

Hospital begins search

Garza Memorial Hospital directors decided last Thursday morning in their October breakfast meeting to invite four or five applicants seeking positions as administrators of small hospitals here for interviewing for the position of administrator here.

Board president Jack Alexander has secured resumes of approximately 25 such applicants from the recruitment and placement service of the Texas Hospital Association and also has a well qualified applicant from New Mexico who is interested in the position.

Mrs. Marita Reed is now serving as interim administrator until the position is filled.

In other actions, directors established a hospital policy on cash deposits required of patients entering the hospital, reappointed the hospital's medical staff, established a policy for reimbursing hospital personnel for travel expenses, and heard a report that the hospital books are now being audited prior to a new administrator taking over.

Reappointed to the active medical staff for the new fiscal year are Dr. William Wilson, Dr. Richardo Rodriguez, Dr. Charles McCook and Dr. B. E. Young; renamed to the courtesy staff are Dr. Harry Tubbs and Dr. Ernesto Mardia of Slaton; with a large number renamed to the consulting staff.

The admission deposit policy was voted when it was called to the directors' attention by Mrs. Reed that the hospital does not have such a policy.

Deposit figures set were: Cash deposits of $100 of obstetrics cases with insurance, $350 for OB's without insurance, $160 for deductible if applicable on medicare admissions, and cash only for emergency room service, outpatient treatment, and outpatient x-ray or lab.

Directors also set a policy for paying 15 cents per mile car expense for any hospital employee involved on hospital business approved by the hospital's administrative office with meals paid when applicable.

The hospital has received a letter handed on by County Judge Giles Dalby from health Science Center Hospital in Lubbock stating that hospital's strict policy of admitting no out-of-county indigent patients except for emergency unless a call is received from the county judge of that patient's residence county guaranteeing payment of hospital expenses.

The law creating the Garza Hospital District hands the responsibility for indigent medical care from the county to the hospital district, hands the responsibility for indigent medical care from the county to the hospital district, so prior approval would have to be given by the local hospital to guarantee payment for any Garza indigent to be hospitalized in the Health Sciences Center Hospital.

Hospital directors last Thursday also authorized purchase of drapes for one private room and accepted

OS art sales set $166,985 record

Three new major records were set at the "OS weekend" this year — in art sales, the "gate" at the cattle guard, and the total who ate Sunday barbecue.

A sum of $166,985 worth of cowboy and western art was sold during the OS Art Exhibit, most of it at Friday night's prevee party when some 550 persons, including art collectors and buyers from 12 states, spent $138,000 after lining up in many instances to conduct drawings to see who would be the lucky buyer for this or that piece of art, because from a dozen to 20 persons wanted to buy it.

Some $336,000 worth of art was on display in the ranch house. Top price paid was $12,500 for a dry brush watercolor by Ronald Thomason of Weatherford entitled, "East Comes West."

Artists donated 20 percent of their sales during the art exhibit to West Texas Boys Ranch, instead of 10 percent as in former years, but a Friday night art auction in which artists were asked to contribute smaller pieces of art was discontinued with the doubling of the art sale donations.

Don Hedgpath, art writer and former director of art museums who lives in Kerrville, told The Dispatch that he felt it was important in a show such as the OS

Art Exhibit to invite some young artists with fine talent who need "a break" the opportunity of exhibiting — as well as some of the top cowboy and western artists.

County grants salary hikes

The Garza County Commissioners Court Monday voted pay increases to all county employes amounting to approximately seven percent and also voted to pay all social security for all county employes.

Counting the social security, this boosted the salary hikes to between 10 and 11 percent, according to County Judge Giles Dalby.

The commissioners and the county judge were authorized $1,500 each for travel expense within the county for the year with the home demonstration agent receiving $900 for in-county travel.

Out of county travel will be reimbursed at the rate of 18 cents a mile with $35 per diem-overnight on out of county business.

Double time will be paid for holiday overtime.

The salary increases became effective Oct. 1, the start of the county's new fiscal year.

The court also voted to break down the 90 cent tax in the county as follows: general fund 65 cents, road and bridge 15 cents, and road and bridge special 15 cents.

The court postponed until Oct. 22 interviews for the CETA director position.

Double U sale on Wednesday

The fifth annual Production Sale at the Double U Hereford Ranch Headquarters on West 13th street is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 17.

Lunch will be served on the grounds at 11:30 a.m. with the sale beginning at 12:30 p.m.

On the sale block will be 58 bulls, 35 registered 3-year-old bred heifers, and 60 bred 3-year-old commercial heifers.

Class of '39 plans reunion

The Post High School graduating class of 1939 will hold its first reunion Saturday, Oct. 13, in the community center.

The reunion will begin at 1:30 p.m. and last through a dinner in the evening. Indications are a good sized crowd will attend.

Anyone outside the class is invited to come and visit between 3 and 4 p.m.

Mrs. Kennedy rites pending

Funeral services for Mrs. Lela Kennedy, 94, were pending Wednesday at Hudson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Kennedy died early Wednesday morning in Garza Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

POSTINGS

The "OS weekend" was a good show, but now it's over it's time to look to the next one. Dates for the 1980 "weekend" were announced Sunday as the first weekend in October again.

Ed Neff had a busy weekend shooting something like 2,800 pictures out at the OS, and he was equally busy Monday and Tuesday developing them, and printing 14 which appear in today's Dispatch. Besides the two on the front page you'll find a whole page-full back on page 10. He did a great job too, as you can see.

Festus, the deputy from Guns Smoke, visited the Post schools to say "hi" to some of the kids Friday. When he came out of the school building, a mother in a car was waiting for him to ask if he would wait so she could go and get her sick daughter.

"No," said Festus, "but I'll go to your house and visit with her." After he finished that visit he stopped in at Garza Memorial Hospital and Twin Cedar nursing home before calling it a day. What a nice guy he is.

The United Fund got off to a good start in its 1979 campaign this week — a week before the drive is scheduled to get under way.

Remember the contributor we told you about last year who each year raises his pledge without being asked. Well, Bryan J. Williams popped into The Dispatch office Monday with a check for $500 from him. He attached a note on the check stub which read: "Since I will be in the South Pacific when you tap me this year, please accept my contribution now. Life has been better to me this year than I had reason to ever expect, so I am increasing my contribution so others may share a little of it with me."

It's folks like him which make United Fund campaigning both worthwhile and heart-warming.

The VFW post is having a membership supper Saturday night. This doesn't mean everybody else isn't invited too — you are. But the members who have their 1980 dues paid won't have to fork over $3 each for the meal. They will get their free as a gastronomic reward. Which reminds us we must send our check and stop in for what is sure to be a good supper. And maybe some of you other guys should do the same thing.

Floyd Tillman, the country music great who got his start in Post and now lives in Granite Shoals, was one (See Postings, Page 16)

Arnold Felts new OS champ

Six cowboys, including Rex Prather of Post, all bunched within six seconds of each other, had a shot at the 9th annual OS Steer Roping championship on their fourth and final steer late Sunday afternoon of a warm, windy and dusty day before a record crowd.

But Arnold Felts of Woodward, Okla., who was slightly ahead after roping his first three steers, never gave the other five a chance.

He didn't miss that all important first throw in the "clutch" as the last roper out of the chute with the title in the balance. He needed a 25 plus second tying to win and he coolly got his last steer in 22.07 seconds for a total time of 80.43 seconds.

That made him the new champion by a total margin of 2.61 seconds over Sonny Davis of Kenna, N.M., who was runnerup with a four-head total of 83.04 seconds.

Guy Allen, defending OS champion, from Santa Anna, Tx., was third with 85.66 seconds, and Eldon Dudley of Perryton, fourth in the money on a total time of 93.01.

Gary Good of Elida, N.M., the 1979 world champion steer roper, had the best time of the afternoon when he roped his steer in 16.64 seconds to win the third go-round but he had tough luck and no time on his second steer to fall out of the average.

Jim Prather, the OS boss who has hosted the steer roping here for nine years to raise over a quarter of a million dollars for West Texas Boys Ranch with his "OS Weekend" promotions, won the second steer roping go-round with a 17.15 second tie and led the field in the average after two steers with 36.87. But Prather had a steer "get up on him" in the third go-round after tripping it and drew a no time.

The biggest winner Sunday wasn't Steer Champ Arnold Felts, however. That "happy feeling" went to Mike Jones of Plainview and Roy Fort of Lovington, N.M., who won the big team roping and got the biggest share of a $30,000 cash jackpot.

The team roping attracted 331 teams who spent the whole day Friday roping two steers each. The top 12 in total time then stayed over Sunday afternoon and had three new go-rounds with Jones and Fort winning the Sunday average with a total of 42.66 seconds (See Steer roping, Page 16)

New radar gets council's okay

The sheriff's department was authorized by the city council Monday night to purchase or lease a new radar unit to replace old equipment now virtually inoperative.

Action came after a brief discussion in which council members told a sheriff department's representative that they thought they had approved the purchase two or three months back during a joint meeting with the county commissioner court.

This was one of the few actions taken on a light agenda for the October session.

Error in crash story corrected

The Dispatch incorrectly reported in last week's story on Randy Bell's fatal motorcycle accident that the yield sign at the 8th and avenue H intersection was on avenue H.

The yield sign is on 8th street approach to the right of way to Bell on his motorcycle and resulted in the felony charge of involuntary manslaughter against Claude Lee Willis, the truck driver, involved.

The council also received a financial report from Dawn Olive on the city-county ambulance service.

She reported the service has an 80 percent collection rate for patients transported. Total income for the year to date, including a $614.74 monthly operating subsidy from city and county and the amount the city and county contributed toward the purchase of a new ambulance totaled $29,465.94 with expenses of $25,657.24, including the ambulance's purchase.

The service has transported 213 patients in the year to date, 118 of them in county and 95 to out-of-county hospitals.

The service has a bank balance of $3,348.67.

In another action, the council instructed Harvey Morton, attorney for the city, to write High Plains Cable-Vision, which recently purchased the Post cable TV system, requesting an officer of the company appear before the council with a financial statement in hand before the council acts to transfer the cable TV franchise here to the new purchaser.

Morton reported he had (See City Council, Page 16)

Ropers tell story of 'Christian Cowboys'

The story of the organization and work of the Cowboy Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes was told Sunday morning during the annual brush arbor worship service in the OS Ranch's chinaberry grove.

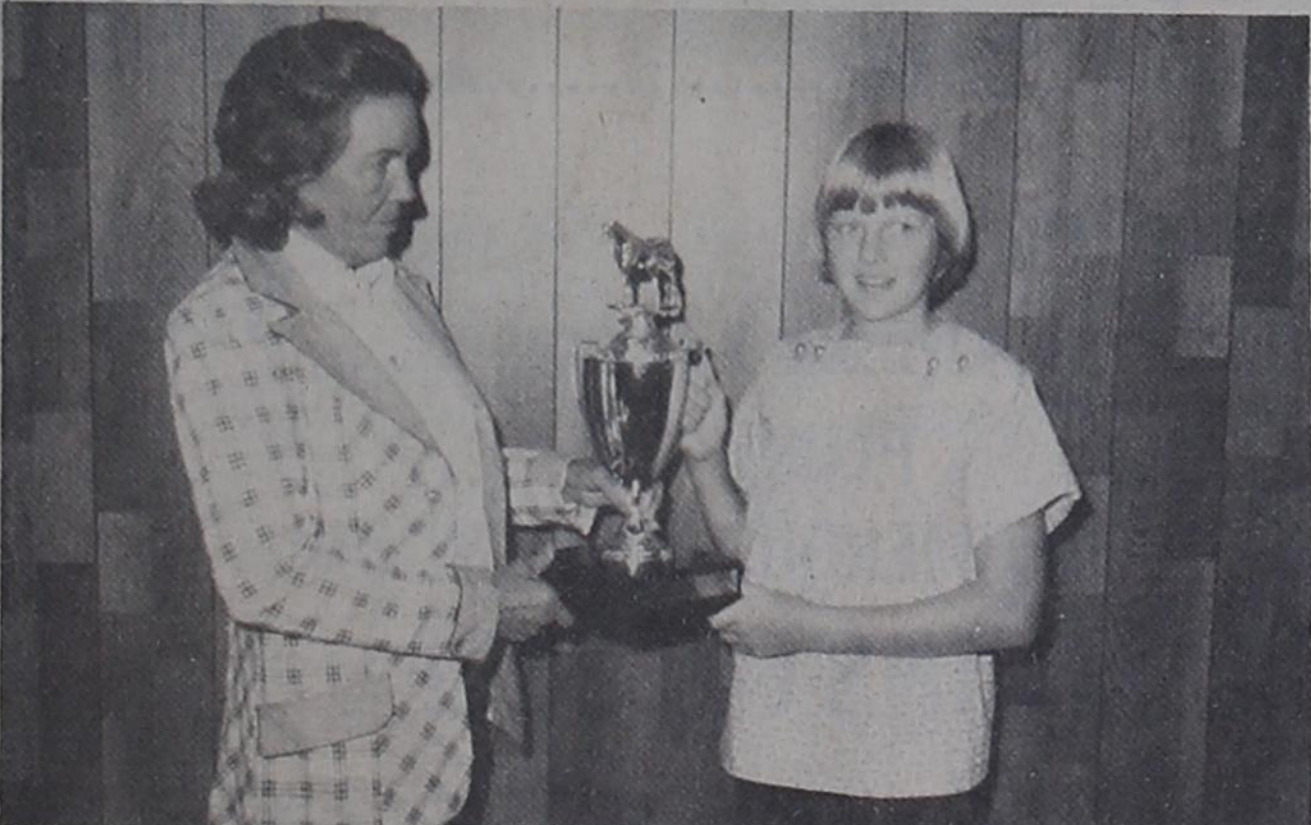

The worship service is a regular feature of the "OS weekend" being started and sponsored by Post's First Presbyterian Church which discontinued its own Sunday worship service on the "OS weekend" because a majority of its members were involved as OS volunteers.

Walter Arnold of Silverton, and formerly of Post, told about the cowboy chapter in his testimonial to Jesus Christ during the service to a record crowd of between 200 and 300 western worshippers of all faiths, who sat on hay bales or their own folding chairs brought for the steer roping.

Arnold, who told how he worked here for the Giles Dalby Ranch and got his start in rodeo cowboying on a horse provided him by Jim Prather, said he was in on the organization of the chapter when a group of professional rodeo cowboys got together to do something for Christ's work in 1973.

Arnold himself served as the second president of the (See Cowboy FCA, Page 16)

Initiative and referendum

House Speaker Bill Clayton has been sounding off against initiative and referendum as proposed for Texas by Republican Governor Bill Clements, contending that such "poses big problems for business and industry as it has in other states by providing a forum for the purveyors of kooky ideas."

Now State Senator Walter Mengden, a Republican, comes along to say that Clayton has been completely misinformed and simply "hasn't done his homework."

"Clayton's absurd fears of allowing the people to petition for, and vote on, proposed legislation has no basis whatsoever in fact," Mengden said in a statement in Austin this week.

According to Mengden, the initiative and referendum process has been used both responsibly and effectively in all of the 24 states that have adopted it since 1904.

A study by Public Opinion magazine indicates that conservatives won 61 percent of the referendums held throughout the nation in 1978 — 64 percent of them if tax limitation measures are included.

Mengden says such a trend likely would be continued in Texas since a recent statewide poll by a Houston polling firm indicates that 65 percent of the people in Texas consider themselves conservatives.

Mengden admits he doesn't agree with every initiative measure passed in every state last year, but added: "Neither do I agree with every bill passed by the Texas Legislature and very few bills passed by the United States Congress."

Mengden contends when you look at the overall results of initiative and referendum, it's clear "that we can have a whole lot more faith in the people than we can in the politicians."

Clayton's main reason for opposing initiative and referendum in The Dispatch's opinion is twofold and neither of them is for his "quoted reason."

First, it was proposed by a Republican governor and Democrats can't let the Republicans get a foot in the state's political door.

Second, Clayton is a legislator and he wants to legislate all the laws and not give any of that right directly to the people.

You'll find a lot of masked opposition on both counts, but The Dispatch is a firm believer in a good initiative and referendum law as one solid way for the people to get what they really want despite who might be "running things" in Austin.

In fact, if we had a national law we might finally get something moving on a lot of problems, including inflation, energy, social security, and the disastrous federal budget.

A growing football team

Few fans now doubt, five weeks into the football season, that Coach David Thompson and his new staff are building a football team at Post High School.

The improvement is obvious from week to week.

The Lopes play with what is now termed in football as "intensity", which means pure and simply "really getting after it."

We feel sure the team will continue to improve through the season.

Although they are not highly rated because not too much experienced personnel returned, they are becoming a sound football team.

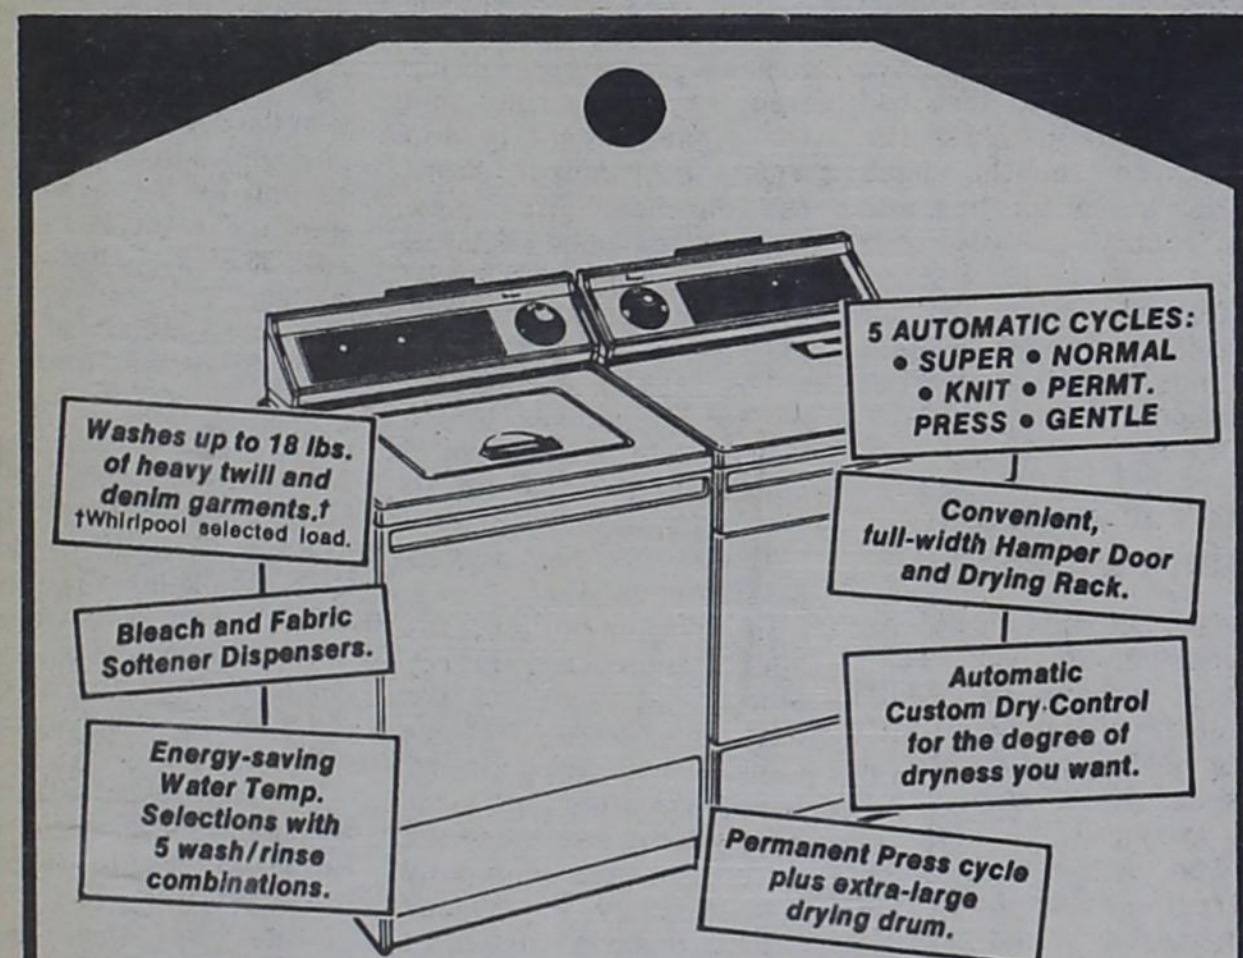

This Friday night they entertain the favored Slaton Tigers, one of the three pre-season picks to win the 5AA crown.

They weren't supposed to beat Denver City either, but they did.

This is the kind of team that is going to grow game by game and one local fans can really get behind and support. If they continue to work as hard as they have up to now, we look for another upset or two before mid-November.

And who knows — they just might get No. 2 against Slaton.

TEEN SCENE By Norm

What can I say but, "YOU DID ONE HECK OF A GOOD JOB" last week Antelopes. Not one outstanding player, but a GREAT TEAM EFFORT. A real pleasure to watch. We're proud of you.

And now I declare this BEAT SLATON WEEK!!! And it's time to climb back up on the old soap box and this wee bit of editorializing.

If your memory takes you back to a year ago about this time, I asked all Post fans to turn out for the Slaton game up there and take a seat on their side. Well, my bubble was burst and not too many fans showed up at all!

Slaton is undefeated this year except for a tie with state ranked Littlefield. And if you think they are not going to be here to watch Post get stomped in the turf, YOU'RE WRONG! And if you show up at the game at 7 p.m. you won't have a place to sit cause Slaton's red and black colors will be all over the unreserved section and Post fans will have to stand behind three or four Slaton fans and maybe get a glimpse of the action.

If you took note of the above paragraph, I said Post would get stomped in the turf. WELL, that's what Slaton thinks! I KNOW with the crowd support and enthusiasm that was shown in last week's game, that Post fans will turn out, wearing BLACK and GOLD and fill up the stands and watch our team put together another great effort and put the TIGERS where they belong, DOWN.

So come on Antelopes, get fired up, and BEAT SLATON!!!!!!

Bruce Waldrip and Randy Teaff had knee surgery this week. Both in Methodist Hospital, they both came through the surgery fine. You never could keep Bruce down for long, he is to be released possibly today to his home here for a short period of recovery. He is going back to school Monday. Randy is in room 501 and will stay in the hospital a little longer. GET WELL SOON!!

Lots of kids were home this weekend to watch the game and for the OS weekend. To name a few, Evans Heaton, Nancy Clary, Cindy Terry, Danny Gunn, Jay Lott, Darrell Reece, Lisa Cowdrey, Melinda Tatum, Jody Palmer, Dale Redman, Shorty Bilberry, Carlos Varela, Darlene Gunn, Danny Nelson, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Kathy Kirkpatrick. I'm sure there were lots of others. But didn't see them.

The 1980s Are Here! Today — In Our Showroom It's New Car Showtime

Beginning March 20, 1968, we've given you 11½ years of sales and service here at Harold Lucas Motors.

Thank you for making us your dealer in Post. We appreciate the confidence you, our customers, have shown us through the years.

1980 is the greatest opportunity we have had thus far to show you the finest small cars, in our opinion, ever built. We have some exciting new models for your driving pleasure.

The Berlinaetta Camaro, a sports car with a sports car price.

The exciting Citation front wheel drive, the car of the '80's.

We have several luxury cars to show as well — the Chevrolet Caprice, the Bonneville Pontiac, the Oldsmobile Royale and the Limited Buick sedan.

We at Harold Lucas Motors feel we offer a complete line of economy cars at a time when economy is so important. If you don't own a small economy car, let us show you the advantages of owning one. Prices start as low as $5,795 for the Chevette sedan.

Thank you again. We feel our success is because we sell a great product that doesn't come back to the customer who does. Come see these 1980's. We'll have refreshments too.

Sincerely,

HAROLD LUCAS

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY C & C WELL SERVICE

Hilda's caper quite a story

This is the story of "Hilda's billfold caper" as told by Jim Latimer, field representative of the Social Security Administration, in Lubbock.
 "Many years ago," Latimer says, Hilda Witcher's real social security number was placed on dummy social security cards by a billfold manufacturer.
 "Over 40,000 people have used Hilda's social security account number since 1932, and the number is still being used.
 "Hilda's number was selected by the manufacturer of the billfolds because Hilda was his secretary and her card was handy when the idea was adopted."

Seminole, Tahoka in fast 5AA start

Seminole and Tahoka appear to be the two powerhouses in District 5AA after the first Friday night of Play — and that isn't expected to change much this weekend either.

Seminole walloped Roosevelt's Eagles 41 to 0 in its opener on the road while the rapidly improving Tahoka Bulldogs blistered Cooper's Pirates 49 to 0 in another road game.

Tailback Ricky Green romped for three touchdowns on runs of 9, 30, and 60 yards in the Indians' massacre at Roosevelt, while Quarterback Mike Grass hurled touchdown passes of 60 and 20 yards.

At Woodrow, Tracy White got three of the Tahoka touchdowns on runs of 49 and 19 yards and a 17 yard Todd Brown pass. Clifford Oages, who roared 51 yards for the first td got 102 yards from scrimmage on 13 carries while White was totaling up 81 on ten trips with the ball.

This Friday night, Denver City will journey to Seminole to face the Indians' veteran, high scoring attack while Tahoka entertains the near-featherless Roosevelt Eagles.

The Slaton Tigers, touted by many as the third major contender for the 5AA title, had to fight for its life at home against Frenship before emerging with a tight 9-7 triumph.

The Tigers had to generate a 50 yard scoring drive in the final period to come help the children and teachers."

The Journalism I class interviewed the students and Mrs. McGee recently.

PHS grad writes poems about pigs

CEDAR CITY, UTAH — Pity the reader who expects to find a field of daffodils in Dave Lee's "The Porcine Legacy." Lee is a 1962 Post High School graduate and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chance Lee who now live in Durango, Colo.

"It isn't a book about flowers, it's a book about life," the Southern Utah State College professor of English says.

"The Porcine Legacy" is a collection of 18 poems about pig farming in southern Utah, about his wife Jan, and about his real-life friend John, mostly coming from a barnyard setting.

The slim book of poetry — published by Copper Canyon Press, Port Townsend, Washington — was a finalist for the 1978 Elliston Book Award, a national award presented each year for the best volume of poetry copyrighted by a small, non-profit press in the United States.

Lee's book is not about false heroes. "Why do we create them anyway," he asks, "I try to write something real."

The southern Utah poet admits that writing "real" poetry wasn't always his style. When he first began writing poetry, some four or five years ago, he spent his time imitating other poets.

"My special field is 18th Century British literature. The key word there is 'imitation,' so I was comfortable writing poetry that was an imitation of the past, present, and maybe even future literary styles," he explains.

"One day I became very angry, very embarrassed and busted loose. The first poem in 'The Porcine Legacy' came from that angry outbreak. I had written poetry before but because it was all imitation, I can truthfully say that this was my first book, maybe even the first poem."

Lee's second book, "Driving and Drinking," has just come off the press, again published by Copper Canyon.

"It's a long poem, about 50 pages, that picks up where 'The Porcine Legacy' ends. And I think it's better," he says.

"Driving and Drinking" is about a man — actually, Lee says, a biographical combination of his own and John's lives plus a good dose of imagination — and like "The Porcine Legacy," it's about a vision of life.

"Too many people take great stock in not getting attached, not caring about anything except abstraction," he says. "We need to care about concrete things, real human beings, people and the earth."

Some people have trouble with the language in his poetry, he admits. "They don't like the language because it isn't what they expect to read when they pick up a book of poetry. But it's real, I pride myself in having a deadly authentic ear."

"I'm an offensive poet. I go out after the reader, after the sacred cow. I try to alienate my readers sometimes; they must learn to think with me. I won't cop out and think with them; I'm not a pulp writer," he says.

"I wrote about pigs in 'The Porcine Legacy' because I didn't want the book to be glamorous. The pig is a very common animal, one people erroneously think they can look down to," Lee says. "That's a wrong assumption of course but it's a place everyone can start from."

Pigs are the motif, the image the poet worked with, but he says, the book is basically about human psychology, the human experience.

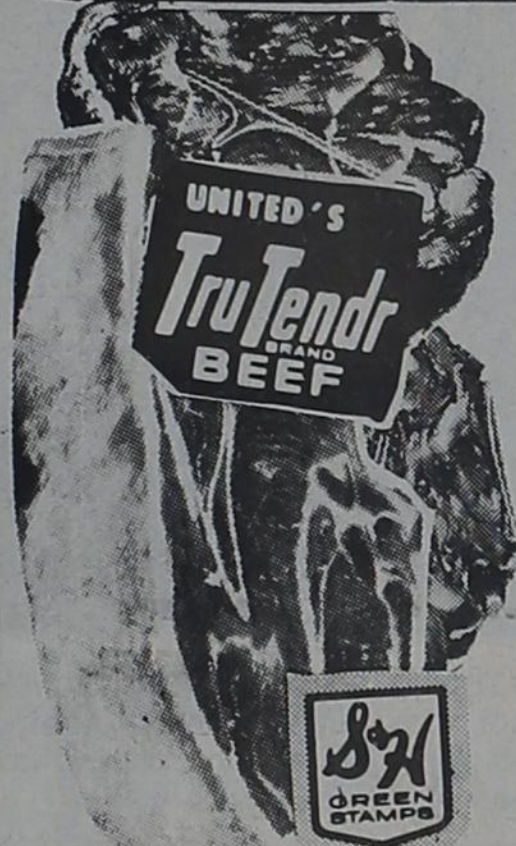

"I don't chase unicorns because I don't believe in unicorns. I write about human beings, about people I know and admire," he says.

Lopes riddle Mustangs' air game, win 20-2

Curtis on two touchdown runs

Coach David Thompson's Post Antelopes completely shut down Denver City's famed passing combo of John Milligan and Mike Ivy in Antelope Stadium Friday night and vaulted into a tie for district 5AA leadership with a conclusive 20 to 2 triumph over their most bitter rivals.

The triumph stunned the Mustangs and sent the largest local crowd of the season into roaring ecstasy.

The Lopes' alert, well-coached defense picked off four of Milligan's 16 throws, sacked him three times for 25 yards in losses, and never let Ivy, the big 6-6, 195-pound star senior end, get his hands on the ball.

Coach Thompson employed a "man to man defense" against Ivy, assigning big safety Rance Adkins to stay with him on every play.

Adkins did his job so well that only two passes thrown to Ivy failed to get through. Adkins hit Ivy with a jarring tackle as the ball arrived on the first one and Ivy couldn't hold on.

On the second one in the fourth, Adkins stepped in front of Ivy on the Post 8 to intercept and set up the Lopes' 92-yard (count em, baby) drive for their final touchdown. Ivy is being rated as one of the top if not the best college grid prospect in the district.

Four different secondary men picked off Milligan's aeriels during the game, but Charles Curtis had the most spectacular one.

Early in the second quarter, he slipped in front of a receiver he was covering in the left flat, stole the pass and sprinted 75 yards untouched for the first score of the game. On about the Mustang 30, he neatly cutback to elude the only tackler with a shot at him.

Post's other two interceptors were Walter Perez, who grabbed a Milligan long throw and returned 30 yards to midfield late in the second to blunt another drive, and Larry Rodriguez in the fourth when he shut down a Mustang thrust by intercepting on his own 18.

All told, the four interceptions killed four promising Denver City drives, resulted directly in Post's first touchdown, and set up the third one.

Milligan did manage to complete six of his 16 passes for a total of 98 yards. But 75 of those yards came on behind-the-line screen passes to Tailback Bruce Speights who got away for three dazzling runs on the only play the Lopes couldn't seem to stop.

The Lopes had a lot of other happy surprises for their visitors and home fans too.

Only three minutes after Curtis scored the first touchdown, Denver City gambled on a fourth and one near midfield and fumbled the ball over to the Lopes. After a pass from Quarterback Drew Kirkpatrick to End Jackie Stelzer moved the ball to the Mustang 26, Kirkpatrick pitched to Curtis for a right end sweep. The junior speedster turned on his after-burner and outran the whole Denver City team into the end zone, being tackled just as he reached the double stripe.

The last surprise was saved for the fourth period — and the coup de grace, Post's final touchdown.

Post had driven from Adkins' interception on the Post eight out to its 45 when the offense bogged down.

Quarterback Kirkpatrick then swept left, lateraled back to end Jimmy Pruitt going the other way. Pruitt found the other end, Mark Holly behind the Mustang secondary and hit him with a long clothesline throw on a 55 yard touchdown play.

Rodriguez converted on his first two after-touchdown kicks, but got the last one blocked. He also was wide right on a 31-yard field goal effort in the third period after a Lope drive stalled on Denver City's 15.

Tailback Alonzo Luna was Post's leading ballcarrier with 53 yards on eight carries. Wingback Jackie Ayala had 20 yards on four carries, one of them a nifty 13-yarder on a counter.

Kirkpatrick had 10 carries for 15 yards, but one of them was a tough 14 yard jaunt in the fourth to get Post moving on its final touchdown drive. Fullback Barry Wyatt got 13 yards in seven tough cracks at Denver City's very solid middle.

Tailback Bruce Speights was the hub of the Mustang attack, picking up 89 yards rushing on 16 carries and another 75 yards on three screen pass runs.

Neither team threatened in the opening quarter though Denver City fumbled the ball to the Lopes on its first scrimmage play on the visitors' 46.

Denver City drove 43 yards to the Post 27 in the second from where the first interception by Curtis resulted in the first Post touchdown.

After the second Post score, the Mustangs drove 52 yards to the Post 15 where they lost the ball on downs when they could not make 24 inches on their final try.

Nothing much happened in the third in the way of scoring threats except a short Post drive to Denver City's 15 from where the field goal was missed.

After Post drove 92 yards early in the final period for their third touchdown, the rest of the game was played in Post territory.

Denver City went on a 60 yard march to the Post 18 where an interception gave the ball to the Lopes. After a penalty and loss had set the Lopes back to their six, a center snap went awry and into the end zone where Tailback Adkins fell on it for a safety and Denver City's only two points.

It was Post's fifth straight victory over their Denver City rivals. The string started in 1975 with a 33-0 win here on Halloween night. Post won 7-0 in 1978 and 20-6 in 1977 before the 7-0 victory last year. The last Denver City win was in 1974 when the Big Red edged Post 7-6 when Post went for a two-point conversion and was a foot short.

The statistics were about even except for Post's four important interceptions the

Frosh bow at Coahoma

Coahoma's frosh handed Post's freshman football team its first loss in four starts at Coahoma last Thursday night, 16 to 8.

Coahoma drove 48 yards in the second period for the first touchdown of the game getting the six-pointer on a fourth down plunge from the one-yard line. The home club then ran over the conversion points for an 8-0 halftime lead.

In the third period, Post marched 68 yards for its touchdown, getting the tally on a one-yard pass from Quarterback Tim Tannehill to Tailback Will Kirkpatrick. Kirkpatrick then hammered off tackle for the tying conversion points.

Coahoma's winning score came in the fourth on a 34-yard drive highlighted by two 15-yard penalties against Post. The tally came with only 2:39 on the clock. Coahoma then added the conversion points.

Post took the succeeding kickoff and marched from its own 18 yard line 54 yards to Coahoma's 28 where the home club came up with a pass interception on its six-yard line with 12 seconds left to end the threat.

Post out-first downed Coahoma, 11 to 9. Post got 110 yards rushing on 34 carries, while Coahoma was getting 151 on 40 carries.

Post had the better of the air game, completing six of 15 for 63 yards with one interception while Coahoma completed only one of three for 27 yards with one interception.

The freshmen will open district play at Slaton tonight in the first of a twin bill with the JVs. The kickoff is scheduled for 5:30 p.m.

Lopes, Vs. Tigers for lead

Coach David Thompson's upstart Lopes will battle the undefeated Slaton Tigers in Antelope Stadium Friday night to see which clubs remain tied for the District 5AA lead.

The Tigers will roll into town for what is sure to be the biggest game of the season at the Antelope Stadium ticket office because Slaton fans will come en masse.

Don't be surprised to see them sitting on Post's side of the field either — after they fill up their side. "Big and good" was three fumble recoveries.

Each team chalked up 148 yards net rushing with Denver City getting 98 passing to 71 for Post, not counting Post's 105 return yards on interceptions. The visitors also led in first downs, 15 to 11.

Defensive End David Poole got two of Post's three sacks of Milligan who went into the game as the district's best passer statistically. Actually he didn't complete a throw — except to Lope defenders — until midway in the third period.

Lope secondary men were covering so closely Milligan had to try to force his throw in there.

On yes, the big win was the Lopes' first of the season and came when it counted — at the start of district play.

Coach Thompson's appraisal of the Tigers whose only blot on their record in four outings is a scoreless tie with state-ranked Littlefield.

JVs lose 26-12 at Coahoma

Post's junior varsity came back to play a fine second half at Coahoma last Thursday night in absorbing a 26 to 12 defeat.

Coahoma scored three times in the first half and led 20 to 0 at intermission, but Post took command in the second half. In fact Post forced and recovered Coahoma fumbles on the host's first three possessions in the second half.

One of those bobbles set up Post on Coahoma's 37 yard line in the third from where the locals drove for their first score with Quarterback David Foster passing 18 yards to end Jerry Hawkins for the six-pointer.

In the fourth period, Post drove 70 yards for their final touchdown with Tailback Brad Greer scoring from three yards out.

On conversion attempts after the two Post touchdowns bad center snaps snarled the plays.

Slaton took their district opener 9-7 from a tough Frenship club last Friday night in Slaton. They also hold relatively easy wins over Colorado City, which the Lopes tied, and Dimmitt.

The Tigers are a running team again this season, running with the ball on about 85 percent of their plays. And with backs like Tailback Lance Bounds, who scored four tds against Colorado City, and Fullback Jessie Titus who zinged the Lopes last year, it is easy to see why.

The Lopes will go into the game with no lineup changes, unless Kelly Mason, a defensive tackle, isn't ready to go. At presstime, he was listed as doubtful because of the twisted ankle which he suffered in the win over Denver City.

Other than a flock of bruises and that twisted ankle, the Lopes came out of the Denver City victory in good shape physically. Asked for his comment on the big win over Denver City, which happened to be the fifth in a row for the Lopes over the Mustangs, Coach Thompson said:

"We put it together and played as a team. When kids work hard in practice it should pay off in a game, and we've been working very hard in practice."

Thompson said he was especially proud of the secondary which held star end, Mark Ivy, without a single reception.

Middle school teams unbeaten

Post Middle School's seventh and eighth grade football teams remain undefeated following wins here over Coahoma last Thursday night in Antelope Stadium.

The seventh graders scored their third victory in four starts — the other was a tie — with a 20 to 12 decision over Coahoma's seventh graders.

Tailback Mike Ollison got Post off on the right foot when he broke outside for 43 yards and a touchdown to cap a four-play 58-yard first period drive. The conversion try failed.

Post made it 14 to 0 in the second when Greg Massey, the other tailback, zipped around end for 14 yards for the second td in an eight-play drive from Coahoma's 44. Ollison slashed off tackle for the two-point conversion.

Coahoma came right back to get their first touchdown on a 35 yard drive but failed to convert.

In the third period, Ollison returned the second half kickoff 53 yards to Coahoma's 17 from where Post carried it across for its final touchdown in two plays, with Massey going outside for the last 11 yards. The conversion failed.

Coahoma got its final touchdown in the fourth but failed to convert.

For Post, Ollison racked up 60 yards from scrimmage in nine carries and Massey 45 yards on 11 carries. Curt Greer got three yards on one carry and Joel Kirkpatrick four on two carries for a team total of 122 yards rushing.

The eighth graders made their record four straight victories, winning 12 to 8 despite playing a sloppy first half.

Tailback Milton Williams returned the game opening kickoff 50 yards to the Coahoma 22 yard line from where Post drove for the td in six plays with Williams. See Middle school, Page 16

Warning out on social security swindlers

"Social Security officials in the five-state Dallas Region have issued warning of a growing number of cases of swindlers who prey on older people by posing as social security representatives."

"In the past two weeks, reports indicate at least eight cases of swindlers operating in New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas," said Laura Peacock, District Manager of the Lubbock social security office.

"A con man posing as a social security representative, took $1,358 of an 87 year old New Mexico man telling the man he would get him more social security benefits. As soon as the con man got the man's savings, he promptly disappeared," Peacock continued.

"A 64 year old man lost $800 the same day the 87 year old lost his savings. Another man lost $600 a week earlier, and an aged couple in Broken Bow, Oklahoma, lost $260 to two swindlers posing as social security representatives."

"One man posing as a doctor, said he would do a physical examination and if the persons health were poor enough, would get the contact a raise of $100 to $125 per month.

"Offices in McAlester, Hugo, and Poteau, Oklahoma, report several persons posing as social security representatives, tried to gain entrance to homes in that area. Once inside, the imposters tried to steal money and valuables. Some tried to sell worthless junk to the home owners.

In one case, three imposters entered a couples home on the pretense that social security wanted to buy them a new carpet to help their arthritis.

One case in the Lubbock area involved a man who asked a woman to go have a physical examination in order to get more money from social security."

"The Lubbock Social Security Administration urges everyone to be extremely cautious of anyone appearing at their home claiming to be a social security representative," Peacock warned.

"Before admitting anyone into their homes, identification of the caller should be made. All social security administration employees who call on the public in their homes have identity cards and will readily show these identification cards when requested.

If anyone has a question about social security representatives calling upon them, a call to the social security office at Lubbock at 806-762-7365 can be made to verify if a representative is in the area," Peacock concluded.

White House conference on libraries planned

Nineteen Texans will be among 570 official delegates from throughout the United States and its territories at the White House Conference on Library and Information Services in Washington on November 15-19. These delegates will be making recommendations for library services during the coming decades. Many of these recommendations result from technological developments that affect libraries.

A century ago reading received an enormous boost from technology. In 1879 Thomas A. Edison received a patent for his incandescent light bulb. Safe and efficient artificial light made it possible for men and women whose work day began at dawn and ended at dusk to read books for information and recreation. One result of the dramatic rise in reading was the development of public libraries.

Today libraries furnish the people who visit them with far more than books. But the book still takes center stage.

In November more than a million Texans will don stickers inviting those that they meet to "Be with a Book for a Day." It's part of a nationwide effort to draw attention to the White House Conference. Stickers will be available at public libraries.

Although librarians have been meeting with one another since the first American Library Association meeting was held in 1876, this is the first national conference at which the majority of delegates are library users and representatives of groups that do not currently use libraries because the services they need are not available. In fact, two thirds of the delegates to the White House Conference are users or potential users of libraries. National Commission on Libraries and Information Sciences requirements for selecting delegates insure broad representation from each state and territory.

Dramatic changes have taken place in libraries in recent years. Some of these have changed the appearances of libraries. Steep steps have been replaced by ground-level entries that are inviting to passers by and accessible to wheel chairs. Hard floors and straight chairs have been replaced by noise absorbing carpet and comfortable seating.

Other changes have been brought about by technology. Books, which remain the major resource of most libraries, are more accessible because of microform catalogs and computer assisted cataloging. Libraries communicate with one another and maintain many of their own records with computers. Easier and less-expensive methods of recording materials for the blind and physically handicapped are enabling these men, women, and children to "read" more books. In Texas, air-conditioning not only makes libraries more comfortable for staff members and users but also protects materials.

Libraries of all kinds are also making greater efforts to insure that all library users know how to use their resources. In schools, colleges, and universities, formal instruction is offered. In public libraries, reference librarians are readily available to assist those who use the collections.

Librarians and friends of libraries will be taking their fellow Texans to "Be with a Book for a Day" in November. Thanks to growth of libraries in recent years, Texans will be able to select from more than 21 million volumes in their public libraries. Additional millions are available in school, college and university libraries. Interlibrary loans will enable men and women who don't find the book they want in their local library to obtain it from another library.

In 1978, Texas checked out more than 41 million items from their public libraries. In other words, Texans are using their libraries. At the Texas Conference on Library and Information Services held in November, 1978, the 200 delegates made recommendations to State government concerning the future role of the State in Texas libraries. At the White House conference, they will be talking about goals for all of this nation's libraries.

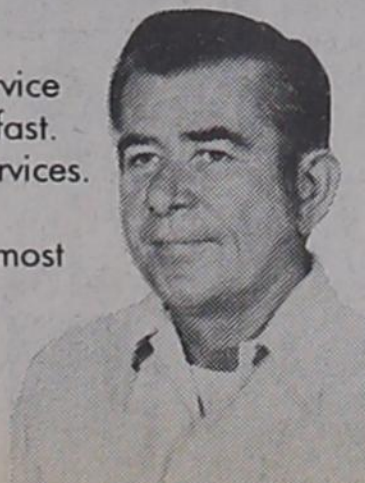

A century after Edison perfected his incandescent light bulb, more people than ever before are reading. But illiteracy remains a problem, and the person who cannot read well is handicapped in all that he does. Increasingly, library users need not simply a book but the book that includes the specialized information they need.

'Expanding horizons' is 4-H Week's theme

COLLEGE STATION — The 4-H program provides youth between the ages of 9 and 19 in Texas and throughout the nation an opportunity to make the most out of life and to become responsible citizens and leaders.

In essence, 4-H provides "expanding horizons," the theme of this year's National 4-H Week, Oct. 7-13, points out Dr. John T. Pelham, state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Extension Service, a part of the Texas A&M University System, is the parent organization of 4-H.

"4-H provides a wide range of 'real-life' experiences for youth in a 'learning-by-doing' environment," explains Pelham. "This helps them become productive, self-directed and contributing members of society."

More than 137,000 boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H in Texas, with the national enrollment totaling some 5.2 million. There are some 2,000 organized 4-H clubs in the state and almost 1,100 special interest groups.

"A vital cog in a successful 4-H program are volunteer leaders," notes Pelham. "Texas boasts some 16,200 adult leaders and more than 6,300 junior and teen leaders who give direction to specific project areas and assist 4-H members with special events and activities."

As far as 4-H projects are concerned, Texas youth are engaged in a wide range of programs that are providing meaningful learning experiences. By far the most popular project area is foods and nutrition, which is attracting more than 36,400 youth. Electric projects rank second at more than 14,370. The horse and pony project is attracting the third highest enrollment with more than 11,500, while clothing and textiles is running a close third with an enrollment of more than 11,200. Following in the top 10 listing of project enrollments are safety, creative crafts, beef, home gardens and sheep and swine.

"With the emergence of new project areas, special interest groups and 'self-directed' programs, 4-H is reaching boys and girls from every cultural, economic and social background and is opening doors to a lifetime of personal growth and fulfillment.

City council—

The council also discussed condemnation of several houses in Post with Fire Marshal Charles Cooper and asked that Cooper bring his recommendations back at a future meeting.

The city judge reported to the council that she had assessed fines in 49 cases in September which brought in $1,802.50 of which the city keeps $1,631 with the remainder going to the state.

The council decided to end bounty payments for stray dogs after Thursday, Oct. 18, giving a week's notice on plans for the discontinuance. Almsot $300 has been paid out in dog bounties.

The council also took a look at the infra-red aerial photos of Post showing heat loss. City Secretary Wanda Wilkerson said 42 home owners have been in to check on heat losses from their homes.

sionally to invite artists for this OS show and in efforts to draw art collectors and gallery buyers here for the occasion.

This year he invited eight new artists to the OS and he said he felt all of them "had done well." He attributed the success of the show, in which over half of the exhibited art was sold for the first time, to this talent mixture.

Five hundred and fifty persons attended the Friday night prevue party.

The second new OS record was the Sunday gate of $13,481 with spectators admitted for both art show and five hours of roping for $5 each.

The Saturday gate was off, totaling only $7,884, with the two-day gate total totaling $21,150.

The third OS record set was the biggest Sunday dinner crowd anywhere in West Texas. A total of 4,500 barbecue dinners were served Sunday noon by a group of volunteers from San Angelo who cooked all Saturday night. Boys from West Texas Boys Ranch helped with the serving and cleanup.

Sale of the OS catalogs also were up this year but a final sales figure won't be available for a while yet.

the donation of a bilirubin light for use on newborns with jaundice from Lubbock's Community Hospital.

A letter from Congressman Charles Stenholm to Dr. Rodriguez was read which stated that the U.S. immigration service has extended Dr. Rodriguez stay in this country to February, 1981, by which time the local physician should qualify for U.S. citizenship.

The September hospital report submitted to the board by Mrs. Reed shows 48 patients admitted to the hospital during the month for a total of 260 patient days with an average stay of 5.4 days and an average patients per day of 8.7.

Twelve babies were born in the hospital during the month and three deaths were recorded. One hundred and sixty-nine outpatients were treated.

Financially, the hospital had $43,762.83 in operating expenses for the month with collections on accounts totaling $20,734.58, $2,231.09 in tax money received and $485.91 as interest income on CDs and savings.

As September was the final month of the hospital's fiscal year, financial totals for the year showed total operating expenses of $573,557.97 with $302,202.56 collected from patients accounts, $289,338.85 received in hospital district taxes, $2,880.98 interest income on CDs and savings, and $10,000 income from the sale of the lots on which the new Huntley Nursing Home is being built.

This gave the hospital a total income of $622,422.39 for the year and a carryover nest egg of approximately $48,864.42 instead of a deficit.

The hospital also lists accounts receivables as $20,359.91 in medicare outstanding, $33,722.45 in other insurance, $57,041.27 in accounts receivable outstanding for a total of $137,317.05 in receivables.

Approximately $50,000 of these receivables, however, all considered uncollectable for a wide variety of reasons, probably will be written off at the conclusion of the current audit of the hospital's books.

During the fiscal year just concluded, the hospital admitted 638 patients for a total of 2,579 patient days with an average patient stay of 4.1 days and 7.1 average patients per day.

Eighty babies were born in the hospital during the year and eight deaths recorded. A total of 2,224 outpatients were treated in the hospital's emergency room by staff physicians.

Of the 638 hospital patients for the year, 246 were admitted under Medicare, 32 under Medicaid and 360 were other patients.

chapter and said there are now a thousand Christian cowboys in 30 states and the continent of Australia.

To get the chapter started, the group wrote to Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry who immediately wrote back on how to organize a chapter affiliated with the FCA.

Arnold explained that the chapter has attracted hundreds to worship services it has conducted in rodeo arenas Sunday mornings before the afternoon's rodeo show.

The chapter has been instrumental in the distribution of 20,000 Bibles among its other projects, and Arnold had some of these Bibles to give anyone at the service who wanted one.

Willard Moody, who won the match calf roping at the OS this year and is one of the top professional calf ropers in the country, is the current president of the Christian Cowboys.

Kenny Youngblood of Lamesa, who also attended the service, will be the chapter's president next year. He spoke briefly.

Dr. Tom Pass, Presbyterian pastor, was in charge of the service with Jim Fullingim, Petersburg cotton farmer, being the guest speaker.

He gave a talk as a witness for Christ but mainly sang gospel songs and then called on Arnold

Benny Jack Ellison, 32, of Ropesville is out on $2,500 bond on a charge of carrying a prohibitive weapon. Sheriff Jim Pippin said it was reported to the sheriff's department that Ellison fired three times in the air with a pistol in a parking lot of one local tavern. Deputies arrested him at his second tavern stop.

At the conclusion of the service, a joint communion service was conducted for all who wished to participate with those attending forming a line to a table on which the wine they were served was grape juice in small paper cups and to break off small chunks of specially prepared bread.

In the second period Coahoma drove 65 yards which consumed most of the quarter for its touchdown and then went ahead 8 to 6 when the visitors ran around end for the two-point conversion.

In the third period, Post dug in, held and took the ball away from Coahoma on its 23 yard line after a drive from the second half kickoff.

From the 23, Post marched 77 yards for the winning touchdown in a long drive which consumed the last half of the third quarter and the first half of the fourth. Williams got that td too, running outside for the last six yards. Again the conversion failed.

Neither team could get moving after that score.

Williams totaled 159 yards from scrimmage on 13 carries, L. D. Harper 30 yards on 10 carries, Jeff Lamb 12 yards on two carries and Giles Dalby three yards on two for a team rushing total of 204 yards.

The offensive line blocked well, coaches said, on the winning touchdown drive and Fullback Dalby's blocking was outstanding leading runners into holes.

The two Middle School teams open district play here tonight against Slaton with the seventh graders teeing up the ball at 5:30 p.m. and the eighth graders kicking off in the second game around 7 p.m.

Willard Moody, who won the calf roping here last year and is among the nation's top calf ropers this year, won a 10-head match calf roping also Saturday from Phil Lyne, former world champion all-around cowboy who won the calf roping at the recent Pendleton (Ore.) Roundup. Moody had a total time of 160.10 seconds to 205.60 seconds for Lyne, who got into big trouble on his second calf.

In the cutting horse contest, the open division was won by Gold Rush II, ridden by Charles Ashcroft of Decatur, Tx., and the
