City, hospital incumbents reelected, but—

Voters choose new school trustees

Voters Saturday replaced two Post school trustees with Royce Hart and Jack Kirkpatrick, while reelecting three incumbents each to the Post city council and the Garza hospital district by big margins.

Hart defeated John Boren by a 21-vote margin, 268 to 247, for the place 7 position on the school board and Kirkpatrick edged Mike Flanagan by 10 votes, 263 to 253 to capture place 6.

It was virtually no contest in the city and hospital races although there were challengers for every position but that of mayor.

Mayor Giles McCrary, unopposed on the ballot, was handed his sixth two-year term with 213 votes.

The lack of a contest for the top city position drew a flock of write-ins as is customary here.

Kay Hays received 12 write-in votes and Billy Hahn two.

Numerous people received one vote each including that Hollywood cartoon character Mickey Mouse.

In the two city council races, W. G. (Bill) Pool, Jr., and Mrs. Maxine Marks Earl won reelection easily. Pool received 195 votes and Mrs. Marks 160.

Third in a seven-candidate field was Ray Bagby with 104, followed by Johnnie Q. Ward 99, Ronnie G. (Ronnie) Ammons 70, Jack Glen Ault 65 and Jackie Gordon with an uncounted smaller number. Gordon had asked to withdraw too late to get his name off the ballot, so counters didn't keep track of his votes.

In the Garza hospital district election, Directors David Nichols, Jack Alexander and Danny Shaw rolled up big majorities of the 474 votes cast to win new two-year terms.

Nichols had 372 votes, Alexander 367, and Danny Shaw 343. Conner Howell had 156 and G. M. Chaffin 111.

Most interest centered in the school board contests.

Despite the fact that all three elections were held in the community center, the school election "pulled" by far the most voters plus sparking the only real interest in advance absent-

Donations sought for Girlstown

The Post Lions Club is sponsoring a donation drive for shoes, clothes, bedding, jeans, and toiletries for the 50 girls who were burned out of their Girlstown dormitory in Whiteface in an early Monday fire.

The girls range in age from 11 to 17. Donations will be received at the soil conservation office here between the bank and the postoffice during regular business hours by Dwayne Binford and Richard Bennett. Cash donations also are being received by the Lions to help finance rebuilding the dormitory as the burned out structure was not insured.

City dump site asked—

Shooting range planned here

Highway trooper Louis Cardinal Monday night asked the Post city council for enough room on the city dump grounds to build a shooting range to be operated by a local chapter of the National Rifle Association.

The council took the request under advisement and asked Harvey Morton, attorney for the city, to look into the legalities of such a city action.

He said it would take some time to obtain specifications for such a range, determine size needed, and make other plans and that he would return to the council when the local group was ready to proceed. Membership in the NRA is $6 a year.

Cardinal explained he was looking into requirements to

VFW gives $600 for Girlstown

The Veterans of Foreign Wars here at a meeting Tuesday night launched a cash donation fund to help build a new girls' dormitory for Girlstown with a contribution of $600.

VFW officials said an account would be opened at the bank Wednesday with the $600 and all Garza residents who want to can add to it to help build a new million dollar dorm for the girls who lost their sleeping quarters and all possessions in an early Monday morning fire at Whiteface.

Many such funds, but few with such a substantial "opener", have sprung up in many West Texas communities in the wake of the fire.

build such a shooting range to meet all safety standards with the range insured through the National Rifle Association.

The council appeared willing to go along with the request if no legal problem would be raised.

Mayor Giles McCrary praised Cardinal and other who recently conducted a Sunday afternoon class in gun shooting and gun safety.

Cardinal said many requests have been received for another such session and a second one will be scheduled this summer.

Talk given on art festival

Carl Hill, executive director of the Cultural Affairs Council of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce spoke to Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in the community center on the Lubbock Arts Festival coming up May 1, 2, and 3.

He also had a slide presentation of some of the highlights of last year's festival which drew some 85,000 people from all over West Texas.

Hill said artists from 20 states will participate with the festival including singing, dancing, drama, and all forms of arts and crafts.

DEPUTY RETURNS

The sheriff's force is complete again with Deputy Ruben Garcia returning to work after resigning last week following his first week on duty here.

New all-out drive for 32 rental units agreed

The Post Public Housing Authority board has reconsidered its decision of last month to halt negotiations with the HUD office in Dallas for a 32-unit rental housing project here for the poor and elderly.

The housing board met with the city council Monday night and everyone agreed that Post's housing situation is so desperate that everything possible should be done to gain approval of such a federal housing grant.

The housing board had met on three successive days the previous week and agreed to continue negotiations with HUD and request that all 32 units be designated for use by the elderly.

It also agreed to ask HUD to speed negotiations on the project. At the Monday night meeting of council and housing board, Mayor Giles McCrary agreed to call Ed Garcia in the Dallas HUD office and try to arrange a face to face meeting either in Lubbock next week or in Dallas to determine what must be worked out to HUD's satisfaction to gain site approval and speed the project negotiations along.

Garcia has told Sexton Huntley, housing authority manager, in a long telephone conversation last week that HUD funds are available this year for the Post 32-unit project.

Mayor McCrary suggested Monday night that if necessary the city could finance a trip to Dallas for representatives of the Post Housing Authority board to confer with Garcia in an attempt to work out site approval.

According to Huntley Garcia has been here and inspected the five to six-acre proposed site west of Avenue S and south of US 380 owned by Earl Rogers.

Garcia is reported to have turned down the site at that time because the only entrance was off the Tahoka highway and due to an oil pipeline which crossed the site.

At the joint meeting Monday night, the housing board, which consists of Don Payne, Curtis Hudman, Donald Windham, Pru Basquez, and the Rev. Arthur Kelly, emphasized that the west site remains a problem for obtaining HUD approval and that the contractor which must furnish the site has no option at this time on the Rogers property.

Rogers told The Dispatch last Friday that he could trade a piece of the proposed site which has the pipeline crossing it for other land he owns at the other end to solve the pipeline problem.

Payne told the council 90 percent of the applications for the new rental housing is coming from the elderly and if the elderly move into such units it will open their present homes in Post to other renters, thus easing the overall housing pinch here.

John Hoover of Burnett flew into Post March 30 for a meeting with the housing authority board. He is the contractor who proposed the Rogers site.

The board met again the following day to make a decision on the project but did not have a quorum. So it met April 1 and voted to reconsider abandoning the project effort and to ask See Public housing, Page 12

Free to public Friday, Saturday, Sunday—

Art show judging begins

Judging is scheduled to get under way this morning in the Spring Art Show, sponsored by the Post Art Guild, in the Post Community Center.

Judges are Paul Wylie of Lubbock for paintings, sculpture and drawings; and Robert Brummel of Lubbock for photography.

Artists from all over Texas and eastern New Mexico are expected to enter the spring show which last year saw purchase awards of well over $3,000 made by the Post business community and private patrons.

Tonight from 7 to 9:30 p.m. a patrons' reception is scheduled.

The show will be open to the public without charge from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both Friday and Saturday, and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The awards presentation will be made at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

These awards will include the $500 PAG award with the purchase being hung in the Twin Cedars Rest Home; a $65 juror's art choice; a $35 juror's photograph choice; a $25 people's choice, and a wide variety of purchase awards.

Entries for the big show were received all-day Wednesday with the entry deadline at 8 p.m.

Former Post coach Waco Reynolds, now the superintendent of Girlstown at Whiteface, is the hero of the hour in West Texas this week after crawling back into a blazing dormitory filled with smoke early Monday morning to rescue two girls crying for help.

Waco left a lot of friends in Post and the quick and generous response both to his act of heroism and to the needs of some 44 girls in his charge has been gratifying.

The VFW has made an initial $600 contribution to a Girlstown dorm fund which the veterans organization opened in the bank yesterday. They are inviting all others here who want to help to stop by the bank and leave their checks or cash contributions to be added to the initial $600.

City council told by Bob Macy—

$250,000 funding for airport sought

Bob Macy, chairman of the city-county airport board, told the city council Monday night that the board will submit a funding request to the Texas Aeronautics Commission for $250,000 to repair and resurface airport runways here. He said the TAC inspectors see the need to spend $500,000 to bring the airport here into top condition. This would include widening and lengthening of runways, besides resurfacing, and lighting improvements.

"We know the community doesn't have this kind of money," Macy told the council.

He said runway repairs made by the city and county "helped some" but that generally the airport is "in poor condition."

Macy asked the council for authority to purchase a rotating beacon for the airport to guide night flyers in at a cost of about $700.

He also said the airport board would like to purchase a mobile home to serve as office and restroom facilities for the airport. He said the cost would total about $10,000 once such a mobile home is plumbed. He added the board also will try to obtain a public phone for the airport. Twice vandals have torn up an airport phone so it has been removed by General Telephone.

Macy in giving his report to the council said it is surprising the amount of use the airport is receiving, especially from oil company flyers. (See City council, Page 12)

Huntley Nursing home sold to AMI

H.H. (Hank) Huntley has sold his 75-bed Huntley Nursing Home here to A.M.I. Inc., which now operates 75 such nursing homes throughout the country.

The name of the nursing home has been changed and will be operated under the name United Convalescent of Post.

Jane Carlisle, who has worked in nursing homes under Huntley for the last eight years, is the new administrator.

A.M.I. announced it is happy "to be a part of Post and invites the people of Post to visit the home.

Huntley said his future plans are indefinite and for the immediate future he plans to continue to make his residence here.

The nursing home was opened here Jan. 19, 1980 and now has 37 residents.

The A.M.I. corporation is headquartered in Shreveport, La.

PHS one-act play 1st in district

"The Miracle Worker", the one-act play of Post High School won first place honors in the district meet held at O'Donnell last Thursday, April 2 with Lubbock Cooper finishing second. Tahoka High School will be the alternate.

Lillian Cendalski was named best actress and Amy Thuett was named to the all-star cast with Tim Tatum and Benny Jackson named as honorable mention.

The play will go to the Area meet Saturday, April 11 in Plainview with the 40-minute act beginning at 6 p.m. in Plainview High School.

Miss Candace McConnell, director of the play said she and the whole gang of the play wanted to thank the public for their tremendous support at the district meet last week and hope for the continued support this week at the area meet.

Patience now a must

Post's housing situation being what it is and has been for years — desperate — this certainly is not the time for our public housing board to throw up its hands in disgust and end negotiations for an additional 32 rental units on the western edge of the city.

Few can of course blame housing board members for their feelings of frustration in trying to get HUD's approval for the site location and the project itself.

Negotiations have been under way for years — and other than the fact that HUD apparently has earmarked some federal funds for Post no agreement appears to be near.

The housing authority board in a series of meetings last week decided to try again providing HUD would agree to okay all 32 units for the elderly.

The city council has shown its keen interest in seeing the negotiation efforts continue. Post only two weeks ago just missed a million and half dollar block grant which could have been used in a variety of ways to aid the poor living in the eastern portions of Post.

This may well be "the last time around" for the city to secure a significant federal grant to improve the housing situation here. The Reagan Administration is intent on whacking away at the liberal disposal of federal funds for a variety of purposes as long as Uncle Sam has a deficit operations going.

The Dispatch and most Post residents are glad to see this change in national outlook too. Over the long run, we will have a far better chance to solve our own housing problems if the U.S. economy rids itself of the inflation that has run construction costs virtually out of sight and put construction borrowing beyond most private means in the small towns.

But for the short run, the only chance of obtaining new, badly needed rental housing here is through the government loan program operated by HUD.

Let's keep the HUD channels open. Let's keep trying. Let's be patient. It may seem unfair and it may not work, but there is no other alternative to possibly improve our local housing situation.

Two hard choices

The shooting of President Reagan last week has again raised the same unanswered questions about American violence.

Nuts with guns have been firing away at our presidents for at least 150 years with horrifying results. Most thinking people don't believe it is about to stop either. Presidents are top targets because of the tremendous publicity shooting them generates.

But aside from shooting presidents, Americans shoot to kill thousands of other Americans each year for a wide variety of reasons, not many of them sane.

Crime continues to wash across this country like an ugly flood spewing violence at any and every hour of the day or night. Big cities have become virtually battlegrounds in America today. Thousands of alarmed Americans have purchased guns, learned to shoot in shooting galleries and are determined to protect themselves.

The rest of the world watches in wonder although violence overseas is an organized terrorist operation in dozens of countries.

Oh we know about our violence. But we do not know what to do about it. It's probably too late for gun control. People demand the right to defend themselves, claimed as a constitutional "right" for Americans.

America got into violence in its early years and generally Americans refuse to give it up. The movies of the last generation, featuring the cowboy shoot-em-ups, were a powerful educational influence in favor of violence. Kids grew up with the idea that it would always be the "good guys" against "the bad guys."

Then television came along. Television is the most powerful educational instrument for either good or bad in the history of the world because in seconds it can put its dramatic, convincing message before millions.

TV spread the "summer riots" of the 1960s just by showing them across the nation.

It's daily viewing fare of violence, horror, and even sex is changing the face of America. It is a more powerful teacher than those we pay to work in our classrooms because it is ever present and glamorized in convincing fashion.

Television must be curbed if we are to discontinue the education in violence to each generation of the young. But television is now all-powerful because of the money at its disposal.

Another aspect of curbing American violence is to correct a public-induced over-emphasis upon personal liberty in our court system.

A hard choice should be made for community safety over personal liberty. Easy sentences and a court tendency to free the convicted on worthless technicalities under the name of the protection of an individual's freedom are handcuffing our overworked law enforcement.

It's time that justice was made swift — and sure. That in itself would become a powerful and educational deterrent.

It comes as something of a shock to realize that some youngsters in American classrooms last week actually cheered and clapped when it was announced the president had been shot. And we certainly put no blame on teachers for that reaction. The kids learned that from the tube — and on the street.

Just as television and a laxness of judicial justice can be very damaging so can both TV and justice be put to strengthening America by educational use.

The "boob tube" can be harnessed. Those in the robes of justice can by law be redirected for this country's good.

Last November America made a hard choice at the polls to dramatically change things in our economic system. We can make two more hard choices for our own good, if we have both the courage and consensus to demand them.

AROUND WEST TEXAS

IF YOU GOTTA GO...

My friend is rather an old fashioned lady, always quite delicate and elegant, especially in her language. She and her husband were planning a week's vacation in Florida, so she wrote to a particular campground and asked for a reservation. She wanted to make sure the campground was fully equipped, but didn't quite know how to ask about the toilet in her letter.

After much deliberation, she finally came up with the old fashioned term "bathroom commode". But when she wrote that down she thought she was still being too forward. So, she started all over again, rewrote the entire letter, and referred to the bathroom commode merely as B.C. Does the campground have its own B.C.? is what she actually wrote.

Well, the campground owner wasn't old fashioned, and when he got the letter, he just couldn't figure out what the woman was talking about. That B.C. business really stumped him.

After worrying about it for awhile, he showed the letter to several campers but they couldn't imagine what the lady meant either. So the campground owner, finally coming to the conclusion that the lady must be asking about the location of the local Baptist Church, sat down and wrote the following reply.

Dear Madam:

I regret very much the delay in answering your letter, but I now take the pleasure of informing you that a B.C. is located nine miles North of the campground and is capable of seating 250 people at one time. I admit it is quite a distance away if you are in the habit of going regularly, but no doubt you will be pleased to know that a great number of the people take their lunches along and make a day of it. They usually arrive early and stay late.

The last time my wife and I went was six years ago, and it was so crowded we had to stand up the whole time we were there. It may interest you to know that right now there is a supper planned to raise money to buy more seats. They're going to hold it in the basement of the B.C.

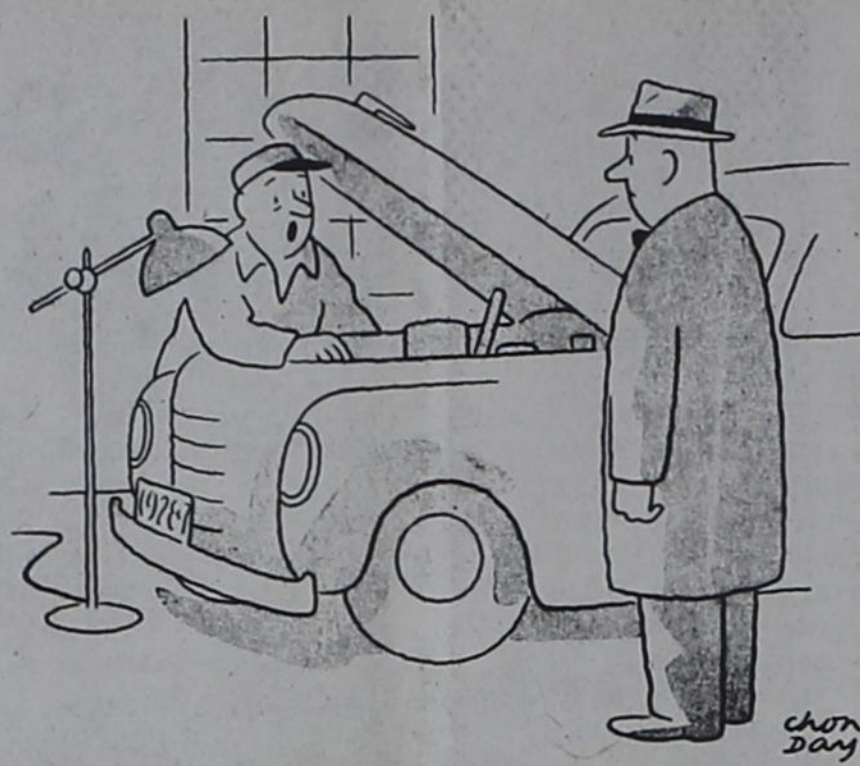

I would like to say it pains me very much not to be able to go more regularly, but it surely is no lack of desire on my part. As we grow older, it seems to be more of an effort, particularly in cold weather. If you decide to come down to our campground, perhaps I could go, and sit with you and introduce you to all the other folks. Remember, this is a friendly community.

What better time to launch a new library column for The Dispatch than during Texas Library Week. As for column expectations, we won't guess on the quality but we will promise continuity — week after week in an effort to interest Dispatch readers in library reading too.

As for library week, the theme this year is "Texas Libraries — Check Us Out!" To which we add, why don't you?

Librarian Pee Wee Pierce flew home from Houston last Thursday night after spending two days attending the 68th convention of the Texas Library Association along with some 2,500 others.

She says Lynn Ashby, popular Houston Post columnist who was the main speaker of the first session, has as his subject, "Nobody Reads Anymore." He cited the great decreases in readership of books and newspapers especially among young people. Ashby's concerns centered around the press role as a watchdog of the government and the fact that when people stop reading they lose their ability to monitor what their government does. Most people, he said, depend upon TV for all their news and TV only carries the headlines.

Oh yes, there is a new Texas paper. It's name is the Texas National Dispatch (they picked a good one didn't they?) It is the newspaper of the Texas 1986 Bicentennial Commission. Format of the paper is a duplicate of the style of the Texas National Register, which was a newspaper published at Washington-on-the-Brazos, which was the capitol of the independent Republic of Texas away back in 1844. Pee Wee brought an extra copy back for The Post Dispatch.

We'll have some more to say about this first issue of The Texas National Dispatch in later columns.

Governor Bill Clements, an enthusiastic book collector himself, has issued a proclamation encouraging all Texans to visit their libraries and to take advantage of the resources and services they offer this library week.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS

Milk price supports serve an important purpose in American agriculture. They assure that we have an adequate supply of pure, wholesome and fresh milk every day.

Under the price support system, the government buys surplus milk at a specified price level. That means dairy farmers can be assured of — and plan on the basis of — a stable price. And that, in turn, means there always is sufficient fresh milk to meet our needs.

However, in recent months, production in milk has increased beyond the level which can be consumed, and the government is having to buy more milk than it can use in all of its social programs. Storage costs alone are now running at half a million dollars a day.

The reasons for this surplus go beyond the price support level, and are affected by low prices for cattle which normally would be winnowed out of dairy herds. Even so, it makes little sense to increase the support level further to encourage still more production when those levels already are too high.

Therefore, the Administration recommended, and the Senate has agreed, that the scheduled April increase in the price support level be suspended. That action will save an estimated $147 million this fiscal year.

Before I voted for this measure, I looked carefully at its projected consequences. The evidence indicates the impact on producers will be moderate. In fact, cash receipts from milk sales will rise about 12 percent in this fiscal year without the increase, compared to a projected 14 percent if it were allowed to go into effect.

Further, the money to be saved is an essential part of the Administration's economic recovery program. As I said earlier, many of the problems facing the dairy industry are caused by the overall economic crisis. If, then, we are able to institute the economic recovery plan in full, we will attack the dairy industry's problems at their real roots.

Unfortunately, the debate in the Senate on this issue was complicated with a variety of amendments, most notably one to ban imports of a by-product called casein. This substance is used in non-dairy substitutes. I opposed that amendment for two reasons: I believed that it was not an integral part of the milk support issue — and in fact would not have had a major impact on the amount of surplus milk in this country. But, more importantly, not enough information is yet available to make an intelligent decision on the issue. The Congress is to receive a report on the implications of casein imports in June. At that time, we will look very carefully at the issue. If it is apparent that the import ban is necessary, certainly I will support it.

At this time of economic crisis, we must all pull together. We must look beyond our short-term individual interests to the larger national good and our own long-term benefit. I am convinced that the American people, especially Texans, are ready to do that.

But let me reassure you that I am and will continue to be aware of the importance of agriculture to our nation and state, and will work to help our valuable producers cope with their problems.

4 new producers for Garza

Four new small oil producers, two of them in the Dorward field, three miles southeast of Justiceburg by Exxon Corporation, highlight Garza's drilling news this week.

The new Exxon producers are the No. 3-P Exxon Fee and No. 27-G Exxon Fee. The No. 3-P produced 38 barrels of oil and 97 of water from an interval of 1,839 to 2,441 feet. The No. 27-G on test rated 36 barrels of oil and 100 of water daily from 1,562 to 2,441 feet.

The third new producer is Rocker A Well Service Inc. No. 1-A First National Bank of Dallas in the A.F.G. field, 12 miles northeast of Post.

It has produced 15.3 barrels of oil daily on test and 133.6 barrels of water from an interval of 3,363 to 3,386 feet.

The fourth producer of the week is the Jim & Carolyn Matthews No. 4 Kennedy, two miles east of Post, which pumped 29 barrels of oil daily and 59 of water from an interval of 2,930 to 3,100 feet. The well was drilled to a total depth of 3,130 feet.

Locations announced during the past week include: George R. Brown's No. 13-D Post-Montgomery Unit 1, one and one-half miles southeast of Post in the Garza field which will be drilled to 3,250 feet.

A wildcat, the Tuthill and Barbee No. 1-32 Swenson, 12 miles northeast of Post which will be drilled to 7,900 feet.

A Teas field re-entry, Viking Energy Corp's No. 2 Lott, eight miles south of Post which will have an 8,400 foot depth.

DAMCO Energy Corp. will drill a deep wildcat, the No. 1 Miller, four and one-half miles southwest of Justiceburg. The test is scheduled for an 8,100 foot depth.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF TAX EXEMPTIONS AVAILABLE TO HOMEOWNERS

The Garza County Tax Appraisal District, acting for Post ISD and Southland ISD is currently accepting applications for residence homestead exemptions. The deadline for filing is April 30, 1981. Applications should be filed as early as possible to avoid inconvenience to the homeowner.

Two types of homestead exemptions from school taxes are available to taxpayers who owned their residence homesteads in this school district on January 1 of this year. First, the general homestead exemption is available to all homeowners and exempts $5,000 from the market value of the homestead.

Second, any person who is 65 years of age or older or who is disabled can be exempted an additional $10,000 from the market value of the homestead. Proof of age or disability may be necessary.

"Disabled," in this case, refers to the definition found in the Federal Old-Age Survivors, and Disability Insurance Act under the Social Security Administration. Disability is defined as inability to engage in any substantial gainful employment which exists in the national economy, or, in the case of someone who is 55 and blind, inability by reason of such blindness to engage in the employment in which he was previously engaged. The person claiming disability does not necessarily have to be drawing benefits from Social Security.

Homeowners age 65 or older who apply for their exemption will be granted a tax freeze. If application is not made, the tax freeze will be lost for this year.

The agricultural exemption deadline is also April 30, 1981.

Application forms were mailed earlier to all homeowners who qualify for a homestead exemption or agriculture exemption in 1981. If you did not receive an application, or if you have questions about qualifying for exemptions or filing application forms, contact the appraisal office at 495-3939.

Application forms may also be picked up at the Appraisal Office at the County Courthouse in Post, Texas.

Twin Cedars News

Our church services were given by Brother Pickett of the First Christian Church and Bee Dodson played the organ. They really enjoyed the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Oreta Bevers of Southland, Mrs. Hodges' daughter, has been very nice about brings aids to our home.

Mrs. Esker Stone and Mildred Stewart came and sang for our family and Billie Caylor and Mildred danced to the waltz and everyone had a great time. Jimmy Holleman and his family visited Mrs. Holleman's sister who is one of our residents. Her sister's name is Irene McCormick.

The Gideons International came and gave Bibles to the staff at the home. Oscar Gordon brought Evelyn Roach a beautiful lily. Mr. Brownlow brought a pint of ice cream.

The domino winners were John Majors and Billie Caylor. We appreciate all visitors and volunteers.

Graveside rites held for infant

Graveside services for Raymond Hall Bilberry, infant son of Johnny Wayne Parrish of Big Spring and Jeannie Bilberry of Post were held at 4 p.m. Thursday in Terrace Cemetery with the Rev. Morgan Ashworth officiating. Burial was under direction of Justice-Mason Funeral Home of Post.

The infant was dead on arrival Tuesday at Garza Memorial Hospital. Justice of the Peace Zora Robinson of Post withheld a ruling in the cause of death, pending autopsy results.

Other survivors include grandparents, Edna Bilberry and John Huffman, both of Post; and a sister, Dawn Marie Bilberry of Post.

Dayle Nelsons honored on 25th

Mr. and Mrs. Dayle Nelson were honored with a 25th wedding anniversary reception at their home, 811 West 6th, Saturday, April 4. Hostesses for the occasion and family gathering were the couples' daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Bradbury of Guthrie and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bradbury of Abilene.

The 36 guests attending were served cake and punch between the hours of 3 and 8 p.m. The cake served was a double ring like the original wedding cake of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were wed April 6, 1956 in Slaton and have resided in Post since their marriage.

Out of town guests were from Lubbock, Idalou, Abernathy and Slaton.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Cunningham of Dewitt, Arkansas announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carma Lou, to Jeffrey L. Barron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Barron of Bossier City, La. Jeff is also the grandson of Mrs. G. T. Mason of Post. The couple plan a garden ceremony in Dewitt, Saturday, April 25. Following the wedding, the couple will reside in Bossier City, La.

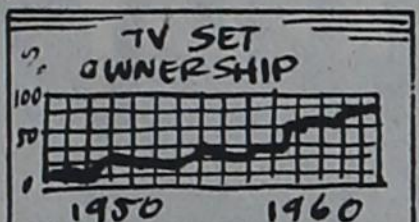

Lisa Cowdrey cake winner

Lisa Cowdrey, a student at Texas Tech University in Lubbock won first place in the intermediate division of the South Plains Cake Decorators Association show recently.

She won the blue ribbon with her wedding cake entry.

Lisa is employed by The Cake Place in Lubbock, where she works part time while attending classes at Tech.

The contest was held at the South Plains Mall in Lubbock.

By 1960 more than 90 percent of U.S. homes had television, but in 1950 fewer than 10 percent possessed sets.

Needlecraft club meets

The Needlecraft Club met March 27 in the Bank Community room. Katherine Johnson was hostess.

Roll call was answered with "something" about Spring. Members discussed spring flowers in general. Selma Kennedy told about some beautiful, unusual tulips in bloom at her home that came from Holland.

Refreshments were served to the following members:

Dorothy Travis, Alma Hutto, Zela Webb, Eula Evans, Selma Kennedy, Bess Bowen, Ruth Young, Katherine Cathcart, Marcy Lee Demming and guest, Anna Lou Clinesmith.

Priscilla club meets

Virginia Custer was hostess for the Priscilla Club when it met, March 20, in a regular meeting for an afternoon of sewing and visiting.

The hostess served refreshments to a visitor, Batchie Morris and members, Wanda Cox, Madge Webb, Thelma Epley, Lillian Nance, Maxine Smith, Mary Goodwin, Nell Windham, Alma Williams, Vi Terry and Odee Kemp.

Irene Mitchell will be hostess for the next meeting.

Scots plan to form society

There is a Scottish society organizing in Lubbock for anyone of Scots ancestry or with an interest in Scottish history or genealogy.

There will be an organizational meeting to adopt a constitution and discuss election of officers held in Lubbock at 7:30 p.m. April 14. The meeting will be held at the First Federal Savings and Loan, 3845 50th Street. A program will be presented by a bagpiper.

Everyone is invited to attend. If you would like more information or need a ride on the 14th, call Christy Morris at 3667 after 4 p.m.

EASTER EGGS

A "DYEING" TRADITION
Is coloring eggs an Easter tradition at your home? This festivity is rooted in pagan celebrations of the arrival of spring. Eggs, the symbol of renewed life, were colored to imitate the brilliant hues that came with spring.

Christians adopted the colored egg as a symbol of spiritual rebirth. The Easter tradition spread as Christianity developed.

In 1810 Dolly Madison brought the English tradition of rolling colored eggs to the Capitol grounds. The practice proved to be so hard on the Capitol lawn, that the egg roll moved to the White House.

If dyeing eggs is a "hard boiled" tradition at your house, here are some tips on preparing and handling eggs. Use only clean eggs with sound shells. Simmer at low to moderate temperature for 20 to 25 minutes. Too much heat toughens protein making the eggs taste rubbery. Run cold water over eggs after cooking.

To dye the eggs place them in one cup of water with a teaspoon of vinegar and food coloring. Other types of egg decorating materials may be purchased or you can make your own.

Also, you may try coloring your eggs with flavored drink powder. Put about one-half cup of water in a small container like a custard cup or cereal dish. Add one envelope of a fruit flavored drink powder and stir until dissolved. Place a hard-cooked egg on a slotted spoon and carefully lower it into the water. Slowly move the egg around in the water until it reaches the desired color. Use the spoon to remove the egg from the water and place on a paper towel to dry.

Keep eggs refrigerated until you plan to use them. Do not leave them sitting in the sun during an Easter egg hunt. Hide eggs in the shade to keep them fresh and refrigerate as soon as possible. If you plan to eat the eggs be sure to keep the egg hunt short.

To remove the shell, crack and peel it from the large end. You may want to place the egg under cold running water to ease off the shell. Hardcooked eggs can be refrigerated either in the shell or out. If the shell is removed, the eggs should be protected in film wrap. They can keep for one or two days in your refrigerator.

You don't have to eat all these colored dainties as is. Plan to use them in a potato salad or stuffed for a special Easter dish. Also a wide variety of breads, spreads and other ingredients for your own special egg sandwich combination:

Breads — whole wheat, rye, enriched white, oatmeal, onion rolls.

Spreads — mayonnaise, salad dressing, butter, margarine, mustard.

Meats — sliced cooked corned beef, ham, turkey, chicken, roast beef, deviled ham, or sandwich spreads.

Vegetables — lettuce, tomatoes, onions, celery, cucumbers.

Cheeses — sliced or spreads.

Incidentally, pagans weren't the only people who held a high opinion of the egg. Modern pseudo-scientists claim eggs can detect personality types. According to the unsupportable "theory" if you like soft-cooked eggs you are likely to be the gentle patient and kind type. Medium-cooked eggs indicate a calm, cool and collected composure, and hard-cooked eggs are the benchmark of a persistent dynamic and sincere personality. How do you like your eggs?

CAMP SET FOR PEOPLE OVER 55

Who said that older folks can't have fun? Now there's an opportunity for those over 55 to take part in an exciting, fun-filled camp at the Texas 4-H Center at Brownwood, April 28-May 1st.

Appropriately called "Spring Fling '81", the camp is designed for today's modern adult.

Among activities offered will be basket weaving, lapidary, needlecraft and ceramics. There will be free-choice demonstrations on creative cooking, gardening, nature studies, exercise and recreation.

Among other tantalizing activities will be shuffleboard, dominoes, "42", bridge and other card games.

And there's tennis and a golf course near by.

Of course, square dancing and sing-alongs are planned each evening to make your stay at the 4-H Center a memorable one. Extension Service specialists and a key group of volunteers will be on hand to present educational programs and to help you get the most from your camp activities.

The 4-H Center, located in a lovely wooded area on the shores of beautiful Lake Brownwood, offers an opportunity to "camp" in a resort atmosphere with all the modern conveniences.

Anyone interested in taking part in the "Spring Fling '81" camp may contact the county Extension office for an application form. Reservations must be received at the Texas 4-H Center by April 22.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Scottie Pierce of San Clemente, Calif. are the parents of a son, Mitchell Scott, born March 26, weighing 8 lbs. 8 ozs. He has one older sister, Heather. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sid Pierce of Post, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark of Bartlesville, Okla.

900 attend aging conference

DALLAS — More than 900 delegates from all over Texas gathered at the North Park Inn here March 29 for the Texas Conference on the 1981 White House Conference on Aging.

The delegates participated in 132 workshop sessions to consider 96 questions on issues concerning the Aging American population.

Issues ranged from adequacy of income in the inflationary economy to the availability of long term care and health services, housing, transportation and a full range of subjects affecting the quality of life for persons 55 years of age and over. Governor Bill Clements addressed the session of the conference on Monday morning.

Maxine Marks Earl was one of the 16 delegates from the Office of Aging, South Plains Association of Government at the Dallas meetings. Lewis Earl participated as a substitute for a South Plains delegate who was unable to attend at the last minute.

From the Texas delegation 76 delegates will attend the National White House Conference in Washington, D.C. in December 1981. Jack Robertson of Crosby County and Dr. Gail House of Lubbock have been nominated to represent this area at the Washington meeting.

The numerous recommendations and comments on issues facing the aging population developed at the Dallas conference will be published by the Governor's Committee on Aging to be

Brownie troop is very busy

First grade Brownie Troop 123 has participated in several activities during the last two meetings. They made place cards and flowers to decorate for the Father-Daughter banquet which was held recently. They also provided musical entertainment for the guests.

Sandra Matthies was presented with a campership for her cookie sales.

They attended the Girl Scout Fair held in Lubbock recently and were able to see what other troops in the council have been doing.

The Brownies toured the Post Museum recently and especially enjoyed a tour of the kitchen which reminded them of "Little House on the Prairie". The photos of early settlers were also a favorite.

Members are Sara Alexander, Sandy Allen, Raeleen Bagby, Misty Bartlett, Daphne Chambliss, Wendy Clay, Tamra Gerner, Sara Hudman, Melinda Johnson, Sandra Matthies, Dawna and Shawna Poe, Becky Shumard, Angie Wallace and Trudy Woods. Leaders are Diane Poe assisted by Betty Dennis, Linda Johnson and Janet Matthies.

A bulletin board highlighting the troops' activities for the year is on display in the Post Library.

Post student is finalist

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Charles Douglas Calvert of Post is one of the ten finalists for the selection of Congressman Charles W. Stenholm's summer congressional internship program.

Calvert is a Texas Tech University law student.

Alliance to hold Easter service

The Post Ministerial Alliance will sponsor the annual Community Easter Service, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 14, in the First Presbyterian Church at 910 West 10th.

The entire community is invited.

The Rev. Kenneth Cook, pastor of the Church of God of Prophecy, will bring the Easter message.

A community choir, led by Phil Alford, will sing. Those interested in singing in the choir are asked to meet for a rehearsal at the Presbyterian church an hour before the Easter Service at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Two graduated from Texas Tech

LUBBOCK — Two Garza County students were among the 1,000 students Texas Tech University graduated at the end of the 1980 fall semester.

They are Denis Simpson, 612 W. Seventh, Post, who received a bachelor of science degree in agricultural education; and Pamela Warren, Southland, who was graduated cum laude with a bachelor of science in animal business.

Easter cantata to be presented

"Then Came Sunday", an Easter cantata by Rodger Strader and Bob Krogstad will be presented Sunday, April 12 at 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church by the adult choir of the church. The cantata uses music to enhance a gripping retelling of the events that led to the crucifixion and the Resurrection.

Canyon, where he played one of the leads.

The choir is under the direction of Phil Alford. The evenings performance is free and the public is invited to attend.

Choirs in concert here Monday night

The sixth, seventh and eighth grade choirs of the Post Middle School along with the high school choir will present their concert for the general public Monday night, April 13 in the Primary auditorium beginning at 7 p.m.

Bi/polar seminar offered

The second Bi-Polar Seminar to be offered in the Post area will be conducted May 1, 2, and 3, by Travis Ellis at the First United Methodist Church. Sessions will be held each evening from 6:30 to 9:30.

The Bi-Polar concept, developed by psychologist J.W. Thomas of Richardson, Texas, sees each human being created as a unique combination of strengths which come in pairs. The two strengths in each pair are opposite — or polar — to each other, much like the north and south poles of the earth. Examples of strength pairs are Thinking and Acting, Practical Thinking and Theoretical Thinking, Dependent Risking and Independent Risking.

Bi-Polar recognizes that it is human nature to be "out-of-balance" in each polar pair, that is, stronger in one than the other. Each person's individual pattern of strengths is discovered by the use of one inventory of strengths prepared by the participant and five inventories prepared for that person by friends and family members. A computer analysis of the six inventories indicates the areas of greatest, intermediate, and least strengths, thus providing fundamental insight into one's basic nature as a unique human being.

Ellis, a certified Bi-Polar teacher, states three basic goals for the seminar: understanding and appreciating yourself, understanding and appreciating others, and improving relationships. Additional information may be obtained by calling 495-2480.

"IT'S A BIG JOB..."

Slowing down the rising costs of anything these days. Even your electricity.

You've got someone working on it for you in the Southwest. Southwestern Public Service is using Wyoming coal to make electricity in its new power plants. Because some of the old plants run on fuel that just plain costs too much.

Electricity could cost a lot more than it does. But thank goodness it doesn't — because of coal.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — News of the attempted assassination of President Ronald Reagan rocked the State Capitol last week as senators and state representatives prepared to hear jointly an address by fellow Texan and Vice President George Bush.

Bush was aboard Air Force Two and almost to Austin when he received news of the armed assault. His scheduled appearance at the Capitol probably sharpened the impact of the misguided event on Texas lawmakers. Security officers were noticed increasing protection measures for Bush, even as filtering news reports on office radios began to create a ghoulish aura on the afternoon.

While aides stood nervously by, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton went outside together to the north steps of the Capitol to await Bush's arrival. Governor Bill Clements met Bush at the airport, and spoke briefly with him while the Vice President's plane was refueled for an immediate flight back to Washington, D.C.

A short time later the Legislature met in joint session, and offered prayers for the recovery of the President.

That same day and all through the week, as legislators vented their emotions, many emphasized the need for tougher anti-crime measures.

The most surprising emotional statement came perhaps from moderate Republican Rep. Bill Blythe of Houston, who said he thought an assassin should be hanged "within 30 days". Blythe is an independent, reform-minded legislator, a well-respected voice of reason and compromise.

The gun control issue was also reborn, and a big surprise in this area was a comment from Clayton that he would have no objections to a ban on "Saturday Night Specials", the cheap handguns readily available at pawn shops. President Reagan apparently was shot with such a pistol bought at a pawn shop in Dallas.

For Clayton, such a stand is an act of courage. The Speaker represents a Panhandle district, where farmers and ranchers need guns for predator control and protection... and are adamantly opposed to any form of gun control.

Clayton, a farmer himself, understands the need for rifles, and his constituents and other Texans may listen to his comment on cheap handguns.

Carters Visit Texas
Amid the hubbub of last week's disruptions, former President Jimmy Carter quietly visited Texas, touring the LBJ Library in Austin and the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City.

Carter reportedly consulted with Lady Bird Johnson about a presidential library in Georgia.

Former Vice President Walter Mondale also recently slipped quietly into Texas to meet with Railroad Commissioner Buddy Temple and some two dozen conservative Democrats. Mondale apparently wanted to meet with Texas business leaders during a relaxing weekend to discuss a future presidential bid.

Waste Bill Signed
Governor Bill Clements last week signed into law a bill regulating storage and disposal of low-level nuclear waste. Clements has indicated the measure will help Texas in a crisis in radioactive waste disposal.

The Senate voted to increase pensions for most retired teachers, from 2 to 21 percent to meet cost of living hikes. The bill went to the House where little opposition is foreseen.

Senators also voted to improve public disclosure laws for contributions from political action committees (PACS). The measure would require PACS to disclose the occupation or employer of each contributor on the list. Violators could be jailed for a year and fined. The bill was sent to the House.

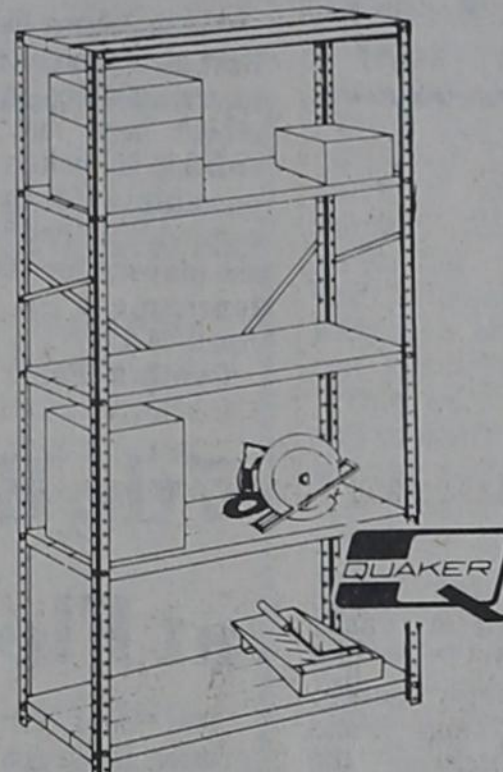

New Prison Stalled
The $35 million prison construction program, ordered by a federal judge, stalled in the Legislature because of a work-furlough plan for prisoners.

The House and Senate have passed different versions and a conference committee cannot reach a compromise.

Six players advance to regionals--

Post girls are new 5AAA tennis champs

Coach James Easterling's Post girls tennis team swept the district girls tennis crown here last weekend, scoring 60 points out of a possible 75 in varsity competition and qualifying six players for the regional tournament in Lubbock April 24-25.

Cynthia Poole won the district singles title by defeating teammate Julie Davis in an all-Post final 6-3, 6-0.

Holly Giddens and Karen Davis took the district doubles crown in another all-Post final by defeating Sharla Macy and Rhonda Storie 6-4, 6-4.

All six of these girls now advance to regional play. It was the first sweep ever for a Post tennis team in district play.

Slaton scored the other 15 points by taking third in both singles and doubles. Other district schools competing included Cooper, Roosevelt and Tahoka.

On her way to the singles title, Poole defeated Banks of Roosevelt 6-0, 6-0 in the first round and Kahlich of Cooper in the semi-final 6-1, 6-0.

In the upper singles bracket, Davis byed through the opening round and downed Coe of Slaton 6-0, 6-2 in the semi-final.

The Giddens-Davis team won the doubles crown in almost as easy a fashion, ousting Baker and Rhodes of Roosevelt in the first round 6-4, 6-3, and thumping Peek and Forsen of Slaton 6-0, 6-1 in the semi-final.

Post made it a clean tennis sweep by winning both singles and doubles crowns in the junior varsity competition as well, scoring 45 of 60 possible points.

Norma Samora won the singles crown by defeating Donna George in another all-Post final, 1-6, 7-5, 6-1. Michelle Hill and Kim Carlisle won the junior varsity doubles with a 6-1, 6-3 win over Lucero and Gonzales of Slaton.

The Slaton duo had defeated Patty McCowen and D'Linda Tyler of Post in their semi-final 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

The Hill-Carlisle team downed Heinrich and Wimmer of Slaton 6-3, 6-0 in the upper bracket semi-final.

Congressman

Charles W. Stenholm

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Some votes that I make on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives are easy ones and the reasoning behind them clear to all concerned. Other votes require a great deal of thought and a careful balancing of long-range good as opposed to a more attractive but, in the long run, less beneficial solution.

This week I made what will probably be the first of several such votes during this Session of Congress, when the House voted to forego the scheduled April 1 increase in dairy price supports. It was not an easy vote and was made knowing that the short-range effect on dairy farmers would be adverse. Nevertheless, in light of the absolute necessity to cut federal spending, I could not support an increase that I felt would, in the long run, lead to the demise of the entire dairy program as we now know it.

During the House Agriculture Committee discussion on this issue, an amendment was made to forego the April 1 adjustment to 80 percent of parity, but set a price floor at 75 percent of parity. Approval of that floor level, I strongly believe, would have given a signal to the administration that the dairy industry could continue to survive at the lower level. I felt that such signal would drastically hurt our chances of getting legislation passed in the Farm Bill that would allow the producer to sell that milk for which there is a market demand at the 80 percent level.

I have supported and will continue to support the Dairy Program principles and feel that 80 percent parity-plus is a fair, sustainable and necessary price goal. I do believe, however, that if we are going to battle inflation and decrease government spending, we must make cuts across the board and to do this there must be adjustments made at this time to control excess supplies of milk that the general public is unwilling to finance.

During the formulation of the 1981 Farm Bill, I will be working toward finetuning the current program, adding provisions based on a sliding scale of parity that will both guarantee the producer a fair price, while also balancing supply with demand through market mechanisms.

Dairying has been one of the few profitable agricultural industries for some time. The problem is the surplus that we have at present. In the recent past, there has been no incentive to cut back on production and to get supplies under control. To accomplish that objective, we must place the full burden of the surplus on those who produce it. We have to maintain a reserve, but we cannot continue to have a totally open-ended program at a fixed price.

With those facts in mind, I am going to be working during the coming days and weeks on dairy legislation and, at the same time, will continue to vote against increases in overall federal spending. I believe we can retain the most vital portions of the dairy program that are necessary to guarantee the producer a fair price, while also balancing supply with demand and reducing budget exposure.

As the reality of the full impact of proposed budget cuts begins to be felt across the country, I am confident that diarmen will realize that they have not been singled out to make special sacrifices as we deal with our economic problems. There are few Americans who will not be affected by the cuts necessary to

Communist Rules for Revolution

(NOTE: The following article was included in the May-June 1980 Texas Legion News with this Editor's Note: To the best of our knowledge, this article was first printed in the Bartlesville Examiner Enterprise in 1919. - A. Corrupt the young; get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial; destroy their ruggedness.
- B. Get control of all means of publicity, thereby:
 1. Get people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books plays and other trivialities.
 2. Divide the people into hostile groups by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance.
 3. Destroy the people's faith in their natural leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and disgrace.
 4. Always preach true democracy, but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible.
 5. By encouraging government extravagance, destroy its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent.
 6. Incite unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders and foster a lenient and soft attitude on the part of government toward such disorders.
 7. By specious argument, cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues — honesty, sobriety, self-restraint, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness.
- C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with a view to confiscating them and leaving the population helpless.

Spring break is on agenda

Post school trustees will canvass the school election results at their 7:30 p.m. meeting tonight in the high school library and then swear in Royce Hart and Jack Kirkpatrick as new trustees for three-year terms.

One item on the agenda which is drawing considerable community interest is the proposal to change the school calendar to take a week's spring break after Easter.

Supt. Bill Shiver advised the board Monday that the spring break could be inserted provided school is held on Good Friday and again on Friday, May 29 as the final day. The teacher workday then would be moved to Saturday, May 30.

Representatives of the Lubbock architectural firm will appear before the board to provide information on operating air conditioning in the Post school system if the board votes to install it.

The board has postponed final decision on air conditioning until the probable operational cost could be determined.

Other items on the board's agenda for the meeting include: commodity agreement for lunchroom, action on the resignation of Mrs. Patricia Webb, approval of 1981-82 vocational education program here, a budget change for the new track bleachers, approval of the bills, several reports, and new business.

COTTON TODAY

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Cotton Bill Reported

A House agriculture subcommittee has reported a bill covering the cotton portion of the 1981 farm bill. It generally includes recommendations approved by National Cotton Council delegates.

Two major amendments were adopted. One would set the target price at 120 percent of the loan rate. The other would make the set-aside specific to cotton.

Other provisions of the bill would: (1) continue the present loan formula with a 55 cent floor; (2) extend the disaster program for one year in counties where federal crop insurance is offered and for four years in counties where it is not available; (3) continue the acreage reduction and paid diversion features of the 1977 act; (4) continue the extended loan-import quota formula; (5) remove any duty on cotton imported under the special import quota; (6) create a revolving export credit fund for cotton; (7) require reimbursement to growers when cotton embargoes are imposed; (8) eliminate the Normal Crop Acreage and cross-compliance-offsetting-compliance provisions of the 1977 act; (9) make the offering of a seed cotton loan program mandatory.

regulations that could be changed in order to increase benefits or decrease costs, thereby generating greater net benefits to society."

Inflation Cuts Research Effort

National Cotton Council President Frank M. Mitchener, Jr., has told the Senate Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittee all cotton industry segments strongly back efforts to stop runaway inflation.

The explosion of government regulations in recent years has been a primary contributor to a real decline in productive cotton research because it has necessitated shifting of resources into non-productive areas, the NCC president pointed out. He said Congressional action to eliminate needless and excessive government rule-making would effectively increase productive research without raising current outlays.

Rule Reform

Suggestions requested Vice President George Bush has asked the National Cotton Council to identify the cotton industry's priorities for regulatory reform.

Every time Barbara Phillips' phone rings, it's long distance—the distance from her to her phone, that is.

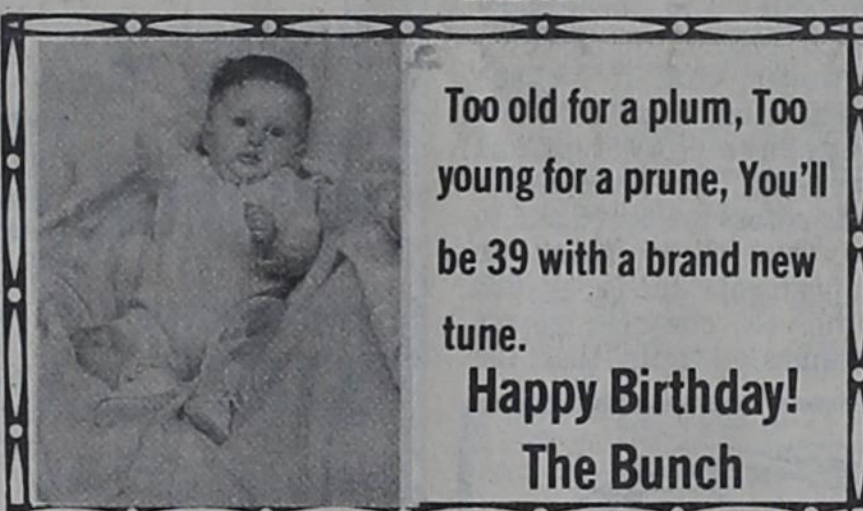

If you spend a lot of time running to the phone, maybe you're in the running for an extension phone. For much less than you'd expect, you can start reaching for your phone. Whether you're stuck in the laundry room, glued to the TV or deep in sleep.

What's more, you know you've got a phone that's as reliable as the phone company. So the next time you run to the phone, call your General Telephone business office. And make it the last time.
