81 stranded travelers are bedded in local homes

Worst storm in years

Eighty-one stranded travelers, delayed here by the worst snowstorm in several years, spent Saturday night as unexpected guests in Post homes.

State highway maintenance crews, headed by Joe Williams, maintenance foreman, and supported by both city and county maintainers worked all night Saturday night and through to about 9 p. m. Sunday to keep highways in this area open.

Drifts of four to five feet were encountered although only a four-inch snow was recorded.

A warm Sunday sun melted most of the snow and what was left was gone by Tuesday.

With a good rain preceding the cold front into Post Friday night, official weekend moisture for Post totaled a very wholesome .91 of an inch.

No injuries were reported in this area due to any accidents caused by the slippery snow-clogged roads.

Highway 84 up the Cap from Post was closed for a few hours Saturday night to permit highway crews to clear 18 stranded cars off the steep grade so traffic could proceed. The highway was then reopened.

The highway maintenance shop here, which was the headquarters for the highway effort, had 55 stranded travelers in the building at one time.

City Manager Pete Maddox ran a "taxi service" to take the stranded to homes of Post people who volunteered to put up unexpected guests until morning.

Other Post folks brought coffee and cake to the maintenance building to be served to the travelers.

Travelers were stalled here from Lubbock, Dallas, Temple, Amarillo, Denver City, Canyon, Lovelland, Miami, Tex., and Liberal, Kan.

Some of the local homes accepting the travelers Saturday night were those of James Wise, Bill Franklin, Floyd Hodges, Charlie Lincoln, Victor Hudman, Marvin Hudman, George Mendieta Jr., Gene Prevo, Bill Case and J. B. Potts.

The police, sheriff officers and state highway patrolmen aided in directing traffic and holding up cars while the grade up the Caprock was cleared on US-84.

As area roads were no problem here Saturday morning the maintenance crews here dispatched two maintainers and two pickups to help with the opening of roads in the Falls area.

They worked the weekend

there and went back Monday to continue helping that harder-hit snow area.

That left four trucks with snow plows, and maintainers from both city and county for snow clearing of highways in this area.

IN DOG CONTROVERSY HERE

Conspiracy charge is tossed at city dads

One of those dirty "watergate words" — conspiracy — has been thrown in the city's face by a regional field inspector of the Humane Society of the United States in the current controversy over Post's stray dog bounty system.

Bernard Weller, the inspector who was contacted by a local group opposed to the bounty and the city's entire system of handling and disposing of stray dogs, called the local bounty system "completely illegal," according to Mrs. Donnie Hays, spokesman for the Post group opposed to present stray dog handling here.

He based this comment on the fact that "dogs are considered personal property in the State of Texas and any time anyone takes an animal from property of another without permission of that person it can be considered a dog theft."

To go along with "dog theft" also would be a charge of trespassing on private property, Weller wrote the local group.

As for the "conspiracy" angle involving the city, Weller said that "the bounty paid by the city could also be brought into these charges because the bounty encourages a violation of a Texas law and therefore could possibly be considered as in "a conspiracy" with the defendants.

Summing it up, Weller, said the dog bounty system is illegal "because it encourages persons to violate the law."

Weller, who was sent a photo of Post's current dog pound, said that the pens now in use "cannot be considered in any way an acceptable facility for the keeping of stray and surplus animals."

The regional field inspector also commented on the method the city used to put strays to death via carbon monoxide gassing. He went into the technique of the so-called "carbon monoxide hot box chamber" and said only that if the method used here required over three minutes to put an animal to death it was inhumane.

Weller had numerous suggestions on improving the city's animal control program and commented on city ordinances pertaining to such control, pointing out sections which he termed illegal.

Local citizens concerned with the city's dog problem will meet 7:30 p. m. tonight in the Reddy Room and have scheduled an appearance before the city council Monday night to seek improvement on the local situation.

Some members of the Lubbock Humane Society will attend tonight's meeting to discuss building of a filtering device for the local dog gassing chamber.

A spokesman for the group also told The Dispatch that bringing a vet to Post is one of the group's primary concerns.

JOHN BEN SHEPHERD TO SPEAK

Algerita Benefit banquet scheduled here March 13

An Algerita Benefit Dinner will be held in the junior high gym Thursday night, March 13, with John Ben Shepherd of Odessa, who headed the Texas Historical Survey Commission when the current state historical marker system was instituted, as the speaker.

Shepherd confirmed the speaking engagement with a letter to which he penned, "This sounds like a great project." He declined any speaking fee.

Tickets for the dinner will go on sale this weekend at $5 per plate with a crowd of 250 as the benefit goal.

All proceeds from the ticket sale, except a reduced charge for the meal by Jackson's Catering Service as its contribution, will go into the "Save the Algerita" fund which now stands at nearly $4,000 in cash and pledges.

Shepherd, former attorney general for Texas, is currently special assistant to the president of El Paso Products Co. at Odessa.

Jim Hundley, who is heading the effort to save at least the front portion of Post's historic stone-fronted former hotel, told The Dispatch this week that Edwin Cartwright, the Lubbock engineer employed by the city, has concluded the building could be safely and structurally "cut in two" and the back portion demolished and hauled off.

Cartwright was here last Wednesday afternoon for the inspection.

Hundley said he has no cost estimates yet on the proposal.

A new turn in efforts to save the Algerita came Friday when Storm-slimmed crowd honors Post's 'year' award winners

Although a sudden winter snowstorm held the crowd down to 142 undaunted citizens, the Post Chamber of Commerce banquet Saturday night went on as scheduled in the junior high gym with the following honorees:

Frank Runkles, man of the year.

Mrs. Lois Williams, woman of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Middleton, farm family of the year.

The storm was so bad that the banquet speaker, George R. Jordan, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, almost didn't make it, and Mrs. Williams wasn't on hand to receive her plaque and congratulations from friends.

Jordan arrived just as the diners were sitting down to a Jackson Catering Service meal of roast beef, baked potato, and all the trimmings.

Due to highway conditions there were no out-of-town guests to be introduced.

Outgoing Chamber president Jack Alexander turned the civic organization's gavel over to Ed Bruton, the 1975 Chamber head, signifying the change of administrations.

Plaques were presented to outgoing directors Joe McCowen, Jim Wells, and Dr. William C. Wilson. Incoming directors Lewis Herron, Robert Cox, Curtis Hudman, Walter Didway and Dr. Charles McCook were introduced.

In another change of administrations, Mrs. Marie Neff, 1974 president of the Chamber's Women's Division, introduced

Entry deadline Saturday for junior stock show

Judges for the Garza County Junior Livestock Show, which will be held here March 6, 7, and 8, have been named and all is ready for the three days of showings for area youngsters.

Entry deadline for entries is Saturday, according to County Agent Syd Conner.

Judges this year will be Jim Bob McMullen of Snyder in the swine division, Fred Igo of Sterling City in the lamb division and Buddy Logsdon of Littlefield in the beef division.

The big auction sale, which will conclude next weekend's show, will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon, March 8.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Etha Jane Carter at 3:30 p. m. Sunday in the Hudman Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Oscar Newdigger Jr., minister of the Church of God of Prophecy, officiating. Burial services were held in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Mrs. Carter was born April 8, 1896 in Miller County, Ark., and was a resident of Post for 53 years. She died in her home Feb. 21. She was a housewife.

Survivors include two sons, Tommy Carter, Fullerton, Calif.; Ray Joe Carter, Cedar Falls, Iowa and three daughters, Mrs. J. N. Cox, Lubbock; Mrs. Fred Richardson, Franklin Park, Ill.; and Mrs. D. W. This will include 18 steers, 32 lambs, and 32 barrows. The champion and reserve champion barrow, steer and lamb must be offered for sale.

Last year's auction here brought a new record for the sale with $18,325 paid in premiums for 78 animals through the ring with every animal offered bringing $200 or more in premiums, almost double the average premium of 1973.

With the floor prices added to the premiums, the young exhibitors carried between $33,000 and $35,000 to the bank after the sale.

The county agent passes along these reminders to the young exhibitors for this year's show:

All animals must be weighed, tagged and placed in pen or stall between 5:15 and 9 p. m. Wednesday, March 5. No reweights are allowed unless the request is made while the animal is on the scales.

Swine will be shown at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, lamb judging will start at 7:30 p. m. Friday and (See Stock show, Page 12)

Post firemen guests of Post Rotary Club

Post volunteer firemen in their new red jumpsuits with lettering in white were guests of the Post Rotary Club Tuesday noon in City Hall for an appreciation dinner of turkey with all the trimmings.

Rotary President Ed Bruton called it "Firemen's Appreciation Day."

Gene Moore, both a fireman and Rotarian, called off the roll of volunteer firemen and asked each of those present to stand and tell his length of service.

Moore reported that the 1974 "fire year" which ended Dec. 1, 1974, included 163 fires which were fought by the department — 74 in the city and 89 outside the city in the county.

He said the fire prevention record is better to date in 1975 with only 15 fires reported in almost the first three months.

Moore then introduced Fire Chief Neal Clary as "the best fire chief any department can have."

Clary told of the development of the three rural pump trucks which carry 3,400 gallons together and also pointed out that these low-cost former army trucks are used as backup equipment for any kind of fire, not just for rural range and field fires.

He thanked the club for the (See Firemen, Page 12)

County to buy sheriff's car

The Garza County Commissioners Court Monday voted to advertise for bids for purchase of a new car for the sheriff's department. Bids will be received up to 10 a. m., March 10.

In another action, the court voted to pay the Lubbock Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center $38.69 monthly to pay for referrals made to the center.

Ed Bruton's letter of resignation of the Garza County Child Welfare Board was accepted and Walter Didway appointed to fill his unexpired term.

The court also authorized Jim Bigham, representing Blue Cross and Blue Shield Insurance Co., to return at 1 p. m. March 10 for an open enrollment date to enable other county employees to enroll who are not presently covered. The cost of the insurance to the county employes is $3.96 monthly.

Wanted: more letters from readers

The "letters to the editor" column of any newspaper is always assured of top readership because everybody likes to see what other readers have to say.

The Dispatch would like to have more and more such letters.

In last week's paper we had four such letters and space requirements prevented us from publishing a fifth. The one left out was from Governor Briscoe on his free dining service into the governor's office for voters with problems. You'll find that one in this issue.

It is necessary once in a while to restate the Dispatch's policy on letters to the editor.

First off, they must be signed and the writer's name is going to be printed along with his or her letter.

Second, The Dispatch reserves the right in all cases to withhold the entire letter, or any part of it, if it is generally in poor taste or contains statements which this newspaper believes are either untrue or are libelous.

Most bigger newspapers and magazines print only a small representative group of all the actual letters they receive because of space requirements.

So, in all cases, the long letter usually is passed over for several shorter ones.

The Dispatch would like to see readers express themselves to the point in 200 words or less. That is about the length of this editorial.

A salute to Joe and his men

Highway maintenance foreman Joe Williams and his highway crew played "good Samaritan" to a lot of highway travelers stranded by the surprise snowstorm here Saturday night.

Of course they had lots of help from friendly Post folks who took the travelers into their homes when the snow closed the highways to travel for the night, and from others who brought coffee and cake to the highway shop to serve the same stranded folks who had lost a lot of time but not their appetites.

Joe and those highway maintenance crews had worked part of Friday night, all day Saturday, and then when the storm set in at dusk again Saturday night they went round-the-clock on into Sunday with their snowplows fighting to keep the roads open and rescue travelers.

Joe himself about midnight Saturday drove some 25 miles east on 380 with a can of gas for two stranded girls and helped them on into Post, Mayor Giles McCrary told The Dispatch.

The highway employees stayed right on the job until Sunday night when they had most of the highways open through this area again with an assist from the melting sun.

This is a tip of The Dispatch's editorial hat to Joe Williams and his men who always are "out there" working and helping when bad weather hits our highways. You guys are great!

It's still 'politics as usual'

The trouble with our "recession fighting" in Washington is that the order of the day is still "politics as usual."

We wonder if the United States can afford "politics as usual" for the next 20 months, until voters choose a new president in late 1976.

We've had two weary years of Watergate and now we apparently are going to experience two more wasted years as the politicians jockey for advantage over the woes of the nation.

Each side blames the other; each politician has his own special list of guys who are to blame.

Right now, the country wants some leadership. The people want the politicians to put politics aside, shut up, knuckle down, and try to get this nation's troubled economy straightened out.

The politicians were all "home listening" only a month ago. But they didn't listen very well or they would have heard from the man in the street who in 1976 is going to kick over the traces and kick out the "ins" unless they get to work and do something — and cooperate together.

That's the message from Post, and we'll bet it is the message from thousands of other Main Streets and side streets too. Right Mr. Gallup?

Too much 'wheel-ly deal-ly'

The Texas Legislature this week took up a bill to conduct a presidential primary in Texas in 1976 with a "winner take all the delegates" feature which is expected to launch Senator Lloyd Benson on his presidential bid.

We read this is only a part of the Benson strategy. He also wants to run for another six years in his senate seat at the same time he bids for the presidential nomination, a lah LBJ, just in case he doesn't win first prize.

It seems to us that most folks, in and out of Austin, ought to be a bit more concerned about the welfare of Texas than of Senator Benson when it comes to either political maneuver — primary or a two-office race.

It seems to us that the senator's supporters can rally behind his banner quite effectively without making due process of law in Texas something which would bring only laughter from the other 49 states.

It seems to us Senator Benson would appear more of a real presidential contender if he concentrated on his presidential bid and didn't ask for a new state law or two to get him over the first hurdle.

Let's face it. If Texas ever gets another president it will be after we carefully lay to rest our "wheeler dealer" image.

And all of this is nothing against Senator Benson.

Statebeat

BY KURT E. JOHNSON
AUSTIN — It was a sultry, summer night, and about 5,300 other Texans and I were packed into the west gallery of the Statehouse on the final night of the Texas Constitutional Convention in 1974.

By Statute the convention would have to end at midnight, and the prospect of adopting a new constitution to be submitted to the voters had significantly waned. At the Cinderella hour, most observers conceded, the state legislators who were also the convention delegates would be either patriots or pumpkins, and most likely the latter.

As it turned out, supporters of the pumpkin theory were right. At 9:42 p. m. Price Daniel Jr., convention chairman, ordered the assembly to "stand at ease" for a ten-minute recess, and it was obvious that individual attempts would be made to reverse previous votes. The ten minutes turned out to be substantially longer than voiced and it wasn't until after 11 p. m. that the prior question was moved as a last-ditch effort for another vote.

Texans in the gallery peered and squinted from unorthodox positions to count the red lights on the board, and the adoption was again only a few votes shy of the needed two-thirds majority. The chairman held the voting board open until one minute before twelve amid chaos and cursing, but no votes changed. And so the gavel dropped for the last time.

Much criticism has surfaced since that convention and is evident in both houses of the current 1975 legislature along with the residuals of personal feelings and altered political careers. Some legislators favor trying to adopt a document and then to submit it to the voters, while others see the necessity for a totally new convention.

A key issue in "new convention" talk relates to whether or not legislators should be part of the delegation. No one really knows for sure, but suspicion has it that the voters are quite cynical about a new convention, with the conviction of certainty that they are skeptical about another one with legislators serving exclusively as delegates. Dr. Janice May, government professor at the University of Texas and member of the 1974 pre-convention planning committee, testified in a hearing before the Senate Committee on Constitutional Revision on February 12, 1975, by noting that "there are certain disadvantages of having the legislature as a convention in Texas."

There are currently three bills pending in the statehouse regarding the issue, and no official committee action in either the Senate or House has been taken on them.

In the Senate, Sen. Bob Gammage of Houston has introduced Bill 114 calling for an election on August 2, 1975 of 93 delegates, consisting of three from each senatorial district, with the convention to begin on September 2, 1975. Bill Meier of Euleas has introduced Bill 99, calling for an election on November 11, 1975. The election would ask whether a convention should be called, and if that question passes the delegates elected on that day would serve. Under this bill, the convention would convene on May 17, 1976 with 72 elected delegates (three from each congressional district) and 25 appointed delegates.

In the House, Rep. Ben Bynum of Amarillo has introduced Bill 1, which calls for an election on January 27, 1976 to determine whether a convention is desired by citizens and to elect delegates to it, three from each congressional district, with none appointed, for a total of 72.

Price Daniel Jr., gave his testimony before the Senate committee on February 12, and said that the "public demand for constitutional revision has escalated rather than soured." Pre-convention Chairman Robert S. Calvert, the former State Supreme Court Justice, testified that he favors a citizen's convention. Sen. Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls told me personally that he holds that view, and Rep. Chris Miller of Ft. Worth told me that she leans in the same direction.

Of interest is the fact that the bills proposed do not deal with excluding legislators as delegates, so if the elections eventuate, some blockbuster contests between citizens and politicians could be in the offing.

My own prediction is that there will be another Texas Constitutional Convention in either late 1975 or early 1976 and composed of more citizens than legislators as defined by election. Such a prospect should be enough to drive the lobbyists crazy.

Some say that to make a forgetful debtor pay up, one should drive some nails into a locust tree in the shape of a cross, and he will come unsummoned to pay his debt.

CALL GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Dear Editor:

With the growth of government in both size and scope of responsibilities, public officials are faced with the problem of ensuring that our citizens have free access to the services of State government. Many Texans today need the assistance of State government, but do not know how or where to receive that help.

To help eliminate some of this confusion, and make government more readily available to all of the people of Texas, I have established the Governor's Citizens Assistance Line—TEX HELP—which is now providing toll-free telephone access to anyone who needs assistance or information on matters involving Texas State government.

The TEX HELP telephones are staffed from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, except on State Holidays. Mr. B. L. Parker, who is very knowledgeable in the operations of State government, has been appointed as the director of the Governor's Citizens Assistance Office.

I believe that this Citizens Assistance Line can greatly expedite the inquiries of the people of Texas and make State government much more responsive to their concerns and immediate needs.

However, in order for this telephone service to achieve its potential, I need your help in publicizing the toll-free WATS number (1-800-292-9600) in your area of Texas.

I sincerely hope that you see the merits of TEX HELP and that you can properly publicize the telephone number for the people in your area.

On the previous occasions when I have asked for the assistance of the Texas media in support of State programs, you have responded most generously and I deeply appreciate your cooperation.

Sincerely,
Dolph Briscoe
Governor of Texas

PAY BILLS To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly — never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor. Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collecting and has changed your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed or altered unless subsequent dealings with the same firm results in a better record. Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit bureau. Payments in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come — perhaps for the rest of your life. Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions, particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts. Keep your picture bright and shining and enjoy all the conveniences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.

Report made on counseling

LEVELLAND — In the first quarterly report to the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, the South Plains Alcoholism Counseling Services Project served 147 clients, according to Joe Meadow, coordinator-counselor of the 14-county area project. The first quarterly report was for the months of October, November and December.

Besides counseling the alcohol abusers and the families as well as alcoholics, counselors have initiated three Mexican-American Alcoholism study Sessions and one Black Alcoholism Study Session. The counselors also have initiated two DWI classes for county probates in Garza and Crosby Counties.

Goal for South Plains Alcoholism Counseling Services Project is to reach 300 alcohol abusers and alcoholics and their families in Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, King, Lamb, Lynn, Motley, Terry, and Yoakum counties.

Pork supplies high in quality, now in cost

COLLEGE STATION — Current pork supplies are "high quality" and at relatively low cost, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reported this week.

"Good values should be found on pork loins — roasts and chops, center and end-cut chops and some smoked picnics," the consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service added.

At beef counters, this year's larger supplies are due to greater amounts of lower-grade beef, the Texas A&M University System specialist said.

"Good beef values include chuck cuts, ground beef, rump and rib roasts and a variety of steaks. Soup meat and liver are other features.

"Some markets also have features on fryer chickens and turkeys — and eggs are a bargain at present prices," Mrs. Clyatt noted.

In frozen food sections, Lenten season promotions are centering on fish — consumers should consider cod, haddock, and ocean perch, the specialist advised.

Economical fruits and vegetables include grapefruit, oranges, apples, bananas, pears and pineapples.

Also, cabbage, carrots, dry yellow onions, hard shell squash, turnips, rutabagas and potatoes.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: D'Anjou, the principal pear of the winter pear crop, is in unusually heavy supply.

Americans gave more to CROP during 1974

LELKHART, IND.—1974 will be remembered as the year of many things—Watergate, presidential resignation and succession, inflation, recession, 7 per cent unemployment — and, 1974 will be remembered as the year that Americans became fully aware of the world hunger crisis.

This increased awareness, and a desire to do something to correct the problem, was reflected in their giving to CROP—the Community Hunger Appeal of Church World Service.

In 1974, people all across America gave $4,029,558 to the CROP Hunger Appeal. This was an increase of 25 per cent over 1973. An additional $312,418 was given to purchase blankets for the Church World Service Clothing Appeal, administered by CROP.

1974 witnessed many changes in the world hunger situation.

The Sahel of West Africa, drought-ridden for six years, finally received adequate rainfall. CROP-CWS programs in this area, which had been focusing on emergency aid, shifted to long-range development projects. CROP funds are now being used to build a new way of life for thousands of nomads, helping them become settled farmers.

Elsewhere, the situation continued to worsen. The Indian sub-continent, India and Bangladesh, faces its worst famine since the great famine of Bengal in 1943. There are still serious food shortages in some areas of the Sahel and in many nations across Africa, Asia and Latin America.

Leukemia funds now needed

SAN ANTONIO—The South Central Texas Chapter of the Leukemia Society of America is calling on all business firms with leukemia coinboards on their counters to convert the contributions into check or money order and mail to its office at 106 Broadway, San Antonio.

Citizens also are asked to advise business men when they see such coinboards on their counters.

The chapter's instruction for the return of the coinboards "has gone awry" and the funds are needed to continue the agency's leukemia operations.

More crippled children now

Because of the steady growth in numbers of crippled children and adults in Texas, the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas has stepped up its rehabilitation services.
 Mrs. Martha Compton, who is the Easter Seal Representative for the County, said 20,132 handicapped Texans received Easter Seal treatments during 1974.
 "Despite medical scientific advances," Mrs. Compton explained, "the rank of the crippled are growing. This is because of population growth, increased number of accidents and medical treatment which saves victims of crippling diseases who might not have lived in past years."
 Quoting the annual report of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, affiliated treatment centers in Texas provide treatment and rehabilitation, speech and hearing and educational programs, and many other services required by the physically disabled to live normal lives.
 The largest group served includes those with major deformities of bones and joints, severe speech defects, cerebral palsy, arthritis, muscular dystrophy and multiple sclerosis and stroke. The Easter Seal Campaign, which provides funds for continuation of these services, begins February 24, and continues through March 30, Easter Sunday.

Among new non-fiction books now on library shelves are "Behold Men" by Lennart Nilsson, "The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence" by Victor Marchetti and "Texas Homes of the 19th Century" by Drury Alexander.
 New fiction offerings include "The Three Persons Hunt" by Brian Garfield, "Dead Solid Perfect" by Dan Jenkins, and "Fear of Flying" by Erica Jong.
 New arrivals in junior fiction include "Carrie's War" by Nina Bayden, "Red Rock over the River" by Patricia Beatty and "A Month of Sundays" by Rose Blue. There's also a new easy book, "Father Christmas" by Raymond Briggs.

COLLEGE STATION — Because the bottom dropped out of the cattle and cotton markets in 1974, farmers and ranchers suffered a "net operating loss" may be able to get some income tax relief on income previously earned.

According to Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Internal Revenue Service has special provisions that deal with "net operating losses."

"The loss must first be carried back three years and applied against the taxable income of that year," he points out. "If the taxable income of that year was not sufficient to offset the operating loss, the remaining loss is applied against the income of the second preceding year, and then to the immediate past year."

"If there is still a remaining loss over the total taxable income of the prior years, the loss is carried forward to each of the next five years until all is used to offset income."

When a net operating loss occurs, a claim for refund must be filed to recover taxes paid in prior years, points out Hayenga. This claim is also necessary to establish the amount of loss, if any, to be carried forward to offset future income. Some adjustments of taxable income of prior years may be required.

Due to some of the unusual features of the "net operating loss" provisions, Hayenga suggests the assistance of a qualified tax consultant or an

Cold-shooting Lopes whacked 68 to 48 by Coahoma

Dogs pull away in last half of bi-district game

The Post Antelopes' offense came apart in the third period of the bi-district game with the Coahoma Bulldogs at Snyder Tuesday night and the district AAA champs raced to an easy 68 to 48 victory.

The Post shooters had a hard time getting anything through the hoop, hitting only 21 percent from the field and canning out 20 out of 42 free throws.

In fact, Edward Price, coming in as a substitute in the third period, and Tony Conner hit the only two baskets of the entire game for the Lopes outside of a six-foot range of the hoops.

There was nothing really wrong with either Post rebounding or defense.

The Lopes beat Coahoma on the boards 47 to 31 and held the Bulldogs, who have been averaging about 80 points per game, to a measly 24 points in the first half.

The game was close throughout the first two periods with the Antelopes holding short ends all through the first 24 minutes of play.

Coahoma led 9 to 8 at the end of the first quarter and 24 to 22 at the halftime intermission.

Then came the third period and with the Lopes attack unable to get much of anything in the basket, the Bulldogs outshot the oaks 21 to 9 and zoomed into a commanding 45 to 31 lead.

The Lopes were never able to close the gap under 10 points after that and substitutes from both clubs played the final minutes of the game.

The quickness of the Bulldogs, who threw a pressing zone over the entire floor, caused 30 turnovers without a shot for the Lopes.

All in all it was the Lopes' poorest shooting of the season and the most turnovers.

Bryan Davis led the Post attack with 18 points before fouling out and Conner was the only other Lopes in double figures with 11.

Other Post scoring was Mike Waldrip six, Mike Shepherd five, Price four, Kent Kirkpatrick three, and Jerry Johnson one.

Kelso, Coahoma's jumping jack center who liked to dunk the ball in practice, led the Bulldogs with 19 and Milliken had 17. The Bulldogs balance and depth is shown in the fact that all nine Coahoma players used in the game scored four or more points.

Coach John Alexander said he was pleased with the team's defense and rebounding, but the team's inability to hit their outside shots cost the Lopes any chance of staying with the hard-running Bulldogs.

He said he thought it was due to the lack of playoff experience by the locals. Coahoma on the other hand had gone to the regionals last year.

It was a rough game with 60 fouls being called. It whistled against the Bulldogs and 29 against the Antelopes. Coahoma made better use of their charity opportunities, earning 26 of 29 or only 20 of 42 for the locals.

GIVEN 20-YEAR PIN
Mrs. Lorene Gordon, Mrs. Emma Musler, Mrs. Alene Brewer, Mrs. Ann Gray and Mrs. Della Davis visited Mrs. Elva Peel Tuesday, Feb. 25. They presented her with her 20-year retirement pin, they had ordered for her after retirement from the lunchroom. Cake, pie and coffee were enjoyed by all.

Advertising pays, try a Dispatch classified ad.

Three Lopes — Kirkpatrick, Davis and Waldrip — fouled out of the game as did Kelso and Jennings for Coahoma.

Coach Alexander told The Dispatch he wants to thank the Post fans again, on behalf of the team, for their fine support all season and at the bi-district game in the Scurry County Coliseum.

"As usual", he said, "we had more fans behind us than did our opponents and this means a lot to us."

Coahoma advances into the four-team Class AA regional in Lubbock this weekend. For Post, the weekend brought the opening of the track season.

Proceeds of the bi-district game will be split evenly between the two schools after payment of the game officials.

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce handled the complete arrangements, including free programs, and will mail the checks to the two schools for their share of the gate receipts.

Lopes into foul trouble and bow to Petersburg

The Post Antelopes got their two all-district forwards in foul trouble Friday night in a playoff warmup game with the Petersburg Buffaloes in the Roosevelt gym and dropped a 58 to 52 decision to the Class 4A district champs.

Both Tony Conner and Bryan Davis fouled out as Petersburg took a one-point lead late in the third and pulled away in the fourth against the Lopes' reduced fire and board power.

Mike Shepherd hit for 10 baskets over the Buffalo defense to score 22 points and led Post in scoring.

Davis had 11 and Conner 10. Center Mike Waldrip tallied four baskets for eight points. Bob Craig got the other point on a free throw.

The Lopes got only five shots from the charity line while the Buffaloes got to toss up 19 unlosted.

The Antelopes trailed 14 to 15 at the end of the first period, but pulled back to a 27 to 25 lead at halftime intermission.

Petersburg went back ahead 43 to 42 at the end of the third.

Three Does named to all-district team

Three Post Does were elected this week to the first all-district SAA girls basketball team, two others were named to the second team and a sixth got honorable mention.

First team selections included Mel King and Jenda Gilmore, forwards and Kim Mitchell, guard.

Joni Hays and Ann Mitchell were selected for the second team and Karen Williams received honorable mention.

King, Ann Mitchell and Gilmore made all-district selections last year.

Other girls on the all-district first team, chosen by the coaches, were Scott Slaton, Ward of Cooper, Roseberry of Tahoka, and Beaver of Frenship, forwards; and Ventacourt of Cooper, Mullings of Frenship, Brown of Roosevelt, and Wolfe and Maxwell, both of Slaton at guards.

Other girls on the second all-district team included Howard of Frenship, Craig of Tahoka, Campbell of Cooper, Trammell of Roosevelt, and Montgomery and Wright, both of Slaton, forwards; and Jones of Cooper, Howell of Frenship, Waley and Dunlap, both of Slaton, guards.

NEW STUDENT HERE
Glenn Huntley and son, Kam, arrived Friday, Feb. 21 from Guam to spend a few days with Glenn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sexton Huntley and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Peel. Kam will remain in Post and attend the Post school for the rest of the term. He is in the eighth grade.

Three Lopes on all-district team

Three of the five starters on Coach John Alexander's District 5AA champion Post Antelopes have been elected by coaches to the all-district cage squad.

They are Bryan Davis, junior forward and one of the three unanimous selections; Tony Conner, senior forward; and Mike Shepherd, junior guard.

Twelve were named to the all-district squad this year because of two ties.

Other unanimous all-district selections were Bob Woodward, Frenship senior, and Glen Campbell, Roosevelt senior.

All seven teams in the district were represented on the squad with Post the only other team with three players named. Denver City, Tahoka, and Cooper each placed two.

Lope track team in first meet

This is "overlap week" for the basketball and track seasons with Coach Lane Tannehill's defending district champion Antelopes scheduled to open their schedule Saturday at the Brownfield track meet.

The six other teams in Post's class at Brownfield will include Denver City, Frenship, Floydada, O'Donnell, Dawson and the Brownfield JVs.

Coach Tannehill reports he has had 14 track men working out regularly with most of them scheduled to see action Saturday. Fourteen other candidates have been on the varsity and JV cage squads and whether several, or any of these will be in shape to compete Saturday probably would be Friday.

The running preliminaries at Brownfield will begin at 9:30 a. m. with the finals scheduled to start at 2 p. m.

CROSBYTON — A record-sized crowd, estimated at 707 persons, turned out for the annual Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce banquet a week ago to hear Jerry Clower, the nation's No. 1 country humorist from Yazoo City, Miss.

They were not disappointed. For 35 minutes Clower kept them roaring with laughter. The Crosbyton Review reported last week.

Girl tracksters working out

The Post Does track squad began workouts this week for their spring season which will open March 7 with the seventh, eighth and varsity teams competing at Frenship.

Coach John Morrow announced the remainder of the spring schedule as follows:

March 14, varsity at Spur; March 15, varsity at Texas Tech; March 22, varsity at Olton; March 27, varsity at Denver City; April 4-5, Amarillo Relays; April 9, district meet for varsity at Frenship; April 18-19, regional meet for varsity at Odessa; May 2-3, state meet at Austin.

Area town asks over million

CROSBYTON — The Crosbyton city council is making application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for $1,191,000 in federal grants "for the improvement of public utilities and services in low income areas."

The program, if approved, would cover a five year period. Planned are (1) approximately 60 blocks of street paving with curb and gutter, (2) construction of a new 100,000 gallon water tower and water repairs to improve the town's water pressure and its ability to fight fires, and construction of approximately 34 blocks of sanitary sewer services into areas of low income and minorities now presently unserved by the sewer system.

The best way to forget your own problem is to help someone solve his.

GRAND CHAMPION STEER — Kay Stephens, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Stephens of Plains and granddaughter of Mrs. Wesley Stephens of Plains shows her 991-pound grand champion steer, Colonel, at the Yoakum County Livestock Show, Feb. 14. Plains State Bank bought the steer for $1 a pound. She has been showing animals for seven years.

Phone rate boost reduced

PERRYTON — The Perryton city council last week put off action on a sharply scaled-down request for a raise in phone rates by General Telephone.

The new rates were from one-half to one-quarter what the utility had originally asked and overall were about one-third of the original boost sought.

Under the new request one-party business phones would be increased only $1.50 instead of $5.85, and one-party residential phones would be hiked only 75 cents instead of $2.45.

General Telephone and the city council disagree both on the size of the utility's investment in Perryton and its rate of return here.

The phone firm pegs its local investment at three million dollars and its rate of return at four per cent. The city, on the basis of a study made, contends the phone system's worth here is about two million and the rate of return is 9 1/2 per cent.

A new meeting between council and phone officials has been set for this week.

Gem and mineral show set March 1-2

BIG SPRING — The annual Gem, Mineral and Artifact Show will be held March 1-2 in the Dora Roberts Exhibition Building at the Howard County Fair & Rodeo Grounds here. Show hours will be from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday and 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Sunday.

In addition to exhibits there will be working demonstrations in lapidary procedures, casting, gold wire jewelry making by the McNamara sand painting in bottles by the Nolans. Both the McNamara and the Nolans have featured in articles in the Gem Magazine.

The show is sponsored by Big Spring Prospectors, a non-profit organization.

The 1974 cotton crop in the High Plains represented by Plains Growers, Inc., was the second best staple average in the history of the fiber since 1958. The average since 1958 has been 31.733 seconds. The 1974 crop was 31.733 seconds, well above the 31.063 seconds of an inch recorded in 1973, but somewhat below the all-time high 1968 average of 32.333 seconds. Pressley strength of the crop measured an average 81,410 pounds per square inch, as compared to 81,940 pounds for the 1973 crop. All-time pressley for the area was 85,000 pounds per square inch in 1970.

In grade, 90 per cent of the area crop fell in the White category, 43.9 per cent was Light Spot, and 5.8 per cent graded Spot. Corresponding 1973 figures were 74.7 per cent, 28.7 per cent and 1.5 per cent. The highest percentage of white cotton produced on the Plains came in 1958 when 71 per cent was in that grouping. The lowest percentage was nine per cent White cotton in 1966.

Micronaire readings for 1974 averaged 3.07 micrograms, only slightly above the previous record low of 2.9 micrograms established in 1971, and far below the excellent 1973 crop when the micronaire average was 4.13. That 1973 figure was the highest ever achieved in the 25 High Plains counties.

Cotton classed as "Barky" in 1974 accounted for 34.6 per cent of the crop, which compares with only four per cent Barky cotton in 1973. The worst year in Plains history for bark was 1971 when 68 per cent of the bales carried that designation.

Prior to 1973, Barky bales were penalized 50 points in the cotton loan schedule in addition to being reduced in grade. The 50 point penalty was removed by USDA in 1973 after PCG presented evidence that the "double penalty" was not justified by loss of spinning and finishing utility. Thus the 375,000 plus bales of barky cotton in 1974 were valued at an additional $2.40 each by the loan schedule.

Others placing were: Class III Solo, Melodie Willson, a I Rating on Piano Solo; Class I Flute Quartet, Danna Giddens, Patricia Posey, David Morrow, and Peggy Jackson, with a I Rating, and these are all freshman; Class I Solo with a II Rating, David Morrow on Flute and also Class I Solo on the Piano with a II Rating was David Morrow.

Burlington Industries earnings drop 67 per cent for quarter

Greensboro, N. C. — At the Burlington Industries annual meeting here recently, Chairman Horace C. Jones told shareholders that the Company had an "excellent business picture" for about three quarters of its 1974 fiscal year, but in late summer business began to weaken.

"Our last fiscal quarter in 1974, ending in September, showed a decrease in earnings that reflected the softening trend," he said. (Sales for the year ending September 28, 1974, reached an all-time record of $2.3 billion and earnings increased to a record $3.65 per share.)

Mr. Jones said that during 1974, "inflation eroded consumers' purchasing power and they became increasingly apprehensive." Also retailers and other Burlington customers found themselves with too much inventory, and the housing industry went into a steep decline. These events all affected textile sales and contributed to mounting recession, he added.

"The results of our operations in the December quarter, the first in our 1975 fiscal year, reflect all of the problems we are experiencing. Sales were $302 million, a 7.5 percent decline from the same quarter of the previous year, and earnings declined 62.5 percent to 33 cents per share. The overall pattern of business in the month of January has continued this trend."

Despite current adverse business conditions, some elements of Burlington's business have held up well. Mr. Jones said denims have remained strong, and that carpets and industrial products have fared better than the industry pattern. He added that "good turnaround is in the making for our women's hosiery operations and our knits and textured wovens have also continued to perform well."

The company has a strong and aggressive program underway to cope with the seriously depressed economy.

In addition to reducing inventories and overhead costs, Mr. Jones said Burlington is acting to increase productivity, continuing Company-wide energy conservation, and conducting an intensive marketing effort that includes new and freshly designed products.

Mr. Jones said that gradual signs of improvement in the textile industry may begin to show later this year. He said some areas of the Company's business are experiencing a "bottoming out with some very preliminary signs of a recovery."

"We look for no dramatic turnaround in textiles or the general economy, but believe that there will be a gradual improvement in our business in the latter half of Burlington's fiscal year," Mr. Jones said.

"We also expect that Government actions on tax relief and a less restrictive monetary policy will begin to improve consumer confidence."

He added that "while we do not deceive ourselves or try to deceive anyone else as to the severity of the current decline in business and profitability, we have not lost our confidence in the future viability of the United States economy or of Burlington."

Healy bill will reduce sales

AUSTIN — State Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah introduced House Bill 1024 today in the House of Representatives, which would reduce the Texas sales tax by one percent. "Since we have a year, I thought it was good thing to give the reduction in the sales tax," Healy commented.

Group called home by storm

By BRYAN DAVIS
Saturday, Feb. 22, 5:30 a. m. 27 sleepy students and six tired sponsors waded through snow and ice to board a cold bus to go to the Stamford UIL practice meet. After two hours of driving, the 27 stunned students arrived in Stamford ready to compete.

The speech students went to the First Baptist Church, in downtown Stamford to compete in their different events. The remaining students met in the study hall, library and different rooms of the high school building for their various events.

About 10 a. m. they received an urgent phone call from Principal Hahn saying, "Head home, we have a blizzard here in Post."

After a hurried lunch, they got on the bus and headed for home. The group was more alert coming back than they were going. The trip was enjoyed by all and when they reached home they found more snow than ice.

As It Looks From Here . . .
 WASHINGTON, D. C. — Every country in the world, including our own, has had its national police and intelligence operations.
 Our own country muddled through wars and crime waves without either a CIA or FBI. We did, however, during the American Revolution, have secret intelligence operations. Theodore Roosevelt founded the bureau of investigation which preceded the FBI by some 30 years.
 Now, with the trend towards liberalism, there are those who have sound reason to want to dismantle all our intelligence agencies. Just recently, the old UnAmerican Activities Committee in the House of Representatives was scuttled by the New Congress. Under the influence of Watergate, the CIA is under attack for conducting domestic surveillances, an authority which was never intended. Neither had the times of the 60's been intended or ever expected when the thousands of revolutionaries (their own term) marched in Washington and other cities across the Country. The question was always where did they get their finances. People who apparently lived well didn't come here from the four corners of the Nation by airplane for nothing. It may be an oversimplification but the role of the CIA, at that time, was to try to find out what foreign connections the leaders of these revolutionary groups may have had in financing these activities.
 Special committees of both the house and the Senate are being formed to investigate both the CIA and FBI. These agencies have grown to massive size and are accused of a serious challenge to popular freedom.
 The FBI is now charged with assembling information such as has come its way on Members of Congress. The CIA is charged with having kept a file on 10,000 or more Americans in the course of trying to determine if the war protests of the 1960's were inspired or financed from foreign sources, and to what extent.
 As yet, there is no sighted instance of any member of Congress being intimidated by the FBI, nor any war demonstrator having been unduly hounded by the CIA. It could have happened in isolated instances without shaking the foundations of this Republic.
 As far as congressmen are concerned, they are no less free of peculiarities, and have human behavior like anyone else, but, although some are suspicious that they may have been investigated, nothing shows up yet that any such information was formally solicited but only that which came to them by reference.
 The point is, that our high crime rate, and the foment in the country, will continue as opportunity presents itself, but there are those in this increasingly assertive and permissive Democratic society, who seem to think there is a threat of oppression when laws are enforced or investigations are made of actions designed to overthrow and subvert this nation.
 Demands are now heard in the congress, from people and organizations around the country, that there should be no confidentiality in these agencies and other intelligence operations in our government for fear of repressive action. Nothing is perfect and it is entirely possible that a reorganization, a restatement of aims and principles should be redefined to guide these operations. It would, however, be disastrous and make ineffective law enforcement and hamper efforts to guard against insecurity for this country, if total control and publicity of our intelligence activities were imposed by the Congress. If this should happen, we can forget about conducting investigations necessary to our internal security. There is a limit on secrecy and sensible men should apply it. But to open up every aspect of these agencies would not only impair our ability for law enforcement but prevent our being able to obtain knowledge of subversive influences inspired from abroad.

TEXAS TALK
 By FRED MYERS
 Q: What are some of the characteristics of a good breeding bull not necessarily required for good beef cattle?
 A: Most notable characteristics for breeding bulls not necessary in beef cattle include: a masculine appearance, breed markings, constitution and a good weight-to-age ratio.
CONSTITUTION — Usually described as the positive tendency of an animal to perform well and survive during advanced age. Physical characteristics indicative of a good constitution are full development of the forequarters, wide-open and broad nostrils, a strong straight back and good body width and depth.
MASCUINITY — Evidenced by the appearance of the bull. General features to look for are a full neck, strong horns (when this is a breed characteristic), full forehead with good development of chest and shoulders.
