Great opportunities ahead

Our congratulations to all members of Post High's graduating class of 1975.

Certainly, it can be said you have received the best high school education any Post High grad ever had.

Our current instructional program is so superior to that offered here only a decade ago, there is no comparison. All of Post schools are on the threshold of full accreditation by the Southern Association.

What this means is that for a small school system, the Post system is one of the best and a real Texas leader in modern educational methods. For this you can thank, and you should, Supt. of Schools Bill Shiver whose drive and leadership in achieving these educational goals have been tremendous. You can also thank your administrators and teachers who have worked hard to convert the new educational goals into actual classroom opportunity.

Looking back, you are the best prepared class ever to step forward for your diplomas.

Now let's look at what's ahead of you.

It's not exactly a bright and shining world you will enter on the eve of adulthood as you leave Post High's protective corridors.

It's the same old world full of problems, frustrations, injustices, tensions at every level — and almost unlimited opportunities.

Totalling up just a few of the pluses and minuses of the world you face, your challenge looks something like this.

Gone, for the first time in 25 years, is the uncertainty and time-consuming draft into the armed forces. At a tremendous price in tax dollars America today has a professional army with pay scales rivaling job opportunities young men can find elsewhere. In fact, for some of you enlistment may provide a profitable transition from youth to adulthood. It is now a paying opportunity with many educational advantages.

Gone, for the first time in 25 years, is U. S. involvement in warfare, or the close threat of warfare. War no longer is an immediate threat to your future.

Present in today's world is the greatest opportunity for further education ever offered a generation of America's youth. The size and complexity of it is staggering. It can be said that no boy or girl today who is willing to work for a college education can't have it. College is no longer an opportunity for only youngsters with rich parents.

America today is spending more on college education and student loans than ever before in its history.

Present in today's world too is the realization by American educators and leaders that the college degree is no longer paramount to business or professional success in many fields of endeavor. Greater emphasis is being placed today on vocational education — courses or one or two years — to train young men and women for a particular skill.

Pay scales in such vocational fields are often higher than those job opportunities for college graduates.

The important thing now is to determine as best you can and with the counseling help available what you think you would like to do in the job field and what your personal capabilities are.

Present in today's world too is the "turning around" of the trek to the cities to find opportunity, leaving small towns and the land behind.

Most of the nation's 25 leading cities lost population in the last census. This means that the trek has now begun in the other way, from the cities back to the small towns and rural life.

It used to be said there were no opportunities for youth in small towns, such as Post. No more. There are plenty of opportunities here and Post can offer a much happier life than the big city with its housing problems, its crime, pollution, high taxes, and lack of personal identity.

Your class is one of the first to think sensibly about not migrating to the big city to be swallowed up.

Life in America is continually changing, and the opportunities which existed for our generation may not be the same today for you, but there are so many more opportunities your parents never had.

Finally, life is always a challenge, much harder for some than for others. You will soon move from the protective shelter of the homes in which you were reared into the world.

Go prepared to accept the challenge, choosing your best path you can find. Think your way into your future. And good luck.

Statebeat

By KURT E. JOHNSON

AUSTIN — There are a lot of things I don't understand about the Texas Legislature, but it would appear there are a lot of things the legislators don't understand about it either.

If they did understand, there would be some things any wise and prudent man would change. But as it stands now, the Saigon government was probably more organized two days before it surrendered than the Texas legislature is two weeks before it adjourns.

If a citizen tries to call the statehouse and get data on any given bill, the answer you get regarding your question depends upon what number you've dialed. It is such a circumstance that gives a journalist leg cramps, walking from office to office, trying to find the last version of this bill or that bill, hoping that the important meeting you were wanting to cover isn't already being held because somebody forgot to post the announcement or tell an aide about it.

Are you sort of getting the picture? Well let me tell you about one little maneuver which exists in the House side of the solons which could conceivably allow a very unfavorable bill to pass that body without real or significant debate — in fact, without any debate at all.

An instrument exists in Huse procedure known as the local or "consent" calendar, which calendars bills deemed by "someone" to be non-controversial to the extent that floor debate is not allowed and the bills are simply identified and then voted on en masse.

Last Monday, for example, 89 bills were passed by the House in a little less than an hour-and-a-half. If as few as five representatives protest the presence of a bill on the consent calendar, it is removed and re-calendared, but of the 89 which popped through last Monday, only five were returned to the regular calendar.

Earlier this week, I called a representative (from Houston) to determine the feasibility of recalendaring HB 72 (reported previously in this column) so that local newspapers won't have to secure a copyright for each issue in order to be self-protecting against prosecution should a student copy an article from the paper and submit it for academic credit. Under this bill, the newspaper, not the student, would get the attorney general's axe.

And (can you believe it?) the bill is on the consent calendar, will probably pass the House without opposition, and not even have the issues regarding its potential liability for freedom of the press even discussed on the House floor.

The representative I called (from Houston, alas) said that the bill would be studied, but that knocking it off the consent calendar would be very difficult, even though it only takes five legislators to object.

The reason? "Someone might knock off one of my bills," the legislator said.

It is my considered opinion (as angry as it might make some of my friends on the House side of the dome) that the state Senate conducts its business in a somewhat more orderly manner. I think the reason has to do, more than anything else, with the fact that the body is considerably smaller in number and thus the procedures are less cumbersome.

I had reported in a previous column at the risk of being wrong that the attempt to implement personnel administration reform in state employment would fall flat because the State Agency commissioners don't want to lose any dictatorial control over the employees of their respective agencies. The bill (HB 820) got

US-84 bypass set for Roscoe

SWEETWATER — State Highway Department people were on hand here last week when the Nolan County Commissioners Court took up the proposition of a highway US-84 bypass at Roscoe.

The court was told that no date has been set for a public hearing and that three routes will be discussed at a later meeting.

The state and county will divide right of way costs for the bypass on a 50-50 basis.

The Roscoe project, which will provide a four-lane junction with Interstate 20 is one of the preliminary improvements needed on US 84 to put it in shape to serve as a segment of the proposed Post-to-Plains Highway.

through the House intact, but the Senate Administration Committee, in another example of sterling partisanship, mangled it with amendments and made what was left of it a virtual vegetable.

You see, nine people testified in favor of the bill; three testified against it. It is clear that if the legislators aren't listening to the people, they're listening to somebody, and I know who it is.

It's the lobbyists of higher education institutions owned and supported by the taxpayers of Texas, together with the honchos of State Agency commissioners who care more about their own control and power than they do about efficiency in the personnel matters of state government.

Free barbecue too expensive

Post's Fourth of July barbecue this year for the first time won't be free to all comers. The sponsoring Chamber of Commerce, which last year took a big loss in staging the Fourth of July celebration, is placing a $1 per plate charge on the barbecue this year.

The Dispatch hates to see the free barbecue ended because we are afraid it may trim the crowd drastically. But we can well understand the financial problem which brought the decision. The Chamber originally intended to charge $1 a plate last year, but then backed off and took a bad beating financially.

It should be pointed out that $1 a plate won't cover the cost of a plate of food, but it should be enough to possibly bring the holiday celebration's cost in line with what the Chamber can afford.

The barbecue meat this year will be beef, instead of chicken. Chicken got substituted three years ago when the price of beef got too high for the Chamber to afford.

As we understand, this will be the first firecracker free Fourth of July as there is now a ban on fireworks nationally except for fireworks displays such as the Chamber will sponsor. But putting most fireworks companies out of business has — you guessed it — boosted the cost of the fireworks display.

A new addition to the celebration this year will be a parade. We don't know much about this, but the Bicentennial aspect this July 4th undoubtedly has expanded the celebration to include the parade.

Parades are a whole lot of work — if we want a good one — and will require lots of community-wide cooperation. If you want in that parade contact the Chamber office. When they start working on that parade The Dispatch will quickly pass along all the details.

Certainly it should have a historical theme. The Fourth of July celebration isn't but a few more weeks away so give the Chamber the benefit of your suggestions and ideas.

Garza's oil output 7 million in '74

Garza County, which has had the highest oil production since 1947, produced 5,711,000 barrels of oil at the rate of 15,500 barrels per day. Production in 1974 boosted Garza County's production total to 7 million barrels, up from 6.2 million in 1973. Garza ranked 46th among 100 counties having oil production in 1974 in amount of barrels.

In 1974, some 31 counties produced more than 10 million barrels of crude oil, with Garza and Kleberg counties ranking below that mark and Garza ranked 46th among the top seven, all with production in excess of 5 million barrels, retain generally the same order as in 1973 with one notable exception: Yoakum County has moved into the No. 2 spot ahead of Ector County.

This "top seven" list includes Scurry, No. 1 94.2 million as compared to 91.6 in 1973; Yoakum 77.6 million as compared to 66 million the previous year; Ector, 71.2 million, down from 72.6 million; Gaines 57.8 million barrels, down from 60.4; Andrews 56.2, down from 60.4; Gregg, 51.6 down from 53.2; and Hockley, 51.3, up from 49.6.

Gregg County, the only Texas county to produce more than two billion barrels of oil in the history of recorded production, remains the all-time leader with a cumulative production total through 1974 of almost 2.5 billion barrels.

Another 12 months of crude oil production at 100 per cent of the maximum effective recovery rate in nearly all Texas fields has resulted in the second consecutive yearly dropoff in crude oil production in the nation's No. 1 energy state.

An output of less than 1.3 billion barrels of crude in 1974 was almost 32.5 million barrels below the 1973 figure and over 38.7 million barrels short of Texas' all-time record production year of 1972.

Texas production last year continued to set the pace among this nation's oil producing states, representing approximately 39.4 per cent of total U.S. production, according to statistics compiled by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Roy Rogers will make movie at Pitchfork

CROSBYTON — Roy Rogers, king of the cowboys who rode off into the sunset in his last movie 21 years ago, is going to emerge from retirement to make a movie, "McIntosh and T. J." which will be filmed primarily on the Pitchfork Ranch, between Dickens and Guthrie, and on the 6666's Ranch.

Although Crosbyton is 40 miles northwest of the Pitchfork, the producer for the Rogers movie and an assistant were in town to check motel accommodations and may reserve the entire Silver Falls Motel from May 27 until June 23.

The production crew may be housed in Dickens, Crosbyton and Paducah and travel to the shooting site daily by charter bus.

Actual casting began three or four weeks ago. Pitchfork Ranch employees are to be used in supporting roles.

Rogers will portray "McIntosh". The movie is expected to premier in Fort Worth late in the year.

Texas U to put revue on road

AUSTIN — "Yankee Doodle," a dandy BiCentennial revue for children and youth, will tour Texas in 1976 under auspices of The University of Texas Drama Department.

The Drama Department will form a professional touring company for the show. Groups wishing to sponsor a performance of "Yankee Doodle" should contact Dr. Coleman Jennings in the UT Drama Department.

April highway toll is high

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Garza County during the month of April, 1975, according to Sergeant H. E. Pirtle, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons killed and ten persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first four months of 1975 shows a total of 14 accidents resulting in five persons killed and 14 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for April, 1975 shows a total of 425 accidents resulting in 18 persons killed and 251 persons injured as compared to April, 1974 with 390 accidents resulting in 19 persons killed and 218 persons injured. This was 35 more accidents, one less killed, and 33 more injured in 1975 at the same period of time.

WHY I RESIGNED

I have been asked by several people why I resigned as Sheriff of Garza County. There have been lots of rumors such as, I had been asked to resign which is untrue. Contrary to the article in the Dispatch which stated that I had abandoned my office, I felt I had no alternative. Due to the salary I was paid for this office, I could not live on it. Also there were differences between myself and the Commissioners' Court that could not be ironed out.

I appreciate your votes and confidence in me while I was in office. I am sorry I could not fulfill my elected term.

Potluck by Rosemary Chapman

I have been playing quite a lot of tennis lately and it has been brought to my attention by several friends, etc. that my game is seriously lacking in only one respect. I really don't like to run.

A tennis player who doesn't like to run is comparable to a pilot who doesn't like to land. I think that I can make that statement safely as I was also that kind of pilot.

Actually, my entire athletic career has been blemished by flaws of this nature. As a child, I was the greatest fence walker in the neighborhood but my mother always had to get me down when I was through.

In grade school, I was a master at hitting the other children when we played Dodge Ball. Unfortunately, I was also a master at getting hit. If the ball wasn't aimed well, I could always run into it.

As for Statures (which some nine-year-old ballet student or another would insist that we play at least once every recess), I could strike a magnificent pose on every throw but I could never hold it longer than two seconds. (Holding your pose was very important when you played Statures.)

My Junior High School career followed much the same pattern and I will not dwell on it here except to say that I HATE Red Rover, Red Rover, Let Rosemary Come Over, and I will

I was started off at quarterback because of an outstanding ability to remember plays (we had four) and a penchant for passing (probably left over from those frustrated baseball days). It was soon discovered, however, and I don't know why no one had thought of this before, that I was several feet shorter than the other players and I could never see any of my own people in order to pass the ball to them.

I was promptly switched to left halfback, screaming all the way, and that's when everybody found out for the first time that I really didn't like to run. Which brings us, I think, full circle back to paragraph one.

Oh, well. As a mature, intelligent adult, I can honestly say that these sporting activities have a way of interfering with one's smoking and drinking habits anyway.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream was served to Maggie Mae Jones, Lucy Callis, Minnie Graeber, Helen Richards, Bessie Bowen, Margie Dietrich, Selma Kennedy, Innis Thuet, Johnnie Rogers and the hostess.

FLOWER SHOW JUDGE BUSY — Willard Richter of Lubbock, judge of the recent flower show sponsored by the Woman's Culture Club, explains a judging point to Doll Haire, left, while Nita Burress and Mrs. D. C. Williams hold entries for consideration.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Legislators are moving slowly toward adoption of a sealed-to-income school finance bill, their No. 1 priority item in closing weeks of their 1975 session.

The House, on the third day of trying, finally reached narrow agreement on a $721 million version of education finance overhaul.

Under terms of the bill, school teachers would draw a starting pay of $8,000 a year.

House Speaker Bill Clayton, who engineered the House bill after representatives seemed bent on running the cost up to nearly $1 billion, termed the product a "responsible compromise."

However, it far exceeded the $500 million to $600 million then expected to be available for additional school spending.

Comptroller Bob Bullock was expected to send in a revised revenue forecast as early as possible to make it possible to spend as much on schools as contemplated by the House without additional taxation.

Test votes in both the House and in Senate subcommittee have gone against Gov. Dolph Briscoe's so-called weighted-pupil approach to distributing state school aid.

Indications are the bill finally agreed on in conference committee will follow pretty closely present formulas for state education spending, and critics claim there isn't enough money to do an adequate job of equalizing opportunities.

Budgets Drawn

The battle of the budget has shifted to the House.

Senators moved out first with a unanimous approving vote on a record $12.1 billion appropriations act for 1976-77. The bill called for $3.44 billion in general revenue spending, and left $8.3 million in anticipated income unspent.

The House bill was $101 million below the Senate general revenue outlay level — both, obviously, leaving far less money on the table than needed to cover a $721 million school finance bill.

A conference committee will draw the final version of the budget — which will be somewhere between the House and Senate figures.

Bills Advanced

Three bills designed to curb rising cost of medical malpractice insurance, which has led to doctor strikes in California, were passed by the Senate amid heated debate.

One of the bills provides for a malpractice pool to guarantee coverage for doctors and hospitals who cannot buy policies on the open market. Another sets up a system of rate filings with the State Insurance Board. The third fixes limits of $500,000 on recovery for malpractice, not including actual medical bills.

State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie expressed sharp displeasure over some of the measures.

Courts Speak

Texas courts have no authority to block a $45 million Southwestern Bell Telephone Company intrastate rate increase, the Third Court of Civil Appeals held.

The Supreme Court upheld a lower court finding against a widow who challenged her late husband's will on grounds that he was drinking heavily at the time he signed it.

AG Opinions

Public school teachers "unemployed" during summer months are eligible for special federal unemployment assistance benefits when they are seeking work, Atty Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A sheriff may not permit a defendant to serve his time during off-work hours and on weekends.

A county commissioners court may not contract with the county and district retirement system for annual payment of tax money to be credited to prior service.

The open records act generally does not require a city to analyze, summarize or evaluate information in response to questions.

More Federal Controls

Federal authority to regulate the disposal of dredged or fill material in the waters of the United States will be greatly expanded under proposed regulations published in the Federal Register and would include practically all lakes, streams and rivers in the U. S.

Under some of the proposed regulations, Federal permits may be required by the rancher who wants to enlarge his stock pond, or the farmer who wants to deepen an irrigation ditch or plow a field.

The U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia has ordered that the current U.S. Army Engineer regulations be revised and expanded to include the "waters of the U. S." The Corps of Engineers previously confined its permit activities to "navigable waters of the U. S."

All comments or suggestions on the proposed regulations received in writing by the Office of the Chief of Engineers, Dept. of the Army, ATTN: DAEN-CWO-N, Washington D. C. 20314, on or before June 6 will be considered before publication of the final regulations.

Short Snorts

Don B. Odum resigned as Texas Insurance Commissioner, one of state government's top regulatory jobs.

Texas Bureau of Business Research at The University of Texas sees signs of an economic revival just around the corner.

Local and regional chambers of commerce have been called on by the Governor to coordinate the new Texas First program to generate 4,000 new jobs in the next year.

Legislation to encourage development of geothermal energy resources has been sent to the Governor.

The 1976 presidential preference primary bill also has been finally passed and awaits signature.

PRIZE TO WINNER — David Cisneros, right, was named this week as winner of the first annual welding contest conducted among students in Post High's vocational agricultural department. Shown above he is being presented with a set of socket wrenches by Darrell Jones on behalf of the contest sponsor, the Hackberry Coop Fuel Association. Jones is the manager of the Hackberry Coop Gin. Gene Thomas and E. A. Howard, local ag instructors, judged the contest to determine the student who made the most welding progress during the school year.

Three new oil wells are completed near Post

Garza County has three more new oil producers, it was announced over the weekend.

Two of them are in the H&L field, seven miles northeast of Post and the other is in the P-M-A field in the same general vicinity.

The Joseph W. Aldin No. 1 Gordon in the H&L field produced 42 barrels of oil daily and seven barrels of water on test. Drilled to a depth of 3,300 feet, it is producing from 3,190 to 3,265 feet.

Location is 2,173 feet from north line and 1,787 feet from west line of Section 6, Block 8, H&GN survey.

The other H&L field producer is Byron Oil Industries' No. 7-A Post-Montgomery, which produced 32 barrels of oil daily and 290 barrels of water on test. Drilled to a 3,500 foot depth, production is from 3,312 to 3,386 feet.

The new well is located 1,667 feet from north line and 3,621 feet from west line of Section 30, Block 4, K. Aycock survey.

The P-M-A field producer is R. S. Anderson's No. 3-B Post-Montgomery which produced on test 105 barrels of oil daily and 86 barrels of water from a zone 3,301 to 3,329 feet. The test was drilled to 3,540 feet in depth.

The well is located 660 feet from north line and 660 feet from west line of Section 19, Block 4, K. Aycock survey.

Interest rate on taxes to 9 per cent

DALLAS — The interest rate for taxpayers who are delinquent in paying Federal tax bills, or have been granted extensions of time to file, will jump to nine percent per year beginning July 1, 1975, according to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

A. W. McCanless, district director of IRS operations in North Texas, said today that the higher interest rate will be charged on all overdue taxes as a result of legislation enacted on January 1, 1975. The present rate is six per cent per year on most taxes.

$250 worth of beer stolen

Somebody had a real "beer bust" last weekend.

At least, burglars broke into Mike Mitchell's Mitchell Distributing Co. warehouse near Posey Saturday or Sunday and stole an estimated $250 worth of beer.

Included in the loss were six 16-gallon kegs and nine eight gallon kegs plus about 15 cases of beer off the truck parked inside the warehouse.

The burglars aren't too partial as to brand. The weekend before they had broken into the other half of the same warehouse and stole a considerable quantity of another brand of beer.

Requirements explained for day care centers

BY JUDY BARKER
A day care center is defined as "any place maintained without profit which cares for more than six children." A commercial day care center is one which operates for profit.

Requirements for day care center (DCC) licenses are more stringent than those for commercial boarding homes (CBH's) due to the larger number of children who are in care and the great amount of responsibility a director must assume.

These requirements are organized in booklet form and are available free upon request from the day care licensing division of the State Department of Welfare. The intent of the licensing law and the minimum standards is to establish minimum conditions necessary for the protection of all children in day care.

Recently, there has been a drive nation wide to improve the quality of day care for children. Parents, providers, professional persons, governmental agencies and educators brought together by their concern for children have put together the Minimum Standards, hoping to upgrade the quality of child care in our nation.

Briefly, some of the major requirements for a person keeping more than six children

1. Yearly fire inspections of the facility.
2. Yearly health and sanitation inspections of the facility.
3. Yearly gas leakage inspections.

$7,394 sales tax check here

AUSTIN — Post has received a check for $7,394.18 from Comptroller Bob Bullock's office in the second round of monthly city sales tax payments.

The May payments were up from the $16.1 million rebated April to $19.9 million this month.

But, Bullock said, the big payment will come in June when city allocations are made of the quarterly returns paid by merchants since April 30. The great bulk of that money hadn't reached the comptroller's office by the May 2 cutoff date for the payments.

4. Directors shall be at least 18 years of age, have a high school diploma, experience in child care, and a yearly medical check up.
5. One toilet and one lavatory for every fifteen children.
6. Cots, mats or beds for each child.
7. A fenced yard.
8. Red Cross first aid training.
9. Adequate and age appropriate play equipment.
10. A maintained child staff ratio (example): when there are no more than four two year olds present, one staff member may care for ten children.
11. Morning and afternoon snacks and a nutritious noon meal shall be served.

These and other standards are explained more fully in the Minimum Standards for Day Care Centers. If you are interested in keeping more than six children in a child care situation, please contact Judy Barker, Day Care Licensing Worker, Box 2369, Lubbock, Texas, phone 747-3821. She will be happy to work with you and assist you in obtaining a day care license.

Questions may be addressed to Mrs. Barker at the above address or in care of this newspaper. All questions, whether signed or unsigned, will be responded to in Part Five of this series.

Scout camping plans are told

LUBBOCK — Week long camping for Scouts is on the calendar for members of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Mr. Bobby J. Moody, Council Camping Chairman, explains that most Scouting units have outdoor experiences scheduled year-round, but the heaviest schedule of activities come during the summer months.

"We are ready to serve some 1200 boys, young men and women, and adults during the summer months. There is no substitute for the type of program that Scout Troops, and Explorer Posts can get from the outdoor program offered by the South Plains Council," Moody said.

The traditional summer camps of the South Plains Council will open June 8, 1975 and will give Scouts and their troops a week long program. Some troops conduct their own weeklong camps in many areas of the country, such as Troop 406, sponsored by St. Johns United Methodist Church, is going to the Pecos Wilderness in New Mexico.

Camp Chairman says there will be three weeks of Troop camping at Camp Post near Post with an Aquatic Camp the fourth week of June.

Summer program to open at Camp Post

Cub Scout Day Camp, week-long camping for Scouts and trips to high adventure bases for older Scouts and Explorers are on the calendar for members of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Dr. John Bradford of Lubbock, council scouting chairman, explains that most Scout units have outdoor experiences scheduled year-round, but the heaviest schedule of activities comes during the summer months.

The week of June 29th through July 5th will be the South Plains speciality camp week. The Aquatics Camp will be conducted at Camp Post, consisting of classes for advanced swimmers and non-swimmers. This same week, the Explorer Speciality Camp will be held at Camp Tres Ritos.

above Explorers will study mountain climbing, nature, hiking and for a cry, to only mention some of the activities. Some troops conduct their own week-long camps in many areas of the country.

Troops 509, 527 and 543 are going to Wehinapay, New Mexico, while Troops 528 and 548 are going to Cowles, New Mexico. Troop 567 is attending Camp Sid Richardson near Ft. Worth, according to Dr. Bradford.

For Cub Scouts, the South Plains Council conducts a day camp featuring a broad selection of activities related to the Cub Scout program. The Cub Day Camps will be conducted at Camp Post on June 7, July 12 and August 2. The activities offered at Cub Day Camp will be archery, Indian Lore, geology, splashtime, nature trail, obstacle course, and plaster casting, Dr. Bradford said.

High-adventure bases for older Scouts and Explorers are located in a number of areas to offer hiking, camping, white-water canoeing, and many other activities that offer a challenge to young men and women, Bradford said.

No new farm aid for 1975

"Bitterly disappointed" were the words used by W. B. Criswell of Idalou, President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., to describe his reaction to news that the last ditch effort to enact new farm legislation for 1975 had failed.

PCG supported a one-year emergency bill which would have provided a 38-cent loan and 45-cent target price on 1975 crop cotton. The bill's chances died May 13 when the House of Representatives proved unable to override President Ford's veto. The vote was 285 for overriding and 182 against, 40 votes short of the needed two-thirds majority.

This leaves the 1975 loan for middling one inch cotton at 34.27 cents per pound as previously announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the target price at 38 cents per pound as stipulated in existing law.

"The higher levels of price protection in 1975 were entirely justified in view of inflated production costs," Criswell contends, "but the emergency bill fell victim to the President's passion for convincing the nation he is 'economy minded.'"

"The most disheartening aspect of the whole thing is that the President's veto of the measure was unmistakably guided by Agriculture Secretary Butz' exaggerated estimates of potential costs and his predictions that the bill would cause over production of cotton, under production of food crops, disrupted markets and a return to government controls — predictions we consider ill-advised, to say the least."

"PCG will, of course, continue its efforts to get a better farm program into law before 1976," Criswell commented, "but for 1975 we now have no alternative but to do the best possible job of producing and marketing our crops under the existing program."

Deeres slug way into lead as Little League opens

Ronnie Price hits first 1975 homerun in opener

The Taylor Tractor Co.'s Deeres jumped into first place this week with two easy victories as Post's Little League action got under way.

In the single game opener Monday night, Coach Lewis Holly's club hammered out 17 hits in swamping the George R. Brown Red Sox 20 to 4. They continued their scoring rampage Tuesday night by hammering the First National Bank's Dodgers, 15 to 5 on a 14-hit assault.

Actually as far as standings go, the Deeres technically share the league lead with the Storie Tigers, who defeated the Post Volunteer Fire Department's Cardinals, 9 to 7, in the Tuesday night opener.

Those are the only three games played so far and still left the Yankees, the sixth team in the league, to get into action.

That will come in the first game tonight when the Yankees play the Dodgers with the Tigers going against the Red Sox in the nightcap of the twin bill.

Action Friday night will see the Yankees playing the Red Sox in the first game and the Deeres trying for win No. 3 against the Cardinals.

The rest of the week's schedule: Saturday night: Tigers vs. Yankees, Cardinals vs. Dodgers; Monday night, Deeres vs. Yankees; Tuesday night: Yankees vs. Cardinals, Dodgers vs. Deeres.

The Deeres' opening victory Monday night was featured by the first girl to play in Little League ball here when Rochelle Smith started in rightfield for Manager Emmett Shedd's Red Sox. She failed to get a hit in two appearances, swinging in the No. 5 spot in the Red Sox batting order. On her first time up she grounded out, pitcher to first.

Besides the Deeres luster hitting overall, the same game brought the first homerun of the Little League season when the Deeres' cleanup slugger, Ronnie Price, socked the ball over the centerfield fence in the third with one runner aboard. Price got three hits in three appearances at the plate.

The game only went four innings after the Deeres romped 16 runs across the plate in the second frame to make it strictly no contest. Rodney Greathouse was the winning pitcher. Wade Giddens took the loss for the Red Sox.

Seven of the Deeres got either two or three hits apiece in the limited action.

Price went to the mound for the Deeres in the victory over the Dodgers Tuesday night and concentrated more on his pitching than his hitting. Greathouse, playing shortstop, moved into the cleanup slot and went three for four with a triple, double, and single. Centerfielder Alvin Taylor, leading off for the Deeres, went three for three and scored three runs.

The game was called at the end of the fifth by the 9:30 p. m. rule.

First Baseman Brad Greer had the biggest stick in the Tiger lineup Tuesday night, getting four hits in four appearances and scoring four times. Second sacker Raymond Raymundo got three hits in four trips and Catcher Ruben Storie got a pair of singles in four at bats.

David Foster went the route for the Tigers to notch the victory, despite a seven-run outburst by the Cardinals in the sixth for all of their runs.

For five innings Foster had blanked the Cardinals and struck out five.

Joe Lofton started for the losers and was replaced by Kevin Craig in the second with Craig going the rest of the way. Both Tim Tannehill and Lance Dunn collected a pair of hits for the Cardinals.

Four teams in minor league

L. D. Lowe, president of the Minor League Baseball League, announced that there would be four teams in the league this year. They are:

Astros with the manager, Jack Clinesmith; Mets with Don Angerer, manager; Colts, with A. E. Redman; and Rangers with Don Horton as head.

Names of the boys were drawn to see what team they would be on.

The first game has been tentatively set for June 2.

A clean up day has been called for Saturday morning at the Minor League Park at 10 a. m. All interested persons are urged to attend and help get the park ready for play.

Braves, Sox win in Babe Ruth openers

The Braves and the 1974 league champion White Sox came up with victories Tuesday night in close games to open Post's 1975 Babe Ruth Baseball season after Mayor Giles McCrary stood on home plate and threw out the first ball.

In the opener the Braves came up with a three-run rally in the sixth to come from behind and whip the Indians, 6-5. In the nightcap, the White Sox took a wild run-fest by a 16 to 13 count. The game was called in the last of the fifth because of the time limit with the White Sox having none out, the bases loaded and one run in.

Tonight the White Sox will be back in action in the first game against Southland and the Indians will play the Braves again in what has to be an unusual schedule quirk.

Rounding out the first week of action Saturday night, the Cubs will meet the Indians and Southland will play the Braves.

Next Monday night, the Cubs and Braves play the first one and the Indians and Southland tangle in the second. This twin bill was moved up from Tuesday night to avoid a conflict with commencement exercises in Antelope Stadium.

In the Tuesday night opener, Leslie Looney, Indian pitcher, whiffed 14 Braves in the seven innings, but the Braves came on with their rally with two outs in the sixth to get the victory by plating three runs.

Brad Davis, Mark Williams, and Jeff Greene came through with consecutive singles at that point to produce the winning runs.

Williams picked up the win, scattering seven hits, after a shaky first inning in which the Indians jumped into a 3 to 0

2, and Team Seven whipped Team Two, 5 1/2 to 2 1/2.

Gilmore, Valdez, Kelley, L. Warren, and Pierce are tied for individual leadership in league play with six points each.

Well Done, Seniors!

To me, nothing tastes better than fine tobacco. But I don't smoke.

To millions of Americans, the good taste of tobacco doesn't always come from smoking.

It also comes from tasting. From placing a pinch of tobacco between cheek and gum, and savoring it.

And yet, to millions of others, this age-old tobacco pleasure is still a mystery. Possibly because they've never tried it.

Or because, as is true, the use of "smokeless" tobacco is an art, and takes practice.

A pinch in a pouch.

So, to make it easier, we've made it different. We've made Good Luck® A whole new way to enjoy tobacco.

Good Luck is a pinch of choice "tasting" tobaccos, in a neat little pouch. And the pouch is what makes it different.

You place Good Luck, pouch and all, between your cheek and gum. Then, as it rests there, the pouch works like a tea bag. To let tobacco flavor out, while the tobacco stays in.

Nobody knows.

Naturally, any form of "tasting" tobacco takes a little getting used to.

But with Good Luck, it's easier because the pouch holds the tobacco all in one place. It sits comfortably and no one knows it's there, but you.

Also, each pouch comes properly pre-measured, so you always get the right amount.

Sealed in foil.

To keep the tobacco fresh and moist, each Good Luck pouch is sealed in foil. That also keeps it from spilling into your pocket.

And because you don't smoke Good Luck, it's perfectly welcome in places where smoking isn't. Such as a courtroom, on a bus, or near inflammables.

And unlike a cigarette or a pipe, Good Luck won't tie up your hands. You enjoy its tobacco flavor no matter what you're doing.

Rich tobacco tradition.

Now you're acquainted with Good Luck's little pouch. But what about the tobacco that comes inside?

Well, it's made by United States Tobacco Company whose other tobaccos, without a pouch, are not enjoyed by over 6 million Americans. And Good Luck is part of the same tradition. Only the pouch makes it easier to use.

For people like you. But no matter how you use tobacco (or even if you don't), we think Good Luck will add to your pleasure.

Try it. We put Good Luck in a pouch for people like you.

Try Good Luck, a whole new way to enjoy tobacco.

Class prophecy sees '75 seniors in 1985

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the class prophecy for Post High's 1975 graduating class as written by Chris Wyatt and read at the junior-senior banquet Saturday night.

By CHRIS WYATT
Last night as I was sleeping I had a funny dream. I dreamed I saw all of my senior class ten years from now.

The first person I saw was Marsha Arhelger. She is now a kindergarten teacher. The parents of the kids aren't too happy though. They keep complaining that their kids aren't learning anything.

Randy Babb is now a Pearl Beer Distributor. He seems to be enjoying his work very much.

Gary Bilbo has just completed his first restaurant, "Alfred's Hamburger Joint." It seems he has decided to go straight after spending nine years in prison for making false I. D.'s.

Wayne Bell is now manager of the Gibson's store in Post and is driving back and forth to night classes at Wayland.

Irene Sanchez is married to her high school sweetheart. She and her husband appear to be very happy.

Stella Varela and Kathy Wise are both teachers' aids at PHS. Tim Owen, after completing a successful football career at Tech, has accepted the position as head football coach of the Denver City Mustangs.

Norma Bradbury is now confined to a wheel chair at Saint Mary's Hospital. It seems when she was in high school a boy ran into her car and injured her back and it is just now starting to affect her. At present she is suing the head coach of Denver City for damages.

Joy Strofer and Lea Merrie Cross are now playboy "Bunnies" at the Bigger-N-Dallas Club at Lubbock.

Randy Josey is now an advanced math teacher here at Post due to the influence of Mr. Doyle during his high school days.

Andy Torres is now the owner of the Wacker's store in Russia. Shirley Allen has her own law firm in Post. Recently she has been involved in a case where Norma Bradbury is suing the head coach at Denver City.

The former Carol Davis and her husband, Andy Williams have just put Post on the map. Mrs. Williams has just given birth to sextuplets.

Dr. Kelvin Thomas was promoted to the Head of the Garza Memorial Hospital for his work in delivering the sextuplets. We also have to give credit to the fine nurses, Tina McAlister and Pat Nelson who helped Andy recover from the shock of hearing the news. Andy, your home and family life training will come in handy now!

Keith Wilks is now manager at Taylor Gulf in Post and Roger Taylor is the owner.

Jimmy Stanford works for his uncle, Sonny Gossett, at his egg farm. Jess, I mean Jimmy spends most of his spare time raising fighting roosters.

Mary Ann Norman now holds one of the most prominent positions in Texas. She is the mascot for the Baylor Bears.

Ann Mitchell, Linda Stelzer, and Ken Curtis now own the Oreo factory in Lubbock.

Roxie Owen is a waitress at "Alfred's Hamburger Joint." She used advanced math to figure up her tips.

Eddie Gannon is the ag teacher at Post High School. E. A. Gannon is doing a fine job. Frank Martinez is manager of Punk Peel's service station.

Augustine Cerda now owns the local fish farm here at Post. Joe Shedd is now owner of the grocery store chain Sheddley Weggly, with stores coast to coast.

Rickey Nelson has just invented a new heating system for Post High School. He's figured a way to channel all the hot air from Coach Alexander's room to the rest of the class rooms.

Cy Willson has just received an award from The Post Dispatch for being paper boy of the year.

Wesley Hedman and his band the "Snuff Dippen Boys" are appearing nightly at the western lounge, with guest appearances at the East Wood Inn.

Jana McKamie has just divorced her eighth husband and remarried. Her last marriage set a record. It lasted nine weeks.

Two ecology minded cowboys, Troy Simpson and James Browning, have invented a new building brick. It is made out of tumble weeds and cow manure.

Joe Baker now owns a Good Year tire company in Lubbock. All though Joe still has trouble keeping rubber on his tires he now has plenty of tires.

Denece Higgins is now a poor

New tractor safety move

DALLAS — Job safety rules announced by the U. S. Department of Labor will require rollover protective structures on new agricultural tractors manufactured after Oct. 25, 1976, and used by employees.

Rollover structures, which may be a frame or a frame and enclosure, are designed to protect farm workers from injury if a tractor overturns.

The rules will apply only to tractors used by employees — not to those used by farm employers or members of their immediate family.

"Low profile" tractors used in hop yards, vineyards, tree fruit farms, farm buildings and greenhouses, are generally excepted from the rollover protective structure provisions of the rules.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John H. Stender, head of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), said OSHA had changed its original proposal for a September 1, 1974 effective date to give manufacturers sufficient lead time to produce needed quantities of the new protective structures.

Stender said the National Safety Council reports that a 1969-1972 survey of 10 states with nearly one-third of the nation's farm workers showed that on-the-farm deaths due to overturns occurred at a rate of 8.4 per 100,000 tractors. Another survey, conducted by the Department of Transportation through 1969, shows rollover tractor accidents cause some 540 fatalities annually.

Party held on first birthday

Elizabeth Dianne Ammons was honored with a party in the city-county park, Tuesday afternoon, May 13 between 4:30 and 6 p. m. She was celebrating her first birthday.

Guests during the afternoon were Ricky, Ray, Ruby Ann and Bernice Perez; Tony Marie Ammons; Derek Walls, Billy Warren, Scottie and Stevie Farris; Reyes and Felix Bustos, Roman and Anastacia Romero, and Lance Gill.

Also, Mrs. Frank Perez, Mrs. Lillie Shaw, Mrs. James Ammons, Bobby Ammons, Mrs. Clarence Warren, Mrs. Ricky Farris, Mrs. Dale Walls and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw and James of Longview, Mrs. Walter Perez and Mrs. Ricky Gill.

Cake, cookies, ice cream and kool-aid were served to the honoree and guests.

Success is getting what we want happiness is wanting what we get.

artist struggling along with $2,000 a year.

Judi Huffman and Hope De Leon are now the typing teacher and VOE teacher at Post High School.

Melinda Nelson, Lucy Pena and Lee Ann Ray are head of the Womens Lib movement here in Post. Lee Ann is a local preacher, Lucy is the county judge and Melinda is the president of the First National Bank.

Dianna Collier and Patti Parrish own a drug and grocery store in Lubbock. The store was painted dark green on Patti's insistence. For some reason Patti loves green.

Sherry Compton is now the chief secretary for Mr. Shiver. Her physical appearance has changed, however. She now weighs 250 pounds. It's funny what a little eating will do for you.

Donny Rogers and Kevin Kenny have suddenly discovered that they are long lost brothers. They now are partners in a Hair Styling Salon called Curl's Corner.

Jerry Johnson is now the President of the United States. He has recently been under investigation, however, for allegedly bugging the democratic headquarters. He is quoted as saying, "I want to make this perfectly clear, I am innocent of all charges."

Dusty Webb is the next person I don't see. He has been listed as missing for five years now. It seems his first day out as a Forest Ranger he dropped his compass and has been lost ever since.

Danny Guajardo is now a professional student at University of Texas El Paso.

Sammy Gutierrez is an Air Force pilot at Reese Air Force Base. He has his own fighter jet complete with "Super Mex" painted on the side.

Preston Leake has done very well for himself in the Army. After 10 years of faithful service he has been promoted to head of the Latrene Department.

Ricky Cross is now a preacher. Reverend Cross plans to hold a revival in Post soon.

Tony Conner is a livestock judge. He specializes in judging swine. Tony is said to be the best Sow Judge on the South Plains.

Bob Craig is a stunt motor cycle rider. He holds the record for jumping 30 Mack trucks at one time.

Sandra Dudley and Patricia Davis now own a shoe store in Lubbock. They specialize in selling elevator shoes. Their motto is "Elevate your position in life, buy our shoes."

Debbie Epley and Dennis Mason just celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary. They now have eight children and a lot of gray hairs.

Jenda Gilmore now has her own charm school. She specializes in teaching girls how to walk correctly.

Eddy Harper is a sergeant in the Marines. He plans to retire soon and become either a school teacher or a football coach.

Kim Hester has just been chosen Miss World of 1985.

Mark Terry has just finished first in the National Bull Riding Championship Rodeo. His prize will include a two week trip to Acapulco with Miss World of 1985.

After an outstanding basketball career at Wayland College, Melanie Gay King now coaches the girls' varsity basketball team at Slaton.

Joe Moore and Dennis McDonald are now CB Radio inspectors for the FCC.

Nancy Reno teaches a speed talking course. She guarantees to increase talking or your money back.

After studying music at Baylor for four years, Dana Pool has become the assistant choir director at Post under Mr. Willson.

The next people I see are the coaching staff of PHS. Grayling Johnson is head football coach. He's invented an extra large helmet for his players who make all-state. Jay Kennedy is head track coach with Jackie Black, excuse me I mean Blacklock his assistant. Kent Kirkpatrick is head basketball coach and Sandy Bullard is the girls' tennis coach. As my dream came to an end, I rubbed my eyes and thought of what I had seen. I realized that each of us in the class of '75 has a destiny and what we make of ourselves will depend largely on the goals we set for ourselves, the determination with which we seek these goals, and the "stickability" we have in reaching our goals.
