City, school, hospital elections set Saturday

Polls open at 8 at three places

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. here Saturday — April Fool's Day — for city council, school trustee and hospital board elections.

While there are contests in each of the three elections, interest does not appear to be high and absentee balloting has been extremely light.

Only those who were registered to vote at least 30 days before the elections will be eligible to cast ballots.

Voting for the first time will be 18 to 21-year-olds who registered 30 days prior to Saturday's elections.

Three candidates are in the race for three places to be filled on the city council. One of two school trustee races is contested, and there are four candidates for three places to be filled on the board of the Garza Hospital District.

All three city councilmen whose terms are expiring — Donald Windham, Fred Myers and Ed Blanton — are seeking re-election. Other candidates are Jim Wells and Ewell (Gene) Gandy.

Bob Macy, a candidate for re-election to Place 7 on the board of trustees of the Post Independent School District, has an opponent in John Boren of Justiceburg. Silas Short is unopposed in his bid for re-election to Place 6 on the board.

Seeking re-election to two of the three places to be filled on the Garza Hospital District board are Gene Moore and Dr. W. C. Wilson.

Other candidates are Dr. Charles G. Tubbs and W. G. Pool Jr.

The city election will be held at the City Hall with Faye Cockrell as election judge. Mrs. Boy Hart will be the election judge in the school election, which is to be held in the high school library. Voters in the hospital board election will cast ballots at the Post Public Library, where Charlie Didway will be the election judge.

STEP TOWARD CONSOLIDATION

Council votes police move to courthouse

The city council voted Tuesday night to recommend that the police department be moved to the county courthouse "with closer cooperation with all law enforcement officers."

The action, which came at a special meeting of the council, was called by Mayor Giles C. McCrary "a step toward consolidation of city and county law enforcement agencies."

The council said it believed that the police department could be "upgraded" at the same time that closer cooperation is being worked out with other law enforcement officers.

Police Chief Otis G. Shepherd Jr. told the council at the meeting that he believed moving the police department to the courthouse would "work out for the best" when asked his opinion on the move.

It was suggested by the council that if, and when, the move is made, the sheriff and police chief "get together" and develop a work schedule that would give equal police protection day and night.

Five copies of a petition opposing a merger of the police department with the sheriff's office had been submitted to the council prior to the opening of the meeting.

The petition read as follows:

"We, the undersigned citizens of Post, hereby petition our city council not to merge our city police department with that of the county sheriff, or, in the alternative, to submit the issue to a vote of the people prior to making the decision."

During the time that a Dispatch reporter was at the meeting, the petitions were not brought up for discussion. The reporter left the meeting after the council's vote on moving the police department to the courthouse, his departure following that of the city secretary, who was told by the mayor that she could leave since there was no other action to be taken by the council at that time.

A misunderstanding appears to exist between city and county officials as to whether or not the

SUNDAY IS EASTER

Holy Week observance set by city churches

A number of Post churches will have special services during Holy Week and Easter Sunday, and the Methodist Church in the Grah a m community has a sunrise service scheduled for the religious holiday.

The Post schools will dismiss early Thursday afternoon and there will be no school Friday and Monday in observance of Easter.

Elsewhere, however, Monday, the day after Easter, will be "business as usual." Neither the courthouse nor the city hall had made plans late Wednesday for a Monday closing. It was indicated at both places that they are usually open the Monday after Easter.

There will be a special Good Friday service at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the First United Methodist Church. "The Messengers" will sing, and there also will be congregational participation in singing and prayers.

The First Presbyterian Church will observe communion Easter Sunday. The Church of the Nazarene will have a rally day dinner in the fellowship hall following the morning worship.

There will be regular worship services at the First Christian Church on Sunday morning, with the sermon title, "What's It All About?" No evening service will be held.

Holy Week services at the Holy Cross Church will begin at 5:30 p.m. today (Thursday) with an observance of the Lord's Supper. Celebration of the passion and death of Christ will be at 5:30 p.m. Good Friday.

A light-service celebrating the Resurrection will begin at 11 p.m. Saturday at Holy Cross. There will also be a Mass of the Resurrection at the regular service hour of 8 a.m. Easter Sunday.

The Church of God of Prophecy will have an Easter dinner and an egg hunt for the children following the regular worship services.

The First Baptist Church presented its annual program of Easter music last Sunday.

Faith Lutheran Church will continue.

Plane crash fatal to AF lieutenant

First Lt. John Michael Minor, U. S. Air Force, died in South Vietnam on March 17 as a result of injuries received in an aircraft crash. He was an A-37 pilot.

Other than his parents and the uncle of Post, Lt. Minor is survived by his wife, Mrs. Signe Pabst Minor of Alexandria, Va.; two brothers, Lt. Gerald C. Minor, USAF, of Hurlburt AFB, Fla., and James William Minor; a sister, Miss Margaret A. Minor, and grandmother, Mrs. Charles E. Hart of McLean, Va.

A memorial service was held at Bolling AFB Chapel, Washington, D. C., at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, March 23. Interment was at the U. S. Military Academy Cemetery, West Point, N.Y.

Ball park to get 26 honey locusts

Twenty-six 10 to 12-foot honey locust trees will be planted Tuesday at David Nichols Park as part of a landscaping project under way there by the Garza County Youth Baseball Association.

The City of Post and the Green Thumb crew is to assist in the tree planting, which is being done under the general direction of Ben Owen, president of the Babe Ruth Baseball League.

The concession stand at the park is also being remodeled in the improvement project.

DOWNTOWN SITE

Park project gets help from outside

The Woman's Culture Club was getting new outside help this week in its project to create a downtown park on the site of the former Algerita Hotel.

The Post Rotary Club announced Tuesday it is giving the $260 that it raised last year with a magic show for the park project, after the money which was originally intended for the Post Cactus Garden, was not needed in the garden's financing.

The Post Chamber of Commerce also assigned its parks and beautification committee, headed by Bailey Mayo, to the joint effort and Mayo reports that he is working to get a landscape architectural design for the park.

The Green Thumb crew went to work this week in clearing the proposed park area.

Mayo said his committee also will study various long-range aspects for the park.

Mrs. Mary Mayo, chairman of the park project for the culture club, told The Dispatch yesterday that City Superintendent Pete Maddox and city employees helped haul off debris from the site which the Green Thumb crew accumulated in the Monday and Tuesday cleanup.

She said the city will start trimming on the trees on the site next week and will cut down and remove the dead trees on the site. She added the park project was generating wide public interest.

POSTINGS

Snowing and 35 degrees. That was Post's rather unbelievable weather at 8 a.m. today as The Dispatch went to press. And for the "flower folks" this is to report the weather slipped down to freezing—32 degrees—yesterday morning. Maybe the mesquite are going to be wrong, blooming so early. Last time they were wrong, an old-timer reports, was back in 1932 here.

It will be "telephone night" at The Dispatch Saturday to hand out results of the city, school district, and hospital district elections to all who are interested.

You can expect us to have the results at least by 7:30 and we will answer the phone as long as there are plenty of calls coming in.

But you didn't know that the be-whiskered painter who got one of the awards at the Easter Art Show here Sunday—Robert J. Allen—is not only an "account executive" in the stock brokerage business, but a movie actor as well.

Robert, who we knew back in Kansas over 15 years ago, played the cantankerous, be-whiskered, tobacco-chewing old-timer, Mr. Willis, proprietor of the Lajitas, Texas, Trading Post in the new chiller movie, "Disciples of Death."

The feature length movie, first to be filmed in Texas since Governor Preston Smith formed his state film commission in the spring of 1971 to attract such productions into the state for shootings, was filmed in four weeks in January (See Postings, page 8)

FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

April 17 opening seen for satellite school

A target date of Monday, April 17, has been set for the opening of a Post satellite class for mentally retarded children.

The advisory board to oversee the operation of the class, in a coordinated effort with the Lubbock State School for Mentally Retarded children, was organized last Thursday night at the community room.

Mrs. Margaret Price was elected president of the board. Mrs. Janie Middleton, vice president, Mrs. Irma Slater, secretary, and Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby, treasurer.

The board voted to accept the use of the former Post Day Care Center quarters at 802 Pine Street. This three-bedroom apartment unit in the Post Public Housing area is being maintained by the Garza County Community Action Committee.

Five applicants for the position of teacher of the class were considered by the board. The final selection will be made by Sue Ward, outreach representative for this area of the Lubbock State School.

The state will pay the salary of the teacher.

Rites today for Maria Reyna, 70

Funeral services for Mrs. Maria T. Reyna, 70, of 408 South Ave. E., were to be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Mason Funeral Home chapel, with the Rev. Timothy Schwertner, pastor of Holy Cross Church, officiating.

Mrs. Reyna died at 9:30 p.m. Monday in Garza Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient for two weeks. She was born on March 20, 1902, in Boerne, Texas, and had been a Post resident for 26 years.

Survivors include five children, Manuela Balderas of San Antonio, Guadalupe Gonzales of Pontiac, Mich., Jose Arturo Reyna of San Marcos, and Abelardo Reyna and Antonia Ammons, both of Post; one brother, three sisters, 26 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Dee Collazo, Aureliano Medina, Manuel Sanchez, Domingo Tijerina, Benny Valdez and Pete Castillo.

LUBBOCK ARTIST WINNER

Winner of the juror's selection in the Easter Art Show was Robert John Allen's oil painting, "Pigeon Roost." Here, Bo Olson, Art Guild president, presents the Lubbock artist his prize, awarded by Bryan Williams & Son and the guild.

219 paintings judged in Easter Art Show

Members of the juror's selection, four purchase prize awards announced Sunday afternoon at the conclusion of the Post Art Show's second annual Easter Art Show, which drew 219 entries.

James Kingman of Lubbock, judged the entries in the two show held in the Community Center, described as "excellent" quality of work exhibited.

The juror's selection $75 cash award went to Robert John Allen of Lubbock for his oil painting, "Pigeon Roost."

Southland girl is spelling champion

Jenny Wheeler, eighth grade student at Southland, won the annual County Spelling Bee here Sunday afternoon over approximately 25 other contestants.

Jenny, 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ferrel Wheeler, spelled "cacalyptus" correctly after seven years, 14-year-old Kendon missed it, then went on to miss the next word, "formaldehyde," correctly.

David Morrow of Post, son of Mrs. Charles Morrow, won the place. He misspelled "antecedent."

Jenny will represent Garza County in the Lubbock Avanchene Spelling Bee to be held in Lubbock.

Carolyn Sawyers was diagnosed as the winner of this year's Garza County Spelling Bee.

367 take part in 'cycle' race here

The largest number of motorcycles ever to assemble in Garza County—367—competed Sunday in an "Enduro" (endurance race) on the U Laxy S Ranch, southwest of Post.

Only forty-four of the 367 cyclists finished the two-lap 102-mile race over rugged terrain. The average speed was 15 miles an hour.

The overall winner of the Enduro, which was sponsored by the Lubbock Trail Riders, was John Hayes of Fort Worth, riding a Sachs 125.

Other winners were as follows: A Class: 1. Mike Lewis, Lawton, Okla., Penton 125. 2. Robert Dregors, Houston, DKW 125. 3. W.T. Cotton, Dallas, Penton 125. 4. Don Vernon, Amarillo, Hodaka 100. ACTIVITIES PLANNED

'History Week' is to begin Tuesday

History Appreciation Week will be observed April 4 through April 9 by the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

The observance will begin Tuesday, April 4, with regular meeting of the committee, to which the public is invited, and will close Sunday, April 9, with a "Pioneer Roundup" at the museum building.

The Tuesday meeting of the committee is to be held in the bank Community Room at 10 a.m., with C. W. Nall of Lubbock, assistant district highway engineer, presenting the program.

Nall will show slides on "The Day the Roads Closed" and will give a talk concerning the Texas Highway Department and the critical time with which it is faced.

The future of the present structure of the highway department is uncertain, pending changes in the policy of tax usage, it was pointed out by a member of the historical survey committee.

The committee, as a group of concerned citizens, invited the highway department to present the program. Gwendolyn Boren, committee member, will be the speaker.

Spring season ushers in Easter

Spring, the fairest season of them all, came this year just in time to usher in Easter Sunday, when once again Christians will commemorate the resurrection of Christ.

The freshness and fragrance of the new season somehow symbolizes the bright hope and faith that came into being with the birth of Christianity.

Oddly, or perhaps not so oddly, the sounds of Spring on Easter Sunday are accentuated. The birds sing a little more pleasant—or so it seems. And in between those April showers we are hopeful of getting, the sun will have a special warmth.

From the earliest scratchings in which his thoughts were set down on stone or clay, man has expressed his feelings of encouragement and faith in a new beginning that is associated with the coming of Spring.

In this year of 1972, we, as a people need much faith, and we need confidence in our own ability to bring the light of new reason and persuasion to bear on old problems as we seek to end a war, to talk with our enemies, to guide our nation through the search for greater individual security and opportunity while preserving the freedom without which life is not worth living.

What it all adds up to is that Spring is a good season and that Easter is an exceptionally good day which is meant to celebrate the coming of new hope and salvation to all mankind. Let it be so this year.—CD

Your vote gives you 'authority'

While there hasn't been a great deal of interest generated in the three elections to be held here Saturday, it is hoped that there will be a good turnout of voters because of the importance of all three elections.

What can be more important to a community than its city government, its school board and the board that governs its hospital affairs?

Yet, there will be many people not voting in Saturday's elections who will spend much of their time during the next year criticizing their city council, school board and hospital board.

Of course, there is always a certain amount of criticism of these three governing bodies, even by people who do vote. But, in our opinion, those who do vote have more right to criticize and find fault than those who do not vote.

By the same token, our city council, school board and hospital board also will receive some well-deserved praise between now and the next election. Again, we think the praise coming from the voters is more called for and, perhaps, more sincere than the plaudits handed out by the non-voters.

So, if you expect your voice to be heard, one way or another, in expressing your opinions on the efforts of the city council, school board and hospital board—go cast a vote in all three elections Saturday.—CD

History Appreciation Week

Citizens of Garza County, young and old, are urged to accept the invitation of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee to join that organization in the observance of County History Appreciation Week, beginning Tuesday, April 4, and continuing through Saturday, April 8.

In its usual thorough manner, the historical committee has made it official by having County Judge Giles W. Dalby issue a History Week appreciation, a copy of which is to be found elsewhere in today's Dispatch.

The Garza County Historical Survey Committee has brought our community and our county valuable publicity through its outstanding work the last several years. It ranks among the top ten counties in Texas in the Recordation, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation and Surveys (RAMPS) of Texas history.

A number of special activities, which are outlined in a story on page one of today's Dispatch, are planned for History Appreciation Week in Garza County. Let's show our appreciation of this live-wire committee by attending as many of these activities as possible.—CD

It's a good system—use it!

This state's new voter registration system, under which citizens have until 30 days before any election to register and vote, is being lauded by some as one of the nation's best.

But even the best is no good unless put to use, and Texans are not registering as they should for the May 6 primary elections.

Major state candidates are viewing with alarm the registration totals so far. They note that less than 3.8 million had registered as of last weekend, although there are nearly 7.7 million qualified voters in the state.

Present registrations are trailing the corresponding period in 1968 by 294,000 and the 1970 figure by more than 370,000.

Nearly one million more should register by the April 5 deadline if previous patterns are followed.

Approximately 2,155 Garza countians were registered up to last Thursday, which is a higher percentage than the statewide figure. Even so, it still leaves "too many" unregistered voters in this county.

Those who wish to vote in the May 6 primary elections—and that should include every qualified voter—are urged to register before the April 5 deadline. All it takes is a trip to the county tax office.—CD

The Abundant Life...

AN OPTIMISTIC ATTITUDE

"And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation." Mark 16:15

Jesus was undoubtedly the most optimistic person that ever lived. The men he commanded to preach his message throughout the entire universe were in the main common fishermen and not the kind you would think could actually carry out such a request. Yet Colossians 1:23 tells us, "hope of the gospel which ye heard, which was preached in all creation under heaven:." Yes Jesus had an optimistic attitude and it paid off.

We in Post have much to be optimistic about. We have a terrific school system and a thriving economy. We are in the midst of a business building boom. And along with all this I see a renewed interest in religious matters. Why is all this happening? I believe the primary reason is that there are some people of character who are optimistic enough to believe in this town. They are also putting their optimism to work.

Most of our problems, whether in the church, home, school or the community are a result of poor attitudes. The following story points this out quite clear: Many years ago a family looking for a new home pulled up in a covered wagon to the edge of a little town. The driver called out to a man working in his yard. "We are thinking about making this town our new home, what kind of place is this?" "What kind of town did you leave?" the man asked back. "A sorry place with bad neighbors," he said. The old man replied, "You had better move on for this town is just like the place you left." Later in the day another wagon pulled up in front of the same home and the driver asked the old man the same question about the town. When asked by the old fellow what kind of man he had left, the driver replied, "We left a fine place with many neighbors and friends." The old man then said, "Sir, you are in luck for that is just the kind of place we have here."

A man's attitude is everything. And without a good healthy optimistic attitude none of us will get anywhere.

NO ONE CAN complain of a lack of variety in the weekend just ahead. Saturday is April Fools' Day and also the date of the city, school trustee and hospital board elections, and the next day is Easter Sunday.

Herbert A. Philbrick, publisher of the New York-Washington Exclusive, issued by the U. S. Press Association, says Holy Week and Easter present a problem for an editor. To speak of the Passion of Christ on the one hand, and His resurrection on the other, seems like dealing with two completely different subjects.

IN THE EARLY Church, the word "Pasch" referred only to the commemoration of Christ's passion and death. But from the 4th century on it referred to the resurrection as well.

Easter used the existence of the Jewish Passover, which recalled not only the deliverance of the chosen people from Egypt, but their new existence as a nation.

CHRISTIANITY GAVE a completely new dimension to the Passover. It commemorated the deliverance of mankind from the darkness of sin into the light of God's kingdom. It is because of the death and resurrection of Christ that Christianity will survive until the end of time.

Happy Easter!

THE MAN UP the street says will power is having the same ailment a friend has and not mentioning it.

One of the interesting things about tourists is that you never know who the next one will be. A couple of them walked into The Dispatch office to buy a copy of the paper Friday morning, and before they left I learned the man's name was H. R. Post and that he was from Grove City, Pa.

MR. POST SAID they were driving through en route home from a vacation in Arizona and decided to stop when they saw that the name of the town was the same as their name. He is head of the Post Manufacturing Company in Grove City, which manufactures patterns.

This Mr. Post knew of C. W. Post, but didn't know that he was the founder of this town. He said one time he was in Battle Creek, Mich., which C. W. Post made famous with his Postum and Post Toasties, and couldn't find a room because of a convention going on. But, he said, when someone at the hotel learned his name was Post, they provided a bed for him in the hotel's sample room—the only one vacant at the time.

THE MIDDLE-AGED executive arrived back at his office after his winter vacation weary and pale. "What's the matter?" asked his secretary. "Too much partying?" "Not partying. Kids. With the kids taking vitamins and me taking tranquilizers, it was a losing battle all the way."

In announcing a few weeks ago that he was supporting Ben Barnes for governor, H. M. Baggary, editor and publisher of the Tullia Herald, indicated that he couldn't bring himself to support Mrs. Frances Farenthold for the state's top office because she doesn't have a chance to win and he doesn't want to "waste" his vote.

SOMEONE ELSE, however, has gone Mr. Baggary one better by saying he isn't going to vote for Mrs. Farenthold because he doesn't want to vote for someone whose name he can't spell.

As far as that goes, the name Eisenhower isn't easy to spell, and he probably got a lot of votes from people who'd start his name with an "I" instead of an "E" if asked to spell it. The name Farenthold doesn't have any more letters in it than the name Sharps-town, and shouldn't be any harder to spell.

AS A LAWYER and a state representative, Mrs. Farenthold has demanded sweeping reforms of the justice system and in government. She has placed honesty and integrity at the forefront of judgment of our public officials, demanding both responsibility and strict accountability.

She has worked for many years to ensure legal services for the poor and the ignorant (including many who couldn't spell her name). She believes that state and local government must not only be honest, it must also be responsive to the people and to changing times.

MOST OF HER convictions have a common denominator: They are oriented toward the future of Texas, rather than to the past. This is the quality most needed in a state government today. The status quo is no longer good enough. Fresh perspective and new initiatives will be required to cope with the

INSECT PROBLEMS
The recent emphasis on environmental quality, many seeds are caught in the middle of the need to treat plants for control of soil insects. Seed companies often sell several states and that state has different requirements, says Dr. Conner, area entomologist for Agricultural Extension.

For this reason, many companies use chlorinated hydrocarbons for seed treatment. "Instead, some use short residual compounds such as methoxychlor and others."

The problem is that these chemicals are not as effective against soil insects such as grain sorghum is a crop that needs protection against soil insects. Seed may not be available. Seed producers to check tag to find out what treatment has been made. If it has not been treated, there are several alternatives. Treat the seed before planting in a planter box treatment. Other methods include using a row band, in-furrow broadcast soil treatment. These same methods can be used in the care of wireworms and other pests.

When treatment is used, the label should be read and very carefully follow label instructions. "Always, although the two may seem like a very small amount, this is the maximum label rate."

He adds that by following label instructions, the producer will insure that the treatments are within legal tolerances. This will lessen the danger of damage to seed germination or potential insecticidal accidents.

? Your Name? WHAT'S IN IT?

By CHARLES DIDWAY

BLAIR
Blair is one of Scotland's most ancient surnames, having been found in written records there as early as the 13th century, mainly in the districts of Ayrshire and Perthshire.

The word itself is Gaelic for "a plain," and the surname Blair designated one who lived on a plain or level field, or who came from one of several places in Scotland named Blair. One of the most famous of these places is Blair Atholl, the location of Blair Castle which dates from 1269. Blair Castle was the seat of the dukes of Atholl.

The name Blair is common in North Ulster, Ireland, having been introduced there from Scotland, mainly during the Plantation of Ulster in the 17th century.

Blairs, immigrating from Scotland, were among the early settlers in America, and the name has become widespread here. A list of the 2,000 commonest surnames in the United States, compiled in 1964 from the Social Security Administration account files, showed Blair to rank 350th in the list, with an estimated 69,000 persons by the name.

One of the first Blairs to gain prominence in this country was James Blair, a native of Scotland, who came to Virginia in 1685 as a missionary from the Church of England. He founded the College of William and Mary and was its president for fifty years.

Francis Preston Blair was an American journalist who was the friend of Presidents Jackson and Van Buren and an active supporter of Lincoln.

There are towns named Blair in four states, a Blair County in Pennsylvania, and a number of places with such names as Blairsville, Blairtown and Blairsville.

Division I ratings given two choirs at contests

By MARK HAYS
Two Post High School choirs received Division I (superior) ratings at the Region XVI choir contests held last Thursday in Plainview.

The Division I ratings were in sight-reading and went to the boys choir and the mixed choir, each of which also received Division II (excellent) ratings in concert.

The girls choir was given a Division II rating in concert and Division III in sight-reading.

Other schools represented in the Class AA division of the contest were: Dimmitt, Lockney, Ralls, Denver City, Idalou, Slaton and Littlefield.

The choir traveled to Plainview on two school buses, which departed at 7 a.m. The buses were driven by Silas Short and Mrs. Jet Puckett.

Ag members assist in motorcycle races

By GLEN BRANSON
Last Sunday, members of the vocational ag department supplied concession stands for the motorcycle cross-country races held southwest of Post. More than 200 racers participated in the event, marked off through the hills.

The ag department also supplied gas along the way and some two-cycle oil.

The mixed choir sang at 3:20, and to end the day, everyone climbed in their rig and home again — jiggedy-jig.

The boys choir sang at 11:30, after which the Post group ate lunch at 12:30 at the Congress Inn.

Three delegates plan to attend church meeting

Bernard S. Ramsey, minister, Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Lee W. Davis Sr. will represent the First Christian Church as voting delegates to the biennial assembly of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Texas at Corpus Christi on April 19-22.

The delegates to the assembly will hear the two top international officers of their church — one of them the first black to hold the highest elective post.

Dr. Walter D. Bingham, a Louisville, Ky., pastor elected moderator last fall, and Dr. A. Dale Fiers, general minister and president of Christian Church, will be among seven speakers at the gathering.

The speakers will help develop the assembly's biblical theme, "That All May Be One," suggestive of Christian unity, reconciliation among races, world order and other kinds of oneness.

ROUND ROCK FAD

Dear Editor:
I just read the article in the March 23 edition about the round rock fad. We have had them in this area for a year or more. A friend from Jacksboro presented my daughter with one last spring. We call them Worry Rocks. For a small worry, she was instructed to hold it for a short time. The larger the worry, the longer the holding time. You see, here they are good for something besides holding paper down.

Sincerely yours,

CONSUMER CREDIT — A 3-PARTY SYSTEM

It involves (1) the consumer, the person who buys merchandise or service on credit; (2) the credit grantor, the business which sells goods or services to the consumer; and (3) the credit bureau, an organization which maintains a comprehensive record of the consumers paying habits and makes sure this record is readily available when and where the consumer needs it.

The credit bureau is such an important part of this triangle because credit grantors cannot afford to sell goods or services on credit or to extend loans unless they have some assurance that the consumers will keep their part of the bargain by paying as agreed.

Obviously, not all consumers and credit grantors can be personally acquainted with one another. It's also obvious the cost would be enormous if each credit grantor had to gather all the necessary credit information on each prospective consumer.

Such a practice would not only make the cost of granting credit prohibitive, but also cause the consumer a great deal of delay and inconvenience.

Easter Frolics 1972

By George L. Miller

When Jesus was born, the innkeeper almost succeeded in killing him by refusing him a place in the inn.

When Jesus was born, King Herod almost succeeded in killing him when he ordered the slaughter of all children two years of age and under who could be found in Bethlehem.

When Jesus was teaching, the religious leaders got so angry they almost killed him by stoning.

When Jesus was crucified, the crowd laughed so hard you'd almost think they were trying to kill him with shame.

Yes, many times men tried to kill Jesus. They even thought they had succeeded when he hung motionless on the cross.

But he rose from the dead. The grave could not keep him its prisoner.

For 19 centuries we've celebrated that event. We've sung hymns about it. We've put on pageants to honor it. And what the innkeeper and Herod and the religious leaders and Judas and the Roman Soldiers couldn't do—we've almost succeeded in doing.

We've almost killed the Son of God. Through over-familiarity, through cheap grace, through commercialization, through holiday highway fatality statistics, through glib prayers, through making his name a profanity, through revising his teachings to make them more comfortable, through hatred and conflict between man and his neighbor, through frolicking through life as if it didn't matter anymore.

We've done a good job of crucifying the Son of God and we're making headway with his tomb. It almost doesn't matter if he rises from the dead or not.

But don't fool yourself. The Good News says he is risen, he won't stay down—no matter what we do. Not even our Easter Frolics can kill him.

He also played "old Charley" in a 30-minute cowboy movie, "Shoot Out at Deephole," which was made for an oil equipment company as a motivational picture. Shoe shining, like men's hair styles, has changed a lot in recent years. The shoe shine boys have all but disappeared from streets and barber shops.

Roffler Men's Hair Styling, located in the Upper Room of the McCrary Building under Wanza Tubbs' operation, is not only offering that "new look" in hair styling, but is now offering a new shoe shining service too.

Same day service is promised as you'll note in Wanza's ad in today's Dispatch for shoes brought and left at the Upper Room. So shoe shine service is still available here—also in a new form.

Ten trophies were awarded in the race, which started at 8 a.m. and was completed about 4 p.m.

A Post entry, Mark Terry, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Terry, finished 11th in Class B, riding a Yamaha 250. Other local entries included Bob and Al Craig, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig.

Another Enduro is scheduled for the ranch sometime next fall, according to Jack Lott, ranch manager.

City Council—

(Continued From Front Page) county at a recent joint meeting made the city an offer on the price the county would ask to take over the city's law enforcement.

The city council contends a firm cost proposal has not been submitted, considered, or rejected.

The county, on the other hand, The Dispatch is told, feels that it made the proposal and it was rejected.

The cost figure was offered at the end of the joint session. When County Judge Dalby gave the figure in answer to a question from a councilman, another councilman commented that it was "too high."

The city did not take the figure as a firm offer, but the county did and the "too high" comment was taken as a refusal although the council took no vote or discussed it further.

To clear up the matter, Judge Dalby told The Dispatch yesterday he would be glad "to put the county offer in writing including also the scope of the coverage" if the city wishes to consider it.

Holy Week—

(Continued From Front Page) duct a special communion service today (Maundy Thursday) as part of the Holy Week observance. The service will be at 7:30 p.m.

Maundy Thursday is the day that the Lord instituted the Sacrament of the Altar and is a most fitting time for all Christians to remember the purpose of His death on the cross, said the Rev. George P. Ascher, Faith Lutheran pastor.

The service is based upon the high priestly prayer of Christ as He prayed for His church on that first Maundy Thursday. The theme of the sermon will be "Joy."

'72 Easter Seal Appeal ends Sunday, April 2

Mrs. Martha Compton, Garza County's Easter Seal representative, reported today that the 1972 Easter Seal Appeal for Crippled Children and Adults is going well.

The 1972 appeal will finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for crippled children and adults in Texas. Last year the society helped over 22,000 disabled persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families.

Mrs. Compton added that contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent to her as soon as possible, as the 1972 drive ends on Easter Sunday.

POSTEX JUNIOR RELAYS

Eight schools enter teams in Post meet

At least eight schools will be represented in the first annual Postex Junior Relays here Friday, April 7, according to Lane Tannehill, Post High School track coach.

The track and field competition will be in three divisions - freshmen, 8th grade and 7th grade.

Teams are entered from Post, Cooper, Frenship, Slaton, Tahoka, Roosevelt, Idalou and Abernathy, with a possibility that there will be teams from O'Donnell and Petersburg, Coach Tannehill said.

The "scratch" session will be held at 11 a.m., with the field event to start at 11:30 and the track events at 12 o'clock noon.

Team championship trophies will be awarded in each of the three divisions. Also to be awarded are 440-yard relay trophies in each division, 880-yard relay trophies in the 7th and 8th grade divisions, and a mile relay trophy in the freshman division.

Ribbons will be awarded individual winners through the first four places.

Postex Plant and the Post High School athletic department are co-sponsoring the relays, Coach Tannehill said. Spectator stands are to be erected at the track, which is on the campus, just south of the elementary school building.

Farmers Union membership drive is held

Garza County Farmers Union president Elvius Davis reports that a membership drive was conducted in the county the week of March 29-24. Area-wide the membership building effort involved 29 counties from the New Mexico border to the Rolling Plains.

The local Farmers Union hosted a Midwestern farmer organizer who worked during the week visiting with the area farmers and signing new memberships in the Farmers Union.

Davis emphasized that Farmers Union is currently supporting legislation in Congress that will mean "millions of dollars to Texas farmers." The National Agricultural Bargaining and Marketing Acts will give farmers the legal right to bargain for a fair price and will allow them to develop a supply control system of their own, independent of government control.

Most families and workers who participated in the membership building effort in Garza County were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Aten and Mr. and Mrs. Elvius Davis.

To the Voters

I take this means to convey to you my desire to remain a trustee on the Board of the Post Independent School District. I feel we have accomplished much in the past three years and as we are just beginning a new, progressive teaching program to upgrade our system, we should accomplish much more.

The school board has a two-fold duty; first to administer the taxpayers money wisely and second, to make rules which help to better our system for teachers and students alike.

My basic qualifications are experience and the sincere desire to make the Post School System one of the best in the state—for your children and mine.

YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED.

Library LISTENING POST

room. We are so happy Mrs. Morrow has volunteered to help us with this program. We expect it to be one of the most popular services we have ever undertaken at the library.

There is no charge for the Story Hour. Just bring your child to the library next Wednesday morning at 10. The children will love it!

A few months back I was asked to write a short history of the library which could be printed in a library newsletter which is published by the Lubbock City-County Library. We published that history here in the "Listening Post" and a few weeks later it appears in the newsletter "In the Wind."

Last week we learned that the State Library has discovered our history and is asking permission to reprint it in the Texas State Library Journal.

I have said often enough for you to be sick of it, that we have a newsworthy enterprise going here in the library. What we have been able to accomplish, with the dedicated help of volunteers, is just not done very often. Now the State Library is verifying what I have said.

We are a genuine miracle. We are a library of note. We have done a job that frankly no one thought ever could be done. And because we made it work, people from the state are very interested in trying to find out how and why it worked.

Well, we know it's no secret. We're living in a community that wants a good library, and we have a large supply of dedicated and usable volunteers who were willing to make it work. I don't know if other communities have what we have. I don't know if anybody else could make a volunteer library succeed.

All I know is we did it, and I'm glad. Aren't you?
