

1973 historic year for Burlington Industries

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Burlington Industries' 1973 business year was an historic one. It marked the 50th anniversary of the company and for the first time ever, sales exceeded $2 billion.

Burlington's 1973 sales of $2.1 billion were up 15.6 per cent over 1972.

These and other results are outlined in the company's annual report, being mailed this week to Burlington shareholders.

The year witnessed substantial gains in almost every area of the company, according to Chairman Charles F. Myers Jr. of Greensboro.

Burlington is the nation's largest manufacturer of textiles and related products, operating 165 plants in the United States and 10 foreign countries. Its employment at year-end was 88,000, up 4,000 from 1972.

Myers said 1973 was a year of strong demand for textile products throughout the world. "American textile products have become much more competitive abroad," he said. "Our export sales increased in 1973 and we expect this trend to continue."

"Growth in exports generally should aid the U. S. textile industry in moderating the swings in production and demand requirements."

Much of Burlington's sales and profit improvement in 1973 was a result of a resurgence of products for apparel and related spun and textured yarn sales.

These products, including hosiery, represent about 63 per cent, or $1.3 billion, of Burlington's total business.

Burlington President Horace C. Jones of New York said the company's home furnishings products also had a very good year in 1973.

Sales of carpets, rugs, domestic, draperies, house fabrics, furniture and lighting accounted for about 33 per cent, or $691 million, of the company's 1973 sales volume.

"We look to a continued growth in this sector of our markets," Jones said.

Another large manufacturing area for Burlington is industrial products. These range from fiberglass fabrics to synthetic fiber fabrics for many specialized industrial uses.

"The company is expanding industrial fabric production, and good demand for industrial textile products should continue in 1974," Jones said.

During 1973, major innovations in manufacturing were implemented at a number of plants, including substantial expenditures for new technology in yarn production.

Total capital expenditures were $98.5 million in 1973. The carry-over from 1973 and the company's planned capital program for plant and machinery modernization and expansion should raise 1974 expenditures to the $135 million to $150 million level.

"The outlook for Burlington's diversified business appears favorable as we start a new year, although uncertainties and problem areas do exist," Myers said.

"Shortage of some raw materials and labor will likely continue. We are obviously concerned about the national energy situation and its potentially adverse effects on the general economy."

Jones said it is still too early to assess the extent of future energy shortages, or the success of Burlington's fuel conservation effort, which includes conserving fuels and all types of energy, as well as contingency plans for plants and production.

In the area of corporate citizenship, Myers commented that "Burlington believes part of doing business is being a good citizen in each of our manufacturing communities."

Burlington continued its water and air pollution control program, spending $2.8 million on these projects in 1973, compared to $2.2 million the previous year. An estimated $3 million will be spent on pollution control in 1974.

The company has also concentrated on occupational health and safety programs to protect employees from hazards of the work environment.

Through the Burlington Industries' Foundation, the company provides financial support to educational, health, cultural and community improvement programs.

Myers emphasized that the company enters 1974 with many strengths, but "Burlington's greatest strength is the ability, dedication and spirit of the people who work for Burlington."

MRS. LONNIE MACK MARTIN (Vicki Kay Maddox)

Local church setting for Dec. 22 wedding

Miss Vicki Kay Maddox and Lonnie Mack Martin pledged wedding vows Dec. 22 at 8 p. m. in the Calvary Baptist Church.

The Rev. Leon Smith, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before twin arrangements of gold round pedestals with table candelabras and greenery. The couple stood in a gold archway of greenery and white roses. Pews were marked with gold aisle candelabras and white bows. White cathedral tapers were used during the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Long of Post. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Martin of Odessa.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin with an overlay of rose patterned alencon lace fashioned with small clusters of pearls highlighting the high collared neckline and soft bishop sleeves. The fitted bodice dropped to a V-shape in front and back into a full overskirt of gathered tiers of alencon lace falling into a courtlength train. A shoulder length veil of English net was caught up in a headpiece of silk organza petals centered with a small cluster of pearls. The bridal bouquet was a crescent of white carnations centered with white roses and carried on a white lace over a satin covered Bible.

In keeping with tradition, the bride carried a white covered Bible belonging to her father as something old; something new was her dress; something borrowed a string of pearls belonging to her cousin; a blue garter given to her by her mother was something blue.

Mrs. Debbie Maddox of Dugway, Utah, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss April Kay Neilson and Gail Matthews were bridesmaids. The attendants' dresses were of royal blue satin with an empire waist, high round neckline and stand-up collar. They wore shoulder length veils of royal blue net caught up in a circlet of white fur. They each carried a white fur muff with royal blue organza roses and royal blue streamers of satin.

Lee Maddox, brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen were Walter Stubblefield of Lubbock and Sammy Maddox, brother of the bride.

Wedding music was provided by Bob Stice, who sang, "Till the Twelfth of Never" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Don Pennell, organist.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall. Guests were registered by Phyllis Kennedy and Vicki Williams, and Nancy Maddox served at the bride's table. Silver and crystal appointments were used on a table covered with royal blue satin.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will reside in Odessa.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williamson of Clovis, N. M., Mrs. D. L. Williamson of Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stubblefield of Lubbock, Mrs. Roger Neilson of Pecos, Miss April Kay Neilson of Houston, Debbie Edwards, Allen Martin, Taylor Martin and James Milling, all of Odessa.

There were probably millions of Americans who were elated to hear that Howard Hughes was indicted on fraud and stock manipulation charges stemming from his takeover of Air West airlines in 1969. It's not that Hughes is disliked. It's simply that we're all dying to know what he looks like.

—O—

The man hasn't been seen in public for 20 years. Will he actually leave his new hide-hole in the Bahamas and appear in court? If so, one can't help wondering if there's any truth to the many strange rumors that have been added to the Howard Hughes legend through the years. Does he, for instance, really have a long black beard down to his knees? Are his toenails really six inches long?

—O—

One hears that he is terribly afraid of germs. Will he bring some sort of plastic, pollution-free bubble to sit under while giving testimony?

—O—

Of course, there are still die-hards around who are willing to swear that Howard Hughes is dead. Some vow that his body has been buried behind a chicken coop in southern California for seven years. Poppycock! Those of us with common sense know that this isn't true. Howard Hughes is alive and well because who else likes airplanes well enough to take over a dog like Air West?

—O—

Air West was, is and always will be one of the laughing stocks of California. Here's an example: Pilots landing in the Los Angeles area often ask for the exact time from the tower because when they're flying in from such far-away places as Hawaii, the various time changes can be understandably confusing. Normally the tower will reply "8:15", "10:30" or whatever, but when Air West inquires, they say "Thursday".

—O—

Ask any native. They'll give you that story or one similar to it. They may not always be

MR. AND MRS. MATT STELZER

Post couple honored on 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Stelzer of 612 West 5th St. were honored on their Golden Wedding anniversary from 5 until 9 p. m. Saturday at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall here.

Hosts for the occasion were the couple's four sons, Gerald of Buena Park, Calif., Maurice of Grants, N. M., and Julius literally true but the moral's there.

—O—

One Californian said that Air West had added ten years to her age. She was flying "them" from Monterrey to Los Angeles one day when she heard a loud rattling noise. She looked up and there, right above her head, was a split that ran from one edge of the overhead rack to the other. It had been pulled together and taped with ordinary Scotch tape.

—O—

Come home, Howard. No one deserves Air West and a guilty verdict too.

and Emmett A. Stelzer, both of Post, and their wives.

Approximately 100 guests called to honor the couple and to eat smoked turkey, ham and antelope sausage.

Out-of-town guests included: Charlie Stelzer of Fort Worth, Andy Monday and sons, Ray and John, of Muenster, and Msgr. Peter Morsch, Wilford Kitten and children, Clarence Kitten and Walter Bednarz, all of Slaton.

The couple was married Jan. 8, 1924 at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Muenster. They have lived in Post since the early 1940's, where Mr. Stelzer was employed by an oil company until his retirement six years ago.

? Your Name ?

WHAT'S IN IT?
By CHARLES DIDWAY

REEVES

A reeve was an English official who in early times was entrusted with the administration of a division of the country or of a manorial estate. He was the chief magistrate of a town or district and is the ancestor of the sheriff—the "shire-reeve."

There were several kinds of reeves — port-reeves, burg-reeves, and tun-reeves. It was the tun-reeve, or reeve of the township, who with four other men represented the township in the courts of the hundred and the shire. In free townships he was chosen by the inhabitants; in dependent townships by the lord.

The word "reeve" itself stems from the Old English "gereta" and in many cases the initial "r" lingered on, producing such surnames as Grieve and Grieves.

Where Reeve became Reeves, it meant "son of the reeve" or "dweller at the house of the reeve." It was not uncommon for servants with no surname of their own to accept their master's name.

Robert Reeves was a major in Oliver Cromwell's army in the 1600's, later moving to Ireland, where he married Eleanor O'Dempsey and established the Reeves name there.

A number of Reeves were among the early settlers of America. The earliest is believed to have been John Reeves, who arrived in New England in 1634, soon followed by Richard Reeves, who settled in Maryland, and several others.

Reeves is the 325th commonest surname in the United States, with an estimated 74,000 persons by the name. There is a Reeves County in Texas, named for Col. George R. Reeves, Texas legislator and Confederate officer. There are towns named Reeves and Reevesville in Illinois and also a Reevesville in South Carolina.

Circulation record set by Post library in '73

The Post Public Library established a new circulation record in 1973 with a total of 10,222 books checked out by library patrons. Librarian Pee Wee Pierce announced this week.

This compared with 10,078 books checked out in 1972, the first time the 10,000 figure was tipped. This is almost two books checked out for every person living in Garza County.

The librarians' December statistical report showed 350 books checked out for the final month of the year, 403 of them adult books and 147 juvenile.

A total of 670 books were added to library shelves during 1973, 36 of them during December. Forty-two books were lost and 26 discarded during the year.

A total of $229.46 in miscellaneous revenue was reported for 1973, and $18.74 of it for December. Most of it — $134.42 came from overdue book fines and the rest from book sales, sale of copier paper, and donations.

Deadly nightshade, the poisonous source of belladonna, is in the same family as the tomato and the potato.

-NOTICE-

A special burial representative and counselor is now in Post for a few days to counsel Post and Garza area folks.

People desiring counsel concerning the cash burial plan are urged to mail in their cards received in the mail. No postage necessary.

BUYING EGGS
Eggs are an economical alternate for meat. Don't let that statement turn you off yet, for even at 90 cents a dozen they are still a good buy. Two eggs are equal to a 3-ounce serving of lean meat. And at 90 cents a dozen, a serving of eggs for one person is 16 cents. They are an excellent protein food and a good source of iron.

Think about two things when you buy eggs — the size and the quality. USDA grades tell the quality; USDA size classes tell the size, which does not affect the quality.

When buying eggs, remember that there are three grades commonly sold on the consumer market. USDA Grade AA eggs are the best and the most expensive. The white is thick and doesn't spread out much; the yolk is high and firm. These eggs are ideal for frying and poaching.

USDA Grade A eggs cover a moderate area; the white is reasonably thick and stands fairly high. The yolk is firm and high. These eggs are also good for frying and poaching where appearance is important.

USDA Grade B eggs may spread out more in the pan than the higher grade eggs, but they are just as good to eat and cost less. They are good for scrambled eggs and for general cooking and baking.

Size refers to minimum weight per dozen. The sizes most often found are: Extra Large — 27 oz.; Large — 24 oz.; and Medium — 21 oz. Other sizes sometimes available are: Jumbo — 30 oz.; Small — 18 oz.; and PeeWee — 15 oz.

Egg prices vary by size for the same grade. The amount of price variation depends on the supply of the various sizes. Generally speaking, if there is less than a 7 cent price spread per dozen eggs between one size and the next smaller size in the same grade, you will get more for your money by buying the larger size.

Below are some interesting egg tips.

—Buy eggs from a refrigerated case.

—Refrigerate eggs promptly at home, large end up, to help maintain quality.

—Cook at low to moderate temperatures — high temperatures and over-cooking toughen eggs.

—Shell color is determined by breed of the hen and does not affect the grade, nutritive value, flavor, or cooking performance of the egg.

—Variations in temperature while the eggs are stored cause egg whites to become thin.

—Use only high-quality, clean eggs with sound shells when making egg nogs, milk shakes, or lightly cooked dishes.

—Eggs are nutritious! They contain significant amounts of vitamin A, iron, protein and riboflavin.

—Egg protein is so near perfection that scientists often use it as a standard to measure the value of protein in other foods.

Consumer Credit — A 3-PARTY SYSTEM

It involves (1) the consumer, the person who buys merchandise or service on credit; (2) the credit grantor, the business which sells goods or services to the consumer; and (3) the credit bureau, an organization which maintains a comprehensive record of the consumers paying habits and makes sure this record is readily available when and where the consumer needs it.

The credit bureau is such an important part of this triangle because credit grantors cannot afford to sell goods or services on credit or to extend loans unless they have some assurance that the consumers will keep their part of the bargain by paying as agreed.

Obviously, not all consumers and credit grantors can be personally acquainted with one another. It's also obvious the cost would be enormous if each credit grantor had to gather all the necessary credit information on each prospective consumer.

Such a practice would not only make the cost of granting credit prohibitive, but also cause the consumer a great deal of delay and inconvenience.

Homecoming set at LCC
LUBBOCK — Saturday, Feb. 9, will mark Homecoming '74 at Lubbock Christian College. This is the biggest day of the year for the college as its ex-students return for their class reunions and future students turn out for "Master Follies," the crowning of a queen and the exciting play of the Fightin' Chaparrals as they face Eastern New Mexico University. High School Day, a completely separate program co-sponsored by the LCC Ex-Students Association and LCC's Admissions Office, is expected to also bring several hundred high school students to the homecoming festivities. The exes will start converging on the campus Friday evening. At 8 p. m. the first presentation of the "Master Follies" production is expected to play to a "packed house."

Brucellosis rules adopted
AUSTIN—The new brucellosis regulations were adopted unanimously by the Texas Animal Health Commission at an official commission meeting in Laredo on Oct. 15. These new regulations will bring the Texas Brucellosis Program into compliance with the National Uniform Methods and Rules which are considered minimum

In brief, this regulation requires that all breeding cattle two years of age and over that change ownership are required to be brucellosis tested. Breeding cattle may be tested on the farm or ranch or at an auction market. Slaughter type breeding cattle may be sold through livestock markets without test until sampled on the kill floor. The brucellosis test will be good for movement purposes for a 30-day period provided animal is ear tagged and accompanied by test certificates.

Social Security boosts due 1.5 million Texans

WASHINGTON — Nearly 1.5 million Texans will receive a seven per cent increase in their social security checks in April and another four per cent increase in those checks in July because of legislation signed Jan. 3 by President Nixon. The $2.3 billion increase in social security payments for 30 million persons in the United States will be financed through an increase in social security payroll taxes.

Under the new law, the average monthly benefit for a retired worker will climb from $167 to $179 in April and to $186 in July. For the average disabled individual the monthly check will increase from the present $184 to $197 in the April check and $206 in July.

According to a spokesman for the Social Security Administration, Texas has nearly 1.5 million persons receiving social security benefits, ranking the state fourth in the number of recipients behind California, New York and Pennsylvania.

The administration estimates that in 1973 it paid $2.3 billion to Texans receiving the benefits. Also affected by the new law will be more than 200,000 Texans whose first Supplemental Social Security income (SSI) checks went into the mail Jan. 2.

SSI is the federally administered welfare system which on New Year's Day replaced 1,152 differing state and local welfare programs. It is the nation's first guaranteed annual income for a specific needy population. In Texas, the recipients of SSI checks will include 168,894 (65 and older), 3,659 blind and 29,869 disabled persons.

Women's Division elects Marie Neff as president

Marie Neff was elected president of the Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday in the Reddy Room. She succeeds Inez Hartel.

Other officers elected were: Patsy McCowen, first vice president; Betty Posey, second vice president; Sharon Bruton, secretary; Kay Lamb, treasurer; Vada Clary, publicity chairman; Inez Hartel, parliamentarian, and Evelyn Neff, historian.

Prather —

(Continued From Page One) College at Miami, Okla., majoring in animal science. He later spent two years in the U. S. Army, attaining the rank of sergeant and serving in Korea for 16 months.

A member of the Rodeo Cowboys Association for two years, Prather has participated in calf roping, steer roping and team roping events at Denver, Colo., Cheyenne, Wyo., Pendleton, Ore., and Odessa, Tex., rodeos and numerous other shows.

For the past five years Prather has worked on the O. S. Ranch at Post. He is married to the former Julia Childs of Post and they have three boys, aged two, three and four years.

The new inspector will be available to inspect direct movements of wheat and grass cattle for strays as well as investigate cattle losses and mixups in the area.

King stated that Prather's extensive ranching experience and background as a cowboy are ideal to serve these needs of cattlemen and feedlots in the new district.

The officers were elected by acclamation after their names were presented by Ruby Kirkpatrick and her nominating committee.

The new president said the group will continue its two present projects of brochures for Post and an educational program. Suggested by members as new projects were work with the county museum association, youth center and community center.

Members were notified that they will be called upon for help by Marie Neff and her committee for the Chamber banquet decorations.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick was asked by Inez Hartel, outgoing president, to select a plaque to go with the benches that the Women's Division purchased for the new Algerita Park. Mrs. Kirkpatrick is the park chairman.

Mrs. Hartel expressed her appreciation to members and officers for the work done this past year.

Meat prices in '74 not to hit peaks of 1973

CHICAGO — Meat prices on the average will be higher in 1974 than they were in 1973, but they won't reach the peak levels of last summer, an official of a meat producers' association predicted.

Richard Lyng, president of the American Meat Institute, also said Americans will eat about four pounds more meat per person this year, and that supplies for most of the year would be ample. "There is no need for the U. S. to have shortages of food," he said, discounting predictions by some groups of serious food shortages this year.

Supplies will be tightest and prices highest during the first six months of 1974, Lyng said, because economic uncertainties discouraged farmers from putting cattle on feed during the last half of 1973.

Cotton Harvest —

Pleasant Valley Gin: 2,477 bales ginned, only four bales on yard, not more than 200 bales left in area.

Basinger Gin: 3,550 bales ginned, 280 on yard, maybe 250 bales left in area.

Hackberry Gin (half of totals counted as Garza cotton): 9,553 bales ginned, 761 bales on yard, about 700 more bales in area.

Grassland Co-op Gin: (one third of totals counted as Garza cotton): 7,422 bales ginned, 870 bales on yard, estimated 600 more bales in area.

CofC ballots due at noon Thursday

Chamber of Commerce members who have not yet voted and returned their ballots to the Chamber office are reminded by Kay Lamb, secretary, to do so by noon today.

The ballots, for the election of a president and five new directors, were mailed members Dec. 31.
