

Big boost given ranch benefit by Cowboys' Exhibit

O. S. Ranch Benefit Art Exhibit and Sale, scheduled for 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 1, received a double boost over the weekend at the opening of the 1972 Cowboy Artists of America Exhibit in the Cowboy Hall of Fame at Oklahoma City.

The annual awards banquet of the organization there Saturday night will exhibit their paintings and sculptures here. It will make nearly a clean sweep of the first and second place awards in the Cowboy Artists of America competition.

Many in the overflow crowd of cowboy art buffs from all over the nation who made the 10:00 a.m. banquet an early sellout said their desire to come for the benefit art exhibit to see works of their favorite artists who will participate in the benefit exhibit and their exhibits in Oklahoma City include: Sam Moyers of Albuquerque, in sculpture, with his offering "The Price of the Herd", sale price $10,000.

Wendell McGrew of Cottonwood, in a drawing, with his "Piddigahh", sale price $1,500.

Clayton S. Brewer of Browning, Mont., in sculpture with his "Not a Day", sale price $20,000.

Ray Boren of Clifton, Tex., in water color with his "Cactus", sale price $3,000.

Les Reynolds of Sedona, Ariz., in oils with his "Stage Stop", sale price $7,500.

John Warren of Clifton, Tex., in mixed media with his "Old Man of Talpa", sale price $500.

James Jacobs of Denver, Colo., in charcoal "Peyote Man", sale price $75 for second in line with Gordon Snidow of Belin, N.M., with his "Hard", sale price $1,500. Both will be here.

1972 Cowboy Artists of America exhibit included 55 oils, 12 bronze sculptures, nine watercolors, one varied media, two brass-wood works, one acrylic, and two pastels by 29 artists from nine states.

A trustee special award went to C. T. McLaughlin of Snyder, a trustee of the Cowboy Hall of Fame, who was cited for his contribution to cowboy art through his Diamond M Museum in Snyder.

Attending the exhibit and awards banquet for the Cowboy Artists of America in Oklahoma City from Post were Mr. and Mrs. David Newby, Mayor Giles C. McCrory, and Mrs. Mary Prather, who report many attending the exhibit there asked to be included on the invitation list to the O. S. Ranch Benefit Art Exhibit here.

McLaughlin held a barbecue Sunday evening at his Diamond M Ranch near Snyder honoring directors and artists of the Cowboy Hall of Fame and brought a 56-passenger bus load to the affair directly from Oklahoma City.

Attending that event from Post were Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick, and Jim Cornish.

HAS TAUGHT HUNDREDS
Mrs. Cora Fleming has retired after 29 years in the teaching profession, 25 years of that time as a teacher of commercial subjects in Post High School.

Longtime teacher puts 'cover on typewriter'

Diplomas and scholarships were not all that were handed out at the recent high school commencement exercises here.

Mrs. G. E. (Cora) Fleming, who has retired after 29 years in the teaching profession, including 25 years as teacher of commercial subjects in Post High School, was presented a bouquet of roses as a tribute from Supt. Bill Shiver and Principal Jimmy Poolard.

Nearly all the 61 seniors who graduated that night had been students of Mrs. Fleming's, and sitting in the stands at Antelope Stadium, where the exercises were held, were dozens of other former students of Mrs. Fleming's.

Mrs. Fleming wouldn't make a guess as to how many students she taught during her quarter-century as a commercial subjects teacher here, but she didn't disagree when someone suggested that it must have been "up around 2,000."

During all the years she has taught typing, bookkeeping, and other commercial subjects, Mrs. Fleming has taken a special delight in being able to recommend many of her students for responsible positions. In addition to helping place many of her students locally, she has been asked for recommendations from such distant places as Washington, D. C.

"I've even been contacted a number of times by the FBI seeking information on former students of mine who had applied for government jobs," she said.

Mrs. Fleming recalls that the commercial department had three different makes of typewriters to begin with, but that they later were standardized. Those first typewriters, she said, sat on long tables, three or four to a table. "It was really more of a bench than a table," she recalled.

As an example of how the commercial department has grown here, Mrs. Fleming said she had seven students — six girls and a boy — in her first bookkeeping class as compared with 70 students in this year's bookkeeping classes.

The teacher said when the department installed its first electric typewriters ten years ago, the students had no trouble making the adjustment from manual to electric machines.

Mrs. Fleming said that in her 25 years of teaching she had learned that neither sex is more proficient (See Post Teacher, page 8)

MEMBER OF THE CARP FAMILY 'Iron Curtain' fish seen as answer to lake moss problem

White River Lake directors last Thursday night were told there may be an answer at last to the lake's "growing-worse moss problem."

It's a secret fish from behind the Iron Curtain.

The fish, directors were told, is the White Amur, a member of the carp family which reportedly eats its weight in moss daily.

What's more the White Amur won't reproduce without a hormone injection — and thus wouldn't take over the lake if imported to try to solve the moss problem.

Water District Manager Al O'Brien was asked by directors to contact the Texas game and wildlife department to inquire into the possibility of the state conducting its first "controlled study" of this new fish in the White River Lake.

He also was asked to write both Florida and Arkansas where extensive studies already have been made, apparently in secret.

The first story on the White Amur was just recently published and it was through this source it came to the attention of White River directors.

The White Amur grow to an average size of 50 to 60 pounds, but since they eat only underwater vegetation they will be extremely difficult for fishermen to catch.

Development of the White Amur began in China. From there the fish was taken into Siberia where Soviet experts spread it over Eastern Europe.

To keep moss out of lakes, 20 such fish, 6 inches in length or bigger, are recommended per surface acre of lake.

Directors agreed the new fish may be "exactly what we've been looking for."

In another action, directors instructed O'Brien to lay out some lots for trailer rental use, that is with concrete slab and electrical connections.

Nothing new is reported on the New Mexico development corporation interested in developing cabin sites on the shores of White River Lake.

Directors are awaiting government made soil analysis to determine contamination possibilities for such a development before being receptive to any such propositions.

May revenue for the water district included $25,184.04 in water sales and $13,960 in recreational income from the sale of various recreational permits.

Attending the dinner meeting from Post were Directors J. B. Potts and S. E. Camp and Dispatch Publisher Jim Cornish.

County to boost '73 library aid

The Garza County Commissioners Court Monday voted to boost the county's participation in the Post Public Library budget next year from $750 to $1,500, subject to final approval of the budget.

The action came at the request of library trustees who met with the court last month.

The court also voted $500 for the Garza County Soil Conservation District for continuation of the soil conservation program in Garza County. Action came on a request letter from Sam Ellis.

After reviewing operation expenses for the radio operation in the sheriff's department and fines collected in the justice of the peace office for city-filed offenses, the court agreed to notify the city giving information on such figures from January through May.

It will be Grand Opening and Products Open House time here in Post Saturday, and hundreds of local and area folks are expected to turn out to see what a couple of pairs of hustling brothers — George and Wayne Childers, and Jim and Bo Jackson — are doing "business-wise" to truly make Post a better area trade center.

The Childers are holding the Grand Opening of their Garza Feed and Supply store at 132 West Main, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

They moved into their present location April 1, after opening their new feed and supply business next door on the corner last Nov. 15.

George and his wife, Edith, who helps operate the store, have been Post residents since 1949. George was with General American Oil Co. for 10 years and then was employed by Giles Dalby on the Cross H Ranch for another decade, winding up there as foreman. Before deciding to go into the feed and supply business.

NEW BUSINESS GENERATION

Curtis Hudman buys out uncle's part in firms

Curtis Hudman, son of Victor Hudman, has purchased the partnership interest of his uncle, Marvin Hudman, in the Hudman Furniture store and the Hudman Funeral Home and has gone into business with his father here.

Marvin Hudman and his wife, Jimmie, are retiring after 25 years spent developing the big furniture store here.

Announcement of these changes were not made until this week, although they became effective as of June 1.

Marvin Hudman, who launched Hudman's Furniture store at its present location Dec. 1, 1945, is completing 45 years in the furniture business.

He told The Dispatch this week he and Jimmie will continue to live in Post and "help out at the store when needed," but that he wants to "devote more time to my fishing and my grandchildren."

Marvin has lived in Post since 1921. Mrs. Hudman has worked in the store since it was opened 26 years ago.

They plan to leave Friday for a vacation in Colorado.

Curtis Hudman with his wife, Julie, and the 1-year-old son, Richard, have moved back to Post from the College Station area.

Valedictorian of his 1964 Post High School graduating class, Curtis received his bachelor's degree in 1968 from McMurry College at Abilene and this spring completed work on his master's degree in chemistry from Texas A & M. He will receive the diploma in August.

He has been a chemistry instructor in Aggie land while completing graduate studies.

His wife, the former Julie Landers of Sweetwater, received her bachelor of science degree in education from Texas A & M in 1968. They were married Aug. 24, 1968.

Although Curtis has done all his college work in chemistry, he does have some furniture store background, working in the family store here off and on while growing up, during which time he also became an Eagle Scout.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hudman temporarily have moved into their father's home here while looking for quarters of their own.

Post Methodists to dedicate two structures here

Bishop Aislie H. Carleton, the presiding bishop of the Northwest Texas-New Mexico area of the United Methodist Church, will dedicate the educational building and the parsonage of the First United Methodist Church of Post on Sunday, June 18.

Dr. Marvin L. Boyd, district superintendent of the Lubbock District, will assist in the dedication.

The educational building was completed in 1959. Before the building was paid for, the church members decided to build a parsonage, extending the loan on the educational building. The loan was paid off last December.

The educational unit houses most of the Sunday School classes as well as a small chapel and the office of the pastor, and there is a nursery for infants up to four years of age. The approximate cost of the building was $100,000.

The parsonage was completed in 1968.

Bishop Carleton will preach at the 11 a.m. worship service and officiate at the service of dedication (See Methodists, page 8)

Garza has cases of screwworms

There are four confirmed screwworm cases in Garza County, County Agent Syd Conner reported today, and area livestockmen are being urged to protect themselves by inspecting livestock regularly and carefully.

Since Jan. 1, 1972, there have been 4,382 screwworm cases reported in Texas. State and federal representatives at the Screwworm Laboratory at Mission, Tex., say that with favorable weather conditions a continued increase in the number of cases can be expected.

All wounds — particularly navel of newborn calves — must be found and treated promptly, whether they are wormy or not, the agent said.

Conner invites livestock owners to call on him for assistance in collecting and sending in to the Mission Laboratory samples of worms from wounded animals.

ENROLLMENT TUESDAY Summer youth program to add new activities

Post's city-sponsored summer youth recreation program will be shorter this summer, but a lot more attractive to the youngsters who participate, according to Joe Giddens, the coach who will supervise the program.

A two-weeks program has been set up by a city council-appointed committee of Pat N. Walker, James Kennedy and Bobby Davis.

The program, which is open to any school-age boy or girl, will get under way Tuesday, June 20, following enrollment from 8:30 until 9 a.m. at the junior high school gym. All youngsters interested in taking part in the program are urged to be at the gym for the enrollment period.

Walker, a member of the recreation program committee, said it had been hoped that a longer program could be held this summer, but that two weeks will be better than no program at all, and will help keep interest up for a full length program next summer.

Coach Giddens said today that a number of new sports are being added to make this summer's program more attractive. They include twirling and cheerleading for girls, tennis, trampolining, golf and swimming for both boys and girls, and track and field meets for boys.

The coach said Neff Walker and (See Youth Program, page 8)

WOW!

It was a beauty! Rather, they were all wonderful!

A total of 2.74 inches of rain has officially fallen on Post itself since Saturday night when a 1.24 soaker started it.

There was .03 moisture Sunday, .55 of an inch Monday, 0.6 on Tuesday.

Then, last night, a very bright and noisy thunderstorm dumped another .90 of an inch.

Most of the farm area received similar amounts, although totals varied.

Farmers report it all came just in time to "get the cotton growing again."

Garza team wins 2nd at Roundup

Jerry Johnson and Jay Kennedy won second place in the team demonstration natural resources contest at the state 4-H Roundup in College Station last week.

Consisting of slides taken in Garza County of soil erosion caused by heavy rains, their demonstration was titled "Save Our Soil — Save America." They demonstrated how soil erosion can be cut down by use of grasses and plowing techniques.

Their competition was from 16 district winners throughout the state. They took second place with a score of 90 1-3 out of a possible 105 points just one and two-thirds points below the first place team.

As second place winners, Jerry and Jay were awarded a $20 check and two medals from the Extension Service and the Texas Forestry Association.

Garza County's range and pasture grass identification team of Rusty Coover, Junior Stelzer and Nancy Cook placed fourth in that contest at the state roundup.

Youth is injured by power line

Jerry Wilson, 16, of Lubbock, narrowly escaped electrocution Sunday afternoon when he and a companion stopped to move a power line that the wind had blown across FM Road 2008 near the Dale Cravy home east of Post.

Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holliman, who investigated the accident, said the boys had been swimming in the river nearby and were en route home. He said young Wilson evidently was standing on wet ground when he came in contact with the wire.

The injured youth was brought to Garza Memorial Hospital by his companion and transferred from there to a Lubbock hospital.

Everything set for 4th blowout

Everything is "on schedule" for the fourth of July celebration Sunday, July 4, Earl Chapman, chairman of the sponsoring Post Chamber of Commerce celebration, told chamber directors today at a luncheon meeting in the Gen'ez Steak House.

Fireworks permit, which last minute consternation already has been obtained, and the fireworks ordered, permits have been made for over 600 chickens to be served.

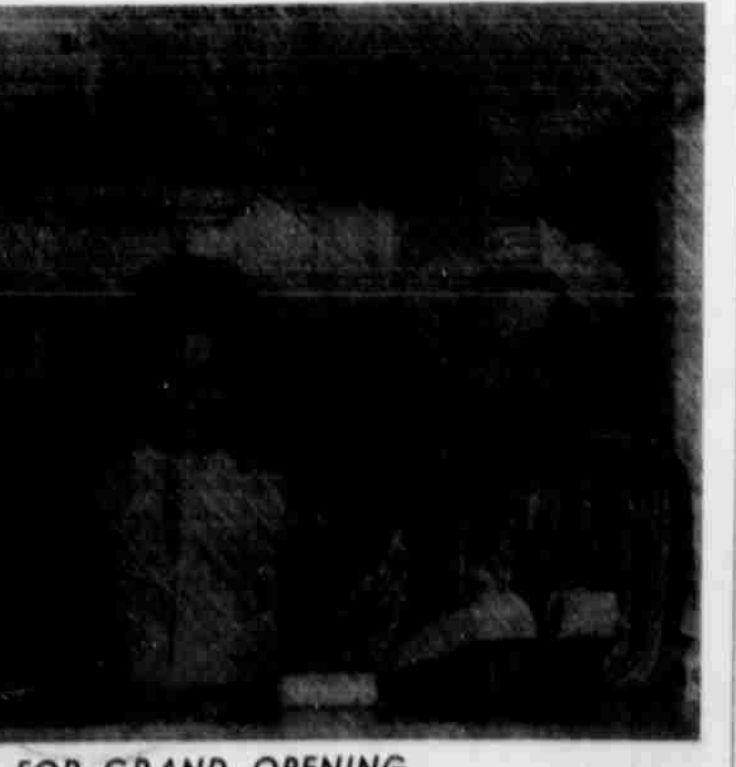

Chapman reported he decided to invite local men to serve on the service.

Part of the free barbecue — crowd of 2,500 expected — will begin at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, with park entertainment getting under way until noon.

But the Chamber wants to see July 4th is not one of the "Monday" holidays. It will hold each year on the day that on which it falls.

He decided to come to Post on sponsoring a late July show at the city-county fair at their July meeting.

SCHOOL CALENDAR SET Four teachers resign; two new ones hired

Post school district trustees Monday night accepted the resignations of four teachers and approved the employment of two new ones.

Retiring is Mrs. Cora Fleming, high school commercial instructor (see separate story) and resigning because of moving from Post are Mrs. Bettye Scott, Mrs. Patricia Malone, and Betty Sue Hutchins.

Mrs. Scott, director of elementary education for the last three years who has supervised elementary education here over the last eight years and had been a local teacher for eight years before that, is moving to Roswell, N.M., where her husband Wesley is being transferred by Gibson's.

Mrs. Malone is moving to Dallas with her husband, David and Miss

Hutchins, junior high teacher, has married and is moving to Brownfield.

New teachers employed are Billy Jack Hodges and Dayvid Lowrey Cole.

Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hodges of Post, is a spring graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and will teach high school speech and English. Cole, who is from Petersburg and is a McMurry College graduate, will teach high school biology.

Bids were opened on a variety of school supplies and services for the 1972-73 school year. Low bidders accepted were:

Big surge for benefit art show

Those who are busy with the promotion of the O. S. Ranch Benefit Art Exhibit are convinced this week they know a little bit about what it feels like to have "a dragon by the tail."

The Post contingent who sallied forth to the prestigious 1972 exhibit of the Cowboy Artists of America at the Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City last weekend returned home Sunday night almost a little bit scared by the furor already created by the O. S. Ranch Benefit Art Exhibit scheduled for the Garza ranchhouse southeast of Post Sept. 30 Oct. 1.

The awards dinner for the annual exhibit judging was sold out to 650 diners, most of them from out of state. They basically were the "cowboy-art enthusiasts" from all over the nation.

At the dinner, the Post group learned two things—which gave the local show a new surge of interest.

First, virtually all the first and second place awards went to artists who will be showing and selling here in the fall.

And some of those prices—wow! The first prize in drawing went to Brownell McGrew, whose price tag for his 35 by 45-inch charcoal "Dah-D-Nidghaahzi" carried a $22,500 price tag. First and second in sculpture went to William Moyers and Bob Scriber, respectively, and their price tags on the winning bronzes were $20,000 each.

Of course most of the art went for figures well below this, but most of it was in the thousand-dollar and above class.

Second, a great amount of interest was generated among the "cowboy art fans and buyers" attending the banquet in the O. S. Ranch Benefit Art Show. Since nothing like the local show has been attempted before, outside of the Cowboy Hall of Fame exhibit, it drew a lot of delightful attention.

So much attention in fact that James Baker of the Baker Gallery of Fine Arts in Lubbock told the Post group that most of the cowboy artists he had contacted were telling him, "Yes, I'm coming to Post at the end of September. Is Lubbock close to Post?"

As a result of the Oklahoma City experience, the local volunteers who are helping Jim Prather stage the O. S. Ranch Art Show and sale for the benefit of West Texas Boys Ranch are determined to redouble their efforts to make preparations for an outstanding and unusual show.

If you're invited to help, participate. This one is going to be Post's biggest step forward ever in the cultural field, no question about that.—JC

Politics do make strange bedfellows

Up until this year's Texas political campaigns, we'd looked upon H. M. Baggary and his Tulia Herald as one of the last strongholds of liberalism in this part of West Texas. But Baggary let us down.

True, he stayed with Ralph Yarborough until the last out, but he jumped into Ben Barnes' camp early, much to the surprise of most of his readers. . . not only those who pay for his paper, but also those who get it on exchange, as we do.

Baggary brushed this writer's favorite candidate, Sissy Farenthold, aside with words to the effect that if he voted for her he would lose his vote for governor. He did his best to "ax" Dolph Briscoe, and this writer wouldn't have cared if he had succeeded, because then we'd have had Sissy as the Democratic nominee for governor.

But what really "cooked us" with the Tulia editor is that after Barnes lost in the first primary he didn't swing in behind Mrs. Farenthold as any good liberal should have, if for nothing more than atonement. In the final issue of his paper before the runoff primary, Baggary wrote a paragraph in his column about Liz Carpenter being for Sissy. Then he wrote some more about Liz Carpenter, and ended the paragraph by saying he thought he would go along with Liz.

So, we think he voted for Mrs. Farenthold, but as far as championing her candidacy in the runoff campaign, he didn't. Or, if he did, it escaped our notice.

True, Sissy had some bad things to say about Baggary's boy, Barnes, in the first primary campaign, but Barnes also said some bad things about Sissy. But Baggary has been around long enough to know that that's "politics."

Baggary is also a poor loser. When Barnes lost in the first primary, his paper headlined the fact that Barnes carried Swisher County, and when Ralph Yarborough lost in the runoff primary, The Herald headlined the fact that Yarborough carried Tulia. Now that, no doubt, gave Baggary some personal satisfaction, but was it being fair to his readers? What a man does with his own newspaper is his own business, of course, but he also has an obligation to his readers—most of whom probably would rather have seen the winners' names in the headlines than the names of the losers, who just happened to win locally.—CD

Something 'going' for Scout camp

This is the final week of the summer camping season at the big Boy Scout camp here, but it doesn't mean the end of summer activities there. A special aquatic camp will follow the two weeks of troop camping, and there will also be weekend Cub Scout activities before the summer is over.

The Boy Scout camp, named for C. W. Post, the town's founder, is quite an asset to the city and has been for many years. It serves the 20-county South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, and its camping activities draw Scouts from throughout the Council area.

Among the many things the Boy Scouts camp has "going for it" is its camp ranger, Frank A. "Chief" Runkles. Chief is an "ambassador of goodwill" as far as the Scout camp is concerned, and also lets his energies "spill over" into other community and area activities, such as the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, Garza County Museum Association and South Plains Archaeological Society.

If the Chief has ever failed to come up with a program on Indian lore when asked to present one for some club or other organization, this writer hasn't heard about it. He is also "the man to see" when something of archaeological interest is unearthed, because he knows his way around when it comes to getting all the "diggings" will yield without destroying any of the artifacts.

You're missing something if you visit Camp Post without shaking hands with its camp ranger.—CD

UNDERSTAND OTHERS

"Who art thou that judgest the servant of another? To his own Lord he standeth or falleth. Yes, he shall be made to stand, for the Lord hath power to make him stand. Romans 14:4.

Judging others is the national pastime of millions of Americans. The quick judge is found in all segments of our society and I am afraid we have our share in our churches. But judging others is an extremely dangerous game. For our own fears, loyalties and prejudices nearly always get in the way.

This was strikingly demonstrated a few years ago by an experiment conducted after a Princeton-Dartmouth game. The game was unusually rough—so rough, in fact, that Princeton star Dick Kazmaier and a Dartmouth player were badly hurt. One week after the game, Dr. Hadley Cantrell, director of Princeton's Perception Demonstration Center, showed a movie of the game to groups of students from Princeton and Dartmouth. Each group was asked to add up the number of times each team broke the rules and also to comment on the game.

Princeton students "saw" Dartmouth break twice as many rules as Princeton. But Dartmouth students saw only half as many violations by their own team. Most Princeton students blamed Dartmouth for starting the rough play. Most Dartmouth students thought both teams were equally at fault.

"It seems clear," Dr. Cantrell concluded, "that the game was actually many different games, and that each version of the event was just as real to one person as other versions were to other people."

The next time you are tempted to judge another person you might ask yourself the following questions:

Am I taking all the facts of the situation into account—or only the ones that fit in with my way of thinking?

How are my attitudes influencing the way I see this situation? Am I looking at it fairly and objectively, or through the distorting filter of my prejudices?

Have I sincerely tried to understand the other person's point of view? Do I recognize that he may have values and needs that differ from mine? Have I considered his background and how it may influence his perception of the situation?

SUNDAY IS Father's Day and a good time to reflect that in our permissive society, the role of a father is more important than ever. Juvenile authorities tell us that 59 per cent of the time, a child becomes delinquent only after the father has relinquished his role. The father must be head of the family, just as the mother is the Mother.

It is almost impossible to exaggerate the importance of a father in raising children. Christ set the example. He taught us to refer to the First Person of the Trinity as "God the Father. When the Apostles asked Jesus how to pray, He taught them to call God "Our Father."

THE FATHER must exercise his role as head of the house, not turn it over to the mother by default. He is not just a good provider. He must be much more. He must provide spiritually as well as materially. He must strengthen children's character by not giving them too many things. He must help them to grow by rearing them in the school of hard knocks. He must not deny them the struggles that enabled him to succeed.

The generation gap between parent and children becomes a problem only when the father tries to be a pal instead of a parent. Children pal with one another, but they look to their parents for guidance and example. The fathers we honor today are those who provide both.

BY LEADING HIS children along the path of virtue, a father creates goodness that will continue for many generations. The influence of such a father will continue long after he has gone to his reward.

The man up the street says with the new longer skirts it's harder for the girls to get up the stairs.

THERE ARE A lot of TV commercials I don't dig, but one that has me completely baffled is that of a brand of beer, which sounds off with the name of the beer, then says, "Because we're all in this together." Whatever it is they're talking about us all being in together, they're probably right, but what did their brand of beer have to do with it?

I suppose, though, that's the secret of success of most of the TV commercials that ring the bell—they make you stop and think. Some don't require much, if any, thinking on the part of the viewer, but they're bell-ringers all the same. The line in the Alka Seltzer commercial, "Try it, you'll like it," became a household expression almost overnight.

AND I READ the other day that the same two ad-writers who came up with, "Try it, you'll like it," also wrote the "Would you believe I at the whole thing?" commercial. Alka Seltzer or its advertising agency, became so proud of the advertising team that it would not give a New York magazine writer permission to interview them. The writer did, however, get through to one of the ad-writers and came up with a short piece in the New York Magazine. And, would you believe, in the magazine article the name of the product came out Bromo Seltzer instead of Alka Seltzer. How's that for getting even!

I heard over the news at noon today that Gov. George Wall a c. e. who recently stopped a would-be assassin's bullet, said he isn't in any hurry to leave the hospital because he wants to get in good physical and mental shape for the Democratic convention that opens July 10. From what I've heard and read of what's coming up at the convention, there are a lot of people not even in the hospital who'd be wise to start getting in shape if they plan to attend the goings-on at Miami Beach Convention Hall.

THERE WILL BE 7,200 journalists at the convention who will climb a 30-foot ladder each night to overview the 5,308 delegates and alternates—the largest, youngest, blackest, femalest, most unpredictable national convention in history. More than 90 per cent of the delegates will be at their first party convention.

Bank recognized for youth work

COLLEGE STATION—The Hale County State Bank of Plainview has been named recipient of an award from the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation for outstanding contributions to 4-H Club work.

The bank was awarded a special plaque June 6 during the first general assembly of the 1972 State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University. Bank President J. B. Wheeler accepted the award from A. J. Davies of Dallas with the 4-H foundation.

The Hale County State Bank has been a strong supporter of 4-H for many years providing bank loans to 4-Hers so they can buy calves, purchasing ads to promote 4-H, and buying livestock at youth stock shows.

ACCORDING TO Richard J. Murphy, the 42-year-old Irishman who will be the manager of the convention, "there will be 50,000 people here — not counting street people, and those estimates seem to run from 5,000 to 150,000 — and once they get there the name of the game is to get into Convention Hall. For every person who gets in, three won't make it. After that, the name of the game is to get on the floor. You wouldn't believe the pressure, the number of VIP's who tell me they have to be on that floor."

Chicago four years ago was a disaster. There's no telling what Miami Beach will be. It could turn out to be nothing more than a Super Bowl with 23 teams and, when the game is over, a new kind of Democratic Party. Let us hope so.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD'S DEVELOPMENT

Parents who disobey speeding laws teach their children a lack of respect for the law. And the mother who sends her child to the salesman at the door to report that she isn't home has a difficult time convincing the child that lying is wrong.

Children "catch" their education from parents. Parents need to think ahead before acting in any situation. They should ask, "How will my actions help or deter my child's growth?"

Parents who show concern for others, who discuss differences in opinion instead of shutting them out, and who respect the rights of all—both children and adults—are teaching important qualities in human relations to their children. Parents should practice what they preach.

Keep your eye on the future as you guide and discipline your child. After a struggle with another family member, ask what difference the problem will make in five years. Be firm only if the issue is really important.

Attitudes of the family, particularly the parents, begin molding a child's personality almost immediately after birth. People are often influenced by the atmosphere surrounding them in the first weeks and months of life. Personality problems can hatch during these crucial earliest stages. Understanding and influencing the development of man's personality problems begins with a close look at his parents.

Happiness, a universal goal, depends on the parents' own state of mind. Emotional difficulties between father and mother will destroy the climate of security and love, which children need to develop normally. But if parents are happy, they will bring up happy children. Deeply-felt happiness is mental health.

Men and women who have a sense of well-being, a zest for working and playing and an ability to derive the utmost satisfaction from personal relationships are mentally healthy. And chances are their children will also be mentally healthy.

The first step in dealing with

Women's Division sets bake sale

Members attending were Mmes. Bessie Strawn, Edith Ramsey, Marie Neff, Lillian Nance, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Pat Furlong, Maxine Marks, Mary Prather, Vada Clary, Betty Posey, Inez Hartel, Nelda Dalby, Iris Rogers, Myra Cooper and Wyanne Kennedy.

early stages of personality problems in families is to help parents become happier. The modern American community offers many resources through which family ties can be strengthened and the home atmosphere can be improved.

To find these resources, parents must look within their communities and within themselves. They must have a pride in their parenthood, imagination to investigate new ideas, and courage to put these ideas into action.

Garza County crude oil value tops $15 million

Sale of Garza County oil and gas production accounted for $13,257,388 of the county's economic output for 1971, according to a study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. In producing 4,287,011 barrels of crude oil and 1.1 billion cu. ft. of natural gas, the county ranked 79th in Texas. Value of its crude oil was $15,090,279; natural gas value was $167,109.

The county is among 190 Texas counties with oil and gas production value topping $100,000, although 211 counties produce oil and gas.

"Garza County oil and gas wells made a significant contribution to Texas' share of the nation's energy needs last year, but growing demand is sapping reserves in Texas faster than they can be replaced," Robert A. Buschman, association president, said. "As fewer new fields are discovered, due to less drilling, the continuing strong economy and tax base of many Texas counties may now depend on updating Texas oil conservation laws to encourage wider use of new recovery technology," he said.

The association study showed that Garza County farmers, ranchers, and other royalty owners received $1,907,174 as their share of the production.

The county's wells generated $694,153 in crude oil production taxes for state government and $12,533 in state taxes on natural gas. Oil and gas producers spent $2,145,408 in drilling 32 wells in the county last year, $884,028 of which was lost in drilling 12 dry holes.

Texas Employment Commission figures showed 130 oil and gas industry employees in the county last year, with an annual payroll of $996,172.

CAN BE DRESSED UP

The hamburger, as American as July 4th and apple pie, it can be dressed up to suit any occasion or taste, such as the pizza burger shown on the left featuring tomato sauce, mozzarella cheese and frankfurter slices.

Hamburger had foreign origin, but it's still great American favorite

Regardless of its foreign origin—the hamburger is supposed to have originated in Hamburg, Germany, in 1891—there is no question but what it has become as American as the Fourth of July and apple pie. There are so many variations, perhaps not including those you make yourself, that complete books have been written on the subject.

No matter how you serve your hamburgers, it's important to realize that their finished goodness depends on the beginning, the base from which you build. In other words the bun itself, because no matter what the filling, it misses being a mouth-watering delight if the bun is not all that a good bun should be—fresh, flavorful and high quality.

Many youngsters, cranky in their eating habits, prefer their hamburger with just a meat patty and perhaps a little mustard or catsup, but for those teenagers and adults who are venturesome, there are myriad ways to "build a hamburger and with some, the more we put in, the better it gets.

Here's a combination you may not have tried:

CHEESEBURGER TOWER
 2 pounds ground beef
 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
 1 tablespoon worcestershire sauce
 1 1/2 teaspoons prepared horseradish salt and pep., or
 6 slices process American cheese
 6 hamburger buns, split and toasted

 Combine meat, onion and seasonings; shape into 12 patties a little less than 1/2-inch thick. Cook in lightly greased skillet about 6 minutes, turning once—broil if you prefer. With cookie cutter, cut a 2 inch round from center of each cheese slice. Place half the meat patties on toasted buns; add cheese slice filling the hole in the cheese with catsup, mustard or barbecue or hamburger relish. Top with remaining meat patties and cheese rounds.

Or try a Smoky Cheeseburger: Prepare 6 meat patties and while they cook, combine one 5-ounce jar smoky cheese spread, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard; spread on top half of 6 split hamburger buns. Broil 1 to 2 minutes or till cheese bubbles and buns toast. Put buns together with a meat patty in each.

Have you ever considered the versatility of the hamburger bun for other purposes? Split and toasted, it makes a great base for creamed foods or Sloppy Joes to be eaten with knife and fork. Because of the shape, what better for a fried egg and ham sandwich? With weiners, clip at one-inch intervals almost through so they will curl up as they cook and they are just right for a bun, with a center which can be filled with sauerkraut for a great taste combination or baked beans with a tipping of hot dog relish.

No matter how you serve them, a supply of good hamburger buns fresh from your favorite grocer

Medicare premium due 20-cent hike July 1

The basic premium rate for the medical insurance part of Medicare will go up from $5.60 to $5.80 a month beginning July 1, according to the Social Security district office in Lubbock.

The medical insurance part of Medicare helps pay for doctor bills and a variety of other medical expenses for people 65 and over. The program is funded by individual premiums matched by the federal government.

The 20-cent increase in the premium in July compares to a 30c increase in 1971 and a $1.30 boost in 1970.

The low increase this year reflects savings in the administration of Medicare as well as lower anticipated medical costs because of the Price Commission's guidelines to an average of 2 1/2 per cent per year, the SS office explained.

The Medicare law requires an annual review of the cost of the medical insurance program. The premium rate is adjusted to cover the estimated medical expenses of Medicare patients during the 12 months beginning July 1.

The medical insurance part of Medicare paid $2 million in benefits on 9 1/2 million people in fiscal 1971. Almost everyone 65 and over is enrolled — about 20 million people.

The medical insurance supplements Medicare hospital insurance, which is funded by social security contributions and helps pay for hospital bills and certain follow-up care of people 65 and over.

McAllen man dies of auto wreck injuries

Bill F. Harper, 78, of McAllen, died in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital last Friday from injuries received in a one-car accident 2.2 miles southeast of Post May 26.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church in Lockney. Burial was at McAllen.

Harper's death raised the South Plains traffic death toll to 49 this year. The accident occurred on U. S. Hwy. 84 in Scurry County.

Give Us the Fact

Rev. George P. Ascher

St. Luke records a story of three men who had been invited to a great feast by the Lord of the land. They accepted the invitation with joy. But when the day of the feast arrived they found that they could not attend so they sent back an excuse.

The one says: "I bought a piece of land. I must go and view my real estate." The second man who had bought five oxen asked to be excused so that he could test them. The last had married and thought that was excuse enough.

Now each man of course stated nothing but the facts. The one had bought a field, the second 5 yoke of oxen and the third had gotten married. Yet the fact also remained that the field could be inspected at another time, the oxen should have been tested before the sale and the newly married man could easily have brought his wife along with him.

You see, the facts have obscured the fact which had in the end, obscured the final fact that what these men were saying was "We don't want to come."

Your pastors often listen to excuses of those who have made excuses to their Lord. Please don't bother us with them. We've heard them all a thousand times. They are all facts. You're busy, I know, very busy people, and you have very, very important things to do, don't you?

Please don't give us the facts. State the final fact: I am my own God, and the worship of the God that you worship is with me an option. I worship myself—my own will, my own doings, my own concerns, my own interests. These are my god."

Come on, now, have the guts to say it. This is what you mean. Never mind the facts. Give us the fact.

GEORGE L. MILLER if he'd stuck to short stories you considered the plight of a short story? You didn't even know it was a plight? For shame! Short story is a form of that got overlooked a back, more's the pity. Some authors write short stories, not many people read them. The famous "Rabbit Run" and "The Swings" is so bad its readability (at least I could read it). How much better

There are probably all sorts of reasons for the plight I speak of. One may be that people think the short story is sissy. Many short stories appearing in the slick magazines are what we call formula stories, neat little tales where everything is worked out with the precision of a chemical equation. There is no surprise, and it doesn't matter. After a while, people who like to read say, "Who needs them?"

On the other end of the scale, some short stories are in the experimental vein, and the puzzle they pose is too much for the average reader to solve. He wants to read for entertainment and enlightenment, not to be baffled with obscurity. Like much of modern painting and modern music, these stories are produced by the artistic elite for the shrinking minority of elite elite. The average reader says "Forget it!"

Yet a short story can be one of the most satisfying of all literary meals. The challenge of writing a short story is much greater than writing a full novel. It takes far more skill to capture a genuine human emotion, a real human dilemma, an event that matters with-

BRINGS HONORS TO BAND

High state rating to Post bandsman

Playing "Syrinx" by Debussy, Sherell Guichard of the Post High School band received a Division II rating in flute solo at the state University Interscholastic League invitational solo and ensemble contests held recently in Austin.

Sherell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Guichard of Post, qualified for the state contest by receiving a Division I rating at the regional level.

The state invitational contest is so difficult that medals are given for both Division I and Division II ratings, according to Post Band Director Herb Germer.

Sherell took private lessons from Germer and from Margaret Redcay, flute instructor at Texas Tech. The lessons with Mrs. Redcay were paid for by the Post Music Club.

Sherell's high rating in the flute contest at Austin isn't the only honor she has received this year. She was chosen for all-region band and as an alternate for the all-state band. She was named "Outstanding Bandsman" in the Post High School band, and played in the Honor Band at the Texas Tech Band Camp.

Her director says: "Sherell is as fine a bandsman as I've ever taught. I am very proud of her accomplishments and know she will not be satisfied until she reaches the top."

MUSEUM ATTENDANCE

in the confines of a short story. Each word must count, each phrase like a building block—add to the total effect. A novel can get away with moments of sloppy writing, some stretches of dullness (if they don't last too long), but a short story has no room for flaws. It must go right to the heart without a second's hesitation or it fails.

We've got a healthy collection of short stories in our library, stories written by a host of authors. We have collections of them in the mystery section, and in the Western section, and in the straight fiction section. We have masters of the form, like O'Hara and Maugham, and Salinger and Poe, and Lord knows how many others.

They aren't guaranteed to please but they are guaranteed to give you variety. They can be read quickly, but the ones that are worth their salt will stay with you. You will remember a short story long after you have forgotten a dozen novels. Reading short stories is reading some of the best fiction available in the library.

I'll bet once you try them you'll be hooked for life!

Former teacher of Post area resigns after long career

Mrs. Harvey Stotts, who formerly taught in Post and at other places in Garza County, recently resigned at Plains, Tex., after 33 years as a school teacher.

Mrs. Stotts, the former Pauline Goode, graduated from Denton High School when she was 16 and later attended North Texas State University, then called the Normal.

She first came to the Post area in 1922 to teach at Hackberry, then taught at Saint Jo, Tex., for a year before returning to Hackberry. She later married Harvey Stotts, a young farmer of the Hackberry area, and spent the next 14 years at home attending to their five children.

SUFFERS STROKE
George Tillman, who suffered a stroke at his home here June 3, is reported improving some in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital, to where he was transferred after being treated in Garza Memorial Hospital. His sister, Mrs. Anne M. Fumagalli of El Paso, and his brother, J. C. Tillman, and son, Paul, of Conroe, are here visiting him.

In 1942, Mrs. Stotts taught at Barnum Springs, where 18 children were enrolled in the eight grades. The remaining 25 years of her teaching career were spent in Southland, Post and Plains. She taught the first grade at Plains.

Through correspondence courses, night and Saturday classes and summer residence courses, she received her B. S. degree from Texas Tech.

In 1960, the Tsa Mo Ga Study Club of Plains honored Mrs. Stotts with its "Teacher of the Year" award.

This will enable coaches to gain expanded storage facilities in the field house, Supt. Bill Shiver, said by taking over present public restroom area. It also will enable the schools to remove three "eye sore" wooden buildings from inside the stadium grounds.

Also approved was purchase of an additional $3,000 worth of new football equipment for expansion of the high school junior varsity grid program this fall.

The 1973-74 school calendar was approved which calls for classes to begin Monday, Aug. 28, following a teachers' in-service workshop Aug. 21-25.

Classes will end in 1973 on May 25.

Participants in the show were from Childress, Quanah, Claude, Spur, Guthrie and oPst.

First place winners were awarded belt buckles with ribbons through sixth place.

Those from the Graham club and their placings:

Hedrick, 9 thru 13 age group, reserve champion gelding, first in halter, fifth in western pleasure.

Steve White: Fourth in halter. Melanie King: 14 thru 19 age group, sixth in reining.

Jan Hall, second in poles (tied for first and was in a runoff) fifth in halter.

Melvena Stewart: Grand champion mare, first in halter, second in barrels, and fifth in showmanship.

Cindy Bird: Second in halter, fourth in poles and sixth in barrels.

Mel King, Jan Hall, and Melvena Stewart were nicked while showing at halter to show in the showmanship class.

The next playday for the group will be at Lamesa Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m.

Graham horsemen score 44 points at Guthrie show

By STEVE WHITE

Six members of the Graham 4-H Horse Club scored a total of 44 points at the King County 4-H Playday held in Guthrie Saturday.

Judge for the show, which had about 200 entries, was Dink Wilson, county agent of Hardeman County. Wilson was formerly assistant agent of Gaines County before going to Quanah.

Melvena Stewart showed her mare, Beauty, to win Grand Champion Mare of the show and John Bill Hedrick's Poco was named Reserve Champion Gelding. Melvena compiled a total of 15 points to be named high point senior girl.

Participating contestants were from Childress, Quanah, Claude, Spur, Guthrie and oPst.

First place winners were awarded belt buckles with ribbons through sixth place.

Those from the Graham club and their placings:

Hedrick, 9 thru 13 age group, reserve champion gelding, first in halter, fifth in western pleasure.

Steve White: Fourth in halter. Melanie King: 14 thru 19 age group, sixth in reining.

Jan Hall, second in poles (tied for first and was in a runoff) fifth in halter.

Cindy Bird: Second in halter, fourth in poles and sixth in barrels.

Mel King, Jan Hall, and Melvena Stewart were nicked while showing at halter to show in the showmanship class.

The next playday for the group will be at Lamesa Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m.

Class of '62 to assemble July 1

The Post High School class of 1962 will hold its tenth year reunion at the City-County Park on Saturday, July 1, with a picnic beginning at 3 p. m.

Class members, spouses, children and parents of class members are invited to attend the catered barbecue.

A party for the classmates and their spouses will begin at 8 o'clock that night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thuett.

Those who were members of this graduating class are asked to make plans to attend by contacting Jerry Thuett, Route 3, Post.

But on Saturday they are going to heat up those meat products and let you sample them — one and all, if you like. So from 7 to 11 a.m. Saturday you can stop by the food locker and really get acquainted with all their fine meat products.

Jim Jackson explains that the idea of the open house is to try to get all the local and area folks to come in and see and taste exactly what they're producing in their custom slaughtering plant, which incidentally is one of the model plants anywhere in Texas.

So take a few minutes of your time Saturday to stop by both the Jackson Bros. Food Locker and the Garza Feed and Supply for their open houses. The Childrens and the Jacksons will make you welcome — and you'll come away with a little better idea of why Post today is making some of its most progressive business strides forward in the last 20 years.

It's great to have a new generation of Hudmans step into the family's furniture store and funeral home business here. Post-ins tips its columnar hat to Curtis Hudman for purchasing his uncle's share of the partnership and going into business here with his father, Vivtor. It's time to have young people come back to Post and we think Curtis will find real opportunity here.

We know Marvin and Jimmie Hudman are "going to have fun" when they step into retirement this weekend. They have a nice "home away from home" on the shores of White River Lake and they want to see and enjoy their grandchildren more.

Darby Don's Western Catfish is introducing a new manager and assistant manager this week with a Father's Day promotion Sunday which should find favor all over town.

Irving Young, who heads the Darby Don Restaurants besides the catfish farms at Two Draw and elsewhere, announces that Jim McCarty will be the new manager for the restaurant and drive-in and Hugh Meyer will be his assistant. Both men, formerly of Olton, have had a number of years of restaurant management experience in the San Francisco Bay area.

The Father's Day promotion, which sounds great to us, is that "Dad eats free on his day Sunday at Darby Dons if accompanied by his family. See page 9 for announcement details, but since Dad usually picks up the check anyway, he should like being taken out to Darby Don's."

Postings is far too long this week but as you can see there is a lot of business activity around town. But before we quit we want to spotlight Garza's industrious Green Thumb crew again.

They've gone to work on the city-county airport this week mending fences and cutting weeds. As one local pilot put it to us yesterday, "The taxpayer gets more for his money out of that bunch than anywhere else I know of." And to that we'll agree.

Have a happy Day, Dads. We are going to buzz down to Houston for ours with Little Andy and her parents.

Mrs. Fleming, who was honored with a coffee and gifts by high school faculty members and with a gift certificate by the local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association on her retirement, said she really wasn't ready to retire, but decided it best to do so because of her husband's health. Now that she has retired, they plan to move their house trailer to Lake Medina near San Antonio later this summer and stay awhile. The Fleming daughter, Mrs. Margaret Yandell, and their two granddaughters live in Odessa.

Mrs. Fleming is a graduate of Wilson High School and received her Bachelor of Science degree at Howard Payne and her Masters degree at West Texas State. She taught two years at the old Garmolia school, west of Post, before coming here to teach two years in the lower grades. She started in high school here as an English teacher, but after six weeks succeeded Miss Johnnie Cook as the commercial teacher.

Mrs. Fleming said Walter Josey, whose children and grandchildren have been included among her students, was on the Garmolia school board that hired her for her first teaching position. She said when she recently told Walter she was retiring, he said, "Well, now, I hired you, and I haven't fired you yet."

KSEL's Bob Etheredge gets recognition for work with area youth

COLLEGE STATION—Bob Etheredge, farm and ranch director for KSEL-TV and radio in Lubbock was given special recognition June 6 for his contributions to 4-H Club work in Texas.

Etheredge received a special plaque during the first general assembly of the State 4-H Roundup on the Texas A&M University campus.

The farm and ranch director gives freely of his service to 4-Hers in the Lubbock area and throughout the South Plains. He attends practically all Extension functions including crop meetings, achievement days, banquets and stock shows.

Etheredge has worked closely with 4-H boys and girls in presenting programs to promote 4-H events and activities and to further the 4-H Club program.

Former resident dies in Lubbock

Funeral services for Ralph P. Kirkpatrick, former Post resident, who died Monday at his home in Lubbock, were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the W. W. Rix Chapel in Lubbock.

Kirkpatrick operated an auto electric shop in Post for several years before moving away in the mid-1950's after selling his shop to Rex King. He lived in Colorado for a short time and in Shattuck, Okla., before moving to Lubbock where he operated a car repair shop.

He was a member of the First Christian Church and also a member of Post Masonic Lodge 1058 and of Masonic orders in Glenwood Springs and Denver, Colo.

Survivors include his wife, Winnie; a son, Mark Kirkpatrick of Perryton; a daughter, Mrs. Jo Ann

A letter to our friends . . .

After twenty six years in the furniture business, Jimmie and I have decided to retire and turn it over to a younger and more energetic person, our nephew, Curtis Hudman.

We do want to take this opportunity to thank our many friends and customers for the good business and friendship that we have enjoyed these many years. Post has been good to us and we will continue to live here and help out in the business during busy times and when needed.

We know that you will enjoy knowing Curtis and his wife, Julie, and doing business with them. Of course, my brother and partner for all these years, Victor Hudman, will continue in the business as usual. Also Darrell Eckols, who has been with us for many years and knows the business well, will be interested in the business and will be anxious to see that your needs are taken care of in a quick and pleasant manner.

Thanks again and come to see us at 614 W. 10th Street.

Sincerely,

Marvin and Jimmie Hudman

Babe Ruth teams bunched; Cubs blank two opponents

Indians are still on top of Babe Ruth League standings, the Braves, Cubs and White Sox are in hot pursuit, and it's anybody's race.

Two whitewash jobs by the Cubs in recent games have helped to blank the league-lead Indians, 10 to 0, last Thursday night, then came back Saturday to shut out the Braves, 11 to 0.

Monday night, however, the White Sox slowed the Cub machine to a 1 to 5 win behind the pitching of Jay Strawn, who went the distance. The Sox got to three Cub batters for nine hits, with Tim Moore getting three of them. Tony Conner got two of the six.

Tuesday night's first game, the Indians came up with a fourth-inning home run to beat the Braves with Randy Josey the winning pitcher, and Benny Greene, who relieved Garland Dudley, the reliever allowed just three singles by Bryan Davis, My Britton and Dudley. The Braves were held to five safeties in the two Brave pitches, with My Britton and Danny Saldinger rapping out doubles, and Grayling Johnson and Shor Hester getting singles.

Saturday night's 11-0 blanking of the Braves, the Cubs chased eight runs in the first inning with seven bases on balls, a single by Tony Conner, an error by two infielders contributing to the onslaught. The Brave starter, Benny Greene, was shelled from around early, with Danny Saldinger finishing up.

The only hits off winner Ray Strawn were singles by Sawyer and Buddy Britton, with the game tied after five frames because of a 13-run lead rule. Randy Babb got two of the winners' five hits. The White Sox beat the Indians, 10-5, in the night's second game, which was called in the bottom of the fifth because of rain. Mike Hair, the winning pitcher, gave up three hits, while George Hester, the loser, yielded four. In addition to pitching the win, Hair got two of his team's four hits.

Randy Josey got the Indians' only two hits, one a triple, off Tony Conner when the Cubs blanked the Indians, 10 to 0, last Thursday night. Kyle Duren, who went the distance for the Indians, was the losing pitcher, giving up nine hits, with Conner, Wayne Bell, and Joe Neal Clary getting two apiece.

In the night's first game, the Braves beat the White Sox, 4 to 2, with Mark Terry the winning pitcher and Rodney King the loser. Both pitchers went the distance with Terry allowing two hits and King three in a real mound duel.

The two hits off Terry were a single by Tim Owen and a double by Mike Hair. King gave up only

Local archers to hold invitational

The Post Archery Club is hosting an invitational shoot Sunday, June 25, with registration from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m.

The shooting fee will be $3, with shooting scheduled to start at 9 a.m.

The Post Archery Club is a relatively new club and this, their first invitational shoot, will be unregistered. There will be food and babysitters on the range.

All archery enthusiasts are welcome to take part in the event. Trophies will be awarded in all classes. Motels are available, also camping on the range.

Post '9' takes lead in 16-18 BR League

Manager Bill Holly's Post team vaulted to the top of the standings in the Caprock 16-18 Babe Ruth League here Monday night with a 3 to 0 win over Tahoka behind the pitching of Kyle Josey and Reggie Moore.

The loss was the first of the young season for the Tahoka nine and left them with a 2-1 mark as compared to Post's 3-1 reading.

Tahoka's Jeff Atwell allowed only three hits, but two of them came where it counted, Moore's second inning double driving in Larry Holly who had singled and Danny Lee, who had walked. The only other hit off Atwell was Jackie Blacklock's sixth-inning single.

Josey, the Post starter, held the Tahoka team hitless for five innings before yielding the mound duties to Moore in the top of the sixth. Tahoka's only hits were back-to-back singles by Phil McClendon and Atwell with one out in the top of the sixth, but Moore struck out Clifford Laws, issued a base on balls to John Thomas to load the sacks, then fanned Lewis Zedlitz to get out of the jam.

Others seeing action for Post in the Tahoka game were Ricky Hair, second base; Kim Owen, catcher; Frank Martinez, left field, and Dempsey and Thomas Zachary, right field.

Monday night's other league game at Lamesa between the two Lamesa teams was rained out.

Two grand slams feature LL play

The Yankees have taken over the lead in the Little League, but the league's big news is that the first grand slam home runs of the season — two of them — were hit in last Thursday's game.

The first grand slam circuit smash of the season came off the bat of pitcher Evans Heaton of the Yankees, with his team beating the Red Sox, 9 to 6, to take over the league lead for the first time this season.

The night's second grand slam was hit by the Tigers' Tommy Lockhart in the sixth inning, helping his team to a 17 to 8 win over the Dodgers. Lockhart had entered the game in the third inning to play center field in the place of Virgil Morris.

The regular season is scheduled to end Monday, June 19, with a single game between the Wildcats and Tigers, but there are a number of make-up games to be played.

Monday night, the Dodgers blanked the Red Sox, 2-0, although their only hit was a single by Charles Hall off Larry Harper, the starting pitcher for the Sox. The Dodgers' two Mikes — Gonzales and Dye — scored the two Dodger runs, Gonzales reaching base on a walk and Dye getting life on a fielder's choice.

Dodger pitcher Doug Hall allowed the losers only four hits, one a double by Gary Seals. Hall fanned eight Red Sox batters.

In Monday's second game, the Yankees put down the Cardinals, 8 to 4, behind Heaton's two-hit pitching. Kent Craig and Danny Gunn got the only safeties off Heaton.

Brad Davis went the distance for the losers, yielding six hits, with Bryan Compton and Wally Wright getting two each. Heaton and Bud Jones got the other two Yankee hits.

Saturday night, the Red Sox downed the Wildcats, 14 to 5, in a game called in the top of the sixth because of rain, but counting as a complete game.

The Wildcats, who are still looking for their first Little League win, got seven hits off Red Sox pitchers Ronald Bratcher and Scott Walker, with Bratcher being credited with the win. Rex Cash got two of the Wildcat hits, while Jesse Taylor, Terry Odom, David Poole, Rodney Gray and Sammy Gandy also hit safely for the 'Cats.

Terry Odom, the losing pitcher and his relievers, Gray and Owen Gilbert, were raked for 13 hits by the winners. Jeff Williams led the Sox batters with three hits in three trips, with Mark Williams and Larry Harper getting two hits apiece.

The Tigers broke a 5-5 tie in the fifth inning to beat the Cards, 6-5, in Saturday's first game. Two singles by Raymie Holly and a lone single by David Quinonez were the only hits the winners got off the Cards' Bruce Waldrip. The losers came up with six hits off Raymie Holly, the Tiger starter, and Tommy Lockhart, who relieved him in the bottom of the fourth to receive credit for the win.

Dale Redman got two hits, both doubles, for the Cards, while Brent Terry, Kent Craig, Brad Davis and Bruce Waldrip got a hit apiece.

In the Tigers' 17-8 victory over the Dodgers last Thursday, Caine Abraham was the winning pitcher and Charles Hall the loser. In addition to Lockhart's grand slam home run, the Tigers got big help at the plate from Caine Abraham and Mike Holly, each with three hits. Billy Smith and Danny Nelson, with two hits apiece, were the big guns for the losers.

In the Yankees 9-6 win over the Red Sox, Heaton's grand slam was one of only four hits the winners got off Larry Harper, the losing pitcher, and Ronald Bratcher, who relieved him. Heaton's four-master came off Harper.

Heaton gave up eight hits in nitching the Yanks to their win. Larry Harper got three of the Red Sox hits, including a two-run homer.

Clamp lid on soaring food prices by shopping for economical buys

COLLEGE STATION — "To put the lid on soaring summer prices, inspect local food markets this week for economical buys," advised Gwendolyn Ciyatt, Houston consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In beef sections, consider ground beef, frankfurters, spare ribs, steaks and roasts for outdoor cookouts. Many markets feature hams of all types and also offer luncheon meats as good choices for the picnic season.

"Poultry products rank high as thrifty meat and protein buys," Mrs. Ciyatt said. "Despite larger supplies, demand for fryers will likely remain strong. Specials on the birds continue to offer real bargains; any price rises won't be great enough to knock them off the low-cost list."

"This adds up to economical turkey buys with numerous sales, she said. "Join the trend to year-round consumption of the hearty birds."

Fresh fruit markets have tagged watermelon with attractive prices as supplies increase considerably. Texas-grown honeydew melons, with extra good flavor, also boast moderate to low prices. Large red plums, peaches, Bing cherries and seedless grapes stock the market but have not yet passed into the economy class. Fresh fruit and vegetable sections offer pineapples, oranges, bananas, cantaloupes and potatoes as choices in best supply at the most economical prices. Also cabbage, carrots, tomatoes, dry yellow onions, radishes and green onions.

Library LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER

School's out! What to do? How about joining Summer Reading Club?

You've heard all about it. I'm sure. Each year we've had a Summer Reading Club, and each year many of the youngsters in town have joined up, spending a good part of their summer in reading books.

Before school ended, I went down to the first five grades and told all the students about the Reading Club. I took some books with me this year, to give them some idea of what they can find in the library. In case I hadn't mentioned it before, we've got some good reading in the library. Just ask me!

Several years ago, we had an enthusiastic bunch of summer readers. But in the past two years, enthusiasm has dipped a bit. I don't know why. Perhaps it was too hot, or memories were too short, or the novelty had worn off. Whatever the reason, we were sorry about it, and have looked forward to things picking up this year.

For one thing, this year we've got a lot more books than ever before. For another, we've got Story Hour for the pre-school children, which just might tempt some older brothers and sisters to drop in and browse around a bit. We sure hope so.

In case you don't know about the Reading Club, any child who reads at least 12 books during the summer will be given a Reading Certificate at summer's end. We always have a little party with punch and cookies honoring all those who have earned a certificate. We keep track of the books read by each child and hand that information on to the school so that their teachers can know what the children read during the summer.

Of course, reading is fun. Even more, reading is the key to learning, the doorway to adventure, the starting place for wonder. Life is so much richer because of reading. Our Reading Club helps children discover books. Will you help us help them?

VACCINATE FOR VEE

Hot, summer weather is one the way and mosquitoes are becoming active. This could be bad news to horse owners who have not vaccinated their animals for VEE (Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis), the dreaded sleeping sickness spread by mosquitoes which killed so many horses last year.

"It's urgent that all horses, mules and donkeys that were not vaccinated last year be vaccinated as soon as possible," emphasizes Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Animals that were vaccinated during last year's massive vaccination program need not be vaccinated this year since immunity from the VEE vaccine appears to last at least two years. However, if there is any doubt about whether or not the animal was vaccinated last year, by all means vaccinate again.

The Texas A&M University specialist hastens to add that there is one exception to the re-vaccination rule. "Foals that were vaccinated, in 1971 when they were less than six months old should be re-vaccinated."

In high risk areas such as Texas, the U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends vaccinating pregnant mares and foals under two weeks of age during the mosquito season. Studies are presently under way to determine whether there is any danger to mares or unborn foals if vaccinated during pregnancy.

Also, contrary to some earlier reports, tests in several states have shown that the vaccine does not cause brain or spinal damage in horses.

"If you have animals that require VEE vaccination, contact an accredited veterinarian as soon as possible and have him administer the vaccine," urges Armstrong. This year there is a change for both the vaccine and the veterinarians' services.

Armstrong reminds horse owners to also vaccinate their animals against western and eastern strains of the sleeping sickness. This should be an annual vaccination. All vaccinations can be given during the veterinarian's services.

"Texas is still under federal quarantine for VEE," adds the veterinarian. "Thus horses must have been vaccinated for VEE at least

Postite to attend school in Hawaii

Miss Becky Dalby, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Giles Dalby will leave Friday, June 16, for Lihue, Hawaii, where she will enroll in summer school at Kawai High School.

Becky, who will be a junior in the fall, will be among 150 students enrolled in the school.

There will be class work in the morning followed by island fun in the afternoon. Surfing, skin diving, and swimming are listed as afternoon activities.

A side trip to Honolulu will also be taken by Miss Dalby while there. Miss Dalby's sister, Luella Gannon, attended the school in 1969.

Becky will return to Post the first of August and then attend cheerleaders school at Southwestern Methodist University in Dallas.

858 books checked out during May

A total of 858 books were checked out from the Post Public Library during May to bring the library's circulation for the first five months of 1972 to 3,805 books.

This information was revealed in the monthly library report of Mrs. C. K. Pierce, librarian.

Of the 858 books checked out, 605 were adult books and 253 were juvenile books.

Sixty-four new books were added to library shelves during May bringing total acquisitions for the year to 591 putting the library's book collection at approximately the 10,000 level.

Miscellaneous income from overdue fines, book sales, donations and purchase of copier paper totaled $17.55 for the month to bring the miscellaneous income for 1972 to date to $119.33.

About This Question:

"The cost of a personal injury from summer activities can ruin a savings account as well as a vacation. Does the Post Insurance Agency offer a Trip-Accident policy or Personal Accident insurance covering the entire year?"

POST INSURANCE AGENCY

here's a progress report from Santa Fe that says it's much, much more like the end of a beginning.

For those who say the railroads are at the beginning of the end,

MORE POWER We're adding 52 new giant diesels and rebuilding 50 older units to provide a locomotive fleet producing over 3,850,000 horsepower.	BETTER SERVICE Run through trains with connecting railroads link — east, west, and southwest and save hours moving through Santa Fe's electronic classification yard in Kansas City.*
MORE CARS 1910 additional cars are coming in 1972, including 100 giant refrigerated hopper cars for in-bulk movement of potatoes, oranges and other perishables.	BETTER PIGGY-BACK We're expanding Piggy-Back and container service all along the Santa Fe to handle increasing domestic and international shipments.
MORE TERMINALS Santa Fe's new million dollar rail and truck terminal has now been completed at Houston, Texas to meet expanding truck, Piggy-Back and container traffic.	BETTER IDEAS An expanding microwave network linked to our data system for car tracing and locomotive utilization, and plans for the development of a unique coaxial train for moving containers are just a few of the new ideas at work on the Santa Fe.

MORE and BETTER are key words at Santa Fe. What we're doing, is why we're staying rail service is still one of the most efficient ways to move freight. What we're spending says so too: over $100 million this year in railway capital expenditures. One billion in the last 10 years. Two billion since World War II.

The railroad industry and the Nation need sensible transport regulatory policies administered with an even hand. We can take it from there—into a new era of railroads. Still think the railroads are at the beginning of the end? For Santa Fe it's more like the end of the beginning!

Santa Fe—The complete transportation company moving by rail, truck, air freight, pipeline and land development.

14 Girl Scouts spend three days at Rio Blanco

Fourteen members of Girl Scout Troop 112 attended Camp Rio Blanco for resident troop coming on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week.

The girls prepared all meals except the noon meal, which was served in the dining hall the first day. The second day, a sack lunch was prepared for them to take on their hike to Silver Falls, approximately two miles from the camp.

The girls stayed in three screened-in cabins, with the troop patrols taking turns in cooking, building the campfire, and clean-up duties.

Other than the hike to Silver Falls, the girls enjoyed swimming, rock crafts, making belts or beads out of rope, and badge work.

Girl Scouts attending the camp were: Amy Ault, Donna Baumann, Le Anna Davis, Judy Dickerson, Cristal Didway, Mary Fuentes, Connie Halford, Gina Lee, Donna Nelson, Tina Rogers, Susan Sawyers, Janet Shipman, Jendy Thomas, and Karen Kenny.

Adults attending the camp were Mmes. Mary Nelson, Carolyn Halford, Janie Davis and Willa Didway.

Post students enroll for summer at LCC

LUBBOCK — Four students from Post have enrolled for the first summer session at Lubbock Christian College. They are:

Melba Mathis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mathis, 911 West 15th St.; Sue Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Parrish, 107 West 12th St.; Beth Peel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elva Peel, Route 3, and Karen Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Potts 117 North Ave. R.

Program Sunday marks end of Bible School

Joint Vacation Bible School commencement was held Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Friendship Baptist Church for the Graham Methodist and Friendship churches.

Each department participated in the program, with a fellows hip following.

The school enrolled 65 students with an average daily attendance of 60.

Elections cost state in excess of $2 million

AUSTIN—More than $2 million has been spent to cover the costs of the May 6 and June 3 primary elections in Texas, Secretary of State Bob Bullock said today.

"We have distributed, as of June 3, $1,604,415 to Democratic executive committees and $396,709 to Republican executive committees to cover costs for holding the primary elections," Bullock said.

"These figures represent 75 percent of the actual expenses which the local party chairmen estimated.

"This figure is some $300,000 to $400,000 more than our original estimate, which was made back in April so that the money could be appropriated," he said.

"We made every effort to keep the expenses down by establishing maximums on the number of election clerks that could be paid at each polling place and by disallowing all items not properly payable from the primary fund.

"Three factors contributed to the increased costs though. These were an increased voter turnout, payment of $2 per hour to almost all election workers and an increase in the number of election places for parties which necessitated hiring more election workers.

(Editor's Note: In Garza County, the election workers in the two Democratic primaries were paid $1 an hour.)

Bullock also came out strongly for a single polling place to serve both parties.

"We could cut the cost of holding the election by at least a third by virtue of the simple fact that we would not need as many voting machines or as many people."

Although financing the present election through his office was the only reasonable alternative, Bullock said he thinks that future primary elections should be held and financed through the county clerks offices.

"Federal court decisions clearly have established that primary elections are an integral part of the democratic process and, therefore, are considered to be a function of state government.

"But since we can no longer assess candidates for the cost of the election, I believe that unitary primaries conducted through the county clerks' offices would be the most efficient and economic means of holding future primary elections."

The New York Cotton Exchange is an association of buyers and sellers formed for cotton trading.
