The Post Dispatch

Forty-Seventh Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, Nov. 14, 1974 Number 24

'RING OF FIRE' TO GO OUT SOON

Gas plant nearly ready for operation

The "ring of fire" around Post, an unusual sight at night for the last 20 years, probably will "go out" this weekend. That is when the George R. Brown Garza Gas Processing Plant is expected to go into operation and the "flaring of gas" stopped as a conservation measure.

E. R. (Buster) Moreland, manager of the George R. Brown interests here, told The Dispatch Tuesday that the plant is running about two months behind schedule in starting up. "Due to securing equipment and material and the slow delivery of both the building of the plant has been an uphill battle from the beginning," Moreland said.

Construction actually got under way about June 1 and it was hoped to have the plant going between Sept. 1 to 15.

The plant has been constructed entirely of used equipment, a lot of which "we were lucky to get." Moreland said, because new equipment was not available.

It was built by George R. Brown employees here with some outside supervision and some speciality jobs being handled on contract.

Cost of the plant is approximately $267,000. The plant will initially process an estimated 750,000 cubic feet of gas per day, Moreland said, adding, "We hope to be processing more gas after the plant has been put into operation and all the wrinkles ironed out."

Moreland said the George R. Brown interests haven't entered into any contracts as yet to sell any natural gas.

"We don't know if we'll have any left to sell," Moreland said with a chuckle. "It takes an awful lot of gas just to run a plant itself and we use a lot more ourselves in taking oxygen out of the water before injecting it into our current waterflood operations."

He explained that taking the oxygen from the water helps prevent corrosion of pipes and equipment.

Moreland said what is called "one product", a liquid containing mostly butane and propane, will be extracted from the gas in the plant operation and sold in the industry.

Two regular operators and one relief operator will run the nearly fully automated plant.

Don Pennell, Philip Crenshaw and Jerry Reidel will be the gas plant employees, according to Moreland.

Dr. Harris enthusiastic over school progress

"I'm excited on what is going on here and the amount of growing on your faculty," Dr. Ben Harris, University of Texas educator told Post School Trustees Monday night in a step by step review of the development of an evaluation program in the Post schools over the last two and one-half years.

In answering questions, Dr. Harris said possibly by January or February the system should be able to start providing data on any educational weaknesses "in your system."

Dr. Harris explained that the three-year Post Project should be completed in May and by then the system will be able to continue operation by local personnel.

He and Supt. Bill Shiver reported 14 educators are scheduled into Post for one to three days each to write a report for submission to the Southern Association for the accreditation of Post's entire school system. Dr. Harris said few school systems in Texas have Southern accreditation at the elementary school level.

The accreditation process will require through 1975 to complete.

"This is the first time," Dr. Harris told the board, "that such an evaluation program has been applied on a school system wide basis."

He said that so far, Supt. Shiver is the only local computer expert on the program. He estimated it will cost about $1,000 a year for consultants to keep the evaluation system checked out once the project is fully implemented come May.

Dr. Harris said that the "goal setting" for the Post schools is "Bill Shiver's baby."

Supt. Shiver reported that he already is working through his faculty to establish goals. Starting with a list of 27 goals, the top 10 goals have been selected.

"Improved reading" is the No. 1 goal and "a sense of personal worth" among student appears to be emerging as the No. 2 goal, Shiver said.

Shiver hopes to carry his goal setting program to both students and parents before final selections are made so that top priority goals can receive concentrated efforts.

Pioneer honors Post employees

LUBBOCK — Two Post residents were honored Tuesday night at Pioneer Natural Gas Company's annual service award dinner at the Lubbock Country Club.

Mrs. Wilma (Boo) Olson was presented a service award recognizing her 20 years of service to the company. A 15-year award went to Charlie C. Cooper.

K. Bert "Tex" Watson, president of Pioneer, presented the awards at the banquet which was the first of three such events being held by the company at different cities in its service area. This year a total of 210 employees, representing 2,430 years of service, are being honored.

Garza United Fund now quarter way to goal

The 1975 Garza United Fund drive moved across the $2,500 mark this week en route toward its $10,000 goal, Drive Chairman Jim Cornish reports.

"We have workers out in all 14 divisions making calls and our only returns to date are basically from the business division, which annually provides over half of the drive funds," Cornish said.

He said Mrs. Norma Baumann is handling the downtown employees division this year and that Mrs. Grabeth White has organized the rural areas of the county into neighborhoods with workers assigned in each neighborhood. Mrs. White is chairman of the farm and ranch division. Mrs. Giles McCrary is the new chairman of the Private Citizens Division.

"We expect things to start to move pretty fast now," Cornish said. "We are pleased that a good number of business men have responded with increased contributions this year to offset anticipated losses from other segments of the county's economy," Cornish concluded.

Post man charged in brutal slaying here

Victim's body found Monday

Herman Manley Barfield was being charged with murder here early Wednesday afternoon at The Dispatch's press-time for the brutal slaying of Lester Charles Cruse, 58-year-old local black.

Cruse's body was found about 8:30 a. m. Monday lying in weeds on a vacant lot behind TV-Appliance Center in the 300 block of East Main by a child going to school.

His jaw was broken and his face battered. Part of it was eaten away, apparently by rodents.

Barfield, a white man who will be 63 tomorrow, lives at 201 North Avenue F.

He was arrested about 11 a. m. Wednesday at his home by Sheriff J. A. Holleman, Police Chief Jim Trulove and Police Sergeant Jim Howard.

Inside Barfield's house, the three officers found Cruse's house key on a window sill and what Cruse family members identified as Cruse's empty wallet under the mattress of Barfield's bed.

Officers said they also found a bloody baseball bat in the house, Barfield's jacket with blood on it under a pile of clothes, and blood on a pair of Barfield's shoes he apparently had tried to hide in the house.

Sergeant Howard told The Dispatch that officers were led to Barfield by a telephone call Tuesday night in which the caller told of witnessing part of the slaying.

According to the informant, which officers have yet to identify, Barfield beat Cruse to death with fatal head blows just before dark Friday evening.

Sergeant Howard said a phone call to the Lubbock pathologist who made the autopsy on Cruse's body revealed that "the only cause of death at this time appears to be a severe beating around the head."

Sergeant Howard said Barfield denied having anything to do with the slaying, but had not been questioned yet about it.

Cruse was a former farm worker who had been a resident of Post for about five years. He

Post loses a pioneer lady at age of 91

Post lost one of its pioneer ladies and a charter member of many local organizations late Monday afternoon when Mrs. Robert H. Collier died at Twin Cedar Nursing Home at the age of 91.

Mrs. Collier had been a resident of Post since 1909 two years after C. W. Post founded his agricultural colony in West Texas cattle country.

She was born Aug. 21, 1883, in Auburn, Ga., and was married to Robert H. Collier, Sr., July 15, 1906, in Bardwell, Tex.

Mrs. Collier was the last charter member of the First United Methodist Church which was organized here in 1909 and of the Eastern Star chapter here in Garza County which was organized April 9, 1912.

She served as its worthy matron in 1913 and 1914.

Mrs. Collier also was a charter member of the Methodists' Mary and Martha Sunday School class and of the Priscilla Sewing Club.

She was honored in 1962 with her 50 year pin in the Order of Eastern Star. She also had a lifetime membership in the Women's Society of Christian Service.

When Mr. and Mrs. Collier first moved to Post they lived next door to C. W. Post and often in the mornings saw him out early chopping wood.

Mrs. Collier recalled the first Methodist church services were conducted in the county courthouse by the Rev. T. C. Willett.

Survivors include one son, Bob Collier of Post; his wife, Mattie; their son, Don and daughter, Dianna; one daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wynne Collier of Tahoka; another grandson, Jack Collier of Tahoka; and two other granddaughters, Mrs. Bill Cleveland of Richardson and Mrs. Pete Cash of Lubbock; and eight great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Collier was preceded in death by her husband in September of 1968, by her son, Wynne Collier in November, 1964, and by her only daughter, Loucille Collier in February of 1972.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p. m. Wednesday in the First United Methodist Church by its pastor, the Rev. Kenneth Metzger.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of the Hudman Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Jack Lott, Lewis Herron, Don Payne, Harold Lucas, Preston Poole, Jim Wells, Waggoner Johnson and Leo Prushytski.

Rites held for Mrs. Hurst

Funeral services for Mrs. Vada (Daniel) Hurst, former Post resident, were conducted Monday in the Assembly of God Church in McCamey.

Mrs. Hurst died last Friday at Crane where she made her home.

Survivors include three sons, Floyd Chambers of London, England, Roy Chambers of Bryan, Tex., and Arnold Chambers of Crane; four daughters, Louise Pettett of Crane, Erma Herring of McCamey, Nettie Kennedy of Crane and Pauline Barnhill of Oklahoma City.

Other survivors include six brothers, Thomas Daniels of Post, R. J. Daniels of Douglas, Ariz., Joe Daniels of Bisby, Ariz., Buddy Daniels of Flagstaff, Ariz., Elmer Daniels of Los Angeles, and Edgar Daniels of El Paso; and five sisters, Mrs. Bettie Pierce and Antha Huffman of Post, Lonna Doss of Westbrook, Winnie Henning of Douglas, Ariz., and Flossie Newman of El Paso.

Burial was in the McCamey cemetery.

No rural fire crisis here

The city and county are going to try to work out an agreement on rural fire costs.

The county commissioners court Monday named Commissioners Ben Sanchez and Ted Aten to work with two city councilmen to obtain an agreement on how much the county should be paying the city for fire calls.

The current rate is $125 per call.

Councilmen Ed Sawyers and Bill Pool appeared before the court at its Monday meeting to discuss the matter.

In another court action, the county commissioners designated the South Plains Community Action Association of Levelland as its Human Services Delivery System agent for Garza County.

Howard Maddera, executive director of the SPCAA, appeared before the court to explain his request.

Post High choir in concert for Rotarians

The Post High School Choir, under the direction of George Willson, presented a 30-minute vocal concert before the Post Rotary Club at its Tuesday luncheon.

The concert has become an annual, well-received club event over the years.

The choir opened, singing, "Lord Listen to Your Children Praying" with Dana Pool, Kelvin Thomas and Nancy Reno as soloists.

The choir next sang "As He Walks With Me" with Cy Willson, soloist. Lisa Haley then played a piano solo, "The House of the Rising Sun."

Next the choir sang, "You Are the Salt of the Earth."

Amy Cowdrey then sang a vocal solo, "My Way", accompanied herself on the piano. Dana Pool and Nancy Reno then sang a duet, "Can't Help Loving That Man."

The choir came back with "The Time is Now" with Jennifer Miller as narrator.

A mixed sextet, composed of Marsha Arbelger, Jennifer Miller, Irene Sanchez, Joni Hays, Kelvin Thomas and Wayne Bell sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Danny Guthrie sang a gospel song accompanying himself on the guitar.

The choir closed the program by singing "The Antelope School Song."

AFTER FRIDAY NIGHT INCIDENT

Police protection sought for games

The city council met with the Post school trustees Monday night at the request of school officials to work out an agreement to provide two uniformed policemen at all future athletic contests here to control racially tense situations.

The action came after Supt. of Schools Bill Shiver attempted to break up what he termed a violent fight between a Post black girl and a Roosevelt band member in uniform after the Roosevelt game here Friday night.

He was cursed by the sister of the local girl involved.

In a written report to the board, Shiver said that he and other school administrators "do not feel capable of being able to control such situations as took place Friday night."

The school superintendent recommended to the board:

1. Official police patrol protection should patrol the premises at all times during all competitive school functions this year. This should be continued through May 26, 1975.
2. There should be at least two patrolmen on active duty, one for the visiting side and one for the home side at all competitive functions including junior high basketball games.
3. The school board amend the school budget to pay for this police protection from school tax money.
4. These recommendations have been approved by the school attorney who suggested Shiver's written report be placed in the official minutes of the board of trustees.

Mayor Giles McCrary told school trustees Monday night in discussing Shiver's proposal that he had visited with Police Chief Trulove on the matter and if school trustees wanted to initiate the police protection policy he would work out the details with Trulove.

A school trustee told The Dispatch yesterday that city and school officials still are working out the arrangements for the police protection.

It will be started at tonight's freshmen and JV games with Tahoka at Antelope Stadium.

In his report, Shiver had written:

"The opposing school can protest the lack of police protection this past Friday night and we can be forbidden to participate in Interscholastic League Activities. We are responsible for protecting our visitors."

At another pointed, he wrote: "My concern is both for the visiting and the local citizenry, both minority and majority ethnic groups."

Robert Sanchez is counselor

Robert Sanchez is Post's counselor in the new alcoholic-drug counseling service being offered here through the South Plains Community Action, Inc., and the Garza County Community Action Committee.

He has an office at 804 Pine Street in the community action center and is available there from 8 to 5 Mondays through Fridays.

Sanchez told The Dispatch this week a DWI School is being planned in conjunction with the Hun in Development Center in Lubbock. The date and time will be announced at a later date.

Suit filed in Woods' death

Mrs. Tommie Woods has filed a $15,000 suit in Garza District court against the Uallie Life Insurance Company of Texas because she says in her petition it has failed to pay $10,000 for accidental death in the Aug. 7, 1974 death of her husband, Bill Woods here.

The petition says the insurance firm paid the balance due on a $10,000 straight life policy, but has not honored the $10,000 additional accidental death clause.

Woods died of a gunshot wound in a Lubbock hospital.

Two more new Garza oil wells

Garza County has a couple of new oil producers this week.

They're Exxon Corp.'s No. 1-10 Dorward Oil Unit in the Dorward field, 10 miles southeast of Justiceburg, and the Sun Oil Co.'s No. 10-B S. M. Swenson & Sons in the Swenson-Garza (Ellenburger) field, 19 miles northeast of Post.

The 10-B S. M. Swenson & Sons well was the biggest, testing 365 barrels of oil daily from an open hole section 7,753 to 7,768 feet.

The No. 1-10 Dorward Oil Unit tested at 15 barrels of oil daily and 76 barrels of water from perforations at 1,952 to 2,102 feet.

Wide range of books offered

The Post Public Library has been setting a new record for circulation (books checked out) almost every year since it opened its doors.

But this year is some sort of an exception. In 1973, the library's circulation passed the 10,000 mark for the first time. This year with only 10 of the 12 months in the record, library circulation already has topped the record 1973 total and appears headed for the 12,000 mark.

All of which is but another "chapter" in the remarkable overall record of our local library. Any library in Texas would be proud of its achievements. Where else in the Lone Star State is there a library that performs so well that over two books per person (by population) in its service area are checked out in a year, or the library's whole book collection checked out during a calendar year? We don't know of any.

A very large part of the library's success is due to the broad readership support it has received every step of the way. Another good reason is the enthusiasm and helpfulness of Librarian Pee Wee Pierce.

One library service here which should receive more use than it does is the one which permits any local patron to check out "any library book in Texas."

The Texas State Library has organized a state-wide library system which permits patrons of any member library to check out any library book in any library without cost other than the small book-rate postage back to the nearest regional library in the state system, which in Post's case is Lubbock.

While the local library has done its best from time to time to "advertise" this available service, and while it has been used by some patrons, probably many local readers still don't realize it is available or they would use it more.

The Post Public Library, when it completed its expansion last year on donated "love dollars", set as its goal a collection of 20,000 books on a permanent basis.

While it will take a number of years at the present rate of book buying — about 600 a year — to reach this goal, the library is now well beyond the halfway point.

But under the Texas Library System, the 20,000 book collection will not limit any local readers. There are actually hundreds of additional thousands of books they can check out here if they want them.

The next time you want a book the Post library doesn't have ask about getting it through the state library network. You'll be surprised at how fast Pee Wee Pierce can get that book for you. — JC

Horse and buggy crime detection

The goofy, long-delayed probe into the cause of death of Barney Pyle in Lubbock should be a real shocker to any citizen who realizes the billions of federal dollars poured into the battle against the rising crime rate in just the last few years.

Pyle's widow doesn't believe death was due to too much alcohol which was the justice of the peace ruling.

Naturally, we don't have any murder theories to put forward here, but the comedy of errors in that hearing on Pyle should not be forgotten. Corrective action should be taken to see they don't happen again.

It seems unbelievable that the only crime laboratory in Texas is in Austin and that eight weeks could pass before word would come back from that laboratory that specimens taken from Pyle's body could not be properly tested because the container in which they had been shipped was damaged.

From what we read of the investigation into the man's death, it was a bad joke. The writers of the TV detective series could have done much better.

The billions which have been spent by the federal government to date have been to provide basic equipment and to require basic law enforcement education of policemen.

This is good. Most communities refuse to do this for themselves.

Now it appears it is time to carry the crime fight a step further — to develop crime investigators and to equip them, including modern crime detection laboratories where lab results can be provided in a few days, if not in a matter of hours.

Obviously, we can't depend upon the state for this, or upon local units of government.

And while the federals are making some changes, it would be well to examine the anarchial system of justices of the peace conducting hearings to determine causes of death. In most cases, and that certainly applies to Lubbock, they are not qualified, or at least they do not bother to follow the simple rules of evidence by calling witnesses and taking all available testimony. — JC

Our contemporaries say . . .

Americans who have been fearing the imposition of a Land Use Planning Act, which would put the encroaching hands of Washington upon land use, can rest easy for awhile anyway. The House, in a rare display of good sense (has for the time being), refused to consider the Land Use Planning Act which would have provided some $800 million to create or finance another huge federal and state bureaucracy to tell citizens what they could and could not do with their own property. There are now enough local, state and federal agencies dealing with the subject to make many transactions and developments difficult enough. — Mora, Minn., Kanabec County Times.

Publishing a newspaper has become an extremely costly business. Costs of labor, administration, services, supplies and distribution have escalated like everything else. If readers of this newspaper had to bear the entire cost of its publication, they would pay copy rate. They actually pay a small percentage of the cost. Advertising pays the difference. Advertising is a helpful and wanted service for newspaper readers. People long ago recognized newspapers were an ideal means of bringing buyers and sellers together. No newspaper has existed for long without advertising, although some have tried. Advertising is second only to news in reader popularity. It's an essential and informative part of this and every other newspaper. — Hillsboro, Ore., Argus.

It's about time somebody took a crack at the younger generation that spends much of its time blaming the older generation for what the kids term is a materialistic outlook in everything we do. If the older generation stopped chasing the bucks, so they could no longer furnish the kids with nice clothes, good things to eat and use of the family car, complete with heat and music, the kids would be the first to bellyache! — Burlington, Wisc., Standard Press.

? Your Name ?

WHAT'S IN IT?
By CHARLES DIDWAY

SHAW
Shaw is a Scottish and English surname meaning "dweller at the small wood or thicket" or one who came from Shaw, the name of several places in England. The word "shaw" itself is from the Old English, meaning "a small wood, thicket or copse."

English surnames, which developed in the late Middle Ages, were derived from a variety of sources, one of these sources being place names, denoting the place at, or near, which a man lived, or the place from which he came. Thus, Shaw is in the place name category of surnames.

Shaw is also found as a compound in a number of other English family names. These include Upshaw, meaning "dweller at a grove or thicket above another, or up a stream;" Crenshaw, meaning "one who lived near a grove frequented by cranes," and Henshaw, "dweller in, or near, a grove frequented by wild birds."

Shaw ranks as the 45th commonest surname in England and Wales, and ranks 87th in Scotland. The name also ranks high in this country, where there are an estimated 50,000 Shaws.

The Shaws of the Scottish Highlands were a branch of the Clan Chattan, and claim descent from the 12th century Seach or Shiach, mentioned as founder of the Macintosh clan. The Shaw clan in Scotland was broken up when its chief was dispossessed in 1595, sections attaching themselves to the Macintosh and MacPherson clans. Shaw was also a family name in the Scottish Lowlands before the 13th century. There, as in England, the name meant a small wood.

George Bernard Shaw (1850-1950) was an Irish-born dramatist who wrote, among other things, "Pygmalion," from which the musical "My Fair Lady" derives. Henry Wheeler Shaw (1818-1885) was an American humorist known by the pen name of "Josh Billings."

There are towns named Shaw in Mississippi and Oregon; a Shawville, Virginia; a Shaw-

Cotton classing in slow slip

LUBBOCK — The South Plains cotton harvest slowly gained momentum during the past week as stripping and picking operations increased, according to Paul R. Dickson in charge of the USDA's cotton classing office in Lubbock. "Harvest of the current crop is at least two weeks later than normal due to the unusual amount of moisture in October," he added.

The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reported 751 samples of cotton had been classed through Friday, Nov. 8, 1974. On this season the total was varied widely due to conditions of the harvest. "Quality of the predominant grades 41, 51 and 42 were assigned to 38 per cent. Grade 41 was assigned 32 per cent. WHERE DOES ALL THE MONEY GO?

How often have you wished you had a record of where all your money goes? You don't have to keep track of every penny spent, but to get the most for your money, it's wise to have a plan.

The first step in making a spending plan is to figure exactly how much income you have - from job, pension, investments, or other sources. Be sure to consider your take home pay after deductions, not your total salary.

Start listing your regular expenses such as mortgage or rent, regular medical expenses, insurance and installment payments.

Then figure how much you usually spend for groceries, including cleaning products and other non-food items.

The food budget for a family of four usually averages 20-25 per cent of the total budget. But what your family spends may be quite different, so don't accept that figure as a rigid rule.

Decide how much you usually spend for clothing during the year. Averages are usually about 15 per cent of a family's budget for this.

Add gasoline bills, car repair bills and related expenses such as insurance or license fees.

This will give you an idea of how much to allot for transportation.

Allow some money for recreation, including magazine or newspaper subscriptions, club dues, movies or entertaining.

Some expenses on your spending plan can be estimated from last year's figures. These would be taxes (income, property and local) and household maintenance (repairs and upkeep).

The specialist pointed out that one of the most important parts of a plan is to allow some money to meet emergencies.

Have some amount that you save regularly. Treat this savings as a regular bill and always pay yourself.

After getting all your figures together, add the expenses and subtract that total from your income - making sure everything was considered on an annual basis.

You may have to make adjustments, but this plan should help you see where your money is going.

In the traditional dance of the Eskimos, the participant dances alone, chanting to the beat of a drum.

Very Inexpensive Pest Control
For as little as $15.00 you can have your home debugged with a 12-months guarantee that it will stay pest free (excluding of course, relatives and neighborhood kids.) Also free estimates on yard spraying and termite inspection.

Defense tremendous as 'Lopes shut out Eagles 11

Post still has chance for three-way tie for crown

The Antelope defense had its finest 48 minutes of this or any other recent season at Antelope Stadium Friday night and refused to let a light cold rain dampen its enthusiasm.

Coach Bobby Davis's defensive unit shut out the high scoring Roosevelt Eagles enabling the team to score an 11 to 0 upset triumph and project themselves back into the hot, three-way SAA title race going into the season's final weekend of regular play.

Their defeat knocked the previously unbeaten Eagles into a tie with the 'Lopes for second.

The 'Lopes must now depend upon Roosevelt to bounce back and defeat Denver City at Denver City Friday night in the season's finale while the locals travel to Tahoka and bring back a victory.

Such a happy combination of circumstances would throw Post, Denver City, and Roosevelt into a three-way tie in the final district standings and leave the selection of a district playoff representative to a drawing by lot.

The roused Antelope defense Friday night held the Eagles to a net of only 83 steps on the ground and completely frustrated Roosevelt quarterback Jeff Anderson, the district's leading passer.

The 'Lopes with some outstanding work in the secondary held Anderson to only eight completions in 28 attempts for 90 yards, intercepted him three times — although only two counted, see separate story — and "sacked" him twice.

Most of Anderson's completions were short gains on rollouts. Both interceptions that counted choked off Eagle scoring threats, Mike Shepherd taking the first in the end zone just before the half to halt the first serious Roosevelt thrust which had reached to a first down on the 'Lope 10.

It wasn't so much that Anderson was off the mark with his throws or that his receivers were dropping them. Most of the time 'Lope secondary defenders were simply batting them away with their best exhibition of pass defense within memory.

Roosevelt had four scoring opportunities, two coming on Post's first two possessions of the game. An alert Eagle intercepted a Bryan Davis pass on the Post 28 shortly after the kickoff. The second time the 'Lopes fumbled the ball away on their 25.

On each occasion the vaunted Roosevelt attack was stopped cold without even a first down with four running plays gaining a total of six yards and four Anderson passes falling incomplete.

Shepherd's interception in the end zone halted an 81-yard thrust in the final minute of the first half.

Then in the final minute of the game, the Eagles cranked up for the last time and drove from their 46 to the Post 5, but the determined 'Lopes dug in and held right there for downs.

Both of these drives came after Post had scored its 11 points in the second period. Rain began falling just as the Roosevelt Eagles launched their desperate drive near the end of the first half.

The 'Lope offense got three scoring opportunities presented them by the alert defense in the first half and cashed two of them for a touchdown and a field goal in the second period.

After Post had held Roosevelt twice in the first period after the pass interception and fumble, the 'Lopes made a break of their own for their first scoring opportunity.

Facing fourth down and four on their 30, Roosevelt went into punt formation, but instead of kicking tried to surprise the 'Lopes with an end run.

End Chris Wyatt broke through two blockers to drop the kicker for a five yard loss and Post took possession on the Eagles' 25.

The 'Lopes drove to the Roosevelt six where on fourth down End Tony Conner was wide to the right in an attempted 23-yard field goal.

Roosevelt moved to a couple of first downs on its 44 when Tim Owen covered an Eagle fumble to give the 'Lopes an opportunity they converted into eight points on the board.

After a Roosevelt five yard penalty, Davis passed 24 yards to Conner for a first on the 16. Fullback Joe Moore plunged for six and Tailback Edward Price slashed for eight and another first on the visitors' two. Moore got the touchdown in two shots into the line.

Credit coach John Alexander with the two conversion points. When Conner missed the field goal earlier he noted from atop the press box the Eagles weren't covering for possible runs or passes but were going for the block.

So on the conversion attempt, Mike Shepherd, the holder for Conner's kick, took the snap, jumped to his feet and passed to End Andy Williams for two points and an 8-0 reading on the scoreboard.

The field goal which came moments later for the final 'Lope points was set up by a sparkling 46-yard punt by Garland Dudley which rolled dead on the Eagle 19.

On the second play, Sammy Gutierrez covered another costly Roosevelt fumble on the Eagle 20 with 3:02 left in the half.

Davis passed to Chris Wyatt for 14 yards and a first down on the visitors' 3. But there the advance stopped after Price slammed for two to the three.

On fourth from the six, Conner tried his second 23-yarder and this time the ball sailed true for the final Antelope points.

Rodney Jackson, Roosevelt tailback who is the district's scoring leader with 11 touchdowns and over 700 yards in the eight games BP (before Post) showed his talent on the second half kickoff by running through the entire Antelope team in a 55-yard run to the Post 40.

Roosevelt got to the Post 30 in the third when Jackson got off for a 17 yard run from scrimmage and 15 more were stepped off by the officials for a late hit after the tackle.

Tim Owen got in a six-yard "sack" of Anderson trying to pass at this point and a fourth down pass fell incomplete to turn the ball back to the 'Lopes on their 34.

In the last half, Post picked up only two first downs, 32 yards rushing, seven yards passing, fumbled five times losing the ball twice on turnovers. In those two quarters, the 'Lopes never crossed midfield with the ball.

Dale Odom put an eight-yard "sack" on Anderson early in the fourth to force an Eagle punt.

On the next Post possession, the 'Lopes fumbled the football on three consecutive plays, Davis recovering the first two alertly but then being stripped of the ball on a rollout when tackled by three or four Eagles.

But Davis quickly redeemed himself for giving up the ball on the Post 44 by intercepting an Anderson pass on the Post 24 with 6:26 in the game.

Roosevelt got started from its own 44 after a short Post punt for its final thrust with a 16-yard pass interference call which put the ball on the Post 38. It took three more minutes of Jackson's running and two Anderson passes to get the ball to the Post five with a minute to play. But for the last time the 'Lopes shut it down and took the ball back.

CAUGHT IN A CROWD — Tailback Dennis McDonald, No. 40, is caught by five Roosevelt Eagles on this play in last Friday night's stunning 11 to 0 victory over the previously unbeaten visitors.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED ON INTERCEPTION

Referee went for fake and blew whistle early

One of Roosevelt quarterback Jeff Anderson's fakes fooled Referee Henry Colwell of Lubbock in the second period Friday night and cost Post and Bryan Davis his first interception.

Fans wondered at the time what happened when Anderson faked a handoff to Tailback Rodney Jackson, faked, and fired a long pass which Davis intercepted deep in the Post secondary.

No flags were thrown. But the ball was brought back to the line of scrimmage, and Roosevelt retained possession, at first without the play even counting a down.

The down marker was changed a play later when Coach Bobby Davis called Referee Colwell to the sideline to discuss the play and the fact that no down was counted on the play.

What actually happened was that Referee Colwell thought Jackson actually had the ball on the play. When Jackson went down, the referee blew his whistle and that ended the play — even though Jackson didn't have the ball and Davis intercepted Anderson's pass.

That is the way the rule reads. It happens every once in a while and is quite embarrassing to officials who toot at the wrong time.

Fans also might have been puzzled at the two consecutive timeouts right at the beginning of the game, one charged against Post, and one against Roosevelt.

Each timeout was called by an official who detected that a player on the team against whom the timeout was assessed did not have his mouthpiece in his mouth.

The rule says all players must have the mouthpieces in their mouths when playing to protect their teeth. Fullback Joe Moore didn't, so the first timeout was called against Post, as provided in the rules instead of a yardage penalty.

When the official detected a Roosevelt player without his mouthpiece in his mouth on the next play he called a timeout against Roosevelt.

Exactly what happened on the last play of the game is this.

Coach Davis had gotten some seniors into their final home game in those final seconds after Post had held Roosevelt on downs at their own five.

One of them was Jay Kennedy, the No. 3 quarterback, who fumbled the center-snap. Roosevelt recovered, and Anderson passed into the end zone for an apparent touchdown as time ran out.

But officials ruled no touchdown because Roosevelt had a twelfth man on the field, failing to get a player off before that last play started.

The rule interpretation by the referee which did not allow Roosevelt another play after the penalty, even though there was no more time, was not understood by coaches. Normally the game can't end on a penalty against the team with the ball.

But it did Friday night. Not that it could have changed the outcome of the game, only possibly the final score.

Freshmen, JVs drop grid pair at Roosevelt

Post's freshman and junior varsity football teams dropped a grid twin bill to Roosevelt at Roosevelt last Thursday night, the frosh losing the opener 22 to 6, and the JVs bowing 16 to 7.

Roosevelt shoved across three touchdowns to take a 22-0 lead over the Post freshmen at the intermission. The locals got on the scoreboard in the third when Randy Baker scored on a run. He fumbled away a conversion opportunity, however.

Post also lost the ball twice in the first half and once in the fourth quarter on fumbles.

The Post Junior Varsity took a 7-0 lead over Roosevelt when Fullback Terry Rogers scored on a dive play in the first period and Danny Saldivar booted the extra point.

The home team got two points back in the first period on a safety when a center snapped over the Post kicker's head and Roosevelt recovered in the end zone for the safety.

Roosevelt scored on an end-around in the second quarter, but missed the extra points to take an 8 to 7 lead at the half. In the final period the home club added the clincher with a long sustained scoring drive and added the conversion points on a run.

Eighth graders upset champs in last game

Coach Danny Chisum's eighth grade football team, which only won its first game of the season last week, closed out the season on a glory note Tuesday night at Tahoka by knocking off the district champs, 22 to 16.

That left the locals with a 2-5-1 record for the fall campaign and wishing the season was just getting started.

The seventh graders took the opener at Tahoka too with a 22 to 14 win to finish up in the runnerup position in the district with a 6-2 seasonal slate.

In the eighth grade victory, Dale Redman passed 15 yards to Bryan Compton for the first touchdown. Cliff Kirkpatrick passed 25 yards to Tim Morris for another and then Kirkpatrick swept end for eight yards and the third six-pointer.

All touchdowns came on 60 yard marches, quite a consistency achievement at the eighth grade level.

Kirkpatrick scored two sets of conversion points on runs. In the seventh grade victory, Scott Walker passed 15 yards to

Team can't afford to overlook Tahoka

Coach Bobby Davis thinks the Roosevelt Eagles have a good chance to beat Denver City at Denver City Friday night, but he isn't losing sight of the fact that his own Post Antelopes must whip the Tahoka Bulldogs to give the locals a chance to become District SAA tri-champs.

A combination of a Roosevelt win and a Post victory would leave Post, Roosevelt and Denver City all sharing the district crown.

Should all of this come to pass, there will be a meeting of officials and coaches of the three schools for a drawing to see which of the three teams will represent the district in the playoffs.

"I still say there isn't much difference in the strength of the three teams," Coach Davis said.

"Defensively, Post had its best effort of the year in shutting out Roosevelt," Davis declared.

He reported the 'Lopes came out of the game in good shape physically. Only Randy Josey was held out of action because of his knee.

Davis points out that the Antelopes' Friday night assignment will be to try and beat Tahoka and he is concentrating on that.

Actually, Tahoka played Denver City a good first half last Friday night in losing 33-0. They gave away two first half touchdowns and trailed 13-0 at intermission. Against Roosevelt, the Bulldogs gave up a bunch of first half points on fumbles and the like.

"They've just been giving up too many easy scores," Davis said. "They're capable of playing good football. Since the Post game is a traditional one for them, we expect them to give an all-out effort against us."

The Bulldogs run out of a wing-T with David Glenn, a 155-pound junior, the quarterback; Mitch Rainol, 159-pound junior, the tailback, and Milton Harris, 152-pound junior, the fullback.

Up front, Tahoka's offensive line has five seniors and two juniors with Curtis Stice, 190, junior center; Jimmy McDonald, 183-pound senior, and Cole Brecheen, 140-pound junior, at guards; Mark Tekell, 170-pound senior, and Tony Botkin, 160, senior, at tackles; and Roosevelt Moore, 185-pound senior, and Denny Johnston, 155-pound senior, at ends.

David Sissney, 150-pound junior, is the wingback giving the Bulldogs an all-junior backfield.

On defense, the ends stay in for Tahoka but a new set of tackles come on to complete the front four — Joe Bailey, 225,

Friona firm makes first quarter report

FRIONA — Friona Industries, Inc. today reported revenues of $9.3 million and a net deficit of $379,028, or 30 cents per share, during the first quarter ended Sept. 30.

This compared with revenues of $14.3 million and net income of $748,426, or 75 cents per share, in the same quarter of the prior fiscal year.

"A substantial part of the loss is attributable to the sale of approximately 6,100 head of company-owned cattle at unprofitable prices," said John G. Carrothers, president.

"The manufacture and sale of commercial cattle feed and custom cattle-feeding operations were both profitable, but well below last year's level for the three months," he explained.

"Retail marketing of animal health supplies through our nine stores was at about a break-even level in the first quarter," he added.

The company's two feedlots, which have a capacity of 67,000 head, operated at an average capacity of approximately 45 per cent during the quarter, compared with 97 per cent at the same time last year.

Christmas seal sale heads emphysema fight

There are two sides to every envelope and the Christmas Seal Association advised the public today to make good use of both of them. One way to add extra cheer to Yuletide cards and letters and help fight lung disease at the same time is to seal the flap with Christmas Seals, according to the Association.

'Child Abuse' FHA theme for month

We are glad to see all the organizations becoming so involved in down-to-earth problems which need to be faced now and avoided later in life.

The theme for this month's meeting of the Future Homemakers of America is "Child Abuse." It is a serious problem and should be brought to the attention of the students who are in fact the future parents of America. We urge all members to attend.

Three of them have been issued this year: a self-stick, pre-cancel stamp showing a dove of peace weather vane from George Washington's Mount Vernon home; a second depicting "The Perseus Altarpiece" from a masterpiece at New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art; and a third based on a Currier & Ives print, "The Road-Winter."

Photography class is raising funds

The photography class is having money projects to earn money to buy an enlarger for black and white and color prints. This will be a challenge this year.

They are making prints of seventh and eighth grade football teams at the price of 50 cents for a 5x7 and $1 for an 8 x 10.

R. L. Marks reminded the public that while the Christmas postage specials cost 10 cents a piece, Christmas Seals have no fixed price. Recipients of Seals are invited to make voluntary donations, and to use the Seals on letters, cards, and packages to help the Lung Association in its battle to prevent and control emphysema, chronic asthma, TB, cigarette smoking, and air pollution.

"Although Christmas postage stamps and Christmas Seals are serving different purposes," Marks said, "Christmas Seals owe much to the post office both in their past and present."

"The major portion of the Lung Association's support comes from the mailing of Christmas Seals to thousands of homes, businesses, and organizations in this area to help combat a spectrum of diseases that attack the lungs," Mr. Marks said. "History can repeat itself and much can be done to bring these ailments under control. That's why it's a matter of life and breath to answer your Christmas Seal letter today."

FB committee to set resolutions

WACO — Texas Farm Bureau's 41-member resolutions committee will meet here Nov. 20 to compile a set of tentative resolutions on scores of issues from recommendations sent in from county Farm Bureau annual meetings. The tentative resolutions will be considered by voting delegates at the upcoming TFB annual convention where they will be adopted.

Acquisition of new gas reserves told by Pioneer

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The board of directors of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, at their regular meeting held here, announced that the acquisition of new gas reserves to be connected to Pioneer's system has been progressing favorably.

In the first six months of 1974 Pioneer acquired new gas supply equal to about 130 per cent of sales during the same period and in the third quarter, acquisitions of an estimated 76 billion cubic feet were considerably in excess of sales for the period.

Late in September, a discovery well located on a six section unit in Wheeler County, Texas, was completed and potentialed for 34,000 Mcf of gas per day. The producer is estimating a daily delivery capacity to Pioneer of approximately 10,000 Mcf per day. It is estimated that an additional five wells will be drilled in the unit area, and Pioneer has 86 per cent of the potential gas production under contract.

In making the announcement, K. Bert "Tex" Watson, Pioneer president, said, "Gas from these new sources will start flowing into the system around the end of the year. We forecast that the average cost of gas to the company will remain level for the remainder of 1974. This would indicate that there should be no increase in the cost of gas served to Pioneer customers for this period as a result of the monthly adjustment based on gas costs."

Texan honored for work with nursing homes

AUSTIN — The highest plaudits of the American Nursing Home Association have been bestowed upon a Texan.

Francis A. Flynn of Austin received the 1974 Better Life Award at luncheon ceremonies Sunday in Honolulu, Hawaii where delegates of ANHA are convened for their 25th annual convention.

Flynn won the award, a silver plaque, for "significant educational contributions" to the nursing home field. Since 1967, he has supervised and conducted training seminars throughout Texas attended by more than 17,000 persons. Under Texas law, administrators of nursing homes are required to complete 200 study hours to become eligible for licensing and an additional 30 study hours biennially to keep licenses valid.

"The pursuit of excellence by the nursing home profession in Texas owes much of its success to the distinguished efforts of Fran Flynn", said Rogers Wilson, president of the Texas Nursing Home Association. "We feel that our educational enhancement program is the best anywhere and we all take pride in the national recognition Mr. Flynn has earned."

The national award follows many honors and commendations for the veteran educator who has previously been cited by TNHA, Gov. Dolph Briscoe, and Dr. James R. D. Eddy, Dean Emeritus of the University of Texas at Austin where Flynn has served 18 years as director and training specialist of the Distributive Education Department.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN — If you're planning to spend less money by staying home more this winter, perhaps you'll be depending for part of your entertainment on a home stereo system.

And, while buying a new one might seem like a strange way to save money, some folks reason that records and tapes are sources of continual pleasure and can be used and enjoyed over and over again for free after the initial investment.

In just a few weeks, consumers who are contemplating a high fidelity stereo purchase will get a big assist in sorting through the claims made by competing brands.

The assist is in the form of a Federal Trade Commission regulation that will require, after November 4, that all manufacturers of home entertainment audio equipment use the same method of specifying power output. The new rule may have a widespread effect too, since consumers are expected to purchase an estimated 8 million stereo sets this year.

In the past, one "hi-fi" brand advertised at 50 watts might have been more powerful than another advertised at 100 watts. In addition, one manufacturer's amplifier advertised at 10 watts might actually produce more power with less distorted sound than another's 50 watt amplifier. For the novice buyer, this was confusing, to say the least.

Audio equipment power has been rated by one of three common rating systems heretofore: "continuous power," "instantaneous peak power," and "music power."

Most audio experts regard continuous power as the most reliable method for the average consumer to use in comparing systems. It expresses an amplifier's ability to produce a range of tones for more than 30 seconds with little distortion of the sound. And it's the way the FTC says all such equipment must now be rated.

Manufacturers must now test their equipment after it has warmed up for one hour, and the equipment must deliver its full wattage power for five minutes before the measurement is made. Manufacturers will also be required to state in what frequency range the power is effective, and all channels must operate at the stated power.

The "instantaneous peak power" ratings, which can be more than 20 times the continuous power ratings, have often impressed consumers who think "the more watts, the better." However, IPP measurers amplifier power without regard for sound distortion, so you can get a "fuzzy" sound. In addition, the wattage may deteriorate after the set has been on awhile, since the rating is only for "instantaneous" power.

The FTC says instantaneous peak power claims still can be made by manufacturers, but that they must be shown in advertisements and printed material in smaller size type than continuous power ratings. "Music power" is a term that has been abused by some audio equipment advertisers to make claims that couldn't always be justified. When used accurately, along with a rated distortion figure, music power measures the ability of a set to deliver better musical sounds than another when all other factors are equal.

Attorney General's Consumer Protection attorneys recommend that consumers in the market for audio equipment familiarize themselves with the new ratings so they can make valid comparisons. They also recommend that stereo shoppers:

—Choose a dealer with a reputation for good equipment and service, and make sure he's authorized by the manufacturer to service the brand selected.

—Take a favorite record or tape when testing equipment. Have the dealer play it on several systems, ranging from low-cost to expensive. When you find a sound you like, listen to the next most expensive system. If you still find the first one satisfactory, it may be a good choice for you.

—Examine the warranty carefully. Make sure it spells out in detail what is covered and for how long.

—If there are any doubts about the dealer, check with people who have dealt with him, and with the local Better Business Bureau.

—If a consumer problem develops, consult the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.

Water, Inc., to seek members

LUBBOCK — Workers in the 1974 Water, Inc., Membership Drive will converge here Saturday for a leadership rally launching the organization's monthlong search for new members. The 10:30 a. m. get-together will be conducted in the Fifth Floor Meeting Room of the First National-Pioneer Building.

Lloyd Calhoun of Hobbs, chairman of the membership drive steering committee, said workers from throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico will be in Lubbock for the rally which marks the beginning of the intensive solicitation for members. He noted that there is more evidence of widespread support for Water, Inc., this year than in previous membership drives.

Water, Inc., is a non-profit, membership-based organization which has been working for importation of water into the area since 1967. It was formed by 1,000 charter members and since its inception more than 5,000 individuals, firms and organizations have participated in its financing through membership dues.

Close City 4-H club meets Nov. 4

The Close City 4-H Club was called to order at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Nov. 4 by president Mark Greer with 11 members and four adult leaders present.

The club decided to change the meeting date from the first Monday night of every month to the second Tuesday of every month and to move up the starting time from 7:30 to 7 because it gets dark so early.

Members are studying parliamentary procedures.

Two games were played and then the meeting was dismissed.

Personnel named by safety group

AUSTIN — Texas Safety Association President Edwin B. Locke has announced major changes in TSA's executive personnel. George Gustafson has been promoted to general manager. Stuart Nelson has joined the association as executive director, and Mrs. Jean Roberts has been named director of public information and program development.

"These three individuals represent a depth of safety and professional experience," Locke commented in his announcement, "which is ideal for TSA leadership. We expect the association to continue to prosper and expand into new safety fields under their leadership."

Top cowboys heading for National Finals

DENVER, Colo. — The Grand National rodeo at the Cow Palace in San Francisco, Calif., closed out the 1974 professional rodeo season with a total payoff of better than $79,500, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

The largest single winner of the rodeo was Charlie Battles of Delaware, Okla., who gathered $3,372 from steer wrestling. He moved into 12th position in the national standings, and assured himself a trip to Oklahoma City, Okla., for the National Finals Rodeo, Dec. 7-15.

Tommy Puryear of Norman, Okla., who has been charging up through the standings in steer wrestling during the latter part of the season, grabbed $1,500 in his event at the Cow Palace and went into the lead, passing Tom Ferguson of Miami, Okla. Puryear's season total is $24,210.

Other event winners at the rodeo included Steve Hiatt of Milburn, Neb., $8,042 in bull riding; Rovec Smith, Challis, Ida., $2,176 in bareback riding; J. C. Bonine, Hysham, Mont., $2,029 in saddle bronc riding; and Gary Ledford, Comanche, Okla., $2,019 in calf roping. The team roping had the Camarillo cousins, Reg of Mesa, Ariz., and Leo of Oakdale, Calif., winning $1,180 each.

The top 15 cowboys in each event will head for the Finals now, which is offering the largest purse ever. Total prize money for cowboys and the top 15 women in barrel racing is approximately $150,000.

Eighth grade —

(Continued From Page Six) Larry Rodriguez for the first score, Walker got the next on a five-yard run, and Mark Greer scored the final TD on another short run.

Walker tallied two conversion points on an end run and the locals picked up their other two points on a safety when Ramon Fuentes and Chuck Black tackled a Tahoka ball carrier in his own end zone.

Tahoka scored first, taking a 6-0 lead, but Post bounced right back and took control of the game.

Postings —

(Continued From Page One) pressroom employees had inadvertently (there's that word again) tied up a bundle of Dispatches which should have gone into the trash can because they came off the press before it was properly inked up.

Friona firm buys Tulia feed yard

FRIONA, Tex. — Friona Industries Inc. today completed its purchase of the 57,000 head capacity Swisher county feed yard near Tulia, Texas from Mesa Petroleum Company.

"This acquisition will bring our total cattle feeding capacity to 124,000 head," said John G. Carrothers, Friona president.

Friona a diversified agribusiness firm also operates two feedyards near Friona, with combined capacity of 67,000 head. The company, which has annual revenue in excess of $50 million, is also engaged in the manufacture and sale of commercial cattle feed and retail marketing of animal health supplies.

"We feel that we acquired the Swisher county feedyard on very attractive terms," said Carrothers.

"In addition the management personnel of the feedyard who will be joining our company are some of the best in the industry," he added.

"This acquisition places us in a very advantageous position for future growth when the cattle situation returns to normal," commented Carrothers.

Tests slated for federal summer jobs

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Cong. Omar Bureson (D-Tex.) said today that the Civil Service Commission is now receiving applications for the 1975 competitive examination for summer employment with the U. S. Government. The examination leads to eligibility for appointment to most temporary summer jobs in the clerical field and as aides in engineering and science occupations.

The commission has announced the filing deadlines. Those who file by Dec. 13 will be tested in January. Those who file by Jan. 17 will be tested in February. No test application postmarked after Jan. 17 will be accepted. The congressman urges students to file early for the test to enhance their chances for employment.

Complete instructions for filing and information on opportunities available are contained in CSC announcement No. 414, Summer Jobs in Federal Agencies, which may be obtained upon request through Congressman Bureson's Washington Office, 2969 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515, or from Federal Job Information Centers, most college placement offices, or from the Civil Service Commission.

The Veterans Administration reminds service disabled veterans whose prosthetic or orthopedic devices tend to wear out or tear clothing that they are eligible for a $150 annual clothing allowance.

Library books read in 10 months than in '73

Library patrons checked out over 10,000 books in the first 10 months of this year than they did in the first 10 months of 1973. The record is held by Mrs. Pierce in her October library report said 10,332 books have been checked out in the first 10 months. With two months to go, it appears likely library circulation for 1974 will approach or top the 12,000 book figure.

A total of 981 books were checked out in October, 765 of them adult books and 216 of them juvenile books. Three hundred and 34 of the books checked out were non-fiction and the rest fiction, including 291 adult fiction, 100 mysteries, 71 westerns, 19 science fiction, 12 young adults, 57 juveniles and 97 easy books.

Fifty new books were added to library shelves during the month bringing the total acquisitions for 1974 to date to 543. The library also added two new puzzles to bring its puzzles also added two new puzzles to bring its puzzles available for checkout to 35.

Six books were lost during the month to bring 1974 losses to 32 books. Another 29 books have been discarded this year to bring total book reduction to 61.

A total of $13.03 in miscellaneous revenue was reported for the month, $8.45 of which was in overdue book fines and $4.20 in book sales. That brings miscellaneous income for the year to $157.00.

Fourteen puzzles were checked out during the month to bring the circulation of the rather recently created puzzle department to 69.

POST ANTELOPES

VS.

TAHOKA BULLDOGS

At Tahoka

Friday Night, Nov. 15

7.30 PM KICKOFF

The Antelopes after being "up" for two tough "district showdown games" in a row can't afford to take Tahoka's Bulldogs for granted. While the Lynn County club has only one district win in five starts, that over Cooper, the Bulldogs are long standing rivals of the 'Lopes. That means a good rock 'em, sock 'em scrap whenever the two teams get together. Another danger for the 'Lopes is that they will have their minds on the Roosevelt-Denver City contest instead of their own. Lots of Post seniors will be playing their final regular season game for the Black and Gold. They want to make it a good one to go out on.

News from Post High School

Page 15 The Post (Tex.) Dispatch Thursday, Nov. 14, 1974

Thrilling athletic event coming up

This week the student body of Post High School will be treated to a battle of the sexes. Coach Giddens' first period girls PE class and his fifth period boys PE class are going to play co-ed hockey.

Let's all be glad that Coach Giddens has taken such an interest in the PE classes at PHS.

Halls and classrooms at PHS now bright, cheery

The halls are painted dynamic gold, orange, and plainer, tamer white.

All in all, we here on the paper staff think the interior designer did a bang up job at picking colors to brighten our days and studies. We are sure that other students look forward to becoming a part of the bright world at PHS and enjoying the delightful change.

One time performance presented by teachers

This seems to be a great year for Post High School and we should do all we can to keep it going. Each organization has daring and fearless sponsors to help lead it and we have an extraordinary faculty.

Our faculty impressed the student body of Post High in a tremendous and alarming way at the pep rally last week, which surely affected the outcome of the Post vs. Roosevelt game.

We were first entertained by J. B. Potts, as he recalled unique cheers of past years, then three, beautiful but different cheerleaders tried to lead several yells in spite of the laughter. Their purpose was not

Jr. Hi annual seeks sponsors

The Post High School Annual Staff wishes to thank the following firms and persons for taking ads to help sponsor the 1974 Post Junior High Annual:

Bob Collier, Druggist; Bryan Williams & Son; Strawn and Chapman; Syd Wyatt, Mayor Giles McCrary, and Joe McCowen's Texaco.

Other sponsors will be needed and annual representatives will be calling on business firms, organizations and clubs seeking them. The ads are priced at $10 each.

Arizona governor signed by college as guest speaker

SNYDER — Jack Williams, now serving his third term as governor of Arizona, will be the guest speaker for the second Forum on National Affairs at Western Texas College on Nov. 18-19.

Williams is to meet with representatives of the news media and visiting dignitaries at 6:30 p. m. in the Board Room at WTC. He will be the speaker for a buffet dinner scheduled at 7:30 p. m. in the Student Center. Tickets for the dinner are $4 each and may be purchased at the college business office or reserved by calling Mrs. Janelle Burke at the college, Joe Reeves, Forum director, said.

On Tuesday, Nov. 19, Williams will visit classes at WTC and talk to students informally in the Student Center. He is scheduled to meet with high school students at 1 p. m. in the Fine Arts Theatre.

Eagles go down! Bulldogs are next!

It is hard to express in words how proud we are of the Post Antelopes this season. After winning last week over the Roosevelt Eagles, 11-0, everyone should really be anxious for the Post vs. Tahoka game.

As a team, the Antelopes have done an extra fine job this year, but it was also helped by the fantastic support of the City of Post and the students of Post High. Thanks to everyone and remember to travel to Tahoka and see the Post Antelopes vs. the Tahoka Bulldogs. Beat the Bulldogs!

Drama Club play draws praise for cast and director

"The Diary of Anne Frank" was a very enjoyable and talent-filled play and one to be remembered.

The Drama Club did a great job in preparing for the play. It is rewarding to see students of Post High School putting forth such great effort to be in such a fine play for the public. Miss Dianne Lewallen is a great director and one who deserves a tremendous amount of credit for such well-organized and interesting entertainment.

Congratulations on your success and thank you.

Assuring A Power-full Future And A Sound Environment

That's why we plan ahead... we want you to be secure in the knowledge that you'll have enough electricity to fill your needs in the future. This weekend we'll be opening our Jones Station to the public so you can see how we do it. We have a new unit at the largest electric generating station in West Texas, with a turbine control system that's the first of its kind in the world. This unit brings our total system capability to 2,255,100 kilowatts!

We're also concerned about the environment... that's why we use reclaimed water at Jones Station... and we're experimenting with various crops using the reclaimed water after it's used in the power plant.

At Southwestern, we don't want you to waste electricity... but we want to make sure that you have it when you need it!

OPEN HOUSE
Be sure to visit us this weekend. We'll be open Saturday and Sunday, between 12 noon and 6 p.m. Take Farm Road 3020 to Jones Station.

More gardens recommended for this area

With the present moisture in the ground and rising food costs, there should be more home gardens planted this spring, Bob Arhelger District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service said. "It is not too early to start making plans for these gardens."

Many home gardens who have used cotton burs for cover and organic matter will find this year's poor cotton crop will result in a short supply of burs.

Arhelger says, "It's not too late to start thinking about saving the tree leaves that gave shade this past summer for mulch next spring." "Grass clippings can also be saved along with the leaves. In fact, just about any organic matter will make mulch — leaves, grass, sawdust, corn husks, pea hulls, fine twigs, etc."

By applying a mulch next spring, moisture will be conserved, weeds controlled, and the soil protected from the hot dry winds found in West Texas. At the end of the growing season, the mulch can be worked into the soil to supply organic matter.

Arhelger points out that the best mulch is compost. A compost bin is easy to prepare and manage.

However the organic matter is used, a load is taken off the city trash service and space is saved in the city's sanitary land fill.

Persons interested in saving using mulch can contact their local Soil Conservation Service

Public open house for Jones station

LUBBOCK — Southwestern Public Service Company's largest generating plant is Clifford B. Jones Station, located southeast of Lubbock on Farm Road 3020, just west of the Buffalo Springs Road.

The second 256,000 kilowatt unit was completed and put on the line in July of this year and the plant now has a total generating capability of 512,000 kilowatts.

Southwestern will hold an open house Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 16 and 17, and the public is invited to visit the plant from 12:00 to 6 p. m. each day.

There are 6,000,000 pounds of structural steel and 30,000 tons of concrete in the plant building and the cooling towers weigh 2,000,000 pounds each and have a million board feet of redwood lumber in them.

The piping and tubing in Jones Station would reach from Lubbock to Abilene and back if you could get it all in a straight line.

Primary fuel for the boilers at Jones Station is natural gas. The number 2 unit was designed to also use number 2 fuel oil as standby fuel and the first unit has been retrofitted to also burn fuel oil.

The huge boilers can boil over 10,000,000 gallons of water per day into steam at 2,000 pounds pressure. This would be enough water to supply a city of about 50,000 people, but it is used over and over again with only a small loss — approximately six gallons a minute. The steam produced by each boiler passes through 23 miles of tubing and comes out at a temperature of 1,000 degrees — that's hot enough to make steel pipe glow a dull red. On its return trip to the boiler in the form of water, the steam must pass through another 31 miles of piping and tubing.

This ultra-modern power plant is a viable example that the environment and electricity are not enemies. You can have power generation without pollution and nothing that is harmful is discharged into the atmosphere at Jones Station. On cold days you'll see a big white cloud over the cooling towers, but that's nothing more than water vapor.

Another important aspect of the operation of Clifford B. Jones Station is that it makes a major contribution to the water conservation efforts of this area. Sewage effluent is used for all purposes at the plant except for drinking and wash-room use. Southwestern buys 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 gallons of sewage effluent per day from the city of Lubbock.

More than 400,000,000 gallons of water per day pass through the cooling towers, but it is used over and over with all the water in the towers making a complete trip through the condensers and back to the towers every seven minutes.

The 512,000 kilowatts of generating capability at Jones Station is controlled by an automatic dispatching system, which regulates the production of all of Southwestern's major generation facilities. The automatic dispatching system knows which generators do their work the most efficiently when everything, particularly the cost of fuel, is taken into consideration. So, the ADS loads up those machines which are least efficient first. The result is that, under any given conditions of electric load — maximum — average — minimum — the electric company is working to provide its customers with the most efficient — and economical — electricity that it can produce.

The combination of new, efficient, larger generating units, which produce more kilowatts for less fuel, plus the central information system working to keep those machines producing at the high levels of efficiency for which they were designed are vital weapons in the fight against inflation.

While it isn't something you could put together with a "do-it-yourself" kit, the plant is, in fact, a home-made product. The design, engineering and construction supervision was done by Southwestern Public Service Company's own engineering department, under the direction of H. O. Hodson, vice president.

The Garza County Chapter of the American Heart Association met last Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m. in the Medical Center. A film on high blood pressure was shown. Committee reports were given by the different chairpersons.

Zoe Kirkpatrick reported she has received donations for the Resusci-Anne, but a lot more will be needed in order to buy one for the people of Post.

Kathi Rankin reported that a fund raising basketball game will be held in late November or early December to help raise money for the Resusci-Anne. This game will be between the Volunteer Fire Department and the Athletic Department. Be sure to make plans to attend.

Bessie Strawn has made arrangements to have a nurses training at the Post hospital on Nov. 19 with a borrowed Resusci-Anne. Ann Tubbs and Kathi Rankin will give the program.

Paula Cawthon showed the membership plaques. Anyone interested in buying one, please contact Mrs. Cawthon. They are $3.00.

Those attending were Charles and Ann Tubbs, Paula Cawthon, Kathi Rankin, Henry Wheatley, Zoe Kirkpatrick, Elaine Gindorf and Mary Johnson.

The Veterans Administration, obligated by law to pay insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record, recently reminded five million veterans to make sure the right person is beneficiary on their government life insurance policies.

POVERTY

FR. JAMES O'CONNOR

Suppose a brother or a sister is in rags with not enough food for the day, and one of you says "good luck to you, keep yourselves warm, and have plenty to eat" but does nothing to supply their bodily needs. What is the good of that? (James 2: 15-16.)

Last week a world food conference was held with representatives from all over the world to try to determine what could be done about the crying need for food that presently exists in many areas of the world. Last week too, on our TV screens CBS in its evening news broadcasts put before our eyes the plight of many of these people. Your morning newspaper brings accounts of a hurricane in Honduras or an earthquake in Peru and Nicaragua or a tidal wave in Bangladesh and literally millions are homeless and starving. A famine brings misery into the lives of many people in large areas of North Africa. Even in our own country, one of the most affluent of nations, poverty and hunger stand out like a sore thumb in the midst of all the affluence.

If we are to be true followers of Jesus Christ we cannot close our eyes to these facts. Somehow or other we must concern ourselves with poverty and hunger and do what we can about them however little that might. Perhaps we might ease our consciences blaming the poor for being poor. "It's their fault, they're too lazy, they don't want to be giving them, etc." But can you honestly that a mother watches her children starve to death because she wants to or because she is lazy or because it's her own fault? Perhaps might blame the government or governments of other nations for not doing enough. Perhaps we might say all of the things we have been blessed with are necessary and that none of them are in any way superfluous and that we don't really live in luxury and we aren't selfish and insensitive toward the needs of others. There are many escapes many ways in which the conscience can be dulled but was it only a joke when Jesus spoke about the last judgement and said

"Go away from me, with your curse and you, to the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was hungry and never gave me food; I was thirsty and never gave me drink; I was a stranger and never made me welcome; naked and you did not clothe me, sick and in prison and you did not visit me."

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

293 = 4,665 = Thanks To Our Customers

In the last two weeks we've been honoring our long-service employees... 293 of them with a combined service of 4,665 years... and with individual service for periods ranging from five to 45 years.

And this seems like a good time to recognize the confidence that you, our customers, have in our employees and in our Company. We, all of us, appreciate the understanding you have shown in recognizing that, like everything else, our costs of providing electric service have increased... and that makes it necessary to charge more for electricity. Inflation, higher material costs, higher costs of the fuel we use to make electricity... even the higher costs of borrowing money all account for higher costs of your electric service.

But, so long as we are expected to have electricity ready for you the instant you turn on a switch... to meet your year-around demands for electricity to keep your homes and businesses liveable... then there's just no other way. Increased costs must be reckoned with.

We have good employees... all trying to do the best job they know how, and so it's in order for us all at Southwestern Public Service Company to say, "Thanks," to our customers for their understanding... because your understanding of our problems does make our jobs that much easier.
