

Two killed when plane crashes on landing approach at airport

Gary Joyner and Mary Lee Walker die in accident

Gary Wayne Joyner, 36, new owner of Radio Station KPOS here and an experienced former Air Force and commercial pilot, and Mrs. Mary Lee Walker, 37, Post mother of three who was just learning to fly, were instantly killed at 3 p.m. Saturday when the Cessna 150 plane in which they were flying hit telephone lines on a landing approach to the Post City-County Airport and crashed nose first at a speed of 95 miles an hour.

Frank Roth, an air safety investigator from Fort Worth who investigated the fatal accident for the National Transportation Safety Board, told The Dispatch Tuesday that according to four witnesses who saw the crash the plane was making a normal landing approach from the south when it dipped down and hit the telephone wires.

He said the dual-control training plane a 1966 model owned by the newly formed Post Flying Club of which Joyner was president, hit the four telephone wires which run along the south side of US Hwy. 380 right-of-way and crashed nose first just across the highway pavement.

According to Roth the plane hit on the north right-of-way of the highway with the force of the impact breaking off the tail section.

The plane then bounced over and 30 feet beyond the fence bordering the airport property with the body of the plane buckling back and coming to a final stop on top of the broken tail section.

The plane did not catch afire neither plane occupant was thrown completely from the plane by the force of the impact.

The investigator said the telephone wires measured 200 feet south of the end of the paved runway.

He said Mrs. Walker was in the left front seat of the plane and Joyner in the right front seat. The air speed indicator registered 95 miles an hour when broken by the crash impact.

Roth said that while the cause of the accident has not been officially determined at this time, a report of the accident, giving its probable cause as determined by a study of witnesses' written reports and other evidence obtained in his six-hour investigation here Sunday, will be made a matter of public record by the National Transportation Safety Board in Washington, D.C., within the next 90 days.

All plane crashes are probed by this agency as required by federal law so that air safety standards can be set and maintained.

Roth said the plane "did not stall."

One of the four witnesses to the crash was Pat N. Walker, husband of Mary Lee and local attorney, who also is a flying enthusiast and private pilot. He was atop a hangar at the airport making some repairs and watching Joyner and Mrs. Walker who had made a number of landing approaches.

Other witnesses to the crash were Julian Smith, resident engineer and a private pilot who was atop the hangar working with Walker, and two motorists who were driving in opposite directions on US-380 passing the airport — Mrs. Giles W. Dalby, who lives east of Post, and Norris Workman of Post.

The airport does not have a telephone so a spectator there had to drive into Post to request an ambulance and law enforcement help. (See Plane crash, Page 8)

Persons were killed in the twisted wreckage of this Cessna 150 plane Saturday afternoon when it crashed to the ground after striking telephone wires while coming in for a landing at the City-County Airport.

Stock show and Garza air open next week

Next Thursday, March 9, the day for the opening of the Garza County Junior Livestock Show and county fair, to be held in conjunction, the opening of the Garza County Junior Livestock Association.

The stock show directors met Monday night and will meet again Monday night, March 6, to continue with plans for the show, according to Tommy Young, president of the Garza County Junior Livestock Association.

Approximately 255 animals are expected to be exhibited by 44

Club and Future Farmers of America members, with the top 64 animals to be auctioned off at the annual Sale Saturday afternoon.

Weighing of the animals will take place Thursday morning, with the swine to be judged that night. The horse show will be at 1 p.m. Friday, and the lamb show Friday night. The steers will be judged Saturday morning, with the auction scheduled to start about 1 p.m.

The Garza County Fair is being sponsored by the county's home demonstration club members, with Mrs. Della Davis as director. Members of the fair committee are Mrs. Faye Payton, Mrs. Wade Terry and Mrs. Maurice Bush.

There will be divisions both for adults and youth in clothing, crafts, and plans to contact up to 30 artists concerning showing their works.

Such an exhibit and sale, which will be held in the OS Ranch ranch house, will be quite unique as most artists sell most of their works through particular galleries.

The art exhibit, which is hoped would become a regular feature of the fall benefit here, will be expected to draw a large group of art collectors from a wide area here for the show.

Funeral services for Miss Lucille Collier, 61, were held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the First United Methodist Church here with Dr. Marvin Boyd of Lubbock officiating.

Miss Collier, member of a pioneer Post family, died about 6:20 p.m. last Friday in Lubbock Methodist Hospital following an illness of several weeks.

She was born in Post on April 12, 1910, and after graduating from high school here received her bachelor's degree in elementary education from West Texas State College and her master's degree from Texas Tech.

Miss Collier had taught school in Post, Tahoka, and Lubbock. She had been a teacher in the Maedgen Elementary School in Lubbock for the last 10 years. She was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Kappa Gamma sororities and of the Order of the Eastern Star.

The shock waves which have been bouncing across our town since the tragic deaths of Mary Lee Walker and Gary Joyner Saturday afternoon in the airport plane crash, cause many to see in the tragedy the end to the Post Flying Club, which Gary helped organize, and the end too of the new wave of flying enthusiasm here.

Gary, who was trying to build flying interest here, would not want his accident to put an end to it.

Accidents happen in every phase of human endeavor. Statistics prove flying is safer than the "motorcade" which goes on on our highways. And if you want to study your statistics you'll probably find out flying is virtually as safe as simply "staying home."

Pea Wee Pierce, our new Post librarian, has something to be proud about. She checked out 850 books during February—the shortest month of the year, even with "leap year attached." And that is a big new February record.

That proves that the library, next to or right along side of the city.

Jones announces for commissioner

Paul H. Jones, Precinct 1 county commissioner, today authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for re-election with the following statement to the voters:

"I would like to announce my candidacy for another term as a county commissioner of Precinct No. 1, Garza County.

"I have lived in Post and Garza County for 26 years. I have enjoyed serving you for the past seven years and think I have learned the needs of the precinct and county. I believe I am better qualified to serve you with this experience.

"I have tried to treat everyone equal and will try harder in the future. I would like to serve you another term and will try to see everyone before the election. I would appreciate your vote and influence for another term."

Record banquet crowd sees top citizens, club honored

Over 300 persons, the largest crowd ever to attend a Post Chamber of Commerce banquet, gathered at the Community Center last Thursday night to hear Texas Tech Football Coach Jim Carlen speak and to give standing ovations to the city's man, woman and organization of the year.

"Man of the Year" honors went to Jim Cornish, publisher of The Post Dispatch, "Woman of the Year" to Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby, and "Organization of the Year" to the Post Lions Club.

The spacious Community Center was crowded for the annual membership banquet, which had as its theme, "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow."

Rounding out the two-hour program were songs by the Post High School choir's "Top Twenty," installation of Chamber officers, and directors and installation of the Chamber's new Women's Division officers.

"We have proved negative instead of positive and as a result young people are not getting positive leadership," Coach Carlen told his audience.

"People still realize the value of dealing with young people, but they are not going about it the right way," he said. "The parents themselves need discipline."

"Education is not the total answer . . . the biggest difference (between today's young people and those of earlier generations, is attitude."

Sports are all out of perspective, but even so you have to read through today's newspaper to the sports page before you find anything positive, the Texas Tech grid-mentor told his listeners.

The speaker was introduced by Gary Joyner, owner of radio station KPOS, who substituted for Bob Collier as master of ceremonies because of the serious illness of Collier's sister.

The plaques awarded to the man of the year and the organization of the year were presented by J. B. Potts, president of the First (See C-C Banquet, Page 8)

Another sheriff's sale on Tuesday

The third major sheriff's sale of real estate being sold because of delinquent taxes is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday, March 7, on the courthouse steps.

Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman is scheduled to auction off 11 properties, which readers will find listed in an ad on page 6 of today's Dispatch.

Visiting coaches and athletes here Friday

A team of three or four of the athletes and coaches attending the "Weekend of Champions" in Lubbock is to present an assembly program in the Post High School gym from 11 until 11:30 Friday morning, March 3, according to Jimmy Pollard, high school principal.

The "Weekend of Champions" is being sponsored by Lubbock's adult chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

The general public is invited to attend the program at the gym here, Pollard said.

FEBRUARY BROUGHT TWO 'HIGH' DAYS

Post doesn't have the weather records to prove it, of course, but the 87 degree weather reported both Tuesday afternoon and on Feb. 21 are believed to be record February highs.

Since Feb. 21, Post had had seven days with temperatures soaring into the 80s.

The lack of moisture isn't quite as bad as it was last year either. Mixed with February's "summer temperatures" was about an inch of moisture from snow on Feb. 1 and a trace of snow on Feb. 11.

Medical Center to be expanded

Bids are now being accepted on the remodeling and expansion of The Medical Center, damaged by fire the night of Jan. 26, Dr. Charles A. Tubbs, the building's owner announced this week.

He told The Dispatch the building at 111 North Avenue 1 would be expanded 12 feet at the front, adding some 720 square feet of additional space and providing more adequate quarters for two physicians.

Dr. Tubbs and his father, Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, practice in the Medical Center.

Dr. Tubbs told The Dispatch that a major portion of the heavy damage was covered by insurance. He said that new laboratory equipment is being ordered. The remodeling (See Med. Center, Page 8)

Air tragedy stuns community

The tragic plane crash at the city-county airport Saturday afternoon which took the lives of Radio Station Manager Gary Joyner and Mrs. Mary Lee Walker has stunned the entire Post community.

No small town can afford to lose two of its young energetic citizens, but we have lost them.

Many of us did not know Gary well simply because he hadn't been here that long. He was just "taking hold", pulling the local radio station literally up out of virtual oblivion to the recognized stature of "saved community asset."

When he moved to Post not too many months ago he brought with him that personal charm to be instantly liked, but more than that he had the desire and ability to carve a community niche for himself almost before he had settled down into community life.

When Bob Collier had to step aside last Wednesday, only 24 hours before the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet because of the final hours in the fatal illness of his sister, Gary stepped into the breach and gave an excellent performance as master of ceremonies.

He had already accepted the 1972 Chamber job as chairman of the membership and finance committee which meant he took on the job as chairman of the membership drive, the most thankless job in the civic organization. It was obvious to us he would have served the Chamber well. As Gary told us, "I'll do anything I can."

Gary was an experienced commercial pilot and he had sparked a real zooming interest here in aviation, being chiefly responsible for the formation of a flying club and then a civil air patrol squadron. You see he had the "instant know-how."

Fortunately for Post, he projected his ability quickly and in a short time made it obvious to the rest of us "settled down citizens" that a young and energetic man could make a good life for himself in Post.

We can only hope those that saw Gary Joyner in "action" will remember this lesson which he taught us all and pass the word to others who come this way.

Mary Lee Walker represents the growing group of Post men and women who in the last few years have found a new participation sport in flying.

Both Gary and Mary Lee leave behind heart-sick families, including children at the age when they need their parents the most.

We cannot begin to put their losses into words. But we can express the shock and genuine sorrow of this entire community in our loss.—JC

Our postmarks fast disappearing

Those who have read Tanner Laine's new book, "What's in a Name?", more than likely will agree with us that the book's most unique feature is the author's use of postmarks to accompany the account of how each post office got its name.

But, as many of you realize, the U. S. Postal Service is rapidly adopting an area stamp cancellation policy which means that the postmarks—the names of individual cities and towns—will cease to appear on the letters we receive. That is already taking place with letters mailed in collection boxes outside the post office. These letters are being cancelled at the postal service center in Lubbock, which means that the postmark of the town in which they were mailed does not appear on the letters. The American Name Society, among other groups, opposes this cancellation system and has adopted the following resolution:

"The American Name Society wishes to express to the United States Postal Service its dismay at the new system of stamp cancellation which omits local office names and indicates only general areas, thereby aiding in obliterating names that have been on the land for years. We urge the Postal Service to return to the former practice of providing a cancellation stamp for each post office."

The resolution has been sent to the appropriate official in Washington. May we urge you to write letters to your Congressman and two Senators supporting the intent of this resolution.—CD

All who are registered can vote

Due to a mix-up, many of Garza County's new crop of voters—those from 18 to 21 years of age—are under the impression that the only elections in which they will get to vote this year are federal elections.

This is all wrong. The new voters, under Amendment 26 to the Constitution of the United States, are eligible to vote in any of this year's elections, provided they are properly registered.

The reason many of Garza County's new crop of voters think they will be eligible to vote only in federal elections is that their registration certificate was stamped to that effect at the county tax office here.

It was all due to a misunderstanding in the new voting laws as they affect 18 to 21-year-old voters.

We older voters can render a service by assuring any of these young voters who are still in doubt about it that they most assuredly can vote in any of this year's elections—city, school, hospital board, primaries and general elections—if they are registered to vote.—CD

TODAY IS Monday, Feb. 28. Most any other year it would be the last day of February, but not this time. We are two months deep into Leap Year, which means February 1972 has 29 days—and lots of folks have a birthday for the first time in four years.

Every Leap Year there's lots of talk about the girls' privilege during the 12-month period asking their boy friends' hands in marriage, but that's a lot of malarkey. The way it has worked out, adding a 29 to February's calendar and telling the girls to relax their reticence about being the ones to propose hasn't done anything to increase the marriage rate.

UNLESS THIS Leap Year is radically different from those that have gone before, it will not increase the number of marriages. In fact, according to figures compiled by life insurance statisticians, only two Leap Years—1896 and 1920—have shown more marriages than the years before and after them. So there goes another legend!

The man up the street says most of us don't know what we want, but we're pretty sure we don't have it.

ALMOST LOST sight of in the welter of news of the President's visit to China, is the fact that Cracker Jacks, the peanut-popcorn-and-molasses confection that comes in a box with a "prize" inside, is 100 years old.

It makes me want to do something to celebrate the 100th birthday of my favorite confection. Cracker Jacks are among the first things I can recall eating, and, occasionally I still step into the Corner Grocery next door for a box.

R. W. RUECKHEIM, a German immigrant, invented Cracker Jacks in 1872 and sold them at a little popcorn stand in downtown Chicago. He opened the stand with $200 saved in two years of working on his uncle's farm at a salary of $150 a year.

Today, the Cracker Jack Co. sells throughout the world and is rated among the top five in the United States brand rating index.

IT USED TO be a thrill to tear open the gaily colored box of Cracker Jacks to see what kind of prize was on the inside, in addition to all the good eating. The prizes we used to get out of Cracker Jacks probably sell on the novelty counter now for anywhere from 29 to 89 cents, or thereabouts.

Such prizes as tiny horseshoe-shaped magnets, noise-makers (remember the "quacker" kind?), miniature penknives, small books that you could rattle real fast and see two boxers slug it out, rings and other "jewelry" were among the treasures you were apt to find buried deep in the molasses-covered popcorn and sugar-coated peanuts.

THE PRIZES one finds in Cracker Jacks nowadays are a little less glamorous, perhaps, but they no doubt still thrill the youthful purchaser. Mostly, they are plastic doo-dads that you take apart, then reassemble to create such things as tops, cannons, sail boats, etc.

Someone has said that as long as there are final examinations, there will always be prayers in public schools.

WITH THE Girl Scout cookie sale under way and Girl Scout Week coming up, I can't resist retelling this one that someone just told me.

During a first-aid course for Girl Scouts, the question was asked, "What would you do if a child swallowed a house key?" One girl's reply: "I'd climb in through the window."

Last Friday, a fellow from Crosby County sat down at my desk and requested that The Dispatch tell its readers that the 18 or 20-mile stretch of farm-to-market road from Post toward Crosbyton is ideal for dune buggies and motorcycles.

WHAT OUR visitor was getting at was that this stretch of road is not what you would call the best in the world for automobile travel. He said that while heavily traveled, it being the route from here to White River Lake, the road is not as well maintained as it should be for the amount of traffic it carries.

Since it has been quite a while since I have been over the road for any distance over a few miles, I can't vouch for its condition, but I see no reason for not taking our visitor's word for it. Any other comments on it?

Jubilee Singers are to perform at area church

By TOMMIE WILKE

Hi there friends and neighbors! Mrs. Aalee Hollis, Southland resident, reports that the Slaton Free-will Baptist Church will be hosting the Southern Jubilee Singers on March 4-5 and the public is invited. These singers are from Waco and are wonderful singers.

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Hollis visited recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hall in Midland. Mrs. Hall and three children were in a train-car wreck, but are doing better at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker recently spent some time at Lake Stamford. While there they visited their aunt, Mrs. Holda Moiriz, in Stamford. Mrs. Moiriz is 97 years young. They also visited their cousins, Al and Leona Smith.

Deaconess Sister Lydia Becker visited several days with Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker recently. She and the Beckers attended a fish fry at the Junior Becker home, along with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voigt.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Leake and son from Amarillo visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Leake. Mr. Leake, who recently spent some time in Mercy Hospital, says he is feeling real good and may be going back to work one day soon.

Roy Stolle and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stolle visited in our home this past Sunday afternoon.

E. L. Dunn of Dallas recently spent the weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunn. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Boatman of Toyah spent the weekend here in Southland.

Mrs. A. K. McKee's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Elam from Montana, are here visiting with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Maner and boys from Lubbock visited with Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Crawford Sunday.

Hasn't the weather been beautiful, especially last week. Each day more and more boats go by, heading for this or that lake. If this weather keeps up — the fish will probably start biting on anything and everything you toss to them! Oh, to be able to take off right now and go to Buchanan! Sigh!

Otto Klaus and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Klaus and girls went to Adrian Sunday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gurley.

Sunday guests in the home of Mrs. W. P. Lester were Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Duff and Donna from Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Troy

Lester, Ricky and Sherry from Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Lester and children from Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Lester and boys of this community, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Taylor and baby of Lubbock and Miss Jackie Moore of Post. The occasion of the get-together was to celebrate the birthdays of I. J. and Lee Troy. Happy birthday, guys.

Funeral services were held in Big Spring Wednesday, Feb. 23, for Dal Mining, former resident of this community. He passed away in Big Spring Feb. 21. Mr. Mining came to the Gordon community in 1915 and he lived here until 1952 at which time he moved to Big Spring. He was 72 and is survived by his wife, Eula, of Big Spring; a daughter, Mrs. T. B. Nix of Eastland; two sisters, Miss Ora Mining and Mrs. J. A. Warren, both of Slaton; and at least one niece, Mrs. Bobby Hoffman of Slaton. May God comfort his family in their sorrow.

Vaccination campaign against VEE launched

Horse owners in Garza County and elsewhere throughout Texas are urged to "get the jump" on VEE — Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis, that deadly sleeping sickness of horses. All horses that were not vaccinated last year should be vaccinated as soon as possible.

It was less than a year ago that the disease swept into the state from Mexico, killing hundreds of horses in its path and forcing cancellation or postponement of numerous rodeos and horse shows.

The 1972 campaign against VEE calls for vaccination of all horses, mules and donkeys not vaccinated last year, points out Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In addition to Texas, the vaccination campaign will include the Gulf Coast states and states adjoining Mexico. All these states have been designated "high risk" states by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Dr. Armstrong lists four categories of horses that should be vaccinated now: (1) unvaccinated horses that have recently been moved into the state; (2) foals born since last year's vaccination drive; (3) foals vaccinated under six months of age; (4) horses that were overlooked and never vaccinated.

This year the vaccination program will be conducted at the horse owner's expense. Commercial vaccine is available and must be administered by a veterinarian.

Threat still seen in screwworms

Livestock producers in Garza County and elsewhere in Texas are urged to continue to be on the alert for screwworms since 50 months really are entirely free of this livestock blight. In fact, six cases have already been reported in Webb County.

Producers noting worms in open wounds on their livestock are encouraged to submit a sample to the Screwworm Eradication Program, Box 969, Mission, Tex. Collection kits are available at any county agent's office.

Texas recorded 444 screwworm cases in 1972, making the year the worst since 1968. However, in 1969 and 1970, the state had recorded the fewest cases on record.

Let's Make Our Dreams Come True!

We pledge the bank's whole-hearted support to Chamber of Commerce President Jim Cornish's program of working together to make this community's dreams come true.

Every Chamber member will be given a job to do in the organization's program this year. If we all get involved in our assignments, there is no way Post will not substantially benefit from our combined efforts.

Our congratulations and thanks too to Vic Slater, outgoing president of the Chamber, for a "very good year" in 1971.

KNOCKING DOWN BRUSH WITH ANCHOR CHAINS

Recent research with large anchor chains for brush control has added several new dimensions to range improvement.

The popular practice of knocking down brush with anchor chains was developed on the Swenson Ranch near Stamford in the early 1940's. From this early work, researchers from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station are continually seeking improvements in this low cost operation, which usually costs about one to three dollars per acre.

"Land smoothing after mechanical control seeded preparation, seed covering and improved brush control through chain link modification are additional benefits of this popular tree-felling practice," says Harold T. Wiedemann, agricultural engineer for Texas A&M University, headquartered at Lubbock.

The land smoothing effect has been especially valuable when used with tree grubbing. Grubbing is a highly-effective method of brush control, but is often criticized because the land is left littered with mounds and potholes. Research at the Pitchfork Ranch near Guthrie has resulted in much smoother land when chained after grubbing.

Root plowing is another effective practice that leaves the land rough and broken. In the Guthrie studies, and also on the Waggoner Ranch at Vernon, chaining after root plowing has again proven valuable in land smoothing; plus improved seedbed preparation.

"Chaining before and after aerial seeding that followed root plowing increased grass seedling emergence 3.7 times over non-chained plots," Wiedemann reports.

In further efforts to improve chaining practices, Wiedemann modified a normal anchor chain by welding an 18-inch railroad iron to each link, which increased the weight of the chain to 100 pounds per foot. So far, it has shown promise for improved seedbed preparation and control of shallow-rooted brush species.

The experimental chain was used in combination of grazing goats on the Gene Whitehead Ranch near Menard to achieve 90 per cent top kill on bigelow shin oak.

"Early testing of the chain in combination with chemical spraying indicates excellent possibilities for low-cost shin oak control," Wiedemann says.

When you check out your recreational vehicle for the coming season make sure the spare is in as good shape as the other tires. Some tire sizes, especially on the smaller trailers, may not be available when and if you get off the beaten path.

ADD THE SOFT TOUCH TO YOUR WASH

The Why and How of Using Fabric Softeners

Last Tuesday, Faye Payton and I attended a laundry and equipment demonstration in Lubbock. We enjoyed the meeting and learned so much on selection, use and care of clothes washing equipment. I thought I would share one part of it with you.

Adding fabric softener to your laundry will give softness and fluffiness to all washable fabrics. Perhaps more important, it reduces or eliminates static cling that often makes it necessary to peel a way synthetics and permanent press items when folding laundry or in wearing garments. Some fabrics no longer need ironing when softener is used, and those that do, dry with less deep-set wrinkles than ever before.

Though it isn't necessary to use fabric softener in every washload, frequent use is recommended. If softener is used with towels, for instance, where fluffiness is desirable but moisture absorption is also important, skip the use of fabric softener occasionally.

There are two types of fabric softeners. The most familiar is the one used in the rinse cycle. Either dilute with water first and add it to the rinse water or pour into the washer's fabric softener dispenser, if available.

It is important not to add other agents to the water when a rinse cycle fabric softener is used. This includes bluing, water conditioner or any other additives. In fact, though fabric softener is effective in both hard and soft water, it should not be used in rinse water containing a packaged water conditioner.

A new type of fabric softener can be used in the wash cycle or the rinse cycle. Compatible with other wash cycle compounds such as detergents, these fabric softeners usually require that you add the fabric softener to the wash water before adding detergent and laundry. Then proceed as usual.

Do not pour a wash cycle fabric softener into a fabric softener dispenser unless you want it used in the rinse cycle, the manner in which the dispenser is designed to work. Never add any kind of fabric softener to a bleach dispenser or a detergent dispenser. These features are not equipped to handle softeners.

Take care not to pour fabric softener directly on fabrics as it may cause staining. If, however, this should accidentally occur, immediately hold the stained area under cool running water and rub with a bar of soap.

Softeners are helpers worth trying. Next to getting clothes, towels and sheets really clean, a fresh, almost new appearance and soft, cozy comfort are the icing on the laundry basket.

The Garza County 4-H Food Show will be held Saturday, March 18, in the Post High School Homemaking Department. Judging of the products will begin at 2 p.m. followed by a tasting tea. Any additional information can be obtained at the county agent's office.

Easter Seal help grows in Texas

DALLAS—Because of the steady growth in numbers of crippled children and adults in Texas, the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas has stepped up its rehabilitation services.

According to Mrs. Martha Compton, who is the Easter Seal representative for Garza County, over 22,000 handicapped Texans received Easter Seal treatments during 1971.

"Despite medical scientific advances," Mrs. Compton explained, "the ranks of the crippled are growing. This is because of population growth, increased number of accidents and medical treatment which saves victims of crippling diseases who might not have lived in past years."

The Easter Seal campaign, which provides funds for continuation of these services, began Feb. 23 and continues through April 2, Easter Sunday.

Crows' arrival slow this year

SAN ANGELO — You won't find many West Texas farmers complaining, but a small number of off-season hunters are feeling the pinch — the crows are slow in arriving this year.

Usually at this time of the year the countryside around Colorado City and Sweetwater is black with crows, but the numbers haven't come near the estimated 2.5 million which were around last year.

The Panhandle is starting to get a few birds crossing the border, but for the most part tricky weather is holding them somewhere between Texas and Canada.

Build A Temple

By Robert D. Griffin

In the book of I Corinthians, chapter three, there is a verse that says "Let every man take heed how he buildeth." This is a very fitting illustration of the Christian life for the people of Corinth, a city famed for its architecture. We are all builders whether we choose or not. We may be temple-builders! Each heart, each life, each character, may become a temple of the Holy Spirit.

Every act we do, every word we utter, the way in which we spend any moments of our time, is either a fragment of gold, silver, and precious stones, or of wood, hay, and stubble, built into the rising structure of the erection entrusted to our skill and keeping. It does not so much matter what we do, but how we do it. Every time we perform any action with the best motives and spirit, we deposit a tiny grain of gold-dust; whenever, on the other hand, we do wrong after a careless manner, we weave into the structure of character a material which will yield us inevitably in the hour of temptation as wood, hay, and stubble before flame.

We sometimes, at the end of the day, reviewing the past hours, bitterly lament that we have done nothing in the way of character-building. "There is nothing to show for this day," we say mentally to ourselves, but there is. Every moment has left its record on your heart. Every act has left you confirmed in a good habit or in a bad one. If not gold, then wood; if not silver, then hay; if not costly stones, then stubble.

We shall not be saved on account of our works. The only thing that can secure salvation is the being built into God's foundation, the Rock Christ Jesus. But we shall be rewarded according to the manner in which we have built up the structure.

Top ratings earned by 11 Post band members

Eleven Post school band members received "superior" ratings in the regional University Interscholastic League solo and ensemble competition held last Saturday in Lubbock.

Superior ratings went to Steve Sawyers, cornet solo; Sherrill Guichard, flute solo; Tiana Shiver, flute solo; Tracy McAlister, cornet solo; Amy Cowdrey, clarinet solo; Jodine Tipton, clarinet solo, and a woodwind quintet of Mary Ann Norman, Patti Parrish, Donna McBride, Tonya Carlisle and Vickie Kruger.

Bandsmen given Division II ratings were Bobby Norman, snare drum; William Halford, cornet; Cy Willson, cornet; a brass sextet of Rusty Cobner, Steve Sawyers, William Bullard, Kelvin Thomas, Bill Hudman and Wayne Bell; and a French horn quartet of Wilma Bullard, Kent Kirkpatrick, Sandy Bullard and Steve Hays.

Director Herbert Germer said Sherrill Guichard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Guichard, will compete this summer in the state solo and ensemble contest at the University of Texas. She qualified for the contest by receiving a Division I rating on a Class I solo.

C-C banquet—

The organization of the year plaque was accepted on behalf of the Lions Club by its president, Walter F. Didway, who only a few minutes before had been praised by incoming Chamber president Jim Cornish as "the man responsible for tonight's outstanding banquet."

Didway served as chairman of the Chamber's banquet committee. The committee members, also recognized by Cornish for their work on the banquet, were Mrs. Marie Neff, Mrs. Beth Short, Mrs. Bettye Scott, L. D. Jackson, Jimmy Polard and Bob Collier.

The Lions Club, recipient of the organization of the year award, was organized in Post in 1943 and reorganized in 1951. It was cited for "keeping the town clean" in reference to its annual broom and mop sale, for its community eye-sight conservation work and for sending handicapped children to the Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville.

Mrs. Newby, who received the woman of the year award, was one of the leaders in Post's library movement and has served as a library volunteer and as a member of its book acquisition committee the five years the library has been in operation.

She sparked the campaign for a Child Day Care Center and served as president of its board during the two years it was in operation. She has represented Post on the criminal justice study group of the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) since the work was organized in 1969, and was a member of the Garza Memorial Hospital board, through some of the hospital's most trying financial years.

Mrs. Newby helped organize and served as a director of the Garza County Community Action Committee for two years, has served on the county's juvenile board since its organization several years ago, and has served both as president and secretary-treasurer of the Garza Youth Center. In her church, the First Presbyterian, Mrs. Newby has taught Sunday school classes for many years, and for some time was adult sponsor of the church's youth organization.

Cornish, in receiving the man of the year award, was cited for his chairmanship of the Post Library board of trustees since it was first named almost six years ago; for his successful chairmanship of the last two United Fund drives; for his leadership as chairman of the 1971 Chamber membership drive, and as vice chairman of the Garza County Community Action Committee.

"We might call this our 'dream year,'" Cornish said after accepting the gavel from outgoing president Vic Slater. The new president then went on to mention as some of the "dreams" a betterment of Post's housing needs; a big new lake just east of town "with all its recreational facilities"; the city's tourist opportunities;

Also regular meetings of merchants to plan sales promotions; more industry; a youth center; an amphitheatre for choir and other productions, and Chamber-sponsored community-wide study groups on such "dream" projects.

"We hope these dreams—one or more of them—interest you and, during 1972, you will want to work with us to accomplish them," Cornish said.

Introduced by Cornish as new 1972 directors were: Didway, Bailey Mayo, Ronald Simpson and Bo Jackson, and as holdover directors, Giles Dalby, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Grant Lott and James Mitchell, and George Samson, honorary director.

The outgoing directors, who were presented appreciation plaques by Slater, were: Bill McBride, Fred Long, Maxine Marks, Giles C. McCrary and Slater.

Soil awards—

(Continued from Page 1) distinguished service and a 10-year service pin also went to Ralph Welch, who retired as a district board member in October of 1971 after having served since 1961.

Sam Ellis, chairman of the district board, was master of ceremonies and presented the conservation awards to the Thuetts and Middleton.

Ronald and Jerry Thuett operate some 1,350 acres of Garza County cropland, on which a complete conservation plan has been carried out.

"These two young men are outstanding examples of young conservation farmers who are concerned with the future of agriculture and are going to do their part to conserve the land that they operate," Ellis said in making the award.

Middleton operates the 5,760-acre Faulkner Ranch, 11 miles northeast of Post. During the past four years he has built four live-stock ponds, done about 1,572 acres of brush control, seeded three fields back to grass and constructed cross-fences to better distribute grazing. Other conservation plans at the ranch are being worked on or are in the planning stage.

The approximately 45 persons who attended the banquet heard Potts trace the history of soil and water conservation in Texas from the late 1880's to the present.

The speaker recognized George "Scotty" Samson as having "left a lot of tracks" in early conservation work in Garza County. He was an early leader in range work and the work he did here earned him the title of "top range inspector" in the nation.

Potts said Samson gave assistance to early day ranchers in building stock tanks, in identifying grasses and in range management. Garza County was known to have had one of the finest early day range programs in the nation and people came from all parts of the country to observe the work being done here.

In introducing Potts, Ellis said he was Garza County agent in 1937-38, and among other things, built the first terraces in the county, started the tank program here, was a leader in helping organize Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, and was Texas' first and last "Out-standing 4-H'er in the nation."

The invocation was by Bailey Mayo, work unit leader for the soil conservation district, and the benediction by L. G. Thuett Jr., a member of the board.

OS Ranch—

Other appointments made for the organizational effort on the art exhibit were Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick, chairman of the sales and entertainment committee; Joe Taylor, chairman of invitations and program; David Newby, chairman of the committee to hang or display the art pieces in the ranch house; and Jim Cornish publicity.

Also attending the organizational session were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Prather, K. W. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. McCrary, and Mrs. Ryan.

UNDERGOES SURGERY
Mrs. Victor Hudman underwent major surgery in West Texas Hospital at Lubbock Monday morning and was reported yesterday to be getting along as well as could be expected.

All Latin American countries use the metric system.

Slater's 1971 president's report, printed on the back of the banquet program, thanked "all of good citizens of Post and Garza County for your support of the Chamber—you are really the reason for whatever success we have achieved."

Ruby Kirkpatrick, outgoing president of the Women's Division of the Chamber, told of its organization a year ago and its achievements before installing the new officers, who are:

Mrs. Inez Harrel, president; Mrs. Ramona Brock, first vice president; Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick, second vice president; Mrs. Wynne Kennedy, secretary; Mrs. Maxine Marks, parliamentarian and Mrs. Nancy Jolly, publicity director.

The invocation was given by Syd Wyatt, minister of the Post Church of Christ.

The meal was prepared by Jackson's Catering Service and served by 18 members of the Future Homemakers of America chapter.

Library trustees plan new benefit

Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick was named chairman of a possible new fund raising project for the Post Public Library's memorial building fund at the library trustees February meeting at the library Monday night.

The proposed project would be a spring "branding" on one of the Garza ranches with a barbecue lunch being served and transportation being provided.

Trustees also voted to purchase a plaque for the library to be inscribed with the names of those in whose memory $100 or more had been given to the memorial building fund.

Trustees are hopeful of scheduling a benefit "branding" before Easter and the third annual Library Flower Show about two weeks after Easter.

Attending the February board session were Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Ruth Young, Mrs. Rosemary Chapman, the Rev. George L. Miller and Jim Cornish, trustees, and Librarian Pee Wee Pierce.

Postings—

Pee Wee is keeping tab too on the number of people who come into the library each day — and whether they are city or rural folks. When the statistics are put together we think you'll be surprised at the good use of the library by rural folks. (County commissioners, please note.)

Welcome, Dwayne Capps, to the ranks of Post merchants.

As you'll note on page 3, Dwayne has purchased Howell's Gulf Service from Conor Howell and is now operating the service station round the clock—with wrecker and "mechanic on duty" services added—as Dwayne Capps' Gulf. It's great to get our own young fellows going into business here.

Med Center—

The two physicians will continue their practice in temporary quarters at Garza Memorial Hospital where they are leasing space. The center's business office is located in the former postoffice building north of the Medical Center.

$100 INCREASE

Chamber to contribute $350 to stock show

The new board of directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce held a special meeting Tuesday night at the Jim Cornish residence and voted to increase the civic organization's contribution to the Garza County Junior Livestock Show sale from $250 to $350 this year in view of the recent "short crop year."

The funds will be used for the premium purchase of show animals at the sale.

Directors also decided to immediately launch the organization's 1972 membership drive with the emphasis being placed on securing as many new members as possible from a list of nearly 45 business and individuals not now members of the Chamber.

The Chamber now has 103 members whose dues are current. Directors set the second Wednesday noon in each month for the monthly directors meeting and will rotate the luncheon session among restaurants which belong to the organization.

The board hopes to complete the membership drive before the March luncheon meeting which will be March 15, and at that time elect a vice president, adopt a 1972 budget for the organization, and approve committee appointments, which will include the complete membership.

Attending the meeting were Earl Chapman, Grant Lott, James Mitchell, Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick, Bo Jackson, Ronald Simpson, and Cornish, directors, and Mrs. Wynne Kennedy, Chamber secretary.

Miller then was named as vice chairman of the advisory committee.

The former volunteer librarian of the Post Public Library and now a library trustee here represented the local library at the organizational meeting to elect the advisory council.

Among other functions of the council will be determining how state library aid funds will be spent. The Lubbock library systems area this year received only $3,275 for projects out of $50,000 allocated by the last legislature.

Post trackmen to compete in Idalou meet Saturday

Post Antelope track and field team, which could score only a half point against stiff opposition at Brownfield, goes to Idalou Saturday for its second of the season.

Eleven of the 18 members of the track team made the trip to Brownfield Saturday, and Lane Tannehill said he was really well pleased with the team's showing in its first competition of the season.

"We expect to improve as the season progresses," Coach Tannehill said.

Mark Bevers finished fifth and Rosas sixth in the mile run. Danny Lee tied for fifth in the jump to account for Post's and a half points at Brownfield.

Bevers' time in the mile run was 4:37.6, while Rosas finished in 4:39.0. Lee high jumped 6 inches for his fifth place.

The 440-yard relay team of David G. Johnson, Johnny Jefferson, Ricky Shepherd and Donell Harper posted a time of 48.4 seconds and had done much better had it not been for some bad handoffs, Coach Tannehill said.

The Antelopes did not compete in the mile relay, 880 yard run and pole vault at Brownfield.

Non-placing times posted by the 'Lopes in the track events were: Conoly, 11.0, and Kenneth Price, 11.1, 100-yard dash; Price, 25.4, Harper, 26.4; and Shepherd, 27.0, 220-yard dash; Lee, 60.4, 440-yard dash; Danny Windham, 19.5, high hurdles; Windham, 48.7, and Albert Varela, 48.8, intermediate hurdles, and Robert Varela, 5:09.8, mile run.

Harlem's Jokers win benefit tilt

The touring Harlem Jokers stopped off in Post long enough Saturday night to triumph over the Post coaches "and friends", 54 to 33, in a benefit basketball game before approximately 600 persons in the high school gym.

"We were well pleased with the turnout," said Athletic Director Bobby Davis.

The game was sponsored by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes huddle at Post High School, which netted approximately $280 as its part of the game receipts. The money will be used to help finance local FCA members' attendance at the organization's summer camps.

The FCA group also made some money off the sale of concessions at the game and off a chili supper it co-sponsored with the Future Farmers of America chapter.

The Jokers, mixing comedy with basketball, were in command of the game throughout. They led 18-8 at the end of the first quarter, 30-11 at the halftime intermission, and 46-21 at the end of the third quarter.

James Knighten and Gerald Lockett of the Jokers shared scoring honors with 12 points apiece. Cage Coach John Alexander led the locals with six points. Others seeing action against the Jokers were: Joe Giddens, Lane Tannehill, Don Black, Bobby Davis, Flowers, Dan Rankin, Hays, Jimmie Redman, Brown, Fred Myers, Mike Mitchell, Larry Waldrup, Hudson and James Dye.

Hays, a junior this year, averaged 14.1 points a game, with a field goal shooting average of 42 per cent and a free throw average of 57 per cent.

Reggie Moore, who played only the second half of the season, posted the best field goal percentage — 55 per cent. He also had the highest game average, 15.2, scoring a total of 137 points. His free throw shooting average was 60 per cent.

The second highest scorer on the Post team was sophomore Johnny Jefferson, with 255 points for an 8.5 average.

Cotton meeting set for Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Garza farmers and agribusinessmen are invited to attend the sixth annual Cotton Production Meeting of the South Plains Development Program in Lubbock on Wednesday, March 8.

The past, present and future of cotton will be discussed at the meeting.

The conference is slated for 1:20 p.m. in the KoKo Palace, according to Billy C. Gunter, SPD program coordinator and district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The program was started in 1967 to furnish South Plains agribusinessmen, producers and homemakers the latest information to increase income and family living standards.

There will be a number of outstanding speakers and the meeting will cover key items concerning the cotton industry on the South Plains, according to Garza County Agent Syd Conner. The meeting is open to anyone interested in the West Texas cotton industry.

The energy in one pound of uranium can perform as much work as three million pounds of coal.

1971 cotton crop on South Plains down in quality

LUBBOCK — The 1971 South Plains cotton crop was the lowest in quality and volume in many years, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock cotton classing office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Unfavorable weather conditions plagued South Plains farmers through the entire year. The winter and spring were too dry for planting at the proper time and the late summer and fall were too cool and wet for cotton to mature properly. For these reasons both volume and quality turned out poorly.

Total number of bales produced will be about one-third less than the 1970 crop.

Final harvesting figures of this season's crop have not been completed but estimates indicate that approximately 1,120,000 bales will be harvested. The 1970 season produced approximately 1,620,000 bales.

Only 14 per cent of the South Plains cotton this season was classed in the white grades, 60 per cent in the light spotted grades and 26 per cent in the spotted and tinged grades. During the 1970 season, 41 per cent was classed in the white grades, 47 per cent in the light spotted grades and only 12 per cent in the spotted and tinged grades.

Pasture contest new competition for 4-H members

Garza County 4-H boys and girls who are interested in pasture and forage production will now be able to enter a new area of competition at the State 4-H Roundup held each June at Texas A&M University.

The new contest will be a team demonstration in any aspect of improved pastures, according to Dr. Neal Pratt, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Topics for demonstrations could include new grasses, fertilization, forage quality, hay production, hay harvesting, livestock grazing and weed control.

The contest is being sponsored by the Texas Plant Food Institute. The first place team and their coach will receive watches and a trip to the annual Plant Food Conference. Second and third place team members will also receive awards.

"Pasture and forage production offer income opportunities on most Texas farms and ranches," points out Pratt. "This new contest will provide 4-H Club members, adult leaders and local agribusiness leaders an opportunity for showing a profit aspect in each county of Texas."

Improvement in business trends led by Burlington Industries

INGTON, Del. — Burlington Industries, Inc. expects better in 1972. F. Myers Jr., chairman of the diversified textile firm, said at the company's annual meeting that "the business trend in the quarter supports our view that improvement is at hand." The company's chief executive believes the trend will most likely be gradual rather than one of sudden, substantial gains. He said the degree of improvement "will depend upon buying habits of consumers and our retail and manufacturing customers." Myers added that customer inventories remain low and some modest rebuilding of inventories may be expected in 1972. He said that while some fabric markets are still sluggish, "an improving trend is emerging for finished apparel fabrics and we are encouraged that demand will increase this year." Myers said major expansion of knitting capacity is on schedule in terms of increasing volume and profitability. "In Burlington, we are concentrating on the development of new and better quality knit products, which should provide us with a unique market position. Our sales of stretch woven fabrics also continue at a good level and Burlington has an excellent and leading position in this growing market." Home furnishings, which account for about 30 per cent of total sales volume, constitute a very strong and major product area for Burlington. "The strength of home furnishings and the fact that a turn-around in many of our other markets and operations appears to be developing, accounts for our optimism that 1972 will show improvement as the year progresses." Capital spending will be increased this year over the $104 million invested in 1971. "Our current estimate ranges from $120 to $130 million, and could be greater if business conditions warrant." Burlington expects investment credit provided under the Revenue Act of 1971 to add about 22 cents per share to net earnings of 1971 fiscal year.

New record for Texas tourism

AUSTIN — Logging an all-time high of 1,365,440 visitors, Texas Highway Department tourist bureaus finished 1971 with a 16 per cent increase in travel services. Tom H. Taylor, recently named "Mr. Travel" by Gov. Preston Smith, announced the figure, largest since the Texas High Department pioneered the concept of highway tourist bureaus 36 years ago. Taylor, who heads the department's specialized travel promotion division, said the 16 per cent increase in bureau visitors indicates a breakthrough in recognition of Texas as a national travel destination. Counselors at 11 Highway Department tourist bureaus greet Texas visitors, provide free maps and prize-winning state travel literature, plus information about attractions in every corner of the state.
