

Benefit roping, art show be bigger in all ways

More action, plus exhibits

Given a good weather break, the 1973 OS Ranch Benefit Steer Roping and Art Exhibit this weekend should be bigger and better in almost every way than the highly successful one last year which raised $20,000 for West Texas Boys Ranch.

Wide area interest has developed in the new Saturday afternoon attraction, the 10-steer match roping between Roy (Tuffy) Thompson, world's 1973 steer roping champion, and Olin Young, the 1971 titleholder.

With eight world champions in the field of 33, the Sunday afternoon jackpot roping, which begins at 2 p. m., should pull a crowd as big or better than the 3,000 fans who were on hand in 1972 to see 19-year-old Pake McEntire of Kiowa win top money of $3,940, a new saddle and a $200 silver belt buckle by roping and tying four head of big steers in 89.5 seconds.

The art exhibit already is assured of being three ways better than the initial effort in the renovated ranch house last fall.

About 150 pieces of western art will be exhibited this weekend, which is approximately 20 or 30 more than last year, and the value of the art is estimated at over $250,000 as compared to slightly over $200,000 last year.

What's more, the interest among art collectors and gallery buyers is far greater this year after the outstanding success of the 1972 show.

Over 500 reservations already have been made from eight states for the Collectors' Prevue Party at the ranch house Friday evening and most of these are from out-of-town collectors. Last year there were only about 300 advance reservations.

The prevue party, which begins at 5 p. m. Friday and costs participants $10 each, is the first opportunity for collectors to purchase any of the art on exhibit and a heavy sale is expected at that time.

Last year over $58,000 worth of the art was sold during the weekend show with $31,000 of that total coming at the Friday night prevue party.

A cocktail buffet will be served in the ranch house yard during the evening.

Twenty-two of the 32 artists participating in the art exhibit are coming to Post for the benefit weekend, most of them with their wives or husbands, and will be guests in Post homes.

Ten per cent of the sales price of the art sold will go to West Texas Boys Ranch.

Besides the Collectors' Prevue Party, the art exhibit will be open to the public for viewing from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. both Saturday and Sunday and art (See Steer Roping, Page 12)

Probe continues in fatality here

Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman said charges will be filed as soon as he completes his investigation into the fatal injuries to a Snyder man here Saturday night.

Billy Durwood Jones, 42, of Snyder died Sunday afternoon in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock where he had been taken after sustaining head injuries when his head hit the pavement in an altercation outside Western Danceland.

Sheriff Holleman said the officers' investigation has included statements from several witnesses.

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Army exhibit scheduled for convention of VFW

The District 7 convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, with an Army exhibit as an added attraction, is to be held Saturday and Sunday at the VFW Hall here.

The Army display will be on the VFW grounds, according to Sgt. John White, Army representative, and will include the firing of an 8-inch track-mounted cannon.

The display will also include a Pershing missile and a small arms display, according to Sgt. White. Army personnel will be present to explain the functions of all the equipment.

The VFW convention itself is to get under way with registration from 4 to 6 p. m. Saturday. A social hour will be

BIG PHOENIX WINNER — Melvin Warren of Clifton, Tex., the big winner in the Cowboy Artists of America 1973 competition at Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 15, will be among the 32 artists exhibiting here. Warren won "best in show" and "most popular in show" awards at Phoenix besides a gold medal for drawing and a silver for oil painting. He will exhibit a pastel and charcoal here.

HEADS EXHIBIT EFFORT — Tom Ryan of Stamford, vice chairman of the OS Ranch Benefit committee who has been the guiding hand in the development of the art exhibit here, is the cover artist for the 1973 OS Ranch Benefit Catalog now on sale. The cover is a copy of an oil painting of a steer roping, entitled "Sunday Afternoon", and will be exhibited at the weekend show in the ranch house.

The Post Dispatch

Forty-Sixth Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, Sept. 27, 1973 Number 17

8 indicted by grand jury for marijuana sales here

A Garza District Court grand jury Monday returned indictments for the sale of narcotics, namely marijuana, against eight Garza countians as the result of four months work here by an undercover agent paid by the city.

Sheriff and city law enforcement officers arrested the eight Friday.

Under the new Texas Penal Code, sale of marijuana is what is termed "a third degree felony" punishable upon conviction by a sentence of from two to ten years in prison and a fine not to exceed $5,000.

Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman told The Dispatch in referring to the local situation on drugs, "It's a mess!"

And he added, "I don't think we've scratched the barrel yet."

"This is serious," he said. "Kids are involved in drug use. Parents had better keep their eyes open. This is going to lead into something else."

The eight indicted for sale of marijuana, in each case to Martin Valenzuela, according to the indictments, are, with the date of the alleged sale:

Larry Bevers, Sept. 19, 1973, Bobby Blanton, Aug. 14, 1973, and Aug. 8, 1973, two separate indictments, Cindy King Curb, four indictments, each for sale on Aug. 15, 1973, Sept. 15, 1973, Aug. 5, 1973, and Aug. 9, 1973.

James McAfee, Aug. 5, 1973; Felix Bustos, Jr., Sept. 16, 1973; Sherry Brockman, Sept. 10, 1973; Marshall Huffman, Aug. 26, 1973; and Clifford Redman, two indictments for sale on Sept. 10, 1973, and Aug. 11, 1973.

The work of the undercover agent reportedly cost the city $2,175 and Sheriff Holleman publicly expressed his appreciation to the city council for its authorization of the expenditure in an effort to cut off the supply of marijuana here to local young people.

Thirteen other indictments also were returned by the grand jury Monday.

Those indicted, together with charge and date of alleged offense, are as follows:

Jo Beth Gandy, possession of marijuana, May 3, 1973; Karla Josey, possession of marijuana, May 3, 1973; Jill Cash, possession of marijuana, May 3, 1973; Charles Lee Hooker, possession of marijuana, Aug. 3, 1973; Tommy Lee Brown, possession of marijuana, Aug. 3, 1973.

Iva Robinson, forgery and passing to Sonny Hart June 12, 1973; Willie Garcia, forgery and passing March 2, 1973, to Robert McAfee, Curtis L. (See Marijuana, Page 12)

ROPEERS — These two world steer roping champions, Olin Young of Peralta, N. M., 1971, above, and the 1972 OS Steer Roping, and Roy (Tuffy) Thompson, 1973 champion of Happy, Tex., below, as they competed last year, will compete against each other in a 10-steer match roping beginning at 1:30 p. m. Friday afternoon in a new feature of the weekend.

POSTINGS

Two bouquets of pretty words are in order for Post city dads this week. We heartily approve of the city council's financing of the four-months probe into marijuana selling here, and of their efforts to keep the Post Youth Center operating in temporary quarters until a permanent home can be found.

In both instances, the city dads have moved to support this community's youth. Their actions merit the support of both teens and their parents.

The way we hear it five plane loads of art collectors may fly into the Post city-county airport Friday afternoon from a variety of distant points for the Collectors' Prevue Party at the OS Ranch house Friday evening.

The OS exhibit came from nowhere to among the top three western art shows in the nation last year. For a bunch of local amateurs that has to be tremendous.

The other two are the Western Heritage Show at the Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City and the Cowboy Artists of America exhibit, now on a traveling basis which was held two weekends ago in Phoenix.

Gordon Snidow, who won the gold medal at the Phoenix show for the best bronze will show the bronze here this weekend. It's called "To Race the Wind."

Jim Prather told us the barbecue meal price should have been increased this year but was set before all the food prices jumped. Jim was not talking about the high price of beef, which is all donated for the OS benefit, but primarily about the cost of potatoes. "Those spuds are out of sight," Jim said and shook his head sadly. The reader must remember that about a ton of potatoes will be eaten at the OS Saturday and Sunday.

Speaking of the barbecue, still no volunteers have called Mrs. David Newby to help serve the barbecue both Saturday and Sunday. (See Postings, Page 12)

Cotton meeting to be Tuesday

A program on cotton defoliation, harvesting and field storage is to be held at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 2, in the district courtroom with the Post Chamber of Commerce and Agricultural Extension Service as co-sponsors.

The program will be presented by Dr. Bob Metzger, area cotton specialist, and Roy Childers, area cotton mechanization specialist.

County Agent Syd Conner and Chamber President J. B. Potts invites everyone to "come, drink coffee and eat doughnuts and hear the latest on cotton defoliation and rickling."

City, county to hear consolidation report

The Post City Council and the Garza County Commissioners Court will hold a joint session at 11 a. m. today to hear a study report from William Carr on the combining of the city and county law enforcement arms.

Carr has been making the study with a $9,500 federal grant and will report his findings at the meeting.

Plaintiffs withdraw from Southland suits

Out of the nine school district plaintiffs who filed district suits here to close the district's tax roll and to $500,000 Southland election declared void have notified Judge George Hansard of their withdrawal suits.

It doesn't really affect the ninth plaintiff, apparently is still with the two suits, by his attorneys, withdrawing "with-ness" to the remaining plaintiff are R. H. Lewis, Jr., J. Martin Basinger, Jack Haire, J. D. Basinger, Arthur Smallwood, C. C. Lee, Ronnie Dunn and Pat Taylor.

District Judge Hansard told The Dispatch Tuesday afternoon that Vernon Adecock of Lamesa, who he named master in chancery to prepare a new Southland school district tax roll after declaring the original roll invalid, has not had time to complete his work on a new tax roll. He was to have reported back to Hansard in court Tuesday.

Only positive action, as far as the Southland school district is concerned, came Monday when the Garza County Commissioners Court at their regular bi-monthly meeting canvassed the vote of the special election to abolish the Southland Independent School District and found that the effort to abolish the school district had been defeated by a 128 to 93 vote.

Polk injured in Snyder accident

Glen Polk, 28, announcer for Radio Station KSNV in Snyder, was in the intensive care unit at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Tuesday after being injured in a two-vehicle accident in Snyder at 8:26 a. m. Monday while he was en route to work.

Polk, a former Post resident and son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Polk of 302 West 13th St., was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder for treatment of a fractured left arm and neck injuries. Later, he was transferred to the Lubbock hospital.

UPSTAIRS OVER MARSHALL'S

Youth center to move to temporary quarters

The Post Youth Center, which has operated since early July in leased space between the bank and the post office, will reopen in temporary quarters next week over Marshall's Department Store at 201 East Main.

Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick, chairman of the youth center board, told The Dispatch yesterday that the new location will be used "as the best available" until permanent quarters can be secured.

The youth center's present location was only offered for use for three months.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick said a homecoming dance for students after the Slaton game, Oct. 12 already is scheduled for the new temporary youth center location.

She recalled that many years ago Post had its youth center in the same location.

City Supt. Pete Maddox checked over all available sites for a temporary location for the center this week and reported Tuesday afternoon to Mrs. Kirkpatrick that the location over Martin's Department Store is "the best available."

Maddox had a crew in yesterday cleaning up the long unused hall. The youth center board will inspect the new location Friday. City workers will aid in the move to the new quarters, too.

Two permanent locations for the youth center have been suggested. The youth board reported to the council's September meeting.

Either would entail purchase of downtown property and some essential remodeling.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick told The Dispatch that action by the city to find temporary quarters so the youth center can continue operations without interruption should be a real indication to the community's young people, that adult attention is being given to the problem and considerable support for the center being generated among adults.

Maddox said Dunlap's of Lubbock, owner of the building in which the youth center will be located temporarily, has offered use of the second floor hall "as is" rent free for "two or three months."

Fire damage at residence here over $30,000

Damage estimated by insurance adjusters at from $28,000 to $30,000 resulted from a fire that started in the kitchen of the Pat N. Walker residence at 808 West Main St. about 11 o'clock last Thursday night.

Walker, who with his wife was out of town at the time of the fire, told The Dispatch that the damage estimate does not include damage to clothing and other personal effects, which he said probably would amount to another $2,000.

The fire started in the kitchen wall in the vicinity of where a new automatic dish washer was in the process of being installed. The fire burned out the wall behind the kitchen cabinet and also burned the rafters in the attic of the one-story brick house. Smoke damage was heavy throughout the house.

Firemen were called back to the house Friday morning when fire again broke out behind the cabinet.

Walker said repair work is under way at the house, but that it probably will not be ready for occupancy again until about Dec. 1. Meanwhile, he and Mrs. Walker are living in Lubbock and he is commuting to his law office here.

ANNOUNCER — Lin Helton of La Grande, Ore., one of the finest rodeo announcers in the country and announcer for the Steer Roping Finals last year, will be the announcer for the OS Steer Roping. He has volunteered his services and comes for expenses only.

CUB SCOUT MEETING

Cub Scout Pack 314 will hold a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 2, upstairs at City Hall. All Cub Scouts and parents and boys between eight and ten years of age who are interested in joining the Cub Scouts are invited, according to Cubmaster Bob Carpenter.

'Big' weekend is just ahead

This will be "OS Ranch Benefit Weekend" for Post with local folks opening their homes to homeless boys, famous artists, and the best professional steer ropers around.

At the same time, we will be helping Jim Prather and the OS Ranch with all the details of this community's biggest annual promotional undertaking.

Over 500 out-of-towner, most of them art collectors and gallery buyers, already had their reservations in by last weekend for the Friday night Collectors Preview Party at the ranch house.

That reservation total is far ahead of the initial collectors preview party last year when the benefit art exhibit was added to the benefit weekend program along with the steer roping.

The fact is that the OS Ranch Benefit Art Exhibit was the biggest new exhibit of western art on the national scene in 1972 and the word of its surprising success "out in West Texas" has gotten around.

This time, the exhibit is going to be bigger and better than the initial 1972 effort despite the fact that the Cowboy Artists of America competition and show was held in Phoenix only two weekends ahead of the OS show here.

It was first feared the calendar closeness of the two exhibits would hurt the art quality here.

More art actually will be displayed in the ranch house here this year than last and its value will be well over $200,000.

Consequently, it stands to reason that with more interest and more art, art sales are going to increase this year, too.

On the steer roping front, Jim Prather has added a big "Saturday afternoon draw" with his 10-steer match roping between the new 1973 steer roping champion, Tuffy Thompson of Happy, and the 1971 champion, Olin Young. That should swell Saturday's crowd considerably.

On the "preparation front", the getting ready has gone smoother this year because last year's efforts were "the first time around." There is another excellent catalog, price $3, printed for the occasion and it should be something worth keeping.

From our newsman's vantage point we can truthfully report that Post is a remarkable town because it is blessed with a group of very remarkable people, who once they get together on a project can produce outstanding accomplishments.

The "OS Benefit Weekend" is certainly one of them. It has come from one man's dream all the way to not only this community's biggest promotional effort, but one which has captured both national attention and respect.

It's going to be a great weekend. Be sure to get into the action. So dust up those spare bedrooms, put on the coffee pot and get your hospitality into high gear. Lots of visitors are coming. Let's enjoy our benefit weekend, too. — JC

IT ISN'T that I'm too lazy to write a column, but what's the good of one if it has no readers, and, since mine does have a few, I appreciate it when they contribute something. So, every once in awhile I take time out to catch up on contributions, such as the following one, which Geraldine Butler read in The Progressive Farmer.

The Trials and Tribulations of FERDINAND
"Whoa, Mrs. Housewife! Before you cut into that pot roast, let me tell you the story of just how I came to be your dinner. I'll call myself Ferdinand."

I began life on July 15, 1971. I spent my first five months on a farm in Virginia. My owner worked at a full-time job in town. I saw him mostly on weekends.

Late in December, the boss man rounded us up, and off to market we went. At a sale, I was driven into a small ring with strange noises. After 15 seconds, I was sold.

Late that night we were hauled 30 miles by truck to Staunton, Va. After three days of knocking around, I was put in a pen of 125 calves, and remember the big man saying we were for a cattleman in the Panhandle of Texas. We were due to leave by 10 a. m. that morning for the 1,470-mile trip to Texas, at a cost of $1,025.

Two young boys, who probably drove trucks better than cattle, whooped us aboard a big double-decker at noon, and we drove to Roanoke.

We pulled into a truck stop for lunch — for the truck drivers, that is. I wondered why they couldn't have eaten before loading us up.

The rest of the trip went something like this:

— Stop at Knoxville for a little oil checking, tire knocking, and a snack for the drivers.

— Memphis, a midnight coffee break — for the drivers.

— Little Rock, breakfast time — ham and eggs for the truck drivers. They came back saying we ought to make Oklahoma City by noon. But we broke a water bell pump in Henryetta.

When we arrived at the background lot in McLean, Tex., one of the calves failed to get off the truck. I lay down, too tired to eat. It was midnight, 36 hours after leaving Staunton — with no water, no food, and no unloading to rest.

The next morning we received several shots, got wormed and branded; plus there was a surgical job for most of us. Another buddy soon died of shipping fever. If a snowstorm hadn't come on the eighth day, Ol' Spot would still be with us, but instant pneumonia did him in.

After 33 days, we were moved to a wheatfield. I'd been a little puny in the reconditioning lot, so they hadn't given me major surgery. Two cowboys soon took care of that, right on the bald prairie.

Then the weather turned cold. Early one morning the wheat was covered with frost, which was the end of two more of my buddies. Some people called it frothy bloat. The "used cow dealer" came and took them to the rendering plant.

We moved to another wheatfield March 10. We were confined by what is known as a "hot wire" — and I mean it was hot! But the second night a coyote spooked us, and we ran through it onto the highway. A big black calf got hit by a car — and the used cow dealer made another call.

In June, we were moved to grass pasture. When fall came, we were given another truck ride to the feedlot. We were all on top ration and doing fine when it hit: the beginning of what was to be the most disastrous High Plains winter of this century.

The first ice storm rode in with the witches and goblins on Oct. 31. The 119 of us left from the original 125 were now in a pen only 150 feet x 100 feet, our home for 180 days. During that time, snow flew in 25 different storms, dumping 44 inches. And as if the snow were not enough, it rained 14 inches in 15 days.

Now the temperature was below freezing. Two heifers in a single pen over a half mile away had showed up with scabies, and due to a 1912 law, we were all considered exposed. Over 14,000 head got two dippings. I remember one cowboy saying this probably cost over $30,000 in loss of weight gain — and another buddy died from pneumonia.

The only thing surer than death is taxes. The school district and county taxed us while we were on wheat pasture. Then, in the feedlot we got hit again for school and county taxes. Oh yes, there was a nice young man from the bank who came out and wanted to count us. But he was a little timid about getting his feet wet, so he just looked us over and said we looked like we were all there.

Next came April. Time for marks! After being looked over

ANOTHER TOM RYAN PAINTING — This oil painting, "Texas Dust", by the Stamford, Tex., artist also will be on exhibit and for sale at the OS Ranch Benefit Art Exhibit this weekend.

TRAFFIC DEATHS UP

There were 55,700 traffic deaths in 1972 and more than 4,850,000 injuries. This, according to the Travelers Insurance Companies, is up from 54,000 deaths and 4,700,000 injuries recorded last year.

by four different packer-buyers, we were finally sold.

The second week of April, off to the packinghouse we went. I was really on my way to becoming your pot roast. But not until the federal vet looked over all my vital parts after I was killed for any abnormalities.

Next I was shipped to a warehouse in Waterbury, Conn. My last trip was to the supermarket case where you picked me up.

Now for a short summary. It took me almost three years to reach your table. Twenty-one major drug companies helped keep me healthy; nine different trucking companies hauled me 3,380 miles; three railroads and nine trucking companies hauled me feed. People who work in 32 states benefitted from me during my short lifespan.

Go ahead now — enjoy your dinner!

Recent visitors at Justiceburg

Several residents of the Justiceburg community gathered at the church there recently to visit with some old-time friends who were back home. The visitors were Mrs. Mona Key of Lewisville, Mrs. Elhel Bargsley of Coppell and Bro and Mrs. D. W. Reed of Ringgold, La.

After singing several old hymns with Mrs. Lillian Nance leading and Winnie Tuffing at the piano, Bro. Reed preached a short sermon. Afterwards, coffee, cake and sandwiches were served at the school cafeteria.

Others there were Mr. and Mrs. Bandy Cash, Mmes. Ethel Redman, Maudie Justice, Alta Pettigrew, Maudie Pettigrew Hankins, Evelyn Neff, Pearl Ainsworth, Pearl Nance, Lee Reed, George Duckworth, Willie Mae Key and Ethel Edwards.

EAGLE ROUNDUP

Fair Day
 School was dismissed Monday at 2 p. m. in order that students might attend the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock.

No Paper Next Week
 No Eagle Roundup will be published next week because of the first six-week tests scheduled for next week.

Test Schedule
 The second, fourth and sixth period tests will be given today (Thursday). First, third and fifth period tests are scheduled for tomorrow.

Football News
 The junior high boys travel to Hermleigh today (Thursday) for a 5:30 p. m. contest.

The high school boys have a game with Weiner Friday, Sept. 28, at 8 p. m. at Southland.

School Employees
 Jeanie Adamek and Doris Lester are Southland's new lunchroom workers.

Jeanie Adamek was born at Mena, Ark. She graduated from a Lovington, N. M., high school. She attended business college at Lamson, Ariz. Later she worked at Electric Heating Supply in Lovington for two years.

In 1964 she married Pat Adamek. They have two children, Monique and Marlana. Marlana is a first grader, and Monique is in the third grade at Southland. Jeanie's favorite hobbies are volleyball and being a housewife. Last year she worked in the cafeteria for three weeks.

Doris Lester was born in Post and graduated from Post High School. She married the late Billy Lester after she finished school. She has two sons, Gary of Post and Gregg, a Southland High School senior. This is Mrs. Lester's first year to work in the school cafeteria. She attends the Methodist Church at Graham. She enjoys cooking and sewing in her spare time.

Tom Cheake, the school's new custodian, was born in Slaton and graduated from Slaton High School. He is married to the former Margie Cates, and they have four children—Wayne 10, Stewart, 8, Tomisa, 5, and Tom Jr., who will be two in November.

His job before coming to Southland were in construction work, route sales, and various sales work. He has also been a service station owner. We welcome these new school employees. They are all fine workers.

Seniors Sell Ads
 The Southland seniors sold ads for the yearbook in Slaton last Thursday. Seniors working that day were: Mary Ellen Flores, Irene Martinez, Gregg Lester, Jerry Winter rowd, Steve Buxkemper, and Ray Garza.

Junior High Game
 The junior high football boys lost to Wellman 38-6 at Southland in the season's opening game. Wellman scored twice in the first quarter, three times in the third, and once during the fourth stanza. Southland's touchdown came late in the third quarter on a 50-yard run by Micky Garza. Neither team scored in the second period.

ASPERMONT EVENT
 ASPERMONT — Homecoming for ex-students and teachers of Aspermont High School has been set for Saturday, Sept. 29. The Aspermont and Throckmorton football teams play at 8 p. m., with homecoming and coming-home queens to be crowned at halftime.

2 new pledges are welcomed by Gamma Mus

Two new pledges were welcomed into the Gamma Mu chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority at the fall rush activities Monday evening.

The new pledges, Jody Ammons and Julia Prather, signed pledge cards at the model business meeting held at the Community Room of the First National Bank.

Theme for the evening was "Precious Junk," carrying out the sorority's educational program theme for the year "Admiring Antiques." Several antiques belonging to sorority members were on display throughout the room.

Garza County Extension Agent Dana Feaster, presented a program entitled "Living With Antiques and Collectables." She told the group to use, display and enjoy their collections or antiques. Her program included a series of slides showing the different periods of antique furniture and attractive ways to combine different types of furniture.

The business meeting was called to order by President Orabeth White. A poem "Strangers Are Friends" was read by Chaplain Helen Mason. The ESA Scope was read by Judy Bush. A brief discussion was held on several ideas for chapter projects, including the library, youth center and Algeria Park. Johnnie Norman reported to the group on the District IX ESA Meeting in Sudan recently.

Plans for the outing to the Texas Tech Ranch Museum were changed from Oct. 20 until Oct. 6 and the scheduled business meeting and pledge pin ceremony will be Oct. 22 rather than Oct. 8.

Refreshments were served by hostess Judy Bush from a table covered in a blue linen cloth and centered with a blue lamp candleholder with blue flower ring.

Those present were: Dana Feaster, Delores Redman, Julia Prather, Jody Ammons, as guests and members Jane Mason, Laveta Norman, Johnnie Norman, Helen Mason, Orabeth White, and Bush.

Head Caprock District speaks

The Amity Study Club met for a salad supper in the home of Mrs. Russell Wilks, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Ronald Babb and Mrs. Tom Middleton.

Roll call was answered with "A Daydream in My Youth". Mrs. O. C. Rampley, Caprock District president, from Silverton, was guest speaker. Mrs. Rampley gave a talk on Federation.

Nineteen members were present for the supper. They were: Mmes. Charles Adams, J. R. Bell, Margaret Bull, Bill Carlisle, Lee W. Davis Jr., C. H. Hartel, Anne Leake, George Miller, Lonnie G. Peel, V. L. Peel, Bill Pool, Edwin Sawyers, Henry Wheatley, Jerry Linn, Jack Burress and Miss Thelma Clark.

2 Garza women attend meeting

Two Garza County homemakers, Mrs. Inez Ritchie and Mrs. Mae McMahon, attended three days of workshops and special events Tuesday through Thursday of last week in Waco during the Texas Home Demonstration Association's 47th annual state meeting.

The Garza County women were among more than 700 members of Texas Home Demonstration Clubs throughout the state.

The delegates attended workshops on citizenship, family life, 4-H, health, cultural arts, recreation, safety and publicity, as well as special workshops. Addressing the association as keynote speakers were Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson, the Rev. Peter McLeod of the First Baptist Church in Waco, and Mrs. Florence W. Low, assistant director for home economics with the Extension Service.

Mrs. H. L. King of Amarillo will speak on "Interior Home Decorating" at a meeting of the Grassland Hobby Club on Oct. 2. She will display articles for any decor.

Members and guests are invited to attend this meeting, where they can get ideas on home decorating "that will be a pleasure to live with."

natural energy HOME

CLEAN ENERGY FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

A Natural Energy Home uses natural gas for heating, cooling, water heating, cooking and clothes drying to save you money and help conserve our cleanest natural energy resource... natural gas.

That's because electricity in West Texas is generated by burning natural gas, and in the process of generating and transmitting electricity to your home, 2/3 of the gas energy is lost.

So, by using gas directly in the home for the jobs it can do, you're helping to conserve it and you're getting more energy for your money.

9 German visitors get look at ranch

Nine Germans, members of the Western Indian Friends Club of Cologne, Germany, that built a replica of an American western town and named it "Lubbock Town", visited in Garza County last Wednesday and were guests of honor of County Judge and Mrs. Giles W. Dalby at a western barbecue served on the Cross H Ranch at noon to some 40 persons.

The visitors, who arrived in the United States Sept. 4 and have been visiting in the Lorenzo and Wilson areas since that time, toured Bob Macy's ranch in the morning to see his race horses.

At the Cross H they witnessed just about every phase of "cowboying" and after the moon barbecue were treated to some roping by Cliff Kirkpatrick, 12-year-old world champion calf ropers. The visitors had read about Cliff and wanted to see him perform.

Only one of the visitors could speak English so there was considerable smiling and nodding going on throughout the visit.

The nine were Horst Klaus-

Post Archery Club seeks new members

The members of the Post Archery Club (PAC) invites everyone to join them in the many activities they have to offer. They issue the following invitation to prospective members:
 "Ours is an all-season club with something for everybody. In the spring and summer, there is the challenge of our 14-target field range, which is available for daily practice and tournament participation. As a member of the PAC, you will be invited to attend invitational tournaments at other club ranges throughout Texas. In the fall and winter months, you can go bow hunting for the many species of game found in the state, and shoot on the range with weather permitting.

"Incidentally, if you are a novice at the sport of archery, we have many well qualified members who will help you select the proper equipment - and then teach you to use it. So, whether you are young or old, a champ or archer or have never shot a bow or arrow before, if you are looking for a new outdoor exercise, an outdoor setting, come join us. The Post Archery Club is a non-profit organization affiliated with National Field Archery Association and Texas Field Archery Association. For further information, call Allan Hampton, president, 495-2166, Bobby Snow, vice president, 495-2143, or Will Parker, secretary, 495-2219."

THURSDAY GUESTS

Visitors last Thursday in the Loyd Edwards home were the Rev. and Mrs. Roy W. Reed of Viet, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. David Reed of Hereford. The Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Rites held for drown victim

Services for Mrs. Betty Coleman, 45, of Lubbock, who drowned Sept. 16 at White River Lake, were held at 2 p. m. Saturday at St. Matthew's Baptist Church in Lubbock, with burial in the City of Lubbock Cemetery.

According to lake officials, Mrs. Coleman was fishing from a boat with two other women and a boy when high winds capsized the boat. The woman was wearing a life jacket, but it apparently came off.

The boy was rescued from trees in the lake and the two surviving women were found on shore. They had held onto the boat to withstand the high winds.

Mrs. Coleman, a resident of Lubbock for 19 years, is survived by a daughter and a son, among other relatives.

FREE SCHOOL FOR ADULTS
Basic Education Program offered by Post schools

The Post Public Schools are offering a program of basic education for adults 16 years of age or older who have less than a high school education. Reading, writing, arithmetic, English, the speaking of English, and other subjects are taught.

The program is designed to improve a person's ability to secure employment, qualify for a job promotion, achieve a certificate of high school equivalency, and to become a more effective consumer and a more active citizen.

Supplementary areas of instruction include consumer education, occupational opportunities and requirements, health education, citizenship, government, home and family life, science, history and literature. Classes are also available for adults who cannot read, write or speak English.

The school is free. Classes are to begin Oct. 1 and continue until the middle of May. The first meeting will be held in the high school library.

Adults may enroll and begin classes at any time during the school year. Classes meet two nights a week, Mondays and Wednesdays, and two hours each night.

There are four levels of instruction:

Level I - This is the basic level for persons having an achievement level of third grade or less.

Level II - This is the intermediate level for persons having an achievement level of grades 4, 5 or 6.

Level III - This is the level for persons having an achievement level of grades 7 or 8. Average daily attendance must be seven.

GED - This is a program for adults having an achievement level of 9th to 12th grades and who are preparing for the state high school equivalency examination. Average daily attendance must be 10.

High school and college graduates, who need instruction in English speaking, may enroll.

Enrollment is open to adults who live outside of the Post School District.

Post will play 'win hungry' Idalou there Friday

'Lopes seek fourth win

Riding their longest winning streak of the last few seasons, Coach Bobby Davis' Post Antelopes will try to keep it alive when they go up against the winless Idalou Wildcats Friday night at Idalou.

The game with the Wildcats, starting at 8 p. m., will be the final non-conference test of the season for the Antelopes of District 5AA, who will open district play the following Friday night at Cooper. That game, and all other district games, will have a 7:30 kickoff time.

All three of the Antelope victories have come over District 4AA foes and they will be trying to make it four in a row over 4AA teams when they go against Idalou Friday night.

The Wildcats had an open date Sept. 7 when most other teams opened their campaigns, but since that time have lost to Petersburg, 7 to 0, and to District 5AA Tahoka, 40 to 0.

Coach Davis said the Antelopes, however, are not letting Idalou's two losses and the fact that they have not scored in their only two games lull them into a feeling of security.

"We're playing Idalou on their home field, and they're always 'up for Post," the coach said. "Also, they're going to be hungry for that first victory of the season."

The Wildcats have a new look this season. To start with, they have a complete new coaching staff, headed by Phil Tucker, former Texas Tech All-American. The Cats have changed their offense to the I-10 and employ the monster five on defense. They have two outstanding linebackers in Jack Petree and Rick Jackson.

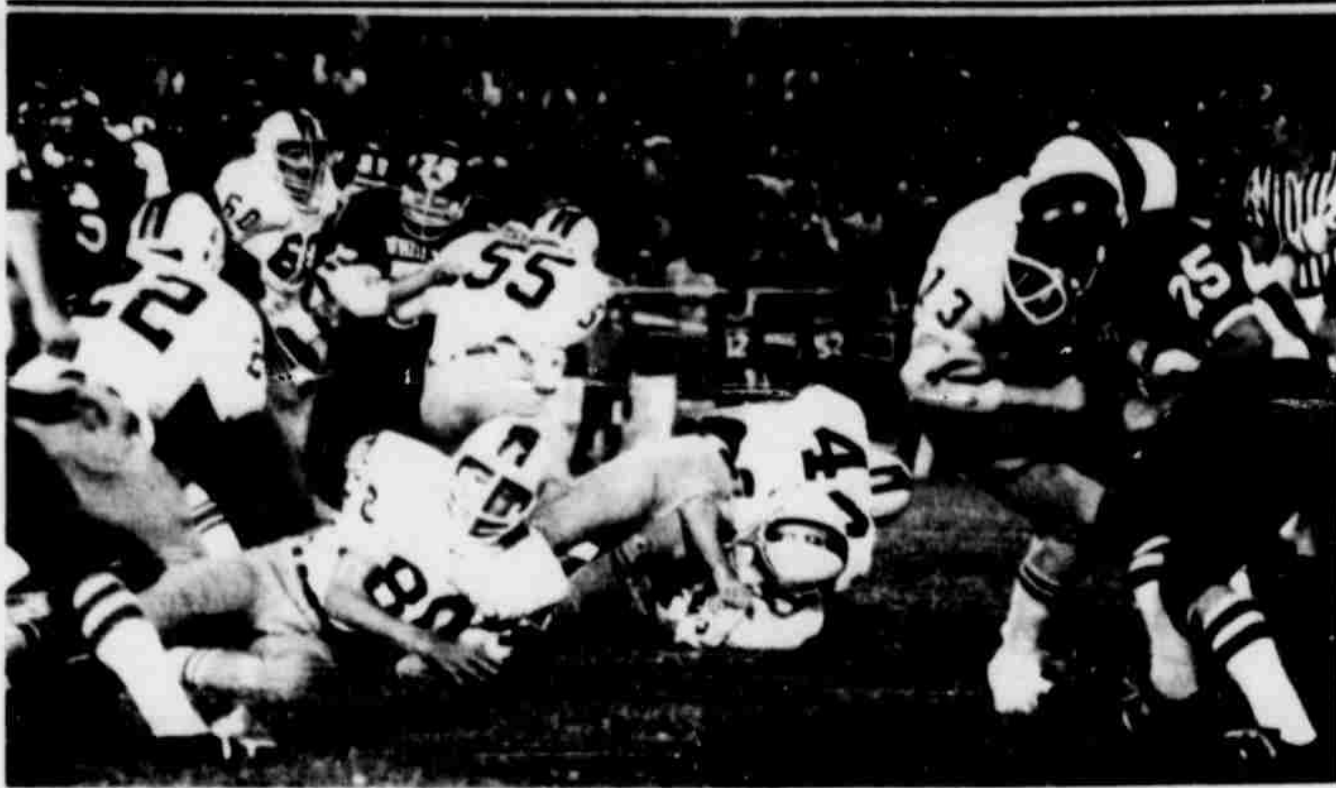

There are 13 lettermen, including six starters, on the Wildcat roster, and with these assets they are expected to start bouncing back most anytime now from their first two setbacks.

Gary Phillips, 140-pound senior, will be at the throttle in Idalou's I-10 offense against Post Friday night. Williams, a 160-pound sophomore will start at fullback. Rex Isom, 185-pound senior, at tailback and Doug Marshall, 165, also a senior, at the slot back position.

Smith, 180-pound senior, will be the starter at tight end, and Lad Harris, 155-pound sophomore, at split end. The tackles will be George Worthington, 235-pound senior, and Joe Rocha, 250-pound sophomore, the guards. Stan Weaver, 160-pound senior, and Wylie, 170-pound sophomore, and the center. Bruce Boyd, 165-pound senior.

Defensively, the Wildcats are expected to go with Ralph Esquivel, 155-pound junior, at nose guard, Worthington and Doug Kirk, 160-pound sophomore, at tackles. Weaver and Scott Vineyard, 150-pound sophomore, at ends. Petree, 190-pound senior, and Ronnie Mahan, 185-pound sophomore, at linebackers. David McKenzie, 155-pound sophomore, strong corner. Harris, free corner, and Modesto Esquivel, 155-pound senior, and Marshall, halfbacks.

Coach Davis said the Lopes came out of the hard-fought Floydada game in good physical condition. Halfback David Conoly, who missed the game because of a siege of monoton-

GOAL LINE STAND TURNS TRICK

Post upsets 'Winds, 14-7

A 96-yard kickoff return, an 80-yard touchdown drive and a last-ditch goal line stand gave the scrappy Post Antelopes a come-from-behind 14-7 victory over the Floydada Whirlwinds last Friday night on Western Field at Floydada.

The win was a big one for Coach Bobby Davis' undefeated Antelopes in more ways than one. It was the first time since 1966 a Post team had won from Floydada, and the victory came over the state's No. 10 ranked Class AA team and No. 2 on the South Plains.

The loss was a bitter one for the Winds, who battled right up to the final whistle in a desperate effort to stave off defeat. It dropped them to 1-1 on the season, since they were idle the week before after routing Crosbyton 35 to 0, in their opening game.

The Whirlwind started out as if it intended to blow the Post team off the field, scoring on their first drive after Post had failed to move the ball after receiving the opening kickoff.

Floydada scored in ten plays, halfway through the first quarter, after returning Garland Dudley's 31-yard punt seven yards to the Whirlwind 47. They kept the ball on the ground, with quarterback John Cagle finally going in from the two, and halfback Rance Young kicking the extra point.

But if Floydada fans thought that was a preview of what was to come, they were mistaken. Post fullback Donnell Harper gathered in Young's booming leasis, is working out again this week, but still is not up to par physically, the coach said.

Four gridirers have been promoted to the varsity from the junior varsity squad for the Idalou game. Coach Davis said they are backs Dennis McDonald and Duke Bell, end Mike Shepherd and tackle Benny Greene. Sophomore back Edward Price was promoted to the varsity last week and saw action against Floydada.

kickoff on his five, headed up the center of the field behind a wall of blockers, broke into the clear at about the Post 40 and outran everybody else the rest of the way. Tony Conner booted his ninth conversion of the season without a miss, and the score was knotted at 7 all.

The Antelopes' go-ahead touch down came in the second quarter with a little over six minutes of the period gone after they had taken the ball on their 20 following Young's punt into the end zone.

Halfback Joe Moore, in for starter David Conoly, sidelined by illness, made a yard, and Post got another five on an offside penalty against Floydada. Quarterback Bryan Davis hit Harper with a short pass and the Post fullback raced to the Floydada 47 to give the 'Lopes their best field position since the opening whistle.

Tailback Jerry Tyler got seven yards in two carries, and Davis kept for nine more and a first down on the 31. Harper gathered in Davis' flare pass and went all the way to the 'Wind five, but a clipping penalty brought the ball back to the 24.

Harper banged the line for five, with Tyler going for six and Moore adding three. Davis kept for five, with Moore pecking up two and Davis two more before Harper crashed the final yard for his second touchdown of the night and seventh of the season. Conner kept his extra point record perfect by splitting the uprights and vaulting Post into a 14-7 lead.

The Whirlwind stormed back to move from their 32 to the Post 14, but an apparent touchdown on a pass from Cagle was wiped out by an illegal procedure penalty. Cagle hit Marc Smitherman for an 11 yard pass to the eight, but the ball went to Post on downs.

With time running out in the first half, Harper carried for eight to the 16, and Tyler for 10 and seven to the 33 as the whistle sounded. The Lopes lost a golden opportunity to increase their lead on the first scrimmage play of the third quarter when Tyler recovered a Floydada fumble on the Wind 27. Davis carried for three and Harper for five to the 19 before Moore tumbled after gaining three to give the ball back to Floydada on its 16.

Post's tired-up defense held, and Young's punt was fielded by Post on the Floydada 48. Tyler was held to a yard at the line, but the Davis to Harper pass combination worked again for an eight yard gain to the 39. Davis sneaked for a first down on the 37, but a five-yard penalty momentarily slowed the Lopes.

Ricky Shepherd made it back, and more, too, on a 15-yard end-around scamper down the sideline to the Floydada 27. Tyler and Davis made a first down on the 17, sophomore Edward Price gained three, and Harper took Davis' short pass for three more to the 11. Harper was held to two at center, and Floydada recovered Davis' fumble on their five to half the Antelope goal line surge.

With Cagle running the ball and hitting Becker with a 14-yard pass, Floydada made it back up to their 41 as the third quarter ended.

The Winds were forced to punt on the first play of the fourth period, with Cagle booming his kick into the end zone. Post failed to go in three downs and Dudley kicked to the Floydada 37.

Again, the Post defense held, helped by a five-yard penalty, and Cagle, back to punt, let the snap from center get away, but managed to run the ball down and get his punt off to the Post 30.

Moore and Harper carried for a first down on the 40, and Tyler lugged the ball twice and Moore once for another first on the Floydada 43. Harper went for 10 and another first down on the 33, and Moore banged for three to the 30. Harper gained one and Tyler nine for a first down on the 20, but a stiffening Floydada defense held Moore to one at the line and Davis to four on a keeper. Davis missed Harper with a pass, and Jay Pollard's field goal attempt sailed wide of the mark, with 2:53 remaining.

Taking the ball on the 20, the 'Winds started eating up yardage downfield, with Cagle passing 25 yards to Becker and breaking loose two plays later on a 34-yard run to the Post 17. Three passes failed to gain, but Cagle carried to the seven for a first and goal, with 49 seconds left on the clock.

Cagle was held to two yards on two runs, and his third down pass was batted away by Bryan Davis in the end zone. On a fourth down try, with time running out, Cagle headed around his left end, but was met by Harper who knocked the ball loose, with Mark Terry covering for Post on the 11. Time had run out, but the 'Winds had called a time out, and Post merely held onto the ball on the final play to preserve their victory.

Individually, Tyler gained 61 yards on 14 tries; Harper, 52 on 13; Davis, 37 on eight; Moore, 29 on 10; Price, three on one, and Shepherd, 15 on his end around run.

Defensively, linebacker Sammy Gutierrez came up with seven unassisted tackles, with defensive end Chris Wyatt getting the same number. Linebacker Tim Owen made five solo tackles, with Grayling

Forecaster says Antelopes will 'take' Idalou

The Dispatch's pigskin prognosticator raised his average last week by hitting on 16 out of 24 games for a 66.7 percent. That gives him a total of 41 right and 21 wrong in the first three weeks of the season for a percentage of 66.1.

Last week, the fearless forecaster missed on these games: Spur-Cooper, Morton-Hart, Lockney-Olton, Ralls-Crosbyton, Texas-Miami (who didn't?), Arkansas-Oklahoma State (he was going with his heart instead of his head), and Baylor-Pittsburgh.

This week, he picks 'em as follows, with his choices capitalized:

JUNIOR VARSITY LOS

Frosh team gains 6-0 tie in Floydada game

The Post Antelope freshman football team tied Floydada, 6-6, here last Thursday, but the 'Lope junior varsity lost, 22-14, when a fourth quarter rally fell eight points short.

It took a fourth quarter touchdown run of six yards by Jimmy Dorland to salvage a tie in the freshman game after Floydada had scored in the second period. Following Dorland's touchdown, Post quarterback Billy Alexander was stopped short on a running try for the extra points.

Post held a margin in first downs, 9 to 6, although outgained on the ground, 114 yards to 109. The locals failed to connect on three passing attempts, while Floydada completed two for seven yards. Each team lost two fumbles.

Dorland gained 79 yards on 23 carries to lead the Post backs. Alexander went for 33 on seven carries and Matt Allison, 21 for eight. Other offensive players included Wade McDonald, my Light and Standley, while Casey Zachary was a good defensive linebacker.

Floydada scored 16 in the first quarter and second in its 22-14 win. Lee Cruise scored Post touchdowns on two yards and one yard. Quarterback Jay Kettering over the extra point the second touchdown.

Floydada racked up downs to Post's 11, Antelope JV's offense Whirlwind, 330 yards. Floydada held a 13 yard passing, 35 yards to drive inside the five yard line five times managed to score one of the penetrations.

Dennis McDonald led ground forces with 16 27 carries, with Fran 82 yards. Jackie Black and Duke Bell, Williams, Bob Craig and Shepherd were among defensive standouts.

Jr. high games set for today

The Post 7th and 8th grade football teams are playing Lockney here today (Thursday) instead of Tuesday, as originally scheduled.

The 7th grade kickoff is scheduled for 5:30 p. m. at Antelope Stadium, with the 8th grade game to get under way around 7 o'clock.

Also today, a combined team of junior varsity and freshman players will play a single game at Lockney, with the kickoff set for 5:30.

Coach Bobby Davis will be fighting to prevent a dangerous letdown this week when he takes his undefeated Post Antelopes to Idalou Friday night to face the winless Wildcats who have yet to score a point in two 1973 outings. The letdown danger mainly will come after the 'Lopes upset the Floydada Whirlwinds, 14-7, last week on Floydada's home field for the locals' first win over the 'Winds in seven years.

In football, the afterglow of even such a well-deserved victory is nighty dangerous for any young football team. This is the year to play that schedule one game at a time. This week the foe is Idalou and local concentration must be centered on that single game.

Two sophomores chosen as 'Citizens of Week'

By MELINDA NELSON
This week those that were chosen for the "Citizens of the Week" are Jennifer Miller and Edward Price. Congratulations to both of these fine students.

Jenny says the most worthwhile contribution that she can make to PHS is to make oneself appreciate everything in PHS and giving one's all and taking advantage of many things offered, for all this will help in future needs.

The person Jenny admires most is John F. Kennedy. She chose him because he saw beauty, prosperity, and courage. This is what we all need, for this will help us all to become an outstanding citizen.

Jenny's future plans are to finish high school, going to college, and making something out of herself that she can say is all hers.

Edward is a sophomore, too. He participates in football, basketball, and track and plans to join FCA. The thing Edward likes most about school is the school work and making friends. Edward thinks the best quality a person can have is his or her personality, because with a good personality, you can win over anybody. Edward thinks the most worthwhile contribution he can make to PHS is to finish school and get a good college education.

The person Edward admires most is Hank Aaron. The reason that he admires Hank Aaron is because of the thing he is trying to do, which is to break and set a new record.

Edward's future plans are yet undecided, but he would like most of all to attend college and play football.

Ricky Shepherd week's gridder

By CINDY BIRD AND RICHARD DUDLEY
Ricky Shepherd is our football player this week. Ricky is a two-year football letterman and is a captain of the football team.

Question: What did you think about beating the Lockney Loughorns and Ralls Jackrabbits? "I thought both years were great team efforts. Everyone did their job and made both wins team victories."

Question: What do you think we will do against Floydada? "Floydada has a tough team and they haven't lost a regular season game since 1970. I hope we can play them as good a game as last year except come out on the winning side."

Question: How far do you think the Post Antelopes will go this year? "We set a goal for our team to have a winning season and I think we will accomplish that goal."

Question: What do you think about the Post Antelopes this year? "We are a smaller team than last year's team but we are a lot quicker. We are a close group this year and everyone works hard to win."

Some Reflections

By Bob Ford

How does one say "good-bye" to a church and a community which have ministered to him and his family for over three years? How does one day "thank you" to a church and a community for letting him and his family be themselves? That is what I am trying to say in this column.

I wish I could enumerate for you the many ways you have ministered to me and my family. I will say that through the church and my involvements in the community I have been challenged to take a deeper look at myself and reorder some of my thinking. I have been challenged, at times very painfully, in certain areas I have always tried to hide from people. I have learned to live with this and become honest with myself and admit to myself many of my weaknesses. For this I am a stronger and a better person. Thank you for ministering to me.

From the beginning of our stay in Post Libby and I have felt free to be ourselves. Many times people try to force a pastor's family into a mold so that they can be comfortable with him and his family. We are grateful because you have let us be who we are—sinners, like you, saved by God's grace. That is very important to most pastors. They are not superhumans who never sin. They are human beings with all the faults and weaknesses of other mortals. Thank you for letting us be mortal with you.

I pray that you will continue to minister to all the pastors and families in Post, and you will allow them the freedom to be themselves.

Grace and peace to you all.

present, representing the area towns SPAG staff members present were Dorothy Miller, assistant CJC coordinator, and Royce Couch, instructor. Judge Glen Williams of Muleshoe, chairman of the committee, presided. Judge G. S. Dalby gave the welcoming address. Business included reviewing the 1974 CJC Plan. The group toured the recently

Pep rallies help to keep spirit going

This year's spirit has really picked up and the pep rallies are one good reason. They start off with the fight song while the Antelopes come in and get seated. Then the cheerleaders do yells, chants, and a skit. The band plays and also the twirlers twirl. Completed law enforcement facility before adjourning.

Drug seminar ends here today

Twenty-three lawmen are in Post attending a two and one-half day "Controlled Substance Seminar" in the county law enforcement complex being sponsored by the South Plains Association of Government's Law Enforcement Institute. "Controlled Substance" includes both synthetic drugs and narcotics. Don Roberts of Abilene and

Carl Williams of Midland, who represents the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education (TCEOSE) were instructors for the Tuesday session with a representative from the Lubbock district attorney's office and another from the Lubbock DP's office coming in for the Wednesday sessions. Lawmen enrolled in the

Graham 4-Hers hold year's first meeting

The Graham 4-H Club held its first meeting at 7:30 p. m. Sept. 17 at the Graham community center, with Jamie Norman calling the meeting to order and leading the 4-H Motto.

Elected as new officers were: Jerry Johnson, president; Melanie King, vice president; Jan Hall, secretary-treasurer; Jamie Norman, reporter, and Jarita Norman and Mike Macy, council delegates.

Refreshments and program arrangements were made for the new club year.

Extension Agent Dana Feaster gave a short program on the different 4-H projects, with Jerry Johnson telling about caring for livestock.

Reports were made on the money raised from the donkey ball game and the Little Britches Rodeo.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served by Mrs. Wagoner Johnson.

Those attending were leaders Mrs. Noel White and Mrs. Wagoner Johnson and members Jan Hall, Melanie King, Steve White, Jerry Johnson, Sharla and Mike Macy, Jimmy, Jamie and Jarita Norman.

Guests and prospective members present were Patti Ann McClellan, Barry, Phil and Linda Tyler, Brent and Brad Mason, Dennis and Janice McDonald.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mason and Bart, Mrs. Mason McClellan and Roxanne, Mrs. Morris Tyler, Mrs. Bob Macy and Mrs. Jim Norman.

Connell funeral rites pending

Private services for Mrs. Florine Laura Connell, 87, who died about 11 a. m. Tuesday in Mercy Hospital in Slaton, were pending early Wednesday at Greenwood Funeral Home in Post.

Mrs. Connell, member of a pioneer ranching family, was born in Williamsburg, Ohio, and had lived in Post three years. Her husband, Clyde, preceded her in death.

Hudman Funeral Home handled local arrangements.

Survivors include a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wilson Connell of Polar, two granddaughters, Mrs. Betty Connell Courtney and Mrs. Connie Connell Springer, both of Slaton, and six great grandchildren.

Minister is to end pastorate

Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church here for the last 12 1/2 years, will terminate his pastoral ministry at the church this coming Sunday. He has chosen, "Just One More Little Word" for his sermon topic at the 11 a. m. service. There will be no evening service.
 Highlighting the morning worship will be a baptismal service, beginning promptly at 11 o'clock.
 Mr. Ramsey and his wife, Edith, will continue to reside in Post. He stated that for the next 90 days, until Jan. 1, "the church, family has graciously consented to continue my compensation, including pension fund dues during this time, so that I may qualify for pension fund disability beginning the first of the year."
 After Jan. 1, Mr. Ramsey said, he will do supply preaching occasionally at the various 37 churches in the High Plains area. He also said he is planning to do some writing for publication; a continuation of his ministry toward which he has been looking forward.
 Church School starts at 9:50 Sunday, with the Lord's Supper also to be observed at the 11 a. m. worship. A supervised nursery is provided.

Hood rites are held Saturday

Services for M. B. Hood, 75, a former Plainview mayor and a former resident of the Post vicinity, were held at 10 a. m. Saturday in Plainview's First Methodist Church, with burial following in Plainview Memorial Park.
 Hood died at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in a Plainview hospital following an apparent heart attack.
 A native of Coryell County, he married Sue Graham, member of a pioneer Garza County family, in 1921 in Post. After attending college, Hood taught school in Tahoka and Grassland and owned car dealerships in Tahoka, O'Donnell and Littlefield.
 Moving to Plainview in 1956, he became a part owner of a dealership there. In 1958 he was elected mayor of Plainview on a write-in campaign and served 14 years. He was active in the First United Methodist Church and an active civic worker. The founder of M. B. Hood Insurance Agency, he was a past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Plainview.
 Survivors include his wife and three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Fitzgerald of Miami, Mrs. Noble Melton of Las Vegas, Nev., and Mrs. Clifford Kelly of Belton.

United Press story tells of Jim Prather and his roping

EDITOR'S NOTE: This United Press story on Jim Prather and the O. S. Ranch Benefit Steer Roping and Art Exhibit moved across Texas this week on the United Press International news wire as a feature on the upcoming weekend event here.

By MICHAEL O. WESTER
 POST, Tex. — (UPI) — There is something about a saddle, wild steers and a dusty corral which take on special meaning for Jim Prather.

"I'm not sure what it is — I can't put a finger on it," says the lanky, suntanned native Texan who operates his own ranch at the foot of the Texas Caprock. "I just enjoy roping."
 Prather has spent 10 years competing in special jackpots and rodeos as a steer roper. He hasn't set any records with his season total winnings, but he is proud of some of his trophies.
 "Winning the Cheyenne steer roping event in 1965 has been my biggest victory — the one championship I'm the proudest to remember," Prather said. "I've had some good years and some bad ones, but there is just something about the Cheyenne title that means more to a roper than any of the others."
 Prather, 38, has been the head man at the O. S. Ranch 13 miles southeast of Post since he began leasing the 27,000-acre spread eight years ago. He runs 900 cow units in a cow-calf operation and goes mainly for breeding stock.
 It's from that stock that he picks steers for four or five ropings every year — including the annual O. S. Ranch Steer Roping and Art Exhibit coming up this weekend. Prather hosts the doubleheader event annually, and it has quickly grown into one of the Southwest's biggest benefits.

 This year's event will be held Saturday and Sunday, and will again benefit the West Texas Boys Ranch at San Angelo. The top 33 professional ropers will be competing in the steer contest while 32 western artists will have exhibits on hand at the old ranch headquarters for the art show.

"I've roped calves all my life, at least it seems like I have," Prather says in his slow Texan drawl. "I grew up on a farm-ranch operation at Muleshoe. I got into some team roping, and one thing led to another and I just started steer roping professionally."
 Prather admits the current year hasn't been too good in the money column for him.
 "It just depends upon the season, and this hasn't been one for me to make a lot of money," he said. "I guess my best two money years would be 1967 and 1968."
 Prather still gets a funny feeling inside however when he competes — and he has been to four rodeos and eight jackpots this year. He plans to compete in three more jackpots before the season's end.
 "Ropers are just like anyone," Prather said. "Each feels he knows how to do his own thing better than anyone else. As a roper I've always wanted to put on a steer roping event — and I guess that's the reason I get so much pleasure out of the jackpot we have out at the ranch this weekend."
 Prather is more than just a roper-rancher, however. He also trains roping horses and has one of two well-known steer roping schools still taught in the Southwest.
 "Roping isn't as easy as it might look, and a real roper needs all the help he can get," Prather said. "Olin Young and I have a 10-day school every summer for steer and calf ropers. We really enjoy it, and the students seem to do pretty well after school lets out."
 Prather said the roping school isn't for a newcomer or rookie.

"The one who benefits the most is the roper who already knows how to ride and the basics of roping — we just try to help him improve on his techniques," he said. "We don't take the youngster who doesn't know how to ride or rope and try to make a circuit rider out of him in a few days."
 Prather said a roper, like any other professional, has to be willing to work and sacrifice at his talent if he wants to be successful.
 "If a person wants to be a top roper, then he has got to be willing to sacrifice other things for it and put in a lot of hard work and daily practice," Prather said.
 The father of a young girl and boy, Prather said he would be happy to see either or both of his children follow in his footsteps of professional rodeoing.
 "However, it's got to be their own decision — not mine," he said. "If they enjoy it, I'll back them all the way. But I don't want to push either of them if they are not interested."
 Prather is interested. And, it shows in whatever he does.
