

Daylight graduation set for record class

To avoid having 1979 graduation postponed because of darkness, the commencement program has been moved up to 7 p.m. Friday night in Antelope Stadium for what is believed to be the largest graduating class in PHS history.

The early start is required because the stadium is without lights due to a backhoe cutting the underground lines for the stadium lighting in the junior high project recently.

The long range weather forecast is calling for possibly more rain Friday night which could force a move of the commencement into the high school gym.

Seventy-five prospective graduates are listed on the commencement program. A.C. Cash, a Post school trustee for many years, will give the commencement address.

The program includes the processional by the high school band under the direction of Jimmie Stringer; the invocation by Robert Elliott, Church of Christ minister; salutatory address by Larisa Shiver; class songs by senior choir; valedictory address by Kerri Pool; presentation of scholarships; class history by Cindy Terry; introduction of speaker by Dan Nelson, class president; commencement address by Cash.

Presentation of class by school board by Supt. W.F. Shiver; presentation of diplomas by Jack Lott.

president of school board, school song sung by senior class; benediction by Rev. Glenn Reece of the First Baptist Church; and recessional by high school band. Prospective graduates are: Randy Ammons, Dana Dalby tells Rotarians----

Garza not in new district

County Judge Giles Dalby told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon he got Garza County taken out of the West Texas area covered by the water importation bill now moving through the legislature because it sets up a board with taxing authority "that scares me."

He said Garza, Crosby and Dickens counties pulled out of the bill.

According to the way Dalby said he interprets the bill, the taxing board of the water importation district could levy a tax up to 50 cents maximum per $100 on 100 percent of market value. A house now on the tax rolls at $20,000 could well be boosted at present escalating values to $40,000 or $50,000 market value, and the water importation tax could total a amount bigger than all the other taxes combined.

"Water importation is still 20 to 25 years down the road," Dalby declared. "Only one-third of the county — that above the Cap — would gain any advantage from actual water importation. We can always go back in and join up in the future if we decide it is to our advantage."

Dalby, who is vice president of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association and on its legislation committee, said voters in the fall probably will get to vote on a

Guilty plea entered

Daniel Morrow, high school junior, pleaded guilty in district court Tuesday to a charge of criminal mischief of over $200 but less than $10,000.

The guilty plea came following his indictment by a Garza district court grand jury.

According to the indictment he did damages totaling $2,043.04 early in the morning of March 20 in slashing tires of vehicles belonging to Jim Pollard, Dan Rankin, Phil Alford, Joe Giddens, Ed Sawyers, Wanda Mitchell, Billy Hahn, Sonny Gossett, Jackie Brown, Roy Teaff and Boog Holly.

District Attorney, Joe Smith was granted his motion by Judge George Hansard that the punishment be assessed as a class A misdemeanor instead of a felony.

Judge Hansard sentenced Morrow to serve 30 days in the county jail following school and put him on a three-year probation for an additional year in jail.

As part of his probation, Morrow will make restitution for the $2,043.

Rancher of year award to Borens

John and James Boren together were named Garza's "conservation rancher of the year" Monday night at the annual awards banquet of the Garza Soil and Water Conservation District held in the Post Community Center.

The Borens operate a ranch in the Justiceburg area.

Poster contest and essay contest winners also were presented their cash awards as a banquet feature.

These included Houston Heidelberg, $15, first in posters; D'Lynn Young, $10, second in posters; Golden Capps, $5, third in posters; Katrina Chaffin, $15, first in essay; Shelly McGehee, $10, second in essay; and Cindy Courtney, $5, third in essay. See Borens named, Page 12

Jaycees on 1st project

The newly organized Post Jaycees began their community service work this week by starting construction of a six-foot cyclone fence for the Post Satellite School at 201 N. Avenue M.

Jaycee president Sammy Palmer announced completion of the project is scheduled for next Monday.

The Post Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet every other Monday night at 7:30 p.m., beginning May 28. A permanent meeting place is still to be determined.

Any young man between the ages of 18 and 35 is encouraged to attend. Prospective members are urged to call either 2023 or 3220 for further information on the Jaycees.

This is The Dispatch's annual graduation edition. It's a 20-pager packed with lots of information, including much of the news generated by the winding up of the school year. What we couldn't get in will be in next week.

—O—
Lane Tannehill, high school student counselor here, came in yesterday with an interesting six-year study on what has happened to the 375 PHS graduates from 1973 through 1978.

Using Lane's figures, we found that 173 of those graduates or 46 percent are college graduates, taking advanced work toward a second degree, are still in college, or are taking nursing, trade, technical or business school training.

—O—
Of the 375, eight percent or 30 have graduated from college, 28 are in their third college year, 45 in their second college year, and 52 in their first college year. Of those still in college, most of them plan to go back next year.

—O—
One percent, or three students, are now studying (See Postings, Page 12)

Youth recreation to kick off Monday

The Garza County Summer Recreation Program will begin for the summer, Monday, June 4, with registration set for Saturday, June 2 in the foyer of the high school gym from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

The program will last for six weeks with activities beginning at 9 a.m. until 12 noon on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Each one participating in the summer program may choose as many as six different activities or as few as one, selecting what is fun to him or her.

Activities offered are gymnastics, girls softball, tennis, golf, arts and crafts, games, swimming, track, weights, football and cheerleading. Tennis will be restricted to children who will be in the fifth, sixth, seventh or eighth grades next school year.

Children will be responsible for their own transportation or getting to and from each activity, with most of the activities on or around the school grounds. An adult will accompany the smaller children to and from the swimming pool and transportation will be provided to the golf course.

Equipment will be furnished for those who do not have their own, such as rackets and clubs.

Joe Giddens is again in charge of the summer program and invites youth (See Recreation, Page 12)

Mayor to speak Memorial Day

Mayor Giles McCrary will be the speaker for the annual Memorial Day services in Terrace Cemetery at 10 a.m. Monday morning.

The services will be jointly sponsored by VFW Post 6797 and American Legion Post 270.

The Rev. Glen Reece will deliver the invocation. Graves of all veterans, approximately 300, who are buried in the cemetery will be decorated with small flags following the service.

VFW Commander Max Chaffin requests the assistance of relatives of deceased veterans to aid in location of all such graves for marking because records on the locations of the graves are incomplete.

"We do our best to find them all," Commander Chaffin told The Dispatch this week, "but it is difficult and we are often criticized if we miss a grave. We need help to do it right."

The VFW post, as in past years, is sponsoring a free Memorial Day breakfast at the VFW clubhouse to everyone, the breakfast will be served from 6 to 8 a.m.,

Chaffin said. Memorial Day is being observed as one of the nation's "Monday See Memorial Day, Page 12

Reception set for graduates

A reception will be held in the community center Friday night immediately following graduation ceremonies.

The reception is sponsored by senior mothers and all seniors, parents, grandparents and friends are invited.

Refreshments will be served.

Defensive driving course announced

The Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a "defensive driving course" June 28-29 here with participants who complete the two-night course qualifying for a 10 percent discount in their automobile insurance for the next three years.

The savings on insurance will amount to more than three times the $12 cost of the course, the way The Dispatch figures it.

Besides learning to drive defensively will make one a much better driver and could easily save your life and the lives of others.

The way The Dispatch understands it this is an example of how a driver's savings in taking the course could be figured.

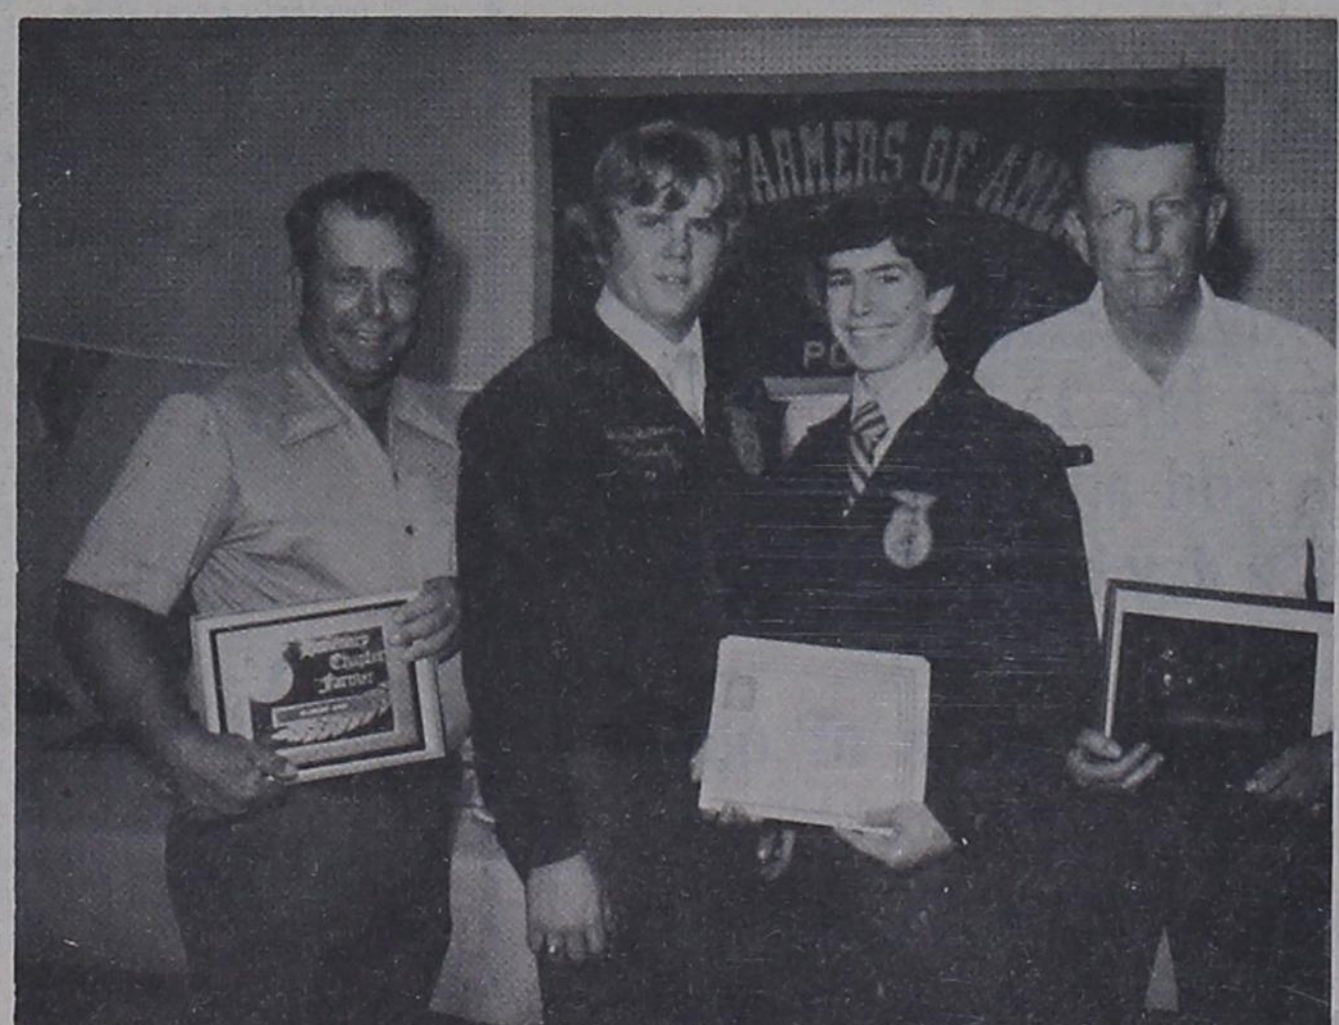

The basic state required 10-20-5 liability coverage will cost $7.10 a year. Then if you're driving a 1979 Monte Carlo with $200 deductible collision, the cost is $97 annually which would bring an added savings of $9.70 per year or a $16.80 savings on the two coverages.

Over three years that would amount to a total savings of $50.40 as against a $12 charge for the course.

Texas Highway Patrolman Jeff Torgorsen of Brownfield will teach the eight-hour course, which will be given Thursday and Friday nights, June 28-29, from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the high school library.

The $12 entry fee covers both tuition and a workbook.

Both the Texas Insurance Commission and the state highway department feel so (See Driving course, Page 12)

The 1979 graduate may look with some apprehension at the world he or she is about to "fly" into as the nest for the first time is left behind.

It's a complicated and imperfect world, but it's not as dangerous and zany as it was 10 or 15 years ago, when younger generations faced the hazards of drafted military service in the current "little war" of the day and began to rebel at all the old values.

Things have changed some for the better since then. The draft is no longer with us although the volunteer armed services are proving so unsuccessful it may be coming back in a few years.

The "revolutionaires" by and large are still doing their thing, but in other countries and mostly far away on other continents.

But our "wheely" American civilization is threatened by a fast shortening fuel supply and Arab greed now rules the world without even possessing the hydro-g-bomb.

With the "new bad" we're experiencing today there's sure to be some future good come from it.

By necessity, America will soon be in the process of rediscovering itself. We will learn to make some individual sacrifices for the good of all and to live with more and more of less and less as we continue to diminish out natural resources.

The young people who went forth just two or three years ahead of you are now mousing an entirely new life style in which success is measured in the fun of living not by measuring one's materialistic stockpile.

Even in politics, there is a new American way. You don't have to be rich, or sign your life away for a "stake" to run for president any more. Power politics is losing its crunch. All kinds of political personalities now dot the scene.

You can almost hear the surge of a new science coming. Since America has not lost its love for the automobile, science must come up with new ways to keep the wheels spinning. Detroit may soon climb out of its stagnation of big cars. And don't be too surprised if old Uncle Sam doesn't actually finance some of their fuel economy research.

Education is not the gilded American toy it once was. Everybody is beginning to realize they don't need a $20,000 college degree to go get a decent job. If you're smart enough to spend only a few months in a trade school, you'll jump to the head of your class economically.

They're starting to sell computers for homes these days, and they're beginning to put them on cars, so there is not telling where the path of electronic wizardry will end.

There's not a teacher shortage any more and somebody back East said last week if the medical schools don't cut enrollments young physicians will soon be an expensive glut on the market. This is very hard to believe after all these years.

Oh yes, the little towns are coming back. Those big concrete jungles not only offer all the goodies, but they pack in all the horrors of modern life — and we've developed some great ones in recent years.

But mainly the message is that your future no longer has to be worn as a strait jacket. Pick out the thing you want to do, and the place you want to do it. Try life on for size. And before you get all tied into your future do the things you've always dreamed of doing right away.

Our generation had that all wrong. By the time one had the wherewithal to make his or her dreams come true, the dreams had changed. And mostly the strength was gone.

It's about time for your venturing forth. And remember, the venturing in itself is the goal now, not the proverbial pot of gold at the end of the illusionary rainbow.

Maybe a very good sting

The "killer bees" probably surprised most Texans. Killer bees? Who are they? Few knew until they hit the headlines by disappearing from the senator chamber of the legislature last Thursday night and hid out in Austin until Tuesday afternoon.

By that time they apparently successfully killed an early presidential primary which would have permitted all kinds of party crossovers prior to the regular primary election in May.

The point the "Killer bees" make that is most important, however, is that the average

Texan hears very little about legislative activity and knows very little of what goes on down there the 140 days the legislature is in session.

If the "killer bees" do nothing more by their walkout, they may awake the news media and the reading public to what's going on in the capital city.

That in the end could save the taxpayers a whole lot more than eight million bucks. That is, if the voters kept up with the action and applied their own muscle at the right time.

"Kissinger: Recalling the Humor", the sub-title being, "Travels with Henry", by Richard Valeriani. This book is said to be the best one written about the former Secretary of State and is a "must" reading. It is the unreported side of Mr. Kissinger's travels, the human side or the humorous side and is therefore educational.

Another book, highly recommended is, "Square Pony Express" by Felix C. Gotschalk and is the story of a robot Wells Fargo Courier, fighting to complete his run through mechanical dangers and hazards in dealing with planes, trains, and buses. It is an old story with a different perspective.

I have a best seller list of Dallas and New York. It was interesting to me and I hope it will be for you. As you know, the Best Seller List is come-by the books sold by all book stores in certain areas. Numbers 1 and 2 were the same in Fiction and were "The Matarese Circle", by Robert Ludlum and "Good as Gold", by Joseph Heller. Number three in New York was "War and Remembrance" by Herman Wouk, number four was "Chesapeake" by James Michner and number five, "SS-GB" by Len Deighton. Neither of the last three were mentioned on the Dallas list, but are number three, "The Vicar of Christ" by Walter F. Murphy; number four, "Class Reunion" by Rona Jaffee and number five "There's No Such Place as Far Away", by Richard Bach.

In non-fiction both areas agree on number one, "The Complete Scarsdale Medical Diet by Herman Tarnower, M.D. and Sann Sinclair Baker. Then in New York number two was "The Bronx Zoo" by Sparky Lyle and Peter Golenbock; number four, "How to Prosper During the Coming Bad Years", by Howard J. Ruff; and number five, "Sophia" by A.E. Hotchner.

In Dallas, number two of non-fiction is "How to Prosper in the Coming Bad Years"; number three, "To Set the Records Straight" by Judge John J. Sirica; number four, "The Bronx Zoo", (this is number two in New York and number five in Dallas) "The Powers That Be," by David Halberstam.

The books that have come out in Paperback are cheaper but like everything else the price of paperbacks are higher. The following books can be purchased in paperback. "If Life is a Bowl of Cherries, What Am I Doing in the Pits?"; "A Time for Truth" by William Simon; "Tears of Gold", by Laurie McBain; "Scruples" by Judith Krantz; "The World According to Garp" by John Irving; "Bloodline" by Sidney Shelton; and "The Women's Room" by Marilyn French.

Lynn taxes up 65 percent

TAHOKA — Taxes are going to jump in Lynn County this year.

Faced with a deficit of more than $35,000 already, the county commissioners court plans to boost taxes 65 percent next year.

This will be done by increasing the percentage of assessment from 22 percent to 38 percent of real value.

This is not quite as bad as it sounds in that real value on the tax rolls is actually only 65 percent of actual present day values, according to a revaluation team which took a look at county property values last year.

County commissioners concede the tax boost won't be popular but it is essential if basic county services are to be continued.

it's a family affair!

New historical marker sought

A proclamation by Governor Bill Clements, declaring May as History Appreciation Month in Texas, was received by the Garza County Historical Commission in its called meeting Tuesday.

As part of their celebration of History Appreciation Month, the local commission recently sponsored a tour of area museums. Twelve persons attended the tour which included the Slaton Museum, Green Memorial Museum in Wilson, the Lynn County Museum in Tahoka, and the Blocker Memorial Museum in O'Donnell.

The GCHC voted to submit an application to the state commission for a historical marker commemorating the Early Post City Water Works. The original water supply consisted of numerous water wells located on top of the Caprock, and a concrete reservoir.

David Newby reported that restoration on the front exterior of the Algerita Building was coming along nicely. He said that most of the work would be completed this summer, with the addition of the sidewalk canopy scheduled for completion next fall. The commission extended its appreciation to David for his efforts in restoring the historical building.

Ruby Kirkpatrick reported that the exterior repairs on the Museum building had been completed and paid for. Cleaning operations are now underway. The Commission was informed of additional plumbing repairs deemed necessary, which were not included in the original repair contract. The Garza County Historical Commission agreed to pay for the plumbing repair.

Frank Runkles presented plans for repairs of the front steps and a wide front walk extending from the Museum Building to the curb. The Commission voted to accept the walk as their project contribution to the restoration and beautification of the Museum Building. Lottie Shelton presided.

Helen Miller to head cancer group

Mrs. Helen Miller was elected president of the local chapter of the American Cancer Society during a recent meeting in Judge Giles Dalby's office.

President Iris Truelock conducted the meeting and elections with other officers as vice president, Iris Truelock; secretary-treasurer, Frances Camp; public education, Faye Mathis; professional education, Ed Zintgraff; public information, Norma Baumann and crusade chairman, Nelda Dalby.

Delegates were elected to attend the District III meeting in Lubbock and are Faye Mathis, Tom Pass, Helen Miller and Nell Dalby with Mrs. Dalby and Mrs. Mathis also elected to attend the division meeting in Houston.

Reviews were given by outgoing chairman of the different divisions.

Two recognition awards were presented to Mrs. Ruby Williams and Mrs. Helen Miller for their service to the chapter during the year.

The local crusade is still going on with most of the residential sections in but some of the businesses still out. The crusade is hoped to be finished in the near future. It has already exceeded last year's goal.

84th birthday is celebrated

Mrs. Pearl Storie was hostess to the Merry-makers Club when it met in her home May 8.

The meeting was called to order by president, Linda Malouf and the roll call was answered with "How I Spent Mother's Day." All members but one had spent the day with their children and Mrs. Malouf was hostess to 18 members of her family in her home.

Refreshments of banana nut bread and a three tiered coconut cake, baked by Mrs. Storie's granddaughters were served to members from a table laid with a pink lace cloth and featuring antique glass centerpiece.

Following the meeting, members drove to Tahoka to the Colonial Nursing Home to help Bonnie Adamson celebrate her 84th birthday. Club members presented her with a box of candy.

Members attending were Sadie Storie, Ida Wheatley, Analue Clinesmith, Linda Malouf and Pearl Storie.

The next meeting will be held May 22 with Sadie Storie as hostess.

Delegate is named

The Graham Homemakers Extension Club met Friday, May 18 at 2 p.m. in the Graham community center.

During the business meeting, presided over by Nona Lusk, the club selected a delegate to attend the state meeting in Fort Worth in the spring. Nona Lusk was selected with Viva Davis as the alternate. The club voted to help Scurry County with the district meeting. Jewel Parrish gave a council report to those present.

Hostess Myrtle Peel served refreshments to ten members and one guest, Mrs. Stella Moyer of Weatherford.

The club adjourned to meet again on June 1st in the home of Mrs. Lucille Bush.

Rice party honors Nelda Kim Leake

A rice, roses and recipe party honored Miss Nelda Kim Leake in the home of Mrs. H. M. Compton Sunday afternoon, May 20.

Guests were greeted and registered by Mrs. Compton who then presented them to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Anne Leake and her grandmother, Mrs. Preston Mathis. Each guest brought Miss Leake her favorite recipe.

The bride's chosen colors of yellow and white were carried out in the entertaining room with the coffee table accented with a bride doll and streamers with wording of Nelda and Jeff were attached to a pair of wedding vow plaques. Yellow satin rose petals were placed on the table.

An antique cut glass jewel box containing a large yellow rose with a string of pearls extending from the box and entwined the decoupage wedding invitation handmade by the hostess adorned another table.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of yellow roses and Lily of the Valley in a cut crystal bowl. Crystal and gold appointments were used. Mrs. Julie Mason presided at the serving table. Heart shaped sandwiches and individual cakes.

Julie Hudman girl of year

Julie Hudman was named "Girl of the Year" Monday, May 14, at the annual Founders Day banquet for Gamma Mu sorority. The banquet was held at 7 p.m. at Damon's Restaurant.

New officers for the coming year were installed following the meal, they are: Sara Holder, president; Carol Williams, vice-president; Helen Gerner, secretary; Jana McCallister, treasurer; and Kathy Fluitt, educational director. Following the installation, gifts were presented to Julie as "Girl of the Year" and to Sherry Crownover, who will be leaving the sorority as her family is moving.

Members enjoying the evening were: Sara Holder, Johnnie Norman, Ruth Ann Young, Jane George, Orabeth White, Helen Mason, Julie Hudman, Jane Mason, Helen Gerner, Sherry Crownover, Sharlot Sparlin, Kathy Fluitt, Jana McCallister and Irene Fry.

Johnson, Eula Evans, Analue Clinesmith, Dorothy Travis, Alma Hutto, Margie Dietrich, Sadie Storie, Innis Thuett, Linda Malouf, Zella Webb, Lucy Callis, Katherine Cathcart and the hostess.

Refreshments were served to guest, Ella Mae Jones and to members, Katherine

Few volunteer for cleanup

Post Cleanup Week Chairman Joy Greer has had mightily few adult volunteers for the community's Chamber sponsored cleanup day Saturday, June 9.

She has had only seven or eight commitments so far, and thinks a reasonably good job could be done with a group of 15 to 20.

She still has two industries and a couple of civic organizations to hear from, but as of now, Post isn't going to get very clean unless more want to help.

3 Little League teams unbeaten

Baseball season off to fast start

Half of the Post Little League's six teams remained undefeated today, six games into the 1979 season which includes a 45-game schedule on a five-nights-a-week basis through June 23.

Palmer Oil Field Construction A's, the First National Bank Dodgers, and the Storie Gin Tigers are setting the pace, the Tigers and Dodgers with two wins apiece and the A's with one.

The Postex Plant Yankees have won one of the three starts with the Fire Department Cardinals and the George R. Brown Red Sox mired in the basement with two straight defeats.

The A's came up with a 7 to 6 victory over the Cardinals in the opening game Friday night with each team managing seven hits. Willie Osby got three of them for the winners while cleanup hitter Todd Angerer rapped out just as many for the losers.

David Redman who was replaced during a four-run Card rally in the bottom of the fourth by Delton Osborn got credit for the victory while Gerald Carlton went the six-inning route for the Cards to take the loss.

Both the Yanks and the Red Sox clubbed out 18 hits each in the nightcap as the Yanks pulled out a 16 to 10 win.

Danny Storie got four of them for the winners with Sammy Bocanegra and Theodoro Paiz each getting three. Jay Claborn got four straight hits for the losers with M. Lee and Mike Johnson rapping out three apiece.

Both teams scored each inning after the Red Sox were set down without a score in the top of the first. The Yanks got 12 in the first three innings and were never headed. Tommy Basquez held the Cardinals to but two safeties and one run in going the route Monday night as the Dodgers defeated the Cardinals 8 to 1.

The Dodgers put it away with a big five-run rally in the bottom of the fourth. Keith Craig went the route for the losers and served up but five hits.

The Tigers scored seven runs in the top of the fifth in the nightcap to register an easy win 11 to 3 over the Yanks as Pitcher Curt Greer socked four straight hits, including a double and a triple for the winners.

The first four batters who went to the plate for the Dodgers Tuesday night got hits and scored runs as the Dodgers romped to a 9-1 victory over the Yankees on ten safeties.

Javier Valdez and Greg Massey split the mound chore with three innings each for the winners and gave up but one single to Yankee hitters although walking home a run in the fourth. Valdez also cracked two triples for the winners.

The nightcap Tuesday night went into the record books as a complete game and a 10 to 4 win by the Tigers over the Red Sox but was called after four innings because of no lights on the playing field.

The Tigers won it the first time up, scoring all ten runs in the first inning on seven hits, walks, and etc., as 15 batters went to the plate before the Red Sox could get the side out.

Both teams scored each inning after the Red Sox were set down without a score in the top of the first. The Yanks got 12 in the first three innings and were never headed. Tommy Basquez held the Cardinals to but two safeties and one run in going the route Monday night as the Dodgers defeated the Cardinals 8 to 1.

Post and most of Garza county received two showers Sunday evening and Monday afternoon, but not enough moisture was received to plant cotton.

Post officially received 68 of an inch with .21 in the Sunday shower and .38 more Monday. That brings the May moisture total to 1.07 inches.

The Secret Life Of The Forest

OUR NATIVE TREES
These 12 trees helped build America. But if you met them in the forest, would you know their names?
This material was prepared by the St. Regis Paper Company which — together with the other members of the forest products industry — is vitally concerned with maintaining the beauty and usefulness of America's forests for the generations to come.

EASTERN WHITE PINE — An important tree in Colonial America for homes and ships, it is still an important timber tree.

LONGLEAF PINE — This tree is a major source of turpentine, pitch and resin; its lumber is widely used in building construction.

WESTERN HEMLOCK — Tall and graceful, the western hemlock is important for timber and is also a prime source of pulpwood.

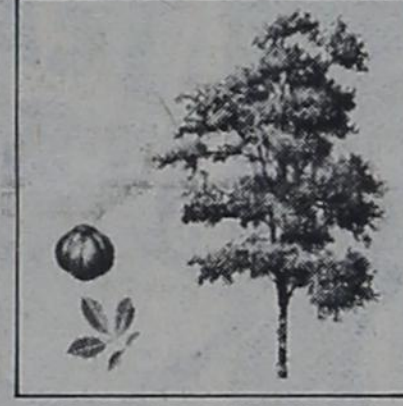

DOUGLAS FIR — Averaging 150 to 200 feet in height, the Douglas fir is considered the most important timber tree in the world.

WHITE SPRUCE — The major pulping tree of the eastern U.S., it has strong, resilient wood used for lumber and many musical instruments.

WHITE OAK — The oaks have always been our most important hardwood timber trees. White oak was the traditional wood for whiskey barrels.

SHAGBARK HICKORY — Its lumber supplied spokes for the wheels that crossed the continent. Hickory smoke is used for curing ham.

YELLOW POPLAR — The tallest hardwood in the East, it is a favorite ornamental tree. Its wood is used for musical instruments and furniture.

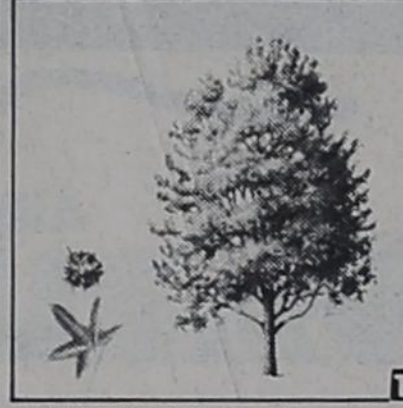

SUGAR MAPLE — Not only the source of maple syrup and maple sugar, it is a source of fine hardwood, prized for furniture.

BALSAM FIR — The most popular of all Christmas trees; it is used extensively for wooden boxes and is the source of Canada balsam oil.

PONDEROSA PINE — Second only to the Douglas fir as a timber tree, its wood is used for lumber, railroad ties and telephone posts.

SWEET GUM — This strong lightwood is widely used in furniture, and it is also an important pulping tree.

15,000 bass into lake

CROSBYTON — Over 15,000 smallmouth bass were stocked into White River Lake near Crosbyton last week by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"These fish were about one inch in length and came from the P&WD hatchery at San Angelo," said Joe Kraai, fishery biologist. "These smallmouths are from the Tennessee strain which seem to grow bigger in a shorter length of time which should furnish South Plains anglers with a smallmouth fishery in five to six years," Kraai continued.

Smallmouths, such as are being stocked into White River lake, occupy different regions of the lake and do not normally compete with largemouth bass which are already established in the lake.

This stocking program is scheduled to continue for two more years as the P&WD fish stocking projects spread across Texas.

Babe Ruth cleanup set

Post's cleanup day isn't until Saturday, June 9, but the Babe Ruth cleanup day comes Saturday, all day beginning at 10 a.m., to get the park in shape for 1979 play.

The district tourney for Babe Ruth 15-year-olds is scheduled for Post in July, providing the local playing field passes district inspection.

That's why a good turnout is needed Saturday to start getting the field ready before the Post Babe Ruth league swings into play after school is out.

'78 Garza output 6,752,054 bbls.

Garza County, which has had recorded production since 1926, last year produced 6,752,054 barrels of crude oil at the rate of 18,499 barrels per day. Production in 1978 boosted Garza County's production total through the end of the year to 162,626,308 barrels.

In 1978, 24 counties produced more than 10-million barrels of crude oil, a decrease of two counties from 1977, a decrease of three from 1976, and six from 1975.

The following chart shows 1978 production figures for the state's five top producing counties, all with production in excess of 40-million barrels. Yoakum retained its spot as the state's top producing county, while Gaines, moving from fourth to second, exchanged places with Scurry County. The top five counties in oil production in 1978 were: Yoakum, 71,164,311 barrels; Gaines, 60,706,710 barrels; Ector, 59,227,760 barrels; Scurry, 58,074,266 barrels; and Hockley, 47,426,886 barrels.

In addition to the top five, nine other counties topped 20-million barrels of crude oil produced last year. They included the following: Gregg, 45,957,297 barrels; Pecos, 45,777,071 barrels; Andrews, 44,226,614 barrels; Refugio, 34,788,199 barrels; Crane, 34,091,940 barrels; Wood, 32,590,568 barrels; Brazoria, 29,290,811 barrels; Harris, 24,217,109 barrels; and Montgomery, 22,076,016 barrels.

Gregg County, the first Texas county to produce more than two-billion barrels of crude oil in the history of recorded production, remains the all-time leader with a cumulative total through 1978 of 2,642,- 750,960 barrels. Ector County, through the end of last year, had produced 2,195,128,255 barrels.

LETTERS to the Editor

A CLARIFICATION, PLUS DEAR EDITOR:

I wish to clarify a statement that was made in the paper concerning the school board meeting. If being concerned and asking questions qualifies me as a "sniping parent" then I guess that's what I am and will continue to be.

When spending $58,000.00 on a track was discussed in the paper, I thought like a lot of people, when you have a set budget and plan to spend extra money for an unplanned item, other parts have to be cut short. That's the question I wanted answered, and the board answered, that the money would not come from other parts. I'm not necessarily against the track, but I am glad the voters will make the decision, not just a small group of people. Before it was answered, I made the statement that "I've lived here over ten years and have seen kids who can't read and thought the money would be better spent getting better teachers here, therefore, better education for our kids."

As far as I've always understood to educate means to teach reading and writing first yet some seniors aren't able to fill out a job application. I'm not talking about kids with special problems but normal kids. I realize that statistics show that kids are at a lower level of education than they used to be, but are we supposed to be content with that? By better teachers, I don't mean we don't have any here, because I think we have some fantastic teachers, but they are the ones who live here and get to know our children and their problems. We also have some fine teachers who commute here. Juanela Hayes said there is a large turnover of teachers here because of low pay and I agree. I think we would not have teachers here for 1 or 2 years that leave for higher pay. I also think it's the high turnover that is partly the cause for kids unable to receive the best education that Post has to offer.

I also have to put in a plug for P.T.A. as I feel a lot of the problem here is caused by a lack of communication. There has been no P.T.A. here for more than ten years, WHY? Parents and teachers move here and wonder where it is, and have nothing but praise for it in their last school. It promotes understanding, learning and cooperation between parent and teacher. Why do no teachers come to meetings? Why don't more parents come to meetings? If they were really interested, I feel they would and hope they will. If you think that we're "out to get the teachers" or just to stir up trouble, why don't you show up and find out, our next meeting will be in the fall.

FACTS & FIGURES

Experts estimate that fully 50 percent of all blindness can be prevented, and that 90 percent of eye injuries are avoidable.

Wearing effective safety eye wear in school and on the job has saved the sight of over 63,000 people.

You can get a free booklet about preventing blindness from your state Prevention of Blindness Society or the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, N.Y., N.Y. 10016.

TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. Cline Drake of Carrollton will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with a reception May 27 from 1 to 6 p.m. in their son's home at 5522 68th, Lubbock. The former Marie Marsh and Drake were married May 25, 1929 in Dallas and have lived in the Lubbock area from 1947 to 1969. Cline Drake is well known in this area as a minister of the Church of Christ. Cline has been preaching since 1932. He is now semi-retired as full-time minister but still preaches in the Dallas area.

SAFETY QUIZ

Do you have a high rating on eye safety? This quiz can help you see how much you know.

1. If you get a speck in your eye, you should (a) rub it (b) pull your upper lid over your lower one (c) apply beefsteak?

2. You can look at the sun (a) anytime (b) when wearing dark glasses (c) never?

3. Safety glasses are (a) required by law (b) for industry only (c) useless?

4. Children need eye examinations (a) before entering school (b) in school (c) not until they complain.

ANSWERS: 1. (b) Never rub anything into your eye. You could scratch the cornea and cause permanent damage. If tears won't clean the eye, see a doctor. 2. (c) Never look directly at the sun, even while wearing sunglasses. They cannot guard against dangerous infrared rays. 3. (a) All eyeglasses and sunglasses are now required by the Food and Drug Administration to have impact-resistant lenses. People who work with chemicals, power tools or other dangerous objects at work or school should also wear special safety goggles. 4. (a) Every child's eyes should be examined before entering school and periodically thereafter. Some vision defects can mean permanent loss of vision if not treated before a child is six years old. You can get free booklets about eye safety from your state Prevention of Blindness Society or from the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, N.Y., N.Y. 10016. 220 attend J-S banquet

Glittering stars, a winking moon, spiral staircase to the stars with white floating clouds and a metallic gazebo. All this and more greeted the 220 guests attending the annual junior-senior banquet Saturday night, May 18 in the Post Community Center.

Following the invocation Meg Nelson, president of the junior class, welcomed guests to the affair with Dan Nelson, senior class president, giving the response. Sophomore servers then served a chicken fried steak supper catered by Southern Seas of Lubbock.

Entertainment was provided by Marita Jackson and Phil Alford who gave their rendition of "Memories," world affairs, including popular songs and local happenings of the juniors and seniors high school years. They concluded their program with a rendition of "You Light Up My Life" and "Evergreen."

The class prophecy was read by Debbie Tyler with Nita Jo Gunn reading the class will.

Following the banquet, a dance was held until 1:30 p.m. The movie, "Smoky and the Bandit", was then shown.

Breakfast was held in the Lewis Mason home for the juniors. For the seniors it was a swim and breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Cash.

10 DAYS IN JAIL

Orval Joe Hair, 25, of Post pleaded guilty in county court Tuesday to a marijuana misdemeanor charge. He was ordered to pay $65 in fines and court costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail by County Judge Giles Dalby.

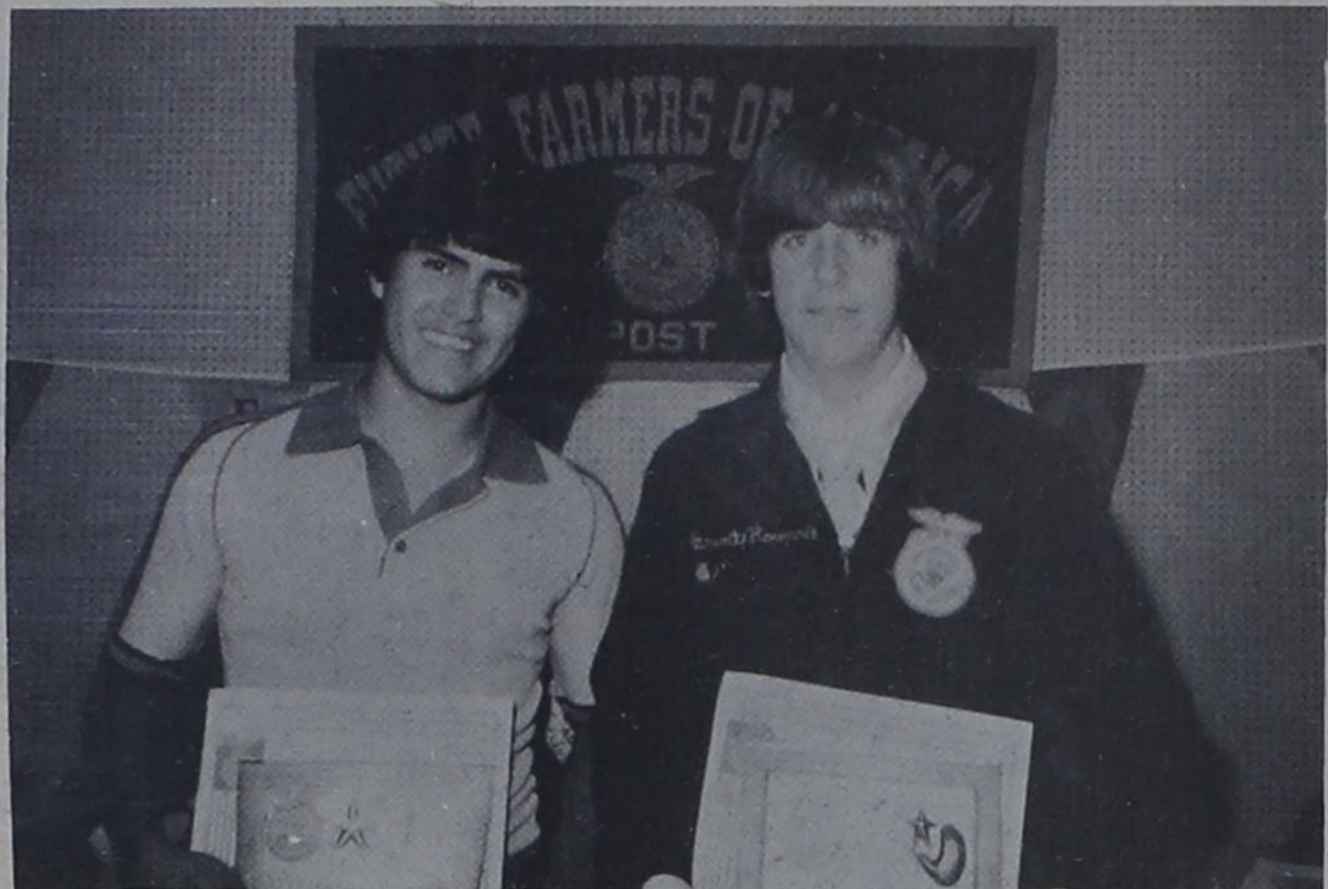

The first recorded coffee houses, in 16th century Turkey, were known as "Mekteb-i-irfan," meaning "schools of the cultured."

Pringler to head council

Doris Pringer was elected president of the Post Middle School Student Council during recent elections.

Other officers elected were Jana Middleton, vice president; Leigh McCook, secretary-treasurer with eighth grade representatives to be Shannon Adkins, Kent Duren, Emily Elliott and Cindee Jackson.

Seventh grade representatives are Cathy Davis, Lisa Kocurek, Kayla Peel and Misty West.

FFA scholarship to Dale Redman

The annual Post Future Farmers of America banquet was held Monday night at 7:30 in the stock show barn cafeteria with approximately 100 guests, parents and members attending.

A roast beef dinner was served by the Greenhand Officers with parents furnishing deserts.

Shorty Bilberry, president of the local chapter opened the program by introducing his officers and their duties. Lynn Simpson, vice president, then presented awards and recognitions which included an agricultural scholarship of $100 to Dale Redman; Star Green Hand went to Brent Howard and Star Chapter Farmer to Adolfo Varela.

Bilberry then presented Honorary Chapter Farmer plaques to Clarence Gunn for his help in the construction of the new barn and to Russell Wilks Jr., for his help with the Ag teams in coaching and preparing them for state competition.

Other awards went to Steve Kitchens for agricultural electrification; Darrell Reece, landscape management; Kathy Gandy, ornamental horticulture; Charlie Hall, farm safety; James Bilberry, public speaking; Kelly Baker, floriculture; Benny Jackson, farmstead and home improvement; Lance Dunn, swine production;

Also Eric Cravy, crop production; Drew Kirkpatrick, beef production; Lynn Simpson, agriculture leadership and a gift certificate to Mr. Larry Crownover who is retiring from teaching this year and will go into farming. David Louder, agricultural ambassador, and a Texas Tech student, presented the program for the evening and spoke on his ideals of "An Ideal American."

Jody Palmer was chairman of the banquet.

14 into Jr. Honor group

Fourteen students were inducted into the National Junior Honor Society Friday, May 18 in the primary auditorium at 2:30.

Following the traditional induction ceremony, a tea for new members and their parents was held.

New members of the society are seventh graders, Lynn Allen, Mary Bassinger and Emily Elliott. Sixth graders are Cathy Davis, Marta Holly, Lisa Kocurek, Roxanne McClellan, Jana Middleton, Rusty Morris, Tommy Payton, Kayla Peel, Mendy Tatum, Jackie Wartes and Jan White.

Mrs. Nancy Shaw is sponsor for the group.

By Norm

Only three more days of school for most and just one more day until graduation.

I guess graduation is what most seniors have been waiting for the last 12 years, but I look upon it with mixed feelings. With my first about to leave the nest, I get sort of teary-eyed just thinking about it. Not that I don't want you all to have the very best and make a new life for yourself. It just hurts a little inside, but a good hurt.

To all the seniors of '79, I say Congratulations and may you make the very best of life in the coming years. We'll miss you around here.

The Junior-Senior Banquet was a great success or I think so anyway. The juniors put in a lot of hard work on decorating and planning and I hope you enjoyed it.

The funniest thing I heard about the banquet and the happenings afterwards was that during the senior breakfast, some of the senior girls were going into the Pollards house to change into their swim suits for their party and breakfast. Well, the directions given to them was to go behind the Cash's house across the alley and just go on in. This they did. Upon entering the house and turning on the lights, they were a little startled when the house resident asked what they were doing. Seems they were in the house next door to the Pollards. Honest mistakes happen to the best of 'em.

There will be an End of School Dance at the Youth Center Saturday night from 9 til 12 with KSEL providing the music. (I hope he remembers and is not late). Anyway, that's the plans as they stand now. $2 per person or $3.50 per couple. See you there.

Lots of seniors are already making plans to evacuate immediately after graduation.

Dale Redman is going to Lovington, N.M. to work during the summer and Lisa Cowdrey has made plans to leave for Durango, Colo., where she will be working at the Wilderness Trails Dude Ranch from June 9 til Aug. 25. She asks "Please send mail."

Jeff Williams is back in the hospital, which we are sorry to hear and has had surgery but is reported to be doing fine. He is in West Texas Hospital in room 446 but may get to come home soon. We certainly hope so.

The juniors received their senior rings Monday and feel just a tad bit more like seniors now.

Talk about Too Tall Jones having a big finger, have you seen Rynn Norman's ring? He runs a close second.

The student council and guests went skating at Lubbock Tuesday night and reported to have had a fun time. Compton was so hot on his skates, he lost a wheel. Kind of hard to skate with three wheels, isn't it?

ANNUALS HERE
The Post Middle School 1979 Antelope Memories Annual was handed out Tuesday, May 22 following the school's awards presentations.

Yell leaders are selected

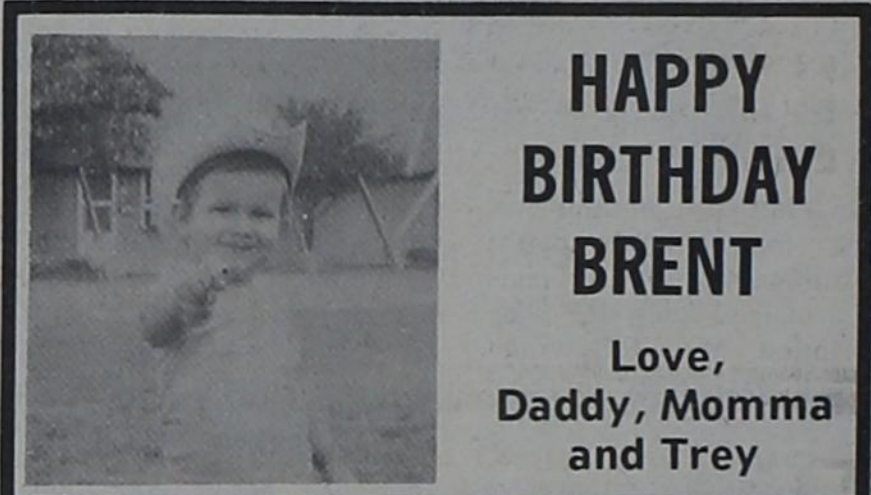

Six middle school girls were chosen as the new 1979-80 cheerleaders in an election held last week.

A total of 25 girls were in the final try-outs with the following named to the honor: Eighth graders are Cindee Jackson, Leigh McCook and Doris Pringler; seventh graders are Marta Holly, Channa Williams and Rhonda Williams.

Rhonda Adams, Crystal Mason, Cynthia Poole, and D'Linda Tyler were selected to be cheerleaders for the freshmen team next school year.

Middle School sponsors will be Mrs. Kathie Rankin and Mrs. Marge Tannehill.

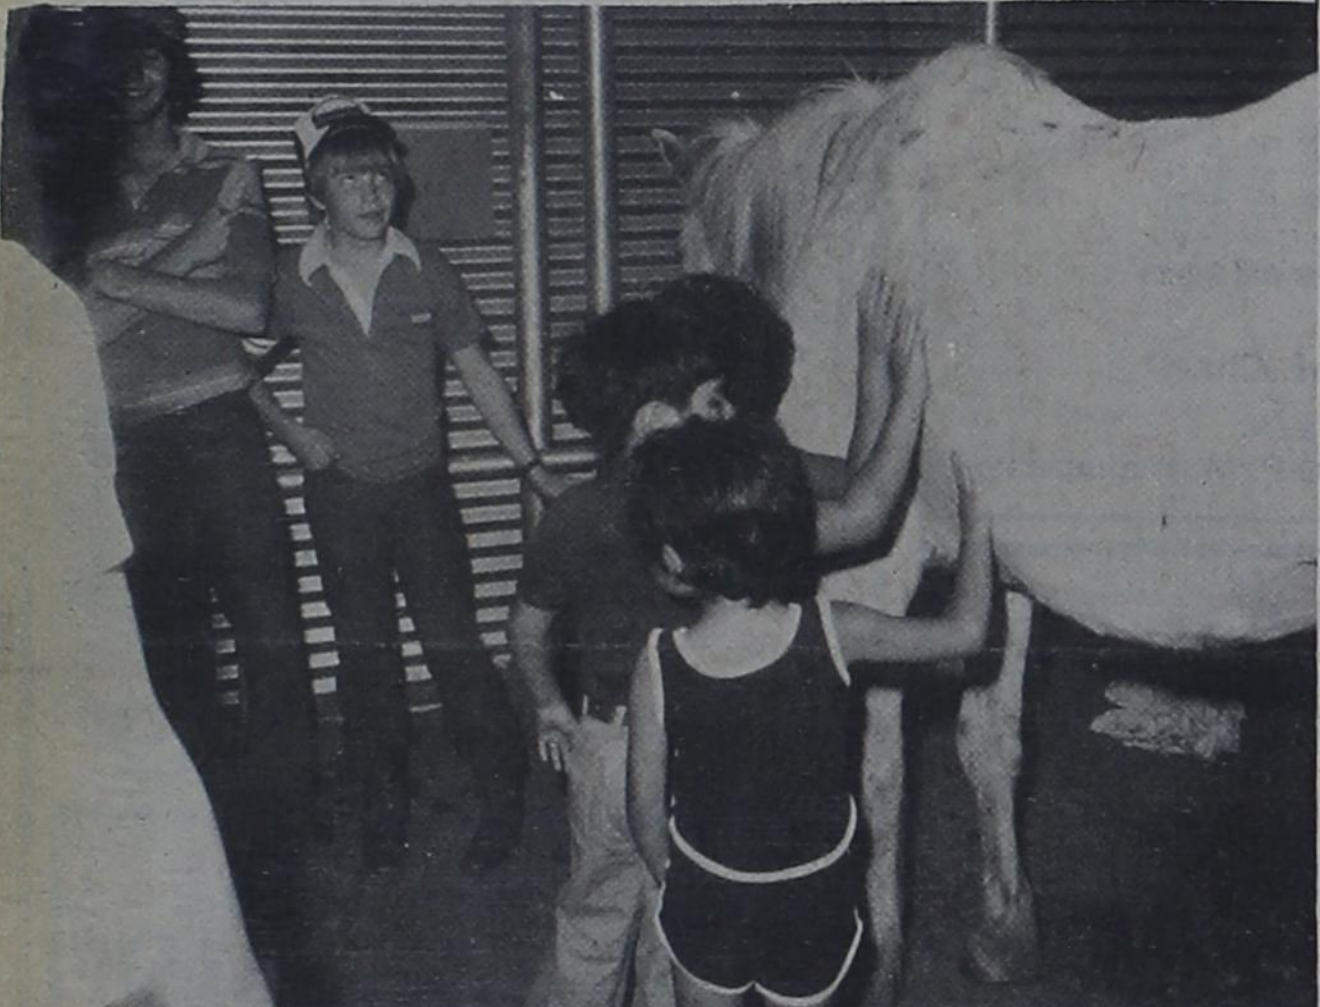

RETURNS FROM TRIP
Mrs. Verna Roberts returned home this week following a trip to Portales, N.M. where she visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gollehon. They all then visited in Las Cruces, N.M. to attend Noel Ray Gollehon's graduation from New Mexico State University where he attained his master's degree. On route back to Post, they visited in Tahoka with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Adams. The Gollehons returned to Portales Monday.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY BRENT

Love, Daddy, Momma and Trey

Thank You
To all the mothers, daddys, room mothers and servers for helping with the decorating and clean up and for the parent sponsors during the dance and movie and to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mason for sponsoring the breakfast, we appreciate you and your help so much. Without you, our banquet would not have been the great success it was.

Jana Terry is AHA junior

KANSAS CITY, MO. — Jana Terry, Post, Texas, has been accepted as a junior member of the American Hereford Association, according to an announcement by H.H. Dickenson, executive vice-president of the AHA.

By becoming junior members of the AHA, youngsters are able to take advantage of the many programs open to Hereford breeders in their efforts to further their own breeding programs. Shows, performance records information and being a part of the many activities sponsored by the AHA's junior department are all benefits for the youthful members.

The American Hereford Association, headquartered in Kansas City, Missouri, is the world's largest beef breed registry organization. There have been over 17 million head entered in its herd book since the founding of AHA in 1881.

NEW WILSON BANK--An architect's drawing of the new Wilson State Bank being built on FM 211 shows the exterior construction of rock and brick. The bank will be completed in January, 1980.

Wilson State Bank is building new home

WILSON — The Wilson State Bank is building a new home on FM 211 on the edge of this community and is hopeful of moving into the new building in January of 1980.

Along with the bank, on the 25-acre plot, will be a business building to house a grocery store and two other businesses, a six-unit apartment complex and road to 42 new residences.

All this is still in the planning stage, but Dan Cook, bank president, said the area will be developed with paved streets, water, sewer, curbing and all utilities underground.

The housing addition will have a financial minimum and zoning restrictions. The entire development will be within the city limits of Wilson. The city presently is in the process of obtaining a grant to offset the cost of installing utilities.

The new bank will contain 6,300 square feet, more than double the size of the present bank building. It is being built by Mike Kline

Construction of Lubbock with Whitaker and Hall of Lubbock, the architect.

Added services at the location will be a drive-in window, a new type of night depository, and a larger, more convenient parking area.

The bank will celebrate its 60th anniversary Oct. 19 and Cook is hopeful the new building can be completed in time for the bank to celebrate it in its new home.

They placed first and second in the first relay, second and third in the second relay and did not place in the third relay. Mr.

Warren acted as "custodian of the purses."

A box lunch was served at noon, followed by the awards ceremony for winners in the Olympic events. The third annual South Plains Senior Round-up was worthwhile and enjoyable from start to finish.

Post group attends big senior roundup

Maysel James, Rufus Warren and Katherine Cathcart attended the South Plains Senior Round-up at Fair Park Coliseum in Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday. The Round-up featured a Health Seminar Tuesday afternoon with booths for each of the various health agencies; also, movies and slides were shown in conjunction with the health program.

The Senior Olympics were held Wednesday and senior olympic t-shirts were presented to each one who registered for the events. These shirts were the admittance for participation in the Olympic Events which were walking marathon, wheelchair race, hula hoop contest, balloon burst relay, giant tricycle race, horseshoe toss, and softball toss. Mmes. Cathcart and James entered the walking mara-

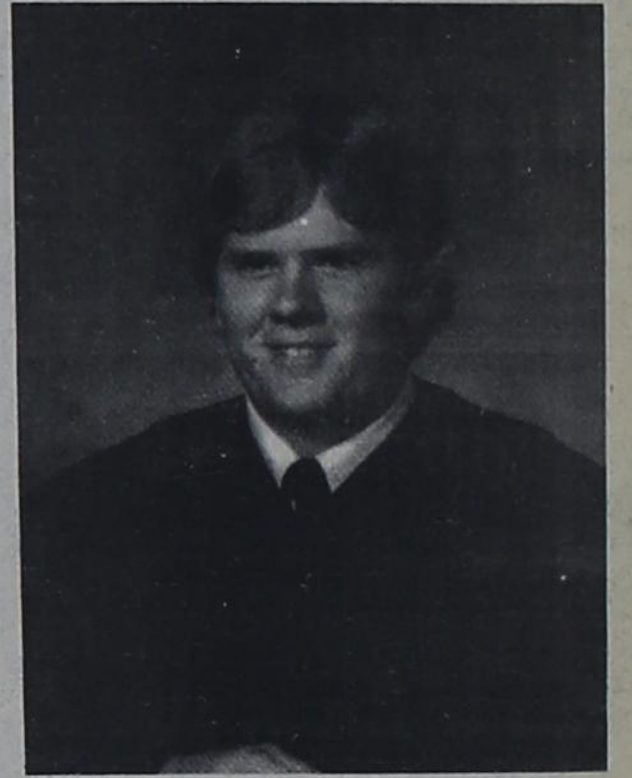

Tuesday evening's feature was the Outstanding Senior Citizens Award Banquet, honoring the 1979 Outstanding Senior Citizens of the 15 county area. Charlie Brown, Garza County's honoree, his wife, daughter and granddaughter, Lanelle and Nancy Clary, and Tom Power, president of the Post Rotary Club who sponsored Mr. Brown, attended the banquet. Also attending were Mmes. Cathcart, James and Mr. Warren.

Evening entertainment included the Parade of Bands and Choirs, featuring groups of senior citizens from regional communities, followed by "Swing Your Partner" or "One-step, Two-step" with Rick Sudderth and the Crosbyton Cowpokes providing the music.
