Forty-Fifth Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, January 13, 1972 Number 33

EIGHT SERVICE STATIONS HIT

Burglary charges are filed against three

Fast work on the part of Post law enforcement officers and a big assist from the Tahoka police department resulted in the arrest of three Lubbock men early Friday morning shortly after they had broken into eight service stations here and stolen the money from the cigarette machines.

Charged on two counts of burglary each in Justice of the Peace Racy Robinson's court were Ben Donald O'Brien, 24; Joe Jay Weaver, 37, and Jimmy Robert Gordon, 36. They have been released under bonds of $1,000 on each of the two charges.

Tahoka police arrested the three men after they had been alerted by Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman and City Patrolman Jerry Jolly.

City and county agreement Tuesday night to consolidate two law enforcement forces into one should be hailed by all local citizens as a tremendously big step in the right direction.

Here is the golden opportunity to establish an efficient, modern local law arm in every respect, with Uncle Sam gladly putting in most of the funds for the necessary new equipment and paying the full initial cost of any personnel additions so he can hold it up as a model to others.

Coming from the consolidation would be a law complex where all law enforcement in the county (including highway patrol plus fish and game) would be housed under a single roof.

From the consolidation too would come a new jail — long and badly needed here.

Did you know that something like 93 per cent of all the jails in Texas fail to meet all modern jail standards. Through consolidation, Garza and Post would vault right up into that qualified 7 per cent.

Again, federal funding of half the cost of the law complex would put the construction, cost-wise, within easy reach here. It would provide no real burden on either city or county, both now virtually free of debt (except for the city's long-standing water bond obligations).

As for operating efficiency, it is relatively easy to see how much additional efficiency could be expected from a four-man law enforcement force with one commanding officer than two two-man law forces, each with a two-man law officer.

It is much easier to put a four-

Two arrested on marijuana charges

Two Post youths were arrested here Sunday evening by Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman and charged with possession of marijuana and narcotic drug paraphernalia.

The two are Robert Larry Cummings, 19, who is being held in the county jail, and Billy James Criswell, 18, who has been released on bond.

The cases will be presented to the next grand jury.

Sheriff Holleman, who has been working on drug use among young people here, said a quantity of marijuana was found in the car in which the two youths were riding when the arrests were made at a local service station.

City, county to file for Law enforcement grants

Would help pay for building and consolidation

Members of the Post City Council and the Garza County Commissioners Court agreed unanimously Tuesday night to file application for federal grants through the Texas Criminal Justice Council in Austin (1) to consolidate the city and county law enforcement arms into a single force, and (2) to build a law enforcement complex here which will include a new and modern jail.

Action came during a two-hour joint special meeting in the city council's chambers and two representatives of SPAG on hand to answer questions and offer advice on various aspects of the project applications.

Federal funds, if granted, would pay half the cost of the new law enforcement offices and jail, and would pay 75 per cent of the cost of new equipment needed for the consolidated city-county law arm. Such funds also would pay 100 per cent of the salaries for any additional personnel added to the combined law force for up to three years and 50 per cent of the cost for any salary increases granted presently employed personnel.

All details of a consolidation agreement need to be worked out as well as information and plans required for the two applications for federal aid.

H. Alden Deyo of Lubbock, executive director of the South Plains Association of Governments, which already had set up the two proposed local projects in its regional plan for federal funding, told the two local governing bodies that approximately two months will be required to obtain SPAG approval of the applications and the consideration by the Criminal Justice Council which meets monthly in Austin.

The Tuesday night agreement to submit the applications came after the city council went into "executive session" Monday night to discuss the projects and personnel problems which might be involved.

It was the first time in over 15 years, a Dispatch reporter has been asked to leave a council meeting and the door closed to the public.

State law permits such executive sessions for the discussion of personnel problems.

If federal funding of the new "law enforcement complex" and the consolidation of city and county law arms are approved, Post and Garza County will be putting into practical use a consolidated effort in law enforcement which

186 STILL NOT 'SHOT'

Immunization is 'must' for school

Some 186 Post students won't be admitted to school next Tuesday morning unless they complete their immunization shots as required by state law.

Supt. Bill Shiver told school trustees at their January meeting Monday night that while every student in the first five grades has met the new state immunization requirements, a lot of students grades 5 through 12 haven't — possibly because they don't like the needle.

The school administrator said the list includes 15 sixth graders, 23 in seventh, 21 in eighth, 40 in 9th 45 in tenth, 19 in 11th and 23 high school seniors.

Shiver said the notices being sent home by older students to their parents apparently just were not getting there in many cases.

He told The Dispatch that Mrs. Bessie Strawn, school nurse, will conduct another immunization clinic in each school building Monday to give students a final opportunity to meet the state requirements before being "sent home."

In other actions Monday night, trustees: Received a letter from W. N. (See Immunizations, page 8)

COME ON IN, THE WATER'S FINE

A welcome to our new voters

To our new voters 18, 19 and 20 in Garza County and everywhere else in the country:

Welcome to the smartest, dumbest, loudest, quietest, most concerned, most apathetic, most easily duped, hardest to convince, most independent club in the world — the U. S. Electorate.

You now have a share in our democracy equal to that of any millionaire or pauper. Your new franchise is one which many who are well over 18 have been fighting for since they were 16 or 17.

Don't take your new voting power lightly. Use it. Register. Become a loyal Democrat, a true-blue Republican, a power-swinging Independent, a conservative or a liberal. Study the issues. Listen to the candidates. Get involved. Learn to stand for something, so you won't fall for anything. Take that vote to the ballot box every chance you get. Be jealous and protective with it. And be prepared to guard it with your life.

Pollsters already are saying that you won't be much different than your parents about using your right to vote. They're claiming that only 40 per cent of you will bother to register, and that only a fraction of you will actually vote in any given election.

We hope you'll prove the pollsters wrong, for if this nation of ours is to realize the full potential that has been offered in its charter—that is, the full measure of every freedom for every living soul in our nation—then it needs your help and your voice at the ballot box.

It may be that our older generation, in giving you the vote, is pleading for your help. Those responsible for ratifying this new constitutional amendment may have been admitting that the generations before yours have fouled up, that we haven't allowed our democracy to work as well as it should, that we have too long been concerned more with show than substance. Perhaps they felt the need to include Americans who can see the everyday prejudices which many of us allow to pass unnoticed, Americans who aren't afraid of altering the status quo, Americans who are more concerned with the national conscience than with the national bureaucracy.

We cannot agree with those who say that our government will not respond to direct political action through the normal channel—the ballot box. Through our nation's 200-year history, we have indeed had several revolutions. We have brought about sweeping changes in national direction that would have required armed revolts in many countries. But our revolutions have been brought about mainly through the use of the same bloodless battlefield—the ballot box.

Of course our democracy has its faults. But what form of government hasn't? Winston Churchill termed democracy as "the worst form of government yet devised by mankind—except for every other form ever devised." Often our democracy works with maddening slowness, but it works nonetheless.

It may take your entire lifetime or longer to cure the ills that plague our society today. But those ills that should be cured governmentally can be cured if enough of our government's members — voters — demand that they be cured. Our democracy was built to respond to the vox populi—the voice of the people—and if your demands have merit, they'll be heard.

But not unless you make full use of your new power to vote. If you simply don't care, you'll actually be an enemy of democracy.

The challenge and the opportunity are now yours, if you will take advantage of your new status as voting Americans.

Go to the county tax assessor's office and sign up. It's free.

Then use your new voting power every chance you get. You'll find that when you get into the voting habit, it isn't any big chore. In fact, sometimes it can be a heck of a big thrill.

Interest in flying at new high

Interest in flying here has reached a new high with the formation of a Post Flying Club and a Civil Air Patrol Squadron.

As one looks back on these last few years, it is now easy to mark steady aviation progress here.

It wasn't too long ago when the Post City-County Airport was built with a good slice of federal funds and with $20,000 participations by both city and county that the scoffers said was all a mistake.

But you can see now that things have changed for the better.

We have more local flyers and a lot more people interested in flying.

Some improvements have been made.

Through a cooperative effort, the airport has been night lighted.

There are still problems of course. The operation isn't big enough yet for an airport manager who can make a living out of giving lessons, running a flying service, selling gasoline and offering the field some protection at night.

But the growth here is pointing in this direction. And flying enthusiasts are looking forward to that day.

Post is staking itself to a rightful place on the aviation maps and its flying progress adds another point in its favor as a good community in which to live.—JC

What our contemporaries are saying

The role of a newspaper must not be violated by an editor's desire to be popular with people of the community. Just like the President's, the editor's job is sometimes a lonely one if he lives up to his responsibilities. Modern technology has come a long way to improve communication with sight and sound. As the Old Year was being "played out" on the east coast, many celebrating the event on the west coast were barely started. But little was lost, with the sounds of drunks being almost the same in New York, Chicago, Dallas and San Francisco.—The Matador Tribune.

THE CHRISTMAS tree out at our house always comes down several days before all the Christmas cards are rounded up and filed away so we will have the addresses of friends and relatives to keep for another year.

Did you notice that this year there seemed to be just as many Christmas cards as ever, despite predictions that there wouldn't be near as many because of the first class postal hike to eight cents?

IN ADDITION to the Christmas cards we received this Yuletide, there were a couple of Christmas letters — mimeographed affairs that a couple of friends sent instead of taking the time to write a personal letter.

Christmas letters are all right. We don't have anything against them. In fact, some of our best friends write them. So we don't want you to think we are being critical of Christmas letters just because we are running this "classic" penned by Jim Fitzgerald of The Mason News in faraway Michigan.

DEAR FRIEND, relative, neighbor, old schoolmate, or anyone we met on vacation last summer. Once again it is Christmas time. Time to report to all you people we love so much. A lot sure happened to our family in 1971.

Son Richard got his first job. He's fourth assistant manager at Kroger's on the corner, in charge of bagging. We're so proud of him. In March he celebrated his 32nd birthday.

Daughter Marcia gave us our 11th grandson last January. For keeps. She reports that there are wedding bells in her future. I think this means she's engaged, but Dad says it means she's got something going with the church janitor in the belfry.

Remember Aunt Stella who drives the school bus? She won't be here for Christmas dinner. The school sent her to Fort Knox for eight weeks of combat training.

Our youngest son, Ralph, is still going to Michigan State University. He visited us a couple of weeks ago, we think. It's hard to tell for sure with that beard and hair. Ralph says he doesn't want a job when he graduates; he just wants to go to San Francisco and love his fellowman. Dad told him to take Richard and Marcia with him.

Our cousin Henry — that's Stella's oldest — has steady work on TV. He sweeps up the hall after the aspirin lectures.

My brother Sam's boy, Tom, is still in Vietnam. He's been there eight years and swears he won't come home until he meets Bob Hope. Dad says he should hold out for Ann Margret.

Now that he's 65 and retired from GM, Dad is getting more interested in politics. He's thinking of running for police commissioner. He says if he could hold onto that job until he's 90, he'd then be old enough to become director of the FBI.

Daughter Connie had her first date last summer and it was the cutest thing. When the boy asked to kiss her goodbye, Connie told him to wait a minute and then she ran in the house and wrote a letter to Ann Landers. They are still waiting for an answer, while looking at each other through the window. Connie celebrated her 38th birthday in June.

My sister Annette was elected president of an anti-pollution club. To help keep the earth clean, she made a great buy from The Man From Glad and she is now following the rodeo from town to town.

Cousin Harriet is happy again this year. You remember she was remarried to the Chevrolet dealer but he divorced her. Well, now he has recalled her. Dad says Harriet will probably be out of the bump shop by New Year's.

That's all I have room to write this year. Marcia said if I kept my Christmas letter to one page she would make 500 copies on the church Xerox machine. She knows the janitor, Dad says.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

"Take Five" to millions of military veterans means to take time off to rest.

To us, "take five" means detailed work and planning for the next five years.

We'll be investing more than $144 million in power plant capacity and the lines and equipment needed to get an adequate supply of electricity to you. Electricity that will be needed for sewage and water treatment, disposal of wastes and for other environmental "clean-ups". Electricity, the cleanest of all energies at the point of consumption, is being depended upon as the means for effectively and efficiently cleaning up our environment.

And, adequate electricity will be needed just for the normal growth of people, their industries, their jobs, their resources — nothing frivolous, mind you — just normal, everyday solid growth.

Yes, through 1976, we'll be taking five — doing the worrying — so you won't have to... so when you want electric power it'll be there at the flick of a switch.

Youth camp at lake to get $35,000 building

Contract for a $35,000 building at White River Youth Camp has been awarded the Jack Nelson Construction Co. of Lubbock. Except for showers, it will be the first permanent building at the youth camp.

The rustic style building will be a combination kitchen, dining hall, and trading post, 40 by 100 in size.

The cost of the building will be covered by donations and contributions from interested individuals, clubs and business firms. The members of the building committee are Marvin Shurbert of Petersburg, Roger Turner of Crosbyton and Bert Mansker of Lubbock.

The White River Youth Camp is located near the White River

Church of Christ at White River Lake.

The first session of the camp was held last August with 71 enrolled. Facilities consisted of only two permanent buildings, which were showers. The dining hall and kitchen, living quarters and trading post were in tents.

In addition to construction of the new building, plans are to erect two other structures to house toilet facilities, and to pour concrete slabs to serve as flooring for custom-made tents for living quarters.

Plans are now under way to incorporate the camp according to state regulations. Members of the executive committee are Arnold Sanderson of White River Lake and Post, chairman; Roger Turner of Crosbyton, Gary Williams of Spur and Joseph Johnston of Crosbyton.

The finance committee is headed by Ken Bozeman of Lubbock and Guy Goen of Spur.

The board of directors consists of the minister and two more directors from each interested congregation in a radius of approximately 100 miles of White River Lake.

RANCH EXPRESSES THANKS

Dear Editor:

Another year has gone. Twelve months of hustle, of deadlines, of correcting advertisers' copy, of news stories, of pounding the pavement. Yet, amidst all the daily turmoil, you people known as "The Media" always found time and space to answer requests from West Texas Boys Ranch for special help. We thank you. The future farmers, ranchers, barbers, servicemen, teachers, plumbers, carpenters, and even doctors and lawyers, whom you've helped by helping the 72 boys at West Texas Boys Ranch, thank you, too.

These boys of today represent the tax-paying citizens of tomorrow. You people in the media are our life-line to the public who are the sole support of the work of West Texas Boys Ranch. You tell them of our needs, you inform them of our happy occasions, and yes, you inform them also of our sad times.

You must waste through dozens of news releases each day, scores of requests for public service time and decide which are worthy of your trust, then say to the public. You give them the truth as you see it, supported by the facts, and oftentimes spend many hours ferreting out these facts.

This past year you have taken time to write thousands of words to tell the story of West Texas Boys Ranch to readers, viewers, listeners. You have gone out of your way in the middle of very busy schedules to cover our roundup, Christmas, football team, special events of all kinds, and just plain human interest angles on the ranch.

As with you, we barely have time to pause and take notice that another year has become history. But we do have time enough to express our gratitude for your unselfish and dedicated support. May your New Year be one filled with new-round happiness in your noble undertakings.

Sincerely,
Dave Gottshall
Assistant to the President

Barnes-Brown vows are read in Abilene church Dec. 30

Miss Mary Veta Barnes and Michael Dale Brown were united in marriage at 8:30 in the evening Thursday, Dec. 30, at the University Baptist Church in Abilene.

The Rev. John DeFoore, pastor, officiated the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Barnes of Hale Center, formerly of Post, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brown of London, Ky. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. J. H. Martin, of the music University, organist, and Miss Terry Self of Wichita Falls, soloist. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of soft white crepe, which she made herself. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice and high neckline. A capulet of crowned lace, trimmed in flowers, held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of frenched white mums, centered with orchids on a white satin covered Bible.

The bride's attendants were her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Don Barnes of Denton, matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Neal Barnes and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, both of Abilene. They wore gowns of light aqua crepe with large matching bows in their hair. Each carried a large long stem golden yellow rose.

Serving as best man was Don Barnes of Denton. Groomsmen and ushers were Sgt. Neal Barnes, Ronald Shagala and Billy Barstow, all of Abilene.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall, with a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with blue roses and the traditional bride and bridegroom, served with punch.

The club members voted to help with the bake sale at the fair to raise money to pay the young exhibitors. The next meeting will be Jan. 21.

Mrs. Hood explained how the March of Dimes contributions are divided in three ways: profession, education and patient aid program, to the Salt Research Center in California and to the five birth defect centers in Texas.

Following the program, Gamma Mu held a short business meeting. Plans discussed for the social Jan. 24, at which the sorority members will come dressed as Mother Goose characters. It was voted to reverse the meetings in February, with the Sadie Hawkins night out to be Feb. 14.

COMMUNITY SOCIAL
The regular monthly Close City Community Social will be Saturday evening, Jan. 15, beginning at 6:30 with table games to follow a potluck supper.

When the new year dawned, we closed a chapter of our history and began a new one. Through a special federal grant we were able to secure a modest sum for a full-time librarian. We hired Mrs. C. K. Pierce as our first paid librarian. Mrs. Pierce is one of the original volunteers who manned the circulation desk the first night we were open. At the moment, she is serving an "apprenticeship" under the supervision of former volunteer librarian George L. Miller.

We are entering a new era with a new challenge. We've about exhausted our present space, expansion must come. Two years ago a Memorial Fund was created for future building and expansion of the library. We now have over $6,000 in that fund. It's going to be a neat trick making that sum stretch to cover the expansion we must undergo. We also have the challenge of increasing local financial support for the ongoing operation of the library.

But we seem to thrive on challenges like this. We've made a name for ourselves as a growing and going concern. We started out with a borrowed room, borrowed books and a group of people who loved to read. Today we qualify as a Community Library and have been so designated by the State Library and Historical Commission. We're proud of what we've been able to accomplish "with voluntary help exclusively" and we look forward to even better things as a genuine, honest-to-goodness, officially designated Community Library!

Library LISTENING POST

(Editor's Note: The following article by Rev. George L. Miller was written for a publication of the Lubbock City-County Library, the regional library for this region in the Texas State Library's organization. Mr. Miller wrote in an accompanying letter that he couldn't come up with a suitable name for the piece, but among others he proposed was "Love Story.")

On the 30th of May, 1966, the Board of Trustees of the Post Public Library passed the following resolution:

"... a motion made to operate the library with voluntary help exclusively."

The reason was strictly economic — there was no money for a librarian. For five and a half years the library has been run on this basis, and it has thrived.

It opened officially on June 23, 1966, in one room of the City Hall, with 1,500 volumes in its collection.

It was staffed with volunteers who kept the library open 16 hours a week. Today it has multiplied into four rooms, it shelves bulging with over 9,000 volumes. It is open 24 hours a week, and still striving for improved library service for the community.

How did we do it, and why did it work? We did it with outstanding volunteers who were fully dedicated to having the best darn library in Texas and willing to work their heads off to get it. We did it with a $2,000 budget from the City and County and annual fund-raising events conducted by the Friends. We did it with book donations, and memorial gifts. We did it with countless hours spent by volunteers, doing the things that have to be done to make a library a success.

We were all amateurs. Our volunteer librarians have had no professional training, but they loved books and wanted to see people reading. So we taught ourselves the things we needed to know. We went to workshops when we could, we got on the phone and asked questions, and when all else failed, we guessed and hoped for the best. We've been lucky. The community has supported us with time and money. Our roster of volunteers grew to over 50 people.

Because we were a volunteer operation, we could spend most of our money on books. A constant flow of new books into the library — we often had new titles before the big city libraries had them — kept up reader interest. And a really big asset has been the publisher of the local newspaper, who is the chairman of our library board. He has given the library outstanding news coverage. A special library column — written by the volunteer librarian — has run in the paper ever since the library opened. This has kept the library in front of the community winning us many enthusiastic supporters.

When the new year dawned, we closed a chapter of our history and began a new one. Through a special federal grant we were able to secure a modest sum for a full-time librarian. We hired Mrs. C. K. Pierce as our first paid librarian. Mrs. Pierce is one of the original volunteers who manned the circulation desk the first night we were open. Women Division to buy supplies for baby clinic

By NANCY JOLLY

The Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce voted to purchase needed supplies for the Wall Baby Clinic, following a report on the clinic given by Bessie Strawn, at a noon meeting Tuesday in the Reddy Room.

Other reports given were by Ramona Brockman concerning the 'Miss-Less Post' beauty pageant, and Wynonne Kennedy discussed the chamber banquet, which is to be Feb. 24, and accepted volunteer to help with the decorations for the banquet.

City Council—

(Continued From Front Page) away with the justice of peace court, but that is being, or has been, done in a number of other counties, Walker said. He pointed out that in this county only the voters in Precinct 1 get to vote for the Justice of the Peace, but that his court handles cases involving voters in the three other precincts.

Walker explained that a commissioners' court cannot abolish a justice of the peace office, but that a cessation of case filing in such a court eventually would automatically abolish it. This would represent a saving of some $5,000 a year to the county, the judge said.

In Monday night's special meeting, the council took only a little more than 30 minutes to discuss and vote to terminate the city court. After the action had been approved, City Secretary Wanda Wilkerson left when told by the mayor that the council meeting was over.

The mayor then told Charles Didway, Dispatch editor, that the council needed to go into executive session to discuss personnel matters. Didway asked: "Are you going to vote to go into executive session?" "We don't need to vote on it," the mayor responded.

Burglaries—

(Continued From Front Page) total of eight had been broken into. Sheriff Holleman said he recovered about $200 of the money taken from the cigarette machines. This money taken, since a check with the station operators indicated that the loot totaled a little over $200.

At six of the stations, the coin box from the cigarette machine was found in the driveway, the officers said. The stations hit by the burglars were Hudman's, Wylie Oil Co., Tucker's Texaco, Miller's Conoco, Long's ENCO Service, Phillips Quick Service, Joe McCowen's Texaco Station on South Broadway, and Gordon's Mobil station.

A special feature of the booklet is the sample, filled-in return, Form 1040, keyed to pages where explanations can be found for each entry on the return.

FORT WORTH RODEO

Judy Lynn Returns By Popular Demand

Special entertainment at the Fort Worth Rodeo Jan. 28 through Feb. 6 will be Miss Judy Lynn and her six-piece western band.

JUDY LYNN

Back this year by popular demand, the Judy Lynn Show will be presented at each of the 20 rodeo performances. Miss Lynn was featured at the 1971 and 1965 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Rodeos.

Popularity for the petite soprano was evidenced by the record rodeo crowd which attended last year. Judy Lynn, who will premier an all-new show, continues to captivate as a regular performer at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas and Harrah's Clubs in Reno and Lako Tahoe.

In addition to recording exclusively for Amaret Records, the pert blond singing star travels over 100,000 miles annually to appear at rodeos, fairs and on stages across the nation. Rodeo action will feature top cowboys, testing their skill for a share of the $86,000 in prize and entry fee money. Some of rodeo's best bucking stock will be used in the 1972 Rodeo.

'Self-Image' is subject of talk before teachers

"In order to help students develop a good self-image, teachers must have a positive self-image themselves," Mrs. Mary Raphael, president-elect of District 17, Texas, said here Monday night at a meeting of the Garza County unit of TSTA.

Mrs. Raphael emphasized that a positive self-image is necessary for success in life, and quoted from I Corinthians 13 that a vital ingredient in helping a child develop that image is love.

The speaker, a former Post teacher now teaching in Lubbock, was introduced by Supt. Bill Shiver, who praised her for the high degree of professionalism she has always exhibited.

Jack Alexander gave the invocation and Jean Gandy, local president, presided over a short business meeting following Mrs. Raphael's talk.

Law grants—

Some legal questions still need answers — the big one appearing to be the legality of the city putting up funds for the building of the law enforcement complex on county property (the west side of the courthouse block).

It is also possible the whole question eventually will be submitted to county voters for their approval.

She best method of county funding would be through a small bond issue, according to the commissioners court thinking, because a boost in county valuations to raise the funds would mean a similar boost in valuation for state property taxes as well as county taxes, as both are collected by the county on the same valuation.

A small bond issue, therefore, would be the least expensive way for county taxpayers.

Both city councilmen and county commissioners said they are approaching consolidation of law enforcement as an effort to "obtain more law enforcement efficiency for less money."

SPAG has promised its complete cooperation in working out all necessary details of the consolidation. Mayor Giles C. McCrary said Tuesday night at the joint session in answer to a question that operation of the city's police department and city court last year cost $25,540.91, according to the annual audit.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby said the county sheriff's department alone last year cost $35,291 to operate, not figuring cost of the justice of peace, county and district courts. But he added that the county and justice of peace court fines last year totaled about $38,000.

The first joint "work session" to prepare the two applications for federal funding has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the county district courtroom with all councilmen and county commissioners invited to attend.

In the meantime, work will begin on securing necessary information for the applications and writing up various phases of the plan.

Attending the Tuesday night joint session were all members of the city and county governing bodies, Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman, Police Chief Otis G. Shepherd Jr., Public Works Superintendent Pete Maddox and Publisher Jim Cornish.

Canadian hunters bagged 701 caribou during the 1971 hunting season.

Lions accepting applications for children's camp

Applications for a summer vacation full of fun for handicapped children in the Garza County area are now being accepted by members of the Post Lions Club.

The vacation will be spent at the unique Texas Lions Camp for Crippled at Kerrville, which will open its first two-weeks session June 4. Five sessions will be held this summer for youngsters from seven through 16 years of age.

The camp is free to eligible blind, deaf, mute or crippled children. Transportation to and from the camp is supplied by the local Lions. All requests for summer camp are handled locally by Lions.

For more detailed information about the camp, you are urged to contact Walter Didway, president of the Post Lions Club, whose business phone is 2818 and residence phone 3024.

In the past years, Lions have sent over 13,000 youngsters to the camp.

Lions Club program is on venereal diseases

Pharmacist Jim Wells presented a program on venereal diseases, including film slides, at Tuesday night's meeting of the Post Lions Club at the Drover House Restaurant.

Tom Price, sew-pack overseer at the Postex Plant, was introduced as a new member of the Lions Club.

It would be possible for officers to work as pairs at night — and there is always a sizeable amount of danger involved.

A combined force also offers opportunity to cut down on the long hours your local work. Such would make more appealing and make finding officers from time that much easier.

Certainly, the consolidation is worth the effort, only economical approach to law enforcement. And who take the position that won't work, such a consolidation need not be permanent. It always returns to two weeks if at some future date a future season that might be the best way.

Antelopes and Does will invade Tigers' den Friday

Slaton court to be site of three tilts

The Post varsity boys' and girls' teams and junior varsity boys' teams continue basketball action on this Friday night at Slaton in District 4AA contests.

Friday night's game will be the first loop clash between the Post and Slaton boys' teams, but the Slaton girls already own a decision over Coach Jiggs King's Post Does.

Tipoff time for the first game, that between the junior varsity boys, is 5 p.m.

Tuesday night, Jan. 18, the Post teams play host to Frenship in three district games in the local gym.

The Antelopes, with a 3-2 district mark, will be fighting to stay in competition for the loop crown in their game against Slaton. The Tigers bopped Frenship, 75-57, on Tuesday night to bring their district reading to 4-1 and their overall mark to 15-7.

The Slaton girls' team is undefeated in district play.

In other Dist. 4AA action Tuesday night, Ralls stayed on top of the heap by shelling Idalou, 67-57, for its fifth consecutive loop triumph, and Tahoka beat Roosevelt, 60-48. In girls' games, Slaton beat Frenship 44-20; Idalou downed Ralls, 59-42, and Tahoka edged Roosevelt, 33-31.

Monday, Jan. 17, all six Post junior high teams see action. The 7th, 8th and 9th grade boys journey to Frenship, while the 7th, 8th and 9th grade girls stay home for games with Frenship.

The Post junior varsity boys' and girls' teams have withdrawn from this week's Wilson "B" team tournament because of mid-term tests here. The teams will compete next week in Slaton's "B" tournament.

Freshman girls defeat Idalou for sixth win

The Post freshman girls' basketball team, coached by Sherry Woods, defeated Idalou, 47 to 27, against one loss. The teams only setback was a two-point loss to Slaton on Nov. 29.

At Idalou Monday night, the Post team jumped into a 20-6 first quarter lead and was never headed.

The Post attack was paced by Jenda Gilmore's 21 points on nine field goals and three free throws. Melanie King added 13 points; Nan Bilberry, eight; Tina McAllister, three, and Carol Davis, two.

The guards were Jana McKamie, Ann Mitchell, Sandy Bullard, Nancy Reno, Shirley Compton, Stella Varela, Shirley Allen and Lea Merri Cross, with Sandra Dudley also seeing action at forward.

R. HAYS' SHOT DOES IT

Post nips Idalou in an overtime

Randell Hays' jump shot in overtime gave the Post Antelopes a 55 to 53 win over the Idalou Wildcats in a District 4AA game last Friday night on the Wildcats' court.

Hays' field goal was the only points scored in the overtime period, which was made necessary when the two teams finished the regulation playing period in a 53-53 deadlock.

Post lost the varsity girls' game, 62-32, and the girls' "B" team game, 38-33.

Coach John Alexander's steadily improving Antelopes outrebounded Idalou, 61 to 35, with Roger Pace grabbing off 21 of the rebounds for the Antelopes.

Post was ahead 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, but trailed 32 to 27 at halftime, and 44-41 at the end of the third period.

Steve Hays and Johnny Jefferson were the Antelopes' top scorers with 14 points each. Bryan Kendrick's 14 points was tops for Idalou.

Coach Jiggs King's Does trailed all the way in the girls' game. They were behind 24-7 at the end of the first quarter, 35-14 at the halftime intermission, and 56-18 at the third quarter buzzer.

Idalou's Joan Gilliam scored a whopping 53 points to set a new individual scoring record for her school. For Post, Cindy Bird pitched in 12 points, Becky Dalby, 11; Jodi Norman, six, and Jackie Moore, three.

After trailing 27-13 at the end of the first half, the Doe "B" team almost caught up in the second half before losing by five points.

BUT COUNTS AS 'LOPE WIN

Denver Citians rally to edge Post, 57-56

Bruce Shores' field goal in the final 20 seconds propelled the Denver City Mustangs past the Post Antelopes, 57-56, here Tuesday night in a District 4AA game that had most of the crowd on its feet for the final minute and a half of play.

The game will count as a win for Post and a loss for Denver City in the district standings, however, since the Mustangs are ineligible to compete for the district championship this year through an University Interscholastic League ruling on a Denver City infraction of UIL regulations during the 1970-71 season. The District 4AA committee has ruled that Denver City must forfeit all its district games this season because of the UIL ruling.

The Antelopes were ahead 11-6 at the end of the first quarter and 34-24 at the halfway mark in the game here Tuesday night, but the Mustangs took the lead late in the third quarter, 38-37, on Shores' three-point play.

From that point on, the lead saw-sawed back and forth, with the teams deadlocked 51-51 with 2:22 to go. They exchanged field goals which left them still knotted up, 53-53, with 1:44 remaining, but Steve Hays scored from the field with 58 seconds to go to put the 'Lopes ahead, 55-53.

Ricky Mitchell, fouled by Post's

Johnny Jefferson, made both free throws to pull the Mustangs up even again at 55-55. Post went ahead by one when Ricky Shepherd made a free throw, but missed the bonus. Shores' game-winning field goal followed, and Post's Shepherd missed a 15-foot shot with eight seconds to go, the Mustangs grabbing the rebound and holding on for the victory.

The Mustangs' Shores led all scorers with 22 points, most most of them from outside. Steve Hays and Shepherd each scored 12 points for the Antelopes.

The Post junior varsity won the preliminary game, 66 to 51, behind Reginald Moore's 24 points, 18 of them in the first half.

The scoring summaries:

? Your Name?

WHAT'S IN IT?

By CHARLES DIDWAY

WOODWARD

In the England of long ago, one of the most cherished rights of the king was that of converting any portion of the country into a forest in which he might enjoy the pleasures of the chase. And once the king's hunting grounds had been established it became necessary for officers to be appointed to keep his subjects from poaching.

One of the officers appointed to guard the king's "game preserve" was the woodward, whose job it was to care for the woods and to bring offenses against trespassers into court. An ancient law provided that "to the woodward belongs each wind-felled tree," which would indicate that his services were held in high esteem.

Like other occupations of the late Middle Ages, that of woodward became a source of hereditary surnames. Men who were employed in the occupation became known by the name when the need arose for them to have something more than a first name to go by. Then, as hereditary surnames began to stick, their sons and grandsons were also known by the name Woodward, even though they might have taken up some other occupation than that of forest-keeper.

Derived from the Old English "wuduward" (forester), the name appears as "Wudeward" in early English documents. One of the earliest instances of the name is Elias le Wudeward, who was listed on the assize rolls in Lancashire in the year 1246.

The surname Woodward is a reduced form of Woodward.

John Woodward, a 17th century Englishman, was one of the founders of experimental plant physiology. Prominent among those of the name in this country was Calvin Milton Woodward, born in 1837, who is credited with the nationwide development of manual training in high schools.

Woodward is the 686th commonest surname in the United States where there are approximately 39,000 persons by the name.

There are towns named Woodward in six states and a Woodward County in Oklahoma.

Archaeological operations part of State Highway Dept.'s work

Austin—Everyone knows the Texas Highway Department provides important transportation links between modern cities and towns. Not so well known is the Department's role in providing links to the past, too.

Texas Highway Department crews have been responsible for finding more than 800 archaeological sites since the Department was organized in 1917.

They combine with the more than 4,500 sites currently catalogued at the University of Texas Archaeological Research Laboratories in Austin to give archaeologists a more complete picture of the State's colorful history.

Discoveries made by Highway Department crews include the remains of an Indian burial mound now on display in the Witte Memorial Museum in San Antonio, Inner Space Caverns on Interstate Highway 35 near Georgetown, and an 80-million-year-old fish fossil in West Texas.

Earlier, discoveries were made more or less by accident. Construction was stopped while the site was excavated. Today pinpointing archaeological sites and locating and restoring artifacts is an important part of highway building.

The Department has its own special archaeological section to find and explore archaeological sites before construction begins.

It was established in July, 1970, shortly after the Texas Legislature passed the Antiquities Code in 1969. The code establishes strict rules for control of all historical and archaeological treasures in the State and makes it unlawful for the Department to build or improve a roadway at an archaeological site.

"We want to find all the sites, excavate them before a new highway is built and, at the same time, recover artifacts under existing highways," said Frank Weir.

Weir, who organized the Department's archaeological operations, and a small staff of trained archaeologists assisted by several Department employees have surveyed more than 400 miles of right of way and excavated nine sites since the section was formed.

Recent discoveries include an Indian campsite near a highway being constructed around Austin, Indian campsites and burial sites in West Texas and a Civil War powder mill near Marshall.

Probably the most significant discovery has been the original archaeological plans and specifications for the temporary Capitol which burned in 1899.

The plans, considered lost, were found by Weir while doing research in the archives branch of the Texas State Library.

"Through archaeology we are able to learn of achievements and failures of those who lived in this land before us," Weir said.

"Knowledge of the past is essential to understanding the present and interpreting the future," he said. "Our findings give us a deeper understanding of how we came to be what we are today and what the possibilities are for tomorrow."

Department employees across the state have provided substantial support for the program.

"They are familiar with their area and well-versed on its history," said Weir. "There hasn't been a week pass yet that someone didn't write or call with new information about a suspected archaeological site."

Artifacts recovered from archaeological sites are studied by State archaeologists and often donated to a museum near the area where they were found.

Harvest is over half complete

LUBBOCK — The South Plains cotton harvest was 60 to 70 per cent complete on Friday, Jan. 7, according to W. K. Palmer, who is in charge of the USDA cotton classing office in Lubbock.

Most of the cotton classed last week at the four area USDA classing offices was harvested before the snow of some ten days ago.

The classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland classed 163,000 samples during the week ending last Friday, bringing the season's total to 734,000. At this date last year the four offices had classed 1,617,000 samples of the 1970 crop.

Grades of the cotton classed at the Lubbock office were lower than those of the previous week.

Rites conducted for crash victim

Services were held in Lubbock last Friday for Debra Lynn Johnson, 18, who was killed in a one-car mishap Wednesday of last week five and one-half miles northwest of Post on U. S. Hwy. 84.

Miss Johnson was a freshman at Lubbock Christian College. Her father, Duane Johnson, is minister at Smithlawn Church of Christ in Lubbock.

Miss Johnson was the first traffic fatality of the year on the South Plains.

Archeologist is hired for underwater work

Austin—Carl J. Clausen, formerly Florida state marine archeologist, has been employed by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee as underwater archeologist for the state of Texas. He is the first person to hold this position.

Part of his responsibilities in Texas will be salvage work on the 16th century Spanish galleons which lie sunk off the Gulf Coast. The controversy which peaked in 1969 over the ownership of artifacts from some of the galleons prompted the passage of the Texas Antiquities Code and the creation of the Texas Antiquities Committee, also in 1969.

Dr. Clifford Jones and wife to be honored Jan. 21

COLLEGE STATION — Dr. and the late Mrs. Clifford B. Jones of Lubbock will be honored Jan. 21, during special ceremonies in observance of the 100th anniversary of Arbor Day in the United States.

A pecan tree, representing the state tree of Texas, will be planted in the Lubbock Memorial Arboretum on University Avenue following the morning program which begins at 10:30 Friday morning. The special Arbor Day program will be conducted in the J. A. Hodges Community Center.

Dr. Jones, a native of Colorado, came to Texas in 1907, at the age of 21, to assist his father Charles Adam Jones in managing one of Texas' largest cattle empires, the S. M. Swenson and Son's Spur Ranch. Jones later succeeded his father as manager and served in that capacity until 1939.

Still another memorable event occurred to Dr. Jones in 1923, when he was appointed to the first board of Directors of the then Texas Technological College. Jones served as its chairman from 1925 to 1938 and from 1939 to 1944, he was its president. Since 1944, he has been its president emeritus. In 1925 Jones was dubbed "West Texas' Number One Citizen," a title he also carries today.

Political organizations asked to tell contributions, expenditures

AUSTIN — Secretary of State Bob Bullock today asked that the state and county political organizations report their contributions and expenditures in the same manner as is required of candidates for public office.

"The people of this state who care enough to give their money to political parties deserves to know how their money is being spent. Likewise, they are entitled to know how much money is received by their party and the sources of the contributions."

"I do not contend that the law requires these reports. It does not. However, 31 states now require that political organizations at all and expenditures. I believe that levels report their contributions

Texas should be no less diligent in keeping the public informed." "I know of no better way to accomplish this than by assuring the people of this state that they will be accurately informed of the financial transactions of the candidates and the political organizations."

"In my directive of Dec. 3, 1971, the statutes governing the reporting requirements of candidates for public office were clarified. I now believe the candidates are aware of what is required of them and I am sure that they will comply."

"If political parties will take this step toward public disclosure of their finances, the people of this state can make a more accurate judgment of the performance of their party."

"I believe that this type of open disclosure should be required of the parties and my staff is presently preparing draft legislation to be submitted to the next session of the Legislature. Until such legislation is enacted, I call on the state and county organizations to voluntarily make this report in the interest of the people."

"In order to allow the parties to comply with my request in an orderly fashion, I ask that all contributions and expenditures to the parties made after Jan. 1, 1972, be reported at the same time and in the same manner as is required of candidates for public office."

Oh, am I getting you mad again? That man might have been mad if the trooper had stopped him. He might have written me a letter. But he'd be alive.

Your letter doesn't bother me, friend. What bothers me is that you apparently haven't learned your lesson. You're probably going to get back behind the wheel of your car thinking you own the road and nothing can happen to you. You don't think about the other people on the road who want to go on living, just like you do.

And who gave your kid driving lessons? You? Then he's probably gotten a couple of tickets, too. It's no wonder he weaves in and out of traffic, speeds, and leaves strips of burned rubber at stoplights.

I hope we catch him, too, mister, before we have to call you and your wife to come identify his body at the morgue. I don't want to watch you crying and wishing you hadn't let him have a car until he learned to drive naturally.

And you say you want my troopers to let you off with a warning. What you really want is for us to stop doing our jobs! You want us to let you go until you meet another guy just like you — head on!

I wish you could come with me to a wreck and see the seared body of a victim after the fire department has finished its job of extinguishing 15 gallons of flaming gasoline. I wish you could go with me to her home and help me tell her husband that his wife isn't coming home because some idiot ran her off the road while trying to pass her. I want you to help him explain why mommy won't be home.

You're mad because you got a ticket, and you have to take time off from work to go to court.

You break my heart, mister!

FARM SURVEYS
 The Census Bureau is mailing out "type of farm" survey report forms to a selected group of farmers.

There will be different survey forms used. One each for cash grain, tobacco, cotton, potatoes, sugar and other specialized field crops, vegetables, fruit, livestock, dairy and poultry.

Each form is designed to collect information pertinent to that particular type of farm enterprise.

Each form is designed by sections so that if the answer to the lead question is "no" the farmer may skip to the next section.

The trends shown in the 1969 Census of Agriculture indicate that there is an increasing degree of specialization. The completion of the "type of farm" survey report forms will help obtain a truer and more complete picture of this specialization and may set the pattern for future censuses of agriculture.

IRRIGATION SURVEY
 Growers and businessmen in Garza County will be interested in the agricultural information contained in the 1971 High Plains Irrigation Survey now available at the County Extension Office. The survey contains 1971 crop acreages and irrigation trends in Garza County and 41 other High Plains counties.

The survey gives the current irrigated acreage, number of irrigation wells and the irrigated and dryland acreages for individual crops during the 1971 crop year. Data on the kind of fuels used by the irrigation well power units are also a part of the survey.

The survey should be valuable to growers, agri-businessmen, bankers and others who keenly observe current conditions, changes and trends in irrigation. The survey is prepared annually by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to provide up-to-date facts on irrigation in the area.

1971 AG YEARBOOK
 Much of the 1971 Yearbook of Agriculture is devoted to the improvements of rural America.

Titled "A Good Life for More People," the yearbook contains numerous articles dealing with rural housing and related rural improvement programs. Much emphasis is placed on how rural America and U. S. agriculture can help make living good for all Americans of the next century.

The yearbook cites programs designed to encourage redistribution of the population over the next 30 years to take some of the pressures off the metropolitan centers.

Potentials for the development of human, economic and natural resources needed to shape an environment of increasingly better quality for future Americans are detailed in the 416-page hardbound book. It also contains a 16-page color photo section.

The book cites a need to make new uses of land, build new communities, and rejuvenate old rural communities.

Section of the book include "Space for Living," "Services for Living," "Production Resources for Living," and "Issues for the Future."

Strippers and trailers busy in Southland area

By TOMMIE WILKE
 Hello, dear readers. The "wheels of progress" have really been rolling the past few days in our Southland community. By "wheels of progress" I mean the cotton strippers and cotton trailers have really been busy going back and forth, back and forth, gathering up this stuff which we so laughingly call cotton — laughingly because most of it really doesn't look like cotton at all! If the weather stays pretty, things should be coming to the finish line before too much longer. Thank goodness!

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lee Eckert on birth of a daughter last Thursday at 6:56 p.m. in West Texas Hospital, Lubbock. The little lass weighed in at 8 lbs., 5 ozs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Winterrowd and son, Billy Roy, visited here with relatives and friends recently.

Sunday Steward, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davies, recently received very bad burns over 90 per cent of her body and has been taken to a hospital in San Antonio for treatment. May God be with her and her family in the many painful hours to come.

We extend our deepest sympathies to Mrs. E. L. Anderson whose cousin, Mrs. Della Coble, passed away at San Saba on Friday of last week.

Mrs. Bruce (Kelly Jo) Beatty, David and John and Mrs. John Moyer of El Paso are here visiting with Kelly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Myers.

Recent visitors in the Willie Beck home were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blythe of Leawood, Kans., Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Foerster and children of Monte Vista, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Becker and children of Kansas City, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker and children of Brownfield, George Moertz of Lake Stamford, and E. H. Foerster of Lubbock. George Moertz has gone to Denver where he will train to become a manager of the Furr's Cafeterias.

Mrs. Aubrey McNeely has returned from Fort Worth where she spent a few days with her son, Larry, and family and attended the wedding of Miss Teresa Tout and Ray Jones.

Caholna Anderson spent the weekend with Mrs. Cookie Winterrowd, Breonne, and Jerry, while her husband was on business in Connecticut.

Visitors in the E. L. Brosch home this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Book from Vancouver, Tex., and Mrs. A. J. Duxkemper. Mrs. Book and Mrs. Brosch are sisters.

Well, that's all there is, there ain't no more, so until we meet again, here's something that 'tis true: "If we learn how to give ourselves, to forgive others, and to live with thanksgiving, we need not seek happiness — it will seek us."

Khaki is a Hindustan word meaning "dust colored."

In the Silence

By Rev. George L. Miller

The Prophet Habakkuk said:
 The Lord is in his holy temple:
 Let all the earth keep silence before him.

What thoughts fill the silence?
 —Eleven A. M. and the preacher still hasn't come in! What's he waiting for?
 —This is the sixth Sunday in a row that Susie Jones has worn that hat.
 —I see the collection was down last Sunday. Get ready for a pitch for more money!
 —Where did he (the preacher) dig up that hymn? I don't know why he can't sing one I like once in a while.
 —Oh Lord, you know how much I need this worship service, but would you place a Spirit of brevity in the preacher's heart? Kick-off for the Super Bowl is at noon.
 —Well, at last, here comes the choir. I hope they don't sing too flat today. I know the Psalmist says "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord" but this is ridiculous.

—Dear Jesus, I know you said "Suffer the little children to come unto me" but we've got a perfectly good nursery — and paid attendant. Is it really necessary for us to suffer?
 —Oh God, am I glad I'm not like these people around me!
 —Oh God, I wish I could be like these people around me!
 —Oh Dear God, why is it so lonely in this silence? Are you really in this holy temple?

No one could tell me what my soul might be,
 I searched for God, and God eluded me;
 I sought my brother out and found all three,
 My soul, my God, and all humanity.
 —Firdausi
