Duckworth Truck Driver Dies From Tragic Accident

J. T. Chambers of Slaton, 31-year-old transport truck driver for W. S. Duckworth, died at 10:43 a. m. Saturday in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock of severe burns received when the gasoline transport truck he was driving overturned and burned 27 miles east of Post at 1:30 a. m. Saturday.

Sheriff E. M. Bass said the truck, which was headed west toward Post on the Clairemont highway, apparently hit the shoulder on the left side of the road, then overturned. He surmised that Chambers had fallen asleep at the wheel.

The truck's tank contained 4,640 gallons of ethyl gasoline. The vehicle, which was owned by Duckworth, was a total loss. At 6 a. m. Saturday the truck was still burning, but the blaze (Continued On Back Page, Col. 3)

Response Is Noted On Requests For Reserved Seats

Post High School officials received an encouraging response last week to the query in the Post Dispatch regarding reserved seats during the Post Antelope football season, but not enough response to justify a reserved seat section in the grandstand.

The query was made at the request of several fans who are unable to go to the home games an hour early, in order to get a good seat.

All persons who would be willing to buy a reserved seat for the five home games at a cost of 50 cents extra per game—or $2.50 above the regular admission price for the season—should notify Supt. G. R. Day as soon as possible.

If the reserved seat section is arranged it will have to be done this month, as school opens the first week of September.

FOUR FINES PAID

Three fines of $1 and costs each and one of $25 and costs were paid in justice of the peace court here during the past week. The $25 and cost fine was for an overweight truck and the others were for traffic violations.

World's Original All-Junior Rodeo To Open Here With Parade Next Thursday

A week from today, excitement will be running high as the Second Annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo gets underway. Present indications are that the city will be running over with junior performers and spectators from all over Texas and a number of surrounding states.

Alvin Davis, manager, is reminding local business firms to display their Welcome Banners as soon as possible. Strings of flags were being hung across Main Street this week and the Post Chamber of Commerce office is already displaying the rodeo headquarters banner. Several other places had put up their banners by press time.

Parades Announced
Two big parades are planned for the rodeo, the first at 6:30 p. m. next Thursday afternoon and another on Saturday afternoon, the last day of the show. Performances will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday night, Friday and Saturday nights, and the only afternoon performance will begin at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. All four performances will be covered by Universal Newsreel and by Paramount News, Davis has been informed.

The Post Stampede and Rodeo Association directors met at the city hall Monday night to map out plans for helping stage the junior show, which is being widely advertised as "The World's Original All-Junior Rodeo." A Stampede director was appointed to assist each junior official.

It was announced this week that the cutting horse contest will be judged by Jess Everett of Snyder and Billy Wallace of Claremont. Other official judges will be Ed Sims, Harold Childs, Lewis Nance and W. J. Tipton.

Trophies On Display
Many of the trophies and awards are now on display in the window at Maxine's Shop.

Governor Allan Shivers, who was invited to be a guest here during the rodeo, wrote Davis this week to acknowledge the invitation and express his regret that the impact of his suddenly assumed duties prevent him from accepting any more invitations and, in fact, necessitates the cancellation of some invitations previously accepted. He said he hopes to visit this section in the near future and assured Davis of his sincere interest in the rodeo.

An average of 25 young people went on the junior rodeo booster trips to the various towns of West Texas last Friday and Saturday. Eight cars were in the first day's caravan and seven were in the second day's party. A sound truck was provided by Baldrige Bakery of Lubbock. Good crowds met the boosters at each place and heard the program which was presented by the Melody Maids and the Garza Rhythm Boys.

Increased Oil Activities Cause Housing Shortage

The housing situation in Post is acute again, the result of increased oil activities in Garza County and neighboring towns. Post is housing families of a number of workers in the Scurry County oil field, because of a housing shortage in Snyder.

By last weekend, there was hardly room for another trailer in the local trailer camps and it was understood that most of the trailer occupants are drillers and their families.

Much of the influx is the result of several wildcats, which were reported in last week's Post Dispatch.

Dunn Operations
One of Dr. Sam Dunn's Garza County operations, which are being drilled by the Postex Drilling Company, was acidized yesterday and was swabbing last night. A successful project was indicated. The operation is on Clovis Hudman's place, which adjoins the northeast corner of the city limits.

Another project is on the K. Stoker ranch, southeast of Post. The Postex Company is rigging up there now.

Seeking Ellenburger
Comanche Oil Corporation's No. 1 Garza Deep, which is projected to the Ellenburger, was at 8,200 feet this morning and drilling ahead. It is south and slightly east of Post.

Comanche has another rig on the Lynn Unit No. 2, just west of the city, which had drilled to 2,400 feet by this morning. It is projected to 3,000 feet or more in proven territory.

The Trinity Drilling Co., is rigging up to drill on the O. S. Ranch No. 1, about 15 miles southeast of Post.

Drilling is to begin immediately on the G. W. Basinger No. 1, about 12 miles northwest of Post. Brown and Brown are the operators.

P. W. Anderson is drilling with cable tools on the Miller No. 1, a 2,500-foot test in the Justiceburg area.

Ed Smart Seriously Ill With Infection

Ed Smart, employe of the Stanoline Pipe Line Co., was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock Sunday afternoon and is seriously ill with a virus infection.

Fears that he might be afflicted with polio were discounted after the hospital examination, it was learned yesterday from an authoritative source.

No cases of polio have developed this year in Garza County, the Post Clinic reported yesterday.

Floats Wanted In Two Junior Rodeo Parades Next Week

The biggest parade in Post history is the earnest desire of the directors of the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo, next Thursday and Saturday afternoons, because newsreel cameramen from at least two large companies will be here to take pictures that will be shown throughout the nation and a number of places overseas.

The directors are making a personal canvass of all business firms asking them to put floats in the parade. All individuals and organizations also are asked to enter as many floats as possible.

It is possible that prizes will be offered for the best floats. Alvin Davis, junior rodeo manager, said last night.

Pleasant Valley Meeting To Open

A revival meeting at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church will begin Aug. 7 and close Aug. 21, the Rev. A. T. Nixon, has announced.

The Rev. Hollis C. Yielding of Rocksprings will preach and local talent will be in charge of the singing and other music.

Services will be held at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. daily. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Post Families Will Attend Spur Rites

The body of T/5 Clyde R. Whitford, brother of Mrs. B. P. Vardiman, has arrived in the United States and funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Church of Christ in Spur, his home town. A military service will be conducted.

Attending from Post will be Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Vardiman and four children and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Vardiman and two children.

TO DISCUSS PAVING

The Garza County Commissioners Court will meet Monday to discuss the Precinct 2 paving project and other business.

New Members And New Hose Added To Firefighters

With the recent acquisition of 500 feet of new hose, the Post Volunteer Fire Department now has 2,100 feet of good 2 1/2-inch hose.

The hose was tested in downtown Post during last night's regular fire department meeting, and 1,550 feet of the hose were rigged up on one of the fire trucks.

Four new members were received by the department, last night, to bring the membership to its full quota of 20 men. The new members are Dee Hodges, Marvin Williams, Red Mathis and Luther Bilberry.

Frank Robbins Dies Wednesday In Borger

Word was received here yesterday of the death of Frank Robbins of Borger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Robbins of that city and nephew of the late B. K. Bowen of Post. The Robbins family lived here a number of years ago. Frank, who was about 35 years of age, passed away at Borger yesterday, but no information as to the cause was known here by press time.

Several members of the Bowen family plan to attend the funeral services in Borger tomorrow.

Gilmer-Aiken Law To Be Explained

Dale Douglas, field representative of the Foundation School Program which is being set up under the Gilmer-Aiken Law, will be in County School Supt. Dean Robinson's office tomorrow, at 9:30 a. m., to explain the new law to the school people of Post and Garza County and to a group of educators from Kent County.

GOLFER'S REUNION

Dr. Blanton Ray of Denton and Bruce Ellis of Fort Worth, former Post residents, flew here Saturday in Dr. Ray's plane and made a date with Buddy Stewart and Wynne Collier of Tahoka for a golf game, which they played at the Lubbock Country Club Sunday morning. It was the first game that this foursome had played together in a number of years. The visitors returned to their homes Sunday night.

BOARD TO MEET

The Garza County Board of Education will meet Monday to act on school transfers and discuss other business pertinent to the opening of schools over the county early in September.

Six Wrecks Noted In Single Week By Sheriff Bass

Sheriff E. M. Bass's books show that six automobile accidents took place here within a week. They did not include the transport truck fire in which J. T. Chambers of Slaton lost his life Saturday morning, as this tragic accident happened in Kent County.

Only one person, Richard A. Nixon of Fort Worth, was seriously injured in the six accidents. Nixon, who will be in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital for a month or six weeks more, was injured Tuesday of last week when his convertible overturned on Highway 84, four miles south of Post. His condition was no longer consider critical, at last report. An hour after the Nixon car overturned, a Cadillac overturned at the same spot. None of the four passengers was injured.

Sunday morning, Billy Odom, who was driving a 1939 sedan, collided with a parked pick-up in a barrow ditch along Highway 84 about 200 yards west of the city limits. He received a skinned face and black eye. The pick-up, the property of the Progress Oil Co., of Houston and assigned here to Max Bayliss, was awaiting repairs at the time of the accident.

The fourth collision of the week was in south Post. One car was driven out of a parked position and hit by an automobile which was traveling down the middle of the road.

Early in the week's period, an automobile with three Post passengers en route from Snyder, quit the highway, landed on the railroad right-of-way and bolted off a 15-foot cliff. The passengers were skinned up but not (Continued On Back Page Col. 2)

Soaking Rain Is Welcome Over County

1949 Is Twice As Wet As Was 1948

Yesterday's rain, which soaked most of Garza County, totaled only .46 of an inch but it was the type of long, drawn-out precipitation which does the most good at this critical time of the cotton growing season.

The rain was from moisture which blessed the greater portion of the South Plains area, beginning Tuesday night at Lubbock and working eastward to Garza County. The plains farms received rain about midnight, but it did not start raining here until about 2 a. m. Wednesday.

In Post, where the .46 of an inch was officially measured by the Double U. Company, .31 of an inch had fallen by 8 a. m. yesterday. The drizzle continued until mid-morning when the sun started shining.

A total of 2.08 inches of rain was recorded here in July. The total for the year thus far is 15 inches, almost twice as much rainfall as had fallen a year ago. The 1948 total, as of August 1 was 9.92 inches.

Yesterday's rain seemed to be general over the county, except for the Justiceburg area where no moisture was reported.

Farmers and merchants were encouraged over crop prospects, and everyone was happy about the relief from hot weather. The mercury dipped to 58 degrees early yesterday morning.

American Legion Post Re-Elects All Its Officers

All officers of the local American Legion post were re-elected for 1950 at a meeting last night in the Legion Hall.

The officers are: Commander, S. E. Camp; vice commanders, George Tracy and Lewis Nance; adjutant, L. J. Richardson, Jr.; chaplain, Dean Robinson; historian, H. H. Hudman; service officer, O. L. Weakley; child welfare chairman, Dr. D. C. Williams; sergeant-at-arms, Floyd Stanley, and mess sergeant, T. L. Jones.

The post was presented with a charter for Boy Scout Troop 11 which it recently started sponsoring and the Legion's Boy Scout Committee received instructions for its relations with the troop. The presentations were made by John Lott on behalf of the National Boy Scout Council. The scoutmaster, R. A. Moore, was a guest for the occasion. The Scout committee consists of Burnon Haws, Bob Roberts, Jess Wright, L. J. Richardson, Jr., and Alex Webb. The charter bears the signature of President Truman.

Although the local Legion post is officially beginning a new year and membership cards are being written for 1950, Commander Camp said that all 1949 membership cards will be valid until December 31. The membership committee, however, will begin immediately to obtain as many 1950 memberships as possible in order to have a good showing at the time of the National American Legion election in November.

Ralph Welch received word Monday that his father, Riley J. Welch of Sterling City, is in a San Angelo hospital after suffering a stroke. Ralph and family plan to visit Mr. Welch this weekend.

Wageworkers Urged To Cheerfully Accept "Market Wages"

I am happy to be back again on Cape Ann. I am sure there is no better place for summer anywhere in the whole U. S. A.—and this makes a pretty good home for the entire year.

Unfortunately, Gloucester, like most of New England, has some unemployment. That is, there are many who can not get jobs which pay the wages these unemployed want. It is very hard for girls, who got over $45 per week during the war, to work for $25 which is all that many employers can now afford. As my old friends and their children, here in Gloucester, ask my advice as to what to do, I say:—"Take the $25 a week job; be the first there every morning; the last to leave every night; and help your employer make more money. The important thing is to 'get your foot in the door.' When I was graduated from college, I tramped the streets six weeks looking for a job and finally took one at $8 per week. Of course, $8 then bought more than double what it does now;—but this is not the fault of any employer."

A Lesson in Economics

The cost of honest and sensible living is the real thing in which we all should be interested. It's not how much we get in our pay envelope, but rather how much that pay envelope will buy in food, clothing and shelter. Well, to increase this latter requires that more people shall work. Short hours and loafing send up costs whether this loafing is on the job or off. Only as more goods are produced, is there more to divide. This is another reason for taking a $25 to $30 a week job. It's a crime for any of us to loaf.

The business honeymoon is over, but there is no need of a depression now if everyone will keep busy. The wages received are of secondary importance. Lower wages will cramp us for awhile and force our families to give up temporarily some things we now enjoy,—perhaps beauty shops, dry cleaners, telephones and even automobiles,—but the family income at one half war wages will give nourishing food, good-looking clothes and a place to sleep. Smart are those who first realized this. Foolish are those who are unnecessarily accepting unemployment insurance.

Truman's Theory

It is unpopular amongst businessmen to say a good word for Mr. Truman; but there may be some sense in the theory of his leading Cabinet Member Charles Brannan, secretary of agriculture. His advice—as I understand it—is to let prices and wages find their natural levels and then have the government protect farmers with subsidies, and protect wageworkers with old age assistance, free medical service, government housing and other "welfare benefits." This is contrary to good Republican doctrine; but I fear it will be tried. Certainly, the system of price fixing was a big failure; and I believe that wage fixing, either by legislation or labor unions, is bound to create unemployment and hence hold up costs. It seems fine to have a minimum wage of 75 cents per hour if you can get a job at that wage; but if your employer can't afford it and you lose your present job at 60 cents per hour you are worse off.

To Lower Prices

The above is my advice to farmers; but fight for fair subsidies. My advice to wageworkers is to cheerfully accept the "market wage" whatever it may be, but not be ashamed to take reasonable government assistance. As manufacturers are proected by a tariff, so farmers and wageworkers are entitled to some similar protection.

Of course, the above means either higher taxes or more debt. As taxes are now higher than the country can long stand, the Brannan Policy may force an increase in the Federal debt or a reduction in Federal expenses. It is a crime to waste the people's money. I favor a cut of 10% for all departments. If the so-called "deficit money" is used for permanent improvements, the Federal Government may be as entitled to increase its debt some years the same as is the telephone company; but only when so used. Perhaps we must also recognize: If our capitalistic system (in order to exist) depends on encouraging people to spend all they earn during the year by installment buying, advertising and high selling, then it perhaps some way take care of people in lean years when income is cut off.

BRING YOUR Printing Matter TO US DISPATCH Publishing

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

The Texas legislature needs a lively press agent. In this age of ballyhoo and propaganda, the average citizen isn't interested in anything as dull as a proposed amendment to the state constitution.

The proposed amendments are published in newspapers throughout the state; but nobody, except the editors and a few columnists and lawyers, ever read them. They are too wordy and the print is too fine.

It was no surprise to me to read in a recent report of a Belton Poll that 90 per cent of the state's qualified voters couldn't recall a single one of the 10 or more proposed amendments which will be voted on in November.

It will take a beer election combination with the proposed amendment issue to get more than 40 Garza County voters to the polls in November, unless these columns of recent weeks have inspired a few people to vote for or against repeal of the poll tax, women jurors, etc.

Once you begin to direct the economic activities of the individual, you inevitably come to direct most of his other activities as well.

There can be no freedom of the individual without a free economy.

The main argument for Communism—which is dutifully swallowed by all party members and fellow travelers—is that it is the only way to save the "common man" from cruel exploitation and give him a healthier, happier, more abundant life; the same goes for Socialism and government ownership of business, which are just softer names for Communism. On that premise Russia has built her police state and her regimented economy in which private business does not exist, there is no real competition, and the government runs everything.

How has it worked out? In capitalistic America, a wage earner gets an average of $10 for eight hours work. A Russian has to put in 81 hours of labor to earn the equivalent. To make still another comparison, about 37 hours of work by a typical American industrial worker will pay for a good new suit. If the Russian wants a new suit, by contrast, he must toil more than 500 hours, and the chances are that the suit will be rock-bottom quality.

Many factors have contributed to this amazing difference in living standards between two large nations, each of which has been blessed with vast stores of raw materials. One of the most important is something Americans take for granted because they have known it and seen its workings all their lives—competition. Every manufacturer and producer must constantly try to produce a better line of goods, or to sell at a cheaper price, or to offer some other inducement to those who buy from him.

On the retail level, exactly the same thing goes on. Whether a store be small or large, whether it be independently owned or part of a chain system, the great emphasis must be on pleasing and attracting the customer. If a store fails in that, the trade goes down the street, and the receivers eventually take over. That is why a free economy is one of abundance—and a regimented economy is one of scarcity because government monopolies eliminate competition.

We are so busy enjoying our FREE ECONOMY (what is left of it) that we can't take the time to keep it with

Minute Editorial

Seymour's successful experiment with a school health survey should be a model for every public school in the nation. With the cooperation of the entire community, through the courtesy of the local physicians and dentists and under the active sponsorship of the Lions Club and Parent-Teacher organization, scholastic failures in Seymour schools were improved 40 per cent last year and the health of school children was improved by 99 1/2 per cent. The only epidemic that broke out in the schools during the year was measles, for which no inoculations were given. Details of this experiment, which found physical defects that were shocking to the community, are explained elsewhere in today's Post Dispatch, for the benefit of civic organizations or individuals who would like to see such a program here. Like most things worthwhile, the Seymour health program met with opposition which was readily overcome. Such opposition probably would not show up here, the Post people in general being of sound mind and average intelligence and thus able to realize that only the healthy child gets the most out of the school facilities which we have and that physical defects are no respecters of class, creed or color.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

ABOUT GOATHEADS—Maybe you've taken time to wonder just where the so called goat-head menace to the Plains farmer came from and when it arrived in this section. We have not heard from where it came but we do know that it first popped up in 1917 (a very dry year) out 9 miles southwest of Tahoka. Pretty soon it was found throughout this section, probably being scattered by automobiles tires. Now comes the $64 question: Who has seen one of the three pronged seeds in sprouting form? We always thought that the goathead sprouted but others who have dug into the matter report that there must be some tiny seeds, probably attached to the real weapon, which does the sprouting.—O'Donnell Index.

JUST TALK—Bryan Williams, who lives between here and Post, has all the inconveniences of a big city including the dangers of leaky plumbing, electric cooking stoves, two boys, Bermuda grass lawn, deep freezer and a mother and father-in-law, who live in Slaton and near enough to come down and eat big Sunday dinners every week or two, says that the only thing that he feels that he might be missing is belonging to some civic club and not having some of the high pressure promoters give him the fast talk on helping the starving Patagonians, many of whom do not have a dress suit to their name.

My wife and I went out to see the Williams family last week along with the above mentioned mother and father-in-law and after seeing the nice home and against wind and water erosion and to conserve water is to cover the soil with vegetation. On overgrazed pastures much of this vegetation is weeds. On well managed pastures the grass thickens up. When the force of raindrops are broken by a cover of grass the soil holds more water and it takes it up faster.

An infiltration test on the Double U company's pasture with a good cover of grass took up two inches of water per hour. Cultivated land of the same texture took up water at the rate of only three-fourths of an inch per hour.

Lott And Ottinger Go With Flying Farmers On Tour

It isn't any wonder that the Flying Farmers teamed up with the Hale County Soil Conservation District supervisors to hold a flying field day last Thursday. From up in an airplane, a farmer gets a birdseye view of the fingers of washes and gulleys working into a field. He can see, too, how a soil and water conservation program stops those gulleys.

Pete Ottinger of the local soil conservation service office and John Lott attended the field day at Plainview via the air. It took 25 minutes to fly from Post to Plainview. The air tour in groups of 15 planes piloted by Flying Farmers lasted one hour and 15 minutes. They covered more than 100 miles observing conservation work.

Points of interest along the way included 192 acres of bordered irrigated pasture, clover and vetch cover crops, two holes drilled to water bearing sand in a lake, which drained in 48 hours and made a barley crop; a 300-acre irrigated improved pasture made up of a mixture of orchard grass, brome grass, meadow rescue, hairy vetch, birdsfoot trefoil and sweetclover, a 50-acre field of new terraces; 30 acres of African weeping lovegrass that yielded 450 pounds of seed per acre this year, and one thousand head of sheep grazing on 80 acres of improved pasture.

Returning to Post, Lott and Ottinger took a quick look at some work in the Duck Creek district. Just north of Post, between the railroad and Caprock, they saw a good example of what can be accomplished with a complete soil conservation program. Two fields side by side, one cut up with washes and gulleys and the other neatly contoured and terraced with no damage apparent from the air.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dougherty and daughter, Mary Paul, were Mr. Dougherty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dougherty of Tomball, and sister, Mrs. W. H. Prather and two children of Tulsa, Okla.

Texas Wheat Acreage Allotment For '50 Is 849,866 Acres Less Than Average Now

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan announced July 14 that no wheat marketing quotas will be proclaimed for the 1950 wheat crop. At the same time, the secretary announced a national acreage allotment of 68.9 million acres for the next crop of wheat. This allotment represents a reduction of about 14 million acres below the wheat acreage seeded for 1949 harvest. In announcing next year's allotment, Secretary Brannan said: "Wheat farmers are now faced to face with a natural post-war problem. The great expansion in United States wheat production, induced by the war and the unusual postwar foreign rehabilitation needs, has continued at a time when market outlets are showing signs of contraction. The indicated wheat production in 1949, even as adjusted downward in the latest crop report, would be our third largest, exceeded only in 1947 and 1948. It will be our sixth consecutive wheat crop in excess of one billion bushels, against an average domestic consumption of approximately 700 million bushels.

Exports Dwindling

"While export requirements for U. S. wheat are expected to continue large we must not mislead ourselves into thinking that we shall have unlimited demands for all the wheat we can produce. The United States is not the only source of exportable supplies of wheat, and as foreign imports needs fall off international price competition will again make itself felt. The International Wheat Agreement will of course help, but, even so, we must expect a downward trend in total exports.

"We have recently been exporting over 10 times as much wheat as we did before the war. Even with expected exports several times the prewar level, we still need such adjustments.

"Acreage allotments are a fair means of doing this, since they assign to each grower his fair share of responsibility for adjusting production to the prospective market. Because of the large supplies of wheat on hand and in prospect, the alternative to an adjustment in our wheat acreage for 1950 might well be glutted markets, disastrous price breaks, and an undue burden on the whole price-support program. With an acreage-allotment program in effect for the 1950 wheat crop, only those growers who cooperate with their allotments will be entitled to price support.

Can Avoid Quotas

"If wheat growers in general stay within their acreage allotments, thus adjusting production to expected demand, it may be possible to avoid marketing quotas in future years. Quotas, with their penalties for excess marketing, provide controls which will not be needed if acreage allotments and other measures succeed in adjusting production."

B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas PMA committee, announced this week that the 1950 wheat acreage allotment for Texas is 5,909,134 acres. This compares with an average acreage of wheat in Texas for the past 3 years of 6,759,000 acres. Vance said that the county committees in the wheat production counties are being advised of the 1950 county wheat acreage allotment. The farmer-elected county committees will apportion the county wheat acreage allotment out among the wheat growers in their county.

The work will be done in most counties during the coming week and farmers can expect the announcement of their farm wheat acreage allotment for 1950 shortly thereafter.

Here's a different kind of dollar...

This is a telephone investor's dollar. It comes from countless individuals or business firms who invest money in telephone company stocks and bonds. This is a different kind of dollar because it is the only kind that can be used for telephone expansion. In contrast, the money received for telephone service is used to pay wages, taxes and other operating expenses. It also helps pay for the use of the investor's dollar. By operating on a sound, business-like basis, we are able to attract the investors' dollars which help to give Americans the world's finest telephone service.

Children Entitled To Immunization Against Diseases

The month of September brings a return of school days, and thousands of Texas boys and girls will be returning to classrooms for the next nine months. Every one of these children, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, of Austin, state health officer, should be as free as possible from all physical defects that can be corrected, and protected against other diseases which frequently spread through classrooms.

A complete medical and dental pre-school check-up is of the utmost importance in getting the child ready for school. Eyes, ears, nose, throat, and teeth should be carefully examined, and all remediable defects corrected or placed under treatment. Such defects can lead to serious impairment of growth and progress academically, socially, and emotionally.

Defects of hearing and vision handicap a child in his class work, and often result in the false impression that he is backward and unable to learn. Such defects can often be corrected, and the child is not only more progressive in his school work, but is a happier, better balanced individual as a result of being more socially acceptable. Dental defects should be corrected not only for cosmetic reasons, but because good teeth enable a child to chew his food properly and thus promote good digestion and bodily nourishment.

"In addition to correcting such defects as already exist, young children should be protected by immunization against diseases, when possible," Dr. Cox said. "Immunization is safe and dependable, and every child is entitled to this protection against disease."

Post Millers Trounce Tahoka Sunday In Doubleheader And Are Fourth in League

The Post Millers climbed into fourth place in the air-tight Oil Belt League chase Sunday by trouncing Tahoka in both ends of a doubleheader, 13-1 and 7-2, before 350 fans in the Postex Park. The twin wins left the Millers with a season record of 15 triumphs and 10 setbacks, and put them ahead of the Levelland Refiners.

Another shift in the league standings Sunday was Seagraves once again pull abreast of Denver City in the hectic scramble for first place. Seagraves downed Slaton, 7-5, while Sundown was upsetting Denver City, 6-3. In Sunday's other Oil Belt League tussle, Levelland was upset by Brownfield, 11-10.

Post had an easy time in taking the opener from Tahoka. The Millers shoved over one run in the first, then poured across seven more markers in the second and that was the ball game.

Working with a lop-sided lead, Curley Barnett tossed a neat four-hitter at the Tahokans. The visitors' lone run came in the first frame, and in the closing six innings they managed only two hits off Barnett, who struck out six and walked two.

Meantime, the Miller hitters had a field day at the expense of Tahoka's pitcher, Raymond Pierce. They hammered out 14 hits—three each by R. M. Thomas and Joe Boren, and two apiece by Doug Simpson, Walter B. Holland, Jess Cornell and Mack Shepherd.

For Tahoka, Doyle Lane had a double and a single, and Glenn Ensor and Jake Jacobs each collected a single.

In the nightcap, Tahoka scored one run in the second stanza

Post Millers Play Seagraves Tonight, Denver City Sunday, Tahoka August 11

All except two of the Post Miller baseball games, during the remainder of the Oil Belt League season, will be played to take a short-lived 1-0 lead, but Post rebounded with two have returned from a visit with relatives at Opney, Bridgeport, Wichita Falls and Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mock and daughter were in Amarillo recently and brought their son and brother, Robert Lee, Jr., home after a week's visit there with relatives.

Mrs. Wesley Scott attended the short course for home demonstration club members at Texas Tech in Lubbock this week.

A slow soaking rain fell over the entire community Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Bobby Jerrel Smith of San Angelo is visiting in the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hitt and family. He runs in the third and two more in the fourth to cinch the decision.

Bill Holcomb, former Tahoka hurler who recently joined Post, was the winning pitcher. He gave up seven hits, as did Robert Harvick of Tahoka.

Bobby Cash and Jess Cornell paced the Miller attack, each with a double and a single. Doug Simpson also had two safeties, both singles.

Bobby Rogers was Tahoka's outstanding hitter, getting a double and a single in three tries.

The line scores:
First Game
 Post 171 021 1-13 13 2
 Tahoka 100 000 0-1 4 4
 Barnett and Walter B. Holland; Pierce and Thuren, Norman (4).

Second Game
 Post 002 201 2-2 7 1
 Tahoka 010 000 1-2 7 5
 Holcomb and Simpson; Harvick and Barnett, Smith (5).

in the Postex Park. It was announced this week by the league president that the Millers' final game with Slaton, September 9, will be played here instead of Slaton.

Bill Holcomb of Tahoka has joined the Miller staff as pitcher to replace James (Curley) Barnett who has gone to the state coaching school in Beaumont. Barnett has applied for a teaching job here and, if elected, he will return to the Millers for the latter part of the season, Jim Hundley said.

Jim Boyd, shortstop who, with Barnett, came here this season from Texas Christian University, will remain here until August 26, when he will leave to continue his education.

Play Here Tonight
 The Millers will play Seagraves here tonight, and Sunday they will go to Denver City. The only other out-of-town game for the season is to be with Levelland and is tentatively scheduled for Thursday night, August 25. As Levelland has no lights, plans are under way to play the game at Sundown August 23, but local fans are making an attempt to get the game re-scheduled for Post.

Next Thursday night, August 11, the Millers will play Tahoka here.

Last Thursday night's game with Brownfield was rained out and the game was played here Tuesday night of this week, with the Millers winning 9-1.

To the People of Post and Surrounding Communities:
 Dear Friends:

It is my great pleasure to inform you that the Garza Theatre will be privileged to show Louisa May Alcott's famous love story now brought to the screen for the first time in color by Technicolor. "Little Women" the world's greatest love story! Sunday and Monday, Aug. 7th and 8th.

I am taking this opportunity to write because I believe the film will be of special interest to the entire family and will long be remembered.

"Little Women" will thrill you with all the laughter and tears, the joy and romance—the tenderness and drama that has enthralled more than forty million readers. And truly a wonderful cast makes "Little Women" a motion picture that will shine in your heart. June Allyson is impetuous, charming Jo... handsome Peter Lawford is Laurie, the boy next door Little Women adore—Margaret O'Brien plays shy, lovable Beth—Elizabeth Taylor captivates you as beautiful, bewitching Amy and Janet Leigh is romantic Meg. Then there's a dashing new star, Rossano Brazzi, and lovely Mary Astor.

Due to the intense popularity of "Little Women" we will be unable to hold this film over the two days engagement, Sunday and Monday, Aug 7th and 8th. Our box office will open at 1:45 p. m. and show will begin promptly at 2:00 p. m.

I unhesitatingly urge you to see "Little Women" when it plays at the Garza Theatre. I believe you will agree with me that it is a perfect movie. Don't miss "Little Women."

Sincerely Yours,
 John N. Hopkins,

Texas Farm Bureau Urges Support Price On Cottonseed

J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, who this summer was the sparkplug in the fight which led to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's announcement of the three-point grain storage program which saved producers of Texas $45,000,000, has dispatched a wire to Congressman Bob Poage, chairman of the Texas delegation in Washington, urging that he rally to the support of the hardhitting Texas members of congress behind a concerted effort to get the secretary to provide a support price for cottonseed, a program that will save Texas farmers twenty million dollars.

"Seed are selling for $34 as compared to $90 last season," Hammond told Poage. "There is a support price on soy beans," he declared, "and cotton farmers cannot understand why the secretary does not support the price of cottonseed when the same act of congress provides a support price for both of these competitive commodities, which in the case of cottonseed would be $55 a ton."

Hammond foresaw developments in the present cottonseed crisis and started contacting Washington officials on the problem several weeks ago. Last week he renewed his efforts as cotton harvest reached full blast in South Texas and producers pressed the federation president for help.

Darrell Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stone, has joined the Post Dispatch personnel.

Public School Health Examinations Shock Seymour

Month several West Texas newspapers carried an Associated Press account of how Seymour public schools, mass health examinations and subsequent private cal attention, 750. Many children virtually blind, although they didn't know it. Sixteen children with bad hearts, eleven with hernias and—pardon the word—fifteen had it.

Community Cooperated

Seymour is a West Texas town, population about 4,000. The kids are tanned and healthy looking. They get all the fresh air they can breathe. Hundreds of vigorous farm children pour into the schools each year. Poverty so extreme that children can't get the proper diet is almost unknown. The children are as healthy as those anywhere.

That's why the town was so surprised. The facts wiped out opposition which had threatened to block the health program. The findings sent parents scrambling to doctors to have their children's defects removed and illnesses treated.

By then, the whole community had pitched in to help. Teachers got a different shock this spring as they tabulated grades.

Scholastic Failures Down

Scholastic failures, they found, had dropped 40 per cent in grammar school. Supt. J. W. Hamilton said that eye corrections, for example, "made all the difference in the world. Even the general health of pupils with eye defects improved with corrections."

Hamilton is a youngish graduate of the University of Oklahoma. He was superintendent at Minnehah, Okla., before coming here four years ago.

His teammates in getting the health program started was Dr. Charles Norriss Randal, Jr. In the army, he had plenty of experience in mass health examinations. A practicing physician, he doubles as City Health officer.

Program Stepped Up

Says Dr. Randal: "As far as we can find out, this was the most complete check-up and the first on this scale ever held in a Texas school."

Starting with these two, the program snowballed. The day of the examination, all the active doctors in town and two dentists closed their offices and reported at the school buildings. Ten registered nurses also volunteered, as did approximately 50 parents.

The check-ups were from head to foot. Vaccinations and inoculations against six diseases were given. Follow-up shots came later.

What the doctors found was "amazing," says Hamilton.

For instance, the physicians dug into ears. Here were some of the objects they found inside ear tubes:

A coil steel spring, a rubber band, a beetle, innumerable other smaller insects, countless paper wads and similar foreign matter.

Permanent Record Kept

Each child was given a card listing the defects which the doctor couldn't correct on the spot. The students carried these cards to their parents who took the children to their own physician. The doctor or dentist checked the card when the defects were corrected and these cards entered the school's permanent records.

"The things the doctor's found were startling to the parents," says Hamilton. "For example, we were amazed to find that our own six-year-old son, had a heart murmur."

Hamilton adds that the health program is "not a fly-by-night proposition. It will continue. Anyone who comes into our school in the future will get the same examinations and inoculations."

Dr. Randal credits community cooperation with putting the program over. The Lions Club and the P. T. A. contributed money for the serums and other materials needed and the state donated some materials.

Objections Overcome

When the health program first was proposed, chief objections came, surprisingly, from the well-to-do and better informed parents. Most didn't want their youngsters sent through the process in masse "like in the army."

One by one the objections were overcome. Publicity through Editor O. C. Harrison of the Baylor County Banner helped considerably. Parents wrangled permission to take their children to their own physician if they desired. But when the word spread that the examinations—free at the school—would cost about $30 in a doctor's office, individuality took a back seat to the pocket-book.

No one was passed by. Dr. Randal pointed out the program would have had less effect if sick children were allowed to make other children ill. So the school board made the shots and examinations compulsory.

Town Health Conscious

Hamilton says the whole town became more health conscious. "For example," he explained, "teachers got to the point where they could spot an infectious disease in a child at a glance. They sent the sick children home before they infected other pupils."

The children were given vaccinations and inoculations against smallpox, diphtheria, tatarus, whooping cough, typhoid and paratyphoid.

Not a case of those diseases was reported among school children this past school year, says Hamilton. That alone, plus general health improvement cut down absenteeism materially, he reported, until measles struck.

For instance, the previous year as many as half the students in some homes were absent at the same time because of whooping cough. This year, there were no cases at all.

In contrast, the measles epidemic riddled attendance for a time this school year. Students had not received measles inoculations.

Religious Objections

Every active physician in town—Drs. C. E. Johnson, L. A. Barber, E. H. Balch, J. W. Foy, R. K. Lowry and Randal—closed their offices and reported to the schools for the examinations. So did two dentists, Dr. Jozach Easley and B. F. Grill.

There were one or two students who objected on religious grounds. "I don't know exactly what happened," Dr. Randal said with a grin, "but somehow those children found themselves in the lines, too, and they got their shots."

And, said Dr. Randal with a gleeful laugh, "Not a new case of scabies (that's it) this year."

Chambers had been driving for Duckworth only two weeks. Bass was assisted in the investigation by T. E. Springer, Texas highway patrolman stationed at Spur.

Here is the architect's drawing for the ultra-modern funeral home which Mason and Company expects to build on the corner east of the court house square in the near future. The architect, Alvin Cearley of Levelland, is working on blueprints now and construction will be started as soon as possible, Marshall Mason and James Minor, owners, announced. Built of modernistic Roman brick, in "a harmony of colors," the flat-roofed building will be erected between the corner and the Plains Lumber Co., and the floor space of approximately 40 by 100 feet will accommodate an office, reception room, a large chapel which may be sub-divided into four small staterooms, a showroom, operation room, rest room, double garage and apartment. The apartment will consist of a large living room, two bedrooms, kitchen and bath. The large chapel will accommodate 200 funeral guests. Sub-divided by three accordion-type doors, it can be used to accommodate as many as four bodies lying in state. The building will be set in the middle of the three lots and the yard will be landscaped on all sides, Minor said. There are no buildings in Post made from Roman brick. Few buildings in West Texas are constructed of this new, distinctive type of brick. The proposed building will feature California-style architecture with an overhanging roof and picture windows.

New Funeral Home Marks Future Plans In Post

UNUSUAL SIGN
The sign, in inlay linoleum, on the counter in Mason's office, was designed by Clint Williams, who is one of the firm's expert linoleum designers. The other is a sign for the firm's linoleum department in the new store. It can adequately display many designs in reg- inlay linoleums and rugs.

ANY KIND
Mason and Company specializes in carpets—any kind you want. A variety of patterns and materials are available in Mohawk, Gullistan, Firth and other nationally known brands. Some of these are immediately available in rolls. Others can be selected from large samples and delivered within three or four days.

BABY FURNITURE
Baby furniture, like everything else, has gone modern. A good example is the folding high-chair, "Space-Saver," modeled by the Norlitt Manufacturing Co. and on sale at Mason and Company. Mason's has all types of baby furniture, in the most up-to-date, safe and sanitary models.

Mason and Company's 34th Anniversary Sale—which was postponed for a couple of months because of the remodeling of the store—will open tomorrow with everything in the house on sale at a liberal discount.

The firm of Davis-Mason, forerunner of the present store, first opened its doors here in 1915. In those days, the grandparents of today's customers had only two brands and types of kitchen ranges from which to choose for cooking appliances. They could get a Buckeye or a Bucks Range, either of which could be had in wood or coal burning models.

The third generation today has a choice of gas or electric ranges made by such nationally known manufacturers as Magic Chef, Chambers, Tappin, Norge, Florence, Detroit Jewel, Perfection and others.

The Perfection gas range is today's successor to the New Perfection coal oil stoves which was the big kitchen range item of the early 1920's. The second generation who bought these had the latest in kitchen cooking apparatus.

Gas Brought Boom

Mason's biggest year on stoves came with the coming of natural gas in 1928. That year Mason's sold $8,000 worth of gas stoves at one time. The stoves were manufactured by Detroit Jewel and Clark and Jewel. Although many of the gas stoves sold in 1928 are still in use by the owners, Mason's takes in one every few weeks on a "trade-in" for one of the more modern ranges.

Marshall Mason, partner in the store, estimates that in 34 years, his firm has sold enough linoleum to cover the townsite each year—that's 21,000 acres of linoleum in 34 years.

The former Davis-Mason store was established by Mason and W. L. Davis, who came here as a building contractor when Post was first colonized. Davis sold his interest to Mason and retired from the business in 1941. By this time, the business included a furniture store in Levelland which the two men had established in 1929, when that embryo city had less than 300 people.

Mason's son-in-law, James Minor, became a junior partner in the business after his return from the armed forces in 1945. The Levelland store is managed by Mason's nephew, J. G. Stacy, formerly of Post.

Just as revolutionary as are today's kitchen ranges, as compared to the wood and coal ranges of 34 years ago, are the lines of furniture which have a similar history.

Mattresses Go Modern

Mattresses, as an example, have progressed from the feather and straw varieties that pre-Mason-store Garza Countians once manufactured on their own premises, through the cotton and, later, the Kapok type to the present day U. S. Koylon Foam mattresses which sell so fast the store has difficulty keeping them in stock. The newest mattresses, of pure, foamy rubber, are fireproof, wearproof and sanitary and are said to be the most comfortable type of mattresses known. Mason's is also handling living room suites stuffed with U. S. Koylon Foam, which is used in lieu of springs.

To better display all the modern types of furniture, the Mason store was remodeled this spring and summer to make more room and an interior in keeping with the modern trends. Now there is room to classify and easily display each type of furniture. Living room and occasional furniture, lamps, etc., are on the front half of the main floor. Stoves and other appliances are further back on this floor, and in the back end, there is ample room—for the first time—to display Mason's varied line of linoleums and carpets. There is also a department for paints, picture frames, curtain rods, etc., on the floor.

Bedroom furniture is attractively displayed on the balcony. With 34 years of success and experience behind them, members of the firm are looking forward to their next BIG project, the building of a funeral home for which the architect's drawing is published in this issue.

The public is cordially invited to visit the remodeled Mason and Company store during the 34th Anniversary Sale and take advantage of the many bargains.

Mason and Company always has something new to introduce to the public during each year's Big Anniversary Sale. This year it is Philco's revolutionary cooler, which air conditions a single room without use of water. It brings in fresh air at the rate of 175 cubic feet per minute.

LOTS OF STOVES

Mason and Company sells an average of 75 kitchen ranges a year. Conservatively speaking, that's 2,550 cook stoves sold here in 34 years.

New Furniture Has Rubber Cushioning

Living room and bedroom furniture, cushioned with indestructible U. S. Koylon Foam, is now available at Mason and Company. Made by the National Furniture Co. of Evansville, Ind., the divans, chairs and other items requiring cushions are now manufactured without springs.

Foam rubber cushioning has the feel of down, but it does not have to be fluffed. A mere pat will bring the arch of the cushion back to its normal shape. A spring cushion, of necessity, must be built over-size to retain a resemblance of its original condition. Also, padding, once set on the spring unit, does not come back into its normal condition. Foam rubber after many years of use, retains its original shape and resilience.

U. S. Koylon bedding was available before the war for homes, hospitals, hotels and tourist camps, and it was also used by some companies for railway train and bus cushions, in commercial air transports and in some automobiles. Its use in living room furniture is a post-war development.

HOW TO SLEEP

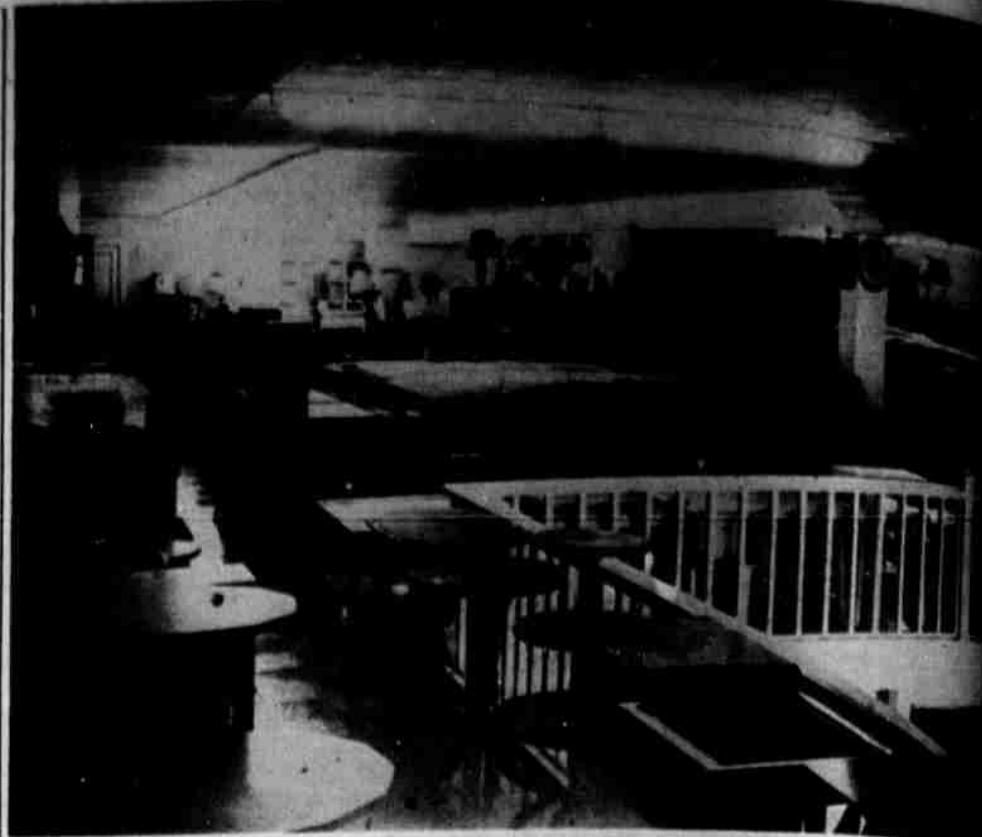

Restful nights are assured the person who buys a famous-brand mattress from Mason and Company. Simmons Beauty Rest, Morning Glory, U. S. Koylon Foam and many other well-known mattresses will go on sale at Mason and Company tomorrow.

LESS THAN HALF

Some of the merchandise on sale at Mason and Company will be marked down to less than half the original price, and everything in the store will be marked down in varying degrees.

An elephant tries—and fails—to make a permanent dent in a U. S. Koylon Foam mattress. Koylon Foam shapes itself around a body in direct proportion to the pressure applied by its various points of contact. This mattress has no springs to break.

Mason and Company's newly remodeled balcony has been made roomy to allow play for bed room furniture and occasional furniture. Many beautiful bed room bed room chairs, occasional tables and bed room lamps are on display in the display.

Wheat Allotment For Garza County Announced By ACC

A 1950 wheat allotment of 3,244 acres for Garza County was announced this week by the county agricultural conservation committee.

This represents Garza county's proportionate share of the national wheat acreage allotment of 68.9% for the crop that will be harvested next year. Will Wright committee chairman, explained. The national allotment is the acreage that at normal yields will produce an amount of wheat which together with the expected carryover next July 1 will supply contemplated domestic and export requirements and provide a safe reserve.

South Plains Cotton Outlook Continues Bright; Garza County Conditions Fair

"Individual farm allotments, based on acreage and production data collected over the past several months, have been established," Wright said, "and notices to growers are being mailed from the county office this week.

Acreage allotments are not an enforced limitation on production, but they provide a limitation on government expenditures for price support beyond the national interest. Wright explained. Only those farmers who seed within their farm allotments will be entitled to price supporting commodity loans or purchase agreements on their 1950 crop.

"Although adverse conditions during the growing season have resulted in a smaller 1949 wheat crop than expected earlier, this year's harvest will still be the third largest of record and the sixth consecutive wheat crop in excess of one billion bushels," Wright pointed out. "The average domestic consumption of wheat is only 700 million bushels, and only abnormally high exports supported by ECA allotments and army purchases for occupied countries have prevented the accumulation of price-depressing surpluses."

Wright emphasized that if wheat growers comply with acreage allotments, thus adjusting production to expected requirements, it may be unnecessary to use marketing quotas for future crops. He also said that farmers have been notified that compliance with wheat acreage allotments will be necessary if they want the protection of government price supports on their 1950 wheat crop.

According to the chairman, an "eligible" producer for price support on the 1950 wheat crop—generally—will be "any individual, partnership, corporation, or other legal entity that has an interest as landowner, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper in a farm on which the acreage planted to wheat for harvest in 1950 is not in excess of the farm acreage allotment."

If such a producer has an interest in more than one farm in a county, he will be eligible for wheat price support if the total of his share of the 1950 wheat acreage seeded for harvest on all of the farms exceed his total share of such allotments or permitted acreage, regardless of where such farms are situated.

A "permitted" acreage, Wright said, will be used for those farms for which a 1950 wheat allotment of less than 15 acres is established and the wheat acreage seeded for harvest is in excess of the allotment. In those cases, the permitted acreage is the smaller of the wheat acreage seeded for harvest or 15 acres.

Be Wise—ADVERTISE!

A 1949 South Plains cotton crop of 1,322,000 bales based on conditions prevailing July 27 was forecast Saturday by K. N. Clay, area observer since 1923 for Anderson-Clayton & Co. Houston firm, the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal reported Sunday.

The forecast included the notation that August usually is the "critical month" for the crop and that growing conditions prevailing then may alter present indicated production by 50,000 bales. The crop never has been better supplied with the subsoil moisture which should enable it to withstand an August drought, Clapp observed. The lack of such a reserve last year, when August was abnormally hot and dry, cut production 40 per cent, he estimated.

The cash value of a 1,322,000-bale crop was estimated at $160,000,000 to $240,000,000, including seed, depending upon the quality of the staple.

Weather Unfavorable

But Clapp referred to the progress of the crop since June 1 as "poor" because of unfavorable weather. Conditions in the area as a whole, however, were described in a county-by-county survey as ranging from "fair" to "very good." Garza County's prospects were "fair."

Clapp's forecast production, the Lubbock paper said, is far in excess of the ginnings in any previous year on the South Plains. The record was 959,000 bales in 1937. Drouth cut ginnings last year to about 641,000. The all-time record for ginnings in any South Plains county was 181,000 bales in Lubbock in 1947.

Crop conditions in individual counties were reported as follows: Very good—Brisco, Cochran and Crosby; good—Bailey, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Hale, Hookley, Lamb, Lubbock, Borden, Castro, Deaf Smith, Parker, Yoakum and Swisher, and fair—Garza, Lynn and Terry.

Must Watch Insects

Clapp noted that present damaging insects now are "fairly well under control," but that light bollworms are present generally, are likely to increase and could become a crop factor unless controlled." He explained that bollworms once reduced the area's crop after Sept. 1.

Referring to other "present unfavorable conditions," his report said:

"In parts of the territory, the bottom crop is poor because of rank growth, flea hoppers or a combination of these factors. These areas must depend on the middle and top bolls for high production.

"In some areas, plants have rank growth and are shallow-rooted because of excessive rain since planting. Excessive heat could cause abnormal shedding and reduce production despite the excellent subsoil moisture. "But in most of the territory, the weeds are pretty well under control, despite a shortage of labor."

Miss Gladys Bayer, member of the school faculty at Clifton, and her mother, Mrs. O. M. Bayer of Jarrell, are here to spend two weeks visiting Mrs. W. R. Graeber.

Letters From The Readers

Dear Eddie:
 We enjoy reading the Post Dispatch very much.
 Watch that Limb, Eddie, it could break.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Benton, Smyer, Texas.

Dear Editor:
 We miss the "Editor Getting Out on the Limb." What has become of Gertrude, the fish? We also enjoy "Garza and the World" by Evelyn Boyd.

Yours truly,
 Mrs. Ray McNabb,
 Harlingen, Texas.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: If the Limb doesn't break, the Editor will be out on it again as soon as the vacation season is over and he is caught up with the work of installing some new Post Dispatch equipment. At last report, Gertrude, Al Bird's propolis, was fasting out of grief for all the sickness the family has had. She should be back to her loaf of bread a day now, as everybody is on the mend. Thanks for your nice letter.)

Statistician Wants Public To Prove He Errs On Accidents

N. K. Woerner, chief of the Statistical Bureau of the Texas Department of Public Safety, and his staff, recently came up with a prediction concerning motor vehicle traffic deaths over the past July 4th holiday weekend and though they proved to be almost 100% correct no one is particularly happy over the whole thing, according to Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Public Safety Department.

Prior to the Independence Day weekend, Woerner's bureau predicted that 27 persons would be killed in traffic accidents in Texas on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of July. Moreover, they went out on a limb to say that 22 of the deaths would occur in rural sections and 5 would be on city streets. The total count for the state over that period was 28 deaths, 24 of which were rural and 4 urban. Had the one driver entered a city limits before be-

While there, the family group attended the Church of Christ in Polytechnic Heights. Last week the T. A. Loyds and house guests visited a daughter, Mrs. Olan Stanley, in Carlsbad, N. M., and went through the Caverns. Mrs. Raymond Farrer and daughter and Mrs. W. F. Farrer left Monday for California. Will Loyd remained here for a longer visit.

Coming involved in a fatal accident, Woerner's figures would have missed the exact picture in the over-all total by one death.

The records indicate that the DPS Statistical Bureau is consistently as accurate in predicting traffic fatalities but Woerner alleges that he would be happy to sacrifice accuracy if the public wishes to prove him wrong by holding the death rate far below his estimates.

Miss Parker formerly lived here.
