Post has a real reputation as "a very friendly town." We've heard this time and again from strangers, newcomers and folks who are passing through or who come to stay for a short while for one reason or another and then want to make the attachment permanent because they say "you have the most friendly town we've ever been in."

The opening paragraph is not intended as a community back-slapper, but as a way of leading into our observation that Dr. Charles McCook, our new dentist, fitted right in here from the day he arrived — and started his impatient wait to get that drill back in his hand.

This young fellow is just so naturally friendly that you feel you've known him most of your life after the first three-minute conversation.

If you haven't met, Charles, and his wife, Debby, come out to their "get acquainted" reception in the community room Friday morning.

This is The Dispatch's annual Cotton Week edition, and also the week a few brave farmers are planting their cotton.

Next week will be The Dispatch's "graduation edition" with the pictures of all the upcoming 1974 Post high school grads, autobiographies of the honor students, and details on the new combined baccalaureate-commencement exercise.

Come to think of it, the farmers' best chance for rain is always commencement night.

Scogin funeral held Monday

... Services for Mrs. Carrie Bell Scogin, 82, of 707 West 11th St., who died Friday in Garza Memorial Hospital following a brief illness, were conducted at 1 p. m. Monday in the Post Church of Christ with Bob Connel, minister, and Marvin Baker officiating.

Mrs. Scogin was a kindergarten teacher in her home here and had also taught kindergarten and in the public schools in New Mexico. She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star.

Burial was in the Clairemont Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Pallbearers were: Oscar Gray, Troy Haven, Arnold Parrish, Jimmy Baker, C. T. Scogin and Paul Hayden.

'Safari' is setting for '74 banquet

"The African Safari" was the theme of the annual Post High School junior-senior banquet held Saturday night in the junior high school gymnasium, with a capacity crowd in attendance.

The gym was decorated safari style to a "T" as the setting for a program that included a slide talk on tropical bats by Dr. Robert Baker of Texas Tech University, the class will by honor student Jerry Tyler and the class prophecy by honor student Sherrell Guichard.

Ann Mitchell, junior class president, presided over the program and gave the address of welcome, with the response by Jerry Tyler, senior class president. The invocation was by Timothy Owen of the junior class.

There are 15 honor graduates, based on grade averages of 90 or above this year, according to High School Principal James E. Pollard. The top five students academically are selected for the valedictory, salutatory and class history at the commencement exercises and the class

Hutto injures hand in lease accident

M. H. Hutto of 816 West 12th St., an oil field pumper, suffered a severe injury to his left hand Monday morning when it became caught in a pump jack belt on a lease near Post.

The fourth finger on Hutto's left hand was amputated at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, but a badly mangled little finger on the same hand was saved by skin grafting.

Remodeling of courtroom slated

The Garza County Commissioners Court allocated $9,019.60 Monday out of the county's 1974 federal revenue sharing funds for a remodeling of the district courtroom.

Architectural plans include a lowered ceiling which should materially help the acoustics of the courtroom which have always been very poor and a subject of constant complaint.

Some 1973 revenue funds, earlier allocated for courthouse improvement, also will be used for the courtroom project if necessary, it was indicated.

In adopting the budget for expenditure of the $75,688, in federal revenue sharing funds, the court allocated $23,634 for public safety, which included $9,000 for the county's share of the emergency ambulance service, $9,000 for rural fire protection, and $5,634 for a law enforcement salary.

Trustees authorize addition junior high coach, nix aid on demolition of old hotel

Post school trustees Monday night authorized Supt. Bill Shiver to add a "junior high coach" to the faculty for the 1974-75 school year, declined Mayor Giles McCrary's request for the school district to share in the cost of tearing down the former Ameen hotel, and found they did not have a single bidder for a 1974-75 gasoline contract to provide fuel for the district's school bus fleet.

Action to authorize a sixth boys' coach for the school system and the eighth coach on the staff (two coach girls sports and a teacher also coaches girls tennis) came after trustees listened to a tape recording of a discussion of the problem by Supt. Shiver, Athletic Director Bobby Davis and High School Principal James Pollard.

Davis, via tape, explained when the present coaching staff was hired they had agreed to "double up and handle junior high sports as well as high school sports," but that this would naturally cause some problems and the growth of the sports program would eventually require the addition of a junior high coach.

This means of course when high school teams are on trips and the coaches are with them that junior high classes are left without a regular instructor.

Davis also reported that Tahoka and Post have the fewest coaches in the district (seven each) while Denver City has the most with 18. Slaton has 10, and both Cooper and Roosevelt are adding coaches and already have more than Post.

Shiver told trustees that the addition of one coach to be in charge of junior high sports would solve the administration's problem of coaches on trips leaving junior high classes behind, and would enable the junior high school to offer an improved curriculum.

The former Ameen hotel in downtown Post now belongs to all local units of government having been taken over from its former owner for non-payment of taxes.

Mayor McCrary asked the school district, as "one of the owners" of the property, to accept a share of the cost of the demolition of the stone shell of the building so the property could be cleared, sold and put back on the tax rolls.

Trustee A. C. Cash said he did not believe the school board should consent to use money paid by taxpayers for the education of children to demolish old buildings. Other trustees agreed and the request was unanimously rejected.

Trustees did not expect any gasoline bids for their bus fleet so were not surprised by the fact they received none. But they were a bit surprised by the fact the only bid received to wash and grease school buses was one for "$20 per bus." That was tabled.

Borden's was low bidder for the 1974-75 lunchroom milk contract at 10 cents per half pint for milk and 10 1/2 cents per half pint for chocolate milk.

The Cockrum Printing Co., was low bidder for printing the football programs at a cost of $460.

New dentist in move to Post

Post's new dentist, Dr. Charles McCook, "doesn't like the big city" so after two years of dental practice in Garland, a Dallas suburb, he has moved his family here to open "the small town West Texas practice" he's always wanted.

McCook is a Ballinger native who was raised in Abilene so comes by his West Texas likings naturally.

At the present time he is waiting for his new leased quarters between the bank and post office to be completed so he can begin his local practice.

He told The Dispatch this week he should be ready for patients sometime before June 1.

Dr. McCook and his family already have been Post residents for four weeks waiting on those quarters.

They purchased the Bob Macy home at 807 West Main St. when the Macys moved into their new home on the Macy Ranch, and moved here from Garland.

A community get-acquainted reception for Dr. McCook and his wife, Dorothy, is planned for the bank's community room from 9:30 to 11 Friday morning to introduce the McCooks to local folks, and all local

AT COUNTY CONVENTION Demos ask resignation or impeachment trial

The Garza County Democratic Convention Saturday afternoon adopted a resolution calling either for President Richard M. Nixon's resignation or that "his impeachment be brought to trial as speedily as possible."

The resolution was the only one adopted at the convention, which was attended by 17 of the 51 delegates and alternates named at precinct conventions held the previous

Rites held for Bera Wilson

Services for Bera Ethel Wilson, 89, who died Friday in Garza Memorial Hospital, were held at 10 a. m. Monday in the Trinity Baptist Church, with the Rev. Gene Prevo, pastor, and the Rev. George Ascher, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, officiating.

Miss Wilson, who was born April 22, 1885, in Cleburne, Tex., had been a resident of Garza County since 1917. She lived at 107 West 7th St. in Post.

Survivors include a brother, Sam Wilson of Slaton, and a sister, Mrs. Robert Gollehon of Littlefield.

Interment was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Pallbearers were: Jimmie Redman, Bernie Jones, R. H. Sappington, Douglas Tipton, Bob Collier and Bobby Cowdrey.

Saturday. Ewell E. (Gene) Gandy, Les Brown and Pat N. Walker were elected as the county's three delegates to the state Democratic convention in September.

Under the new guidelines of the state democratic party, the delegates were elected in caucuses based on the number of votes cast in the governor's race in the various voting precinct — Precinct 1 — with Brown and Walker being elected by combined caucuses of the other precincts.

County Democratic Chairman N. C. Outlaw was elected permanent chairman of the convention and Mrs. Fern Jones, secretary.

Committee chairmen appointed by Outlaw were: Dr. William C. Wilson, resolutions; Charles Didway, credentials; Paul Jones, delegates, and Pat N. Walker, order of business.

"Today's convention may be the last of its kind we will attend," the county chairman said in a brief talk at the beginning. He explained that the elimination of the county convention in its present form may be brought about through recent changes by the Secretary of State, including the one two years ago of financing primary elections, and the more recent one of nominating delegates to the state convention.

Serving on the four committees at the convention were the following: Resolutions: Dr. Wilson, chairman; Les Brown, Mrs. Juanita Pantoja and Mrs. Amy Havis. Credentials: Didway, chair-

Hutchins rites are in Houston

Services for James Malcolm Hutchins, 54, of 118 North Ave. Q, were held at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday at Heights Funeral Home Chapel in Houston with the Rev. James Shelton officiating.

Military graveside rites were in Resthaven Cemetery at Houston.

Hutchins, a resident of Post for 30 years, died about 7 a. m. Monday at the home of his son, James F. Hutchins of Houston, after suffering an apparent heart attack. He and his wife were visiting his son and wife in Houston at the time.

Hutchins, a native of Waller County, moved here from Houston. He was a retired gauger for American Oil Co. and a veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Mozelle; the son of Houston; and two daughters, Mrs. Jane Odum of Post and Mrs. Betty Bertrand of Lubbock.

Costly delay at crossing

It is a tragic thought, but true, that the Santa Fe Railroad has been planning installation of a crossing gate at Post's Main Street crossing for several years — and that the railroad originally scheduled the installation last February.

Had it been done on time, Larry Joe Carter, the 19-year-old Crosbyton senior who was instantly killed at the crossing last week when the pickup he was driving was hit by a passing through freight, would be graduating next week and looking forward to a lot of things.

Just what the hold-up has been on the installation, we have been unable to learn because we have yet to establish communications with proper Santa Fe officials.

But we have a letter in, as well as an unanswered phone call and in due time we are sure we will receive a proper answer.

We note also Post Chamber of Commerce directors are also showing interest and have written urging prompt installation of the gate. Good going, guys!

We would hope that Post's City Council, the local organization with the legal "clot" to get something done, will also take an interest at its next meeting.

As we understand it, the plans for the crossing gate have been drawn, approved by the state highway department, and the installation was budgeted for this year.

A crossing gate of course will not be a total solution. Nothing in modern life is. But a crossing gate, although it will slow cross traffic longer than now, will provide a much greater safety factor than the only present signal — that little red light by the side of the highway and the side of the track.

The Main Street crossing is considered by everybody — and with good reason — as a high risk crossing.

We have a theory that the broad width of Main Street has something to do with increasing the danger, because it puts that little red light too far to the right for the average driver who is approaching the crossing from the west. He doesn't see it as well as he would if the crossing were narrower and the light thus more directly in his vision.

Now we know the crossing gate is planned, what's needed is a little community impetus to get the Santa Fe moving on the installation before we have another accident. — JC

Our Cotton Week Edition

This is The Dispatch's annual Cotton Week Edition and, as presstime nears, the outlook for another bumper, if not another record, crop year is good everywhere except on the moisture front, which is always a decisive factor.

Coming off the best year production-wise and market-wise in the county's history, farmers are hoping for another general rain like the one of week before last. The need for more moisture was made even more pressing by the high winds of Sunday and Monday. Many farmers who had planned to go ahead and plant Monday held off because of the gusty winds, according to County Agent Syd Conner.

"As a whole," the county agent said, "Garza County farmers had the highest production and the highest prices from the 1973 crop they've ever had." "And that is a rare combination," he added.

The production capabilities for another good crop are excellent and the market situation for the shorter staple, lower "mike" cotton grown on the South Plains is also promising, according to the agent. The only crimp in the whole outlook is that old nemesis of the West Texas farmer — insufficient moisture.

Not only on the South and High Plains, but also nationwide the outlook for the 1974 crop is as good or better than it was last year, due to expanding world markets and other marketing factors.

The South Plains cotton farmer has shown that he can continue expanding his production to keep up with the nation's and the world's increasing needs for cotton. All he needs is a decent break from the elements.

The potential is there, helped along by better management, that has consistently boosted yields when the weather was right.

The Dispatch is hopeful that its Cotton Week Edition and the many congratulatory messages to the cotton industry by advertisers to be found in today's paper will contribute to prospects for another general rain that will see us go on to even better marks than those chalked up by the 1973 cotton crop.

Considered 'easy pickings'

Anyone who reads the newspapers, watches television or listens to the radio knows that one of the riskiest jobs there is nowadays is working in a grocery store at night, especially one that is off "the beaten path."

That fact was brought home to us again over the weekend when we read of the slaying of two teen-age customers and the owner of a grocery store-service station three miles east of the North Central Texas city of McKinney.

Grocery stores aren't the only places that are held up at night, of course, but it seems that they have borne the brunt of the assault in recent years. Most bandits apparently consider them "easy pickings."

Whether it's a grocery store, a liquor store, service station, or what have you, the hijack slaying toll is figuring in our rising crime rate and can be mainly attributed to two things — soft pedaling of laws that would prohibit the sale of hand-guns and other lethal weapons to any and everybody, and the hue and cry against capital punishment for capital crimes. — CD

THE WAY THE wind blew just before daylight Monday, you'd have thought March had traded places with May. In case the reader would like to know what I was doing up that early, I wasn't. I was in bed, but just not a sound enough sleeper to sleep through it all.

And that's my weather note for the week, reminding me once again that it was Mark Twain who wrote, "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it."

THE MAN UP the street says if you're going to make a mistake, at least make a new one each time.

Once again, over the weekend, someone tried to settle an argument by calling The Dispatch office, but the caller is having to wait until I find a book I've lost in my "den" out at the house, which isn't hard to do. I mean isn't hard to lose, not isn't hard to find.

WHAT THE CALLER wants to know is whether Norm Cash is the first major league baseball player named Cash. "There are two other Cashes besides Norm playing major league baseball this season, but I know Norman started playing before either one of them," the caller stated. "But what the argument is all about," he continued is whether or not "Stormin' Norman" is the first Cash ever to play in the big leagues."

I told him I can answer his question if I can find my "Encyclopedia of Baseball," which shouldn't take long, since it's too big a book to lose for good — even in my den. So, hang on and look for the answer in next week's column.

I DID LEARN in looking over the major league rosters for this season that besides the three big league baseballers named Cash, there is also one named Money. There are also three pitchers with appropriate names — Rollie Fingers, Bill Hands and Rich Hand.

On the same subject — names — there was a wire story in the papers a few weeks ago about the changing of several place names and street names in Arizona because they were named in the "wild and woolly" days and are considered in bad taste.

ARIZONA'S LARGEST city, Phoenix, was asked to change some of its street names. I flipped through our ZIP Code guide here at the office, and didn't find a single risqué name among the streets of Phoenix. But I did find these colorful names, and it would be a shame to change them:

Dreamy Draw Drive, Lazy Lane, Moonlight Way, Moon Valley Drive, Mummy Mountain Road, Pepper Tree Lane, Praying Monk Road, Prickly Pear Lane, Road Runner Road, Scattergood Place, Squaw Peak Drive, Tam O'Shanter Drive, Wagon Wheel Drive, Why Worry Lane and Winged Foot Road.

Everyone who knows anything at all about our efficient fire department will know this didn't happen in Post — but it took place somewhere:

A newcomer to a small community was invited to join the volunteer fire department. "I don't know," he shook his head. "I'm not too young, you know. Don't know how good I'd be climbing ladders."

"Don't let that bother you," he was told. "We seldom get to a fire in time to lean a ladder against anything."

IT'S A well-known fact by now that where vandals are concerned, historical preservation doesn't mean a thing. We've had historical markers damaged or destroyed ever since the Garza County Historical Survey Committee started putting them up several years ago. Such vandalism isn't, of course, confined to Post and Garza County. At Snyder, officers are looking for three suspects who damaged the White Buffalo statue located near the courthouse there.

The buffalo was struck with a tire tool by several youths who fled the scene with police in pursuit. They abandoned their car after it had a blowout and police impounded the vehicle. Such acts are as senseless as they are malicious, but they just keep going on.

YOU MIGHT clip this for future reference in case you find it necessary to wriggle out of something: "It's against my better judgment, but I'll admit it. I was only joking when I told you I didn't mean what I said about reconsidering my decision not to change my mind. And I hope that clears everything up."

Good earnings year seen by Anderson, Clayton Co.

POSTON — Anderson, Clayton Co. today reported an increase of 75 per cent in net income for the nine months ended March 31, 1974 to $25,431,000 or $2.24 a share compared to $14,500,000 or $1.24 a share for the corresponding period last year. Sales were $655,968,000 compared to $508,196,000 at the same time a year ago.

The company's third quarter earnings were $11,353,000 or $1.10 a share compared to $6,300,000 or $0.60 for March 1973. Sales were $249,974,000 compared to $190,504,000.

Announcing the earnings, Barlow, president and executive officer, said, "The company is on its way to setting the best earnings year in its history if present conditions continue through June 30. Credit for a large part of the excellent financial report will go to our chairman, S. McManis Jr., who took over the company a year ago. He alerted our shareholders and general managers to raw material and price problems in an inflationary economy."

Barlow said figures do not yet include any dividend from the company's non-consolidated Brazilian subsidiary. Since that subsidiary went public in 1972 it now declares and pays a dividend to the parent company in the fourth quarter of our fiscal year," Barlow stated.

POWER, POWERS

Not only is Power one of the most numerous surnames in Ireland, but it is also found in England and Scotland, along with Powers, which by taking the genitive "s" means "son of Power."

Though not Gaelic in origin, Power is one of that class of hibernized names which may be regarded in Ireland as 100 per cent Irish. The Normans brought the name to Ireland with Strongbow's 12th century invasion.

Authorities on Irish surnames say that the name meant one who was poor, a pauper, but the Irish Powers are not resentful of the origin, because it meant being poor through taking a vow of poverty and not through destitution.

In England and Scotland, it is generally believed that the name Power meant one who came from a place named Poher in Brittany. One authority says that the De Poers, a family that came from Poher, did not relish having their name, when in England, Latinized into Pauper, and so took to calling themselves Power. The same origin is claimed in Scotland, where a calendar of documents shows that William Poer was parson of Lemnair (Lumair) in 1227, and a horse was purchased from Thomas Power in 1312. Gilbert Power was burgess of Air in 1586.

Early English records of the name list a Philip le Power in Staffordshire in 1257.

In the United States, Power ranks among the 2,000 commonest surnames, with an estimated 15,000 persons of the name. Its genitive form, Powers, ranks much higher, however, with an estimated 90,000 persons of the name.

In Ireland, the Norman family named Power settled in County Waterford where they are still more numerous than anywhere else in that country. In the last century, Tyrone Power (1797-1841) was a celebrated Irish comedian, and in recent years an American film star has used the name. Marguerite Power (1789-1849) was a popular novelist in her day. Power's distillery produces a famous Irish whiskey.

Circus added to area Fair

LUBBOCK — The 57th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair has added a unique one-ring circus to headline its 1974 exposition, which also will star three top country and western stars during the eight-day run Sept. 21-28.

The Emmett Kelly Jr. Circus will take over in Fair Park Coliseum on the final two days of the fair, following the Loretta Lynn Show, popular Charley Pride, who holds fair records as a box office draw, and the Mel Tillis Show.

With the fair retaining its eight-day format for the second straight year, the exposition will open on Saturday and Sunday with Loretta Lynn. Pride will take over the stage on Monday and Tuesday and Tillis will be in the coliseum Wednesday and Thursday.

More than $45,000 in premiums will be offered, an all-time high. Part of the increase was a $1,000 boost in cash awards earmarked for the Parade of Bands, which will be held in downtown Lubbock on Sept. 23.

Lower prices affect cattle feed industry

FRIONA — Friona Industries, Inc., today reported revenues of $39.7 million and net income of $1.43 million or $1.26 per share, for the first nine months of its current fiscal year.

This compared with $31.6 million in sales and net income of $1.55 million, or $1.56 per share, in the same nine months of the prior year.

Third quarter revenues ending March 31 were $14.2 million and net income of $96,695, or eight cents per share, compared with sales of $10.7 million and net income of $58,916, or 59 cents per share, in the same quarter of 1973. Friona Industries had 25 per cent more average shares outstanding in this year's third quarter as the result of its initial offering of common stock in October, 1973.

"Profitability during the third quarter was adversely affected by depressed cattle prices throughout the entire feeding industry," said Jack Carrothers, president.

FIRST CATTLEBOAT! Those famous Texas longhorn cattle can trace their ancestry back further than the Mayflower. Columbus, on his second voyage to America, brought long-horned cattle from Spain to the West Indies. Descendants of these cattle later were taken into Mexico and eventually to Texas.

"The brain is a wonderful organ; it starts working the moment you get up in the morning, and does not stop until you get into the office." (Robert Frost)

Comfy Cotton Suits:

COLD WATER IS FOR DRINKING.

Cold water is a satisfying thirst quencher, but it's hardly what you need to get clothes really clean. With cotton you can use the hot water so necessary to get grimy work clothes fresh as new, white dress shirts really white, and fancy party clothes sparkling clean. For the brightest, cleanest wash in town, call for cotton. And use all the hot water you need.

Listening Post

By GEORGE L. MILLER

I have lost two library books! I have tried to think of a nicer way to confess that embarrassing fact. I thought of words like "misplaced," or "strayed," or "temporarily missing." I toyed with alternative theories, such as "I didn't check that book out, someone forged my name!" (Not too convincing since Pee Wee would probably notice that kind of forgery.) I considered insisting that I had returned the books and the librarian had lost them. (I almost convinced myself of this, but the trouble was I could account for all the other books I had checked out. I counted them all as I returned them. The two missing books just weren't there.)

Club officers installed to conclude year

The Woman's Culture Club closed out their year May 8 with a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Lee Davis with Mrs. Jack Myers, Mrs. Ira Lee Duckworth and Mrs. M. J. Malouf as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Inez Hartel of the Amity Study Club installed the new officers for the coming year. They are: Mmes. Lois Williams, president; Jack Myers, vice president; Ralph Welch, music chairman; Maxine Marks, civic affairs; Lee Davis, literary chairman; Doll Haire, press secretary; and Ruth Duckworth, treasurer.

Members present for the meeting were: Mmes. Opal Pennell, Lois Williams, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Loucille Myers, Ruth Duckworth, Doll Haire, Linda Malouf, Maggie Mae Jones, Amy Havis, Maxine Marks, Helen Welch, Helen Richards, Joy Dickson and one guest, Inez Hartel.

Most sensible of all was to say nothing about it. After all, who hasn't lost a library book once in a while? We're only human, right? So I'll just march right into the library and pay for the lost books, and forget about it.

Only this strange compulsion came over me this morning to confess — to tell the whole world what I had done. I got to thinking of other lost books; poor neglected volumes tucked away in the dark somewhere, gone but not forgotten, both missing and missed.

I've worried about them before. I've put in my plea that you look for them. I've begged you to bring them back. Trust your librarian, she's understanding, she's merciful, all will be forgiven.

But always before I was speaking theoretically. Now it's my turn. I've got to swallow my pride and face Pee Wee. She's been asking me about one of those books, it's a particular favorite of hers, she is certain I have it somewhere — in fact I think she suspects I'm really trying to steal it.

Is there forgiveness for me? Well, I'll soon find out. With summer approaching and time for my daughter to sign up for the Summer Reading Club almost upon us, I'll have to settle this debt. Oh how I dread it!

But I feel better now that I've confessed. I know you'll understand. And maybe it will make you feel better knowing that now I understand how you feel too.

Nick T. Pantoja is to graduate

WACO—A student from Post, Nick Tolentino Pantoja, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pantoja, will receive an associate of applied science degree in civil engineering technology from the James Connally Campus of the Texas State Technical Institute in ceremonies at 8 p. m. Friday, May 16, in the Waco Convention Center.

The graduation speaker will be Dr. David T. Kelly, head of the division of program development, Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

State Tech is a comprehensive post-secondary school with campuses in Waco, Harlingen, Amarillo and Sweetwater. It offers more than 60 technical and vocational programs.

YOUTH BOOSTER

Many of the advances made by the 4-H Club program in Texas have been due to the continued support of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, points out a 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Foundation is a non-profit organization which provides funds to enrich and expand 4-H as well as to provide for special activities and achievement awards. The Foundation garners private support and interest in 4-H on a statewide basis.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — With the primary elections out of the way, the race for House Speaker is getting hotter by the day.

At least three candidates for the speakership claimed legislative races May 4 turned out in their favor, and they are now in the lead.

One, Rep. Fred Head of Troup, contended he already has the speakership won with 80 votes. During the last week, he released names of 19 representatives backing him.

Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur laid claim to having gained seven votes in the primaries — enough to give him a total of about 55.

Rep. Bill Clayton said his pickup in the primaries "clearly established" him as the leader.

Rep. David Finney of Fort Worth hit all the claims as "phony bandwagon publicity," and urged support of his candidacy as a modern compromise.

Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville said he doubts outcome of the first primary appreciably changed the order of the candidates, and he maintained the race remains wide open.

The big four candidates — Head, Parker, Clayton and Finney — already have received more than $100,000 in contributions and spent about $62,000 on their campaigns.

Head raised and spent the most, $38,875 in contributions and $32,045 in expenditures. Clayton is second with $30,000 in donations and $10,208 in expenditures. Parker has raised about $20,000 and spent about $10,000, Finney $13,000 and $10,000.

INCUMBENTS FAVORED — The May 4 Democratic primary was a great day for incumbents.

Not only did Gov. Dolph Briscoe win a landslide victory over Frances "Sissy" Farenthold (by nearly 70 per cent of the disappointingly-light vote of 1.5 million), but there were no upsets of any officials in statewide or congressional primaries.

Further, only three state representatives and a single state senator were defeated in 77 House and eight Senate contests.

Republicans will make their most-determined statewide bids in the governor's race, with Dr. Jim Granberry, 41, of Lubbock as the nominee. Ex-Prisoner of War Nick Rowe is the GOP nominee for comptroller who will take on Democrat Bob Bullock.

CRIME FIGHT PLANNED — Gov. Briscoe announced a public information campaign to draw neighborhoods together to prevent burglary and other crimes.

The project is part of a continuing crime prevention program in Abilene, Amarillo, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Odessa and Waco. Goal of the pilot program is to reduce incidence of burglary by 18 per cent in each of six participating cities.

Publicity used in the campaign suggests that police crime-prevention specialists be invited into citizen's homes to demonstrate crime-prevention techniques and teach them to recognize potential criminal activities and report them to police. Texas ranks second in the nation in the number of trained crime prevention officers, with 57 graduates of the National Crime Prevention Institute.

About 220 officers will be trained in new preventive techniques about the end of the summer.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. John Hill held state funds can be spent to publicize the proposed new state constitution.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- * The Parks and Wildlife Department can spend money to feed and house young people working in parks and contract for reimbursement with the Department of Community Affairs.

- * The Board of Pardons and Paroles has authority to recommend a prisoner for an indefinite medical reprieve, emergency reprieve or parole, though the conviction has not been reviewed by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

- * A second cousin of a La Joya School District trustee may not be reappointed migrant director for the district (though paid from federal funds).

- * Counties and incorporated cities may be considered multi-purpose human resource delivery organizations for purposes of distributing appropriations to the Texas Department of Community Affairs. But a requirement of compliance with guidelines established by the governor is invalid.

- * An act of the legislature creating Harris County Youth Village Independent School District is an unconstitutional local law.

- * Community Centers for Mental Health and Mental Retardation Services must provide workmen's compensation benefits for employees, when a new law becomes effective, and may do so earlier.

- * The only sanction available to a county tax collector for failure to pay the motor vehicle sales tax is to refuse registration.

- * American Revolution Bicentennial Commission members may receive 10 cents a mile reimbursement for auto use on official business.

The best way to let buyers know about your garage sale is to advertise it in The Post Dispatch.

INSECTICIDE USE
"Through the wise use of cultural practices available to today's farmers, the heavy use of insecticides could be drastically reduced."

That's the contention of Dr. Perry Adkisson, professor and head of the Department of Entomology at Texas A&M University. Adkisson also holds a joint appointment with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
"Our farmers today have become too dependent on chemicals to control insects in their crops. They have forsaken the more traditional methods of pest control such as crop rotation, timing of plantings, early production and stalk destruction because these practices are more preventive in nature and do not offer immediate relief to a pest infestation," points out Adkisson.

The entomologist notes that about 270 million pounds of insecticide are being applied each year to cropland in the United States. However, only about 5 per cent of the cropland is treated, with cotton, corn, tobacco and peanuts receiving almost 90 per cent of the insecticides applied. Cotton is

Development of one-boll cotton plant

Trying to develop a cotton plant that yields only a single boll instead of the usual 10 to 20 may sound like progress in reverse.
But it could prove to be a forward-looking concept for future cotton production in the irrigated western states if Dr. Nick Muramoto's research bears singular fruit.
The Hawaiian-born scientist, who's a plant breeder at the Arizona experiment station in Tucson, has been working on this and other new cotton-growing approaches for some 10 years now.
His idea is to develop a variety that would require only 10 days' fruiting period instead of the usual 90, could be planted at the rate of about 250,000 to the acre instead of the normal 20,000, and would utilize flood irrigation methods.
Possible benefits of such a system could be lower production costs, more uniform fiber quality, and fewer if any insect problems.
The concept of Dr. Muramoto springs from the fact that the normal cotton plant is not as efficient as it could be in utilizing sunlight. He points out that after 45 days the plant's upper

PAY BILLS To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly — never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor.

Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collecting and has changed your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed or altered unless subsequent dealings with the same firm results in a better record.

Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit bureau. Payments in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come — perhaps for the rest of your life.

Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions, particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts.

Keep your picture bright and shining and enjoy all the conveniences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.

Over 200 persons attend Hackberry Co-op meeting

By MRS. ROBERT MOCK

First thing, let me correct a mistake in last week's paper. It was Mrs. W. A. Basinger instead of Mrs. C. E. Basinger that was staying with Don and family; also she is Ray Lynn Basinger's grandmother. Pardon me for mixing them up.

The annual meeting of the Hackberry Co-op Gin and Fuel Association was held May 7 at Vann's Catering Service. The meeting was preceded by a meal served to 214 persons. During the business meeting, short comedy films entertained the youngsters.

The financial report showed ginning margins of some $223,000. The fuel association margins were reported as some $18,000.

Gene Beck, manager, introduced the out-of-town guests who included Jim McGeebe, J. B. Potts, Will Parker and Syd B. Wyatt, all of Post; Tommy Lawson of Tahoka, and Bill Gaines, Ronnie Brown, Jim Morton and Aldon Woods, all of Lubbock.

In addition, the current employees were recognized. They included: P. W. Crawford, Isaac Hooper, Darrell Jones, Tony Martin, Tommy Lumsden, Ray Johnston, Joe Perez, Valeriano Ramirez and Lupe Prado.

In the manager's report, members were told of the changes made in the last 12 months and anticipated changes. Emphasis was placed on the importance of the regional cooperatives in relation to the success of the cooperative gins.

Billy Weaver was elected director to replace Lee Mason, whose term was up.

Door prizes were 100 per cent cotton towel sets.

At the close of the meeting, stock retirement and dividend checks were distributed for approximately $138,000.

Approximately 220 persons attended the Southland Boosters Club's annual athletic banquet in the high school gym. The meal, decorations and clean-up was a joint effort of the boosters and the athletic team members.

Numerous awards were made and the junior high and senior high cheerleaders were introduced.

Dale Evans, an assistant coach at Texas Tech, spoke at the banquet on "The Definition of a Winner."

After the banquet, the crowd adjourned to the auditorium where they were treated to the very first concert of the very first Southland band.

Troy Warren, band director, had high praise for all the students since their beginning as band members four months ago. The 18 junior high band members played five selections and the seven senior high bandmen played eight selections.

This is the time of year when young Americans everywhere are filling the hearts of their parents and friends with pride and the young people of Southland did just that Friday night.

Happy Birthday, Renee; seven years old May 13. Goodness!

Little Leaguers set for season lidlifter May 20

The Postex Plant Yankees and the First National Bank Dodgers will open the six-team Little League season with a single game Monday evening, May 20.

All Monday night activity throughout the season, which ends June 22, will consist of a single game, with two games scheduled for Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Minor League fate will be decided Friday

Whether or not minor league baseball is played here this season depends on the turnout at a meeting set for 8 o'clock Friday night, May 17, Ed Bradshaw, league president, said today.

"This meeting will be the last chance for interested parents to show whether or not they want a minor league here this summer for their youngsters," Bradshaw said.

"Last week," the league president continued, "a meeting for the minor league was held to determine managers for each team. Only two parents showed up and no volunteers for team managers. The only ones in attendance at the meeting were the league president and the player agent."

"The player agent commented that it was a shame that there are 46 kids who wish to play minor league baseball, but no managers who would volunteer their time to spend a couple of hours a day for four weeks for a worthwhile program."

If the minor league does not exist this year, then the Little League next year will be hurt very badly, Bradshaw pointed out.

He said a second effort will be made at Friday night's meeting to sign up managers for each of the four minor league teams.

"All persons interested in managing a minor league team are asked to please attend this meeting," the league president said.

"Otherwise, if no prospective managers show up at the meeting, there will not be a minor league here this year."

The meeting will be held at the courthouse.

The six Little League teams and their sponsors are: Yankees, Postex Plant; Dodgers, First National Bank; Cardinals, Post Volunteer Fire Department; Tigers, Bob Collier Drug; Deers, Taylor Tractor & Equipment Co.; Red Sox, George R. Brown.

FACULTY SALARIES
Faculty salaries and fringe benefits have risen 41.6 per cent in the 1967-68 academic year according to the American Association of University Professors. The cost-of-living index rose 28.3 per cent during the same period.

WHERS AND GOBBLEERS
Minnesota may be known as Gobbler State, but a more accurate term nowadays might be the Gobbler State. In 1973, it placed about 23 million gobblers — the largest output of any state in the nation.

Nation's capital given taste of bigtime rodeo

DENVER, Colo. — Rodeo, once a western pastime, is seen in nearly every state today, and it's getting bigger all the time in the east, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Last week the broncs and bulls, along with a host of cowboys, staged a "demonstration rodeo" in Washington, D.C., between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington monument.

"That's the first time in history a rodeo has ever been held there," said Bob Ragsdale, association president, who was also on hand to compete.

The event was staged primarily for the benefit of reporters, U.S. representatives and senators, heralding the Capital Centre rodeo in nearby Landover, Md.

"Actually, some of those congressmen seemed pretty knowledgeable about rodeo," Ragsdale said. "I think that's partly due to Clem McSpadden's efforts back there."

Cong. Clem McSpadden of Oklahoma is a part-time rodeo announcer, former contestant and former president of the association. He also serves as general manager of the annual National Finals Rodeo.

The Landover rodeo brings the sport to a new high, Ragsdale said. Most of the nation's top cowboys are entered in the contest, which runs Tuesday through Sunday in the new Capital Centre.

Howard Harris III of Newtown, Woodstown, N.J., is producing the rodeo, which features 12 by 12-foot panels to give the audience "instant replay" via color television.

CEMETERY WORKDAY
An all-day workday has been set for May 21 at the Grassland Cemetery, according to Kelly Laws, president. Everyone is urged to come and be ready to work.

GAMMA MU OFFICERS — The Gamma Mu chapter's new officers for the ensuing year are, from left: Judy Bush, president; Orabeth White, vice president; Jane Mason, secretary; Ruth Ann Young, treasurer, and Jody Ammons, educational director. They were installed at the Founder's Day banquet.

There is an almost daily appearance of new and stronger evidence that the High Plains may reap substantial and enduring benefits from the burgeoning world-wide interest in the revolutionary open-end spinning system, according to officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson points out that just within the last two months:

Two Southeastern textile companies have had top executives in Lubbock conferring with PCG, the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech and others about possible High Plains locations for open-end spinning mills;

A Texas company has expressed strong interest in establishing a plant in this area;

Several foreign mills have purchased High Plains cotton specifically for open-end operations, and

A number of overseas companies have answered a recent PCG advertisement which offers to supply existing data and new information being developed on the performance of High Plains cottons on the new system, leaving no doubt as to their active interest in short staple, low micronaire cotton as the raw material for open-end equipment now in place or in various stages of planning.

To these facts Johnson adds: Southwest Textiles in Abernathy is already producing yarn on open-end spindles and expects more spindles in the very near future;

Feather Fabrics, Inc., of Lubbock, is now installing the first arrivals of open-end equipment, expects a nominal amount of production by the end of May, full production in the Lubbock plant by December, and has on order the equipment for another complete mill for which a site is yet to be selected;

Another local investment entity, not yet ready for a public announcement, is known to be laying plans to build a spinning mill on the High Plains, and Daiwa Spinning Company of Osaka, Japan, has broken ground for an integrated spinning, weaving and finishing operation at Levelland.

"Put all these developments together," says Johnson, "and although some are still in the tentative stage it is hard to keep from getting excited."

The outbreak of activity as related to High Plains mills and to High Plains cotton in other mills stems from early studies which indicate that cotton from this area, especially low mike cotton, can be used as efficiently as higher priced cottons on the open-end system and produce yarns of equal or superior quality characteristics.

In 1972 and 1973 market discounts for low mike cotton across the belt amounted to about $10 per bale, Johnson notes. "So if, as is entirely possible over the next few years, the use of this cotton by open-end spinning plants should reduce the discount on low mike cotton by just 50 per cent, it would mean an increase of $5 or more per bale in the market price of a significant amount of High Plains cotton."

"And that alone, not to mention the incalculable secondary benefits to the area economy, is enough to get excited about," he concludes.

SS TAXES INCREASE
Social security taxes were increased Jan. 1. Although the tax rate remains at 5.85 per cent for employees and 5.85 per cent for employers, the tax base was increased from $12,600 to $13,200. This means the maximum tax is now $772.20 for both the worker and his boss.

CIVILIZING FORCE
Nine-tenths of all seeds cultivated are cereal grains — the breadstuffs of the world. And historians say early civilizations developed in Egypt and Mesopotamia because their climates were favorable for growing cereal grains.

related to High Plains mills and to High Plains cotton in other mills stems from early studies which indicate that cotton from this area, especially low mike cotton, can be used as efficiently as higher priced cottons on the open-end system and produce yarns of equal or superior quality characteristics.

In 1972 and 1973 market discounts for low mike cotton across the belt amounted to about $10 per bale, Johnson notes. "So if, as is entirely possible over the next few years, the use of this cotton by open-end spinning plants should reduce the discount on low mike cotton by just 50 per cent, it would mean an increase of $5 or more per bale in the market price of a significant amount of High Plains cotton."

"And that alone, not to mention the incalculable secondary benefits to the area economy, is enough to get excited about," he concludes.

Just How Really Important You Are!

By Ken Metzger

You know, you are really important. In God's eyes you are of infinite worth. In His teaching and through His earthly ministry, Jesus illustrated the importance of each one of us. He called attention to the sparrow, saying that not a one falls from the sky without being noticed by God the Father, and the fact is that each of us are worth far, far more than many sparrows. In the parable of the lost sheep, Jesus again underscored the importance and worth of each individual soul. Jesus, as He walked the earth, met no one who was not important to him, no one too insignificant to be ignored. Jesus showed us just how much we as individuals mean to God.

In a recent issue of the "National Geographic", there appeared an article on "astro-science", the study of outer space. One astounding fact brought out in the article was the immensity of space. When compared to the entire expanse of known space, the earth is very tiny indeed.

With the Psalmist we almost want to cry: "When I look up into the night skies and see the work of Your fingers—the moon and the stars You have made—I cannot understand how You can bother with mere puny man, to pay any attention to him!" But our faith in God, revealed in Jesus Christ, enables us to affirm with the Psalmist: "Yet You have made him (man) only a little lower than the angels, and placed a crown of glory and honor upon his head." (Psalm 8:3-5. L. B.)

How truly amazing is God's love for each one of us! St. Augustine is quoted as saying that God loves each of us as if there was only one of us to love. All we can do is accept this fantastic love by faith, and abide in it. Praise the Lord!

SBA not just lending agency

The Small Business Administration "is not strictly a lending institution but also offers the small business men a variety of programs to aid him in management problems." J. B. Haire, who specializes in management in the Lubbock district SBA office, told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in city hall.

Over 90 per cent of the businesses that fail each year in the United States reach that end because of poor management, Haire emphasized.

He said while the SBA had too few management men to help business men directly because of the large district served, a variety of programs can be utilized.

These included counseling by a member of SCORE, an organization of retired business men who are paid only travel expenses by the SBA, to help solve various management problems but who volunteer to do the work just to help others with the acquired talents.

Others are a variety of free publications offered by the SBA and written by experts, and a growing Small Business Institute program with colleges and universities in which students help business men solve individual problems. Some 185 schools are now involved in the program, according to Haire, with the pilot program at Texas Tech being selected by SBA officials as "the best in the nation."

County Court —

 boosted the county homestead tax exemption from $2,000 to $3,000 as required by state law.

The court will meet as the county board of equalization Friday, May 24, and this will serve as the court's second meeting of the month. It will not meet Monday, May 27.

Commissioner Ted Aten and Mrs. Ruby Williams were named by the court to represent the county on the new Youth Service Program Board being organized under a new federal funding program.

Syd Wyatt made a presentation on recent changes in state law allowing county employees a tax-deferred savings plan through payroll deductions. Mrs. Sue Otto was appointed deputy jail matron.

Another Era Of Corn
 The oldest remains of cultivated corn found to date are more than 5,000 years old. Turned up in the refuse of New Mexico's Bat Cave, they came from a species that has since disappeared from earth.

School Board —

 Shiver reported that Dr. H. G. Phillips of Austin, accreditation director for the Texas Education Agency, had interviewed four Post teachers concerning progress made in Post's new "packet" educational program and expressed himself as pleased at the progress which has been made in initiating the new instructional methods.

The superintendent told the board that the Post school system is planning to undergo joint accreditation procedures by both the Texas Educational Agency and the Southern Association next year.

If Post receives Southern Association accreditation, a goal aimed at for several years here, it probably will be the first Class AA school system in West Texas to be so accredited.

Trustees voted to employ Fritz W. Struve of Abernathy as a new special education teacher. Struve will complete his work for his master's degree in special education at Texas Tech in August.

A long time ago the Mason school was consolidated with the Justiceburg school, which has now consolidated with the Post schools, leaving the ownership of the Mason school site, estimated at about two acres with possible oil royalties, in the Post district's hands.

Trustees have been tracing the location of the Mason site and now are preparing to negotiate with the farmer having the land for the sale of this property and recovery of oil royalties, if any, which should have been paid the school district.

Trustees told Shiver they preferred the actual commodities rather than a seven cents a meal "commodity allowance" for the school lunchroom program after Shiver told them the commodities used this school year amounted to about nine cents per meal.

The letter query on the commodities had been received from the state welfare office.

Trustees discussed lighting of the two school tennis courts and adjoined without action after considering the possibility of accepting donations to pay the $1,000 estimated cost on the project.

CUB PACK MEETING

The last Cub Pack meeting of the year will be held May 21 at the City Hall beginning at 7:30 p. m. This will also include a rally to encourage boys going into the second grade to join the Cub Scouts. Any boy who joins is eligible to attend the day camps for the Cub Scouts.

FARM FACTS

Gobblers Replace Gophers
 Minnesota may be known as the Gopher State, but a more accurate term nowadays might be the Gobbler State. In 1973, it produced about 23 million turkeys—the largest output of any state in the nation.

Tough Competitors
 Man's biggest competitors for food and fiber are insects. Comprising nine out of 10 creatures on earth, insects—and the diseases they spawn and spread—destroy or eat more food and fiber than man consumes.

Cooperation is doing with a smile what you have to do anyway.

As It Looks from Here . . .

OMAR BURLISON, M. C.
17th District, Texas
WASHINGTON, D. C. — On April 11, the U. S. Senate passed a campaign "reform" bill, which provides for the financing of candidates for Federal office from the Federal Treasury.

Few people would argue that the present system can not be improved. The nub of the matter, however, is how to improve the political process without injuring the fundamental principle of political liberty. This involves the right of a citizen to support the political ideas he believes in and, conversely, not to have to support political ideas with which he disagrees.

As pointed out by the writer, Vermont Royaster, this principle has a constitutional background going back to Thomas Jefferson.

"To compel a man to furnish contributions of money for the propagation of opinions which he disbelieves and abhors," wrote Jefferson, "is sinful and tyrannical." In this connection, Jefferson was speaking of religious opinions which in 1786 were often closely entwined with political opinions. Among many people at that time was a strong sentiment for the support of religion out of the public treasury.

Thomas Jefferson was always on the side of freedom of thought. It was his contention that it was not enough that a man should be free to hold what opinions he wished — free to accept them, free to support them with his money or other effort. He believed that a citizen must also be free of being forced to support by his taxes those opinions in which he did not believe. This rule was later incorporated into our federal constitution and today it is a principle so fully accepted that we can hardly imagine that it was once in controversy.

Since that time, it has been solidly accepted with regard to religious opinion. Now, strangely enough, the same controversy arises again with regard to political opinions.

In the wake of Watergate and under the revelation of illegal contributions to candidates, and other scandals, there is strong sentiment among all shades of political philosophy — Conservatives, Liberals, Republicans, Democrats — to grope for ways to improve the system. Hence, the pressure to "do something" caused the Senate to pass its bill on April 11 for the taxation of all citizens for the support of political parties and political candidates.

This idea raises some troubling questions. From the practical aspects, no matter what formula is used for allocating funds out of the treasury, some political candidates will be favored and some penalized. Incumbent office holders would be favored and someone would have to decide what candidate is a "serious" contender to be entitled to receiving this sort of handout. The dilemma is no less as between the two major political parties. The formula in proposed legislation is based on what the parties polled in the last election and, since we know public sentiment can change drastically between elections, no set rule could meet circumstances in any given election year.

There is no question that many of the ideas put forth to improve our election processes are meritorious — campaigns are too long and too expensive; election time could be reduced; requirements for full disclosure of the source of all campaign contributions; restrictions on the amount any one person could contribute to any one candidate; and laws against what has come to be known as "dirty tricks."

These and other ideas can improve our present campaign system. But, if political liberty means anything at all, it surely means both the right of a citizen to support what political opinions he pleases and not to be forced into supporting those he detests. If we forget that in our rush to correct every seeming abuse, we risk the worst abuse of all — the tyranny of the public purse over the political candidate or party.

Peoples among AC graduates

AMARILLO — Commencement exercises for students of Amarillo College were Monday, April 13, for a number of 96 graduates. The candidates included Peopie Lee Peoples, a graduate of Post High School, who was awarded a certificate of completion from the School of Vocational Arts in air conditioning and refrigeration. Charles D. Lutz Jr., Amarillo College vice president, presided over the program, and Dr. Martin, college president, presented diplomas and conferral degrees.

The State of Texas is concerned with the welfare of children who are cared for by persons other than the child's own family. These people providing day care are required to obtain a license to operate and to meet minimum standards specified by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Many people do not know that the state licensing law applies to all persons keeping one or more unrelated children outside of the child's home for any part of the 24-hour day.

The license costs nothing and is a service to three groups of people: 1. the parents and their children, 2. the staff of the child care facility, and 3. the community. Licensing is seen as both protective and preventive. Parents are not always able to appraise the standards by which child care services are rendered. By establishing safeguards against risks, licensing serves to prevent physical danger and promote a good program of child development and training. It is not intended to usurp the parents' right to choose a facility, but to regulate the conditions under which care is provided.

The licensed child care staff is given assistance in achieving and maintaining minimum standards and has the support of the department in times of difficulty. It is the primary responsibility of the licensing worker to evaluate the child care facility and determine what, if any, changes must be made in order to qualify for a license.

Basic requirements include the following:

1. Fire and sanitation inspections of the facility.
2. Health card for persons working with children.
3. Immunization records on children in care.
4. Nutritious meals.
5. Knowledge of physical and emotional needs of young children.

The public is entitled to protection when services are offered on an open market. Child care facilities provide a community service and it is the responsibility of the community to support good child care. Day care is an important business because it deals with children in their most formative years. Thus it is essential that programs be developed to promote healthy growth and development of children.

If you now care for children in your home and have not been aware of the legal requirements for a license or if you are interested in providing child care you may contact: Mrs. Joanne Luebe, Day Care licensing representative, Box 2369, Lubbock, Tex.

Three HECE students tell of their duties

My name is Deb McKee. I am a senior in high school. This is my first year to be working with the Home Economics Cooperation Education Class. In this program you go to class four hours a day and then you go to work, usually only three hours a day.

I work at Jackson's Cafeteria and really enjoy my work. It gives me the opportunity to meet new people and to make new friends. Also it has taught me how to cope with many new and different problems.

My job at Jackson's consists of many things. From waiting on tables to rolling silverware and other odd jobs.

I have enjoyed being in HECE this year because it has taught me the importance of responsibility.

My name is Melba Curtis. I have participated in Home Economics Cooperation Education for two years.

My training station for both years was at the Medical Center under the supervision of Dr. Charles Tubbs.

My duties on my job are to call in the patients and find out their problems, assist Dr. Tubbs, file articles, register patients, weigh them and take their temperature when necessary, developing x-rays, assist patients in and out of the office and run errands.

From working at the Medical Center I have learned to take on responsibility, how to manage money and how to get along with the public. I have enjoyed being in HECE; it helps you to grow up and become adults.

My name is Janet Childs. I am a senior in Post High School. I have been in homemaking for four years and in Cooperative Homemaking one year. This year I am working as a housekeeping management assistant at the Wilson Medical and Surgical Clinic.

My job consists of: Filing charts, lab slips and x-rays, getting the charts ready for the next day, answering the phone, taking messages, and running errands.

This job has really helped me in many ways. I have learned how to get along with people, and manage my time and money. This will really be useful to me in the future, as I want to go into the medical field.

Comfy Cotton Says:

SCRATCHING IS FOR CHIGGERS.

Nothing is more irritating to the skin than a stiff, boardy shirt or dress. That stiff feeling that scratches all day long. Cool, comfortable cotton gives you a soft, pleasant feeling. So when you're looking for comfort, look for cotton, and leave the scratching for chiggers.
