. The owner of the shop told me that the crystal ball could show me the future, so I bought it and took it home. To my amazement, the crystal ball really worked. The odd thing about it was that every one of my classmates appeared in it.

The first person I saw was Kelly Duren. Kelly was working as Mickey Mouse at Disneyland. He is the only one left who does not have to wear a Mickey Mouse uniform.

Next I saw Johnny Wallace. Johnny Wallace now has a mustache and is taking pictures for The Post Dispatch. His new nickname is "Charlie."

Sonny Bevers is doing well with his pork sausage plant down at Beversburg, Texas. Sonny always did work well with the pigs.

Tony Rosas and Liz Torres are now operating their own restaurant. Their new eating place is called "Tony's Tacos."

Nancy Cook is the new owner of Nancy's Charm School. Nancy specializes in teaching poise, coordination, and how to walk like a duck.

I see that there will be a few teachers coming out of our senior class. Wilma Bullard is now teaching civics at Post High School. Mary Heaton is the new Spanish teacher and Ronald Tyler is now teaching physics. Gee, what is Post High coming to?

Debra York is married and living a happy life.

Lucy Valdez is now operating a chain of service stations. She never fails to check the oil or wash the windshield personally.

Debbie Cross is working as a top Army recruit.

David Woods is now part owner and operator of two businesses. He is part owner of two businesses. He is the Cafeteria and also Willie's Longbranch.

Gary Shepherd is the new chief of police at Kalgary, Texas. Due to the great number of people to watch over at Kalgary, Gary can no longer spend any time in the pool hall, where he used to reign as champ.

I can now see that Mark Clayton and Bobby Norman, who are now professional golfers, have teamed up to beat Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino.

Randell Hays is the new manager of KOMA with Brad Lott as his chief assistant.

Sandra Olive and Fran Lappen are now working successfully as top secretaries.

David Hart is now working vigorously for the law enforcement agencies. David is now a highway patrolman and in his spare time is an agent for the Liquor Control Board.

Next I see Kyle Josey. Kyle is the new judge of Garza County. The only time Kyle ever misses any work is when he comes down with a migraine headache.

I see a few of our seniors have joined the armed forces. Vickie Kruger and Ruthie Harper are now barking out orders for the Air Force and Allen Woods is now in the Navy.

Patti Nelson has now taken over the First National Bank at Post, Tex.

Pati Allison is the operator of her own taxi service with Lanita Justice as her chief assistant.

Dusty Norman enjoyed working at Darby Don's so much, he is the new manager. Dusty, who never needs any sleep, operates the biggest and only drive-in left in Post. Linda Manuel and Marchelle Hoyle are new cheerleaders for the Harlem Globetrotters.

Dejuana Hays is now living in Post and giving free lessons on how to twirl a baton. Next I see Dewayne Morris. Dewayne is now serving a seven-year term in the state prison for writing "7" on everything in sight.

Scotty Hoyle is trying out for the Olympics in the 100-yard dash. I see that Jackie Moore is out looking for work. It seems that she couldn't hold onto her job of coaching the girls' basketball team at Post.

Mark Hays has just signed up with the Green Bay Packers to play professional football. Mark always was that rough, rugged type.

Tommie Shumard has recently been crowned Mr. Atlas. Tommie, who has now trimmed down to just over 450 pounds, had to give up his Mr. Masculinity title to receive his new one.

Meilba Mathis, who was always such a good authority on boys, is now a marriage counselor.

G. B. Wilke and Wayland Hood are now owners and operators of Wilke & Hood's Budweiser Distributing Company.

Larry Hair, who is now famous for his bird calls, is the new president of the Roustabout Hairy Oil Company. His next mission is to go to the moon and search for oil. Due to his company's demands he has long since been divorced from Nan Hair.

Mary Ann Wright is the new woman's singles tennis champion. Since Mary Ann was so good in high school, we knew she would be world champ someday.

John McVay is now posing for Cosmopolitan's centerfold picture. John is now 7' 5" and weighs in at 135 pounds.

Debra Oden has recently been selected the new Miss Tall America. She won the contest at a height of 6'5". I wonder how she managed that.

Gloria DeLeon has finally discovered the fountain of youth. I wonder what Ponce would have thought.

Don "Garlits" Eilenberger has now set a record for the quarter mile at 300 mph. Don has taken on over 400 challengers and has still to be beaten.

Carol Compton is Mr. Pollard's new secretary.

Next I see Paula Criswell. Paula is working at Ticer's 7 till 11 Grocery Store. Paula just could not make the grades.

Kim Owen and Wynette Byrd are now top recording artists singing their latest hit "If I Were a Carpenter."

Glen Branson, who has now been a father eight times, is the new manager of Wacker's.

Eva Martinez is now taking care of a herd of water buffalo. She has her ranch just south of town.

I then saw in the crystal ball where Melvena Stewart had recently been chosen the new Miss Cowgirl of America.

I, Mike Hays, am predicted to be fixing TVs at TV Appliance Center. Sally Dorland has now moved from Post and is working full time

Library LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER

Say, friends, there's a new thing going on down at the library that has us all pleased as punch. We asked Mrs. Glenda Morrow if she would direct a story hour for preschool children for us, and she said she'd be glad to.

Well sir, we mentioned it once or twice and three or four children dropped in that first Wednesday morning. Glenda read a story to the children and then had an art project for them. It was over in an hour, and we had no idea what we had set rolling.

The last week I checked on them 20 children had come for a story hour and we were scratching our heads wondering where we could find some more help. Twenty kids is just a mite too much for one person.

And remember this, we haven't said a whole lot about this story hour project. Not that we wanted to keep it a secret or anything, it's just sort of got overlooked. We spread the word around mainly by conversation and phone call. The response has been remarkable. So when we get in gear and REALLY spread the word, there's no telling where we will put all the kids.

We are already thinking of having two different groups, and we've even a third one out at the Community Action Building. It's a workers, of course. Our library already has her hands more than full. Anybody out there ready to volunteer for the summer? Let's hear from you. We've got a program on our hands, but we need help.

Summer means summer reading Club. We've done this for several years now, and several hundred children have participated. We keep track of the books they read during the summer months, and those who have read at least twelve books are awarded a special reading certificate.

Last year we had hoped for a better turnout than we got. We wonder if maybe the children they had read all the books have? I'd be surprised if they have. We've added several hundred dollars worth of new books to the juvenile room, enough surely satisfy the appetites of the voracious readers. We hope kids will come down and find the week of May 30. The library has the materials to sign you so come down and get started.

SUCCESS Class of '72

Here's to you—and your future. We hope that all the endeavors you undertake will be successful ones.

Post lake talk—

Post is going to get that lake, O'Brien assured the group, but the big question is when. He said eventually Lubbock would have to build or buy water from both the proposed Post and Justiceburg Lakes, but he did not see any possibility to sell Lubbock any drinking water for quite a few years yet.

The water district manager had just returned from the state capital where he attended the Austin hearings Tuesday on Lubbock's request for water rights to build the first seven canyon lakes.

State approval was given for the first six small lakes in Mackenzie Park area but a decision on a 800-acre No. 7 lake to be used for recreation was taken under advisement because of opposition from the water district which operates Buffalo Lake.

A state water rights hearing on the 50,000 acre-foot lake—No. 8—near Slaton was set for Sept. 11, pending Lubbock's working out a satisfactory agreement with the White River Water District. O'Brien indicated here no funds now are in sight for Lubbock to act on a build Lakes 7 and 8.

Members of the Chamber's Post Lake committee, besides Chairman Chapman, are K. W. Kirkpatrick, Jack Lott, Tom Bouchier, Jack Hair, Harold Lucas and Bo Jackson.

The dinner meeting was called to give community leaders a close look at all the difficulties involved in financing a lake without tax money and to get the Chamber's lake committee into its first huddle with O'Brien.

Weekend lake permits boosted

Recreation permits at White River Lake have been boosted to $1.50 for Fridays and Saturdays and returned to a "daily" (midnight to midnight) rather than continuing on a 24-hour basis.

These actions came at the May meeting of water district directors last Thursday night. The two changes will become effective tomorrow.

Directors were quick to point out that the cost changes should not affect residents of the four district towns as all taxpayers and their families have free admission to the lake.

The changes are designed for increased recreational revenue and the hike from $1 to $1.50 on weekends actually is an effort to reduce the big crowds which drive out from Lubbock and almost overrun the lake area.

As one Crosbyton director said, "We are not trying to be the biggest lake in Texas."

Attending the meeting from Post were Directors S. E. Camp, J. B. Potts, Julius Steizer, and Publisher Jim Cornish.

June decision—

The City of Post is seeking a grant from the Federal Housing Authority for the South Plains Housing Authority of which Garza County is a part.

The action came after the commission discussed the grant with Howard Maddera and Mr. McLeod, representing the South Plains Housing Authority.

Three members of the Post Public Library trustees met with the court for an hour to request additional county funds in the 1973 budget to enable the library to make the transition to a paid librarian.

Meeting with the commission and explaining library goals and progress to date were Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick, the Rev. George L. Miller and Jim Cornish.

The commission appointed Mrs. Anne Tubbs as Garza's representative to MAST, the organization handling emergency helicopter service.

CUBS SCOUTS VISIT MUSEUM

Cub Scouts of Den 1 were taken on a tour of the Garza County Historical Museum recently by Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick, museum association president. The group is pictured clustered around the historical marker at the museum. In the group are Cub Scouts Russell Fluitt, Ronnie Bilbo, Derald Seals, Kirt Robison, Drew Kirkpatrick, Kevin Craig, Chester Robinson, Allen Carpenter and Mark Short. At the rear are Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Johnny Robison and Mrs. K. Kirkpatrick, den mother.

Housing authority seeks gov't funds

Five from Post SPC candidates

LEVELLAND — South Plains College will confer degrees, Friday May 19, on a record number of 313 graduating sophomores, 49 more than crossed the commencement stage last year. Degrees will be conferred during special commencement exercises in the college's Texas Dome at 10 a.m.

Five students from Post are among the degree candidates. They are: Jay Cliff Bird, Garland Davis, Larry D. Johnson, David Allen Mock and Dicky M. Wallace.

Dr. B. H. Amstead, president of the University of Texas at the Permian Basin, Odessa, will deliver the address.

Post residents attend funeral

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shaw, Mrs. C. J. Seals and Mrs. C. L. Warren returned Wednesday of last week from Waxahachie where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Shaw's sister, Mrs. Ammie Creghead, 66.

Mrs. Creghead, a native of Sherman, had lived in Waxahachie since she was a small child. She was a longtime member of the First Assembly of God Church in that community.

She also is survived by her husband, one daughter, three other sisters, two brothers, a granddaughter, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Drug education—

Adult leadership assistance and money for a troop fund was requested for the committee's sponsored Boy Scout troop of which Amado Fuentes Jr. is scoutmaster. Fuentes was reported having to operate the troop by himself and was "going into his own pocket" to pay various troop needs or those of his scouts.

Federal funds are available for the purchase of a good used stove for the community center if such a stove can be located here at a reasonable price, the committee was told. Mrs. Shytles should be contacted by anyone having such a stove for sale.

Democrats elect three delegates

Precinct delegates attending Saturday's Garza County Democratic convention elected Joe E. Taylor, Ewell E. (Gene) Gandy and W. E. (Pete) Smith as delegates to the state conventions at San Antonio on June 13 and at Houston on Sept. 19.

The Garza County delegates will attend the state conventions uncommitted.

be an interesting afternoon.

Post is zipping right along on so many fronts these days. The Dispatch news staff finds itself hard pressed to give full coverage to all local news.

The Chamber of Commerce made a start here last night on what it hopes to be a successful — if long — road to the creation of the new Post Lake. Water buyers must be found before the project can hope for funding through a state water loan, but there was plenty of enthusiasm at last night's dinner meeting which was basically a ground-laying and information session. See a brief report on the session elsewhere on today's front page.

The first of those hand-painted rocks the Chamber ordered six weeks ago are now on sale here and any business firm which would like to handle them for the summer "tourist trade" are asked to get in touch with Chamber Secretary Wyvonne Kennedy. Mrs. Lois Williams and Mrs. Helen Welch, two of Post's growing contingent of artists, are the "rock painters" and they did a great job.

Eight civil suits set for court here

Eight cases are listed on the docket for a jury session of Garza District Court beginning here Monday afternoon. Five of them are damage suits.

The damage suits are Jess F. Masters vs. Wesley Lewis, doing business as Lewis Aircraft and Chemical Service and Ed Partridge; Emilio R. Luna vs. Arthur K. Jackson and Lawrence J. Jackson, dba Jackson Bros. Food Lockers; Boyce T. Verner vs. Glen Kleisel; Harry A. Tubbs vs. Ray Diekemper, Harry Westmoreland and Kirby Petroleum Co.; and Silas Short and wife vs. June Kiker.

Also on the docket is a compensation case, Francisco Tobias vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association; a garnishment case, Womble Olds vs. First National Bank of Post; and a suit on debt, Thomas Benjamin Mason, Ad., vs. Howard Kolb, et ux.

One hundred jurors have been called to hear the cases.

'His Land,' film on Israel, booked

"His Land," a one-hour color feature motion picture telling the thrilling story of Israel from ancient to modern times, will be shown at the Trinity Baptist Church, beginning at 8 p.m. Friday, May 19.

"His Land," rich in color and authentic sights and sounds, with a popular musical score composed and arranged by Ralph Carmichael, has been called a musical journey into the soul of a nation.

Everyone is invited to see the film, said the Rev. Rex Newkirk, pastor of the church.

Women's CoC gains new members

Fourteen new members were received into the Women's CoC of the Chamber of Commerce at a tea held recently in the home of Mrs. R. L. Marks.

The new members are Mary Prather, Vada Clemons, Pat Furlong, Bell, Willie Cross, Mary Hylan Nance, Alda Robison, Neida Cooper, Neida Hutto, Irene Mitchell and Kirkpatrick.

Some people are willing to take desperate chances because they have nothing to lose.

by THE BAKER COMPANY

Colors of bronze gold, russet and olive lend a warm, inviting atmosphere in the executive office of Mr. J. B. Potts, President. The timeless beauty of traditional furnishings also create a welcome invitation to bank clients.

THE COLLECTION OF ORIGINAL FINE ART PURCHASED BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK IS AN ASSET TO THE COMMUNITY THAT WILL BE ENJOYED FOR MANY YEARS.

Desks and chairs alone do not make an office . . . it is the "total concept" of layout and design. It must be efficient, comfortable and adapted to your needs. It must be designed to fit your individual tastes and to give you the pleasant, comfortable and functional surroundings you must have to stay ahead.

Cards pin first loop loss on Red Sox team, 5 to 4

The Cardinals hung one on the Red Sox Monday night, edging the previous unbeaten league leader, 1 to 0, and tightening the Little League race.

The Cards scored what proved to be the winning run in the bottom of the fifth when pitcher Brad Davis singled and catcher Danny Bratcher walked after shortstop Dale Gribble had popped out to the pitcher. Davis' single was the only hit for the Cards, but it was scored before Larry Harper, Red Sox pitcher, finished striking out Bruce Waldrip and Kohlenstein.

The fifth inning run put the Cardinals ahead 5-3, with the Sox scoring it one run closer in the bottom of the sixth when shortstop Ronald Bratcher doubled and scored on Gary Stites' single.

The Cards got but four hits off Red Sox pitcher, finished striking out Brent Terry and Kent Johnson getting one apiece.

The Sox gave up six hits to the Red Sox in the first two innings. Bratcher, Kelly Moore and Randy Ammons also hit in the first two.

The Dodgers scored five runs in the first inning against the Yankees Saturday night to take an early lead and go on to win, 12-6. Doug Egan, the winning pitcher, and his brother, Billy Smith, yielded only two hits. Bryan Compton singled in the first inning, and a double gave up hits to Wally Wright and Randy Baker.

Compton started on the mound for the Yankees, with Evans Heaton relieving him after three innings. The Dodgers' nine hits included a home run by first baseman and second baseman Mike Clump.

Hall and Smith, helped their cause with two hits each. The Yankees beat the Wildcats in extra innings Saturday night, 7 to 6, with Evans Heaton, who had singled, scoring the decisive run in the bottom of the seventh.

The Wildcats held a 3-2 lead going into the bottom of the third, but catcher Randy Baker tied the score with his lead-off homer. Shelby Barley, who had singled, scored in the fourth to give the Yanks a 4-3 lead, but the Wildcats came back with three in the top of the fifth to go back out in front 6-4. Single runs by the Yankees in the fifth and sixth frames knotted the count and sent the contest into extra innings.

Heaton, the third of three Yankee pitchers, was the winner, while Owen Gilbert, who had relieved Mike Clump going into the bottom of the seventh, was tagged with the loss. David Poole and Clump, with two hits apiece, led the Wildcats.

The Cardinals raked Doug Hall, who went four innings, and Charles Hall for a total of 11 hits. Brad Davis collected three of them and Kent Craig, Danny Gunn and Stephen Myers, two each.

Games will be played Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights in the four-team league.

cat batters, Compton, Heaton, Baker and Barley got two hits each for the winners.

In a make-up game Friday night the Tigers downed the Wildcats, 11 to 2, with Tommy Lockhart holding the 'Cats hitless through the three innings he pitched. Junior Mahon, who relieved him, gave up but two hits, singles to Poole and Daniel Davis.

The Tigers got seven hits off the Wildcats' Rodney Gray, who went the distance. First baseman Raymie Holly's three-for-four was the Tigers' best at-bat showing.

The Cards lambasted the Dodgers, 14 to 2, last Thursday night with Davis, who went five innings, giving up but three hits before being relieved by Brent Terry. Jack Moore got two of the losers' three safeties, with Billy Smith picking up the other.

The Cardinals raked Doug Hall, who went four innings, and Charles Hall for a total of 11 hits. Brad Davis collected three of them and Kent Craig, Danny Gunn and Stephen Myers, two each.

Indians, Braves beat Cubs, Sox in BR openers

The Indians, sponsored by Wilson Bros., and the Braves, sponsored by the Cross H Ranch, won Babe Ruth League openers Tuesday evening.

The Indians squeezed by the White Sox, 3-2, and the Braves blanked the Cubs, 8-0. H&M Construction sponsors the White Sox and the Cubs' sponsors are Jackson Bros. and Wylie Oil Co.

Since the official scorebook was not available to The Dispatch Wednesday morning at the sport page's deadline, no details of the games are given.

Tonight, the Cubs play the Indians and the White Sox take on the Braves.

FINAL ROUND SATURDAY

Slater leads in Samson tourney

Vic Slater, plant manager, is leading through the first round of Postex Plant's annual Scotty Samson 36-hole handicap golf tournament with a low net score of 72.

Slater, whose handicap is seven, shot a 79 last Saturday in the tournament's opening round.

The final 18 holes will be played this Saturday and will be followed by a putting tournament, according to D. H. Bartlett, manager of the Caprock Golf Course.

Scores through the first round are as follows; the first figure being the golfer's actual score and the second figure his net after his handicap is subtracted:

First Flight: Vic Slater, 79-72; Jack Kennedy, 86-73; Colley Gatlin 77-73 (first round medalist); Bill Crane, 79-73; Arthur Kelly, 82-74; Glenn Potts, 81-74; Jack Windlow, 85-74; Sid Pierce, 85-74.

Second Flight: Hugh Martin, 103-75; Walter Didway, 99-76; James Ammons, 87-76; Arlin Ford, 92-76; Delroy Odom, 104-76; Archie Gill, 97-76.

Third Flight: Lewis Ammons, 100-76; James Sweeten, 117-77; Keith Bullard, 101-77; Harvey Boulware, 115-77; Leon Medina, 125-77; James Melton, 116-79; Clarence Warren, 106-79.

Dentist speaker at 4-H members' project meeting

Dr. B. E. Young was guest speaker at the final meeting of the 4-H girls modeling project May 10. He spoke on the importance of caring for teeth and decay prevention.

This final meeting of the girls engaged in the modeling project is to be followed by a clothing project leading up to the July 7 dress revue.

Dana Feaster, home demonstration agent, showed a film at the meeting on spring fashions for 1972, and followed up with an open discussion of the new fashions.

Then, in keeping with the theme of the project, Linda Sanchez helped the 4-H members with their posture, walk and pivots.

Those attending were: Patricia Maddox, Nancy McCowen, Karla and Luann Kennedy, Theresa Orr, Julie and Pat Raymundo, Lucy Ayala, Glenna Bevers, Edna Solis, Sandra Bostick, Amy and Lisa Cowdrey, Christie Conner.

Also Nancy Maddox, Jamie Norman, Pilar Vasquez, Irene and Mary Ann Sanchez and Debbie Tyler. Also attending were leaders Patsy Sanderson and Odella Bevers, and a guest, Thelma Thomas.

King steps out as girls' cage coach

Athletic Director Bobby Davis is now looking for a new high school girls' basketball coach here following the request of N. R. (Jiggs) King to Supt. Bill Shiver this week for reassignment for the 1972-73 school year only in a teaching capacity.

He has been the girls' basketball coach for the Dosses for the last seven years and has coached the Post girls team many years in a prior coaching stint, Shiver said.

Lunchroom Menus

Post school lunchroom menus for the coming week are as follows:

Monday: Hamburger with kitchen made buns, lettuce, tomatoes, onions and pickles, buttered corn, french fries, pineapple pudding, half pint milk, mustard and mayonnaise.

Tuesday: Frito pie, cole slaw, pinto beans, strawberry jello with fruit, half pint milk.

Wednesday: Green beans, creamed potatoes, green salad, spice prune cake, hot rolls, half pint milk, butter.

Thursday: Barbecue, sweet potatoes, English peas, pear halves, plain cookies, biscuits, half pint milk.

Friday: Sloppy joes, home made buns, turnip greens, creamed potatoes, applesauce, gingerbread, half pint milk.

Teen-age baseball players needed

Manager Bill Holly of the Post Teen-age Baseball team issued another call this week for players 16 to 18 interested in trying out for the club.

The squad already has held two practice sessions and will play several practice games before it opens summer play in a four-team league, composed of one club from Tahoka and two from Lamesa, besides the Post club.

Holly says he has a good experienced nucleus for a team in this second season of league competition if he can just bolster a few positions.

Signup cards for candidates are available at the Post Recreation Center operated by Holly.

Odom and Redman, Lee Bustoz are fussball victors

The fussball tournament held Saturday at the Post Recreation Center was a big success, thanks to the people who participated, Bill and Joy Holly, manager of the center, report.

The first place trophy in doubles was won by the team of Darrell Odom and Charlie Redman, while Lee Bustoz walked off with the first place trophy in singles.

Runners-up in doubles were Lee Bustoz and Billy Criswell. Other teams entered were Larry Haynes and Lee Holly, Larry Hair and Kelly Duren, John Redman and Kevin Duren, Roy Collazo and Casey Zachary, Carl Holden and Reggie Moore, Larry Barner and Freddie Williams, Danny Vargas and Robert Pace, and Larry Hayes and Jerry Smith.

The second place trophy in the singles was won by Lee Roy Holly. Other singles contestants were Darrell Odom, Larry Hair and Larry Haynes.

Compton, Clayton win golf tourney

Bob Compton and Gerald Clayton won the partnership best-ball tournament at the Caprock Golf Course Sunday with a score of 68.

The winning team finished just a stroke ahead of the 69's posted by the teams of Jimmy Hundley and Lois Crump and Colley Gatlin and Wiley Hill.

Following with scores of 70's were the teams of Jimmie Bartlett and Charles Morris and Jim Doss and Sid Pierce, Felton Gatlin and Jim Hundley Sr. shot a 71, Donnie Hays and Roy Sappington a 74 and W. H. Childs and Larry Johnson a 77.

Church of Nazarene revival campaign is continuing here

The revival campaign under way at the Church of the Nazarene will continue through Sunday evening, May 21, according to the Rev. Tommy Davis, pastor.

The Rev. T. R. Louthan of Bernie, Mo., an outstanding Bible preacher, is the evangelist for the campaign.

All evening services begin at 7 o'clock, Sunday morning, 9 o'clock. School begins at 9:45, with the morning worship service beginning at 10:40.

The Rev. Mr. Davis extends an invitation to all in Post and surrounding communities to visit in the services. The church is located at 202 West 10th St.

About 800 Canada geese living at Begantine Wildlife Refuge, just north of Atlantic City, N.J., stay there the year round. They like it so much there they have dropped the migration habit.

FFA livestock judges win 3rd in district

by ALLEN WOODS
A trio consisting of Sonny Bevers, Tol Thomas and Jay Pollard made up the Post livestock judging team. The team competed at Midland and Plains, and also at the Texas Tech contest. They won third in district.
Tol Thomas was the high point man for Post. Jay Pollard placed fifth at Tech in the cattle division.

Byrd Heard??

The seniors would like to thank Maxine Marks, Gene Hays and Juanelia Hays for the most beautiful parties that they have given us. We, the seniors, hope that we will fulfill everyone's wishes and not let anyone down after we graduate.

Congratulations go to Mark Bevers for going to state in track. Keep up the good work, Mark, and you might accidentally put Post on the map.

Congratulations also go to Paula Criswell for receiving the honor of valedictorian. Wilma Bullard is the salutatorian, Ronald Tyler is our historian. Patti Nelson presented the class will at the junior-senior banquet, and Mike Hays presented the class prophecy.

Hay, Jackie, what time is Back-alack?

Don, it's not nice to look into girls' purses.

We would like to welcome Ken Spears to Post High. Ken came from Corpus Christi. He is classified as a freshman. W. B. Taylor is his grandfather. Welcome, Ken, to Post.

Cheerleader tryouts were held Friday, May 12. Congratulations, girls!

Twirlers for 1972-73 school year are: Sophomores, Jana McKamie, Sherry Compton, Tina McAlister; senior Jan Bilbo; and Head twirler Jodi Norman, a junior.

Only seven days left of school, Seniors!

Everyone better get on the ball and finish bookkeeping and typing or there will still be people in school in June!

Thought for today: Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

MOTHER'S DAY GUESTS

Mother's Day guests of Mrs. W. W. Stephens were Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Stephens and family from Plains, Mrs. Mansel Richardson and children of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Windham.

TRIO WINS FIRST PLACE

DEMONSTRATION WINNERS

Jerry Johnson (left) and Jay Kennedy won the natural resources demonstration team championship at the District 2 4-H contests in Lubbock May 6 and will represent the district at the state 4-H Roundup in June.

Punch party is given for all senior girls

Mrs. Juanelia Hays gave a punch party for all of the senior girls, Thursday, May 10, at 5 p.m. in the bank community room.

Punch and mints were served the girls and blue sachet and little autograph pages were handed out.

The girls sat and talked for about an hour before leaving. All of the girls would like to thank Mrs. Hays for the party — and hope she doesn't cry.

Senior Mark Hays 'Citizen of Week'

By LANITA JUSTICE

The Post High paper staff has done it again! They have proudly elected senior Mark Hays as their new "Citizen of the Week."

Mark is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hays who reside at 806 West 5th St. Mark's favorite color is white and his favorite food is just food in general. His hobbies are bicycle riding, singing and making people smile. Some of the activities that Mark has participated in during his years in high school are: Choir officer, Drama Club officer, Spanish Club officer, Top Twenty, UIL state participant for voice and UIL poetry. After he graduates Mark plans to attend the Smith Institute of Hair Design and major in platform artistry.

We are very proud to have elected Mark as our "Citizen of the Week." He adds smiles and laughter to the halls and classrooms of PHS. As he graduates from PHS we know that the school will be losing a very warm-hearted and likeable person. Congratulations, Mark, from the paper staff.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

Traffic crashes and deaths show marked increase — Traffic deaths in Texas over the first four months of 1972 are running three per cent higher than last year, according to the Texas Safety Association. On April 28, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported 989 deaths had died in traffic crashes in Texas.

There is an increase of 22 traffic deaths over the same period last year, said J. U. Parker, Houston, Texas Safety Association president. According to the statewide safety organization's leader, traffic deaths and deaths are on the rise on nearly every type of road and highway in the state. Communities with less than 10,000 population have seen an 11 per cent increase in traffic deaths. The increase in population figure shows an eight per cent increase in traffic fatalities, indicating a need for organized safety

Fair Credit Reporting
Do you pay your bills on time? Have you always paid your debts in full? How much do you owe right now and to whom?

You, of course, know the answers to these questions. But so do Consumer Reporting Agencies because they are in the business of collecting this type of information.

activities in these communities," Parker said.

In addition, the TSA leader said the Interstate Highway System and county roads also are experiencing increases in both accidents and deaths this year.

Every time you apply for credit, employment or insurance, the potential creditor, employer, or in whatever information a reporting agency has on you.

Therefore, it is important that information these agencies circulate about individual consumers be as accurate and up-to-date as possible. Until recently, it may have been difficult for you as an individual to determine the accuracy as well as the nature of the information these consumer reporting agencies were including in reports made about you.

However, you now have legal protection to insure your basic rights in this area. This is because of the new Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act which is administered by the Federal Trade Commission. You, as a consumer, are entitled to protection against circulation of erroneous, incomplete or obsolete information on which an unsuspecting firm might rely in deciding whether or not to do business with you or to offer you employment. Some of the most significant of your rights as a consumer are:

1. The right to know the nature and substance of all the information (except medical) in your file at the particular consumer reporting agency.
2. The right to know the sources of information.
3. The right to know who has received a consumer report on you within the last six months (or within the preceding two years if the report was furnished for employment purposes).

If you have been denied credit, insurance, or employment because of information in a consumer report, you have the right to be told the name and address of the consumer reporting agency that furnished the report. You then have the right to request and receive all the information mentioned above from the consumer reporting agency free of charge. If there is incorrect or incomplete information in your particular file, you have the right to challenge it. The reporting agency must, in most instances, re-investigate the challenged information within a reasonable period of time. If the information is found to be inaccurate or cannot be verified, it must be removed from your file.

If the reporting agency conducts a re-investigation concerning you and you do not agree with the results of this re-investigation, you have the right to file a statement setting out your version of what you consider to be the true facts. Thereafter, if the consumer reporting agency makes a report containing the information in dispute, it must also report your version.

As an additional protection to the consumer, certain information cannot be reported after a specific period of time, i.e., bankruptcies after 14 years; judgments after 7 years, or after the Statute of Limitations has run; paid tax liens after 7 years; past due accounts after 7 years; arrests, indictments or criminal convictions 7 years after disposition, release of parole; and any other adverse information after 7 years.

The first Negro vice presidential candidate in the United States was Frederick Douglass, who was nominated with Victoria Woodhull at the Equal Rights party convention held in 1872 at New York City.

HONORS GO TO FFA MEMBERS

Billy Jack Hodges is candidate for degree

ABILENE — Billy Jack Hodges of Post is one of approximately 230 persons who are candidates for degrees for May graduation at Hardin-Simmons University here. Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Hodges of 810 West 7th St., is a candidate for a BS degree at commencement exercises May 21 in Behrens Chapel.

Choir to present spiritual songs

The choir of the First Baptist Church will present the second "Evening of Spirituals" musical program at 7 p.m. Sunday, May 21, in the church auditorium. Several of the well-known and popular spirituals from last year's program will be performed again, along with some new ones, according to Bob Stice, minister of music.

Officers elected by Band Boosters

Mrs. Bob Collier was elected president of the Band Booster Club at a meeting May 9, with Mrs. Ronald Babb elected vice president and Mrs. Wayne Carpenter, secretary-treasurer. The members voted to award 10 individual band scholarships of $25 each. The group also voted to have a concession stand at the annual spring band concert at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 21, and also following an ice cream supper to be held later. Accompanists for the choir are Mrs. Glenn Norman, organist, and Mrs. Jerry Mitchell, pianist. The public is invited to attend this presentation of gospel music.

PAULA CRISWELL
I was born on March 16, 1954, in Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene, Texas, to Rev. and Mrs. James A. Criswell. I had one brother at the time named Mike, and four years later we were joined by a little sister named Ronda. My birthplace makes me a Texan, but I have lived most of my life in different towns over the state of Oklahoma. During my school career we moved when I was in the second, fourth and the eighth grades. The last time was to Post just in time to graduate from junior high into high school. I usually was not too happy about moving but I could see later that it gave me the opportunity to make different situations. During my high school years, I have participated in such activities as Future Homemakers, Future Teachers, pep squad, choir, basketball, National Honor Society, and the annual staff. I have enjoyed my teachers and classes. This year I worked as a child care aide at the kindergarten in the Post schools under the program of Co-operative Homemaking. This was one of the most enlightening and practical courses I ever took. As a senior I have really realized the importance of an education not only for job purposes but as a way to gain a better understanding of life so we can be better contributors to society. This year I received the honor of being valedictorian of my class, and plan to attend West Texas State University and major in Business Administration. I usually was not too happy about moving but I could see later that it gave me the opportunity to make

WILLIMA JENICE BULLARD
I was born June 27, 1954, in Garza Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. (Corky) Bullard. They gave me a name which may seem odd to some people but it is a name I am proud to bear. My name was given to me in honor of my two uncles, William and James, who were killed in an accident about two months before I was born. My parents had six children. I have two sisters, Linda and Patricia, older than I; also I have two sisters, Sandy and Kathryn, and a brother Kenneth, younger than I. Since my family is so large there is never a dull moment around the house. I started to school here in Post. School was so enjoyable that I did not have any trouble passing. While in school I remember that all of the other girls liked to play with dolls and since I was a tomboy I enjoyed paying baseball with the boys better. School really began to interest me when I started playing in the band in the fifth grade. Enjoying school activities began to grow on me and led me into play basketball in the seventh grade. I never won anything before that time but in the seventh I was chosen a tournament in a basketball tournament. In the eighth grade I received a medal for a french horn solo, a second place ribbon in a track meet and was chosen drum major for the junior high band. My high school years started out in bewilderment. I was scared stiff of the seniors and went out of my way to please them. After my freshman year everything went well because I was only embarrassed twice. The first time I was embarrassed was during drum major tryouts. I had to goose-step for the judge and when I was stepping my feet slid on the wet grass and I landed on my seat in front of everyone. The second time I was embarrassed was during the senior play. I knew my part perfectly but just two days before the play I caught a cold and every time I said my part, my voice cracked and changed pitches. Most of the time in high school everything went my way. The Lord blessed me with many blessings and honors. He blessed me with the honor of being salutatorian. He also helped me enjoy band for eight years, and basketball for six years. I know without the Lord's help I would not have enjoyed anything about school and probably would not have learned anything. If it's the Lord's will I plan to attend Tomlinson College in Cleveland, Tenn. I want to go there because it is my church's college and I feel that the Lord wants me to go there.

JOHNNY WALLACE
I was born somewhere between Post and Slaton on Jan. 30, 1954, but I can't remember exactly where. This early visit came upon Mr. and Mrs. Harley Wallace and it must have shaken them up slightly for I was the last of a family of three boys and a girl. My early memories are of being in my sister's wedding during my second year of school which also was the year our school bus lost its back wheels. I guess my early hobbies would be similar to anyone else, such as working with model airplanes and model cars. I've lost count of the times I have ridden to town on my bicycle over the 7 1/2 miles with my brothers or alone. One of the things I enjoyed most about junior high school was being in the photography club in the seventh grade and learning how to develop my own pictures. This is also the time when I started being manager in football and basketball. It is times like these when you learn to do your homework when you can, and not put it off until later. It also taught me a great deal of responsibility and respect. Moving into high school was a big change for me. First of all I started riding to school with my brother instead of getting up at 6:30 a.m. to catch a bus and ride it for an hour. High school held many things to do but one has to watch and not take on too much. I worked in the National Honor Society and took part in the production of "Oklahoma" when I was a sophomore. All these years I have wondered what I was going to do for a living and wondered how all the required subjects such as English and history would help me. Sure, at the time it seemed meaningless, but I had rather know these things and have them going for me than to not know them and have it going against me. This is one thing some people refuse to see until it is way too late, which is usually the time they need it. "That must be a part, if not all of what life is about; being prepared for something and knowing what to do about it along with knowing what is best."

PATTI NELSON
On May 18, 1954, Ellwood and Rita Faye Nelson made welcome a new arrival to this world, Patti Lyn. As I was told, but don't remember, two and a half years later my brother, Ricky, arrived to make our family complete. Childhood for me was much as it is for everyone: mudpies, dolls, electric trains, and animals. I used to have a very bad habit of wanting every stray cat or dog I saw and I got quite a few of them. My first schooling started at Mrs. Scogins' kindergarten when I was five. Birthday parties, crayons, lunch boxes, and Cinderella remain in my mind from this first attempt at educating me. Primary and elementary went fairly smoothly with such events as gang fights on the playground, eraser races, and a luau in Mrs. Raphael's room during the third grade. When I finally graduated to junior high it seemed like a different world. Changing classes, Coke breaks, but no recess, took awhile to get used to. Some of my highlights from these years were basketball, the band contests and our eighth grade banquet, "Strawberry Fields." Then, at long last, high school,

ABRAHAM — MAY 1972

By George L. Miller

"The Lord said to Abraham, 'Leave your own country, your kinsmen, and your father's house, and go to a country that I will show you.'"
—Genesis 12:1

"Hey, Lord! Look at what I got. A diploma. I've graduated, I'm on my own. It seemed like a long time when I started, but now I wonder where the years have gone. I can't believe it's over.

Do you think I can make it, Lord? It's a rough world out there. Too many people, too much pollution, war and riots and welfare and the Bomb. I'm not sure I want to get involved with all that.

The thing is, Lord, it just hit me that I'm free. For the first time in my life, I'm really going to be free. I'm going to have to do my own thinking and my own deciding. It's going to be up to me.

I won't be able to shift the blame any more. Parents, teachers, society—they've all had their influence on me, where am I going to go? Where will it end me up?

Of course you promised Abraham you'd show him the way. And there are lots of folks who think you can do same for us today. But there are so many people with many different opinions about it I don't know where to go. Who can I trust, who really knows the score?

Can I trust you? I hope I can. You stuck with Abraham all the way, stick with me too, OK?

Well, I guess I better get going. See you later Lord!

7 biographies —

senior banquet, and many other things.

Now I shall head toward Texas Tech and an unforeseeable future. I hope to make the rest of my life something which I and all the wonderful people who have affected my life can say that my presence on this earth was an asset rather than a burden.

MARY ANN WRIGHT

My arrival on March 12, 1954, in Artesia, N.M., signified that my mother had just had her first born and it was a girl. I don't remember many things that happened from that day until almost six years later.

I moved to Post just as I was entering the first grade. It was all new and exciting to me. The years flew by and before I knew it I was a big girl in junior high. That brought new adventures like basketball and football games, playing in the band, and of course parties.

But I couldn't wait until I was part of the high school group. That time came very soon after eighth grade graduation, along with lipstick smears all over my face. High school brought many exciting and memorable events — a few sad ones and many, many happy ones.

The two things I will always remember as my most fun times while in high school are decorating for the junior-senior banquet and playing in the band.

I learned a lot in high school, especially my senior year. I realize now, that the most knowledgeable people do not only know the facts that come from books, but these people are the ones who enjoy and try to understand and help their fellow man.

Now my high school days are coming to an end, and it is hard for me to believe that I will be going to college soon.

But while this portion of my life ends a new one will also begin.

RONNARD PAUL TYLER

On June 17, 1954, a boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Tyler. They named him Ronald Paul. I was the first child born to my parents. Two brothers, Mary and Jerry, and a sister, Debbie, were to come along in later years.

I had the typical experience of childhood. I had typical childhood diseases such as chicken pox, measles, and mumps. I also suffered various accidents. I still bear old scars from colliding with my grandmother's coffee table.

In 1960 I began my education in Post schools. Mrs. McBride was my first grade teacher.

I passed the first grade with average grades. During the second grade Mrs. Carlisle was my teacher and during the third grade Mrs. Rappelt was my teacher. Two of the things I remember about my third grade year was the luau given by Mrs. Rappelt's class and a class museum.

During the fourth grade Mrs. Nixon was my teacher. My fifth grade teacher was Mrs. Donaldson. During this year Johnny Wallace, Mark Clayton and I wrote stories about our classmates.

My sixth grade year was totally different from my other school years. For one thing I was in a different building. I also had five or six teachers this year instead of one.

I participated in football and ran track during my seventh and eighth grades. Our seventh grade football team did not do well, but our eighth grade team did better. I was chosen the outstanding boy student during my sixth grade year.

I graduated from the eighth grade in 1967. High school was so much different from junior high. I had more privileges and we had more responsibilities. I also had to run from the seniors. I was lucky because they never caught me. My freshman year I was named the outstanding English II student, and my junior year I was named the outstanding chemistry student. During my four high school years I participated in football for four years. My senior year I was elected as a joke to escort the Homecoming Queen, but I still enjoyed it anyway.

My other high school activities include the science and math club and the National Honor Society of which I was elected president my senior year. I also participated in UIL, spelling for three years, in which I placed second to Mark Clayton my senior year. My senior year I ranked third in my graduating class, and I was named class historian.

This is about all that has happened to me during my life that I can remember. After graduation I plan to attend Texas Tech.

JOHNSONGRASS

The unseasonably early spring and warm temperatures have a lowered Johnsongrass to get a running start on the 1972 High Plains cotton crop.

Early control of this weed is essential to make planting easier and Dr. Bob Metzger, area cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock.

A good weed control program can prevent establishment of new seedlings by incorporating chemicals such as Treflan or Planavin before planting.

But the most common problem this spring is that Johnsongrass has already become established in South Plains fields. Metzger says that Dowpon and MSMA or DSMA may be applied to emerged Johnsongrass plants before the cotton crop is planted. Dowpon gives better kill than MSMA if the air temperature is below 70 degrees; but planting should be delayed three to 10 days after Dowpon application.

MSMA or DSMA are sold under such trade names as Ansar, Deco-nate, Weed-E-Rad, and Bueno. They are highly-effective on established Johnsongrass and yet safe for cotton. But the two compounds need at least a 70-degree air temperature for good weed kill.

Producers should direct the chemicals on the Johnsongrass and under cotton foliage, not on top of the cotton. The specialist says that MSMA or DSMA should not be used after the cotton begins to bloom because arsenic is deposited in the seed.

These chemicals are also effective on annual grasses, volunteer sorghum, cocklebur, grassbur and lakeweed. DSMA or MSMA may be mixed with Caparol or Karmex to control carelesweeds.

The rates of application are extremely important. Metzger reminds Dowpon should be applied at five to six pounds of active material per acre in 20-40 gallons of water plus a surfactant for Johnsongrass control. DSMA or MSMA should be used at one and a half quarts per acre if the weeds are actively growing; or two quarts per acre to perennial weeds if they are moisture-stressed. However, once moisture stress has occurred, these chemicals are usually not as effective.

Johnsongrass may need to be resprayed or cultivated as the regrowth occurs to get permanent control," the Texas A&M cotton specialist reminds.

He adds that cotton is a better crop than grain sorghum for controlling Johnsongrass. Planavin or Treflan can be used as a preplant treatment and Dowpon of MSMA can be used either before or after cotton planting when the weeds have emerged.

In non-crop areas such as fence rows and ditches, Johnsongrass can be controlled with Hyvar, Pramitol or sodium chlorate.

"But regardless of the method or chemical used, the herbicide label should be carefully studied and followed," Metzger concludes.

STEVE COLLAZO

Collazo member of new group

WACO — Steve Collazo, a junior physical education major at Baylor University, is among the charter members of El Nuevo Progreso, a newly formed Mexican-American students organization at Baylor.

Collazo, the son of Mrs. Matilde Collazo of 616 East 11th St., is a 1969 graduate of Post High School.

El Nuevo Progreso, which was formally recognized by the university administration recently, is the first of its kind on the campus of the Baptist university.

The goals of the social service club are to promote Mexican-American awareness on the campus as well as to help recruit more Mexican-Americans to Baylor. El Nuevo Progreso also will work with the university administration in soliciting financial aid for these students.
