Big week for a 'big' commodity

Since a healthy cotton economy plays a big role in our nation's over-all prosperity, it naturally follows that cotton is also important to the economy of Post and the surrounding area.

That is one of the reasons cotton takes the spotlight once a year here as The Dispatch joins in the observance of National Cotton Week, along with a number of local and area business firms directly or indirectly linked with the cotton industry.

This special week affords us an opportunity to emphasize that the cotton industry is conducting an intensive and vigorous campaign of research and promotion to protect and expand its markets, which are being threatened by strong competition from man-made fibers.

We are also reminded this National Cotton Week that we hear a lot about declining rural population and the encroachment of urbanization into farming communities. But, since there are nearly ten million persons living or working on farms, it isn't as bad as it sounds.

Agriculture still accounts for 38 per cent of the land in the 50 United States. And farmers, individually and collectively, contribute substantially to the American economy and way of life.

What is cotton's role in this picture? What would happen, for example, if cotton's acreage were diverted to other crops? What could go where cotton was?

Fertile cotton lands would be ideal for other crops. Current cotton acreage, for example, could produce more than 350 million bushels of grain sorghum, an increase of about 50 per cent over average U. S. production, or about 100 billion bushels each of corn or soybeans.

What our contemporaries are saying

If you can't do great things, do small things in a big way.—The Three Forks (Mont.) Herald.

Every man, woman and child should continue to study throughout life; there is no saturation point for knowledge. — Holmes County (Fla.) Advertiser.

Things have a way of equalizing themselves. For instance, in 1911 there were no taxes after our income. In 1972, there is no income after our taxes. — The Brownfield News.

Work is the great leveler of disturbed emotions. It is probable that many of the

These substitute crops would provide about $1.3 billion less in gross income for former cotton farmers. Even worse—U. S. agriculture would swing out of balance. With greater supplies of these alternative crops available, farm income and buying power would surely drop. Loss of income to individuals and communities all over the nation would be even greater.

And, on top of everything else, cotton has a lot going for it.

It's a fashion favorite, the natural fiber that fits in well with the trend to colorful, casual, comfortable, and carefree dress.

This popularity makes it the number one fiber. Domestic consumption amounts to almost four billion pounds annually—nearly three times as much as the nearest competing fiber.

Burlington Industries' Postex Plant here and other mills are seeing much stronger evidence of the cotton industry's determination to hold its markets. The dollar-a-bale program, coupled with public and private allocations, is providing muscle for research and promotion.

Yields of cotton have been lower than usual in recent years, however, and the supply is critically short. Customers at home and overseas are concerned about the ability of the U. S. industry to meet their demand for raw material. This could cause them to turn to synthetics and slow cotton's momentum.

This is why an all-out effort is being put forth to obtain "better yields of quality cotton for profits and market growth in 1972."

Cotton is mighty important to the Post area and to the country. Any effort to strengthen and expand its markets should concern us. It means so much to this country and to Texas and Garza County especially that it deserves a salute.—CD great achievements of all ages resulted when talented men and women found it necessary to bury themselves in work.—The Matador Tribune.

The man who thinks women wouldn't make good investigators has never been married.—Southwest Dallas County Suburban.

Show us a fellow who says he never told a lie and we'll show you one who just broke his record.—The Perryton Herald.

Education is a funny thing. At 18 we know all the answers—40 years later even the questions confuse us! — The Litzitz (Pa.) Record-Express.

A SURE SIGN that Post's Future Farmers of America members and their chapter advisors, E. A. Howard and Larry Seales, have been busy is that two groups of them dropped in at The Dispatch office early Friday afternoon to have their pictures made for this Thursday's paper.

I don't know what the FFA members and their advisors have been up to, but they promised Friday to send down a story on their activities to go with the pictures. So you will find it somewhere in today's Dispatch.

NOT ONLY THE FFA members but everybody else out at the schools are busy now that the 1971-72 school year is well into the final month. Supt. Bill Shiver tells us that May 30 will be the last day of classes, with that cut-off date giving the school its required 180 regular school days.

We've just finished engravings of all the Post High School graduating seniors' pictures, so you'll soon be seeing them, too, in The Dispatch. This will be the third consecutive year that we have run the graduates' pictures. It would have been grand if we'd been able to get pictures of all the pre-schoolers who took part in last Friday's big roundup for the paper. But they (all of them, we hope) will be in school for 12 years, so we have plenty of time there.

THE MAN UP the street says if you think you can be happy by letting the government take care of you, just remember what happened to the American Indian.

I heard this joke while getting a pre-election haircut last Friday in Mac's Barber Shop:

A gas leak had developed in a barber shop overnight. When the barber opened up next morning and struck a match to light the heater, there was a terrific explosion and the barber landed in the street.

A passer-by rushed up to help him, and inquired, "Hurt much, Sam?"

The barber gazed into his now burning shop and shook his head. "Nope," he replied, "but I sure got out just in time."

Since appearing several years ago in Sunshine Magazine, Dr. W. Waldemar Argow's "Gratitude for Mother" has been used over and over again to call attention to Mother's Day, which this year is Sunday, May 14. It bears repeating.

GRATITUDE FOR MOTHER
I am grateful for the divine mystery of motherhood whereby a human soul is created and sent on its eternal pilgrimage.

I am grateful for the mother who bore me and built my life out of hers; who nourished me with her own body and walked to the brink of the grave that I might live.

I am grateful for the lonely nights when she wrestled with God, dreaming of the person she would have me be.

I am grateful for the warm bosom in which she hushed me to sleep; and for tender hands that caressed my cheeks.

I am grateful for the voiceless prayers, the unending solicitude that followed my childish waywardness, and her suffering that brought me back to the narrow path.

I am grateful for the nameless outpourings of love that have guided my steps through darkness to light, over high and low ways, over smooth and rough places, in sorrow and joy, in failure and success.

I am grateful for the golden memories that linger like a benediction, too sacred for utterance, too deep for analysis, too high for comprehension.

I am grateful for all the mothers of men, whether of flesh or spirit, whose divine mission the world forgets to praise, yet without whom life would have no loveliness.

I am grateful for the faith that in this universe there is abiding Love of which these mothers of ours are the holiest revelation.

A GOOD BOOK for helping you

Perseverance pays off with degree for Post housewife

Mrs. Edna Pierce Owen, housewife, mother of five and grandmother of four, who will receive her bachelor's degree in elementary education from Texas Tech this Saturday, was honored by her church — the First Christian — at a "This Is Your Life" program last Friday evening.

Edna Mae, the wife of Ben Owen, was born in Post on Jan. 16, 1928, to Mr. and Mrs. T. A. "Shorty" Pierce. She is a graduate of Post High School.

Mrs. Owen enrolled in Texas Tech in the fall of 1966 and when she found it necessary to skip a few semesters, she took correspondence courses to earn some of her credits.

Script and stage direction for the "This Is Your Life" program by Edith Ramsey, with Bernard Ramsey as narrator, and Ben Owen listed as producer and director.

Other program credits included: Marita Jackson, musical score; Dana Pool, accompanist; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bouchier and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Porter, flowers; Nita Case, Weaver McKamie, Rowena Pierce, Nita Dean, Sammie Madams, Mary Tillman, Sammie Madams, and probably others, refreshments.

In addition to her children and grandchildren, a number of Mrs. Owen's brothers and sisters and aunts and uncles were present and made appearances on the program.

The children are Mrs. Pam Hall, wife of Joe Hall; Benny, Kim, Timothy and Rodney.

Appropriate songs were sung by the children and other groups. Others appearing on the program included Kay Pace and Ruby Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Owen received a number of gifts, including a money corsage from the church's Christian Women's Fellowship.

CONGRATULATIONS, EDNA!

By TOMMIE WILKE
Greetings from our little 'ole community. Lot of happy farmers in this area since the rains came. Right here in Southland, we didn't receive as much rain as some other places, but we are thankful for what we did get.
Congratulations to Cathy Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long, for the honor being valedictorian for the 1971-72 school year with a four-year grade point average of 91.687.
Congratulations to Ludie Flores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Flores, for the honor of being salutatorian for the 1971-72 school year with a grade point of 88.291. Both of these girls are fine young ladies and we are proud of them.
Here's a belated happy birthday to Willie Jo Montgomery who celebrated her seventh birthday Friday, May 5. She lives here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wartes.

The Southland Junior-Senior Banquet was held this past Friday night in the Zuider Zee Restaurant in Lubbock. The theme of the banquet was "Montego Bay" and South Seas decorations were used. Ray Valdez was master of ceremonies and gave the welcome address. Mrs. Betty Hall gave the invocation, the prophecy was read by Maria Shelton. Cathy Long read the history and will, and the school song was sung. Juniors attending were Connie Abshire, Maria Shelton, Sue Bevers, Ray Valdez and Joe Bevers. Seniors attending were Laura Bevers, Cathy Long, Eva Garza and Ludie Flores. Teachers and other guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wheeler, Coach and Mrs. Rod Callaway, Mrs. Betty Hall and Mrs. Irene Kuykendall.
Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Abshire and daughter, Jessica, spent a couple of days here in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Abshire.

Ladies from the Southland community that helped as hostesses for the bridal shower for Sue Brake and Douglas Smallwood were Mrs. D. D. Pennell, Herman Havens, Ferrell Wheeler, Valton Wheeler and Earl Lancaster.
Max Courtney went to Lake Amstead over the weekend on a little fishing trip and his little son told me that his dad caught some fish. Congratulations, Max.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Myers recently returned from a trip to El Paso where they visited with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Beatty and two children.
Until we meet again, remember: "It takes both rain and sunshine to make a rainbow."

Minimum tillage, new conservation measure, will reduce farming costs

Texas farmers are plowing less and enjoying it more, thanks to a new conservation measure being pushed by the Soil Conservation Service.
Reduced air pollution, better wildlife habitat — these are some of the environmental benefits of a new practice being used by Texas conservation farmers.
The measure, called minimum tillage, also cuts farming costs by reducing tractor trips required to produce a crop.
"With minimum tillage, farmers plant crops without prior land preparation," Bailey Mayo, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Post, said. "Using a coultter and other special equipment, they plant directly into a mulch of residues left undisturbed from the previous crop. Herbicides are used to control weeds, so costly and time consuming cultural operations are reduced or eliminated."

Stalks, leaves and stems from the previous crop are left on the surface yearlong with minimum tillage. The protective cover is highly effective in preventing wind erosion and air pollution from blowing dust.
Mayo said the cover is equally effective in preventing water erosion.
"Scattered seed and cover left on the soil surface by minimum tillage is also extremely valuable to wildlife," Mayo said. "Pheasants in the Texas Panhandle are almost entirely dependent on residues for survival."

Area cotton men leave for Orient

TAHOCA — Tahoka cotton farmer Robert Warren left Thursday on a 19-day trip to Japan, Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong as a member of a "cotton trade team" promoting sales of U. S. cotton.
All four countries to be visited by the team are large users of High Plains cotton and the extent of their imports from this country has a significant effect on cotton prices from year to year.
Warren was named to represent producers on the team by Agricultural Secretary Earl Butz. The other producer representative will be Robert Squires of El Paso.

Moderation!

By Bernard S. Ramsey

When William Lloyd Garrison was making his great fight against slavery, he was urged by many people to cease indulging in ungentlemanly immoderations. This was his reply: "On this subject, I do not wish to speak with moderation. No! I tell a man whose house is on fire, to give a moderate alarm; tell him moderately to rescue his wife from the hands of a molester; tell the mother to extricate her baby gradually from the fire into which he has fallen—but urge me not to rise moderately in a cause like the present."

Well... right on! Don't ask your preacher to urge people to live the Christian life, but to do so in moderation; don't ask him to tell people to love God—love their neighbor but only moderately; don't tell him to be moderate in enunciating the Ten Commandments; don't ask him to be moderate in urging you to come to Church every Sunday.

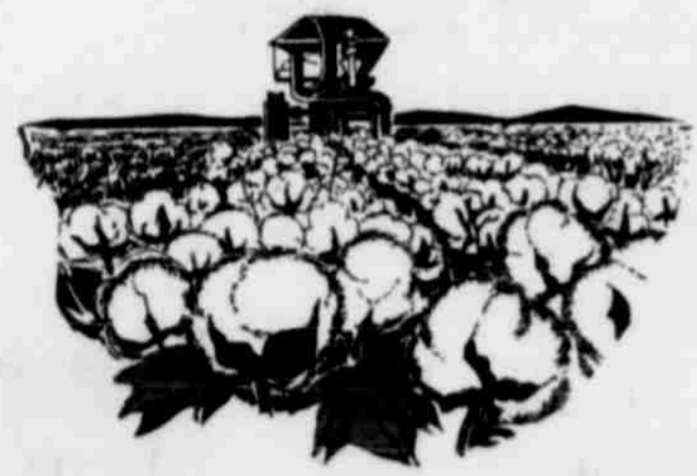

I cannot believe Jesus was suggesting moderation when he said: "Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life." The idea! "Attend church, my friend, but be sure to do so in moderation!"

Choirs, soloists sing in Amarillo festival

By MARK HAYS

The Post High School choir has finished another step this year. Amarillo, Texas, was the scene of "The Greater Southwestern Music Festival", April 27, 28 and 29.

Friday, April 28, the Post High School choir began singing at 9 a. m. with girls' choir followed by boys choir and mixed choir, in that order.

The rating received not only by our choir but by many other choirs were surprisingly low. None of the choirs in 4AA received a sweepstakes. Girls' choir received a IV in concert and a II in sight reading. Boys' choir received a IV in concert, and a II in sight reading. The mixed choir received a III in concert and a II in sight reading. The 4AA choirs who participated received seven IV's, four III's and only one II.

All those with solos for the festival sang Saturday, April 29. The ratings they received also were unexpectedly low. Nancy Reno received the only Division I rating for Post High School.

Thanks to all of you who have given the choir your time and support throughout the year.

Kim Ashley Owen 'Citizen of Week'

By LANITA JUSTICE

The paper staff has elected their new "Citizen of the Week." This week we have proudly selected senior Kim Ashley Owen. Kim is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen. His favorite colors are blue and gold, and his favorite foods are Mexican and sea foods. His favorite song is "Freedom by Bread."

Some of the activities Kim has been involved in during his past three years in high school are: Football, basketball, choir, Top Twenty, Mr. PHS junior class favorite and senior class favorite, junior play, senior play. His hobbies are swimming, singing, eating and collecting English books.

We are very proud to have elected Kim as our new "Citizen of the Week." He has added a lot to our senior class as well as to the members of PHS. Congratulations, Kim, from the paper staff.

Since last week's "Citizen of the Week" was not printed, we would like to announce that we elected freshman Jay Rogers. Jay's favorite color is blue and his favorite food is steak. His hobby is cycle riding. Congratulations, Jay, from the paper staff.

Joe Hudman gets college award

LAWRENCE, Kans. — Joe D. Hudman, 604 West Main, Post, Tex., a graduate student in the department of chemistry at the University of Kansas, is the 1972 recipient of the H. P. Cady Award for outstanding work in the first year of the graduate program.

The award was established to honor Cady an alumnus and former professor at K.U. He is best known for his discovery of helium in natural gas in North America.

Hudman received the honor at a departmental honors luncheon on Saturday, April 29. The Cady award carries a $50 prize.

Better yields of quality cotton make for bigger producer profits

HART, Tex. — Better yields of quality cotton not only can help bolster confidence of textile mills in U. S. growers' ability to supply the market but can mean greater profits for producers, Ray Joe Riley, Hart, pointed out today.

Riley and Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, are co-chairmen for Texas in a Beltwide campaign to obtain "Better Yields of Quality Cotton for Profit and Market Growth."

Explaining how better yields of quality cotton can increase profits, Mr. Riley emphasized that:

Higher yields spread overhead costs and lower over-all costs. Example: With a yield of 450 pounds per acre, costs might approximate 32.2 cents per pound. Increasing yields to 550 pounds could drop costs to 27.2 cents.

Preservation of the quality in cotton assures a higher price and a satisfied buyer — an important point in contracting sale of the crop in advance.

A better yield in 1972 can increase the cotton farmer's "yield for payment purposes" under the government farm program in 1973.

Good yields testify to sound management and facilitate financing. They evidence proven performance — a valuable asset where lending agencies are concerned. Higher yields mean greater volume, increased efficiency, and lower costs of producing, processing, marketing — all factor in grower profits.

1990 lakes—

The Dispatch by O'Brien Tuesday night.

The study shows estimated costs of the Post and Justiceburg Lakes with a pipeline extending from the Justiceburg lake past the Post lake up to Lubbock as costing an estimated $41,446,200.

This would include $4,510,900 for construction of the 130,000 acre-foot lake east of Justiceburg, $3,121,000 for a 42-inch pipeline from Justiceburg Lake to the Post reservoir, $3,386,100 for construction of the 50,000 acre-foot Post Lake, $1,373,300 for construction of the Post Lake reservoir pump station and intake structure with a 50 million gallons daily capacity, $3,434,900 for building a 48-inch pipeline from the Post Reservoir pump station to the Double Mountain Fork booster pump station, $869,800 for building the Double Mountain Fork booster pump station, $3,009,800 for building a 48-inch pipeline from the Double Mountain Fork booster pump station to Lake 8 in the Lubbock canyon lake chain near Slaton, $1,918,900 for construction of the Lake 8 pump station and intake structure with a daily capacity of 80 million gallons, $5,401,800 for construction of a 60-inch pipeline from Lake 8 pump station to Lubbock's terminal storage reservoir, $606,000 for building a 40 million gallon water terminal storage reservoir, and $12,550,000 for a 100 million gallons a day capacity filter plant for these new water sources.

Also included in the engineers' recommendations is an expenditure of $6,318,300 for the development of the Eastern Sand Hills well field, now being used by Lubbock, $750,000 for Easter Sand Hills ground storage of 10 million gallons, $631,900 for building an Eastern Sand Hills pump station with a 40 million gallon daily capacity, and $6,073,100 for a 42-inch pipeline from the Eastern Sand Hills to Lubbock.

Adding the $13,673,300 estimated cost for the Eastern Sand Hills water development extension to the cost of the Post and Justiceburg Lake, Lubbock comes up with a total overall estimated cost of over $55 million to meet that city's water needs through the year of 2,020.

The report recommends that the Post Lake be developed as a water source in cooperation with the White River Municipal Water District which now has the water rights to the proposed lake east of Post.

The consulting engineers in their report point out that "construction costs are rising very rapidly and even with a generous allowance for contingencies, the figures shown herein cannot be considered valid for more than a few years if current inflationary trends continue."

The engineers' projections of the future water needs of Lubbock show that the peak demands for that city by 1980 will reach 90.1 million gallons daily and will increase to 273.9 million gallons daily by the year 2020.

Lubbock's existing water sources could meet a peak day's demand of 83.7 million gallons. These include the Canadian River (Lake Meredith) supply, Sand Hills and Shallowater wells, and Lubbock wells.

According to the water study if Lubbock develops all existing water sources to maximum, the Post and Justiceburg sources of new water won't be needed until 1990.

The engineers' study offers an alternate proposal for a new water supply from a well field in Hartley County, northeast of Amarillo, instead of the Post and Justiceburg Lakes proposal, but at the greatly increased cost of $88 million — more than $32 million more than the cost of the Post and Justiceburg lakes development.

The engineers' study shows that possible new lake sites also were investigated near Aspermont, Rotan and Munday, much further to the east, but the quality of water would not be as good and the pipeline distances would be much greater.

For the basis of long range water planning, engineers projected Lubbock's population to climb over the 400,000 mark just before 2,020, although the report noted that by the 1970 census Lubbock's 10-year growth through the 60's had almost stabilized just above the 150,000 mark and had proven earlier population projections as "overly optimistic."

Surprising Red Sox stretch lead in Little League race

The Red Sox drubbed the Cardinals, 13 to 8, Monday night to maintain their perfect record and remain atop the Little League with a 5-0 mark.

In Monday night's second game, the Yankees came from behind to defeat the Dodgers, 10 to 9.

Saturday night's scheduled games between the Wildcats and Dodgers and Yankees and Tigers were rained out. They will be played at a later date.

Last Thursday night, the Red Sox stopped the Tigers, 10 to 7, and the Cards walloped the Wildcats, 10 to 5.

The only hits allowed by Red Sox pitchers Larry Harper and Gary Seals in their team's win over the Cardinals Monday night were two singles to Brad Davis and a single to Kent Craig.

The Sox collected nine hits off losing pitcher Brad Davis and Bruce Waldrip, who relieved him. Jeff Williams, Harper and Mark Williams each got two hits for the winners.

The Dodgers scored nine runs in the first two innings against the Yankees Monday to lead 9-2 going into the third, but the Yanks scored three in the third, two in the fourth and three in the fifth to win the contest.

Bryan Compton started on the mound for the Yankees, but was relieved by Evans Heaton, who received credit for the win. Billy Smith, the Dodger starter, was the losing pitcher, with Doug Hall relieving him after four frames.

Heaton got three of the Yankees' seven hits and Bud Jones accounted for two. The Dodgers collected 11 safeties, with Mike Dye and Doug Hall getting three apiece and Jackie Reiter coming up with two.

The Tigers took an early 5-0 lead over the Red Sox last Thursday night by scoring five runs in the first inning, but the Sox came back with four in the second, three in the third and three in the fourth to win, 10-7, with the losers getting a brace of runs in the bottom of the fourth.

Tomy Lockhart, the second of three Tiger pitchers was charged with the loss. Raymie Holly was the Tiger starter, with Caine Abraham following Lockhart. Larry Harper and Gary Seals handled the mound duties for the Red Sox, with Harper getting the win.

First baseman Scott Walker got two of the winners' five hits, with Jeff Williams, Mark Williams and Seals getting one apiece. The Tigers got four hits, with shortstop Mark Shedd accounting for two of them, and Mike Holly and Caine Abraham getting one each.

The Cards scored 18 runs in the third inning in their 20-5 plastering of the Wildcats last Thursday. They collected a total of 13 hits off losing pitcher Owen Gilbert and reliever Mark Clamp. Brad Davis got four hits in five trips for the winners, including a pair of two-baggers. Danny Gunn went three for five and also doubled.

Bruce Waldrip, the Cards' starting pitcher, was credited with the victory, with Davis relieving him after three innings. The loser's only hit was a single by Rodney Gray.

Bervers sixth in state mile run

Post's Mark Bervers posted his best time ever—4:31.1—to win sixth place in the Class AA mile run Friday night at the state track meet in Austin.

Bervers, who is only a sophomore, beat his previous best time by nearly seven seconds in placing sixth among the eight runners competing.

Jimmy Porter of Mathis won the event in 4:26.0. Others finished as follows: Carlyle McBride, East Chambers, 4:26.1; Albert Perales, Carrizo Springs, 4:27.7; Jay Jones, Floydada, 4:28.5; and Lex Henderson, Jacksboro, 4:29.6.

Hundley is low tourney amateur

Jimmy Hundley won low amateur honors and his team tied for second in the Littlefield Pro-Am golf tournament played over the Littlefield Country Club course Monday.

Hundley shot a one-under-par 70. The Post golfer teamed with John Ethridge, Jay Clayborne, and Dale Walthall to shoot a best-ball of 62 over 18 holes, to finish in a tie one stroke behind the winners.

Rites held for wreck victim

Funeral services were held at 8 p.m. Monday at the Bethel Baptist Church here for Mrs. Gloria Gonzales Garza, 25, who died late last Thursday of injuries suffered a few hours earlier in a two-car collision in Hobbs.

Mrs. Garza, who died in Hobbs Lea General Hospital, was injured in a head-on collision about 7:30 p.m. She was Hobbs' first traffic fatality of 1972.

Mrs. Garza was well known in Post where she has a number of uncles and aunts and other relatives. Other survivors include a son Roy, and a daughter, Patricia Garza, both of Hobbs; seven brothers and four sisters, all of Hobbs.

The Revs. Albert Castro of Hobbs and Francisco Soto of Lovington officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Service pins awarded seven at teachers meeting

Teachers with 25 years or more experience were honored at the 11th annual meeting of the Garza County Association of Texas State Teachers Association for the current school year Sunday evening in the bank community room.

Mrs. Lucille Nixon, who is retiring from the teaching profession, was a special honoree at the meeting. Supt. W. F. Shiver recognized Mrs. Nixon for her years of devoted teaching. She was presented a service pin and a gift of appreciation.

Jack Alexander, elementary principal, awarded service pins to Joseph Lancaster, Mary Lee Wristen, Vera Fleming, Ruby Lobban, George M. Willson and N. R. "Jiggs" King. The service pins awarded were for a total of 209 years of teaching experience.

Following the presentation, a short business meeting was conducted by Jean Gandy, president. A social hour, arranged by Leocy Ott and Jo Ann Mitchell, was enjoyed by the 45 teachers who attended.

GRAHAM NEWS

Former area resident dies Sunday afternoon

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS

Guy Nelson was home over the weekend. He had had luck recently. His car was stolen.

Mrs. Louis Sinclair of Abernathy spent Saturday night and Sunday with the Quannah Maxeys and her mother, Mrs. Green.

J. O. Reed Sr. of Lubbock passed away Sunday afternoon only one week after his son-in-law, C. O. Brown passed away. The Reed family moved to the Graham community in 1915. They moved to the Gordon community in 1921 and many years later moved to Lubbock. We extend sympathy to all the relatives.

The Lewis Mason family were Sunday luncheon guests of his mother, Mrs. Willie Mason. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan and the Jody Mason family.

Mrs. E. E. Peel and Mrs. Glenn Huntley visited in Brownfield Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Sally Sherry.

Some 38 people attended singing last Wednesday evening in the Jimmy Redman home.

Visitors in the Elmer Cowdrey home last Tuesday were Rene Fluit, Nita McClellan, and Pearl Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Williams and family visited in Post Sunday afternoon with the Joe McCowens.

Jo Williams and Louise Robinson visited one evening last week with Mrs. Brenda King and Mrs. Dorothy Cowdrey.

Homer Jones was a Sunday luncheon guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel White and Keitha Beth visited in Graham, Tex., with the Junior Grays Sunday night and Monday.

Mrs. Estell Williams is still a patient in Garza Memorial Hospital. Some of the ladies of this community are taking turns sitting with her.

Mrs. George Ramage and Mrs. Bon Longshore have been patients in Garza Hospital.

Sunday guests in the Elmer Cowdrey home for lunch were Mrs. Pearl Wallace, Miss Shariot Rose. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Elvius Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Cowdrey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Parrish and family visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ambers Parrish and Ronnie.

The Elmer and Delmer Cowdreys and Mrs. Viva Davis, and Pearl Wallace attended funeral services in Lubbock last Wednesday for C. O. Brown.

Donald and Keith Gossett visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gossett.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluit visited in Post Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Theibert McBride and David.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gossett visited in Lubbock Monday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluit and grandchildren visited Sunday afternoon in the Elmo Bush home. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reno of Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reno and family of Lubbock, the Morris McClellans and Mrs. Pete Hays and daughters of Post, and Jan Bilbo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan have had word that their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aimo and family are in California. They have been living in Thailand where he was stationed. They are visiting in California and will be here later. After this vacation, they will go to Germany for four years.

Mrs. L. W. Gandy of Tahoka spent last Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluit.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason McClellan and family visited Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Fluit and family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Peel visited in Lubbock Methodist Hospital Sunday with Doug Livingston and with the J. O. Reed Sr. family.

In 1800 Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr each received 73 electoral votes. The House of Representatives elected Jefferson.

Close City holds annual judging tour and program

The Texas Community Improvement Program contest judging tour was made May 3 in the Close City community, which has entered the contest for the last eight years.

The meeting began at 10 o'clock with refreshments.

Paul Jones, vice president of the Close City community organization, served as master of ceremonies in the absence of Mike Custer, president. Jones gave the welcome address and the invocation.

County Agent Syd Conner introduced the contest judges, Mrs. Catherine Crawford, District 2 home demonstration agent; Leon New, area irrigation specialist, of Lubbock, and Miss Dana Feaster, Garza County home demonstration agent.

Also introduced were Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman of the county historical survey committee, and three members of the committee, along with several former residents of the community.

The history of the community was given by Lola Peel, "Our Community Today" by Evelyn Jones, "4-H Club Work" by Jane Terry, and "Home Demonstration Work" by Hooter Terry.

Following the program, several of those present made a 20-mile tour of the community's most outstanding accomplishments of the past year. These included new fish ponds, a new house that had been moved in and several completely remodeled homes.

After the tour, the group returned to the center for lunch, after which the judges left for Westbrook in Mitchell County to judge another entry.

Many Thanks

Many thanks to all of my Garza County friends who helped in giving me the 888 vote district lead in the first primary and for your continued support.

To all others, please consider my special qualifications for the office of District Attorney, and my merits for a second term.

Your support in the second primary is earnestly requested, and will be sincerely appreciated.

Vernon D. Adcock
Candidate for re-election to a second term as District Attorney

Rotarians hear of state water plan

A whole lot has been happening in Austin and Washington the last six months on the Texas plan to import water to this High Plains area, Tom Williams of Lubbock, associate director of Water, Inc., told Post Rotarians Tuesday noon at their weekly luncheon in City Hall.

Williams said all engineering details on the project will be available "within the next year." He said engineers hope to be able to import eight and one-half million acre feet of water annually to this area and five counties of eastern New Mexico from the Mississippi River.

He reminded that the "law is already on the books" for the water plan and that only the necessary funds were voted down by Texas voters two years ago.

Williams said the plan calls for 60 per cent of the imported water to be stored in east Texas because of high evaporation rates here in West Texas. Forty pumping stations will be required.

The Lubbock man also pointed out that a presentation of the plan, along with slides of the near completed California water plan which he showed to Rotarians, are to be shown Wayne Connally, runoff candidate for lieutenant governor this week. He said Billy Hobby, Houston Post publisher and opponent to Connally in the runoff, opposed and help defeat the water plan funding two years ago.

Don Smith, industrial engineer of Postex Plant, was inducted into the Rotary Club as a new member by Bob Collier prior to the program.

VISITING IN POST
Mrs. W. R. Graeber has as her guests this week Mr. and Mrs. George Bayer of Georgetown.

Tobacco was unknown outside the Western hemisphere until the discovery of America. It was introduced in Spain in 1588 and in England in 1586.

THANKS A MILLION

My sincere thanks to the Precinct 1 voters who supported my candidacy in the May 6 Democratic Primary elections.

I am grateful for your support and solicit your vote in the General Election in November.

I appreciate the cooperation of the fine people in my precinct and throughout Garza County in serving you as Precinct 1 county commissioner.

Cominy Cotton Says:

SPECIAL HANDLING IS FOR MAIL.

There's never a worry about special water or drying temperatures, soaps, or bleaches when you wear cotton. Wash cotton in the hottest water, dry it at any temperature, use the strongest soaps and bleaches. Cotton's strong. It can take the roughest wear, the most thorough cleaning, and come out really clean and sparkling fresh every time. So call for cotton. And leave special handling for the mail.

Thanks!

My sincerest thanks and warmest appreciation to the people of Post and Garza County for the support and votes they gave me in my recent race for the District Attorney's office. While it is true that we lost the election, it is extremely difficult to feel like a loser when the hometown folks, the people who know me best, came through for me like my Post friends did on May 6th. Since I have been in Post I have tried to make a contribution, and the warm support from the people in my election is an endorsement of what I have tried to do in that respect. I appreciate your help, your support, your votes, and your friendship.
