BY INDEPENDENT APPRAISER

Spot check made of oil valuations

The Garza County Commissioners Court held a special meeting last Thursday to discuss the county's oil valuations with William Vestal, Snyder petroleum consultant.

The court hired Vestal recently to make a spot check on county oil valuations to determine how an independent appraiser would rate Garza's current valuations.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch that Vestal came in with figures close to the appraised values as determined by the Pritchard and Abbott oil evaluation firm which has been handling the county's appraisal for many years.

The county's contract with the Pritchard and Abbott firm expires this year and the court was interested to see how present appraisals would compare with those of another appraiser, Dalby explained.

"Members of the court know little of the oil appraisal methods so we thought a spot check by an independent appraiser would give us the information we needed," Dalby added.

Dalby said no action has been taken by the court on a contract (See Spot Check, page 8)

If you've got a few farm acres to sell, we know how to get a whirlwind response from buyers. Just run a "box ad" in The Post Dispatch, and sit back to wait for the letters to come in.

Ever since this newspaper began running a want ad to sell 40 acres of land two or three weeks ago, we've received at least a couple of dozen calls from people wanting to know where the land is and who's selling it.

That happens to be "privileged information" when a man buys a "box ad" in which the only contact is to have interested buyers write care of The Dispatch. This news to the box number given in the ad, paper then forwards the replies to the ad buyer for his consideration.

Not only have we received lots of written inquiries from the ad to pass on to the ad buyer, but everybody here in the office has spent a lot of time explaining we can't give out any additional information.

No wonder youngsters are interested in learning calf roping at summer schools like the current one now in progress at the O. S. Ranch near here. We looked at the Rodeo Cowboys Association, Inc., figures on 1971 rodeoing the other night and were amazed to learn that over $30 million dollars in prize money is put up for rodeos and another $30 million go into the payoff jackpots through entry fees from the cowboys themselves.

Yep, rodeoing may not be quite in the same "big business" class as professional golf where a weekend tourney winner pockets $35,000 but that $60 million bucks "ain't hay either."

Weldon Horton in business here

Weldon Horton has taken over operations of Wilson Bros. garage and service station at 401 South Broadway and has renamed the business, Horton's Chevron Service.

Horton, who recently moved back to Post from Odessa, had worked as a mechanic for C. R. Wilson for 21 years prior to his move to Odessa 2 1/2 years ago.

His wife, Betty, will assist him with the operation of their new business. The Horton's announcement ad appears on page 3 of today's Dispatch.

Art exhibit may become biggest-ever promotion

O. S. Ranch to be 'art capital'

In some ways the O. S. Ranch Benefit Art Exhibit, which is scheduled for the weekend of Sept. 30-Oct. 1 in conjunction with the O. S. Ranch Benefit Steer Roping, is an even bigger undertaking than Post's Golden Jubilee, which up to now rates as the biggest promotional event in the history of this community.

It doesn't involve nearly as many local people, of course, nor will it draw as large an audience, or cost as much money.

But it does involve around 30 of the nation's top cowboy and western artists, an unpredictable number of art buyers from a multi-state area and a vast amount of original planning.

The least that can be said is that it is certain to make the historic ranchhouse, 14 miles southeast of Post, the "art capital" of the whole Southwest at least for one glorious weekend.

Just for example, something like $300,000 worth of some very hard to get paintings and sculpture possibly will be assembled for this exhibit and sale.

And also for example, Peter Hurd of San Patricio, N.M., one of the best known of current western painters, has promised a 28 by 48 inch egg tempera, "Fourth of July Rodeo", for exhibit and sale.

The price will be $12,000.

The painting is currently on exhibit at the Phoenix Art Museum. Post, which already has gained some modest recognition for its art interest through some earnest art collectors, a busy group of painters, and annual art shows, should score big on this one. Just how big, nobody knows for sure.

But a whole lot of effort already has gone into it.

The art exhibit and sale is being added this year to go along with the O. S. Ranch Benefit Steer Roping which had its successful inaugural at the ranch last fall.

Thirty-two of the top steer ropers in the country, including several world champions, again will be in the field on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 1 with something like $15,000 in prize money going to the winners.

Jim Prather, who operates the O. S. Ranch, was the originator of the benefit steer roping that last year produced something like $3,500 for West Texas Boys Ranch at San Angelo.

During the off season, Jim came up with the thought of inviting cowboy artists to show their art for exhibit and sale.

He enlisted the help of Jim Ryan of Lubbock, one of the top cowboy artists in the country.

This spring, by phone and mail, Ryan obtained acceptances from 28 of his fellow cowboy and western artists to "do something" for the show.

The same "pull" which drew the steer ropers last year and back again this year is drawing the artists.

Tippen gets easy ride into Senate

Bill Tippen, Abilene attorney who served four years in the state legislature back in the late 1940s, will be Garza County's state senator for the remainder of 1972.

Tippen was the only candidate on the special election ballot for the 20-county area and "almost complete returns" of Tuesday's special election gave him 3,649 votes.

He did draw some write-in opposition this week from Mrs. Mary Ida Hofheer, wife of a McMurry college professor who is a liberal and was backed by a group of college students. She polled 332 votes. There were 80 other write-in votes cast for a variety of candidates.

Garza County had the poorest voter turnout in recent county history when only 32 voters showed up at the four voting boxes with Tippen getting all the votes.

Tippen is a former chairman of the board of trustees of Abilene Christian College and served for two years in the 1950s as a district attorney.

Tippen will replace David Raliff who resigned under fire a few weeks ago. Garza County will leave Tippen's state senatorial district Jan. 1, 1973, and will become a part of the Lubbock area district of which Doc Blanchard of Lubbock is the Democratic nominee in November for re-election.

300 Boy Scouts at first camp session

Approximately 300 Boy Scouts crowded into Camp Post here Sunday for the first week of what Bill McMillan Jr. of Lubbock thinks may prove to be the best camping season ever for the South Plains Boy Scout Council.

McMillan, who is council camping chairman, told The Dispatch yesterday that the camping season is "off to a fine start."

Approximately 300 more boys will come in this Sunday for the second week of the two-weeks camping season, but they won't arrive until the first camping contingent has packed its gear and gone.

Parents and friends are invited to visit the camp on Friday evening to view the traditional closing (See Boy Scouts, page 8)

Les Brown new deputy

Leslie Brown of 110 West 14th St., a senior in Texas Tech University, was reemployed Wednesday of last week as a new deputy sheriff in the office of Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman.

The new deputy, whose wife teaches in high school here, was hired through Federal Emergency Employment Act funds made available through SPAG.

The new officer's principal duties will be to handle the investigation of juvenile cases and work as a probation officer.

Royce Josey buys station business

Royce Josey has purchased the service station business of Tucker's Texaco Service at 515 North Broadway, effective June 1, and has named the station Josey's Texaco Service.

The station will continue to operate from 6:15 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily and Marshall Reno is continuing his duties as a station employee for Josey.

Tucker became the food manager of the Texas State School of Mental Health and Retardation in Lubbock the first of the month and plans to move his family to Lubbock as soon as he can obtain suitable housing.

Foundry to start pouring Monday

"We'll be pouring by Monday," George Carter promised yesterday afternoon at Post's newest industry, The Little Foundry.

The former large metal warehouse has a concrete floor complete in the south end for machine work and storage, and sand will be unloaded today to cover the pouring floor of the foundry.

A long line of applicants for 25 foundry positions were being interviewed throughout yesterday afternoon with more job interviews scheduled this afternoon.

Developing our Community Center

Announcement in The Dispatch last week that the Precinct 1 voting box—biggest in the county—was being moved from Teentown to the Post Community Center because of the poor state of repair of the teentown building has brought us inquiries from parents as to the future of Post's or Garza County's Youth Center.

As we understand the situation, the current Teentown board has been biding its time seeking another building of its own rather than putting costly repair funds into the present structure.

Right now the board is said to be "holding" for developments.

All of which makes this a better time than most to propose that some portion of the Post Community Center itself be developed into a youth center.

We would go further to suggest that the city proceed to develop the community center into a more usable facility by purchasing chairs, tables, curtains, some removable wall dividers, etc., so that the large room can be reduced for better use by smaller groups.

Certainly nowhere else can the city hope to obtain use of such a meeting room facility for community use at nominal cost. It's big, well-located, well-lighted, air-conditioned, properly heated.

Certainly building such a community center from scratch would require a tremendous cost.

Let us face the fact that the center as such is not going to be used every night, or even every week, nor is it going to anywhere near pay its own way in the local scheme of things.

But it is a facility that is critically needed when it is needed and serves a very useful purpose.

By combining a youth center into our community center facility, we certainly would provide more essential use for the building.

It certainly would not cost a lot of money to develop the community center into a more useful facility.

We don't think any expenditure along this line would be criticized by any citizen as a wasteful use of public funds. We are fortunate to have it where it is.

What we need to do now is to develop it for more usefulness to our community.

Certainly, we would be interested in the youth center board's viewpoint of moving the youth center into the community center.

And we would be equally interested in the reaction of the city dads to the proposal that the community center be better furnished at reasonable cost to the city for wider community use.—JC

Something more than just a flag

Have you ever noticed how many times during the course of a football or baseball game telecast the camera will swing to the flag of the United States atop the flagpole and the announcer will call attention to the flag as an indication of the wind's direction or velocity.

But, then you can't blame the TV announcer for using the flag as a wind indicator. He is merely following a trend. Many people nowadays, when they look at the flag high atop a flagpole, see nothing but a piece of cloth silhouetted against the sky, and this is unfortunate. If they would look only a little more carefully, adding an element of reflection, they would see the banner's brightness as a symbol of the freedom and liberty cherished and protected at great sacrifice since the birth of our nation.

By Presidential proclamation, Wednesday, June 14, is Flag Day across the nation. Displaying the flag on this special occasion is a way in which we can express patriotism—the spirit of love and devotion to a national heritage of "... one Nation, under God, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all." But we should remember that patriotism is shown not only by heroism on the battlefield but by the practice of good citizenship in peacetime as well.

This Flag Day each citizen should display the flag as a simple gesture of faith in the ideals of personal liberty for which our country stands.—CD

Shots from out of the night

The rifle shots that killed a county sheriff and a highway patrolman near Paducah two weeks ago came out of the night. The two officers, who were putting a prisoner in a car at the time they were slain, never had a chance.

How often does the average citizen stop to reflect that a law enforcement officer is putting his life on the line every time he answers a call? An officer can't wade into a situation with guns blazing, but those he is going after can. They know what's coming.

The man who wears a badge chose his own calling, of course, but consider what a pretty pass things would come to if suddenly nobody wanted to wear a badge, but took the attitude, "to heck with the long hours, low pay and nighttime snipers."

Considering the job they have to do and the risks they run, it is remarkable that there are as many law enforcement officers as there are dedicated to their duties. They deserve the support and respect of the law-abiding public.

The youth who shot the two officers at Paducah no doubt had no business having in his possession the high-powered rifle he used. That again brings up the issue of adequate gun control laws, which can't seem to get off the ground despite the large number of political assassinations, hijack murders and slaying of peace officers.

There appears to be more of an organized campaign against gun control laws than against anything else that has ever been brought up for the good of law and order. The chief argument appears to be that gun control laws won't keep the criminal from getting his hands on a gun. Perhaps not, but they would help. Laws against murder, kidnap and rape don't keep those crimes from happening, but we've got to have laws against them, just the same.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Relations are reported to be so good between mainland China and the U. S. that the Chinese no longer have to smuggle the sayings of Chairman Mao into this country in fortune cookies.—The Valley Advance, Vincennes, Ind.

You can criticize the President. You can criticize the Vice President. You can criticize the Congress. But you've got to hand it to the Internal Revenue Service! — Ranger-Review, Glendive, Mont.

IN THE FOUR top races on Saturday's ballot—U. S. Senator, Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Comptroller of Public Accounts—I batted considerably less than .500, but then I expected to when I stepped up to the plate.

I voted for two liberal candidates, both of whom lost, and I lost my vote in one of the other races by going along with a candidate who said his opponent was too old for the job. In the only one of the four races in which "my" candidate won, I thought I was voting for a liberal, but found out when I read the Sunday morning papers that he is only a "moderate." I'm quite sure that if he had been a liberal instead of a moderate, I'd have lost my vote there, too.

THE LIBERALS in Texas are in the same boat as the Republicans; there just aren't enough of them to beat the conservatives and the cross-over Republicans. Occasionally, of course, the liberals will get a man in, as they did Ralph Yarborough several years ago, and occasionally the Republicans will get a man in, as they did John Tower. But, by and large, Texas still is a one-party state and that one party is the conservative Democrats.

The man up the street says depend on the rabbit's foot if you will, but remember, it didn't work for the rabbit.

WITH SO MANY players to try to keep up with, it's a wonder the baseball broadcasters don't make more boo-boos than they do. So most of us who know better probably will excuse Gene Elston, Houston Astro broadcaster, for saying the other night that Jasper, Texas, is Norm Cash's hometown. Gene just got a little mixed up, for I've heard him mention several times before that Norm's hometown is Justiceburg.

Incidentally, Stormin' Norman, as he is known in Detroit, where he plays first base for the Tigers, is off to what probably is his best start in his long major league career. Through last week's games, he was batting up near the .300 mark and was among the American League leaders in home runs and runs batted in.

THE FOLLOWING evidently intended as a "Letter to the Editor," came in the mail, signed only, "Sincerely Yours." Since there is no signature, we can't run it as a letter to the editor, but it's too good to throw away, so I'll use it here:

"Now that women have demanded equal rights, particularly in the area of employment, I wonder how many females will apply for jobs as ditch diggers, plumbers, coal miners, garbage collectors and slaughter-house butchers.

"I am aware that not all women in the world are pushing for equality, but those who are have made so much noise about it that I can no longer give my seat on a bus to a lady. And I will never stand back and let a lady go first, unless, of course, she wants to jump out of a window, or off a bridge."

I've often wondered how it feels to have an oil well, or even an oil well location, named after you, so now I can ask either Maxine Marks or T. H. Tipton. Items in recent area oil news have told of new locations being named for the two local people. Come to think of it, though, I could have found out long ago by asking my neighbor, D. C. "Billy" Hill, since he has had two or three wells named for him.

THE FOLKS OUT at Close City who did a good enough job to win first place in their district in the Texas Community Improvement Program will be interested to know that the state winner is a place in Atascosa County with the unlikely name of Fashing-Peggy and a population of 70.

The other three communities that were state finalists for the top award were, in order of their placing: Harris Chapel, Panola County; Crawford, McLellan County, and Baling, Wharton County.

IN ANNOUNCING that this year a total of 283 communities participated in the program, Reagan Brown, Extension sociologist, who serves as coordinator of the program, pointed out: "This year a total of 283 communities participated in the program. All of these communities are winners. They are better places in which to live because the people cared enough to work together to improve their livelihoods."

The TCIP program, which reached into 106 counties this year with some 40,000 families participating, operates under the motto, "Working to Make Texas Even Better."

Crude oil production tops billion barrels

Garza County oil wells have produced 119,037,369 barrels since recorded production began in 1926, according to a study by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The county in 1971 produced 11,745 barrels a day for a total of 4,287,011.

Texas crude oil production in 1971 topped one billion barrels for the seventh consecutive year as reserves fell toward the 13 billion barrel mark.

Texas oil wells produced 1,210,818,658 barrels last year, bringing the state's 82-year production total to 35.3 billion barrels. Reserves dropped 172,000 barrels.

With producers unable to increase drilling activities, additional oil supplies in Texas hinge on recovering more oil from existing fields," Robert A. Buschman, association president, commented.

Second recovery units in Scurry County contributed a major portion of the county's 5.3 million barrel increase in 1971, which jumped the county to No. 1 in Texas.

Fourteen Texas counties produced more than 25 million barrels last year. The top three were Scurry, 73 million barrels; Ector, 69 million barrels, and Andrews, 67 million barrels.

The top three counties in cumulative production are Gregg, 2.2 billion barrels; Ector, 1.7 billion barrels, and Andrews, 1.5 billion barrels.

MOTHER SURVIVES

Herman Dillard's obituary in last Thursday's Dispatch inadvertently left out the name of his mother, Mrs. Hallie Dillard, as one of the survivors. The Dispatch is sorry the omission occurred and only too glad to make the correction.

The Army now starts enlisted men at $288 a month, with increases following basic training. It also continues to offer the traditional benefits of free meals, housing, clothing, medical and dental care, along with 30 paid vacation days a year.

For further information on the Army's new bonus plan, call Sgt. Charlie Cockrell collect at 747-3711 (Ext. 617), or stop by his office at the Federal Building in Lubbock.

Army has special bonus plan in certain careers

The U. S. Army announces a special bonus plan for young men enlisting in certain careers in the infantry, armor and artillery. The plan calls for payment of $1,500 for a four-year enlistment.

The bonus is payable in full following successful completion of basic and advanced training. This normally occurs about four months after enlistment, depending on the career field selected.

Men with prior service are eligible for the bonus plan if they have less than three years active service, have not previously received a reenlistment bonus and meet certain other requirements.

Besides professional training, the young men in the bonus plan will also be eligible to volunteer for the widest range of enlistment travel options ever afforded by the Army.

It's Healthy to Owe a Little!

A wise man once said that it's actually "healthy" to owe a little—so long as it's only for a little while.

Yes, it is smart to buy on credit, but it's even smarter to pay your bills promptly.

Most people prefer to buy on credit. It's convenient and lets you take advantage of low sale prices "on the spot."

So keep your credit record spotless — by paying your bills promptly.

Mears-Henderson vows read in First Baptist Church June 3

Natha Jo Mears and Aubrey Lynn Henderson pledged wedding vows Saturday, June 3, at 8 a.m. in the First Baptist Church of Post. Rev. Robert Griffin, pastor, officiated the double ring ceremony. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hedrick of Post and the bridegroom is the son of Jasper Henderson and Mrs. Doris Henderson of Kerrville.

MRS. AUBREY LYNN HENDERSON (Natha Jo Mears)

Presented in marriage by Mr. Hedrick, the bride wore a gown designed and made by her aunt, Mrs. Betty Young of Del Rio. The floor length gown of white bridal crystalline organza featured a roll collar and long tiered ruffled sleeves trimmed in lace edging. The empire waist bodice was adorned with tiny lace flowerets and butterflies re-embroidered with seed pearls, which also flowed down the center front and down the attached long train. She wore a white summer picture hat trimmed with the same flowers and butterflies and banded with a white velvet ribbon. Her bridal bouquet was a large cascade of white carnations, baby's breath and long ribbon streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Deb Hutto of Del Rio, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a white chiffon dress over mint green embroidered with flowers in the colors of the rainbow. The floor length dress was empire waisted with a roll collar and long full sheer sleeves. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers in various shades. Her white picture hat was similar to the bride's.

Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Young of Del Rio, Miss Donna Cox of Gail, Miss Judy Powell of Big Lake, Mrs. Donna Browning of Arlington, Mrs. Susan Merch of Rock-springs, Mrs. Nancy Kemp and Miss Melvena Stewart, both of Post. They wore solid colored dresses identical to the matron's of honor in colors of light pink, hot pink, lilac, purple, mint green, avocado green and blue with matching picture hats banded in velvet ribbon. Each carried a long stemmed carnation tied with streamers in the shade of their ensembles.

Miss Sharla Macy of Post was a flower girl. Her dress was identical to the matron's of honor. John Bill Hedrick acted as ringbearer.

Candles were lighted by John Johnson and Tol Thomas, both of Post.

Dale Henderson of Uvalde served as best man for his brother. Groomsmen were Walter Jullip of San Angelo, Johnny Merch of Rock-springs, David Whitworth of Doole, Bo Hutto, Mike Harper, both of Del Rio, Randy Hill, Gordon Morris, both of Kerrville.

Butch Cross of Mansfield, Carl Payne of Snyder, cousins of the bride, and John Allen Henderson of Kerrville, cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Jan Bartlett of Post, organist, and Miss Beth Peel, also of Post, soloist.

A garden reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Macy. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth gathered and tied at various points with the rainbow colored ribbons. The wedding cake was served with champagne punch flowing from a three-tiered fountain. An arrangement of pink carnations and crystal appointments completed the decor.

Chocolate cake was served from the groom's table, which was laid with a beige satin cloth and centered with an arrangement of beige carnations and decorated with tooled leather strips and silver stirrups to represent a saddle. The cake was in the shape of a boot.

The bride chose for traveling a white linen dress and jacket with matching accessories.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Post High School and 1972 graduate of Angelo State University with a degree in elementary education. The bridegroom is a graduate of Tivy High School in Kerrville, and attended Angelo State University.

The couple will be at home in San Angelo where he is employed by the San-Tex Feed Mills.

SCREWORM OUTBREAK

The screwworm, which at one time was one of the most economically damaging pests to livestock and wildlife, still poses a threat to the southwest. Dr. Bill Clymer, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Amarillo, reports that as of May 4 there were over 1,400 screwworm cases confirmed in Texas. Screwworm samples have been identified from as far north as Dickens and Borden counties.

At the present time the Screwworm Eradication Program is releasing sterile screwworm flies in a band of 500-600 per square mile 100 miles ahead of the last confirmed report. This band should help to slow the northward movement but much assistance is needed from area producers.

Several steps that producers can take to prevent a bad outbreak in West Texas include:

1. Inspect animals regularly for cuts, scratches and wounds. Pay special attention to the navel region on newborn calves.
2. Manage livestock to reduce injuries. Avoid surgery or any treatment that may create a wound.
3. Collect larvae and egg masses for identification. Search deep in wounds for screwworm. Send the samples to: Screwworm Eradication Program, P. O. Box 969, Mission, Texas 78522.
4. Treat all wounds with a wound dressing. Follow directions on the label. Reinspect wounds until healed and re-treat when necessary.
5. Spray or dip herds with approved pesticides. Follow directions on the label.
6. Know positively that purchased animals are screwworm-free at point of origin.
7. Tell your neighbors about the screwworm threat. Encourage them to follow these precautions.
8. See your local county agricultural agent for screwworm mailing tubes and additional information. Screwworm flies, according to after, up to the date of judgment, including all interest, penalties and costs allowed by law thereon, may upon request therefor, be recovered herein without further citation or notice to any parties herein, and all said parties shall take notice of and plead and answer to all claims and pleadings now on file and which may hereafter be filed in said cause by all other parties herein, and all of these taxing units above named, who may intervene herein and set up their respective tax claims against said property.

What Is A Preacher?

I clipped the following piece out of a church newsletter a seminary friend of mine sends me. I think it is a pretty good definition of the many-faceted functions of the professional parish pastor of the 1970's.

What is a preacher? Why, he is a man called of God to preach the Gospel, and dependent upon the grace of a congregation. He is a specialist, educated trained and experienced in a field where everyone on earth considers himself an expert. He is the manager of an institution numbering scores of activities and hundreds of members, whose major task is to manage it without the fatal hint of assuming authority.

And what does a preacher do? Well, his time is his own which means that he is always in the job. You see, the man who is cursed with punching a time clock in the morning is also blessed with the privilege of punching out in the evening. The preacher teaches though he must solicit his own classes. He heals, though without pills or knife. He is sometimes a lawyer, often a social worker, something of an editor, a bit of a philosopher, an entertainer, a lecturer, a salesman, a handy piece of decorative furniture at public functions, a local representative for every relief movement in the land. He is supposed to be a scholar as well as promotional man. People come to see him and he goes to see people continually and he rejoices with exceeding joy when in the midst of them when an opportunity arises to be of genuine personal, spiritual help. He visits the sick, marries people, buries the dead, labors to console those who sorrow, and to admonish those who sin, and labors to stay sweet when chided for not calling enough. He plans programs, appoints committees and does their work for them, spends considerable time in keeping people out of each other's hair and more time in trying to scramble out himself with the least possible loss.

O yes—and between times he prepares and preaches on Sunday to those who don't happen to have any other engagement for the Sabbath holiday. Then, on Monday he smiles when some jovial chap roars, "What a job—one hour of work a week!"

Grace and peace from one who loves his work.

tists too — helping some 80 homeless boys to grow up into men with an education and a chance to make their own way.

The list of accepting artists, almost four months ahead of the show, is a very impressive one. From eight states and one foreign country, it includes:

From California: Frank Polk of Hemet, Nicholas Firfires of Santa Barbara, Jack Swanson of Carmel Valley.

From Arizona: James Reynolds, Joe Beeler, and Charlie Dye, all of Sedona, John Hampton of Scottsdale, and Brownell McGrew of Cottonwood.

From New Mexico: Peter Hurd of San Patricio, Bob Lee, former U. S. Senator from New Mexico, and Gordon Snidow from Belen, Robert Loughbeed of near Santa Fe, and George B. Marks and William Moyers, both of Albuquerque.

From Colorado: Ned Jacob of Denver and John Kittelson of Bellvue.

From Montana: Bud Helbig of near Kalispell, Fred Fellows of Big Fork, and Bob Scrivner of Browning.

From Utah: U. Grant Speed of Provo.

From Oklahoma: Jim Hamilton and John Free, both of Pawhuska.

From Texas: James Boren and Melvin Warren of Clifton, Ronald Thomason of near Weatherford, Jim Ryan of Lubbock and Wayne Baize of Baird.

The one from the farthest away and the only foreign country is Harry Jackson of the Wyoming Foundry Studios of Camaiore, Italy, who does cowboy sculpture and currently is back for a visit in the United States.

A group of these artists have not only promised to send some of their work for exhibit and sale, but to come to Post 10 days to two weeks ahead of time to do sketches in cattle country along the Caprock's rim for exhibit and sale too. They will be guests in local homes.

If the art exhibit is even half of the success planners anticipate, the boys of West Texas Boys Ranch will benefit handsomely. A percentage of the sale of every painting or sculpture at the exhibit will go to the operation for the boys.

The volunteer 15-member Post Art Exhibit Committee, which is trying to put all this together, has been meeting since winter and a lot already has been accomplished.

First off, while Ryan was lining up the artists, the local committee was assembling an area committee composed of 30 prominent couples in 30 cities in four southwestern states and Colorado. Their assignment is to help art collectors "get the word" on what is about to happen here.

Included on the area committee are the publisher of one western magazine, the editor of another, and directors of four museums of western art.

Already well into the preparation stage is an 80-page souvenir program with a planned press run of 3,000 copies which will include pictures of each of the participating artists and steer ropers, also a sketch of each, and a picture of one of each roper in action.

The cover will be a full-color picture of one of the late George Phippen's paintings. Phippen generally is recognized as the best known cowboy artist of all time. His widow, in Skull Valley, Ariz., is sending the painting for exhibit and sale here.

The souvenir program layout is being done by artists too. Sketches of the artists, something far different from the regular biographical paragraphs, have been written by Don Hedgpath, assistant to the director of the Whitney Gallery of Western Art at Cody, Wyo.

Hedgpath, who knows all of the artists personally, volunteered for the assignment as his contribution to the benefit.

The programs, which also will contain pages and pictures of the history of Post, Garza County, and the O. S. Ranch, will sell for $2 and the local committee is hopeful they will become "collector's items" in the world of cowboy art.

One line sponsorships for a page in the program are currently being sold for $100 each.

All profits from the program sale will also go to West Texas Boys Ranch, and could provide a tidy sum if the souvenir program gains wide acceptance.

But those aren't all the problems.

The benefit steer roping and art exhibit will come on the same weekend as the Texas Tech-Texas football game in Lubbock, so motels all over this area are expected to be at a premium.

This means a mid-summer mail-out is being planned to hundreds of art collectors all over the Southwest advising them of the exhibit and sale, and urging them to make their weekend reservations as early as possible.

Publicity is well into the planning stage too. It will involve articles in several prominent western horse magazines, special stories to the art editors of leading dailies all over the Southwest, wire service features with pictures, special stories to newspapers, TV and radio stations in the home areas of each of the artists involved, and general news coverage through all media just in advance of the Sept. 30-Oct. 1 weekend.

Another of the major assignments for the exhibit will be the receiving, hanging, insuring and delivery or return of all the art works sent here for the event.

At present planning is fairly well on schedule with the deadline just ahead for "going to press" with the souvenir program.

The Post Art Exhibit Committee includes Tom Ryan as chairman; Giles C. McCrary, vice chairman; Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby, secretary; Dr. William C. Wilson, treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lott, Mrs. Giles McCrary, David Newby, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Prather, Joe Taylor and Jim Cornish.

Four members of the committee will be in Oklahoma City Saturday night for the opening of the Cowboy Artists of America art exhibit at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in that city, and the awards banquet of the cowboy artists also scheduled for the same night.

Attending the exhibit and banquet will be Mr. and Mrs. David Newby, Giles C. McCrary, and Mrs. Jim Prather. Many of the artists in the exhibit there will be showing in Post this fall.

The vote was 4 to 1 to accept the grant with Commissioner Herbert Walls voting no, minutes of the meeting indicated.

work department.

—Authorized Councilman Myers to confer with a group of local men who are interested in helping operate a youth recreation program this summer under city sponsorship.

Patrolman Jolly and Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman met with the council early, with Jolly reporting that the new work schedule he and the sheriff had drawn up was working well.

After Jolly left, the council voted to raise his monthly salary from $420 to $450 because of his extra duties since the council's dismissal of Police Chief Otis G. Shepherd Jr. on May 17.

The council voted unanimously that an additional city patrolman be employed, leaving his selection up to Jolly and Maddox, subject to the council's approval.

Cornish, in his library budget request, told the council that the city might be called on for additional funds if second year federal funding is not made for the librarian's salary in August or September. He said the second year federal funds are expected, but that if they are not forthcoming, the library's only alternative, if funds could not be obtained elsewhere, would be to lock the doors.

"The library could not go back on a volunteer basis now," the board chairman said.

He said library trustees are hopeful, however, that the federal funds will be available for the librarian's salary and that it will not be necessary to request an increase in the city's library appropriation.

Cornish said the board has curtailed the purchase of new books for the library for the last few months so that if the federal salary funds are late in being appropriated, the board can pay the librarian's salary at least for a little while.

Cornish, Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick and the Rev. George L. Miller, whose terms are expiring, were reappointed to the library board by the council.

The copying machine the council voted for the city to donate to the library is being replaced by a new one in the city hall. The public works superintendent told the council the city has tried to sell the old copying machine, but had found no buyers.

The city granted a 30-day extension on condemnation hearing of a vacant house at 408 West 14th St. that the fire marshal has recommended be condemned as a fire hazard. T. B. Mason, representing the Mason Estate, owner of the house, was at the meeting and asked the council on what complaint the house had been condemned. He was told by the council that it had been inspected by the fire marshal and suggested that Mason and the fire marshal "work it out" between now and the hearing date.

The council also granted a 30-day extension on hearing on a house in the south part of town. The owner of the house, a widow, wrote the city that she thinks she can sell the property.

Earl Chapman, a member of the airport board, met with the council in regard to the board's request that the city lay an 8,800-foot plastic water line to the airport. Chapman said he had the promise of a caretaker moving his trailer house to the airport if the line is laid.

At Chapman's own suggestion, the council postponed action on the request until a more definite commitment is obtained from the prospective caretaker. The cost of the pipe, fittings, etc., would be approximately $1,200, half of which the county has already agreed to pay, Chapman said.

The new ditching machine was purchased from Witch Equipment Co. of North Texas at a cost of $4,227, including attachments. Only one bid was submitted.

Truett Mayes, SPAG representative, sat in on the council meeting only briefly, explaining that he was visiting city Councils in the SPAG area "to get acquainted with new council members."

The council briefly discussed a summer youth recreation program such as those sponsored by the city the last two summers. Councilman Windham pointed out that time is short for a program this summer but that the thinking seems to be that one should be held "if only for two weeks," in order to keep the program alive.

Crosby County may join the four-county federal food stamp unit, headquartered here, this afternoon at a meeting of the commissioners courts of Borden, Lynn, Dickens, and Garza Counties here.

A representative of the state welfare department at Austin is scheduled to meet with the members of the four county courts to explain the procedure.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch yesterday that Crosby wants to shift from commodity distribution to food stamps and if they are accepted into the present food stamp unit here it will reduce the cost of operating the office to each of the present four member counties.

Three or four men of the community are reported to be interested in helping get a youth recreation program started as soon as possible, and Councilman Myers was appointed by Windham to meet with them and offer the city's sponsorship.

Councilman Windham served as mayor pro tem in the absence of Mayor Giles C. McCrary, who was out of town on business.

Red Sox lead at stake in tonight's tilt with Yanks

The Red Sox will have to beat the Yankees tonight to keep the Little League lead, which they have held since the game between the first place Red Sox and second place Yankees was held on Monday. The Red Sox are in the lead, the second contest of the Little League season against the Yankees.

The Red Sox pulled to within a half-run of the Yankees in the bottom of the ninth, but they were unable to score. The Yankees, who are led by the Red Sox, are the only team in the league to have won two games in a row.

scored three more runs in the fourth on four walks, a single by Davis and a fielder's choice.

The Dodgers' single run was scored in the fifth by Billy Smith, who was safe on a fielder's choice and scored on singles by Mike Dye and Danny Nelson. Bruce Waldrip started on the mound for the winners, but was relieved in the top of the first by Brad Davis.

The Tigers scored five runs in the second inning and one in the fourth, then held off the Cardinals Saturday night for a 6 to 5 win. The Tigers' only hit was a single by Raymond Garza, and it did not figure in a run, all the Tiger tall-

Leaders to play cellar-dwellers in Minor League

The Colts, leading the Minor League with a 4-0 mark, are to play the Harvesters, who are in last place with an 0-4 mark, in the first of Friday night's two games. The third place Mets and the fourth place Astros meet in the second contest.

Adrian Landa pitched the Blue Jays to an 18-0 shutout over the Harvesters Tuesday night, with Kevin Craig the losing pitcher.

Lance Dunn and David Foster pitched for the Mets in the latter's 13-12 win over the Astros Tuesday night, with Adolfo Verda and Kam Huntley working on the mound for the Astros.

ies coming on walks and errors. Waldrip started on the mound for the Cards, with Davis relieving him in the fourth.

The losers got but three hits off Holly, Tommy Lockhart and Caine Abraham. Cardinals getting hits were Pat Mitchell, Kent Craig and Dale Redman.

Scoring three runs in the bottom of the fifth to break a 2-2 tie, the Yankees beat the Dodgers, 5 to 2, Saturday night, with Evans Heaton going all the way for the win, and Doug Hall, who had relieved Billy Smith, the loser.

Each team got five hits, with Bryan Compton, Wally Wright, Heaton, Randy Baker and James Bilberry hitting safely for the winners. Jack Moore and Doug Hall each got two of the Dodgers' five hits, with the other going to Mike Dye.

Larry Harper allowed but one hit, a first inning single by Kent Craig, in the Red Sox 17-0 blanking of the Cardinals last Thursday night. The winners raked starter Brad Davis and his relievers, Bruce Waldrip and Brent Terry, for a total of 14 hits. In addition to pitching the one-hitter, Harper got three hits in three at-bats. Scott Walker, Jeff Greene and Jeff Williams got two hits apiece.

After spotting the Wildcats to a five-run lead in the first inning, the Tigers came back to take a 15-10 decision in last Thursday's first game. Raymie Holly, the third of three Tiger pitchers, was credited with the win. Junior Mahon and Caine Abraham preceded Holly on the mound. Rodney Gray, who went five innings for the Wildcats, was charged with the loss. Owen Gilbert pitched the final frame.

Mike Shedd got three hits in three trips to the plate for the Tigers and Steve Hair, Raymie Holly and Abraham came up with two hits apiece. For the Wildcats, Gilbert got four hits in four at-bats, including two doubles.

Rex Prather wins in calf roping

Rex Prather of Post won first place money in the calf roping at the second annual calf and steer roping contest held Saturday and Sunday at Perryton.

Prather's total time on four head of calves was 66.3 seconds, giving him a winning margin of .4 of a second over Sonny Davis of Kenna, N. M. Marvin Cantrell finished third and Nick Harris, fourth.

Prather's best time was on his third calf, which he roped in 12.3 seconds. He had a time of 13.0 on his fourth calf, 16.7 on his second and 24.3 on his first.

Jim Prather, also of Post, placed second behind Bud Upton in the two-steer average. Prather's total time on the two steers was 37.3, and Upton's 35.3 Upton went on to win the four-steer average with a total time of 70.0 seconds.

Sonny Davis won the eight head (four steers and four calves) total money, with Marvin Cantrell second, Nick Harris, third, and Walter Arnold, fourth.

Fifteen of the area's top ropers competed in the event, which saw each roper rope four steers and four calves.

Prize money was divided on the basis of total times for calf roping, total time for steer roping, and total time for both steers and calves.

Five big production numbers in Ringling Brothers Circus

The 101st edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus boasts five lavish production numbers which are more opulent, more dazzling, more splendid than any in circus history.

All the excitement and splendor of The Greatest Show on Earth can be seen when it arrives at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum on June 13-14 for performances at 2:30 and 8 p.m.

The circus gets off to a roaring start with "Our Fabulous Felines," a delightful display of fun and frolic. Pretty ladies dressed as lionesses prance around the rings, to the commands of handsome lion tamers, and the entire contingent of circus clowns and performers pass in review.

The aerial number is "Swing Your Partner" a toe-tapping, hand-clapping delight, as 32 boys dressed as farmers wheel out "haystacks" concealing 32 charming country gals. The girls step from the haystacks and the arena is transformed into a swinging hoo-down. Then the gals climb ropes high above the arena to the bouncing beat of a dozen banjos, and perform a rousing syncopated rou-

Class history traces progress of Seniors

(Editor's Note: The history of the 1971-72 senior class of Post High School was read by Ronald Tyler at the commencement exercise held May 30. The Dispatch, which a few weeks ago published the class will and the class prophecy, is also publishing the class history, which appears below.)

Our class history started in the first grade as all other class histories do. Of the graduating class of 1972 43 began their first grade education in Post Primary. They are: Willima Bullard, Mark Clayton, Carol Compton, Nancy Cook, Gloria DeLeon, Don Eilenberger, Helen Eilenberger, Larry Hair, David Hart, Dejuana Hays, Mark Hays, Mike Hays, Randall Hays, Mary Heaton, Wanda Heintz, Wayland Hood, Kyle Josey, John McVay, Jackie Moore, Dewayne Morris, Patti Nelson, Bobby Norman, Debra Oden, Kim Owen, Sue Parrish, Gary Shepherd, Tommy Shumard, Melvena Stewart, Ronald Tyler, Johnny Wallace, G. B. Wilke, David Woods, Mary Ann Wright, Debbie Cross, Kelly Duren, Eva Martinez, Lucy Valdez, Wynette Byrd, Tony Rosas, Debra York, Glen Branson, Vickie Krueger and Melba Mathis.

The first grade was the year Bobby Norman established his reputation as a lady's man by kissing Tracy Huff every morning before school. Our class first showed signs of producing fine actors during the first grade. David Woods played "Grandpa" in the first grade Christmas play and Gary Shepherd was a convincing big bad wolf in the production of Little Red Riding Hood. Soon it was time for our first grade year to be over. Very little happened during our second grade year. Perhaps the most notable thing that happened during that year was the fact that Randall Hays had three different teachers during the second grade.

This was also the year that we first began to write.

During the third grade, Lincoln School consolidated with Post Independent Schools. New additions to our class that year were Linda Manuel, Scotty Hoyle, Marchelle Hoyle, Ruthie Sloan. One of the highlights of the third grade was the huan presented by Mrs. Raphael's class. Mrs. Raphael also sponsored a classroom museum to which the students contributed anything over 40 years old.

The fourth grade was different from the third. For one thing we were in a different building. The most popular recess game was run-through, in which both boys and girls participated. Our fourth grade class proved it had a conscience. During one class a spider was killed. Melvena Stewart, Nancy Cook, and Sue Parrish conducted a funeral for it using a matchbox for a coffin. Kenny McKamie first started to school in Post during the fourth grade.

During the fifth grade our class was made larger by the addition of Lanita Justice, Patti Allison and Sally Dorland. The highlights of the fifth grade was the school trip to MacKenzie Park, the Texas Tech Museum, and the planetarium.

Our sixth grade year was very different from our previous school years. We were in a different building and also we had five or six different teachers instead of the one we had during previous years. During the year, Mrs. Raphael's history class buried a time capsule. Each person wrote a letter and put a picture of himself in a steel box. Other articles of everyday life such as combs, money, and even tops were placed in the time capsule. It was welded shut and buried in the school ground. Hopefully it will be dug up in 2066.

The seventh grade is vividly remembered by almost everyone. During that year we participated in school athletics for the first time. Our seventh grade football team not only failed to win a game, but it also failed to score a point. Both the boys and girls basketball teams posted respectable records. During the seventh grade the student council sponsored "Western Day." There was quite an assortment of costumes ranging from dance-hall girls to preachers, but when it was all over Debbie Cross was crowned Western Day Queen and Terry Cates Western Day King. New additions to our seventh grade class were Sonny Bevers, Wynette Byrd and Liz Torref.

Our eighth grade class was made larger through the addition of Paula Criswell. Our athletic teams fared much better this year than they did the year before. The 8th grade football team tied Slaton for first place in district, with the most memorable game being Post's 16-15 victory over Slaton. Coach "Bud" Davis was so happy he cried. The boys and girls basketball teams both posted respectable records. The boys track team placed fourth with Scotty Hoyle, Kyle Josey, and Tony Rosas all capturing first places. While returning from this track meet all of the track boys built up quite a thirst. David Hart spied a bottle with an apple on it in the seat next to him. He took a large swallow and much to his surprise, he learned it was apple vinegar. Parties were very popular during our eighth grade year. It was during these parties that Mary Ann Wright became an expert at spin the bottle. Toward the end of the year all of the eighth graders and their teachers attended a picnic at Post City Park. During this picnic Coach "Bud" Davis was pelted with water balloons from various persons and was doused with a bucket of water by Willima Bullard. The eighth grade class graduated from Junior High at the end of our eighth grade year. After our graduation we attended a banquet with the theme being "Strawberry Fields Forever."

Our class increased by two our freshman year when Jackie Moore returned after moving from Post several years earlier and when Phil Mathews moved to Post from Lubbock. Our freshman year was spent running from the seniors. Some of us escaped capture. Others were not so lucky. Those who were caught got a taste of the seniors' boards. Others were painted with lipstick. One of the most widely used things we learned during our freshman year was how to place erasers in the lamp shades without getting caught. A burning eraser has a distinctive smell which, needless to say, makes the teacher very mad. Our freshman class favorites were Phil Mathews and Debbie Cross.

Brad Lott moved from Roswell to attend Post High School at the beginning of our sophomore year. Little changed from our freshman to our sophomore year, except that we no longer were forced to run from the seniors. During this time Kelly Duren learned that the windows in the geometry room would break. During the spring of our sophomore year, Mrs. Wilkins' biology class took several field trips. During one of these trips Liz Torres, Marchelle Hoyle and Ruthie Sloan learned that it was easy to become lost in the canyons of Garza County. Some of the sophomores were chosen to serve in the Junior-Senior banquet. Our sophomore class favorites were Larry Hair and Paula Criswell.

During our junior year five new students were added to our class. Dusty Norman, Allen Woods, Fran Lappen, and Sandra Olive attended Post schools for the first time. Wayland Hood returned to Post after moving several years before. Our junior year was remarkably different from our sophomore year. We were now upper classmen. This was the year of the fiasco known as "The Cataclysmic Loves of Cooper and Looper and Their Friend Who Was Squashed by a Moving Van," or more commonly known as the Junior play. Many of the players forgot their lines and to add to the chaos, the scenery began to fall down during the play.

This was also the year that we presented the Junior-Senior Banquet. The theme of the banquet was "The Age of Aquarius." The banquet went off well and everyone had a lot of fun. Our junior class favorites were Kim Owen and Wynette Byrd. Our junior year soon became part of the past and we were in our most important school year. We were now seniors. We were the upper class of Post

High School. Only a few years before we were freshmen and were running from the seniors; now we were doing the chasing. However, we soon tired of chasing the freshmen.

It seemed as though everyone had a nickname during his senior year. The following are just a few of these nicknames:

One of the many highlights of our senior year was homecoming. This was a special homecoming because we were seniors. The football game did not come out as we wished but it was a lot of fun anyway. Nancy Cook was crowned football sweetheart and Dejuana Hays band sweetheart, Tony Rosas was chosen pep squad beau. Later on in the year Jackie Moore was chosen basketball sweetheart and Randall Hays was chosen pep squad sweetheart.

It was soon time for the senior play. Our play for this year was "Absolutely Murder." This play turned out well.

Several months later the junior class presented the Junior-Senior Banquet which had an oriental theme. The banquet went real well and was a highlight of the whole year.

The Senior Superlatives were chosen during the year. Randall Hays and Mary Ann Wright were chosen most versatile, Larry Hair and Lanita Justice the wittiest, Kim Owen and Nancy Cook most friendly, David Woods and Jackie Moore most athletic, Johnny Wallace and Carol Compton most dependable, Kelly Duren and Melvena Stewart best dressed, Tommy Shumard most masculine, Paula Criswell most feminine, Kim Owen Mister PHS, Nancy Cook Miss PHS and Kim Owen and Sue Parrish Senior Class favorites.

Toward the end of our senior year the senior grades were av-

TIPS HAT TO POST

Dear Editor: A very sincere tip of the hat to the friendliest town east of the Pecos.

Last Saturday my bus, which was loaded down with youngsters going to a Pathfinders camp in Arkansas, broke down about 12 miles from town. We had been stopped only a very few minutes when Mrs. Leon Clary came by and asked if we needed help. She had Mr. Clary come with the wrecker and take the bus to Dub Ryan's Garage. The Clarys then adopted the only girl on the trip for the duration of our stay in Post. The Clarys are a great people.

Dub Ryan worked all day and late into the night Sunday to get ready to replace the engine in our bus. His tireless effort and courteous attention enabled us to get rolling much sooner than we had thought possible.

C. H. Taylor offered us the use of his home to sleep in at night after our first night camping in your excellent park. His bus could not be excelled. Mr. Tom Harmon kept us entertained and helped with a food problem. This man is credit to your town. Mr. Les Brown watched over boys and our camping gear. A very fine officer who has a interest of kids at heart and a to help.

There were many others in Post who lent us a hand and was certainly appreciated.

Everyone on our trip says you have to break down in the place where it should be.

Southland youth plans European vacation trip

By TOMMIE WILKE

Greetings from Southland! Bet you thought we had faded quietly out of the picture, but really we haven't. It is just that this reporter hasn't been very busy gathering the local news. Memorial weekend went out of town. Went over to Ruidoso with the Leroy Zieschangs. Had a grand weekend in the cool pines. They even got a little rain while we were there.

Jackie Dunn is now out of the service and visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunn, here for a few days before leaving Thursday of last week for a vacation trip to Europe. Oh, to be young and have the opportunity to travel to Europe! I made this remark to someone the other day and they came back with, "Oh, just to be young!"

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell recently went to Plainview where they attended a Rainbow Installation for Marilyn Malouf, who was installed as Worthy Advisor. Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Ferguson of Post also attended this installation. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Malouf Jr., and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson.

We extend our sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wartes on the loss of her father, Herman Dillard, recently. May God comfort them in their sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Courtney and children spent the Memorial holidays in beautiful Big Bend National Park. Never have been there, but I hear it is just beautiful!

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Callaway went a few days here recently visiting relatives and friends.

E. L. Dunn of Dallas and Mrs. Ida Day of Slaton were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dunn.

Otto Klaus spent this past Sunday afternoon visiting in his son's home, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Klaus of Slaton.

Mrs. Carl Cederholm and Mrs. Robert Kiker, both of Post, visited Saturday afternoon in Southland visiting Mrs. D. D. Pennell.

Have a new family down on Sand Creek Ranch. They are Mr. and Mrs. Boreing and son. They took over the job as foreman after Mr. Joe Hopper had to retire because of his health. Joe and his wife are now living in Littlefield.

Mrs. Paul Winterrowd, Breonne and Jerry, spent a few days in Fort Worth last week and when they returned to Southland, they brought "Cookie's" mom, Mrs. Francis Lightfoot, back with them for a visit.

Jerry Winterrowd is taking driver's education through Coach Kerr of Slaton.

Mrs. E. C. Stabeno and daughter, Lynn, Dew to Mercedes this past weekend to attend the wedding of Marilyn Basinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Basinger and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Basinger and great-granddaughter of Mrs. A. Wilke.

Beth Stolle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stolle, was admitted to West Texas Hospital this past Sunday night and was a pretty sick little miss. Hope all goes well with her and she is up and playing before too long.

Mrs. Ben Breiger underwent surgery this past week in Methodist Hospital. May God be with her and restore her to health as soon as possible.

Mrs. Jake Mueller was in the hospital this past week for some tests.

Mrs. Cecil Stolle spent a day or two in Mercy Hospital last week. Earlier in the week, her daughter, Beth, was sick, and then after Laverne got to feeling better, Cecil got sick. Now Beth is in the hospital — so this family is really having a bad time.

Glen Brosch, Mark Schwertner, and Sherri Wilke went to Dallas this past weekend where they attended the Lions Club Queen's contest in which Loretta Diloe of Slaton was a candidate. She didn't win the state title of queen but she was chosen as Miss Comeniality.

The seniors and their sponsors returned to Southland recently after a most enjoyable trip to Austin.

San Antonio, Houston, Dallas and Six Flags and San Marcos. Those making the trip were Coach and Mrs. Rod Callaway, Eva Garza, Ludie Flores, Cathy Long and Laura Bevers. Congratulations to Cathy Long and Phillip Noble on their recent engagement and approaching wedding. Cathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long of Southland. Phillip is from Post.

Congratulations to Sherri Wilke for being on the Dean's Honor Roll just before school was out. Mrs. Syd Conner from Post presented a program about Indians to the freshmen and sophomore students here in Southland.

Our sympathies go out to the family of Mrs. Clara Whited, former Southland community resident, who died Wednesday of last week after a lengthy illness. She was preceded in death by her husband, John, in 1968. She is survived by two sons, Herman of Houston and Wayne of Lubbock, and three daughters, Mrs. Mattie Burris of Lubbock, Mrs. Roy Parr of Bonham, and Mrs. Irene Bernathy of Grand Prairie. May they be comforted in their sorrow.

We extend our sympathies to the family of Mrs. Mary Hord of Wolf-orth, and formerly of Southland, who died on Tuesday of last week. Her funeral was held Thursday with burial in Resthaven Memorial Park. Mrs. Hord was 89 years old. She is survived by three sons, Frank and John of the home, and J. D. Jr. of Lubbock; three daughters, Mrs. J. C. Richards of Lubbock, Mrs. Otis Neil of Slaton and Mrs. O. F. Tipton of Tucson, Ariz.; one sister, 13 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

Worth and Mr. and Mrs. L. onnie Collingsworth of Rt. 4, Lubbock. May God comfort these families in their deep sorrow.

Our sympathies go out to the family of Charlie Stewert who passed away recently. His sister, Mrs. Ed Lieske lives here in Southland. Harold Tanner, former Southland resident and now of Lovington, visited with different families here last week. His dad used to be a blacksmith in Southland between the years of 1937 and 1945. We extend our sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. Stonewall Jefferson on the loss of his brother, Collin Owens, last week in California. He was brought back to Texas and buried in Wharton. Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson attended the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene left Wednesday for San Antonio after a week here with his parents, Mr. R. G. "Wilke" Wilke and Mrs. Wilke.

McMinn and Mr. and Mrs. Zieschang. Received a nice letter from Nellie Mathis recently said to tell everybody until next week, that is the unsaid part of think."
