4 youths charged here after marijuana found

Three taken to juvenile court

One 17-year-old boy has been charged in justice of the peace court with possession of marijuana and three 15-year-old boys have been filed on in juvenile court in connection with the same case.

The four were taken into custody about 2 o'clock Sunday morning by Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman and City Patrolman Jerry Jolly following a routine check by the city officer of the automobile in which the boys were sitting on Main Street.

The officers confiscated a plastic bag found in the older boy's coat pocket and said to contain marijuana. The bag and its contents have been turned over to the Department of Public Safety in Lubbock for checking.

The 17-year-old, Marshall Huffman, was filed on for possession of marijuana and released under $1,000 bond by Justice of the Peace Racy Robinson after being bound over to the grand jury.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby, who is also county juvenile judge, was called in connection with the younger boys' apprehension and released them in the custody of their parents.

At a preliminary hearing for the three juveniles Tuesday, Judge Dalby appointed Carleton P. Webb as counsel for two of the boys. Webb was also retained as counsel by the parents of the other boy.

Judge Dalby told The Dispatch Wednesday that the court is conducting an investigation into the cases of the juveniles, including an individual study in each case, pending a juvenile court hearing on the charges.

Both Sheriff Holleman, who has been working on drug use among young people here, and Judge Dalby today expressed grave concern over the evident worsening of the problem here.

Two Post youths, one 19 and the other 18, were charged with possession of marijuana here last week.

Judge Dalby said he looks on it as fast becoming a matter over which the entire community should be concerned.

Dalby named to First National Bank board

Giles W. Dalby, Garza rancher and county judge, has been elected an advisory director of the First National Bank of Post, according to an announcement by J. B. Potts, bank president.

The action came at the bank's annual stockholders meeting here Jan. 9.

At the organization meeting of the bank directors which followed four officer promotions were voted. Potts also announced.

Lewis C. Herron Jr., who has been a bank officer since 1962, was promoted from vice president to executive vice president.

Ronald Simpson was boosted from assistant cashier to assistant vice president. S. H. (Sonny) Hart was promoted from officer trainee to assistant cashier. Margie Pennell, secretary to Bank President Potts, was elevated to assistant cashier.

All other bank officers were re-elected for 1972 at the directors' meeting and all other bank directors were re-elected for another year at the stockholders session.

Dalby, 39, who is a Post High School graduate and who attended Texas Tech University, was associated with TIME in Lubbock, Tulsa and Los Angeles before returning to Garza County in 1963 to resume active management of the Cross H Ranch.

Entering into community and civic affairs, Dalby was elected county judge in 1970 and has served five years as a Post school trustee. He is a director of the Post Chamber of Commerce and also serves on the Texas Tech Museum Board, as a member of the President's Council at Texas Tech, and is a former director of West Texas Boys Ranch at San Angelo.

His wife is the former Nelda Floyd. The Dalbys have four children, Mrs. D'Wayne Gannon of Lubbock, Rebecca, a Post High student, Charlie, a Post first grader, and Giles Jr., a kindergarten student.

Dalby's family has a long history in banking circles as well as ranching.

His great-grandfather, W. E. Connell organized the First National Bank of Midland in the late 1880s and from the early 1900s until his death served as president and the chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Fort Worth.

Work begins on new Wacker store

Buddy Ramsell of Lubbock, the new contractor for Wacker's new Post store, moved in earth moving equipment to the site Tuesday afternoon preparatory to getting construction under way.

The contract allows 120 working days for completion of the store, which will have 10,000 square feet of floor space — twice that of the original store destroyed by fire several months ago.

But Ramsell thinks with good luck he can complete construction in half the contract time.

Store Manager John Brockman said the stock room at the rear of the store will be of two-level design. The building will not be as deep on the lots as the former store, thus permitting off-alley parking and unloading.

Brockman said the electric sign for the new store already has arrived. He said stock is now being ordered for the new store with many lines to be added or expanded.

Contract extended for school superintendent

Post school trustees at a special meeting Monday night adopted Bill Shiver's new "Goal II Plan" for instruction and voted the school superintendent a five-year extension of his contract through 1978 and a $1,016 annual pay hike.

The "Goal II" plan of instruction is best defined, according to Shiver as "a systematic approach to instruction." Really, he says, it amounts to "individual instruction in segments."

After Shiver's presentation of the plan to the full board Monday night and its adoption by the board, the superintendent presented it to Post teachers at an all-day workshop Tuesday.

He then announced that the plan will be inaugurated in a limited way in the second semester of the current school year with one teacher

(See Shiver Boosted, page 8)

Beautification job to start downtown

Post's Future Farmers of America with assists from the Postex Plant and the Post Chamber of Commerce are going to start a downtown beautification project here next week.

The chapter as its own project will place painted half barrels containing a variety of native plants and grasses on downtown sidewalks.

Postex Plant provided the half barrels and Chamber of Commerce directors at their January meeting

Monday night voted $50 for the cost of perillite and peat moss for the plantings.

E. A. Howard, vocational agricultural teacher, told The Dispatch yesterday that the FFA boys are painting the half barrels white with the name of the plant which the barrel will contain painted on the barrel.

Howard says the boys are planning to put out three or four half barrel plantings per downtown block on each side of the street.

He said the FFA boys will use (See Beautification, page 8)

FILIPINO NURSES EXPECTED SUNDAY

Three Filipino young women who have been employed as registered nurses at Garza Memorial Hospital are expected to be here in time to start work at the hospital the first of the week, Donald Windham, hospital administrator, said today.

The agency which is placing the nurses informed Windham that they are scheduled to leave the Philippines by plane Friday and arrive in Lubbock sometime Sunday.

Four counties vote to continue food stamps

The counties of Garza, Borden, Dickens and Lynn counties agreed here last Thursday afternoon to continue with the federal food stamp program for 1972.

They will sign the contracts with the Texas state welfare department next month, County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch.

"We know continuing the food stamp program is going to be more expensive to the counties," Dalby said. "But the benefits are so much greater with food stamps than by surplus commodity distribution."

The county judge said he had called Governor Preston Smith in Austin by telephone in an effort to arrange a time when the judges of the four counties could meet with Smith over the increased cost of the program to the counties.

"The governor told me there was no need of us coming down," Dalby told The Dispatch. "He said he agreed completely with our position that the counties shouldn't be burdened with food stamp costs."

"Gov. Smith said his assistants were working on a bill to submit to the Texas legislature at the special session which will be called in the spring which would have the state pay most of the costs of the food stamp program now being borne by the counties," Dalby declared.

in April or May by the criminal justice council which will give the two units of government here until December of this year to actually get under way with the project.

Stanford Whitaker, architect for the proposed complex, was present and went over all details of the plans with councilmen and county commissioners.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch that SPAG has agreed to make a survey of law enforcement procedures here which would be needed with the application for funding of a law enforcement

(See Law Complex, page 8)

Law complex receives top priority rating

The proposed city-county law enforcement complex, which will include a modern jail, has been given a top priority 1 rating.

George Johnson of Lubbock, criminal justice coordinator for IPAG, told members of the city council and county commissioners about the priority at a work session on the federal funding application in the district courtroom Tuesday night.

The plan to consolidate the city and county law arms now bears a priority 2 rating, Johnson said.

Johnson said the present time table is to get the grant approved

Soil analysis set for White River Lake area

Directors of the White River Municipal Water District voted last Thursday night to pay an estimated $1,230 for a complete soil analysis of their entire lake district property not under water for future use in any new cabin leasing development.

The U. S. Soil Conservation Service will do the analyzing and provide 50 copies of the soil survey maps when it completes the project.

Approximately two weeks work will be required to make the soil analysis.

A representative of the conservation service met with directors at the January meeting and explained that the soil analysis would include not only types of soil but interpretations on septic tank use.

Marvin McLaughlin of Ralls, the president of the White River board, reported to directors that a new New Mexican real estate development firm has shown some interest in promoting a sub-division at the lake, but that no proposition has yet been made.

(See "Li'l Abner," page 8)

We decided yesterday afternoon to have the front door of The Dispatch painted a "new orange" that same day — just so we wouldn't sleep on it! — and back out with cold feet.

We figure the door needs to be painted a pretty bright color to draw some attention.

The orange door required a little extra amount of "decision making" because our "consulting architect" David Newby, who came up with most of the ideas for the unfinished cedar front was out of town for the week on some business of his own.

Of course we were not particularly brave in ordering a "new orange" because Tom Bouchier already has a door this color over at Higginbotham-Bartlett and it looks mighty cute. Ben Owen also voted in favor of the orange from the start — come to think of it he even suggested it.

The final step will be a sign for the new front. We have had a lot of suggestions but right now a leaning toward Bryan Willa's proposal of black wrought iron.

We've already had lots of nice (See Postings, page 8)

6 from Post on all-region band

Second place winner Steve Beauchamp, a Post High School sophomore, received a plaque. A pen and pencil set was presented Miss Cindy Davis, high school speech teacher, who was school chairman of the contest.

The awards were presented the winners by Walter Beauchamp of the local VFW post, who is contest chairman here.

We're "all for" this amendment

One of the best arguments for a new Texas constitution is the number of constitutional amendments Texans will be voting on in November and the number of constitutional amendments they have voted on in the past. In fact, one of the amendments to be voted on next November will, if approved, pave the way for a new Texas constitution. It will authorize creation of a constitutional revision commission to make recommendations to the Legislature, which will meet as a constitutional convention in 1974. Legislators would either re-write the entire 96-year-old patched-up Texas Constitution or submit to the voters special article-by-article revisions. The only restraint on revision would be that the present bill of rights could not be amended.

Texas needs a new state constitution. For too often, important governmental action is hampered by the restrictions in the state charter.

The Texas Constitution is poorly suited to guide the governings of today's urban state, even though it was a good constitution for the time in which it was written.

In the opinion of this newspaper, however, the amendment that would lead to a new state constitution is going to have to "fight for its life" to win approval by the voters in November's general election.

Texans have never been too lenient toward proposed constitutional amendments and now that we have the "mess" left in Austin by the stock scandals that shook state government to its foundations, we are afraid that the voters are going to be more prone than ever to vote "against" instead of "for" when they come to the proposed constitutional amendments on the November ballot.

Others, evidently, are of the same opinion, since a blue-ribbon panel of 37 Texans, with support from some top state officials, have announced a massive educational campaign to convince Texas voters they should approve the constitutional revision amendment this fall.

The group has said it will make "a very vigorous statewide informational effort" — including a massive advertising campaign — to sell the constitutional amendment to the voters.

We hope they succeed. Texans should modernize their constitution and their governments so they can meet the needs of today and tomorrow. They should revise their state constitution, preserving the fundamentals of sound democratic government while providing freedom to change.—CD

This deserves special mention

In these days when so many people are reluctant to "get involved" in anything that might cause them inconvenience, one who does go out of his way to render a public service is to be commended.

The private citizen who last week promptly reported having witnessed a break-in at a local service station is largely responsible for the burglars being apprehended less than an hour after their crime.

This private citizen could have told himself after witnessing the burglary that "there isn't any sense in me getting involved," gone back to sleep and forgotten the whole thing for the time being. Instead, he immediately reported what he had seen to a city patrolman and the burglars were arrested a short time later.

The trend not to get involved is one of the worst things ever to happen to the cause of law enforcement in these United States. It has become the rule rather than the exception, and for that reason anytime someone does lend a hand in the cause of law and order it calls for special mention.—CD

Dispatch to 'stress' politics

A New Year's resolution here at The Dispatch office (some three weeks late) is to use our news columns to a great extent this election year to keep our readers informed on political issues, state and national candidates, and the "pros" and "cons" of the constitutional amendments to be voted on in next November's general election.

We feel we will be rendering a public service by doing so. From week to week, and as space permits, we will run news releases on political developments and the activities of state and national candidates. Post is off the "beaten path" of most state candidates, and for that reason local voters are able to keep up with the comings and goings of the candidates only through the news media.

So, to keep informed this election year on political developments and candidates, read your Post Dispatch.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

We recently heard a story about a farmer living in deer country who repeatedly each year had some of his farm animals shot. With the coming season the farmer bought a bucket of paint and painted "cow" on his cows, "hog" on his hogs, and so on. After the season the farmer had not lost an animal. Needing to do some farming, the man went out to his tractor and found it shot to pieces. The tractor just happened to be a John Deere.—The Lynn County News.

Some say that maturity is the time of life when you would have the time of your life if you had the time. Others say it is advisable to slow down at a certain age, but only to take up some hobby or new activity. Those who retire completely are referred to as idiots.—The Bartlett Tribune.

The Abundant Life...

BLESSED ARE THE DESTITUTE

"Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 5:3

The sermon on the mount (Matthew 5, 6, 7) has been called the heart of Christ's teaching and the beatitudes (Matthew 5:3-12) the heart of the sermon on the mount.

Nine times in the beatitudes Jesus pronounces blessings and joy on the Christian that no other people in the world have. The word he uses for blessed in each of the beatitudes is a very special word meaning unshakable joy which cannot be lost by a collapse in health, the failure of a plan, or the disappointment of an ambition.

It seems strange that Jesus begins the beatitudes by saying "Blessed are the poor in spirit." Most of us equate poverty with misery and unhappiness. However, Jesus is not speaking of actual material poverty but rather poverty of the spirit. Joy in this kind of poverty comes to man when he realizes his own utter helplessness, and has put his whole trust in God.

The first beatitude means: O the bliss of the man who has realized his own utter helplessness, and who has put his whole trust in God, for thus alone he can render to God that perfect obedience which will make him a citizen of the kingdom of heaven.

I'D LIKE TO say a four-letter word about the weather of the last several days — BRRR!

Well Super Bowl Sunday has come and gone, and the sun came up in Miami Monday morning the same as it did in Dallas.

THE MAN UP the street says Phase Two is like sending your kids to college. It gives you a good reason for being broke.

Every newspaperman, regardless of rank, has a list of requests, threats and promises he wishes he might never hear again.

Here is a list someone after our own heart has compiled:

"Listen, if my name is in the paper my mother will be sure to have a heart attack and die. She's had a heart condition for a long time and this would be the end."

"I just brought this little story in. I thought it might look nice across the top of the front page."

"If you don't print this exactly as I have it here, we won't get credit for our notebook from the national."

"How come you don't print any local people's poems?"

"Now the dinner starts at 7, but there's this little social hour before. Everything will be on us. Oh, I just about forgot, could you bring your camera?"

"I know this is a public meeting, but for just a few minutes I want to talk off the record."

"I'm so happy to tell you that last night the entire membership of our club elected you publicity chairman."

"How come it wasn't in the paper? It was? I didn't see it. Could you please check the back copies and cut it out for me?"

"I know about your deadlines, but just this once couldn't you find a little hole for this?"

"I know it's kind of late to let you know, but the guy who was supposed to call got sick. If you're over here in ten minutes you can take the picture and leave."

"I trust your judgment, but with all this time before the paper comes out I thought you might let me read the story before it's printed."

"I just wanted to tell you before someone else does, that wasn't the way you should have covered that story."

"Well, I guess the reason I missed it is because it wasn't on the front page."

"You guys only print the Republican side in the paper."

"You guys only print the Democratic side in the paper."

"There isn't any news about the schools in the paper."

"All you have is news about the schools."

"How come your photographer snapped that picture while my daughter had her eyes shut?"

"Well, you ran the pictures of that fire, but you didn't run my first anniversary picture."

"My aunt's husband is one of your biggest advertisers and I was wondering if..."

These are only a few of the threats and requests that are thrown around any newspaper office weekly. As all newspapermen, we've learned to ignore them.

Arbor Day to be marked Friday

COLLEGE STATION — Arbor Day, the day we plant and give recognition to trees, will be observed in Texas this year on Friday, Jan. 21.

Gov. Preston Smith in an official proclamation urges all Texans and especially the public schools to appropriately observe this important day in the interest of our State and the Nation.

Arbor Day was first observed in the U. S. a century ago in Nebraska on April 10, 1872. The first observance in Texas was on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, 1889, in the City of Temple.

Reform leader says she may get into race for governor

AUSTIN — Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi has announced here she is "seriously leaning toward the governor's race" now that Ralph Yarborough has declared he will try to return to the U. S. Senate.

Farenthold had said she would not enter the governor's race against Yarborough.

She told reporters at a press conference that she has not ruled out the possibility of running for a 10-term general, but that she is a reform candidate and will seek the office she thinks needs reform.

stitutions. To have come from the 20-pound package of $20 bills that the hijacker took, the bill must carry both the correct number and the date of the design series.

Twenties in the hijack package are dated 1934, 1950, 1963 A and 1969. The date of the series is found at the bottom of the bill and just to the right of the center. The first letter with the serial number indicates in which of the 12 federal reserve districts the bill is issued.

THE GREAT MAJORITY of the bills taken by the hijacker came from the 12th Federal Reserve District, headquartered in San Francisco and lettered "L" on the stolen bills, but the other 11 districts lettered A through K, are also represented.

I'm sorry I don't have room here to run the numbers on the list, but if you're like me, you don't have any $20 bills to check anyway. It would be real exciting, though, to help the FBI look for the stolen $20 bills, if I only had something to work with.

"THE RESERVE"

"The Reserve" — to some it means a standby military unit or perhaps the Federal Reserve Board

To us, "reserve" means the supply of electricity we have left after you, industry, business and public authorities have used all the electricity you want. We've never had a blackout in the area we serve by reason of not having enough left. We've always made sure that there would be plenty for your use... an adequate reserve.

And, that's why we're projecting an investment of $144 million over the next five years. To be certain there will be an adequate reserve left after you use what you want. To be certain new industry coming into our area will have the electric power it needs to operate and so make jobs — jobs that contribute to economic well being for our customers.

NSUMER CREDIT — A 3-PARTY SYSTEM

involves (1) the consumer person who buys merchandise or service on credit;
the credit granter, the business which sells goods or services to the consumer; and the credit bureau, an organization which maintains a comprehensive record of the consumers paying habits and is available when and the consumer needs it.
The credit bureau is such an important part of this triangle because credit granter can afford to sell goods services on credit or to extend loans unless they have assurance that the consumer will keep their part of the bargain by paying as scheduled.

Previously, not all consumer credit granter can personally acquaint with one another. It's also with the cost would be enormous if each credit granter had to gather all the necessary credit information on each prospective consumer.
Such a practice would not make the cost of granting credit prohibitive, but it would cause the consumer a deal of delay and inconvenience.

Church women seek baby clothes for destitute Indians

The Baptist Women's organization of the Trinity Baptist Church is collecting baby clothes to be sent to destitute Indians in Arizona.

The clothes will be taken to remote sections of the Indian reservations by T. R. Bedford of Abilene, Southern Baptist missionary to the Arizona Indians. Bedford has a large truck in which he carries thousands of garments plus food and bedding. He makes from six to 12 trips a year.

Diapers and blankets are especially needed. Many of the babies never have a diaper to wear.

ambitious, unselfish women in Garza County who will volunteer to give two or three hours each week to help build good citizens for the Post, Texas of tomorrow.

Post is fortunate to have 120 happy, enthusiastic girls who are seeking ways to learn new skills, explore the outdoors, and learn to be good homemakers through the National Girl Scout Program.

Like all volunteers, the satisfaction of helping others is your reward. No experience is necessary. Requirements are a love of children, an interest our community, and a fun loving spirit to give to eager, willing, loving and appreciative young girls.

New phone rates, once postponed, go into effect

SAN ANGELO — New long distance telephone rates postponed by the wage-price freeze have gone into effect after approval by the Price Commission, according to L. L. Porter, traffic director of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Porter said the new rates which benefit the customer who dials his own long distance calls within Texas and takes advantage of special calling periods were originally to have become effective Sept. 1. The changes were delayed as a result the lower do-it-yourself rates were coupled with higher rates for operator assisted calls such as person-to-person.

"The change in rates brings customer dialed station-to-station calls within the state in line with already established lower dial-it-yourself rates and calling periods for interstate calls," Porter said.

Charges for operator handled calls are higher under the new rates.

Other changes include new rate periods for day, evening night and weekend calls within the state that are the same as those now in effect for calls going outside Texas, and addition of Labor Day and July 4 to the reduced rate schedule during holiday periods.

Also a one-minute initial period between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. has been established. Calls during other periods are charged for a three-minute initial period as has been usual for intrastate calls.

Personnel policy changes cited

Jack Windlow, assistant personnel manager of Postex Plant, spoke before Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall on the many advances made in the plant's personnel program in the last five years in employment procedures, orientation, training, occupational health and government demands.

He concluded by saying that the new personnel program changes have enabled a better selection of workers, lower employee turnover, a more efficient work force, better informed workers, and a better line of communications throughout the work force.

Directors hear banquet report

Walter Didway, chairman of the Chamber's banquet committee, made a full report of banquet plans to date at the January meeting of Post Chamber of Commerce directors Monday night in the Chamber office.

Tech Football Coach Jim Carlen will be the banquet speaker.

Didway announced that Bob Collier will be master of ceremonies.

Price of the banquet tickets will be determined just as soon as a contract is made for serving of the meal. Didway said he was calling to confer with L. D. Jackson here before the committee made a final meal decision.

The banquet is scheduled for Feb. 24 at the community center.

Center under way with fund projects for loan payoffs

The Lorenzo Alexander neighborhood center has already started the first of its projects to raise $394 by late 1972 to complete payment on the bank loan which provided funds to build the center.

Mrs. Sue Shytles, director of the center, reported at the meeting of the Garza County Community Action Committee at the center Tuesday night, that $27.55 has been raised in a "continuing rummage sale" in the last two weeks, but other functions are in the planning stage.

The city and county originally agreed to put up the money to pay for the center's construction, but construction costs put the final figure for the building $394 over the amounts the city and county had agreed to pay.

The Office of Economic Opportunity, which finances a budget for the center through the South Plains Community Action Council, is forbidden by law to provide funds for such a need.

So the many people in the area who use the center, under Mrs. Shytles guidance, have set out to raise the money themselves.

The Rev. George L. Miller was reelected president of the county's community action organization for 1972 at the committee's election of officers Tuesday night.

Jim Cornish was named vice chairman, Torjie Sweeten, secretary, and Walter Didway, treasurer.

Sharia Wells and Janice Davis from the federal food stamp office here gave the committee a thorough briefing on how applications for food stamps are handled and what eligibility requirements are.

Mrs. Wells said the maximum allowed in food stamps is $28 per month per individual and that 194 active Garza County households are now participating in the food stamp program.

Mrs. Wells emphasized the need to tell the truth about all family income as application information is subject to verification. She said families can hold jobs and still be eligible for participation in the food stamp program if the family income does not exceed government established maximums for the size of the family involved.

John Moody of Levelland, program director for community action here, reported that the regional organization has four new programs it is hopeful of inaugurating in 1972 but none as yet have been funded.

The four are housing, manpower training, economic development, and a migrant program.

Mrs. Shytles reported 372 persons attended 25 meetings at the center during December and that 217 visitations had been made during the same month. A total of 634 families had been contacted since March 1, 1970, her accumulate report showed. The fiscal year is from March 1 to March 1.

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

County Judge Giles W. Dalby signed a proclamation Monday continuing the '3.76 in '76' program in Garza County. Helping administer the program to increase agriculture income in Texas is the Garza County Program Development Committee, four members of which are pictured with Judge Dalby.

'3.76 in '76' program will help agriculture

Members of the Garza County Program Development Committee are in charge locally of a current statewide program to increase agricultural income in Texas to $3.76 billion in 1976.

The program is geared to help the agriculture industry, but it also means much to the consumer, according to County Agent Syd Conner.

"Consumers are concerned with an assurance of adequate food supply, and 3.76 in '76 is a program of growth," Conner said. He adds that the program is important because the increasing population must be fed on a decreasing amount of land used for agricultural production.

"Guidelines in the program are meant to increase production and improve quality," the agent says of the project which seeks to increase cash receipts to agriculture by one billion dollars at the end of the 1976 crop year.

The increase in production and cash receipts will benefit the consumer as well as the producer. Food prices will undoubtedly reflect an increased efficiency in production and marketing as costly practices in current use are improved or eliminated.

Technology in production and food preparation will be reflected in food prices, although cost of individual items will also be determined by the amount of preparation before purchased by the consumer. This would include special services such as pre-cooking and specialty packaging.

Farmers will gear their production to specific markets that are dictated by consumers' preferences. This in turn will provide consumers with higher quality foods in greater amounts at stable prices.

Directors passed a resolution for the state parks and wildlife board seeking a new boat dock at the lake which would be built and installed at state and federal expense.

Directors also voted to purchase a used boat dock for $525.

Directors discussed a retirement plan for water district employees in which the district would match employees' contributions into the fund.

One of the national goals of the Future Farmers of America is area beautification.

Your Name? WHAT'S IN IT?

By CHARLES DIDWAY

SLATER

Some of the most obvious sources of occupational surnames are jobs connected with the building trade. A slater, for instance, was one who roofed buildings with flat rock or slate.

The London Telephone Directory of a few years ago listed 240 Slaters, in addition to 730 Masons, 280 Carpenters, 230 Tyiers and 160 Sawyers—all names connected with the building trade. Also, the directory listed 1,450 Wrights, a "wright" having been "a worker in wood" in medieval England at the time surnames were beginning to come into common usage.

In that same London telephone directory, however, not one single Brickmaker or Bricklayer is listed. Since Roman times no bricks were used in England until about 1420 when they began to be imported from Holland, but at this time was too late to make surnames.

The original spelling of Slater was "Slater" from the Middle English "slatere," which meant "one whose trade is to lay slate on roofs of houses." Slater is still the more common spelling of the name in Scotland.

The name began appearing in English documents early, a Thomas Slater being listed on the Subsidy Rolls for Yorkshire in the year 1297.

There have been many prominent Americans of the name. One was Samuel Slater, born in England in 1768, who came to this country in 1789 after having served an apprenticeship in England in the spinning of cotton. He was builder of the first cotton mill in America, at Pawtucket, Rhode Island, in 1790, and has been called the "father of American manufacturing." His wife is credited with having invented cotton thread in 1794.

In the United States, where there are an estimated 31,000 persons named Slater, it ranks as the 873rd commonest surname.

The word salary comes from "salarium," meaning salt money, since Roman soldiers received part of their pay in salt.

Frenship cagers lose 2 tilts here Tuesday

The Post Antelopes and Does won District 4AA games from Frenship here Tuesday night, but the "B" team boys lost, 41-38, after leading by as much as 10 points late in the game.

The Lopes won by a score of 48 to 31 in a defensive battle, and the Does pulled their game out in the fading seconds on a field goal by freshman Melanie King.

WANTS SENATE SEAT Yarborough's entry warms up politics

AUSTIN—The 1972 political campaigns moved into full swing with announcement by former U. S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough that he would make a comeback try for a Senate seat.

Yarborough, 68, revealed his plans in a series of whirlwind news conferences at Austin, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio. He seeks the Democratic nomination to oppose Republican Sen. John Tower.

Barefoot Sanders of Dallas, already running for the Senate as a Democrat, welcomed one-time political ally Yarborough to the race as "one of our fine senior citizens." He said both Yarborough and Tower "are out of touch with the majority of Texans."

Yarborough said he had never had so successful a campaign opening day. He stressed his nearly 14 years' experience as a progressive senator, and said in answers to questions about his age: "I'll be around campaigning as long hours as anybody else, if not longer."

The former senator's entry took some of the spotlight away from the warming governor's race where Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe are starting to mix it up.

Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller of Public Accounts Robert S. Calvert and Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White during the last week announced for reelection. Calvert and James are expected to draw some opposition.

State Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi announced she is "taking a serious look" at prospects for a gubernatorial race, but has not ruled out challenging Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Farmers and ranchers get revised driver qualification regulations

AUSTIN — Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reminded Texas farmers and ranchers of revised driver qualification regulations which should give significant relief from the stringent regulations that were in effect in 1971.

New exemptions were made for farmers and ranchers by the U. S. Department of Transportation after many complaints were filed against restrictive farm driver qualification regulations last year.

The new regulations which became effective Jan. 1 include:

1. Farm vehicle drivers operating trucks weighing 10,000 pounds or less are totally exempt from the driver qualification rules.
2. Farm vehicle drivers operating straight trucks weighing in excess of 10,000 pounds with 150 miles of their farms are totally exempt from the rules.
3. Farm vehicle drivers 18 years or older operating a tractor-trailer unit within 150 miles of the farm are exempt, except they must be physically qualified but need not be physically examined and certified until Jan. 1, 1973.
4. Beekeepers transporting bees during seasonal movements are exempt.
5. The original regulations requiring drivers to be 21 years of age, submit to road tests written and physical examinations, background checks and other regulations imposed undue burdens on farmers whose families helped in growing and harvesting crops. Commissioner White said.

Post boys win two of three with Frenship

Post won two of three basketball games at Frenship (Wolfforth) on Monday night, the 7th and 8th grade boys' teams winning by the scores of 21-14 and 36-31, but the 9th grade boys losing, 66-44.

Jimmy Dorland scored 12 points in the 7th grade team's 21-14 victory, with Danny Sawyers contributing three; Duren and Saldivar, 2 each, and Waldrip and Wyatt, one each.

Ten points by Bryan Davis was Post's top scoring effort in the 8th grade team's 36-31 triumph. Rodney King chipped in with nine; Mike Shepherd, six; Edward Price four; Dudley, three, and Hays and Martinez, two each.

In the 9th graders' 66-44 loss, Tony Conner was Post's high scorer with 15 points. Others scoring were: Noah Abraham, 12; Kent Kirkpatrick, seven; Randy Josey, five; Joe Craig, four, and Grayling Johnson and Wyatt, one each.

GOP candidate for Governor opens campaign

AUSTIN — Republican State Senator Henry C. (Hank) Grover officially kicked off his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor in a series of statewide television broadcasts Sunday and Monday.

The show, televised from his home in Houston, included a brief view of his wife and children, outlined the major issues of his platform, discussing some areas specifically, and pointing out the important changes that must be brought about.

Grover stated: "The present mess in Austin has disgusted the people of Texas and they are demanding a change in state leadership. I think they are going to get it."

He pointed out that during the past six years, spending has better than doubled. He feels that this will continue unless we have some new approaches to state problems, and new leaders.

Embarrassment Is

Opening the door and falling on your face.

Setting in your car and suddenly finding out you're rolling down the street.

Being one day ahead of yourself. In a basketball game, alone, having a layup and missing.

Being the only one taking the final exam.

Talking about a teacher when they are right behind you.

Getting up to give a book report and forgetting your book title.

Being the last one to finish your Spencer set.

Being late to class.

Not knowing the home keys in typing.

Not knowing the answer when called upon.

Not knowing what an asset is at semester.

Having a flat and finding you don't have a spare.

Byrd Heard??

By WYNETTE BYRD

We would like to extend our deepest regrets to the service stations that were broken into.

Semester exams are coming up fast and there will be some mighty relieved students when they find out they are exempt! And there will be some not-so-happy students when they find out they are not!

The Spencer sets in Bookkeeping I were supposed to be finished on Jan. 7. I wonder how many were completed?

The choir musical "Li'l Abner" is scheduled for Jan. 27 and 29. Be sure and attend for the laugh of your life!

How's your shiner, Lanita? Would someone please tell Lanita that your feet go on the floor and not in the trash baskets?

We would like to welcome every one back that has been sick. Now everyone can start the new semester with a clean slate. Let's see if everyone can be exempt this next semester.

VISITS GRANDMOTHER

Mrs. Kenith Bullard visited in Lubbock at the University Hospital last week with her grandmother, Mrs. Ada Bankston, who has been a patient there for about seven weeks.

FCA huddle group invites members

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes held its monthly meeting Jan. 7. The group discussed possible activities and ideas for the remaining year. The huddle group will be continued on through the years to come, after being started

Jerry Tyler, soph, is 'Citizen of the Week'

By LANITA JUSTICE

Again the paper staff has selected a "Citizen of the Week." This week they have chosen sophomore Jerry Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Tyler, who live in the Verbena community.

this year by Bobby Davis, athletic director.

The huddle group started this summer and they worked hard to raise money for their group. David Woods and Kyle Josey were part of a group of boys that spent some time at an FCA Huddle Camp. This year's huddle has a total membership of 19, but we would like to have a whole lot more boys. Membership fee is only $2 and any boy athlete may be a member. FCA puts on some very interesting programs and I think it will be worthwhile to every athlete to join.

So far on the agenda for the FCA are concession stands, and we hope for a very interesting and exciting program planned for you soon.

The FCA is a group of boys who strive to know about Jesus Christ and His way of life, and to be active in His church, along with being a Christian in his own personal life and to share his convictions with others.

Our huddle group will continue to meet on the last Friday of each month. This is the date set by the group. As soon as the huddle comes up with something, we will let you know.

FFA members here busy selling fruit

By ALLEN WOODS

The Future Farmers of America members are at it again. This time they are selling fruit in order to earn money.

They will sell you either oranges or grapefruit, or both, at $5.50 a box. Deliveries will be made between Feb. 8-14.

Annual staff is bucking deadline

By RANDELL HAYS

The Caprock annual staff is working steadily to meet the April 1, 1972 deadline.

Photographers Robert Mindiet and Johnny Wallace were snapping pictures all last week. The annual staff has a deadline of April 1, and by that time 45 pages of the material must be in the factory. This year's annual will be in the same time it always has, because of summer deliveries to other schools.

At our last meeting, the staff worked on school pictures and drawing off a planning sheet of the pages. Right now most of the members are drawing off the pages and getting them ready for our first deadline.

We think you will really enjoy this year's 1972 Caprock. We really enjoy working to make it a really terrific book.

Casts meet for play practice

By PHILLYS ECKOLS

The casts of the one-act plays met Thursday night.

Members of "The Open Window" cast met at Jo Beth Gandy's home. They are: Jo Beth, Tonya Carlisle, Carol Compton and Randy Kennedy.

The cast of "The Romance of a Busy Broker" met at Wanda Heintz's house. They are: Wanda, Sue Parrish, Jill Cash, Johnny Minor, Donna McBride and Steve Mason. The members practiced their parts to get ready for their performance.

Esther Guajardo named head of Spanish Club

By MARK HAYS

Esther Guajardo, a junior student, has been elected president of the Spanish Club to replace Elizabeth Torres, a senior, who served during the first semester. The change was made early enough for the annual pictures, which were taken last week.

The Spanish Club members collected $74 from their stationery sales.

Exemption system put in use here again

The exemption system was put to use again after five years. The object is if the student does not miss a day of school he is exempt from his semester exams.

The system has cut the rate of absences and tardiness in half with the seniors having the highest attendance.

We hope with the cooperation of all the students, we can use this system again next semester.

Old-timer cowboy title won by Hamlin man

HAMLIN — T. W. Fienniken of Hamlin captured the all-around cowboy title for cowboys over 55 years old at the finals of the National Old-Timers, Inc., held recently in Stephenville.

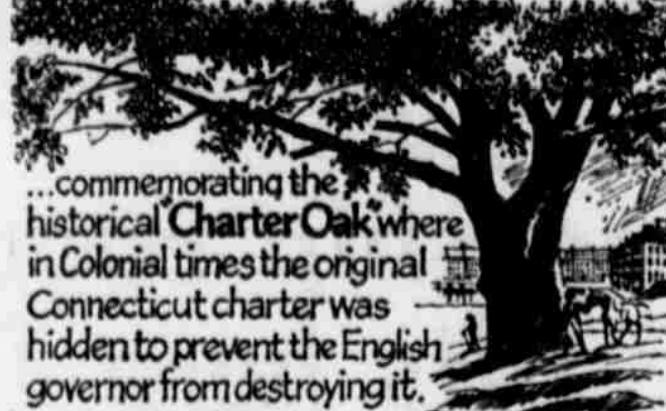

The three-day finals had four go-rounds in ribbon, breakaway, calf and team roping. Over 70 ropers were entered in the contest.

VISITS IN SLATON

Mrs. Vera Gossett visited in Slaton Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Daphne Berkley.

A monument to an oak tree stands in Hartford, Connecticut...

...commemorating the historical Charter Oak where in Colonial times the original Connecticut charter was hidden to prevent the English governor from destroying it.

Oak in the home is still a symbol of security and freedom. Oak floors last at least 50 years and give almost unlimited freedom for decorative innovation.

The Inescapable God

By Rex Newkirk

Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou are there. If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me. If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be light about me. Yea, the darkness hideth not from thee; but the night shineth as the day; the darkness and the light are both alike to thee. Psalms 139:7-12

The psalmist found comfort in knowing that God is ever present. Whether David was fleeing from King Saul or in battle against God's enemies, the fact that God was with him gave him a sense of security.

The idea that God knows our every thought, word and deed is written on the conscience of every normal human being. Hence: the guilty conscience.

The Bible gives two remedies for the guilty conscience. First, one may keep sinning against God until his conscience is seared. This results in eventually coming to a state of mind where just about anything goes. The second remedy is to come to God through Jesus Christ and get forgiveness for sin.

The first remedy only delays the time when we shall face our sins. The second brings us into fellowship with God where we can rejoice and take comfort in the fact that God is ever cognizant of our presence and of our actions.
