SOME 250 ENTRIES EXPECTED

Easter Art Show is to highlight weekend

From 225 to 250 entries are expected in the Post Art Guild's second annual Easter Art Show Saturday and Sunday in the Community Center at 216 West Main St., according to art guild members.

"We had approximately 225 paintings entered in last year's show and are hopeful of exceeding that number in this year's event," Marie Neff said Wednesday. The awards total was increased to $75 this week by the announcement that Rocker "A" Well Service is offering a $75 purchase prize. Previously announced purchase prizes are First National Bank $150, Dalby Cattle Co., $100, and Texaco, Inc., $75.

The awards also will include a "winners" selection for $75 with Bryan Williams & Son and the Post Art Guild as donors.

The show will be open to the public from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The awards are to be made at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Paintings and drawings will be accepted in any medium, original work only. There is an entry fee of $2 per picture, with entries to be accepted from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Eugene Kingman, director of exhibits and curator of art at the Texas Tech University Museum, will judge the paintings. In addition to one-man shows and exhibits in groups throughout the years, Kingman's creative work includes three murals in post offices and two murals in New York City, one of which is in the New York Times building. Recent paintings have been commissioned by the Bureau of Reclamation, Department of the Interior, and the U. S. Army Engineers for the Missouri River Mainstem Dams. Earlier, he has executed a series of historical geologic paintings for the National Geographic Magazine for March, 1937.

COMMUNITY ACTION

Pantry food program to begin operations

The Garza County Community Action Committee voted unanimously Monday night to begin operation of a pantry food program to replace the emergency food program which John Moody of Highland reported has been "discontinued by the Nixon administration."

Moody, Garza's liaison with the national community action organization, said approximately $500 federal money, left as Garza's share in the emergency food program, would be available for the purchase of a stock of food items which could be made available to any families in separate need.

The program would be administered by Mrs. Sue Shytles, director of the Lorenzo Alexander Community Center.

"I told the committee there is a great deal of emergency money needed here," Shytles said. "The food stock would be replenished by gifts. Shytles said they already had committed to support such a program and other inquiries from people seeking to help."

After Didway, a committee member and also personnel director at Post Plant, said Post Plant has one or two industrial machines available to the community and an effort will be made to establish some sort of a training program.

Didway cited the need for "experienced sewing women" at the local plant.

He also offered to try and secure a fold-up ping pong table for the center for use by the youth group.

Didway brought up the sewing program. (See Pantry Food, page 8)

Painted rocks to be new Post souvenirs

A new type of Post souvenir — hand painted round rocks — will go on sale in local stores before the start of the 1972 tourist rush through Post on US-84. They will be home-made too.

The Retail Promotions Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, at its organizational meeting Monday afternoon in the Drover House restaurant, placed an initial order for 10 dozen of the hand-painted rocks with Mrs. Lois Williams and Mrs. Helen Welch for delivery by May 15.

The round rocks will be offered in two sizes as paperweights with a choice of several area scenes,

Friday and from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday.

Eugene Kingman, director of exhibits and curator of art at the Texas Tech University Museum, will judge the paintings.

This newspaper sincerely hopes the city and county can shortly find common ground for joint law enforcement for Post and Garza County.

In an effort to not step on anybody's toes during the negotiating period (and that is an almost impossible order), we have not given the highly interested public a detailed accounting of the negotiations.

As of now, the county has made a proposal and is taking the position that if the city wishes to negotiate further, it must offer some counter proposal.

That's why the county now says "the next move is up to the city."

We have done considerable "wrestling with our journalistic conscience" over the position The Dispatch has taken to date in the negotiations. And we fully realize we are being subjected to criticism in some quarters for this position.

But some 30 years of "covering" city and county affairs in three different localities (and some of them have been woolly ones involving boilerroom meetings in an effort to keep the paper from finding out) has made us well aware of the ruffled feelings of local officials if we lay it on the line when the dickering is still in process.

That is why we have continued our stand in what we hope to be "the public's interest." We will continue to maintain that position.

Rites conducted for Mrs. Thomas

Funeral services for Mrs. Lillie Hester Thomas, 89, were held at 3 p.m. Monday at the Post Church of Christ with Syd B. Wyatt, minister, officiating.

Mrs. Thomas, who had been a resident of the Twin Cedars Nursing Home for the last several years died about 1:30 p.m. Sunday in Garza Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for about a week.

She was born Oct. 17, 1882, in Tennessee and had lived in Garza County since 1919 when she and her late husband, W. C. Thomas, moved here from Hasca.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. E. L. Duncan of Post and Mrs. Hall Brandon of King City, Calif.; eight grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren and 16 great-great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Grandsons were pallbearers.

County's law complex gets 1st SPAG approval

Bond vote due if funding received

The Criminal Justice Advisory Committee of SPAG yesterday approved Garza County's application for a federal grant of $44,145 for construction of a law enforcement complex and new jail on the west side of the courthouse square.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch, shortly after returning from a successful presentation of the application to the criminal justice advisory committee in Lubbock, that the county commissioners court intends to "go ahead" with the construction whether or not the city and county ever get together on a joint law enforcement venture.

The application must now await approval of SPAG directors and then will be forwarded to the State Criminal Justice Council in Austin, where the final decision on the federal funding will be made, hopefully at the May meeting.

Once recommended favorably by the advisory committee, approval by SPAG directors is virtually assured.

Dalby said if federal funding is received, the court will proceed "as quickly as possible" to call a county bond election for citizen approval to issue bonds in a matching amount.

Such an election could be called possibly in June.

Originally, the law enforcement complex was to be built with the city and county sharing 50 percent of the costs. But city participation was found not to be legal, as the complex is to be located upon county-owned property.

It was at this point that the county decided to push ahead "on its own" in an effort to build the complex before the federal grant expires June 30.

The present courthouse and jail facilities were built almost 50 years ago — 1923 to be exact — Judge Dalby told The Dispatch and these law facilities now are obviously inadequate.

Dalby said he told SPAG's Criminal Justice Council that if the complex is built with federal funding that quarters will be freely offered to all law enforcement agencies in the county — including the state highway patrol, fish and game warden, and city police force, with an extra office kept for possible future use by a probation officer and for use by Texas Rangers, FBI or any other law enforcement agencies when working a case in this area.

The law enforcement complex, according to plans submitted with the funding application, will cost an estimated $88,290 and will consist of a one-story 42 by 48 foot building which will contain a total office space of 1,310 square feet and a jail area of 2,520 square feet.

Judge Dalby said the construction project has a No. 1 priority rating at the state level.

COUNTY'S INITIAL OFFER NIXED

City's proposal for 'joint law' awaited

It's "the city's next move" in any further negotiations to consolidate the city and county law enforcement agencies and to qualify for federal funds to help finance the joint law arm (over and above the federal aid for construction of a law enforcement complex).

At least that's the county's viewpoint on the current negotiations, County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch yesterday in reviewing the current status of the two local governmental units in seeking an agreement on a workable financing plan.

Mayor Giles C. McCrary who was due back in Post from a business trip to Fort Worth sometime today, was not available for comment.

The county made the city an offer two weeks ago at a joint meeting of the council and commissioners court. The city turned it down as "too high", according to Dalby.

The council then promised to come up with a counter-proposal but up to now hasn't offered one.

The city held another long special session on the law enforcement consolidation last Thursday night at which time the council's only official action was to employ Pat N. Walker as the city attorney.

Walker will receive a monthly salary of $200 which will cover all his services except out-of-town expenses on city business and litigation work.

The council held another short session last Friday afternoon and have another special work session on the consolidation issue scheduled for tonight at City Hall.

DOWNTOWN SITE

Work to start Monday on new park project

Work is scheduled to start Monday on the newest project of the Woman's Culture Club—the Downtown Algeria Park.

It will be located in the 300 block on East Main on the former site of the Algerita Hotel, with the property made available for conversion into park use by Mr. and Mrs. George Tracy of Lubbock.

The Green Thumb crew will start cleaning up the site next week.

Mrs. Mary Mayo, the culture club's Shell Oil contest chairman, told The Dispatch this week that the downtown park plan is "Phase II of the Shell Oil Contest." Mrs. Mayo again invites everyone to help.

Phase I last year was an all-out community cleanup in which Mrs. Mayo enlisted the volunteer efforts of many clubs, individuals, and youth groups.

She reports the Post Music Club would like to sponsor a stage in the park at which special events can be held, such as the Christmas band and choir concerts.

A sidewalk through the area will be converted to a shuffleboard layout. Concrete tables for domino players are planned. The trees will be trimmed, flowers and grass planted, and shrubs set out.

"It can be made into a beautiful little park for Post to enjoy," Mrs. Mayo declares. She invites one and all to "get into the act" and help get the park developed before summer.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bal D. Robinson, who at 97 was believed to be Garza County's oldest living resident, were held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, of which she was a long-time member.

Mrs. Robinson died about 9:15 a.m. Saturday in Garza Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for about a week. She had made her home here with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts Sr., of 418 West 10th St. for the last several years.

She was born Feb. 18, 1875, in Tennessee and had been a resident of Garza County since 1915.

Survivors include three sons, Racy and J. B. Robinson, both of Post, and Zearl Robinson of Seminole; three daughters, Mrs. Verna Roberts and Mrs. Jewell Ward, both of Post, and Mrs. Mable Kellum of Slaton; a sister, Mrs. M.E. Lambert of Ada, Okla.; 10 grandchildren and a large number of great and great-great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Sherman Ervin, pastor of the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Southland Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Spence Bevers, Henry Edwards, Gaylord Kinard, J. D. Foster, Weldon McGehee and Douglas Livingston.

Poor year for crops, says Indian legend

The wind was out of the southwest at dawn Wednesday, indicating a "poor" crop year, according to the Indian legend tested in this area every year by Noah Stone of Post, and several others.

Stone makes his test with a smoke fire on top of the caprock, near Post.

Last year's "reading" indicated a "good" crop year, which it was, observers point out, until late rains almost ruined the crops.

Mrs. Joyner buys KPOS station

Mrs. Dorothy Joyner has announced that she has purchased Radio Station KPOS and plans to remain in Post and operate it.

Her husband, Gary, was in the process of completing purchase of the station when he was killed recently in a plane crash at the airport here.

Mrs. Joyner in her announcement on page 7 of today's Dispatch expresses her thanks and those of her two sons for all the kindnesses the people of Post have shown them, and announces the radio station purchase and her plans to continue to live here and operate it.

Trout win battle of wits in derby

Approximately 80 fishing permits were sold, but probably twice that many people took advantage of the Post Jaycees' Rainbow Trout Derby to wet hooks in South Lake here Saturday afternoon.

There were a large number of out-of-town people on hand for the derby, but many of them were families buying only one fishing permit among them.

Only those who purchased permits were eligible for the cash and merchandise prizes awarded by the Jaycees.

Duane Stow of Lubbock was a double winner, catching the largest trout, which measured a little over 15 inches, and the most trout — four.

A. T. Reyna of Post won the prize awarded for the smallest trout caught when he came up with one measuring only a little over 10 inches.

All those who had bought permits got a chance at a booby prize drawing, with Mrs. Glenn Wheatley of Post the winner.

Of the approximately 150 rainbow trout thrown in the lake for the derby, only 14 were brought in for measurement. The weather was a (See Trout Win, page 8)

Dispatch Editorials

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1972

You're invited to join the 'tryers'

Some very interesting discussions are going to be coming up in the next few months if the reorganizational effort for the Post Chamber of Commerce proves effective.

In 10 days, Chamber directors completed a successful Chamber membership drive, which indicates a lot of new interest, adapted a budget to keep the organization financially stable, and named 22 different community committees to do the Chamber work for 1972.

What it accomplishes this year — and possibly much for the next two or three — will depend upon those 22 committees and their chairman.

Every Chamber member is on one or more of these committees and all their (or your) assignments can be found in a committee revealing story elsewhere in today's Dispatch.

Chamber directors are firmly committed to letting the committees do the work this year.

The task is now to get all of these committees which include persons interested in particular projects who are not even Chamber members. This is to provide the fact-finders with good overall community balance.

They are going to research and seek answers to the long-discussed Post Youth Center and the proposal for an outdoor amphitheater perched somewhere on the beautiful caprock's rim. There will be separate editorials about each of these projects later.

But the point we wish to emphasize here is that there can be other fact-finding committees appointed to "research" other worthwhile community projects of major community-wide importance not exactly limited to the scope of the Chamber. The Chamber offers itself as a vehicle for such "researching, reporting, and generating interest in" such projects if they pass the committees' hard-look "feasibility tests."

Not every project offered will come up a winner this year, of course. But if one does, or five do, or ten become reality, it's all been worth the time, discussion, work and effort.

Working together and talking together objectively is the Chamber's plan for 1972.

And we need your help whether you're a Chamber member or not. We need all the good, community betterment ideas we can get to examine, study and work on.

If you have one you believe in, please pass it along to us. Call the Chamber office and tell it to Wynonne Kennedy, our secretary, write us a letter, or tell any of the ten directors.

We promise this. If we think it has any merit at all, it will receive committee study. And you 140 or 150 committee members, generate your own and toss them on the table at upcoming committee sessions.

Let our enthusiasm rub off on you.

Just look around at our business community. Never in the last 10 years have we had so much concerted effort as right now — today — to build a better business community in Post. The business building and expansion developments, new businesses, and new business homes, will simply astound you if you but count them all.

Who says it can't be done? Don't be a "doubter", join the "tryers" and let's see how far we can build a better, prettier, and more worthwhile Post in the next 11 months. —JC

New book builds political interest

Take it from no other than a political pro named John Connally, the best defense in the handshaking league is a "good offense."

The secretary of the treasury, who estimates that he shook hands with between 140,000 and 180,000 voters during his 1962 campaign for the governorship, explains:

"You have to learn to protect yourself shaking hands—it's really an art, a science, for a politician."

You have to react very quickly. It's something nobody ever thinks about but it's awfully important when you do a lot of handshaking. For instance some people make a quick grab and squeeze your fingers before you can grip their hands. That can really hurt. You have to be just a little quicker than they are and grab their hands first.

Some people, of course, try to overpower you; they really almost crush your hand. With a person like that, you have to hit him quickly and apply counterpressure, primarily with your thumb and little finger. I try to respond in kind and always have a fairly strong, firm handshake.

Connally, who says it isn't hard to shake the hands of a thousand persons in an hour in a well-organized, fast moving reception line, kept a cast on his right arm longer than necessary after being wounded in the assassination of President John Kennedy in Dallas. Why? For defensive purposes, against the handshakers in his 1964 campaign on doctor's orders. He learned to shake hands left handed. Try that some time.

Where did this bit of professional advice on handshaking come from at the start of a big year?

From a very interesting book, "Money, Marbles and Chalk: The Wandrous World of Texas Politics," by Jimmy Banks, a Dallas political writer—that's where.

Every Texas voter ought to read it between now and the May primary. The book has chapters on just about everybody on the vote scene this year, but State Legislator Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi, the woman liberal who is right in the thick of the governor's race.

The book describes the philosophies, backgrounds, past campaigns and various campaign methods of Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe, Ralph Yarborough, Allen Shivers, President Johnson, Price Daniel, John Connally, Sen. John Tower, George Bush and Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr.

If you remember, Leslie Brown donated the book to our library last month and I've just finished it. We found it darn interesting. Bet you don't know about Preston's polka dot ties? All the campaign strategies, campaign timing, etc. is all very interesting.

We're just sorry that Jimmy Banks didn't have a chapter on that political gal-liberal, Frances Farenthold, who we refer to here as "Editor Didway's candidate."

We feel like she's the only one in the race among the major candidates we don't know or understand. And we are more than curious—even if we are "a Briscoe man"—because of H. M. Baggarly, the Tulsa publisher, who writes the "longest column in Texas newspapering" every week he's healthy, and who is regarded as a super slambang liberal of the Fourth Estate.

Baggarly, for reasons unbeknown to everybody, up and turned his back on Mrs. Farenthold a few weeks ago and endorsed Ben Barnes for governor instead. He said in his column he did it because Mrs. Farenthold "didn't have a chance to win" and "he wanted to make his vote count."

Then he uncorked an "expose" on Briscoe in an effort to shoot Dolph down and boost hustling Ben. It was a nasty bit about South Texas school taxes. We figure the Barnes people—and they are a big well organized lot—planted it with Baggarly because he had a "political newspaper name" and then "muscle" it onto the Associated Press wire.

So you can see the campaign is warming up. And you won't enjoy it half as much unless you read the chapters on Smith, Barnes, and Briscoe in "Money, Marbles and Chalk."

I HAVE JUST thrown my desk copy of the old telephone directory away, which is what the telephone company usually recommends, and in its place is the new one, dated March 1972, and with a colorful picture of a field of Texas bluebonnets on the front cover.

The new telephone directory is larger than the old one by four and five-sixteenths inches of telephone listings. How did I arrive at that figure? It wasn't easy. I started out counting the phone numbers listed in both the old and new directories, but before I was halfway down the first page of the old phone book, I saw that was going to take too long. So I took a ruler and measured the listings in both books to find out that the new phone directory is four and five-sixteenths inches longer than the old one as far as phone number listings are concerned. That's only for Post, of course, and does not include the Tahoka and Wilson sections of the directory nor the exchanges. If they want the same kind of useless information, they can do their own counting and measuring.

THE SAME AS last year, the new phone directory comes off the hook with Chas. R. Adams and hangs up with Robert B. Zivec. In between the numbers for those two names, there are hundreds of others, many of which no doubt will turn out to be "wrong numbers" at one time or another before the next new phone book comes off the press.

People named Williams still hold their lead over the Smiths in the new directory, but by only one — 21 to 20. The Smiths have gained a little ground since last year when the Williamses had them outnumbered 21 to 19 in the phone book.

AS FAR AS names is concerned, no other name comes anywhere near Smith or Williams in the new directory. Next in line are the Davises, with nine, and the Joneses, Browns and Masons at eight each.

The man up the street says having fun is like insurance premiums — the older you get the more it costs.

ONE OF THIS column's older readers says he never fails to get a chuckle out of the "Remember When?" items that appear here occasionally. Here are some more: Remember when... The dumbest kid in town knew the difference between a single tree, a double tree, a whiffle tree?

A wool sock full of hot boiled potatoes was wrapped around a sore throat to take out the swelling?

Coal oil was used to revive stalled Ingersoll watches?

You could tell father was planning a long trip because he was greasing the buggy?

You could tell sister was writing a love letter because she had a poetry anthology on her writing table?

A farmer could plant as much as he wanted without fear of a jail sentence?

Leaders of foreign nations visited our dignitaries without asking for money?

Children obeyed their parents, rather than parents obey their children?

Children believed in the stork until nature taught them the facts of life?

Neighbors knew, loved and visited each other?

The Sabbath was a day of rest and worship?

Life in the good old days was unburied, simple and sweet?

The experts tell us that driving at night is more than twice as dangerous as driving during the daytime.

A man who was afraid of the traffic on the freeway, but still wanted to drive on it, was told by a friend of his to make the trip at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

"At that hour the Catholics are still at mass, the Presbyterians and Baptists are either getting ready for Sunday school and church or are still in bed, and the Jews are out on the golf course," the friend advised him.

So, the man took the suggestion. Unfortunately, a Seventh Day Adventist got him!

TENNIS INTEREST is hitting a new high here, not only out at the schools, but throughout the community, as a result of the new courts just across the street from the high school building.

Much of the credit for the new tennis courts must go to school trustee Bob Macy, himself a former tennis player in high school and college. The tennis courts and the opportunity they provide the high school athletes for practice means that Post should begin to be heard from more in district tennis competition. It was only a few short years ago that we had a potential high school singles champion here who had to do all her practicing inside the high school gym.

About This Question:

"It's a problem for a farmer to keep up on fire, wind and hail insurance, machinery and livestock coverage, stored grain, theft and liability insurance. Is it correct that Post Insurance Agency now has a FARMOWNER Policy that combines all these coverages in one package policy for much less premium?"

Newby elected to OU office

NORMAN, Okla. — Members of 20 social fraternities at the University of Oklahoma have announced a total of 296 officers elected for the 1972 spring semester. The officers, elected by members of the fraternities, are responsible for house government.

The new officers include Steve Newby, elected housing manager by Sigma Nu. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David N. Newby of 615 West 7th St., Post, Tex.

The officers' duties include participation in Interfraternity Council (IFC), rush activities, formal dinners, academic activities, formal and scheduling of social activities and participation in intramural sports and the guidance of pledges.

All Aboard For the Magic Kingdom...

NEW YORK (ED) "I've Been Workin' On the Railroad... John Henry... Little Red Caboose... Casey Jones..." These folk songs all deal with that once proud machine, the wood-burning locomotive. If your recollections of the old chug-chug are a bit hazy, and your child links the steam locomotives with pre-historic times, take a trip to Walt Disney World in central Florida.

The Disney people wanted steam engines to take visitors on a tour of the Magic Kingdom and its six lands: Main Street U.S.A., Liberty Square, Fantasyland, Tomorrowland, Adventureland and Frontierland.

After a long search, they found five wood-burning engines (circa early 1900s) in — of all places — the jungles of Yucatan. Called "Toro de Fuego" by the Spanish-speaking people in Yucatan's rain forests and "Huakax-Kaak" by the Mayan Indians, the "Fire Bulls" were used to haul passengers, jute and sugar cane from plantation to market place. Now each is pulling five passenger cars with a capacity of 300 around the Magic Kingdom.

One of the liveliest stops is Frontierland. Here in Grizzly Hall the Disney ingenuity has been used to bring twenty bears to life. The down-home spectacular sponsored by Pepsi-

Cola and Frito-Lay features the cubs singing such country-western favorites as "Blood on the Saddle." The six-foot-tall bears in the "Country Bear Jamboree" owe their stomping, growling and twanging to "Audio-Animatronics," a Disney electronic system combining lifelike sounds and movements in three-dimensional animated figures.

Whether you're looking for "bearfoot" music, an oldtime train ride or a visit with storybook characters, you'll find them in Walt Disney World.

NO MORE SUGAR CANE. This old steam engine once hauled sugar cane through tropical rain forests of Yucatan. The engine now carries passengers on a tour of Walt Disney World's Magic Kingdom. The train travels along the same kind of narrow gauge track — three feet wide — as it did in Mexico.

One killed, seven hurt in February accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated nine accidents on rural highways in Garza County during February, according to Sgt. H. E. Pirtle, Highway Patrol supervisor for this area.

The nine accidents resulted in one person killed and seven injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first two months of 1972 shows a total of 15 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 12 injured.

Prather appointed Wagon Boss for area boys ranch

SAN ANGELO — Buck Owens, 1972 roundup chairman for West Texas Boys Ranch, has announced that Jim Prather has been reappointed Wagon Boss for Garza County.

"We are very fortunate to have a man like Jim Prather working for the ranch in Garza County," Owens said. It was Prather who organized the Garza County Benefit Association which staged the highly successful benefit steer roping for the ranch last October at the O S Ranch here.

West Texas Boys Ranch, which has served over 700 boys since it was organized in 1947, is supported entirely by donations by the public, and the annual roundup is one of the most important money-making events undertaken by volunteers for the ranch.

Through the roundup, livestock or cash to help maintain the ranch as a home for the dependent and neglected boys of West Texas.

Throttle open on oil production

AUSTIN - For the first time since 1948, the Railroad Commission has pulled the throttle wide open on Texas oil production. A 100 per cent allowable was approved at the commission's annual state-of-the-industry meeting in El Paso. Major buyers of oil requested 3,544,966 barrels a day daily next month, a sharp increase over the 80 per cent allowable in March.

Rising demands for energy led the "sad" order. Commission Chairman Byron Tunnell said. Oil men said imports would have to make up the deficiency of domestic oil in 1972.

Library LISTENING POST

GEORGE L. MILLER

Also we needed to be more consistent about fines. In the past, if an overdue book was put through the bookdrop, we were unable to collect the fine simply because it involved more bookwork than could be handled by a volunteer staff. As a result, the honest library patron, who brought his overdue book to the desk, was penalized with a fine while the more casual patron got off free. We knew this was unfair, but knew no way to correct the situation.

Now, with our librarian, we are able to keep track of these fines. We can be more fair and consistent. And we need to be more careful in order to preserve our library collection.

For these reasons it was decided that the librarian should display a list of all patrons who have overdue books or unpaid fines. (We allow you to be delinquent a month before your name goes on the list. As long as your name is on that list, we cannot allow you to check out more books. Once the book(s) are returned and all fines paid your name will be removed.

This is not a pleasant way to handle our problem. It is frankly a threat of embarrassment which we hope will cause people to be more responsible in their use of library books. It is also a policy we hope we can discontinue as soon as possible because it is no longer needed.

One other change was made in the policy. We will now charge the full price of a lost book, instead of the $2 maximum fine. We do this, not to make money, but to have the funds needed to replace these lost books.

We also must say that all this talk of fines and lost books is applicable to a small group of offenders. The great majority of our readers use the library with reverence. We are fortunate and we know it. We don't want anyone to hesitate about using the library because of our policy. We are still a service first, a collection of books second.

We hope you understand the need for this policy change, and we further hope that you will make this policy unnecessary.

About 350 species of birds and mammals have become extinct since the year 1600.

"SENORITAS" VISIT POST

Six of the young teacher trainees from Mexico who toured the Postex Plant last Friday pose with Mayor Giles C. McCrary and one of their sponsors during a reception for the "senoritas" in the McCrary home. The girls were in Lubbock for a week as guests of that city's Junior League. This was the third year Mayor and Mrs. McCrary were hosts to the girls on their visits to Post. —(Staff Photo)

Two honorees at going-away party

Sybil White and Genay Bertran were honored with a going-away party by members of their sorority, Gamma Mu chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Monday evening.

The Graham Community Center was the scene for the salad supper for Mrs. White, who has moved to Wilson, and Mrs. Bertran, who is moving to Big Spring. The honorees were presented with a gold charm engraved with the date.

Carolyn Norman, who is moving to Andrews, was also to have been honored, but was unable to attend.

Those attending were Mmes. Ruth Pate, a guest, Johnnie Norman, Laveta Norman, Helen Mason, Judy Bush, Thelma Mason, Orabeth White, Jane Mason, Louise Greene, Nell Morris, and the honorees.

The next meeting will be Monday in the bank's Community Room. The program will be presented by Mrs. Iris Rogers, guest.

Post clubwoman receives honors at district meet

Mrs. Tillman Jones was honored as a 61-year Pioneer Federated Clubwoman at the Caprock District convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, March 17-18 in Lubbock.

The convention theme was "Have the Time of Your Life."

Mrs. D. C. Williams was recognized for more than 40 years of club work and Mrs. R. T. Dickson, president of the Woman's Culture Club, Post, was presented with the other club presidents in the "Cameo Collection."

Mrs. Bailey Mayo, Woman's Culture Club entry for outstanding clubwoman in the district, told of her local work in environmental improvement for the Shell Oil Company contest.

Mrs. M. J. Malouf spoke briefly on the Girlstown, USA project.

The convention was concluded with "Tea Time", honoring the past presidents of the Caprock District. Mrs. O. C. Rampley carried out the tea theme, "Magic of Time", with a short talk.

White Auto into larger location

Grant Lott has purchased the business building at 207 East Main from Clint Herring and this week moved his White's Auto Store down the block into the larger quarters.

The sale caused a fast business shuffle in that business block with Herring moving his Danish Imports store the next door east to the other business building he own and formerly occupied by Marshall-Brown's.

Marshall-Brown's moved just east of its former location recently into a store building vacated by Lavelle's, which consolidated its stock into a single store.

Herring opened Clint Herring's Dry Goods at 207 East Main on March 1, 1938, later changed the business name to Herring's, and operated it as a department store until 1968 when he sold his stock and concentrated on handling limited edition plates and other collector items.

SLEEP KNITS — Carefree cotton knits provide stylish sleepwear that's long on comfort. The multi-colored jumpsuit has a front-button placket and no-slip feet, while the gown features a rickrack-trimmed peasant top above a plaid skirt. By Carter's, both are available in sizes 4 to 14.

South Dakotan is visiting in Garza

A South Dakota farmer-rancher is in Garza County this week as a guest of Elvus Davis, president of the Garza County Farmers Union, and other county Farmers Union members.

The visitor is Harold Puetz of Mt. Vernon, S.D., who arrived on Monday and is to leave Friday. His visit here is a part of the Flying Organizer Program sponsored by the national, state and county Farmers Union organizations.

The purpose of the program is to help build membership in the Farmers Union organizations and to establish better understanding between the farmers of various states.

New coin laundry is opened here

Ed Isaacs has opened his new South Broadway Coin-Op Laundry at 508 South Broadway and in an announcement on page 3 reveals his plans for a two-day grand opening Saturday and Sunday.

The new laundry has 20 washers and five large 50-pound dryers.

Isaacs, who began an appliance repair business here in November from a panel truck, plans to open his appliance repair shop behind the laundry in the near future.

He has had some 20 years experience in the appliance repair field, 8 1/2 years of it with Sears.

Program on pollution presented at meeting

Bernita Maxey presented a program on pollution and Lola Peel of Close City demonstrated how to make paper beads at a meeting of the Graham Home Demonstration Club last Friday.

Roll call was answered with "If I were 16, I'd . . ."

Refreshments were served to 12 regular members, Mrs. Louise Robinson, a new member, Mrs. Peel and Mrs. Dana Feaster, county home demonstration agent.

SPELLING BEE SET

The annual Garza County Spelling Bee will be held Wednesday afternoon, March 29, in the Post Junior High School library. Mrs. Carolyn Sawyers is the spelling bee chairman.

EVERYTHING'S SEW-SEW

The modern woman is increasing the amount of sewing she does for the men in her life. Ties, shirts, pants and even dress jackets are being sewn. The selection of just the right fabric is crucial for a successful garment to please men. Popular fabrics are as important as popular styles.

Whatever a man wears in 1972 needs texture. The fabric must have a sense of touch (in other words — feel appeal). Select linen, corduroy and velvet in pale, neutral tones for the country homespun look. Fabrics with slubs and nubs add to the rugged effect.

Patterns are everywhere, but more subdued in spring fashion fabrics. Tiny geometrics, pattern on pattern and neat repeats come to the sewing counters. Twills, checks, herringbones and plaids provide suitable choices for jacket, sport pant and tailored slacks patterns.

Cool, pale ice cream colors are the big scoop for dress shirts — pistachio, strawberry, butter pecan and boysenberry blue. Vanilla, too, looks fantastic in textured white on whites in subtle patterns.

If you've decided on a sport shirt pattern, make it in the flora and fauna prints — bold in color and bold in pattern.

Really have the sewing fever? Then surprise him with the third or fourth shirt made in a smooth, shiny, glazed plisse or seersucker.

The sale caused a fast business shuffle in that business block with Herring moving his Danish Imports store the next door east to the other business building he own and formerly occupied by Marshall-Brown's.

So whether the man in your life is eight or 80, today's fabrics and patterns provide unlimited choice for hours of happy man sewing.

And for the women this year, it's ship ahoy, mates! The nautical look in clothing has landed on the spring and summer fashion scene. The military fashions will be popular this spring. Sailor's middie's, yachtman's jackets and admiral's coats give a military moor to fashions that flatter anyone.

Periscope in on the necklines that flatter the figure. Deep 'V' necklines in blazers and dresses slenderize the figure. Middy collars squared off in front add width to the top.

Braids, emblems and buttons with nautical influence act as attention-getters. Place them in an area most flattering to your own figure. Braid at the neckline draws the eye to that part of the body. An emblem applied to the upper sleeve will emphasize the apparent size of the arm.

Accent points should be chosen carefully. Even the spacing between buttons on a double-breasted nautical jacket affects the appearance of body size. The further the distance between the two rows of buttons, the wider the appearance. There's a proportion right for you; just experiment until you find it.

Pants will still be very much a part of fashion this spring. Pant legs flare more than ever with the flare beginning at the thigh and ending long at the cuff.

Board ship with the colors red, white and blue, but don't be afraid of nautical designs in colors that have never been to sea before. It's a whole new feeling of sea-shapes this spring and summer.

Scandinavian countries topic at meeting of Culture Club

A slide series of the Scandinavian countries was presented by Mrs. Lee Davis Sr. at a meeting of the Woman's Culture Club March 15 at 3 p.m. in the home of Mrs. R. L. Marks, with the social committee as hostess.

The slides were of a trip taken last year by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick and showed the culture and scenery of the countries, with oral descriptive narrations given by Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. L. G. Thuet Jr. presented piano selections of Scandinavian tunes.

The club voted to present to the Post Public Library the book entitled "I'm Okay, You're Okay" by Dr. Harris.

Mrs. Bailey Mayo reported on work plans for developing the George Tracy gave his consent to develop as such.

Guests at the meeting were inactive members, Mmes. Thuet, Elton Nance, Boone Evans, Oscar Smith, Walter Boren and D. C. Morrel.

Others attending were Mmes. Marks, Mayo, Ralph Welch, D.C. R. T. Dickson, M. J. Malouf, D.D. Williams, Herman Havis, Davis.

Post FHA girls attend meeting in Big Spring

By VICKIE KRUGER
Nineteen girls and six sponsors attended the Area II meeting Future Homemakers of America held in Big Spring recently.

The girls and sponsors left Post at 2 p.m. and arrived in Big Spring at 4 o'clock that afternoon. They stayed at the Ramada Inn.

After they were settled in their rooms, they left to go eat dinner at the Spanish Inn. Following dinner they attended a show to see "The Cowboys" and then returned to the motel and stayed until "all hours of the night."

Saturday they attended the Area II meeting, which was held at Big Spring High School.

The theme of the meeting was "Color My World" and lasted until 11:30. After lunch the meeting began again at 1:45 and was over at 3 o'clock.

After the meeting the girls returned to the motel to pick up their bags and came home.

Those attending were: Senior chapter: Wanda Heintz, Vickie Kruger, Janet Childs, Judy Heintz, Carol Compton, Wynette Byrd, Mary Heaton, Lucy Valdez and Kathie Morris.

Junior Chapter: Pat Nelson, Patti Parrish, Jamie Norman, Nancy Reno, Mary Ann Norman, Patricia Davis, Tina McAllister, Carol Davis, Dianna Collier and Jana McKamie. Sponsors were Mrs. Sam Heintz, Mrs. Bob Collier, Mrs. Blanton, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Wheatley and Mrs. Malone.

Assembly program given on 'Drugs'

By MELBA JO MATHIS
Tuesday afternoon an assembly program on drugs was presented at Post High School, with Captain Cox, head of the juvenile department of the Lubbock Police Department, as the speaker.

Captain Cox told the student body some of the experiences he had with people dealing with drugs, and of some of the things they told him concerning the use of drugs. He also talked on alcohol and the things its use could lead to.

After his talk, Captain Cox gave the students the opportunity of asking questions concerning drugs. He brought with him a show case of drugs for the students to see.

9-weeks tests slip up on Post High students

By LANITA JUSTICE
Well, it looks like the nine-week tests sneaked up on the students this time. At least the Post High students were a bit surprised.

Instead of the tests being given on Wednesday, this time they were given on Tuesday and Wednesday. The date was changed so that the choir could go to contest today.

I hope everyone did well on their tests. Now we really have something to look forward to — the report cards!

More than 64,000 Future Homemakers of America in Texas are celebrating National FHA Week, March 19-25. The theme of FHA Week is PROFILES OF YOUTH. Activities are designed to show that the Future Homemakers of America organization is one of individual growth, family unity, and community service.

Post chapters observe National FHA Week

March 19 through 25 has been designated National FHA Week. Members of Future Homemakers of America are carrying out special activities and observances designed to share their experiences and achievements with family, friends and neighbors.

The theme chosen for this year's National FHA Week is "Profiles of Youth" to focus attention on what over half-a-million young men and women are doing to improve personal, family and community living.

Wanda Heintz, FHA chapter president, points out that several million young people have been challenged by the unlimited opportunities offered through membership in Future Homemakers of America over the 26 years since its establishment as a national organization for home economics students in the secondary schools. "They have an opportunity to grow as an individual," she stated, "to contribute to home and family living, develop leadership and cooperation, open doors of service to others, prepare for a vocation or profession, make new friends, find new experiences, gain an understanding of others, make creative and constructive use of leisure time and most importantly, be a part of a national organization of teenagers concerned with people, families and communities."

The members of both FHA chapters have scheduled a number of activities for this week. Plans outlined by Wanda Heintz, Tina McAllister, Mrs. Wheatley, and Mrs. Malone include: Sunday, the girls go to the church of their choice; Monday, we have a Daddy Date Night; Tuesday, we are going on the Muscular Dystrophy drive; Wednesday, the girls will wear red and white to school to show that they are members of FHA; Thursday, the girls each bring a refreshment for the teachers; Friday, the FHA members will plant the traditional rose at 8 a.m.

Future Homemakers of America is a non-profit, self-supporting organization officially sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education, through the Division of Vocational and Technical Education and the American Home Economics Association. It encompasses two types of chapters: FHA chapters for students in homemaking, consumer and family life education; HERO-FHA chapters for students enrolled in home economics related occupation courses. High school home economics teachers serve as advisers to the 11,000 local FHA chapters throughout the country. National headquarters are located in Washington, D. C.

Officers of the chapters include Wanda Heintz, senior chapter president; and Tina McAllister, junior chapter president. Mrs. Wheatley and Mrs. Malone serve as adult advisers.

VISIT IN AMARILLO

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jolly and Myrna spent last weekend in Amarillo visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dusty Bailey and Brandy.

Meet the Seniors

By WANDA HEINTZ
Debra Lee Oden, another senior in Post High, was born Dec. 13, 1952, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Oden. Debra has two brothers and three sisters.

Debra's favorites are: Subjects, Homemaking civics and physical education; song, "Carolyn," by Merle Haggard; actor, Lee Majors; actress, Raquel Welch; color, purple; food, steak, chicken, apple pie coconut pie, scalloped potatoes and all Italian dishes.

After Debra finishes school she plans to get married and may also enroll in a business college.

The activities she has been in include FHA four years, pep squad two years, homemaking four years, Cooperative Homemakers of America one year, and Spanish one year.

On May 15, 1954, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Torres Jr. became the proud parents of a daughter, Elizabeth Torres.

There are two girls and three boys in Elizabeth's family.

Her favorites are: Subjects, Spanish and civics; song, "Everything I Own" by Bread; actor, Cantinflas; actress, Lucha Villa; color, purple; foods, Mexican.

After Elizabeth finishes school she has no plans toward what she is going to do.

The activities that she has been in include FHA and Spanish Club.

Fund-raising projects decided on by choir

By DEBRA YORK
"Amarillo" — that's the key word around choir these days.

The Post High School Choir is working hard to learn their numbers for the mixed, boys and girls choirs. The choir has around $350 and we need approximately $850 before we can go to Amarillo.

The choir parents and officers met on the night of open house, and again on March 16 to decide on what to do. First of all the choir parents along with our president, Randell Hays, and Mr. Willson, discussed ideas on what to do to raise money. Since approximately $500 is still needed for the trip, we decided on three projects between now and April 27.

The parents brought up an idea of having a talent show along with a bake sale and salad supper the

Typing contestants at Post High are named

By VICKIE KRUGER
Last week the number of students trying out for UIL typing was narrowed down.

same night. So, after careful plans were made, the date of April 15 was set for all events.

Also, the choir has decided to hold a queen contest. The idea of this is to elect one member of each class as their queen candidate, and jars are set out at different places downtown so you can vote on your favorite contestant. It costs a penny a vote and the most pennies brought in by one of the girls will result in her being crowned "Miss Choir Queen 1972." She will be crowned Saturday, April 15, during the talent show. Make sure you attend the salad supper and buy a cake, then go to the talent show for a fun-filled evening.

Other items on the choir agenda include choir contest at Wayland planned to leave at 7 a.m. and be back around 7 p.m. The choir, under the direction of Mr. George Willson, will be doing its best!

First community 'over the top' Scout fund drive

LUBBOCK — Abersham, the first community to go "over the top" in the $83,325 Boy Scout membership drive, is planning to Jack Schneider, Lubbock chairman. Rudolph Strawn, Lubbock drive chairman, presented a check for $1,925 to the Scout Service Center here.

The sustaining membership is for Scout funds in the South Plains Council for the current operating budget of $100,000. This amount includes Garza County's total needs.

The Boy Scout Council has over 10,000 boys in the council through 1,500 adult leaders. Scout executives with offices in Ritos in New Mexico, Canyon and Camp Haynes, located in Silverton.

The council maintains an office in Lubbock with four full-time secretaries. The staff includes Scout executives with offices in Lubbock and one executive being in Levelland, Brownfield and Plainview.

The Greatest Power

By Tommy Davis

Most of us stand in awe at the sight of power. We watch the incredible force of a rocket engine hurling tons of metal into orbit around the earth. We cringe at the thought of nuclear weapons whose destructive power is measured in terms of megatons with a megaton representing 1 million tons of TNT.

It is somewhat difficult for us, then, to think of the gospel in relation to power. It seems so far removed from what we have come to recognize as the symbols of power in our world.

Yet the Bible makes this very point. The gospel of Christ is the power of God, a power that shades the might of men who insignificance.

True, it is power of a much different sort than the thrust of a rocket engine or the explosion of a thermonuclear bomb. "It is the power of God unto salvation," and it is granted only to those who believe.

But this power can do for us what no other power on earth can do.

Human science can lengthen physical life, but it cannot give it meaning. Thus the most scientific age in the history of mankind is at the same time an age of baffled despair, of hippies and drugs, and of utter emptiness for millions.

Engineering can "climatize" our houses through heating and air conditioning, but it cannot make them homes. No engineer in the world can take animosity and hate or selfishness and drive it out of the air and make it pure and antiseptic with love and happiness.

Psychiatry can uncover the depths of human corruption, twist and warp of a depraved nature. But no doctor of the mind can cleanse and keep the springs of motivation in the human mind.

When will we ever face the realities of our human predicament? Our salvation is not in power politics, sociology, education or scientific achievement. Our salvation is in the power of a Name that is above every name.

For every human power properly used we may give thanks. But the power that transforms "is the power of God unto salvation to every one" who believes.

The . . . Texas Horseman

By TEX ROGERS

(Editor's Note: Because of the fact that there are 1,850 horses in Garza County, we feel that Tex Rogers' new column, "The Texas Horseman," will be of interest to The Dispatch's readers. Rogers, a newspaperman of long experience, is editor of The Texas and Southwestern Horseman, a monthly "horsepaper" for horse owners in this part of the nation. Our readers' comments in the column are invited, especially whether or not they would like to see it made a regular feature of The Dispatch.)

ed, just about everything that could be done on any kind of horse was covered by the law and stiff fines could result. Also, a mountain of paperwork would have been required for persons and organizations holding horse shows, playdays, cutting contests, race meets and other forms of competition on horseback.

When horsemen discovered just what the law would do to them, they acted en masse, writing or calling the USDA, congressmen and anyone else they could think of. The reaction was so strong that the USDA felt compelled to write new regulations with which the horse industry can live.

Basically, contests of speed, rodeo events, parades and trail rides have been exempted from the definition of horse show or exhibition in the new regulations. Horse shows are not required to hire veterinarians to inspect horses, but shows without them will be liable if sore horses are allowed to compete.

Record keeping requirements have been reduced so that 30-day advance notice of an event does not have to be reported to the USDA, and records of show entries must be kept only 90 days instead of one year as originally proposed.

Changing the Horse Protection Act rules can be acclaimed as a major victory for the horse industry, particularly this time of year when dozens of horse shows and rodeos are being held each weekend across Texas. Copies of the Horse Protection Act, Public Law 91-540, may be obtained by writing Dr. E. E. Saulmon, Deputy-Administrator-Veterinary Services, USDA-APHIS, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Horse show time means concentrating on getting Old Blue ready to meet the competition in the arena. In pleasure classes, the winners are often separated from the losers when the judge calls for a horse to back up. Getting a horse to back up correctly may sometimes involve a real teaching job.

Lee Elbel, a noted horse trainer from New Braunfels, suggests that if all else fails, a horse needs to be driven to be taught to back up. Put a regular D snaffle bit on the horse with a martingale and drive the horse with the long reins through the stirrups of the saddle. Drive the horse several feet, and holler "whoa" when you pull up on the reins.

Let the horse stand a few minutes, Lee says, and then pull on the reins so that he will back up. This method may take a few days, until the horse's mouth gets a little sore. But pretty soon you can drive down the arena, holler "whoa" and pick up on the reins and he'll back up as straight as he can. He shouldn't give any trouble doing the same thing with a rider in the saddle.

Property destroyed by fires in the United States in 1971 totaled $2.8 billion, a $215 million increase over 1970.

To the Citizens of Post:

As Gary said not too long ago, when we came to Post it was only to put this station on its feet and then move to "greener pastures." But what we didn't know nor could we foresee was the City of Post and its citizens are the type that grow on you. So "we" decided to give up our rambling days and settle down—we wanted to make Post our home.

Gary has left us for greener pastures and after much soul searching, we have decided to stay here in the "green pasture" that Gary brought us to.
During our bereavement the people of Post showed me something that I hadn't seen in a long time—"People who really care!" Our sons, Wayne and Tim, and myself want to thank you for each kind deed—words can't express our feelings.

I have purchased the Radio Station and with the help of the Citizens in this area, our regular staff and myself will carry on the dream that Gary started and worked so hard on—"A Post Radio Station for the People of Post and our surrounding community."

Brad Lott and Randell Hays will continue as our part time disc jockeys.
We will continue the same type programming and ask the people to stay with us.

Post's early water supply system reviewed by Texas Tech researcher

FORT WORTH — Highlights of a record of approximately 200 historically important early engineering sites in the American Southwest were discussed recently for the Texas State Historical Association by a Texas Tech University civil engineering research associate, Joseph E. Minor.

Minor made his report in Fort Worth at the 76th annual meeting of the historical association.

He reviewed for the historical association major sites from Texas to Arizona, including San Antonio's acequia system, the water supply system for Post, Tex., and the Austin Dam, now supplanted by Tom Miller Dam which furnishes power to central Texas.

He said the water supply for Post in the city's early years was secured by drilling wells pumped by windmills located on the caprock above the town. The system was begun in 1908 when C. W. Post, the town's founder, ordered its construction.

The proposed system called for a reservoir located about 300 feet above the town. Work ceased, however on Sept. 18, 1908, when it was discovered, according to Minor, that if a reservoir so far above the town were used, water pressure would be too great for operation of

Benefit Art Exhibit is drawing early entries

Already 10 of the top cowboy artists in the United States have accepted invitations to exhibit and sell their works here at the O S Ranch Benefit Art Exhibit to be held in conjunction with the benefit steer roping here Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

Tom Ryan of Lubbock, well known cowboy artist who is chairman of the committee planning the art exhibit and sale, reported at a second committee planning session in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Newby Sunday night that the proposal for the art show and sale is being received enthusiastically by almost every artist he has contacted.

It is hoped to secure offerings from approximately 20 such artists for the show and draw a large group of western art buyers and collectors from several states for the event.

Ronald Thomason, another well known West Texas artist en route home with his wife and daughter from a showing of his works over the weekend in Lubbock, stopped here for the planning session and added his own ideas and promised his assistance.

Some of the artists who will be showing some of their works are being invited to come to Post a week in advance as guests in local homes to do local sketches for sale at the exhibit.

The sales commission from the art sold will go to West Texas Boys Ranch at San Angelo just as will proceeds from the steer roping.

Attending the planning session besides Ryan and the Thomasons were the Newbys, Mr. and Mrs. Giles McCrary, Pam McCrary, Dr. W. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fraith, Mrs. Zoe Kirkpatrick and Jim Cornish.

Mrs. Maxine Marks is chairman of the retail promotions committee and offered a number of suggestions for projects, including the possibility of a Cotton Week style show if enough interest is shown.

Pantry food—

The council then promised to machine training after a report had been made that "quite a few farmers" are now calling Mrs. Shytle at the center for workers via the employment agency it operates.

A 1972 driver training class for Spanish speaking people also was discussed. It was reported that the Texas Department of Public Safety will schedule such a class at the center just as soon as a Spanish speaking instructor becomes available.

Jack Alexander, another committee member, reported that two kindergarten units are planned by the Post schools next year and that eligibility would be extended to any child who will be five years old by next Sept. 1 who comes either from a home in which the total family income is below $3,000 or is unable to communicate in English.

It was reported that already $137.25 has been raised through a March 4 bake sale and a "permanent rummage sale" to be applied to the $350 debt remaining on the community center above what the city and county agreed to pay for its construction.

Mrs. Mozella Bartlett was named chairman of the permanent rummage sale.

Mrs. Shytle reported two well baby clinics held during February with 52 children being examined and given vaccinations or shots. She reported the center's women's club had met four times, 141 families had been visited last month, 424 total individuals contacted, including 91 new ones.

She reported Amado Fuentes Jr. has volunteered to be the scoutmaster of the new Boy Scout troop which has been organized for Latin American boys. Mrs. Shytle said the troop made a trip to Camp Post Sunday afternoon and looked over the various camping facilities.

Jim Cornish was named institutional representative for the troop community action committee, which is being sponsored by the Patricia Cruse reported 42 members in the family planning program. A new nurse, who will make her first visit from Spur in April, will guide the class. She replaces Mrs. George Miller who has recently become the Postex Plant nurse after initiating the family planning training both here and in a number of other counties for the community action regional group.

Attending the Monday night meeting were the Rev. George Miller, chairman, Torjé Sweeten, Hulene McDaniels, Patricia Cruse, Moody Alexander, Molly Conoly, Didway, Mrs. Mitchell, Robbie Guichard, Ethel Harper, Madie Johnson, Cornish and Melvin Lee.

(Continued From Front Page) Kingman has been instrumental in the promotion of art history tours of Europe, and has led three tours for the Joslyn Art Museum to Europe and the Middle East.

His interests for many years have been in the aspects of science and history, as well as art, his own discipline. As director of the Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha he was instrumental in promoting widespread interest in acquiring for Omaha the notable collection of watercolors, sketches and documents of Prince Maximilian of Wied, whose expedition up the Missouri in 1833 was so well documented by the Swiss artist, Karl Bodmer.

2 charges filed after accident

Don Hill of Spur was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and failure to yield right-of-way after his pickup truck collided with a Jackson Bros. Food Locker truck about 9:25 p.m. Tuesday at "Calamity Corner" (intersection of U. S. Hwy. 380 and Avenue F).

Hill was taken into custody by City Patrolman Jerry Jolly at a tavern just south of the intersection a short time after the accident occurred.

The patrolman reported the food locker truck was turning off the highway onto North Avenue F and the pickup was coming off of the avenue onto the highway when the collision took place.

A little over two hours earlier the patrolman had investigated an accident a few blocks farther east on U. S. Hwy. 380 in which a pickup truck driven by a Post man ran into the rear of an automobile driven by a Jayton woman.

City's move—

(Continued From Front Page) is the fact that the county applies all fines, court costs, and probation fees now received to its county salary fund as provided by law and does not regard this as a cost negotiating point with the city on consolidation, as these funds have always been used by the county as a part of its budgetary requirements.

Negotiating any part of this to apply to law enforcement costs for the city would require a county tax increase to make up for the lost county revenue. The county is willing, it is reported, to consider a return to the city against its share of law enforcement costs for the amount the city has been receiving in fines and court costs above the figure the county has budgeted for such income and then dividing equally any amount above that.

The Dispatch has not "covered" the negotiating sessions, or the city session attempting to arrive at the city's position on the matter, in the belief that to publicly report either position before a satisfactory settlement would be to endanger the negotiations themselves. That is why the county offer, although known to The Dispatch, is not now being reported. At the same time, the public's knowledge of the general problems involved is necessary for any public understanding of what the current stalemate is all about.

Tryouts set for Little League

Little League tryouts will be held April 4 and 5th, league president Ken Gilbreath said today.

Tryouts for nine and ten-year-olds will be at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 4, and for 11 and 12-year-olds at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 5.

Boys who are already members of a team in the Little League are not required to try out, Gilbreath said.

The league president said the customary slips to be filled in by the boys who wish to play will be distributed at the school before the dates of the tryouts.

Church choir to present program of Easter music

The First Baptist Church choir will present its annual program of Easter music Sunday morning, March 26, at the 11 o'clock worship service.

The nature of the program is changed somewhat this year in that the choir will not be performing a work which was composed by a single musician. Instead, the choir will be performing several of the traditional Easter anthems along with some new ones. The theme of the presentation will be "Were You There?" The emphasis of the music and narration will be on the meaning of the crucifixion of Christ as well as the glory of His resurrection.

The program will be directed by Bob Stice, minister of music-education at the church. Accompanists will be Mrs. Glenn Norman and Mrs. Jerry Mitchell. The public is invited to attend this service at 11 a.m. For those unable to attend, the service will be broadcast live on KPOS.

Graham Thursday Club meets in Oden home

The Graham Thursday Club met last Thursday with Mrs. Ada Oden and spent the afternoon visiting.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Bernice Propst of Lubbock, Iris McMahon, Pearl Wallace and Viva Davis.

The next meeting will be April 6 with Mrs. Wallace.

BROTHER VISITS Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jolly and Myrna Tuesday evening was her brother, Larry Tyler of Tahoka.

Trout win—

The fish were measured and prizes by Game Warden Bill.

In addition to the trout, every half-hour, with the furnishing the fish, blue catfish were reported.

The derby lasted from 3 until 5 p.m. with fishermen staying on the dock further after the derby.

Derby chairman Dan said the event was a success, even though it just about broke even.

"The derby created interest, brought a lot of town and provided a lot of fun," Rankin said.

Candidate order is drawn

The order in which candidates' names will appear on the ballot in the Democratic election May 6 was drawn at a meeting of the office of County Clerk C. Outlaw.

In the one district and five precinct races as yet are more than 200 names will appear in the following order:

For District Attorney: Adcock, Joe E. Taylor. For Pct. 1 County Clerk: Jess Cornell, V. L. (M) mard, Paul H. Jones. For Pct. 3 County Clerk: Cecil Foster Sr., Ben (M) lio Valdez, Conor (M)

To The Voters

I take this means to convey to you my desire to remain a trustee on the Board of the Post Independent School District. I feel we have accomplished much in the past three years and as we are just beginning a new, progressive teaching program to upgrade our system, we should accomplish much more.

The school board has a two-fold duty; first to administer the taxpayer money wisely and second, to make rules which help to better our system by teachers and students alike.

My basic qualifications are experience and the sincere desire to make the Post School System one of the best in the state—for your children and mine.

YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED.

A 'Taking It Easier' Notice

I am retiring from the general insurance business on my doctor's order to "slow down a bit."

I have sold this business to Harold Lucas and the Post Insurance Agency. Harold will continue to provide service to these accounts.

I want to thank all of my loyal customers for your insurance patronage over the last 22 years.

I will continue to handle only a few accounts which require special insurance coverage.

However, I will continue in my tax business at my same location. I have been in this business for 43 years. It seems to just grow like Topsy—maybe because there are so many taxes and so many increases in them.

Fire alarm had different sound

The city's storm warning signal had to serve as a fire alarm Wednesday morning because of a wire having shorted out on the regular fire siren.

The alarm was for a pickup truck fire at the home of W. J. Huddleston, 115 North Ave. P. The pickup, which belongs to Mr. Huddleston, was heavily damaged under the hood by the blaze, which firemen said was caused by the truck backfiring.

Firemen were called to a small grass fire five miles southeast of town just off U. S. Hwy. 84 Sunday afternoon, and to another grass fire four miles out in the same direction just before the 7 p.m. fire practice Monday.

Fire Chief Neal Clary predicts that firemen look for the usual rash of grass fires as long as the weather stays dry.

CONDITION UNCHANGED The condition of Mrs. Ella Mae Hudman, who is critically ill in West Texas Hospital, Lubbock, was reported "unchanged" yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Hudman, the wife of Victor Hudman, has been in the hospital for five weeks. She is a teacher in Post Junior High School.

Post track team to compete at Roosevelt Saturday

Bevers will go after 4th mile run victory

Post Antelope miler Mark Bevers will be trying for his fourth place victory in five meets Saturday in the annual Roosevelt High School Invitational track and field meet.

Bevers won the mile run in Division 2 of the West Texas Relays at Odessa last Saturday, negotiating the distance in 4:44.0 and finishing some 80 yards ahead of his teammate Tony Rosas, who was second in 4:53.9, and well ahead of third place winner, Leonard of Dalhart, whose time was 5:03.6.

Bevers, a junior, has won the mile run in all the meets Coach Lane Tannehill's Antelopes have entered this season except the first one, at Brownfield.

Post scored a total of 26 points at Odessa, with Roger Pace winning fourth in the shot put on a heave of 44.5, and Danny Lee placing fourth in the long jump with a leap of 17.6.

The Antelopes' mile relay team of Kenneth Price, Donnell Harper, Danny Lee and Roger Pace, barely missed scoring a point, finishing seventh with a time of 3:45.1.

Two members of the track squad, hurdler Danny Windham and quarter-miler Dennis Conrad, have been out because of injuries, Coach Tannehill said. They are not expected to be able to compete before the Andrews meet on April 1.

The 'Lope entries for the Roosevelt meet are as follows:

100-yard dash: Roger Pace, David Conoly.

220-yard dash: Pace, Donnell Harper, Ricky Shepherd.

440-yard dash: Price, Harper and Shepherd.

Mile run: Mark Bevers, Tony Rosas.

120-yard high hurdles: Jay Kennedy.

330-yard intermediate hurdles: Kennedy, Danny Lee.

440-yard relay: Conoly, Pace, Lee and Price.

Mile relay: Lee, Price, Kennedy and Harper.

Shot Put: Pace, Jay Pollard.

Discus throw: Pollard.

High jump: Lee, Shepherd and Pace.

Long jump: Lee, Shepherd, Conoly.

4AA trackmen gather points in two meets

The Tahoka Bulldogs made the best showing of any District 4AA track team Saturday, placing second in the Hale Center meet with 85 points. Hamlin won the team championship with 96 points.

The Denver City Mustangs finished fourth in the team standings at the West Texas Relays in Odessa, where Crane was the team winner with 100 points. Denver City's total was 72. Other district teams competing at Odessa were the Idalou Wildcat, who finished with 30 points, and the Post Antelopes, who scored 26.

At Hale Center, the Slaton Tigers scored 68 points for a third place finish behind Hamlin and Tahoka. The Roosevelt Eagles were fifth with 58 points, the Frenship Tigers sixth with 49½, and the Rails Jackrabbits tenth with six points.

District 4AA winners through third place at Odessa were as follows:

Mike Bevers, Post, first, and Tony Rosas, Post, second, mile run; 4:44.0.

McCutcheon, Denver City, second, 880-yard run.

Gary Kerr, Denver City, first, and Thomas Conley, Denver City, third, shot put; 46-3½.

Southland undergoing wave of vandalism

Hello, friends, not much doing around this neck of the woods. Today (Monday) is the first day of spring and I do declare — I think I must have spring fever! Don't want to do anything but sit and doze. The best way I know to end this laziness is to take my trusty old fishing pole and head for the nearest lake. Reckon I could get away with it? Oh, well. There has been quite a bit of vandalism going on in our small town recently and one of these days, the person responsible is going to be caught and I am afraid that they are going to be in trouble all the way up their "eye-balls", so kids, heed the warning!

so much for the day dreaming.

Congratulations to Jerry Bournes of this community and Miss Marilyn Meeks of Slaton on their recent engagement and approaching wedding. Jerry is a 1967 graduate of Southland High.

Joe Hopper of Sand Creek Ranch recently underwent surgery in Lubbock but came home this past Friday and is doing very well.

We extend our deepest sympathies to the family of Mrs. Bal Robinson who passed from this life at 9:15 a.m. Friday at Garza Memorial Hospital. She was believed to be Garza County's oldest resident. She had lived in the county since 1915. She is survived by three sons, Racy and J. B. of Post, Zeal of Malakoff; three daughters, Mrs. Verna Roberts and Mrs. Jewel Ward of Post and Mrs. Walter Kellum of Slaton; one sister and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Her funeral was held Sunday at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church with burial in the Southland Cemetery. May God comfort her family in their sorrow.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Abshire on birth of a daughter, Jessica Lynn, on Friday, March 17. She was born at 11:30 a.m. and weighed 7 lbs., 13 ozs. Curtis is a 1968 graduate of South-

Athletes from 9 schools expected to compete

Relays, co-sponsored by Burlington Industries' Postex Plant and the Post schools, are scheduled for Friday, April 7, on the school track here.

The track meet will be the first held in Post in several years.

There will be three divisions — 7th grade, 8th grade and 9th grade — according to Lane Tannehill, Post High School track coach.

Team championship and relays trophies will be awarded, with ribbons going to individual winners through the first four places.

Junior high teams are already entered from Post, Frenship, Rails, Roosevelt, and Abernathy, with teams also expected from four other schools, Tannehill said.

The field events are scheduled to start at 11:30 a.m. and the track events at noon.

"We are making preparations for one of the area's best junior high track and field meets," Tannehill said. He expressed the coaching staff's and the schools' appreciation of Postex Plant's co-sponsorship of the event.

Scouts get ready for Scout-o-Rama

The Comanche Trail District's annual Scout-o-Rama is to be held April 15 from 12 o'clock noon until 4 p.m. in the Crosby County Show Barn in Crosbyton.

Theme of this year's event is "The Wonderful World of Scouting." Bill Harbin of Crosbyton is Scout-o-Rama chairman for the Comanche Trail District.

Among the troops already entered is Boy Scout Troop 316 of Post whose scoutmaster is Jimmy Mitchell. The troop's demonstration will be lightweight pack packing. Also entered but as yet undecided what its demonstration will be is Den Mother Janet Ticer's den of Cub Pack 314.

Tickets for the Scout-o-Rama went on sale March 18 at $1.00, with each ticket good for the entire family.

Ruidoso Downs is looking for big season of racing

RUIDOSO, N.M. — A remarkable total of over $3 million will be disbursed in purses during the 1972 racing season at Ruidoso Downs.

Even more remarkable is the fact that nearly one-third of this amount will be on the line in one race — the 14th running of the All American Futurity on Labor Day.

The gross purse of the world's richest race is expected to end up somewhere between $910,000 and $950,000, according to general manager, Richard T. Thompson. The All American is a traditional Labor Day classic at the mountain track.

This year, the All American will be run for the last time at 4:00 yards. The distance will be lengthened to 440 yards, starting in 1973.

The new Ruidoso season kicks off on May 20 and extends through Labor Day. Basically, racing will be staged Thursday through Sunday. Post time each day is 1:30 p.m.

The Pentagon says 93,130 students took ROTC training in colleges last year.

The Princess, The Bears and Walt Disney World

ONCE UPON A TIME in Florida a castle was built for Cinderella. From the Castle guests may visit other Fantasyland entertainments. A journey into the Seven Dwarfs diamond mines, Peter Pan's Flight to Never Land or a ride with Dumbo the Flying Elephant are special favorites of young visitors to Walt Disney World.

NEW YORK (ED) "Once upon a time, long, long ago there lived a lovely girl called Cinderella..."

For 275 years, children and adults have loved the tale of the poor mistreated stepdaughter who married the Prince and lived happily ever after. But — where did she live happily ever after? That was the problem facing the Disney designers when they set out to recreate the Cinderella Castle at Walt Disney World in central Florida.

They drew their inspiration from medieval French chateaus, and from the original Disney designs prepared 20 years ago for the motion picture "Cinderella." The result is the Cinderella Castle, an 18-story dwelling that marks the entrance to Fantasyland.

One of the highlights of the Magic Kingdom, the Castle is 130 feet tall. To enter, visitors cross a water-filled moat. Inside, are five mosaic murals in the shape of Gothic arches that retell Cindy's story. The setting is fit for any princess.

For the youngster (or adult) whose childhood fantasies centered around a lovable Teddy bear rather than a princess, an old-fashioned locomotive leads the way to Frontierland. There in Grizzly Hall some 20 lifelike bears perform down-home music in the "Country Bear Jamboree." Sponsored by Pepsi-Cola/Frito-Lay, the show features bearfoot music in the finest bluegrass tradition. You've never heard the old hit "Blood on the Saddle," sung till you listen to six-foot-tall Big Al's heartbreaking version.

Grizzly Hall rocks to the Nashville sound thanks to an ingenious Disney technique called "Audio-Animatronics." Sounds and actions are combined to bring three-dimensional figures to life. The Nashville-inspired bears twang their guitars and growl such C&W classics as "Mama Don't Whip Little Buford" and "Tears Will Be the Chaser for My Wine."

What would the bears say if they could really talk? That's easy: "Y'all come down to Walt Disney World real soon, y'hear?"

TORCH SONG. Bubbles, Bunny and Beulah sing of heartbreak every day in the "Country Bear Jamboree" sponsored by Pepsi-Cola/Frito-Lay. When they wait "All the Guys That Turn Me On Turn Me Down" the girls in the audience sympathize.

? Your ? Name ?

WHAT'S IN IT?

By CHARLES DIDWAY

SNODGRASS

Many names which may sound odd today were formed by dialectic words which were commonplace enough when people first began acquiring hereditary surnames in the late Middle Ages.

For instance, the Old English word for "smooth" was "snoth," which later became "snod" as a prefix in Snodgrass, which is a fairly common surname in Scotland and the north of England as well as in the United States.

The name Snodgrass designated "dweller at the smooth, trim, grassy place." There is a place named Snodgrasse in Ayrshire, Scotland, and many of the Scots who own this name inherited it from an ancestor who lived at Snodgrasse, or who acquired the name by moving someplace else and being referred to by his new neighbors as "the man from Snodgrasse."

Another example involving the word "snod" is Snoodland, meaning "smooth land," the name of a place in Kent, England.

The name Snodgrass is also found in Ireland where it was introduced either through immigration or through pressure during English rule for Irishmen to adopt English surnames.

Frederick Carlisle Snodgrass, born in 1887 at Ventura, Calif., was a well known major league baseball player. He was an outfielder for the New York Giants from 1908 through 1915, ending his career with the Boston Braves in 1916.

Fiction's most famous bearer of the name was Mr. Augustus Snodgrass, a member of the Pickwick Club in Charles Dickens' "Pickwick Papers." The name has been in Am-

Graham group attends Hackberry gin supper

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ledbett and April visited in Abilene with relatives over the weekend.

A group of people from this community attended the gin supper at Hackberry last week.

Jimmy Parrish of near Abernathy had lunch Thursday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ambers Parrish and Ronnie.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris McClellan were Sunday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey and family and Dorenda Jones were Sunday luncheon guests of the Delmer Cowdres.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan moved last week to the house recently vacated by the Mason McClellan family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gossett recently made a trip to Petersburg, Matador, Fort Worth, Austin and Abilene to visit relatives. Fred became ill and they returned home Saturday. He is feeling better. Recent visitors of the Gossetts have been Mr. and Mrs. Oliver McMahan.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Lester visited Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan.

Sunday luncheon guests of the Elmer Cowdres were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones and Mrs. Pearl Wallace. Other afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Cowdrey and Mrs. Viva Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Delvin Fluitt and with the Mason McClellan family.

Mrs. James Stone has been in San Angelo keeping her grandchild while the mother was a medical patient having some tests made.

Local officers of TSTA attend 93rd state convention

Jean Gandy and Beth Walker were in San Antonio last Thursday, Friday and Saturday to attend the 93rd annual convention of the Texas State Teachers Association. Mrs. Gandy is president and Mrs. Walker is vice president of the local unit of TSTA.

The first general session of the convention was held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the arena of the San Antonio Convention Center, with Archie A. Roberts, TSTA president, presiding. Max Lerner, noted newspaper columnist, spoke on "Education and the Image of Man."

Glenn Olds, president of Kent State University, spoke on "Tomorrow Under Construction" at the second general session Friday morning.

The convention also included committee meetings, exhibits, section meetings, session of the House of Delegates, and receptions.

The Highway Hopper

This is the Highway Hopper. You know him, he's always changing lanes. Never looking behind him. Never using turn signals. You notice him a lot more during the Easter season, maybe because you're more aware of rabbits then. But he's around all the time. Zig-zagging his way down the bunny trail.

Why Americans own $54,000,000,000 worth of U.S. Savings Bonds.

One good reason is the Payroll Savings Plan. About three-fourths of all Bonds are purchased through the Plan. It's helping Americans save more money than they ever dreamed they could.

That's because the Payroll Savings Plan is such an easy way to save. All you do is sign up where you work and the amount you specify is set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's the easy way to build a nest egg.

You've got your reasons to save money. There's one great way to do it painlessly. Join the millions who are buying Bonds the Payroll Savings Way.

4-H Food Show held; seven winners named

The annual Garza County 4-H Food Show was held Saturday in the Post High School homemaking department with seven girls qualifying to represent the county in the District 2 4-H Food Show to be held April 8 in the Main Ballroom of the Texas Tech University Center.

The three senior division winners were Phyllis Kennedy, Nancy Maddox and Sue Cowdrey. These senior division winners are eligible to represent the district at the State Food Show if they win at the April event in Lubbock. They all received ribbons, medals and Glad-i-ola cookbooks at the county food show.

Winners in the junior division were Genetta Kennedy, Lisa Cowdrey, Jodine Tipton and Amy Cowdrey. Each of the junior division winners received a ribbon and a certificate good for a Glad-i-ola product.

This year's food show theme was "Food for Special Occasions." The objectives of the food project groups and the food show are to help 4-H Club members to develop leadership talents, to understand the interrelationship of science, nutritional and food preparation, and to develop skills in buying, preparing and storing foods as well as managing time and energy in the kitchen area.

The 4-H members are judged on their record books, menus, recipes, table setting, nutrition knowledge and the specific food they prepare.

Phyllis Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kennedy, placed first in the milk group with her Pineapple Supreme. Easter dinner was her special occasion. Nancy Maddox won top honors in the fruit and vegetable group with her St. Patrick's Day Parsley Creamed Potatoes. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Maddox. Sue Cowdrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey, carried out the theme of Easter Dinner and placed first in the bread and cereal group with her Swiss Carrot Cake.

In the junior division Genetta Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kennedy, was the first place winner in the milk group with her Egg Puff. The first place winner in the bread and cereal group was Jodine Tipton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Tipton. Her winning dish was El Sombrero Cornbread. Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey are the parents of winners Lisa Cowdrey and Amy Cowdrey. Lisa won top honors in the meat group with her Baked Chicken, and Amy took first place in the fruit and vegetable group with her Sweet Potato Balls.

The food show judges were Mrs.

Marion Craddock, Colorado City High School homemaking teacher, and Miss Cindy Davis, Post High School speech teacher. Final scores were tallied by Mrs. Lois Fluit. The awards for the food show were given by ConAgra, Inc., maker of Glad-i-ola Foods.

Leadership for the foods subject matter groups was provided by Mrs. Gene Kennedy, Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey, Mrs. Mack Terry, Mrs. Clarence Gunn and Mrs. Dolores Dunn.

Both Democratic and Republican executive committees decided to put a busing referendum on the ballot to encourage voter turnout and demonstrate Texas sentiments to federal authorities. Both ballot items ask Texans to state whether they want a federal constitutional amendment to outlaw forced busing.

Neither party went along with Gov. Preston Smith's suggestion to submit to voters a presidential preference referendum. There isn't much choice for the Republicans

Straw vote to be held on busing

Garza County voters, along with other Texas voters, will get their chance to express themselves at the May 6 polls on the explosive issue of forced busing to achieve racial balance in public schools.

The busing referendum may have played a part in Alabama Gov. George Wallace's decision to open up the convention by openly seeking Democratic presidential delegate votes in Texas. The issue helped Wallace win in Florida.

and Democrats dropped the presidential choice poll (which would have had no binding effect anyway) in a scrap over party rules.

AUSTIN — The State Board of Education has set $265 million as local school districts' share of the Texas public school program cost for the next school year.

This is calculated at about 20 per cent of a district's total operating outlays.

The board also adopted an economic index determining just how much each district contributes.
