Charles McCook elected Chamber president-to-be

Dr. Charles McCook, local dentist, has been elected president of the Post Chamber of Commerce for the new club year starting March 6.

Southland school consolidation vote is set for April 3

An election on the proposal to consolidate the Southland School District with the Post and Wilson school districts has been set for Saturday, April 3, County Judge Giles W. Dalby has announced.

Voters in each of the three school districts must approve the consolidation for it to be legally approved.

Judge Dalby told The Dispatch he had a public meeting at Southland Friday night to explain the consolidation vote procedure.

Approximately 40 persons attended.

Judge Dalby said Garza County will have two voting boxes — one at the Southland school for voters of the Southland school district and one at the Post High School for voters of the Post school district.

Lynn County Judge V. F. Jones of Tahoka is designating polling places at Gordon and Wilson for voters in the Wilson school district.

The two half sections of the Southland school district which lie in Lubbock County but with no voters residing on them would be consolidated into the Wilson school district if the consolidation is voted, Judge Dalby said.

He said the voting date was established after he had talked with the Texas Secretary of state in Austin by phone and twice with the U. S. Attorney General's office in Washington.

Ballots will be printed in both English and Spanish and election notices when published will be in both languages to conform to the requirements of the federal voting rights act of 1975.

Judge Dalby told The Dispatch that the entire election procedure will be submitted to the U. S. Attorney General's office as required by the voting rights act but he expects no

County Agent Syd Conner has every positive approach to yesterday's severe sand storm and the nearly four months period Garza County has now gone without any measurable moisture.

Says Syd: "We're one day away from rain."

He's right too.

Our congratulations to George W. Miller for winning the conservation farmer of the year award Monday night. The reason we don't have a picture of George on today's front page is because by doctor's orders George wasn't allowed to attend the Monday night banquet. He is recuperating at present from a heart attack and the award banquet had to be a "no no."

Remember all the capitol press corps criticism of Governor Briscoe on being so far behind in his gubernatorial duties besides being out of town and "out of pocket" to swamson so much?

In yesterday's mail, Feb. 18, we received a picture from Briscoe's office of Governor Briscoe signing a proclamation declaring February as Heart Month in Texas.

So there must be something in the criticism.

Don't miss the Friday night (See Postings, Page 10)

No candidates as yet in race for city council

The spring election race for three city council positions at the moment could be termed "wide open". To be more precise it could be called "empty".

As yet, not one single incumbent or challenger has signed his "John Henry" on the candidate line.

It's exactly the same way in the hospital district race. Three trustee positions are open. Still no candidates, incumbents or otherwise.

Right now it appears to be a "waiting game" in the city elections.

By the early March filing deadline, there probably will be more candidates than positions.

If there is any issue shaping up, it probably will be whether or not the candidate supports the current community youth center project? Or better yet, how strongly he supports it?

Certainly any candidate who enters is going to be asked the question by many voters.

In the Post Independent School District Election, things are a bit different.

There are three candidates for the three positions.

Earl Chapman is seeking reelection for Place 1 position on the trustees and Robert Macy has filed for reelection to Place 2.

Syd B. Wyatt has filed for the place 3 trustee position now held by Mrs. Margaret Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson has not yet indicated whether or not she will seek another three-year term.

1st sandstorm buffets Post, rural area

The first sandstorm of the "spring season" howled over this area of West Texas for five hours Tuesday afternoon before abating just before dusk.

Wind velocities were estimated at between 50 and 60 miles an hour at the peak of the "blow".

Some, but not extensive damage was reported both here in Post and in rural areas.

Lots of cotton trailers were blown over. Some wallboard sections at the rental housing project site on North Avenue S were blown over the fence and into and across the street during the storm.

At the Post High School the driver educational trailer was blown off its blocks by the high winds after instructor N. R. King took his students inside the school building.

King said the trailer was "vibrating so much" he took the class inside as a safety measure and the next time he looked out he saw the trailer had been blown from its blocks.

County Agent Syd Conner told The Dispatch that the county has no appreciable moisture since last October and in the rest of February and all of March normally wouldn't receive much over an inch of moisture, according to the 50-year average.

The county agent said the ground is very dry on top but does have some moisture eight to ten inches below the surfaces.

W. O. Odom rites Monday

Masonic graveside rites were held Monday, at 2 p. m. in Terrace Cemetery for William Odell Odom, 81, who died Friday in Mercy Hospital in Slaton.

Odom, a Wise County native, moved from Texas to California in 1933 and lived there until his retirement in 1969 when he moved to Post. He was a lathing contractor.

Funeral arrangements were under direction of Mason Funeral Home of Post.

Survivors include three sons, J. D. of Chula Vista, Calif., Leroy of California and Marvin "Buzzy" of Post, a daughter, Bernice Odom of San Bernardino, Calif., a brother, Lyde of Post; a sister, Olie Creed of Waxahachie; 13 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Gary Lester, Bobby Terry, Thomas Hill, E. H. Grant, Billy Williams, S. E. Windham, Dennis Odom and Ralph Dean.

Gazing at Garza

By MAXINE MARKS
When Garza County was still in its tent stage in 1907, local cattlemen started talking about a bank. Finally in 1909, the First National Bank of Post City was organized with a capital stock of $50,000. C. W. Post held controlling interest.

The formal opening was held July 31, 1909, using one of the sections of the large Double U store building.

At the close of business that first day, the bank reported $6,518 in cash, $12,083 in U. S. bonds, $273 in furniture and fixtures, $16,108 in deposits, and $46,633 in deposits with other banks.

Duckworth rites Friday

Funeral services for Walter Sidney Duckworth, 85, a longtime Garza County resident, were held Friday, at 3 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Post with the pastor, Rev. Glenn Reece officiating.

Duckworth died Thursday, Feb. 13 in Mercy Hospital in Slaton.

Born January 23, 1891 in Snyder, Duckworth married Edna Covey, Nov. 28, 1932 in Lubbock and had made his home here in Post since that time.

He was Past Master of the Post Lodge, one of the first presidents of the Post Stamped Rodeo Association; a city councilman for many years, an active worker in the Post Chamber of Commerce; a member of the equalization board of the White River Municipal Water District from its beginning up to his final illness.

He was a Mason and Shriner (See Duckworth, Page 10)

Whitten rites held Monday

Funeral services for Orby R. Whitten, 87, of Post were held Monday at 3 p. m. in the Hudman Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. Philip Daniels, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiating.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery. Whitten, who for the past 12 years had made his home here with his wife, Mrs. Marietta Pruitt, died Friday in Garza Memorial Hospital.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Winnie Nafus of McAllen, and two brothers, Bonner of Dallas and Amos of Mission.

Post medals to be given to banquet goers

Ticket sales for the annual Post Chamber of Commerce banquet Saturday night, March 6, at the about-to-be renovated community center moved into high gear this week following the February Chamber directors meeting in the Post Chamber of Commerce room last Thursday noon.

Tickets for the affair are $6 each and a bronze Post commemorative coin will be given with each pair of banquet tickets sold.

The bronze coins valued at $3.50 each, will be given to those attending the banquet at the community center the night of the banquet.

Tickets may be obtained from (See CoC directors, Page 10)

George Miller named 'conservation farmer'

George W. Miller, a Garza farmer who farms 90 acres near the Close City Community, was selected to receive the Soil Conservation Farmer of the Year Award, Monday night at the SCS annual awards banquet held at Jackson Cafeteria.

Miller started his farming operation in 1972 and has maintained a program of conservation practices carried out over the years on his farm.

At present a Great Plains Conservation Program contract is in the process of being carried out on his farm, and a conservation cropping system is carried out each year on 63 acres of dryland cropland on which he practices a crop residue management. There are 13,910 feet of parallel terraces on his farm and he farms on the contour using these terraces as guidelines. He plans to plant 25 acres of Kleingrass for grazing in the future for some cattle.

He plants about one half of his cropland in high residue soil improving crops each year in rotation with cotton. George has a small irrigation well and uses it as supplemental water to pre-water part of his cropland.

Miller has accomplished a lot in the field of conservation in (See Awards given, Page 10)

Contract for community center let to low bidder

Mayor Giles C. McCrary announced this week that the city has officially let the construction contract for the conversion of the Parrish building into the community center to the low bidder of last week's spirited bidding, Lee Lewis of Lubbock.

The low bid is for $95,700 and includes the three add-on options to the base conversion contract.

The base bid was $78,740. Add-ons included part of the wrap-around canopy of the building, which originally was included in the second construction phase, an extra door in the rear of the building to facilitate use of rear meeting rooms from the parking lot, and a folding partition which can divide the main assembly room into two smaller rooms at a saving of electricity, heat and air conditioning for smaller groups.

McCrary said the contractor's work time had been extended from the 80 days listed in the bid to 120 days, which would have the building completed right around the Fourth of July.

Work will begin Monday, March 8, following the Post Chamber of Commerce annual banquet in the building Saturday night, March 6.

Flu isn't near epidemic yet

Post adults and youngsters are experiencing a siege of the flu too, but it hasn't reached anywhere near epidemic proportions yet, County Health Officer Dr. William Wilson told The Dispatch yesterday when asked to comment.

"It's a bit rough on those who have it and a pretty mean type," Dr. Wilson added.

Lubbock has been reporting lots of flu and Lockney closed its schools Tuesday for the rest of the week. The Lockney school closing was due to a combination of mumps, chicken pox and flu, all at the same time, however.

Elementary School Principal Jack Alexander reported only about 20 students out of the classrooms in the lower grades here due to sickness Tuesday.

Farm home is saved

Where were the Post Volunteer Firemen Tuesday afternoon in that first big sandstorm of the season?

If you guessed they were out on Virgil Bilbo's farm, 10 miles west and a bit south of Post, keeping a fire blazing in the field of cotton burrs from reaching Virgil's farmhouse, you were exactly correct.

They got in about 6 p. m., after worst of it had swooshed through Post, after five hours fire fighting in that sandstorm.

As for Sunday, the "day of rest", firemen battled flames up and down the Santa Fe railroad track north and south of Post all afternoon and a good part of the night.

Flames swept in as far as 15th street on the north edge of the city.

Fire Chief Neal Clary said he didn't know how many alarms had come in, but that "there was a lot of them."

All these right of way blazes were set by passing freights.

It started south of Post, about 2:30 p. m. and continued well into the night.

Clary said about a mile of right of way was burned south of Post and three miles north of it.

The department had all four of its "grass fire rigs" battling blazes north of Post Sunday night.

"Fortunately," Chief Clary told The Dispatch, "nothing really burned but grass."

He discounted any threat the Sunday afternoon fires south of town had to the George R. Brown gas extraction plant just south of Post.

"We extinguished it quite a distance from the plant," Clary said, and added that grass fires probably wouldn't do any major damage except to equipment if it ever burned its way into the plant.

Bill Stewart cites help given FHA housing project

Bill Stewart of Tahoka, Farmers Home Administration district manager, told Post Rotarians at their weekly luncheon that getting the 14-unit rental housing project going required a lot of cooperation on everybody's part.

He said city and county cooperated with the directors of the non-profit corporation here and that even the contractor knocked $1,000 off his profits to get the construction contract within the limit of available funds.

The project, now under way at 12th Street and Avenue S just across from a series of oil tank batteries, has been financed through a $210,000 100 percent loan from the FHA.

That's where Stewart comes in.

He has been working with the local non-profit corporation, formed from the Post Chamber of Commerce housing committee, to secure the financing and see that all FHA requirements are met.

He said the seven duplexes of one and two-bedroom apartments, now in the forming stage of construction, should be (See Rotary, Page 10)

Nichols heads bank directors

Robert Nichols of Dallas, one of the two new majority stockholders of the First National Bank, has been elected chairman of the board of directors of the bank. He replaces Giles C. McCrary in the post.

Action came at a directors meeting here last week following the annual stockholders meeting.

Jerry Ford of Dallas, the other majority stockholder, was named president of the bank by directors at their January meeting.

At the stockholders meeting, James E. Coyle of Dallas was elected as a new director and Giles W. Dalby also was named a new director. Dalby previously had been an advisory director.

Re-elected directors at the stockholders meeting were Clarence Brazill of Lubbock, Ed Iruton, Mrs. Frances Camp, Ford, Lewis Herron, Giles C. McCrary, Robert Nichols, Glen Norman, Arnold Sanderson, and L. G. Thrett, Jr.

Re-elected advisory directors were Earl Chapman, K. W. Kirkpatrick, Robert Macy and Donald Simpson.

ABC's Olympic coverage

The Winter Olympics coverage from Innsbruck, Austria, by ABC for the last two weeks, night in and night out, drew the top tube ratings, as well it should.

Overall, it provided spectacular sports coverage.

It even had a plot — underdog American youngsters against the world's best, including big, well-trained professional troupes from the Communist nations of Russia and East Germany in sports generally rated as minor sports in this country.

Much of the coverage was super. Most of the commentary was excellent. It was a fresh, spontaneous show in comparison to the usual TV fare of private detectives, police yarns, and situation comedies.

Certainly ABC rated very high marks overall.

But, as in every viewer's individual opinion, it could be improved.

Keeping in mind the summer Olympics telecasts from Canada coming up, we would offer a few ideas for coverage changes.

Not a foot of viewing film was offered on many events, either in which Americans were defeated or in which they were not in contention. That was a goof, most viewers wanted to see it all.

Highlights of these events could easily have been used to make it a more swiftly-paced show with more action instead of so much anchorman talk-talk.

This is especially true of the U. S. hockey defeat by the Germans on Saturday which cost the Americans the bronze medal. After all the buildup in earlier telecasts, not a single shot of that game was shown despite the many hours of Saturday viewing time. How come?

Small town terrorism

How does one fight radical terrorism? What can the community do? In what way can law enforcement be more effective and the general public less helpless to attack?

The Patty Hearst trial in San Francisco has focused attention again on that little band of SLA revolutionaries who terrorized the West Coast for months, killed and kidnapped when they chose and mocked FBI and other law enforcement agencies searching for them.

The SLA is but one of many terrorist groups in the United States. There are many more around the globe — in Ireland, in the Middle East, in Africa, in Japan, in Argentina, and in other South American countries.

Hundred of innocents have been killed by bombs and bullets, and knives.

In Florida, President Ford and Challenger Ronald Reagan both called for the death penalty over the weekend. Said Reagan: Society needs the death penalty in self defense.

To Dispatch readers these "unreal" tactics of terror seem far away.

Well, to make "a mild case of terrorism", it's no farther from Post than Olton. The small towns have it too, not just the big cities.

If this sounds ridiculous, if it sounds petty, if you call it only vandalism, it still is an adoption of the tactics of terrorism right here in West Texas.

On Friday night, Feb. 6, after the Olton school board refused to ease up on the school

We can only surmise, ABC programmers decided the 4 to 1 loss didn't fit "the script." We'd rate that decision a glaring error.

Which brings up another point which certainly needs emphasizing.

ABC didn't go to Europe and schedule millions of dollars worth of prime viewing time to do "police reporting." We're referring to the crazy, continual coverage of a beer brawl in which the young American hockey players were involved in at an Innsbruck restaurant Saturday night after their disappointing loss.

That was extremely bad taste to telecast into millions of American homes. We're not defending what our young hockey players did in their disappointment, but certainly it didn't deserve to be made into an international happening with about 45 minutes of very amateurish reporting.

Our other complaint is that it was too obvious that the producers "dangled too many carrots" to the viewers to keep them watching throughout the evening while often having too little sports footage to show.

They should have covered the events, one by one complete, and not bounce around. It was disappointing and frustrating to the viewer. Undoubtedly it cost them a lot of watchers and slowed the pace overall.

After all, ABC was there to report the Winter Olympics, not to pick and choose what parts of it to show.

That is a kind of silent, invisible censorship.

But overall, it was great. The greatest of course was making Dorothy Hamill into a modern-day American folk heroine when she won the gold in women's figure skating.

"hair code" for boys, terrorism was applied to the situation.

One school board member, who was a farmer, had his pickup smeared with paint remover, tar and silver paint. Boards with nails pointing up were pushed underneath the tires of the vehicle. Attached was a note which said the truck owner had "voted the wrong way" on the hair code.

But that wasn't all. Apparently the same vandals had taken a hammer and damaged a well motor on the same farmer's irrigated farm by smashing everything on the motor which could be destroyed by the hammer.

That wasn't all either. This farmer who operates a flying service had a plane in his hangar-west of Olton. It was damaged by vandals the same night.

So what happened? The farmer got the message.

On Monday night, Feb. 9, the farmer resigned from the school board saying in his letter of resignation that "I find it will be impossible for me to be an effective board member without placing my family and property in jeopardy." In closing that letter he wished the school board "a more tolerable future."

How's that for a starter? How's that for a cause for such tactics — a hair code? But the biggest question is where will it go next from there?

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen shook up the Texas presidential preference primary lineup a bit by withdrawing from the long list of major Democratic candidates for nomination.

He remains on the May 1 ballot in Texas, however, along with the five other Democratic candidates, and a major state party battle is brewing.

Former Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, the man Bentsen defeated in 1970, announced his support of uncommitted delegate slates in 18 senatorial districts.

Yarborough, in effect, gave the liberal slates in those districts a front man or a name to rally behind. The former senator said he is convinced most Texas Democrats are genuinely uncommitted, as early voting in party caucuses had indicted in the case in other states.

Other elements of the state party will be rallying behind delegates pledged to George Wallace, Fred Harris and Jimmy Carter. Another candidate, Ellen McCormack, will appear on the ballot in five districts.

Meanwhile, Bentsen is facing tougher opposition than many first figured from W. Philip Gramm, a young professor of economics (on leave) from Texas A&M University.

had rain since late summer, White said. Winter rains have not occurred.

White said the grain crop will be severely reduced without rain within the next few weeks.

Program Backlog

Veterans Land Board will go to the bond market the first week in April if conditions are favorable.

But this doesn't mean immediate reopening of the Veterans Land Program. Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong cautioned.

Armstrong said his staff will have to work through a backlog of 3,721 applications before any new applications can be accepted. New applications probably will not be taken before mid-summer. Applications were temporarily suspended December 31 because bond money for loans had been committed due to an unexpected flood of 1,700 applications in one month alone.

Short Snorts

Railway companies have been given permission to close stations in Stanton, San Saba and Victoria and to dismantle depots.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe is reportedly four months behind schedule in filling more than 80 vacant appointments.

Texas business activity index jumped 11 per cent in December.

The December jobless rate of 5.8 per cent was two per cent below the national rate and down two-tenths of one per cent from the previous month.

Texas oil and gas wells produced 651,373,293,000 cubic feet of gas in November, a decrease of 7.79 per cent from field runs a year earlier.

Fifty Texas refineries processed 123,703,999 barrels of crude oil and/or hydrocarbon blends the same month—a slight increase over the previous November.

Highway Crisis

Transportation is facing a "real and serious" crisis, according to State Department of Highways and Transportation heads.

Highway building is caught in a squeeze between declining revenues and increased costs.

DHPT has a current backlog of construction and right of way projects totaling nearly $11 billion. DHPT will have about $1.9 billion in state and federal funds for construction over the next 20 years.

By 1980, according to DHPT Engineer-Director B.L. DeBerry, there will not be sufficient state dollars to match available federal dollars.

"Putting it another way," said DeBerry, "the program will be only one eighth as large as was possible at past funding levels."

A highway bidding February 25 will cover work in Houston, Plainview, Alice, Lampasas, Texas City, Lubbock, Waco, San Angelo, Vidor and Austin.

Drouth Threatens

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has warned vanishing subsoil moisture and dry winter winds are creating drouth conditions for half of Texas farmers and ranchers.

Much of the western portion of the state has not

Shooting the Breeze

By NAN HAIR

During the play "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail" which was presented to students of PHS by the theatre group from Dallas Wednesday morning, several students participated in the play. The parts were those of townspeople, students and palbearers. The students participating in the non-speaking parts were David Morrow, Jennifer Miller, Donna Josey, Tracy McAlister, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Dan Sawyers, and myself. We all found the experience to be educational as well as extremely enjoyable.

Tim Morris, who recently had "glass packs" put on his pickup has found a new way to make them louder. Instead of simply spraying down the mufflers of his pickup while they are still warm he stuck two garden hoses in his tail pipes and proceeded to fill his mufflers with cold water. Strangely enough it worked. Tim's pickup sounds remarkable except for an occasional gurgling noise.

During a recent speech tournament Donna Josey and David Morrow decided to try a few scenes from "The Miracle Worker" on a few passers-by. Donna, who played the part of Helen Keller, walked beside David holding his arm as he led her around the Tech campus. They were extremely surprised at the reactions of some people toward blind people. David became a little perturbed at their rudeness and proceeded to give them a lecture on being more kind to their fellow human beings. Unfortunately just as David was causing the rude on-lookers to become embarrassingly humble Donna forgot her acting and the people saw they had been fooled. David then had his turn to be embarrassed at the way in which he had gotten so carried away by his "sermon" and he and Donna made an extremely quick exit.

The cast for the junior play which will be presented Saturday, Feb. 28 has begun rehearsals. The play will be about average high school students in very familiar situations. The plot concerns preparations for the Thanksgiving Prom, rivalry between the girls running for queen of the prom, and a burglary all of which add up to a fun evening for everyone who attends.

I would also like to remind everybody to come to the Primary Auditorium Friday night, Feb. 20 at 8 p. m. to watch a fantastic production by some very exceptional professional actors. It is rare that a town the size of Post has a chance to see such superb professional acting. Maybe if the play is well attended we may see more of this type of entertainment in the future.

Seniors sign for Tech 'days'

Post seniors have begun signing up for the Texas Tech College day, Feb. 27, and Texas Tech career day, March 2.

College Day will give students a chance to tour the campus and become familiar with the available facilities. The tour will take in a look at several classrooms and dormitories.

The career day will be set up where students can visit instructors and students who are involved in career oriented classes.

The purpose of the two visitation days will be to give area high school seniors a chance to see Texas Tech from the inside out and hopefully help them decide to attend there after graduation.

Set the pace in the game of life — its hard to catch up once you fall behind.

CARROLL CALHOUN

Carroll Calhoun is a student who believes that a persons individual vote can solve what he believes to be the country's worst problem, lack of union within the government. "Buy voting," Carroll said, "we can eliminate persons we are against and install the people we believe in."

Honesty and loyalty are the qualities which he most admires in a person. He most dislikes people who appear to be dependable but who are not.

Carroll's most embarrassing moment occurred during a PHS musical. He forgot his line and had to leave the stage.

Johnnie Willson has been the person who has most influenced his life. "Mrs. Willson has a way of always giving you support when you feel defeated. She gives you the urge to keep on keeping on," said Carroll.

Carroll's most enjoyable time in PHS has been his entire senior year.

ATTEND DALLAS RITES

Mrs. Nolan Clary was in Dallas Tuesday to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Lou Fowler, who was found dead in her home Monday. Mrs. Fowler had been ill for sometime. Also attending the funeral from Post were Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Clary, Neal Clary and Alton Clary.

Dallas Theater group to play here Friday night

Six of the Dallas Theater Center's most versatile actors are featured in the Philip C. Lewis revue, "Mirror Under the Eagle," which plays in Post at 8 p.m. Friday in the Primary Auditorium.

All six are professional journeymen which means they have worked at least three years in the training program of the Dallas Theater Center. Three are from Texas, two are from Tennessee, and one from Pennsylvania.

Cheryl Denson is from Corsicana, Texas, and received her BA degree from Baylor University where she played many major roles. She has traveled extensively throughout Europe, Great Britain and Mexico. Prior to joining the Center, Ms. Denson helped organize the Corsicana Community Playhouse. In addition to acting in such plays as "Hadrian VII" and "Summer and Smoke" at the Center, Ms. Denson has designed several productions.

Robert Duffy received his undergraduate degree in theater at the University of Tennessee and his hometown is Chattanooga. He worked with the Chattanooga Opera Association and Little Theater prior to coming to Dallas. Mr. Duffy is also a designer and has performed in a variety of plays ranging from "Arsenic and Old Lace" to "Winnie the Pooh."

Tommy Kendrick won many acting awards at Lamar University where he received his BA degree and was the recipient of the first annual Johnny George Directing Scholarship at the Theater Center, presented in honor of the late Miss George who was founder and director of Theatre, Inc., Houston. Mr. Kendrick toured with a Texas B.S.U. religious drama group during the summer of 1970. He has played in Preston Jones' "Bradleyville Trilogy" at the Center as well as numerous other roles.

Mary Rohde graduated with honors from Trinity University and spent a season working in New York theater. Ms. Rohde was in this season's opening production of the Italian comedy "Saturday, Sunday, Monday" previously, she was featured in the musical "Jacques Brel" and the Center's rock version of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

William Smotherman is another Tennessean, also from Chattanooga and the University of Tennessee. He was a member of an improvisational group which toured throughout his native state as well as Georgia, and he has directed drama in a summer camp for young people. Mr. Smotherman is a regular performer in the popular Magic Turtle series of plays for children.

Celeste Varricchio is a recipient of the Greer Garson Theater Arts Award which is presented annually to outstanding young artists of the Center. Ms. Varricchio is a recipient of the Greer Garson Theater Arts Award which is presented from Allentown, Pennsylvania and is a graduate of Lehigh University. In Dallas, she has performed in such plays as "The Crucible" and "The Amorous Flea."

Tour director and also playing the title role in "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail" which is being staged for the high school, is John Figmiller. Mr. Figmiller has been at the Dallas Theater Center since 1963, is one of the Center's most popular and talented actors and directors, and is a member of the resident professional company. His many leading roles have been in such plays as "Inherit the Wind", "Summer and Smoke", "Harvey", "Cactus Flower" and "Charley's Aunt". Mr. Figmiller is from Wisconsin, and he has toured with the well-known Alpha-Omega Players.

"Mirror Under the Eagle" was being directed by John Stevens and Steve Lovett, with sets designed by Steve Wallace and costumes by Randy Pearson. The tour has been made possible by a matching grant from the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, D.C.

"Mirror Under the Eagle" is sponsored locally by the Post Independent School District and tickets priced at one dollar for students and two dollars for adults are available at the door.

CECILIA CADE

Cecilia Cade, daughter of Mrs. Mary Cade, is one student who is extremely concerned about the country. She believes that the countries worst problem is the lack of union among the people. As an individual she thinks she could help eliminate the problem by learning to compromise and setting the same example for others.

She most admires people who have the ability to easily make friends. She most dislikes people who have the mistaken belief that they are better than others and do not allow people to be themselves.

Singer Bette Midler is Cecilia's favorite person. The reason for her choice was that Ms. Midler learned at an early age to accept people for what and whoever they are.

When asked her most embarrassing moment she answered with a crimson blush, "I was at a dance one night and my shirt came open, you know how wild we dance now days so you can imagine."

The one person who has the most influence in Cecilia's life has been Hans Hudman. She said, "He helped me to understand to like myself. He also told me never to accept something I could change for the better."

Cecilia believes her most enjoyable time in PHS will be when she accepts her diploma in the spring.

Dallas actors begin week-long activities

The Dallas theatre center arrived in Post Sunday night and began their first full day Monday, Feb. 16 acquainting the students of PHS with themselves and the parts they will play in their Wednesday evening production of "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail." The group, which have been in rehearsal since last week, will be performing in several Texas communities, before giving PHS students a sampling of professional theatre.

After giving the students a taste of the play, based on a true life incident of Henry David Thoreau, they will show students what all goes into preparing for a production. They will build the scenery for the students and display their talents as crew members as well as actors.

According to John Figmiller who is tour director as well as player in the title role of "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail," a few PHS students will get a chance to participate in the production.

All of Post will have a chance to view true theatrical acting at its professional best when the group will perform "Mirror Under the Double Eagle," Friday, Feb. 20 beginning at 8 p. m.

Lopes prepare to defend 5AA district track crowns

Squad has three weeks to prepare for first meet

Coach Lane Tannehill's Post Antelope track team reported for the first workout of the spring season yesterday afternoon in preparation for the defense of their district track championship at Denver City in mid-April.

The last two seasons the Lopes have won back to back track crowns and hope to make it three in a row.

Squad depth — or the ability to pile up points with thirds, fourths and fifths — is basically what the Lopes have relied on in the past and are counting on again.

Last year it worked so well that Post finished 60 points ahead of its nearest competition for the district crown, rolling up a total of 145 points to 85 points for the runnerup school.

Coach Tannehill refused Tuesday to speculate on his squad's chances until candidates report.

What it boils down to is: will all the seniors come out? Last year, the team's best sprinter chose to pass up his final season to the surprise of the coaches.

Last season, Tannehill opened with a track squad of 26 candidates and finished the season with 23 of them still in uniform and competing in the district meet.

Post has quite a few lettermen back plus a good crop of freshmen up from a district championship junior high team of last year.

The Lopes are expected to be stronger in the field events this year than last. The squad will have three weeks to get ready for its first competition of the spring. The Lopes will open at Sweetwater on March 6.

The schedule the rest of the way includes: March 13, Abernathy, both boys and girls; March 20, Whirlwind Relays at Floydada; March 27, Plainview Invitational; April 2-3, Bobcat Relays at San Angelo; April 10, Denver City Relays; and April 13, the district meet on Denver City's all-weather track where the meet was held last year. Coach Tannehill attributes the success of the Post track effort to the unified spring coaching efforts of six Lope coaches.

Tannehill supervises the training of the half milers and milers. Coach Don Black handles the sprint candidates, the long jumpers and 440 runners. Coach Bobby Davis is in charge of the hurdlers. Coach Danny Chioum guides the high jumpers. Coach Carroll McDonald directs the training of the weight men; and Coach John Alexander handles the pole vaulters.

"It's a unified effort," Coach Tannehill says, adding that this is what makes coaching in Post so great, the close cooperation of all coaches with each other.

Post to date this school year has tied for the district football crown (three ways), finished second in one half and tied for first in the other in basketball and now is out to defend its two consecutive district track titles.

TEXANETTE SOPHOMORE — Jan Hall of Post is the only sophomore on the Texanette basketball team at South Plains College. As a freshman she was one of the key defensive players for SPC, and this season she has taken up where she left off last year. Miss Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall of 716 Chantilly Lane in Post, has helped the Texanettes to a 13-1 record this year.

Lopes wind up 22-6 season with easy win over Slaton

Slaton failed to repeat their football season upset here in basketball Tuesday night as Coach John Alexander's Post High Lopes clinched a tie for the second half district crown with a 50 to 37 win. The triumph left the Lopes' 1975-76 seasonal cage record at 22 wins and only six losses. They finished tied for second with Tahoka at 5-1 in second half play after finishing second in first half play, also with a 5-1 ledger.

Tahoka goes into the playoff representing the district, thanks to Denver City's victory over the Lopes last week at Denver City. Coach Alexander's club jumped into a 12 to 8 first period lead and were never headed with the entire 10-player squad seeing action. Post held a 24 to 15 intermission lead and increased it to 36 to 21 going into the final period. Mike Waldrip led the Lopes in scoring with eight fielders for 16 points before fouling out in the final period. Post also had two other players in double figures, each with 10 — Bryan Davis and Mike Shepherd who each had five fielders to his credit. Jimmy Dorland and Edward Price each scored four points, and Kyle Duren, Dan Sawyers, and Randell Wyatt, two each. Wild Bill McClesky, the big tailback who "did the Lopes in" in football with two fourth period touchdowns, got only four points this time around.

Tahoka into cage playoffs

The Tahoka Bulldogs clinched the 5AA cage playoff spot Tuesday night with an 81 to 61 victory romp at home against the contending Roosevelt Eagles.

Following their 81 to 63 shellacking of Cooper at Cooper on Friday night, the final triumph gave the Bulldogs a 5-1 second half finish and a tie with the Post Lopes for the second half title.

Since Tahoka won the first half of district play, a district rule provides no necessity for a second half playoff.

Post lost its chance for the second half crown at Denver City when a shot in the final seconds brought the Mustangs behind to hand the Lopes their only loss in second half play.

Coach Chisum told The Dispatch the ten sophomores and two juniors gave good and consistent effort throughout the winter season.

Other squad members not mentioned in the scoring include Raymie Holly, Randy Bell, Steve Shedd, Bruce Waldrip, Donnie Greathouse, and Casey Zachary. The only juniors are Bell and Zachary.

Post JV boys down Slaton for 5AA title

Coach Danny Chisum's Post junior varsity boys played Slaton's JVs for the district JV basketball crown here Tuesday night and came away with the championship and a 49 to 42 victory.

The two clubs were knotted at 4-1 in district play when they took the floor in the preliminary to the Lopes' final game of the season.

In JV competition, each team plays most other district teams only once, and if they play more often it's the first meeting between the two teams that count.

Post jumped into a 13 to 10 lead by the end of the first period but fell behind 24 to 23 at the halftime intermission. As in many games, the third period proved decisive. The Post JVs came back on the floor to outshoot the visitors 14 to 6 in the third and provide the victory margin. In the fourth each club scored a dozen points. Brad Shepherd led the Post scoring with nine fielders and three frees for 21 points. Randy Baker added 11, Ronnie Bratcher tallied six, Evans Heaton five, Brad Davis four and Jim Hays two to complete the local scoring. The local JVs compiled a 15-5 season record with two of the losses coming at the hands of AAA teams and two in overtime.

The team ended the season with a 7-10 record.

Coach Lane Tannehill said, "I am real proud of the team." He emphasized that they were lacking a lot in size, but they improved as they went on and hustled all the way.

Other members of the team were Darrell Reece, Johnny

Morrow, Mike Dye, Dick Kirkpatrick, Matt Lemon, Shawn Scott, Barry Tyler, Terry Holloway, Randy Conner, Jimmy Odom and Randy Ammons, and Danny Ray Nelson. They were managed by Andrew Horton and Mike Riedel.

Freshman cagers close with win at Cooper

The Post frosh cage team narrowly edged out Cooper Thursday night at Cooper to end their final game on a winning note 52 to 50.

Cooper led at the end of the first quarter 18 to 13, with the score at halftime 31 to 29 in Cooper's favor. Post came back in the third to lead 46 to 38 and going on for the win. Bryan Compton led the scoring with 17 points, with Cliff Kirkpatrick 14, Leslie Looney seven, Tim Morris six, Dale Redman and Clinton Curtis each with four.

The team ended the season throwing the shot and discus now she is through throwing the basketball through the hoop. Linda Steele is a spring candidate.

Hurdlers include Dana Giddens, Donna Ammons, and Vicki Gannon.

Some of the freshman girls coming up also may help pick up some Post points.

Doe track team out to defend its title

Coach John Morrow already is busy with a girls track squad of 22 candidates getting ready to defend Post's first district girls track title won last spring at Frenship.

The Does have 12 upper class girls and 10 freshman girls working out for the team opener at Sweetwater March 6.

Post is expected to be strong again, returning all three of its point-making relay teams intact plus most of the individual point winners, headed by junior sprinter Brenda Price, the only Doe to qualify for the state meet last spring.

"All we lost from last year's squad was Ann Mitchell, a big winner in the weights, and Jenda Gilmore in the hurdles," Coach Morrow told The Dispatch Tuesday.

But that doesn't mean the girls will have an easy task in their title defense. Roosevelt is sure to mount a tough challenge headed by a group of sprinters who won points in the state meet last season.

The second weekend of the season will be a busy one. That's when the girls compete in two meets on consecutive days. On March 12 they will enter the girls meet at Frenship and the next day another track and field affair at Abernathy.

Price will compete in the 220 yard dash, the broadjump and run on Post's 440 and 880 yard relay teams. Karen Williams and Jodine Tipton both run in the 100 yard dash and as members of the 440 and 880 relay teams.

Patricia Bilberry is the fourth member of the 440 and 880 relay teams and also runs the 220 yard dash.

Karla Kennedy and Genetta Kennedy both compete in the middle distances and on the mile relay team. The mile relay team's other members have been Hope and Sharon Johnson.

Christi Conner is another relay candidate. Joni Hays is throwing the shot and discus now she is through throwing the basketball through the hoop. Linda Steele is a spring candidate.

Hurdlers include Dana Giddens, Donna Ammons, and Vicki Gannon.

Some of the freshman girls coming up also may help pick up some Post points.

4-Hers only got experience

Members of the Garza County 4-H group who took animals to the El Paso Stock Show last week, came home with little else but some good experience, according to County Agent Syd Conner who accompanied the group. The animals entered in the show were sifted and did not make the final judging.

Barrows belonging to Ken and Jay Young, Lance L. Dunn, and Randy Conner were still in the running and in the top 40 per cent until the last 10 barrows were selected for the final judging.

Also taking steers to the show were Joe Neal Clary, Dana Bird and Ken Young.

Cindy Bird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bird, entered the Barrel Racing, placed 6th in the first go-round and was standing in third in the average when the family left to return to Post. Cindy will not know for a few days yet just where she placed in the race.

No Washington objection

County Judge Giles W. Dalby was notified by letter this week that the United States Attorney-General's office has no objection to the redistricting of Garza county commissioner districts.

J. Stanley Pottinger, assistant attorney-general for the civil rights division, in notifying Judge Dalby of the review of the redistricting called attention to Section 3 of the 1975 Voting Rights Act which provides "that the failure of the attorney-general to object does not bar any subsequent judicial action to enjoin enforcement of such changes."

Any voting change in Texas now must be submitted to the U. S. attorney-general for civil rights approval in accordance with the Voting Rights Act.

Court orders damages paid

The federal court of appeals in New Orleans recently upheld the damage judgement awarded to Mrs. Zula Didway of Post by a federal district court jury in Lubbock last July.

Mrs. Didway had sued the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal and the Southwestern Publishing Corporation of Georgia, its parent company for damages due to the death of her husband in December of 1974, five months after he fell in the Lubbock newspaper's press-room and suffered a broken hip.

Mike Millsap, Lubbock attorney, represented by Mrs. Didway in the suit. The appeals court ordered full payment of the jury's judgement plus interest.

TEXAS TALK

By FRED MYERS

Most city folks still don't know the facts of life... facts of life about farming at least. This lack of knowledge is considered by some to be the most serious educational crisis in the United States.

According to a report issued last year by a group of Kansas educators researching political and economic aspects of the issue, the country faces possible economic disaster if this situation is not corrected. Central to the problem is the attitude of many of those away from farming that agricultural products are natural resources... same as oil or coal. Little appreciation is shown for the work and costs that go into production of crops or livestock. Put most simply, there's a lack of savvy in the city... they don't understand if the farmer doesn't grow it... nobody's going to eat it. Officials releasing the special report in Kansas urged all agricultural groups to work toward enhancing consumer education.

Senior citizens center in Abilene visited by group

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
 We accompanied a group of 15 to Abilene one day last week. We visited the Senior Citizens Community Center located in Rose Park. The center is well taken care of in that town. Lunch is served in cafeteria style, and all of the food is very good. If they can pay for it they will. They serve balanced meals. There are games of all kinds to enjoy for both men and women. They do pottery, crocheting, quilting, art and all kinds of crafts. We spent a very enjoyable day.

(Continued From Page One) short time on his farm, and says conservation is as necessary a part of management as planting good seed for a bumper crop. He is making conservation pay and helping show the way for other farmers in an arid part of the state where a farmer either manages his resources or becomes one of the "has been" farmers.

The consolidation election is the result of petitions with 179 asking an election to be called to determine the question of consolidating all of the Southland School District lying in Garza County with the Post School District and all the rest in Lynn and Lubbock counties with the Wilson School District.

How Southland school district voters will vote on the consolidation proposal is hard for anyone to predict.

The Dispatch has been unable to get Southland residents to discuss the tough school situation which has virtually split the community into two camps over the last several years.

Up until the present, a slight majority of Southland voters have favored maintaining their own schools and have even voted a big bond issue to build a new school.

Opponents to the new school have tried through a variety of ways to block the construction of the new school and have succeeded in doing so, so far.

As best The Dispatch can learn a number of those who originally favored consolidation of the Southland schools with other schools have since moved from the Southland district to give their children educations elsewhere. Thus they have removed themselves from the decision making on the future of the Southland school.

But The Dispatch also has learned that among those voters residing in the Southland district, the consolidation proposal is gaining some ground. But it will be impossible to determine how much until the April vote.

The Southland community is so divided voters are keeping their own opinions strictly to themselves.

The Dispatch also has been told that now two members of the Southland school trustees favor consolidation, although this newspaper has not been able to confirm this through actual contact with the trustees.

In another part of the program, Sam Ellis of Southland, served as master of ceremonies, made the presentations to the winners of the Soil Conservation posters and essays contests during the evening to six deserving Garza youngsters.

Curt Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Valton Wheeler took top honors in the essay contest, with his brother Kendon Wheeler taking second place honors, followed by Kelly Chaffin in third, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Chaffin also of Southland.

In the poster contest, Andy Wheeler, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Valton Wheeler took first place honors followed by Leigh McCook and Missy Morrow in second and third places. Each winner was presented a certificate and a check for his or her efforts.

Ellis introduced the speaker of the evening, Frank Mullican, Lubbock principal who presented a very interesting talk and explanation of the outdoor classroom program that he has been instrumental in putting into the Lubbock Public School System.

In his slide presentation, he explained the purpose of the classrooms and also some of the reactions by the students in accepting the new concept of schooling.

The project which is completely sponsored by the PTA Association and interested people has not used any of the tax money provided the school. The project was completed and sponsored through the efforts of concerned parents and when suggested to the students, through their support also. The students are completely in charge of the maintenance of the classroom, janitors of the schools do nothing in the way of cleaning or caring for the property.

Mullican thanked the Soil Conservation group for their support and help, thanking Mr. Bill Reece, Field Representative of the Area Soil Conservation Offices, for his help and donations.

Every concept of outdoor life from preparing and planting the soil, raising and transplanting trees, caring for animals, to programs given by interested ranch and farm people is carried out in the classroom. These students who almost all have lived in the city all of their life, are gaining a knowledge of outdoor living that will be a great asset to them for the rest of their life. Most of these students would never have gained these experiences otherwise.

One total day was spent on the playground of the Maedgen Elementary school recently.

Rotary —

(Continued From Page One) ready for occupancy around Aug. 1. He defended the site as the only one available in Post and said the Rotary Club may be called on to volunteer to plant trees on the housing site to eventually screen the tank battery off before spring is over.

The rental units will cost an FHA maximum of $15,000 each and will be rented to families with an adjusted family gross income of $12,000 or less.

He pointed out this is a project for medium income families.

Post's earlier rental housing project was for only the poor.

Stewart said if middle income families don't fill the 14 units which will rent for $117 a month for one-bedroom units and $137 monthly for two-bedroom units, then the project can be opened to others with higher incomes.

Stewart with a two-person office staff processed over $14,000,000 in FHA loans in Lynn and Garza Counties last year — the largest loan volume for any office in the state of Texas.

The FHA official said he currently has over 900 FHA loan accounts with over 600 different people in the two counties. He told Rotarians his office administers 44 different FHA loan programs.

James Mitchell, one of the directors of the housing corporation, was in charge of the program and introduced Stewart.

Those who study human nature can read a lifetime and never reach the end of the book.

when visiting area ranchers brought the classroom to the children and gave them a living lesson on ranching. Horses were brought, students were shown how horses were shod, how they were loaded, cattle were branded and loaded and the children were allowed to watch an ask questions about each phase of the lessons during the day. Guests also presented lessons on all the rigging used on a ranch, such as saddles, and all kinds of tack and the working equipment needed everyday.

Mr. Mullican talked with pride of the results of the classroom. He said since the classrooms were constructed, that there has not been any vandalism reported and that the children themselves feel that they are a vital part in this project and take pride in the fact that it is theirs.

Special guests introduced during the evening were Bill Reece, Area Field Representative of SCS and Bob Price, Area Conservationist, both of Lubbock.

CofC directors —

Walter Didway, chairman of the Chamber banquet committee, reported to Chamber directors last Tuesday that work on the event was progressing nicely.

Directors then reviewed accomplishments of other Chamber committees which added up to a very good year for the civic organization.

These included "one of the best ever" Fourth of July celebrations and barbecues by the Fourth of July committees, the 14-unit rental housing project sparked by the housing committee, real action on a new community center which was strongly supported by the Chamber's center committee, 15 new Chamber members added to the rolls by the membership committee, increased member dues and increased salary for the Chamber secretary, a move into new Chamber quarters, the promotion of the Post commemorative coins by the coin committee, the Las Vegas trip Christmas promotion by the retail promotions committee, two Chamber membership meetings on downtown store front improvements, and some accomplishments by the beautification committee.

Judge Dalby told The other schools have since moved.

Survivors include his wife, Eula; and four nieces, Mary Cross, Dede McLaurin, Frances Camp and Mary Margaret Norman, all of Post.

Pallbearers were Dee Hodges, Mike Cross, Wren Cross, Bill Mize, J. W. Paschal and Roy Shepherd.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home of Post.

Right Around Home

BEN MOFFETT

Of America's 36 national parks, Platt National Park ranks dead last in size.

The biggest park, Yellowstone, is 2,436 times larger than Platt, which covers 912 acres of south-central Oklahoma.

But in public use, Platt is a heavyweight. In fiscal year 1974, for instance, when Yellowstone had 1.9 million recreational users on its two million-plus acres sprawled over parts of three states, little Platt jammed in 1.7 million.

The most popular attraction at Platt is the Travertine Nature Center, a 9,500-square-foot structure of rambling stone and roughsawn wood with a wooden shingle roof and an informal atmosphere.

The main exhibit room, which looks out on the woods and Travertine Creek, running beneath it, has live exhibits of snakes, frogs, lizards, insects, plants and fish native to the area as well as a beehive and a nocturnal animal exhibit.

Besides the building, the center consists of 140 acres of land called the Environmental Study Area. Teachers with school groups are encouraged to use the study area as an outdoor classroom. A text-in-place, self-guiding trail runs through the study area.

The purpose of the center is to help visitors understand nature by studying it in a natural laboratory. Adult and children's programs are conducted regularly.

The nature center is located on the Platt National Park Perimeter Drive about a mile east of U. S. Highway 77. This six-mile drive orients you to the scenic areas of the park and takes you past a grazing area of the park's small bison (buffalo) herd, a favorite attraction for many visitors.

Visitors may also enjoy swimming and wading, hiking, picnicking, camping and fishing. They can even have a drink of mineral water which flows from springs bubbling up in the park. Although the park makes no claim for the medicinal properties of the waters, there are still folks who drink the water to cure "what ails 'em" and carry it home by the jugful.

Swimming and wading are permitted in the creeks, and cooling off in the water is especially popular at "Little Niagara," a waterfall on Travertine Creek.

You can also fish in some of the streams in the park although dedicated fishermen usually do their casting at Arbuckle Recreation Area, located eight miles away. Arbuckle, also administered by the National Park Service, is a delight for the outdoor enthusiast and offers visitors to the area a double-barreled opportunity.

No fishing license is needed at Platt, but if you fish Arbuckle, you'll need an Oklahoma license.

Many visitors come to Platt to camp. There are no hook-ups but you may camp in either tent or trailer sites at three locations and each site has a table, fireplace and parking space. A sanitary dump station is also available.

Telephone reservations for campsites are accepted (405-622-6121) and a fee of $2 a night is charged. Platt is located just south of the city of Sulphur, where motel and restaurant accommodations are offered. You can also rent camping equipment in Sulphur.

Everybody's dieting so pick a heart helpful one

We all like to eat. In fact, eating is one of life's great pleasures. As a result, Americans think of "diet" as a bad word. But Dr. John T. Shepherd, president of the American Heart Association, wants to share this secret: "Everyone on a diet whether he likes it or not."

Dr. Shepherd, professor and chairman of the department of physiology and biophysics at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota, explains, "for better or worse, we all maintain dietary patterns that affect our lives... simply by eating the same kind of foods everyday. Studies show that Americans eat many foods high in saturated fats and cholesterol and that such a diet may lead to heart disease."

In terms of heart-health, your diet can either make us or break us. Medical experts have identified diet as a major risk factor of heart attack and stroke.

Dr. Shepherd says that excess levels of cholesterol in the blood can contribute to atherosclerosis, a form of hardening of the arteries. In this disease, cholesterol and other fatty deposits gradually build up inside the walls of the arteries. Over the years, these substances continue to accumulate and the channels grow narrow, cutting down blood flow. In the coronary arteries supplying the heart muscle, this process sets the stage for a heart attack, where heart cells die from lack of enough oxygen.

Fortunately, Dr. Shepherd adds, it may be possible to reduce the risk of heart disease through dietary control. "As a matter of fact, you can be a gourmet and conscious of your heart-health at the same time. The new edition of The American Heart Association Cookbook is dedicated to the pleasures of eating well while eating right."

The new edition has hundreds of low-fat, low-cholesterol recipes. The cookbook isn't a diet book, but is designed for persons who want to lose weight as well as those who wish to maintain the same weight. Each recipe lists an approximate caloric value per serving.

"Besides helping your heart and your waistline, low-fat, low-cholesterol cooking also benefits your pocketbook," Dr. Shepherd asserts. "Poultry and vegetable proteins are generally less expensive than meats."

Rich, heavy desserts and whole milk products are in the same category as choice meats, in Dr. Shepherd's opinion. Fancy cakes and sundaes are high in price and low in nutritional value.

He recommends substitutes for these foods, such as skim milk and its by-products, fresh fruit and dessert and snacks, and fish and poultry in place of red meats.

Dr. Shepherd also cautions consumers not to serve eggs more often just because they make for less expensive eating than other foods. "Use egg whites—they're good protein sources, but egg yolks are high in cholesterol. No more than three whole eggs should be consumed a week." The American Heart Association offers free nutrition information as one of its many programs supported by Heart Fund contributions. Dr. Shepherd urges area residents to give generously when a Heart volunteer calls during February—American Heart Month.

Spinach loses 50 percent of its vitamin C content within 24 hours after being picked.

ON SOUTHLAND CONSOLIDATION

Food for thought concerning the up-coming election for the consolidation of the Southland School District to Wilson and Post Districts.

A little old school building just sitting there.

From each dirty window comes a vacant stare.

Where are the students all so gay?

Who amassed great knowledge while passing this way?

Gone are the wondrous joys and tears.

Shared by the thousands over the past sixty years.

Where is the community of Southland today?

It was buried deep on that election day.

Why?

Remember:

The programs when the young and innocent partook.

When they sang, "Put your left foot out, out came the right foot!"

How tall and proud we all stood.

When each team or individual made good?

When it took three buses to get home from a game?

We all worked together to accomplish the same.

The basket for the other team we tossed?

And the touchdown we made when the wrong goal line was crossed?

How over the years these memories we can't erase,

The unruly hair, the snagged toothed, the expectant face?

Why?

Let us give all our glory and hard earned money,

To another school district. Let it be their "milk and honey."

We no longer need something to respect.

Let someone else have it. What the heck.

Have we sunken so small and so low,

That we just don't give a damn anymore?

Are we so aged and blind we can not see?

That this new generation needs Southland like you and me?

Why?

Let's each put our shoulders behind the wheel.

To guarantee no child gets a raw deal.

Let us keep our tax dollars working for us.

Don't give them to others to rule over us.

Let's stay united so we can stand.

Instead of divided and ultimately disband.

Why not?

Draft offices closing Feb. 27

AUSTIN — On February 27 all draft board offices in Texas will be closed, Colonel James N. Glantz, State Director of Selective Service has announced.

This action will take place in all states and terminates the operational capability of the Selective Service for the first time in 28 years. All registrants pending including the obligation of men to register has been halted. "Draft records are being transferred to the Federal Records Center", Glantz said.

The National plans will terminate Selective Service to be reduced to a minimum deep state posture. The phase down is expected to be completed in the next 12 months with only a small National Headquarters, and five Regional offices located at San Francisco, San Antonio, Chicago, Atlanta and Baltimore. The function of these offices will be to develop plans for retraining the System in event of National emergency.
