Recently Mr. Chrisman obtained the photostatic files on this county from the Post Office Department in Washington, and from it he listed the complete information concerning the name of the post office, its post master, and the date of service. The Baird Star is glad to publish this article which should be of great interest to many of our people. It will be found on another page of this issue of The Star.

Tribute Paid Late Callahan Judge

The 42nd Judicial District Court paid tribute Monday morning to the late Judge B. L. Russell, Sr., long-time resident and civic leader of Callahan County. Judge J. R. Black opened court and after paying tribute to Judge Russell asked for a report from the resolution committee composed of L. B. Lewis and Randall Jackson, Baird attorneys, and Edmond C. Yates, Abilene attorney.

After Yates read the resolution, short tribute speeches were made by Judge Clyde Grisom and Judge M. L. Long, of the Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland; L. L. Blackburn, L. B. Lewis and Randall Jackson, Baird attorneys; Mayor B. H. Freeland of Baird; Sidney Harville, District Attorney Thomas E. Hayden, Jr., Harvey Brown, reporter of the 42nd Judicial Court, and John Alvis, Abilene.

At the conclusion of the resolution and speeches, B. L. Russell, Jr., Baird merchant, spoke in acknowledgment of the tribute paid his father.

The resolution read in part: "Judge Russell was not only an able advocate and wise counselor, but a Christian gentleman; strong in principle and devotion to duty; an inspiration to the young and a comfort to the old; always a sympathetic listener; always eloquent in speech; warm and devoted friend to many and friendly and respectful to all with the rare gift of discovering greatness in his neighbors and friends; ardent in his love of his community and his country which he served as a successful public servant and later in many civic enterprises. As a lawyer, as a citizen, and in his business and in his fraternal associations he left a clean mark worthy of all emulation.

"Now, therefore, he it resolved by the bar of Callahan County and by the members of the bar in attendance upon its courts that we tender our condolences to the widow and bereaved family of the deceased in the great loss suffered by them and by the community."

MOVEMENT TO BUILD NEW SIDEWALKS

A number of the merchants on Market Street are interested in replacing the old rock sidewalks at the front of their stores with new concrete walks. A contractor has estimated the cost of the job at 25 cents per square foot, which is very low in comparison to other similar construction. The old walks have become dangerous in places and store owners believe the new walks would not only increase business, but would prevent accidents and law suits.

Miss Lillie Baines of Ranger visited in Baird Saturday.

Cool Weather Stops Water Hauling

Since the cool weather began, the demand for water has been reduced to the point where it has not been necessary for Baird to have water hauled to supply the town. Water had been hauled for two months to supplement the supply from wells in the water field west of the city. Although a $2.00 water rate was put into effect to compensate for the hauling of water, the water department spent more money each month while the water was being hauled than was collected from the sale of water to residents. The water cost $2.15 per thousand gallons. It was placed in the reservoir this summer instead of being pumped into the water lines near the depot as was done last year. This method was used to prevent air getting into the lines, and it worked fine. Since the hauling of water has stopped, the water rate has been returned to the old schedule. The city council hesitated to go back to the old rate, due to the fact that it is doubtful that the wells will continue to produce a sufficient amount to meet the water demand. A good, soaking rain and continued cold weather are factors that would help, and then too, the continued conservation of water by all Baird people will help keep the lower rate in effect.

76-POUND CATFISH CAUGHT IN LLANO

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Curtis returned from a day's fishing trip to Junction Sunday evening where they caught a 76-pound catfish. They left Baird before dawn and returned about dark the same day to report the biggest catch that has been known in these parts in some time. Asked where they caught the big fish, both Curtis brothers said "Mount Airy," but we know by the color of his gills that he came from the waters of the Llano. It is the stock answer of all fisherman to report their catch either from the banks of the Mexia, Mount Airy, or a stock tank, but upon investigation the big fish came from bigger waters. Some seem to think that the Curtises had the big fish staked out and all they had to do was drive to Junction, drag him in, and head for home. At any rate, these lucky fishermen are offering to set-em-up to anyone else who can match their catch in any other one-day fishing trip from Baird.

SCHOOLS TURN OUT FOR ARMISTICE DAY

As the Baird Star is published early this week, we are glad to be able to announce that the Baird schools will dismiss on Thursday, November 11, so that all who care to can attend the American Legion program and barbecue. Beginning at 2:15 the Baird Bears and Clyde Bulldogs will renew their rivalry on the gridiron. Clyde will come here this year. The football sweetheart will be presented between halves, and the largest crowd of the season is expected to witness this game, which is always a thriller when these two teams come together. Regular admission prices, 30c for students, and 60c for adults will prevail.

THE STAR IS PUBLISHED EARLY THIS WEEK

In observance of Armistice Day, and to join the town and American Legion Post 82 celebrate the great day, the Baird Star is published earlier than usual this week. It usually is placed in the mail Thursday evening to enable all of the people in the county to get their paper Friday. The Star office will be closed, along with many other business places in Baird, Thursday, November 11th. We plan to observe Thanksgiving, November 25th, by closing for the day. Our friends and patrons are asked to arrange their calls at this office accordingly. We sincerely hope that these holidays find all of you in good health and happy.

MINIATURE RACING IS NEW SPORT

Miniature auto racers that top 100 miles-per-hour are the latest creations of mechanical craftsmen and the once spare-time hobby has grown into a new sport that engages attention from coast to coast. R. J. Verville and W. J. Ringle of the Canton office engineering department of The Timken Roller Bearing Company are two of the miniature racing enthusiasts. The men are shown with models of their cars and a number of trophies won in competition.

The cars, with an average weight of five and one-half pounds, are precision built from the builder's own design. They are powered with the latest and finest miniature motors that hit 14,000 rpm when the car travels at 100 mph. Since weight and friction are constant problems in attaining higher speeds, Verville and Ringle, both so familiar with bearings through their work with Timken, have installed five anti-friction bearings on the cars and three in the motors.

The world speed record for a car of this type now stands at 125 miles per hour. Tracks used are concrete ovals 75 feet in diameter.

This work will be done with an Alice Chalmers HD-19 tractor. This tractor is the largest type built by this company and stands about eight feet tall. The machine is going to be equipped with a special tree dozer which is supposed to be about the best thing for getting out the tree roots and all. The machine will start to work as soon as it gets here and the owners have invited every one to come out to see how it operates.

"X" DISEASE

Right now the veterinarians are trying to solve a problem with "X" as the unknown factor. "X" is a cattle disease that was first reported in New York nearly ten years ago. Later it began cropping up in other states around 1943. At the latest count it is in about 30 states, according to Dr. W. C. Banks, extension veterinarian of A. & M.

"X" doesn't seem to affect anything except cattle. And, according to a recent survey made in the southeast, it was found that nine beef animals were infected to one dairy animal. The most severely affected animals die from the disease. This survey also showed that 31 percent of all animals in 26 herds were infected, and 59 percent of the affected animals died. One of the common things among pregnant animals is abortions.

Symptoms of the disease include a watery discharge from the eyes and nose, and later on, as the disease develops, the animal's appetite fails, it loses condition, and becomes depressed. The skin gets thick, wrinkled, hard and leathery and lesions sometimes appear on the muzzle or in the mouth.

This "X" disease may be confused with pink eye, cobalt deficiency, dallis grass poisoning or scabies by the stockmen. But for the veterinarian who knows the disease, it's not hard to diagnose.

It may hit the herd anytime of year, but is more likely to occur in the late winter and early spring months, says Dr. Banks. Its cause is not known, and for this reason there isn't any known treatment for the disease. No drug treatments have been effective for control.

Just about the only thing the stockmen can do is feed a good balanced ration and keep the herd and barns clean. Sanitation good feeding and quarantine of new animals in the herd are about the only control measures there are.

DON'T GROW GRUBS

Two million Texas cattle are slaughtered every year, and over one-third of these are grubby cattle. A more direct loss to the farmer is feed. He has to feed his cattle about 15 percent more than usual just because of grubs. The fall and early winter is the best time to treat cattle for grubs because this is the time of year the grubs mature and fall off the animal to the ground, says C. A. Kings, Extension Entomologist of A.&M.

The stockman has three choices of controlling grubs: dust, spray or dip. If you use the first method, dust the backs of the animals thoroughly with one part of 5% rotenone and two parts tripoll earth of talc. You can use a jar with holes in the lid for the powder and just rub the dust into the hair with the fingertips. For a spray, mix seven and a half pounds of 5% rotenone in 100 gallons of water. Wet the backs of the animals thoroughly with a sprayer that has at least 250 pounds pressure. Both lice and grubs can be controlled in a dip containing one pound of 5% rotenone and 10 pounds of wetttable sulphur in 100 gallons water. It will take two dips 17 to 21 days apart, and dip first about 10 days after the grubs are first seen in the backs.

Here's another way to picture grub losses. Enough leather is lost each year to furnish shoes for one million people for a year. The milk flow is reduced around a quarter, but most important of all, is the five million dollars lost by Texas farmers. That's a lot of money to pay for grubby cattle.

EARLY POST OFFICES AND POST MASTERS IN COUNTY

B. C. Chrisman
With the coming of the first settlers to the county in the latter part of 1876 and the spring of 1877, also came a demand for post offices.

The distinction of being the first office established in Callahan county belongs to no single office, for on the same day, February 26th, 1877, two offices were established, one at Shaw's Ranch, with A. J. Shaw as postmaster and one at Calahan, with Nelson M. Smith as postmaster. Shortly after this, on July 25th, 1877, the Cross Plains office was established with William M. Mattox as postmaster. These three offices, Shaw's Ranch, Calahan and Cross Plains represent all that were established in the county prior to the year 1878. By 1878, settlements had been made in all section of the county and the demand for mail service extended to each community and consequently the Post Office Department established offices in other sections of the county.

Following is a complete list of all offices of the county, date of establishment and list of early postmasters, that were obtained from the official files of the Post Office Department at Washington.

HEALTH FACTS

Austin — In a statement on controlling communicable diseases issued by the Texas State Department of Health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer states that if every case of suspected communicable disease were seen promptly by the family physician and definitely diagnosed, thousands of susceptible persons would be protected from these disabling diseases.

"The theory that it is a good thing for children to have these catching childhood diseases and get them over with, has long since been proven an error which may actually endanger a child's life," says Dr. Cox. "The longer he can avoid having these diseases, the better it is for him. Every child should be protected by immunization against all diseases where an immunity can be established."

Prompt diagnosis, isolation and good medical care give the patient the best chance for a satisfactory recovery without the serious complications that sometimes accompany even the milder forms of communicable diseases. Dr. Cox emphasized that obeying the public health laws regarding isolation and quarantine protects not only the patient, but helps to prevent the spread of the disease to other persons.

"The State Health Department," Dr. Cox said, "does everything within its power to protect the health of the people of Texas, but the cooperation of every individual in protecting his own health and that of his community will do more than anything else to successfully check the spread of communicable diseases among our people."

Any new way of cooking meat loaf is always a welcome addition to the recipe file. Broiled Meat Loaf uses only six ingredients and can be popped under the broiler flame for quick cooking. Mix together 1 lb. hamburger, 1/2 cup bread crumbs, 1 egg, 1 tsp. grated onion, 1/2 cup tomato soup, 1 tsp. salt, pepper. Shape into two firm loaves and place on broiler grid. If you broil with the thermostat wide open, the loaves should be at least 3" from the flame and broiled about 12 mins. on the first side, 10 mins. on the second side. If you set the thermostat at 350°, place meat 2" from flame and broil 15 mins. on each side, which cooks it to well done.

If there's not quite enough batter to fill all the cups in muffin tins, pour water into the empties before placing in the oven to prevent burning of empty cups.

Any cooking food creates smoke and vapor of varying degrees. Many modern gas ranges take care of this problem with "smokeless" broilers which means, literally, that smoke rising from cooking food is consumed by the broiler flame.

Crackers spread with peanut butter and broiled until bubbly make excellent appetizers.

In 1859, reported The American Gazette, one hundred families used gas for cooking. Today two out of three of the 38,000,000 families in this country cook with gas.

Leftover bread crusts cut into small bits, browned with butter or margarine in oven or frying pan, make economical croutons for soups.

7 tips for safe winter driving!

(In cooperation with the National Safety Council)

1. Get the "feel" of the road—try your brakes while going slowly.
2. Adjust your speed to road, weather and traffic.
3. Use Traction Type Tires on winter roads.
4. Keep your windshield clear of snow, ice, fog and frost.
5. Pump your brakes on ice and snow—don't jam them on.
6. Follow at safe distances. It takes 3 to 12 times longer to stop on snow and ice.

7 RIDE ON NEW Super-Cushion TIRES BY GOODYEAR

Be protected with the extra safety of "STOP-NOTCHES"

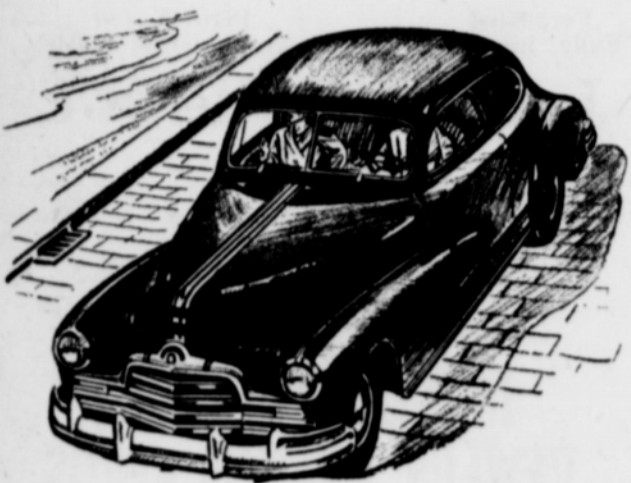

Goodyear's molded-in "Stop-Notches" give Super-Cushions extra slip resistance. These zig-zag slots have hundreds of sharp edges that cut through wet, slippery road film and grip the road on stops and starts. "Stop-Notches" mean you're safer on Super-Cushions... the tires that run on 24 lbs. of air. Come in — Super-Cushions will fit your present wheels.

LIBERAL TRADE-IN ALLOWANCE FOR YOUR OLD TIRES

Terms as low as $1.95 a week per set of 5 tires and tubes.

Before you start on a trip, whether it be long or short, inspect your tires. To drive on smooth tires is simply asking for trouble. Don't take a chance on smoot tires! Come here for tire repairs or for new tires. It's the first requirement for safe driving.
