A stir of political pot

Texas may well vote Republican in 1980, and, if the presidential election is as close as the last one, that could well put the party's nominee in the White House.

What's more he could be a Texan. The unfolding campaign story for a four-year White House lease has come into much sharper focus in the last 10 days. Senator Edward Kennedy apparently has made his decision to challenge President Jimmy Carter for the Democratic nomination.

His strategy appears to be to get into the thick of it soon enough that one or two bad policy judgments on the part of Carter could force the president to take himself out of the race and hand the nomination to Kennedy on a holiday platter.

Carter will have innumerable chances in the next few months to goof up and take himself out of the running. A Salt II rejection in the senate, worsening inflation, failure to get a realistic energy program moving, that little old Russian combat battalion in Cuba offer Carter vast opportunities to again show his inexperience and lack of judgment.

But back to our original editorial thesis about Texas.

We hold serious doubts that if Carter would spend the whole 1980 campaign within Texas borders he could carry this state against a reasonable Republican challenger.

With Senator Kennedy jumping in, all Texas conservative Democrats who don't like Carter would have no place to go. Either stay home or vote Republican.

Down here in Texas, Kennedy is considered much more liberal than his brother, President Jack, ever was. His multi-multi-billion dollar medical health program is enough to give anybody who earns his money and would like to spend some of it "the nightmares" although it should corral the highly significant senior citizens block.

If America ever adopted that we wouldn't have any tax money left over to spend on defense.

Part two of this thesis is that Texans would be even more inclined to vote Republican in 1980 if that Republican candidate was a Texan. Right now, Texas has two in the GOP running — John Connally, the type of conservative Democrat they've always loved turned Republican, and George Bush, who is quite a capable fellow though not in "Big John's" class as a speech maker and emotion-rouser.

How about Ronald Reagan, you ask? Personally, we think Reagan is too old to handle a rough and tumble campaign which is sure to come, and then start making tough decisions in the White House if he wins. He will be 72, or about that, when the presidential election is held.

As for Connally and Bush, there's no doubt Connally could make the better race nationally and if the choice comes down to those two "Big John" will get the nod.

It would be nice, wouldn't it, to have a Texan in the White House at least once every decade?

Ambulance Complaint

Dear Editor:

I'm writing in regard to the lack of ambulance service at the 7th, 8th, Freshman and junior varsity football games. The ambulance is always present at all the varsity games. To me, and I'm sure, to all the other mothers and daddies, these boys are just as important as the varsity team. They can get hurt as much as the older boys. In fact, at a scrimmage game, a freshman from the other team broke his leg and had to be carried from the field and to a waiting pickup, by one of his fellow players.

I feel like in all fairness to all the football players, there should be an ambulance at all home games.

Thank you,
Mrs. Herbert Walls

Your vote is needed

The Texas Legislature at its most recent session approved 12 state constitutional amendments to be either approved or rejected by Texas voters.

Only three of those will be voted on this November. The other nine will go to voters in the 1980 presidential election year.

The Dispatch believes this is a bad system. There is always a very light turnout for constitutional amendments by themselves. The nine next year will get a fair shot at the voters. The trio which are up this year won't.

One of the three is quite important too to rural counties like Garza.

This amendment would authorize the legislature to provide for the guarantee of loans for purchase of farm and ranch real estate for qualified borrowers by the sale of general obligation bonds of the state of Texas.

This amendment would authorize $10 million in general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which would be administered by the commissioner of agriculture without appropriation for the purpose of: (1) Guaranteeing loans made by private lenders to individuals for the purchase of farm or ranch land, (2) acquiring mortgages or deeds of trust on lands purchased under a guaranteed loan, and (3) advancing to the borrower a percentage of the principal and interest due on a guaranteed loan. Such advances to the borrower would bear interest at six percent.

Eligibility for a guaranteed loan would be limited to Texas residents who have the necessary education in farming or ranching, have a net worth of less than $100,000, and intend to purchase the land for use by the applicant and family for farming or ranching purposes.

Arguments in favor of the amendment include (1) it gives young people a chance to get into the farming business they can't now afford, (2) the proposal is modeled after a highly successful Minnesota program that proves the loan security program is a viable way to encourage young farmers and ranchers, (3) defaults would be minimal and even if a default occurs the state would be able to resell the land, (4) such a program might turn the side against large corporation gaining control of more and more agricultural land.

There are some logical arguments against such a program too, including: (1) getting the state to assume the risk of private lenders, (2) taxpayers would have to pay costs of administering the program, (3) although the number of farms and ranches have dropped by 50 percent since 1940, the bigger farms have become far more productive, and (4) the proposed payment adjustments are in effect loans to individual borrowers.

The Dispatch is convinced the advantages of the loan program far outweigh the disadvantages and that today's and tomorrow's young people should not be denied a chance for farm and ranch life.

Congressman
Charles W. Stenholm
Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — American lawmakers rule by the consent of the governed, and are limited in their power by what the people are willing to accept. The Congress can pass laws but unless the majority of citizens are willing to obey them, they will not be effective.

With this in mind, four months ago I voted against a gas rationing plan. At that time, the vast majority of Americans did not believe there was an energy shortage. Without the support of the people, it is my belief that the plan would not have worked. It is also my view that had we approved that plan we would now be under a rationing program.

The situation has changed drastically. The reduction in imports from Iran and the sagging domestic production, together with large price increases by OPEC, has caused many Americans to reevaluate our energy position. The ruler of Libya has threatened to shut off exports of oil. And Nigeria could use the oil weapon against us if they object to our African foreign policy, particularly in regard to the lifting of economic sanctions in Rhodesia. Some OPEC countries such as Algeria, Iraq, and Oman are radically anti-American and could cut off exports at any time. The political situation in the more moderate Arab states is potentially volatile. One of my colleagues in Congress recently said that a couple of well aimed bullets in less stable oil-producing countries could radically change their now favorable posture towards the United States.

Since the Arab oil embargo of 1973, our situation has become increasingly vulnerable. Six years ago we imported 30 percent of our oil needs, now the figure is near 50 percent. If we have another embargo, there could be a tremendous fuel shortage. Our domestic production capacity would be unable to react in the short term and we would be faced with the choice of tremendous price increases or rationing.

In light of the current circumstances, I believe that a standby gas rationing plan is now advisable. There will always be a major debate on how to distribute gas equitably should rationing become necessary. We proved that in 22 hours on the House floor. Whatever plan is finally approved, it will be expensive and inefficient. Therefore a gas rationing plan should go into effect only when there is truly a national emergency. We have an effective trigger mechanism in the House-passed version. Congressman Phil Gramm of Texas was successful in including a provision which would require that the President find a 20 percent shortfall for 30 days or more, or evidence that such a shortfall is imminent. We only experienced a 7 percent shortage in our recent experience with the gasoline situation. Rationing then could be used only during a catastrophic shortage where our Nation has no viable alternatives.

Sometimes we must prepare for the worst in order that major disruptions in our society will not occur. Gas rationing at its best will have major defects. But in view of our highly vulnerable situation, we should have a plan available in case circumstances conspire to our disadvantage and our national defense is threatened.

FACTS & FIGURES
Only ten years ago, the average cost in America of a gallon of home heating oil was about 18 cents. Now it often comes close to 80 cents or more, an increase of over 300 percent.

Many homeowners have found they can save by replacing their old oil-burning furnace or boiler with a more efficient one, such as one developed with the help of the Dept. of Energy, called the Bluegray. It can reduce heating bills an average of 38 percent over the course of a heating season when replacing existing boilers and furnaces found in many homes.

It's a good idea to have your oil dealer clean your heating system and check its efficiency at least once a year. If you want more information on heating efficiency and how it can save you money, write to Bluegray Systems, Inc., 22 Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

Cooking Tips For Budget Meals

Meat is a highly nutritious food that provides top-quality protein needed by the body for growth and repair. Unfortunately, the spiraling prices of meat create problems for the budget-minded consumer.

However, delicious, low-cost meat meals can be enjoyed with a little planning and imagination. Less tender cuts of meat usually are less expensive yet provide the same nourishment as the more expensive cuts. When cooked properly they are juicy, flavorful and satisfying.

Cooking methods for meat vary according to the degree of tenderness. Less tender cuts are best when cooked slowly by such moist heat methods as braising (in liquid or steam that forms when meat is cooked covered) or stewing (cooking in additional liquid). Most meats—no matter what the cut—are best when cooked at low to moderate temperatures. They will also yield more meat per serving because there will be less shrinkage and evaporation.

Suggested here are two recipes for less expensive cuts of meat. Glazed Corned Beef is cooked with onions and fruit in a mixture of concordgrape drink, brown sugar, garlic and cloves. The long cooking time tenderizes the brisket and allows it to absorb the flavors of the cooking liquid.

For Fruited Pot Roast a boneless beef chuck roll is simmered for hours in a mixture of concordgrape juice, apple cider, brown sugar, lemon peel, cloves and seasoning. Dried fruits are added at the end of the cooking period.

GLAZED CORNED BEEF
Makes 6 to 8 servings
3 pounds corned brisket of beef
3 cups concordgrape drink
1/4 cup dark brown sugar
1 medium clove garlic, minced
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/8 teaspoon pepper
12 small white onions, peeled (about 1 pound)
1 pound mixed dried fruit
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/3 cup water

Place brisket in 2-quart oven-proof casserole. Combine 1-1/2 cups concordgrape drink, brown sugar, garlic, cloves and pepper. Pour over beef. Bake, covered, for 3 hours at 325° F. Add onions and bake 30 minutes longer.

Meanwhile, seed fruit, if necessary. Bring remaining 1-1/2 cups concordgrape drink to a boil; pour over fruit and let stand 15 minutes.

Add fruit to casserole and bake 30 minutes longer, or until meat is tender.

Blend cornstarch into water. Remove meat, onions and fruit to serving platter

To accelerate the baking of a potato, first boil it for about ten minutes.

last year, it represents an overall increase of six percent for the year to date as compared to the same period in 1978.

Sales tax rebates to Post through Aug. 23 totaled $81,228.10 as compared to $76,202.69 for the same period in 1978.

Hints For Homeowners
SAVE ENERGY AND DOLLARS
Home heating fuel will certainly cost more this winter—and it could be less available—so smart Americans will give a warm welcome to inexpensive energy savers which help keep their homes cozy when the winter winds blow.
You could stay warmer by keeping your home wetter during the cold months. Heating systems often reduce humidity levels below the 30 to 50 percent range which most people find comfortable. If you raise the moisture level—with an inexpensive humidifier for instance—you may be able to lower your thermostat and still stay comfortable.
Don't heat the great outdoors this winter! Heat loss through and around windows and doors can account for an astounding 30 to 40 percent of home heating bills, engineers report. Energy Saver, a wire-mesh reinforced plastic material from G&B, is an inexpensive, easy-to-install alternative to costly storm windows (or, used with existing storm windows, a super energy saver).
Available at most hardware stores at about ten cents a square foot (this works out to an average $1 per window), G&B's Energy Saver, which comes in 36" x 25' rolls, can be taped, stapled or tacked to the inside or outside of window and door frames to form a barrier against winter chills. Celler windows, unused entrances or porches and other drafty areas which receive this energy saving treatment will also help keep comf high and fuel costs low when the cold winds blow this winter.

Big Saturday set at Ranching Heritage Center

LUBBOCK — A Saturday packed with activities is planned for the tenth annual Ranch Day at the Ranching Heritage Center Sept. 22. Highlight will be an address by the former U.S. Attorney General Griffin Bell.

All events are planned as family affairs and tickets can be purchased through the Ranching Heritage Association at The Museum of Texas Tech University. Registration begins at 9 a.m. and activities end at 3 p.m.

Before the annual meeting of the association begins at 11 a.m., there will be a dedication of a recently constructed porte cochere which protects the eastern entrance to the David M.

Devitt and Mallett Ranch Building, used as an orientation center.

The center is a 12-acre outdoor exhibit of The Museum. On the site are more than a score of structures brought from early Texas ranches and authentically restored to depict the history of ranching in the American West.

For the first time Ranch Day activities on the site will not be held in the morning but will begin at noon and continue until 3 p.m.

Ranch Day on Saturday will follow Friday's National Golden Spur Award and Prairie Party and a day-long National Golden Spur Livestock and Money Symposium. The award and party will be at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center, beginning at 6:30 p.m., and the symposium will be at The Museum. Tickets for these also are available through the Ranching Heritage Association.

Bell will speak following the brief 11 a.m. business meeting of the 1,500-member association. Following Bell's resignation as attorney general this summer, he returned to the private practice of law in Atlanta.

Privately Bell likes fishing and hunting and he has been a frequent West Texas visitor, hunting on the Borden County Muleshoe Ranch of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. (Rich) Anderson. Anderson, second vice president of the Ranching Heritage Association will introduce the speaker.

A Texas Trails chuckwagon lunch will be served following Bell's address. Tickets for all activities, including the barbecue, are $6 for adults and $2.75 for children. Association members' tickets are $5 and $2.25 and anyone may join.

Ranch Day site activities in the afternoon will include horseshoeing demonstrated at the Spade Renderbrook Blacksmith Shop by Bernie Chapman; campfire cooking by Larry Kyle; traveling music by fiddler Cecil Caldwell and country and western music furnished by the Charles Terry band on the Richard T. Campbell Patio. In addition docents will be in each of the structures on the site to interpret their historic significance. Topping it off will be school sessions in the Bairfield Schoolhouse and harmonica playing in the Matador Half Dugout. Mus-icum staff members will be doing the laundry, including making soap, at the Box and Strip House.

The National Golden Spur

Award, which will be presented on Friday evening to Jay Taylor of Amarillo will be on display in the Ranch Building.

Exams to select academy choices

Washington, D. C. — Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has announced the final request for applicants who are interested in competing for nominations to the service academies for the class entering July, 1980. A competitive nomination procedure will be used to select the nominees in order to give all interested young persons who meet the requirements an equal opportunity.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado; and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. "These institutions offer a fine education and a great opportunity for service to their country by young persons who wish to follow a military career," Stenholm said. In order for Congressman Stenholm to consider applicants, a candidate must meet the following requirements: (1) must be a U. S. citizen (2) must be over 17, and a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (3) must be under 22 years of age on July 2, 1980; (4) must never have been married; (5) must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) must have a good high school record.

Stenholm stressed that political influence is not a factor in his nomination to the academies.

Interested young persons who meet the requirements should write to Congressman Charles W. Stenholm, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515, no later than October 15.

Seminole faces toughie Friday

The Seminole Indians, rated the top AA club on the South Plains by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, already have two victories over AAA clubs this season, but probably will meet their downfall going for their third straight Friday night.

The Indians will invade Andrews, which thumped Lamesa last week 30 to 0 after the Indians squeezed by Lamesa 13 to 7 in their opener.

Seminole's second AAA victim was Brownfield at Brownfield last Friday night as they pulled out a tough 15 to 7 decision. The Indians racked up over 200 yards on the ground but completed only one pass for 10 and fumbled the pigskin away three times.

The other "top game" this Friday night, as far as 5AA teams are concerned sees Littlefield invade Slaton in another battle of unbeaten.

After romping over Frenship in its opener, Littlefield demolished Levelend's AAA club, 28 to 14 Friday night.

The Tigers have rung up easy wins over Colorado City and Dimmitt, scoring a 35 to 17 romp over Dimmitt Friday night.

Floydada, Post's foe tomorrow night, gave highly rated Muleshoe more than it wanted last week before losing 9 to 7 after the game was over.

The game ended with an interference call on a pass play against the Whirlwinds. After getting a 33-yard penalty gain, Muleshoe booted a 25-yard field goal on the extra play to remain unbeaten.

Two 5AA schools suffered their first defeats last weekend after opening victories.

Denver City's Mustangs bowed to Kermit, 7 to 0, and Cooper suffered a 6 to 0 setback at Lorenzo.

At Denver City, the visitors got their touchdown late in the game on a busted pass play with QB David Fullbright running 30 yards for the only points.

Denver City quarterback David Mulligan completed 12 of 20 passes, four to End Mike Ivie for 45 yards.

The Frenship Tigers rebounded from their blistering by Littlefield to overpower a weak Spearman team 21 to 0 in the other district win Friday night.

In two other games involving Lope non-district opponents, Colorado City bowed to Class AAA Sweetwater 27 to 14 and Lockney rang up a 14-14 deadlock against Friona.

Tahoka and Roosevelt had last week off.

Games this weekend involving Post's 1979 opponents, besides the two feature games already mentioned, include Lockney at Olton, Brownfield at Denver City, Cooper at Morton, Roosevelt at New Deal, Tahoka at Dimmitt, and Frenship at Idalou.

Colorado City has the only open date this Friday night.

Rural women still choose traditional roles

COLLEGE STATION — A six-year regional study, based on 1,268 interviews with women and men in Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina, reveals that women in rural areas still choose the traditional roles of nurse, teacher, secretary and housewife.

The women's movement seems to have had no effect on career choices for rural women, claim sociologists Dr. J. Steven Picou and Arthur G. Cosby of Texas A&M University.

The researchers believe there is a definite need for better occupational guidance in these rural areas. Calling disadvantaged southern rural youth the forgotten minority, Picou contends that "Rural females just haven't had the role models of successful women that are so often apparent in the cities. They see only what they have access to — women in their traditional jobs."

Rites held for Mrs. Bryan

Funeral services for Mrs. Vivian Gollehon Bryan, 75, who taught rural school in Garza and Lynn counties in 1922, were conducted in the Sweet Street Baptist Church of Tahoka last Thursday with burial in the Tahoka cemetery.

Mrs. Bryan died in the Siloam Springs, Ark., Memorial Hospital Sept. 9 following a short illness. She had moved to Siloam Springs from Tahoka in 1959.

Mrs. Bryan was born March 27, 1904, in Eastland County and was married to Frank Bryan in Lynn County March 17, 1929. They resided in Lynn and Garza counties until his death in 1953.

Mrs. Bryan had written and had published a book of verse. She was a member of the Poets' Round Table of Arkansas and was a long-time member of the Methodist church. She taught in the nursery of the Siloam Springs Methodist church for 15 years.

Survivors include a sister, Renell Hodges of Gravette, Ark.; two sons, Lowell and Terry of Lubbock; two daughters, Iris Dixon of Siloam Springs and Frances Conrad of Post; 10 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted in the Wasson Chapel at Siloam Springs prior to the service held in Tahoka last Thursday. The Rev. Paul Jantzen of Lubbock officiated the service. Pallbearers were V. P. Carter, Grady Herrin, Lester Adams, Harvey Lee Duchett, and Clay Bennett.

Solar greenhouse conserves energy

COLLEGE STATION — Higher transportation costs may increase the demand for locally grown foods, and a solar greenhouse being built and tested at Texas A&M University could be the first step toward efficient, year-round vegetable gardening.

Dr. Cornelius van Bavel, who heads the solar energy research project, has developed a fluid roof greenhouse that stores excess energy.

The greenhouse has a transparent, hollow-core roof through which a sky-blue solution of copper chloride is circulated. The chloride solution acts as a selective filter to gather heat from the sun but does not interfere with the transmission of light. The heat captured in the fluid roof is stored in the solution in a 500-gallon underground tank for use during cool nights to keep the plants at a uniform temperature.

Other methods can be used now to conserve energy in greenhouses, the researcher says. For example, he suggests reducing air leakage, providing double glazing, using thermal screens at night and improving the efficiency of heating systems.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Those admitted to Garza Memorial Hospital since Tuesday of last week were: Lucy Ramirez, O.B.; Ida Wheatley, Medical; Margie Higgins, Medical; Hector Delgado, Medical; Patsy Aguilar, O.B.; Darla Davis, O.B.; J. C. Caylor, Medical; Joseph Yates, Medical; Alfonso Castro, Medical; Debbie Adcock, O.B. and Terri Riedel, O.B.

Prisoners will tell drug story

Post High School students are going to be given the message direct from inmates serving in Texas prisons as to what life is like behind walls.

The inmates will present a "community education program" at PHS assembly next Wednesday afternoon.

The prisoners have been scheduled to speak to students in Tahoka, O'Donnel, New Home, Lamesa, and Roosevelt over a four-day period as well as here in Post.

The program originally was established in the spring of 1970 with three to five inmates traveling throughout Texas in an effort to educate, warn and inform the public, specifically teenagers, on the dangers and consequences involved in the illicit use of drugs.

The panel speaks to between 100,000 and 125,000 young people annually throughout Texas.

Antelopes are out for upset at Floydada

Palmer lost for rest of season

Post fans who will be traveling to Floydada Friday night for the second start of the season for the Post Antelopes are pointing hopefully to the Antelopes' past ability to upset the Whirlwinds no matter how much the Floydada club was favored.

Actually in the past 10 years, the Lopes have won about two thirds of the time in this traditional rivalry and in most of those years the Whirlwinds were solid favorites going into the game.

The same situation applies this year.

The Winds got off to a stunning start by thrashing Dimmitt 40 to 6 with Fullback Mac Collins, the 197-pound senior, powering his way for 131 yards and two touchdowns.

Last week, the Winds dropped a tough 9-7 decision to a highly rated Muleshoe club at Muleshoe on the final play of the game.

A series of controversial calls, according to the Floyd County Hesperian's lead on its football story Sunday, during the final moments of the game saw game officials roll back the clock four seconds giving the home team time to kick a field goal and turn a 7-6 loss into a 9-7 victory.

The Hesperian quoted Floydada Coach L. G. Wilson as saying, "I don't think it was a fair call, but there's nothing we can do about it."

What happened was that the teams were off the field at the end of the game when officials decided the Floydada defender on the final long pass play had interfered with the receiver. Muleshoe was awarded the ball on the Floydada 15 and given a final play — which was the winning field goal.

But the more questionable call came one play earlier when the Mules completed a 20 yard pass to the Floydada 30. Time ran out while the receiver was running after catching the pass. But the referees ruled the receiver had stepped out of bounds during the run. They ordered the clock turned back to permit another desperation pass upon which the interference was called on the Floydada 15.

So actually Muleshoe got two more plays after time ran out the first time.

That one was a hard defensive struggle. Floydada had scored with only two minutes left to take their 7-6 lead only to see Muleshoe rally through the air. Floydada led in first downs 11 to 9 with Muleshoe edging in yards rushing 133 to 128 and each team completing only three passes for 39 and 26 yards respectively.

The Lopes had their seasonal open date last weekend, so the local squad has put in two hard weeks of practice trying to improve their hitting ability and offensive capabilities.

Starting defensive tackle, Deb Palmer, was lost to the team for the remainder of the season when after complaining of shoulder pain, he was checked with x-rays and a compressed vertebra in his neck was found.

Coach David Thompson said it was determined this was an old injury he didn't know he had which had been aggravated in football this year. Palmer was admitted to Lubbock's Highland Hospital and was scheduled to be released today.

Coach Thompson has announced several position changes in the starting lineups of the offensive and defensive units for the Floydada game.

Thompson said he would choose among Kelly Mason, Chuck Black or Bennie Kennedy to take over Palmer's tackle slot on defense. All have been playing in the line on offense only.

Lance Dunn, a linebacker, has been moved to Mason's position at left guard and will start there on offense.

Noel Pena, who did not see action against Lockney because of a dislocated kneecap, will return to action against Floydada as the middle linebacker.

Charles Curtis, who started at middle linebacker against Lockney, will be moved to strong side linebacker, replacing Dunn who goes to offensive guard.

Tailback Alonzo Luna will be used on offense only with the coaches starting Jimmy Pruitt, Russell Fluitt, or Mark Holly as strong side cornerback, which Luna filled against Lockney.

"We've been working hard and they're a great bunch of kids," Coach Thompson commented on Lope activities for the past two weeks.

As for Floydada, Thompson cites Collins as a good power runner at fullback, says that tailback Moody Younger, 185-pound junior, has good speed, and that quarterback Troy Marquis, 145-pound senior, is quick on the bootlegs and throws well.

Best Floydada receivers are Tracy Womack, a 145-pound senior split end, and Danny Nutt, 160-pound senior wingback. Both have speed and good hands. Defensively, Floydada has a stout line with a pair of quick hitting linebackers. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

Turkey shoot to aid ducks

HEREFORD — The Hereford Chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold a turkey shoot to raise funds for this prominent waterfowl conservation organization Sunday, Sept. 23 at 1 p.m. at the Hereford Gun Club, east of the Hereford Airport.

"The shooting competition is being hosted by the Hereford Gun Club, which has provided it's facilities free of charge for the DU fund raiser," said Jim Steiert, Hereford DU chairman.

7th, 8th graders win

Post's seventh and eighth grade football teams opened their seasons last Thursday night by sweeping a twin bill at Lockney.

The seventh graders triumphed 16 to 8 and the eighth graders rang up an 18 to 12 verdict in the nightcap despite two mistakes which set up both Lockney touchdowns.

Tailback Michael Ollison scored both touchdowns for the seventh graders.

He ran seven yards off tackle for the first td to climax a 45-yard first period drive and then ran end for the two conversion points. Lockney drove 40 yards for its touchdown and conversion points in the second quarter to knot the game at 8-all at halftime.

In the third period, Ollison swept end for 20 yards and his second touchdown as Post marched 65 yards for the winning points. Greg Massey zipped off tackle for the two conversion points.

Post totaled 130 yards with the offensive line doing a good job opening holes. Ollison totaled 94 yards on 15 carries and Massey on four carries picked up 16. The defense did a good job in the second half.

Tailback Milton Williams scored all three touchdowns for the eighth graders as he picked up a new 78 yards on 18 carries.

The locals started badly in this one with a fumbled handoff giving the ball to Lockney on the first scrimmage play after the kickoff. Lockney drove it in for the TD to take a short-lived lead.

On the next kickoff, Williams ran the ball 65 yards for a tying touchdown. A run for the go-ahead conversion points failed.

Late in the second period, Williams broke 13 yards off tackle for his second touchdown to climax a 60-yard Post drive. Post's final td came in the third when Post drove 45 yards with Williams going off tackle the final two yards. Conversion runs after the last two touchdowns also failed.

Post netted 88 yards rushing and didn't throw a pass. Giles Dalby got three yards on two carries and L. D. Harper seven yards in one carry.

Lockney got its second touchdown late in the third when a bad center snap sailed over the Post punter's head and Lockney covered the ball on the Post one-yard-line from where they plunged for the tally. With only seconds to go, Safety Jeff Lamb stopped what could have been Lockney's tying touchdown drive when he intercepted a Lockney pass on the Post 20.

2 deep Garza tests planned

Locations for two deep oil tests in different parts of Garza County were announced this week.

Kerr McGee Corp. will drill its No. 3-A J.F. Barron in the Swenson-Barron field, 25 miles northeast in Post, in a test slated for an 8,000-foot depth.

Penn Exploration Ltd. will drill its No. 1 Lott, 20 miles southwest of Post to a planned depth of 9,000 feet. This one will be a wildcat try.

7th graders get tie as— 8th graders whip Floydada, 20-0

Post Middle School's eighth grade grid team whipped Floydada 20 to 0 at Floydada Tuesday night after the Post seventh graders battled a much bigger Floydada club to a scoreless tie in the opener of the same twin bill.

Floydada failed to penetrate the Post 30 yard line in either game.

Milton Williams scored all 20 points for the eighth graders, getting three touchdowns on runs of 40, 18 and 2 yards and also running end for a two-point conversion. Quarterback James Brown completed both passes attempted, one for 35 yards to R. J. Greathouse to set up the final Post td.

Outstanding on offense for the locals, according to coaches, were Lynn Allen, James Brown, Felix Bustos, Greathouse, Steve Fluitt, David Gonzales, Tony Sepeda, Jeff Sharp, Milton Williams, Robert Williams, and Todd Wilson.

On defense Jeff Lamb intercepted his second pass in two weeks and Milton Williams took a pass

Lope season opens Sept. 29

LUBBOCK — West Texas landowners have an opportunity to obtain approximately 1,633 antelope permits from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department as the annual antelope season opens for nine days starting September 29.

Prospective antelope hunters should find good to excellent range conditions this year which usually contributes to good hunting opportunities and a more enjoyable hunt.

Above-normal rainfall in most areas of West Texas has provided the antelope with ample browse and the animals should be in excellent condition.

Hunters are reminded to contact the antelope permit holders in advance of the hunt scheduled to open next week.

JVs win opener with late TD

The Post Junior Varsity struck through the air for the only touchdown of the game with just 2:50 left on the clock in Antelope Stadium last Thursday night to defeat Lockney's JVs 8 to 0 in the opener for both clubs.

Quarterback David Foster passed 20 yards to Jerry Hawkins for the touchdown. He then threw to Kraig Peel for the two conversion points.

Post hasn't got its offense rolling yet, but played a good defensive game to hold Lockney scoreless.

Post managed only eight yards rushing and 68 yards passing to 32 yards on the ground and 171 in the air for Lockney.

Coaches expressed themselves as very pleased with the locals' defensive showing.

The JVs will play the Floydada junior varsity here tonight in the second game of a twin bill.

Freshmen win 18-12 as— Will Kirkpatrick scores three tds

Tailback Will Kirkpatrick scored three touchdowns here last Thursday night to lead the Post Freshmen to an 18 to 12 season-opening victory over the Lockney frosh.

Linebacker Toby Craft set up the first Post score when he intercepted a Lockney pass and returned it 35 yards to the Lockney eight in the first period.

Kirkpatrick ran for the td on the next scrimmage play. Just about everything went wrong on Kirkpatrick's attempted conversion kick.

The Post touchdown tied the score at 6-6 as Lockney put the first points on the board with a 74-yard scoring dash.

Just before the half, Kirkpatrick broke off tackle for 69 yards and the go-ahead touchdown to put Post up 12 to 6. Quarterback Tim Tannehill was "sacked" on an attempted pass for the conversion points.

In the third period, Post put the game in the win bag with a 53-yard scoring drive. Kirkpatrick bucked over from the two for the tally. Another conversion point pass failed.

Lockney got its other touchdown in the fourth on a 46-yard td pass play on fourth down with Post having its kick return team on the field.

The local frosh piled up 231 yards rushing, but got nothing at all through the air. Lockney rushed for 86 yards and got a new of 42 yards passing.

The Post freshmen will play the Floydada frosh in Antelope Stadium tonight as the first game of a twin bill with the kickoff set for 5:30 p.m.

COTTON TODAY

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Senate Passes Disaster Crop Insurance Bill
The Senate has approved a bill providing for a new expanded federal crop insurance program and a two-year extension of the present disaster program for cotton, wheat, feed grains, and rice. The current disaster program expires at the end of the 1979 crop year. The House is expected to take up a similar bill as early as mid-October. The chief difference is the House bill is its extension of the disaster program only for 1980 and under limited conditions for 1981. The National Cotton Council is seeking amendments to extend the present disaster program for two years without any limitations.

Court Asks Status of NIOSH Study
The District of Columbia Appeals Court has requested information from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration as to the status of a National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health study on byssinosis risks in non-textile segments of the cotton industry. The court asked OSHA to let it know when the study is expected to be completed and whether the study has deviated in any way from its initial description. The NIOSH statement describing the study is included in the record of court cases involving OSHA's cotton dust standards. Cotton industry attorneys are not sure how the court's request bears on the timing or outcome of the pending suits against the standard.

Conference to be Held
The Natural Fibers Textile Conference sponsored by the National Cotton Council and wool groups in cooperation with USDA will be held in Charlotte, N.C., Sept. 18-20. Preceding the conference is a Cotton Spinner-Breeder Seminar which begins with a tour of Cannon Mills at Kannapolis the morning of Sept. 17, followed by the formal program starting at 1:15 p.m. A cotton Dust Seminar will open the next morning and the Natural Fibers Textile Conference begins after noon.

Eddie Bass took the opening kickoff and returned 87 yards for a touchdown in the Tularosa Wildcats game over Socorro, Tex., and won it 32-0. STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Officials for SEDCO, Inc., the Dallas-based oil well drilling firm founded by Gov. Bill Clements, started a congressional committee last week when they revealed that Mexican oil company officials failed to heed advice which might have prevented the massive oil spill still blackening the Texas coastline.

SEDCO had leased the oil rig to a Mexican drilling firm, Pemargo, which had the contract from the Mexican government-owned oil company, PEMEX. Stephen Mahood, SEDCO vice president and general counsel, testified the company advised against the drilling practice but were ignored by Pemargo and PEMEX officials.

Specifically, they were advised by SEDCO men to pump seawater into the well to prevent the oil blowout, and later, were advised against removing the drill pipe from the well, Mahood testified.

Seeks Immunity

Three days following the congressional committee hearing, SEDCO attorneys asked a Galveston federal judge to declare the drilling firm free from liability for damages from the oil spill. The company also asked as an alternative that the judge limit any liability for damages against SEDCO to $300,000, the amount the firm would have earned from the lease of the rig to Mexico.

U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor signed an interim order protecting the company from any liability and set Oct. 23 as the deadline for filing any claims against the company.

SEDCO's request surprised Texas Attorney General Mark White, who is investigating the cause of the spill. White said he has stronger suspicions that the company ordered the drilling rig scuttled a month after the blowout to destroy evidence.

Emergency Appropriations

Meanwhile, at a Capitol press conference last week a Texas coastline legislator announced he will ask Clements to include an emergency appropriation for revitalizing the weakened Texas tourist economy caused by the oil spill, should the governor decide to call a promised special session.

State Rep. Hector Uribe, a Brownsville attorney, said he will ask for $1 million in emergency funds for advertising to counteract the bad publicity that tourism has received from the news coverage of the oil spill.

Foreign-Owned

Since March foreigners have bought 53,002 acres of Texas farmland valued at nearly $27.3 million, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture report.

Five of the transactions ranged from $1.2 million to nearly $3.5 million.

During the last session the Texas House of Representatives narrowly rejected a proposal that would have required more accurate registration of foreign-owned agricultural land in the state.

Garcia Named

Last week Speaker of the House Bill Clayton named San Antonio representative Matt Garcia to the Appropriations Committee. Garcia, a member of the Mexican-American caucus, replaces former State Rep. Jim Clark who resigned in the spring to become mayor of Pasadena.

McKnight Vs. Hobby?

Tyler State Sen. Peyton McKnight announced he will be a candidate for statewide office in 1982, probably for Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby's seat.

Hobby, who would face election to a fourth term if he runs, has made no comment.

McKnight did not commit himself only to running for Hobby's office, but made it clear Hobby was his main target.

Unions Holding

Meanwhile, Texas AFL-CIO president Harry Hubbard told a Nederland audience that unions will push to retain their foothold in state government.

Hubbard said unionization of state workers was one goal; another was financial commitments to candidates in senate and house races.

Party Switch

A power shift of another sort occurred last week when veteran Democrat Sen. Bill Braecklein of Dallas announced he is becoming a Republican. His reason is he can't support President Jimmy Carter and he believes Carter is too great a burden to carry in his district, which almost went Republican in the state senate race four years ago.

Dallas State Rep. David Cain and County Democratic Chairman Ron Kessler are both eyeing that party's slot for the race against Braecklein.

Creighton to Step Down

State Sen. Tom Creighton, D-Mineral Wells, has announced he will retire, giving up his seat of 20 years to devote full time to law practice.

"I'm tired," Creighton explained. "I've had 20 years in the senate, plus another eight years public service as Palo Pinto County attorney. That ought to be enough, don't you think?"

A staunch business supporter, Creighton chaired the economic development committee. Supporters of Gov. Bill Clements had tried in past weeks to get Creighton to switch parties, but he balked at that, saying he ran as a Democrat and would die a Democrat.

Creighton was the last "admitted" tobacco chewer in the Senate, and an adept pilot who once had to crash land his plane in an emergency while en route to a Colorado hunting trip.

Marathon Suit Settlement

The Texas Railroad Commission approved final settlement of the marathon natural gas contract dispute between Coastal States Gas Corp. and LoVaca Gathering Co. and some 400 customers.

Under the settlement, customers will drop their $1.6 billion damages suit, LoVaca will be separated from Coastal States and transformed into a new company known as Valero Energy Co., Coastal States will spend $180 million minimum over the next 15 years exploring for gas for Valero, and Austin, San Antonio and the Lower Colorado River Authority will have the chance to buy extensive lignite leases now owned by Coastal in Bastrop, Fayette and Washington counties.

TAX NOTICE

To maintain the same general level of revenue as was generated last year the Board of Trustees of the Post I. S. D. would have to adopt a tax rate of $1.13. The Board of Trustees, in accordance with the requirements of Section 20.03 (d) of the Texas Education Code, hereby announces its intent to adopt a tax rate of $1.20 per $100 of assessed value. A public hearing on this action will be held at the Post High School Library on Thursday, September 27, 1979 at 7:30 p. m.

Rotary Governor praises local club

District Rotary Governor J. Davis Armistead of Lubbock told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in the community center that Rotary is celebrating its 75th birthday and each club is encouraged to undertake a "birthday project".

He praised the local club for its outstanding record and commented that "the sun never sets on Rotary." He said if a Rotarian decided to visit every Rotary club at a one a day rate it would take 50 years to visit them and then when he got home he would find hundreds more Rotary clubs had been organized while he had been gone.

Stressing the Rotary motto, "service above self",

PHS now has—

(Continued From Page One) newspaper staff are Karron Hays and Ronnie Bilbo, photographers; Melissa Tatum, senior spotlight editor; Lillian Cendalski, HECE reporter; with other reporters being Holly Giddens, Jimmy Pruitt, Mike Macy, Donna Baumann, Tricia Craig, Bill Short, Drew Kirkpatrick, Adolfo Varela and David Foster.

Donna George is the editor of the annual.

Mrs. Florene King and George Pierce are sponsors of the newspaper.

No definite decision has yet been made, but probably the new student paper will be printed monthly.

Governor Armistead pointed out that Rotary which was begun by a young lawyer in Chicago about 1905 now has three-fourths of its 815,000 members outside the United States. Rotarians speak 39 different languages.

He reported Rotary last year spent $8.7 million on educational awards to deserving young people around the world and in a very few years will spend $22 million annual on such study awards.

He also commented on the fact that Rotary is raising $12 million this year for its new health, hunger and humanity program which is being begun by vaccinating tens of thousands of Philippine children against polio.

He urged club emphasis on attendance and expanding membership.

Governor Armistead conducted a club assembly for Post club officers and directors in the bank community room Monday afternoon.

Club officers headed by President Henry Wheatley took Governor Armistead to dinner Monday night while wives of club officers and directors entertained Mrs. Armistead with a salad supper in the home of Mrs. Wheatley.

Attending the supper were Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Bill Pool, Mrs. James Mitchell, Mrs. Charles McCook, Mrs. Everett Windham, Mrs. Colley Gatlin and Mrs. Walter Didway.

Band uniforms—Lunchroom project—

It was suggested by one trustee that a committee which would include the band director, booster club representation, and administrative representation be named to actually select the new uniforms.

The band uniform proposal was not included in the new budget, but there was indications from various trustees that after further study a purchase of band uniforms could be authorized in time for securing the uniforms by the start of the 1980-81 school year with its inclusion in next year's budget.

Jackson told trustees that the booster club wasn't coming to the board with requests for all band needs.

He said the band boosters intend to raise funds to carpet the band hall, hang curtains, install a water cooler, provide films and record player for band director's use, purchase a trophy case to house the band's trophies, and put up a new band hall sign outside.

Jackson was accompanied to the public budget hearing by Silas Short.

Besides a new kitchen, plus some additional equipment the project costs also would include new dining room lighting and new carpet to help reduce the high noise factor.

Supt. Shiver said the $50,000 taken from the capital outlay portion of the budget to help finance the lunchroom project would leave about as much left in that portion of the budget as has been used for capital outlay in previous years.

He added that he could get together with the three principals to determine priorities on how to spend what would be left in the capital outlay portion of the budget and he foresaw no real problems there.

Even with the expansion of the dining capacity of the dining room, it would have a capacity of only 150 which probably wouldn't be sufficient for all future needs, it was pointed out. But a later additional expansion of the dining area would not be nearly as expensive as building the new kitchen, Hall said. The present lunchroom capacity is 90.

Flanigan in voting against the expansion told other trustees he favored putting all new additions to school facilities before the voters for approval, adding that this would involve school district voters more in the school process and would require trustees to help educate the voting public as to school needs.

Kirkpatrick commented that with the economic situation bringing increased lunchroom use, the school district is now able to fund the expansion but trustees won't know what they can do by 1982 under the new state financing law.

"It won't get any cheaper either in the future," Kirkpatrick added.

Lott told Flanigan he would be willing to put the project on the spring ballot only if Flanigan could guarantee that school district voters would come in here and study the situation and the need and then actually vote.

Supt. Shiver also proposed that the $5,922.54 increase in the special education budget instead of being spent for new equipment be put aside to be used to finance the start of a program for gifted students.

The money would not be spent, he explained, until a program for gifted students would be worked out and presented to school trustees for approval.

He pointed out this would give the schools a program for "the other end of the scale" in the education of exceptional children. The budget reduction proposed would have been used for the purchase of additional audio-visual equipment, he told the board.

This proposal received a favorable reaction from board members.

Hall also reported the cost to paint the exterior of the expanded middle school and its tied-in gym would cost an estimated $9,266, that his recommendation to pave the middle school's yard in front with asphalt would cost in

CofC directors—

The committee wants a lighted Christmas tree erected in the middle of Main street this year in front of the McCrary building and named Curtis Hudman to secure such a tree.

Efforts also will be made to keep stores open in the evenings for local shoppers with two stores pledging to remain open six evenings each week from early December until Christmas.

The committee agreed that individual stores should have their own contests and promotions instead of the cash drawings.

the neighborhood of another $9,000 and that he would recommend adding vinyl floor treads to stairs in the middle school to reduce noise at a nominal cost.

Trustees delayed consideration of these items to a future meeting, possibly in October.

Tax rate reduced—

The tax rate, without the school lunchroom project boost, could have been lowered an additional nickel to $1.15.

Trustees formally approved Tuesday night a new budget without the $71,799 for the lunchroom project. After the tax increase hearing, trustees would revise the budget with the $71,779 addition if they then formally approved the $1.20 tax rate.

The board voted 4 to 1 to tentatively set the tax rate at $1.20 with final tax rate approval still to come next Thursday night at the public "tax increase hearing".

Mike Flanigan voted no on the rate motion because of the inclusion of the lunchroom project without prior voter approval.

In presenting the revised budget Monday night, Supt. Shiver said a total expenditure of $2,569,302 is planned, including the lunchroom project, and of this amount $848,383.22 in funds would come from state and federal sources and about $1,720,919 from the school district taxpayers.

The school district is running weeks behind in adopting its budget and setting its tax rate because of an extended delay in receiving oil valuations from its tax evaluation firm.

School tax notices are due in taxpayers' hands Oct. 1, or only four days after next Thursday's tax increase public hearing.

Good is steer—

(Continued From Page One) Third in total earnings for the year was Woodward, Okla., roper, Arnold Felts, who amassed a total of $10,329 in steer roping prize money and made a very strong showing in the finals, collecting $4,760. Felts also is in the OS field.

All told eight of the top 15 steer ropers in the 1979 season based on their earnings in the event, will be here for the OS. Others are Phil Lye of Artesia Wells, No. 6, $6,132; Kenny Call of Oklahoma City, No. 8, $5,336; Guy Allen of Santa Anna, No. 9, $5,018; Olin Young of Peralta, N.M., No. 15, $3,601; and James Allen of Santa Anna, No. 16, $3,570.
