Chamber campaign nets big membership boost

Bigger July 4th in project plans

Twenty-four new members have been added to the Post Chamber of Commerce membership rolls for an additional $1,168 in annual dues in the 1972 membership drive now nearing completion, Chamber directors were told at their March luncheon meeting of the board yesterday in the Drover House No. 2.

The goal of $1,300 additional dues and 25 new members is within easy reach, Chamber President Jim Cornish told the board.

The new members bring the club rolls to 132 current members for an estimated dues income of $8,366.96 for the current club year.

In major actions at the 90-minute meeting, Chamber directors:

(1) Approved an $8,000 club budget for 1972.

(2) Voted to hold an even bigger and better Post Fourth of July celebration this year, with Earl Chapman as chairman of the large celebration committee.

(3) Approved the assignment of the entire membership to 21 Chamber committees for 1972. Two of the committees, fact-finding groups for a Post Youth Center, headed by County Judge Giles W. Dalby, and another to look into a proposed caprock open-air amphitheater, headed by Mrs. Dalby, are incomplete pending the naming of addition members by their respective chairmen.

(4) Heard a report from Chapman on the possibility of staging an air show at the city-county airport here possibly this summer. Chapman is looking into various possibilities and promised a more complete report at the April board meeting.

(5) Delayed election of a vice president from the board until the April meeting as three directors were absent.

(4) Heard a Chamber banquet financial report by Secretary W. Yvonne Kennedy that 301 banquet tickets were sold, that the total banquet costs were $1,269.55 and that the ticket sales paid for all but $216.05 of the cost whereas $250 had been budgeted for this purpose.

The Chamber's 1972 budget lists $4,590 for office operating costs, $3,160 for projects, and $250 for the addition of the club's reserve fund.

The budget breakdown or projects includes $250 for annual banquet, $600 for retail promotions, $350 for junior livestock show jackpot, $500 for July 4th celebration, though probably more will be needed, and $1,460 for uncommitted project funds which can be assigned to Chamber projects as the year progresses.

New Chamber members for 1972 include business memberships for Marshall's Department Store, Anne's Beauty Salon, Farmers Sup

JAYCEE EVENT SATURDAY

Fish hooks to fly at Rainbow Trout Derby

Post, long famous for its outstanding rodeos, will present one of a different brand, podruh, when the Post Jaycees stage a Rainbow Rodeo from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday at South Lake, almost in hollering distance of the city's Main street.

Also being billed as a Rainbow Trout Fishing Derby, the event offers prizes in excess of $150 in value. A $75 prize will go to the fisherman catching the most trout, $50 to the one catching the biggest trout in length, and $25 to the fisherman yanking out the smallest trout.

Entry fees are $3 for those over 16 and $1.50 for all under that age.

Dan Rankin, the Jaycees' chairman for the event, says the trout will be furnished Erwin Young for the occasion. He says there will be "well over a hundred" fish released in the lake for the derby.

As far as competition is concerned, the derby runs only for three hours — from 2 to 5 p.m. — after which those wanting to keep fishing are invited to "have at it" and catch all they can, Rankin said.

Don't worry about where to get your bait. The Jaycees' No. 1 helpers — the Jaycee-ettes — will sell bait at the lake.

'Miss-less Post' pageant date set

Plans for the "Miss-Less Post" Beauty Pageant, which is to be sponsored by the Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce and the Antelope Booster Club, were discussed at a meeting of the Women's Division at noon Tuesday in the Reddy Room.

The date and time for the pageant were announced as Saturday, April 29, at 8 p.m. in the Primary school auditorium. Contestants for the pageant will be judged on costume and talent.

Mrs. Inez Hartel, president, appointed a committee to plan a membership coffee for the Women's Division to be held in the near future.

Other projects for the coming year were discussed by the attending members, who were Mrs. M. E. A. Hartel, Edith Ramsey, Evelyn Neff, Virgie Young, Patsy McCowen, Dotty Joyner, Betty Posey, Nancy Jolly, Wynonne Kennedy and Maxine Marks.

Steer shown by Post Girl 2nd at Lubbock

Cindy Bird, Post 4-H Club member, placed second with her mediumweight Hereford steer Tuesday at the 39th annual Southwest Junior Livestock Show in Lubbock.

Cindy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bird, showed the grand champion steer in the Garza County Junior Livestock Show held Saturday.

Post schools contract for two new programs

Post school trustees agreed at their March meeting Monday night to enter into a four-year contract with the University of Texas at a cost of $14,500 for guidance necessary to develop both the new Post schools curriculum evaluating system and the new learning activities packet.

These two new programs have been described in some detail in recent months by The Dispatch in other board stories.

Supt. Bill Shiver praised teachers for their "fine attitude" at the recent three-day teachers workshop devoted to working out the new learning activities program for local classrooms.

Trustees also adopted a board policy for travel allowances for all school personnel which includes a maximum of $16 a night for motel room with invoice, $1.50 each for breakfasts and lunches $1.75 for dinners, 10 cents a mile for travel, no tips, actual air fares and $2.50 taxi fare each way from and to airports, with all exceptions to be considered by the board.

The board also approved the recommendations of the textbook committee for textbooks for the 1972-73 school year.

Also approved was that portion of the teachers retroactive salary increases from September to Nov. 14 of last year which were frozen by federal wage controls and have now been released.

Estimated $25,000 paid stock exhibitors

The more than 200 animals exhibited and sold in the seventh annual Garza County Junior Livestock show and sale here over the weekend brought their young owners approximately $25,000 in premium and floor price money, according to Tommy Young, president of the Garza County Junior Livestock Association.

"It was the biggest and best show and sale we've ever had," Young said.

Sixty-two of the top animals in the show went through the sale ring Saturday afternoon "under the hammer" of auctioneer Herb Henderson of Wolforth. Each of these animals brought their owners premiums ranging from $75 to $550, and most of the other animals were sold buyers at the floor prices established just prior to the sale.

Bruce Sanderson's reserve champion steer, also a heavyweight Hereford, brought a $350 premium plus the floor price from Giles W. Dalby.

Stephen Myers, who showed both the grand champion barrow and lamb in addition to the reserve champion barrow, received a $235 premium from the Lone Star Brewing Co., Mike Mitchell, distributor for his top barrow.

His grand champion lamb was bought by Lucas Chevrolet-Olds for a $210 premium, and his reserve champion barrow went to Post Jackpot buyers for a $140 premium.

Two injured in highway wreck

Susan Lynch, 21, a student in the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, remained in Lubbock Methodist Hospital today from injuries received when the car in which she was riding overturned twice nine miles southeast of Post on U. S. Hwy. 84 at 4:50 p.m. Sunday.

The driver of the car, Carolyn Sue Morgan, 18, a secretary in Albuquerque, was less seriously injured. Both she and Miss Lynch were treated at Garza Memorial Hospital before being transferred to Lubbock.

Miss Lynch received severe abrasions, a broken arm and broken toes in the accident, which occurred when the driver lost control of the car and it ran onto the center median, then overturned as she attempted to steer it back onto the highway. Both girls were thrown from the car, according to Highway Patrolman Ken Gilbreath, who investigated the accident.

Miss Lynch and Miss Morgan were en route to Albuquerque from a visit with the latter's relatives in

FHA to call for dystrophy funds

Post's Future Homemakers of America — members of both the senior and the junior chapters — will make a door-to-door canvass Tuesday evening, March 21, to raise funds for the fight against muscular dystrophy.

The fund drive is an annual project of the FHA chapters and is being held again this year during National FHA Week, March 19-25.

The girls will start their door-to-door canvass about 7 p.m. Tuesday. Everyone is urged to donate generously to the muscular dystrophy fund.

Also as a part of the fund drive, the FHA members will put canisters in business places this weekend, in which coins may be dropped as contributions.

"We have averaged raising about $300 each year and hope to do even better this year," said Wanda Heintz, FHA senior chapter president.

Calling all fishermen for the Jaycees' Rainbow Trout Fishing Derby which will be held at South Lake in the city-county park here Saturday afternoon.

The lake is being stocked with 100 additional trout for the event. Erwin Young and a "fun afternoon" is in prospect with $150 offered in three cash prizes for the best trout, and the largest and smallest trout caught during the three hours competition.

See the front page story and the announcement ads on the sports page for details.

Originally the lake was stocked with trout before the derby was postponed a couple of weeks ago. It was around and fishermen have diligently caught most of these already, so another 100 will go into the lake shortly before 10 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

Young, incidently says this will be the "first trout derby ever held in Texas." How about that?

The junior livestock show and sale here last weekend has been declared by one and all as the best yet held here.

And not to be lost among all the cash contributions made for premium buying at the stock sale auction Saturday afternoon was the $800 worth of hair Chip Polk so gallantly donated.

Chip announced Friday night he would shave his face if $300 were raised that night for the show barn. It was promptly subscribed by cheering donors. On Saturday afternoon at the sale he promised to add a haircut too if an additional $500 was raised to apply against the show barn note. So everybody chipped in $500 more for his haircut.

Now Chip is properly shorn, and he's wait for nature to take its course again. Good going, Chip!

City, county are still negotiating

A negotiating team of city and county officials "agreed to general principles" but still have to agree on cost and procedural details in allowing their first meeting on the proposed joint city-county law arm yesterday afternoon.

At the same time, there were reports that a petition is being circulated advocating the retention of city police force.

Mayor Giles C. McCrary met with the Garza County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon. From that discussion came agreement of a negotiating team to be composed of County Judge Giles W. Dalby, County Commissioners Ted Hen and Herbert Walls, Mayor McCrary, City Councilman E. R. Foreland, and City Superintendent Pete Maddox.

Procedures on the enforcement of various city ordinances and how to divide the cost of equipment purchases are some of the details remaining to be worked out.

Dolph Briscoe—our man for Governor

The stench of the excesses of power politics at Austin, which has permeated over across the rest of the state since initial disclosures of the "stock fraud scandal," lays like a low cloud layer over Texas today as the Democrats campaign to see who is going to sit in the driver's seat as governor for the next two years.

Come May, the Democrats will decide the issue for themselves, the Republicans—given their opportunity of a century to win the governorship—defaulted their "scandal given opportunity" by not coming up with a candidate of enough stature to command recognition all across this very big state.

The Democrats have a basket full of candidates, of course, but only three whose chances are good.

Two of these come from high rungs on Texas' very peculiar individual "power politics" ladder. Gov. Preston Smith, asking a third term, and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes who runs the senate almost like a king. The third is a very respected citizen from South Texas—Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde.

Up for decision in May is not just a simple choice among these three men. Up for decision, first, the need to reestablish public confidence in our state government.

It should be hard to forget the legislative fiasco of 1971 when our law-making body sat helplessly in Austin for months on end under the hard-pressed thumbs of Ben Barnes and Gus Mustcher. It made almost every Texan sick. Some were "just a little sick" and said something like "boys will be boys" and "such hanky panky is a way of life in Austin, or didn't you know?"

But for the vast majority the disclosures made them so sick they told each other they were going to vomit up the whole mess and "really change things in 1972." The Dispatch was one of these—and so declared itself at that time.

One of the first rules of politics is that time is a great healer of all political wounds. Just sit tight and make believe it didn't happen. In the next campaign, go about your vote-getting business like it didn't happen.

That's what is happening now. A few million dollars also will be spent around Texas this spring to help convince you nothing out of the ordinary happened at Austin last year.

Nobody will be sure how it will all come out until you mark your ballots in May.

You can either vote yes for "power politics" and keep your legislature subjugated to the individual power thrusts of legislative leaders all smoochily climbing that ladder toward the governor's chair or a senatorial berth in faraway Washington where political life is several cuts above the Austin scene and the Austin manipulations. Or you can vote for a very big "air cleaning" change—and isn't political pollution a menace to our environment too?

Do you know for example that in Austin virtually the state's entire governmental machinery still lies in a shocked stupor awaiting the individual victor to emerge in May. Nobody wants to "make a move" until he sees if "power politics" is still the No. 1 game, and if so, who "the power" of the years ahead will be.

It's time to change all this—with the "x" stroke of a voting booth pencil.

That's why The Dispatch endorses Dolph Briscoe in this governor's race, urges a "clean sweep" for representative government and an end to individual power politics which subjugates the "interests of the people" for "the prime interest of the individual in power."

Dolph Briscoe's biggest liabilities in this campaign are two: (1) who is Dolph Briscoe? and (2) how do you beat entrenched individual political power as represented by Governor Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes?

You are the only ones who have these important answers. You can "learn about Briscoe" and you can use your nose to sniff again and again the stock fraud stench.

First, Briscoe is a "doer." In eight years in the lower house of the legislature, 1949-1957, Briscoe had a good track record. He co-authored the farm-to-market road program which we all now enjoy, voted on the side of progressive government, and introduced the first resolution demanding an investigation of the Veterans Land Board, which resulted in uncovering a major scandal involving millions in state funds. The Texas land board scandals, incidentally, were the last ones before the current "stock fraud scandal." So Briscoe is Johnny on the spot both times.

Out of state government since, Briscoe has been a leader in soil conservation, pest eradication, improvement of livestock operations, and water development. He has headed so many successful efforts in solving community problems that a few years ago he was honored by being named "Mr. South Texas."

He is a stockman-banker, a man of integrity, a man of vision, and what's all-important, a man who works at solving all kinds of Texas-sized problems.

Some folks are concerned because he hasn't "taken off the gloves" in this campaign and swung and slashed at his political opponents.

This he hasn't chosen as his way to run in this all-important political campaign. He offers you the choice. You know you have this choice. A lot of campaign oratory isn't going to change anything unless it lulls you into political sleep.

He said in Post last week he proposes to return freedom of action to the legislature and strongly supports the principle that the legislature should not be "controlled" by its leadership.

His answer is a simple one. To prevent another "stock fraud scandal" he will veto any bill which passes the legislature without a hearing in both houses. He thinks if you give the legislative process a chance to operate it will do what the people want.

If you believe this, Dolph Briscoe is your man, too. He already is ours for 1972.—JC

What our contemporaries are saying

It has been said that some students drink at the fountain of knowledge. Others limit themselves to gargling—Underwood, N. D., News.

Newspapers have three major responsibilities to their readers. They should exist to inform, to interest and to involve, as honestly as possible. The letters to the editor prove one thing, at least, and that is that people are reading this newspaper. It also proves that the paper is involving people and that is one of the criteria by which newspapers are judged. Each reader has a right to his own opinion. Each person who takes the time to write a letter or verbalize an opinion either in contradiction or in agreement is adding to the success of the newspaper, which after all is tied up in whether or not it is read.—Ellis, Kans., Review.

PEACE MAKERS

"Blessed are the peace-makers, for they shall be called the children of God" Matt. 5:9

The Greek word for peace did not just mean the absence of trouble, but meant anything which makes for a man's highest good. It must also be noticed that the emphasis in this beatitude is on making peace and not peace-lovers. Peace makers often do things that for the moment are unpleasant but in the long run brings peace, while peace-lovers sit back and let an ugly situation develop in the name of keeping the peace.

There are two areas we must seek to make peace. First, we must make peace with ourselves. This happens when we come to terms with God. A man who is fighting God is a man in conflict. When we accept and obey Christ and put aside our fleshly nature then we have the peace that possest all understanding. Phil 4:4-7.

Second, we must help establish right relationships between man and man. Our country is being pulled apart and there is more strife and bitterness than ever before. There are those who make trouble everywhere they go. There are also Christians whose sweetness and godliness are bridges over troubled waters.

America is in great danger of destroying itself. The Christian is challenged to be the instrument and means of bringing lasting peace to our troubled world.

LO, THE POOR Indian! He's having enough trouble losing all the TV battles to the cowboys and the cavalry, but I'm going to risk adding insult to injury by stating that I no longer believe in the Indian legend that the wind direction on the first day of Spring indicates the kind of crop year we're going to have.

On the first day of Spring last year when Noah Stone continued his practice of testing the wind direction at sunrise, he found it to be out of the northeast, which, according to the legend, foretold a good crop year. I'll leave it up to the reader whether or not we had a good crop year.

NOAH STONE, no doubt, will be up on top of the "cap" at sunrise again this year to test the wind direction on the first day of Spring, which all calendars say will be Tuesday, March 21, but which most people around here, including Noah, say will be Wednesday, March 22.

Maybe that's the reason the Indian legend missed fire last year. Perhaps if the test had been made the morning of March 21, instead of March 22, the wind would have foretold the poor crop year instead of a good one.

THE MAN UP the street says that holding public office is like trying to dance in a night club. No matter what you do, you rub somebody the wrong way.

The Garza County lawyer who ran for and was elected district attorney in 1925 was Thomas L. (Tom) Price and not W. L. Price, as reported in last week's "Thursday to Thursday" column. N. C. Outlaw was the first to set me right on the name, followed by Nick Vakud, whose wife is a niece of the late Mr. Price, and then by Clark Barton.

MR. OUTLAW said the office of district attorney, 106 Judicial District, was created in 1926 and that Mr. Price ran for and was elected to the office in 1928, then was re-elected in 1930 before yielding the position to J. H. Nelson of Lamesa in 1932.

So that sets us straight on early days in the district attorney's office, and it's nice to know that all these people either read my column or has it called to their attention by someone who does.

MAKING THE rounds in newspapers all over the country is an article, "A Peace Officer Is Many Things," which first appeared in the Scottish Rite News, Mobile, Ala. If you're looking for something with more truth than poetry in it, read on:

"A policeman is a composition of what all men are, a mingling of saint and sinner, dust and diety. He, of all men, is at once the most wanted and the most unwanted. He must be such a diplomat that he can settle differences between individuals so that each will think he won.

"But, if a policeman is pleasant he's a flirt; if he's not, he's a grouch. He must be able to start breathing, stop bleeding, tie splints, and above all be sure the victim goes home without a limp—or expect to be sued. He must know every gun, draw on the run, and hit where it doesn't hurt.

"He must be able to whip two men twice his size and half his age without damaging his uniform and without being 'brutal'. If you hit him, he's a coward; if he hits you, he's a bully. He must know where all the sin is and not partake. He must chase bum leads to a dead end, stake out ten nights to tag one witness who saw it happen, but refuses to remember. "The policeman must be a minister, a social worker, a diplomat, a tough guy and a gentleman. And, of course, he'll have to be a genius—for he'll have to feed and clothe a family on a policeman's salary."

Elsewhere on this page is an editorial by Publisher Jim Cornish endorsing Dolph Briscoe for governor of Texas. As far as the men in the race are concerned, I think Jim's choice is a wise one, but my vote is going to the only woman candidate for governor—Frances (Sissy) Farenthold.

SINCE THE opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Dispatch, Jim has always given me free rein in expressing my own opinion in my own column, and it isn't the first time our political opinions have differed.

Among the many reasons I am for Frances Farenthold for governor is the fact that as a member of the Legislature three of the things she tried to accomplish were rules reform, an investigation of the Sharptown scandal and a constitutional method of financing the primary elections.

I CONSIDER Mrs. Farenthold a natural candidate for us rural and small-town Texans. It is the first

Let's Fix Up The House
Let's assume that you have decided to fix up your home, and that you are planning on having repairs made or new additions. You should be particularly cautious about selecting the man for the job. Take some time in determining just who you want to do the work to avoid disappointment, and in some cases, actual deceptive practices which can be costly.

It would be well to contact reputable contractors in your area, getting estimates for the work you want done. Compare the prices. To help you arrive at your decision ask the contractors or workmen to give you the names of homeowners for whom they have worked previously and call them to inquire about the quality of the work.

When pricing home improvements, do not be carried away by advertising which states a specific price for a specific job on your home, sight unseen, with a free television set thrown in as a bonus. It is always best to have someone actually come to your home to examine it in order to determine what the cost will be.

Once you have chosen the man for the job, he and you should have a written contract setting forth in detail the cost of the work to be performed and the work to be done. The total cost should include the price of materials and labor.

Unfortunately, the home improvement area is a fertile field for the unscrupulous fly-by-nighters. For that reason it is usually best to have established reputable local contractors, tree surgeons, exterminators, roof repairmen, etc., to do the work for you.

One of the most insidious and reprehensible deceptive practices in this area is the "free termite examination" which is used merely as a "toe-in-the-door" to get additional work.

This ploy has financially harmed many of our elderly citizens who live alone. Usually someone for the "x" company telephones the unsuspecting senior citizen telling him that the company's workmen and trucks are working in the neighborhood and offering a free termite inspection. Then a workman arrives on the scene, makes an "inspection" under the house, in some instances finding termites, in others, not; but always finding the need for repairs to be done.

When you decide to improve home, make sure you know the company. Do not allow yourself to be pressured or frightened by having work done by an unknown person. If you are contacted by a person who says he is hazardous to your house is hazardous to your house, another repairman look at it, authorizing work to be done. If you have been a victim of a scheme such as described, notify Attorney General Crawford C. Martin, P. O. Box 100, Post Station, Austin, Texas 78768.

Special session date remains 'up in air'

AUSTIN — Gov. Preston Smith left timing of a special legislative session up in the air after the Texas Supreme Court, in effect, said there has to be one.
The High Court, not unexpectedly, concluded that Secretary of State Bob Bullock could not order public financing of primary elections without prior legislative authority.
Smith conceded that apparently left him no alternative but to summons lawmakers back to work in advance of the May 6 primaries.
He said he wanted to postpone the unhappy deed as long as possible and was not prepared to say when he would have to act.
Meanwhile, to help Smith with his decision, Bullock's staff compiled data on estimated costs of the May 6 and June 3 elections and when the bills would fall due.

Most legislators faced with election campaigns hoped the session would be limited to the primary finance issue alone — or perhaps that and highway billboard controls. The latter legislation is needed soon to avoid a threatened $24 million cut in federal road building funds allotted Texas.
Another special session will be needed later (unless Smith decides to lump all business into a single pre-election call) to approve a 1973 state appropriations act replacing the budget items vetoed last year by the governor.
Bitterness is expected to flare in the House of Representatives on opening day of the session — whenever it is: An effort is almost certain to be made to oust Speaker Gus Mutscher who is being tried in Abilene on charges of conspiring to accept a bribe in the form of 1969 bank loans and pre-arranged insurance stock profits.

Highway Commission to change signs, signals and markings

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Commission has approved sweeping new changes in traffic control devices — signs, signals and highway markings.

The changes are in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices approved by the Commission.
The manual incorporates changes prepared by the Federal Highway Administration based on recommendations by a national committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

The new philosophy in signing recommended by the manual involves the changeover from words to symbols and pictures as part of an international move toward greater uniformity and clarity in road signs throughout the nation.

In Europe, the system of symbols and shapes as been used effectively for the past 20 years among multi-language countries where uniformity is necessary for efficient traffic control.

The new signs and other traffic control devices have been under study in this country since 1964.
One of the primary reasons for the new system of symbols and shapes is that they will enable people of different national and cultural backgrounds to easily identify traffic signs while driving.

Panels explaining the new symbols will be placed under the signs so motorists won't be confused.
Traffic engineers hope that the public will become familiar with the new symbols and shapes in about five years so the panels can be removed.

In Texas, the changeover will be gradual, with new signs going up on a replacement basis initially.
The manual will become effective
June 1, 1972.

Although there will be new symbols, shapes and colors, the majority of the existing signs will remain unchanged.

The new yield right-of-way sign will have a wide red border and white interior and will retain the word "YIELD" in red inside the border.

The new prohibitive signs will all have a red circle with a slash cutting diagonally through the center which will mean "DO NOT" or "NO". The symbol inside the circle will show what is prohibited.
For example, a sign showing a left turn arrow which is surrounded by a red circle and a slash means "NO LEFT TURN".

The yellow diamond-shaped sign will still stand for a warning, but some of the symbols showing hazards ahead will be new. For example, the message, "MERGING TRAFFIC," on a yellow diamond-shaped sign will be replaced by a black arrow being pointed by a smaller black line. It is hoped this will minimize confusion as to which stream carries the merging traffic.

There as a major change in the school advance sign and the school crossing sign. These signs will now be pentagon in shape, with the figures of two school children being shown in black on a yellow background.

Color will be come more important in the new system.

Red will indicate stop or a prohibition, green will show movement permitted or give directional guidance, blue will signify motorist services, yellow will indicate a general warning, and black on White will be used for regulatory signs such as those for speed limits and for most guide and destination signs.

In addition, orange (a new color in the manual) will convey construction and maintenance warnings.

The new traffic control devices manual also includes major adjustments in the use of color lines for pavement markings.

White broken lane lines will remain on divided, multiple-lane highways such as Interstate Highways. The white broken line will denote that there is more than one lane, but that traffic in all lanes travels in the same direction. Solid white lines will be used for edge lining on two-way roadways, crosswalks and markings.

Yellow striping will be used a great deal more than in the past and will denote two-way traffic.
The combination of broken and solid yellow stripes will indicate to the motorist what is permitted.

A yellow broken centerline will mark the division of the road where passing is permitted. A solid yellow line to the right of a broken yellow centerline will mean no passing is allowed for traffic in that lane. Double solid yellow lines will denote the center line of an undivided multilane highway where no passing is allowed by vehicles in either direction.

Fundamental Orders, the first written constitution in American history, was adopted by Connecticut colonists in 1639.

CONSUMER CREDIT — A 3-PARTY SYSTEM

It involves (1) the consumer, the person who buys merchandise or service on credit;
(2) the credit granter, the business which sells goods or services to the consumer; and (3) the credit bureau, an organization which maintains a comprehensive record of the consumers paying habits and makes sure this record is readily available when and where the consumer needs it.

The credit bureau is such an important part of this triangle because credit granter cannot afford to sell goods or services on credit or to extend loans unless they have some assurance that the consumers will keep their part of the bargain by paying as agreed.

Obviously, not all consumers and credit granter can be personally acquainted with one another. It's also obvious the cost would be enormous if each credit gran-ter had to gather all the necessary credit information on each prospective consumer.

Such a practice would not only make the cost of granting credit prohibitive, but also cause the consumer a great deal of delay and inconvenience.

GOOD PSYCHOLOGY
OFTEN YOU CAN CONTROL ANOTHER PERSON'S EMOTIONS WITH JUST THE TONE OF YOUR VOICE. SO WHEN THESE SITUATIONS DEVELOP, AND IT LOOKS AS IF AN ARGUMENT IS COMING DELIBERATELY LOWER YOUR VOICE AND TALK SOFTLY. YOU'LL BE AMAZED AT THE RESULTS.

WHEN YOUR NERVES ARE TANNED AND YOUR TEMPER IS SHORT, TRY COOLING DOWN WITH A HOT CUP OF TEA. THERE'S NO ARGUMENT WITH THE SOOTHING EFFECTS OF THIS GREAT REFRESHER!

Absentee voting period begins

The absentee voting period opened Monday for Post's three spring elections — city, school and hospital board — and will continue until three days before the elections which are set for Saturday, April 15.

Five candidates, three of them seeking re-election, have filed for three city council positions to be decided in the city election. They are Jim Wells and Ewell E. (Gene) Gandy in addition to Donald Woodham, Fred Myers and Ed Blanton, all incumbents.

Faye Cockrell will be the pro-posing judge at the city election. City Secretary Wanda Wilkerson has announced.

Bob Macy, who has filed for re-election to Place 7 on the school board, is opposed by John Burns of Justiceburg. Silas Short is also opposed for re-election to Place 6 on the board.

Seeking re-election to two of three places to be filled on the Garza Memorial Hospital district board are Gene Moore and Dr. W. C. Wilson. Other candidates are Dr. Charles G. Tubbs and W. G. (Doc) Pool.

Marie Neff presented a program on abstract design in art at a meeting of the Post Art Guild Monday evening. ABOUT THAT ROAD . . .

Dear Editor: I would like to add my comments about the farm-to-market highway in Garza County between Post and Crosbyton.

In twelve years of driving in seven states, never have I traveled a road as rough as the one between my home and Post. The wear and tear on our vehicles is unbelievable.

Veterans Land Bonds go at low interest rate

AUSTIN — Forty million dollars worth of Texas veterans land bonds were sold last week at the lowest rate — 4.6253 per cent — paid by the program since 1961.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the sale assures continued financing of the program until early 1974. The constitutional interest rate ceiling for the bonds is 4.5 per cent.

The Veterans Land Board is constitutionally authorized to sell another $30.7 million in bonds to finance the program, which has enabled almost 46,000 Texas veterans to buy land.

I wish the officials of the state highway department would bring their private cars and attempt to drive 70 mph on this "chug-hole filled roller coaster." I am sure many others in this area think the same thing. The only good thing about this highway is that at times it has been a "rocking chair" for my three toddlers.

The time and taxpayers' money that the state has spent on patching and strip-topping of the highway has been a complete waste. The highway was rough when it was new. We probably got just what we paid for in the construction — or did we?

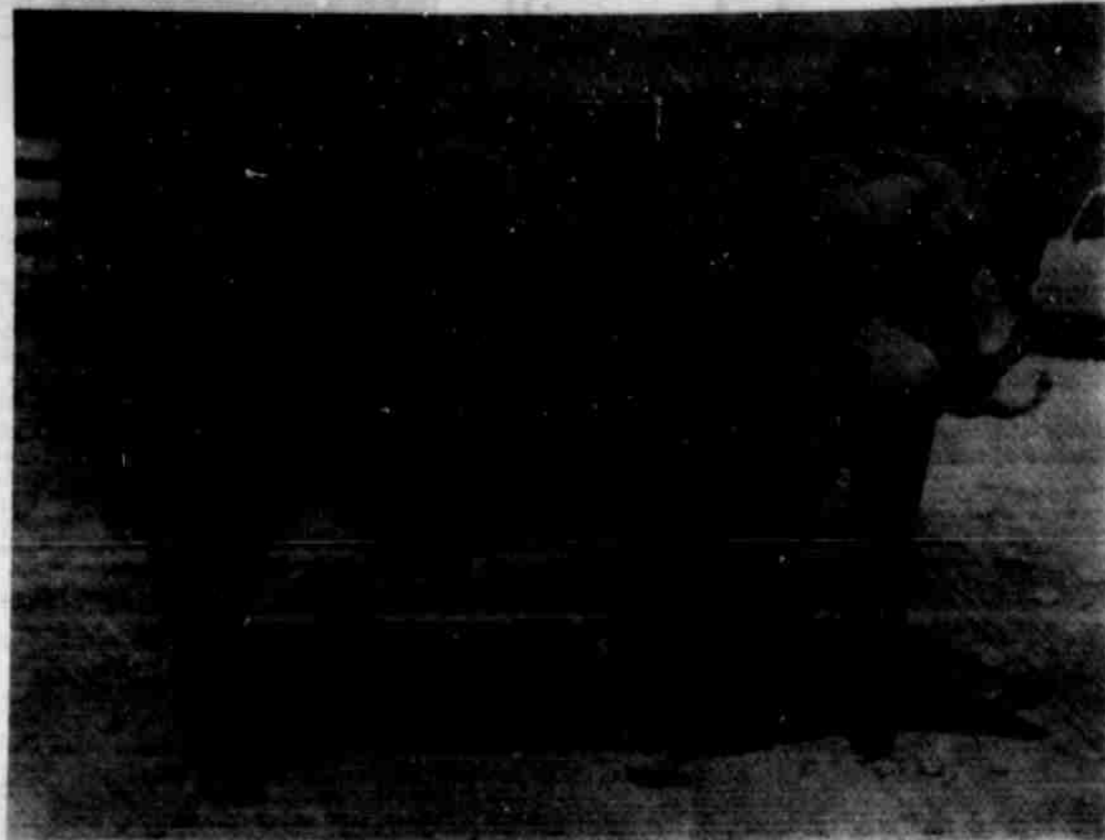

During the last five years the road has become worse because of the heavy truck traffic and heavy travel to White River Lake. I am not against people seeking recreation or the companies owning the trucks. I just wish all of us could work together and get a new highway built. Being ecology-minded, I think the same right-of-way could be used. Why waste more land?

Thank you for reading my letter. Mrs. Ronnie Graves Star Route Post, Texas 79356

LAST TO DIE

Husbands and wife both perish in an automobile accident. Seemingly, they die at the same time. Yet, if one has outlived the other even for an instant, that may make an enormous difference in their heirs. It may decide whether the husband's relatives, or the wife's relatives inherit the estate.

Accordingly, in this "common disaster" situation, strenuous efforts are often made to figure out which of the two victims was the last to die.

In a recent case, double deaths occurred when a speeding truck rammied into the passenger side of a car. Both husband wife died instantly.

But since the wife — sitting on the passenger side — had been struck first, a court concluded that the husband must have lived a fraction of a second longer. By this split second, the wife's relatives lost out on their claim to a share of the estate.

With common disasters becoming more frequent, many kinds of evidence have been found useful in deciding who died last. Anything from the position of the bodies to their physical condition may provide the telltale clue.

On the other hand, there may be no evidence at all, good enough to be trusted in the courtroom.

In another case, a mother and daughter were found dead of a sphyxiation. The only "evidence" as to which one died last was that the daughter probably held out longer because she was younger.

But a court said this was plain guesswork, and turned down a claim put forth by relatives of the daughter.

Suppose the victims really did die simultaneously (or, at least, no one can prove otherwise). To cover this situation, most states have passed a Simultaneous Death Act. This Act lays down specific rules to settle the various conflict claims that may arise.

A better solution in many cases is to have a "simultaneous death clause," tailored to your individual wishes, included in your will. In these days of high-speed transportation, such a contingency is well worth taking into account.

The Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) expects to sell $751 million worth of electric power during the 1972-73 fiscal year.

Prayer as Combat

By BOB FORD

Jacques Ellul has a chapter in his book, Prayer and Modern Man, which he calls "Prayer As Combat." In this chapter, Ellul urgently argues that real prayer is combat. In one place in this chapter, he refers to Jacob wrestling with the angel of the Lord and saying that he would not let him go until he had blessed him.

Ellul says that prayer is combat against the self. "Each time we undertake to pray, it is a victory over temptation, the giving up of the struggle with the self, over the divided heart." But I would submit that this is only the beginning of the struggle. It is my experience that prayer has to fight through doubt and anxiety and distrust and hopelessness. It has to struggle with guilt and in the face of all that to demand that God hear and bless.

I have recently come to believe in the aggressiveness of prayer. The prayer which enters into a struggle with God over control of a life. Jacob struggled with God for his life. Ellul writes, "It must be a demand with respect to the hidden God that he reveal himself, that he declare himself and enter our situation."

This combat of prayer is of the total involvement. "The combat with God implies the commitment of the person who is praying. Jacob's prayer commits all of his strength to the combat. 'I will not let you go.' What determination, what violence! The kingdom of heaven belongs to the violent who lay hold upon it and let us not talk about 'holy violence.' It is an extreme and sacrilegious violence, which is saintly in part."

But this violence is not accepted by God unless the person practicing it is ready himself to hear the shock in return. If he receives a prayer, the first consequences falls upon the person praying . . . the most usual experience will be God's decision put to work the person who cries out.

I submit to you that if your prayer life is one in which struggle with God is taking place, your prayer life is as real and meaningful as it should be. The Christian is not called to be passive, he is called to be involved and active in all that he does even in his prayer life.

Happiness . . . We did not have to go to school Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. That makes five glorious days that we got to sleep late, stay at home, and do nothing.

The FHA had a meeting March 6. A big "thank you" goes to the speakers for speaking to us.

The volleyball girls had a tournament at Tahoka March 6. Post won three, Tahoka, three.

The FHA girls went to area meeting March 10. The meeting was held at Big Spring.

Allen Woods was chosen as "Citizen of the Week." Congrats, Allen.

Senior play tryouts were held March 7.

We would like to express our gratitude to the people who are decorating the bulletin boards in Typing and Bookkeeping. It really livened up the room.

We would like to have a little contest. Turn in a picture of your parents or you and your husband. The ones that most resemble Bonnie and Clyde will have their picture on the school page. Send or give the pictures to me, or the paper staff, care of Post High School. Let's get those pictures coming.

What if there were no water
Would the flowers and trees still grow?
And what if there were no sky,
Would the wind and breeze still blow?

What if there were no color
And everyone looked the same?
What if there were only sunshine,
And never any rain?

What if there were no smiles
On the faces that you see?
And what if there were no future
For things that were meant to be?

It is the small things that go unnoticed
A thousand times each day,
For what if there were no God,
To whom we all could pray.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY:

ARE YOU SATISFIED?

By RANDELL HAYS
Sometimes you say people are not in everything you do. Have you ever thought of why you act or look, as to why people say these things? Do you really satisfied with your appearance?

Are you satisfied with your dress style?
Are you satisfied with your hair?
Are you satisfied with your work output?

Are you satisfied with the respect you have for your parents or guardians?
Most of all, are you satisfied with the whole life you live?

If you are satisfied with most of the above questions, then, my friend, you are truly a great person. If not, then make it a habit to practice some or all of them.

Greenhouse is in tiptop condition

By GLEN BRANSON
Mr. Howard and his boys have the greenhouse in tiptop condition. The banana plant in the greenhouse is taking shape and growing rapidly. They hope to have bananas sometime this summer.

There are numerous tomato plants, pepper plants, cucumbers and grapevine plants.
We are very proud of this greenhouse, since it is the only ever constructed at Post High School.

Five Post people win overseas phone calls

The five winners in the Post Jaycees' "Moms to Nam" contest were determined at last Thursday night's Jaycee meeting.

Winners of free three-minute telephone calls to "anywhere in the world" were Jo Barner, Joyce Baker, Mrs. Albert Hawkins, Opal Nowell and Agnes Welch.

The winners were determined by drawings from names that had been deposited in boxes in downtown business places the last few weeks. Glenn Polk was the Jaycee chairman for the contest that was co-sponsored by General Telephone Company.

The Jaycees also reported a good start on sale of the trash can racks they are building and selling as a club project, with Dan Rankin as chairman. One of the racks is on display at Wackers. Orders for the racks may be placed by calling 2818 or 3140.

It was announced at the meeting that the Post Jaycee organization stands seventh in the state in its

AN ANGELO — West Texas bandhill crane hunters bagged approximately 3,100 birds during the season, more than 800 over the year's kill, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

Approximately 500 birds were taken in Lamb and Bailey counties, with the heaviest harvest in Lubbock, Lynn and Terry counties where game management officers report 1,550 birds killed.

Over most of the 16-county area, hunter interest was high at the beginning of the season and gradually waned as birds began to

Babe Ruth League to furnish birth cards

BRANTON, N. J. — It's a whole ball game for Babe Ruth baseball in 1972 and International Headquarters has initiated a new plan, Player I.D. Birth Cards — that eliminate the possibility of losing a player's valued birth document.

Besides eliminating the possibility of losing the player's birth document, the new I.D. birth card will be used for regular league registration, tournament competition in a lot of cases local recreation departments will honor the

Coach compiles track records at Post High

Lane Tannehill, Post high school track coach, has recently compiled a list of high school track records here, which, if not complete and accurate, he hopes fans will help him revise.

"We are certain about most of the records, but there are one or two about which we are not sure," the coach said. He asks that anyone knowing of better performances in any event contact him. The record time or distance must have been set at a regulation track meet.

The records, as compiled by the coach, follow:

220-yard Dash: 22.3 Scrivner, district meet, 1970.
