Plans Being Made For 4-H Club Beef Show Here May 22

Garza County Agent Wallace Kimbrough announced that the 4-H Club Show will be held on the south side of main street between the City Hall and Mey's Tailor Shop Saturday, May 22, at 3:00 p. m. Merchants of Post, who are sponsoring the show with the aid of the City, have announced that the Grand Champion will win $50.00 War Bond. Kimbrough, County Agent of Garza County, will judge the show again this year. Arrangements with the Higginson-Bartlett lumber yard have been made to furnish post and rails to construct a tie rail for the boys to use their calves to. Stations and the locker have offered their wash facilities to the boys to use in washing and grooming calves the morning before show. Earl Roger's feed store offered to weigh the calves for the boys.

County Praised In Recent Bond Drive By Scofield

Marshall Mason, chairman of the Garza County War Bond Committee received the following letter from Frank Scofield, War Bond Administrator: "The Series E War Bond quota for your good county for the month of May is $21,500.00. It is anticipated that a substantial carry-over from the April Second War Loan drive will be included in the report of War Bond sales for your county during this month. The heavy buying during the closing days of the Second War Loan drive, reflected by the unusual large number of transactions, will not be completed until after May 1st, and will materially assist the regular investors of War Savings Bonds and those consistently participating in the Payroll Savings Plan in reaching this May quota. "You, your committee members, and the citizens of Garza County achieved an outstanding accomplishment during the month of April in successfully putting the Second War Loan Drive over the top. This is another indication of the benefits and results of what you have previously done in behalf of the War Savings Program and how much your efforts now mean as your Government is vitally depending upon you during these strategic times."

Contact WMC Office Before Changing Jobs Is Advised

Workers in the Panhandle of Texas were advised today by F. A. Wells, Acting Field Supervisor of the War Manpower Commission, to consult their present employers or the nearest United States Employment Service office, for information regarding new WMC job changing regulations, before leaving a job or taking a new job, to avoid violations of the regulations. "Virtually every WMC Region in the nation has adopted, or will adopt within the next few days, Regional Labor Stabilization Plans similar to the one adopted last week in our Region X, including Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico," said Wells.

INSIDE NAZI PIGBOAT PEN

NEW YORK—These two views of the interior of one of Germany's submarine pens were published in an Axis propaganda magazine which recently reached the U.S. through a neutral source. The pens are massive structures of steel and concrete, designed to protect the U-boats from bombing while undergoing repairs and outfitting along the coast and, maybe, the low countries. At top, a view of the pen as a sub comes in under her own power. Below, the water has been pumped from the drydock and the sub is undergoing repairs. The great Allied raids on known sub bases are designed to knock out these pens.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cox had as guests over the week end Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cox and children and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hendrix of Lubbock. Not to let the fair sex win all honors, Bobby Nease, came forth as honor student in the 7th grade. His grades for the year are such that any young man, or young man's parents could point to with pride. He is an active member of the press club and the Athletic club. His hobby is stamp collecting. When he grows up he wants to be a doctor, but for the summer he hopes to be able to go on a fishing trip. His winsome personality, his wholesome outlook on life, his conscientious attitude toward his studies and responsibilities makes him a favorite with both students and teachers. Gomer Custer, Master Sergeant in the U. S. Army in a division stationed in Washington, is spending several days with his family and friends. Gomer formerly was employed with the First National bank.

Post Elementary School Names Honor Students

The honor student in the 5th grade, Miss Sue Bell Brister, is a very versatile young lady. As a student Sue Bell's teachers consider her as being close to the ideal. She is conscientious, industrious and dependable. She is so talented her extra curricular activities branch out into several fields. She is an active member in the Spanish club, Dramatic club, Junior Red Cross, and one of the seven singers in Mrs. Mullins class of personality singers. She is a collector of books and pictures, and her favorite subject is reading. When Sue Bell grows up she wishes to be a nurse so that she can help make sick people well. It seems she never tires of school as she hopes to attend the summer demonstration school at Sul Ross this summer while her mother, Mrs. Nola Brister, is there in school.

Another versatile young lady in the grade school is Elsie Verna West. She is the honor student in the 6th grade, having made all A's in her classes during the entire year. Like Sue Bell she is one of those students that teachers dream of having. She is someone to depend on, one from whom you can always expect the best within her power. She is keenly interested in all available knowledge, yet doesn't fail to be very sociable with her classmates. Her hobby is reading and her favorite subjects are reading and spelling. She also wishes to be a nurse when her school days are over. Elsie Verna lives on a farm with her parents Mr. and Mrs. L. E. West.

The public seldom hears of the behind-the-scenes struggles to overcome knotty performance problems of modern warcraft. How they are solved in laboratories seldom reaches the headlines, although the solutions are of headline importance.

Such was the case with lubricating submarines, a problem that a Western oil company has finally solved to the satisfaction of the Navy. In commending company engineers on their success, a high naval officer remarked that: "These engineers worked with the Navy in an intensive study of lubrication for submarines, a problem which for years has baffled experts. The new type of oil they succeeded in producing has proven successful under the most difficult operating conditions."

The story of the solution of this one problem so vital to the war effort, is typical of many similar problems the oil industry has had to solve in this mechanized war.

It is seemingly little things such as these that will finally win a big war. Fortunately American industry is efficiently and continuously ferreting out day by day the answers to these "back page" problems. Only the men on the battlefield where details count, can fully appreciate the industry.

Oil is a byproduct of coal tar.

TOMORROW MAY BE TOO LATE

How often the expression is heard today: "Be careful! You can't replace it." That warning has been applied to everything from pins to tractors. Never was the American public so waste conscious. Yet, in one vital respect it is still far too careless. That respect is fire. Millions of dollars worth of property and thousands of lives are lost annually by preventable fires.

It is an ironical fact that the man who cares for his car like an only child, will very often not hesitate to leave that car in a garage alive with fire hazards. And the housewife who guards with similar diligence the welfare of the electric range or refrigerator, will blithely disregard the commonest fire hazards such as frayed wiring, trash in the attic, open fireplaces and carelessly strewn matches.

Fire can wipe out a home and every "irreplaceable" object in it in a matter of minutes. Some of those irreplaceable objects may be human lives. Of the 10,000 persons who were burned to death in the United States in 1941, two-thirds perished in homes.

Fire prevention, like charity, should start at home and spread as widening circles until each person is doing his utmost to prevent destructive fire anywhere in his community. Fire department officials are only too glad to point

SHARP EYES REDUCE MISTAKES

In a study of a group of workers assembling small parts it was found that while persons with far vision produced more, the workers with sharp close vision made fewer mistakes. The study indicated that those who saw their work most easily, observed and corrected mistakes more frequently than did the assemblers with distant vision.

Views of Neighboring Editors:

The Colorado City Record—It's a funny world, now, anyhow. Dare you to find just one grocery shopper who asks "How much is this?" Now it's "How many points?" There are conferences between the shelves and long consultations at the meat counters. Mrs. Max Thomas has a system. She just hands her books to the grocer and says meekly, "Is there anything I can buy today?"

Lubbock Avalanche—Someone suggests that one reason the enemy won't bomb Washington is that no war device yet invented could add to the confusion already existing there.

The Scurry County Times—Results of figures gathered by army officials from Scurry, Fisher, Garza, Borden and other counties of this trade area, and the nation reveal that the continual dip into manpower for the armed forces through Selective Service is virtually exhausting the list of physically perfect men from 18 to 38 years of age. Recently, groups of men sent through Selective Service channels to armed force induction centers show a remarkably high rate of rejection on grounds of physical handicaps.

Those who have watched the situation closely for the past three months have realized the steady drain on manpower would, sooner or later, leave us without fit men for military service. Observers have warned for sometime that the country's manpower pool has been thinned to the point of danger, and the sooner we all realize this the better we will be prepared to face the future.

DID YOU KNOW THAT . . .

Tours of the Holy Land for servicemen of all faiths were arranged by the American Red Cross in the Middle East as part of the Easter season observance. The one-day tours were to the shrines of Jerusalem and Bethlehem, while the longer tours included visits to Jericho, the Dead Sea, Nazareth, the Sea of Galilee, and religious shrines in Palestine.

So urgent is the need for more women to serve as volunteers in hospitals, the age limit for Red Cross nurse's aides has been raised to 50 years.

The daughters of the American Revolution have donated $24,000 for mobile procurement units and other equipment for the Red Cross blood donor program.

All services provided for men in the armed forces by Red Cross field directors and chapters have been extended to the WAACs, the WAVES, and the more recently organized SPARS and Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

Because thirty-six thousand nurses—3,000 a month—are needed by the Army and Navy Nurse Corps during 1943, the American Red Cross, working with the United States War Department, is intensifying its nurse recruitment effort in a spring campaign.

Sales of independent retail stores during February climbed 11 per cent over January, and were 48 per cent higher than in February of last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

City of London Described In Letter From Weldon Skinner To Bobbie Cash Recently

After some time of waiting and anticipation the visit of London became a reality. If you will recall I sent you a kodak picture from Florida of Reggie Judson and me. Everytime there is an adventure Judson seems to figure in on the deal. We had planned the trip about a month ago and finally got off on the same days. In fact we had two days and nights away from the base. The train from here put us in London about 10 p. m. so by the time we had eaten supper and found a hotel it was past midnight. Some of the boys have found it difficult to get a room but were fortunate in finding a nice hotel. The upper floors had been hit by a bomb but repairs were about finished. Our room was a part of the building hit so we had new furniture and good beds to sleep on (sheets and springs). There are guide services but we had some directions of interesting places to visit so we took our time to see places we thought of interest. From the hotel, King James Palace was about 5 blocks and adjoining was King James Park which was very pretty. Buckingham Palace was just a short walk from there and at 10:30 there was a change of the guard mount. This is quite an event for there is some fancy ceremony that must be performed at this time. This palace is where the king and queen live when they are in London and a flag is flown to indicate their presence when they are in town. However they were not in town the day we were there. The next stop was Westminster Cathedral—a Roman Catholic church built about 40 years ago. All of the interior of the church is very pretty. I have some post cards of the trip that I want to send home. The distance from the cathedral to the House of Parliament called for a bus ride.

London has a population of ten million but the buildings are not very tall. There were guards on the gate entering the House of Parliament and no visitors are permitted to enter except those accompanied by a member of parliament. Winnie Churchill was not in so we could not get in. Big Ben strikes out the hour despite the big crack in the bell caused by bombs. Almost the entire area around Parliament has been blitzed and Westminster Abbey across the street has been hit by bombs. The tombs of most of the famous people and all the Royalty have been bricked over to protect them from bomb raids, however the chancel of the Abbey is still open and in its center is the grave of the unknown soldier from World War I. I am not familiar enough with history to appreciate the graves that I did see and of course graves of men like Shakespeare and the recent king have been bricked over for protection.

We continued our tour over to St. Paul's Cathedral soon after dinner. This church is a beauty from the inside but very old and worn looking from the outside. In the Crypts of St. Paul are the bodies of Nelson the Naval hero of England and Wellington, who defeated Napoleon. The huge hearse made of fine wood is there, that is the one used for Wellington's funeral. St. Paul's has been hit by two bombs, once just behind the choir and pulpit and another time in one of the wings. Priceless paintings and stone masonry were destroyed. In the big dome of St. Paul's are some paintings that seem so real and life-like you almost imagine the figures could speak. We met a man and his wife out in front of the cathedral and after talking with them for a while they suggested that we go with them to Madame Tussauds Exhibition which proved to be wax figures of very early and present famous and infamous characters. President Roosevelt was among those present. In the basement they had a horror chamber. These wax figures portrayed early forms of torture used hundreds of years ago.

The first night we saw a stage show which was "punk" after which we rested until late the next day. Our visit to the tower of London was the most interesting part of the entire trip. The guide was the best I've ever seen and he kept us for two hours, showing us such places as the tower where the two young princesses were killed by their uncle. Where Raleigh, Queen Elizabeth and others were imprisoned. The spot where Mary, Queen of Scots was beheaded as well as the chapel room full of early English metal armor. I shall never forget the trip thru the Tower and the good view we got of London Bridge.

After supper we went to see "Arsenic and Old Lace," a very good stage play. Coming home that night we missed our train and the next train went only to within 10 miles of the air base. Reggie and I started to walk with two Englishmen but after going about 4 miles we got a ride on a truck to the base. (These English miles have 6000 feet in them). Since returning I've been so busy that this is my first chance that I've had to write. It is needless to say that I wish you could have been here to make the trip with me. The first of the month I got a promotion to Sergeant which makes me very happy.

This ought to be enough for one time, however I plan another trip to see other places of interest and will tell you about them later. The people who took us to the museum have invited us to visit them near Coventry and we are looking forward to another holiday so we can fulfill the invitation.

Tell your mother that I will drop a line later when we catch up on our work. Have to go now but will be looking forward to a letter from you soon.

Very truly,
Weldon Skinner

Replacement Rules Issued
With a warning that it is up to the individual to take the best possible care of his ration books, OPA issued uniform regulations governing replacement of lost, stolen or mutilated War Ration Books One and Two. Anyone desiring to replace a ration book or coupon sheet must apply to his local board on Form No. R-194. Ten days after submitting his application, the book owner may report to the ration board, which will examine the facts and, if satisfied, may issue the replacement. Where ration books are lost or stolen, the board may require the applicant to report his case to the police.

Insurance For Soldiers
All soldiers can get financial protection through the national service life insurance program if they act before midnight of August 10, the War Department has announced. Maximum policy is $10,000. The payments will be made to beneficiaries only in monthly installments.

You'd be surprised at how I keep thinking of things back home—little things like hamburger and onions, double malts and . . . my car—how I miss it and wonder if you're followed through like I asked. Do you drive her down every week, and are you keeping the engine oil-plated with Conoco Nth oil? I want to hit the road just as soon as I get back and, of course, it will have to be in this one, for the new cars won't be out for some time after we finish the job which, if the censor permits, I'll bet my bottom dollar will be ——— Bill

Best Wishes Seniors

We wish for each and everyone of you the greatest success in life that is yours from now on. Only through hard work and much effort have you gained the height you now have attained and a continuation of that same effort will assure success. School Children . . .
Join the Volunteer

When school lets out . . . farm work will begin for thousands of American youths all over the country . . . volunteer soldiers in Uncle Sam's Crop Corps! Most of them shall have had training before going on to help raise needed food for America and her fighting allies . . . and many of them shall have had farm experience before. They will all help farmers who are in desperate need of workers, to plant . . . care for and raise the food that will bring about a quicker Victory and a better peace. Young America goes back to the farm . . . so our boys can come home to our land!

farewell
This is most of the Seventh grade students last year in Grade school. The other Grade school students and all the teachers want to wish them happiness and success during all their years in High school.

Thanks To Expression Pupils
During the year we have called on Mrs. Mullin's pupils many times to entertain us in chapel. Her singers have especially entertained us many times and we shall long remember Eleanor Boyd, Sue Bell Brister, Mary Nell Bowen, Mary Ann Hundley, El Wanda Davies, Ann Mullins and La Rue Stevens.

TA Donates Books
TA donated three books to the library this week. One is "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by Mrs. Stowe. This book is about negro slaves, and is very good, although it is sad in some places.
Another is "The Mysterious Island," by Verne. It is a good mystery book. The other book is "Wildfire," by Zane Grey. It is about a very valuable wild horse that is caught and tamed.
The library thanks the 7th grade very much for the books.

Sixth Grade Gives Old Stockings To Help Win War
The Sixth grade students have collected 63 pairs of old silk and rayon stockings. They plan to turn them in to Hanna Pope's Dry Goods store at Lubbock this week end.

Soldiers Get Lots Of Mail
United States soldiers overseas receive over 20,000,000 pieces of mail a week, or an average of fourteen pieces per soldier. This is four times as much as the AEP got at the peak of the World War. Twenty percent of the mail sent overseas is V-mail.

With The Men In Service:

Receives Letter From Australia

Mrs. B. F. Rogers received a most interesting letter last week from her foster son, Pvt. B. L. Donaldson who is somewhere in Australia. A part of the letter is reproduced here as it expressed the opinion of so many of the boys who are serving in foreign countries. B. L. is the son of the late Bill Donaldson. The letter follows:

Dear Mother:
I will write you a few lines to let you know that I am still doing alright. I got your letter from home and you asked me if I would like the hometown paper. Well I sure did enjoy the ones you have sent me so far. I would like one every week if it is possible for you to send me one.

Sometimes I think I am having a hard time, but again I guess I am kind of lucky to be able to fight for my people and friends at home so that when it is all over we can all be together again and live and think and say what we please at any time. We have a wonderful place to live in and the best government in all the world. You may not think so until you get away from it and then you will know just how wonderful it all is.

I have been on a 7-day furlough—the first since I went into the army. I went to spend the week with my Aussie girl friend. One of the sweetest girls I have ever met and you know I have met a million. Had a wonderful time. I stayed at her home and was never treated any better in all my life. You just can't beat the Australian hospitality. She knitted me a sweater and cooked just for me some very good meals. "What a Cook!" I'll stop for now—answer soon.

With love . . . your son,
Billie

Crop Corps Certificates

Certificates for service will be awarded to the 1,500,000 persons who work on farms this year in the U. S. Crop Corps, and to those who work in canning and other food processing plants, the War Food Administration has announced. The certificates will be presented "for patriotic service on a farm or in a food processing factory" and will bear the signatures of Chester C. Davis, War Food Administrator; Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, and the State Director of Agricultural extension in each state.

Pensacola Bay was discovered for the Old World in 1528 by Hidalgo Narvaez, acting under a commission from Charles V of Spain.

"My Country! May she ever be right, but my country right or wrong!" said Stephen Decatur giving a toast at a Norfolk dinner in 1816.

Although the U. S. Army salute is the same as that of the U. S. Navy, such is not the case in other countries of the world. The British Navy salutes with the palm inboard; the British Army with the palm outboard.

A plain flag of seven red stripes and six white ones without a "union" was used by merchants and privateers from 1775 to 1795.

The abolition of corporal punishment in the U. S. Navy was largely due to the efforts of Commodore Uriah P. Levy, who interested congress in the matter about 1850.

The time-honored naval expression, "Aye, aye, sir," has the definite meaning of "Your order is understood sir, and will be obeyed." It is properly used as the response to an order from a superior and should be used in no other way.

Although Benjamin Stoddert is generally accepted as the first Secretary of the Navy, George Cabot legally held that office for 14 days. Cabot, appointed by President John Adams, declined the nomination, but his declination did not become immediately effective.

Epaulettes, which are reported to have been originated by the French, are commonly referred to as "swabs."

The name "poop deck" is derived from the Latin word puppis, a name the ancients gave to that ceremonial, sacred, honored deck where were kept the pup or doll images of the deities.

Conserving Food Is First Job Of Every Home Owner

"Planting, producing, and conserving food for home use on every farm and ranch and in all back yards is our first responsibility now," County Agent Wallace Kimbrough said after announcing plans in line with the Victory Roll call. The Home Food Supply for Victory Roll call has been scheduled to continue through March 20.

Persons who sign the Victory Demonstration's pledge agree to help win the war by producing food, feed, and fiber for themselves and others; by taking care of food, clothes, equipment, as well as scarce materials such as rubber and metals; and by buying War Savings bonds and stamps and by careful purchasing of necessary articles; and, finally, by being cheerful and taking part in all war activities.

During the Roll Call period, Victory Demonstration's are being asked to enroll at least two other women or girls who accept the pledge. In addition, these leaders will be asked to encourage home gardening and other phases of the Victory Demonstration.

Copies of the pledge card can be obtained from the county agricultural agent.

Over 100 pledge cards have already been signed the county agent declared and almost 90 per cent of the farmers have indicated they will raise Victory gardens according to information from the Triple A Office.

Relatives visiting him last week were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Tolson, his sister, Mrs. Curtis Maroney, a brother-in-law, Leon Baird, all of Boxelder, Texas, and a brother, Pvt. Ernie R. RUSSIAN WORDS WILL BECOME PART OF EVERYDAY AMERICAN LANGUAGE

Think Russian words are unpronounceable? Then you'd better start practicing on them, for at the rate the war is going, a good many Russian words will probably be absorbed by the English language.

The first two years of the war, nearly all the new words added to the language were German—such as "blitzkrieg," "gestapo," "ideology," and "fuhrrer." These words all trace the rise of totalitarian government, and are now a part of the average American's vocabulary.

But now that the tide of the war has turned, it seems likely that a new group of words will be added to the language, this time coming from the allied nations, such as Russian and Chinese names and terms.

Breakfast Honors Misses Bowen On Sunday Morning

Misses Billie and June Bowen, who will be married next Sunday, had a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist church, were commended with an early morning breakfast on Sunday morning by Misses Margaret and Mattie Evers, Stone at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Stone.

The hostesses chose decorative appointments of fiesta pottery for the table services. The shades were noted in a floral centerpiece. The dainty wedding bell cards marked places for guests around the large table which was arranged for the serving of the meal. Giving accent to the center decoration were pottery love birds in colors of yellow and orange which were placed among the flowers. The silver wedding bells were accented by duplicate shells in pottery colors. On the inside of the place cards the breakfast menu was printed. White tapers in branched candelabra completed the decorations.

Boquets of roses were used throughout the house. After the breakfast, the honorees were presented with pyrex coffee pots by the breakfast guests Misses Kitty Faires, Martha Rae Roach, Mmes. Welden Ebe, Bobbie Johnson, and the hostesses.

Miss Beverly Vaughn of Pecos was a guest of Miss Martha Thomas last Saturday and Sunday. Miss Vaughn was formerly violin and piano teacher in the post schools. She plans to continue her music work in the Julliard School of Music in New York this summer.

Herbert Ray Jones Celebrates Second Birthday On May 5

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Jones was a scene of gaiety May 5th when a group of little friends attended a supper party in celebration of Herbie Ray's second birthday. Fried chicken and all the trimmings were enjoyed by all the little ones, together with the final excitement of seeing who could blow out the candles on the cake. After the opening of gifts, and games were played on the lawn, the children left for their homes.

Those enjoying the occasion were Misses Carolyn Ann Hudson, Anita Davies, Kay Jones and Master Danny Cockrum.

A farewell party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Howell last Wednesday night in honor of Robert Dealey who left for Fort Sill, Oklahoma Friday morning. A large crowd of friends were present to wish him the best.

Harry Evans and Miss Aline Bryant Marry In Ft. Worth

Simple and dignified was the nuptial ceremony read Saturday night, May 8, in Fort Worth for Miss Aline Bryant and Staff Sergeant Harry Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans of Justiceburg. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bryant of Childress and has for the past few months been associated with Consolidated Aircraft Company in Fort Worth.

The wedding vows were exchanged at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Wyatt at 7 p. m. Attendants for the wedding were Miss Neita Ray Davis and Miss Faye Willis. A single ring ceremony was performed.

The bride wore for her wedding a becoming blue crepe two-piece silk suit fashioned with a lovely square collar with white crepe insert embroidery. Her hat was of the same shade of blue and was draped in blue veiling. She carried a small white Bible upon which was arranged a spray of white gardenias. Other accessories were black.

Corsage bouquets for the attendants were fashioned from white carnations.

Immediately following the wedding, the couple left for Post where they are now visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Evans during this week. The groom, who has just completed work at Camp Gruber, Oklahoma, will report to Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, when his furlough expires. He was one of eighteen men selected from Camp Gruber to go to the Wisconsin camp to organize a new company. He is attached to the Ordnance Division and was recently promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant. Before entering the army he was associated with Piggly Wiggly store in Post.

Composer Vignettes Offered to Music Lovers

TODAY, in a world shadowed by the unhappiness of war, people are turning to the beauty and solace of music.

George Marek, writing in the April issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine, believes that music lovers would like to know something of the personalities and compositions of these masters whose works have survived and grown in popularity through the years.

"Popularity, as we consider it here, is a measure of love that has lasted.

"The twenty-five composers listed are those whose works are the best sellers in the record catalogues and the most demanded on radio programs. One work of each composer is mentioned. This is not necessarily his best work, but it is a characteristic work, one that would serve as a good introduction to the composer's style and thought—should you wish an introduction."

Well, school is out and everybody is happy, unless it is the teachers. (Alma Outlaw was the last week's personality).

Post teachers will begin the vacation period by going to their homes first and then several will take an interesting work for the Summer. Miss Sible Pirtle will leave soon after the first of June for New York where she will enter Hunter college and will begin training for the WAVES. Miss Weakley will remain in Post but will perhaps take a short trip before the school term begins again in the fall. Mrs. Frank Nease plans a trip to Oklahoma. Miss Klatt will go first to her home in Hamilton then will later in the summer join the WAVES. Plans for the summer for Miss Durrett and Mrs. Cash are indefinite but Mrs. Cash plans to spend most of the time at her home here with her family and friends.

Superintendent Bearden and Principal Smith will probably remain most of the summer in Post. Their plans are most indefinite at this time.

Miss Thacker will go to Texas Tech for one session this summer while Miss Fannie Fay Porter will leave soon after school is out for Kentucky where she plans to be married to Lt. Henneslee. Mrs. Victor Hudman will teach vacation homemaking classes for six weeks then will enjoy the remainder of the summer at home.

Tonight Mrs. B. J. Edwards is sponsoring a theatre party for the Sophomore class. The feature is "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

Congratulations

... To The Graduating Class Of 1943
OUT TO Work and Fight for Victory

Seniors, Yours Is the Right of Life, Liberty, and Pursuit of Happiness

Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—according to the Constitution of the United States, these are privileges offered to young men and women as citizens.

LIFE in America is to enjoy to the fullest extent the peace and joy of living. In Japan, China, Italy and Germany, people live in constant fear of losing their lives. News reels picture for us the sorrows of wars and starvation, where death is prevalent and life isn't worth living. Here, one can rest at night without harboring the fear that he will be blown to bits; the dead are not carted off the streets and dumped into a trench. Rather, life is precious, and when death does come, all the dignity expressive of sorrow is part of the burial ceremony.

LIBERTY is freedom. One has freedom of speech, religion and press in America. In parts of Europe everything is censored and one cannot speak his thoughts without endangering his life. Here, if one's liberty is infringed upon by another, justice is provided. Let us be thankful that we are not put into concentration camps to do the will of a dictator, but have the right to enjoy our liberty.

PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS. ... Through national, state, city and even neighborhood parks, America offers better recreational advantages than any other country. Under recreational directors, contests are scheduled each summer in swimming, tennis, baseball, and other sports.

America offers joy of travel by safety. Only when traveling can be safe, and comfort is assured can there be any pleasure in taking trains.

There is a feeling of security when one lives under the protection of the government of the greatest nation in the world.

Seniors! Make the most of your life, make use of your liberty, and consider others in your pursuit of happiness.

Emory Stevens bought three steer calves and to date he has already sold one which brought him $130.00.

David and Opal Rogers, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Rogers, are feeding out a calf each. This is the third year these 4-H Club members have fed out club calves. Last year Opal showed the 2nd place calf in the local 4-H club and FFA calf show at Post. In 1941 the Rogers children carried their calves to Plainview and from there they went on to the Kansas City market.

Clyde King, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. King is in business with his father raising registered milking shorthorns. Clyde says he likes the milking shorthorns because they are high milk producers and at the same time produce beef.

Weldon Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers is feeding out a 4-H Club calf.

The above club members will all have one or more 4-H Club calves in the 4-H show Saturday. Other club boys planning on showing calves are Billy Glenn West ive officers in a series of district meetings voiced their opinions and studied questions covering all phases of the new program. Using the 1943 AAA program as a guide, they were asked whether the standards now used in approving practices are satisfactory or whether they should be changed during 1944.

The recommendations from these meetings will be the guide for drafting the 1944 program plans at the conference, Slaughter said.

Pre-Flight Course To Be Offered To Limited Number

A tuition free course in pre-flight aeronautics for high school teachers will be given at Hardin Simmons University for the Civil Aeronautics Administration during June, President W. R. White announced recently.

The course, starting June 1 and ending June 30, is open to all secondary school teachers handling work in pre-flight aeronautics or who intend to start such instruction not later than the 1943-velous job with this year and we are behind him 100 per cent," another said.

The Chamber of Commerce is offering a $50.00 war bond for grand champion prize on Saturday, a $25.00 bond for runner-up and numerous other prizes. O. D. Cardwell is contributing 100 lbs. of Moorman Fattening Minerals. The Graham gin contributed $50.00 and the Lubbock Production Credit Association sent in a check for $5.00 to be used toward prizes. Keen competition is being shown among the boys who have calves to show and an enthusiastic response is being shown among catlemen and farmers.

One hundred and thirty-eight boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H Club work in Garza county. Two new clubs, one in Grassburr and one in Cross Roads were organized within the last few weeks. These boys of Garza county are giving Uncle Sam their highest and best efforts in the program that is gaining momentum as the summer months approach. A million and a half boys and girls are taking pride in the 4-H Club record of production that will result in $30,000,000 of food stuffs this year.

"Commandos Strike at Dawn" at Garza Sunday - Monday

The Garza theatre advertisements for "Commandos Strike at Dawn" playing Saturday night 11:30, Sunday and Monday, say "starring Paul Muni." They're quite right. But a lot of people who see the picture are finding it hard to believe, at first.

Because the Paul Muni they see in "Commandos Strike at Dawn" is facially so naturel, so to speak, the first time in some five years or so that the Muni physiognomy hasn't been draped, hidden or contorted by a zit, beaver, beard, brush or mustache.

Mr. Muni rather likes playing clean for the camera for a change. Not that his past hairy masquerades haven't been to his liking, but he does feel that as long as a man has a face that doesn't frighten anybody he might as well use it occasionally. In "Commandos Strike at Dawn"—a story of Nazi-occupied-Norway—Muni plays a gentle, affable fellow who gets so mad at the Nazis he begins to chop them up.

Paul Muni, and please don't ever call him Mister Muni—is about as tractable an actor, when it comes to doping out a role, as you'll find in Cameraland.

If he likes a role, and likes the story, he doesn't much care what sort of makeup it requires. Years ago he did a thing for Fox called "Seven Faces." He played the little roles—all of them. That turned out to be a little more than he'd bargained for and now he'd prefer to keep one face during the making of a picture, or at most, not have to use more than two or three. "I got to know them better," he explains. "It helps in trying to make them believable on the screen."

Congressman Mahon Says John L. Lewis Is Guilty Of Treason

Washington, D. C.—Congressman George Mahon, in condemning John L. Lewis and the coal strike recently, said that Lewis was guilty of treasonable conduct and should have been shown months ago that he is not greater than the U. S. Government. The people are aroused, and they have every right to be, he said.

In a speech in Congress Mahon said that Lewis had in effect repudiated our government and joined our enemies and that this latest act against the government by Lewis had fully vindicated all those who had been fighting for legislation to prevent strikes in war time and for a firmer policy by the President against our enemies within the U. S.

Mahon and many other Members from the South have been demanding for months that strikes

COTTON WEEK PROCLAIMED

Gov. Coke Stevenson, declaring that "cotton and cottonseed products are vital to winning the war and the peace," signs a proclamation asking Texans to observe National Cotton Week May 17 to 22. During National Cotton Week farmers, manufacturers, chain stores, independent merchants and civic groups will emphasize the importance of cotton. Watching the governor sign the proclamation are (left to right) Capt. Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, chairman of the Statewide Cotton Committee; L. T. Murray, Waco, secretary of the Texas Cotton Association; and Luther Sharp, Dallas, director of Farm Market Relations, Inc., and chairman of the Texas Cotton Week Committee.

WATCH RATION POINTS, BUY FRESH VEGETABLES

NOW that there is widespread rationing of food stuffs, housewives are finding it necessary to keep a careful accounting of the points expended on their ration cards.

Processed foods are subject to this rationing and fresh vegetables, the sales of which are not subject to such regulations, are decreasing in variety.

Good Housekeeping Institute in the April issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine has these suggestions to make.

"Don't be daunted by limited choice in vegetables. Make up for lack of variety by cooking available vegetables expertly, by combining new ways to serve them, by combining two vegetables. This is what we have been doing in our Institute kitchens, and we find we are creating a new interest in vegetables. Buy truly fresh produce, preferably grown near by. To conserve freshness and food value, get vegetables home, cleaned, and into refrigerator promptly.

"Remember that when your rationing stamps are gone, you can't buy canned or quick-frozen vege-
