Fifty Fourth Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, Jan. 21, 1982 Number 34

Garza's 'politics' are quietest ever

With only 10 days left for candidates to file for office, 1982 is shaping up as Garza County's quietest political campaign on record. So far, there is not a single county-wide contest. The only contest at present is for justice of the peace of precinct 1 between Zora Robinson and her office clerk, Shelia Melton.

That is virtually unbelievable. Three of the five men on the commissioners court are up for reelection and so far haven't even been challenged.

All incumbents in the various county and precinct races have filed for reelection and it is beginning to appear voters aren't a bit unhappy with them. Otherwise they would face some opposition.

Carl Cederholm was the only Democratic candidate to file this week, according to Demo Chairman Dick Tanner.

Carl, who has been a courthouse fixture here for so long that even he has to give some thought as to when it all started, will seek reelection as county clerk. Cederholm has served as county clerk here going on his 27th year. He first took office Jan. 1, 1955.

He had served slightly more than five years as chief deputy of the tax office before being elected to office as county clerk in the 1954 election.

As chief deputy he was an appointee of the sheriff as the sheriff and tax offices were combined in those days. Carl served first under Sheriff E. M. Bass and then under Carl Rains.

Hospital board drops 'car tax'

The Garza Memorial Hospital district will not levy personal property taxes on automobiles for 1982 and will grant old age and homestead exemptions.

Those were approved by hospital directors at their January luncheon meeting at the hospital last Thursday.

PAT KITCHENS

Pat Kitchens in statement

Justice of the Peace Pat Kitchens has authorized The Dispatch to announce her candidacy for renomination to her precinct 4 office in the May Democratic primary and reelection in November.

She issues the following statement:

"I ask the support of the voters in precinct 4 for my reelection as justice of the peace.

"I feel I am qualified to serve the people of this precinct from my past experience. My door is always open. I will serve in this public office to the best of my ability. Your support will be appreciated."

Hospital directors reviewed hospital room rates, but decided not to make any increases in them at this time.

In other actions, directors:

Voted to pay transportation costs to Galveston for a Garza indigent who is in the John Sealy hospital there. Adopted on second reading new hospital policies on capitalization of equipment and monthly provisions for bad debts.

Voted to pay LVNs working in charge of shifts $1 hour more for such hours due to an upcoming shortage of RNs.

Discussed but took no (See Hospital, Page 12)

Post sales tax is down

Post's one percent sales tax "take" received for January dropped 10.93 percent from the sales tax total of the same month a year earlier.

Basically, this represents some at least of the sales taxes received by retailers in December during the "Christmas sales" period.

Post received $7,189.96 for its first check of 1982 as compared with $8,072.36 for the same month in 1981.

This may indicate a drop off here in Christmas buying, but not necessarily as many small retailers won't get their December returns into Austin until the end of January and thus would be reflected in Post's February check.

The same dropoff was noted in at least half the Texas towns receiving sales tax checks from Bob Bullock's office.

No first baby winner yet

The Dispatch's First Baby contest has now settled down to some patient waiting.

Garza Memorial Hospital still reported no winner when The Dispatch went to press Wednesday morning.

Some 13 prizes worth an estimated $400 or more still await the little winner.

The winner will be given free room and board for her or her and her or his mother plus a dozen worthwhile prizes from local merchants.

Stenholm urges farmers to adopt marketing plan

BY CONGRESSMAN STENHOLM

WASHINGTON, D.C. — With a bumper cotton crop hitting the market and prices falling far below the cost of actually producing that crop, cotton growers must now make what I consider the only practical decision open to them at this time: Stop selling!

For several years, I have outlined a four-point agricultural program that remains a valid (and perhaps even more crucial in light of current conditions) as when it was first released in 1979. Highlights of the program include:

1. Farmers immediately curtail ALL sales of non-perishable commodities (not just cotton) at current prices.
2. Farmers agree to participate in an orderly marketing system designed to encourage market adjustment. (See Stenholm, Page 12)

Shiver given 3-yr. contract

Superintendent Bill Shiver's contract was extended three years by a unanimous action by Post school trustees at their January meeting last Thursday night.

Shiver's current contract would have expired at the end of the current school year.

No action was taken on salary at this time with a study to be made of superintendents' salaries.

The board's usual procedure is to consider the superintendent's contract in January, principals and athletic director at the February meeting and teachers in March.

The board also hired two new teachers, Rockford Burris for high school mathematics and Donna Aten to replace Patricia Reynolds, who is leaving Post.

Trustees voted to install ceiling fans in all remaining classrooms in the Post system. Such fans were installed in the primary building last summer.

The board also received a report from the schools' architect that the conversion of the primary school auditorium into top shape but not expanding the 540 seating capacity would cost slightly less than $500,000.

This would include a larger stage, four dressing rooms, four public restrooms and improved lighting, sound, heating and air conditioning.

First Garza hwy fatality

A Lubbock man who was shop foreman for Compton Corp. here in Post became Garza's first highway fatality of 1982 about 8 p.m. Saturday when the pickup he was driving failed to negotiate a turn 4.4 miles east of Post and turned over at least once.

Ronnie Joe Rexroat, 32, was thrown from the vehicle and pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Pat Kitchens who ruled the death accidental.

Rexroat served with the army in the Vietnam war as a helicopter pilot and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, a Silver Star, two Bronze Stars and an Air Medal.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Henderson-Singleton Chapel in Lubbock with the Rev. Syl Moore, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Anton, officiating. Burial was in the City of Lubbock Cemetery.

Survivors included his wife and a daughter, Amanda Brooke, both of Lubbock.

No action was taken by trustees on the report, but a request was made that the architects report back on the long recommended project of joining the primary and elementary school buildings. An estimate "off the top of the head" of $500,000 was put on such a project.

Trustees indicated they may consider doing both projects in the current school year if the school (See School board, Page 12)

We hope Dr. A. C. Surman will enjoy his 95th birthday Thursday, and we expect he will now be home after a quick trip to Methodist Hospital last weekend.

He got a bite of food lodged in his esophagus and was taken to Methodist Hospital to have it removed. He came home again on Monday. If we know the good doctor as well as we think we do, he took this little personal incident in stride.

The bank comes up on page 3 with a sparkling page-size birthday tribute to Dr. Surman, and a very deserving tribute we might add. We would like to "get in on the act" with a few observations of our own.

We arrived in Post in mid-1957 when Dr. Surman was in his "sunshine years" of a long and successful practice. But we got to know him well on monthly trips to White River water district meetings which in those days were rotated among the four towns because there was no lake headquarters yet to meet in.

We will confine our observations to two. First, he didn't do a lot of talking at those meetings as some of the other 11 White River directors did, but you always knew where he stood — which was let's get on with it and get it done.

Second, he is one of the few men we have ever met whom we could best describe as a true gentleman. He has always been every inch of that in looks, manner, and since we've known him. He has a jolly little chuckle which he used very effectively to top off some nice or humorous observation. He doesn't waste a lot of words — always getting right to the point. We can't remember of him ever speaking ill of anyone. What we like best is that he is full of bright little stories about things that had happened to him or to someone he knew.

We join the bank and his host of many friends in wishing him a very happy 95th birthday.

Holding to course

Post school trustees voted unanimously for a continual enrichment of life in Post schools last Thursday night when they offered Superintendent Bill Shiver a new three-year contract.

Supt. Shiver has been at his present educational post for almost 19 years, taking over the position back in 1963.

In nearly two decades he has carefully built the Post system into one of the best small school systems in Texas, and it is so recognized.

Bill has put all of himself into his job, year after year, all the way. But like all good professional educators he has not lost his zeal for better education in that effort.

Right now he is looking ahead to involving Post schools in our new computerized age. All children growing up these days have to learn enough about computers that they can both understand them and not fear them. For some, the computer will open real professional opportunities to live the good life and make their own contributions.

Supt. Shiver also wants to make a contribution if he can to a stabilized evaluation program for all school employees, not just the teachers. That is one of the major problems education faces today — and it is not going to "go away."

Some of us have wondered in recent years how seriously the board of school trustees were split.

It's great to realize while each of them may have their own points of view on various educational problems, they can still vote unanimously on the most important subject of all — good professional leadership here for the next three years.

Several steps ahead

One of American industry's biggest problems is sagging productivity due to outmoded plants and equipment.

Post can feel grateful that this isn't so for Burlington Industries which operates Post's oldest industry, Postex Plant.

Not only has Burlington over the years continually upgraded local plant facilities, but according to their recently released annual report modernization to increase productivity is one of Burlington's principal business goals.

Burlington has spent $1.25 billion in the past six years, $217 million in 1981 alone, on modernization. As a result productivity has risen six percent annually as compared with only 1.6 percent increase for all U. S. manufacturing.

These capital expenditures for new plants and equipment not only have made the company more productive but provides its 64,000 employees with better working conditions and job opportunities.

Both improved sales, up 12.5 percent to $3.26 billion, and increased net earnings, up 41.4 percent from $2.90 per share to $4.10, reflect the benefits of Burlington's aggressive modernization efforts.

Burlington is not only the nation's largest and most diversified manufacturer of textiles, but in our books it is the best.

New representation?

Garza in November will have the choice of changing both its representatives in the Texas Legislature.

Criminal District Attorney John T. Montford has announced he will run against E. L. Short of Tahoka for the state senate.

The state representative race is a bit unusual in that Garza County was one of the six counties taken from the 101st district now represented by Rep. W.S. (Bill) Heatly of Paducah, added to four counties of the 61st district represented by Rep. Walter Grubbs, added to Scurry County of the 63rd district, and Lynn County from district 77 to form the new 78th district.

Here's the political scenario. Rep. Grubbs moved a few miles from his former home to Merkel to qualify to represent the district.

Representative Heatly whose home county is Cottle, also in the new district, is paired against Grubbs if he seeks reelection. He is expected to file.

The filing deadline for the November election is Feb. 1 only ten more days down the calendar road.

Statistically, Grubbs now represents 56 of the new 78th district to only 18 percent for Heatly. So if only the two of them make the race, Grubbs starts off with a big edge in that politically important "name identification."

Scurry and Lynn county have never been a part of Heatly's district and in fact Garza has been in Bill's district for only the last several years.

Another unusual point about this prospective state representative race in the new 78th district is that the Texas redistricting plan has yet to clear its final federal court hurdle — and probably won't until after the filing deadline. If the judges mutilate it who knows what districts may finally emerge.

If the federal courts do make changes in

Senator Bentsen seeks reelection

AUSTIN — U. S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen, saying his record "reflects the spirit of independence and initiative which Texans expect of their elected officials," announced Monday that he will seek reelection.

"I have no intention of allowing the agenda for this campaign to be set by extremist attacks rooted in distortion and misrepresentation," Bentsen declared. "The agenda is my consistent record of working effectively with both Democrats and Republicans to build a nation that is more prosperous, more powerful, and more just."

The 60-year-old Bentsen was first elected to the U. S. Senate in 1970. Reelected in 1976, he is seeking his third term of office.

"To restore the American economy we have a national mandate to reduce the size of government and balance the budget without backing away from our commitments to the American people — commitments such as a sound Social Security system. Both the administration and the congress are challenged to cut out waste and excess wherever they exist, and to see to it that the taxpayers get their money's worth. We are challenged to stay on course in reducing the burden of taxation and encouraging greater productivity and more job opportunities.

"To reinforce the security of our country and to deter aggression we face the task of strengthening our defense forces, both conventional and nuclear, and to do it with an eye toward cost-effectiveness," Bentsen said.

Victor Hugo published his last great work at the age of 81.

On This Your 95th Birthday

Dr. A. C. Surman

We Salute You

for over a half century of great medical care and community leadership you have given us!

You came to us in 1913 fresh out of medical school at Galveston to become associated with Dr. A. R. Ponton in the operation of the then newly built Post Sanitarium, a fine hospital for a wide West Texas area which you called "the best west of Fort Worth."

Even after it was closed in World War I you stayed and built a medical practice which literally covered thousands of square miles that in the early days you traveled day or night in your trusty Hupmobile. That was before this country had any idea of what paved roads were and during which it wasn't so unusual for a farmer to hang a lantern atop his windmill to guide you to his lonely farm house on a night call.

Along with Dr. Glen Kahler and Dr. D. C. Williams, you helped provide the essential leadership required for this community in the planning and construction of Garza Memorial Hospital. Fitting indeed that this hospital, with its community support as strong today as it was at its birth, will also celebrate an important anniversary this year — its 30th. This means, Doctor, you were 65, at the age most men retire, when the hospital opened its doors. But you went on to serve us another dozen years before stepping down on your 77th birthday in 1964.

You were so good too with community chores. You along with Tom Bouchier and Rube Jennings were instrumental in providing the leadership to build and finance White River Lake, together with community leaders from Spur, Ralls and Crosbyton. That lake is still recognized today as the best planned, best financed, and best operated of any in Texas by the state water board.

You served us 12 years on our school board, twice as its president, through some mighty tough years when educational dollars were as scarce as good cotton crops and profitable beef.

Your favorite jobs were serving on school and Masonic building committees, on that White River board, and on the park board, Yes, sir, you were truly a builder.

You shouldn't be surprised we remember this is your 95th birthday. You see, you are one of these "special men" who built this town and area. Though you have been retired 18 years now, your work for us and your contributions to us have not been forgotten.

Nor will they ever be. Happy Birthday!

Almost anyone can justify whatever is done and believe it.

Election of PUC members proposed

AUSTIN — Bob Armstrong today called for the popular election of the members of the Public Utility Commission.

"I have campaigned in more than 52 cities and have travelled over 9,000 miles and everywhere I go I find people who are very concerned about ever-increasing utility rates," Armstrong said. "Telephone and electric bills have become a major part of the budget of every individual, family and business in this State. People question why they have no say in the selection of the people who make utility rate decisions."

"I would suggest this solution," Armstrong said, "if we can elect people to run our counties, cities and towns, we can elect them to run our Public Utility Commission. I believe it is time to put some good American democracy in the regulation of monopolies in Texas."

"There are several factors which have led me to the conclusion that the Public Utility Commission should be elected instead of appointed," Armstrong said. "First, the PUC recently gave Southwestern Bell a quarter of a billion dollars rate increase, and according to one member of the Commission, more than $100 million of the increase was not deserved. With the divestiture of Southwestern Bell from AT & T, the company already is talking about coming back to the PUC for additional increases. If the members of the Commission knew that they would be answerable to the voters every time they give more of our money to the utilities, they may be able to stop or slow down the rapid rate increases more often."

"The second factor which influenced my decision is the fact that nationally, our PUC is considered to be oriented toward utility investors and bond ratings. Texas is considered to be one of the top states in the nation for investment in utility stocks." "This may be good for the people on Wall Street in New York, but it doesn't help the people on the Main streets of Texas pay their telephone and electric bills," Armstrong said.

Armstrong explained that one large investment brokerage house, Bache, Halsey, Stuart & Shields, Inc. has reported that, "In recent Texas electric rate cases a 15 to 15 1/2 percent return on year and equity was allowed. This is well above the national average especially in view of the high equity ratios of most electric utility companies operating in Texas."

Salomon Brothers, another respected brokerage house says, "we are revising our ranking of the Texas PUC from an A- to an A, awarding this state, where regulation has always been positive, our highest ranking. The Commission's policy of consistently granting above average returns on equity... and issuing orders in an little as two to four months has earned the Commission this ranking."

"The PUC is in the business of regulating monopolies," Armstrong said. "This is its purpose. It should recognize that these companies are entitled to make a profit, but the paramount duty of the Commission should be to protect rate payers. I believe a Commission directly answerable to the people of this State will provide the balance needed in Texas in this important area which affects all Texans."

Service penalty on GT is dropped

AUSTIN — The Public Utility Commission of Texas Thursday voted to drop a $4 million annual service penalty it levied against General Telephone Company of the Southwest in August 1980, citing significant improvements in service made by the company since that time.

E. L. Langley, president of General Telephone, said the company is extremely pleased at the commission's actions which recognized the efforts of employees and the company's multimillion-dollar service improvement investment.

"I am sure I speak for the entire General Telephone of the Southwest family when I say our feeling is one of elation and gratitude, of course, that our service improvements have been recognized so the penalty could be lifted. We certainly hope to never again be in a position to have a service penalty imposed on the company. It was a sobering and embarrassing situation.

"The company and the General System invested millions of capital and maintenance dollars and other resources into the service improvement program, not to mention the significantly increased number of manpower added, and we are pleased for the way all employees have responded to customer-service needs. Even though the various measurements of our services, both those of the PUC and our own, indicate we are meeting or exceeding the PUC service standards in most areas our commitment continues to be to meet individual customer expectations. Quality customer service and positive customer perception is our bottom line objective. We will continue to diligently pursue that mission."

Grubbs in legislative race

State Representative Walter Grubbs of Merkel, Tx., has officially filed for reelection to the Texas Legislature to represent the new 78th district, which he represents. He filed with the state Democratic executive committee in Austin last week.

In filing to get his name on the official Democratic primary ballot in May 1982, Grubbs said he is pleased with the opportunity to seek reelection in this new, 12-county 78th district. The new district includes rural Taylor, Nolan, Jones and Fisher counties in Grubbs' present district, in addition to Scurry County from District 63, Lynn County from District 77, and Garza, Kent, Stonewall, King, Knox and Cottle counties from the 101st district, which is presently represented by W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah.

Statistically, 56 percent of the new 78th district are presently represented by Grubbs; 18 percent of the new 78th are represented by Healy; and 26 percent of the new 78th would be new constituents to both Grubbs and Healy, those being the people in Scurry and Lynn counties.

Having spent nearly 22 years as assistant to Congressman Omar Burlison and Congressman George Mahon, and nearly four years in the Texas Legislature already, Grubbs said he feels he has the background and experience to seek to represent this West Texas district in the Texas house. He added, "I have been exposed to the legislative processes now for about 26 years, and I have found it very gratifying, trying to serve the fine people in this big West Texas area."

Grubbs said he would be making a formal announcement in the near future, after the federal courts have made their final decision on the Texas house redistricting plan, which is expected by mid-February. He explained, "Since the filing deadline is February 1, 1982, I felt I should go ahead and make my intentions known by filing officially at this time." He concluded, "In a more formal public announcement in the near future, I plan to express my conservative Democratic philosophy in detail and will be visiting extensively in all 12 counties in the near future."

Road litter big expense

AUSTIN — A total of $13 million, almost a dollar per Texas — man, woman and child — was spent just to pick up trash along the State's highways during the fiscal year that ended August 31, 1981.

The figures, released today by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, show an increase of 26 percent over the 1980 litter pickup price tag of $10.3 million which was an all-time high.

'Cope' conference to aid farmers

LUBBOCK — To help farmers and ranchers cope with the continuing cost-price squeeze which has many of them reeling, and to make them aware of strategies that can lessen the risk in the new year, a conference on "Profitable Decision-Making '82" will be held here Jan. 28.

The conference at the Koko Palace, 5201 Avenue Q, will be conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with support of the South Plains Development Program. It is one of eight such meetings being held throughout the state.

The South Plains meeting will feature outlook information on cotton, grain sorghum and corn, said Marvin Sartin, Extension economist-farm management. It will begin at 9:30 a.m. and conclude at 3:45 p.m.

Conference speakers will discuss policy and marketing trends, explaining implications of the new farm bill on South Plains producers, compare marketing options for risk and return, and evaluate risk positions, credit stretching, crop insurance and selection of the best crop for 1982.

"The coming year will be crucial for many area farmers and ranchers," Sartin said. "This program is designed to help them better understand risk and the alternatives in managing it."

He said the program will provide specific evaluations and discussions of the local situation and provide opportunities for questions and answers.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Sub-freezing temperatures, sleet and snow slowed the pace of state government this week, but the inclement weather didn't stop the political scene from continuing to heat up.

Austin's bad weather forced the state offices to shut down for a day, but Gov. Bill Clements and other political contenders didn't take a day off.

Clements, the first Republican governor in Texas since Reconstruction, has let it be known that he intends to make things as difficult as possible for his Democratic challengers. The GOP incumbent says those Democrats—who will be going to the "same trough" for funds—will find it very hard to raise enough money to combat his high name identification level.

On the other hand, the governor says his record in office, favorable rating in the polls and long list of supporters and contributors will make it easy for him to raise the money he needs.

The prospect of a hard fought Democratic primary, however, hasn't kept Clements' Democratic opponents from continuing their attacks on him.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, who is challenging Attorney General Mark White and Tyler Sen. Peyton McKnight for a chance to tackle Clements, has criticized the governor's stand on the recent Texas Employment Commission firings.

Armstrong says Clements was wrong in praising the lay offs. He says the cuts "will not serve the interests of this state."

Campaign Announcements
Meanwhile, a number of the state's lawmakers and leading officeholders were officially announcing their plans to seek re-election.

State Sens. Kent Caperton of Bryan and Ed Howard of Texarkana, both Democrats, have announced they will seek another term in their present positions. Howard is a member of the Sunset Advisory Commission, which will review the Public Utility Commission in 1983, while Caperton was a staunch supporter for more stringent radioactive waste regulations during the 1981 session.

Others announcing their candidacies for re-election included Reps. Irma Rangel of Kingsville, Gary Thompson of Abilene and Bo Crawford of Beaumont.

Longview Republican Mike Martin, who still faces felony charges for alleged lying to a Travis County grand jury, has paid his filing fee to seek a second term in the Texas House. Martin goes to trial on aggravated perjury charges in April in Fredericksburg.

Land commissioner candidate Garry Mauro and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, both Democrats, also have paid their filing fees. Hobby's GOP opponent, former Secretary of State George Strake, meanwhile, has picked up the endorsement of the National Alliance of Senior Citizens, Inc., which reportedly found Hobby "lacking" in leadership.

Gas Deregulation

to move swiftly to lift the remaining price controls on natural gas.

Following a meeting with Reagan at the White House, the two governors reported that they were optimistic that Reagan would move "aggressively" to end controls. Texas Sens. Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower, however, have indicated it will be difficult to lift the regulations without passing a windfall profits tax similar to the one imposed on oil.

Before his trip to Washington, D.C., Clements told Austin reporters he opposed any windfall profits tax on gas.

More TEC Layoffs
The Texas Employment Commission has decided that 500 employees—not the expected 400—will have to go in the latest round of layoffs, which become effective Jan. 31.

Those cuts are among some 1,300 employees expected to get their pink slips because of federal budget cuts in job placement programs. TEC says the cuts will be done on the basis of seniority, and one TEC spokeswoman says she narrowly escaped with her job, which she has had since 1977.

The commission, meanwhile, gave its remaining employees more bad news with the announcement that the budget cuts will be harsher than expected, possibly requiring the closure of another 10 to 15 regional job placement offices. Some 59 of those local offices already are being shut down.

Home Care Project
In one piece of good news, the Reagan administration announced that Texas will receive $2.2 million to conduct pilot projects aimed at helping both welfare recipients and elderly and disabled Texans.

The program is being funded by the federal Health Care Financing Administration and will use mothers receiving payments under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program to provide home care services to elderly and disabled persons who otherwise could not afford them.

The women will receive training and minimum wage for their work, while the elderly and disabled will receive services that will enable them to remain in their own homes rather than moving to institutions.

Attorney General's Race
A dozen East Texas prosecutors have endorsed former U.S. Attorney John Hannah of Tyler in his bid for the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

The district attorneys, led by Nacogdoches County District Attorney Herbert Hancock, say Hannah's experience as a district attorney, state representative and U.S. attorney gives him "the best background possible for the office he seeks."

Hannah says his experience as a U.S. attorney has prepared him to represent state agencies and officials as the state's top legal officer.

Hannah faces former state senator and West Texas State University President Max Sherman in the Democratic primary.

Eulless Sen. Bill Meier, a former Democrat, has announced as a GOP contender for the attorney general's post.

FAITH IS THE BRIDGE BETWEEN HOPE AND DESPAIR

At times we have all undergone some period of despair, during which our outlook could not have seemed more dismal. It could have come from any number of causes: the loss of a job, a severe financial setback, a protracted illness, the end of a romance, and so on. Some have even contemplated suicide as the only way out of the abyss. Of all times, this is when faith is most important; to teach us that there is always hope as long as the sun will rise tomorrow morning. Every day should be looked upon as a brand new adventure, where some blessing may await us right around the next corner. Learn this lesson at your House of Worship, where God's love and guidance will show you that there is no hopeless situation. Receive hope, all ye that enter here.

While there's life,

therefore will I hope

SPS is investigating numerous ways of producing electricity in the future. Supplemental energy studies are being conducted in generating electricity through solar, wind, nuclear fusion, burning waste products for fuel, and the liquefaction and gasification of coal.

Jack Payne, Working Foreman, Artesia.

Standard-life lightbulbs conserve more electric energy than long-life bulbs and give the most light for your dollar. Higher wattage incandescent bulbs are usually more efficient than smaller wattage bulbs. For instance, you get more light from one 100-watt bulb than from two 50-watt bulbs. Additional energy and money-saving tips are available from your SPS office.

Doris Jones, Senior Clerk, Canyon.

SPS builds coal-fired power plants for less than half the average utility industry cost. Coal-fired Harrington Station was designed and engineered by SPS employees and built at a cost of about $300 per kilowatt, substantially less than the nearly $1,000 per kilowatt that other utilities spend for construction of coal-fired facilities.

Billy Hammers, Maintenance Foreman, Amarillo.

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

Post varsities bow at Slaton

The Post Lady Lopes and Lopes will be back on their home floor Friday night against Tahoka after being handed their first district losses at Slaton Tuesday night.

Coach Sonja Curry's Lady Lopes lost by only eight points, 50 to 42, and considering the local girls' history against Slaton on the Slaton floor that wasn't so bad.

Coach Dwayne Osborne's Lopes went down 67 to 49 after getting off to a slow scoring start in the first period. The rest of the way they played the Tigers on fairly even terms.

The Tigers popped into a 19-7 first period lead and scored 16 points per period the rest of the way with Bruce Nedd stuffing in 23.

Bill Black led the Post attack with eight baskets for 16 points. Irvin Price and Will Kirkpatrick also were in double figures with 13 and 11 respectively.

Melvin Wynne added six and Milton Williams for the other three.

The Lady Lopes led the Tigerettes 10 to 9 at the end of the first and made a close game of it all the way.

The Post girls cooled in the second to fall behind 19 to 15 at intermission, but they closed Slaton's lead to only two points by outshooting Slaton 13 to 11 in the

Doris Pringler pops in 31 - Lady Lopes win district opener

Doris Pringler had her best shooting night of the season at Roosevelt Friday night as Coach Sonja Curry's Lady Lopes opened their district season with a 59 to 53 decision over the Roosevelt girls.

Pringler bombarded the hoops for 31 points on nine field goals and 13 out of 18 free throws.

It took her the first quarter to get warmed up as Post trailed 12 to 9 with Pringler hitting only one fielder.

But she added 11 in the second to propel the Lady Lopes out in front 27 to 24 at halftime intermission. She was "held" to two fielders in the third and then uncorked 14 more points in

Frosh boys 'blown out'

Cooper's freshman boys "blew out" the Post frosh here Monday night, 71 to 34, in a district game.

Mike Ollison was the only Post player who found the scoring range.

He popped in 10 fielders and one free for 21 points but he couldn't keep up with Cooper's balanced scoring attack.

Cooper jumped into a 16-8 first period lead and led 39 to 16 at the half.

Church Morris, Curt Cowdrey and Terry Kennedy had four points each and Tony Curtis hit one of two frees for the other.

The Post team will participate in the Wilson tournament this weekend and then journey to Slaton Monday night for their next district start.

8th girls lose at line

If Post's eighth grade girls had hit even half their free throws at Cooper Monday night, they might have come home with a victory.

But they converted but three of 14 and Cooper which didn't make a free throw but had only two chances came away with a 22 to 18 victory.

Golden Capps led Post scorers with 10 points. Traci Craft added four and Callie McSweeney the other three.

The 7th and 8th grade girls next start will be at host Slaton here Monday night.

Frosh girls bow at Cooper

Cooper's freshman girls squeezed out a 34 to 32 triumph over Coach Sonja Curry's frosh at Cooper Monday night after the Post girls had taken an intermission lead.

Cooper jumped into a 14-7 first period lead, but Post rallied to outshoot Cooper 12 to 3 in the second for a 19-17 intermission lead.

Post fell behind in the third and trailed 25 to 24 going into the fourth.

Patricia Price led Post with 12 points on five fielders and two frees. Marta Holly had 10, Channa Williams six, and Roxanne McClellan, Regina Williams and Kayla Peel two each.

The frosh girls will participate in the Wilson tournament this weekend and play host to Slaton Monday night for their next district start.

7th boys bow in overtime

Cooper's seventh grade boys edged Post's seventh graders here Monday night 28 to 26 in overtime after the two clubs finished regulation play tied at 26 all.

A basket by Balderas accounted for all the points scored in the extra period.

The two teams were tied 10 all at the half, but Cooper outshot Post 12 to 6 in the third period only to have the locals rally in the fourth to outscore them 10 to 4.

Marvin Lee led Post in scoring with nine baskets for 18 points. Jay McCook added six and S. Price got the other two.

The Post team will journey to Slaton Monday night for their next start.

8th boys even record at 2-2

Coach Fred Postell's 8th grade boys team jumped into a 14-0 first period lead here against Cooper Monday night to virtually win a 28 to 19 decision before the visitors even got started.

Nine Post players got into the scoring column with from two to four points each.

The win evened the team's record at 2-2 in district play. They will journey to Slaton for their next district game Monday night.

Lopes win at Roosevelt

Coach Dwayne Osborne's Post Antelopes got off to a fast start in the district basketball race at Roosevelt Friday night with a 58 to 48 road victory.

The Lopes outshot the Eagles in three of the four quarters pulling away from a 28 to 26 advantage in the final half.

Post had three starters in double figures.

Irvin Price led the way with a 19 point night, which included nine baskets and one of two free throws.

Will Kirkpatrick followed with 18 on six baskets and six of seven free throws.

Milton Williams had a free throw contest in the fourth period when he went to the line 10 times and converted on six of them.

With two first half baskets he wound up with 10 points. Tim Sheppard of Roosevelt was high point for the game, however, with 10 fielders for 20 points.

Post led 16 to 13 at the first with the Eagles outscoring Post in the second period 13 to 12. In the second half Post outshot their hosts 14 to 8 in the third and 16 to 14 in the fourth.

James Lee added six for Post, Curtis Clinesmith three and Bill Black two to complete the local scoring.

JV girls lose at Roosevelt

Roosevelt's JV girls thumped the Post JV girls, 36 to 18, at Roosevelt Friday night in the preliminary game of the first round of district play for the two schools' varsities.

You could almost say a Roosevelt forward named Dickey beat Post all by herself. She scored 25 points.

Marta Holly was the only Post player to tally more than three points. She got four on two fielders.

Roosevelt jumped into the lead early in the game and led all the way.

Mayor McCrary one of 50 members—

Mayor's task force to write water plan

AUSTIN — Texas Municipal League president Alan Henry today announced the formation of a statewide task force of mayors to develop plans for meeting Texas' long range water resource needs.

The task force is comprised of 50 city officials representing communities of every size throughout the state and includes Post Mayor Giles McCrary.

Henry, who is mayor pro tem of Lubbock, said the panel would look at two inter-related factors — water supply and sewage treatment — that will determine whether Texas cities will continue to grow during the 1990s and beyond.

"Our cities and towns face many different challenges," Henry said, "but none is of higher priority than water resources. Without sufficient water supplies and adequate means for disposing of sewage our cities will inevitably wither; it's that simple."

According to Henry, Texas' water-related problems extend to every part of the state — ranging from water shortages in West Texas to overloaded sewer systems in North Texas. "Though varies in form," Henry observed, "these statewide problems share one common denominator: A growing urgency."

Henry said that solving the state's water-related problems will require the expenditure of at least $50 billion, and perhaps as much as $105 billion, between now and the year 2030.

"The required sums are staggering," Henry noted, "and they are far beyond the ability of local governments — and local taxpayers — to provide without state help." What is needed, Henry said, is a financing plan that would use the resources of the state to alleviate the fiscal burden on localities.

Henry said the mission of the new TML task force would be to develop a water resources package for presentation to the 1983 Texas Legislature.

Henry said the TML panel would work with members of the legislature, environmental groups and other interested organizations in developing a proposal capable of passing muster with both the legislature and Texas voters. Representatives of several groups, including county officials and environmentalists, had already contacted TML and expressed their interest in formulating a new water resources plan, Henry added.

of TML was disappointed by the defeat of a similar water resources plan by Texas voters last November 3, adding that the election was "a valuable learning experience."

"The election plainly showed that Texas voters will not approve a water financing plan that lacks specifics," Henry said.

"It will be our task to develop a plan that advises the taxpaying public of exactly what they will be getting for their dollars — and then to publicize the

Phone tax cut to one percent

SAN ANGELO — Telephone users throughout the country got at least one gift for Christmas that isn't the wrong size or the wrong color.

On Jan. 1, 1982, the federal excise tax on telephone service dropped from two percent to one percent.

Nationwide, the one percent reduction should save telephone customers approximately $516 million, plan to generate the public support necessary to pass it," Henry said.

according to estimates by the U. S. Independent Telephone Association.

The tax was imposed by Congress as a "temporary" measure during World War II. Congress voted in 1970 to gradually eliminate the tax, reducing it one percent per year beginning in 1973 and continuing until 1982 when the tax would be eliminated.

And this year's tax bill further postpones the phase out, keeping the tax at one percent until Jan. 1, 1985.

Burlington productivity, sales both up in 1981

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Burlington Industries' improved sales and net earnings in 1981 reflect the benefits of aggressive modernization, the company said in its annual report. Cost control efforts in areas such as energy consumption, new product introductions and favorable foreign exchange adjustments also contributed to Burlington's performance during the year.

Fiscal 1981 sales were $3.26 billion, up 12.5 percent from 1980. Net earnings were $4.10 per share, 41.4 percent higher than 1980 earnings of $2.90 per share.

Despite an erratic economy and stiff competition, the company's three broad product areas — apparel fabrics, home furnishings and industrial fabrics — turned in good results overall. Burlington officials believe the company has outperformed the textile industry in apparel fabrics where restructuring and modernization programs have been largely completed. They expect to see improvement in other product areas as programs are completed and as the economy turns.

Burlington has spent $1.25 billion on modernization in the past six years ($217 million in 1981). As a result, productivity has risen 6 percent annually, compared with a 1.6 percent increase for all U. S. manufacturing. Capital expenditures for new plants and equipment have not only made the company more productive, but also have enabled Burlington to provide employees with better work environments and job opportunities. In addition, modernization has helped the company reduce its energy consumption by 35 percent since 1975.

Company officials are encouraged by the recent renewal of the Multifiber Arrangement (MFA), the international textile trade treaty. "The MFA is the only effective means by which excessive growth in textile-apparel imports can be controlled, and it is the basis for U. S. bilateral trade agreements," said Burlington chairman William A. Klopman. "A stronger MFA is critical to the continued health of the U. S. textile and apparel industry."

Burlington Industries is the nation's largest and Cotton prices move up slowly

LUBBOCK — High Plains cotton prices moved higher during the week ended January 14, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Offices at Lubbock. Growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and 52, staples 31 and 32, mike 35-49 at around 45.65 cents per pound, up 40 points compared to one week earlier.

most diversified manufacturer of textiles and related products for apparel, the home and industry. Its 64,000 employees are located in 100 plants in 11 states and 14 plants in other countries.

Similar lots brought growers about 43.00 cents per pound prior to Christmas. Prices have improved 2.65 cents since then, Bennett said.

Grades 52, staple 32 mike 30-32 sold around 40.65 cents per pound during the week or about 310 points over loan value.

Lubbock's Marketing Services Office classes 220,000 samples during the week ended January 14 for a season's total of 1,717,000. This compares with 1,483,000 classed by the same date last year.

About 22 percent was grade 42, 45 percent was grade 52 and 15 percent was grade 53. About 81 percent was reduced one grade because of bark.

Staples were 32 percent staple 30, 39 percent staple 31, 15 percent staple 32 for an average of 30.7 thirty-seconds of an inch.

Micronaire 35-49 was 24 percent, 33-34 was 16 percent, 30-32 was 30 percent, 27-29 was 21 percent and 26 or below was nine percent for an average of 32.

Breaking strength averaged 23 grams per tex.

Gins paid growers $70 to $100 per ton for cottonseed, mostly $75 to $80 per ton.

7th girls in Cooper loss

Coach Lu Allen gave 15 Post seventh grade girls an opportunity to show what they could do in competition Monday night in a district game with Cooper.

But only two of them scored as Cooper came away with a 21-14 victory.

Angie Holleman hit five fields goals for 10 points and Tyra Alexander two fielders for the other four. Cooper jumped into a 10-0 lead in the first period and were never headed.

Eight inches of snow measured

Post received eight inches of snowfall in last week's welcomed snow storm, according to Nick Vukad, the National Weather Observer here.

The eight inch snow contained .55 inches of badly needed moisture for the Garza area, he reported.

Hospital board—

Forty-three patients were admitted to the hospital in December, 1981, as compared to 50 for the December of the previous year, the monthly hospital report indicated.

Nine babies were born during the month to increase the number for the fiscal year to date to 23, as compared to 8 and 19 for a year earlier.

The hospital spent $82,437 for December, including the newly purchased carpet as compared to $72,815 for December, 1980, when a major carpet purchase was not included.

Patients were billed for a total of $36,129 during the month.

The first electric lamps used for street lighting were arc-lamps installed experimentally in Paris, in 1841.

Stenholm—

3. A long-range production control program — which I have long advocated — that includes set-asides of 15-25 percent, or some facsimile if initiated by Congress.

4. An expanded effort using all available resources to increase foreign and domestic sales of farm commodities at profitable prices.

Let's take a look at a workable, low-risk short-range solution, the 20-10-20 marketing plan:

20 Percent Goes Immediately Into Reserve — Cotton farmers make a voluntary commitment to place 20 percent of existing supplies (both carryover and new crop cotton) into a farmer-held reserve program. This could be through own or commercial storage and either through the federal Commodity Credit Corporation loan program or a private financed program.

10 Percent Sold During First Marketing Period — Farmers would then be free to sell no more than 10 percent of the remaining 80 percent of existing supplies during any 30 day period in any of the first three months of the marketing year. An additional 10 percent of the remaining balance of the supply base if the market maintains an agreed upon price level.

20 Percent Sold During Second Marketing Period — Farmers would then sell up to 20 percent of the remaining balance of the crop during any of the last nine months of the market year and additional 20 percent lots when the market allows as previously determined.

The risk to most farmers would be absolutely minimal and the benefits to all are easy to see. Such a program would be well within the realm of the free enterprise system that I support and would not require a federal spending program to achieve.

The same type of marketing program would work for all non-perishable crops and is already gaining support in wheat-producing areas. I am currently working with a broad base of agricultural representatives to refine details and implement the program.

Farmers need only to look at the last Session of Congress and read the writing on the wall to know that we have reached the point where solutions to growing problems in the industry must be found by farmers themselves. Government is not going to do it for them and as the number of Congressmen representing agriculture districts dwindles, passage of favorable farm legislation is going to become more and more difficult.

To those who might question such a program, I would only say "What do you have to lose? If you accept today's market prices, you have already lost more than you can afford to lose and may not get another chance next year."

School board—

A report also was made to trustees that the proposed fieldhouse expansion would cost somewhere between $70,000 and $80,000. Indications are the board does not plan to consider this project until the other two have been accomplished.

In other actions, trustees set the spring election for April 3 with positions 1, 2, and 3 to be filled. These are held by Charles McCook, Juanella Hays, and Jack Lott; and approved retroactively three certificates of deposit of school funds totaling $1,553,216.14.

28 cases on court docket

Twenty criminal cases and eight civil cases are set for trial here Monday in Garza district court.

How many will be disposed of without trial Monday morning when the docket is called at 10 a.m. is the question.

The jury panel has been asked to report at 1:30 p.m. Monday.
