

Stenholm hits hard on energy

Congressman Charles Stenholm jumped on the national energy administration "policy" with both feet here last Thursday morning in an address to the South Plains Association of Soil and Water Districts in the Post Community Center.

"There is no reason for Aspermont or Olney to be completely out of gas this week," Stenholm told approximately 90 soil and conservation men from a 22-county area, "when this country has only a six percent shortage of fuel."

The freshman congressman blamed this on the government bureaucrats in the Department of Energy who have taken over the allocation of gasoline from private industry.

Stenholm said such shortages would not exist if the government would let industry handle the distribution itself.

"It's very popular to blame everything on the oil companies," Stenholm continued as he based most of his address on energy. He said "the so-called windfall profits tax is actually a $142 billion excise tax on gasoline which will go to Washington to spend."

Stenholm, who opposes the windfall profits tax on the oil companies, says such a tax will take away almost all incentive by private industry to find and produce more oil.

The congressman emphasized that the department of energy's budget, which comes out of the taxpayers' pockets, now exceeds the total profit of America's 10 largest oil companies.

"The energy problem is not a six percent shortage of oil but that this country has become 50 percent (See Stenholm, Page 14)

First day school count shows--

Enrollment is off

"First day attendance" of 1,031 students for the Post schools Monday was a drop of 36 from the first day turnout a year ago, a Dispatch check revealed Tuesday.

The 1978 first day attendance was 1,067 slightly above the 1977 attendance. By schools the primary-elementary school attendance increased by five to 495, kindergarten through fifth grade.

The losses came in the Post Middle School, 223 students this year as compared to 251 a year ago; and the Post High School, 313 students this year, 14 less than a year ago.

First day attendance by classes with the 1978 first day in parenthesis is as follows:

Kindergarten 81 (81), first 80 (82), second 76 (101), third 102 (79), fourth 71 (74), fifth 85 (73), sixth 71 (85), seventh 78 (78), eighth 74 (87), ninth 82 (90), tenth 85 (79), eleventh 72 (79), and twelfth 74 (79).

Middle School Principal Bud Davis reported his school's attendance picked up five Tuesday and another (See First day, Page 14)

After motorcycle accident--

Post man critical

Wesley Morris, 31, of Post is in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Lubbock Methodist Hospital after suffering a fractured skull when he lost control of the motorcycle he was riding while going up the cap on US-380 west of Post about 4 p.m. Sunday.

Morris has undergone plastic surgery to repair a badly torn right ear and to replace skin where flesh was reported torn to the bone, a relative told The Dispatch.

An employe of Palmer Well Service, Morris was alone on the vehicle at the time of the accident.

His father, Harlan Morris of Post told The Dispatch by phone from the hospital

Tuesday night that Morris hadn't ridden a motorcycle in several years and the machine got away from him.

The accident occurred where the highway divides to go up the cap just beyond the city limits. Morris was not wearing a helmet, according to his father.

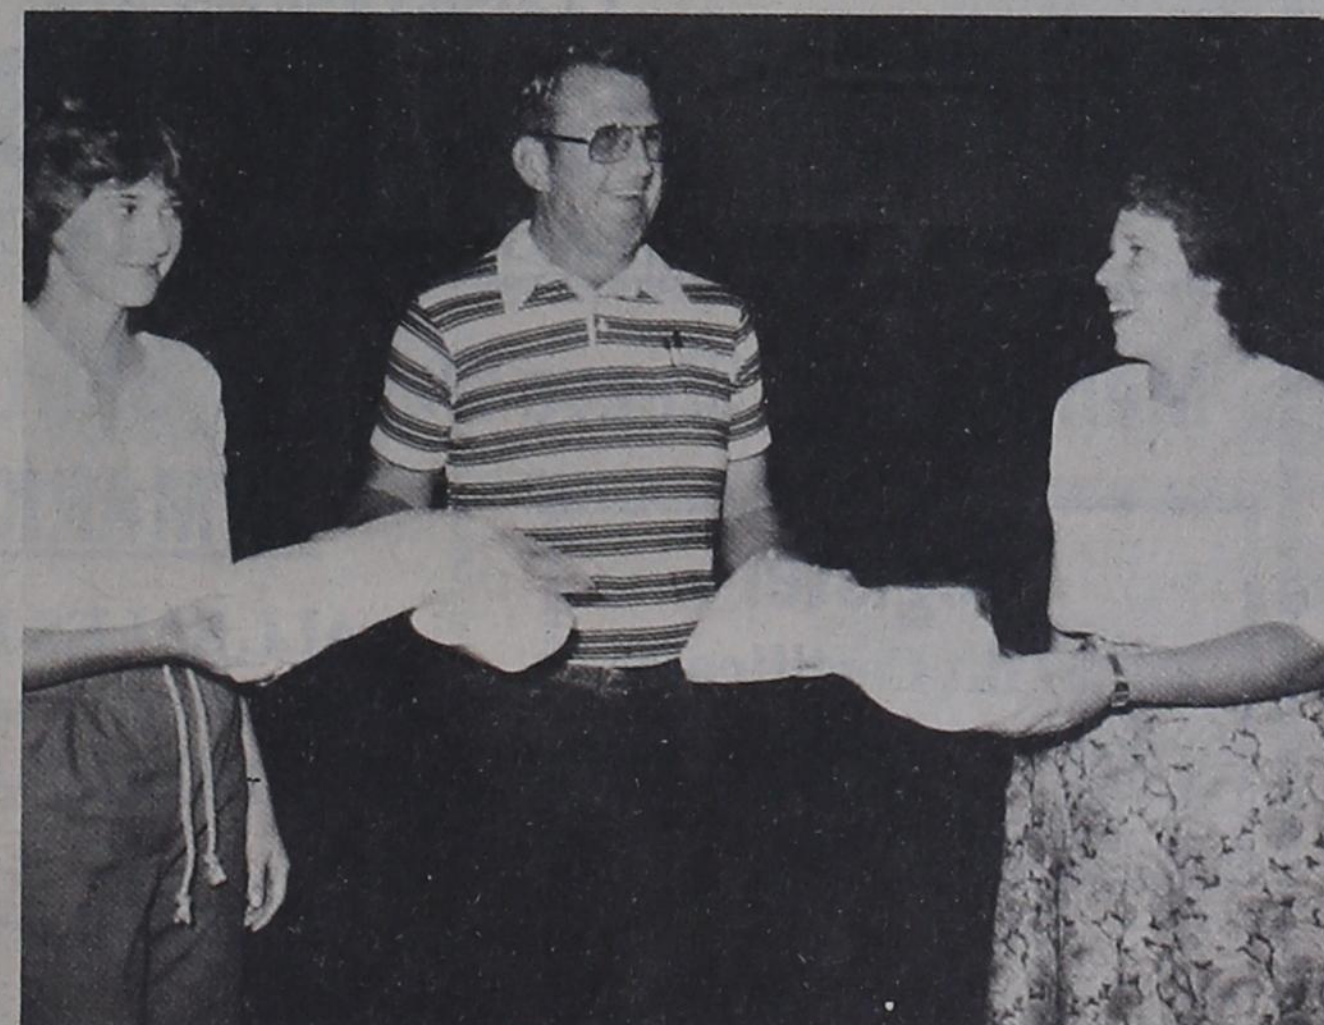

Newcomer is from India

Post has a new resident and a new business person in Neena Patel, 23, new owner and manager of the Sioux Lodge. Along with getting used to a new home, she is also getting used to a new country. Neena is from India. Neena's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Patel of Amarillo, are Indian nationals, but had moved to Zambia, Africa to make their home when Neena was born. Neena lived in Africa, but when she was old enough, attended school in India, going to a boarding school in Bombay.

She also attended college at M. S. University in Bombay, studying medicine. (See Sioux Lodge, Page 14)

'OS' weekend' will be three full days

The 9th Annual OS Ranch Steer Roping and Art Exhibit, now little more than a month away, has been expanded to a full three-day affair for 1979, Jim Prather announced this week.

The program this year calls for 400 team roping teams to compete all-day Friday with the 12 top teams roping two head Sunday afternoon during the steer roping finals to decide how the prize money will be split.

The team roping drew 416 teams a year ago and had to be crowded into Saturday morning.

The "OS weekend" as it is known hereabouts is scheduled for Oct. 5-7.

Gunsnake's "Festus" will be back as arena marshal for the second straight year and the Original Texas Playboys also will return to play a Saturday night dance in the Post Community Center for a crowd of 350 persons who will pay $30 per person admission. Both the band and "Festus" were big hits last year.

Only event cancelled off the big weekend schedule is the Saturday night dance on the Post Stampede outdoor covered slab. That one lost money last year.

There will be three new steer ropers among the field of 35 steer ropers with seven of the eight former OS steer roping champs returning.

Among the three is Gary Good of Elida, N.M., who is the 1979 Cheyenne Frontier Days steer roping champ. Good has roped in the OS calf ropings, but this will be his first time among the steer ropers. His dad, Charles Good, has been one of the "OS regulars" in the steer roping and will be back again this year.

Besides winning the Cheyenne steer roping, recognized as the nation's most important each year on the professional circuit, Gary Good also in 1979 has won the Windy Ryan invitational steer roping in Fort Worth in June and the steer roping at the 50th annual Pecos Rodeo and Steer Roping which attracted 110 steer ropers this year.

Currently he ranks No. 2 in the PRCA steer roping standings and well may wind up as the 1979 national champion steer roper.

The other two new steer ropers are Nick Andrews of Miami, Okla., and Rocky Reagan, III, of Eagle Pass.

Thirty-seven western artists will participate in this year's OS Art Exhibit with 15 new artists having their work in the show for the first time.

This is the largest number of new artists to appear in any one of the OS art exhibits and should provide increased art interest.

New artists are Harry Brunk of Loveland, Colo.,

Duane Bryers of Benson, Ariz., David Halbach of Mesa, Ariz., Ted Long of North Platte, Neb., Gary Myers of Ruidoso, Gary Niblett of Angel Fire, N.M., Bob Pummill of Duncanville, Mike Scovel of Cleveland, Tx., Robert Summers of Glen Rose, Herman Walker of Eldorado, Tx., Ralph Wall of New Braunfels, Wayne Wolfe of Santa Fe, Ken Wyatt of Tulia, Don Yandell of Plano and Paul Wylie of Lubbock.

The OS Catalog is just about to go to press with the final proofs being checked this week.

At least one decision made--

Hospital tax same

Garza Memorial Hospital directors held two long special sessions last week — one a work session on the hospital district's budget for the new fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 and the other to interview three applicants for the position of hospital administrator.

Jack Alexander, chairman of the board, told The Dispatch that the board has interviewed a highly qualified candidate for administrator and is awaiting that man's reply in writing to the hospital's offer.

That reply is expected any day.

The three candidates were interviewed in a three-hour morning session Saturday with directors notifying two of them by letter that they were not being further considered. The administrator's position will open Sept. 1 following the resignation of Ed Zintgraff who is moving to Denver City to become administrator of the Youkoun County Hospital.

The directors held their budget work session last Thursday night, and agreed to set a public budget See Hospital Board, Page 14

Pickup crash fatal to two

Two Beggs ranch employes — Roy Boston Hart, 50, ranch foreman who lives on the ranch on the Garza-Kent line, and Edward Clayton Nichols, 31, of Girard, were fatally injured Sunday afternoon when they were thrown from the 1978 ranch pickup in which they were heading east from Post.

The one vehicle accident occurred 5.3 miles east of Post on the Clairemont highway about 1:15 p.m.

The investigating highway patrol said the vehicle left the highway on a curve, swerved back across the highway, and rolled over twice, coming to rest on its wheels.

Both men were thrown from the pickup. It could not be determined which of the two was driving.

Hart died at 2:15 p.m. in the emergency room of Garza Memorial Hospital. Nichols was transported from Post to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital by ambulance.

He died in that hospital's emergency room about 3:15 p.m.

The two deaths brought Garza's highway death toll (See Pickup crash, Page 14)

Broken neck is result of fall

Larry Dodson, 18, of Post suffered a broken neck Saturday afternoon in a fall from an eight to nine foot height at the Price oil lease in Crosby County.

Dodson, who graduated from Post High School last spring, is in Lubbock's new Health Science Center Hospital where he is presently reported to be paralyzed from the chest down.

A roughneck for the Stelzer Drilling Co., Dodson was reported walking down a derrick leg while the crew was rigging up and the derrick was laying on the ground. Witnesses said he either stumbled or tripped, falling eight or nine feet to the ground where he landed on his head and shoulder.

The accident happened about 2 p.m.

An ambulance was called to the oil lease and Dodson was transported directly to the Lubbock hospital.

An operation is reported planned when the swelling goes down.

Dodson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dodson of Post.

FINAL YARD OF THE WEEK — Mrs. Mable Manuel of 623 Pine Street, right above, is the winner of the final "yard of the week" award for 1979. She is shown receiving the certificate from Phyllis Morris, Post Chamber of Commerce secretary. The Chamber has sponsored the award each week during June, July and August.

Three 'loaded' questions

It won't be long now before a new political "season" will engulf us. The 1980 year ought to be a dilly in the use of double meaning words.

First off, it's a presidential year. It will be a year in which many politicians see an incumbent president defeated for his own party's nomination in how many years? Well, we can't remember exactly when. It hasn't happened in our adult life.

It may not happen, of course. It's hard to beat an incumbent president but almost unheard of by a member of one's own party. Then regardless of how the Democrats resolve their convention there is going to be one of the wildest presidential campaigns in a long, long time.

Not only are probably a majority of the voters of this country opposed to Jimmy Carter for his lack of performance, but there is a very definite trend among young voters toward conservatism.

There is one rule we hope they make before it starts. That is not to permit politicians — no matter how much money they have to spend on the airways — to buy prime time for speeches away from sports, especially Dallas Cowboy football.

Next will come state politics. While Republican Governor Bill Clements is safe from the Democratic onslaught for two more years, there are reports from Austin that some top Democratic conservatives are preparing to jump parties and become Republicans.

Certainly, the Texas GOP will be trying to strengthen its position for the 1983 campaign when Clements will face the music again. By that time, all the oil from that wild Mexican well should be up and off Texas beaches, and that problem already centered in proper political perspective.

Third, there are the county races. It wasn't so long ago that politics around here was mainly wrapped up in "local races". The political fever isn't boiling nearly as much these days, but there will be a sheriff's race to spark the Garza proceedings.

There will always be contenders for county commissioner roles so you can expect some lively contests there.

Actually, the main focus on politics hereabouts in 1980 probably will be at the national level.

Will Garza County support Jimmy Carter in his race for reelection if he is given the Democratic opportunity to make that campaign? If not, will Garza voters line up a majority to put another Kennedy in the White House?

Both of those are intriguing questions. To them, you can add a third, which is, without a real Republican party on the local scene could Garza County actually vote Republican at the ballot box?

Those are three very hard choices. Since we are usually wrong with our political forecasting, we will leave our readers to mull over those three questions for a while.

But not for long. 1980 will be here before you know it, "my fellow Americans."

Some calendar thoughts

Actually, our calendar is a bit twisted. The new year should begin Sept. 1, not with the cold, bleak outlook of Jan. 1 when "the fun" has been concluded and a long tough stretch of living lies uncomfortable ahead.

With the coming of September, school starts. Bingo almost every household numbering over two is jolted into busy-busy. Fall days come — those golden days of every year which are so preciously few. Life quickens as the community's many organizations roar back to life with renewed vigor to make our nights almost as busy as our days.

If the calendar was tuned to these changes, each year would get off to a much better start.

In the "dog days" of late summer we could look ahead eagerly to our new year and swing into it with a sense of real expectancy.

But the way our calendar operates now, just the reverse is true. Hardly have we packed away "the joy of Christmas", but we face a very bleak start to a new year.

First there are the Christmas bills, then all those taxes to face and somehow pay. For several months life is pur drudgery before spring arrives to fresh our outlook.

Naturally, we take a grim view of our future through that period and we hear all kinds of dire predictions as to what to expect.

It seems like a very good idea to us to make some changes. Let's start our new years on Sept. 1 and face them with optimism.

Every football coach and fan is optimistic in September before the schedule starts. Maybe with a better start each year, we would do better and live happier lives.

With the 1980 campaign coming up, the politicians ought to seize the opportunity to campaign for something really positive — like changing our calendar around for a better start.

Come to think of it, if we got a calendar choice we'd just as soon dump all the pre-election campaign blah-blahs in the waste basket.

Allen-Laird nuptials here Saturday evening

Miss Shirley Diane Allen and Gilbert Joe Laird were united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 25 in the Nazarene Church.

Rev. Philip Daniels, pastor, officiated the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony before a brass spiral candelabra and brass archway twined with greenery and a white bow with apricot silk rosebuds and silk baby's breath. The archway was flanked by two arrangements of apricot silk iris and mums accented with blue daisies and baby's breath. A unity candle was also used in the decorations and pews were marked with white bows centered with apricot silk baby's breath.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Will F. Allen of Post.

Presented in marriage by her mother, the bride wore a gown of ivory silk organza. The wide ruffled collar dropped from the rounded neckline giving a cape effect over the sleeveless bodice. The collar was edged with narrow ivory ribbon and chantilly lace. The full skirt fell into a chapel length train and three rows of chantilly lace and narrow ribbon gave the skirt a ruffled effect. Her chapel length veil of ivory silk illusion was attached to a ring of peach silk rosebuds, sweet peas and white baby's breath.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of peach silk roses and baby's breath accented with rhinestone hearts and white lace edged ribbon and pearl streamers. Carrying out the tradition, new, her dress; something old, she borrowed was a lace handkerchief borrowed from Ruth Bennett, a blue garter made by her sister, Frances Tivis and a 1957 penny in her shoe.

Patricia Bennett of Bethany, Okla., served as maid of honor and wore a gown of apricot quiana with a square ruffled neckline trimmed with narrow white lace. She carried a single peach silk rose accented with a white bow and streamers of ribbon and pearls.

Candles were lighted by Carol Tivis and Jeannette Carroll neices of the bride and wore dresses of peach satin crepe with empire waists and sheer organza sleeves.

MRS. GILBERT JOE LAIRD (Shirley Diane Allen)

Willard Yarbro, brother-in-law of the bride served as best man and ushers were Burton Yarbro, and Jerry Carroll of Meadow. They wore brown tuxedos with velvet vests and lapels.

Wedding music was provided by Patty Kirkpatrick who played "Feir Elise" and appropriate scriptures were read by Bill Bennett.

A reception followed the ceremony in the First National Bank Community Room. The bride's table was covered with a white lace over white cloth and centered with a three tiered cake over a fountain flowing with apricot colored water. The cake was decorated by the bride's sister-in-law, Judy Allen. Orange sherbet punch was served with nuts and mints. The groom's table was laid with a white lace over white cloth with the bridal bouquet used as a centerpiece. His cake was chocolate accented with yellow roses and had a scene on top of a road and a tow truck and said "I Towed Her In." Rice roses were passed to guests from the groom's table by Sharla Riley. Following a wedding trip to Lake Hubbard, the couple are residing at Bethany, Okla.

Focus on Home Economics

Men Discover Separates for clothing variety — Today's separates are the key to a man's wardrobe.

Separates that interrelate through color, texture or weight add many different looks to one basic wardrobe.

This approach to dressing leads to flexibility and economy — so compatible with today's lifestyles.

Even the classic suit has a more relaxed look this season, often taking on a separates flair. Although three piece suits dominate, the vest is often made up in a contrasting fabric, or made reversible, adding versatility and an air of casualness.

Also, more and more suits are being seen worn with open shirts or turtle-necks. And most important, all the pieces work together and can also mix and match with other pieces of the wardrobe.

For leisure activities, the layered look is based on separates that complement each other. Leisure and pullover tops, sweater shirts and sweaters layer over shirts, turtle-necks or other sweaters.

Popular ethnic and mystical free form prints, tartan plaids, stripes, mix together well for today's high style.

Whether buying or sewing menswear garments, use separates for a well rounded, versatile wardrobe. More wardrobe variety can even be achieved by the active mixing matching of existing wardrobe items.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of yellow sweetheart roses, blue pixie carnations, stephanotis and gypsophila, finished with blue lace ribbon and streamers.

Carrying out tradition, something old was a 75 year-old gold heirloom wedding band belonging to her maternal great grandmother which she wore, something new was her dress, borrowed was a bible from the holy land belonging to Mrs. Billy McClellan and she wore a blue garter.

The bride presented her mother with a long stemmed red rose on her way to the altar, and was accompanied to the altar by both her parents to be presented in marriage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Mike Fillingim, aunt of the bride and bride's matron was Mrs. Reggie Stark, sister-in-law of the Bride. Bridesmaid was Darla Assiter, sister of the groom. They were attired in identical floor length gowns of pastel blue cotton with shades of yellow flowers.

MRS. TIMOTHY ASSITER (Robin Renee Stark)

The dresses were fashioned with sleeveless bodices and large off the shoulder ruffles, and soft flowing skirts. They carried old fashioned nose gays of feathered blue carnations, yellow and blue daisies with gypsophila and yellow ribbon streamers. Jennifer Fillingim, cousin of the bride and Memori Assiter daughter of the groom were flower girls.

Ty Stark, nephew of the bride and Blaine Fillingim cousin of the bride were ring bearers.

Spanky Assiter served his brother as best man, and the groomsmen were Rickey and Reggie Stark, brothers of the bride. Ushers were Mike Fillingim, and Billy McClellan.

Mrs. Clay Bennett, organist accompanied Mrs. Danny Wright as she sang before the ceremony and Mr. Jon Ray Ramsour sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A silver candleholder holding blue lighted tapers centered the table. The bride's bouquet and bridesmaids bouquets were arranged around it to complete the centerpiece. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow and blue flowers and white bells. Guests were served by Mrs. Mike Braddock, Mrs. Billy McClellan and Beverly Lawler. The groom's table was covered with yellow table decorations. Brass and gold appointments were used to serve chocolate cake and coffee.

Mrs. Jay Kelly and Mrs. Wesley Boone presided at the groom's table.

The bride is a graduate of Tahoka High School and a senior elementary education major at Texas Tech. The groom is a graduate of Floydada High School and West Texas State University. He is currently employed by Texas Sulphur Products Inc. of Borger.

Littlefield to be tougher foe

The Post Antelopes rolled over the Ralls Jackrabbits in convincing fashion here Friday night in the first "scrimmage" of the 1979 season.

Coach David Thompson doesn't expect anything like a duplication of that this Friday night, however, when he takes his Lopes to Littlefield to scrimmage under the lights with the pre-season No. 5 pick of the state's Class AA clubs.

Against Ralls, the Lopes in 45 offensive plays totaled 313 yards rushing and 60 yards passing. They drove 70 yards for one touchdown in five plays and then had reserve quarterback Rance Adkins break 70 yards on the very next play for another. Another long drive was halted by a fumbled pitch near the Ralls goal line.

Ralls on the other hand made very few first downs, crossed midfield but once and did not score.

On goal line offense, the Lopes scored on every play from the five-yard-line and the Rabbits got it in but once.

"We were very pleased with the effort and enthusiasm the boys displayed in their first scrimmage," Coach Thompson told The Dispatch.

"We were pleased to see the offense moving the ball fairly consistently," he added. "Quarterback Drew Kirkpatrick looked good at quarterback, and Adkins, Alonzo Luna, Barry Wyatt, and Charles Curtis showed they could run the football."

Thompson also commented that the Lopes' offensive line got off the ball fast and blocked well.

He singled out Lynn Simpson and Deb Palmer for their defensive line play and Russell Fluitt for his work at linebacker. He added that the "whole secondary played well."

"We like to see that gang tackling," Thompson commented.

Coach Thompson said the coaches probably will hold Mike Macy out of action for another week. Macy reinjured a knee he had hurt during the summer in a motorcycle accident the first week of practice.

Noel Pena, starting line-backer, will be out several more weeks with a dislocated knee, but the Lopes moved another week closer to the opening of the regular season this week without any additional injuries.

Coach Thompson announced that Mark Holly will handle the Lopes punting duties this year and Larry Rodriguez will draw the kicking off and place kicking assignments.

Thomason noted that "we're still evaluating them" when asked if coaches had made up their minds on the offensive and defensive units in which two or more Lopes are battling for starting jobs.

The Littlefield scrimmage is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. with the junior varsities of the two schools taking the field first. Coach Thompson said the two varsity squads will begin their scrimmage between 8 and 8:30 p.m.

"We invite everybody to come to the scrimmage," Coach Thompson said. "We want the support of all Post fans."

Middle school scrimmage

Coach David Thompson announced this week that the Post middle school football squad will scrimmage with the Littlefield Middle School squad at 6 p.m. today (Thursday) in Antelope Stadium.

All local fans are invited to attend.

The seventh and eighth grade squads will each work against their counterparts from Littlefield.

150 Post boys now out for football

David Thompson, new Post high grid coach and athletic director, told Post Rotarians at their traditional pre-season football luncheon Tuesday noon, that "all the kids who come out for football below the varsity level will get to play."

He declared, after introducing his coaches, who also were guests of the club, that

Good crowd out to 'meet Lopes'

The annual "Met the Antelopes" night and ice cream supper was held in Antelope Stadium Tuesday night, Aug. 28 beginning at 7 p.m.

A good crowd was on hand to meet the Antelopes from the seventh up to the varsity teams with respective coaches introducing the players.

Twirlers and cheerleaders were introduced to the crowd with the cheerleaders of the different teams doing a yell.

Quail census is being taken

LUBBOCK — Texas quail populations are being studied and recorded as some 266 census or survey lines are being driven by personnel of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department across the state.

Each of the 74 census lines being conducted on the High Rolling Plains of northwest Texas covers a 20-mile line determined by P&WD computer. These roads are driven in early morning or late evening when the quail are out along the roadside. Abundant rains have produced heavy week cover in many areas making it difficult for the P&WD personnel to count the birds.

The number of birds observed by the P&WD specialists will be entered into the computer and compared with the last three years' figures. This quail index will then be used by the P&WD Commission to set the daily and possession bag limits in each region according to the production.

For those areas where weather or nesting condi-

Good well near Polar

Garza has a good-sized new producer in ConVest Energy Corp. No. 2 Wayne Williams, which produced 180 barrels of oil and no water on 24 hour test.

The new well is located in the Pollan field, two miles southwest of Polar. The production interval is from 7,763 to 7896 feet.

The county also has a new location in the big Garza field, C. D. Black's No. 1 Black, seven miles northeast of Justiceburg. It will be drilled to 2,850 feet.

A second new Garza location is that of Palmer Oil Properties' No. 1 Carl Rains, 12 miles north of Post which is planned for a 3,900 foot depth in the Sims field.

Excuses rarely fool people, despite the notion to the contrary.

the Post coaching staff this year "is the best one in working with kids and working together that I've been associated with in my 15 years of coaching."

"Our philosophy," he said, "is to give every kid a chance to show what he can do."

He reported 39 to 40 seventh graders, 31 eighth grades, 32 freshmen, 20 junior varsity members, and 28 on the high school varsity are all out for football—making a total of about 150 Post gridders now in uniform.

Commenting on his varsity squad, Coach Thompson told Rotarians that the staff is "real pleased with the attitude of the kids. We are behind a little fundamentally. We can't block real well yet."

"We're a young and inexperienced football team," Thompson said. "I learned a long time ago in coaching to be careful about predicting the outcome of a season as folks remember what you say."

"But I will promise you this. This team is going to get better as it goes along. We can teach them to block and tackle, but we can't make them hit."

"Football hasn't changed since 1890 I tell our kids. It's still fundamentally blocking and tackling — and hitting."

"We've got some talent on this squad," Thompson told Rotarians, "but they're kind of undeveloped right now."

"We can't outman a single team on our schedule, but we're not afraid to play any of these teams either."

Thompson said he and the coaches make no effort to get the squad up for a scrimmage engagement. "We look on these scrimmages as practices," he said, "no matter who scores how many touchdowns on who. When it is over both teams are still 0-0 with the whole regular season to play."

Thompson said "we'll get them prepared and up for Lockney" with whom the Lopes open their regular season here Friday night, Sept. 7.

In answer to questions, he said the school has been assured that Antelope Stadium's new lighting system will be ready for the Lockney game although the work has not been completed due to a delay in shipment of some reflectors.

The new lighting is expected to be much brighter than the stadium's previous lighting system and should compare favorably with the best in the district.

Thompson also said work on the all-weather running track is expected to get under way in earnest here about Sept. 15.

Teal duck season to open Sept. 15

LUBBOCK — Texas sportsmen will have another early hunt when the annual teal duck season opens Sept. 15-23 across the state.

The daily bag limit will be four with eight in possession after the second day. This bag limit may include four green-winged, cinnamon, or blue-winged teal or a combination of the three species.

Shooting hours for teal will be from sunrise to sunset daily which is different than other migratory birds such as dove.

Legal firearms for the teal hunt are shotguns plugged to a three shell capacity. Both teal and dove hunters are governed by the migratory hunting rules set by the U. S. Department of the Interior.

The teal and dove hunters will be required a new 1979-80 Texas hunting license, but the teal hunter will also be required to carry on his person a federal migratory game bird and conservation stamp. This duck stamp can be purchased at most U. S. Post offices for $7.50.

The early teal season is a means of harvesting the surplus species of teal that migrate through Texas in September prior to the regular duck season. Reports from the breeding grounds indicate a 20-percent increase in the blue-winged teal population over 1978.

More information about teal hunting is available by contacting the nearest Texas game warden or P&WD office.

TEEN SCENE By Norm

Well the school bell has rung and is still ringing and PHS students are settling back down into the new routine of books and meeting all the new teachers.

For those that hadn't seen the painting, most students had a nice surprise waiting for them during assembly Monday morning in the gym when Lynn Simpson presented the student body with a GIANT PAINTING OF AN ANTELOPE on the gym wall painted during the summer. FCA members raised the money to pay for the painting and it is something to be really proud of.

Happy Birthday this week goes to Deann Ammons who turned 15 today (Wednesday). If you don't recognize her, that's the little girl in the birthday ad.

Melisa Tatum celebrated her birthday last week with a slumber party. Attending the bash were Holly Giddens, Tricia Craig, Susan Sawyers, Dee Dee Redman, Amy Thuett, Donna Baumann, Sharla Macy, Julie Davis, Larisa Shiver, Karla Morris, Leanna Davis and Melinda Tatum.

Larisa Shiver received a VERY NICE SURPRISE last week when her senior ring returned to her finger. Larisa lost her ring some time ago and had given up ever finding it. Glenn Potts (who is Amy Thuett's grandfather) was taking a walk one day last week and with the luck of the Irish just happened to see it laying near the road side. That wouldn't happen again in a hundred years.

If I can see through the tears, (IT HURTS, DOESN'T IT MOMMIES) I'll tell you of the college bound students who have left or about to leave the nest to start a new life. Larisa and Tiana Shiver will be attending the University of Texas at Austin; Rex Cash and Carlos Varela, Johnny Morrow, West Texas State at Canyon; Danny Nelson, Bryan and Beth Elliott, Amy Cowdrey, Abilene Christian; Lisa Cowdrey, Jody Palmer, Melinda Tatum, Rodney Josey, Danny Gunn, Kohen Josey, Lubbock Christian College; Kerri Pool, Baylor University; Bruce Waldrip, Butch Booth, Dan Sawyers, Rodney Teaff, Raymie Holley, Greg Pollard, Randy Ammons, Kyle Duren, Kent Craig, Brad Shepherd, Mike Waldrip, Debbie Tyler, Jay Lott, Peggy Jackson, Danna Giddens, David Morrow, Dale Redman and I know I'm leaving a bunch out, Texas Tech University; Darrell Reece, Bryan Compton and Mike Dye, South Plains College; Shorty Bilberry, Steve White and Mark Kirkpatrick Texas A&M; Dick Kirkpatrick, Austin College, Sherman; Cindy Kirkpatrick, SMU; Nancy Clary, Darlene Gunn, Cindy Terry, Theresa Davis and Kelly Baumann, San Angelo State; Belinda Fluit, McMurry in Abilene; Brent Terry and Dana Babb, Western Texas in Snyder. I didn't intentionally leave anyone out, but I know I did. All I can say is WE MISS YOU ALREADY. GOOD LUCK IN YOUR NEW LIFE AND COME HOME SOON!!

We were all so sorry to hear of Larry Dodson's accident. He is in Lubbock's Health Sciences Hospital and will be a patient there for a while. Our thoughts and prayers are with him for a speedy recovery.

Congratulations to Will Kirkpatrick, Mario Luna, Holly Giddens and Brent Mason for being elected presidents of their classes. You chose well people.

Stolen pickup is recovered

A long distance call from the sheriff in Baird, Tex., last week was the first Sam Ellis of Southland knew that his 1976 Chevrolet 4-wheel drive pickup had been stolen.

Ellis couldn't believe it until he went to the garage by his hardware store where he keeps the pickup and found it broken into and empty.

The Baird officers had found Ellis' pickup abandoned there after receiving a report that a Baird Ford automobile had been stolen. Apparently the pickup they had exchanged vehicles.

Sam thinks that its pretty good law enforcement to recover a stolen vehicle before the owners know it is gone.

Darrel Fisher completes alcohol fuel course

Darrel E. Fisher of Post, has completed an intensive five-day alcohol distillation course at Colby Community College in Colby, Kansas.

The alcohol teaching program is the first of its kind in the country and began on July 23 with four workshops.

Because of the high amount of interest nationwide in the alcohol movement, particularly accurate education, Colby Community College has expanded its original program and has added an additional four workshops which will begin August 27.

Over 360 people from nearly all of the fifty states enrolled in the first four workshops. While the majority of students in attendance were farmers, there were also housewives, welders, mechanics, contractors, real estate agents, oil company representatives, politicians, officials from state and federal agencies, lumbermen, potato growers, corn growers, teachers, engineers and almost every vocation imaginable.

Colby Community Co-

lege has become the alcohol fuel education center of the United States and the students attending the first four workshops can accurately be termed pioneers.

The founders of the education program, Colby Community College President, Dr. James Tange-man and Alternative Energy Ltd. President, Don Smith, of Colby, are interested in making the United States energy independent from foreign countries and want to help the American farmer receive better prices for crops.

The workshops are designed to teach students through lectures and "hands on" experience. Students actually operate alcohol stills and learn how to construct them. Alcohol produced by each class is also used to power a slightly modified car which students may drive. Topics covered during the course include the history of alcohol production and its uses, markets for alcohol, ways of using alcohol in farm machinery, by-products and complete information about fermentation and distillation. Major issues posed by the opponents of alcohol production are also discussed with appropriate documentation.

Case was only stolen bike

Somewhere between Post and Albany, Ore., communications apparently got fouled up last week on the law enforcement network.

The Dispatch reported last week Charlie Ervin, who had pleaded guilty here to a charge of "theft, receiving stolen property", was also wanted in Albany, Ore., for questioning in connection with an armed robbery.

After The Dispatch went to press, another teletype message was received at the sheriff's department from Oregon saying that authorities there wanted to question Ervin in connection with a stolen bicycle case instead of an armed robbery.

Sheriff Jim Pippin passed this information to The Dispatch Friday, also noting that some witnesses had come in here and claimed Ervin had nothing to do with the bicycle case either.

Originally, Oregon authorities said they wanted to extradite Ervin, but Sheriff Pippin has not heard any more from them since receiving the message the case involved was only a stolen bicycle.

God has put something noble and good into every heart which His hand created.

Cotton program comment sought

WASHINGTON — The public has until Oct. 15 to submit recommendations concerning provisions of the 1980 upland cotton and extra long staple cotton programs.

Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), said public comment is being sought on the following:

Marketing quota and allotment for ELS cotton; Loan level and payment rate for ELS (minimum required by law is 65 percent of parity); Whether a seed cotton loan program should be offered and, if so, what the loan level should be;

The specifications for bale packaging materials; Resale policy for cotton owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation; and Premiums, discounts, and location differentials for the upland and ELS loan rates.

The department is required to announce the ELS marketing quota and allotment by Oct. 15 and the upland loan rate by Nov. 1. There is no deadline for announcing the ELS loan level and payment rate.

Prior to making these determinations, the secretary will consider any written recommendations received by the director, production adjustment division, USDA ASCS, P. O. Box 2415, Washington, D. C., 20013. Comments will be available for public inspection during normal business hours in room 3630 of the department's South building.

Train almost ticketed here

Sheriff Jim Pippin almost gave a Santa Fe freight train engineer a ticket here Tuesday afternoon for obstructing traffic.

He told the engineer he would lock him up in jail too. The action came after a long Santa Fe freight train blocked Post's Main street crossing for well over an hour. The engineer told Pippin he was waiting for a repairman to work on his engine.

"Not where you are," the sheriff told him. The engineer had a second engine and succeeded in splitting the train with the second engine to open the crossing and save himself a trip to jail.

Pippin said the train was so long he had to walk a good ways down the railroad track south from the US-84 overpass to reach the engine.

TEXTILE EXPORTS CLIMB

Exports of textile mill products rose to $1.42 billion in this year's first half, 52 percent above the same period last year. Cotton denim in large volume is reportedly being sold to Italy, France, Hong Kong, Canada, Belgium, and Britain. Latest figures available show cotton corduroy exports in the first quarter increased more than 20 times to France and more than four times to Italy and West Germany.

Apparel exports also climbed 49 percent during the year's first half. Men's and boy's denim trousers were exported to Ireland for the first time and to Denmark for the first time to any significant degree. Sales to the United Kingdom jumped more than 50 percent.

NO-IRON COTTON SHIRTS GAINING

Arrow and Van Heusen shirt companies are paining to step up production of the all-cotton durable press shirts they introduced last winter, and several other major manufacturers are jumping on the bandwagon. About 25 percent of Arrow's spring line is expected to be Sanforset fabric, and between 15 percent and 20 percent of Van Heusen's. Career Club, Enro, and Manhattan are among major firms now offering all-cotton durable press shirts in their fall and spring lines.

LUBBOCK — There appears to be concern in the Carter Administration that the Jones-Madigan federal crop insurance bill scheduled for House consideration in September may be voted down. The bill came out of the House Ag Committee on a vote of only 21 to 20, and support from agricultural producers has been conspicuously absent.

This may well be why, thinks Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, the director of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCEIC) has requested a meeting with cotton producer organization representatives from across the Cotton Belt in Dallas April 30.

The director, James Deal, is bringing his actuaries along to present new premium cost figures "which we hope will look more attractive to producers than those we've been seeing," Johnson said.

"And although it would be a complete about face," he added, "we also are hoping Mr. Deal will tell us Secretary Bergland is now willing to support a two-year extension of the current disaster program."

As it came from committee the Jones-Madigan bill would extend the disaster program through 1980, but make it available to producers in 1981 only in counties where federal crop insurance was not offered.

Under PCG's long-standing legislative policy, Johnson explains, the organization cannot support the bill unless it is amended to include a disaster program extension at least through 1981, the final year of the present farm law.

PCG's position calls for extending the disaster program "until such time as a workable, affordable replacement is in operation and it is proven that it provides adequate producer protection."

Figures circulated in recent weeks, reportedly developed by FCIC actuaries, indicate the cost to High Plains cotton producers for coverage on 75 percent of expected yield under the House bill would be about $18 per acre. "Using our ten-year average yield, that comes to about seven cents per pound," Johnson calculates, "which cotton producers say is an exorbitant cost for inadequate protection." Producers of feed grains and wheat have voiced similar sentiments about the coverage offered on those commodities.

The Senate companion to the House bill, also scheduled for a vote in September, would make the disaster program available to producers in both 1980 and 1981. But Senator Herman Talmadge bill would prevail in Ag Committee Chairman, is known to oppose disaster program coverage in 1981. So most observers are assuming that the disaster program provisions in the House bill would prevail in any subsequent House-Senate conference committee meeting.

Should the Jones-Madigan bill fail, Johnson notes, PCG and other commodity groups will seek a simple extension of the disaster program through 1981.

Stenholm said "we're going to have to learn to produce energy from other sources."
"Gasohol is going to have to work. Solar power is going to work — 20 years from now but not next year. And nuclear power, sure it's dangerous but electricity was dangerous too when we started using it and it's still dangerous. Synthetic fuel from coal — you bet, but it won't happen overnight."

Stenholm said if the "anti nuke" protestors succeed in closing all the nuclear power plants in this country, one home in five won't have electricity by 1985.

As far environmentalists, Stenholm had some stern words for them as well. Environmentalists have almost succeeded in bankrupting this country," Stenholm declared. "If we're going to use coal we're going to have to learn to take risks. It scares me to see all the people (environmentalists) who have forgotten what made America great . . . by developing what resources we had and taking risks to learn to use them."

Stenholm drew applause when he declared that he had urged both President Carter and the secretary of agriculture "don't ask farmers to produce fence row to fence row without lifting the loan price up to protect them."

He called this course of action due to "political purposes" with an election

No returns yet on a return to an "old fashioned Christmas" we wrote about last week, but the Post Lions Club has announced a return to "an old fashioned Thanksgiving."

The Lions have decided to throw live turkeys off the top of some building with whoever catches the turkey getting to roast the bird for his or her family's Thanksgiving.

Charles Morris reports the Lions are trying to round up about 25 turkeys and hope to toss them off the courthouse roof. In the old days here the volunteer firemen used to throw them off the top of what then was the bank and now the McCrary building.

Barber Bill Sanders was showing customers an unusual checkbook the other day. The checks were for the First State Bank of Post and on the date line it read 192—, which means that check book was at least 50 years old. We suggested to Bill he fill one out and try to cash it here and see what happened. That could cause some amusing commotion.

year coming up. The congressman drew more applause when he commented about how little consumers actually know about agriculture. He advocated "every student should have a one-year required course on farming so everybody would understand how we get our food."

During the question and answer period, he was asked if it were not possible to get a higher federal priority for the conservation of soil and water when this country is now losing 3 million acres of cropland a year.

"I'm not optimistic we are going to turn this situation around soon," Stenholm replied. "tragically we have only been able this year to restore last year's cuts, which leaves us 13 percent behind due to inflation alone."

The congressman said "it's tragic that the majority of congress listens to consumer groups who are not the least concerned with the future but only with today's costs, and also are so naive about farm needs."

State Senator E. L. Short of Tahoka, State Representative Bill Heatly, and State Rep. Mike Ezell of Snyder also spoke before the conservationists.

A catered barbecue lunch was served at noon and the association held its business session in the afternoon with state officers of the conservation organization on the speaking program.

Hospital board-- OS weekend--

Alexander told The Dispatch that directors agreed at that session to leave the hospital district's tax levy where it is for another year, neither raising it or lowering it.

The board would like to employ its new administrator and ask him to evaluate hospital personnel, if possible, before considering salary increases for various members of the staff.

The board also would like a new administrator's advice on various budget items before finally adopting a new budget.

Alexander said one thing appears to be certain. While the hospital district should go into its new fiscal year Oct. 1 with some tax funds left over it won't be anywhere near the $50,000 which had been originally forecast by Administrator Zintgraff.

Neena's parents were in the wholesale business in Zambia when her father decided to come to the U. S. He left there and spent time again in India, then came to California. He then moved to West Texas and bought the True Rest Motel in Amarillo. He lives there now with his wife and Neena's five sisters.

The Sioux Lodge was a gift to Neena from her father and she will make this her home.

She is very impressed with Post, most especially with the friendly people here and the reception she received when she came. She commented that the staff at the bank was the first group of people she met and there were very helpful to her.

The weather conditions do not seem to bother her, and commented that the climate is similar to what she was used to in Africa.

Her cousin, B. P. Patel, who is a student at West Texas College in Canyon, is here during summer vacation to help her get things going.

Mental vacations are more necessary than physical rest.

All Middle School classes met in the remodeled and expanded Middle school this week with Davis commenting: "Students and teachers accepted the bad situation and had no problems."

The school's learning center won't be completed for two more weeks and the gym classes are without all dressing facilities and half of the regular gym space. School furniture for unfinished portions of the building are stored in the gym.

Gym classes are meeting in street clothes on the limited floor space and getting in what physical training they can, Davis said.

The superintendent of the middle school construction crew promised Davis Tuesday afternoon that his crew would complete the entire job in two weeks.

"It will take a week or more after that to get the learning center ready for use," Principal Davis told The Dispatch.

A public open house will be scheduled when the remodeling and expansion of the middle school building is completed to give parents the opportunity to inspect the new facilities. "When it's all done," Principal Davis said, "it's going to be mighty nice."

To get into the building for opening day classes most Middle school teachers worked both Saturday and Sunday to get their classrooms ready, Davis said.
