WAAC Enrollment For Garza County Set For Four Women

The quota for the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps for Garza county for the months of January, February and March has been set for four recruits. Enlistment committees have been formed in most of the towns of the district. Women's clubs, civic clubs and other organizations are being asked to help in the recruiting drive. The Woman's Culture Club of Post distributed material recently for the office in Lubbock. Each county meeting its quota by March 31 will be given special recognition by the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District.

An unusually large quota has been given the West Texas District. This quota calls for the enrollment of 584 WAACs during January, February and March. Lieutenant Colonel Durlette said, "We are depending on each of the 76 counties in the District to supply their quota. We do not want it said that the West Texas District failed to come through."

Lieutenant Colonel Marvin B. Durlette, Commander of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District, announced this week that a second platoon of West Texas women had been enrolled for the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. This platoon consists of thirty-two women and will be known as the South Plains West-ernettes.

DELINQUENT REGISTRANTS WARNED BY FBI

General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, today urged all Texas local boards to give their most active cooperation to the current nation-wide program of eliminating delinquencies under the Selective Service Act.

"I have conferred with the United States Attorneys and representatives of the F.B.I.," General Page said, "and we have formulated a plan designed to accomplish this objective in Texas."

"Publicity and patriotic appeals through the press and radio, and other media of reaching the public, will be the principal weapons used by the local boards in encouraging suspected delinquents to get in touch immediately with the local board in the area in which they live."

"Any person listed as a delinquent who voluntarily reports to his local board during the month of January, 1943, will be allowed to comply with his obligations," General Page stated.

He pointed out that investigations of reported delinquencies often reveal that the registrants merely have been careless in complying with the requirements of the Selective Service Act and Regulations. He said:

"Many registrants, through their own negligence rather than through willful intent on their part, have been reported as delinquent. Many of these reported delinquencies have resulted through carelessness of registrants in failing to keep their local boards informed of changes of addresses."

"Very often, too, registrants are reported as delinquent because of illegible addresses or other defects in completing their cause cards were lost or sent to the wrong local board, or because of some other technical omission failed to reach the proper local board."

"There have been numerous cases where registrants have been suspected of delinquency, or reported as delinquents, only because they failed to report to their local board that they had enlisted in some branch of the armed forces."

"The delinquency program is designed to locate for compliance delinquents innocent of wrongful intent to the end that local board delinquency records will not be burdened with cases where the registrant is no longer delinquent and that the records of the F.B.I. may be cleared for vigorous action by February 1, 1943, against deliberate violators."

Cases of known violators, General Page pointed out, are reported to a United States District Attorney for prosecution under Section 11 of the Selective Service Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended.

General Page said that the Selective Service Regulations have recently been amended to require that every registrant, who has been liable for training and service for six months or more, shall have a Notice of Classification in his personal possession at all times, and that failure to do so shall be considered a violation of the Act and punishable as a Federal offense.

Red Cross Plans For Coming Months To Be Made Here Today

A representative of the American Red Cross is in Post today conferring with T. L. Jones, county Red Cross chairman, and other chairmen in reference to the approaching roll call and fund drive.

Contacts are being made with various committee chairmen of the county and it is understood that a called meeting will be held tonight with all Red Cross committee chairmen attending. The purpose of the meeting will be to map plans for work of the organization throughout the county for the coming months and it is important that all chairmen attend the meeting.

Mrs. John H. Slaughter returned recently from Fort Worth where she spent several weeks at the Texas hotel. Her friends here are happy to welcome her home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nease were visiting friends in Lubbock on Sunday.

Farm Production Sign-Up To Be Completed Soon

Production sign-up for farms for the 1943 farm program will be completed within the very near future, according to James Boyd, secretary of the Garza ACA office.

The farm plan work sheet which will be filled out for every farm will show the number of units of farm production each is producing. It also will show prospective or immediate needs for fencing, machinery, fertilizer and credit for the farm.

At the same time, the interviewers will take a farm manpower inventory of each farm. This inventory will disclose labor needs on the farm or any excess of labor supply. Information obtained on manpower will be used by the war boards concerning deferment of essential farm workers.

It is understood that 50 percent of money contributed in Garza county, remains in Garza county for infantile paralysis needs, the other 50 percent is sent to the National Foundation to be used in research work, and in training doctors and nurses in the Sister (Continued On Back Page, Col. 4)

The NYA is now operated under the Warpower Commission. Workers no longer are recruited on the basis of need. Young women recruited here will be sent to the war work center at Ranger, where they will be trained for paying jobs in riveting, welding, machine tool operation, radio installation and repairs, spray painting and other similar jobs.

Young women between the ages of 18 and 24 are eligible for this work. Miss Lomax will have an office in the U. S. Employment Service headquarters in Lubbock. She is planning a regular visiting schedule for towns of this district and will announce dates for being in Post soon.

COLDEST WEATHER OF YEAR HITS GARZA COUNTY

Garza County along with most of Texas was in a grip of the winter's coldest weather Monday and Tuesday. Temperatures for this immediate section flirted around the zero mark for two days. The temperature reading Monday showed 10 degrees above and skidded to zero on Tuesday. The entire Panhandle section reported similar readings with Pampa holding the record for the coldest weather.

Dispatch Editor Volunteers Into Navy Wednesday

E. A. Warren, editor-publisher of the Post Dispatch since 1926, Wednesday volunteered into the Navy as a specialist with a second class photographer's rating in the Air Corps.

In the absence of the editor-publisher, Mrs. Warren will edit the paper with Mrs. F. I. Bailey continuing her services as co-publisher and business manager. Dan Cookrum, who has been associated with the Dispatch for the past sixteen years, will be in charge of the mechanical department and will also devote part of his time to soliciting advertising and commercial printing.

Mr. Warren left Post Tuesday night and reported to the Dallas recruiting station Wednesday morning to receive the oath. From Dallas he will be sent to a training station for indoctrination training and then sent to a Naval Air station for a course of instruction at a photographic school.

The Dispatch editor took his physical examination at Dallas last November and at that time made application to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Washington, for a specialist rating. His application was approved several weeks ago and he was given until January 20 to accept the assignment.

Small Fee To Be Charged On All Cards of Thanks

To meet higher cost of production it has become necessary that charges be made on all types of Thank You Cards printed in The Post Dispatch.

It has long been the policy of most papers to make charges for this service, but The Dispatch has never before charged its subscribers for inserting these small notices. Effective with this issue, however, the rate for inserting such notices will be 2 cents per word.

Funeral Rites For Former Post Citizen To Be Held Today

Funeral services for Otis A. Harwell, former Post citizen, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Terrace cemetery with Boy Scouts of Post in charge of the rites under the direction of Scoutmaster Ford Sproshire, minister of the Church of Christ.

Howell died on January 19, 1943, in Marfa, Texas, where he was employed. He was born on June 14, 1887. He had been in the restaurant business for more than twenty years and operated cafes and restaurants here intermittently for a number of years. Before going to Marfa he was employed as caretaker of the South Plains Area Boy Scout camp for two years and made more friends among the scouts than any person who had ever been employed in that capacity. Boys of this area counsel will long remember the many good deeds and the fine companionship they had with Harwell.

Survivors are a daughter who lives in California and a brother who lives in Tennessee.

Regulations On Mailing Parcels To Prisoners Given

The Office of War Information has issued rules and regulations to guide in sending mail to prisoners of war. The information was released recently and received here by Postmaster Phil Boucher.

Information may be obtained from the post office on what may be included in these parcels to prisoners, for which, under regulations recently issued by the Board of Economic Warfare, no individual license is now required.

A prisoner may receive, in addition to the standard Red Cross packages, contents of which were listed in The Dispatch in the January 6 issue, one supplementary parcel every 60 days from his family or friends as soon as they have been officially notified by the Provost Marshal General's Office of his capture and whereabouts. Full directions for sending these parcels are sent to the next of kin at the time of notification.

More detailed information concerning the regulations can be obtained through your local postmaster.

Questions and answers on the 1943 AAA program have been compiled by James A. Boyd, secretary of the Garza County ACA. Boyd advises all farmers to study the questions and answers but above all, he said, "remember them."

1. Q. Why not forget about goals, allotments, and farm plans, and let every farmer produce as much of everything as he can?

A. It is extremely important in wartime that food production be carefully balanced with needs. We have a two-year supply of wheat and short-staple cotton, but we need more such crops as long-staple cotton, soybeans, peanuts, meat and milk. Thousands of farmers are accustomed and equipped to grow short-staple cotton and wheat, and therefore prefer to grow them. If they produce to the limit on these crops, they would use good land, scarce machinery and fertilizer, and manpower that should be used for more essential products. We can meet the goals by using all facilities for growing what we really need in the proper proportions. To get the amount of each vital commodity, every farmer must meet his goal as nearly as possible.

2. Q. How were the 1943 goals determined?

A. Our food goals have to fit in with the food needs of the United Nations just as our plane and ship goals have to fit in with the needs of the United Nations. Every country fighting the Axis must do what it can in every way it can to supply the goods and men to crush the enemy. The Combined Food Board of the United States and the United Kingdom, with sub-committees representing the other countries, discussed and worked out food needs of the United Nations. Our goals represent our share of the production job, taking into account what our Allies must have, what our fighting men will need, and what our people on the home front must eat to produce the necessary war weapons. National goals were broken down into State, County, and individual farm goals on the basis of past averages of the farm area, adaptability of soil, availability of cropland, and equipment and labor.

3. Q. With supplies of some foods getting short in the United States, why do we continue shipping foods to other countries?

A. British and Russian and Chinese and Fighting French soldiers must have food to stay in the fight. English, Russian, and Chinese workers cannot make guns and tanks and planes without food. Since the war started, English farmers have stepped up their production 50 per cent, but they just do not have the resources to produce all that England needs. Russia has lost her richest land to the Nazis. China has lost some of her best food producing regions to the Japs. Food is one of the most important things that we can send our Allies to keep them going. American farmers ought to be very proud that the food they produce this year is now helping to drive the Nazis out of Africa and Russia, the Japs out of New Guinea and the Solomon Islands. Even though we shall send greater quantities of food to our allies, we shall still be faring away the best fed people in the world.

4. Q. How will the 1943 AAA program help us to meet our goals?

A. The 1943 AAA program is aimed at the fullest possible production of needed commodities in the right proportions. AAA crop payments are conditional on the degree to which each cooperating farmer carries out his individual farm plan which will represent each farm's share of the national production goals. Payments also are made for production practices and more emphasis than ever before is placed on conservation measures which increase production.

5. Q. What is the relation between the national farm program and the individual farm plan?

A. The purpose of the national farm program is to get production of the right amount of the right kind of farm products, and on his farm plan each farmer indicates how he will do his share of that job. The AAA program helps the farmer carry out his plan by setting up farm acreage allotment.

Entered at the Post Office at Post, Texas, as second class mail matter, according to an Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Views of Neighboring Editors

The Colorado City Record—The new Congress has nothing on the average Mr. and Mrs. Citizen this January. They, our Senators and Representatives, have to sit down and consider between two and three hundred bills so soon after Christmas. Well? What's in your mail box?

Exchange—According to J. Burleigh Cheney, WPB Conservation Manager of the New England Region, scrap must continue to come in. Cheney says: "We know that some of the stuffings in the bombs responsible for numerous Jap sinkings in the Southern Pacific recently came from scrap salvaged right here in the U. S. The big thing to remember, however, is that if we are to win the war we must keep turning in scrap. We can't win the war with scrap already given."

The Ball's Banner—Congress had got it in her lap. This problem of financing the war. It is no small matter. The President thinks it will cost a hundred billion dollars this year. He asks Congress to gather up some sixteen billion dollars in new taxes for the year. That ain't hay. Why industries are the only thing that makes such staggering sums even remotely possible. The businesses of 1940 could not have paid the bill. And a lot of those businesses do not exist today. The salaried people and wage earners of 1940 could not have paid it. But the wage earner of 1943 can pay the new item. They are getting higher wages than ever before and there are less and less things every day they can spend their money for. Somebody has suggested that we will merely have to simplify our living. That's right. And watch us do it. If we have sufficient food, clothing and shelter, we can get the job done.

The Scurry County Times—"If you will give us this day our daily bread, and food through the weeks ahead, to go with our ammunition, you need not worry about American boys taking care of themselves in North Africa," an army chaplain writes in a message which might be addressed to anyone in the United States. The chaplain did not say that food supplies were running low in North Africa, yet, but hints that greater quantities of foods and supplies must be kept going across the ocean, if our boys are to accomplish their mission on foreign soil.

"That hungry men cannot fight long," the chaplain says, "is strongly evidenced by cracking morale of German and Italian soldiers Erwin Rommel left behind in the Libyan Desert."

The Slaton Slatonite—Civilian and military personnel at South Plains Army Flying School near Lubbock really ended the old year up with a bang, buying in December enough war bonds to send 435 fragmentation bombs screaming against the Axis. Sales at the post increased over November more than $4000. Total sales were $16,150.80.

MATCH THIS RECORD

More than 25,000 physicians volunteered their services without pay to Selective Service boards. More than 40,000 physicians gave up their careers in civilian practice to serve with the armed forces. The directing board of the Procurement and Assignment Service for Physicians, and its many representatives throughout the nation, serve without one cent of remuneration. The hundreds of physicians on the consultant committee of the Division of Medical Science of the National Research Council, and in the Office of Research and Development, contribute time and income without one cent of remuneration. Throughout the nation, thousands of doctors currish countless services in connection with civilian defense, without one cent of remuneration. It would be interesting to know what other trade or profession could match this record of public service.

And yet proposals are made to throw American medicine into political arena, and level it off to the standards prevailing in European countries where experiments in socialized medicine have utterly failed to produce the health records and benefits to the general public which are the rule rather than the exception in the United States. Fortunately for the people of this country, such efforts seem to have failed.

American medicine is marching ahead unselfishly and scientifically in its determination to maintain for our armed forces and the people at home the highest medical standards in the world—not for this year or next year, but for every year.

SOME WILL DIE

A brief news item from a Western city reports an auto accident. The driver was burned to a crisp. In his car were found heat-sealed containers that had held gasoline. Before gas rationing these containers would not have been there—that man would not have died.

A five-gallon can of gasoline in the home, in the garage or in the back of a car can bring almost instant death to anyone in the vicinity. Gasoline does not merely burn. Its fumes in a confined space have the force of dynamite. They will explode without warning, the detonator often being an invisible spark incurred by static electricity.

As spring and summer approach, the temptation will be strong to "save" a little gas for a trip to the mountains or the sea shore. A percentage of those who succumb to this temptation will meet a horrible death. In all probability there will be cases where entire homes are destroyed and members of families killed or maimed. They will have learned about gasoline—too late. But there are millions of others who will avoid tragedy by heeding the warnings of fire prevention experts; experts who have studied the dangers facing the gasoline hoarder. These experts have pointed out that no gasoline container is really leak-proof. A little water in the bottom is sufficient to rust through the best can. They also point out that gas fumes in a basement in which a furnace is operating are nothing less than a time bomb. Even pouring gas into the car tank may prove disastrous, for here again static electricity flashing from tank to funnel could result in instant oblivion.

These warnings have been issued in an endeavor to save lives and property. They are not appeals to patriotism. Good excuses by the gas hoarder might avoid the issue of patriotism. But no amount of rationalizing can avoid the prospect of death.

For many years San Felipe, Texas, was the only municipality in the state conducted without taxation. The city government was supported by proceeds from an investment made as the result of the sale of five bonds which were ceded to the municipality.

PASS THE AMMUNITION

Every war has produced its own heroes, its own epic phrase and its own songs. A song that is sweeping the country is titled "Pass the Ammunition." It is more than a song. It is fast becoming the battle cry of a nation involved in war.

While there is some doubt as to the origin of the phrase there is no doubt as to how well it expresses the spirit of fighting Americans. It is the spirit that is needed to win this war on far-flung battle fronts and right here at home.

Not all of us can fight on the battle fronts, but all of us certainly can "pass the ammunition." Ammunition in the form of metal, our homes, farms, and industrial plants; ammunition in the form of waste fats, tin cans, discarded silk hose, rags, rubber, and other waste materials which the War is asking us to donate to the national salvage program.

Scrap is mighty important to a kid who used to play in your back yard but who is now a blue-clad sailor; to a flyer over the desert racing to reach his target before a Messerschmitt and its mark!

Let us in Garza county resolve to pass the odds and ends and scraps now. Let us on the front "pass the ammunition" home on the battle fronts.

STRENGTH OF DEMOCRACY

Under a dictatorship, the cost of war can be shrugged off without printing press money. Under a democracy, the cost of war is second only in importance to winning the war. The cost of war can destroy democracy just as mercilessly as a military defeat. Sound money and a sound credit structure are the heart of a free society.

This war must be financed and won without undermining the nation's credit. Every citizen must realize that taxes and War Bonds are the only weapons that can win the war on the home front. During the coming year the government will spend 1.6 billion dollars every week. This means real hardship, because this cost outlay will not be used to create wealth. It will be blasted out of existence in the smoke of bombs and shells and in the wreckage of planes and ships.

In the months to come, thousands of banks will be pushing the sale of Bonds as never before. The banker realizes the necessity of sound finance. He knows that the value of the money in his keeping and the individual freedom of the people who own that money are at stake. They are the strength of democracy. And he knows that by his efforts to sell War Bonds directly to the people he is doing his part to save both.

Every day is scrap day. Make your contributions now to the Army scrap metal drive.

Four Questions Every American Should Ask Himself

1. HOW CAN I HELP WIN THE WAR?
2. HOW CAN I KEEP THE COST OF LIVING DOWN?
3. HOW CAN I BE SURE TO HAVE SOME MONEY TO TIDE ME OVER THE PERIOD OF READJUSTMENT AFTER THE WAR?
4. HOW CAN I GET $4 FOR $3?

An answer to all four questions is: BUY WAR BONDS through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan.

The more Bonds you buy, the more quickly we can win the war.

The more Bonds you buy, the more you reduce the possibility of a rising cost of living.

The more Bonds you buy now, the more money you will have when the war is won.

The more Bonds you buy, the more dollars you'll get for three!

Put at least 10 percent—not 6 percent or 7 percent or even 9 percent, but 10 percent—of your earnings into War Bonds. Do it through your company. Twenty million Americans are doing it now. Let's make it at least 10 percent for every American!

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

- If you are—
1. Already setting aside 10 percent of your pay for War Bonds through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan—boost that 10 percent if you can.
 2. Working in a plant where the Plan is installed but haven't signed up yet—sign up tomorrow.
 3. Working in a plant where the Pay-Roll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your union head, foreman, or plant manager—and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad to help.
 4. Unable to get in on the Pay-Roll Savings Plan for any reason, go to your local bank. They will be glad to help you start a plan of your own.

Sailors Get Mail At Foreign Ports

Men in the merchant marine now can receive mail at foreign ports, for the first time since the beginning of the war. The War Shipping Administration, the Post Office Department, and the War and Navy departments, working together to solve the many problems of wartime communications, have announced that the new service will help greatly to maintain the morale of merchant seamen when they are on long voyages. Correspondents must address their letters in care of the Postmaster, New York, or New Orleans, or San Francisco, depending on whether the sailor's ship put out from an Atlantic coast, Gulf Coast or Pacific coast port.

WOMEN AT WAR

Sophia

Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Worthington, dressed soberly and wearing their best black gloves, walked along the stony country road back toward Sophia Hardy's farm, to pay their visit of condolence.

"How do you reckon she'll be bearing up?" Mrs. Kimball asked Mrs. Worthington. Both ladies wore their most solemn, funereal expressions.

"A mighty severe blow," Mrs. Worthington said. "Mighty severe. To lose your only son, the mainstay of your declining years. And such a dreadful death, too—to go down with a ship. Mercy!"

"The first of our boys from Hand County to go, too," Mrs. Kimball said, mournfully.

"I wouldn't blame Sophia Hardy for feeling right bitter."

They stood on the simple stone doorstep, with downcast eyes, setting themselves into the proper commiserative mood.

"Come in!"

The voice was brisk and cordial. They looked up in surprise. Sophia herself had come to the door. As they followed her into the parlor they exchanged glances, with eyebrows lifted. Sophia was not even in mourning. The parlor shades were not even drawn.

"It's nice of you to come," Sophia said. "Do sit down."

"We came," Mrs. Kimball said almost reprovingly, "to tell you that our hearts are bleeding for you in your great loss."

"We know how lonely you must be out here," Mrs. Worthington said. "With nothing to take your mind off . . . off . . ." She sniffed and reached in her purse for a handkerchief.

"Oh, I keep busy," Sophia said. "I've just finished applying for the Government insurance on Tom's life."

The visiting ladies could not resist a shocked glance at one another.

"I want to get it right away," Sophia said. "So I can put it into War Bonds. My boy hasn't finished fighting yet, not by a long shot."

The ladies were so occupied with feeling horrified, so titillated by this callous behaviour in a bereaved mother—that neither of them noticed Sophia's hands. Under the folds of her clean print dress, against the seat of her chair, they were tightly clenched.

This Week's VICTORY RECIPE

Remember chewy fig, date, raisin, or oatmeal cookies, macaroons, hermits and brownies are ideal for shipping when you are thinking of sending that boy in service a box of eats from home. With the exception of fruit cakes, unless its destination is less than 48 hours away, cookies solve the box from home problem. Selected for the Victory recipe column this week are recipes that two Post mothers with boys in service supplied this week. We are happy to pass them on to our readers.

"BREAD SLICING"

Must GO TO WAR

Parker's Bakery, in line with other manufacturers of bread and household baking products, will deliver its bread unsliced. Parker's fine bread will be delivered fresh daily, as formerly, but instead of a soft, sliced loaf, the housewife now will be buying Parker's fine bread in a firm, unsliced loaf just as fresh and wholesome as ever. These regulations in war time which call for an increase in economy of production, and with Parker's always stands ready to comply.

"My Sister Eileen" At Garza Theatre Sunday-Monday

"My Sister Eileen" is blond, bewitching, terrific.

"My Sister Eileen" is the Ruth McKenney magazine character who delighted millions of readers and whose romantic antics, brought to the stage by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov, have convulsed the play-goers of the nation for more than two years.

"My Sister Eileen" is, today, the Columbia comedy considered by Hollywood as "unbeatable," a film which will never be matched for exuberance, lighthearted gaiety and romantic appeal. The film shows Saturday night 11:30, Sunday and Monday at the Garza Theatre. Rosalind Russell, Brian Aherne and Janet Blair are starred.

The Misses Russell and Blair are delightfully seen in the new comedy as Ohio's Ruth and Eileen Sherwood respectively. Ruth is reasonably level-headed, and she wants to be a writer. Eileen is phenomenal, a blonde bombshell of personality, and she wants to be an actress. As the editor of New York's most sophisticated magazine, Aherne helps both girls achieve their ambitions—but not until they have involved themselves and him in a series of delirious complications.

A brilliant cast appears in support of the stellar trio, including George Tobias, Allyn Joslyn, Miss Jeff Dornell, Richard Quine, Donald MacBride, June Havoc, Gordon Jones, Frank Sully, Grant Mitchell and Elizabeth Patterson. Fields and Chodorov adapted their play to the screen, and Max Gordon—producer of the stage success—also produced the film for Columbia.

Persons Who Complain Are Saboteurs

Persons who are "unwilling and complaining" of wartime programs and efforts of county War Price and Rationing boards are participating in a form of sabotage, "lending aid and comfort to the enemy," Texas OPA Director Mark McGee of Fort Worth said on a visit to the Lubbock District of the OPA this week.

"It is more important that boys in the fighting forces have rubber than it is that we ever move our cars from the garage," Mr. McGee stated.

Mr. McGee, who addressed groups and met with county boards from surrounding counties at Pampa, Clarendon and Lubbock, presented a merit award to J. Doyle Settle, Lubbock District Rationing Officer and formerly executive assistant to McGee. The certificate, signed by Leon Henderson, Regional Director Max McCullough and McGee, expressed "sincere appreciation for his devotion to his country's needs through the free and patriotic sacrifice of personal interests in the execution of the War Price and Rationing program." The award was presented at an open luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary Club, January 13.

The State Director warned in his speeches that "C card holders had better be sure they are using those 'C' cards for the purpose for which they were issued, or they are going to get their 'C' cards taken in."

The state office is not bluffing in its investigation of "C" book gasoline ration usage, he warned. "We are going to keep faith with the public and see that these 'C' book holders live up to their

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin returned Tuesday from San Angelo where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Martin's brother, J. A. (Dolph) Gholston, who was buried there on Monday.

Funeral rites for the Naval radio operator who was killed in an airplane crash at Norman, Oklahoma, last Wednesday, were conducted by J. D. Harvey, minister of the Church of Christ of Big Spring, from the Vautarin Chapel in San Angelo at 3:00 o'clock. Burial was made in Fairmount cemetery in San Angelo. Warren Sloan, a buddy of the same rank as Gholston, escorted the body to San Angelo and stayed with the family until after the funeral.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gholston, the accident victim was in charge of maintenance and installation of aircraft radios at the Naval Air Station at Norman. He volunteered at San Angelo January 18, 1942, and took his training at San Diego, California. He received rapid promotion because of a boyhood hobby in radio and was due for another promotion at the time of his death.

Survivors besides his sister, Mrs. Martin of this city, are his parents; one brother, Don, two other sisters, Mrs. H. R. Himmel of San Angelo and Carol Gholston of Roy, New Mexico; and two nephews, Howard Himmel and Val Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin and their small son went to San Angelo Friday.

All-Day Meeting At Verbena Church Enjoyed Sunday

Irvin, evangelist from Plainview, and Mr. Adams from Spur, a vocalist, furnished a program that was thoroughly enjoyed by all the community.

Lunch was served in the church during the noon hour after which an afternoon's program was given.

QUESTION-ANSWERS 1943 AAA FARM PROGRAM—

for the basic crops and a goal for warcrops which fit together to get the maximum production of vital commodities from every farm. Payments, loans, conservation materials, and other aids available through AAA can help the farmer produce his share of the requirements.

6. Q. On what crops are there acreage allotments in Texas?

A. Wheat, cotton, peanuts and rice. The production adjustment payments a farmer may earn are calculated on the basis of these crops.

7. Q. How are the payments determined?

A. The maximum payment or allowance a farmer may earn is determined by multiplying the crop rate by the normal yield of the farm's allotted acres. How much of this allowance the farmer will get is dependent upon the extent to which he meets his goals not only for the four allotment crops but also for the special war crops.

Crop Rates

Cotton—1.1c per pound

Peanuts (On a peanut allotment farm) 5.5c per 100 pounds

Rice—3.2c per barrel

Wheat—(On a wheat allotment farm) 9.2c per bushel

8. Q. How can a farmer earn his full production adjustment allowance?

A. That is, the payment on wheat, cotton, and rice?

A. By growing between 90 and 100 percent of his allotment crops or substituting food and feed and other essential crops, AND by growing at least 90 percent of the farm's warcrop goal.

9. Q. Why are acreage allotments necessary this year?

A. Allotments on the basic crops are needed as a sort of priorities guide. We need a certain amount of each of the allotment crops but too much would crowd out things that are needed more. For example, we need as many peanuts, flax, dry beans and peas as we can get. Acres formerly growing wheat are needed for soybeans and other critical commodities. Land that once grew nothing but short staple cotton can be devoted to peanuts or other primary war use.

10. Q. Why are the national goals for cotton and wheat lower than the acreage allotments for these crops?

A. In the AAA Act of 1938, the minimum acreages were set for allotments on these crops. This year, the acreage allotments on cotton and wheat are the lowest permitted by law. But under the 1943 AAA program, farmers are being urged to plant warcrops or other essential crops instead of their full allotted acreage in cotton and wheat. If farmers make these substitutions for cotton and wheat, there are no deductions from the payments on these crops for planting below 90 percent of the allotments.

11. Q. What if a farmer fails to meet his warcrop goals?

A. If a farmer does not reach at least 90 percent of his goal for war-crops, deductions will be made from the crop adjustment payments (on cotton, rice and wheat) that he otherwise would get. These deductions are at the rate of $15 for each acre he falls below 90 percent of the goal. No deductions are made if the farmer's failure to meet his warcrop goal is due to flood or drought. If deductions are made, it will be made from adjusted payments and NOT from production practice payments.

12. Q. What is the production practice program?

A. It is the war-time conservation program that will save and improve the soil, make possible the best use of water supplies, increase range and pasture forage, prevent wind and water erosion, and by doing these things, increase production now.

13. Q. What are the production practices?

A. They are conservation practices, which, if carried out, will make maximum contributions to production by increasing yields per acre. They are not routine farming practices, but are worked out locally to fit the needs of farms.

Start Figuring Income Tax Returns At An Early Date

To avoid the last minute headaches of filing Income Tax returns every person is urged to begin compiling data now for their blanks, advises Rex Everett, tax expert.

Income taxes will affect many persons this year, many of whom have never paid taxes before, and the intricate details attached to filling out the blanks will take time. Since the report is complicated this year many persons will require assistance in making out the report. A tax expert can usually save the taxpayer more than his fee by taking credits and deductions the taxpayer does not know about or would overlook.

Personal exemptions have been lowered to $1200 for married persons, and $500 for single persons. The allowance is now $350 for each dependent.

All single persons whose total income in 1942 was $500 or more, and married persons whose total income was $1200 or more must file reports, even though their net income was not sufficient to require them to pay any tax.

INSURANCE

IS ALL THAT WAS LEFT

Insurance was the only thing left for the members of the family that survived the fire! Their home—everything lost to them.

Insurance could at least give some compensation with which to carry on. It's foolhardy to put off being protected with the right insurance—because fires give no warning.
