Post-War Aviation Plans Laid In Lubbock Monday

Problems of and prospects for post-war aviation received the attention of nearly 100 representatives of 26 towns and cities in the territory at an area aviation conference sponsored by Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in Hilton Hotel in Lubbock Monday.

Information of potential aviation opportunities was disclosed during a program lasting from about 10 a. m. to nearly 4 p. m., including a luncheon at which the Lubbock Chamber was host. Roy Holland, B. J. Edwards, Clint Herd and Oscar Garner composed the delegation from Post.

Some of the information passed to the visiting delegations centered upon airports. Discussing the subject, "Small Town Airports, Their Size, Location and Utilities," S. E. Travis, Jr., of Fort Worth, supervisor of airport work of the Fort Worth regional office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, said that, in a very large degree, an airport is an individual proposition for the town or city it is to serve.

Consequently, he did not attempt to set any particular size as standard for any airport. He did say, however, that the design of CAA's airport service is available to communities and individuals contemplating the establishment of airports in attempting to ascertain the type, size and location of facilities best suited to their needs. He invited anyone interested to make use of this service.

He also discussed at some length a measure now pending in Congress under which federal aid up to 50 per cent may be made available for establishing airports. Another speaker at the afternoon session was Max Woodburn, representative of Cessna Aircraft Co., of Wichita, Kan., who predicted that 90 per cent of all post-war aircraft will be low-priced privately owned planes.

Speakers during the forenoon session were Chas. E. Beard, Dallas, vice president of Braniff Airways, Inc., who flew from Dallas to appear on the program. A. B. Henson, manager of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and Dr.

Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Tech.

Beard reported that Braniff has been making a systematic study of the subject of feeder airlines since 1937. He expressed the conviction that federal authorities will cooperate in the effort to make aviation services available to smaller towns and cities through such subsidies as airmail contracts.

Dr. Jones said that Texas Tech is tremendously interested in post-war aviation and is anxious to cooperate in any way possible to bring about the realization of hopes and plans of this territory.

Davis, the first scheduled speaker on the program, told in detail of the recent organization of Great Plains Airways, Inc., under the joint ownership of interests in Lubbock, Amarillo and Braniff Airways. He explained that developments have been filed for the incorporation with the Civil Aeronautics Board seeking permits to establish feeder airlines out of Lubbock and Amarillo serving the respective territories of the two cities.

The manager explained further that it is the policy of the Lubbock Chamber to assist in every way reasonably possible anyone who proposes to establish services to this territory. However, he continued, it also is the chamber's policy to maintain neutrality as to individual applications of this kind.

Nothing in the nature of a formal program was attempted at the luncheon, at which the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce was host. James H. Greene of Big Spring asked the invocation and E. O. Wedgeworth of Snyder led the singing of "America." Mrs. Matt McCall of Lamesa played the accompaniment.

Roy Holland, president of the Post Chamber of Commerce, said that it is the purpose of this C. of C. to cooperate in every way reasonably possible to make aviation services available to Post. We are trying to locate an airport here, he continued, because three airline companies have made applications for permits to establish feeder lines which include Post.

Match Roping Events Expected To Draw Big Crowds

All indications point to a capacity crowd Friday, August 11, when matched roping contests will be held in Post at the Post Stampede, Inc. rodeo grounds. The contest previously scheduled for two weeks ago was postponed due to unfavorable weather. The afternoon performance will begin at 2:30 p. m., and the night performance at 8:30 p. m.

The main attraction will be staged between two popular and widely known ropers, Troy Fort of Lovington, N. M. and Walton Pogue of Rankin, Texas. The popularity of the ropers together with their acknowledged skill make them favored performers in all rodeo circles in this area.

Troy Fort, winner of a matched roping contest here earlier in the season when he won over Sonny Edwards of Big Spring has a wide following of fans in this county.

The contest between Fort and Pogue will be a 20-calf match with ropers each catching 10 calves at the afternoon performance and 10 calves at the night performance. The match will be decided by the total time of both shows.

Among the rodeo billings will be a jack-pot roping for Garza county ropers, a jack-pot cutting horse contest, bronc riding and steer riding.

White face calves for the roping contest will be furnished by E. W. Williams, Garza county rancher and the cutting stock will be furnished by the Double U company.

The Post Stampede, Inc. has one of the finest arenas in West Texas for staging such shows. Admission prices including tax will be 80c for adults; 50c for children. Servicemen and women in uniform will be admitted free.

Homer McCrary, general manager, assisted by Q. D. Cardwell, declare that everything is in readiness for the event. Visitors from over this section are making inquiries concerning the date and hours of the contests. "We are expecting capacity crowds at both shows," McCrary said.

Others who are assisting in staging the show are: B. J. Edwards, ticket committee chairman; A. B. Haws, grounds committee chairman; and Paul Duren, car parking chairman. Lee Byrd and E. W. Williams are arena directors. Avery Moore, Earl Wheeler and Walter Josey are chute men; O. L. Weakley is announcer and R. B. Dodson is in charge of the public address system.

SAILOR OF THE WEEK

Eugene Tension, AMM 2/c, is in the Southwest Pacific theater of war. He has been with the Navy Air Corps eighteen months and is a nose gunner on a PB-4 patrol bomber. Eugene is the son of Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Tension.

Elwood Wright Participates In 28 Strikes On Japs

Dallas, Aug. 8.—Aviation Ordnanceman, second class, Elwood Wright, of Post, a member of famed Air Group 16, which among other achievements of note, accounted for 135 Japanese planes in combat, has returned to this country for rest and reassignment.

Winner of the Air Medal, Ordnanceman Wright participated in 28 strikes which included one each on Tarawa, the Gilberts, Kwajalein and Woleai; two each on Wake and the Marshalls; four each on Palau, and Hollandia; five on Saipan and six on Truk.

To the pilots of Air Group 16 the great air battle for Saipan always will be known as the "Marianas Turkey Shoot." Japanese planes dropped so fast during the battle that some of the enemy aviators became panicky and parachuted from their planes before the Navy flyers could shoot them down.

Air Group 16 spent 11 months of furious action in the Pacific.

Spread over the sea near Saipan, Tinian, Guam, Tarawa, Wake, Mille, Kwajalein, Palau, Woleai, Hollandia and Truk are the burned remains of Japanese ships, planes and ground installations which felt the wrath of Air Group 16.

They credit some of their success to the Japanese. "You can count on most of their pilots to pull a bonehead stunt," said Group Commander Ernest M. Snowden, of Beaufort, N. C. "They are great acrobats, and often went into slow rolls right before our guns. The enemy Navy flyers we fought against off Saipan were the best we met," he said.

Elwood is now on leave visiting in Post with his mother Mrs. T. L. Price.

Mrs. R. W. Babb, Truett and Ganell, accompanied by Billy Bates of Ropesville, have returned from a ten days visit with relatives and friends in Dallas, Ft. Worth and Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Lawson Moving To Odessa This Week

Ashley Lawson, manager of the Piggly Wiggly store since 1935, has purchased a grocery business in Odessa and will leave Post accompanied by his family this week end.

Ashley and his charming wife Mary are two of Post's most popular and talented people. Post is losing two who are among the best civic, community and church leaders.

Lawson has served as Sunday School Superintendent of the Methodist church for the past several years, has been an active and constructive member of the Post Independent School board, an energetic member of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary club and a very active member of the Masonic Lodge. His advice and council on subjects for the betterment of the community have been sought in all phases of city government. Not only has he been a leader in community life but as manager of the Piggly Wiggly store he has built up a wide patronage for that firm that is based on good business ethics.

Keeping pace with her husband as an active member of the community is that lovable person Mary. She has formed the nucleus of musical activities not only in Post but in South Plains Musical circles. She has served as president of the South Plains Music Teachers' Association, Deputy Worthy Matron of this district of the Order of Eastern Star and Worthy Matron of the Post Order. She has served as church organist of the Methodist church for a number of years and has given her time and talent in unlimited hours to other churches and organizations. She has been an inspiration to the younger group in developing an appreciative attitude toward good music and has directed them in putting on many worthwhile programs.

Seeing the need for an active club program for the younger women of the town she organized and sponsored the Junior Culture club and has served as advisor for this group for many years.

The store in Odessa is one of the best in that area. It is about twice the size of the store in Post.

Replacing Lawson as manager here is Raymond Young who has been associated with the store for several years. Young is a seasoned grocery man. He will take over duties this week. Market manager will be W. L. Crider, jr.

Much success for the Lawsons is expressed.

Graham Chapel To Hold Singing School August 14 To 26

G. Hufstelder, singing teacher and Evangelistic singer, will conduct a singing school at Graham Chapel from August 14 to August 26 inclusive.

Class sessions will be from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. The Church of Christ singing will begin Friday, August 12. Fred Custis will fill the pulpit for both morning and evening services. During the meetings the singing class sessions will be held from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., except Sundays.

The auditorium is large, the seats are comfortable, the building is kept cool with electric fans and with this outstanding choir in charge this is an excellent opportunity for the young people to learn to sing. The Graham community invites other communities to attend both the singing school and the revival meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Strayhorn of Post were guests in the home of Ed Warren last week end.

Garza 4-H Club Boys To Attend 3-Day Camp At Ceta Glen

By Wallace Kimbrough, County Agent of Texas A & M College Extension Service

The following boys have been selected to attend the District 4-H Club Encampment at Ceta Glen, August 21 to 23 from Garza county: Alvin Davis, Joe Stokes, D. G. Paterfield, Harley Martin, Max Chaffin, Carter Gene White, Frank Thomas and Emory Stevens. These boys were selected upon the basis of their club work during 1943, what they had accomplished and club work completed.

A program teeming with varied activities has been planned. Among the outstanding 4-H club boys, leaders and agricultural extension leaders to appear on the program are: L. L. Johnson, State Boy's club agent, Dr. Dan Russell, head of the Rural Sociology department of Texas A. & M. college; Dr. W. P. Taylor, director of Wildlife Research of A. & M., and R. E. Callender, game management specialist also of A. & M.

Rifle shooting, swimming, movies and organized games will be enjoyed.

The group will leave Post on the morning of August 21 and will return on Wednesday afternoon.

C. Smith Funeral Services Held Here Friday, August 14

C. Smith, 75, died Thursday, August 3 after an illness of several weeks. He had made his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Judge and Mrs. Lee Bowen since December, 1943.

Smith, with his family moved to Garza county in 1916, settling in the Close City community where he farmed for three years. During World War I, he did carpentering at various army camps. Then he opened a vulcanizing shop in Post and continued in this business for several years. Smith had been a member of the Baptist church since early manhood and was active in church affairs.

Immediate survivors are: two daughters, Mrs. Lee Bowen, Post and Mrs. Roy Synborn, Los Angeles; one son, C. Howard Smith, Phoenix, Arizona; two step children, Mrs. Chas. Pace, Electra and C. C. McKinnis, Grandfield, Okla.; ten grand children and five great-grandchildren. His wife died in 1931.

Rev. R. C. Tension officiated for the funeral services which were held in the First Baptist church Friday at 4 p. m.

Pall bearers were: Ray Smith, Dean Robinson, T. R. Greenfield, Boone Evans, Fletcher Keeton and L. H. Ingram.

Burial was made in Terrace cemetery with Plains Funeral Home, Lubbock, funeral directors in charge.

"Rusty" Dean, AMM 2/c, is spending a 30-day leave visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. B. Justice. He has been on combat duty in the Southwest Pacific theater of war for 17 months. "Rusty" will be stationed in the EtNA for a few months.

Former Post Woman Buried Here Tuesday

Mrs. A. J. Lisby died suddenly at her home in Fort Worth Monday, August 7 and was buried in Terrace cemetery, Post, Tuesday.

Mrs. Lisby was the former Vera Haynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Haynes who came to Garza county in 1919 and who moved to Snyder about two years ago. Mrs. Lisby had been a member of the Baptist church for 16 years.

Survivors, besides her husband, are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Haynes, Snyder; two sisters, Mrs. Avery Moore, jr. and Mrs. Edgar Altman, Post; three brothers, Clifford Haynes of Post; Clyde and Joe Beal Haynes, Snyder; grandfather, J. M. McGlaughn, Post.

Rev. D. W. Reed officiated for the funeral services which were held in the First Baptist church here Tuesday at 3 p. m.

Pall bearers were: Arvil Ferguson, Temple Lee, Harvey Howard, Ray Hodges, Arda Long and Arthur Dickson.

New Arrivals...

Cpl. and Mrs. John L. Sutton are announcing the arrival of a 7 1/2 pound baby girl, Donna Kay, on August 3 in a hospital at Big Spring. Mrs. Sutton will be remembered by her friends here as June Bowen. Cpl. Sutton is stationed at Fort Bliss.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Shumard are announcing the arrival of a baby boy, Billy LeRoy, on July 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Mitchell (colored) are announcing the arrival of a baby girl, Hazel, on August 2.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE REVIVAL TO BEGIN TUESDAY, AUGUST 15TH

Rev. Austin Moore, pastor of the Post Church of the Nazarene, is announcing a revival to begin at that church on August 15 and to continue for two weeks.

Rev. J. L. Woolman, Ponca City, Oklahoma, will do the preaching. There will be good singing. Everyone is invited.

Headache For Grain Producers Forecast

Symptoms are plentiful that the South Plains grower of grain sorghums will have a whopping headache this fall.

Facilities for moving his grain are expected to be even shorter than last year. There won't be enough tires for trucks and railway cars for such hauling will be scarce.

This was the outlook put before county agents and Triple-A officials of a 19 county area who closed a two-day meeting Tuesday in Plainview. It was reported by James A. Boyd, Garza county Triple-A chief, upon his return from the conference.

An ODT representative told the gathering that one railroad which usually has 1,500 cars on sidings this time of year for moving the grain crop now has less than 200 available. Prospects are anything but bright for more cars from this railroad, the speaker said. The officials were reminded that the government now is taking almost all available truck tires for Army use.

Boyd said much of the grain would have to be stored on farms. He advised that farmers begin to plan now for some sort of home storage arrangement. Boyd suggested that grain farmers call at his office for information on a government storage program.

Miss Mary Simons of Lubbock came down Saturday for a visit with her grandfather, Dr. E. A. Lewis, who has been ill for several days. She was accompanied by L. L. Charles W. Perry, Jr., of Little Rock, Ark., Miss Dorella Busey of Wink, Texas, and F/O Jake Pearce of North Carolina.

East-West Bus Line Service Improved

Greatly improved bus service became available to the people of Post and Garza county on August 1 when the West Texas Transportation Company began schedules east and west through Post.

John D. Harvey, Eastland, operating manager, was here two weeks ago making preliminary plans for the added service.

West Texas buses now bring quick service to such centers as Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Roswell, N. M. and El Paso.

For example the schedule permits a person leaving Post at 9 a. m. to be in Ft. Worth at 8:08 that afternoon, or in Waco at 3:34 that afternoon, or in San Antonio shortly after midnight. Leaving on the 1:05 bus, one should be in Ft. Worth at 10:38 that night. Leaving Post at 5:40 p. m. on the west bound bus, one may be in El Paso the next morning at 5 o'clock.

Passenger bus service east and west from Post has long been inconvenient to many patrons and citizens will appreciate the improvement in service brought about by this new transportation company. Patronage of the company will help Post in numerous ways. Warren's Drug Store is local ticket agent.

Memorial Services Held In Southland For Sgt. Jim Krause

Memorial services were held in the Lutheran church in Southland Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p. m., honoring S/Sgt. Jim Krause who was wounded in Normandy, France June 14 and died there July 14.

Rev. E. Herber, pastor, officiated at the services. A large wreath of red, white and blue flowers, tied with a tri-color ribbon formed the frame for the picture of the deceased. The Luther League formed the choir of young people, and two of their members placed the first gold star on the service flag of the church. The community service flag with its two gold stars hung on the wall.

James A. Krause was born Feb. 22, 1918 at Trov. Falls County, Texas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Krause. Jim came to Southland soon after the death of his mother in 1936. He was employed by the Ed Beckers.

In March, 1938 he enlisted and after training at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma spent two years at Camp Barkley, Texas. He was on maneuvers in Louisiana and California with a brief stay at Ft. Dix, N. J. before sailing for England.

He is survived by an Uncle, Albert Krause of Southland, his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Krause of Houston and two sisters, Mrs. Lura Jones and Mrs. Flores Daniels.

Mrs. M. E. Kennedy has bought the Ashley Lawson home in north Post. She has been living in an apartment in the home of Mrs. Jennie Voss since she moved to town last spring.

A NEW ANGLE

It is difficult to discuss many OPA rules now affecting business without becoming lost in a maze of incomprehensible regulations, penalties and "special" court procedures.

"After talking with a considerable number of congressmen," says a retail authority, I can understand somewhat better why some of them are very hesitant to place restrictions and prohibitions on the acts of people in major administrative government positions. Just as they do not want the President, as chief executive, to assume the functions of legislation, they feel hesitant to do anything which would appear to indicate that they wish to assume the functions of administration. They do not want to put themselves in the position of incurring blame for OPA administration practices.

"I think there is a strong feeling in Congress that the procedural policies of the Act are bad, and I also feel strongly that criticism of the OPA is not of the Emergency Price Control Act itself, but of its administration."

Views of Neighboring Editors:

Lynn County News—Although re-nominated by a vote approximately two to one over his opponent, George Mahon's majority in the recent primary election was proportionately much smaller than usual. Many good people, we understand, opposed him because he failed to prevent some of the higher-ups in Washington from adopting and executing a policy respecting feed that was very hurtful to farmers and stockmen in this section of the country. We are sure that George Mahon did all that was reasonably possible for him to do to prevent and to defeat the execution of this foolish program, but whether he did or not we do not feel that he should be blamed for the mistakes and the folly of those who instituted and executed the program. They and their higher-ups should get the blame for that. George Mahon is just one of about 450 congressmen. He is not President of the United States nor the head of any bureau or department of this government. Let's be fair and place the blame where it belongs.

Slaton Slatonite—Did you ever go to a hen house dance? If you have not I have been told that you have really missed something. A subscriber of the Slatonite recently finished an unusually pretentious Poultry Palace with a concrete floor, a sun porch, hot and cold running water and mirrors on the closet door and in order to celebrate the completion of the edifice in the proper way the young lady of the home invited approximately thirty guests to come dance on the concrete floor. Now the floor is so slick that the hens are doing the jitterbug, the roosters fall on their feather dusters when they try to crow and the young folks of the section are trying to promote the poultry business with their parents.

The Texas Spur—Now that the Democrats and Republicans have held conventions there will be much newspaper space wasted by prognostications as to the outcome of the presidential race.

The Terry County Herald—The Democratic platform, like that of the Republican party, seeks the coercion of the South to accept racial equality, and repeal of segregation laws. But even with the pretty strong language used by the framers, the negro leaders (ABCR) are not satisfied. They say they got a splinter instead of a plank. All the platform makers expected to do was to quiet their ranting until this election is over and the votes in the bag in pivotal states. In the South, the true old Southern negro is asking for nothing except status quo, and his white neighbor agrees.

Ordnance Keeps Army in Trim by Repairing Parts LST Personnel From All Parts of Country Prove They Can Take It

By Ernie Pyle

IN NORMANDY—One of the things the layman doesn't hear much about is the ordnance department. In fact it is one of the branches that even the average soldier is little aware of except in a vague way. And yet the war couldn't keep going without it. For ordnance repairs all the vehicles of an army and furnishes all the ammunition for its guns.

Today there are more vehicles in the American sector of our beachhead than in the average-sized American city. And our big guns on an average heavy day are shooting up more than $10,000,000 worth of ammunition. So you see ordnance has a man-sized job. Ordnance personnel is usually about 8 or 7 per cent of the total men of an army. That means we have many thousands of ordnance men in Normandy. Their insignia is a flame coming out of a retort—nicknamed in the army "The Flaming Onion."

Ernie Pyle

Ordnance operates the ammunition dumps we have scattered about the beachhead. But much bigger than its ammunition mission is ordnance's job of repair. Ordnance has 275,000 items in its catalog of parts, and the mere catalog itself covers a 20-foot shelf. In a central headquarters here on the beachhead a modern filing system housed in big tents keeps records on the number and condition of 500 major items in actual use on the beachhead, from tanks to pistols.

We have scores of separate ordnance companies at work on the beachhead—each of them a complete firm within itself, able to repair anything the army uses. Ordnance can lift a 30-ton tank as easily as it can a bicycle. It can repair a blown-up jeep or the intricate breech of a mammoth gun.

Some of its highly specialized repair companies are made up largely of men who were craftsmen in the same line in civil life. In these companies you will find the average age is much above the army average. You will find craftsmen in their late 40s, you'll find men with their own established businesses who were making $30,000 to $40,000 a year back home and who are now wearing sergeant's stripes. You'll find great soberness and sincerity, plus the normal satisfaction that comes from making things whole again instead of destroying them.

You will find an IQ far above the average for the army. It has to be that way or the work would not get done. You'll find mechanical work being done under a tree that would be housed in a $50,000 shop back in America. You'll find men working 18 hours a day, then sleeping on the ground, who because of their age don't even have to be here at all. Ordnance is one of the undramatic branches of the army. They are the mechanics and the craftsmen, the fixers and the suppliers. But their job is vital. Ordinarily they are not in a great deal of danger. There are times on newly won and congested beachheads when their casualty rate is high, but once the war settles down and there is room for movement and dispersal it is not necessary or desirable for them to do their basic work within gun range.

Our ordnance branch in Normandy has had casualties. It has two small branches which will continue to have casualties—its bomb-disposal squads and its retriever companies that go up to pull out crippled tanks under fire. But outside of these two sections, if your son or husband is in ordnance in France you can feel fairly easy about his returning to you. I don't say that to belittle ordnance in any way but to ease your worries if you have someone in this branch of the service overseas.

Ordnance is set up in a vast structure of organization the same as any other army command. The farther back you go the bigger become the outfits and the more elaborately equipped and more capable of doing heavy, long-term work. Every infantry or armored division has an ordnance company with it all the time. This company does quick repair jobs. What it hasn't time or facilities for doing it hands on back to the next echelon in the rear. The division ordnance companies hit the beach on D-Day. The next echelon back began coming on D-Day plus four. The great heavy outfits arrived somewhat later. Today the wreckage of seven weeks of war is all in hand, and in one great depot after another it is being worked out—repaired or rebuilt or sent back for salvage until everything possible is made available again to our men who do the fighting. In later columns I'll take you along to some of these repair companies that do the vital work.

The cook on LST No. 392, on which I came to France, was a beefy, good-natured fellow named Edward Strucker of Barberton, Ohio, which is near Akron. Cooking on these transport ships is a terrible job, for you suddenly have to turn out twice as much food as normally. But Eddie is not the worrying type, and he takes it all in his stride. Eddie has a brother named Charles in the army engineers, and in the past year has been lucky enough to run into him four times—once in Africa, once in Sicily, and twice in Italy.

One of those small-world experiences happened to me, too, while on that ship. We lay at anchor in a certain harbor a couple of days before sailing for France. On the second day I was in the washroom shaving when a sailor came in and said there was a Commander Greene who wanted to see me in the captain's cabin. The only Greene I could think of who might be a commander in the navy was Lieut. Terry Greene, whom I had known in my Greenwich Village days. You didn't know I ever had any Greenwich Village days? Well, don't get excited, because they weren't very lurid anyhow. At any rate I went to the captain's cabin, and sure enough it was the same Terry Greene all right. By some strange coincidence we had both got 17 years older in the meantime. Greene held a very important position in the convoy. He was tickled to death with his assignment, for he had been in the States almost the whole war and was about to go nuts for some action. I haven't seen him on this side of the Channel to discuss it, but I'm afraid our trip over wasn't as exciting as he would have liked. But you can't please everybody, and it was just tame enough to suit me fine. One of the gun crew is Seaman John Lepperd of Hershey, Pa. He is about the oldest man in the crew. He is 34, and has three daughters—17, 15 and 13—and yet he got drafted last November and here he is sailing across the English channel and helping shoot down German planes. It still seems a little odd to him. It is quite a contrast to the building game, which he had been in.

Also on this ship I ran into one of my home-towners from Albuquerque, Electrician's Mate Harold Lampton. His home actually is in Farmington, N. M., but he worked for the telephone company at Albuquerque, installing new phones. Now he is the electrician for this ship. He has been in the navy for two years and overseas for more than a year. He is a tall, dark, quiet fellow who knows a great deal more about the Southwest than I do. He said he has driven past our house many times, and we had long nostalgic talks about the desert and Indian jewelry and sunsets. We are both tired of being where we are and we wish we were back on the Rio Grande.

DO WE APPRECIATE?

Electricity has long been so common in the United States that we are not conscious of its presence. We consider as commonplace, services and products in our country, which would be looked on as luxuries in large portions of the world.

As evidence, take the lowly electric clock. Many electric clocks are seldom set after they are once plugged in. Well, what of it? you may ask. Nothing, except you don't think of failure in your electric service.

It is seldom that anything but an act of God or war would interrupt the current which you depend on using as uninterruptedly as the water you drink or the air you breathe.

Such service isn't an accident. It is the result of over half a century of tireless effort by electric companies which have been pioneered and financed by individuals who, under the urge of unrestrained opportunity, have given this nation services and products as yet unknown to countless millions over the world.

It is sometimes well to pause and count our blessings. Outstanding in the United States is the progress that flows from private enterprise.

In reviewing the record of production reported by the War Production Board up to May 25, last, the world has evidence of an industrial miracle wrought in the United States. B. M. And the American system has out produced the world."

 Among the army personnel aboard our ship was Capt. Warren Pershing, son of General Pershing. The captain, who is not a professional soldier at all, started out as a private in this war. He is in the engineers. He is a tall, blond, regular fellow and everybody likes him. He leans over backward not to trade on his father's name. He doesn't speak of the General unless you ask him. I asked if the General was still at Walter Reed hospital. He said yes, and that his father was very excited because they had just built him a penitentiary on the hospital roof. I have been told that despite his age and poor health General Pershing is very close to this war, and that some of our general staff call on him almost daily for advice and counsel.

Most Feed Crops Make Good Silage

College Station, Aug. 8.—Any crop cattle will eat makes good silage provided it is put in the silo correctly, says E. R. Eudaly, dairy husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Corn, grain sorghums and sweet sorghums are the varieties most often used for trench-stored feed, but Johnson and sudan grasses, while not as good as corn and sorghums, also make excellent silage. But all of the legumes such as alfalfa, clovers, soybeans, cowpeas and peanut vines, as well as white and sweet potatoes, carrots, beets and other vegetables also are easily adapted to silage. The same is true of grains which will keep indefinitely and can be fed to any kind of livestock.

Eudaly says that legumes must be cured to about two-thirds dry enough to bale for hay before being put down regardless of the stage of maturity. But in all cases the partly dried feeds should be dampened to about the extent of a heavy dew. Hay or dry bundle feed must be added when potatoes or other vegetables are put into the silo, using one pound of the dry feed to three pounds of vegetables. For this purpose the carbonaceous feeds such as grain and sweet sorghums and Johnson and sudan grasses are more suitable than alfalfa, clover, soybeans, cowpeas or other legumes. The carbonaceous feeds contain more starch and sugar, the elements which induce proper fermentation, than do legumes.

Grains should be dampened as they are put into the silo, and it also is best to grind the ear corn and grain sorghum heads as they go in. In this form they pack and keep better, and there is less loss in feeding.

For feeding cattle it will be better to grind threshed grains—oats, wheat and barley—as they are put into the silo. For horses, hogs and poultry, however, the grain need not be ground. Although whole grains and grain sorghum heads keep well in a silo without grinding, cattle digest ground grain better Eudaly says. It is better to do the grinding as it goes into the silo because it is slightly damp when taken out and does not grind well. Also, each day's feeding would have to be ground since the damp grain would mold 12 to 24 hours after being exposed.

Keep Your Ration Tokens Circulating

Hoarding of ration tokens has brought about a serious shortage of tokens in this District, the Ration Banking Section of the District Office of Price Administration has reported.

An appeal is made to all housewives to use all "loose change" in tokens before using other stamps from ration banks, thus keeping tokens in circulation. Hoarding of tokens makes it necessary to manufacture more and more tokens. In addition to this needless expense, it ties up equipment and machinery needed for manufacturing other items.

All ration stamps, both for processed foods and meat, are valid indefinitely — hoarding doesn't help anyone. Keep your tokens circulating.

OPA Announces Price Control Of Farm Equipment

Sales of used farm equipment and machinery by any person who has acquired it for re-sale have been brought under price control to protect farmers from overcharges, District OPA Price Executive J. B. Mooney has announced.

This action, he said, will protect farmers and farm equipment from speculators who have in the past acquired used farm machinery at or below ceiling prices and then re-sold the items at illegal prices, claiming that they were not retail dealers.

The amendment, effective August 2, also provides that all persons selling farm equipment must keep acquisition cost and sales records available to OPA for inspection.

All new and used farm machines are subject to price control when sold by dealers, but only combines, corn binders, corn pickers, farm and garden tractors, motor or tractor operated balers, hay loaders, side-delivery rakes, tractor-mounted mowers, and a combination of any of the items listed with other items of farm equipment specifically designed for mounting thereon are under price control when sold by farmers or auctioneers for farmers.

These implements, regarded by OPA and the War Food Administration as the most urgently needed, when sold "as is" may not be sold for more than 85 per cent of the manufacturer's suggested retail price f. o. b. factory for items less than a year old, and for not more than 70 percent of this original price if the article is more than a year old.

Teachers Are Needed In Post High School

There is a need in Post High school for teachers who are qualified to teach special High school subjects, according to Supt. L. V. Bearden.

Five High school teachers, including the principal, S. L. Smith, have recently resigned and some of them need to be replaced.

Smith, who was principal here only one and one-half years is moving to Winters where he will be High school principal. Miss Margaret McGregor, science teacher, will be a student at Texas Tech. Miss Geraldine Evans, who taught freshman and sophomore English will teach near Brownwood. Mrs. Loree Thaxton, who taught eighth grade English and junior business in High school, has resigned to be manager of the local State Welfare office. Mrs. R. C. Tennon has resigned from her place as mathematics teacher.

Two new High school teachers have been elected. Miss Cleo Turner of Jayton is the new science teacher. She is now a student at Denton. Mrs. Carl Webb will teach in the High school.

At the Grade school new teachers have been employed to replace those who have resigned. Mrs. L. W. Kitchen has been elected to teach in the intermediate department where Miss Scott taught last year. Miss June Wren, who taught in Littlefield last year, will replace Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Chas. Clark, who was principal at Garnolia last year and who has taught at Southland, will be primary teacher in place of Miss Schoolcraft who will attend school at Tech.

"At the present time," said Supt. Bearden, "the Grade school faculty is complete, and I hope to have more than enough applications to have a full High school faculty before Sept. 4," he added.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE PRIEST IN THE LIFE OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 2:27-36, 38; 4:1-12.

GOLDEN TEXT—For every high priest taken from among men is ordained by men in things pertaining to God.—Hebrews 5:1.

Failure to observe God's law inevitably brings disaster. That is true in the family, and in the nation. It follows even though the man whose sins is in a high and favored position in God's service.

Our lesson which brings before us the work of the priest in Israel also reminds us of the sacred relationship of father and son. These are important matters inviting our careful study.

I. A Holy Calling (2:27, 28).

Eli was the high priest in Israel, an office ordained of God, and by Him established in the household of Aaron. The priest was to stand between God and man, there to seek His forgiveness for the sins of the people, and His grace and mercy upon them. He was to teach them the law of God and to seek for them divine guidance. He was subject to special laws, and had great privileges of service.

Such a man must not only be holy himself, but unusually diligent about properly rearing his sons who would follow him in this office, which was by God's ordinance an hereditary one. He had to be both a good minister and a good father. Eli was the former, but he failed as a father.

In the New Testament, Christ becomes our High Priest (Heb. 7:26; 9:11), and those who minister for Him are to bring men to Him—the "one Mediator between God and Man" (1 Tim. 2:5; Heb. 9:15). In this new covenant the minister has a high and holy calling, but it also is made clear that all believers have the liberty to come boldly to the throne of grace (Heb. 4:16); hence they too are called "a holy priesthood" (1 Pet. 2:9).

II. A High Responsibility (2:29, 30, 35).

As already suggested, Eli was evidently a man of personal piety and integrity in office. We honor him for that, but we regret his failure to properly rear his sons who were to succeed him.

It is not enough to meet one phase of our responsibility before God and then, because of our faithfulness there to seek to justify weakness elsewhere. One sometimes hears the expression, "But he is such a good man," as an excuse for failure, but it just will not do.

Eli did remonstrate with his boys, but he waited until it was too late—or did it in such a way and at such a time as to be ineffective. His failure at this point is declared (v. 29) to be a placing of his sons above God in his thinking.

What a solemn warning to indulgent parents! "Not to rule and restrain our children, to give them their own way, is to honor them more than God. Ere we think it, weakness becomes wickedness in ourselves and in our children too." God has "made every parent . . . a king in his home, that he may . . . command his children in the way of the Lord" (Andrew Murrary).

God will not permit such sin and failure to pass unnoticed. He will set aside those who fail Him (v. 30) and bring them into judgment. He has others who are willing to serve Him (v. 35). Evidently young Samuel was the one in mind here.

It is both significant and encouraging to note that in the midst of the wicked and immoral surroundings created by Eli's sons, God had the tender vine of His own planting—the life of the boy Samuel, growing up in the temple. He was already hearing God's voice and learning to obey the call.

III. A Heavy Judgment (4:1-12). The Israelites went out to battle against the Philistines. Meeting defeat, they thought to gain victory by bringing the ark of the covenant into battle, and who had the effrontery to appear as "priests" with the ark but the ark was lost to the heathen. Swift and awful was the judgment of God. Not only was there defeat, but the ark was lost to the heathen Philistines, and the two sons of Eli were killed. When Eli heard the news of what had taken place, he too fell and died. Here was the tragic end of a life that had begun with promise, and all because of weakness, failure and sin.

There is a pointed lesson here for us. The people of Israel depended on the ark itself, an outward symbol of godliness, when there was no spiritual life in the heart—and they went down to failure. Will we go through the motions of religious exercises, talk easily of prayer, appoint men who please our itching ears (1 Tim. 4:3) to preach to us, and then go on our careless, worldly, indifferent way, supposing that our formal religion will save us? Paul tells us in 1 Timothy 2:1-5 that "having a form of godliness but denying the power thereof" is a sign of the "last days," of "perilous times" which have come upon us. May God save us!

Reupholstering Is Garza H. D. Clubs Program for August

By Mabel Ann Manley, Garza County Home Demonstration Agent

The club women and 4-H club girls of Garza county are doing their bit to aid the war effort by carrying out the motto, "Wear it out, use it up, make it do" by studying methods of reupholstering and renovation of garments during the month of August.

A good reupholstering job can be done at minimum expense if the women will follow the advice sent out from the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

In beginning a reupholstering job the lining should be pulled away from the bottom of the chair and the webbing examined. If any of it is broken or inclined to be weak it should be replaced with new webbing. Next remove all upholstery material observing how it was put on. Save any of the old material that can be used again. Use the other pieces for patterns to cut the new upholstery material by. When cutting the new material allow an inch on all pieces to give space for retacking and seams.

With all old material removed examine the frame carefully. If it is broken or pulled apart it should be repaired. A good furniture glue should be used and the pieces put under pressure for 24 hours. The pieces might be in such a bad condition that it will be necessary to take them to a cabinet maker who can do the needed repair work.

When the frame is repaired and in good condition the reupholstering job is ready to begin. Replace the broken or worn webbing with new webbing, sew the springs in place with mattress twine (linen) and tie springs. When the spring is properly tied the string which is heavier than mattress twine, will cross each spring in eight different directions.

The well tied springs should be covered with a piece of ticking, ducking or strong feed sack. This covering should be tacked securely to the frame and sewed to the springs with a curved upholstery needle. From 1 1/2 to 2 inches of the material should extend past the frame to be brought back over a small roll of the padding material to eliminate the sharp edge of the frame. Next a layer of linters should be placed over the springs and a 2 or 3 inch layer of curled hair or Spanish moss placed over this. Some of the original padding may be used if it is in fair condition. After the hair or moss covering has been added cover with another layer of linters and stretch a covering of ticking, ducking or feed sack in place and tack firmly.

The piece is now ready for the final covering. Replace the new upholstery in the same manner as the old material was placed.

The chair or couch is now ready for use and is as good or in a few cases better than it was when new.

Here is a schedule of the demonstrations being given in Garza county: Cross Roads, Aug. 3; Graham, Aug. 8, 2:30 p. m.; Close City, Aug. 15, 2:30 p. m.; Post, Aug. 17, 2:30 p. m.; Hartford, Aug. 22, 2:30 p. m.; Verbena, Aug. 23, 2:30 p. m.; Barnum Springs, Aug. 24, 2:30 p. m.; Justiceburg, Aug. 30, 2:30 p. m.

Any unorganized community desiring this demonstration should contact the County Home Demonstration Agent.

When baby is served his first semi-solid foods—that's an event. With some babies, cereal is the first of these. Whole grain cereals, such as prepared strained oatmeal or cereal food, contain minerals and vitamins, while highly refined cereals have little of either minerals or vitamins. While nutritive substances in whole grains are of value, they contain coarse fiber, which is not suitable for the sensitive digestive tract of a baby, so the problem of preparing cereals for baby is one of using whole grain cereals but putting them into suitable form.

You can obtain these cereals specially prepared for young infants. They are fine in texture, taste good, and babies like them and thrive on them.

For instance, ready-to-serve cereal food—a thoroughly cooked mixture of finely ground whole wheat, farina and corn meal to which wheat germ, malt, dried yeast and calcium, phosphorus and iron salts have been added.

Another is prepared strained oatmeal—wheat-free, a mixture of finely ground oatmeal, dried yeast, plus calcium, phosphorus and iron salts. It is thoroughly cooked, strained, dried and all ready to serve by adding milk or baby's formula.

You may also want to try a two-cereal plan. By alternating oatmeal and cereal food at each feeding, baby will eat better because he likes variety too! Many Doctors think the two-cereal idea so good that they're recommending it to Mothers.

Sunday School services were conducted in Box Canyon Sunday morning for 210 Cub Scouts and their dads by Dr. F. B. Malone of Lubbock.

C. C. Schmidt, Lubbock, was camp director Saturday and Sunday at Camp Post, according to G. M. Unger, Scout Executive of the South Plains Area Council.

In Camp Post this week are 175 Boy Scouts and leaders from Lubbock, Spur, Matador, McAdoo, Sudan, Amherst, Anton, Littlefield and Slaton.

Camp activities include campfires, nature study, archery, marksmanship, pioneering, camping, Indian lore and botany. Dr. Reed of Texas Tech is in charge of nature study and star study.

O. K. Reynolds, Plainview, field executive, is assisting Mr. Unger conduct the camp.

School Levy Is Raised; State Tax Rate Is Set At 55c

Texas' state tax rate was set on August 2 by the state automatic tax board at 55 cents on $100 valuation. The rate compares with 47 cents last year.

The increase is all in the school tax. The board of education recently raised the state apportionment per scholastic from $25 to $29, accounting for the increase.

Each cent of the state tax rate is estimated to produce about $330,000 revenue. The rate is made up of a 35 cent tax for general state purposes, 18 cents for schools and two cents for payment of Confederate pensions.

Payment of the tax begins on October 1 and taxes become delinquent next January 31. Discounts are allowed for payments before January 1.

The board follows a formula for computing the rate that is fixed by statute. Members of the board are the governor, the state comptroller and the state treasurer.

Rev. R. C. Tennison returned home Sunday after holding a very successful revival meeting in Floydada with 35 additions to the church. 21 of them continue for baptism. He will fill his pulpit for both morning and evening services next Sunday, August 13.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

H. J. R. No. 8 HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Sections 51-e and 51-f; Section 51-e providing that cities and towns in this State shall have the power and authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions for its employees, provided, however, that no pension system shall be set up in any city until it has been approved at an election by qualified voters entitled to vote at an election on the question of the issuance of tax supported bonds; Section 51-f providing that the Legislature shall have authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of cities and towns to operate Statewide or by districts under such plan or program as the Legislature shall direct and shall provide that participation therein by cities and towns shall be voluntary; provided that the Legislature shall never make an appropriation to pay any of the cost of any system authorized by this Section; providing for an election on the question of the adoption or rejection of such an amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication therefor and prescribing the form of ballot.

Be It Resolved By The Legislature Of The State Of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Sections 51-e and 51-f, which shall read as follows:

"Section 51-e. Each incorporated city and town in this State shall have the power and authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions for its appointive officers and employees who have become disabled as a direct and proximate result of the performance of their duties, or have passed their sixty-fifth birthday, or have been employed by such city or town for more than twenty-five (25) years and have passed their sixtieth birthday, when and if, but only when and if, such a system has been approved at an election by the qualified voters of such city or town entitled to vote on the question of issuance of tax supported bonds; provided that no city or town shall contribute more than the equivalent of seven and one half (7½) per centum of salaries and wages of the officers and employees entitled to participate in its pension system, and that said officers and employees shall contribute a like amount; and this Amendment shall not reduce the authority nor duty of any city or town otherwise existing.

"Section 51-f. The Legislature of this State shall have the authority to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of cities and towns to operate Statewide or by districts under such a plan and program as the Legislature shall direct and shall provide that participation therein by cities and towns shall be voluntary; provided that the Legislature shall never make an appropriation to pay any of the cost of any system authorized by this Section."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State in November, 1944, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"For the Constitutional Amendment providing that the cities and towns in this State shall have the power and authority to provide a system of pensions for their appointive officers and employees," and "Against the Constitutional Amendment providing that all cities and towns in this State shall have the power and authority to provide a system of pensions for their appointive officers and employees." All ballots at such election shall also have printed thereon, "For the Constitutional Amendment giving authority to the Legislature to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of the cities and towns" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment giving authority to the Legislature to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of cities and towns." Each voter shall scratch out two (2) of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the two (2) expressing his vote on the proposed Amendments.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

H. J. R. No. 18 HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an Amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by changing said Section 9 so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said section by changing the rates provided for any of the foregoing purposes by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year; providing that before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which same shall be approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; and, provided further, that if and when such re-allocations and changes in the aforesaid county taxes have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county, as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which same shall be approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads; provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such a tax, not to exceed fifteen (15) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws. This section shall not be construed as a limitation of powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of this Constitution; fixing the time for the election for the adoption or rejection of said proposed Constitutional Amendment; making certain provisions for said election and ballots thereon and the method thereof; directing the issuance of proclamation therefor; prescribing certain duties of the Governor of the State of Texas; and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of said election.

Be It Resolved By The Legislature Of The State Of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five (35) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation; and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five (25) cents for city or county purposes, and not exceeding fifteen (15) cents for roads and bridges, and not exceeding fifteen (15) cents to pay jurors, on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the Amendment September 25, 1883; and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water-works and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five (25) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year, and except as is in this Constitution otherwise provided; provided, however, that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the foregoing county taxes by changing the rates provided for any of the foregoing purposes by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of said foregoing county taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year; provided further, that before the said Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in said county taxes that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election, and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; and, provided further, that if and when such re-allocations and changes in the aforesaid county taxes have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county, as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which the same shall be approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads; provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such a tax, not to exceed fifteen (15) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws. This section shall not be construed as a limitation of powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of this Constitution."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a general election to be held throughout the state of Texas on the seventh day of November, 1944, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendments shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"For the Amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said section by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said section by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year; providing that before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which same shall be approved, unless the same shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; and providing that this amendment shall not be construed as a limitation on powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of the Constitution."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"Against the Amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said section by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said section by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year; providing that before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of election at which same shall be approved, unless the same shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election

CAR POOLING NECESSARY FOR B AND C HOLDERS

Because of the shortage of cars, gasoline, and tires, Ration Boards in the Lubbock Office of Price Administration District have been instructed to issue only 30-day gasoline rations for home-to-work driving applicants who do not belong to a car pool. Before an applicant can receive additional rations he must prove that he has joined a car pool or has found it impossible to join or organize one. Ely Fonville, District Rationing Executive, who made this announcement, stated that "Car pooling is mandatory for all 'B' and 'C' card-holders who use their automobiles for home-to-work driving," adding that "Ration Boards will restrict rations, not to make gasoline rationing more difficult for their neighbors, but to save gasoline, tires, and cars. Car pooling is the most productive of all conservation methods, and this car sharing drive is nationwide."

Christmas Mail To Men Overseas

Christmas mail to the armed forces overseas this year is expected to exceed last year's record. Plans are now being made by the Post Office, War and Navy Departments to handle this mail. From September 15 to October 15, Christmas gift packages for men overseas will be accepted for mailing if they are no more than five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length and girth combined. Only one such package will be accepted from the same person to the same addresses during any one week, the War Department announces.

Begin now to make preparations for that Christmas overseas. More Americans than ever before are away from home and will need those gifts this year to make their life just a bit cheerier. Consult your local merchants about suitable gifts for mailing and remember the all important factor of only one package a week to one individual during the mailing period.

PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burston

The safety of the modern private or commercial planes has placed the parachute in the same category as a life preserver on a ship. Anyone who flies has the peace of mind of knowing if it becomes necessary to abandon the plane while in flight, that it is possible to step out and float safely to earth. It is not necessary to wear the chute while in flight. They are now designed so that the chute and harness are concealed in the chair upholstery, and these are evidence of the parachute except the connections protruding from the sides of the chair and seat cushion. As the passenger arises, the pack emerges from the recessed chair back.

Parachutes are usually used at any height above 400 feet from the ground. At the present time most parachutes are made of nylon, weigh approximately 19 lbs., and are attached to a special harness which buckles about the body.

A pull on the rip cord handle (A) pulls the single pin out of fittings (B) freeing cable (C) from around tray (D). The pack cover and pilot chute (E) thus released, creates a drag and pulls the parachute from the tray. The continued pull on the rip cord operates the ejector (F) which is folded under the second fold near the apex (G) throwing the canopy away from the body into the air stream.

The Texan's Share In The War

Sgt. Henry Kroiczkyk, who is typically Texan despite his Polish name, crawled through a hail of machine gun bullets in Normandy and finally reached a thick hedgerow. Rising carefully he peeked through a hole in the hedge . . . and found himself eye-to-eye with a big Nazi soldier, who was peering through from the other side, less than two feet away.

"Hank" yelled at the man, demanding that he surrender. Just at that time, however, several other Germans started lobbing hand grenades at the Texan. "Hank" tossed a few himself, killing four Nazis and routing the others. During the scrap, the enemy in the hedgerow took to his heels. He didn't get far, however, before the East Bernard, Texas, trooper dropped him with a single rifle bullet.

During the same battle, S-Sgt. Homer Molina of Laredo dived into a shell hole right on top of four Huns. When he came out, he was marching the Germans before him as prisoners.

When his buddies congratulated him on the feat, the Texan grinned. "There weren't but four of them," he insisted. "Four Nazis to one Texan—that's about the right odds!"

Incidentally, the American fighting men are covering ground so fast in France that one of the biggest jobs is not how to whip the Germans, but how to take care of the children and old men and women freed from Nazi slavery. Field representatives of the French Relief Fund, an agency of the National War Fund, already are on the job, and will see that the aged and helpless war victims are given another chance at life.

The fighting ability of Texans is being reflected these days in the medals they are being given by a grateful government. Here are some of the Texas boys who recently won the coveted Silver Star, given only for "conspicuous gallantry and bravery":—Maj. J. Bradley, Mustang pilot, of Brownwood, who has downed 15 Nazi planes; Maj. Andrew Cheek, also of Brownwood; Lt. M. B. Etheredge of Weldon; S-Sgt. Frank Hash, Killeen; S-Sgt. Otis Wiley, San Antonio and Pfc. Reuben Peterson, Kenedy.

The three fighting Clawson brothers of Llano, who have been in action overseas for many months, are back home for a rest, and are reunited for the second time since they entered the service. Tch. Sgt. Billy Clawson was the last to arrive, being preceded by two weeks by his brothers, Capt. Johnnie Clawson and S-Sgt. Doyle Clawson. Their first reunion was behind the lines in Italy.

Lt. John Holloman of Livingston, Texas, has been voted "best pal" by a group of doughboys fighting in France. He pilots the little artillery observation plane known as "El Diablo," and is so good at spotting Nazi gun positions that he is credited with saving hundreds of American lives. When Lt. Holloman locates a German gun, he radios the news back to the artillery units, and they blow it off the earth.

Texas parents of men fighting in France may soon hear their sons voices on Texas radio stations. Wayland D. Towner, general manager of the United War

NEW YORK—It was 1940. The German armies were all-conquering, having overrun France and the low countries in short order. Britain was supposed to be at Germany's mercy and Russia was still palsy-walsy with Hitler and Der Fuehrer was proud of his generals. He made a bunch of them field marshals to show his pleasure. In the honored group above are (left to right) Von Richena, Von Wittleben, Von Kluge (now Normandy commander), List, Von Leeb and Von Doek. Today, reports say, Hitler is purging generals right and left to prevent a military putsch from ousting him.

I'd rather skip any new car rush—worse than a nylon stocking sale after War. More cars have already gone out of the running than ever were built any year! How'll everybody get his new one overnight? But I've come this far with my engine OIL-PLATED, so I figure I'll be all right. I'll just keep it safely OIL-PLATED by staying with my good old friend Conoco Nth motor oil. If you think you can beat it, okay. But remember, any engine is bound to have acids inside from every explosion. Therefore you'd risk too much grief from corrosion, as I understand, except that OIL-PLATING is made to check it.

The cans of Nth oil tell you about a modern synthetic that does the OIL-PLATING. You'd imagine it's kind of magnetized to working parts, making a protective surface to shed off acids, before the worst happens. Good thing you needn't wait for an OIL-PLATED engine; you can have that whole improvement now, using Conoco Nth oil.

REGULAR OIL CHANGE MEANS GOOD-BYE SLUDGE

No harmful particles or residue will settle in your crankcase when it's treated to regular care by us. We drain out old oil, flush and clean crankcase then fill it with the proper weight oil for warm weather driving. Motor and other car troubles are quickly eliminated with efficient care. Drive in for regular check-ups and you'll drive longer, more safely!
